Shiver me timbers and call me Frosty, that old Groundhog must have read last week's column debunking him a trifle, because he, in cooperation with Mother Nature really threw the book, literally speaking, at us all during this week. What was an oil burner's dilemma turned out to be the oil seller's bonanza. Anyway things were just a bit too cold for this female typewriter jockey with the thermometer hanging close to zero most of the week. No sooner had the paper hit the streets last Friday morning than the Groundhog began making revenge and boy what medicine was dished out wasn't fit for a polar bear. Enough about the weather until such time as the stories on the first robins start coming in.

Apparently the State Roads Commission hasn't forgotten the by-pass after all. There hasn't been much information concerning this extreme section of the county for a year or so and we were beginning to think that perhaps the deal would never mature. However this week it was announced that bids were to be asked on this area, as far as Tom's Creek. This would give us a complete new stretch of highway from Emmitsburg clear to Catoctin Furnace when completed. Information discloses that the road will be finished this distance and this year. In all, the new stretch will comprise a total of three and a half miles from the Wivell property near Payne's Hill to the top of Toll Gate Hill just south of town. In view of this information this week it is highly probable that the final by-pass of the town itself will be effected in 1959. By that time it is hoped to have an entirely new highway from the Pennsylvania State line to Frederick and from there on to Washington. The new highway will ultimately bring better relationships be tween neighboring towns of the county, both in a financial and civic way and will greatly ease commuter problems for those working out - of - town, particularly in the Frederick area, Fort Detrick, Courthouse, Fred erick City, etc. Both time and money in traveling will be conserved via use of the new highway and business relationships between the towns should improve, I feel certain.

Take this for what it's worth, loyal fans of the race tracks. "Far Turn's" latest summation on horses to watch indicates The Axe is working good distances: Tien Shan also working the distance with ease; Longspur has been showing plenty of early foot-work and Moon Jet can run all day for any distance. Watch these nags when they do go and don't for-... oh yea?

Just a final reminder for and wish to participate in the er at this office or with any member of the Lions Club. If you can sing, dance, mimic, play an instrument, do acrobatics or any other form of entertainment why not take a crack at the prize money? To the public at large, remember the show is for the benefit of our local Scouts and your patronage is urgently solicited. Help the boys and at the same time help yourself to an evening of good entertainment and lots of fun.

Is local baseball a thing of the past? Well it could very easily be. A public meeting for organizing was called last week and not enough showed up to even elect three officers. This is a sad commentary on the local sports angle and I don't feel we can afford to lose anything else around here. This apathy on the part of the public might well sound the death knell to the greatest sport of them all, locally. This we don't want to see happen. There are more youngsters than ever before in our community and I can't understand why 25 of them wouldn't be interested in playing the national pastime. Perhaps if the older folks displayed a keener interest the youngsters would sit up and (Continued on Page Eight)

Mountaineers Face Strong

Hampton-Sydney's Tigers extended their win streak to seven last week, however the title contenders face a real tough assignment Saturday night when they tackle Mount St. Mary's College here in Emmitsburg. This game undoubtedly will be one of the season's highlights following the Mountaineers' losses to Loyola last week and American U Wednesday.

The Blue and White is seeking its fifth straight title in the postseason playoff starting Feb. 27. and was coasting along prettily with a 6-0 record before running nito trouble with Loyola and American University.

Gene Sprankle, popular American Legion Post Commander, miss a perfect bowling score by one pin recently as he rolled a boastful 299, the highest game in the 11-year history of the Emmitsburg Ten Pin League. After stringing together 11 consecutive strikes Sprankle left the No. 4 pin standing on what appeared to be a perfect pocket hit. Oddly enough the American Legion team, of which Sprankle is a member, scored a 999 game, just one pin short of the coveted 1000-pin mark. In league play Sprankle has been carrying a 155 average for the season. Since his high game was rolled on sanctioned alleys at Harner's Recreation Center, Sprankle will gain special recognition from the American Bowling Congress, for his most unusual feat.

High Incomes Can Be Achieved Only by Wise Handling of Major Economic Issues, Committee Warns

WASHINGTON—By 1975, the average income of American families, after payment of all taxes, should be at least $7,100, as compared with a present average disposable income of $5,300 per family, the Committee for Economic Development predicted.

"Achievement of this high "Achievement of this high average income is not an imagined utopia, it is a practical goal for practical men," CED's Research and Policy Committee declared in releasing the results of a study by a subcommittee of businessmen and economists headed by Harry Scherman, chairman of the board of the Book-of-the-Month Club, Inc., of New York.

