

Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Well, another Halloween has come and gone and truthfully, there isn't anything too exciting to report to you. Oh yes, there were several pranks of the usual nature, but nothing that one could consider of a serious nature.

To a casual observer whose Halloween days are far behind her, things were pretty much on the tranquil side. Naturally, there was an abundance of corn fodder and other gadgets symbolic of the occasion, but with six policemen on duty, even the children were too timid to soap many windows and many of us were grateful for not having to wash windows as usual. Some get their annual bath following the fun anyway, so it didn't matter too much.

One thing this writer has come to learn, surprisingly enough, is that most of us are prone to blame most of the mischief on the "kids." Well these so-called kids apparently seemed to turn out as rather mature (that is in size, not necessarily in mentality) and they, not their smaller cousins, are responsible for most of the depredations that did materialize over the weekend.

There's a lot of fun to be had on Halloween, the right kind that is, but then there also is a serious side, the one that most of the older youths (in fact married men too) fail to observe. I specifically mean the vandals who painted at least two cars and overturned another one relegating it to the gutter. This is strictly vandalism in every sense and those responsible should be made to "foot" the bill for any damages, which naturally were done by their destructive activities.

Somehow I am of the opinion that we unjustly blame the juveniles for most of the mischief and we hold a parade and lecture them endlessly of the folly of property damage and how to learn the art of having fun without serious consequences. But honestly folks, I believe we are pursuing the wrong course. While there are no provisions for educating adults to respect the property of others except hard old John Law, perhaps a word from the little wife may help steer the mate on the right course. So from here on in, dear readers, let's not blame the children but let them go their harmless way, tossing corn kernels, soaping windows that need washing anyway, and asking for treats. Surely we can tolerate one night a year! Do you suppose the children were responsible for breaking up wagons, turning in a false fire alarm, overturning a car, painting cars, blocking the highway with bales of wire, pouring molasses and sawdust on front entrances to public places and hauling corn fodder in from the fields? Let's give the little ones a break and let them have their harmless fun. God bless 'em.

Our heartiest congratulations to the VFW on the opening of its new annex. Once again they have scored first, in my mind, in the field of community service. Already the winners of several first-place trophies, citations, etc., the local group is due for another one by opening its new building to the public. While we don't have a memorial hall as yet, this invitation to use the new addition will serve the purpose until such time as we are able to afford a public hall. Naturally the group has first choice as to dates for use of its own property, but then a mutual schedule can easily be arranged, I'm certain. You'll really be surprised when you visit the annex. It's modern as modern can be and the public, I am told, is cordially invited to its use for any bona fide purpose. Many thanks, VFW, you certainly have done more than your share to make Emmitsburg a better place in which to habit.

T. Eugene Rodgers, drillmaster of the local Legion drill team, reported that the team won $20 for participating in the Halloween parade in Gettysburg. He also announced the team would participate in the parade at Brunswick.

New members voted into the Post were Carroll A. Wetzel of Thurmont, and Calvin Riley of Fairfield, Pa.

The door prize was won by Henry Pecher, U. S. Army. Cmdr. Richard McCullough presided over the meeting at which 51 members were present.

Following the business meeting, refreshments were served by the ladies' auxiliary.

Octogenarian Feted At Party

A family birthday dinner was held Sunday at the home of Mr. and Mrs. George C. Naylor, Emmitsburg, in honor of Mr. Naylor, who celebrated his 80th birthday, Oct. 30.

The family attended church services at Tom's Creek Methodist Church, after which a Morocco leather Bible was presented by his eldest son, Wilbur, to the pastor, Rev. Byron Keesecker, in honor of Mr. Naylor's birthday, by his wife and six children.

Those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Wilbur Naylor and daughter, Arlene, Taneytown; Mr. and Mrs. Clyde S. Naylor, Smithsburg; Mr. and Mrs. Charles Naylor, Washington, D. C.; Mr. and Mrs. George L. Simon and daughter, Suzanne, York, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hornbecker and daughter, Virginia, and son, Thomas; Mr. and Mrs. George W. Naylor, Taneytown, and Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Naylor and daughters, Sandra, Joyce, Jean and Susan, Smithsburg. A daughter, Mrs. William J. Sullivan, Providence, R. I., was unable to attend the celebration.

Mr. and Mrs. Naylor celebrated their 55th wedding anniversary June 30, 1953.

ENJOY HALLOWEEN PARTY

A Halloween party was held at the home of Beulah Gass last Wednesday evening at 7:30 o'clock. Spook stories were told, and various other group games were enjoyed.

Present at the affair were Anna Louise DeBerry, Kitty Lingg, Dottie Fisher, Harriet Fite, Evelyn Mentzer, Mary Shields, Thelma Green, Doris Flax, Joseph Freeze, Dave O'Keefe, Stanley Hartle, Fred Grimes, Fred Staubaugh, Ray Harner, Robert Hays, Richard Toms, Mr. and Mrs. David Glass and children, Marlene and Darlene, Eric Glass, Mrs. Paul Glass and Beulah Gass.

TOTS HAVE PARTY

The "Tot-A-Long Center Pre-School" held its Halloween Party last Friday morning. The children's guests were their parents and smaller brothers and sisters. The party ended with a treasure hunt and a parade with the many pretty masked faces and costumes.

Mrs. Landon Edwards and children, Richmond, are visiting with Mrs. Edwards' mother, Mrs. Valerie Overmann.

Annual Catholic Bazaar-Supper Sat., Nov. 14

Plans are shaping up nicely for the annual supper and bazaar of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, it was announced this week by Rev. John D. Sullivan, pastor.

The event, one of the oldest of its kind in the state, will be held Saturday, Nov. 14, in St. Joseph's High School. Suppers, served in the school cafeteria, will begin at 4:00 o'clock.

Father Sullivan announces the following committees: Supper, Mrs. Agnes Topper, chairman; diningroom, Mrs. Marie Rosensteel and Mrs. Valerie Overmann; cake table, Mrs. Guy Topper; sandwich table, Mrs. Leonard Sanders; country store, Mrs. Minnie Shoemaker and Mrs. William Myers; candy table, Mrs. Leo Topper and Mrs. Louis Orndorff; refreshments, Bernard Miller; the Children of Mary table, Miss Christine Timmerman, chairman, assisted by the high school girls.

The bingo game will be operated by Clyde Eyer, chairman, assisted by Louis Stoner, Guy A. Baker, Austin Joy and Donald Stoner. Miss Alice Kelly and William Payne will act as ticket seller and cashier.

The supper will feature turkey and oysters. Other games and amusements will be on hand for the attendants' entertainment. Refreshments, including ice cream, soft drinks and cake will be available.

EYLER—MCDONNELL

Miss Carolyn McDonnell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. Ralph McDonnell, E. Main St., and Donald Lee Eyer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Lester Eyer, New Windsor, were united in marriage Saturday at 2 p. m., at Elias Lutheran Church with the Rev. Philip Bower, pastor of the bride, officiating. The traditional wedding music was played by Jack Wantz and the soloists were George McDonnell, brother of the bride and Richard Frock. The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a chantilly lace gown over white satin, designed with a chapel train and a semi-riding. Her jacket featured a Peter Pan collar and long sleeves and she carried a fan designed with stephanotis with a removable white orchid corsage. The matron of honor, Mrs. John McMahon, of McSherrystown, wore a forest green nylon net gown over a pale green taffeta with a strapless bodice and matching stole. Her mitts and headpiece were in a similar green shade and she carried a nosegay of yellow mums and pompons tied with forest green streamers. The bridal attendants were Miss Doris McAllister, of Westminster, who wore a toast-colored gown and Mrs. Joseph Shuttleworth, Boston, who was attired in a beige and toast-gown. Both were designed similar to the matron of honor's gown. Kenneth Eyer, New Windsor, was the best man and ushers were George McDonnell, brother of the bride, Richard Frock, Robert L. Kowitz, Calvin Strine, all of this place and Olen Eyer, New Windsor. A reception was held in the Lutheran parish hall after the wedding with Betty Smith, Shirley Troxell, Mrs. Herbert Rohrbach, Ruth Umbel and Robbie Sanders presiding as hostesses, assisted by Annie Mae Wensehoff, Gettysburg. Following the honeymoon the couple moved into the Harner Apts. on the Square. The bride, a graduate of Emmitsburg High School, class of 1950, is employed by the Cambridge Rubber Co., Taneytown. Her husband, who served with the U. S. Medical Corps, is employed by the Blue Ridge Rubber Co.

