

Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Dear Abigail:
May I, as a constant reader of your nice column and a former resident of Emmitsburg use some of the space ordinarily allotted to you to make a few remarks that I just feel I have to make? Perhaps I have a guilty conscience or some such thing. Here's why:

For so long a time and in so many issues of the Chronicle you talked about the new stoplight we were "going to get," and the blinker that they were going to take away "any day now," and the new street signs that the Town Council seemed to be forever "putting up soon," plus a couple of other things I can't at the moment recall. Well, Abigail, frankly, I began to question your veracity and integrity and good intentions and decided that Abigail was, when you got right down to it, a big (if you'll excuse the expression) "bag of wind." I was so sure that you were merely using these future improvements to own fair town strictly as filler for your column . . . And now?

Now, I'm eating humble pie because I paid a visit to my alma mater and I was pleasantly surprised because all your predictions proved not to be just a bunch of idle talk, but actual realities. First thing I noticed was the black topped streets. How much wider they make our streets appear to be. Previously I recall they had a light strip in the center and dark shoulders and the contrast made the streets look so narrow, grim, and crowded. Now, the expanse of black makes them look three times as wide and lushly spacious.

Next, I noticed the new street lights. Wonderful, citified appearance! The new street signs caught my eye, too. Oh, happy day! Now my fellow travelers can have something specific to help them find the residence they're seeking. And then, "Yowee! I went through a red light!" My first thought, red light? In Emmitsburg?

Don't be silly! Then, upon reassuring myself that I wasn't just seeing things, my next thought was a very normal, very human, electrifying fearful one: "Wonder if a cop saw me!" But none did, fortunately! That was how I first discovered the presence of the stoplight on the Square. May I get positively maudlin for a moment, Abigail? All the above mentioned improvements in little Ole' Emmitsburg are wonderful, but to my estimation, the removal of the old blinker, which was more bother than it ever was worth, and its replacement by the present stoplight was the most noteworthy and the most necessary. Now, there's no traffic tie-up like before. Cars used to sit at all four intersections and try to figure out who had the right of way. The man on your right always has the right, we all know, but when all four drivers have a man on his right then where do we go from here! So, eventually, someone of the drivers with more fortitude (or foolhardiness) decides that he can't sit there all night, so he shifts into gear and takes off, hoping against hope that one of the others doesn't have the same brainstorm at the same time. But now that's all over and after a few slips on the part of local drivers and a couple visiting alumni like myself, we're all very much aware, and gratefully so, that the light is there. Only ones who are apt to object are the hot-rodgers who have to interrupt their beautiful deadly display of speed and zip to stop for the light to change.

And so, Abigail, I feel better now that I have apologized to you for being a doubting Thomas. I felt I had to "level with you" . . . Keep up the good work, and from now on if you say the moon is made of green cheese, I'll believe you. But golly, Ned, as everyone's favorite funny man Jackie G. would say, "Let's not get sickening about this" . . .

Best o' luck, Abigail.
Signed: Shame-faced Reader.

Cpl. John S. Hollinger, Aberdeen, Md., is currently spending a three-week furlough from the Army Ordnance Dept., with his family and parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Hollinger.

Mr. and Mrs. David Frailey, Chicago, are spending a vacation with Mr. Frailey's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence G. Frailey.

Two Colleges To Open On September 14

Two Emmitsburg colleges, Mt. St. Mary's and St. Joseph Colleges will commence their fall terms on Monday, Sept. 14, with a registration of freshman students.

The incoming freshman group at Mt. St. Mary's is said to total 160 students—about the same as last year.

The president of Mt. St. Mary's, Msgr. John L. Sheridan, has announced the names of three new faculty additions. Dr. Gilbert L. Odde has been appointed associate professor of history to succeed William Fitzgerald. Bernard S. Kalisz, who was the college valedictorian, Class of 1951 and a Fulbright scholar at the Sorbonne and University of Bordeaux in France, has been named the English department. Paul F. Conway, a native of Troy and a graduate of Siena College, has been appointed assistant professor of accounting.

In addition, Charles C. Curtin, who was on leave of absence during the past year for further studies at the University of Pittsburgh, will return to teach in the biology department.

Orientation programs will be held at both colleges on the first three days of the new semester in order that students may acclimate themselves to their new surroundings, familiarize themselves with customs and traditions and take a battery of placement and aptitude tests.

The Mount St. Mary's campus is sporting a new look with which to greet incoming students. New avenue streetlights have been erected on all campus lanes and a new sign has been erected at the front entrance.

An orientation morning, 9:30-11:30 a.m., Tuesday, Sept. 8, will mark the opening of school for first-year students of St. Joseph's High School. All students are scheduled to return to class at 9:00 o'clock Wednesday morning. All classes will be dismissed at noon on opening day.

Committee Asks Assistance For Destitute Family

Dear Folks:

The Emmitsburg Grange is asking your help to assist the Ambrose Cool family whose home was completely destroyed by fire Saturday, Aug. 29.

