Old Man Winter showed us there was a bit of life remaining in his carcass last Sunday when he cut loose with what we hope will be his last fling at us for this year. As a manifestation of what power he still has at his command he dumped anywhere from three to six inches of that white stuff upon our heads. It was entirely unexpected as we were all set for Spring. Many have their gardens well under way, yards cleaned and even started painting things about the premises. The Old Man quickly called a halt to these preparations by creating a new weather record of more snow at this time of the year than we have had in the past 30 years. We sincerely hope he has made his final charge.

Well here we are folks, another town election is facing us once again. Many of you will remember how I plugged for a longer registration period last year, but it was all in vain because we go into this year's registration under exactly the same rules and regulations we have conformed to the past century. You must be registered on Monday or else. No excuse and no privileges extended anyone. I maintained last year, and I am still of the same opinion at this date, that additional opportunities should be made available to those desiring to register in the town election. It is a well known fact that people sometimes are on their vacation when registration day comes; they could be called out of town on business; they could become sick; many things could possibly happen to cause them to miss out on the registration. Just why does it have to be designated on one designated day? I know of one particular case where a man must attend a convention this time of year. For the past five years he has missed this registration because he was attending this convention. It is highly possible that he may never be registered—under the present setup. I feel certain that more could be registered and voting would be more spirited if an additional day could be assigned for the purpose of registering. To change this election structure all that would be necessary is for the council to agree to make the change, permitting the mayor, commissioners, or tax collector, to register potential voters in the town office, say a week prior to the election. I would think this would give all an ample opportunity to register and exercise their privilege of voting for their town officials. Tidbits from the grapevine have it that there will be a number of candidates for the offices this year but then these sort of rumors are always prevalent prior to the election. You hardly have room for a gripe about the way the town is being run if you don't take out time enough to vote, and even if you haven't a gripe to air, it is your civic duty to register and vote.

Things seem to move rather slow in our small village but the movement is deceptive. Why just perusing last year's April issues of the Chronicle I observed a story relating to the proposed new sewer line. The story went on to describe what was holding up the plans for the new project and it was revealed that Mayor Frailey and the Council were having a little difficulty obtaining a right-of-way for the line. This was just exactly one year ago. In just a few more weeks this major project will have been completed. So, things really do move locally at a rather rapid pace even though we are prone to believe otherwise.

SPRING BAZAAR

The Spring Bazaar sponsored by the PTA of St. Joseph's High School, will be held in the school auditorium on Saturday, April 18. Activities will commence at 3 p. m. and will continue until about 9 p. m. On hand for the amusement of the crowd will be many games, refreshments, and entertainment. A feature of the affair will be the serving of plate lunches.

Few of us know our real friends until we meet with misfortune or difficulty.

Alumnae Will Gather At Local College

Alumnae from every section of the United States will gather in Emmitsburg on Saturday, April 25th to celebrate the 150th anniversary of Saint Joseph College. More than 500 guests are expected to participate, representing graduates from as far back as 50 years ago.

Founded in 1809 by Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, Saint Joseph College will focus its complete attention in April on alumnae activities. The Most Reverend Francis P. Keough, D.D., Archbishop of Baltimore, will celebrate a Pontifical Mass in the college chapel, with the sermon to be delivered by the Most Reverend Jerome D. Sebastian, D.D., Auxiliary Bishop of the Baltimore Archdiocese.

Following a sesquicentennial luncheon, the day's program will be featured by a schedule of reunion activities recalling the various stages of the Saint Joseph College history, from the days of Mother Seton's arrival in Emmitsburg in 1809, to the present modern college.

Among Baltimoreans who will figure prominently in the special anniversary observance are Miss Mary Lou Manning, national president of the Saint Joseph College Alumnae; Mrs. Edward A. Flanagan, chairman of the Alumnae Sesquicentennial celebration; Mrs. Louis H. Van Hollen, president of the Baltimore chapter of alumnae; and Mrs. Raymond Ackerman and Mrs. Joseph Joyce, members of the national executive council on alumnae affairs.

A tribute to the assembled alumnae to Mother Seton, to be presented at the tomb of their beloved foundress, will be offered under the direction of Mrs. Edwin Grimes of Baltimore. A toast to the Class of 1934, celebrating its silver jubilee within the sesquicentennial observance, will be made by Mrs. Joseph May, also of Baltimore.

Nominations Made For Thurmont Town Offices

Nominations for town offices at Thurmont were made at a meeting held Tuesday in the Thurmont Fire Hall.

Annual elections will be held April 27. At the general community meeting nominations were held as follows:

For president of the town board: Donald Lewis, Calvin Wilhide and P. M. Little.

For town commissioners (two to be elected): Robert Fink, Earl Hoffman, William Lidie and James Black.

Two other commissioners whose offices are not up for election are C. R. Ambrose and Charles Reid. Ambrose has also been serving as acting mayor since last December, when Ray Weddle resigned to take another position.

Lions Club To Set Horse Show Date

Twenty-two members were present at the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening at Fitzgerald's Inn, President Charles F. Stoutier presiding. Present also were three Lion guests from Westminster.

A thank-you note for a recent contribution was read from the Easter Seal Treatment Center in Frederick. Paul W. Playcool, general chairman of the talent show, gave an account of the affair held last Friday night. Dr. D. L. Beegle, sight conservation committee chairman, reported an application for eyeglasses had been received from a local family residing on R1 and that recently glasses had been purchased for two local individuals.

In the absence of the Horse Show general chairman, Dr. Beegle, co-chairman, announced the show had been entered in the Penn-Maryland Horse Show Assn. this year and that his committee soon would select a date for the event. For the past 10 years the show was a member of the Maryland Horse Show Assn.

President Stoutier announced the following nominating committee: Arthur Elder, Paul Claypool and Joseph C. Haley. The committee will place in nomination the names of the potential new officers at the next regular meeting. The annual election will take place in May.

Firemen Nominate

One of the busiest months in the history of the Vigilant Hose Co. was reported at the regular monthly meeting of that organization held Tuesday night in the Fire Hall, President John J. Hollinger presiding.

Fire Chief John S. Hollinger reported 17 calls were received during the past month, making a total of 30 this early in the year. Last year there were only 36 calls made in all.

Announcement was read from the Civil Defense of Frederick County asking the support of the firemen when the alert will be sounded today.

The nominating committee placed in nomination the following names for the various organization offices: President, John J. Hollinger; vice president, Guy A. Baker Sr., and Ted Elliot; secretary, J. Edward Houck; treasurer, Guy R. McLaughlin, John Gilman and Kenneth 'Ike' Vaughn; chief, John S. Hollinger; first assistant chief, Sterling White and Allen Davis; second assistant chief, Charles F. Stoutier and Brooke Damuth; directors, Guy A. Baker Sr., George L. Danner, William Martin and Charles Hartdagen.

