BY ABIGAIL

Not many were aware of the fact that your favorite paper had a birthday last week. In fact outside of the boss I don't believe anyone recalled the occasion. Well anyway, 75 years have passed and your hometown local still is alive, and to my mind, stronger and healthier than ever before. It has had plenty of hard times, but the populace always arose to the occasion and helped the old girl through the storm. People have realized its plight and have been buying the paper for many years. Merchants have been the financial backbone of the paper and have responded generously with their advertising and job work, realizing that we do need and must have a local paper. Our thanks to all of them as we enter upon our 76th year. I wonder who Abigail will be 75 years hence?

It is understood that a labor survey of the town is to be made, and by local businessmen. This group has awakened to its responsibility, even if others haven't, that if the town is to ever grow, now is the grand opportunity we have been waiting for. It is believed that if the number of people seeking employment elsewhere employed locally we could move along at a much more successful clip. Those commuting workers undoubtedly get their checks cashed in the town in which they receive employment and you can easily visualize the financial loss to local merchants when they make their purchases at the same place. With local employment we can grow, have larger and better stores, being financially prepared to afford modernization and improvements; new homes could be built; new cars purchased and oodles of other things to make our community a better place in which to inhabit.

Well anyway, what I started to say was, the group will try to determine just how many can be persuaded to come back home and work. It is understood that a comparable wage scale now exists in local industry and there isn't much reason why you local people shouldn't work right here at home. Our fate rests with this group of employables and unless they decide to cooperate our dream of expansion will be shattered. Factory management has promised a new and larger plant if enough workers can be obtained. The challenge is before us and we can and must meet it. We ask you to greet the survey crew cordially and to cooperate to the fullest extent in making this as easy and as efficient as possible and to give this matter your deep consideration. If you are hesitant about changing jobs because of security or pay, just drop in at the local shoe factory and have a talk with the superintendent and then you can judge for yourself. Emmitsburg needs your help!

Time for that interesting Community Show again folks. Hundreds are planning to enter local exhibits in this Grange sponsored affair. The show has really grown the past three years and is being enlarged considerably this year. More prize money is to be available this season and undoubtedly the number of exhibits will increase. Better make plans now to attend this delightful and interesting show.

Monday's rain did little to alleviate the serious water shortage in our community and other nearby towns. More wells were reported dry this week and there is no indication just when we will be treated right again by Mother Nature. August was a pretty good month, as rainfall goes, but September offset that by being one of the driest months in the past 25 years. Well-diggers report a booming business this year and are hard to engage, as you can readily realize.

Just in case you haven't realized it, Spook Day (Halloween) is just around the corner again. Horseplay again will be kept at a minimum as extra deputies have again been engaged to police the town during that period. And again, anyone who wants to have a little harmless fun can participate in the American Legion's Halloween parade.

Sewer Survey Is About Completed

According to word received Monday night at the regular monthly meeting of the Town Council of Emmitsburg, held in the Fire Hall, President of the Board of Commissioners and acting mayor Thomas J. Frailey presiding, the preliminary work on the local sewerage survey is about complete.

The chairman indicated by his report that the survey company from Baltimore has promised an early completion of the project. Company representatives spent all day here Monday, Sept. 27, and promised complete data to the Council within a matter of weeks.

Following the survey work, the laying of additional sewerage lines might possibly start early next year, it was believed.

Town Clerk Louise Sebald presented the treasurer's, secretary's and tax collector's reports respectively and all were approved as presented. Parking meter revenue for the month of September was given as $268.93, in addition to $41 in overtime parking fines.

Council adopted a resolution joining the Town's people in wishing Mayor Thornton W. Rodgers a speedy recovery from his present illness and hope for his return soon as a member of the council board.

Council talked of the advisability of placing lights in that section of North Alley near the C. D. Gillelan property in East End.

Police Chief Daniel J. Kaas was authorized to engage adequate police protection during the Halloween observance, and extra deputies will be on the job several days before and after Halloween.

Grange Hears Report On Ban Of Sale Of Beer On Sunday

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Grange was held on Wednesday evening in the public school, Master Edgar G. Emrich presiding with 28 members present.

Fair Chairman Richard Florence gave a report on the outcome of the Grange booth entered at the Frederick Fair and Emmitsburg was placed sixth out of 12 entries. The Juvenile Grange placed first out of five entries.

John Baumgardner and Paul Bealle reported for the committee working on the project of banning the sale of alcoholic beverages on Sunday. This committee has been very active and gave a detailed report on the progress to date.

Emmitsburg Grange placed third in the state this year in the Community Service contest, sponsored by the Sears, Roebuck Foundation. There were 33 chapters competing in the contest. This is the fourth straight year that Emmitsburg has placed in the top three winners for the state. The award for third place was a $50 bond and plaque.

A committee composed of M. A. Zentz, George Gartrell, Edgar G. Emrich, Harry Swomley and James Bowers, has prepared the ground and seeded the four acres of playground for the local public school. The work and machinery was donated by local Grangers; fertilizer and seed was furnished by the school board.

Visiting guest for the evening was Worthy Master Maurice Muenier of the Harney Grange.

Lecturer Richard Florence presented the program for the evening, the theme being, Fire Prevention Week. Joseph Gelwicks was authorized to solicit advertising for the Community Show program this year. The first meeting in November will feature the election of officers.