New York.

Entitled "Economic Growth in the United States—Its Past and Future," the statement called for "unending vigilance" by both individuals and government to assure that the most is made of the nation's growth-producing potentials. It stressed improvement of public education, continuous investment in enterprise, increased private savings, mobility of both labor and capital, efficient management of business and of government, and rising foreign trade as among the rising foreign trade as among the essentials for growth.

Pointing out that future economic growth also will be affected "to a very large extent by the policies and activities of government," the Committee declared "we must be more con-cerned than ever about two controlling matters: first, the need of attracting competent individuals into government service; and second, to broaden and clarify public understanding of governmental matters."

Continued growth is the more important today, the statement said, because of competition by the Communist bloc. CED is composed of 150 busi-

"In more ways than one, this great country of ours is a government of, by, and for the people. And, because it is, its economic security depends greatly upon the financial security of each individual American family.

"So when you're saving for your own family's security, you're also helping your country. And one of the best ways to do this is by investing regularly in United States Series E Savings Bonds."

These Bonds are one of the safest investments you can make. They're guaranteed safe by your Government. That means 170,000,000 Americans stand solidly behind the value of every Bond you buy.

What's more, if a Bond is lost, stolen or destroyed, the Treasury will replace it for you without charge. That's why people say Bonds are safer than cash.

Bonds pay good interest, too-3 1/4% when held to maturity. And they now mature in only eight years and 11 months.

BY ROGER W. BABSON Babson Discusses Real Estate Sales And Weather

BABSON PARK, Fla., Feb. 13-A few weeks ago I was asked by a friend to go twenty here and look at a piece of Florida property. The weather here had been wretched, cold and rain with constant fog. Very few people were on the streets or in the stores. The restaurant where I expected to get luncheon was closed, with a sign that it would be open "when the sun comes out." Even the real estate offices that I visited were closed. When I found one of the men at his home, he said that it was impossible to sell real "during weather like estate this."

Weather And Land Sales

Apparently most people lack vision. When it is sunny, they think it will always be sunny; but when it has rained for a week, they think it will always rain. They lack vision as to temperature. The real estate men claim that their business is "seasonable": that most real estate buyers lack reason and foresight. This is why most sellers of real estate are obliged to work on a commission basis. The weather primarily explains why the real estate business is so cyclical.

Every business is more or less cyclical, constantly revolving like a wheel. Most people buy at the top and sell at the bottom; a few buy at the bottom and sell at the top. These, however, who get aboard the wheel at any point and stay with it, dealing with honest brokers, usually come out satisfactorily. This applies to land and buildings as well as to stocks and bonds. It means that the shrewd buyer buys during periods of bad weather and bad news. This, moreover, applies to all sections of the country as some section is always, suffering from long rains, or long droughts, or long cold spells, or long hot spells. These, however, are the periods when it is best to buy real estate.

ture land or raw land that is swampy has sold at a very low - probably only onequarter of what well-located pasture land would bring. Wet land cannot successfully grow orchards of fruit trees. Cattle like ponds in their pasture; but they must have dry land to feed upon. Rice and cranberries are about the only commercial crops which can use wet land.

Statistics show, however, that the water table of most states is gradually but seriously falling. Most states now have commissions which are engaged in studying the water table. This decline in the supply of water is due to various causes; one owner will drain his property and forget that he is also draining his neighbors' property which needs more water. Every state is endeavoring to get more industries, and yet most industries are large consumers of water. This means that water will become of great value some day. Cheap swamp land should, therefore, constantly become more valuable and should be a good purchase today for those who have the patience to wait.

Surplus Water From Canada I have already spoken in this column of the "John Powers, Jr. Plan" to bring surplus water from Western Canada down through North Dakota into dry sections near our Rocky Mountains. Tremendous reserves of fresh water are now running northward into the Arctic Ocean. Mr. Powers shows that, with the permission of Canada, these waters could be turned southerly to irrigate, at slight cost, the "Great American Desert." It would cost no more than it costs to build modern turnpikes for automobiles. As this may come about sooner than most people realize, I advise people not to sacrifice such waste land they might now own in Utah, New Mexico, and Arizona.

Coming back to the theme of this week's column, let me urge real estate salesmen to educate their prospects as to the most suitable seasons to buy real estate. Instead of going on vacations during the "off season," they should advertise that these "off seasons" are the best times to get bargains. They would also stabilize what is now a hazardous occupation, dependent on business conditions, on seasons of the year, and upon rain, snow, fog, drought, insects, gales, and almost every other uncertainly.

