Most Anything At A Glance

BY ABIGAIL

Following a series of automobile wrecks which resulted in two fatalities, the State Roads Commission finally decided this week it was learned, to eliminate the dead-end barricade at the southern end of the new Thurmont bypass. A quick glance at the statistics reveals that in the two years this obstacle had been in existence six serious accidents have occurred there and a number of minor damage cases that were never reported. Just recently two men were burned to death at the spot when their truck crashed the barrier and upset and burned. This week two trucks and a car were the victims of this traffic trap which for no sane reason has been permitted to remain. The record shows that at least six accidents have been caused by this traffic impediment and it is high time the Roads Commission has decided to terminate the menace. It was learned this week the Commission plans to remove the barrier, extend the road about 500 feet and insert a reverse curve as a temporary stop-gap to eliminate accidents there in the future. The new stretch will be constructed just as soon as possible, possibly within the next three months and will connect with old Route 15 about 500 feet south of the present existing barricade. It is estimated that damage to vehicular traffic has cost owners several times over the estimated cost of the new stretch of road which should prevent any additional damage or cost of human life.

More of this sort of thing is apt to occur right here in Emmitsburg when the Commission builds the new Route 15 bypass of Emmitsburg. According to plans a simple intersection is planned where the new route will intersect State Route 97 just east of town. Everyone here is well aware of the traffic tie-up which exists practically every Sunday afternoon during the summer months when the Baltimore traffic traveling east and west tries to navigate the spotlight here on the Square. Cars usually are lined up for blocks trying to squeeze through. Now then picture the difficulty the motorist will experience when the new Route 15 intersects Route 97 for the second time, east of town near Emmitt Gardens. Motorists first will have to negotiate this dangerous intersection and then just half a mile farther meet the same situation. Careful study should be given this plan by the Commission before actual construction is begun.

We haven't had any snow to mention so far this winter but we have just about all the other concoctions Old Man Winter has to offer thrown our way. Last Friday's gale-like winds and bitter cold let us know that winter was in full swing. Later on came a bit of snow, rain and sleet and now a bit of moderation which should result in an increase of virus respiratory infections which have been making the rounds, as they usually do this time of year. Oh well, I'll still take this kind of weather compared to that we had last year about this time when we were without light, power, heat and phone service for hours and some individuals for weeks. In another two weeks we'll know more of what to expect when Mr. Groundhog awakens from his hibernation to let us in on the forecast.

A New Jersey magistrate has found a novel and perhaps intriguing way to determine the guilt of accused drunken drivers. To initiate his theory he is going to permit an accused nurse to guzzle a pint of wine in the courtroom in the presence of witnesses and thereby determine just how effective the drink is and the extent of her drunkenness. Seems the nurse was picked up by a policeman who discovered a gallon of "sneaky Pete" in her car with about a pint missing. The young lady maintained she had drunk the pint but was not drunk. The magistrate will witness the defendant consuming the same quantity of the vile stuff and then by the effects determine her guilt. Sure is an odd world.

County Fire Companies Seek Allotment Hike

United Fire Company President Alton Y. Bennett presented a resolution asking the Frederick County Volunteer Firemen's Association to back a bill to be presented to the state legislature which would authorize the county commissioners to pay to each of the four Frederick city fire companies an annual sum equal to the largest appropriation to any fire company in the county, last Thursday in the Independence Hose Company hall.

The request was made at the quarterly meeting of the association. Bennett said that each city company now receives $1,000 annually from the county commissioners, while the county companies receive from $1,800 to $2,150 each year. The proposed bill would raise the appropriation for each city fire company to $2,150 a year.

The resolution was adopted unanimously. John J. Hollinger, Emmitsburg, presided at the meeting. The invocation was given by Secretary Robert L. Smith, and 16 of the 17 member companies were represented.

Philip H. Beard, Walkersville, gave the treasurer's report. The secretary reported that according to the by-laws of the association the Blue Ridge Summit (Pa.) Fire Company is not eligible for membership because its fire house is not located in Frederick County.

Linwood Moss, Brunswick, explained the operations of the Brunswick Volunteer Ambulance Service, Inc. On behalf of the Brunswick Fire Company, he asked the firemen to support proposed legislation to provide an annual appropriation for the ambulance group and others in the county.

The motion was discussed, and rejected.

A report on the recent county association banquet was given by the banquet chairman, L. Edward Morgan.

Bingo Game

A benefit bingo game will be held Monday evening, January 26, in St. Euphemia's Hall, starting at 8 o'clock. Lumen F. Norris and Frank S. Topper are acting as chairmen of the affair and report plenty of nice prizes will be available during the evening. Refreshments will be served and the proceeds of the affair will be given to St. Joseph's Catholic Church. The general public is most cordially invited to attend and participate in the play.

10th Anniversary Highlight Features Symphony Orchestra

Highlights of the 10th anniversary celebration of the founding of the Mount St. Mary's Glee Club under the direction of the Rev. David W. Shaum will be a joint concert with the Baltimore Symphony Orchestra under the direction of Remo Bollognini in Memorial gymnasium on the college campus on Feb. 11 at 8:30 p. m. This will mark the first appearance of the Symphony in the Emmitsburg area.

The combined groups will present a two-hour concert geared to a young audience. The Symphony will offer such numbers as Strauss' "Waltz, On the Beautiful Blue Danube," von Suppe's "Poet and Peasant Overture," Schubert's "Unfinished Symphony," and Copland's "Hoe-down."

Orchestra and chorus will do selections from Romberg and Richard Rodgers as well as Thompson's "Testament of Freedom."

The concert will be open to the general public.

PTA TO MEET

Heisley Corum, chairman of the legislative committee of the Frederick County Teachers Assn., will be the principal speaker at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Public School PTA meeting to be held in the school cafeteria on January 28 at 8 p. m.

The speaker has chosen as his topic, the present legislative session regarding the public school system. Rooms will be open for inspection at 7:30 p. m. and all parents are urged to attend this meeting.

Some people are willing to lend a hand if they think they have a chance of borrowing two later.

ENGAGED

Mr. and Mrs. Dante Flabbi, Thurmont, announce the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Lee, to Robert Daniel Andrew, son of Mr. and Mrs. Daniel E. Andrew, Emmitsburg, Md.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Mount Continues Mediocre Play

Jim Phelan's Blue and White cagers could not shake the jinx which has been shadowing them so far this season and dropped their third straight contest to the Steubenville Barons last Friday night at Steubenville, Ohio. The Barons, in recording their second triumph over the Mount this season, held the Marylanders to their lowest point production of the season. Finishing out the week's play Saturday, the Collegians snapped out of it and edged St. Vincent's of Latrobe, Pa. Saturday night, 73-70 in Latrobe. The victory was the sixth against eight reverses for the local Mountaineers.

The Blue and White hit the skids Monday evening in Emmitsburg when the Shippensburg Teachers dropped them by a 91-86 score. The loss was the Mount's ninth in 15 games while Shippensburg is sporting a 7-4 record for the season.

Coach Jim Phelan's outfit started the ball game with a wild flurry of scoring and led 23-10 after four minutes of play. The locals tallied on the outside shooting of Jack Marshall, Ernie Cage and Jerry Savage while Jerry Bohlinger and Dick Tally worked under the boards. During the same period of time the Red Raiders scored seven of their 11 points from the foul line.

At the end of the first half the Mount was in front 46-38.