This family has lost everything it had. Only the clothes which they had on their backs were saved. No one but those who have experienced such a catastrophe, can understand all that is included in the loss of a fire such as destroyed the Cool home. All their furniture, valuable papers and records, tools, canned foods, etc., were destroyed.

We as a committee appointed by the Grange visited this family this week to ascertain what their requirements might be. Here is a partial list of items badly needed: Clothing for Mr. Cool and two grown sons, sizes 36 and 38, shoes 7 and 7½; one boy, aged 10, size 10 clothes and shoes No. 2; one 17-month-old girl, size dress, 3 or 4, shoes, 4; sixteen year and fourteen year daughters. Dress size 34 and shoes 5 and 7; a married daughter, dress 18 and shoes 4½; baby needs a crib, underclothes and blankets. General requirements: cooking utensils, dishes, pans, chairs, bed clothing, table and rocking chairs, lamps, canned food and groceries. Those who wish to donate to this worthy cause please contact Rev. Philip Bower, Mr. Edward Smith, Sr., Mrs. Robert G. Fite, or Mrs. Ed Meadows.

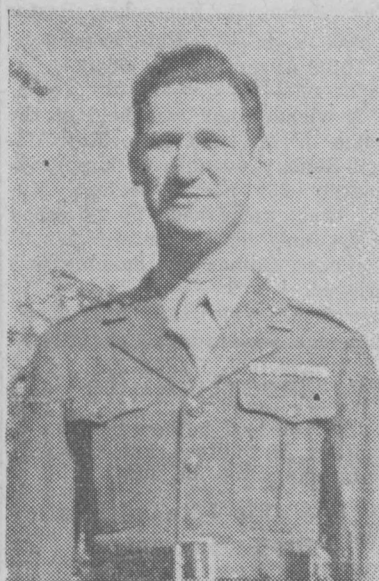

Gratefully yours,
REV. BOWER
CATHERINE FITEZ

Wallet And $740 Disappears

Violet Noel, Hanover, reported to Hanover, Gettysburg and Emmitsburg police that she lost a black pocketbook containing a wallet in which she had $740, her license and other identification cards. Information given police was that she was returning from a swimming party at Natural Dam, between Taneytown and Harney, Sunday and had placed the pocketbook on top of the car when entering the machine and then drove off.

Missing it a few minutes later, she returned to the scene and was told by the driver of another machine that he had seen a car stop, with one of the occupants picking up the purse, removing the wallet and then tossing the empty pocketbook along the roadside.

Trooper Resigns From Force

JAMES STONESIFER

State Trooper James Stonesifer, of the Maryland State Police force has resigned from the force effective as of Aug. 27, it was learned this week.

Trooper Stonesifer, a popular officer, was stationed at Emmitsburg for several years before being transferred to the Frederick barracks about three years ago. He had been a member of the patrol for about seven years, during which time he did a "hitch" with the Marines.

Fairfield Shoe Co. To Resume Production

The Fairfield Shoe Co., whose main plant was destroyed in a $750,000 blaze on Sunday, Aug. 2, will resume operations in a temporary location after Labor Day. This announcement was made this week by Bruno Roedel, secretary-treasurer of the company.

In announcing the resumption of operations Mr. Roedel said: "With the great help of the Fairfield Fire Dept., the Fairfield Town Council, the Fairfield School Board, and George Inskip, supervising principal of the Fairfield schools and Henry M. Scharf, manager of the Hotel Gettysburg, we have managed to secure space, four weeks after our disastrous fire, to resume operations."

"Some heavy machinery has been moved in and plans for a new plant in Fairfield are being pushed very vigorously. We hope to start reconstruction soon."

The company will operate in the Fairfield Community Bldg. All school activities and other functions heretofore held in this building will be transferred to the Hotel Gettysburg Annex.

Junk dealers have cleared away all iron and other materials which could be salvaged by them and other workmen are engaged in clearing away the debris from the ruins of the plant in Fairfield.

A display advertisement in today's edition officially informs former employees of the resumption of operation and adds that "every worker will receive notice with further details very shortly."

Two Injured In Car Wreck

Two residents of Washington, D. C., were injured in a head-on collision of two automobiles on the Gettysburg-Emmitsburg road, about three miles north of town Sunday evening about 5:30 o'clock. Pennsylvania State Police reported the accident.

Treated by an Emmitsburg physician were L. Hutin, 22, broken nose and lacerations of the face, and David Mordy, lacerations of the forehead.

The two men, police said, were passengers in a car driven by William C. Hutchinson, 24, Washington, who swerved to avoid hitting the car of E. Mae Rhodes, 66, of Emmitsburg, making a left turn, and collided head-on with the car of Richard E. Reichley, 20, Sunbury.