PLANK—TOPPER

Miss Dorothy Louise Topper, daughter of Mrs. Lottie Topper, McKnightstown and the late Philip B. Topper, became the bride of Allen Webb Plank, Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Plank, Sr., Fairfield, Route 2, Saturday evening at 7 o'clock in the Emmitsburg Lutheran Church, with the pastor, Rev. Philip Bower, officiating. Miss Ruth Shuff, organist, played appropriate wedding music.

Mr. and Mrs. William Watts, Washington, were Sunday callers of Mr. and Mrs. John Kelly.

Miss Nancy Wachter, St. Joseph's School of Nursing, Baltimore, visited her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Wachter over the weekend.

WEDDINGS

NEWCOMER—ADAMS

Miss Helen Janet Adams, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Norman Adams, 205 DePaul St., became the bride of Carroll Eugene Newcomer, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Newcomer, E. Main St., in St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, at 10 o'clock Saturday morning, Oct. 31. The ceremony was performed by the pastor, the Rev. Fr. John Sullivan, C.M., before an altar banked with white pompons, yellow and rust chrysantheums and lighted candles.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a ballerina-length gown of white satin designed with a white nylon net overskirt, a satin jacket ending in a peplum with the collar and sleeves trimmed in pleated nylon net. Her illusion veil was attached to a seed pearl tiara and her jewelry included antique pearl earrings. She carried a bouquet of white roses and ivy in a shower arrangement.

Jack Wantz, Emmitsburg, played the traditional wedding music and accompanied the soloist, Richard Frock, who sang "Ave Maria," "On This Day O Beautiful Mother" and "Mother At Thy Feet Is Kneeling."

Miss Harriet Harner, Philadelphia, Pa., cousin of the bride, was the maid of honor. She wore a forest green satin gown with a nylon net overskirt. Her lace jacket was fashioned with a mandarin collar and she wore long gloves. She wore a floral arrangement in her hair and carried an arm bouquet of yellow pompons.

Miss Kathleen Wantz, Emmitsburg, the bridal attendant, wore a gold satin gown with a nylon net overskirt, a lace jacket designed with a mandarin collar, long gloves, and a floral headpiece. She carried a bouquet of rust pompons.

David Arnold, Emmitsburg, was best man, and the ushers were William Adams, brother of the bride, and Roger Clem, Rocky Ridge, a cousin of the bridegroom.

The bride's mother wore a navy blue gabardine dressmaker suit with grey accessories and a corsage of yellow rebusids. The bridegroom's mother wore a grey wool suit with black velvet accessories and a corsage of yellow rebusids.

A reception was held after the ceremony at Bucher's Restaurant, S. Seton Ave., after which the couple left on a trip through the south. Upon their return they will reside in the Cooper Apts., Gettysburg Rd.

The bride, who was graduated from St. Agnes Hospital School of Nursing this year, is a member of the nursing staff of the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, Pa. The bridegroom, who was graduated from Emmitsburg High School in 1948, served for a year with the U. S. Army in Korea.

Drill Team

In Prize Money

The color guard and drill team of the Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, won $20 in prize money in the Halloween parade held in Gettysburg last Wednesday evening.

The following men were in the line of march: Everett Chrismer, George Danner, Charles Harner, Joseph Hadley, Maurice Koozt, Robert Myers, Paul McGlaughlin, Emmert McCleaf, T. Eugene Rodgers, Joseph Rodgers, Richard Ripka, Jack Rosensteel, Louis F. Rosensteel, Wilbur Rentel, Andrew T. Shorb, Joseph Staley, Leo Topper, Donald Topper, Carroll Topper, Henry Timmerman, Curtis Topper, Horace Neely, William T. Enzer, Edgar Westler, David Wantz, Henry Vincent, Paul Humerick and Gene Sprankle.

This Sunday, the drill team will participate in the Armistice Day parade at Brunswick. Last year the outfit was awarded first prize money of $50.00.

PRINTING PLANT GOES TO SMITHSBURG

Doubleday & Co., publishing firm which recently was interested in locating in Emmitsburg, announced this week plans to set up a plant at nearby Smithsburg to experiment on book manufacturing processes.

The company said the plant expected to begin operations early next year with a staff of 75 to 100 employees.

The company said the enterprise would include testing of machinery designed for more efficient book production.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Rodgers and family visited Sunday in Baltimore with friends and relatives.

Miss Elizabeth McCullough of Baltimore, spent the weekend visiting her father, Prof. Richard J. McCullough.

Mountaineer Basketball Prospects Considered Bright

Coach Bill Clarke's Mt. St. Mary's cage team began drills this week for the 43rd basketball season which gets under way against strong Villanova on Dec. 2, in Philadelphia. Facing a strong 23-game card that includes home-and-home frays with Gettysburg and Georgetown, the Mountaineers open their season with a New York trip hard on the heels of the Wildcat game. Ten of the first 12 games will be played on the road. On Jan. 11 the Mountaineers open a long home stay against Gettysburg.

The 23-game card lists 15 Mason-Dixon Conference games, one of the heaviest schedules in league play. Last season the Mountaineers wound up third in the conference with a 15-3 log, and an overall record of 20-7.

Back from last year's squad are 10 lettermen headed by Sal Angelo, an all-conference and all-tourney choice in his first campaign. Angelo led the Mountaineer scorers with 495 points for an 18.3 game average and picked 609 rebounds off the board for an average of 22.5 per game, one of the best in the nation. Other returnees include Ed Bals, diminutive set-shot artist; Bill Stanley, the Blue and White play-maker; George Donohue, Charley O'Donnell, Frank Swaine, Jack Dunphy, Jack Mazourex, Frank Smith, and Jack Sherman.

Three tall freshmen promise help under the boards: Jack Sullivan of St. Anthony's, Washington, D. C., who won almost every schoolboy honor in cage play last season; Al Saunders of Manhattan Prep, and Dick Anglim of St. Mary's, Elizabeth, N. J. All three tower well over six feet and have good speed and nice shots. Bob McNelis, second team All-Catholic in the Philadelphia area last season, adds back court strength. George Niggemeyer, all-state Catholic from Wheeling, W. Va., and Bob Burke of St. Peter's Prep, Jersey City, have also looked good in pre-season workouts.

Up from last year's team are Charley Futtered of Washington, D. C., and Jack McGrath, St. Benedict's Prep, Newark. Both are 6'3 and McGrath, in particular, has been impressive in the initial workouts.

Coach Clarke also expects to floor a strong freshman team with the possibility that some of the freshmen may later move into the varsity circle as the season goes along. Jimmy Maroney, an all-state 'B' choice from Bethlehem Catholic; Dick Sauerwald, of Calvert Hall, Baltimore; Frank Hogan, Troy, N. Y.; and Ralph Tuch, Carbondale, Pa., head up the list of prospects.

The schedule: Dec. 2, Villanova, away; 3, St. Peter's, away; 5, St. Francis, away; 7, Georgetown, away; 9, Gettysburg, away; 12, Gallaudet; 14, Catholic U., away; 16, Western Maryland, away; 19, Hofstra, away.

Jan. 7, American U., away; 11, Gettysburg; 13, Washington, away; 15, Hampden-Sydney; 20, Western Maryland.

Feb. 4, Loyola; 6, Baltimore, away; 8, Gallaudet, away; 11, American U.; 13, Catholic U.; 16, Georgetown; 20, Loyola, away; 24, Washington; 27, Baltimore.

Mar. 4, 5, 6, Mason-Dixon tourney.

Travelogue Is

Feature of Meeting

A description of European travel with projection of pictures in color by Miss Edith Long featured the regular meeting of the Mite Society of Trinity Methodist Church held at the home of Col. and Mrs. Thomas J. Frailey last Friday evening.

