The welcome relief from the 100-degree heat wave was broken the middle of the week and the rain came just in the nick of time. The county farmers were facing a bleak harvest up to this time. A good many types of vegetables in local gardens were ruined by the drought and farmers will most undoubtedly be short of hay this winter, but at least most of the harvest will come thru, barring of course, any more dry spells. Rainbow Lake stood up under the drought rather well, I understand, and the water level dropped only a foot below the spillway. Other towns nearby were either ready or had already issued bans on sprinkling, etc. Several years ago we weathered a winter-long drought rather well while other towns were hauling in water by tank trucks. We are indeed fortunate to have such an asset as Rainbow Lake.

Our condolences to Mrs. Roger who suffered the loss of her husband this week. Emmitsburg lost a "solid" citizen when "Shep" left us early this week. He was active in just about anything and everything that was for the welfare of the town and we know of numerous instances when he "dug down" into his own pocket to help some unfortunate individuals. He was largely instrumental in bringing our local fire company up to its present high standard and he will be sorely missed by his many friends. An avid sports enthusiast, he for many years kept the local baseball organization on its feet when eradication of the sport, locally, seemed imminent. At Christmas time he always took the lead in promoting the kiddies' party on the Square.

It appears now that Route 15 has again been changed for the umpteenth time. Surveying of this bypass has been going on for about five years and still its course is uncertain. Pressure is now on the State Roads Commission to get the thing settled, so a final course is apparently in the offing. The Thurmont bypass will be completed in the next two or three months and the next step will be the Emmitsburg bypass. At least we are next on the schedule and action should be forthcoming in the very near future. Rights-of-way more than likely will be obtained first and I believe this winter contracts will be let with work actually commencing in the spring. Numerous routes have been surveyed and a lot of time and money consumed so far on the local bypass, but it begins to look as if the whole issue will be settled very shortly.

The new road to Rainbow Lake, Hampton Valley Road, should be ready for travel in another month or two and this undoubtedly will inspire future development of our mountain assets in the next couple of years. Each year sees more cabins and more land changing hands in the area and with the building of the boys' camp several years ago, other individuals undoubtedly will get ideas and develop the area either for their own pleasure or on a commercial basis. This new road undoubtedly will expedite this development. I have long advocated that our mountain assets should be exploited. We have just as picturesque scenery here as many other places that people drive miles to see and to vacation at. A nice lucrative trade could be established right in our own backyard, so to speak, by developing our assets which at present are lying dormant. It'll probably take a stranger to do the trick though, as it usually is common practice to overlook what we have right here at home. I might never live to see it, but I just know that some day, not too distant, that summer resorts, picnic area, swimming pools, etc., will dot our local mountains.

BITTEN BY SNAKE

Wayne Joy, 12, son of Mr. and Mrs. Austin Joy, Emmitsburg, was treated at the Warner Hospital last Thursday for a snake bite on the right foot.

Lutheran Church Supper Saturday

A ham supper and lawn festival will be held on Saturday, July 27, by the Elias Ev. Lutheran Church on the church grounds. Women of the church will serve the suppers starting at 5 p. m. Diners will have their choice of eating inside the building or at the arrangements on the lawn. There will be plenty of entertainment the entire evening supplied by "Uncle Mack and Grandpa Shank" and a country store with home-grown and home baked products, rummage tables, pony rides for the children, square dancing exhibitions, etc. In the event of rain, the affair will be held in the spacious parish hall.

Thurmont Girl Convicted Of Hit and Run Charge

A Thurmont teen-age girl, Josephine Garrett, 18, Negro, was found guilty of failing to stop and identify self after an accident involving property damage, failing to stop after striking an unattended vehicle and operating a motor vehicle without a license, in a case tried in Trial Magistrate's Court last Friday night. The girl was arrested after hitting two cars and a girl on a bicycle on Market St., Frederick, last Wednesday night. She was confined to jail for 25 days in default of $25 fines on the two failing charges and sent to jail for 20 days in default of a $20 fine on the latter charge. She is attempting to raise the money. Several witnesses testified that they observed the girl's auto strike two parked autos on S. Market St. After that the car continued up Market St. and hit Shirley A. Shaffer, 15.

LIONS CLUB PLANS PICNIC

Twenty-one members and two guests were present at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening in the Lutheran Parish Hall, President Paul W. Claypool presiding. One new member, Guy A. Baker, Jr., was admitted to membership. Plans for the club's annual picnic were discussed and the affair will take place in lieu of the first August meeting. Various improvements to the Civic Grounds were discussed, but no action was taken. The members observed one minute's silence in memory of the late Herbert Roger, a past president and member of the club. Rev. Philip Bower was a guest of the club and asked the invocation. Principal speaker of the evening was Rev. Held of Gettysburg who gave an interesting account of his trip to San Francisco where the Lions Club's international convention was held recently.

Bi-centennial Queen To Fly To New York

Emmitsburg's Queen, Nancy Valentine, who reigned over the festivities of the recently concluded Bi-centennial gets her New York City vacation this weekend. Queen Nancy and her companion, Miss Francis Ogle, will fly to New York via Eastern Airlines, leaving Friendship International Airport at 2:30 p. m. Friday. With the cooperation of Eastern Airlines a weekend of fun and sight-seeing has been planned. Eastern's Baltimore office has arranged for theatre tickets, television shows, and it is hoped, a stand-up appearance on the Steve Allen Show for our Nancy. While in the big city, Nancy and Miss Ogle will stay at the Warwick Hotel. Through the courtesy of the Hotel's management, the two visitors will be the Warwick's special guests for the weekend. Emmitsburgians are advised to keep a close eye out for pictures of Nancy in the papers as Eastern has promised to have a photographer on hand at Friendship Airport. The Bi-centennial Committee and all Emmitsburg wishes for Queen Nancy a glorious weekend in the big city. Our thanks again to the Warwick and to Eastern Airlines for their wonderful cooperation.

THURMONT CARNIVAL STARTS MONDAY

The annual carnival of the Guardian Hose Co. of Thurmont will take place during the week of July 29-Aug. 3, it has been announced. The carnival annually draws large crowds throughout the county and entertainment will be featured every night. A large parade has been scheduled for Thursday, Aug. 1, at 7 p. m. The carnival is being held in conjunction with the annual convention of the Frederick County Volunteer Firemen's Assn., which will meet in Thurmont on Wednesday evening, July 31, at 7:30 o'clock. A feature of the affair will be a bake sale which will be held Friday evening from 7:30 to 9 o'clock. The committee announced the following entertainment for each evening: Monday, Lew Wade of radio station WFMD; Tuesday, Woody and the Rhythm Rangers; Wednesday, Buddy Allen's Vagabonds; Thursday, parade and concert by the Thurmont High School Band; Friday, Buddy Allen's Vagabonds, and Saturday, concert by the Thurmont High School Band.

U. S. Route 15 Change Indicated

Plans to rebuild Rt. 15 along the route of the present road from Mount St. Mary's College to Toll Gate Hill seem to have been scrapped, according to latest reports. New plans indicate that the new Rt. 15 will be moved east of the present road across Mount St. Mary's College fields to the rear of the houses now fronting the highway until it swings in back of St. Joseph College to bypass Emmitsburg to the east. Earlier reports had the new road following the present roadway a little to the west until it reached the Toll Gate Hill area when the sweep behind St. Joseph was to begin. A new bridge will carry the road across Tom's Creek.

Marine Corps Has New Recruiting Privilege

Two, three, four or even five buddies can walk into a Marine Recruiting Office and be given assurance they'll all be scheduled to remain together throughout the initial phases of their training. Sgt. Howard W. Higgins of the Marine Corps recruiting substation at 10 West Franklin St., Hagerstown, announced this week that he now has the authority to guarantee close friends who enlist together will be assigned to the same "boot" camp platoon. The Buddy System—the Leatherneck recruiter calls it—applies even after graduation from recruit training at Parris Island, S. C. The buddies go together to Camp Lejeune, N. C., for their advanced individual combat training, still belonging to one platoon. Sgt. Higgins says the new idea is paying off three-fold. First, prospective applicants like the idea of beginning their active duty with one or more friends whom they've known many years. Second, the Marine Corps can more readily maintain enlistment quotas and its highly-coveted status as an "all-volunteer" service. Third, the Buddy System recruitment is at no increased expense to the Government. Sgt. Higgins remarked, "the more prospects who can be administratively processed, enlisted and trained at the same time, the more efficient our over-all personnel operation." The guarantee of recruit and infantry training together becomes null and void in a few circumstances. Each enlistee of a Buddy Group is given fair warning that disciplinary action, hospitalization, training set-backs, discharge or other similar action can cause individuals to leave the originally-assigned platoon. Asked if girls could get the same guarantee by joining the Marine Corps with their friends, the local recruiter answered in the affirmative, but immediately qualified it with, "Men will train in men platoons and girls in women Marine platoons. 'Should a man enlist with his girl friend? We can guarantee only that they will train on the same island together—Parris Island'." Sgt. Higgins will come to Emmitsburg on the first and third Tuesday of every month from 12:30 p. m. to 2:30 p. m., and will interview interested young men and women in the local post-office.