Damage to the Reichley car was estimated at $400 and to the Hutchinson auto at $2,000. Hutchinson was taken before Justice of the Peace Robert Bell, Gettysburg, Route 4 and charged with reckless driving and was fined $10.00.

Sgt. Paul V. Topper is spending a 30-day furlough at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jacob J. Topper. Sgt. Topper has recently returned from a tour of duty in Korea.

Mrs. John Kerr, Hagerstown, visited in town last Saturday with friends and relatives. Mrs. Marguerite Toye, Johnstown, Pa., is spending sometime at her home near St. Anthony's.

Fire Destroys Frame House, Furniture

Fire completely destroyed a six-room house and its furnishings last Saturday morning about 11:15 o'clock. The structure, known as the old William Breichner property, was of frame construction and was tenanted by Ambrose Cool and family of nine.

Members of the Vigilant Hose Co., who were summoned to the scene belatedly because there was no phone in the house and the tenant had to run some distance to summon aid, said the structure became ignited when the family was refilling a gasoline wash engine and something caused it to ignite. The house was completely aflame when the fire company arrived and action was directed on saving several out-buildings, one of which the family is now remodeling in anticipation of living there.

The property is located in the Dry Bridge area, about three miles south of Emmitsburg. Fire Chief John J. Hollinger said the loss was partially covered by insurance. The Community Fund of Emmitsburg is rendering some assistance to the destitute family who had no time to save any possessions, so swift was the fire.

GRASS FIRE

The Vigilant Hose Co. responded to a grass fire call Monday afternoon in the DePaul St. area near the Felix Adams and Edward Mullen properties. The blaze was quickly extinguished and no damage was reported.

Motorists Fined For Violations

Four motorists were arrested and charged with minor infractions of the State motor vehicle code this week on charges preferred by Chief of Police Daniel J. Kaas. They all were given hearings before Magistrate Charles D. Gillean, Emmitsburg, who severely reprimanded one of them, a local youth, who has been convicted several times.

Norville J. Welty, Taneytown, was fined $11.45 on a charge of driving with speed greater than reasonable. Charles Kenneth Bankard, Hagerstown, was convicted of exceeding the town speed limit of 25 miles per hour and paid a fine of $11.45. Eugene Milton Lingg, charged with attempting to pass on a hill, was absolved of the charge after a reprimand by the magistrate. William L. Cullison, Fairfield, Pa., was charged with speed greater than reasonable and proper and was assessed a total of $11.45.

Local Men Are Convicted

A jury found Edward Wetzel, Reisterstown, and George Wetzel, York, guilty of assault with intent to rob, armed assault with accomplices with intent to rob and burglary after a 25-minute deliberation in Gettysburg this week.

James Wills, Route 1, a co-defendant, who is serving a sentence in a Maryland prison, was called to testify in the case although he was not being tried at the same time. The charge, with three counts, was filed by state police of the Gettysburg detail.

Holiday Postoffice Hours Announced

The local post office has announced the hours for Labor Day, Sept. 7. The lobby will be open from 9 a.m. to 10 a.m. only. No business will be transacted, and none of the service windows will be open. There will be no rural delivery on Labor Day.

SPEEDER FINED

Clifford O. Keilholtz, recently paid a fine of $5 and costs in Westminster on a charge of speed greater than reasonable. He also paid an additional $5 fine for failing to obey a promise to appear for a hearing.

Grange To Aid Family After Disastrous Fire

Mr. and Mrs. Ed Meadows were hosts to the Emmitsburg Grange at its regular meeting held Wednesday at the Meadows' home, Master Edgar G. Emrich presiding with 62 members and guests present.

Many local Grangers plan to attend Grange Day at Timonium Fair on Tuesday.

The group went on record as unanimously being in favor of helping the Gelwicks family rebuild their barn, which was recently completely destroyed by fire and also to aid the Cool family whose home also was destroyed in the same manner.

Rev. Philip Bower and Mrs. Robert Fite, Sr., are in charge of a committee to aid the Cool family and Edward J. Smith, Sr. and Mr. Carl Baumgardner will render assistance to the Gelwicks' project.

Rev. Bower gave a most interesting account of his recent trip to New York and the experience he and his family had when they appeared on a television program.

The highlight of the meeting was having as our guest, Bill Simpson, attired in a complete set of kilts. Bill, home from a year's trip to Scotland, gave us an excellent picture of the home and farm life of that country.

A delegation from Emmitsburg will attend the Grange Conference on agricultural policy at College Park, Sept. 12. This program is of real serious importance to the farmers of the state and the nation. Following the meeting the Juvenile Grange met with the parent group for refreshments. The next regular meeting will be held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Swomley.

Nurses To Convene At St. Joseph College

Nurses and those interested in nursing are having their first Western Maryland meeting of the Maryland League for Nursing at St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Sept. 12.

A specially arranged tour, beginning at 10:30 a.m., will be conducted by the Sisters of Charity through the historic college campus and the new collegiate school of nursing.