Scott was the man who made the difference for Coach Tom Christ's cagers as he began hitting on a variety of shots with most of them coming from under the basket. After 6:20 minutes had elapsed in the second half, Shippensburg trailed only 65-61. Marshall and Jack Gunn matched shots with Woods, Linn and Wyrick with Scott pumping in an extra two-pointer. The Mount called time out with 7:18 minutes showing on the score board clock as they led by a slim 72-71 advantage.

At this stage it was anybody's contest and the score began to see-saw back and forth. Shippensburg finally picked up three goals on Jim Alter's and Don Thorn's lay-ups. With two minutes remaining in the game and Shippensburg leading 85-82, Cage landed a jump shot, but Alter came back with a pair of charity shots. Marshall then ripped the cords on a pair of fouls while Woods made one to make the score 89-86 and the visitors still leading with 19 seconds to go. After the Mount missed an attempted jump shot, Scott was fouled at the buzzer and went on to make two free tosses.

FOLEY BILL WOULD PERMIT DAM

A bill granting the consent of Congress to the Potomac Electric Power Company for the construction of a dam on the Potomac River, was introduced by Congressman John R. Foley of Maryland's Sixth Congressional District, in the House of Representatives today.

This legislation provides for the construction, maintaining and operating of a dam on the Potomac River at a point suitable to the interest of navigation approximately three-fourths of a mile down stream from the confluence of the Potomac and Monocacy River and shall be for the purpose of supplying water for the steam-electric generating plant proposed by the Company in Montgomery County, Maryland.

The plans for such a dam are subject to the approval of the Secretary of the Army, and the Chief of Engineers, who may impose such conditions and stipulations as they deem necessary to protect the interests of our country.

BIRTHDAY PARTY

A party was held at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Henke on Sunday to celebrate the fourth birthday of their son, Robert. Those present were Mrs. James Phelan and Jimmy, Mrs. Ralph Joly and Paul, Mrs. James Deegan and Jimmy, Mrs. Robert Seidel and Bobby, Mrs. Robert Joy and Lee, Mrs. William Martin, Bruce and Gene Martin, Yvonne Henke.

Grange Seeks Cattle Feed For Local Farmer

The Emmitsburg Grange met at the local High School with 31 members and one guest present Wednesday evening. Master Bernard Welty presiding.

It was announced that any one having any type of feed and wished to donate it to Leonard Long, should contact Raymond Keilholz who will pick it up and deliver it.

A lengthy discussion was conducted on whether to try and reactivate the juvenile Grange. No final decision was reached.

The master announced the banquet was a complete success and thanked the committee in charge. They were Edward Meadows, Margaret Meadows and Anna Margaret Martin.

A thank-you note was read from Mrs. Clara Harner for the gift given in recognition of her faithful work to the Grange by the Grange at the banquet.

State Youth Chairman, Adam Plummer, was a guest. He spoke briefly on the projects of the Youth in the State Grange.

A motion picture on Bang's Disease was shown by Assistant County Agent, Robert Stansfield, which was very interesting.

The meeting closed with refreshments being served by Rose Wivell and Margaret Meadows.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 4 at 7:30 p. m. at the local high school.

Pennsylvania State Police are continuing their investigation of a minor motor vehicle accident which happened Monday.

William Arthur Chase, 35, Emmitsburg, was reported driving on the wrong side of the road in a truck when it collided with the passenger car of Harold Carson Jr., 30, Fairfield, at 11:55 a. m. Monday, 6 1/2 miles east of Waynesboro, police reported. Damage to the truck was estimated at $200 and to the car at $300.

Then there was the man who was for free trade because he thought it meant that he wouldn't have to pay for the goods he got.

COUNTY TEACHERS AVERAGE $5200

The average median salary for a teacher in Frederick County is $5,200, it has been announced by Dr. James A. Sensesbaugh, superintendent of county schools, and 252 of 507 classroom teachers receive salaries higher than that amount.

The annual pay scale and the number of teachers receiving the amounts in the various brackets are as follows: $6,000—44 teachers; $5,950—3 teachers; $5,900—1 teacher; $5,800—96 teachers; $5,750—1 teacher; $5,700—9 teachers; $5,650—4 teachers; $5,600—62 teachers; $5,550—1 teacher; $5,500—5 teachers; $5,450—6 teachers; $5,400—13 teachers; $5,300—7 teachers; $5,200—14 teachers; median salary; $5,100—4 teachers; $5,000—17 teachers; $4,900—5 teachers; $4,800—17 teachers; $4,700—4 teachers; $4,600—20 teachers; $4,500—3 teachers; $4,400—13 teachers; $4,350—10 teachers; $4,300—10 teachers; $4,200—44 teachers; $4,050—3 teachers; $4,000—52 teachers; $3,950—1 teacher; $3,900—7 teachers; $3,850—1 teacher; $3,800—5 teachers; $3,000—1 teacher; $3,500—2 teachers.

The total costs per pupil for the 1957-58 school year in the 23 counties of Maryland and the city of Baltimore have also been released. Frederick County ranked 18 on the list, spending $277.75 on each pupil. The average for the state was $289.80.

Dr. Sensesbaugh said that approximately 60 per cent of the school budget is spent on teachers' salaries.

Abnormal Weather Increased Demand For Power, Oil, Etc.

The extremely cold weather of recent weeks has had its effects on the electric business as well as on the coal, oil and gas business. Coupled with the increased use of electricity normally associated with the Christmas Holidays, the bitter weather has raised the home use of electric current to new records, according to Mr. J. W. Morgan, District Manager for the local power company.

"While people have been very much aware of the cold weather, very few of them have realized the effect such weather produces on electric use," said the local utility manager. "Temperatures during the month of December 1958 averaged more than 10 degrees colder than those for the corresponding month in 1957. As a consequence, furnaces ran much more constantly, with a resulting increase in the operation of the motors and fans which are a part of most heating systems. Just how great this increased operation has been is indicated by the fact that the oil companies in this area report a 30% increase in the deliveries of fuel oil compared with last year."

The effects of cold weather on electric consumption is evidenced in another way. Water temperatures have been a considerable number of degrees lower than they were a year ago and for the home owner who has an electric water heater this means that the water has to be raised just that many more degrees in temperature and that calls for additional electricity to do the job.

"One final effect on electric usage of the kind of weather we have been experiencing," said Mr. Morgan, "is that people tend to stay at home more. As a result lights, television, radio, etc., are used more than normally."

"When all of these circumstances combine with what is normally a high usage period, such as the Christmas Holidays, it is really not surprising that the general use of electricity is currently setting new records. Even during mild years, Christmas brings a peak of electric usage because of Christmas lighting, entertaining, extra cooking and baking, late hours, children at home rather than in schools, etc.," said Mr. Morgan.

"Finally it is strange, but true, that few people stop to think just how large a part electricity now plays in day to day living habits," commented Mr. Morgan. "Changes have come about gradually and unless we occasionally look back to a less automatic day when most things were done by hand, we are not aware of the extent to which we have come to rely on electricity or just how much it has come to be taken for granted."

First words spoken over the telephone were, "Watson, come here; I want you," spoken by Alexander Graham Bell to his assistant.

BETROTHED

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell, Emmitsburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Helen J. to Edward Reaver, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sheridan Reaver, Keymar, Maryland.

Miss Wivell is a graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg and is employed as a secretary at Mt. St. Mary's College. Mr. Reaver attended the same school and is employed at the Cambridge Rubber Co., Taneytown.

A September wedding is planned.

