The current steel strike is of paramount importance to each and every one of us whether we are cognizant of the fact or not. The effect steel prices has on the economy of the nation is far reaching and will be felt in every city and town regardless of size or geographical location. Also affected will be the component industries such as car manufacturing, building contractors, etc., for the resultant harm springing from the strike will throw possibly more men out of work in these industries than in the steel industry itself. If wage increases are granted, and they most likely will, then these increases will be reflected in the high cost of living for each and every one of us. Highways will cost more, so will building, cars and everything else that requires steel in the manufacturing of its product. Let's hope the strike isn't prolonged to such an extent that it will impair the progress of our national defense.

Teen-agers who have been looking for something to do, outside their own communities, will have an opportunity to enjoy themselves this evening at a dance in Braddock Heights, near Frederick. A group for teen-agers has been recently formed and is planning other social events for the youngsters at future dates.

Property - owners who have been anxious to learn when they can tap into the new sewer line will be given information in the near future as to the táp-in date. Latest information indicates that it will be several weeks vet as much electrical work must be completed at the disposal plant. The actual construction crews are expected to complete the laying of the lines and construction of the plant in another two weeks but it is almost certain that the electrical installations will delay the project somewhat longer. Best estimates are that in about a month the entire project will be complete and ready for use.

Traffic appears to be steadily on the increase these days as thousands of cars per day pass through the town. Not a single tidbit of information is forthcoming from the State Roads Commission as to the status of the Route 15 bypass. Residents and business people are kept in the dark as to any future plans of the road. The only new information on the project has been that rights-of-way agents from the Commission have been in town recently checking the owners of the land over which the road will pass and those properties near the proposed highway. All this has been done several years ago but apparently the Commission decided to give it a re-check.

Bartenders beware! While the profession of keeping bar appears to be normally safe it has its hazardous moments. I read in the papers this week of a bartender catering at a wedding. Shortly after the happy couple departed on their honeymoon the barkeep tapped another keg. Somehow it suddenly exploded, decapitating the poor fellow.

'Pro' Drivers Made Not Born By Martha Johnson Dodge Safety Consultant

You, too, can be a professional

In fact, it's important that you are as professional about driv-ing as the trained truck, bus and taxicab driver.

To acquire this technique the National Safety Council lists these driving "extras." Obey traffic signals and never get caught moving in an inter-section when the traffic light is yellow. Look both ways before starting on the green light to make certain no cross traffic is coming through against the light. Allow one vehicle length of following distance for every 10 miles per hour of speed.

So you won't crowd the center line, line up a point on the dash or hood of your car with the road edge to keep the wheels safely within one foot of the road edge. Look to the rear before pulling into the left lane to pass a car to make certain no vehicle is trying to pass you. Slow down for all pedestrians at all times, particularly between intersections.

Don't drive when drowsy and don't relax too much while driving, particularly on superhighwavs.

On long trips, don't try for speed and endurance records. And finally, professional drivers are made—not born. Ability behind the wheel depends on knowing the facts about traffic regulations, accident prevention techniques and the human na-"the professional touch," a driver

Any farmer is eligible to vote who expects to produce more than 15 acres of wheat for harvest as grain in 1960, except a grower who participated in the feed wheat program in 1959.

The University of Maryland, third oldest land-grant college in the nation, is actively supporting a bill, H.R. 6015 presently before the subcommittee on public lands, which would establish the first national shrine to public-supported higher education.

