With unemployment rising and the threat of a recession on the horizon the county budget appears destined to be a whopper despite the public's plea to cut down on unnecessary expenses. The result, practically every department or bureau in the county setup comes forth with demands for extra or increased appropriations. It is too early yet to ascertain just what it will cost taxpayers to meet the new demands but you can rest assured it'll hurt plenty. Few if any departments have been able to hold the line on their rising costs of operation it seems. Naturally the Board of Education comes in for the biggest chunk and county fiscal experts maintain that the added increase of appropriations, if granted, would up the tax bill on real estate in the county at least 37c alone. Now then if other departments are given the increases they demand it is not hard to realize what a jolt the taxpayers will be in for in 1961. It would be well for the County Commissioners to weigh the matter thoroughly before making any decision as to increased appropriations to any and all departments. Someone has to place a check on this constantly rising tax burden.

It is pleasant to note that we are the second largest voting district in the county. Figures just released place us under Frederick and ahead of all other towns in Frederick County. For quite a number of years I was of the opinion that perhaps our district had been slipping but during the past decade we've held our own, regardless of what other towns have been claiming.

St. Joseph's Church is currently undergoing a painting and general repair job and I might add the work really adds to the attractiveness of the edifice. Everything on the exterior of the building has been repainted, even the clock face and hands. And to top off the project, the cross atop the steeple has been repainted and a new light installed making the cross plainly visible at night for quite some distance around. Father Twomey, pastor, is to be commended for a job well done and one of which the whole community can be proud of.

The idea of the Lions Club holding its annual Christmas party for the kiddies of the community a week earlier has met with popular approval, especially with local merchants who help foot the bill by their advertising. For 30 years the party has been held the day before Christmas but now all that has been changed, as things do these days, and the affair will be held on Dec. 17. Mark the date on your calendar folks because we wouldn't want the kiddies to miss a thing and if you have any shopping to do that day the local merchants solicit your business, and they deserve it, because they are assisting the Lions with the presentation of the party.

Slowly but surely the town is taking on an air of Christmas. Soon most homes will be decorated for the occasion and soon the street strings will be put into action as town workers are now busy with the project. Despite the fact that the decorating contest went the way lots of other local projects went, last year just as many homes were decorated for the Yuletide and I predict that interest will remain at a high pitch again this year as the spirit of Christmas is slowly instilled in the populace. With the Indian summer weather we've been experiencing this late in the year one has hardly even had time to think about Christmas. Well it's only two short weeks away folks. Better start hustling.

Chicken House Destroyed

The Vigilant Hose Co. was called Tuesday afternoon at 1:30 o'clock to the James Larmer farm, north of here and west of the Gettysburg Rd., where a chicken house was destroyed by fire.

W. Somerset Maugham said: "Russians take their liquor sadly. They weep when they are drunk."

Mount Cagers Win Three Straight

Coach Jim Phelan's classy Mountaineer court team continued its winning ways over the weekend by taking its first two contests and coming right back Tuesday night of this week to make it three-in-a-row. Sent down to defeat in consecutive order were Shippensburg, St. Vincent's and Baltimore U.

Superior height was the big factor as the Phelanmen crushed Shippensburg State College 78-63 at Shippensburg Friday evening in the season's opener for both teams.

The score was close for the first 10 minutes but then the Mountaineers took the lead for keeps. They held a commanding 40-27 lead at halftime.

Phelan's outfit registered but one more field goal than the Red Raiders but converted 24 points from the free throw line as compared to but 11 for Shippensburg.

Jack O'Reilly, 6-4 Mount sophomore, led the victors in rebounding and scoring, netting a total of 25 points. He was closely followed by Ed Pfeiffer who landed 21, 11 on fouls, and Dick Talley with 18. Talley, also 6-4, combined with O'Reilly in controlling the boards.

The Blue and White chalked up its second win in as many starts by walloping St. Vincent's 91-63 in Memorial Gymnasium Saturday night. It was the second loss in as many starts for the Bearcats.

John O'Reilly, the 6-4 sophomore who is playing his initial year of varsity ball, was the big gun for the Mountaineers with 30 points and was a tower of strength on the defense with 17 rebounds.

The Mounts jumped in front on a free throw and were never headed. At half time the score was 42-29 and in the second half Coach Jim Phelan made use of his fine bench strength.

O'Reilly secured his points on eight field goals, most of which were lay-ups, and 14 free throws in 16 tries.

Dick Talley came through with 17 points while Ed Pfeiffer put up a fine all-around game and chipped in with 13 tallies.