The Grange will again enter the bowling league this year and the first games will take place this week in Frederick. The Juvenile Grange joined the adult group for refreshments served by the hostesses, Mrs. Maurice Zentz and Mrs. Edward Meadows.

Over 1400 prefixes were reserved for breeders in 1953.

Motorists Fined For Infractions

Ten local and out-of-town motorists paid fines for traffic violations during the month of September, and 25 warning tickets were issued by Police Chief Daniel J. Kaas. The fines, levied by Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan, totaled $93.50, of which $12.20 went to the town treasury, the balance to the state.

The following were convicted of traffic infractions:

Arthur Leonard Lipkin, Baltimore, improper passing, $11.45; Morris James Harmon, Thurmont, exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; John Carroll Lambert, Taneytown, exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Daniel David Staub, Taneytown, speed greater than reasonable, $11.45; John William Probst, Waynesboro, Pa., exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Wilburn Edward Gross, Taneytown, exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Walter Topic, Hanover, Pa., failing to stop for stop sign, $6.45; Clifford Daniel Eyer, Emmitsburg, improper parking, $5.75; Joseph Edward Kolb, Thurmont, failing to stop for stop sign, $6.45.

Fairfield Leads In Playoffs

Fairfield took the opening game in the best-of-three series for the playoff championship of the Pen-Mar Baseball League by nipping Cashtown 6-4 in a tight game at Fairfield last Sunday afternoon before a large crowd.

The winners tabbed Kane and J. Spence for 12 hits and took advantage of loose defensive play on the part of Cashtown.

Chet Cornwell started on the mound for Fairfield and pitched steady ball until the sixth when he lost control. G. Weikert replaced him and allowed but two hits, struck out five and did not issue a pass in the remaining innings.

This Sunday afternoon the second game of the series will be staged at Cashtown.

Grange's Community Show Expanded This Year; New Features Added

Plans are being made for the presentation of Emmitsburg's annual Community Show, and once again Mr. William G. Baker has been appointed general chairman of the affair.

Mr. Baker announced that the show will be held in the Emmitsburg public school on Friday and Saturday, Oct. 22 and 23.

The committee in charge announced that the show will be expanded considerably this year and will have many new features.

Over $200 in cash prizes will be awarded the lucky winners. Exhibits must be home-grown or home-made to be eligible for prizes, and the awarding of premiums will be made to local residents only. Out-of-town exhibitors are welcomed but will not be eligible in the judging for awards.

A special invitation is extended Emmitsburg business establishments to enter exhibits in the commercial department. Next week's issue of the Chronicle will carry the complete list of premiums and a tentative program.

Officials said there is no limit on the number of entries that an individual can make, and anyone is welcome to make an exhibit. All entries must be brought to the high school before 11:30 a. m. on Oct. 22.

The show has established itself as one of Emmitsburg's largest annual affairs and draw hundreds of patrons to view its many and popular exhibitions.

Mountaineer Soccer Season Opens Saturday At Frostburg, Md.

Coach Jim McKeon and his Mt. St. Mary's College booters start their first full season of intercollegiate competition Saturday, against Ken Babcock's Frostburg State Teachers' eleven at Frostburg. Although McKeon has had a fine turnout of approximately 35 candidates, he faces a rough task in getting his squad ready since most of the Mountaineers are learning the game from the ground up, the large majority of them having had no experience of any sort.

Back from last year's initial squad which played an abbreviated schedule are seven squad members including four starters: co-captains Mark Baden, clever out left from Mt. St. Joe's championship squad of two years ago; Dick Horan, co-captain and inside left; Steve Sohonyay, whom McKeon has moved from center forward to outside right; and Bob Oechsli, a 6'3" sophomore with a good foot and a great deal of hustle.

Best prospects among the newcomers are Hans Klein, a German exchange student playing at center forward. Klein figures to be the key to the Mountie scoring together with Baden and Sohonyay. Starting goalie is Art Cecil, a sophomore who saw little action last year behind Frank Notaro. Cecil has quick moves and is a good booter. If he comes along fast, McKeon feels the Blue and White could be tough. John Loftus, another sophomore from last year's reserves, has shown much improvement and has won a starting berth at left full back; Junior Ron Cahill, the most improved booter on the squad, will start at center half; Jim Beattie at left half and either Terry Rixford, Jim Coen or Jim Moroney at right fullback. Brian Fleming has the other starting berth at inside right.

Most promising of the reserves are sophomore Jack White, a full-back; Bill Sheridan, also a full-back; and Al Klug at halfback. Six freshmen are also making a fight for jobs: Joe Kernan, Sterling Wise, Fred Wynn, George Yeabower, Dick Toomy and John Bailey. Bailey ought to see a lot of action at both goal and full-back, and Keenan, Wynn and Wise are also learning quick enough to warrant a great deal of use.

While McKeon is hopeful of improving last year's record which saw the Mountaineers win only over Georgetown while losing to Catholic U., Towson, Baltimore and Frostburg, he's looking ahead also to the years ahead. Their current squad is loaded with freshmen and sophomores who are learning their jobs, and losses by graduation should be relatively light. The new Mountie mentor would like better size and more speed, but he's completely sold on the hustle and eagerness to learn that the green Mount booters have displayed this far.