Brief reports of the National League for Nursing annual convention will be given in the afternoon.

Legion Honor Roll To Be Refurbished

New names have been ordered and will be placed on the honor roll in front of the American Legion, it was announced by T. Eugene Rodgers, at the Post's regular monthly meeting Tuesday evening in the Post Home. Cmdr. Richard McCullough presided with 52 members in attendance. The names on the honor roll have become illegible because of the rays of the sun.

Mr. Rodgers also reported that 19 men attended the Charles J. Rowe funeral in Washington and that the drill team was awarded $50 for participating in the parade at Mt. Airy.

Thomas C. Harbaugh, chairman of the Legion Blood Bank reported that arrangements have been made for those who wish to have their blood typed. He also said that those persons who do not belong to Legion Blood Bank and who wish to join should contact him, the American Legion Home, or Louis F. Rosensteel, his assistant chairman.

The guest speaker at the meeting was Mr. Herman Shook, of Thurmont, area commander, who spoke on membership.

Francis Hynson of Westminster, was received into the Post. The door prize was won by Allen Davis.

Following the meeting, refreshments were served by the ladies' auxiliary.

Mrs. Charles Fuss has returned to her home after spending several days with her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Clingan, Baltimore.

Receives Nurse's Cap At Ceremonies

MISS LORETTA BOYLE

An Emmitsburg girl, Miss Loretta Boyle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle, E. Main St., was one of 10 to receive their nursing caps at ceremonies held Monday evening in Frederick. Miss Boyle received her nursing diploma from the School of Nursing, Frederick Memorial Hospital, after completing three years of study there. Miss Boyle was graduated from St. Joseph's High School in the Class of 1950.

ENGAGEMENT ANNOUNCED

Mr. and Mrs. Bernard H. Boyle, Emmitsburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Loretta Lucille, to Mr. Richard Sprankle, Fairfield, Route 1, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard Sprankle of the same address. Mr. Sprankle is a member of the U. S. Air Force and is stationed at Francis Warren Air Base, Wyoming. No date has been announced for the wedding.

A native of Adams County, Pa., he had resided at an Emmitsburg Rt. 1 address for the past 15 years. He was a son of the late Clayton and Helen Brotherton Philips.

Surviving are his widow, Mrs. Virginia F. Philips and a daughter, Miss Betsy Claiborne Philips, both at home; two sisters, Miss Margaret B. Philips, Baltimore, and Mrs. Susan Philips Butt, White Plains, N. Y.

Funeral services were conducted Tuesday at 2:30 p.m. Troy Orr officiated and interment made in the Philips' private cemetery. S. L. Allison, funeral director.

Truck Wrecked, Driver Hurt In Mishap

Pennsylvania State Police of the Gettysburg substation blame the owner of an abandoned 1951 Ford which struck two vehicles at 1 p.m. Saturday two miles west of Fairfield. The car was abandoned about one-half mile from the scene.

John Trent, 54, Lantz, Md., was the driver of a truck which ran off the right side of the highway, struck a culvert and overturned two times, partially obstructing the traffic lanes.

John O. Reynolds, 56, Waynesboro, driving his car west, the same direction in which the truck was driven, stopped his car when he saw the truck and then attempted to go around it and continue on his way. At the same time, the Ford was being driven east and struck the left rear of the truck, turning it over on Trent, and then crashed into the side of the Reynolds' car.

Estimated damage to the Ford was $30, to Reynolds' car, $350 and $900 to the truck, which was demolished.

Trent is a patient in the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, where he was taken in the Adams County ambulance. He is suffering from a fractured pelvis and body bruises.

Mrs. Nancy Reynolds, 73, Waynesboro, wife of the driver of the car, was treated at the hospital for cuts of her upper left arm. Mrs. Reynolds was taken to the hospital in the ambulance also.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wivell visited their daughter, Mrs. Oscar Sprigg and family of Camphill, Pa. They were accompanied by their young grandson, Georgie, who spent his summer vacation with his grandparents.

Mr. William Garner, Washington, D. C., spent the weekend here visiting his mother, Mrs. Agnes Garner.

Thurmont Plays Here Sunday

Blame it on the heat or something, but that "something" set afire the local baseball team last Sunday as it bombarded Littlestown with 17 hits to the enemy's five, to easily take an abbreviated contest by a lop-sided score of 16-to-4.

Littlestown used four pitchers in a fruitless effort to stop the barrage of hits and the game was called by mutual consent in the seventh inning. Several Littlestown players were injured by freak bounces of the ball and were forced to retire from the game.

Frank Apichella's squad winds up the regular season this Sunday when it meets Thurmont on Community Field at 2:30 p.m.

Thurmont, always a source of great trouble, handed the locals a defeat when they last played here. That setback later was avenged on the foe's own diamond, but the Thurmont lads have a way of making trouble for Emmitsburg and a good contest is in prospect Sunday.