Herman Toms, district forest warden, spoke briefly before the group and highly commended it for the excellent work done by firefighting and fire prevention. He also had projected two movies pertinent to this type of work.

The annual financial drive will begin with the canvas of the town on May 5. Delegates named to attend the annual state convention in Ocean City, Md., June 17-19 are: John S. Hollinger, Sterling White, J. E. Houck, John J. Hollinger and Charles Stoutier.

Alternates named are John Law, Ted Topper, Allen Davis, George Danner and Carroll Eyer. A banquet honoring those members who recently completed the basic course for firemen, will be held at Fitzgerald's on May 7. It was announced that the May meeting will start at 8 p. m. due to Daylight Saving Time.

Present at the meeting was the Burgess and Commissioners who discussed the available water reserve of the town for use in an emergency.

Youth Hurt When Car Clips Off Pole

A Thurmont youth was injured Friday evening and the car he was driving damaged to the extent of $300 when it ran off U. S. 15 between Emmitsburg and Mt. St. Mary's College and clipped off a utility pole.

State police said Francis William Welch, about 20, Thurmont R1, was driving south when the 1950 Chevrolet went off the roadway and clipped off a pole. After clipping the pole, the car continued across a lawn and came back onto the road.

The injured youth was brought to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, by a passing motorist. Trooper William F. Davis, who investigated the accident, which occurred at 11:45 p. m., said that charges are pending.

Lewis S. Kugler

Lewis Samuel Kugler, Emmitsburg, died Wednesday morning in the Wolford Bible Convalescent Home at Fountaine, Pa., at the age of 76. He was the husband of Carrie Lantz Kugler. Mr. Kugler was the son of the late Samuel R. and Sarah Jane Wetzel Kugler. He is survived by his wife and two sons, John R. Kugler, Cullen; and Earl S. Kugler, Emmitsburg. A grandchild also survives.

Mr. Kugler was a member of Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, and the I.O.O.F. of Thurmont. He was a janitor at Emmitsburg High School from 1923 to 1953.

Funeral services will be held this afternoon (Friday) at 2 p. m. at the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. Philip Bower officiating. Interment will be in Mountview Cemetery.

Lee Koontz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert L. Koontz, was bitten in the leg by a dog near his home in Emmitt Gardens last Thursday. He was treated by a local physician and received 15 stitches in his leg.

AIR ALERT TODAY

This morning at 11:30 a. m., all Civil Defense sirens will be activated in sounding an Alert Signal Exercise. There will be a three-minute continuous blast given throughout Frederick County. At 1:30 this afternoon the "Take Cover" signal will be sounded by intermittent short blasts for a period of two minutes.

12-Year-Old Is Contest Winner

The third annual Talent Show sponsored by the Emmitsburg Lions Club probably won't go down in history as a resounding financial success but it will be remembered for the high-caliber talent displayed on the Emmitsburg High School stage last Friday night. Inclement weather undoubtedly was the main factor in the poor attendance.

Lumen F. Norris, emcee, kept the show moving at a rapid clip and the winners were chosen by the results of an applause meter. In all there were 12 contestants and groups shown during the evening. Proceeds of the affair will be used for community welfare work by the Lions Club.

Paul Claypool, general chairman, opened the show and introduced Lion President Charles F. Stoutier, who thanked the audience for its interest.

Ronald Van Brakle, 12-year-old Emmitsburg singer, won first prize of $25. Second and winning $15 were the Playboys, Frederick, and third and winning $10 was the Ken Phillips Jazz Band from Mt. St. Mary's College.

Other acts in the show were: The Delmonties, vocal group from Frederick, John F. Diggs, Daniel E. Fisher, Paul Lewis, Lawrence Brown and Donald K. Lyles, who sang "My Darling" and "I Need Your Love So Bad." Jack O'Connell, Mt. St. Mary's College, calypso singer with guitar.

Larry Orendorf, 15, Emmitsburg, accordion solo, "Lady Of Spain" and "Jealousy." John Kiser and Jack Bubrick, Frederick, balancing and tumbling act.

The Rockets, Hanover, Iona Wiles and Jean Smith, trumpet; Donald Sterner, trombone; Frederick Rutter and Gordon Gephart, drums, "The Saints" and "I've Had It."

Don Sterner, 13, Hanover, accordion solo. Karen Lou Wisotzky, 11, Thurmont, acrobatic gymnastics with music.

Becky Mumma, 14, Rocky Ridge, piano solo, "Glowworm." Linda Wireman and Lola Wisotzky, both 12, Thurmont, tap dance duet.

Grange To Present Program

The Emmitsburg Grange held its regular meeting on Wednesday evening in the Lutheran Parish Hall with the members of Glade Valley Grange as guests. Following the opening song, "Beautiful Grange," the secretary's report was approved as presented. The business of the Grange was conducted by the Master, Bernard Welty. It was decided to give $2.50 for use of the AAA to transport students to the Safety Patrol Parade in Washington. It was decided to go to Jefferson for Friendship Night on May 7 to furnish the program at that Grange. Following the business, the program was turned over to Sister Eaves of Walkersville, and the Glade Valley Grange furnished the program for the evening.

The theme of the program was "Spring" and everyone joined in to help welcome it to each one of us.

Winners of the adult dress contest were: 1st, Mrs. Loy Hess; 2nd, Mrs. Ethel Baumgardner; 3rd, Mrs. Clara Harner. Violet Kefauver placed first in the youth group. The meeting closed with the Master reminding everyone to be present for Pomona meeting, April 25, in Emmitsburg at the Lutheran Parish House. The next regular meeting of the local Grange will be at the high school.

Baseball Practice

Another practice session for the Emmitsburg players of the Pen-Mar League has been scheduled for 1:30 Sunday afternoon at Community Field. All those interested in playing for the town team this year are asked to be present at this practice session. The league opens Sunday, April 26.

Card Party

A benefit card party will be held by the Holy Name Society of St. Anthony's Church on Wednesday, April 22, in the parish hall. As an added attraction to patrons a new rotary lawn mower will be awarded as a door prize. The public is invited to attend the affair.

If you never advertise, some people will never hear of you, or what you have to offer. Proper advertising will often sell a poor product; it will invariably sell a good one.

Achievement Night Designated

Wednesday evening, April 22 at 7:00 o'clock, the doors of the Emmitsburg Public School will be open to all parents and friends who wish to visit the school.

The affair has been set aside as Achievement Night for which all activities that have been done by students in both the elementary and high school, will be on display.

The elementary children will have social studies projects, arithmetic charts, science units art work, reading dioramas, creative writing, dramatizations and other activities which show many skills the students have learned so far this year.

