Apparently the number and magnitude of several projects for the welfare of Emmitsburg were deterrents to anyone with aspirations to public offices of the town, for nary a soul dared sign up for election to any office, except of course, the present incumbents who realized their civic responsibility and agreed to once again tackle the problems confronting them. And I might add, it's just as well, for these men are fully acquainted of the steps taken to date and are capable of completing the projects started. It was under their guidance that the town was expanded; they carried on previously-conceived plans for a new town sewerage disposal plant and extended coverage. They caused streetlights to be erected in one section of the community and have been promised lights for another section.

I wouldn't go so far as to say other people shouldn't have run for office this year. I do feel though that these men have manifested their capabilities and should be given every opportunity to see the successful completion of such plans or projects. If you don't think so, then you have the opportunity or privilege of writing in the name of your candidate at Tuesday's election. The fact that there is no opposition to any of the candidates is no reason why we shouldn't all go to the polls Tuesday. A nice complimentary vote does a candidate a world of good you know, boosts his morale tremendously. An indication that the new sewerage system is near at hand is the fact that official bids have been advertised for the project and when these respective bids are accepted this month actual construction can be started.

The same old story... we can't seem to have anything here. Vandals already are at work on the picnic area currently under construction near Rainbow Lake. A number of acts of vandalism already have occurred and probably will increase as work progresses on the project. Anyone seeing such acts of destruction in progress should immediately notify the police, or officials of the Water Company or Sportsmen's Club. This sort of depredation must be broken up if we want to maintain any such assets to our community.

The life of a state trooper is not as pacific and serene as many of us are prone to believe. Take the instance this week when a trooper narrowly escaped death near here. When he attempted to take into custody an escaped convict, he was knocked to the ground, his pistol taken from him and shot at. Luckily the desperado became frightened and fled. Just a few years ago another trooper was shot and killed when a man went berserk near Hagerstown. Actually a trooper's life is at stake every time he stops a car. At times it does seem they have it easy but when trouble comes it could easily mean death, and instantly. So dear friends when you see the troopers cruising leisurely around, think it over before you say, "What a soft life."

Baseball interest seems to be reinvigorated locally this year, and just in time. It was feared that the national pastime was doing a fade-out when new pep was injected into the local scene this year. The Little League has been assured of at least another year and the Legion now has four teams, from 12 to 17 years of age, in operation. This should furnish the town with a wealth of material in a year or so. Let's back 'em up folks, and attend the games and support these teams in a general manner.

Chimney Blaze Extinguished

Members of the Vigilant Hose Company quickly extinguished a chimney blaze at the home of Mrs. Rose Winegardner, Tuesday morning at 10 a. m. The property is located on the Waynesboro Road, Route 97 near the Pennsylvania state line. Fire Chief John S. Hollinger reported no damage occurred and that 22 men and three pieces of equipment responded to the call.

The real test for most people comes when green folding paper becomes involved.

Lions Club Backs New Postoffice Move

The Emmitsburg Lions Club went on record as unanimously endorsing a move to obtain a new Postoffice for Emmitsburg at its regular meeting held Monday evening in the Lutheran parish hall. President Paul W. Claypool presided at the meeting and a lengthy discussion concerning the local Postoffice was held. It was the unanimous agreement of the group that proper officials be contacted regarding the acquisition of a new building and better service.

Twenty-five members were present at the meeting and Lion Kiser of Taneytown was a guest. The annual nominations for officerships in the organization were presented by the following committee: Lions Arthur Elder, J. Ralph McDonnell and Clarence G. Frailey. The committee placed in nomination the following names for the respective offices: President, Charles F. Stouter; first vice president, Ralph D. Lindsey; second vice president, George R. Sanders; third vice president, Ralph F. Irelan; secretary-treasurer, Bernard J. Eckenrode; director, Paul W. Claypool; liontamer, Lester Crouse; and tail-twister, Joseph Cy Haley.

A $5 donation was authorized for the Vigilant Hose Company's financial drive. A number of the local Lions are planning to attend the Lions Club parade to be held in Westminster on June 17 and more than likely will march with the Emmitsburg Municipal Band there. The club appointed Clarence E. Hahn and J. Ralph McDonnell as delegates to the state convention to be held at Atlantic City this month, and also named the following alternates, Charles R. Fuss, J. Ward Kerrigan and Philip B. Sharpe. Following adjournment of the business meeting a directors' meeting was held.

Dr. D. L. Beagle, sight conservation committee chairman, reported six pairs of eyeglasses were recently purchased for indigent in the community.

Garden Club Meets

The Silver Fancy Garden Club will hold its first annual Flower Show on June 3, 1958, from 2 to 8:30 p. m., in the Shuff Building on West Main Street, Emmitsburg. Mrs. Frank M. Butler, Taneytown, who is general chairman of the Flower Show, has named the following committee chairmen: staging, Mrs. Charles Shaughnessy; schedule, Mrs. Andrew Eyster; properties, Mrs. A. Koswick; entries, Miss Liza Carpenter; classification, Mrs. George Thompson; hospitality, Mrs. E. L. Annan; judges, Mrs. Edward Richardson; publicity, Mrs. Thomas J. Frailey and dismantling, Mrs. Chester Neal and all members. Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson, Taneytown, is president of the club.

Legion To Form Baseball Teams

The American Legion League has gotten off to a good start managers Chick Topper and Geo. Danner announced this week. Several practices have been held and another one will take place Monday evening at 6 o'clock when teams will be selected. All local boys between the ages of 12 and 17 who are interested in playing in the Legion League are asked to be present at Community Field Monday evening. To date a total of 39 boys have registered and it is hoped that many more will report at Monday's practice.

Dial Phone Service To Thurmont Is Now In Effect

Free dial service service to Thurmont which was promised recently when the monthly telephone service charge was raised, became a reality when this new calling privilege went into effect Wednesday morning.

Local Manager Roger B. Heck, representing the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co., announced this week that new long distance trunk lines had been installed in the two dial exchanges. Mr. Heck reported a total of 1914 phones now in service, almost equally divided between Emmitsburg and Thurmont.

Subscribers are informed of the process necessary to dial their southern neighbors, effective as of April 30. Emmitsburg patrons, in

Taneytown Fire Chief Wilbur Miller was injured Sunday afternoon when fire destroyed part of the Richard Ohler Gulf Service station, the former Moffitt-Trent station, at the edge of Taneytown, on Baltimore St., Sunday afternoon at 5:30 o'clock.

The blaze was confined to approximately one-half of the station in three sections of the building devoted to a grease pit, service area and washing area. The office of the station and display room were damaged by smoke, but flames did not reach that section of the building.

Taneytown firemen, who were on the scene for about four hours, said the fire began in the grease pit area of the station. A man working on his station wagon sought to start the car by pouring gasoline in the carburetor and the gasoline caught fire, flashing through the station wagon and spreading to the service station, firemen said.