Miss Long recently returned from a tour of England, Italy, Belgium, Ireland, France and Switzerland.

The invocation, given by Rev. Byron H. Keesecker, was followed by a devotional service presented by Mrs. Lewis Bell. Winners in games and contests were Miss Edythe Nunemaker, Mrs. Estelle Watkins, Mrs. Byron H. Keesecker, and Mrs. Lewis Bell. The prizes awarded, the refreshments served and the decorations were in keeping with the Halloween season.

Mrs. H. P. Freeman, recently elected head of the society, presided. The next meeting of the group will be held at the home of Mrs. Estelle Watkins on Nov. 27.

Miss Bessie Topper, Fairfield, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Quinn F. Topper. Miss Jean Topper, Baltimore, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Quinn F. Topper.

National Master Cites Grange Achievements

The Frederick County Pomona Grange held its annual banquet in the Walkersville Community Hall last Thursday night with 256 members and guests attending. A roast turkey banquet was held followed by an outstanding program. The invocation was given by Harry Kanode, Pomona chaplain.

Pomona Master Bruce Crum presided and during the program spoke briefly and presented 4-H Club awards to Janet McDevitt of Mt. Pleasant, Mary Jane Wilcom of Urbana, Mehrl Ransberg of Walkersville, and William Rensberg of Middletown. Group singing was led by Attorney Edward Storm accompanying with the accordion. Mrs. Hazel Lewis of the Ballenger Grange acted as toastmaster and introduced the honored guests and past Pomona Masters. In doing this, Mrs. Lewis reviewed briefly the history of the Grange in Frederick County.

Honored guests present were Mrs. Frances Garner, general chairman of the banquet; Mrs. Earle Ramsberger, State Flora; Mr. and Mrs. Snyder of Carroll County; Mrs. Howard Quinn, State Juvenile superintendent; Mrs. Lester Simm, the only woman master of a Maryland Grange, master of Medford Grange; Mr. Harry Shoemaker, county agrivator agent, and Mrs. Shoemaker; Rev. and Mrs. Hartley of the Walkersville Methodist Church; former state senator, Edward D. Storm; Edward Holter, Maryland State Master and National Lecturer. Past Masters were Homer Ramsberg, David Fry, Austin Renn, Howard Quinn, Tobias Zimmerman, and Mr. Krickenberg.

A quartet from the Middletown Grange, composed of father and sons, Robert, Cecil Jr., Cecil Sr., and Richard Holter sang two selections. This quartet is a winner in the Pomona contest and will be contesting the State contest. Two trombone solos were presented by Henry Keller of the Jefferson Grange.

National Grange Master Kershel D. Newsum, Washington, D. C., and former Indiana farmer, was introduced by Master Crum. Mr. Newsum gave a most interesting and instructive talk on the recent accomplishments of the National Grange. He said that five and one-half of the six 1953 legislative objectives of the Grange have already been accomplished. They are (1) a congressional restudy of the Federal export and import problems. Quoting statistics, National Master Newsum said that both our cotton and wheat export markets have declined in recent years and the world production of cotton has increased greatly while the U. S. production has declined. (2) Authorization for the reorganization of the Dept. of Agriculture resulting in increased efficiency and economy. Speaker Newsum pointed out that this objective has been accomplished and there is at present an 18-man advisory commission working under Secretary Benson. He emphasized the greatness of the task and cautioned every one not to expect anyone to come up with the answer and effect a cure all in a day. He said farmers were suffering a 360 million dollar loss in equity this fiscal year and the Government was reaching the 6% billion dollar ceiling. He said as the servant of the National Grange, he was pushing for the two price programs for wheat. This he said, simply was a program to support the price here at home at just levels and sell wheat at a lower price on the world market, meeting world competition. Speaker Newsum pleaded for an adjusted Federal import and export law enabling other countries to sell to us and U. S. to sell more goods to these countries. He emphasized that the present price support program is NOT politically feasible or economically sound. It was only a temporary and not the permanent solution. He said he was not sure that anyone, including the Grange or the Secretary of Agriculture, had the answer. He said that unless we regained and kept our world market, agriculture would suffer a 30% decrease in America and that would be a destructive blow to our national security and to world peace.

(4) Another objective achievement has been the approval of legislation to give farm groups greater control of farm credit corporations.

(5) Adequate but wise appropriations for agriculture extension surveys and educational research. He closed with stating (Continued on Page Two)

Town Council Okays Sewerage Survey

A preliminary survey to determine the sewerage needs of the town was authorized Monday night at the regular meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners, President of the Board Thomas J. Frailey presiding over a full board.

Town Clerk Louise Sebald presented the following reports: treasurer's, tax collector's, and the secretary's report, and all were approved as presented.

Police Chief Daniel J. Kaas presented his monthly report to the board and reported 53 parking meter violations for October, which were paid. Arrests for traffic violations included one for drunken driving, one reckless driving charge, three for speed greater than reasonable or proper, and seven for exceeding the 25-mile an hour speed limit through town. Fines totaled $236.00. Parking meter revenue for October was reported as $349.24.

Chief Kaas reported that six deputies had been engaged for policing during Halloween.

Communications were read from the State Health Dept., the R. Brooke Maxwell Co., and from a Hagerstown surveying concern.

Council held a lengthy debate before okaying the preliminary survey to determine the future sewerage needs of the corporation and finally awarded the contract to the R. Brooke Maxwell Co. of Baltimore, who previously was hired to make an earlier survey, which is now on record.

Officials complained of the habit of residents burning leaves on the newly-paved highway within the corporate limits of town. Damage has been done by the effect of the fire on the soft tar finish and a paid advertisement notifying residents to cease this practice was ordered published.

Street Commissioner Charles R. Fuss reported all alleys finished and that a total of 800 tons of stone and 11,000 gallons of oil were used in the project. Work done on private driveways by the working crews will be charged to those property-owners, who asked for the improvement and bills will be sent in the near future.

Delinquent taxpayers were discussed and the Solons decided that action would be forthcoming very soon. While no great number of delinquents was involved, it was felt that all taxpayers in arrears should make some effort to pay them up before they are turned over to county authorities, causing additional penalties to those in arrears. Several loose parking meters were ordered to be re-cemented and made fast.

Committes Appreciates Co-operation

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

The Halloween parade committee of the Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion, would like to use this means of publicly thanking the following for their part in making this year's parade so successful: Mayor Thornton Rodgers, Mrs. Harry Scott, Mr. Fern Ohler, the Vigilant Hose Co., the Priests of St. Vincent's House, Mr. Roger Zurgable, Chief of Police Daniel Kaas, Special Police officers of Emmitsburg, Municipal Band, Houck's Clothing Store, Green's Pastry Shop, Phil Sharpe, and the American Legion Drill Team.

We were again blessed with favorable weather for the parade and everything came off as scheduled. More than 285 numbers were handed out indicating that at least 325 or more children and adults participated, since some groups only carried one number. This was almost 100 more participants than last year.

If this parade aided in any way in curbing vandalism and made our children happy, then we can say it was successful.

Signed: Harold Hoke, chairman, Richard McCullough, Louis F. Rosensteel, Eugene Rodgers, Paul Humerick, Charles Harner, and Everett Chrismer.

St. Joseph's PTA Meeting Tuesday

The Parent-Teachers Assn. of St. Joseph's High School will meet Tuesday evening, Nov. 10, at 7:30 o'clock in the high school auditorium. A feature of the entertainment program will be skits, amateur acts and instrumental solos by the high school students. A monetary prize will be offered the room having the largest representation of parents present.

Lutheran Council Elects Officers

The annual congregational meeting of Elias Ev. Lutheran Church was held Monday evening at 7:30 o'clock. The chairman of the meeting was Elder George Wilhide, and the secretary was J. Richard Saylor, secretary of the church council. Clarence Hahn was re-elected elder for two years and Morris Zentz was re-elected deacon, and Allen Bollinger was elected deacon for two years to succeed Carroll E. Frock Jr. Reports were received from the treasurer of the congregation and from the Sunday School, the Women's Missionary Society, the Women of the Church, the League of Young Adults and the Chapel Choir. The financial budget for another year was adopted.