HEAVY DAMAGE OCCURS WHEN TRUCK RAMS INTO REAR OF CAR

Damage totaled $3600 when a tractor-trailer smashed into the rear of an auto, then struck a guard fence a half mile east of Gettysburg on the Lincoln Highway last Saturday night at 11:55 o'clock. Police said Eric E. Glass, 17, Emmitsburg Rt. 2, was driving west when a westbound tractor-trailer operated by Harry M. Talhelm, 40, Chambersburg, Pa., Rt. 6, crashed into the rear of Glass' Ford sedan near Warren Chevrolet Sales. The impact hurled the auto off the right side of the road into guard rails. A passenger in Glass' car, Joan Topper, 16, Emmitsburg, suffered a laceration of the right elbow. She did not seek medical attention immediately, the officers said. Damage was estimated at $3000 to the tractor-trailer, $500 to the car, and $100 to the guard fence owned by the Pennsylvania Department of Highways.

Little League All-Stars To Perform

Emmitsburg Little League all-stars, between the ages of 11 and 12, will play their first tournament game on Saturday afternoon, July 27, when they meet the Thurmont all-stars at Thurmont. Leonard Zimmerman and Richard Harner have been named to manage the all-stars. The winner of the Emmitsburg-Thurmont tilt will win the right to play the victor of the Sykesville - Westminster game on Tuesday evening at 6 o'clock. The following all-star Little League team, chosen by team managers, will be seen in action against Thurmont: Bill Zimmerman, Jim Topper, John Little, John Flowers, Eddie Orndorff, Kenny Slick, Austin Umble, Gene Lingg, David Messner, Gene Eyerler, Leo B. (Jack) Topper, Dennis Martin, and Carlos Englar.

New Boys' Baseball League Forming

Little League graduates will have an opportunity to get back in action with the formation of a joint four-team league including two teams from Emmitsburg and two from Blue Ridge Summit. A regular schedule will begin next week with two games listed for each week. Players are restricted to the 13-16-year-old age group. Manager Jack Rosensteel has been working with the Emmitsburg youngsters for the past two weeks. He has a squad of approximately 30 youngsters which will be divided into two teams for league play. E. R. Bick is in charge of the Blue Ridge teams. Games will alternate between Blue Ridge and Community Field, Emmitsburg, and will be played on Tuesday and Thursday evenings.

LOCALS DROP 3RD STRAIGHT BALL GAME

Emmitsburg dropped its third straight game last Sunday in a Pen-Mar League contest at Cashtown, 6-5 in 11 innings. J. Joy started on the mound for Emmitsburg and was relieved by Micham and M. Joy. They gave up 12 hits while the locals collected seven from the slants of D. Bucher, Del Richardson and Skip Fisel. The loss kept the locals in fifth place, one-half game from the cellar. Both Clarke and Little hit for two safeties while Singley led the Cashtown attack with three hits. Cashtown Ab. R. H. E. Carnival Date Drawing Near Clay Z. Green, president of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club, reported this week that plans for a carnival to be sponsored by the group were shaping up nicely and that a fine array of nightly entertainment was being carded for the occasion. The carnival will feature games, rides, good food and entertainment for both young and old. The affair will be held on the Community Field during the week of Sept. 2-7.

POLICE DEPT. HAS BUSY MONTH

From the Fourth to the 27th of July proved to be a busy period for the Emmitsburg Police Dept. as 21 motorists were charged with infractions of the motor vehicle code. The arrests were made by Police Chief Robert Koontz and the cases were tried before Magistrate Charles D. Gillelan of Emmitsburg. The following motorists were charged and their violation: Freeman Dolar Eyer, Emmitsburg, operating under the influence, $200 and six months, reckless driving, 30, committed to jail for 30 days in default of payment; Clair D. Shultz, Fairfield, Pa., operating under the influence, $150.75, and reckless driving, $25.75, committed to jail in default of fine; Kenneth W. Plume, Smithburg, exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; James Allen Wagerman, Emmitsburg, exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Maurice T. McFadden, Jr., Baltimore, exceeding 25 mph., $11.45, suspended; Conard Brawner Wagerman, Emmitsburg, exceeding 30 mph., $11.45; George A. Decker, Jr., York, Pa., exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Robert E. Shorb, Emmitsburg, speed to great, $11.45; Charles J. Wastler, Graceham, exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Norman T. Fitch, Baltimore, reckless driving, $16.45; Betty Boughton, Elkland, Pa., failing to keep right of center of highway, $10.75; Leroy Schultz, Gettysburg, Pa., improper tags, $10.75; John C. Timmerman, Emmitsburg, reckless driving, $11.45; Arnold D. Cregger, Emmitsburg, speed to great, $6.45; Harvey E. Long, Thurmont, speed to great, $11.45; Larry H. Shockey, Cascade, exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Gerald L. Maust, Gettysburg, Pa., exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Clyde F. Schlerf, Westminster, speed to great, $26.45; Joseph T. Peterson, Emmitsburg, exceeding 25 mph., $6.45; Richard L. Crum, Bigler, Pa., exceeding 25 mph., $11.45; Frederick W. Gebhart, Emmitsburg, improper tags, $10.75. Charles B. Sanders, of Pikesville, was charged with being drunk and disorderly conduct on the streets of Emmitsburg by police Chief Koontz and was fined $50 by Magistrate Gillelan. A particular significance of the arrests was the fact that most of the violations were made between 10 p. m. and 2 a. m.

Delicious fried chicken and cake were served early in the evening, followed by a wiener roast.

Herbert Roger, Businessman, Succumbs At 49

Death came to Herbert William Roger, 49, local well-known businessman, Monday morning at 5:30 o'clock after an illness of about six months. "Shep," as he was familiarly known, was president of the Vigilant Hose Co., an office which he held for the past decade and a half. He was the son of the late Frederick W. and Frances Ashbaugh Roger and was born in Emmitsburg. The deceased operated a retail package store in Emmitsburg since 1943 and was very active in community work. He was a past president and member of the Emmitsburg Lions Club, Tyrian Lodge, Masonic Order, Indian Lookout Conservation Club, Gettysburg Elks, Moose, and Eagles Club, Frederick County Liquor Dealers Assn., Maryland State Volunteer Firemen's Assn., and the Emmitsburg High School Alumni Assn. Mr. Roger is survived by his widow, Mrs. Anne Gertrude (Myers) Roger, and two sisters, Mrs. Edgar Robinson, Washington, D. C., and Miss Mae Roger, Frederick. He was a member of the Methodist Church, Emmitsburg. Funeral services were held Wednesday afternoon at 1:30 at the Allison Funeral Home, W. Main St., with further services at 2 p. m. in the Methodist Church with Rev. Wallace Blackwood, pastor, officiating. Graveside services were in charge of Rev. Fr. John D. Sullivan, pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church. Interment was made in St. Joseph's New Catholic Cemetery. S. L. Allison, funeral director. Pallbearers were Richard Harner, John J. Hollinger, Robert Fitez, Ralph Grushon, Frank W. Weant, and Aaron Adams.

Carroll County To Get Highway Repaved

A section of Maryland Route 31 in Carroll County will get a face-lifting this summer. The State Roads Commission this week sent a "notice to proceed" to the contractor for extensive improvements to this highway in and around Manchester. The project will consist of grading, drainage, widening, relocating and surfacing of Md. 31, from its intersection with Md. 30 in Manchester southwesterly for a distance of 4.3 miles. In addition another short section will be resurfaced—from Park Avenue in Manchester southwesterly for a distance of .3 miles. Both sections totaling 4.6 miles, will be finished in asphalt pavement. Contractor on the project is Nello L. Teer Co. of Durham, N. C., whose low bid was $815,602. Six other bidders competed for this job, the highest bid received by the Roads Commission being $971,463.