The high school will have special exhibits by the Departments of Science, Home Economics, Industrial Arts, Mathematics, English Literature and Language.

A program of music will be presented at 8:00 in the auditorium by the Junior High School Band and the elementary grades, directed by Mr. Wacker and Miss Ruth Stull, respectively. Immediately following there will be a short business meeting and the nominating committee will present a slate of officers for the following year.

During the business meeting the students present will be invited to the cafeteria for refreshments. It is hoped that all visitors will try and visit the entire building to see how all work has a close relationship to one another. During this visitation all guests are invited to the cafeteria for refreshments.

Since much time and effort is being exerted for this special program the faculty and student body extend a cordial invitation to all parents and friends to attend this Emmitsburg School Achievement Night!

Registration For Town Election Monday

It is highly probable that the list of eligible voters in the Corporation of Emmitsburg will top the 500 mark this year when the annual registration will be held.

The Town Council announced that a registration of new voters will be held in the Town Office on Monday, April 20. The registrar will sit from 2 p. m. to 7 p. m., giving all an opportunity to register in the town election.

Charles D. Gillelan, registrar, reports that at present there are 480 registered voters on the roster. Last year's registration total was hiked by 58 when residents of the newly annexed sections of Emmitt Gardens and S. Seton Ave. Extended were added to the list. While no such large number is anticipated this year, it is generally known that there are quite a large number of unregistered citizens living within the town limits. It was pointed out that only 20 more names are needed to top the 500 mark.

The Town Fathers in explaining the local election law, say the only requirements are that you must be 21 years of age or over, by election day, and that you must have resided in the Corporation for the past 12 months. Election day this year will be held on Monday, May 4.

To be elected are the Burgess and one Commissioner. This year the term of Commissioner Wales E. Rightmour expires. The Burgess is elected to a one-year term and the commissioner for a three-year tenure.

Town officials point out there will be only one day set aside for the registration and that will be this Monday. Individuals desiring to run for either of the two offices must declare their intention in writing to the Town Clerk, Miss Louise Sebald, before midnight ten days prior to the election. This stipulation would mean that anyone interested in filing for any of the offices must do so before midnight, Friday, April 24. Holdover Commissioners are Charles R. Fuss and J. Allen Bouey.

BAND CONCERT THURSDAY NIGHT

The Mt. St. Mary's College Band, will present its eighth annual Spring Concert April 23 in Memorial Gymnasium, on the campus at 8:30 p. m. The program will include works of famous composers and show tunes. An added feature will be a dedication to John Philip Sousa. Kenneth E. Phillips, conductor and director, is a senior who recently started the college dance band and presented a jazz concert last fall. Phillips hopes that he can show the band's versatility from "Bach To Bop."

Admission is 90 cents and the public is cordially invited.

Poster Designed By Local Girl Being Distributed

Carmen L. Keeney, a twelve-year-old artist from Mother Seton School, Emmitsburg, takes her bow in the National Traffic Safety spotlight this month, according to Frank G. Leber, Frederick Branch Manager of the Automobile Club of Maryland.

April, 1959, is the month when reproductions of Miss Keeney's prize-winning Safety Poster—First Prize in the American Automobile Association's 1958 National Safety Poster Contest—are being distributed to some 200,000 classrooms by A.A.A. Clubs throughout the nation.

Miss Keeney, now a sixth grader at Mother Seton School, is the first Marylander to have a poster selected by the A.A.A. for national distribution. This Safety Poster, on the theme "Be Extra Alert in Bad Weather", is now being distributed to schools in Maryland as part of the regular monthly Safety Education Program of the Automobile Club of Maryland, stated Mr. Leber.

He pointed out that pedestrian traffic accidents increase in bad weather. He urged children to be extra alert in walking to school these rainy spring days. "In such weather, streets are slippery, making it more difficult for motorists to stop. Driving visibility is often considerably reduced, and small-fry pedestrians are harder to see," he said.

Every Game You Bowl Brings Joy to Burgess

At 42 he has held many major jobs

By LOUIS JAMES One of the nation's biggest boosters for the great American indoor sport of bowling is Carter L. Burgess.

It isn't that he's a bowling champion or anything like that. It's simply that he's president of American Machine and Foundry Co.—AMF—world's largest producer of bowling equipment—automatic pinspotters, lanes, pins, balls, shoes, etc.

If your favorite bowling arena has an automatic pinspotter, it's probably a product of AMF's Bowling Products Group which has installed over 40,000 across the country.

A young president But making bowling equipment is only a part of AMF's activities. The company also makes industrial tools, motors, packaging machinery, generators, and a growing list of defense products for the aircraft and electronics industries. Total sales in 1957—$261 million.

Its 38 plants and 109 offices in 163 cities here and abroad employ over 12,000 workers.

Burgess, who was named president in 1958, is a Virginian (born in Roanoke). He is young, as corporate leaders go, but far from a novice. At 42, he has been a key executive in the State Department, in the Army, in education and in business.

Men Who Make America Great

Brilliant army career He put himself through Virginia Military Institute in 1939. When World War II began—he was then 25—he went overseas as an MP Lieutenant.

Pretty soon he caught the eye of Gen. Walter Bedell Smith and was promoted all the way up to Colonel, becoming secretary to the SHAEF general staff.

Right after the war, Burgess became assistant to the Secretary of State and helped organize the UN at San Francisco in 1945.

In 1953 he helped re-organize the administrative side of the University of South Carolina. A year later Charles E. Wilson,

AMF is biggest in equipment field

Defense Secretary, chose the sky, blue-eyed Eisenhower Democrat as Assistant Secretary of Defense in charge of manpower.

Over two years later he left to head Trans World Airlines, a post he held until he was called in by AMF as president.

A dynamic executive Burgess seems to have just about all the virtues one would expect to find in a leader. He is a specialist in handling people. An ardent exponent of order and efficiency, he knows how to simplify complex problems. He bubbles with an enthusiasm that infects those working with him.

Burgess is an inordinately close reader of the daily press. He's always "up" on the news. For business news it's the Wall Street Journal and the trade press.

Some people think of Burgess as a human dynamo who drives himself hard, seeming to run his motors on nothing more than a cigar and a coca-cola.

When he isn't popping up at the celebration of some new bowling installation of AMF machines, Burgess commutes to his Pelham Manor, N. Y. home to be with his wife and five children—all girls. Do they bowl? What a question!

How Asphalt Armor Saved British Navy

The fascinating story of how asphalt was used to help bullet-proof the British Navy and win the Battle of Britain has been revealed for the first time in a new book just published in London.

The book, "Admiralty Brief," tells the almost incredible tale of how the author, Edward Terrell, a naval officer, discovered that a mixture you can "stick a pin into" was tough enough to shrug off high-velocity armor-piercing bullets, bomb fragments, and cannon fire.