The pastor, Rev. Philip Bower, reported that 39 new members were received into the communion of the church by adult baptism, confirmation and letter. Twenty-nine infants were received by the sacrament of baptism. There were nine deaths in the congregation during the past year and 10 were dismissed to other congregations by letter.

The pastor spoke briefly to the congregation about the preaching mission which will be held the last full week of November. He called upon every member to support this mission and do all possible by prayer, announcement and invitation to make the mission a success.

SJHS News

Nov. 8-14 has been designated this year as American Education Week. The central theme for this year's observance is "Good Schools Are Your Responsibility."

In keeping with all schools throughout the county SJHS will have two assemblies to commemorate this most important week. On Tuesday, Nov. 10, Rev. Hugh O'Donnell, C.M., A.B., assistant professor of philosophy and religion of St. Joseph College, will address the student body on Pope Pius XI's great encyclical on Christian Education. On Thursday, Nov. 12, Dr. A. Wasilifsky, Ph.D., professor of English, St. Joseph College, will address the students. Parents and friends of students are cordially invited to attend these assemblies.

St. Joseph's High School centralized its local talent in an amateur show Thursday to raise funds for the missions. "The Students," commented Sister Madeleine, "are to be commended for their fine co-operation and mission spirit which they showed in this endeavor and in previous mission activities." The show included piano and vocal selection, tap dancing, pantomines, and selections played on guitars, ukuleles and other instruments. Tickets were made by the first year Art Class.

Those who participated were Angela Rocks, George Hobbs, George Arnold, William Kaas, Jean Keefer, Virginia Joy, Mary Virginia Joy, Ellen Rocks, Theodora Rybikowsky, Eugene Rosensteel, John Breth, William Greco, Robert Portner, Robert Gelwicks, Floyd Miller, Gay Elder, Loretta Behr, Marie Sanders, Mary Louise Dukehart, Jean Watkins, Joan Watkins, John Roddy III, Arthur Blanchard, Eugene Sprengle, Robert Wetzel, Shirley Gladhill, Barbara Leach, and Anna Marie Reaver.

The Junior Class will sponsor a dance Friday, Nov. 13, in the school auditorium. "The Dance of Plenty" will be enjoyed by all who come between 8:00 and 11:30 p. m.

The world is getting more mixed up Each and everyday
The living always gets tougher When it's this way.
Seems some people just don't care
How they live or do
Of course it isn't much wonder From what some have gone thru.
That isn't the way we should feel
There are others not just us
So why should we always be griping
And making a terrible fuss.
Though the world and its people
Seem to have a terrible life
Just keep hoping for the best
Everything will turn out right.

Knowledge is Power

1. ARE TWINS TWICE AS MUCH WORK?

3. CAN YOU SPEAK TO A DOG?

(1) Most mothers agree that the actual physical care amounts to about one and a half as much as a single baby requires. It isn't much more work to bathe an extra baby, once the equipment is assembled. The added time it takes to feed and change two is compensated for by the fact that they amuse each other. There is seldom a bored and fussy baby among twins. Mary Thistle examines the twin problem in Parents magazine.

Most parents of twins say that the emotional strain is three or four times as great as it is with one baby. But the rewards are great too. Because the extra pair of hands is so greatly needed, fathers and mothers of twins are truly a team.

(2) Most people who sleepwalk do not consult a doctor because they believe that sleepwalking is nothing to worry about. Sometimes, writes Geraldine Mavor in This Week magazine, it is serious. To be on the safe side, sleepwalkers should consult a doctor. Most children who sleepwalk are insecure, says Dr. M. N. Pai of Dartford, England, after studying 117 sleepwalkers. These children sleepwalk to satisfy their desire to climb into bed with mother or father.

(3) That depends on your tone of voice and the action which accompanies the words. Ramona Albert's book, "Living Your Dog's Life," gives you the facts about dogs and the methods of training which they understand. A pleading voice only confuses a dog, she points out. It leaves him to make his own decisions instead of giving him an order. To teach a dog anything you must be able both by voice and manner to express clearly encouragement, praise and command.

MARYLAND FARM FRONT

According to George J. Martin, chairman of the Maryland Production and Marketing Administration State Committee, an announcement has been received from the Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson that there will be no marketing quotas for the 1954 crop of corn. The total supply of corn for the 1953-54 marketing year is below the level at which quotas would be called for under controlling legislation.

At the same time, the Secretary announced that under the mandatory provisions of existing legislation acreage allotments probably will be proclaimed later for the commercial corn-producing area. Final decision on acreage allotments for next year's corn crop will be made when more is known about the effect of drought on the supply and prospective demand situation, and prior to Feb. 1, 1954. However, prudent administration demands that preliminary work in preparation for possible acreage allotments be started at once. This will include collecting and compiling basic data for individual farms which must be considered in determining farm acreage allotments.

Mr. Martin explained that the Agricultural Adjustment Act of 1938, as amended, provides that the Secretary shall each year proclaim acreage allotments on corn produced in the commercial corn-producing area by not later than Feb. 1, unless dispensed with under the emergency powers of the Act. (Acreage allotments were last used in 1950. Marketing quotas on corn have never been proclaimed.)

The commercial corn-producing area is defined as (a) all counties in which the average production of corn (excluding corn used as silage) during the preceding 10 calendar years, after adjustments for abnormal weather conditions, is 450 bushels or more per farm and four bushels or more per acre of farm land in the county, and (b) all counties bordering on the commercial corn-producing area which the Secretary finds will likely produce a comparable amount of corn during the year for which such area is determined.

Deer Season For Archers Opens Today

The season for any deer with bow and arrow, according to the Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission, will open in Allegany, Baltimore, Carroll, Dorchester, Harford, Kent, Queen Anne's, Worcester and Wicomico Counties Friday, Nov. 6, and run through Saturday, Nov. 14. One deer of either sex may be killed.

The regular season on upland game—quail, pheasants, rabbits and grouse will not open until Nov. 16, as the usual opening date of Nov. 15 comes on Sunday. For the same reason the season opens for hunting raccoons and opossums Nov. 2. The second period of the mourning doves season will open along with the upland game season, Nov. 16, closing Saturday, Nov. 28.

The season on waterfowl opens Wednesday, Nov. 11, at noon, running through to sunset Saturday, Jan. 9.

The season on squirrels closed Saturday, Oct. 31, at sundown and there will be no further open season in 1953. The turkey season, open only in Garret, Allegany, and Washington Counties, closed at the same time.

A PRESENT HELP FOR SICK FRIENDS AND SHUT-INS

YOU PROBABLY KNOW what it feels like to be laid low by flu or virus or to be cooped up after an operation or illness. And when you have a friend who is sick or convalescing, you send flowers or a book and wonder what other little thing would be really welcome. Here's what one woman, a shut-in herself, has been doing, based on her own experience of months of invalidism. With all her notes and little remembrances, she tucks in a tube of Chap Stick—just a small item but something that is really appreciated by men and women, young and old.

"Just what my lips needed—they get so dry, and they feel better already," wrote one grateful recipient. "Whenever I have a temperature my lips get so cracked, I can really use this Chap Stick," said another letter. This handy little tube of soothing lip balm gives quick relief to parched rough lips, whether the condition is caused by fever or freezing winds, internal or external high temperatures. Chap Stick's specially medicated, anti-septic formula makes it suitable for children as well as grow-ups, and in its neat little black and white case it can be carried conveniently in even the smallest pocket or handbag or tucked into a "get well" card for mailing.

Send a tube of Chap Stick to any friend in the hospital, to elderly people who are shut-in or bedridden, to children recovering from tonsil operations or a bout of measles, to hospitalized veterans, and learn for yourself how much comfort this little gift can bring. And while you're about it, why not treat yourself to a tube for your own use as well? (ANS)

How well do you know your own face?

Have you ever noticed, for instance, that the two sides of your face are different—though they seem the same at first glance? (One eyebrow may be a little higher. Or you may have a dimple at only one corner of your mouth.)