'Friendly Suit' Settled For $3800

An Emmitsburg minor will receive $3800 and court costs as the result of the settlement of a friendly suit in Circuit Court growing out of an automobile accident. The judgment is in favor of John J. Sanders, Emmitsburg, who entered the action through his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Sanders, against Eugene Anthony Miller, also of Emmitsburg. Young Sanders said he was seriously injured when the vehicle of the defendant, in which the plaintiff was a passenger, ran off the road striking a culvert on Maryland 194 last Feb. 6. Alton Y. Bennett, attorney for the plaintiff, and David D. Patton, attorney for the defendant, filed an agreement that the suit be compromised and settled by payment of $3800 and court costs. MANY JOBS OVERSEAS OPEN

To the job hunting young men and women who are seeking thrills and excitement of living and working abroad, the magic door to a host of positions will be open by the U. S. Dept. of State. Secretaries, stenographers, communications code clerks and general clerical personnel are being sought for positions at American Embassies abroad. Many high school, business school and college graduates armed with good training and three years of general office experience, have jobs that take them to interesting places throughout the world while working for the U. S. Foreign Service. Hong Kong, Rome, Bombay or Washington, D. C., are but a few of the 270 posts maintained in 78 countries throughout the world. Edward T. Simms from Washington, D. C., will conduct interviews at the Maryland State Employment Service, 7th floor, 6 N. Liberty, in Baltimore, from July 29 through Aug. 9. Interviewing hours are from 9 a. m. to 4 p. m. Monday through Friday. Young men and women who wish to work overseas must be between the ages of 21 and 35, American citizens, single without dependents and willing to go anywhere in the world. Secretaries and stenographers must type 50 words per minute and take shorthand at the rate of 96 or 80 words per minute, respectively; communications code clerks must type 45 words per minute (qualified typists will be trained for these positions); and general clerks must type 35 words per minute. All applicants must have at least three years of office experience. In some instances, educations above high school may be substituted for no more than two years of work experience. After approximately six months of orientation and on-the-job training in Washington and the Foreign Service Institute, employees are assigned to their overseas post. In addition to the salary of $3390 per year (secretaries $3800), overseas housing is provided and some assignments carry a post differential of 10 to 25 per cent of the salary. Some posts also provide a cost-of-living allowance over and above these other allowances. For instance, salary and allowance in Saigon, Viet Nam, is $6675; in Madrid, Spain, $4290, and in Caracas, Venezuela, $6870 per year. After completing a two-year tour of duty abroad, employees are brought back home at government expense for six weeks of home leave. This leave is in addition to the 13 days of annual leave earned each year. Sick leave of 13 days a year is granted, if needed, and an annual pay increase for each year of satisfactory service is awarded to all employees. Housing arrangements, recreational and educational activities, group hospitalization and government insurance are among the many facilities and benefits available to all U. S. Dept. of State employees.

Along The Potomac

By Rep. DeWitt S. Hyde Representative DeWitt S. Hyde of the Sixth District of Maryland last week called for the establishment of a special House committee to study and make recommendations aimed at strengthening Congressional control over the public purse.

Mr. Hyde's request came in the form of a resolution introduced in the House of Representatives. The resolution calls for the establishment of a 10-man bipartisan select committee to make the probe. Included in the group would be the chairman and ranking minority member of the House Appropriations Committee. Representative Hyde said the committee would be required to make a report on its findings to the full House of Representatives "as soon as practicable during the Eighty-fifth Congress."

"It has become increasingly clear in the battle over the fiscal 1958 budget that means must be found to enable Congress to perform more effectively its review and authorization of the annual budget of the Federal government," he said. Mr. Hyde added that individual Congressmen had "indicated a scarcity of information regarding facts behind the budget" and pointed out that the House already had requested the President to make recommendations as to where specific budget cuts could be made.

The resolution calls for the committee to make "full and complete study of the fiscal and budget organization and operations of the Congress . . . with a view to recommending improvements . . . for the purpose of strengthening Congressional control over the public purse . . ."

The resolution, if approved, would direct the committee to give particular attention to four phases: 1-The existing fiscal machinery and appropriations procedure of Congress. 2-Present methods of controlling public expenditures. 3-Possible defects of present budgetary practices. 4-Proposed reforms in budgetary procedures. "The time has come," Rep. Hyde declared, "when Congress must conduct a searching self-analysis of the organization, procedures and methods by which it reviews and authorizes the annual budget as submitted by the President. "From this effort should come a comprehensive, well-designed program which will enable it (the Congress) to perform its Constitutional responsibilities effectively." Herbert Hoover is the only man of Swiss descent to be President of the United States. Thomas A. Edison was dismissed from a job as a young man for sleeping while on duty. Rabbits can run faster up hill than down because the hind legs are longer than the forelegs.

The growing trend toward outdoor living has produced a new item of patio furniture—the "sun sled." Do-it-yourself enthusiasts can make one themselves. All that's needed is a few board feet of 2x2 lumber for the framework which looks much like that of a regular snow sled. Wood slats or canvas stretched across the top complete the project. Noah was 600 years old when the ark was completed.

Help For The "Problem Child"

It's a wise mother who knows her child - especially when Johnny's school marks start slipping or mother is called in for a heart-to-heart talk with the teacher because he's "unmanageable." More often than not it's spring fever or a case of high spirits that tax the teacher's patience. Closer cooperation between teacher and parent can frequently help the child to pull himself out of temporary scholastic slumps and behavior problems. There are times, however, when the child's trouble stems, not from youthful mischief or gaiety, but from an underlying emotional disturbance. When a youngster shows no sign of recovering from a state of anxiety and apprehension, he should be taken to a physician, says Dr. Frank J. Ayd, Jr., Chief of Psychiatry at Baltimore's Franklin Square Hospital. Anxiety should never be shrugged off with a mere "He'll grow out of it," Dr. Ayd told physicians at a recent symposium on "Emotional Problems of Children." Whether it's a brief episode or a persistent pattern, Dr. Ayd said, anxiety always interferes with the child's normal life. According to the Baltimore psychiatrist, school problems may crop up because tension and anxiety thwart concentration, impair memory, and make decisions difficult. Aware of his poor perform-

DECORATING MADE EASY

You might be one of 33 million Americans who moved this year. Or you have decided that your house needs a new look. In any case you're ready to decorate. You have an idea of what you want but you don't know how to put it together. Homemakers have found that the best way to decorate a room or an entire home properly and within their budget is to consult a local professional interior decorator. A decorator's training and experience will save you time, money and many headaches. When you first visit the decorator he is prepared to supply details about your way of living: size of family, hobbies, activities, color preferences, whether you prefer contemporary or traditional decor. She then visits your home. From all the information she's collected she creates an original plan including a sketch of the room as she visualizes it, a color scheme and recommendations for materials, furniture and accessories. This detailed plan is submitted for your approval. After she has your consent, she proceeds to execute the design that expresses your tastes and desires. The decorator coordinates the thousand and one details that go into redecorating your room or home such as the arrangement of furniture, fabrication of curtains and draperies, lighting, painting and the installation of the Kentile vinyl asbestos tile floor. And when her work is completed you have the room you dreamed about—a symphony of style and color designed for maximum decorative effect and living comfort. The following step by step illustrations show you how decorating is made easy:

Homemaker consults decorator about redesigning her family room. Decorator selecting right materials to fit into new decor. Decorator coordinates color schemes and fabrics for new interior. Decorator checks all details like laying of Kentile vinyl asbestos floor. Here's your room as you pictured it—designed for comfort and beauty, a creation all your own—with an assist from your interior decorator.

ALONG THE POTOMAC

By U. S. Congressman DeWitt S. Hyde

WASHINGTON—There is wide misunderstanding of the meaning and the purpose of the Status-of-Forces Agreements. Actually these agreements permit our far-flung defense operations and grant our soldiers protection they would not otherwise have. Without a Status-of-Forces Agreement, foreign nations have the right to arrest and try our men for violating their laws whether or not the soldier is on duty. Under such agreements they give up the right to arrest and try our men while on duty and guarantee them certain legal protection.

If we agree that it is wise military policy and good defense to keep our troops in foreign countries for our protection, then we must concede to those countries some rights to enforce their laws. It seems to me that it is wise to maintain our forces overseas in the foreseeable future so that if an attack comes from the Communist world, it will not strike first on our own shores.

There is something about the manipulation of the Girard case that troubles me. What is behind it all? I am convinced that the manipulators were not motivated by a humanitarian interest in the case itself, but saw in it a means of reaching another goal. Whatever the motive, the tragedy is that the excitement created by the Girard case has played into the hands of extreme right organizations and extreme left groups.