K. of C. Confers Third Degree

Thirty-five members were present at the regular meeting of Brute Council 1960, Knights of Columbus, held in the Council's Home on the Square Monday evening, Grand Knight Guy A. Baker Sr., presiding.

It was announced that the St. John's Assembly, Fourth Degree, Frederick, would hold a dinner-dance on January 31 and an invitation was extended the local Council to attend the affair. A quarter-page advertisement was authorized for the 60th anniversary program of the Maryland State Council 370, Baltimore, when it observes its anniversary this spring. The building committee reported it was investigating the cost of construction of a new home for the Council and the possible sale of the present home. Lumen F. Norris, banquet committee chairman, reported the affair will be staged in the VFW Annex on Saturday, Feb. 7 starting at 6:30 p. m.

Grand Knight Baker gave a resume of the exemplification of the third degree which was conferred on 70 candidates at Mt. St. Mary's College Sunday. A number of local Knights were among the candidates who received the degree. Local candidates were James Adelsberger, Lawrence Dunne, Richard Little, Maurice Michaels, John Walter, Thomas Zurgable and Francis Adelsberger. One application for membership from J. Harry Scott was received and will be voted on at the next regular meeting. The Grand Knight announced the Council was the winner of a new hi-fi set which was awarded at the Third Degree Banquet held in the Gettysburg American Legion Sunday evening. The group cast ballots for the Knight of the Year selection and the winner will be announced at the coming banquet on Feb. 7. Rev. Fr. James Twomey was judge of election. Decals for the windows of the Council Home were ordered purchased by the financial secretary, Paul A. Keepers. The meeting closed with prayer led by the Council's chaplain, Rev. Fr. Twomey, C.M. Following the business meeting refreshments were served.

The board's decisions are subject to appeal to the Circuit Court by either the roads commission or the property owners. The commission has paid these amounts into Court registry as estimates of the fair values of the properties: Richards, $50; Maddox, $75; and Wivell, $30. On behalf of the property owners, fair value estimates have been $350 to $400 for the Richards land, $400 for the Maddox land and around $200 for the Wivell property.

Papers filed in the proceedings had estimated the land in the takings at .43 of an acre in fee simple and .07 of an acre in slope and drainage easements at the Richards property, about .64 of an acre in fee simple and .09 of an acre in slope and drainage easements from the Maddox land and about .05 of an acre in fee simple and .01 of an acre in slope and drainage easements at the Wivell property near the existing intersection of U. S. 15 and the old Frederick Road.

Edward D. Storm was attorney for all of the property owners.

Former Resident Active In Scouting

A former Emmitsburgian manifesting interest in Girl Scout activities, has made considerable progress in the three years she has been absent from the local front.

Residing in Boston for two years, Mrs. Harry Jones was instrumental in organizing a number of troops. Now residing in Elizabeth, N. J., Mrs. Jones is the leader of Troop 25 and was instrumental in organizing two other troops there. Mrs. Jones is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles E. Shorb, Emmitsburg and continues very active in Scouting. This information came to light this week when the Elizabeth, N. J. Daily Journal ran a three-column picture of Mrs. Jones and members of her troop, along with an interesting story.

All of one's education does not come out of books.

Benefit Dance For Local March Of Dimes Drive

Plans for a social affair to help augment the March of Dimes Drive in the Emmitsburg District call for a dance to be held in the VFW Annex on Saturday evening, January 31.

Lumen F. Norris, general chairman of the drive here announced this week that canisters have been placed in most business establishments and that a benefit dance would be held.

Last year's dance proved to be both a financial and social success with a large turnout patronizing the affair. The chairman reports that it is possible that some type of food will be served prior to the dancing which starts promptly at 9 o'clock. Music for the occasion will be furnished by the Emmitsburg Old-Timers Orchestra which proved so popular last year with the type of dance music it supplied.

Prior to the benefit dance the annual Mothers' March will take place. This canvassing will be held on next Wednesday evening, January 28, between the hours of 7 and 9 p. m. and residents are asked to leave their porch lights on, designating their willingness to contribute.

Mrs. Lumen Norris, general chairman of the Mothers' March, has announced the following solicitors and the sections they will canvass: St. Anthony's, Bertha Sanders; St. Seton Ave., Gloria Martin and Rita Byard; Frailey Road, Etta Mae Norris; Waynesboro Road, Mrs. Raymond Baker; colleges, Mrs. Robert Henke; W. Main St., Mrs. Guy A. Baker Jr.; Mrs. Bruce Flowers, Mrs. Harold Hoke and Mrs. Louis Stoner; E. Main St., Mrs. Connie Topper, Mrs. Kenneth Vaughn, Mrs. Geo. Danner and Mrs. Austin Nussbaum; Emmitt Gardens, Mrs. Robert Koontz; N. Seton Ave., Mrs. Wales Rightmire, Mrs. John Law and Mrs. Betty Goulden; DePaul St., Mrs. Vernon Keilholz and Mrs. Louis Orndorff; Federal Ave., Mrs. Evelyn Ott.

REVIEW BOARD SETS PROPERTY VALUE HERE

The Frederick County Board of Property Review Friday announced awards in three cases involving small unimproved tracts in Emmitsburg district which the State Roads Commission is taking in connection with the modernization of U. S. 15.

Hearings were held before the board Tuesday. The two members of the board who heard the proceedings, Chairman Samuel L. Birely and Sherman P. Bowers, also made personal inspections of the properties.

Mr. Birely announced these awards:

Mr. and Mrs. John W. Richards, near Mt. St. Mary's College, $210.
Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Maddox, of the same section, $180.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarence M. Wivell, just south of Emmitsburg, $50.

The board's decisions are subject to appeal to the Circuit Court by either the roads commission or the property owners.

The commission has paid these amounts into Court registry as estimates of the fair values of the properties: Richards, $50; Maddox, $75; and Wivell, $30.

On behalf of the property owners, fair value estimates have been $350 to $400 for the Richards land, $400 for the Maddox land and around $200 for the Wivell property.

Papers filed in the proceedings had estimated the land in the takings at .43 of an acre in fee simple and .07 of an acre in slope and drainage easements at the Richards property, about .64 of an acre in fee simple and .09 of an acre in slope and drainage easements from the Maddox land and about .05 of an acre in fee simple and .01 of an acre in slope and drainage easements at the Wivell property near the existing intersection of U. S. 15 and the old Frederick Road.

Edward D. Storm was attorney for all of the property owners.

Claims Town Offers Nothing For Youth

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

The front page news of your newspaper dated Friday, Dec. 19, 1958 under the heading "Local Youths Sentenced After Series Of Thefts," and "Juveniles Sentenced To Training School" dated Friday, Jan. 9, 1959, is a very depressing sight. Wouldn't it be a more enjoyable heading if it were something like "Emmitsburg Youths Enjoy New Club?"

In the years gone past I have seen several articles in your newspaper, written by young people, expressing a desire for the things such a club could give them. A club where they could have social functions such as dancing. (Sports hobby shop and library should also be included). These desires have been nothing more than dreams for most of the young people of Emmitsburg. How serious are these dreams to a young person? Very serious, I know, because of those young people of Emmitsburg eight years ago I was one of those young people who had the foresight to know as long as the people of Emmitsburg can talk about a serious matter like this without getting excited, there would NEVER be any constructive action taken.