By virtue of its second-place standing Emmitsburg is assured of a place in the Shaughnessy Playoffs which begin next Sunday, Sept. 13.

New Oxford eliminated Cashtown from a possible first division berth by registering a 9-4 victory at Cashtown. The winners pounded out 13 hits to win with ease.

Blue Ridge Summit laced the visiting New Windsor team 15-5. It was the 19th defeat in 20 contests for New Windsor.

Union Bridge, unbeaten regular season champions, routed the Thurmont club 16-5 on the winner's field.

You're the winner in this league!

Telephone people compete among themselves to give you the best possible service. And they keep score on their work just as carefully as the big leagues tally a season's games. Rivalry for top ratings in the telephone "league" is keen among exchanges, departments, and even entire companies. Of course, you are the real winner—for this kind of competition means better telephone service!

Road block on the voice way

When you've finished your telephone call, please take care to hang up properly. A receiver off the hook ties up an entire line. That means that no one on that line will be able to make or receive calls until the receiver has been replaced. Think of the calls you may be missing—calls that could be important. And you're being considerate of the others on your line when you take care in hanging up.

SOWING, GROWING and REAPING

HERE IN AMERICA, SO VARIED IS OUR CLIMATE, SO DIVERSE OUR AGRICULTURAL PRODUCTION, THAT FARMERS IN ONE SECTION OF THE COUNTRY WILL BE PLANTING, WHILE FARMERS IN ANOTHER WILL BE GATHERING IN THE HARVEST, AT ANY GIVEN SEASON OF THE YEAR. THE PROCESSES OF SOWING, GROWING AND REAPING TO PROVIDE FOOD FOR OUR PEOPLE ARE CONTINUOUS THE YEAR ROUND.

AND SO IT IS WITH SAVINGS. WHILE YOUNGER FAMILIES ARE PUTTING MONEY ASIDE FOR THE FUTURE IN LIFE INSURANCE AND SAVINGS, OLDER FOLK ARE ENJOYING THE BENEFITS OF THEIR FORESIGHTED THRIFT. "SOWING, GROWING AND REAPING" IS THE WAY OF PROGRESS IN OUR DEMOCRACY.

Sociology's New Religion?

Sociology textbooks widely used for the past 25 years in high schools and colleges throughout America are fostering a new kind of "religion" which, if accepted by a generation of youth, could destroy the Church as the well-spring of our spiritual life and supersede the Bible with a social worker's handbook. This, in effect, is the stunning conclusion drawn by Dr. A. H. Hobbs, professor of sociology at the University of Pennsylvania, in a comprehensive analysis of 83 widely used sociology textbooks.

His analysis of sociology's teachings on the subject of religion is so shocking and so vitally important I'm going to quote at length from his book, "The Claims of Sociology: A Critique of Textbooks" (The Stackpole Co., Harrisburg, Pa.).

Astonishing Texts
"Fifty-four texts contain statements which evaluate religion," Dr. Hobbs reports. "Thirty-three texts contend that religious organizations should reorient themselves in the direction of secularization . . .

"Religious organizations (the 33 textbooks contend) should decrease or eliminate the supernatural appeals, their abstract moral doctrines, their ritual, mysticism, and allegiance to traditional codes. Eight additional texts emphasize that these factors hinder 'social progress,' and nine other statements claim that religious organizations perpetuate themselves primarily because of pressures which are exerted on them by 'economic interests.'"

"Fifty statements in 41 texts contain these critical emphases in relation to traditional forms of religion. The 33 which suggest alternatives recommend secularization of religion. According to this standpoint the primary interests of religious groups should be focused on educational crusades to eliminate poverty, ill-health, war, racial problems, inadequate education, and crime, in a program of social action. They should 'use modern methods of social research to demonstrate a practical relationship between scientific analysis and religious objectives.'"

Toward Secularizing
"Religious organizations (the 33 books contend) should help in shaping a new moral code since the old one involves 'cultural lag' in a society which has undergone extensive technological changes. Recommendations that religious organizations should secularize are representative of the 'positive' approach. In the 'positive' approach the textbook author offers 'constructive' suggestions for improvement of the institution after demonstrating to his own satisfaction what is wrong with it from a 'sociological' point of view. The fact that the author cannot prove his statements, nor demonstrate that the 'remedy' will not destroy the essence of the institution, appears to be a secondary consideration.

"Two additional texts are content to label religion simply as a combination of mysticism and cultural conditioning, without offering any 'positive' suggestions. Only 11 texts emphasize the universality of need for spiritual guidance (which formed the basis of most religious organizations) and accept the view that this is still the primary function of religion. Superseding the Bible

"Authors generally claim that they (scientists) support rather than oppose religion, but their support of 'religion' is similar to their defense of 'democracy' and 'education' in that it involves a redefinition in 'sociological' terms. Religion is redefined in terms which make it practically synonymous with social work. In the 'sociological' religion a social problems textbook would be a more important reference than the Bible."