The Communists and other leftist organizations are glorying in the opportunity of using our emotional concern as a means of defeating our foreign military aid programs and forcing withdrawal of our troops from overseas. Isolationists, too, are using the case to further their own views. Both the extreme right and extreme left know that repeal of the Status-of-Forces Agreements would force us to withdraw our troops from foreign stations since our men would no longer be protected.

usually only the father is a producer. Children are an asset to the community, if they will remain in the community as workers and producers after graduation. Otherwise, the community has been to great expense to educate them and has received little in return. Cities to which these young people go for work after graduation—or the young people themselves—will some day be compelled to send money back to the city which educated them.

Question 6. Do you believe in Turnpike Bonds? Answer: The simplest method of avoiding Federal and State taxes is to buy turnpike bonds. Issues carrying 3½% coupons can now be purchased in the 70's and 80's and should be perfectly safe and free from all Federal and State taxes. The only way I know to beat City taxes is to have a lot of children and get them a free education. However, the duty of paying for schools, highways, fire and police protection should be preached by the newspapers, schools, and even churches. Ministers might more often preach from the first eight Verses of the 15th Chapter of St. John and the first thirty Verses of the 25th Chapter of S. Matthew.

Babson Discusses Making Our Community More Prosperous

BABSON PARK, Mass., July 25 — During the past month many towns and cities have held high school graduations.

These young people have been taught the answers to almost every question except the economics of the place in which they live. Therefore, let me this week answer six questions on this subject.

Regarding Empty Stores

Question 1. Why do we find empty store on our business streets? Answer: Because more money is going out of the community than is coming into it. This can be corrected only by the citizens producing more and selling more than they are buying. As soon as the community produces more than it consumes, every store is rented.

Reasons For Unemployment

Question 2. Why are good people out of work at times? Answer: Because these people have not been trained to produce or render more than one service. Perhaps too many young people have been trained for white-collar jobs. Perhaps there are too many business offices and not enough factories, services, farms, or fisheries. Perhaps those who are now employed do not take an interest in their work; hence, they will not be making money for their employers. Sometimes I feel the graduates who can't get jobs should be returned to the schools and be properly trained. If we buy a washer, or a vacuum cleaner, or a TV set and it "does not make good," we can return it until it is satisfactory. We should be able to do this with unsatisfactory high school graduates.

Reason For Tight Money

Question 3. Why is it now difficult to borrow money from local banks? Answer: Because too many citizens are sending money to New York to be put into stocks, instead of investing it at home. This might have been a wise thing to do in the 1930's when stocks were selling so low; but it is not the thing to do today. For those buying stocks no where is more risk of a loss than chance for a profit. If we would keep the money at home, the banks would have plenty to loan.

What About Shopping Centers?

Question 4. Is your community being hurt by a new shopping center? Answer: There is no use of merchants griping, or complaining, about new shopping centers. Price-cutting on the part of local retailers will not solve the problem. Free parking is the greatest attraction of shopping centers. The best way to compete with them, therefore, is for local towns and cities to supply more free parking closer to their retail stores. I would not attempt to operate a retail store unless it was close to a free parking lot. Also, the more competition a community has from a shopping center, the more that community must produce from its factories, farms, services, or fisheries.

What About Taxes?

Question 5. Why are local taxes so high? Answer: First let me say that the taxes of most communities have not gone up any more than have wages or commodities. Most town and city governments are doing the best they can to keep taxes down; but they cannot buck the tide of population and the demand for conveniences. As young people move into a community and have children,

PURE WATER is distributed in a typical scene duplicated many times in the flood-ravaged areas of eastern Kentucky, Virginia and West Virginia. To meet the recent flood situation which had cut off 10,000 families from drinking water supplies, four dairy firms put their eight plants to work preparing 60,000 gallons of safe water in cardboard milk cartons and milk tank trucks. It was the first time the Federal Civil Defense Administration's plan for emergency water distribution had been put to practical use in a disaster.

Why Ford is the "only-est" wagon of 'em all!

FORD is America's best-selling station wagon and your best buy, because for so little money Ford is:

- ... the only wagon with wrap-around liftgate to give you greater visibility and wider loading space
- ... the only wagon with a liftgate that gives itself a "lift"
- ... the only wagon with a liftgate that "holds" in any position and can be released with one hand!
- ... the only wagon with sturdy support arms that hold tailgate solidly in open position and, at the same time, give full load support
- ... the only wagon with 2-stage front door checks and spring assists that help you open and close rear doors
- ... the only wagon with 6 steel roof braces for extra rugged strength
- ... the only wagon with swept-back ball-joint suspension that "rolls" with the punch when you hit a bump
- ... the only wagon to bring you the Thunderbird's own V-8 power
- ... the only wagon that offers you a truly modern short-stroke six cylinder engine!

That list of "onlys" on the left gives a lot of reasons why Ford tops the "tote 'em" poll. Take Ford's sculptured styling. No other wagon at any price can match it. And Ford is the only wagon that sports this sculptured look.

The all-new "Inner Ford" is America's No. 1 construction job. Its wide-base frame lets you ride safer within the massive frame side rails. Under the hood, you get a famous Ford engine. Whether you choose the Mileage Maker Six or the Thunderbird's own V-8, you'll love the smooth performance. Yet, in spite of all these "onlys," Ford wagons are still the lowest priced* of the low-price three!

Keep cool with Ford Air Conditioning . . . at low Ford prices!

Important World History

In his book, The Socialist Tragedy, Ivor Thomas showed that in modern world history Socialism has been the transition stage through which Communism has come to power in nation after nation. In Russia itself the Communists helped Kerensky set up the Socialist Provisional Government before taking over a short time later. In Hungary the Reds came to power after they had lured the Socialist government into a coalition. In Czechoslovakia the Reds moved to power through the Socialist Party headed by Dr. Benes.

At the 20th World Congress of the Communist Party held in Moscow recently, the same old strategy was re-emphasized for the Red conspirators in all the countries outside the Iron Curtain: work for Socialism first; this was the order of the day. With the Reds pushing behind the scene, Socialism has risen to power in most of the nations of the world. All these extremely important facts of history are brought to the attention of high school students studying World History in the course developed by Harding Academy at Searcy.

Warning From Authority
Ivor Thomas' book is one of the reference texts used in the course. He was a Labor-Socialist member of Parliament in England. He withdrew from his party when he saw where Socialism was taking his nation. He wrote his book to warn the people of the world that Socialism is like cancer of the blood stream — it spreads and attacks and destroys the body of a nation.

"The importance of this study of World History," says the outline published by Harding Academy for the guidance of high schools wishing to establish the course, "could not be more strikingly dramatized than by the facts visible throughout a large portion of the world today. Nearly a billion people have been engulfed by international Communism within the span of a single generation; and other hundreds of millions have embarked on Socialist experiments which many feel would, unless halted, lead to a similar entrapment of human freedom. World history, when studied today in its full-bodied perspective, should build up within the youth of America a zealous appreciation of their great governmental and economic heritage."

Educational Goals

In the Harding Academy course, these goals are set up for each student: (1) An understanding of the world by a study of men, places, events, and terms; (2) A knowledge of the main eras and movements in history; (3) An appreciation of freedom—how difficult it has been to preserve freedom, and how easy it may be to lose it; (4) A knowledge of totalitarianism, and particularly of the present form of government in Russia, an awareness of the kinship between Communism and Socialism, and the irresistible movement toward totalitarianism;

(5) A knowledge of the principles embedded in the U. S. Constitution—division and separation of authority in Government, representative Republican form, sanctity of the individual, protection for minorities, and respect for minority views. The course content includes these divisions: Earliest civilizations; the rise and fall of Greece and Rome; beginnings of the modern world; the rise of totalitarian powers; the uphill struggle for freedom, political, economic and religious; a warring world in search of peace.

The Textbooks

The Academy uses as its basic textbook for this course, World History, by Smith, Muzey and Lloyd, Ginn and Company, Dallas. Other references besides Thomas', The Socialist Tragedy, are The Story of Civilization, Beckner and Dunclaf, Silver Burdett Company, Chicago; The Old World Past and Present, Campbell, Webb and Nida, Scott, Foresman and Company, Dallas; World History, Albert Hyma, W. B. Eardsmans Publishing Company,

Grand Rapids; The Making of Today's World, R. O. Hughes, Allyn and Bacon, Dallas; and World History for a Better World, Neffand Planer, The Bruce Publishing Co., Milwaukee. Three National Education Program films are used: "A Look at Socialism," and "Fall of Nations."