The fire burned westward from the grease pit which adjoined the office of the service station. Chief Miller had placed a truck he owned in the wash stand section of the service station, to have the truck painted. When the explosion occurred in the station wagon, he rushed there and was burned in attempting to extinguish the blaze.

Community Fund Aids Needy

Eight members of the board of directors of the Community Fund of Emmitsburg were present at the regular monthly meeting of that group held Monday evening in the Town Office near the square. President Harry Swomley presided over the meeting. One request for assistance was refused after a careful investigation and another case was granted financial aid. It was announced that five fruit baskets had been donated to local shut-ins during the Easter holidays. Three thank-you notes were read at the meeting. The minutes of the previous meeting were read by the secretary, Mrs. Leonard J. Sanders and the treasurer's report was presented by Mrs. Charles R. Fuss.

MISS LEARY BECOMES BRIDE OF MR. RUTLEDGE

A very pretty wedding was solemnized in Trinity Methodist Church, Emmitsburg, on Saturday, April 12 at 3 o'clock when Miss Ann Virginia Leary, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Leonard Leary, became the bride of Mr. Thomas Albert Rutledge, junior son of Lt. Commander Thomas A. Rutledge, USN (retired), and Mrs. Rutledge of Baltimore.

The double ring ceremony was performed by the Rev. Cameron W. Johnson, amidst a setting of white flowers, palms and ferns. An organ recital before the wedding and the traditional wedding marches were both played by Mrs. Lewis Higbee. Following the ceremony a reception was held for the families and close friends at the Toney Inn in Taneytown.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk bom bazine made on princess lines with a bodice of alicon lace embroidered in pearls. The Parisian hemline fell into a chapel train. Her finger-tip veil of imported silk illusion fell from a pillow of bombazine and matching lace. She carried a cascade bouquet of white spiced carnations with an orchid.

Mrs. Daniel Johnson, Hagerstown, served as matron of honor. She wore a pastel pink silk and cotton ballerina length dress made on princess lines with an empire waistline. On her head she wore a matching bandeau with a nose-tip veil and carried a cascade bouquet of blue carnations.

The bridesmaids were Miss Catherine Hogge, Catonsville, and Miss Lois Jean Verling, Orange, Va. They were dressed in a similar fashion in blue and carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Mr. Frank White, Baltimore, served as best man. The ushers were Mr. Daniel Johnson, Hagerstown and Mrs. Wiley Rutledge of Harford County.

The bride was graduated from Hood College and is now on the faculty of Catonsville Junior High School. Mr. Rutledge is associated with the Buick Motor Division of General Motors Corporation at Silver Spring.

After a northern wedding trip Mr. and Mrs. Rutledge will reside in Catonsville.

Town Election Scheduled For Monday

Candidates for election to town offices will run unopposed as the result of no others filing for the office of Mayor and Commissioner. The deadline for candidates to file expired at midnight last Friday. Miss Louise Sebald, town clerk, reported only two declarations of intentions filed. They were by the two incumbents Clarence G. Frailey and J. Allen Bouey. Mr. Frailey will run unopposed for Burgess and Mr. Bouey unopposed for Town Commissioner.

The annual election will take place Tuesday, May 5 from 2 to 7 p. m. in the Town Office near the Square. Charles D. Gillelan and Everett Chrismer will sit as judges of election.

Following the recent registration of eligible town voters the books now show a total of 480 registered voters on the roster. Fifty-eight registered at the recent registration, mostly of which came from the newly-annexed sections of town. Those registering from the new sections will be eligible to vote in Tuesday's election.

Light voting is anticipated since there is no opposition but under existing local law, write-ins are permissible. There will be only two names appearing on the ballots, those of Mr. Frailey and Mr. Bouey, however, there will be space provided for write-ins.

It is felt that the light voting will not be the result of apathy on the part of local citizens. The fact that a major project such as the magnitude of the proposed sewer project, deterred almost anyone from tackling the job at the present time. Both the incumbents are experienced with the complicated proceedings to date and for that reason it is felt the public will accept their candidacy wholeheartedly.

Tom Gingell was appointed umpire-in-chief. Paul W. Claypool was named to head league financial activities and Chick Topper was appointed to arrange benefit bingos.

Public School Pupils Take Merit Test

Ten students at the Emmitsburg High School took the National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test Tuesday, Mr. Arvin P. Jones, principal, announced today.

An estimated $5 million in Merit Scholarships and other awards are at stake in the national competition, now beginning its fourth year. Some $12 million in Merit Scholarships have been awarded in the first three years of the program.

Merit Scholarships are provided by some 80 corporations, foundations, professional societies and individuals, as well as by the National Merit Scholarship Corporation itself, which conducts the competition.

The National Merit Scholarship Qualifying Test is a three hour measure of educational growth and aptitude. Emphasis is on broad intellectual skills, and on understanding and ability to use what has been learned, rather than on sheer knowledge of facts.

A group of 10,000 students—composed of the highest scorers in each state—will advance to the Semi-finals when the results are reported to all participating schools next fall. Semi-finalists will then take a second examination. Those who repeat their high performance on the second examination will become finalists in the program and will indicate their choice of college and course of study. Further evaluation of their grades, citizenship, and extracurricular achievements will follow, and the winners will be announced in the Spring of 1959.

Dr. John M. Stalnaker, President of the National Merit Scholarship Corporation, recently cautioned that there are many reasons why tests results cannot be used to evaluate school performance. The distribution of the population throughout the state, the size of the school, the native intelligence of its top students, the percentage of students taking the test, the nature of the community where the school is located, the purpose of the school, and many other factors having nothing to do with the total effectiveness of the school can influence its number of finalists.

Each Merit Scholarship carries a stipend based on the need of each individual winner, and is renewable annually without further competitive examination. The average stipend in past years has been $650 per year. The minimum award in the 1958-59 program will be $100 a year and a maximum will be $1500 a year.

The names of all finalists will be sent to colleges and universities and other scholarship organizations throughout the country. In this way many non-winning finalists are helped in winning scholarships awarded directly by colleges and other organizations.

About 1000 Merit Scholars, winners of the 1957-58 competition, will be named on May 1, 1958. They are winners in the third Merit Program which began last October.

The National Merit Scholarship Corporation directs the annual competition. It was founded in 1955, on grants of $20 million by the Ford Foundation and $500 thousand by the Carnegie Corporation of New York.

BOIL OVER OR

One of the most startling developments in the history of cooking is the marvelous new gas pot burner temperature control. "It is called, 'THE BURNER WITH A BRAIN.' It's absolutely fantastic. While some ranges have a similar device available it does not serve as well because only gas can be controlled in this manner. Here's how it works: A sensing element in the center of the burner 'FEELS' the temperature of the food being cooked. The gas flame turns up and down automatically to cook at exactly the right heat. Think of it—no more pot watching—no burning—no boil overs.

Eggs fry at maximum speed but may be kept hot until ready to serve.

The Hard Way

A little common-sense, day-to-day upkeep, and this tractor might have been out on North 40 doing the job.