H.R. 6015, introduced in the House of Representatives by the Hon. William H. Meyer of Verment, would establish the Justin Smith Morrill Homestead National Monument at Strafford, (Vt.) in honor of the late senator from Vermont who was the author of the land grant act signed by President Lincoln in 1862. Red Fraud Exposed If the true facts of the Dalai | after a hazardous 300-mile trek

Lama's escape from Lhasa, Ti- [bet, could be carried through China's iron curtain and brought to the attention of the half billion Chinese enslaved under the Red dictatorship, the Communists would have difficulty ever again getting across its thoroughly dishonest propaganda. Just prior to the Dalai Lama's dramatic appearance in India,

New Look for Indoor-Outdoor Furniture

THE OPEN, AIRY FEELING OF SUMMER is reflected in new indoor-outdoor furniture designed by Vladimir Kagan. Freeflowing, curving lines of these lounge chairs offer an irresistible invitation to relax, whether they are used on a city terrace, suburban patio, or exurban estate! To assure comfort, chairs are cushioned with thin, contoured pads of urethane foam that are lean and attenuated, like the furniture, yet offer remarkable seating ease and practicality. Toughness and resilience of the foam permit shape of cushions to be stitched in without fear of tearing, crumbling or deterioration. Mildew- and fungus-resistance of urethane is an added advantage for furniture used outdoors.

In addition to lounge chairs, new Capricorn line includes a dining table, side chairs, tea wagon, and several end tables, all based on tripod construction. Steel wire, zinc-plated and coated with durable automotive lacquer, is used for all pieces. Cushions are covered with weather-proof vinyl unpholstery.

People, Spots In The News

OPENS TOMORROW JULY 18th Everyday 10:00 Till Dusk

through the towering Himalayas, the Peking Review, one of the top propaganda news weeklies published in China, told the Chinese people that the revered Tibetan leader was a captive of the rebel forces fighting the Communists.

In fact, the news magazine published, in its March 31 issue, a series of letters purportedly written by the Dalai Lama to the chief of the Communist militaly garrison in Lhasa-indicating he might need protection by the Communist miltia from a rebel plot. The tone of the published letters show an approval of the Communists and a fear of the rebels. Obviously, the Communist bosses in Peking were certain that their forces in Tibet would capture the Dalai Lama and prevent him from communicating with the outside world.

Truth Will Out! At least the fraud which the Peking Review sought to perpetrate on the Chinese people now is clearly exposed for the rest of the world to see through the Chinese people, in their fateful communes, will not know the truth. The Peking Review editor notes: "The correspondence took place between March 10 when the clique of Tibetan traitors started their rebellion in Lhasa and the night of March 17 when they carried off by force the Dalai Lama from Lhasa. On March 19, they launched their all-out attack against the People's Liberation Army garrison in Lhasa. All three letters from the Dalai Lama are in his own handwriting. This correspondence throws much revealing light on the circumstances of the re-

In deed it does—the fraudulent reporting, the faked letters, and the dramatic escape of the Dalai Lama, with the aid of the rebels, shows clearly to the world the true nature of the international Communist apparatus which, by subversion and military force, is gradually taking over the world.

Escaped To India The Dalai Lama has asked India for sanctuary from the brutal Communist masters who overran and took over his native country several years ago. Actually he escaped while the Communist military chieftains in Lhasa were plotting to take him prisoner in the first step toward crushing the widely developing rebellion against them kingdom, which exploded into stories to their communities.

fighting March 17.

But the Red bosses in Peking were certain that their militia still would capture him and that he had no chance at all to escape the country or communicate with the outside world. So they sought to convince the Chinese people Dalai Lama was on the side of Communism. Here are excerpts of the letters printed in the Peking Review and signed: The Dalai

Lama: March 11 — "Dear Comrade Political Commissar Tan (of the Communist Lhasa garrison), I am greatly upset and worried and at a loss what to do . Reactionary, evil elements (the rebels against Communism) are carrying out activities endangering me under the pretext of ensuring my safety . . . if you have any internal directives for me, please communicate them to me frankly . . ."

Communist Trickery March 12-"I have received the letter you sent me this morning. The unlawful activities of the reactionary clique cause me endless worry and sorrow. Yesterday I told the Kasha to order the immediate dissolution of the illegal people's conference and the immediate withdrawal of the reactionaries who arrogantly moved into the Norbu Linka under the pretext of protecting me. Please communicate to me frankly any instructive opinions you have for me . .