I took the same action as did most of the young people of Emmitsburg in the past and joined one of the Armed Services. This was a chance for a career, a feeling of belonging and a chance to avoid ever falling prey to the idle social life of Emmitsburg and getting our names under one of those degrading captions that always seem to get on the front page of a newspaper. Many of the young people I grew up with went to schools and others to careers in the cities for much the same reasons; to better themselves and to get away from a community which does not seem to care for its young.

It's wonderful though, this same community will do anything for its aged (meaning no disrespect to the aged) even to the extreme of making one of the oldest customs (serenading newly weds) illegal inside the town limits. This I strongly opposed by writing a letter to the Anything At A Glance column, as a local subscriber, and I might add with the encouragement of a few older citizens of Emmitsburg. As we all know, the law was passed one week after the letter was published.

Question: If a community will go to this length to make its aged comfortable and give them a feeling of belonging. Why can't it do something constructive to make the young people a bit happy and give them a feeling of belonging?

Again I ask, "how serious are these dreams to young people? If you don't know, just look at the front page of your newspaper from time to time. These clubs can do and mean a lot for the young people of a community. I know, because I give some of my time to one of these clubs, in the Asbury Park, N. J. area, almost every week. There is no delinquency among the members of this club. Why? Because people in the community cared for their young and have given them a feeling of belonging.

Answer to the problem: The people of Emmitsburg will have to sacrifice some of their time and money to the development of a social world for the young people of their community. (Many of the young people will help with their time and money.) Remember! They are the Emmitsburg of the future.

This is a public promise, that I will give to any person in Emmitsburg who can come up with a constructive idea for a youth club and a campaign to collect money for the same, $100 towards the club. This might be an inconvenience to me, but it is worth it. "Talk Is Cheap, It Takes Your Time And Money To Build A Youth Club."

Respectfully Yours,
Robert P. Muench

State Mother Being Sought

Mrs. John Howard Hopkins, Chairman of the American Mothers Committee, Inc., for the state of Maryland, has announced the launching of the search for the 1959 State Mother of the Year.

Mrs. Hopkins, who resides at 328 Montgomery Street, Laurel, was honored in 1958 as Maryland Mother of the Year.

Nomination blanks are now being distributed statewide to national women's organizations, religious groups, individuals, and others, and are also available on application to Mrs. Hopkins. All nomination blanks must be filled out in detail and returned to Mrs. Hopkins not later than February 15, 1959.

Qualifications Listed

Qualifications for State and National Mothers, as set up by the American Mothers Committee, Inc. are:

1. That she be a successful mother, as evidenced by the character and achievements of her individual children.
2. That she be an active member of a religious body.
3. That she embody those traits highly regarded in mothers: courage, cheerfulness, patience, affection, kindness, understanding and a homemaking ability.
4. That she exemplify in her life and conduct the precepts of the Golden Rule.

5. That she have a sense of responsibility in civic affairs and that she be active in service for public benefit.
6. That she be qualified to represent the Mothers of America in all responsibilities attached to her role as the national Mother.

When the Mother of 1959 is finally chosen she will be especially honored in the State of Maryland and the Citation of the American Mothers Committee will be conferred upon her by the Governor.

The complete folio of the chosen Mother will be sent to National Headquarters of the American Mothers Committee in New York early in April where a qualified board of judges will be appointed by the National Board of Directors to research all folios and make the choice of the American Mother of 1959 from among the chosen Mothers of all states, the District of Columbia, Hawaii and Puerto Rico. The selected State Mothers and the American Mother of the Year are signally honored during the annual Mothers' conference held each year at the Waldorf-Astoria, New York, during the week immediately preceding National Mother's Day.

The primary objective of the American Mothers Committee is to develop and strengthen the moral and spiritual foundation of the American home. The State and National Mothers are chosen each year as symbols of ideal Motherhood, to emphasize the importance of the role of the Mother in the home, the community, the nation and the world, and to highlight the career of Motherhood.

Cancer Allotment Set For Maryland

The National office of the American Cancer Society has set aside more than $4,330,000 to be used nationally for cancer research for the year 1958-59, it was announced recently by Dr. Frank H. J. Figge, President of the Maryland Division, American Cancer Society.

Dr. Figge said that the Society made 216 grants totaling $4,330,339 to scientists and institutions for cancer research and training in 30 states, the District of Columbia and four European countries.

Nearly $2,000,000 of the total was awarded for research dealing with possible causes and cures for cancer. Nearly $1,000,000 went for research on the pathogenesis or development of cancer.

About $1,000,000 was awarded in the form of "institutional" research grants. These grants were used by universities and other scientific centers to stimulate total level of cancer research.

Nearly $260,000 was invested in studies concerned with the problem of lung cancer. More than $180,000 will provide post doctoral fellowships and scholar grants for young scientists, four of whom will study in Europe.

Today's awards increased the total American Cancer Society research investment to a postwar total of more than $70,000,000.

Mothers' March Will Aid

Polio Drive

An appeal for volunteers for the 1959 March of Dimes Mothers' March was made this week by former U. S. Senator George L. Radcliffe, state chairman of the campaign.

"We are grateful," Senator Radcliffe said, "for the successful Mothers' Marches of previous years, which provided aid to polio patients and supported the research that produced the Salk vaccine. We are grateful, too, for the follow-up by mothers in recent years in encouraging polio vaccinations for all members of all families."

Now, with the March of Dimes tackling other causes of crippling, the Mothers' March becomes more important than ever, he continued.

"All of us are familiar with the suffering caused by arthritis, and many are horrified to realize that it affects children, as well as adults," the chairman said. "We can all imagine the anguish endured by parents of children born with defects, and our hearts go out to them. But sympathy is not enough; practical aid is the solution. The Mothers' March will make that practical aid possible; it will help finance research into the cause, treatment, cure and prevention of these terrible crippling."

"May we hope," Senator Radcliffe concluded, "that women all over the state will volunteer today to join the Mothers' March on January 28 and that this 1959 door-to-door solicitation will be the most triumphantly successful one yet."

Following dinner and entertainment, Mr. Beaver presented gold watches and certificates to ten employees, each of whom have been with the company for 25 or more years. These ten employees were also made members of the Manbeck "25 Year Club."

Two employees were honored with gold and diamond pins for twenty years' service. The other employees eligible for fifteen, ten,

Middle - Atlantic State Granges were on hand when Grange Master, Herschel D. Newsom, "broke ground" for the new building.

The Grange is the only general farm organization owning a headquarters building in the Nation's Capital. Its present building, bought with small contributions made by thousands of members from all parts of the Nation, is located in an area which is to be cleared by the Government for the construction of a Federal Office Building.

In order to clear-the-way for the construction of the Federal Office Building, the Government—through an Order of Taking—took title to the Grange building in January, 1957. After some 20 months of negotiations between Grange and Government officials, an agreement, including provisions for the Grange's construction of a new headquarters building, just around the corner from its present headquarters, was reached.

National Grange Master Newsom explains that completion of the new building is expected in late 1959 or early 1960. Floor space in the new structure will be comparable to that of the existing building and will provide adequate accommodations for the Grange and others now occupying the building.

Three Faces of Crippling—and One of Hope

THE FACE OF BIRTH DEFECTS: This is wistful Richard Farmer, 9, of New York City, who was born with an open spine. He represents some 250,000 U. S. youngsters who are annually born malformed.

THE FACE OF ARTHRITIS: Cheerful Gwen Burdick, 7, of Cleveland, Ohio, has already undergone four years of intensive therapy for rheumatoid arthritis. With her is Nurse Nancy Holland.