The same is true of lots of things, even electricity. There's federal government electricity and there's company electricity like yours. They seem the same on the face of it. But there's a big difference:

goes first to certain favored groups; it pays little or no taxes; its rates are not regulated by state or local bodies; it is a step toward a federal government power monopoly—and socialism.

Company Electricity

is available to everyone in the company area without discrimination; it pays taxes—federal, state and local; its rates are regulated by people chosen to represent you; it plays a key role in America's free enterprise system.

So it pays to look closely when things look the same. You'll often find differences. And in electricity, these differences affect you and your family very directly.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER W. BABSON

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Nov. 5—Early last summer I discussed the 1953 crop outlook, which then was more or less tentative. Now the overall situation is more clearly defined. Despite the vagaries of summer and early fall weather, the outlook is for the third largest total production of record.

Nature Already Has Been Kind

Most of my earlier crop forecasts have been well borne out. For instance, another billion-bushel-plus wheat crop already has been harvested, with much to spare. Total supplies for the 1953-54 season would, in fact, prove extremely burdensome were it not for the government support price of $2.21 a bushel (national average at the farm.) Wheat farmers are taking good advantage of the loan, which means that prices may average somewhat higher. The gimmick, however, is this: An official curb on 1954 acreage! The piper must be paid!

Below-average crops of barley, oats, and rye have been harvested. Nevertheless, supplies of these grains should suffice for indicated requirements. Higher prices should rule over the longer term. The flaxseed crop of 39 million bushels is slightly above the 10-year average and will prove fully adequate. Although drought sharply reduced soybean prospects, the indicated U. S. outturn of 259 million bushels is 18 per cent above the 10-year average. Including record farm stocks, total supplies will easily suffice for 1953-54 requirements. Yet both flaxseed and soybean prices may work a little higher as the season advances.

A Glance At Fall Crop Prospects

Last summer's long, hot dry spell cut the nation's corn prospects, but not enough to cause real concern. The indicated crop of around 3.2 billion bushels is slightly under the 1952 outturn, but still five per cent above the 10-year average. It should suffice, since the carryover was of average size. The support price of $1.60 a bushel (national average) will ease marketing pressure. Later in the season, the price support program and the prevailing favorable feeding ratio may result in somewhat higher average prices.

The edible dry bean crop this year probably will be in the vicinity of 17.7 million bags (100 pounds each), only slightly under the 10-year average, and will easily go around. Prices are under seasonal pressure, but should recover over the longer term. The U. S. potato crop of close to 374 million bushels is about nine per cent below the 10-year average, but well above normal domestic consumption. My June forecast of a big U. S. rice crop is being well borne out; in fact, it will set a record high. Current price weakness in both potatoes and rice should be followed by some recovery over the longer term.

Cotton Crop

My earlier cotton forecast that a large crop would be planted, despite the government's request for a sharp cut, is being fully realized. The indicated yield of 15.5 million bales compared with the 1942-51 average of 12.2 million bales. Including the Aug. 1 carryover of 5.5 million bales, total supplies for the 1953-54 season will be around 21.1 million bales, or about 10 million bales above indicated domestic consumption and exports. A lot of cotton planters will demand government loans this season. Cotton farmers will pay for this splurge by a sharp cut in the 1954 national cotton acreage allotment.

Farm Price Outlook

Although I expect total cash receipts from farm marketings to decline moderately in 1954, they still will be sizable. Farmers on the whole should continue to prosper. However, certain sections, like Kansas, the dairy states and parts of the Southwest, are suffering. The problems of farm surpluses and a workable and fair price support program remain unsettled. Hard work, cost cutting, promotional programs, and a putting of the national interest above that of any one group will speed the solution. I will discuss the livestock situation in a later issue of this paper.

How To Hang Draperies Properly

To insure an even hang, measure back of pinch pleat and mark seam.

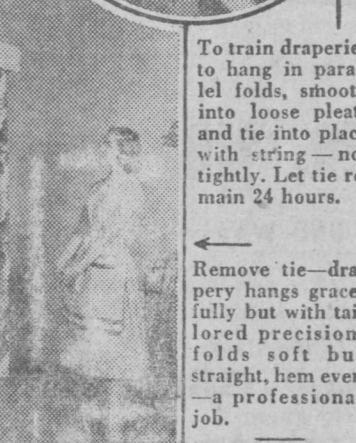

Fasten hook at pencil mark to the back of seam, never between pinch pleats.

Hang the draperies with each hook securely attached. Use care in securing these fastenings. One loose hook out of its anchorage can create an ugly sag in the drapery, both top and bottom.

To train draperies to hang in parallel folds, smooth into loose pleats and tie into place with string—not tightly. Let tie remain 24 hours.

Remove tie—drapery hangs gracefully but with tailored precision, folds soft but straight, hem even—a professional job.

Seven out of every ten draperies are hung wrong, according to the American Society of Interior Design.

To properly hang draperies so they fall into graceful lines: First, the rod must be even and straight. Second, the fabric should be twice the width you want the drapery to be when it is pinched. For draperies to be effective, fullness is important.

Each drapery panel must match its mate in length. Folds should be soft but straight. Follow these tips recommended by Desley fabric authorities and your draperies will have that decorator look.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

(Editor, Sports Afield Magazine)

From the end of October thru November, your chances of catching a really big musky or pike are at least 25 times better than in summer. Maybe even 50. Fishing now does not call for special skill nor a knowledge of how to find good spots because the fish are ranging widely, seeking all the food they can find.

Usually water of about six to 12 feet deep is the best bet now, and trolling anywhere within these depths you are likely to pick one up. Give special attention to the neighboring of reefs, small islands and towards the ends of long points.

You won't need any special tackle but be sure your line is in good condition. The test line to use depends largely on your experience in handling big fish and on how cool-headed you are when things happened suddenly. Among guides and other experienced anglers, 20-pound-test is about standard for musky and large pike. On a reel that has a drag, this test line will do for anybody. But the less experienced man whose reel has no drag should use heavier. Use a wire leader. If you're casting, eight inches is enough, but you can use slightly longer when trolling.

Some anglers think that for these big fish you don't need a lure much larger than moderate bass size. Discussing this in Sports Afield magazine, Jason Lucas says that this time of year when they're feeding so ravenously, he prefers to offer them a pretty good mouthfull.

Nearly all agree that a shiny spoon is best at most times—but should it be spinning or wobbling with feathers or bucktails, and if with the latter, what color? I don't think it matters much just so it has reasonably good action of some sort. Carry along a good sized plug for the times they don't seem to want a spoon. Lucas suggests one of a slimmer fish shape and with pike-scale finish. Some lures of this type are jointed in the middle and some aren't. It doesn't matter which you use, just so it runs moderately deep.

Keep your hooks sharp these fish have hard mouths. Set the hook well by several hard tugs. And here's the secret of being practically certain to land any large fish that's well hooked: having pulled quite hard in setting the hook, never again during the battle put on that much pressure. Then the line can't break or the hook straighten.

If you plan installation of fluorescent lights in your home, bear in mind that this type of lighting has a tendency to make pastel colors—especially "cool" ones—appear bleached and grayed.

Beware of shiny decoys. They scare waterfowl so you'll never get a shot.—Sports Afield

Parents are the same everywhere. You want your youngsters to have the best of everything. It's only natural. So it's only natural that many of you give your youngsters United States Savings Bonds. Probably no gift is more rewarding than this gift with a future. Because when those Savings Bonds mature, your youngster will get a return of four dollars for every three dollars you invest . . . extra money that he'll need for school or college later on. Give your youngster—any youngster—a United States Savings Bond—the improved Series E Bond. It's one of the best of all gifts—a gift with a future.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

The drive to increase postal rates on all mail, including newspapers, to reduce operating deficit, turns up interesting sidelights on U. S. Postal Service.

The lot of top career postal men is not the most happy one, and it is to their credit that they maintain efficient service.

At various times, criticism crops up that P. O. service is staffed with people lacking understanding of business principles, but Congressional committee hearing on subject indicate statements of this nature are largely due to ignorance of the handicaps under which the service operates.