Our nation was founded by men and women with profound faith in God. As they built their first communities in the wilderness of America the first building to go up was the church. God's moral laws written into the Bible shaped the American way of life and have been the great disciplining force within the hearts and minds of our people and within all our American institutions, including our government and our schools. An organized force is fighting God's moral laws in America—Communism, aided by its twin, Socialism. Textbooks which slyly persuade the youth of America that faith in God should be soft-pedaled or superseded are assisting these enemies to undermine the foundation of our strength.

LUNCHEON SCOOPS

by Wendy Warren

Douglas Edwards, who is featured with me on "Wendy Warren and the News" on CBS radio, is also the emcee for CBS-TV's "Masquerade Party." The show has well-known personalities appearing before a panel in disguises which contain clues to their name or their past. Doug introduced me to the panel at rehearsal, Ilka Chase, celebrated actress, author, and wit; Ogden Nash, the poet laureate of the New Yorker; Buff Cobb, pretty granddaughter of humorist Irwin S. Cobb; and Peter Donald, the actor and radio-television personality.

We fell into a discussion of "Masquerade Party" possibilities—including how each of the panelists might disguise himself. Here are the four costumes—try and identify them, and then check further in the column for the correct identification:

- (1) Little Lord Fauntleroy
- (2) Francois Villon

- (3) Catherine de Medici
- (4) Diana

Modest Douglas Edwards declined to be a masquerader—"all I've ever been is a news caster and I certainly wouldn't look disguised with a microphone in my hands." However, it was Doug who "masqueraded" the members of the panel, and this is how it went:

Little Lord Fauntleroy is Peter Donald who actually played the role as a child in his parents' road company.

Francois Villon, the medieval poet, is of course Ogden Nash.

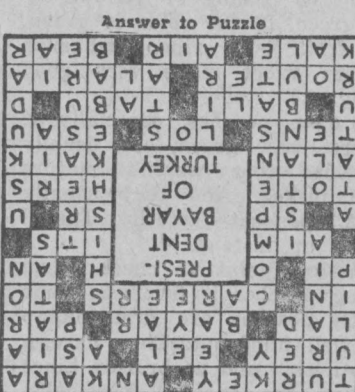

Catherine de Medici is Buff Cobb, a difficult identification to make but the disguise is in honor of the city of her birth, Florence, Italy!

Diana, the huntress, is a pun on the name of Chase, although Ilka Chase claimed some people would assign Diana to her "for my killing sarcasm."

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

One reason behind drive to reduce government employees is belief a big army of government jobholders is greater threat to nation than any foreign army.

History illustrates socialistic or communistic dictatorships are preceded by a huge corps living off the taxpayers. In time the corrosive effect of living without producing often warps mental processes of government jobholders.

An example of this socialistic thinking among government employees is supplied by Local No. 135, Federation of Federal Employees, in Vicksburg, Mississippi.

This group seeks furniture, appliances, auto accessories, sporting goods and general merchandise to sell on non-profit basis.

Letters to manufacturers are bluntly coercive. Stating that their store, called the Federal Employees Cooperative, will serve 2300 Federally employed families in Vicksburg, the manufacturer is tacitly threatened with boycott for non-compliance.

The letter states: "Because of the fact that the merchandise we will handle will be sold on a non-profit basis, there is little doubt the cooperative will command practically all the business for these lines from the 2300 families served by our cooperative. For this reason, we believe that it will be advantageous to your concern to grant us sales privileges for your products, as these privileges will virtually preclude any sales of similar lines to Federal employees in this vicinity."

Federal employment supports

almost 30% of the population.

The president of one firm selected wrote a very thought-provoking reply.

Stating it apparently was the intention of the Federal employees to eliminate retailers and wholesalers, he wondered what percentage of their salaries are paid by the people they desire to put out of business.

He then stated: "At the risk of losing the business of 2300 families in the Vicksburg area, we must consider what appears to us a serious threat to the American way of life as we have known and learned of it during the last century and a half. No, if all trade and industry must be socialized and all of us become pawns in a giant wheel whose speed, direction or stagnation is controlled by a master switch, or politburo, I'll go down swinging. It seems to me now that I would much prefer to be a very thin, rugged individualist, than a sleek and well fed puppet on a string."

He probably knows some short-sighted competitor will sell the cooperative of the Federal employees commure of Vicksburg.

Many hope they will be publicized for guidance of independent retailers and wholesalers.

No Washington observer is surprised over employees action.

It is recognized government employee ranks are loaded with those who believe more in socialistic and communistic methods than the free enterprise system.

And here is the way many Washington observers refer to the Vicksburg action with a common saying.

"An unwatched bureaucrat is more dangerous to the national welfare than three Red Army Divisions."

Communism, aided by its twin, Socialism. Textbooks which slyly persuade the youth of America that faith in God should be soft-pedaled or superseded are assisting these enemies to undermine the foundation of our strength.