THE FACE OF POLIO: This is 6-year-old Andrew Lange of Compton, Calif., whose braced legs are vivid reminders that polio is still a problem to meet.

Andrew, Gwen and Richard are three bright youngsters you won't find riding bicycles in front of your house. You won't find them climbing trees or playing ball in the corner lot. More likely you will find them in hospitals.

When you look into their faces, the three faces of crippling, you know why your support for the March of Dimes now is more urgent than ever. Together they symbolize why the National Foundation has undertaken a new, expanded health program. Medical care and rehabilitation can help them. But the great promise is medical scientific research.

POLIO

Andrew Lange is six. He has been a patient in the March of Dimes-supported Rancho Los Amigos Respiratory Center in Downey, Calif. He symbolizes the crippling that polio holds in store for many of its victims.

During the past few years polio incidence has declined sharply, thanks to Salk vaccine. But what about Andrew? Modern rehabilitation can help restore something of his birthright to health. During 1958 about 50,000 polio victims received this kind of aid from the March of Dimes totaling $18,900,000. Such aid will continue in 1959.

Andrew needed and received the attention that special medical skills can give. These skills are now being applied to aid in the solution of other crippling diseases.

ARTHRITIS

The face of arthritis doesn't always show. The symptoms come and go for some; but when they are present the pain is great. Gwen Burdick, seven, dark-haired, has always been an independent little girl. She doesn't want anyone to do things for her. That spells courage. She's got lots of it.

When Gwen was three years old she developed stiffness of the neck. She had trouble moving her knees and hips. Diagnosis: rheumatoid arthritis. In a Cleveland hospital she was in traction for weeks, then in a plaster cast. For eight months she had to wear braces 24 hours a day, then at night only for another six months. When her mother first heard she had rheumatoid arthritis, she exclaimed: "What? in a child?"

Statistics show that about 16,000 child victims are likely to seek treatment in any given year for rheumatoid arthritis and Still's disease. The National Foundation plans to offer March of Dimes assistance to patients through 18 and will push research that will be meaningful to sufferers of all ages.

BIRTH DEFECTS

Richard Farmer is only nine, but he has been admitted 12 times for treatment in the Institute of Physical Medicine and Rehabilitation in New York City. The Institute receives financial grants from the March of Dimes for various phases of its work.

Richard has birth defects that affect the spine and the head, which go by the medical terms of spina bifida and hydrocephalus. He has had four operations. Now he can walk with the aid of braces and crutches.

Statistics show that each year some 250,000 American infants with some form of birth defect (congenital malformation) come into the world. The National Foundation has pledged patient aid to victims through 18 with birth defects involving the central nervous system, such as spina bifida, hydrocephalus and encephalocele.

Half of these cases are believed to be hereditary; half may be due to injury or infections affecting the embryo in early pregnancy. Research offers the only real hope for a solution, all-out research of the kind that produced the Salk vaccine in less than 20 years. Medical scientific research is the core of the National Foundation's new and expanded program.

THE FACE OF HOPE: This is Miss Carolyn Dale of the Rockefeller Institute for Medical Research, who symbolizes the vast effort being undertaken by the March of Dimes on behalf of all children affected by the Three Faces of Crippling.

THE HOPE

The research program financed by the March of Dimes covers the problems of polio, arthritis, birth defects, and basic research in various diseases and disorders of the central nervous system. As new leads are discovered, they will be pursued with vigor. The underlying aim of the new program is the improvement of man's health. The speed with which the program develops depends in large part on results of the 1959 March of Dimes.

Poison For The Mind

A group representing a nationwide church organization, the largest in America, recently urged, in a formal declaration that the United States recognize Communist China and bring her into the United Nations. A few weeks prior to this church organization's support of world Communism, two of the hundreds of church missionaries imprisoned by the Chinese Communists were released and appeared in Hong Kong en route to America.

One was a gaunt, shattered, ghost of a man whose eyes stared blankly and who mumbled nice words about the Communists—in a sing-song cadence like a Victrola record stuck in a groove. His companion clergyman was more rational; he told of their horrible experiences as prisoners of the atheistic Communists. On my desk is an official report on the slaughter of innocent citizens by the Chinese Communists—20,000,000 in the first few years of the Red dictatorship, with an estimated additional 23,000,000 held under brutal forced labor imprisonment. With this report are photographs showing kneeling men, women, and children, innocent of any genuine wrongdoing, being shot in the back of the head with Communist-held rifles. One other current item: an AP dispatch carrying eye-witness reports of the firing squad, mass executions of Chinese citizens resisting the breaking up of families under the rigid "commune" system now being enforced at gunpoint throughout China. The "Pragmatic Thinkers"

What kind of thinking leads a church group to urge recognition and thus world-wide acceptance of such awful brutalities? Could it be the so-called "pragmatic" thinking which began to captivate (and in some cases, capture) influential U. S. educational leaders 30 years ago with the rising dominance of "Progressive Education"? The thinking, which was supported by an extremely important segment of America's educational leadership, goes something like this:

"There are no eternal truths. What was good a generation ago is not good today unless we wish to accept it. Moral principles are made by each generation. When a generation accepts something as good, it's good. If something that used to be bad is accepted by a new generation, then it isn't bad. The reality and acceptance are more important than the measurements of good or bad."

An Enlightening Book

"Communist China," such thinking says, "is a reality; it is stupid not to recognize it; what we consider today to be bad in China could turn out to be good." For 25 years millions of Americans, in their formative years, have been subjected to such thinking and to other radical ideas and practices peddled by various Medicine Men posing as "Progressive" educationists. Sound education in the fundamentals has been subordinated, in many schools, to ridiculous ideas tending to undermine character and discount citizenship responsibilities.

This whole story has finally been recorded and painstakingly documented in a book entitled, "Bending the Twig." The author is Colonel Augustin G. Rudd, who made a distinguished record in both World War I and World War II. It is encouraging to note that the book is in its fourth printing and an imposing list of newspapers and prominent people have endorsed it. In detail, the book shows how the Communists have used the "Progressive Education" movement to the advantage of Communist aims; and after reading it you couldn't be surprised at the Communist-aiding actions of various groups, and some of the attitudes of American high school and college students as shown in studies conducted by several institutions and reported by Colonel Rudd.

For Every Citizen

"Bending the Twig" is not an indictment of the education profession. In fact, Colonel Rudd dedicates his book to "the many valiant educators who have fought vigorously to preserve in our schools and colleges the fundamentals of sound education, and the ideals and principles on which our Republic was founded." And most of our teachers and school administrators are in this category.

However, as so many unmistakable signs indicate, forces determined to destroy the basic structure of our American system and replace it with their philosophy and their special brand of Socialism, have wielded powerful influence in education, and our nation has suffered—still is suffering—greatly from this. I strongly urge every citizen to read "Bending the Twig." It is available at bookstores; or by writing The Bookmiller, Box 101, Murray Hill Station, New York 16, New York.

The School of Nursing was organized in 1889 by Louisa Parsons, a student of Florence Nightingale. It offers both a baccalaureate program and a program leading to the degree of Master of Sciences with a major in nursing.

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Quite some time ago in this column this question was raised.

Why in Washington is it felt permissible, if not moral, for the U. S. to trade with Russia and other Soviet bloc nations, and at the same time immoral to trade with Communist China?

This entire paradoxical situation was thrown into bold relief again when Loring H. Macy, director of the Bureau of Foreign Commerce in U. S. Commerce Dept. address—G. W. Harder recently a meeting of Japanese Chamber of Commerce.