Tractors don't need much pampering. They are built to take it. But the reasonable amount of care and maintenance they do require is a must. Take, for example, the day-to-day, common-sense type of upkeep any tractor owner can do for himself. Neglect here can reduce tractor life by as much as fifty per cent, according to a survey by Massey-Ferguson Service.

Observing the following pre-service maintenance precautions will go a long way toward prolonging the life of any tractor:

1. Change engine oil, transmission, and differential lubricants as prescribed in owners manual.
2. Change oil filter and service air cleaner at intervals recommended in owners manual.
3. Remove, clean, re-set spark plug gap at regular intervals.
4. Check battery for water once a week.
5. Follow instructions in owners manual. If manual is lost, get another copy from your dealer.

One more consideration to keep your tractor in good working order and at top efficiency: at least once a year, get a complete engine tune-up by your dealer's service expert.

Driving School To Operate During Summer

Behind-the-wheel driver training instruction to supplement the present program of classroom instruction will be offered in Frederick County from June 23 to August 8 according to plans approved by the Board of Education at its meeting last month. A registration fee of $5 will be levied to pay costs of insurance, operation, and maintenance of three autos, which will be supplied by local dealers.

Instruction will be given at several centers throughout the county, probably at Frederick High School, Thurmont High School, and Middletown or Brunswick High School, depending on registration. Instructors will establish schedules to provide for each student a minimum of six hours' actual driving time.

Requirements for registration are as follows: 1. Age at least 15, license by end of course. 2. Must have completed successfully the classroom driver instruction.

3. Must have permission of parents. 4. First preference will be given to (a) Frederick Countians, (b) Students who do not have a driver's license. 5. Higher grade students and out-of-county persons will be accommodated only if all others are already provided for.

Key Chevrolet Sales, Roney Motors and the Frederick Motor Company have each agreed to furnish an auto to be equipped with regulation dual controls. Instruction will be given by fully qualified driver training instructors.

A COLUMN FOR HOMEOWNERS

Flowers

This is the time to transplant perennials. They have started to grow and may be lifted and divided rather easily. Cut the clump apart carefully and then replant the divisions at the same depth at which they have been growing. Plant such early flowering kinds as the pansy and English daisy where they are to flower. Such kinds would have been started from seed last summer or early fall. After they have become established they may be mulched lightly.

Clean up the perennial area, remove the old tops and leaves of the past year. Fertilize these plants with a complete fertilizer such as 5-10-5. Broadcast this fertilizer and cultivate it into the soil around the plants. Be careful that in digging you do not damage late starting plants.

The winter mulch should now be removed from all roses or perennials. Much of this may be cultivated into the ground. Mulch on plants such as azaleas and rhododendron should be left in place as it is beneficial for such kinds throughout the year. It may even be necessary to add additional material such as peat or partially decomposed leaves.

Prepare areas for the planting of annual flowers. Add a complete fertilizer to the soil and spade it in thoroughly along with some organic matter such as well rotted manure, peat or leaf mold.

Young annual seedlings started in the house, greenhouse or hot bed should be transplanted and put out of doors in a cold frame for several weeks until all danger of frost is past and then planted in the garden where they are to flower.

Rapid growing annuals as the marigolds and zinnias may be sown indoors and will be ready for transplanting to the garden in about a month.

Roses should be pruned by this time. Hybrid tea varieties are pruned slightly to 20 to 24 inches from the ground for maximum growth and number of flowers. Prune to 10 to 12 inches for larger flowers and longer stems. The floribunda varieties are generally more vigorous and are not pruned as severely as the hybrid tea varieties. The bush or shrub roses need only a little pruning to keep them in shape.

VFW Denounces Russian War Vets' Visit To U. S.

Weldon Leroy Maddox, State Commander of the Veterans of Foreign Wars today denounced the visit to this country of five Russian war veterans headed by Aleksei Petrovich, Secretary of the Soviet Veterans Committee. The group was invited to this country by the American Veterans of the Elbe Link-up.

"To recognize this Soviet delegation as anything more than an official delegation from the Kremlin would be ridiculously naive," Maddox said. "Since the inception of the Soviet Veterans Committee, the group has done nothing but parrot the flossy phrases of the Communist world. They talk of peace and humanitarian principles on one hand, and on the other hand violate all principles of humanity by such ruthless actions as the slaughter of helpless Hungarians during that country's internal revolt.

"If this supposed Veterans organization from Russia wants recognition from respectable veterans groups in this country, I suggest," the VFW leader went on, "that they denounce Communist aggression—that they urge the removal of all Russian troops from Hungary, as was ordered by a resolution passed in the United Nations. Until the Soviet Veterans Committee is ready to prove to the free world that it is something more than a mouthpiece for the Kremlin, the Veterans of Foreign Wars will refuse to recognize it as a legitimate veterans' organization and will object to propaganda-inspired visits to the United States by its officers and members," Maddox concluded.

Meat Balls With Tomatoes

Looking for a new taste for a favorite dish? Then try these interestingly flavored meat balls, enriched with oven-toasted rice cereal and savored with juicy tomatoes. Egg and chopped onion are mixed with the ground beef and pork along with seasoning and the cereal. After the meat balls are pan fried until browned, tomatoes are added and the whole mixture is allowed to simmer over a low heat for about 45 minutes until the zesty flavor is cooked in.

Use this time to cut some crisp vegetables with a few flourishes, serve the meal with rolls and a beverage, and sit back and watch the family's surprise when treated with this "company fare."

Meat Balls With Tomatoes

¾ pound ground beef
¾ pound ground pork or sausage
1 egg, slightly beaten
½ cup finely chopped onions
½ teaspoon salt
½ teaspoon pepper
2 cups Rice Krispies (oven-toasted rice cereal)
1½ cups cooked tomatoes

Combine meats, egg, onions, seasonings and Rice Krispies; mix well. Shape into 12 balls. Fry meat balls in small amount of heated shortening or drippings, turning until well browned on all sides. Pour on tomatoes; cover. Continue cooking over low heat about 45 minutes or until meat balls are thoroughly cooked. Serve at once. Yield: 6 servings, 2 medium meat balls each.

Report From Formosa

(Note from Dr. Benson: Dr. J. D. Bales, of the Harding College faculty, is lecturing and studying economic, political and social conditions in the Orient and throughout a wide area of Asia. He has just visited Formosa where he lectured in the universities on the nature of Communism. He interviewed Chiang Kai-shek and Hollington K. Tong, Chinese ambassador to the United States. Following are some excerpts from his report to me.)

TAIPEI, Taiwan (Formosa) —I have just had an interesting interview with Chiang Kai-shek and later I talked at length with Ambassador Tong who happened to be here for a few weeks before returning to his embassy post in Washington.

These leaders of Free China are men of high character, keen intellect and great dedication to the cause of freedom throughout the world. They are in constant touch with many avenues of authentic information out of Communist China. They know what's happening there.

The Mass Murders

Ambassador Tong said this morning at breakfast: "The American people should study thoroughly what has happened in Iron Curtain countries. This should include a verification of the statement made by anti-Communist leaders that Red China during the seven years of its rule has killed in cold blood 20,000,000 people, and that 25,000,000 additional people have died of starvation in slave labor camps."