"We're not going to set the league afire," McKeon confesses, "but we shouldn't be pushovers. If some of the other clubs start looking past us to the next strong opponent, we could cause some embarrassment."

The schedule: Oct. 9, at Frostburg; 20, at Loyola; 23, at Catholic U.; 27, Baltimore U. at Emmitsburg; Nov. 2, Western Maryland at Emmitsburg; 6, Towson State Teachers, away; 13, American U., at home and 20, Georgetown, away.

County Community Chest Drive Gets Officially Under Way

A goal of $39,650 for the coming Frederick County Community Chest fund campaign has been announced by general chairman Mayor John A. Derr of Frederick following a meeting with division heads at which time preliminary plans were made for the drive.

The quota this year represent an approximate 10 per cent increase over last year's drive made necessary by the expanded services of the agencies to meet the needs of the community, it was pointed out.

Dan Weinberg, chairman of the budget committee, reported at a previous meeting of the Community Chest Board that a member of his committee was assigned to study the budget requirements of each agency in the Chest. With the return of each report, the group acted on the findings, then brought them together to form the "goal" for the campaign.

October has traditionally been the month of the Red Feather and campaign workers will begin special solicitation Oct. 11 with the door-to-door drive to take place about two weeks later.

Backed By President

With the opening of this year's Community Chest drive nationally, President Dwight D. Eisenhower declared: "In this drive our people once again make a concerted, voluntary effort to help those among us in illness or in need. Each person contributing to this assistance can know that he had earned the profound gratitude of those whom he helps. I earnestly hope the American people will earn these rewards anew in contributing with an inspired generosity and a true warmth of heart."

Included in the Chest family locally are Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts, Ether E. Grinage Kindergarten, Children's Aid, Salvation Army, Federated Charities and the YMCA.

The first official American flag was displayed on Prospect Hill, Jan. 1, 1776.

The first power-producing public utility was built in New York City in 1882.

The drill team will participate in the parade.

A letter of thanks from Joseph Kreitz was read by Allen Bouey for blood donated him while he was a patient in the Gettysburg Hospital and also thanking the veterans for the use of the ambulance. A letter of thanks was received from the Emmitsburg High School, thanking the post for its recent flag donation.

Surviving are a sister, Miss Belle Rhodes, Emmitsburg, and a niece and three nephews. Funeral services were conducted from the Allison Funeral Home Tuesday afternoon at 2 o'clock by Rev. Edmund P. Welker, pastor. Interment was made in Mountain View Cemetery. S. L. Allison, funeral director.

Businessmen Will Make Labor Survey

A representative group of businessmen and community leaders were present at the "open house" period observed Tuesday night at the Toor Shoe Corp., Chesapeake Ave. Previous to the meeting with officials of the firm, the group was conducted through the plant by company guides and a full explanation of the process of making shoes was given. A host of prospective employes and interested spectators also toured the plant.

The purpose of the meeting was to afford the businessmen an opportunity to see first-hand how the plant was operated and to understand some of its problems. As has been known for some time, the concern is planning expansion, contingent of course, on the potential labor supply of the town. Members of the Town Council, president of the Chamber of Commerce and the Lions Club and many others were present for the meeting and after hearing the president of the shoe company, Mr. H. O. Toor, make a short talk, elected Cloyd W. Seiss as temporary chairman of the group.

Mr. Seiss has called a special meeting of the businessmen of Emmitsburg for Tuesday evening in the Fire Hall at 8 p. m., at which time plans will be mapped out for a labor survey to be made in the near future. All businessmen of the town are invited to this meeting.

Rough estimates indicate that about 200 persons are working out-of-town, and it is this group mainly, that the businessmen are interested in. It is their goal to have most of these workers return to local employment. It has been disclosed that if enough local labor is available, the shoe company will build another plant, a larger one, possibly on the same site at the present concern.

The business group plans to make a house-to-house survey and a questionnaire is being compiled at this time.

MRS. CARRIE ADELSBERGER

Mrs. Carrie Adelsberger, 71, widow of the late Deputy Sheriff Albert P. Adelsberger, died at 6 o'clock Wednesday morning in her home, 110 S. Seton Ave. She had been critically ill since August 27.

The deceased was a daughter of the late John N. F. and Mary (Stansbury) Miller. She was a member of the Reformed Church.

Practice Fire Prevention Year Around

This is Fire Prevention Week. Posters all over town, special school fire drills and civic group meetings combine to make us well aware of that. But fanfare and public speeches won't make Fire Prevention Week a success. That takes ACTION!

Each year, there are hundreds of thousands of people for whom Fire Prevention Week is a failure. They are the victims of this country's 900,000 yearly fires. Many of them lose their homes or their jobs—11,000 of them lose their lives.

Human carelessness is responsible for most of our fires. The people who cause fires are probably exposed to just as much fire prevention talk as the rest of us, but it doesn't seem to "take." Matches and smoking are still the top cause of fires and have been for years. An old story—but thousands have evidently never really listened!

In public places fire safety rules are enforced by law. But you and I alone have the authority to enforce safe living in our homes. Only if it inspires us to do that, the year around, will Fire Prevention Week be a success.