He pointed out that with the U. S. now taking in almost two-thirds of a billion dollars worth of Japanese made goods, this nation is now Japan's No. 1 customer.

Yet at the same time, he pointed out, due to import restrictions and other barriers, American business is handicapped in trying to sell to Japan.

The government official admitted steadily increasing influx of Japanese made goods, which has more than doubled in four years, is causing hardship to many segments of U. S. business.

And he also was quite plain in telling visiting Nipponese despite protests, there is no intention by the U. S. government to clamp down on these imports.

In fact he said "We are committed to a healthy expansion of world trade and assistance for the free world, including Japan, in every reasonable way."

Later on he said "Both Japan and the U. S. have dynamic free enterprise economies."

and the U. S. have dynamic free enterprise economies."

Apparently this official is unfamiliar with the fact that although Gen. Douglas MacArthur broke up the age old Japanese cartels, as soon as he was called home, the big Japanese cartels set up business again.

But the entire tenor of this official's remarks could well be interpreted to mean that it is government policy to keep Japanese business healthy as long as the Japs don't sell to Communist China even if it means ruining many American businesses.

Thus, the picture gets more and more confused. U. S. trade with Russia continues to grow. Yet, rather than have Japan trade with a natural trade area, China, it is apparently the American policy to try somehow to absorb the major share of Japanese products even though the Japanese pricing, pegged to its fantastically low wage rate, is far below what American business can compete with.

This, then, becomes a great paradox of modern times.

It can perhaps be argued with merit U. S. aim should be to encourage free world not to trade with communistic nations.

Yet, it seems logical there should be some consistency, if this premise is sound.

And when the U. S. forbids trade with China, but trades with Russia, and gives aid to communistic Yugoslavia, it appears to be one of the most lurid exhibitions of "off again, on again, gone again, Finnegan" policy that has been known to history. Mr. Dulles' State Dept. seems to have quirks of reasoning much too devious for the ordinary American citizen to comprehend.

EHS LINERS TAKE TWO GAMES DURING WEEK

The Emmitsburg High School Liners in a home game handed Lincoln its first cage defeat of the season 54-53 on the former's home court. Behind one point with but three seconds to go, Morris Zentz was fouled and he sank two from the line to give the Liners the win.

Zentz has been leading county cage scorers with an average of 23 points a game. Monday night he turned in a high performance of 25.

Emmitsburg had held the lead for most of the contest, but Lincoln bounced back with a 21-point fourth quarter while their hosts were making but 13. The win gave Emmitsburg an 8-2 mark for the season to date.

Emmitsburg High School defeated St. Joseph's High 79-44 Friday night with Morris Zentz setting pace with 35 points. Humerick was second high for Emmitsburg High with 21 points.

Tonight, the Liners travel to Brunswick to try to topple their hosts unbeaten mark. Brunswick was the only county school Monday to retain an undefeated record.

What Is The Largest "Woman's Club" In Maryland?

136,500 Women Who Save Trading Stamps Are The Largest "Woman's Club" In Maryland.

Every day over 136,500 Maryland women make it a point to shop where they get trading stamps. This large group of smart, thrifty Maryland shoppers, with their common interest in trading stamps, can be thought of as a huge "woman's club" with membership in the state.

Of course this "club woman" gets wonderful things for her home and family through such favorites as S&H Green Stamps. Through her thrift and diligence she provides "extras" for her family. And although she may seldom think about it, her active saving is enormously good for business in our state.

Last year, for example, trading stamp companies purchased $5,416,000 worth of products from Maryland manufacturers. Making these things provided jobs for 517 Maryland people. S&H Redemption Stores, paying local rent and taxes, employ many more.

In the light of these facts it would seem that not only Maryland women, but everybody in the state can be thankful that the trading stamp is a part of our way of life.

This message is published as public information by THE SPERRY AND HUTCHINSON COMPANY, originator 63 years ago of S&H Green Stamps.

BABSON

Writes...

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses The Greatest Coming Invention

BABSON PARK, Mass., Jan. 22—Everyone knows the force of gravity. The baby learns it when he first falls to the floor;

the child learns it when he slides down the stair banister; and so it goes. I got one of my main lessons when I worked for the Adirondack Power Company at Niagara Falls, New York. The greatest illustration in the world is at Kariba Gorge, on the Zambezi River in Africa, where I have been in the past few months.

Harnessing Gravity

Gravity, like electricity, will some day be harnessed as a source of cheap power. It is true that we do not know what gravity is or where it comes from. Gravity waves go thru buildings just as do radio waves, which we also know little about. We do not know where electricity comes from or how it travels. With all the power it possesses, we cannot see electricity or magnetism.

Gravity is the only known physical force that cannot yet be retarded. We can insulate against heat or cold; we can shut off light by pulling a window shade or closing a blind; but retarding gravity even 10% has thus far been impossible. Of course, no one wants to eliminate it 100%, as we would rise to the moon without it, whether we wanted to or not!

Anti-Gravity Studies

It is, however, very important that the downfall of gravity be regulated or partially insulated. Certain airplane companies are now feverishly working on this problem. The U. S. Defense Department is hoping that Russia will not discover the solution before we do. A partial insulation of gravity would revolutionize the making of rockets, missiles, and all "spunkies" or "luniks." Its regulation could also render partial relief to the 10,000,000 U. S. citizens who suffer from arthritis, brucitis, or other rheumatic troubles.

Therefore I am especially interested in the educational work which the Gravity Research Foundation of New Boston, New Hampshire is doing. Here is a humble organization which is trying to discover a means of preventing people from "getting tired" when working in factories, homes, or stores. As air-conditioning adds so much to the well-being of people during the hot weather, a slight retarding of the force of gravity in the factory and home would do much to keep manual workers and mothers from "getting tired" at their jobs.

Getting Overtired Is Dangerous

Most colds and many illnesses are now caused by getting overtired. Every physician will tell you this. We never "catch cold" when we were rested and healthy and have proper sleep and diet. Even shopping is a tiresome chore. Think how the stores where gravity could be retarded would get the patronage! Moreover, the stores would be able to regulate this gravity pull by a thermostat, letting it be "natural" in the morning and decreasing its pull toward the end of the day when everyone feels tired.

I believe that investors should be interested in the studies of the Gravity Research Foundation. The total efficiency of every plant would naturally speed up if the workers did not "get tired" during the latter part of the day. Time studies will prove this. I further believe that "getting tired" is a basic cause of many strikes which are so destructive both to good will and to profits. Regulation of the gravity pull would do much for industrial peace. Fatigue is the great enemy of man.

Increasing Sales

Let me conclude by referring to my own experience. It is very hard for anyone to sell anything, — land, stocks, merchandise, or even an idea, when I am tired. If this is true of me, it should be true of 75,000,000 other adults in the U. S. Think how sales of all kinds would increase if, upon going into a store, we would feel refreshed and anxious to buy. Of course, the ability to regulate gravity pull by a thermostat and thus prevent people from getting tired has not yet been achieved. Neither has a cure for cancer and other scourges; but I can assure readers all these are on the way.

Every dairy farmer will share in them; no one can offer him less.

St. Joseph's High School News

A Post Exam dance will be held in St. Joseph's auditorium this evening, Friday, Jan. 23. Exams were conducted in the high school this past week terminating Thursday afternoon. Friday was a holiday.