The Mount connected on 27 of 36 free throws while St. Vincent's managed but 11 of 22.

An all-out effort by the Mt. St. Mary's basketball team enabled it to chalk up its third straight victory when it edged an impressive Baltimore University outfit 76-72 in a thriller here Tuesday evening.

Jack Thompson's pair of foul conversions with seven seconds remaining iced the game for the Mountaineers who trailed throughout much of the game.

Jack O'Reilly, who scored the first 11 points for the Mount, tallied a lay-up to send his team to the front 56-55 with 11 minutes remaining and Coach Jim Phelan's outfit was on top the rest of the way by a narrow margin.

Jerry Savage and Ed Pfeiffer were the key performers in the late Mount surge and it was their shooting and deft ball-handling and stealing that provided the spark to ignite the drive.

After Baltimore shot off to a 5-0 lead the Mount spurred to a 17-11 advantage before the Bees came on with a bit of fine all-around play-making and defensive work to force ahead 19-18. Gradually the visitors pulled away on a brilliant bit of shooting, both from the field and foul line, as Jack Bychich's one-handed shots enabled Baltimore to lead 40-34 at half time.

Baltimore enjoyed its biggest second half margin after 2:15 minutes when the score stood 46-38. Then Pfeiffer and Savage began to make their presence felt as the Mount slowly pulled up to gain the lead at 56-55.

With 3:20 remaining the Mount led 72-67. Baltimore's well-drilled team refused to quit and Bychich landed a short toss and O'Reilly retaliated with a long shot. Bychich followed with a three-pointer with 2:05 left. Then the Mount took to freezing the ball and Thompson was fouled in the waning seconds and converted both shots to clinch the decision.

Pfeiffer, O'Reilly and Savage tickled the cords for 23, 22 and 15 points, respectively, for the Mount. Bychich topped all with 26 while his teammate Brooks Gracie accounted for 20.

Father Kline Is New President Of Mount St. Mary's College

The Rev. Robert R. Kline, 41, professor of philosophy, has been named president designate of Mt. St. Mary's College, by the college Council, the corporate body of the institution. He will succeed Rt. Rev. Msgr. John L. Sheridan, P.A., president of the college for the past 25 years, who has resigned the office but will continue at the college as president emeritus.

Father Kline will officially take over his duties as 18th president of the nation's second oldest Catholic college in June. His appointment has been approved by both Archbishop Francis P. Keough of Baltimore and Bishop Jerome D. Hannan, of Scranton, of whose diocese Fr. Kline is a subject.

The president designate, a native of Williamsport, Pa., is the son of Mr. and Mrs. George Kline Sr. After graduating from St. Joseph High School, Williamsport, in 1937, he entered Mount St. Mary's College and was graduated summa cum laude in 1941. He attended Mount St. Mary's Seminary and was ordained for the diocese of Scranton on Feb. 25, 1945 by Bishop William Hafey. He served as assistant pastor at St. Mary's of the Assumption parish, Scranton, until he joined the faculty of the college in Sept. 1946.

A member of the faculties of both Mount St. Mary's College, where he taught philosophy and psychology, and St. Joseph Col-

Bishop McNamara Is Interred At Saint Joseph College

The Most Rev. John M. McNamara, Vicar General and Auxiliary Bishop of the Archdiocese of Washington, was buried recently in a mausoleum on the campus of Saint Joseph College, near the remains of Mother Elizabeth Ann Seton, foundress of the Sisters of Charity in America. The brief ceremony in Emmitsburg followed the pontifical requiem mass offered at St. Matthew's Cathedral in Washington by the Most Rev. Patrick A. O'Boyle, Archbishop of Washington.

The entire student body and staff of Saint Joseph College lined the long avenue leading from the highway to the inner campus to pay final respects to a beloved Bishop and friend who had been a frequent visitor to the campus for many years. Sisters and postulates of the Daughters of Charity, who conduct the college were joined by seminarians and priests from nearby Mt. St. Mary's College in paying final tribute to Bishop McNamara. At the tomb, the blessing was laid to rest with the blessing by Archbishop O'Boyle.

The 82-year-old prelate, who suffered a stroke on Thanksgiving Day and died two days later at Providence Hospital in Washington, was one of the principal advocates for the canonization of Mother Seton who was declared Venerable by Pope John XXIII in December, 1959, and will be, if canonized, the first native-born American to be elevated to sainthood. Bishop McNamara had requested that he be buried near Mother Seton, to whom he had devoted much of his interest and his time as Moderator of the Conference of Mother Seton's Daughters, an organization of six religious communities which regard Mother Seton as their foundress.