The foregoing information and the further information contained in our last three columns, will enable any high school in America to resolve one of its most pressing obligations—to build an appreciation of our American system into the minds and hearts of its students and prepare them to intelligently resist Socialism and Communism.

Vice President Nixon Tries 'Senate Salad'

Vice President Richard M. Nixon is handed his plate of "Senate Salad" by Mrs. America of 1958 during a recent luncheon at the Capitol. "Senate Salad" was tossed in the largest—three feet wide and 14 inches deep—salad bowl in the world. Containing the products of eight states, the salad was topped by a garlic-type salad dressing mix.

A new salad, "Senate Salad," was created and served recently at the U.S. Capitol. Vice President Nixon was among the 35 Senators, innumerable Congressmen, Congressional staff members and press — totaling more than 500—who tried the new dish. It is unusual for a new dish to be created in the nation's Capitol. Here's how it happened:

Nine Members of Congress who come from states that produce or manufacture ingredients important in salad making decided to serve an original salad to their colleagues on Capitol Hill.

The result was "Senate Salad". To meet the need of the occasion it turned out to be the largest of its kind ever served in the world.

The ingredients of "Senate Salad" were: ten heads of Arizona and California iceberg and romaine lettuce, 20 bunches of West Virginia water cress, 14 bunches of Texas green onions, 75 pounds of Maine lobster meat, 30 bunches of California celery, 156 New Jersey tomatoes, 78 California avocados, one gallon of California ripe olives, 40 Arizona grapefruit, two quarts of Michigan vinegar and 30 envelopes of a garlic-type salad dressing mix.

To serve the largest salad in the world, naturally, the largest salad bowl in the world was needed. The bowl, hand-turned and made of solid walnut, was three feet wide and 14 inches deep. Heaped, it held 320 main-course servings of delicious "Senate Salad." The salad fork and spoon each were three feet long and the cruet for the eight quarts of salad dressing was 18 inches high.

The salad bowl was presented by Mrs. America of 1958 (Mrs. Linwood Findley of Arlington, Va.) to Vice President Nixon for the Senate Dining Room—and there is a good chance that "Senate Salad" will take its place at the Capitol alongside the already famous "Senate Bean Soup."

"Senate Salad" is worthy of a place on everyone's table. Of course, husbands, who are weak and wives who like to try new food dishes, need not buy 75 pounds of lobster to serve "Senate Salad."

To prepare the dish for a family of four, take a cup of bite-size pieces of iceberg lettuce, a cup of bite-size pieces of romaine lettuce, one half cup of bite-size pieces of water cress, one and one half cups of lobster meat, one cup of diced celery, a quarter cup of chopped green onions and stems, two medium tomatoes cubed, five large ripe olives sliced and sections from one half of a grapefruit.

The vinegar and salad oil to make the dressing should be used in the proportions required with one envelope of garlic-type salad dressing mix.

The ingredients should be placed in a large bowl and tossed lightly. The lobster claws should be used to garnish the top.

Countians Draw $2 Million Social Security

Nearly $2,000,000 in social security payments were made to 3267 Frederick County beneficiaries in 1956.

More than 1797 retired workers were getting monthly social security insurance payments totaling $99,572 at the end of 1956. This compares with 1555 old-age beneficiaries receiving $84,775 monthly in the same county a year earlier, W. S. King, Social Security Administration district manager in Hagerstown, declared this week.

At the end of 1956, monthly benefit payments were going to 525 wives or aged dependent husbands of old-age beneficiaries and to 321 aged widows or dependent aged widowers and parents in Frederick County. The 12-month increase in aged beneficiaries is due partly to the lowering from 65 to 62 of the age at which a woman without an entitled child in her care may qualify for benefits, King said. The lowering of the retirement age for women was one of the provisions of the 1956 Amendments to the Social Security Act and became effective last November. It applies to retired women workers, wives of old-age beneficiaries, and widows or dependent mothers of deceased insured workers. Many women who would have had to wait up to three years longer before starting to get benefits under the old law became entitled to benefits in the last two months of 1956.

Noting that OASI coverage has taken hold rapidly in recent years,

King pointed out that three-fourths of the men becoming 65 this year will be eligible for social security benefits. Of all people over 65 years of age, 62 percent are now drawing benefits or will be entitled to draw them when their income from work stops.

In December, 1956, 514 children in Frederick County were being paid a total of $17,139 monthly. These were largely minor children of a deceased insured parent; a smaller number were children under 18 whose insured father or mother had retired. All of these were unmarried children under 18. While child's benefits ordinarily stop at age 18, King called attention to a recent change in the law which makes payments possible for a child over 18, based on the insured account of a retired or deceased parent, if the child became totally disabled before reaching 18. Payments will be made also to the mother who has the disabled child in her care. This provision did not become effective until January 1957; consequently, disabled child beneficiaries are not included in the total given above.

If the child of a retired or deceased person is entitled to monthly payments, the child's mother may also be entitled to benefits, regardless of her age. In Frederick County at the end of 1956, 110 widowed mothers who were caring for child beneficiaries were receiving $4,766 per month.

Commenting on the growth of the social security insurance in the 20 years of its operation, King recalled that the original law covered about 26 million workers; as of March 1957, approximately 55.5 million people were in work covered by the law, and more than 9 out of every 10 persons who work for a living and 9 out of 10 mothers and children have a stake in the social security insurance program.

At last count there were 132 covered wood bridges still in use in the state of Vermont.

Storage Loan For Farmers Still Available

Farmers who are in need of more storage space often overlook the storage facility loan, according to Leonard C. Burns, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Storage facility loans are made available by the Commodity Credit Corporation to help farmers add to their farm storage space. Owner operators, share tenants, share landlords, or producer partnerships are eligible for the loans. The loans are available through local banks or directly from the Commodity Credit Corporation. Applications can be made at the local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office. The loan can be paid off over a 4-year period which begins on the first anniversary of the loan. Interest is at 4 percent per year.

The storage structure to be bought or built by a farmer and on which a loan is made must meet the requirements for storage under the price-support program. Structures for the storage of wheat, corn, oats, rye, barley and soybeans are eligible under the programs.

BACK THE ATTACK ON TRAFFIC ACCIDENTS

NATIONAL SAFETY COUNCIL

WASHINGTON AND 'SMALL BUSINESS' By C. WILSON HARDER

There is a growing suspicion in Washington that a portion of the government's program of "stockpiling" so-called strategic materials is merely a plan to give some foreign monopolies a surplus program such as afforded to the American farmer.

The government now has stockpiled 1,200,000 long tons of natural rubber, acquired at a cost of $825 million, which is costing U. S. taxpayers an estimated $38 million per year to maintain, plus interest on the investment. That is the report in a recent speech by the president of the B. F. Goodrich company.

What makes this situation all the more confusing is that last year's production of natural rubber totaled only 1,900,000 tons. Thus, the U. S. has almost a full year's production of natural rubber in storage.

It is also significant that the production of natural rubber is a virtual British monopoly, and that it was not too long ago British rubber interests publicly complained profits for year had fallen to slightly below 35%.

As a matter of fact, with the great developments made in synthetic rubber, natural tree rubber has become almost as obsolete as the buggy whip. There are a few minor uses where natural rubber is best, but by far, in most applications such as tires, hoses, other uses, synthetic rubber does job better.

Actually, without government buying up natural rubber and storing it away, price of the natural product would undoubtedly drop to quite a low level.

American rubber industry leaders say that in event of a national emergency of serious proportions, nation could be entirely independent of foreign rubber.

Last year, when due to a heavy worldwide demand of rubber, the price of natural rubber was being boosted, an effort was made to get government to release a part of this vast store as it would have been the most logical time for the taxpayers to get back a reasonable share of the money that has been poured into an excessive stockpile. Government refused to do so.

But so far this year, reduced demand for rubber has brought the price of natural rubber down, so that it would be hard for government to get back a fair share of the investment.

It very much appears that natural rubber bears the same relation to synthetic rubber that silk does to nylon. In other words, premium price is paid for synthetic because of its better qualities, and natural product is considered secondary in value.

Thus, there is no telling what price levels natural rubber would have dropped to by this time, to the detriment of the British monopoly, had not the U. S. been price supporting the product with huge stockpiles.

At the present time, when not only Congress, but the entire nation, is appalled over the extraordinary high federal budget, it would perhaps be the logical time to launch a probe to get at the bottom of this situation.

Obviously, the American taxpayer is paying huge sums to price support American farmers.