Stakes Is Feature Of Early April Laurel Race Meet

The Chesapeake Stakes, Maryland's traditional pre-Derby trial for three-year-olds, is scheduled for Saturday, April 19, two weeks prior to the Louisville event, Laurel race track officials have announced.

In naming the date for the thirty-seventh running of the Chesapeake, track executives said that five other stakes, including the forty-fifth $25000 Laurel Handicap on April 26, are on the agenda for the March 31-May 3 spring meet. There will be no racing on Good Friday, April 4, giving Laurel 29 days of sport.

Carrying a $20,000 added prize, the mile and a sixteenth route of the Chesapeake gives trainers of Triple Crown aspirants a good indication of their horses' ability to handle the longer distances, something they must do in order to gain three-year-old recogni-

Whiskery, Cavalcade, War Admiral and Citation were four of our most famous horses that went on to Kentucky to win the Derby, after adding their names to the list of Chesapeake heroes.

On April 12, a week prior to the Chesapeake, candidates for the longer race will be able to sharpen their speed in the Chesapeake Trial, a $10,000 added event for three - year - olds at threequarters of a mile.

The Capitol Handicap, Laurel's

traditional opening stakes race in the spring, will occupy that honor again this year on Monday, Mar. 31. Staged at three-quarters of a mile (six furlongs), the Capitol carries a $10,000 added purse and is for three-year-olds and up-

On April 5, the first Saturday of the Laurel meet, fillies and mares, aged three and up, will be in the limelight when they meet in the three-quarter mile Cherry Blossom Handicap, also endowed with $10,000 added.

The Laurel Handicap, on April 26, is the oldest stakes race in the history of the Laurel track. First run in 1913, the Laurel is for three-year-olds and upward at a mile and a sixteenth with the winner receiving the major portion of a $25,000 added purse.

Closing the meet on Saturday, May 3, will be the Laurel Spring Turf Handicap, held on the grass course over the mile and a sixteenth distance. This will be the second running of the $10,000 added feature.

A Farm Leader's Warning

A vital ingredient of leadership is the courage to buck the stream, a willingness to face unpopularity if sound logic requires. Most of the worthwhile advances in America have come as a result of the exercise of sound and courageous leadership. Charles B. Shuman, a farmer who has just completed a year as president of the American Farm Bureau Federation, demonstrates these high qualities of leadership. At a time when a further veering toward Socialism in America could be disastrous, Charles Shuman has written an editorial in The Nation's Agriculture

"Which way does the wind ? There are economic and political winds that determine the kind of government we will have in the future. No one can see the wind-few can see which way our nation is going. We are so involved in current issues that it is difficult to tell whether our free enterprise system will continue or whether it is in danger of being replaced by a Socialist dictatorship. Fortunately, there saying some things we should all think upon. Here it is:

Toward Socialism "In what ways do we move toward Socialism? There are five major areas of conflict between our successful free choice Capitalism and the government-

directed systems of Sweden,

Russia, and other nations. "First, Socialism is based on government ownership or control of the capital and property used in production. For example, the advocates of state Socialism favor all proposals for federal electric power projects, regardless of their merit. They use the tight money issue to boost sentiment for interest rates set by Congress, at such low levels as to discourage private saving and to force the substitution of government capital in major industries. Farmers have already accepted a considerable degree of bureaucratic control over the use of their property under the acreage Dangerous Ways "Second, Socialism cannot tolerate a free market for goods and services. In fact, a price system which reflects changes in supply and demand is our greatest assurance of freedom. Wage and price controls, whether in war or peace-time, are a real threat to the free market. The Commodity Credit Corporation which holds $7 billion of crop surplus stocks and also "A third area of government control over individuals that is necessary in a Socialist dictatorship is limitation on the choice of an occupation. We are, as yet, relatively free to choose and change our work. However, the closed shop, long apprentice periods, unduly restrictive license requirements in several professions, and the proposed subsidies to induce inefficient farmers to stay in agriculture are straws in the wind that indicate danger ahead of ing of income. The theory of the Socialist is that since all are born equal, all should remain equal regardless of ability or effort. This is accomplished by extremely high income taxes, constantly increasing social security payments, socialized medicine, increased minimum wages, and income payments to farmers to replace competitive prices.

"A fifth measure of our drift toward Socialism is the degree of substitution of federal government authority for state and local responsibility. Supreme Court decisions limiting states rights, federal aid to schools and roads, federal housing, the $72 billion federal budget are all straws in the wind. How much further down this road to Socialism must we go before we heed the warning signs?"