The National Poetry Association of Los Angeles, Calif., awarded certificates to the following students of St. Joseph's High School: Justin Wasilfsky, Noreen Hayes, Patricia, Martins, juniors; Una Lee Simmons, Sophomore; and Darlene Fitz, freshman. Their poems will be published in the anthology of this association. Justin Wasilfsky's poem received special mention.

Justin Wasilfsky has been selected as teen representative of St. Joseph's High School by the Extension magazine. He received honorable mention in the Extension's Teen Board Editor Contest. He is one of three in the State of Maryland who will represent the teenagers of America in a nationwide contest conducted by the Extension Magazine.

The Annual Charity Bazaar conducted by the C.S.M.C. unit of St. Joseph's High School will be held Friday, February 6, from one to five-thirty p. m. In the evening at eight p. m. the Valentine Dance will follow the bazaar. At this dance the King and Queen and other members of the court who have been chosen in a popularity contest will be announced and crowned. The Senior class has the food table, coke stand, telegrams, games; the Juniors will have bingo, the post, religious articles, movie; the Freshmen have charge of the fancy article table, grab-bag, special chances. The public is invited.

On January 15 the Silver Fancy Garden Club met at the home of Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson with Mrs. F. M. Butler presiding.

After a short business meeting, Mrs. A. A. Koswick, program chairman, showed an interesting colored movie on "Keep Maryland Beautiful." The report on the following December activities was read by the secretary.

On December 11 the club held its annual Christmas Party at the Hotel Gettysburg. The tables were beautifully decorated with Christmas greens, a center piece of red carnations, and favors for each member. After the luncheon, presents were exchanged. Arrangements for the party were in charge of Mrs. Andrew Eyster, chm., Mrs. T. J. Frailey, and Mrs. George Thompson, all of Emmitsburg.

The club also decorated the chapel at the Hoffman Orphanage with ropes of laurel and wreaths; and supplied sixty table favors, filled with candy, made by the members.

On the annual Christmas Door Decorations contest the results were as follows:

Mrs. C. B. Shaughnessy, Emmitsburg, 1st prize; Mrs. Hewitt MacPherson, Taneytown, 2nd; Mrs. Claude White, Littlestown, 3rd, and Mrs. Andrew Eyster, Emmitsburg and Mrs. Edward Richardson, Littlestown, honorable mention. Judges were Mrs. R. L. Sebastian, Mrs. H. H. Hubbard and Mrs. F. T. Elliot.

Refreshments were in charge of Mrs. F. M. Butler and Mrs. George Thompson.

The next meeting will be held Feb. 19 at the home of Mrs. Louis Michea, Taneytown, Md.

Troxell—Cianelli

Miss Patricia Oliva Cianelli, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Nick Cianelli, Hagerstown, and Richard Wastler Troxell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Russell Troxell, R2, Thurmont, were married January 16 in St. John's Episcopal Church, Hagerstown. Rev. Stephen Walker performed the ceremony.

Kenneth Eckstine, organist played a recital of wedding music. He also accompanied the soloist, John Whitmore.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a full-length gown of Chantilly lace and illusion. She carried a white prayer-book and a lavender orchid with a shower of satin ribbons.

Miss Janice Barnes, attendant for the bride, wore a ballerina frock of mauve nylon criflon. She carried a nosegay of iris, daisies, and forget-me-nots, centered with red rosebuds.

Theodore Troxell, of Thurmont, served as best man for his brother, William Kaetzel, of Williamsport, and James Carbaugh, of Thurmont, were ushers.

For her daughter's wedding the mother of the bride selected a gray organza gown.

The bridegroom's mother chose an ensemble of midnight blue.

A reception followed the ceremony at the home of the bride.

The bride, a soloist in Hagerstown, is a graduate of the Hagerstown High School in 1955, and is a member of the office staff of the Pangborn Corporation.

The bridegroom is a graduate of Thurmont High School and is employed by the Stouter Fuel Service Company in Emmitsburg.

On Youth Sunday

"Windbreaks," six stories of the rural church as a windbreak against erosion of the soul, soon to be published, includes as its final chapter the story of the Frederick County Christian Youth Council. Its author, J. Martin Bailey of New York City, will come to speak to the youth of the county churches at their annual Youth Sunday celebration, February 1 at Walkersville.

Mr. Bailey will speak at the 7 p. m. service, to which all interested persons, whether young or adult, are invited. Reservations are required for the earlier part of the rally which starts with registration at 2 p. m. in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Rev. E. Koontz, Helwig, pastor. They should be sent to Ron E. Smith, Youth Week chairman, Walkersville, by Tuesday, January 27.

The author of "Windbreaks" is a young minister of the United Church of Christ who graduated from the State University of Iowa and Eden Theological Seminary and took his master's degree in journalism at Northwestern University. He is at present business manager of the International Journal of Religious Education.

"Windbreaks" will be the youth study book for the home theme, "Town and Country Churches," in the interdenominational mission study series for 1959-60.

During the current season the churches which unite in the National Council of Churches have as their home missions study theme "Our North American Neighbors" and as their foreign, or world, theme, "The Middle East."

Hagerstown Leads Catholic Loop

Defending champion St. Maria Goretti of Hagerstown is making a determined bid to retain its crown in the five-school Blue Ridge Catholic League with a 4-0 record it was announced this week by league statistician Bob Scrivener.

The unbeaten Gaels who boast an overall record of 7-0, are being contested only by St. John's of Westminster which has won both of its starts. St. John's of Frederick is currently lodged in third place with a 2-2 record and trailing the field are St. Joseph's of Emmitsburg and St. Joseph's of Martinsburg with 0-3 logs.

Individual statistics for the 8 league games played to date reveal St. John's of Frederick boasts the top scorer and leading rebounder. Guard Martin Quill has dumped in 95 points in four outings for a sizzling 23.7 average while his teammate, Bob Hartman, has been credited with 60 rebounds.

Quill also ranks as the circuit's top foul shooter with 13 for 17, a respectable .764 mark.

In scoring, Steve Bourexis of St. John's of Westminster is runnerup with an 18.0 average. Ed Mumma and Bill Wills of St. Maria Goretti are among the rebound leaders with 48 and 46 respectively.

In team departments, St. Maria Goretti is the offensively leading with a 56.7 average while St. John's of Frederick is tops defensively with a prevention mark of 35.5.

Thurmont Woman To Host Child Care Group

Mrs. William McPherson McGill, of Thurmont, who is a member of the Board of the Maryland Committee for Group Day Care for Children will be hostess at a meeting of the leaders in the field of Education, Health and Welfare in Frederick County at her home, "Wild Rose Lodge" next Monday at two o'clock.

The subject will be "Who Pinch Hits for Mother." The committee is concerned with the need for Day Care for children of working mothers throughout the State.

Dr. John M. Arthur is chairman of the Maryland Committee. Dr. Arthur was psychiatrist for the Child Study Center, a school for emotionally disturbed children. The speakers at the meeting in Thurmont will be Mrs. Leon M. Ginsberg and Mrs. Guy Hudson Parr, both honorary ex-chairman of the Maryland Committee.

They will be the house guests of Mrs. McGill and on Tuesday, January 27, will be guests of honor at a luncheon given by Mrs. Max Greenwald at the Alexander Hamilton Hotel in Hagerstown, where they will meet with distinguished leaders in the field of Health, Education and Welfare in Washington County.

Mrs. George W. Bollinger

Mrs. Alice Susan Bollinger, 90, died suddenly Friday morning at 7:45 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Daywalt, Gettysburg, with whom she had resided for about seven years.