"Some branches of American government have verified these figures. If the people doubt the scope of the Communist mass murders and brutality of slave labor camps let them make further verification. A study will convince Americans that the Communists' treatment of the people of China and the slaughter there is an indication of the fate of the American people if Communism — God forbid — should ever rule the U. S. A."

Co-Existence Deceit

Both Chiang Kai-shek and Ambassador Tong emphasized that the Communist program of "peaceful co-existence" is only one phase of the implementation of the Communist plan for world domination. "It is like a pause or rest in the music," said Ambassador Tong. "It is not the whole piece. It is amazing to find that so large a number of American people simply refuse to believe what Khrushchev has said again and again: 'We are going to bury Capitalism and the United States' . . . and 'Communism will conquer the world.'" Friends of mine in this part of the world, both Chinese and Americans, are enthusiastic about the new book written by Chiang Kai-shek and published by the American firm, Farrar, Straus and Cudahy. Its title is Soviet Russia in China. It is Chiang's account of his experiences with the Russian and Chinese Communists. It gives historical facts and analyzes the Communists' clever warfare both in theory and practice.

Total Atheism

In relating his efforts to work with the Communists in North China immediately after World War II, Chiang shows that the Communists act out their atheistic philosophy of life, repudiate moral law in both their theory and practice. To judge them by the standards of decency to which we hold is to enable them to deceive and destroy us. "In our dealings with the Chinese Communists we have always set great store by ethical considerations, good faith and righteousness. It was our belief that every Chinese could not help but feel loyal to his own country first. That was why we had sincerely hoped to move forward together on the road of democracy to complete our task of national reconstruction."

"What we did not realize was that Communists are Communists, first, last, and always. They were traitorous and treacherous all the time. Everywhere they went they set traps for others. Any weak spot in our organization or loophole in our precautionary measures would give them a chance to start trouble. In our war with Communism we made the mistake of judging the Communists by the same yardstick of national consciousness and democratic and ethical concepts" which Christians endeavor to live by. —J.D.B.

A daily bath is essential. Without it all the perfumes or deodorants in the world won't be able to help you.

Never leave the house in the morning without first applying a deodorant or, if the flow of perspiration is unusually heavy, a deodorant with anti-perspirant assistance. Keep your underarms neatly shaved at all times, not just when you're wearing sleeveless dresses.

Start each day with clean underthings. If they're nylon, it takes you five minutes to wash them before you go to bed at night—they'll be dry and ready to wear by morning. Always use a clean washcloth and towel when you bathe. For an extra feeling of freshness, sprinkle talcum powder over your entire body—then dust a little into your shoes for a cool pair of feet.

Veterans' Corner

The American Legion, Department of Maryland, announced this week that the Harford Memorial Hospital in Harve de Grace, would be the recipient of their 1958 annual Child Welfare grant. Mr. Vernon Randall, Child Welfare Commissioner of The American Legion, said, "The Legion will completely equip the Children's Clinic in the new addition recently constructed at the hospital. Plans have been worked out with the hospital officials to make the presentation on Saturday, May 10, 1958."

Mr. Randall announced that the Harford Memorial Hospital had been selected after careful study by the committee. Each year the Child Welfare Commission of The American Legion selects a project to help the children throughout Maryland. Mr. Randall said that the Legion has equipped the children's clinics in Prince Frederick Hospital in Calvert County and the Provident Hospital in Baltimore city. The American Legion also provided a hearing clinic at the Rosewood Training School and a speech therapy clinic in Easton. In addition, the Child Welfare Commission of The American Legion has purchased special equipment to institute a crippled children's school in Garrett County and provided funds for a mental retardation school in Salisbury. Several years ago, The American Legion also purchased four croupettes for the children's ward at the Frederick and Washington County Hospitals.

Since 1925 Child Welfare work has been one of the prime programs of The American Legion. Throughout the nation the Legion spends more than $7,500,000 annually in financial aid to needy children in an effort to insure a "square deal for every child." Of this amount, $250,000 is spent by The American Legion in Maryland.

Mr. John O. Chilcote, Commander of the Maryland Legion's Northern Central District, which includes Harford County, will accompany Mr. Randall at the presentation ceremonies in Harve de Grace on Saturday, May 10, 1958.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Luke 17:5-10.

Serve the Lord with gladness: come before his presence with singing. (Psalm 100:2.)

Time, talent, and treasure, are the heavenly gifts to human beings. No day should pass without thanking God for those signs of His mercy and love. It is right to dedicate these gifts to the Lord. How many hours of the day do we spend for Christ and in His service?

When we surrender to Him our talents, we get His blessing. If we give Him our treasure with glad hearts, He gives us great joy. Blessed are those who say daily, "Everything for Jesus."

Ester, a girl of six, heard in Sunday school that true Christians sacrifice all they have to the Lord. On the floor she put a big plate. On it she put her best-loved treasures, her doll, her picture book, her money box. At last she stood on it herself and said, "Here you have me, dear Lord, with all I possess."

Prayer

Dear Lord, we dedicate to Thee all our time, our talents, our treasure. We know Thou hast given us these gifts and Thou dost rightly expect a real sacrifice from us. Christ has done all for us on the cross; so we want to do all for Him. In His name. Amen.

Farm Group Would Terminate Transportation Tax

Farm Bureau has urged the United States Treasury Department to recommend early termination of the federal transportation tax. In a letter to the Secretary of the Treasury, the farm organization called the tax "a tax on a necessity, on the flow of commerce. It artificially increases the economic distance between various areas of our country and its termination would have immediate anti-recessionary impact."

The transportation tax—3% on the freight bill—bears heavily on the farmer. The tax on the transportation of farm products to markets is about $100 million a year. In addition, the cost of farm machinery, fertilizer, feed and other production is increased by it.

Although the tax was originally adopted as a war-time measure, efforts to terminate it over the years have not been successful.

MOTOR MAIDS

Aerial Police Unsnarl Traffic

By Jeanne Smith,
Dodge Safety Consultant

THE CARELESS MOTORIST who ran out of gas on the Los Angeles freeway system used to cause hour long delays for thousands of motorists.

Now, the problem can usually be handled in minutes because the Los Angeles police have taken to the air.

Until recently, the police had difficulty locating the source of the problem. Now, the Helicopter Unit of the Los Angeles Police Department is always on the alert. Like a good natured big brother, the "whirlybirds" seem to look over your shoulder as you drive.

Operating Monday through Friday during the peak morning and evening rush hours, the planes provide a three-to-five-mile view of traffic in either direction. As soon as trouble develops, the ground forces are contacted by radio and rush to the scene.

"Statistics indicate that both our population and our traffic problems will continue to increase," said Capt. C. E. Wolfrum, "and our experience over the last two years indicates clearly that the helicopter is the most modern and effective tool for traffic control."