The amazing discovery was a mixture of asphalt, limestone, and bits of granite, a compound almost identical to the material used in modern asphalt roof shingles, which are surfaced with innumerable rock granules embedded in the asphalt.

Fleet Survived Attacks Applied in a four-inch thick coating to vulnerable parts of merchant vessels and warships, the asphalt and granite armor protected them so well that it has actually been credited with saving the British merchant fleet in the early days of the war.

British merchant ships and war vessels protected with the "plastic armor," as it was called, survived repeated fierce attacks from German planes.

The Nazis' armor-piercing cannon fire, designed to slice through steel and concrete like cheese, thudded harmlessly into the asphalt and granite coating. Casualties and damage from ricocheting shells became almost non-existent. Shells either were trapped in the asphalt or bounced off gently.

Concrete Failed Terrell's armor, kept top-secret throughout the war, was needed desperately by the British. American ships were armored with thick, heat-treated steel, but there was barely enough steel in England to produce offensive weapons, and a substitute armor, thick concrete, proved to be ineffective against advanced German weapons.

The amazing asphalt armor worked so well that it became the standard armor for British ships throughout the balance of the war. In 1946, a grateful British Empire awarded Terrell 10,000 pounds for his invention, the highest award made to any naval officer of the war.

Another advantage of the new armor was its ability to protect ships from the weather. The natural waterproofing qualities of asphalt kept harsh seas and rain away from vital metal parts of the ship.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Business And Religion

BABSON PARK, Mass., Apr. 16—I have recently received a led "A LOOK INTO THE FUTURE," forecasting boom and inflation ahead. It is written by the editor and staff of one of the leading investment advisory services.

One Subject Omitted

This famous writer does not in any way refer to the present moral and nonreligious conditions of the nations. This same criticism applies to most other writers on the future business outlook. President Eisenhower and his Army Chief of Staff are the only prominent people in Washington who are now doing so. Members of the Cabinet and most Members of Congress act as if these great moral forces are now out-dated and only "old fogies" worry about them. To me this is a serious situation. This subject is discussed by me in a book published by the Fleming H. Revell Co., of Westwood, N. J., entitled "FUNDAMENTALS OF PROSPERITY." I have also discussed the matter in another book, "RELIGION AND BUSINESS." When times are bad, these books have a good sale, but in times like today such books are not wanted.

Fundamentals, however, should not change with time. The Ten Commandments apply today as they did thousands of years ago. In substance, they are recognized by all religions. Now, with radios, airplanes, and other means of quick communication and transportation causing a constantly smaller world, these Ten Commandments must become more realistic. It may be that we are entering a so-called "New Era" when morals will not count and churches will become social clubs; but I definitely doubt it. I further believe that what has happened during the past 150 years should be known by businessmen, whether or not history is to repeat itself. So here goes!

What Economic History Teaches

In 1789 General George Washington was elected first President of the U. S. This country then consisted of only a few states, all very poor and constantly harassed by Indian Wars. There was much unemployment and considerable discontent. Conditions, however, gradually improved until 1812 when we again got into war with England. As usual this spruced up agriculture and general business. Following peace with England, our nation witnessed its first employment boom—which reached its height in 1827. This boom was under the conservative administrations of Thomas Jefferson, the Adamses, James Madison, and James Monroe.

During this first era of prosperity, there developed unemployment, dishonesty, graft, and inefficiency. This reaction was followed by the election of Andrew Jackson in 1828, our first "turn to the left." Then moneyed interests lost confidence and business declined further until 1837, when we experienced our first real business panic. This caused a reform in government and economic conditions which continued until 1861, when the War between the States started. Following this war, U. S. Grant was elected President and prosperity continued, but with accompanying dishonesty, graft, and the ruthless

"carpet bagging." This resulted in the panic of 1873 and the depression which followed. 1874 Until After The Spanish War

The panic of 1873 brought people to their senses. Government became more honest, business more efficient, labor leaders more reasonable, and personal morals improved. Again the economic situation advanced greatly for about 18 years. During 1890 - 1892, however, many scandals occurred in connection with the building of railroads. This resulted in the people's loss of confidence as well as of money. Furthermore, the new settlers on Western farms were encouraged to borrow heavily on mortgages sold to Eastern investors. These mortgages were later largely defaulted when the country was hit by the great panic of 1893. Again these losses brought government officials, bankers, and businessmen to their knees in repentance. Then came World War I.

Our country's business greatly profited from World War I, — which prosperity continued until 1929. During the boom, another increase in dishonesty, speculation, and labor troubles occurred. These national sins culminated in the Stock Crash of 1929 followed by the Great Depression of the "Thirties." After the slump of 1938, World War II broke out, which stimulated business until 1945 when another short adjustment took place. Following this, due largely to the groundwork laid by the Roosevelt Administration which favored borrowing, installment purchases, legislation favorable to labor, social security, and leaving the gold standard, occurred our present so-called "New Era" with its crime, waste, and reckless spending. What Of The Future.

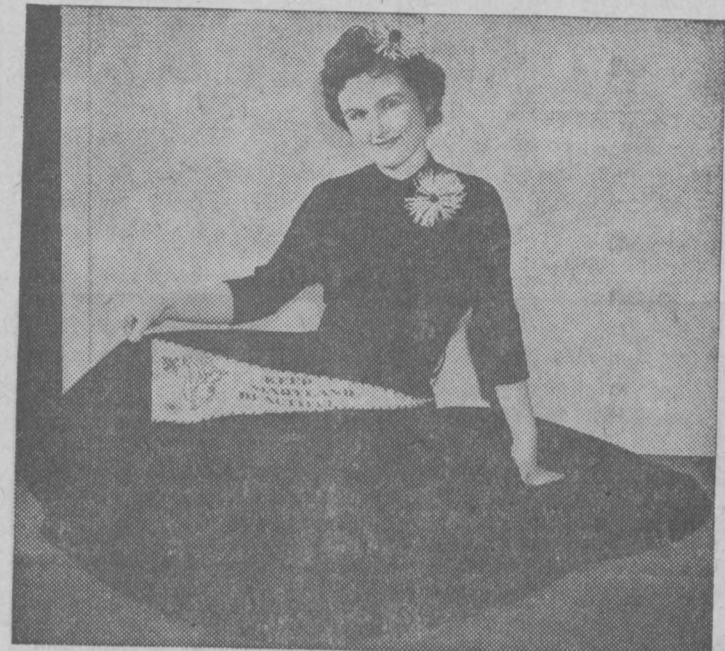

It may be that this present era is not yet approaching an end. It may be that unemployment has been corrected by federal and other legislation. It may be that the stock market can go to greater heights. I don't know; nobody knows. All I know is this: — Unless crimes, inefficiency, waste, the craze for liquor, and the reckless borrowing of today cease and we return voluntarily to honesty, efficiency, temperance, and thrift, we will suffer a long and severe corrective depression.