March 16-"In a few days from now when there are enough forces that I can trust I shall make my way in secret to the Military Area Command (the Communist garrison headquarters) . . . I request you to adopt reliable measures. What are your views? Please write

What will the Peking Review say, now that the Dalai Lama, with rebel protection and guidance, has escaped from the Communists and has branded them for what they are? To the Chinese people they undoubtedly will withhold this news. To the world they will ignore the fraudulent letters and begin to label the Dalai Lama as a reactionary enemy of his own people. This is the nature of the Communist forces gaining control over nation after nation.

brokerage official, to invest money today in common stocks. Like a trapeze artist in a circus, the higher up he gets, the more dangerous is his fall. Bonds Versus Stocks

In view of the continued threat of inflation, I am not now advising my friends to have all their funds in bonds - even though bonds now yield much more than stocks. This applies not only to long-term bonds but also to short-term issues. Witness the recent issuance of oneyear's Treasury bills to yield 43/4 %.

My father, who was a country banker in Gloucester, Massachusetts, used to tell me that preferred stocks are neither "fish nor fowl," "hay nor grass". As a rule, such stocks are redeemed if the company is successful, and wiped out if the company fails. This, however, was before President Franklin D. Roosevelt squeezed the water out of the utilities and when they were very competitive. Today, for income and safety, I believe that First Preferred Cumulative Utility Stocks are worthy of purchase, especially if issued by the local company to which you pay a monthly bill. If by any chance you can find such a local stock which is also either convertible or noncallable, it is especially attrac-

Future Of Electric Power

Most readers of my column have seen house heating change from the use of coal to that of oil and gas. I believe that our grandchildren will see electricity take the place of oil and gas. This electricity will supply heat in the winter and air conditioning in the summer, as well as operate many home appliances not yet invented.

We do not see much direct advertising of electric power; but the newspapers are full of ads for all kinds of electric appliances,-often with no down payment required. This means that there are hundreds of thousands of dealers who are selling electric appliances which will use more electricity. No other industry is in such a favorable

Serves Rural Home Seven Ways

Can you identify any or all of the Seven Wonders of the World?

We'll supply the list in half a minute. But first, we have it on good authority (the Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association) that a substance known as liquefied petroleum gas (butane or propane to you) is fast becoming a seven-way wonder of American rural life.

Only a few years ago homes using LP-gas were few and far between. Now the fuel, dispensed in metal cylinders and tanks wherever natural gas is Another wonder of the gas age, GAMA points out, is the automatic storage water heater with, easy dial control of the various water temperatures recommended for manual or automatic dishwashing and laundering as well as for personal and household hygiene. Furthermore, there is the miracle of science that turns the heat of a tiny gas flame into acte of science that turns the heat of a tiny gas flame into "coolth" and frost by what is known as the absorption method in the new gas refrigerator or air conditioning system.

And, finally, GAMA says, there's the neat counter-height appliance that reduces bushels of garbage and trash to a mere of smoke or odor. It's the new gas incinerator, now a boon to many a farm family.

Incidentally, in a rural home equipped with all these modernday wonders of domestic science, a family has the advantage of being served by 48 "silent servants." Forty-eight, GAMA explains, is the number of automatic controls built into tanks wherever natural gas is not available, serves nearly 9,000,000 farm and suburban families.

Most folks in LP territory may never get to see the Pyramids of Egypt, the Hanging Gardens at Babylon, the Statue of Zeus at Olympia, the Temple of Artemis at Ephesus, the Mausoleum at Halicarnassus, the Colossus at Rhodes or the Pharos (lighthouse) of Alexandria. But a big majority will settle for good crops, a fair return on their investment, and the permanent delights of a home built for good living.

At least that's the thinking of the gas industry which points with pride to its contribution to farm-home comfort and security. It cites the modern automatic gas represented.

situation,—with a monopoly, in addition. Although the rates of electric power are controlled by State Commissions, these Commissions allow rates which will pay the interest on bonds and the dividends on preferred stocks. Electric power companies are safest from labor troubles, which are destined to become more serious with all other industries. When going crazy about "electronics" stocks, remember that electronics always depends upon and uses electricity.