Ready For School?

The first day of school is a big event in a child's life. He may have spent years in nursery school or kindergarten, but he feels that first grade is "the real thing." He is eager, and at the same time a little worried. He may even be afraid.

Of course, parents see the necessity of taking Junior to the doctor to make sure there are no physical defects, such as poor eyesight or hearing, that will hold back his school progress. Many schools will give reading readiness tests to be sure he is mentally ready for first grade. But often his emotional preparation is forgotten. There may be fears and wrong attitudes which will interfere with his adjustment to school.

"Just wait till you get to school. They'll make you behave." Thoughtless parents may have used threats like this which make school a terrifying prospect. Older children may speak of teacher as a combination of ogre and policeman and exaggerate the difficulty of school work. If the damage has already been done, all members of the family will have to work together to repair it.

An older child can take Junior around the school and make him feel familiar with the building. A shopping excursion for clothes and school supplies will help make pleasant associations with the prospect of school. The change to a rigid schedule can be made gradually as summer ends, and the time needed to get Junior up, dressed, fed, and off to school can be worked out so that there will be little tension and confusion when the great day comes.

Mother will be wise to hide her feelings and not tell the youngster how much she will miss him while he is in school. With many children adjustment takes a few weeks, and parents will have to be patient and understanding. It will only distress and perplex the child to be asked endless questions about what he learns or what he does in his first school days.

Parents are in an important position to make the first days of school a happy adventure that will lead to a good emotional adjustment to school life.

Naturally Blind Victims Equal War Casualties

Almost as many Americans will go blind this year as the total number of our soldiers, sailors, airmen, and Marines who lost their lives in three full years of fighting in Korea, according to the Maryland Society for the Prevention of Blindness. Moreover, two-thirds of this blindness will be unnecessary. The Society, along with other prevention of blindness societies, is celebrating the month of September as Sight-Saving Month.

More than 23,000 American men, women and children will become blind in the next year, the Society estimates, with neglect, disease, and injury as the principle causes. This number could be sharply reduced by following a few simple rules:

- 1—Keep sharp toys, darts, guns and fireworks out of the hands of children.
- 2—Have periodic eye examinations. Early detection of an eye disease may halt blindness.
- 3—Consult your eye specialist promptly if your child's eyes do not appear straight. If you work with machinery or near moving parts, wear protective eye goggles.

Miss Doris Wastler, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wastler left Tuesday for the Lutheran Hospital of Baltimore, where she will be registered as a student nurse. Miss Wastler is a graduate of Emmitsburg High School, Class of 1952.

Roll rusks into fine crumbs and keep on hand to use as a topping for casseroles.

Selection of Shoes Important Factor To Healthy Feet

When you buy shoes for your youngster, have the shoes fitted at the store, if possible. You'll be taking a risk if you just go ahead and buy a pair a size larger than the last ones.

That's because a child's feet won't always grow exactly one size from one pair of shoes to the next, says clothing specialist Helen Shelby, University of Maryland Extension Service. To be sure of a good fit, have the child's feet measured every time.

Miss Shelby points out that the immature foot of childhood and teen years is easily misshapen. One-fourth of all the bones in the body are in the foot, and it takes 15 to 20 years for those bones to develop fully.

Children seldom complain of a foot ache or pain. The softness of the bones of children's feet means that they can be squeezed into a shoe of improper shape and size and still not give pain. Such pressure will finally result in lasting damage to the feet.

Since a child outgrows shoes rapidly, see that the shoes give room for growth. A child from six to 10 years of age changes shoe size every two or three months. The size changes every two to three months for a 10 to 12-year-old, and every four to five months for girls and boys 12 to 15 years of age.

To be sure that your children's shoes fit have both feet measured while the child is standing. Buy shoes to fit the larger foot. See that the length is one-half to one inch longer than the longest toe, and that the width allows for a slight pinch-up of leather over the ball of the foot.

At regular intervals have a re-check of shoe size in relation to foot growth. Shoes that fit correctly are comfortable from the start. They don't need "breaking in," according to Miss Shelby. Nor do comfortable shoes press or hurt any part of the foot, slip at the heel, or pinch either toe or heel. Slipping or pinching may cause corns or blisters.

Homemakers' Corner

Don't be misled by the attractive blush of a peach. That blush can't be relied upon too heavily as a sign of good peach quality.

Instead, look at the skin color of peaches before buying them. Nutritionist Janet Coblenz, University of Maryland Extension Service, says the skin color should be creamy or yellowish—not green. If the color is green, the fruit isn't ripe, and such peaches won't make very good eating.

Green peaches, especially if they're dark green, are usually the ones that weren't mature when picked. And they usually won't ripen satisfactorily. They'll shrivel up instead.

Another point to check when buying peaches is firmness. Good quality peaches are firm, plump and well filled out. They have a smooth skin and no bruises. Since peaches are such a perishable fruit, they bruise easily, and once they are bruised, it doesn't take long for them to spoil. That's a good reason to handle them carefully in the store.