Public Action Can Prevent Home Fires

For the first time in four years the National Board of Fire Underwriters reports a decrease in residential fires in the U. S.! The decrease is slight—only two per cent—but it shows what public support of fire prevention techniques can do.

The ultimate goal, however, is a long way off. Last year's 295,000 home fires were too close for comfort to the 1952 toll, and the list of their causes bear a discouraging similarity to the figures for previous years. Basic fire safety rules may be an old refrain to many people, but the tragic truth remains that most of our fires start because these rules were carelessly forgotten or ignored.

Chief cause, not only of home fires but all fires, continues to be matches and smoking—as it has been for years. To prevent such fires, the National Board of Fire Underwriters advises these simple safety precautions:

- 1—Provide plenty of big ashtrays—the kind that won't tip over easily—and use them!
- 2—Never throw a cigarette or match from a car window. Use the ashtray instead.
- 3—Never smoke in bed!
- 4—When emptying ashtrays, be sure every match and butt is out.
- 5—Never toss a lighted match away. Hold it for a minute after blowing it out, then put it in an ashtray.
- 6—Before going to bed, especially after entertaining, inspect the livingroom or game room to be sure no butts are smoldering under cushions or on tables.

Electrical Hazards
Misuse of electricity is also responsible for many home fires

Study Reveals How Children Die In Fires

Child deaths resulting from fire are increasing. Fire Chief of the Vigilant Hose Co. John Hollinger reported this week in the observance of Fire Prevention Week.

Latest estimates indicate that today fire claims the lives of some 3000 youngsters under 14.

A study of newspaper clippings of hundreds of fires showed an alarming number of children die trapped in burning homes. Commenting on this fact, Chief Hollinger stressed the need for these important safety precautions:

Never leave children at home alone. Many news items mentioned that the children were alone in the house. Youngsters ages usually ranged from a few months to six years. In some cases the older ones had caused the fire, by playing with matches or some other dangerous act. But whether the cause or only the victims, they died because there was no one to save them. Parents who leave children at home alone have only themselves to blame for such a tragedy.

Keep your home fire safe. Often the fires started at night when the family was asleep. Smoke and deadly gases killed the children—and sometimes the parents—before the fire could warn them. Only by eliminating the causes of home fires could this be prevented.

Teach children what to do in case of fire. Many young victims were found huddled under a bed or in a closet—obviously having had no idea how to save themselves. If they had been trained in periodic home fire drills, they might have been able to escape. Show your children at least two ways to get out of the house from their bedrooms. Wake them up at night to practice this "drill"; they may need to remember the instructions when they are foggy with sleep. If a rope is needed to get them out, provide a rope—and show them how to use it.

Be sure they know how to test a door before opening it in case of fire. They should place the palms of their hands against it; if it feels hot, the hallway is filled with deadly heated gases and the door should be kept shut. If it does not feel hot, open it slightly, head turned away, door braced with foot. Pass one hand across the opening to test heat of the air. If the hallway appears safe, it can be used as an exit.

each year. Here's how to guard against the sparks and overheating that result in electrical fires:

- 1—Fifteen ampere fuses are recommended for most household circuits. Never use oversize fuses or tamper with the ones already in the box.
- 2—Don't try to run too many appliances from one outlet; you will overload the circuit. If fuses blow frequently even without overloading, have an electrician inspect the wiring.
- 3—Look for the UL label on all electric cords and appliances you buy. It means they passed Underwriters' Laboratories tests for fire and shock safety.
- 4—When an electric cord or appliance needs repairs, don't let a "home handyman" tinker with it. Take it to an electrician.
- 5—Extension or repairs to wiring is also a job for a professional. Wiring done by amateurs has caused many fires.
- 6—Don't string wires over hooks or around nails, or run them under rugs where they may be walked on. Insulation will break or wear out.

Is "Coexistence" Possible?

The Congressional Committee on Communist Aggression, composed of five Republicans and four Democrats, returned recently from Europe where a series of hearings in London, Munich and Berlin led to the labeling of Communism for what it is. Among the 112 witnesses heard were Exiled King Michael of Rumania, Col. Grigori Stepanovich Burtulski, former top official in the Russian MVD, high ranking former officials of the governments of Estonia, Czechoslovakia, Ukraine, Poland, and scores of citizen leaders who had lived under Communism in a half dozen Iron Curtain countries, before escaping to the West.

On the basis of the testimony given, together with its previous investigations over a considerable period, the Congressional Committee has just published a series of clear-headed conclusions and has addressed an urgent recommendation to President Eisenhower (House Report No. 2650). Highlights of the findings are: Its True Nature

1. "Life under communism is one of ruthless and absolute tyranny. The State is god. The dignity and inherent rights of man have no place under communism."
 2. "Communism is a conspiracy which utilizes an extensive and complex international criminal mechanism. It seeks to destroy all free nations and to replace them with a system of Red colonialism."
 3. "The leaders of the international Communist conspiracy regard the U. S. as the main roadblock to their plan for world conquest."
 4. "Communism is able to maintain control over the people it enslaves only by the exercise of the most brutal and inhuman methods known to mankind, such as wholesale arrests and deportations, forced famines, mass killings, and the crime genocide against entire nations."
- To The President
"Because of the foregoing findings, based on testimony sworn to before the committee, we conclude," the Committee said, "that peaceful coexistence is a Communist myth which can be attained only through the complete surrender of our free way of life for one of slavery under Moscow - controlled communism." The following recommendations were addressed to Congress and the President:

"That the President of the U. S. take the initiative in convening an international conference of all free non-Communist nations for the following purposes:

- (a) To express formal recognition of the fact that the Communist governments, which now control over 800 million human beings, are not representative of the will of the people.
- (b) To seek agreement whereby the free non-Communist nations acting in concert will withdraw diplomatic recognition from all Moscow-controlled Communist governments.
- (c) To reaffirm the friendship and solidarity of the people of the free world with the people and nations enslaved by communism.
- (d) To develop a program for the rapid and complete termination of all commercial treaties and trade with Communist governments and the initiation of a program of trade among all non-Communist nations which will strengthen the security of the free world.
- (e) To develop an overall, dynamic program for the defeat of the international Communist conspiracy.

"That peaceful coexistence be clearly identified as a Communist myth. It should be rejected on the grounds that it is impossible for a civilization based on a belief in Almighty God, to coexist with an aggressive criminal conspiracy dedicated to the destruction of civilization and to the enslavement of all mankind."

The Committee issuing these powerful recommendations is made up of calm, deliberative Congressmen of both parties. Their findings and recommendations deserve serious consideration.

Terry Brennan, at 26, Youngest Irish Coach

Following in the footsteps of the immortal Knute Rockne and his star pupil, Frank Leahy, young Terry Brennan is far from untried in the field of coaching, even though he is the youngest ever to take over the reins at Notre Dame.

Rockne was 29 when he began molding unbeaten elevens, while Leahy was a veteran and successful coach at 32 when he returned to the campus of the Golden Dome, but Brennan is in the midst of a rugged Irish scholastic at 26 years of age. Actually, Terry was only 25 when he took over on February 1, following the resignation of Leahy.

But, according to J. G. Taylor Spink, publisher of The Sporting News, the international sports weekly, Brennan is far from frightened; after all, he accepted the coaching job at Mount Carmel High School in Chicago on May 30, 1949, and was still only 20 at the time—so young that he couldn't sign the contract without his parents' permission. He was the youngest coach in Catholic League history and scarcely a year older than Tim McHugh, the school's star half-back.

Yet, Brennan enjoyed unprecedented success in one of the country's toughest conferences and he left behind him a record which may never be equalled. Aside from his first year in 1949, his school knew nothing but championships and he expects to achieve the same results at Notre Dame.

Brennan gained experience during his first year when he won only five and lost four. The next three years he won 31 of 33 games, including a record-breaking three straight Catholic League and city championships. His only two losses were in 1951 and each against non-conference teams.

According to Spink, most observers unhesitatingly agree that the 1950 club, Brennan's first championship squad, was the best high school team they have ever seen. This team went through an 11-game schedule undefeated, untied and virtually uncontested.

Brennan has a reputation as a coach who gambled for the big play. Some rival coaches still regard him as slightly reckless, but his friend and confidant, Tom Gibbon, says it was just the opposite. "Terry's definitely a conservative," says Gibbon. "People in the stands or even the other coaches may think Terry is gambling in any given situation. But it's no gamble. He's gone over that same play many, many times before."

Like Leahy, says The Sporting News publisher, Brennan is a stern disciplinarian. At Mount Carmel he always had the command and confidence of his players. School officials vow that during his four-year stay at Mount Carmel, they never had known him to shout in anger at any boy. Brennan respected his players and they respected him.

Scholarships To Coast Guard Academy Available

This week Congressman Hyde announced that the competitive examination for entrance to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy will be held nationwide on Feb. 28 and Mar. 1, 1955.

Congressman Hyde emphasized the opportunity offered young men who choose this four-year course which leads to a bachelor of science degree in engineering and a commission as a career officer in America's oldest sea-going service.

"There are no appointments or geographical quotas for entrance to the Coast Guard Academy," he said. "I urge all qualified young men who are interested in a worthwhile profession to write for details and applications as soon as possible to Coast Guard Headquarters in Washington, D. C. Applications must be post-marked on or before Jan. 15."

A high school diploma is the minimum educational requirement, although high school seniors assured of being graduated by June 30 are eligible to take the examination if they will have at least 15 credits by that time.

Cow Proves Good Producer

Averaging 19 quarts daily, Zentzvale Della Sophia, a registered Holstein owned by Morris A. Zentz, Emmitsburg, recently completed an official Herd Improvement Registry production record totaling 12,123 pounds of milk and 405 pounds butterfat in 292 days.

Testing was supervised by the University of Maryland, in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian Assn. of America.

Milked two times daily, Zentzvale Della Sophia, was five years and six months of age when her test began. Her total was about 2½ times the production of the average U. S. cow.

Is It Any Wonder?

"Dusty" Rhodes of the World Series' winners, the New York Giants, had a final batting average of .335 for 1954, appearing in 82 games. In 164 times at bat he collected 55 hits, 15 of them being home runs. He also drove in 50 runs.

By comparison, his teammate, Willie Mays drove in 110 runs in 565 appearances at the plate with 195 hits. Bobby Avila, of Cleveland Indians during the '54 season collected 189 hits in 555 times at bat and drove in 67 runs.