This cannot always be postponed by legislation, but only by repenting of our sins and returning to the teachings of the Church. Since 1789, abnormal prosperity has always resulted in eras of godlessness; these eras have been corrected only by unemployment and a return to godliness. This is an Action and Reaction. Perhaps example of Newton's Law of the present-day brokers, bankers, industrialists and politicians can suspend this law. But based on all economic history (since Joseph's 7 years of plenty followed by the 7 years of famine) this economic law of Action and Reaction has been as dependable as the Law of Gravity. Let me also refer readers to their Bible's Eighth Chapter of Deuteronomy. For preaching on this text my ancestor, the Rev. John Rogers, was burned-at-the-stake in London in 1551 during a period of English speculation and so-called proserpity.

Inc., at a special meeting in the nation's Capital.

Mr. Earhart and other invited guests were given the opportunity to learn of the new series of films available for purchase by school systems for the teaching of chemistry. There are included in the series of 160 films, each being of one-half hour duration. The films were designed especially for high school use and are available in black and white or color. They represent an attempt to bring the elements of chemistry up-to-date in the classrooms of the nation. The unusually rapid accumulation of knowledge during the past several years has given the chemist an understanding of the structure and composition of substances at the molecular, atomic, and subatomic levels and an ability to explain the behavior of chemical species far beyond anything that was possible for previous generations of teachers. It is believed that this film is one instructional tool existing as a new approach to the teaching of modern chemistry in the secondary school and that the high school instructor will be able to enrich the chemistry offering with this film series.

ODDLY ENOUGH by WALDMAN

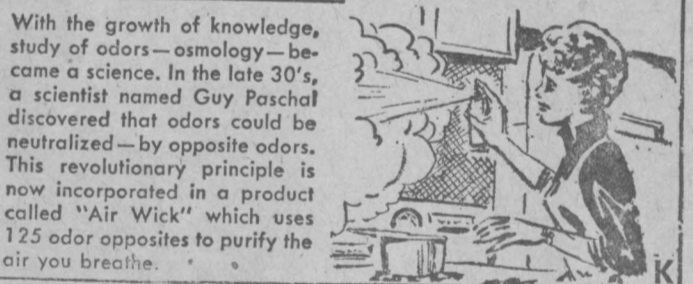

Man's battle against odors is as old as his quest for food and shelter. When his caves began to reek, primitive man used an easy solution—he moved away to a new, sweet-smelling location.

Discovery of perfume and incense opened the door to another odor-fighting method. Roman noblemen had entire banquet halls sprayed with these costly substances to cover up odors that formed after days of feasting.

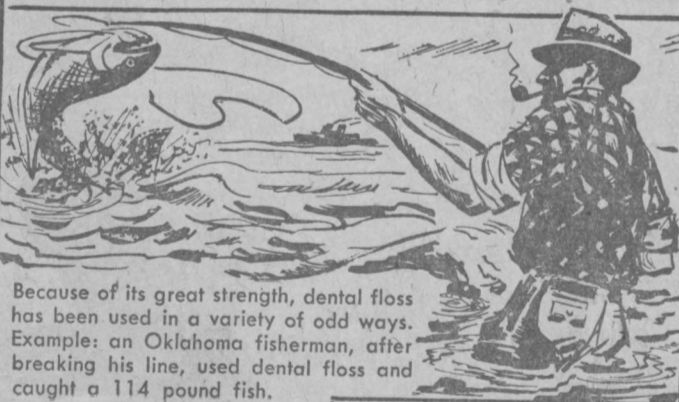

Bluebloods of Elizabethan England used an "ostrich" method of odor control. While walking through London's not-so-fragrant streets, they buried their aristocratic noses in half an orange to "filter" the air.

With the growth of knowledge, study of odors—osmology—became a science. In the late 30's, a scientist named Guy Paschal discovered that odors could be neutralized—by opposite odors. This revolutionary principle is now incorporated in a product called "Air Wick" which uses 125 odor opposites to purify the air you breathe.

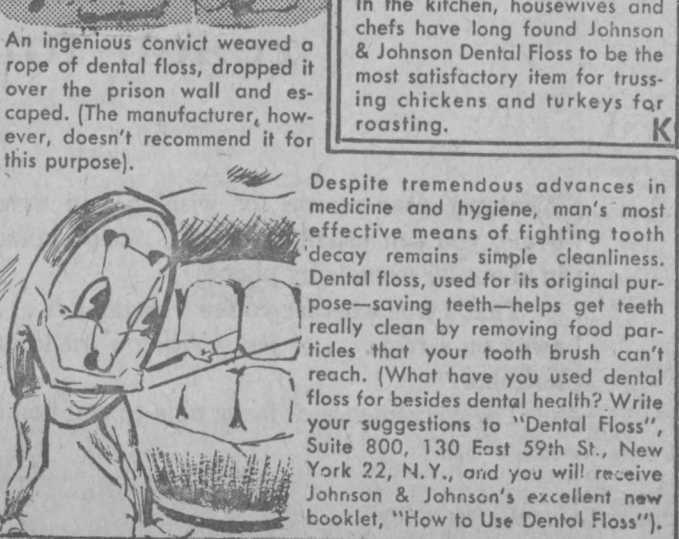

Floss Wins Friends

Because of its great strength, dental floss has been used in a variety of odd ways. Example: an Oklahoma fisherman, after breaking his line, used dental floss and caught a 114 pound fish.

In the kitchen, housewives and chefs have long found Johnson & Johnson Dental Floss to be the most satisfactory item for trussing chickens and turkeys for roasting.

Despite tremendous advances in medicine and hygiene, man's most effective means of fighting tooth decay remains simple cleanliness. Dental floss, used for its original purpose—saving teeth—helps get teeth really clean by removing food particles that your tooth brush can't reach. (What have you used dental floss for besides dental health? Write your suggestions to "Dental Floss", Suite 800, 130 East 59th St., New York 22, N.Y., and you will receive Johnson & Johnson's excellent new booklet, "How to Use Dental Floss".)

Read Acts 2:37-42. You shall receive the gift of the Holy Spirit. (Acts 2:38.) One day I was walking across the famous Boston Common. I was somewhat surprised to see a building with this sign — "Holy Ghost Chapel—Air Conditioned—For Rent."

This temporary chapel had been abandoned for a more magnificent one elsewhere. Nevertheless, the abandoned chapel was to me a vivid expression of the attitude of our generation toward the doctrine and—what is more important—the experience of the Holy Spirit.

Too often in our times we have left empty the place which the power and presence of the Holy Spirit ought to occupy in our lives and in the life of the church. Pentecost ought to be a major Christian festival in the church.