In addition, the Helicopter Unit has also helped police by reporting fires, locating stolen cars, reported aircraft violations and reduced speeding just by casting the whirlybird shadow over the motorists below.

So, when you visit L. A. drive at your safety-best. It's safer, and cheaper too.

Azalea Flower Show Will Start Saturday

The Fifth Annual Opening of the Landon Azalea Gardens will take place on Saturday and Sunday May 3 and 4, from 11:00 a. m. to 9:30 p. m.

The event, which is open to the public, is for the benefit of the Landon School Scholarship and Endowment Funds. The gardens, located on the school grounds, have become one of the most outstanding springtime attractions in the Washington area—especially so because of the unusual way in which they are lighted in the evening.

Among the 15,000 azalea plants of more than 1,000 varieties, are to be found and unusual specimens. Equal in beauty with the azaleas, and providing a magnificent setting for them, are the lawns—nearly an acre of velvet-like grass of unparalleled beauty. There also is the unusual tree peony, an exquisite plant, nestled in a setting of rhododendrons and wild flowers in their natural environment.

Special features of this year's show will include an enlarged plant sale. Hundreds of rare varieties of azaleas together with implements used for their cultivation will be sold by the plant and accessories committee. The most exciting of the many novel garden accessories which are being prepared for sale at the Gardens on May 3 and 4, is the "Poisey Porter." This clever device not only receives your blooms while you cut them but also transports them to car or house. Gay gardening aprons, hats and knee pads will be displayed for sale.

Of interest to azalea lovers will be the newly published book by Mr. Frederick P. Lee entitled, "The Azalea Book." This recent publication is one of the most authentic books on azaleas. Orders will be taken for Kodachrome

THIS WEEK

—In Washington

With
Clinton Davidson

Washington this week is moving slowly toward a Summit Conference later this year with about as much enthusiasm as a small boy about to enter a haunted house.

"We know that the Russians are baiting a trap for us," a veteran diplomat told us, "but the lure of even the remotest possibility of an easing of the cold war is irresistible."

The trap that Nikita Khrushchev has so cleverly set for us is the most powerful in the world. The jaws of adverse public opinion can crush any nation. The bait is promises of peace.

The Russian objective is to convince as many nations as possible, as well as the Russian people, that the Communist Bloc wants peace, and that it is the capitalist nations that are the warmongers.

President Eisenhower interprets Russian demands for a Summit meeting as a trick to inflame world opinion against the U.S. Secretary Dulles sees it as another phase in the Communist plan for world domination.

Both credit Khrushchev with being sincere in his desire to avoid a hydrogen-atomic bomb war, but only if he can achieve world conquest by other means.

Russia has a potent weapon which Washington fears far more than the hydrogen bomb or the ICBM. The communists did not invent propaganda, but they are the most skilled and ruthless users of the "big lie" in the world today. The Summit Conference demand is a master propaganda stroke.

What Khrushchev wants is something for nothing. He has the advantage of knowing that the West will bargain in good faith and that it will keep any promises made. Khrushchev is hampered by no such scruples.

"The American representatives at the conference," a former U. S. envoy to Moscow told us, "had better wear both a belt and suspenders. Either way, we still are likely to lose our shirt."

One of the things that bothers Washington most is the remarkable and ominous similarity between the tactics of Khrushchev and German dictator Adolf Hitler. The parallel is almost as if we were turning back the pages of history.

Hitler dreamed his mad dream of world domination, and so does Khrushchev. The record of both is bloody with the ruthless extermination or exile of all internal opposition. Khrushchev, as did Hitler, cloaks his intentions behind a professed desire for peace.

Hitler walked out of the League of Nations, and Khrushchev uses the United Nations as a propaganda sounding board. The Russians have the same underlying spirit of "do as we wish you to do or else..."

Twenty years ago Hitler lured Allied government heads to Munich with the promise of a man-to-man settlement of their differences. While he talked of peace he armed furiously for war.

British Prime Minister Sir Neville Chamberlain came away from Munich with the conviction that he had secured a firm promise of "peace in our time." Hitler robbed Western Europe, and perhaps the U.S., of the alertness to danger that might have prevented World War II.

The question Washington is asking itself is: Is history again about to repeat itself?

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

One of the greatest bald faced attempts in all history to mulct the taxpayer is now underway.

This is the drive to get Congress to vote even bigger and bigger foreign give aways.

Or as Rep. Otto Passman, La., terms it, a big snow job is now underway.

Professional tub thumpers, who under the various administrations of the past twenty years have headed up various bureau- C. W. Harder cratic promotional drives, are also spearheading this one.

This new organization is termed the Committee for International Economic Growth. It was brought into being on January 29th, and contributions to it are presumably tax exempt on basis selling people on giving away more is major benefit to nation.

But Sen. George Maloney of Nevada has another view. He says "the administration is about to move in with a Coxe's army of 700 to 800 persons to intimidate Congress. I think we ought to run them out of Washington and put them in an insane asylum."

Of course, on analysis, it can perhaps be surmised why there is such a drive in certain quarters to tap all taxpayers to give away funds to build up the economy of foreign nations.

For example, Ernest Breech, chairman of Ford Motors, is behind the foreign give-away drive. But the English Ford, built in foreign plants, helped by foreign aid give aways, and also built by cheap foreign labor, has become quite an item in this nation. T. V. © National Federation of Independent Business

Houser, chairman of Sears Roebuck, is another great supporter of foreign give aways. The fact that Sears has stores in foreign nations may or may not be a factor in his zeal to bolster foreign economies with gifts of U. S. taxpayers' dollars. William Robinson, president of Coca-Cola, is another great tub thumper for foreign give aways. Coca-Cola has been very active in their international division.

There are many other instances. But the interesting fact seems to be that nobody is kidding nobody any more about foreign give aways. Sen. Henry Dworshak, Idaho, calls attention to the fact that Communist Poland has tapped the U. S. taxpayers for almost $100 million dollars. A few months ago Sen. Wm. W. Knowland of California, was accused of partisan disloyalty because he blew the whistle on tapping U. S. taxpayers to send modern jet fighters to Communist Tito in Yugoslavia.

And of course, the whole world knew when recently France killed off women and children in a little town in an African colony that wants independence, with a massive air raid, that it was U. S. built planes which carried the ferocious attack home on the defenseless villagers.

Thus, there are angry Congressmen on this foreign give away issue. And the circus tactics being used to try and stampede them is not appreciated.

In other words, it's getting more and more difficult to kid anybody on the continuation of these foreign give away programs. For example, on several occasions the nation's independent businessmen, voting through National Federation of Independent Business, have gone on record opposing these programs.

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Unemployment And Big Business

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 1—It is clear that unemployment results from the recession. But it is not sufficiently clear what is the cause of the recession. However, no one can doubt that it is due to some imbalance in the economy. The reaction is from some previous action.

Remember The Seesaw

Because certain excesses have existed too long or been too great—a correction must come if we are to regain normal economic balance. Our economy, when free, is like the children's seesaw or "tetter." A fat boy pushes down one end and raises a skinny boy at the other end. In our economic seesaw the excessive weight at one end may be over-expansion of production in relation to consumer demand.