TEEN AGE TIPS

Rate An "A" On The 1954 Campus

Has summer fun caught up with your fall self and found you unprepared? Do blemishes and "spots" spoil the once-pretty you... and undermine the confidence of your wonderful kid brother? Don't cry, and stop feeling helpless, hopeless and dejected! There's still time for you both to do something about the damage and start your back-to-school trek with clearer, fresher faces for fall.

First of all, let's discuss the what and why. A problem skin is usually one that is excessively oily and, as a result, shows blackheads, conspicuous pores, blemishes, and frequently the pimples of acne. Why? Because during adolescence, the skin slowly becomes firmer, heavier, coarser, with increased activity of the oil glands. In some youngsters, nature produces an over-abundance of oil, and this leads to a disturbed skin.

What's the answer? An important step in the right direction is a correctly cleansed and properly treated skin. Tussy's Medicare, the double-action combination of Medicated Creamy Masque and Medicated Lotion, has been extensively tested by a prominent dermatologist. Both contain hexachlo-rophone which reduces and inhibits surface skin bacteria. Creamy Masque "washes" away excessive oil and grime that so many blackheads, whiteheads and pimples of acne thrive on. Medicated Lotion is blended to a natural skin tone and conceals unsightly blemishes as it aids in drying and healing them. Use as a spot cover-up or as a covering for an over-oily face.

Last, but not least, watch your diet carefully. Skip sweets, cut down on fats and concentrate on fruits, vegetables and lean meats. And, remember teen-ager, KEEP YOUR FINGERS OFF YOUR FACE! If the skin condition is severe, consult a physician.

Fall Is Time to Plant Spring Gardens

How is your garden going to look next March or April when your neighbor's is bursting with color? If you want to have something to sing about next Spring, Fall is the time to get in there and plant Dutch bulbs. With careful planning you can enjoy a breathtaking flower display for over two months or more.

Neglected nooks and crannies can often be delightfully dressed up with a display of brilliantly colored tulips. A sloping area might be selected for a mass planting of golden yellow daffodils. Hyacinths could be placed informally along borders and in groups of three to five close to the house where their fragrance can be appreciated.

Except in very warm climates, the sunnier the location for your Spring bulbs the better. Daffodils, hyacinths, snowdrops, grape-hyacinths, and scillas will do better in shade than the May-flowering tulips. The ideal location is a combination of full sun and protection: by a building, a wall, a hedge or shrubbery, from north and west winds. Don't let droughts, past or present, worry you. Bulbs are not as thirsty as many other flowers.

Early planting—as soon as bulbs can be procured—is generally desirable. Bulbs are better off in the soil than if stored in a garage or cellar. Here is a checklist of some of the main flowers that will bloom in your garden next Spring, if you plant the bulbs now, this Fall:

TULIPS—Choose from hundreds of available varieties in every color and many shapes, blooming from April through May. Plant in sun, in well drained soil, six inches deep, six apart.

DAFFODILS—Yellow, white,

Tulips Are Symbol of Spring or yellow and white, with occasional touches of orange, and many possible variations in shape. Plant in sun or light shade, six inches deep. Bloom in late March and April.

HYACINTHS—Pink, blue, white, yellow, all hardy and fragrant. Plant in formal beds and borders in full sun, six inches deep, six apart. Bloom in mid-April.

CROCUSES—Blue, white, yellow, and striped blue. Look best in grass, shrubbery or perennial borders. Plant in sun or light shade, three inches deep, three apart.

SNOWDROPS—White, early blooming—late February or March. Plant beneath shrubbery and in rock gardens, in light shade, same as crocus.

Low feed cost per dozen eggs is What Counts

Over half a million hens have been changed to Purina since the High-Efficiency formula was introduced. Why?

It's simply because poultrymen large and small have found that a bag of Purina HIGH-EFFICIENCY CHOWS will make more eggs than many standard, lower-efficiency rations.

The egg increase has been large enough to lower the feed cost per dozen eggs, even though Purina costs a little more than many lower-efficiency feeds. Try Purina and see for yourself. Ask us for—PURINA HIGH-EFFICIENCY LAYING CHOWS.

BABSON

Writes . . .

By ROGER W. BABSON

NEW BOSTON, N. H., Oct. 7—Everyone should employ a lawyer and make a will at once, and re-read it once a year. Over 70 per cent of those who die each day leave no will. Inquiry shows, however, that a large percentage of these careless people have some property. When they die without a will, this property usually goes to someone whom they don't want to get it.

Too Many Smiths, Browns, and Joneses! Making a will is especially important if your name is Smith, Brown, Jones, or some equally popular name. (If you have any doubt as to the number of people having your name, just refer to any large city telephone directory.) If you happen to own a house when you die, your family may get hundreds of letters claiming relationship.

Probably the Probate Court will throw out most of these claims as fraudulent; but some may be left whom your family must "buy off" before a clear title can be given to the real estate or the stock or bond which you own. I am much troubled by the fact that the number of stockholders and government bondholders are increasing so much faster than the wills are being written. The Great American Lottery

Each year about $500 million are paid by insurance companies for the 40,000 people killed in automobile accidents. Most of those killed leave no wills, yet they get "awards" of from $10,000 to $20,000 or more.