In usual business procedure, securing possible costs is routine practice. But postal officials are barred from this established business practice.

As an example, Post Office has been compelled to pay air mail rates and subsidies fixed by the Civil Aeronautics Board.

Due to recent disclosures CAB now pays subsidies out of its pocket, as of Oct. 1st.

Thus an estimated total air mail subsidy for this year of $80,655,000 will not be charged against postal service.

But the postal service, paying rates of 45 and 53 cents per ton mile as fixed by the CAB, will pay airlines $56,070,000 this year for supposed service charges.

There is a lot of discussion that there is an element of subsidy even in the service rate of 45 cents per ton mile. In a recent hearing, W. Lee Pierson, TWA head stated at least a part of the 45 cent rate should be considered as payment for services rendered, leaving a strong inference that part represents subsidy.

The Senate Small Business Committee announces independent airlines which CAB classifies as irregular, has made an offer to fly mail for 15 cents per ton mile.

And although this rate would knock off as much as $40 million more from Post Office costs, the postal service is powerless to even discuss this offer, without CAB consent.

No one knows what a 15 cent per ton mile rate might do toward lowering other mail transportation costs. Testimony in a past hearing established that in previous years rail mail rates have increased 95%.

Robert S. Henry of the Association of American Railroads estimates that rail rates for carrying mail are 16.2 cents per ton mile. In this rate, of course, is figured the transportation of the railway mail clerks.

However, competition has a strange way of working to lower costs. If the Post Office could fly mail for 15 cents per ton mile, in order to meet this competition, railroads might be able to refigure their mail rates.

It's interesting speculation, but will remain speculation unless Congress decides to give the P. O. authority to run the department on straight business principles.

But until such time that the Post Office is in a position to reject being loaded with unnecessary costs, and is able to bargain for services as a free agent in the open and competitive market, it appears that no increase in postal rates can be justified.

Your Personal Health

How Do You Read?

Every few months we read about a new medical "miracle," as the magazines and newspapers keep us up to date on the phenomenal progress being made these days by medical and dental science.

Sometimes, however, the doctors wish we were informed either much less about medical matters, or much more correctly. After reading a headline, excited patients besiege the doctors demanding a new and unproved "cure." Keeping the news out of the press is not the answer. You and I have the right to know about new medical discoveries that may some day affect us. But we must learn to read beyond the headlines of a scientific news story.

Headlines are not supposed to tell a story, but to lead us to read the complete facts. There are not many articles which can't be trusted, and you can usually spot them by their sensational tone. Learn to watch for certain signposts. If the writer seems to be telling you: "This is it," "This disease has been definitely defeated," "This new discovery will cure everyone," that's the time to be doubtful.

Most science writers are very careful in announcing a new medical treatment. If it holds out hope, but has not been thoroughly tested, they will tell you that it is "based on a limited—" or "a single study." You will see such words as "experimentally," "preliminary," "apparently," and "seems." When the writer says that the treatment "relieves" the symptoms of a disease, he does not mean that it will "cure" the disease.

Even if the "cure" seems completely proved, don't jump to the conclusion you can be cured. Every patient must be treated as an individual. Don't hesitate to ask your doctor about it. Take the article to him so that he will know what you're talking about. Sometimes a story will appear in the papers before the doctor has been able to read about it in his medical journal.

Don't expect the doctor to give you an immediate answer. Only if the new treatment has been thoroughly tested and shows promise for your case will he use it. The important point in any illness is to start with a doctor you trust and then accept his decision.

Homemakers' Corner

Apples are everyone's favorite. Serve them anytime—from apple juice at breakfast to a raw apple before bedtime; for an appetizer or dessert.

They're especially right for the calorie-watcher, too. According to nutritionist Janet Coblenz, University of Maryland Extension Service, one medium-sized apple contains only 80 calories. So munch on an apple whenever you are hungry.

Apples are good nutrition-wise, too, says Miss Coblenz. When eaten raw they provide some vitamin C, though not enough to meet the daily requirement. Crisp firm apples help keep teeth and gums in good condition. And they contain pectin which absorbs intestinal poisons and aids normal activity.

Before buying apples in large quantity, it's wise to buy a few at first to try and to see whether they have the flavor and texture you want.

Maryland's best all-purpose apples are Golden Delicious, Jonathan and Stayman. Golden Delicious are especially good for salads since they don't turn dark on standing. Jonathan and Stayman make excellent frying apples. And they are all excellent, whether eaten out of the hand, baked, used in a pie or as a sauce.

Good Treatment For Furniture Surfaces

How can you keep a good finish on furniture surfaces?

Only a minimum of care is needed to maintain a good finish, according to home furnishings specialist, Florence Mason, University of Maryland Extension Service. If the surface has been waxed, no furniture polish is needed. In fact, polishes dissolve the wax.

Instead, simply dust with a clean soft cloth. Foid under the soiled sections as you dust, and renew wax as needed. Wipe off sticky soil with a damp cloth; allow the wax to dry, then polish. If soil has penetrated the wax, re wax the area after removing soil.

When fine scratches appear, Miss Mason advises using 3/0 steel wool and turpentine or a cleaning solvent. Rub the surface with the grain until the scratches disappear, and re wax. This treatment is especially good for surfaces that have been neglected or for furniture that has

Wages Only Factor Determining Amount Of Social Security

Many people are asking the question, "should the value of board and room furnished a worker be reported for Social Security purposes," said W. S. King, of the Hagerstown Social Security office this week.

Federal law defines wages as "all remuneration for employment, including the cash value of all remuneration paid in any medium other than cash." Such payments are generally referred to as wages in kind. If you receive payment in kind you don't get paid in money, but receive something else of equal value. If your wages are paid in kind, the actual value of whatever you receive should be reported for Social Security purposes as if you had been paid in money, Mr. King said. There are just two exceptions to this rule. If you are regularly employed as an agricultural worker on the farm or as a domestic in a private household, only cash wages count and are to be reported.

In some kinds of work the employees commonly receive both cash wages and wages in kind. For example, restaurant and hotel workers commonly get meals and sometimes living quarters as part of the pay for their services. A hotel manager is oft times permitted to occupy an apartment in the hotel as part pay for his services. The fair rental value of the apartment is a substantial part of his salary. Employees of institutions, such as a church home, in most cases are given room and board as part pay for their services. The fair value of the room and board should be reported for social security purposes, provided the home has filed a waiver of exemption and the employees are covered by social security. Some states have established a fair value for such room and board. In the state of Maryland it is $30 per month.

What difference does it make whether wages paid in kind are reported for Social Security purposes the same as cash wages? For one thing, the law requires it. Then, too, benefits are based on the average monthly earnings from employment or an occupation covered by the program. The higher the monthly earnings are, the higher the monthly benefit will be.

Anyone desiring further information regarding wages in kind, or social security in general, should inquire at the Hagerstown office, 74 W. Washington St.

Holiday Postoffice Hours Are Listed

The Postoffice lobby will be open on Armistice Day, Wednesday, Nov. 11, from 8:30 a. m. until 9:30 a. m. The service windows are not open on holidays and no business is transacted. There will be no rural delivery on that day. Banks throughout the state also will be closed Armistice Day.

Chili Days Are Here Again!

Fall appetites call for hot and hearty meals like this spicy pan of kidney beans and cheese. Flavored by the "cowboy's spice," chili powder, it's a delicious one-dish meal, good for parties or family dining. Chili powder, the spice used in chili con carne, has a flavor men love. The American Spice Trade Association also suggests trying it as a flavoring for your next beef stew, meat loaf, scrambled eggs, fish or salad dressing. This versatile, dark red spice is booming in popularity throughout the country. Many people are using it as the "third shaker" on the table.