In some stores you'll find peaches pre-wrapped. Several peaches are put into a tray and covered with cellophane to protect them. That allows food shoppers to look at the fruit to see the quality, and yet it does away with too much handling. These peaches usually sell at about the same price as they do in the bulk.

Avoid peaches that are wormy. You can usually detect worms by unevenness in shape and small holes surrounded by sticky gum.

If peaches aren't fully ripe when purchased, leave them at room temperature to ripen. But don't put peaches in direct sunlight or heat. They may shrivel before they ripen. Keep them in a room about 60 to 70 degrees until they're ripened. Then store them in the refrigerator.

If the peaches are fully ripe when purchased, store them in the refrigerator until it's time to use them.

While the fresh peach supply is good, use them as a source of vitamins A and C.

From a half-cup serving of sliced, raw peaches you get nearly 15 per cent of the vitamin A recommended for the physically active person. And this same amount of raw peaches gives you nearly 10 per cent of the vitamin C your body needs each day.

Then, this popular fruit contains small amounts of thiamine, riboflavin and niacin. There are also small amounts of the minerals calcium, phosphorus and iron in peaches.

Because peaches are low in energy values, they have a place in the diets of those who count their calories. One medium-size peach has only 46 calories. So a peach is a good choice for those who want dessert to top off a meal or to munch on between meals.

Scientists estimate that the earth's crust contains about twice as much nickel as copper, zinc and lead combined.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

Storage-use guarantees will be made by the Commodity Credit Corp. to responsible commercial firms, including cooperatives, according to George J. Martin, chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration state committee. Purpose of the guarantees is to encourage the construction of additional commercial storage facilities for wheat, corn, rye, oats, barley, grain sorghums, flaxseed, and soybeans in areas where facilities are needed. All applications for use guarantees must be filed with county PMA committees.

Three alternative plans are offered under which the guarantee will be made, under plan No. 1, the CCC will guarantee 75 per cent occupancy of commercial storage facilities for a period of three years; at the end of three years, the guarantee occupancy level would be reduced to 40 per cent for the next two years. Plan No. 2 would guarantee 60 per cent occupancy for a period of five years. Plan No. 3 would guarantee 50 per cent occupancy for a period of six years.

Country elevators eligible under these plans must be located in areas of heavy production and on railroads. Guarantees will be limited to newly constructed commercial type elevators, new additions to commercial elevators, and to conversion of already existing facilities to commercial elevators.

It wasn't just idle conversation when President John D. Schapiro affirmed last year his desire to do everything within his power to provide Laurel Race Course with every possible convenience for its patrons.

The new $2.5 million clubhouse

His extended parking lots and landscaping programs are additional proof that the Schapiro family has Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Public foremost in its thinking and planning.

ANSWERS

Q What's an easy way to control poultry lice?

The best way I know A is, use Dr. Salsbury's Vapo-Roost. All you have to do is spread it on the perches and see that all birds go to roost. Vapo-Roost doesn't stain the feathers or taint flesh or eggs, because it contains benzene hexachloride. Use Vapo-Roost regularly to delouse your flock -- it pays! Ask for Vapo-Roost this week!

Contest Opens For 4-H Club Members

Frederick County along with the counties of 41 other states, is searching for Horatio Alger and Cinderellas who had their starts in agriculture.

A new award program honoring former 4-H members who are now notable citizens has been arranged by the Dept. of Agriculture Extension Service which sponsors the 4-H Clubs.

Maryland is one of the 41 participating states in this award which will pay tribute to representative former 4-H members whose records of good citizenship are traceable, at least in part, to their adherence to the ideals and principles of 4-H Club work.

Two former 4-Hers are selected by each county judging committee. They will receive alumni award certificates and become eligible for a state award. State committees will select four state winners from the county selections who will receive alumni plaques and be eligible for a national award. A distinguished jury of national judges will then pick eight of the state finalists who will be given a 10k gold key and a trip to the annual 4-H congress in Chicago next December.

With each county in the 41 participating states given the opportunity to name two outstanding citizens, there is the possibility that some 5500 men and women with rural backgrounds will be honored in this new 4-H program.

4-H club alumni now number more than 16 million including five current state governors and many other leading figures in the county.

All previous 4-H programs have recognized active 4-H members who work on farming, homemaking, and related projects to earn their laurels.

The National 4-H Alumni Recognition Awards, sponsored by Mathieson Chemical Corp., mark the first time that former 4-H members have been so honored. One of the purposes, in addition to encouraging adult support and cooperation for the 4-H Clubs, is to inspire present-day youth through examples of the results of 4-H training.

Thurmont Co-operative, Inc. has announced that they will be happy to receive nominations for Frederick County and forward them to the County Extension Agent.

Miss Mary Jane Scott, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Scott, is spending the week with relatives in Baltimore.