What persons would you like to have receive your part of this $500 million in case you should be killed? It depends upon the laws of your state; but the chances are it may go to "relatives" whom you never saw. Hence, before you take another auto ride, you should make a will stating to whom you want this award to go in case you do get killed. I forecast the time may come when states will not be allowed to issue auto registrations to those 21 and over unless the applicant swears he has made a will. Fires, Hurricanes, and Other Casualties

Every up-to-date corporation and employer carries liability insurance to protect workers and customers. You do not need to be in an automobile to get accidentally killed. I see by the newspaper that about 90 New England people were killed by hurricanes this past month; none of these people had any warning. Many more are burned to death each week somewhere.

Perhaps you are included in some group life insurance plan. These plans pay, regardless of how you die. You do not have to be killed in an automobile or any other kind of accident in order to get such an insurance award. You may die from pneumonia, polio, heart attack, or some other trouble which comes on suddenly.

Wills Are Not Expensive For some foolish reason, most people do not like to visit a doctor, dentist, or lawyer, unless in pain or some other trouble. This is all wrong. These men will treat you fairly. And this surely applies also to lawyers whom your bank recommends.

Every reader of my column has a savings deposit with some bank. These banks want to help you in many ways, without charge. If you have not made a will, go to your bank tomorrow and ask your banker to recommend some lawyer who can make a will for you at a fair price. You may know some lawyer yourself; but you should be sure he knows how to make legal wills which "hold water" and cannot be broken.

Temporary Wills Helpful If you are not ready to do this immediately, I have arranged with the Non-Profit Educational Center here at New Boston, N. H., (not Old Boston which may be bombed!) to send you, for $2, a blank form for a temporary will and other information. This blank form you can fill out in a few minutes and have witnessed by three neighbors at no expense. Later you can take this to your lawyer for a re-write when you think of some addition you may wish to make. But don't wait to take some at once. Next week may be too late. At least, send for a temporary will now; it will serve you until you do go to your lawyer.

Most gun owners don't realize that the reputable American gun manufacturers put their finished product through a series of tests that are every bit the equal of the much-touted European proof-testing methods.

In general, proof-testing, either here or abroad, involves firing of a cartridge that develops more pressure than would any normal factory load. In addition to this proof-testing and targeting-in, it is common practice among American companies to function-test firearms.

This means firing the gun as it normally would be fired in common usage. If it is a lever-action rifle, cartridges of various makes and bullet weights are inserted into the magazine and the operator loads and fires in the same manner you would in the field. All this actual testing with cartridges is the final step in the manufacture and checking of a reputable American-made firearm. Prior to this stage, gauges are used at virtually every point in manufacturing and assembling, and dummy cartridges are used whenever necessary.

It is therefore understandable, arms expert Walter J. Howe points out, that after all this testing, gauging and proving, the manufacturer is puzzled when he receives a complaint that his gun caused serious injury or death to a person because it did not perform properly.

Nowadays, when an accident happens because of part failure or malfunction, the trouble can usually be traced to the fact that the gun was repaired by someone who used a homemade part rather than a factory replacement. As a matter of maintaining their reputation, manufacturers keep all current and many obsolete parts available for purchase by gunsmiths, dealers and individuals. In no instance are the prices for gun parts so high that it is "economical" for the individual or gunsmith to make it himself.

"Blind Man's" Bluff

You know how Handy Turner down at the hardware store goes in for weird advertising stunts. Well, when it came to plugging his new Venetian blind department, his enthusiasm nearly landed him in trouble.

Handy painted a warning on the tailboard of his truck: "Caution—blind man driving." "Had driven about a mile," Handy says, "when a state trooper stopped me and told me that sign might cause trouble. Guess he was right. From now on I'll advertise in the Clarion."

From where I sit, I agree—the highway is no place for jokes. We all ought to be considerate of the other fellow when we're driving. In fact, let's respect our neighbor's right of way always. Then, when we have differences of opinion—say about the best route to Centerville, or whether beer or buttermilk is better with lunch—there will be less chance of anybody developing any "blind" spots.

Your Personal Health

"WHAT, NEVER?"

"Well, hardly ever." Even the Captain of Gilbert and Sullivan's "Pinafore" occasionally suffered the pangs of sea sickness. You don't die of this horrible malady. You only wish you would.

The fact is that modern science instead of controlling sea sickness, has caused it to become more widespread. More and more ways of traveling have been invented, and more and more people are going places. It is now known that it isn't only sea travel that brings on that awful feeling in the pit of the stomach. Planes, trains, and cars can also be the villains. We've had to change the name to "motion sickness."

In wartime experiments thousands of military personnel suffered in the cause of science by being jounced in swings, spun in tilting chairs, flown through turbulent air, and bounced about in small boats in rough water. One result of their sacrifice has been a precise definition of the signs of motion sickness: drowsiness, pallor, cold sweating, salivation and swallowing, nausea and vomiting, appearing in that order.

Among other things learned was the fact that motion sickness is not "just your imagination." It's always caused by motion, even in the classic case of the old lady who got sick before the ship left the dock. Boats do not move while tied up. Inexperienced travelers were found to be more susceptible, but really rough travel will make nine out of 10 persons sick.