FRIOLES CON QUESO

- 2 slices bacon
- 1/2 medium onion, thinly sliced
- 1/2 green pepper, diced
- 1/2 lb. sharp cheddar cheese, shredded
- 1 tablespoon chili powder
- 1 teaspoon whole oregano leaves
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 1/2 16 teaspoon ground black pepper
- 1 tablespoon dried parsley flakes
- 1/4 teaspoon cumin seed (optional)
- 2 ripe tomatoes, diced
- 1/2 cup tomato sauce
- 1 #2 can red kidney beans

Fry bacon until crisp. Drain and crumble. Saute onions and green pepper in bacon fat until clear. Add cheese and seasonings. Heat, stirring constantly, until cheese is melted. Add tomatoes and tomato sauce and blend. Add beans and cook slowly about 5 minutes, until well blended and beans are heated through, stirring constantly. Serves 4-5.

International Week At Laurel

International Week, a gala and unique occasion for the nation's sporting patrons, opened this week at Laurel Race Course as five European thoroughbreds, flying here to race in the Washington, D. C., International Saturday, Nov. 7.

These five, believed to be the greatest number of horses ever to fly the Atlantic for immediate racing purposes, will meet six other thoroughbreds from various countries in John D. Schapiro's second running of this world-renowned grass race in which the participants compete through invitations from the Laurel association and a panel of newspapermen.

The International, at a mile and a half under weight-for-age conditions and from a walkup start for aged horses, carries a gross purse of $65,000, of which the winner gets a flat $50,000. Last year, the winning horse received $32,500 out of a $50,000 prize.

Crossing the big pond via Pan-American were Robert Boucher's Wilwyn, last year's winner, and Thomas Robinson's Harwin, representing England; Paul Dubosq's Silnet and Ralph B. Strassburger's Worden from France; and Ireland's Treetops Hotel, owned jointly by Thomas Reeves and Capt. Darby Rogers.

Arriving from Buenos Aires was the Argentine Stud's Mister Black via Miami. Already on the ground is Alfred L. Hawkins' Thirteen of Diamonds from Ireland who has made two testing tours of Laurel's lush infield strip.

These seven foreign-owned horses will meet two American candidates — Charfran Stable's Crafty Admiral and Brookmeade Stable's Sunglow—in the International plus two grass stars who are American-owned but foreign-bred. They are Mrs. Esther duPont Weir's Royal Vale and Arnold Hanger's Iceberg II. The former is an English-bred and the latter was foaled in Chile.

Their foreign jockeys will arrive via plane with the French ace, Roger Poincelot, to ride Silnet, and Charlie Smirke, Worden's jockey. Manny Mercer (Wilwyn), and Harry Carr (Harwin), Tommy Gosling (Thirteen of Diamonds), Carlos Cruz (Mister Black) also arrived early in this week.

Of the home contingent, Sunglow (Nick Shuk) and Iceberg II (Jorge Contreras) are on the grounds, whereas Royal Vale (Jack Westrope) and Crafty Admiral (Bill Boland) will arrive today.

ENGINEERS ORGANIZE

The County Engineers' Assn. of Md., was formally organized Thurs., Oct. 29 at an initial meeting at the Key Hotel in Frederick. Representatives from 12 of 14 counties having county highway departments were represented.

Roger H. Willard, Frederick county roads engineer, was elected president. Arthur W. Tayman, Prince George's County, was elected vice president and Webb DeWitt, of Garrett County, was named treasurer.

Giving Capitalism Youth Appeal

The cloak-and-dagger aspects of Communism and the glittering but false promises of Socialism make fascinating subjects for high school and college classroom discussions. On the other hand, the bare facts of capitalism or the American economic system usually are not as interestingly presented. Imagination and experimentation are needed in our schools if we are to bring to life for youngsters the truly exciting facts about our American economic system.

At the Harding College Freedom Forum last week a high school social science teacher and a personnel relations director of a lumber company in Warren, Ark., told how they had worked together to make the facts about American capitalism a fascinating high school subject. They were Marion Hickingbottom, of the Warren High School faculty, and William Craven, personnel director for Southern Lumber Co. Hickingbottom is a Harding College graduate. Craven attended a Harding Freedom 18 months ago. Last year they got together in some community Americanism work and in time got to discussing Hickingbottom's "Problems in Democracy," course for high school seniors.

Appeal Missing

"One of the weakest parts of the course," Hickingbottom told our Freedom Forum conferees from 25 states, "was the presentation of Capitalism. Socialism and Communism fascinated the youngsters, although I was exposing the evil nature of the intrigue and the miserable economic results of either Communism or Socialism. But when we got to Capitalism something was missing. We had the cold hard facts but the fascination for youth wasn't there."

Bill Craven came up with an idea. Why not use his company as a laboratory of capitalism, take the high school seniors to it and let them study it in action, its system of doing business, its problems, its benefits to the employees and owners, and its social worth to the community. Hickingbottom went to the local school heads and Craven to his company's management for permission to conduct the experiment. Permission was granted.

At The Plant

For two weeks the high school "Problems in Democracy" class spent two periods per day at Southern Lumber Co. They saw a graphic presentation of the history of the lumber industry; how in days gone by it was a cut-and-get-out operation; but how, in recent years, the lumber people had discovered how to grow trees as a crop and make lumbering stable and permanent. They visited the sawmill and planer mills, the sales offices and by-products operations. They went into the pine woods and saw scientific forestry being practiced.

Then Hickingbottom and Craven took them into the plant's personnel training rooms and "sold" the company to the students for $2.5 million, issuing 25,000 shares of stock. A president, vice president, treasurer and two other directors were appointed. Bill Craven acted as their company manager. He placed $250,000 in simulated currency on the director's table and told the owners this was their profit for one year. Everybody wanted to declare a dividend at once!

Good Results

But Craven described a debarking machine which the company needed. He told the owners it would cost $150,000 to purchase it and operate it for one year, but that it would permit sale of bark chips which currently were being burned as waste. It was a genuine business problem. The high school seniors were brought directly to grips with the pros and cons of the investment, and natural inclination toward declaring dividends, the factors of business taxes, prices and wages, sales competition, depreciation, inflation and all the other problems confronting American business. They had fun learning.

"For a time," Bill Craven told our Forum audience, "these youngsters became a part of the American business system, an element in capitalism—they became capitalists." Tests then were given. Results showed the class scored 50 per cent above the national average for high school seniors in "understanding Capitalism."

The full text of the Craven-Hickingbottom Freedom Forum presentation, "Giving Capitalism Youth Appeal" is available in pamphlet form for cost of printing. Write Harding College, National Education Program, Searcy, Ark.

Handicapped Youth Is Hood Topic

"The Care of Handicapped Children," the problem of community health and welfare that placed first in an interest pool taken in Frederick last summer by Hood College, will come up for consideration in the next four sessions of adult education classes being held weekly at the college.

Since a hundred people turned out for the first session, Oct. 26, to hear Dr. J. R. Heller, director of the National Cancer Institute, discuss "Cancer," the problem that stood fourth in the interest poll, it is believed at least a similar number can be expected for the remainder of the fall series, which closes Nov. 30.

In order to bring to the public the latest information on the various phases of care to be considered, the college has invited leaders in the medical and educational fields to speak at the classes, held each Monday evening at 7:45 o'clock.

The classes are open to all interested persons. No advance registration is required. There is a small fee of 50 cents per lecture. Miss Geneva Faith Ely, Ph.D., a former Frederick countian and Hood graduate who is now supervisor of special education for the Maryland State Dept. of Education, will speak Monday, Nov. 9.

Miss Ely travels throughout the counties of Maryland supervising the educational handling of the exceptional (or handicapped) children—those who have difficulties of speech, hearing, locomotion or mental retardation. She will discuss what is being done in these counties and the possibilities for expanded work in this line. All of the sessions will offer opportunity for asking questions about improved care of these children.

Insect Invasions

Epidemic invasions of two predatory insects were experienced last year according to the American Peoples Encyclopedia Yearbook for 1953. In an area centering in the Kootenai National Forest in Montana, the spruce beetle threatened extensive stands of Engelmann spruce valued at about 50 million dollars. British Columbia was the focus of invasion of the European leaf hopper.

(No. 11 of a series)

Did You Know there are about 250,000 highway bridges in the United States today?

Many of These are modern, built in accordance with the latest principles of transportation planning. But even more of them are woefully antiquated, constructed in the tradition of 1890.