Death was caused by a cerebral hemorrhage. She had been in declining health following a stroke about 10 years ago.

Her husband, the late George W. Bollinger, died a number of years ago. The former Alice Susan Herr, she was a native of Adams County and was a member of the Mt. Joy Lutheran Church.

Among survivors are three children: Maurice W. Bollinger, Gettysburg; Mrs. Earl Sites, Baltimore, and Mrs. Charles Wagaman, Emmitsburg.

EYLER RITES HELD

Funeral services were held from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, Friday afternoon for Robert David Eyer, 69, Emmitsburg R1, who died on Tuesday morning. The Rev. Philip Bower officiated and interment was in Mt. View Cemetery, Emmitsburg. Pallbearers were Laurence Orendorf, Albert Freshour, Oscar Fogle, Francis Eiker, Edward Seltzer and Charles Baker. In addition to the survivors previously published, these half-sisters also survive: Mrs. Stella Synder and Mrs. Gertrude Stamm, Baltimore, and Mrs. Mary Overholtzer, Gettysburg.

Senator Barrick Introduces Bill

Frederick County's new State Senator, Samuel W. Barrick, last Thursday introduced an emergency measure in the State Senate to authorize the appointment of a deputy state's attorney for this county at an annual proposed salary of $3,600.

Barrick said introduction of the measure had been planned for some time and had no connection with the pending court action against State's Atty. Edwin F. Nikirk on a charge of evading federal income taxes.

Foley Bill Would Create Park

Congressman John R. Foley of Maryland's Sixth Congressional District introduced legislation in the House of Representatives to establish the Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park.

The legislation is a companion bill to that introduced last week in the Senate by Senator Glen Beall of Maryland.

The bill will establish as a National Park one of the last great historic, scenic and recreational areas in the eastern United States, an area destined to be overcrowded by an expanding population.

Mr. Foley emphasized the bipartisan nature of the proposed legislation and referred to it as of improved benefit to the State of Maryland and the nation, as well as the citizens in the Sixth District. The new House bill carries an important proviso as follows: "That designation of lands for Chesapeake and Ohio Canal National Historical Park purposes shall not debar, or limit, or abridge its use for such works as Congress may in the future authorize for improvement and extension of navigation or flood control, or irrigation, or drainage, or for the development of hydroelectric power or other purposes." This proviso points up the fact that the Congress can at any time develop the Potomac Basin as the needs of the area develop.

Foley also announced that the proposed legislation will authorize acquisition of lands situated along the Canal from Washington, D. C. to the vicinity of Cumberland, Maryland. He expressed his hope that this bi-partisan, public-interest legislation would be considered early in the present session of Congress, and hope for early passage so that development of the park area could begin in the very near future.

Mikoyan Enjoys Ice Cream

Asantas I. Mikoyan, the Kremlin's second most important man, has more to his credit than three Orders of Lenin—he put American ice cream on the Russian menu.

Mikoyan, who is the only member of the Soviet hierarchy to visit the U. S., arrived in New York on Jan. 4 for a two-week tour.

But he got his first taste of American ice cream in 1936, when he came to the U. S. for three months as the head of an industrial survey team.

According to the research department of The World Book Encyclopedia, he went home with American techniques of canning, meat packing, food freezing and ice cream making.

Since then, the typically American treat has become a Russian favorite.

Prominent Leaders Back Heart Drive

Two prominent national Heart Association leaders will join American Heart President Dr. Francis L. Chamberlain in Maryland Heart Fund opening ceremonies at Baltimore.

The 1959 Maryland Heart Kick-off Luncheon on Wednesday, January 28, will be attended by Dr. George E. Wakerlin, medical director of the American Heart Association, and by William W. Moore, Jr., National Director of Fund Raising. The principal speaker of the day has been announced as Dr. Chamberlain who became President of the Heart Association in October.

Dr. Wakerlin is well known in medical circles for his contributions to research, especially in the field of high blood pressure. In his post with the American Heart Association, he is responsible for planning and directing the medical and scientific programs of the national group.

Mr. Moore has administrative responsibility for the annual Heart Association and its affiliates and chapters. The Heart Fund drive is the chief source of income for the programs of research support, education and community service in the field of heart and circulatory diseases conducted by the Heart Associations.

Marines Ease Commission Rule

The road to a commission in the U. S. Marines Corps has been shortened for young men who want to wear pilot's wings.

Two years of college, rather than the usual baccalaureate degree, will be the educational requirement when the Corps starts its new Aviation Cadet Program in July, 1959.

Designed to supplement rather than replace existing Marine Corps Officer Training Programs, the program is especially tailored for the young man with 60 semesters or 90 quarter hours of unduplicated college work who either can't or doesn't want to continue in school immediately.

These men, who previously had no certain road to a Marine Corps commission, can now look forward to fulfilling their obligation as officers if they can meet certain other qualifications.

Applicants must be U. S. citizens, of unquestioned moral integrity and of commissioned officer caliber with a high motivation for flying. They must be at least 18 but less than 25. All must be unmarried and agree to remain so until commissioned. In addition, they must pass a physical examination and be aeronautically adapted for duty involving the actual control of aircraft.

Selected applicants will be assigned to Pensacola, Fla., for flight training as Marine Corps Aviation Cadets. Upon completion they will be appointed second lieutenants and designated as Naval Aviators.

Although actual assignment to the program is some six months away, selection will begin early and Marine Corps headquarters is urging interested men to check into their chances now. In formation can be obtained by contacting Gunnery Sergeant Howard W. Higgins at 10 West Franklin Street, Hagerstown, Md., phone REgent 3-7080 or by writing the Marine Corps Officer Selection Officer, 7th and E Streets, Washington 4, D. C.

There are nearly 60,000 children of school age in the State of Maryland who have speech and hearing handicaps serious enough to require scientific treatment. This is true in spite of new knowledge of causes and treatments which have been developed in university clinics across the nation over the past thirty years.

The University of Maryland Speech Clinic at College Park is attempting to meet the needs of the State, counties, and local areas by providing qualified personnel for handling communication problems for both children and adults. Since 1948 when the clinic was established, the university has graduated more than 200 students in speech and therapy who are working in Maryland and other states.

Although the university graduates approximately 15 undergraduate and graduate students each year, the number falls far short of the needs of the State. In addition to the regular academic program, the clinic has trained more than 1500 classroom teachers who are now able to identify speech and hearing disorders and refer cases for professional treatment.

It has been predicted that the State will need 200 additional therapists in the next five years. These therapists will come from the ranks of students now in high school.

For young people, the field of speech and hearing science offers an interesting career and a lifetime of opportunity for service to humanity.

Good Posture Week Observance Set

Correct Posture Week will be observed in Maryland May 1-7, it was announced today by Dr. A. D. Barad, president of the Maryland Chiropractic Association.

Plans are being made to have a Correct Posture poster contest in a selected group of schools in the state. Dr. Barad said, adding that the contest is being carried on a pilot basis this year so as to gain experience for other years.

Dr. Barad declared: "Maryland will be participating in this important nationwide campaign, sponsored by the National Chiropractic Association as a public service to call attention to the relation of correct posture and good health.

"We shall be picking a posture queen and carrying out a series of educational efforts through speeches by chiropractors and by radio and TV presentations.

"Your posture is an aid to general health, and we all want to make it clear that slouching backward or forward or any way invites an abnormal spine, induces pain, wastes energy, and encourages diseases."