Nothing would be more fruitful for these days than a thoughtful recovery of the experience and power of God's indwelling Spirit. How much needed He is if we are to carry out God's will and way for this generation!

Prayer "Come, Holy Spirit, come! Come as the fire and burn! Come as the water and cleanse! Come as the wind and refresh! Convict, convert and consecrate my heart and will to my great good and to Thy greater glory." In the name of Christ. Amen.

Phone Company Asks Fair Appraisal

In its application to the Maryland Public Service Commission this week the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Co. of Maryland sought authority to increase its schedule of rates.

W. G. Morrel, vice president, stated: "Since February 1958, when our present schedule went into effect it has been increasingly apparent that our rates are inadequate if the company is to continue to meet the demand for expansion and improvement of its service."

"In our application to the Public Service Commission of Maryland, we have asked for a hearing to establish the fair value of the company's property and what constitutes a fair return in the light of current economic conditions. We don't know at this time what valuation and return will be established and we are therefore not able to say what effect this might have on telephone rates."

"As stated in our annual report, the rate of earnings for 1958, when related to the money invested in our business expressed in today's devalued dollars is less than six per cent."

"Despite a company-wide emphasis on operating economies and efficiency our rate of earnings is at a level which is far short of what is fair, reasonable and necessary under present-day economic conditions. This has been brought about by the increase in expense levels, the depressing effect on earnings of the addition of high cost plant and the increase in capital costs."

"We have one major objective in Maryland and that is to do the service job which lies ahead of us. This requires adequate earnings to continue to improve service to customers both in quality and quantity."

In the petition the company asks the Commission to enter into a full investigation of any and all matters as may be relevant to a determination by the Commission in accordance with the laws of the State, of the earnings necessary to provide a fair return upon the fair value of the company's property devoted to the rendition of intra-state telephone service within the State of Maryland; designate such date or dates for hearings thereon as the Commission may deem proper or expedient for the purpose of the aforesaid determination; after such hearings, issue its order herein substituting for the Company's present schedule of rates and charges as shall be just, and charges such schedules of reasonable and sufficient to yield a fair return upon the fair value of the Company's property; grant unto the Company such other and further relief as its application and any hearings thereon may justify or require.

The Company cited the problems brought on by ever-rising operating and construction costs that have plagued it throughout the postwar period. An effort has been exerted, it says, to attempt to deal effectively with these problems and to insure that essential utility services were available to the public in the quantity and quality desired. While this has required rate adjustments from time to time, they have been modest when compared to the upward course of prices generally. In terms of the devalued dollar the Company's rates are lower today than at the end of the war.

The Company says its last application for rate relief was filed in August, 1957, and its present schedule of rates for intra-state phone service in this state was prescribed by the Commission on February 11, 1958. Since that date it has become increasingly apparent this schedule of rates is inadequate if the Company is

WASHINGTON AND "SMALL BUSINESS" By C. WILSON HARDER

There are many indications that the present Congress in session is taking a greater interest in U. S. foreign policy than perhaps past Congresses have taken for some time.

It would appear that it is slowly becoming apparent that whatever the U. S. foreign policy is on the economic front has an effect on U. S. jobs and business.

Recently in Congress Rep. Emanuel Celler of New York pointed out to Congress that in a sudden move, described a bolt out of the blue, West Germany levied a tariff on imported coal of $4.76 per ton.

In a normal postwar year, this country ships to West Germany something like 16 million tons of coal. This suddenly imposed tariff duty will knock out this market for American miners, creating further unemployment and hardship in the coal mining areas which have already been hard hit by previously unrestricted imports of foreign low grade fuel oil.

There is an interesting angle to all this, which appears to be in direct opposition to those proponents of free trade, reciprocal tariff treaties and other measures designed to break down the U. S. protective tariff system.

It has always been said that regardless of wage differentials, the U. S. could produce at a lower rate. From the testimony of Rep. Celler, there does appear to be some substantiation for this viewpoint.

The German government reportedly put this tariff through to protect its own coal mining industry in the Ruhr Valley. Despite the lower German wages, and the coal deposits in Germany itself, it has been possible for American industry to mine coal and ship it across the Atlantic to Germany for presumably less cost than the German product. It fact, the purpose of this new German Tariff is to make U. S. coal more expensive in Germany than the native product.

Thus, assuming that in certain areas, such as in this one, greater U. S. efficiency does overcome wage differentials, it seems hopeless battle from start.

Of course, anyone who argues for protection for American business and employment is usually labeled an isolationist.

Yet on several occasions the nation's independent businessmen, voting through the National Federation of Independent Business, have opposed cutting U. S. Tariffs. By and large, these are men who are alert to the changing world conditions.

On the other hand, as businessmen, they know you cannot cut your own nation's protection in the pious hope that others will do the same. A deal has to be a deal that has some equity to both parties.

Yet, among the idealistic visionaries who have been running the U. S. policy, the thinking for over 20 years has been that if America leads the way, everybody else will be so overcome with the American good heartedness that they will follow suit. And it is especially interesting that West Germany, which was put on its feet largely by U. S. aid, would take such punitive action without warning.

Mother Seton PTA Meeting Held; Bus Transportation Discussed

The regular monthly meeting of the Mother Seton School PTA was held in the school cafeteria on Thursday, April 9, beginning at 7:30 p. m., with 40 members in attendance. Mark Lannon, president.

The session opened with prayer led by the principal, Sister Francis, pledge to the flag followed by the financial report. Mrs. Albert Wivell, secretary, read the minutes of the previous meeting. In the absence of Carmel Kelly, chairman of the transportation committee who was ill, a report from Mr. Kelly was given by the president which stated data concerning bus transportation costs for class trips.

Mrs. Ruth Dillon reported information she learned pertinent to the operation of the National PTA, stating that if the group belonged to the state association it automatically belonged to the National Association. There are by-laws and other stipulations to be considered. She also reported that the NCCW sponsors a home and school association for Catholic schools equivalent to the National PTA. Additional information will be forthcoming.

A poll was taken of the sentiment existing for individual class parent-teacher conferences, number of such meetings a year, time of the conference and whether or not the children's reports should be given parents at the conference or continue the present practice of sending report cards home with the students.

The group decided to draft a petition for improved bus transportation for children residing along the Waynesboro, Taneytown and Thurmont roads and Lumen F. Norris was asked to present the petition to the school bus committee of the Board of Education. The president announced that St. Joseph's High School PTA will hold its spring bazaar Saturday, April 18 in the school auditorium.

The principal introduced Mrs. McElroy, of the Maryland Society for Crippled Children and Adults, who spoke briefly on the work of the Easter Seal Treatment Center in Frederick. A film "Reach for Tomorrow," sponsored by the National Society, was projected, depicting treatment given and how Easter Seal funds are used for such treatment.