Stocks With Long Dividend Records

When a reader wants a stock for income, he is interested in the number of years that the company has paid dividends. As the electric utilities are young, they have not generally had a long record. Many insurance companies, gas companies, and the like have been paying dividends for about 100 years. For instance, the New Haven Gas Company has been paying dividends for 110 years; the Travelers Insurance has been paying for 96 years; the New Haven Water Company 82 years; and the Home Insurance Company, in which I am a great believer, for 86 years.

The following are a few other such companies coming to my memory. Their stocks are all common shares as preferreds did not exist so long ago. The Aetna (Fire) Insurance Company has paid dividends for 87 consecutive years; the Hartford Fire Insurance, 87 years; National Fire Insurance, 88 years; Phoenix Insurance, 86 years; Southern New England Telephone, 69 years; and the Security Insurance for 66 years.

NO. 19174 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY. MARY-LAND, IN EQUITY PEGGY ANN BLOSSER

PAUL WILLIAM BLOSSER

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Peggy Ann Blosser, from the Defendant, Paul William Blosser. The Bill states in substance that the Oratrix is a resident of Frederick County, Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, who now resides in Stanley, Virginia; that your Oratrix was married to the Defendant on the 4th day of August, 1950, at Luray, Virginia, by the Reverend Mr. Sudduth, a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that two children were born as a result of the marriage, namely, Deborah M. Blosser, aged seven years, and Danny L. Blosser, aged six years, both of whom are now in the custody of your Oratrix; that your Oratrix and the Defendant lived together as man and wife until on or about the 25th day of September, 1956, on which date the Defendant, without just cause, deserted and abandoned your Oratrix and de-clared his intentions to live with her no longer; that the desertion is final and deliberate and has continued uninterruptedly since said date which is more than eighteen months prior to the time of the filing of this Bill of Complaint; that the separation of the parties hereto is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of recinciliation. The Bill prays that the Oratrix be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant; that she be granted the care and custody of the two infant children born as a result of the marriage, and that she be granted general relief and process.

It is thereupon this 24th day of June, 1959, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the said non-resident Defendand of the object and substance of this Bill by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 1st day of August, 1959, commanding him to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor, on or before the 1st day of September, 1959, and show cause, if any he has, why a Decree shall not be passed as prayed.

In cooperation with your Heart Association, we are publishing today the second in a series of four articles on "What We Know About Strokes" designed to acquaint you with the basic facts about this common disorder. Supply System

When this supply system is damaged, a stroke may occur.

Different Causes

Interference with the blood supply to the brain may be due to a number of causes. One of the most common causes is the blocking of a brain artery by a clot that forms inside the artery. Such a clot is most likely to form in a blood vessel already narrowed by hardening of the arteries.

Sometimes a blood clot, formed some place else in the body, is carried in the blood stream to the brain, where it may become wedged in an artery.

A stroke may be caused by a diseased brain artery which bursts and floods the surrounding delicate brain tissue with blood. Medical Terms

A stroke brought on by a clot is called a cerebral occlusion. If the attack is caused by a burst artery it is called a cerebral hemorrhage.

Another type of stroke is brought about by pressure on the brain tissue or arteries. When nemorrhage occurs, the spilled blood may clot and form a solid mass that presses against a nearby artery and so closes it off. Or a brain tumor—an abnormal mass of tissue-may compress an artery or the surrounding brain tis-

Beach Ponchos From Towels

MOTHER AND DAUGHTER CAN DRESS ALIKE for swimming this summer wearing beach ponchos made of smart striped towels, suggests The Cannon Homemaking Institute. Mother's, made from two bath towels, is stitched together at shoulders with ten-inch opening for slipping over head. At bottom, towels are turned up front and back, to desired length. This turnback forms a large front pocket which is stitched closed at selvages and divided at center. The turn up at back is stitched closed all around. At waistline, tape attached inside forms channel for drawstring tie which is pulled through slits in front. Daughter's poncho, made of two striped terry face towels, is made exactly the same as Mother's. This will fit a child up to six years old.