Last winter the Association purchased several thousand litterbags from the Governor's Committee and distributed them to their members and other local civic organizations. Along the Washington Boulevard a gas station (Gibbons Texaco Station), a motel (Del Haven Motel), and a trailer park (Aladdin Trailer Village) are giving away litterbags to their customers.

The Association also commends attractive new businesses and businessess which have made improvements which are assets to the community.

P.T.A.'s to Celebrate Founders Day

11-Million Members Mark Organization's 61st Year

On February 17 the world's largest voluntary service organization will celebrate its 61st birthday.

This is the National Congress of Parents and Teachers, whose nearly eleven million members are active today in P.T.A.'s through out the 48 states, the District of Columbia, Alaska, and Hawaii. They will mark the organization's Founders Day with a variety of activities aimed at strengthening and expanding parent-teacher work in their own communities.

Mrs. Rollin Brown, of Los Angeles, president of the National Congress, points out that these 43,000 P.T.A.'s have set the pattern for parent-teacher associa-tions in areas where U.S. armed forces have established American communities overseas. And parents of school children in other nations have sought help from the National Congress in forming similar groups to pro-mote education in their countries.

Founders Day activities, scheduled for February 17, will honor two women whose imagination and concern for children planted the seed for this still-growing mer Round-Up campaigns under organization.

It was in 1897 that Alice Mc-Lellan Birney and Phoebe Apperson Hearst conceived the idea of a National Congress of Mothers to promote the health and welfare of children by helping educational campaigns, and their parents learn more about school bond issues. how to fulfill a child's physical

PROGRESS IN ACCIDENT CONTROL

All accidents except motor-vehicle 40 20 accidents 1900 1920 1940 1956

Despite much progress in their prevention, accidents are still the fourth leading cause of death in this country

Health Information Foundation points out that the annual number of accidental deaths has remained fairly constant at about 100,000 since 1932. But, as the graph above shows, the over-all accident death rate has gone down 40 per cent in the last half century, largely because of to-day's better safety regulations and greater safety consciousness. Recent medical advances — new drugs and surgical techniques, for example—also have had much to do with this improvement, just as they have played a major role in fighting disease.

In addition to the death toll last year, accidents caused 9.5 million injuries and financial losses of over $11.2 billion. This almost as much as Americans spend on all private medical services in a year, the Foundation

Strict enforcement of safety regulations and the growth of safety consciousness, as well as improved work conditions, living standards, and medical care have resulted in a sharp decline in deaths from industrial accidents, H.I.F. says. Accidental deaths involving railroads and scheduled airlines have also diminished

Less improvement has been shown in the American home, where about 30,000 accidental deaths occur each year. Most of them are caused by falls or fire, with old people and small children the most frequent victims.

Although the 1956 motor-vehicle death toll, 40,000, was the largest in history, there are signs that automobile travel is becom-ing safer in terms of actual miles driven. The number of deaths per 100 million miles fell from 16.7 in 1934 to 6.4 in 1955 and 1956.

PITTSBURGH, PA.—These steelworkers are putting together a "steel sandwich" at U. S. Steel's Homestead District Works in an experiment that has produced the world's widest and thinnest stainless steel sheets so vital to the nation's future aircraft and missile program. The recipe calls for two "bread slices" of one-inch thick carbon steel plates to hold the "Dagwood" filling of three stainless or alloy steel plates "buttered" with a special separating compound. The filler plates of stainless are more than a quarter inch thick. The assembly is welded together, heated in mill ovens and then rolled through standard mill machinery. If rolled one at a time the stainless or alloy steel plates

Passed back and forth through the rolls the sandwich becomes thinner and each layer undergoes the same amount of reduction. Finally the filler sheets are about a tenth as thick as at the outset.

would cool too quickly to respond effectively to thickness

Here are the "before" and "after" results of rolling several plates of stainless steel compacted into a "sandwich" at Homestead District Works.

The "sandwich" rolling process yielded the world's widest stainless steel sheet at the right, measured at 90 inches by U. S. Steel secretary Delores Reese. The stainless sheet at the left portrays the approximate

size of the "sandwich" before rolling and also dramatizes

the 48 inch width of stainless sheet available to the aircraft and missile industry currently. Further experiments are being conducted to refine the sandwich rolling technique. The need for wider stainless steel sheets became a "must" as designers specified stainless and alloy steel for strength and lightness for supersonic planes and missiles. The "sandwich process" marks a major break-through in the effort to find a means for mill-producing wider thin-