In an ideal economy, productive capacity should always be geared to consumer demand. But actually, such gearing is not automatic. Either plant capacity is expanded faster than consumer demand; or demand drops off after temporary excessive consumer buying, as in installment purchasing. Moreover, our economy is not so free as many would like to believe. In the market place, prices no longer respond quickly to conditions of supply and demand.

Big business has given our economy many benefits, including making available to the many—by mass production and mass distribution—necessities, comforts, and luxuries. In boom times, however, big business and big organized labor together give consumers wage-and-price inflation, driven upward by annual wage-and-price increases unrelated to the annual rise in productivity. Plant capacity is expanded without relation to consumer demand.

Correcting The Unbalanced Seesaw

The government has the ability to balance too great or too long—continued imbalance by standing at the center of the seesaw and inclining its weights either to the right or the left. But the government can also restore the balance in other ways,—by assuring even weights at both ends of the seesaw, or by making the weightier force (supply or demand) move up nearer the middle.

But government should not and must not be expected to operate a managed economy. There still remains enough self-reliance in our politico-economic system to restore the ability of private, competitive small business to do the balancing—if small business is unfettered. Restoring competition in big industry will break down too-rigid administered prices. These prices have been fixed too long and too much.

Too great monopolistic power by Big Business and/or Big Labor must be curbed by Big Government. Remember that 95% of our American businesses employ fewer than 20 people; about 80% of our businesses are unincorporated.

Seven Definite Recommendations

As a result of the two World Wars, Big Business and Big Labor were granted too many artificial and powerful special privileges in the name of Defense. The time is overdue to remove these privileges and give the 3 million small businesses with a total of over 8 million workers a chance to cure the recession. Proposals to this end have recently been made to the Senate Committee:

1. A tax deduction for all concerns which reinvest profits in their operations. This would provide the necessary capital for those small concerns.
2. Equalization between large and small companies in regulations for depletion and depreciation.
3. Deductions, for the self-employed and other persons not members of qualified pension programs, for their own retirement.
4. Provision for the payment of estate taxes in installments so that businesses need not be liquidated simply to accommodate the Federal Government.
5. Federal grants to small concerns, for research and development requiring that all patents secured from research at taxpayers' expense be made available freely to all concerns.
6. More credit for small business firms by the Small Business Administration in order to offset the one-sided power of large corporations to extend credit to customers by practically shipping on consignment.
7. Elimination of labor's exemption from the anti-trust laws.

Used machinery and equipment, which the smaller concerns usually buy, should be given the same rates of depletion and depreciation as new.

3. Deductions, for the self-employed and other persons not members of qualified pension programs, for their own retirement.

4. Provision for the payment of estate taxes in installments so that businesses need not be liquidated simply to accommodate the Federal Government.

5. Federal grants to small concerns, for research and development requiring that all patents secured from research at taxpayers' expense be made available freely to all concerns.

6. More credit for small business firms by the Small Business Administration in order to offset the one-sided power of large corporations to extend credit to customers by practically shipping on consignment.

7. Elimination of labor's exemption from the anti-trust laws.

A Jet-Propelled Headache

The space age has produced a host of new toys for junior, each one—according to mother—a new instrument of torture fiendishly designed to send a headache rocketing through her head. As if she, and her 60,000,000 fellow headache sufferers didn't have enough reason already. Physicians know that overwork, fatigue and tension cause 90 per cent of common headaches, and that today's jet-propelled tempo adds to these stresses and strains. Now, scientists have come up with a headache remedy that's in tune with the times. This new painkiller, Nebs, acts faster than other remedies because its active ingredient, acetyl-p-aminophenol (APAP for short), doesn't have to be changed chemically by the body before it goes to work. It speeds directly to the site of the pain, making Nebs a real boon to sufferers of jet-age headaches.

Horse Show To Be Feature Of Fair

The thirtieth annual McDonogh School Fair will be held at the school on Saturday, May 3, beginning at 10 a. m. Features of the Fair are the 4-H Club Cattle Show, the McDonogh Horse Show, and the midway.

The cattle show, with over 500 entries, will be in three divisions. There will be five classes for dairy cattle, in which Ayrshire, Brown Swiss, Guernsey, Holstein

OUR EDUCATIONAL HEALTH

Health is a lifelong problem with which every one of us has to deal. And we think of it as a continuing thing, not as a series of crises chopped up into sections according to our age. Of course, when everything is functioning well, most of us don't think of it at all, except insofar as we automatically apply good health principles to our daily living.

It seems to me that education is something like health. Our lifelong education is really one problem, not a series of chopped-up problems bearing no relation to each other. And, like health, we don't give much thought to education when everything is going smoothly.

Everything is not going smoothly for education right now, and we are all as concerned as the person whose health suddenly seems to be breaking. Some of us have called for the doctor for a thorough diagnosis but most of us are rushing to administer first aid consisting of a series of splints, poultices and headache remedies.

Maybe one reason our educational health looks failing these days is that we have been looking at splinters of education instead of at the whole patient. Separate advocates and authorities on nursery school education, kindergarten training, elementary school education, high schooling and college training—to mention just the major lines of this body—have all approached their category of education as if it had nothing to do with the whole lifelong education of the individual.

This is changing and colleges and universities are taking the lead in the change. Recently I saw a report that Dartmouth College issued to high schools. (The fact that a college would bother to report to high schools is an omen.) In that report, Dartmouth noted "the efforts of many secondary schools to challenge their ablest students with advanced material." Dartmouth's recognition of the high schools' efforts in this field is an example of a higher institution knowing its dependence on the one a step down the ladder.

Let's stop squabbling about poaching on each other's territory and work cooperatively on the single problem of a good education for everyone.

The Local Pharmacist: Member Of Health Team

As everyone knows, the physician is the number one member of the nation's health team. He is dedicated to preventing illnesses, if possible, and treating them if they do occur. But he has a number of colleagues in this struggle against sickness, one of the most important of whom is the local pharmacist.

Our first pharmacy (apothecary shop) was founded in New England in 1632. Today there are about 53,000 pharmacies in this country, many of which sell a variety of things needed in everyday life. But the heart of any pharmacy, the real reason for its existence, is the counter where health-saving drugs are compounded and dispensed. This is the final step in a chain of important events which may have started back in the research laboratory of a pharmaceutical company.

There are more than 100,000 professional pharmacists in this country, all of whom are licensed by their state to dispense drugs. Theirs is a prime responsibility and in order to obtain a license the pharmacist must complete one of the toughest college courses. In fact, he is the only retail businessman who is required by law to have a college education.

Pharmacy is one of the world's most ancient professions. Its roots are in prehistoric knowledge of the uses of herbs, plants and other natural products used in treating illnesses. For many centuries medicine and pharmacy were inseparable. The break began in the Eleventh Century and since then the two have developed into distinct branches of the healing arts.