That is Why so often, when rolling along a fine highway, you slow, to a crawl a mile or so away from a bridge. When you eventually are ready to cross it, you see it is a single-lane affair. Possibly, if the road is four-lane, the bridge will be two-lane. In either case, traffic is badly snarled because the bridge and the highway don't match up.

Whether a Bridge crosses a narrow creek, a great river, a railroad, an intersecting highway or a tremendous bay, the important factor is that it fully meets traffic requirements. Sharp turn approaches, steep incline approaches, blind approaches or a "squeeze" approach—all these slow up traffic and increase danger possibilities.

Bridges, It is True, cost more per running foot than the average highway, but the total cost of all our bridges represents only 10 or 15% of our total national outlay for roads.

An inadequate bridge, no matter how inexpensively built, is extravagant and wasteful. It cannot make up for its failure to carry traffic acceptably by being beautiful or economically built.

Bridges should be built to match the road they help leap over a river or other obstacle. They should not be built to fit a low-cost budget!

Church Officers Will Be Installed

The new members of the council, together with the Sunday School teachers and officers and all other officers of the organizations of Elias Ev. Lutheran Church will be installed at the service Sunday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Twenty-four men and women composing 12 teams of visitors will also be commissioned at the Service to make a complete visitation into the home of the parish in the next two weeks. This visitation, according to the pastor, is primarily in preparation for the preaching mission to be held nightly at the Elias Church the last full week in November. A meeting of the visitors has also been called by the pastor on Friday night at 8 o'clock at the Parish House.

Farmers Say Conservation Pays

Maryland farmers are learning from experience that conservation pays.

"This is the conclusion drawn by the Committee for Conservation Now on the basis of farmer testimony compiled by the State Soil Conservation Committee.

Records of experience with conservation are given in a report of the State Soil Conservation Committee, "Maryland farmers and their Soil Conservation Districts." The publication is available from soil conservation districts and county agents.

Representative statements from farmers among those in the report include:

Horace S. Brauning, Finksburg — "Conservation has done more than merely stop erosion on my farm. It has increased milk production by 30 per cent, crop production by 40 per cent and pasture yield by 60 per cent."

William S. Gardiner, Mechanicsville — "After 11 years of operating my farm, I thought it was no good. But with the help I got from the Soil Conservation District, my crop yields have increased appreciably and much of my land which was not usable before is now growing crops."

Arthur Reinhold, Chestertown — "My farm has had a complete conservation plan in operation since 1940. By removing sloping fields from clean tillage and establishing permanent pasture, we have been able to more than maintain our average farm production and do it easier and cheaper."

M. Marvel Onion, Forest Hill — "I am sure sold on conservation. The yields on my crops have increased by at least one-third and I figure that is a conservative statement."

Walter E. Burall, New Market — "Following a soil conservation plan is the quickest and best way I know to improve a run-down farm or make a good farm better."

C. W. Brown, Cecil County — "Contour stripping to reduce erosion has led me, through more careful planning, to better rotations, more grassland, a higher organic content in my soils and an end result of greater net returns for my dairy operations."

Choir Attendance Excellent

Sixteen members of the Youth Choir of the Elias Ev. Lutheran Church and 13 of the Chapel Choir had a perfect attendance record for the month of October and the entire Children's Choir had a perfect attendance record, according to the director of music, Mrs. Reginald Zepp. Fifteen other choir members attended with only one absence for the month.

The three choirs have a combined membership of 65 and meet every Tuesday evening for rehearsal under Mrs. Zepp. With a perfect record for October were Doris Bollinger, Gloria Herring, Louis Keilholtz, Helen McNair, Mary Rohrbaugh, Mary Jo Zimmerman, Charlotte Bollinger, Carolyn McDonnell, Robbie Sanders, Betty Smith, Clarence Hahn, Lewis Hahn, Harry Troxell, Mae Bushman, Betty Chapman, Susan Daugherty, Sue Eyster, Shirley Hahn, Susan McGlaughlin, Catherine Manahan, Helen Smith, Edna Zimmerman, Donna Lee Eyer, Arvin Bollinger, Thomas Bushman, George Eyster, Alfred Hahn, Thomas Wilhide and Morris Zentz.

New Addition Is Spacious And Ultra Modern

Commander Fern R. Ohler of the Emmitsburg Post, 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, announced the opening of the new annex to the Post home on the Square tonight.

The project, begun about five months ago, is completed for the gala opening tonight, and a program of entertainment has been scheduled for the occasion.

Adjutant Lumen F. Norris announces that the feature attraction on tonight's entertainment will be an all-girl orchestra, June Carson and Her Sophisticates.

Official dedication of the new addition will take place on Armistice Day, Nov. 11, at 2:30 p. m. when appropriate ceremonies will be held.

The annex, ultra-modern in style, will accommodate 250 persons, seated. It has been acoustically treated and contains a built-in public address system. Air-conditioning provides a constant source of clean, filtered and humidified air, while the floor has been laid with tile.

Indirect lighting and a stage are other beneficial additions. The annex is 26x30 feet in dimensions and will provide ample space for meetings, bazaars, card parties, etc.

The VFW Post, long a leader in community activities, reveals that as a community service, the annex will be made available to all organizations for public or private use, if they so desire, and that as a community service project it will be available to the entire public for any bona fide event. Post 6658 has proved itself one of the leading veterans' post in the State and has several times placed first in community service competition. The club stresses emphasis that the addition can serve more or less as a community hall until such time perhaps that better and larger facilities are developed. Besides the entertainment feature tonight, The Diplomats will furnish music for the Saturday night entertainment.

Noted Tenor To Be Featured At St. Joseph College

Christopher Lynch, distinguished Irish tenor and protege of John McCormack, will be heard in DePaul Auditorium, St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, Sunday at 2:30 p. m. This is one of the series of the combined lectures and concerts sponsored jointly by Mt. St. Mary's and St. Joseph Colleges.

Mr. Lynch, one of the country's outstanding concert artists who has long been a star of the "Voice of Firestone" radio and television programs, was introduced to American audiences at Carnegie Hall, shortly after his arrival in this country seven years ago. After McCormack had heard him sing, he commented, "He is the most likely to succeed me."

Born in Rathkeal, County Limerick, 30 years ago, Christopher Lynch had two boyhood ambitions—he wanted to be a professional athlete and a breeder of prize horses. Lynch became so proficient in Ireland's national sport, hurley, that he was selected All-Ireland goalkeeper.

Like many Irish lads, Christopher sang in the village church. It was there that a banker's wife was so impressed by his clear, fresh voice that she encouraged his interest in music by giving him a book of Thomas Moore's

Personals

Miss Doris Wastler, student nurse at the Lutheran Hospital of Baltimore, spent the week-end with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Wastler.

Dr. and Mrs. George W. Green, Jr., were guests Saturday evening of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Conte, Carlisle, Pa., for dinner and the Harrisburg horse show.

Mr. and Mrs. Albert R. Kelly, Dundalk, Md., are the parents of a son, born Oct. 6. Mrs. Kelly is the former Betty Gillelan, daughter of Magistrate and Mrs. Charles D. Gillelan.

Mrs. Roy Gelwicks, Baltimore, visited over the weekend with her mother, Mrs. John Wagaman.

melodies. Later his voice was brought to the attention of John McCormack, who provided for his education in Dublin. Lynch furthered his studies in Rome and London.

People of Irish descent love and understand his charming Gaelic songs, but as one listener remarked, "Everyone is a bit of Irish when Chris Lynch sings. He makes you see the shamrock and feel the Blarney Stone." This young artist is equally at home in songs of other lands. In his forthcoming program, Mr. Lynch plans to sing such songs as "Song of the Irish Patriots," "Rose of Tralee," and "Ave Maria."

Fraileys Purchase "Stonehurst"

Mr. and Mrs. William A. Frailey have purchased from Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Baumgardner the property known as "Stonehurst," former home of the Rt. Rev. John G. Murray. "Stonehurst" was built in 1875 by Mr. Joseph Hays who had lived in Emmitsburg in the house now owned and occupied by Mr. M. F. Shuff. The Fraileys plan to move to "Stonehurst" in the near future.

Congratulations!