The eighth grade class trip to Washington was discussed and the principal explained the School Patrol trip included only about half of the class. When the entire class made the trip it went to many places of educational interest. The closing prayer was led by Sister Francis, following which the third grade students entertained with a program on the History of Maryland.

Racing Classic Scheduled At Laurel Saturday

The 38th running of the $25,000 added Chesapeake Stakes this Saturday, one of the East's major preps for the Kentucky Derby, keynotes the racing at Laurel this week.

Four previous winners of the pivotal mile and a sixteenth event for three-year-olds, including the last Triple Crown winner, Citation in 1948, have gone on to success in the Kentucky classic.

The past winners of the Chesapeake, in addition to Citation, who also scored at Louisville, were Whiskery, Cavalcade and War Admiral.

Raised in value to $25,000 added this spring, the Chesapeake may be contested by a large field this weekend; several of whom are regarded by their connections as possibilities in the Derby.

Heading this probable field of 15 is Mrs. Ben Cohen's Pea Bolero, recent winner of the Governor's Gold Cup, whose style of running indicates the Bolero colt will go a distance and may be a factor in the upcoming Preakness and Belmont Stakes, for which he is also eligible.

Horses on the grounds or stabled in Maryland that are expected to vie with Pea Bolero for honors in the Chesapeake include C. B. Fishbach's Festival King, Budd and Cannull's Austerlitz, George A. Carrett's Bonzo, Mrs. Jules Gomez' Half Acre, Maryknoll Farm's Poppy Jay, either or both of Ada L. Rice's Rara Rice and Cedar Brook, and James L. Wiley's Hammondale.

Out of town possibilities include King Ranch's Black Hills, Brookfield Farm's Inescapable, John Bruno's Moony, Cockfield Stable's Nimmer, Elkcam Stable's Open Vitw, R. O. H. Frelinghuysen's Lake Erie, and L. P. Guy's Pointer.

Festival King, who scored easily here earlier in the meeting following his second in the Gold Cup and a third in the Louisiana Derby, is a Triple Crown nominee. Trainer E. W. "Bill" Kuykendall regards his lightly campaigned charge highly, and is planning to make the Chesapeake a stepping stone for the Louisville event.

Rare Rice and Cedar Brook, the former a Triple Crown nominee and the latter named for the Derby and Preakness, accounted for divisions of the Alligator Handicap this winter at Tropical Park in a successful Florida campaign.

five months ago she had a baby... five years ago she had cancer!

Would you ever guess that there are 800,000 Americans enjoying healthy life today who once had cancer?

Your dollars to fight cancer have gone a long way in slowing down the trend of this dread disease. Your dollars have supported the American Cancer Society's dynamic research, education and service programs—programs whose aim is to save lives. Progress is being made on many fronts, with the dramatic results that the cancer cure rate has jumped from 1 in 4 to 1 in 3 in the last ten years.

But the fight is far from over. Many, many more thousands of cancer victims might be leading healthy lives today if their cancers had been detected early and treated promptly. Guard yourself and your family with health checkups every year. Help guard others with a generous check to your Unit of the American Cancer Society. Guard your family—fight cancer with a checkup and a check!

Looking Ahead

The Two Berlins

East and West Berlin are separated only by a barbed wire fence constantly patrolled by gun-carrying Communist police. This Iron Curtain runs directly through the heart of what used to be one sprawling city, dividing it into two distinct zones. The two cities, side by side, present the world's most dramatic comparison between capitalism and totalitarian socialism.

A West German worker can stand in his apartment in one of the tall modern apartment buildings a few blocks from the dividing line and actually see across the Iron Curtain and study the desolation and poverty of the Communist zone. An East German worker living under Communism can climb up through the rubble to the top of one of the vacant, shattered buildings in the Soviet sector and gaze out across the rising, shining prosperous new city of West Berlin. And when he does, he doesn't wonder any more about the Communist propaganda against capitalism. He knows that it is false.

Millions Are Hearing

Millions of people behind the Iron Curtain have heard about this stunning contrast in the two cities. Millions of Europeans know about it. And this is one of the principal reasons Soviet dictator Khrushchev wants to first "neutralize" West Berlin, and then wipe it off the face of the map. The contrast of East and West Berlin is giving the lie to the whole Communist propaganda barrage beamed throughout the world. To his Kremlin yes-men, Khrushchev has described West Berlin as a capitalistic "cancer" growing in the land of socialism and he wants it cut out by the roots and buried.

He knows that to anyone except the most sightless, warped Communist, West Berlin must be viewed as a veritable garden spot rising up out of the desolate, stagnant desert that Communist has made of its 42,000 square miles and the shattered, forgotten cities of East Germany. To Khrushchev, prosperous, expanding capitalistic West Germany is a foot-long thorn with barbs on it digging deeper and deeper into his hide. It is a glittering show window, trumpeting the success of capitalism. Communism came into being 110 years ago declaring that capitalism was a burden on human society and that the socialism designed by Karl Marx would create a "paradise" for all mankind. It dedicated itself to stamping out capitalism by force and establishing world socialism under a dictatorship.

Mustn't Look

Khrushchev doesn't want any free-minded person in the vast Communist domain — now enslaving nearly a billion people — to see what capitalism is doing for all categories of citizens in West Berlin. John Noble, the American who spent three years as a slave in notorious Vorkuta prison camp in northern Russia, reports that the Red Army men who guard the prisoners of Vorkuta are those who, while on military duty, have had a glimpse of West Berlin or other prosperous areas outside the Iron Curtain. They are kept at primitive Vorkuta, in the frozen Arctic, at least two years to erase from their minds all remembrances, and to frighten them with the possibility of long imprisonment there — if they do not forget!

Twelve years ago Communist Russia, as one of the Four Powers meeting at Potsdam, agreed to maintain complete freedom of all transportation arteries into West Berlin from the West. But that was only expedient for the moment, and the Communist bosses, in their worst nightmares never dreamed that individual freedom under capitalism could accomplish so much in so short a time as has happened in West Berlin.

Miracle Of Rebuilding

In the 10 years since establishment of the West German Federal Republic and the beginning of free enterprise capitalism in West Berlin, the battered, prostrate city (approximately 75 per cent destroyed in the great block-buster and fire-bomb raids) has been reborn and rebuilt. Its automobile plants, its machine tool industries, its steel fabricating and appliance factories, its new textile industries, already have gained world-wide markets. Its commercial and residential streets are brand-new and modern. Its shop windows are overflowing with high quality merchandise. The streets are crowded. And the people are enjoying the highest living standard of their lifetime — rapidly overtaking the people of the heavily socialized nations in Europe. Every factor of economic progress shows a continuing upward surge. Just a few miles away in the totally socialized Soviet city of East Berlin, the hard reality is stagnation, poverty, desolation, life in a police state, the frustration of human hopes.