The pharmacy of today is a repository of life-saving and pain-relieving drugs—such as antibiotics, steroid hormones, vaccines—which are immediately available to all. Years ago the doctor had to order supplies of vital drugs from a manufacturer some distance away, often making adequate treatment impossible. Today he has only to write a prescription which is taken to the pharmacist a few doors away. Filling a prescription may take five minutes, or it may take much longer—the time is not important. The important thing is that because of the pharmacist's special knowledge, and his great storehouse of chemicals and drugs, you are able to obtain quickly a product that is competently compounded. You take this pharmaceutical product in complete assurance that it has been prescribed and compounded by the best combination of health training the world has ever known... the doctor and the pharmacist.

New Library To Be Dedicated At University

COLLEGE PARK—In the event of rain, the scheduled outdoor dedication ceremony of the University Library at the University of Maryland on May 3, will be moved into the South Study Room of the new building.

The ceremony, set to get underway at 11 a. m., will be held on the newly landscaped grounds at the west end of the campus Mall. More than 50 workmen are putting the final touches on the library landscaping and it is expected to provide a background for one of the most colorful ceremonies ever held at the institution.

Guest speakers include: Verner W. Clapp, president of the Library Resources Board, Inc.; Governor Theodore R. McKeldin; Charles P. McCormick, chairman of the university Board of Regents; President Wilson H. Elkins; Louis L. Goldstein, president of the Maryland Senate; and Perry Wilkinson, Speaker, pro tem, of the Maryland House of Delegates.

The ceremony planning committee today expressed the hope that the long-range weather forecast, of sub-normal rain and 70 degree temperatures, would coincide with nature's plan for the day.

Rosecroft Raceway Ready For Opening Monday Night

Rosecroft Raceway is all dressed up and ready for the opening of its tenth anniversary season of night pari-mutual racing. The Oxon Hill, Md. harness center, leadoff track along the Maryland circuit, opens its 24-night meet next Monday, May 5th.

Inaugural feature, expected to be witnessed by a record attendance, will be the $10,000-added Transamerica Pace, sponsored by Harness Tracks of America. This event is the first in the $250,000 series — harness racing's richest string of events being raced at 17 major tracks.

Eye-appealing innovations calculated to add to fans' enjoyment at Rosecroft will be in full view opening night — especially the new ultra-modern American Totalizer Board. Featuring double listings of race information, the huge board has been carefully placed to provide an unimpeded view of the races from any point in the clubhouse or grandstand. The infield was "scooped out" and the Tote Board was set low.

Among the starters who will be in the fast-class lineup for the Transamerica are Grand R. Volo and Belle Action, both sub-2:00 pacers going as an entry from the Billy Haughton Stable; Adios Express (2:01 m), Adios-streepster who defeated Tordip (Harness Horse of the Year) twice last season, going for trainer-driver Joe O'Brien; and the Herman Graham Stock Farm's Goose Win (2:01 2/5 m), fresh from Santa Anita (Calif.)

Also, the Tar Heel-sired charge of Johnny Simpson, Nyland Hanover (2:02 4/5 m); and Widower Creed (1:58 3/5 m) who took the $75,000 Pacing Derby at Hollywood Park last November.

Another highlight of the Rosecroft session will be Grand Circuit Week, being launched on May 26 with the $30,000 William E. Miller Memorial Pace, qualifying dashes for which will be on May 19.

In addition to the Tote Board, Rosecroft has enlarged its Terrace Dining Room to a five-level structure, accommodating 850 diners. Space for 100 additional persons was created by raising the roof at one end. Protective sheltering has been installed between the Clubhouse and Grandstand sections.

Horses and horsemen are in for new treats, too, as part of the face lifting. Twenty-four more stalls were added to the paddock area, making a total of 70, which will accommodate all starters on a card and thereby expedite backstage operations before the races.

America's offshore oil "fleet" will grow by an estimated 220 crew boats, 50 supply boats, and more than 300 cargo barges in the next 14 years.

HEALTH HORIZONS

Yes, Your Child Will Eat!

How to stimulate the appetite while restraining the activity of a child before mealtime is a problem faced by many parents. Worried about their fussy, finicky eaters not receiving enough nourishment or gaining enough weight, parents tend to force-feed youngsters — with most unsatisfactory results.

Physicians, who have studied this ever-present problem, offer some mealtime suggestions and a new multi-vitamin preparation that may be helpful:

- Give adequate warning before mealtime so the youngster is not interrupted while playing at an interesting game.
- The "let them eat cake" routine is out. All empty calories from added sweets—jellies, jams, pies, honey, cookies, syrup — are taboo.

- Between meal eating should be minimized and consist only of small quantities of both interesting and nourishing foods.
- Don't let him get overtired before a meal; plan a brief rest period or ask him to help serve.

- Before mealtimes the use of Somatozyme Liquid, a multi-vitamin formulation is suggested by some physicians. Somatozyme is specifically designed to stimulate appetite and promote growth among finicky eaters.
- At the table, no pressure, please. Don't threaten, tease, bribe or nag the youngster to eat. Mealtimes should be relaxed and patient.

- Allow the child to eat as much as he wants. Don't over-estimate his capacity or believe he should eat the same quantity every day. Allow him some say in selection of food.

The above suggestions are not guarantees, but if applied with love and patience should help to develop better eating habits.

Corned Beef's A Winner

Your family will think they have the luck of the Irish whenever you serve corned beef and "little cabbages" for dinner. St. Patrick's Day or not. The colorful combination of rosy slices of richly cured beef brisket and Brussels sprouts is appealing to the eye as well as the appetite.

Today's corned beef has the good flavor of old-fashioned corned beef, but modern processing methods leave no room to guess at quality. You can buy whole briskets of corned beef which range in weight from five to fourteen pounds. Swift & Company also makes available packaged brisket of corned beef in weights ranging from two to five pounds, just right for small families. The briskets, either with garlic flavor or without, are vacuum sealed in transparent packages and wrapped flavor-tight to retain the best in flavor and quality. Because flavor and tenderness of corned beef vary a great deal due to different curing methods, the wise shopper buys a well-known brand for consistent good eating.

COOKING DIRECTIONS FOR BRISKET CORNED BEEF
Place Swift's Premium Brisket of Corned Beef in a deep kettle. Cover with water. If desired, add 2 cloves of garlic or 1 small onion, sliced. Cover. Heat. When water boils, reduce heat so water simmers. Simmer 1 hour per pound or until brisket is fork-tender. Serve hot or cold.
For attractive table service, score and glaze the brisket of corned beef. Cut the top fat surface into diamond shapes. Sprinkle brown sugar generously over the top and stud with cloves. Place the corned beef in a hot (400°F.) oven and bake until the brown sugar bubbles.
While the meat is glazing to a golden perfection, cook the fresh or frozen Brussels sprouts or cabbage, if your family prefers, in the meat broth.

New Faces for Old Killers

Back in 1900 when Grandma was a girl, the leading public enemies were infectious diseases: tuberculosis, influenza, pneumonia, and infantile diarrhea. Typhoid and diphtheria did their share of killing, too.