It would be quite ironical if it developed U. S. taxpayer is also being assessed to price support British rubber tree farmer.

TV TODAY AND TOMORROW By Ralf Hardester Feature Editor TV Guide

MARLENE DIETRICH'S TV BOW, ACCORDING to her own plans, will be a single hour and a half show, An Evening With Marlene Dietrich, which she would like to do this fall for the network offering her the best deal... Dean Martin, already committed to two hour-long specials for NBC, is also discussing the possibility of a film series... The success of Billy Graham's TV Crusade is spurring the networks to step up religious programming for the fall. NBC is sending Frontiers of Faith producer Doris Ann abroad to scout possibility of filming a series at the Vatican... And Lamp Unto My Feet producer Pamela Holt already is touring cathedrals on the Continent... Floyd Patterson, World's heavyweight champ and Hurricane Jackson, the challenger, will appear on an upcoming Steve Allen show.

Marlene Dietrich... own show? UNIVERSAL-INTERNATIONAL HAS LEASED ITS 550 film library of pre-1948 features to Screen Gems in a 10-year, $18,000,000 deal. New half-hour format planned for Wire Service would utilize only two stars, Dane Clark and Brian Keith, with Mercedes McCambridge and George Brent dropping out... Anita Louise will hostess a series of 10 non-Loretta Young re-runs of the Loretta Young Show on ABC this summer, replacing the Danny Thomas Show. An additional batch of 12 re-runs is already doing summer duty Tuesday nights for NBC under the title Festival of Stars, with Jim Ameche hosting. Miss Young further plans to release her own self-starring films to foreign theaters... Hugh O'Brian will guest on the first Mr. Adams and Eve episode of the new season.

HAL MARCH WILL REPLACE GARRY MOORE as host on I've Got A Secret when Garry goes on vacation this summer... Two big changes. Doug Edwards will replace John Cameron Swayze when Armstrong Circle Theater moves to CBS this fall and John Nesbitt has been cashiered by Telephone Time after a long association... Charles Van Doren has been eased out as host of High Low quizzer by sponsor Ford because Charlie's committed to Wide Wide World sponsored by arch foe General Motors... Seven Liveley Arts which debuts in the fall has signed Agnes De Mille as choreographer... Bride and Groom has apparently gotten off the ground on getting people to wed on TV. One of the early ones will be Senator (Edward) Ford, long time comedian. Word has also gotten around that Jayne Mansfield and strong boy Mickey Hargitay may get knotted on the show.

Wall Panels Can Be Installed Easily

Rich, wood-paneled walls are the latest trend in home decoration. They give warmth and luxurious beauty to every room, traditional or modern. Now, anyone who can handle an ordinary hammer can install Savannah Oak panels, easily and quickly, with professional-looking results. First, measure height and width of your walls to make sure you get the right amount of Savannah Oak paneling. This all-oak paneling now is available in do-it-yourself kit form. Each kit includes specially grooved furring strips, a supply of patented metal application clips, and enough easy-to-handle, 8-foot plywood planks, in random widths, to panel 96 square feet of wall. Here are simple, do-it-yourself steps suggested by Georgia-Pacific engineers to install your own wall paneling.

Nail special furring strips horizontally to wall studs. Insert patented clip in groove of each furring strip.

Lock panels firmly to row of clips placed between each two planks. Finish your paneling with moldings and trim of matching Savannah Oak.

Here is your finished room with wood paneling you can install yourself. Savannah Oak panels do not need staining or painting. They are factory prefinished and waxed to protect their beautiful grain pattern.

My plea with this young man, twenty-four years of age, is to replace his thinking of crime with thoughts as to how we can help others and also go straight himself when he goes free again.

All of us do well to check ourselves daily as to our thinking. When we realize evil thoughts are slipping in, then quickly we need strength to banish them. Just to decide we will think only of things free from sin will not accomplish desired results. We need to pray for strength. Thru prayer we can seek divine guidance to replace evil thoughts with ones fully acceptable to our heavenly Father. The complete answer of how to overcome evil with good is given in the Bible. Prayer

Our Father, forgive us our sins. We thank Thee that Thou hast provided a way of escape from sin, from evil thoughts. That we may find help, teach us to come to Thee in prayer and to read Thy Holy Word. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Thought For The Day Thinking right will make this a happy day. Paul S. Lippincott (N. J.)

SPORTS AFIELD By Ted Kesting

Billfish are one of the top contenders for the most popular species of salt-water game fish. For example, the spectacular surface fight of a marlin is perhaps the most thrilling of all angling experiences, says Robert D. Hall, Salt - Water Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

There are five prominent species of marlin—the striped, the black and the silver marlin of the Pacific; and the blue and the white marlin that inhabit the eastern waters.

Another popular billfish is the swordfish which is found in all the warm waters of the world. The broadbill swordfish is one of the most difficult fish to catch on rod and reel. Zane Grey, one of our pioneer big-game fishermen, tells of fighting a huge broadbill for more than 1 1/2 hours while fishing the Pacific, off Catalina Island, only to have the hooked fish start feeding on a school of flying fish and break the line. Another time, he and his brother fished for 93 days, during which they sighted 140 swordfish, were able to get the bait to 94 fish and had some 11 strikes.

The largest swordfish, weighing 1,182 pounds, was caught by Lou Marren at Iquique, Chile, on May 7, 1953.

The magnificent resort of Acapulco, Mexico, is the site of the International Sailfish Rodeo. The sails that are caught here usually range in weight from 80 to 90 pounds. Sailfish caught in the Atlantic off Florida average somewhat smaller—generally 55 to 75 pounds.

It is now believed that a billfish will strike a bait with its bill to stun it, then turn and take

SENATE CLOAKROOM

By J. GLENN BEALL

On January 11, just eight days after the beginning of the current 85th Congress, President Eisenhower signed this session's first public law.

Since then more than 100 measures have also been added to our Nation's statute books.

Some affect Marylanders directly; some only indirectly. During the next few weeks, I would like to discuss a few of these new laws with you.

Capital Area Holiday The very first measure that was passed this year—Public Law I of the 85th Congress—will provide a periodic extra holiday for many residents of the metropolitan area of the District of Columbia.

This law makes each Presidential Inauguration Day a legal holiday for Federal employees of the D. C. region, and it includes a section which states specifically that it shall apply to Montgomery and Prince Georges Counties.

Aid For Small Business Another law signed early in this session is of special importance to the Free State's small businesses.

Under the terms of this act, the funds available to the Small Business Administration for business loans have been increased from $150-million to $230-million.

An indication of Maryland's interest in this legislation can be gained from the fact that during the fiscal year which ended this past June 30, the S. B. A. approved a total of $1,437,000 in business loans for our State.

Agricultural Legislation Our agricultural interests will profit from the effects of the new Federal Plant Pest Act.

This establishes specific authority for the Department of Agriculture to regulate and control the importation and the interstate movement of plant diseases and disease-bearing organisms.

In addition, it adds four new plant pests to the list of those against which the Department of Agriculture is authorized to conduct eradication and control programs.

The new additions are listed as "fire ants, soybean cyst nematodes, witchweed and spotted alfalfa aphid."

I have been informed by the Department of Agriculture that while none of these is now a major problem in Maryland, it is possible that the first three could spread to our area unless steps are taken under the new law to contain them farther south.

Concerning the spotted alfalfa aphid, the Agriculture Department said that it has spread eastward rapidly from the Southwest and that "Maryland will probably get it some day, too."

The intensity of our problem and the effectiveness of our attack on it will probably depend to a large extent on the program to be conducted in accordance with the provisions of the Plant Pest Act.

Wooden ships are still the Navy's choice for minesweepers. Contracts were let recently for construction of 16 wooden minesweepers to cost about $28 million.

it headfirst. After a battle with any of the bills, one cannot help but marvel at the thrilling fight.

American Lumberman Magazine reports the development of a new trend in wood paneling. Last year builders and home owners were using wood to panel one or two walls of a room. Now the vogue is to panel all four walls, according to the trade journal. "New homes with wood paneling have a luxury touch and sell better in today's competitive market," the magazine points out. Hard wood makes better coals for a campfire than soft wood.

Desegregation Is National Problem

Today across the nation there are 2.7 million Negro school children in the 17 states which before the Supreme Court decision required segregation, John Bartlow Martin relates in the July 13 issue of The Saturday Evening Post.

"Of these," he continues, "256,475 are in 'integrated situations'—enrolled in school districts where an official policy of desegregation has been declared or where one or more schools or grades are desegregated.