The free world must keep West Berlin free and open to the eyes of the world. Indeed, the story of the two Berlins ought to be put into filmed and photographic documentaries and carried to all the peoples of the world.

Shenandoah Downs To Feature Night Racing

CHARLES TOWN, W. Va. — Night thoroughbred racing, America's newest turf spectacle, comes to Charles Town in two weeks when the $4 million Shenandoah Downs opens its inaugural meeting.

West Virginia's fourth and newest racing plant will conduct a 62-program spring session ending July 11, and will give Mid-Atlantic fans a glimpse of racing under the lights. Shenandoah Downs will be the sixth night running track in the country.

Designed especially for night racing, Shenandoah Downs will have a million-watt system lighting its 1/2-mile racing strip. More than 200 infield poles and 250 floodlights on the grandstand and clubhouse provide visibility that tests better than any race track in the country, according to the management.

Elsewhere for patrons, Shenandoah Downs will offer an air-conditioned clubhouse with terraced dining room overlooking the finish line, a grandstand seating nearly 4000 with accommodations for some 15,000, lighted and paved parking areas for 3500 automobiles, and a grandstand dining room serving complete meals.

Shenandoah Downs expects to have more than 1100 horses competing from its own stalls and nearby stables, with others shipping in for big races. The track had 1600 applications for its 650 stalls, most of which have been occupied.

All trainers on the grounds are pointing their eligibles for the feature on Shenandoah's two-night opening program, the $5000 Governor's Purse May 1 and the $3000 Apple Blossom May 2. Both are races for horses three years old and up.

Advice On Wall Phone Cord

Sometimes, due to normal twisting actions in use of the receiver, the retractable cord of a wall telephone will become shortened and bunched. An easy way to remedy this situation is to allow the receiver to hang freely of its own weight so that its own spinning action will return things to normal.

Heart Scientist Makes Discovery

A young research scientist receiving financial support from the Heart Association of Maryland reported this week on his work. Dr. Joseph C. Fitzgerald, whose grant-in-aid from the Heart Association of Maryland is maintained from Heart Fund contributions throughout the state, joined Dr. Samuel P. Bessman in an Atlantic City presentation of new evidence on what is still a scientific mystery—where insulin acts in the body.

In their report at the Federation of American Societies for Experimental Biology, the doctors presented data which indicated insulin can act inside the cell. Current theories usually center on the cell membrane where insulin is believed to facilitate the body's use of a major source of energy—sugar and starches (carbohydrates). Drs. Bessman and Fitzgerald worked with a homogenized mixture of pigeon breast muscle in which the cell membranes had been removed. They found an insulin effect on a starch (glycogen) in the remaining substance. Their finding came about in the course of efforts to find a practical and easy method to measure the amount of insulin in the blood. Present methods are difficult, relatively crude and inaccurate.

Mounties Divide Baseball Contests

Despite being outth 10-6, the Mt. St. Mary's baseball team chalked up its first victory Tuesday afternoon by edging Towson State Teachers College 5-4 on the latter's field. A pair of walks and an error enabled the Mount to break a 4-4 tie in the top of the eighth inning. The victory gives the Mount a 1-2 record. Towson's loss was its first after three Northern Division wins in the Mason-Dixon Conference.

FHA Issues Standards On Windows

The Federal Housing Administration has directed that all wood windows in homes financed by an FHA-backed mortgage must meet commercial standards of the U.S. Department of Commerce. The directives are contained in FHA's new minimum property standards.

How can the home buyer or builder know if a wood window has met the Commerce Department's commercial standards? One way, and probably the quickest and easiest, is to look for the seal of approval of the American Wood Window Institute, a small metal tag attached to the window. This seal assures that the window will be of high quality, since the AWWI seal is affixed only to windows that meet the commercial standards.

- 1. Standard stock ponderosa pine windows, sash and screens—C.S. 163.
2. Standard stock doublehung wood window units—C.S. 190.
3. Standard stock ponderosa pine insulating glass windows and sash—C.S. 193.
4. Standard stock wood awning window units and projected awning and stationary sash units—C.S. 204.
5. Standard stock wood casement window units—C.S. 205.

Gleemen Wax Dedicatory Song

The Mount Saint Mary's College Glee Club climaxes the celebration of its 10th anniversary by issuing a commemorative record entitled, "By Request." The 40 man group under the direction of the Rev. David W. Shaum is heard in sixteen selections from a classical, popular and contemporary repertoire. The Men of Note, a close harmony group, are featured in two favorites, Gershwin's "Summertime" from "Porgy and Bess" and Schoenberg's "Whispering." Another highlight of the disc is the tenor solo of the glee club president, James Kleindienst, Quilter's "O Mistress Mine." The record, pressed by RCA Camden, is a twelve inch, thirty-three and one-third long play, high fidelity. The commemorative souvenir may be obtained from any member of the club or by calling the music department of the college.

Safe Trailering Is a Breeze

By Martha Johnson Dodge Safety Consultant

WHILE breezing along the vacation highway this Summer with the family boat or house-trailer, would you be able to spell your husband with the driving?

If the very thought of pulling a trailer brings panic, my experiences prove it's a cinch.

On a recent trip from Detroit to Houston I discovered the established cautious, courteous traffic safety rules and a few special precautions are the main requirements.

I learned to: Drive at more moderate speeds. The added weight of a trailer requires more stopping distance.

Allow plenty of clearance when passing, changing lanes and turning.

When backing, steer left to make the trailer go to the right. Make frequent safety checks of the trailer enroute.

Never allow anyone to ride in the trailer.

Before leaving home, make certain your husband has checked these points so your trip will be enjoyable and free from worry:

Check your state's motor vehicle laws and those of states through which you will travel.

Make certain the car is capable of pulling the extra weight.

Hitch should be bolted to the frame of the car, not just the bumper. Supplement the hitch with a safety chain.

Provide clearly visible reflectors, direction and warning lights on rear of trailer.

Keeping pace with the technological revolution in industry, which has changed American life in the past half-century, has been an equally dramatic revolution on the farm.

Q: "I think my mouth is much too big for the rest of my face. Could you tell me how I could make it look smaller?"

A: Begin by being careful about lipstick colors. Avoid wearing dark, heavy reds with strong undertones of blue or rust.

Choose instead, clear, true reds—a delicate french coral—or the pale, misty pink shades that are so fashionable this spring. A lighter lipstick will always help keep a large mouth from dominating the entire face.

You can also diminish the size of your mouth by applying lipstick just inside the natural outline of your lips. For better control and a cleaner line, try using a Number 1 sable-hair water color brush. It takes a little practice—but the final perfect effect makes this effort worth while.