or another that will be of interest to his readers. As editor of an industrial plant publication I find that after the publication has been distributed the readers will pass such remarks as . . . "You should have put something in the paper about John Jones and his trip to California." Newsgatherthat the paper welcomes such quite a problem to small-town This holds true for most small items with open arms. All you have to do is bring it to the attention of the editor. But why print a newspaper in the first place? Just what is a newspaper, you may ask? newspaper is a publication printed and distributed at regular stated intervals containing news, opinions, advertisements, entertainment, and other matter. In its functional aspect the newspaper has been characterized as "an institution developed by modern civilization to present the news of the day, to foster commerce and industry by widely circulated advertisements, to lead and inform public opinion, and to furnish that check upon government which no constitution has ever been able to provide." Although your newspaper is a private business operated for profit, the importance of critical and informative functions in a democracy are uniquely recognized in the First Amendment of the Constitution of the United States, which guarantees its freedom of expression. The Chronicle holds a peculiar place in the community of Emmitsburg which is not that solely of a business, profession, or a public utility, but combines the elements of all three. Its influence upon public opinion is enormous, but has declined somewhat as radio, television, and other media for the dissemination of news and opinion have developed.

The entertainment aspect of newspapers has received increasing emphasis in the last several decades, and some of the country's circulation leaders devote almost as much space to "feature" as to news material, factual presentation of the day's news continues to be the major function of the press. There is no general agreement or rule that I know of among newspapers as to what constitutes news, This is reflected in the columns, and appears in the varying definition of news, no two of which are alike. Narrowly, news has been defined as "an original report of occurrences which recently happened or were recently discovered." Broadly defined, it is said to be "any fact or idea that will interest readers.

In comparing the Chronicle with several other Frederick County publications, I find it has more news and features of local interest than most weekly publications. Your editor, Arthur Elder is alert and knows the publication game well. He, as well as the citizens of Emmitsburg can well be proud of the "Chronicle."

The story of the origin of newspapers is most interesting and l am pleased to present to the readers of this column, a few of the highlights on newspaper origin.

Man's appetite for news, as old as the human race itself, has seized eagerly upon new media for news dissemination whenever they have become available. It seems probable, then, that rudimentary beginnings of recorded news distribution accompanied the development of writing itself and perhaps contributed to it.

A hand-written epistle, the newsletter, was the first recignizable ancestor of the modern news paper, having preceded the printed newspaper by many centuries. In Rome, as early as 449 BC, the Senate deposited official records of its transactions in the Temple of Ceres, where copies might be made for distribution to others, particularly to officials and wealthy Romans in the provinces. Later, reports of sporting events and gladiatorial combats, political news, and gossip in the Forum, were added to this information. The newsletters were inscribed by educated slaves, and their cir-culation was limited by the number of slaves available. In 51 B.C., Cicero, then in Cilicia, dispatched one of the earliest recorded "complaints to the editor." To his friend Caelius, who employed a professional newsletter writer to keep Cicero informed of occurrences in Rome, he wrote: "Send me no more letters about gladiatorial combats and things that would not interest Cicero when he was in Rome. Send instead news about Cicero, the things people are saying about him in

The first printed newspaper of which there is a record was the Ti Chau (The Peking Gazette) in China; it appeared during the T'ang dynasty in the seventh or eighth century. In Eurorpe, printed news was not introduced until after Johann Gutenberg's invention of printing from movable type about 1440. The history of newspapers in the United States is interesting and this will provide a subject for one of my future columns.

Chiffon Jewel Pies for Summer

CHIFFON AND JEWELS GO TOGETHER in pies as well as in fashions! Red ruby-like cubes of flavored gelatin and emeralds in the form of tiny cut lime squares are folded into lemon chiffon pie filling to produce these glamorous jewel pies. No cooking is necessary either for the filling or the ladyfinger crust.