"But of these, no more than 115,000 Negroes are actually in mixed schools—four per cent. (This estimate is liberal.) In the District of Columbia most of the 73,723 Negroes are in mixed schools—nearly as many as in all the Border States together—bringing the total to no more than 189,000 out of 2.8 million enrolled in the 17 states and the District—6.7 per cent."

Martin's report, the last of five articles entitled "The Deep South Says Never," puts the spotlight on three Border States—Maryland, Kentucky, and Missouri—which are said to have obeyed the Supreme Court ruling. The author says that today 28.7 per cent of Baltimore's Negro pupils are attending mixed schools and he is of the opinion that there would be more were it not for residential segregation. In St. Louis, he adds, about half the Negro pupils are still in all-Negro schools. Louisville is reported to have 5600 Negro pupils now in mixed schools.

Martin finds that desegregation has saved some school boards money—one school system is cheaper than two.

"As Negroes flee the Deep South and come to the Border and Northern States," Martin comments, "they place an increasing burden on education. Already the greatest problem in St. Louis schools is caused by Mississippi immigrants. A week after Emmett Till was killed in Mississippi, 1000 Negro children from Mississippi knocked on the doors of St. Louis schools.

"School desegregation is not just a Southern problem or a Border State problem; it is truly a national problem, perhaps the most pressing domestic problem the nation faces today."

Grapefruit are so-called because they sometimes grow in clusters.

Temporary Silos Help Farmers

Temporary silos can help farmers salvage good quality feed from corn that appears too badly damaged by dry weather to make a worthwhile grain crop. This type of storage is especially helpful if the situation calls for fast action—and there is no permanent storage space available.

The type of temporary silo that probably will occur to most farmers is a trench. Thousands of trenches have been dug all over the country and their effectiveness in preserving silage is well known. Trench silos can be dug quickly by a bulldozer or commercial front-end loader. University of Maryland Extension Bulletin No. 155 gives details on trench silo construction.

Trench silos, however, are not satisfactory under some conditions. They are often disappointing if dug on a site where there is poor drainage or where water table is high. Also, if the trench is on flat land it may collect water and make it difficult to remove silage.

Guy W. Gienger, University of Maryland Extension agricultural engineer, suggests that some farmers consider a newer idea in temporary silos. This idea involves the use of a huge plastic cylinder that looks like an open-ended sleeve. It is called a plastic liner.

A plastic liner silo is started by rolling down the plastic like a stocking with the bottom end folded to make an air-tight fit. A ring of snow fence is then placed inside the rolled plastic, and silage filled in until it reaches the top of the snow fence. Then, the snow fence is pulled out and placed on top of the silage pile with a reduced diameter and the plastic sleeve rolled up around the silage.

After this operation is repeated two or three times the snow fence is removed and the plastic rolled over the top of the pile and tied. Plastic liners normally come in two sizes: 22 by 55 feet in length and circumference (capacity 35 tons), and 27 feet long by 63 feet in circumference (70 tons capacity).

No special site requirements are necessary for plastic-lined silos, so they can always be placed convenient to buildings and feed lots. It may be difficult to have a trench in a convenient location due to the lay of the ground.

Gienger adds that regardless of the type of silo used, the ensiled material must be well-packed. And, in cases where drought-stricken corn is ensiled, it may be necessary to add water to make certain the moisture is high enough for proper fermentation. He says silage quality is determined within a few hours after ensiling because that's when fermentation takes place.

Bel Air Meet Opens Aug. 12

The Bel Air summer racing meet will open on Aug. 12 and run through Aug. 24, it was announced by the Harford County Fair Assn. Post time for the first race has been set at 2 p. m. with the daily double windows closing at 1:45.

BAILED FOR COURT

A Route 1 man, Raymond Springer, was released from the county jail, Gettysburg, Saturday morning after he posted $2,000 bail. He had been arrested recently on a larceny charge and is slated to appear before the Adams County Court on the charge sometime in August.

Taxes Due

Employers are reminded today by C. I. Fox, district director of internal revenue for the Baltimore District, which comprises Maryland and District of Columbia, that three types of taxes are due July 31.

Taxes are due July 31 for the second quarter, April, May and June, from (1) employers who file quarterly Federal tax returns, Form 941. This combined return is for reporting withholding and social security taxes on employees for the second quarter; (2) employers who have domestic servants such as cooks, janitors, maids, chauffeurs and other workers who perform services of a household nature are subject to Social Security taxes, Form 942, if $50.00 or more were paid in wages in the second quarter of 1957; (3) returns from persons liable for quarterly excise tax returns (Form 720) are due July 31. Excise taxes include retail dealers excise taxes, excise taxes on facilities and services, manufacturing excise taxes and taxes on products and commodities. Where the taxes exceed $100 a month, the depository receipt system must be used. Failure to do so will result in a civil penalty.

Garden Club Joins Federation

The acceptance of the Silver Fanny Garden Club to the Federation of Garden Clubs of Maryland was announced at the meeting held last Thursday at the home of Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson of Taneytown, followed by the reading of a letter of welcome from Mrs. Jesse F. Hakes, Federation Director of District 5, Md.

Flower arrangements by Miss Lisa Carpenter and Mrs. Andrew Eyster were made up from flowers supplied from the individual member's gardens. Tea was served with Mrs. M. Rial and Miss L. Carpenter as co-hostesses.

The August meeting will be held in Cumberland at the home of former president, Mrs. William Frailey, who will entertain at luncheon.

Holds Picnic

A picnic supper was served on the lawn at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Eyster last Thursday evening. Guests attending the affair were Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Eston T. White and children, Susie and Mark; Mr. and Mrs. Eston C. White, Fairfield, Pa.; Mr. and Mrs. Herbert White, Mr. and Mrs. John D. White and son, Jack; Mrs. John R. Kerr, Hagerstown; Mrs. George Eyster, Miss Hester Allen, Wilmington, Del.; Miss Mae Rowe, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Eyster, George, Sue and Nancy Eyster, Col. and Mrs. White have just returned from four years in Germany with the U. S. Army. He has been assigned to the University of Vermont in charge of the ROTC program.

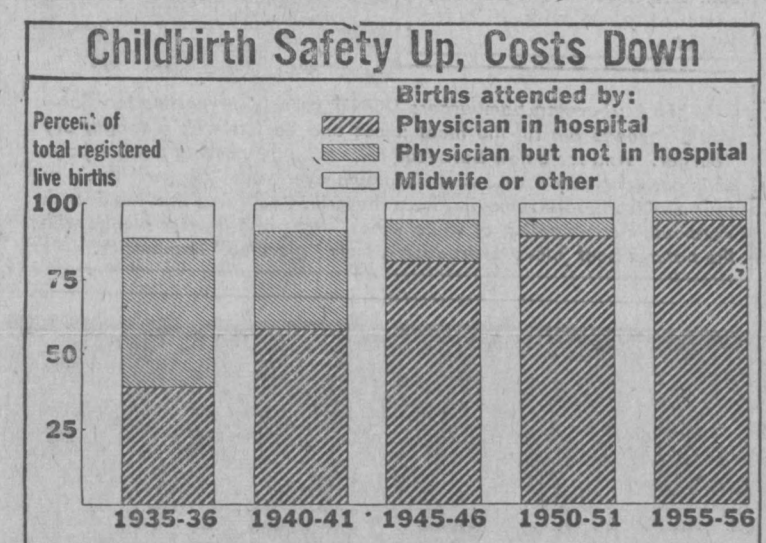

Sale Of Savings Bonds Low

According to James McSherry, Frederick County Savings Bonds chairman, the sale of Series E and H Savings Bonds in Frederick County for the six months of 1957—January through June—totaled $524,612, compared to $734,163 for the same period of 1956. The county achieved 39 per cent of its yearly quota of $1.3 million.

In order to stimulate the sale of Savings Bonds, arrangements have been made by the county chairman to have a payroll savings campaign conducted among the industries of Frederick County, and it is hoped this will greatly increase the sale of Savings Bonds in this area.

AMERICAN CANCER SOCIETY

Having children these days is safer, less costly and far less frightening than ever before—thanks to an increase in knowledge and increased use of modern medical facilities. According to Health Information Foundation, the odds are roughly 2,000 to one that a woman entering a modern hospital for delivery will survive. The U.S. maternal mortality rate is less than one-twelfth what it was in 1930. The main reasons behind this dramatic improvement are great strides in medical science, particularly in new drugs and medications, and the increased advantage expectant mothers are taking of the medical and hospital care available to them. In 1935, 63 percent of all American babies were born in places other than hospitals, and 13 percent of all live births were not attended by physicians. In spite of today's more complete, safer care, maternity costs are down. Health Information Foundation reports that average total medical costs for hospitalized maternity care have actually dropped 17 percent since 1930—from $258 to $213—when you allow for today's inflated dollars. Today's mother, in other words, is getting better care—and she's getting it at less cost to the family pocketbook.