The wartime studies also showed that motion sickness is a problem for the doctor and pharmacist as well as for the engineer. Shock absorbers, gyroscopes and other devices to stabilize the equilibrium of vehicles aren't enough. Some types of motion are almost impossible to abolish mechanically. In recent years drug compounds have been found to protect the passenger with some success, providing him with an internal "stabilizer." Physicians today can prescribe several rem-

Both Parties

Endorse Home Rule

All Maryland voters, those living in rural areas as well as those living in incorporated areas, will determine the future course of municipal government in Maryland at the polls on Nov. 2. The voters will decide whether the Maryland Constitution will be amended so as to give home rule authority to the cities and towns in this State. The proposed amendment does not apply to Baltimore City, which already has home rule authority.

The proposed amendment prohibits the Maryland General Assembly from enacting laws applicable to just one city or town and grants the municipalities the right to adopt and amend their own charters. Under existing laws every new municipal charter and every amendment to an existing charter must be passed upon by the state legislature. The Amendment provides that charter changes of the municipalities must in no way infringe upon or contradict the general laws of Maryland and debt and tax limits of the municipalities will still be determined by the state legislature by local laws.

Today the comprehensive general law is a common phenomenon. Companies are incorporated, licenses are issued, and divorces are granted under general laws which prescribe the limits and requirements under which the law is effective. The Municipal Home Rule Amendment provides such a comprehensive law prescribing the requirements for municipal incorporation and the limits within which the residents of a municipality can govern themselves.

To date, 20 states have granted municipal home rule to cities within their borders. Most of the movement toward municipal home rule has taken place within the last 50 years although the first state to take steps in this direction was Missouri in 1875.

Historically, this development followed the prohibition of special and local laws by individual states. In Colonial times, when the populations of the states were small and the concern of the states not as diverse and numerous, the state legislatures regulated the affairs of individuals and corporations as well as the affairs of local governments by special and local acts.

Special legislation was enacted granting a divorce, changing a name, or incorporating a business. In the first part of the 19th Century, attempts were made to expedite the functioning of the legislatures by drafting comprehensive laws which set up general and automatic qualifications or procedures for matters formerly taken care of in numerous pieces of special legislation. Thus the Maryland Constitution of 1851 provided that corporations, except for municipal, be formed under general laws and prohibited legislatively - granted divorces. The present Constitution, adopted in 1867, contains most of these prohibitions against special legislation. The only significant development since 1867 is the county home rule amendment of 1915 which granted Baltimore City and the county governments the authority to adopt their own charters.

While Maryland has made no further efforts to eliminate local legislation, three-fourths of the states have progressed to the point of prohibiting most special and local legislation. Louisiana was the first to enact a constitutional provision restricting a legislature's authority over municipalities in 1812. In the next 40 years several other states placed similar prohibitions in their constitutions.

Many of the states which prohibited local legislation have followed up with the logical consequence—the grant of municipal home rule. On Nov. 2, the voters of Maryland will determine whether Maryland cities and towns are to be granted home rule authority.

The Municipal Home Rule Amendment has received the endorsement in the platforms of both the Democratic and Republican parties of Maryland. This bi-partisan support has been reinforced by the additional endorsement in numerous county platforms.

SJHS News

The first-year Home Economics Class ventured for the first time into the cooking laboratory Wednesday afternoon. The class agreed that cooking is more fun than class, and they plan to become the food connoisseurs at SJHS.

The main subject at the first meeting of the Mother Seton Club Tuesday, Oct. 5, was the acquiring of a better knowledge of Mother Seton's life. A contest will be held soon in which Mother Seton will be the topic of art work, poems, skits, and other projects. A committee was appointed to work on 'ways and means' of obtaining prizes for the contest.

School ring measurements for the class of '56 were taken Wednesday by Mr. Mel Shaefer of the J. Jenkins Co., Baltimore. One junior aptly expressed it: "I hope the rings come soon, because that is the acid proof that we are upperclassmen."

A bumper crop in telephones, too!

Every year, farmers set new production records, grow many new hybrid crops and develop new farming techniques. And speaking of records, here's one you may not have heard of: last year your telephone company expanded and improved telephone service at a greater rate than ever before! It added 6,600 telephones in rural homes of Maryland. Yes, farmers and the telephone company are working hard to meet the needs of the nation.

How many for dinner tonight, Mom?

You can bet there'll be plenty, Sis! Even today, farms need many men and women to keep them running smoothly. Teamwork does the job, just as it does with party-line telephone service. If everyone helps by considering the other fellow, then service is improved for all homes on the line. This means more useful, more valuable service—more for your telephone dollar.

Mrs. Joe Eyler's Rocky King was much the best in the initial race of the four-day Frederick Fair meet Tuesday afternoon. The son of His Majesty romped to comparative easy victories in both heats of the 14 pace with Tiger Pete, owned by Harry Serene of Pittsburgh, Pa., second best in both heats.

Mrs. Eyler was unable to drive Rocky King, sending Jimmy Cook out. Third money was split between Pine Ridge Larry and Golden Hal, the latter driven by Bernie Offutt, the Woodsboro owner, trainer, driver and shoe-man. Offutt came outside in a driving finish in the second heat to take show money.