LEMON CHIFFON JEWEL PIES

1 package raspberryflavored gelatin 1 package lime-flavored gelatin

2 cups hot water

1 cup cold water 16 to 18 (about 2 packages) ladyfingers 1 package lemon chiffon pie filling

½ cup boiling water ½ cup cold water 1/3 cup sugar

Prepare the two packages of gelatin separately, using 1 cup hot water and ½ cup cold water for each. Pour into separate 8x8x2-inch pans and chill until firm. Cut into 1/2inch cubes.

Line two 9-inch pie plates with the ladyfingers.

Place pie filling mix in a large deep mixing bowl. Add 1/2 cup boiling water and mix thoroughly. Add ½ cup cold water. Then beat vigorously with a rotary beater, or at highest speed of electric mixer, until mixture is very foamy-takes about 1 minute. Add sugar and beat until filling stands in peaks. Fold in gelatin cubes. Pour into ladyfinger crusts. Chill in refrigerator about 4 hours. Makes 10 to 12 servings.

WASHINGTON AND

"SMALL BUSINESS"

By C. WILSON HARDER

Sooner or later, and perhaps the sooner the better, Congress is going to have to take bold steps in the labor situation.

For some months now the committee headed by Sen. McClellan has been bringing forth disclosures in the operation of unions that rival in brutality and arrogance anything that took place in any era of recorded history. In addition in several in stances the Justice Dept. is seeking to c.w. Harder apply the nation's anti trust laws to labor unions where there is some suspicion they have combined with predatory employers to stifle competition.

But perhaps the most signifi-cant trend in Big Labor's con-stant drive for greater economic and political power is the announced determination by the A. F. L.-C. I. O. Executive Council to put union representatives on the Federal Reserve Board and on the board of each of the twelve regional Federal Reserve Banks.

As is generally known, the Federal Reserve Board of Governors is perhaps the most influential group in the national economic picture, as it is their decisions on discount rates, margin and reserve requirements which regulates the supply of money.

* * *

Obviously, the Federal Reserve Board is just the place for a fellow like Dave Beck, Hoffa, and some of the other boys with whom the McClellan committee has been occupied. The Big Labor group charges that the Federal Reserve Board is dominated by bankers. Now this perhaps may be a mistake. © National Federation of Independent Business

While bankers may know some-thing about money, they are not too familiar with operating secondary boycotts, throwing up a picket line around a place of business on short notice, or even the mechanics of collecting dues by compelling employers to deduct them from the checks of the workers.

* * *
Thus, it is easy to see that the members of the Federal Reserve Board need new faces.

* * *
And with union leaders on all twelve of the boards of the re-gional Federal Reserve Banks there could undoubtedly spring into being some spirited jurisdictional fights between regions which might not do anything to stabilize the dollar, but it would make headlines.

* * *

But the mere fact that by formal resolution Big Labor would announce this goal as a serious aim is a very serious indication of how far labor is trying to go in drive to dominate the U. S.

* * *
And there is no doubt that the leaders of Big Labor will gain some support, both in and out of Congress.

* * *

There is no end to this line of attack. It is just as logical to de-attack. It is just as logical to demand a certain number of the justices in the United States Supreme Court be picked from ranks of union walking delegates.

And while the working man undeniably has his right to the protective benefits of collective bargaining, the entire nation and its institutions cannot become permeated with the onecome permeated with the one-sided philosophies of Big Labor.

* * *

It is going to take in the months and years ahead, a great deal of organized business opinion and work to keep labor from taking over, in toto, the entire conduct of the United States. It could be already much later than anyone thinks.

One of the best chapters in the book, which helps to lift it from the usual "how to play" category of most volumes on card games, is entitled, "What is Poker?" In it the author sets out to explain first what Poker is not.

It is not, he says, a gambling game except when played by the 'unintelligent, uninstructed or neurotic.'

It is not just a game of luck. He believes Poker requires a greater degree of skill than any other game.

It is not a game in which you must "get the cards." Over a period, everybody gets the same proportion of high and low cards "yet some usually win while others usually lose."

On the other hand, says Steig. here is what Poker is: "A series of financial operations with relation to cards.' "A modern game as American