In half a century the picture has changed completely. The 3 leading killers today are noninfectious ailments: diseases of the heart and blood vessels, cancer, and accidents. What has happened to the infectious killers of old?

They are still with us. Like gangsters who've moved up in the world, they've given up murder and have taken to high class robbery. Oh, they still carry lethal weapons, and people do get killed. However, most of their victims' lives are spared. But they are robbed of months and years of normal life. Some never regain their health completely. The nation as a whole is robbed of more than $700,000,000 a year by tuberculosis alone.

Plainly, we can't ignore these public enemies. The defenses built up by the progress of medicine and public health must be maintained and strengthened. And we can't leave the job entirely to the public officials responsible. They need our cooperation. We must see to it that they get a

Good Posture Week
Is Proclaimed

Gov. McKeldin has proclaimed the first week of May as Correct Posture Week in Maryland in cooperation with National Correct Posture Week, according to Dr. D. L. Beegle, Emmitsburg chiropractor.

From the formative years of school age, on through to adulthood, it is vitally important that our people maintain their good posture as a firm foundation for general good health and well being. The value of this special week is indicated by the fact that many of our mayors and governors have issued special proclamations urging the people to participate in the special educational activities during National Correct Posture Week.

The White House Conference on Child Health recognizes the importance of Posture in relation to health. The following is from its report:

"The part played by body mechanics, or 'posture,' as it is generally termed, in the health and well-being of the child, is another subject receiving more and more attention."

Dr. Beegle announced this week he will examine free, any school age children whose parents schedule an appointment for them and accompany them to his office. Dr. Beegle has been rendering this valuable community service for the past seven years.

Home Economists Gather At
Hood College

A large number of home economists met at Hood College on April 19. The group represented five counties of Maryland. The occasion was the annual spring session of the Western Maryland Home Economics Assn.

In attendance at the session were three home economists from Emmitsburg. They were Mrs. P. W. Claypool, Mrs. J. J. Dillon, Jr., and Mrs. Kenneth Wagaman. Mrs. Janet Coblenz, nutrition specialist from the University of Maryland Extension Service, was the principal speaker at the morning session. She chose as her topic Attitudes Toward the Present Day Food Problems. She bracketed the problems into the following three classifications: (1) Misinformation about food, (2) fortification and enrichment of food; (3) daily planning. Food, in its natural form, is far more nutritional than minerals or vitamins, Mrs. Coblenz pointed out to her listeners. Following a general discussion the group adjourned to reassemble in Coblenz Hall.

At the afternoon session Mrs. Kenneth Wagaman introduced Miss Jean Harnish, physiocratic social worker for the Frederick County Committee on Children's Guidance. Miss Harnish spoke on emotional living in our current world and pointed out the importance of the homemaker being well integrated and at peace with herself so she can capably cope with family problems in times of trouble. She emphasized the need for parents to use more common sense and told the group that if parents have pleasant relationships with each other then the big enough share of our tax dollar to carry on their job properly. We must take advantage of the vaccines available to prevent some infectious diseases. We must continue to cooperate in community efforts to check their spread. We must support research to find and better methods of control.

Air Conditioning
Installed Now
May Cost Less

If you've been thinking seriously about installing central air conditioning in your home, chances are good you can save money by doing it now instead of waiting for summer.

Here's why: Like most seasonal goods, air conditioning prices are often lower off season. An air conditioning contractor will be more eager for your business now than he will be in July and probably will give you a lower bid.

You can save an even greater amount on equipment costs by making sure your house is insulated according to recommendations for air conditioning.

Recent studies have shown that in Southern parts of the U.S. home-owners can save up to 27 percent on equipment if they have 6 inches of mineral wool in ceilings, a minimum of 3 inches in walls, and 2 inches in floors. The same formula saves as much as 20 percent in most Northern states.

Mineral wool insulation can be blown into walls and ceilings of existing houses by insulation contractors with special pneumatic equipment.

Another advantage of having air conditioning installed in winter is the chance of getting a better job. This is because contractors aren't as rushed as they are in hot weather and are able to devote more time to inspection and check the system's operation. You also can start enjoying air conditioning on summer's first warm day instead of suffering through weeks of hot weather waiting for a contractor to get around to your job.

SPORTS
AFIELD
By Ted Kesting

Many years ago, the paddle and the pole were the only means of propulsion on a canoe cruise. But, it was not hard to travel this way—not nearly as strenuous as climbing miles and miles over rough and steep slopes, states Col. Townsend Whelen, Camping Editor of Sports Afield Magazine. But, more recently, conditions have changed—largely due to the tremendous improvement in the outboard motor.

However, says Col. Whelen, the outboard motor should not replace the paddle, merely supplement it. The true worth of canoe outboards on long wilderness trips is their ability to cover quickly the long stretches of uninteresting country which often lie between civilization and the campsite. An outboard is valuable in ascending long river stretches against swift current. Once in the wilderness itself, the motor can be laid aside and the paddle taken up.

Here are a few figures: Two fairly strong, skilled paddlers can push an 18-foot canoe loaded to a safe six-inch freeboard about 4 mph for short distances on quiet water, but on a long run only about 3 mph can be counted on; and this mileage will be cut way down by adverse winds, currents and, especially, portages.

The average modern 3 hp one-cylinder outboard will drive the same canoe under ideal conditions about 7½ mph and will make about 19 miles per gallon of fuel. It would be possible therefore, to cover 50 miles a day in still water. The same adverse conditions will slow you down, however. Portaging becomes more work with fuel and motor to carry.

child will find its natural place in the home social life. Another enthusiastic general discussion followed Miss Harnish's talk. Presiding at the session was Mrs. Alice Gross. Mrs. Alfred Kime reported on the state economics meeting held recently. The next meeting of the Western Maryland group will take place in August in Cumberland when a sight-seeing trip through the Celanese Corporation of America plant is planned.

State Clean-Up
Drive Slated
For Next Week

May 3 to 10th is Maryland Clean-Up Week. If, during those seven days, every Marylander, man, woman, and child, would do his or her part to help Keep Maryland Beautiful, we honestly believe the Free State could become the national model for all other 47 states to eagerly follow. It sounds like a gargantuan undertaking, but it isn't, really. Once you, the individual who reads this, become sold on the importance of the project, victory is well within our grasp—because, once you are "sold" yourself, you will sell others and they, in turn, still others so that, before long, everyone will be sold on the indisputably good idea of keeping Maryland Beautiful.

Maryland has everything in the way of natural beauty. It has a perfect God-given location with a mighty ocean on its east coast and mountain scenery rivalled by none, on its western borders. Within it nestles wonderful Chesapeake Bay, world famous for the fine seafood it furnishes gourmets.

You don't have to leave Maryland to find whatever your heart desires—it is all here in the little state with the big reputation.

We guard our personal treasures carefully—why, then, would we look lightly upon our duty to care for our richest heritage as Marylanders—the State of Maryland, itself.

There is only one way to make an honest dollar.