NCR HEAD NAMED "Business Statesman of the Year"

Stanley C. Allyn, Chairman of the National Cash Register Company, was named "Business Statesman of the Year" by the National Sales Executives club recently at its 22nd annual convention in Los Angeles. Mr. Allyn, who has just returned from Geneva where he headed the United States Delegation at the Economic Commission for Europe, was cited as "a leader of business with extreme courage... a source of motivation and inspirational value to the profession of salesmanship and management."

In accepting the award the NCR Chairman told more than 1,000 leading business executives from all over the United States that the most effective aid this country could give to foreign nations would be to increase the investment of foreign capital abroad.

"Foreign investment of United States capital is sometime regarded as a one-way street in which foreign nations gain and the United States loses," said Mr. Allyn, whose company trades in more than 100 countries.

"This is definitely not the case. It is a two-way street in which both parties gain and neither loses, including the American taxpayer."

"American private investment abroad," he said, "can do much to raise the level of living of foreign countries and help restore balance to the present imbalance in world trade."

Private investment by European investors—particularly in the construction of the Erie Canal and in the development of American railroads—had "a profound impact on the economic development of this country" during the last century, Mr. Allyn pointed out.

On the other hand, he noted: "The U.S. has been rapidly cutting into its natural resources. Today we are net importers of lead, zinc, tin, rubber, copper, aluminum, oil and many other commodities." By investing abroad, the NCR Chairman said, "we will insure a supply of foreign currencies to continue to buy the raw material imports we must have to keep our industrial machine growing." Previous winners of the "Business Statesman of the Year" award include Clarence Randall, Chairman of Inland Steel and Special Assistant to President Eisenhower; J. D. Zellerback, now United States Ambassador to Rome, Paul Hoffman and others.

Hot Weather Increases Demand For Lemons

Warm summer days create a real demand for lemons. There is nothing like the lift of fresh lemons for awakening languid summer appetites, says Virginia McLuckie, food economist, Baltimore Office, Department of Markets, University of Maryland.

California is our greatest lemon-growing state producing about 85 percent of the lemons consumed in the United States and Canada. Lemons are usually picked from 10 to 12 times a year. They are picked according to size rather than color. Those with a waxy yellow color are considered highest in grade. Yellow lemons are packed and shipped almost immediately. The best keeping lemon is picked green, scrubbed, and cured in packing houses where storage temperature is controlled. These green lemons are shipped after varying periods of curing. The most practical way to judge lemons is by weight, heavy fruit containing the most juice. According to Miss McLuckie, lemons with large knots at the ends will have less juice than those with pointed ends. Lemons with an oily, elastic fine textured skin are usually of highest quality. Store them in the refrigerator, but keep them in a plastic bag away from other foods such as dairy products that absorb odors.

Lemons should always be washed before being used for any purpose. When you need only half a lemon, wrap the remaining half in waxed paper or put in an air tight container and it will keep nicely. In addition to their use in recipes, lemons are indispensable in seasoning vegetables, meat, fish, poultry, soups, salads and dressings. Lemon juice may replace vinegar in almost any recipe.

Garnishes of lemon add flavor, distinction and decoration to many foods.

If you shop for lemons, your choice may be canned or frozen juice concentrates as well as fresh lemons. Plastic lemons with juice concentrates are also available.

Says Income Taxation System Is All Wrong

"Personal income is one measure—though by no means the only measure, as some people seem to think—of a man's success. During the past few decades personal income taxes have become the largest single source of Federal revenue. It also has become customary to assess such taxes on a steeply ascending scale as individual income rises. There is a question whether we have gone too far along this line. "A vigorous affirmative answer

Says Big Business Dependent On Small Business

"Can the small business succeed and prosper in an economy in which there are also very large businesses? . . . "There are areas of work—and to this question was given recently by Crawford H. Greenewalt, president of the E. I. duPont de Nemours and Co. He thinks our present system of income taxation discourages men from giving their best efforts. "We set high standards of achievement," Greenewalt said, "yet when the rewards of achievement are won we reclaim most of them in the guise of taxation. We admire success, but penalize the successful; we admire talent, but penalize the talented; we admire initiative, yet penalize the initiator."

—Burlington, N. J. Press

extremely important areas—where the small business can do the job best, just as there are other areas where the large business with vast human and financial resources, is needed. An often overlooked fact is that the big business is frequently a major customer of the small business thru sub-contracts and in other ways. Great numbers of small businesses could not exist if it were not for the large businesses. For instance that segment of the oil industry with which most people have their personal contacts is the service station. And the majority of service stations are independent small business operations. The American economy is big enough, varied enough, and flexible enough to require the services of efficient businesses of every size and kind." —Hawthorne, N. J., News-Record

Wood homes give off considerably less natural radiation than homes of other materials, according to Swedish scientists. The figure for a wood house is 80 to 90 milliroentgens a year. This compares with 140 for brick and more than 200 for lightweight concrete with alum shale. What, if any, effect this may have on occupants is being studied by the U. S. Atomic Energy Commission.

First words spoken over the telephone were, "Watson, come here; I want you," spoken by Alexander Graham Bell to his assistant.

"My father simply can't STAND rock'n-roll music. How about yours?"

BACKYARD BARBECUE TIPS

Americans will eat over a billion outdoor meals this year. Joining them? Have fun, but play it safe. Trim meat of excess fat; else drippings will cause flareups. Water does more harm than good on a grease fire. Rather, take along a box of baking soda—a handful puts out a small blaze quickly, yet doesn't hurt the food.

When barbecuing hamburgers DON'T press your patties too flat—you'll squeeze out all the meat juices and be left with a tough, dry "burger." And for a new barbecue taste thrill try pouring a tablespoon of imported Neilly Prat Sweet Vermouth over your "burger" three or four minutes before removing from the grill. You'll find that the French Vermouth's combination of white wines, herbs and flowers blends with the natural beef juices to produce a truly "glorified" hamburger.

White, Right & Wonderful

One of the most important fashions for summer is the stark, dazzling white dress—so wonderful under the sun on city streets and country patios and so right with the fashionable Dodge convertible. As a perfect example, the American Rayon Institute chose this dress designed by Harmay—a chicly simple sheath with oval neckline and an entire bodice of delicate tucking that reaches to the hips. Completing the wonderful look of all-white is the accent of big pearl buttons. Wrinkle-resistant and so very packable, this little rayon crepe dress makes a happy travel companion.

"SUMMER CHAMPAGNE"

It's not often that a truly new summer beverage makes a bow, but here's a real debut: Rhubarb Cooler. Fruit-flavored and tart, this nectar-like creation will not only quench thirst—but sparkle conversation as it sparkles in the glass. Lots of people are calling it "summer champagne." As it trickles pleasurably down your parched throat, singing of shady groves and cool green gardens, it actually suggests the spirited tang of champagne. Topped with a sprig of mint, it's as eye refreshing as it is taste-pleasing. The Rhubarb Cooler is the inspired suggestion of the ReaLemon folks, bottlers of reconstituted lemon juice that is uniform in strength and flavor, requires no squeezing or straining. You simply pour it!

HERE'S HOW . . .

Advertisement for modernizing old bathtubs. Text includes: 'MODERNIZE THE OLD BATHTUB', 'An old-fashioned bathtub can be readily modernized by the home craftsman. Storage space is provided by extending the enclosure beyond the end of the tub. If the tub is one with exposed pipes, install a door for easy access to the plumbing. The framework is made of 2 by 2-inch lumber. The paneling is made of 1 by 12-inch lumber or tileboard. The base of the frame should be positioned on the floor so the dimensions can be determined. When fastening the sole to a wooden floor, use 8-penny nails. For tile floors use an adhesive or drill holes in the tile for expansion anchors and screw the sole in place. Cut the uprights 2 1/2 inch shorter than the lip of the tub if paneling is used. Assemble the uprights to the top plate. Slide the completed sections in place under the lip of the tub and toenail to the sole and to each other. Attach the paneling. Apply caulking where the tub and paneling meet. Make the door, planing 1/16 inch from all edges for clearance. Hang the door. Add door pulls and friction catches. Re-secure the hinges.'