A priest for more than 58 years, Bishop McNamara was a native of Baltimore where he was educated in parochial schools and at Loyola College. He attended lege, where he is lecturer in philosophy and religion. Fr. Kline received his M.A. and Ph.D. from Georgetown U. in 1951 and 1959 respectively.

In addition to his duties on the teaching staff, Fr. Kline has served as Dean of Freshmen and College Chaplain at Mount St. Mary's. Since 1957 he has also served as chaplain at St. Joseph College. He has filled summer assignments in the Scranton diocese at St. Matthew's Church, Shavertown, and St. Theresa's, Shavertown.

The retiring president, Msgr. Sheridan, is a native of Troy, N. Y. A 1913 graduate of the college, he received his M.A. in 1919 and was ordained in 1921. He returned to the college as prefect of discipline in 1921 and also served in many other administrative capacities until he was named acting president of the college in 1936. In 1937 he was elected 17th president of the institution. He was invested as a Domestic Prelate in 1938 and honored by Georgetown U. in 1939 with an honorary LL.D. In 1957 he was named Prothonotary Apostolic by His Holiness Pope Pius XII. He received an honorary LL.D. from Loyola College, Baltimore, in 1959.

During his administration the student body grew from around 250 students to 725, the faculty was enlarged and strengthened, and Memorial Gymnasium, Pangborn Hall, the Seminary Annex, and the new Library were erected.

St. Mary's Seminary prior to his ordination to the priesthood by James Cardinal Gibbons in 1902. After serving in several Maryland churches, he became an assistant at St. Patrick's in Washington. In 1920 he organized St. Gabriel's parish and became the first and only pastor in that parish until the time of his death.

He was appointed Auxiliary Bishop of Baltimore in 1927, at which time he also received the title of Bishop of Eumenia in Asia Minor. In 1929, he was named Vicar General of the Archdiocese of Baltimore. Bishop McNamara's assignment as Auxiliary Bishop to Archbishop O'Boyle was effective when the Washington area was established as a separate Archdiocese in 1947. The first official action taken by Archbishop after his consecration was to reappoint Bishop McNamara as Vicar General of the Archdiocese.

In recent years, Bishop McNamara officiated at church dedication ceremonies, confirmation services and other ecclesiastical events. He had presided over the ordination of more priests, nearly 2,000, than any other living Bishop. Only Cardinal Gibbons, a prelate for 50 years, exceeded this number of ordinations of young men to the priesthood.

Bishop McNamara is the second prelate to be entombed in the mausoleum, which holds the remains of Mother Seton. The nephew of Mother Seton, Archbishop James Roosevelt Bayley, first Bishop of Newark, N. J., and the eighth Archbishop of Baltimore, was entombed with his illustrious aunt by his own request. The tomb, most popular of the several shrines to Mother Seton which are present on the Emmitsburg campus of Saint Joseph College, receives many thousands of visitors each year from many parts of the nation. Bishop McNamara is survived by a sister, Mary McNamara, of Baltimore.

Glee Club Will Present Annual Xmas Concert

The Mount St. Mary's College Glee Club under the direction of the Rev. David W. Shaum will present its twelfth annual Christmas concert in Flynn on the Emmitsburg campus on Dec. 11 at 8:30 p. m. Guests of the Glee Club will be the Women's Chorus of the University of Maryland under the direction of Paul Traver, the second time the Maryland singers have joined the Mount men.

The visitors will offer "Wolcum Yole," "Balalalow," and "This Little Babe" from Britten's "Ceremony of Carols," the traditional Three Rounds "Frere Jacques," "Jamais en vu," and "Sing and Rejoice;" "I Feel Pretty," by Bernstein; "Skip to My Lou," Waring arrangement; a traditional French air "Bring a Torch, Jeannette, Isabella;" a traditional Chinese air "Stars of Ice;" and a traditional Spanish air "Tum Puf Tum."

The 38 voice Mount chorus will sing "Captain Sam," by Ott; "Anywhere I Wander," Loesser-Stickles; "Falling in Love with Love," Rodgers-Hart; "Waltzing Mathilda," Wood arrangement; two nursery rhymes, "Little Boy Blue" and "Old Mother Hubbard," by Morton; "Puer Nobis," by Shaw and Gruber's "Silent Night."

Baritone soloist Paul T. Devane, Albany, N. Y., will offer "My Lord, What a Morning," arranged by Burleigh and "Homing" by Del Riego.

The combined choruses, with tenor soloist William F. Beal, Oakdale, N. Y., will sing "Chantique de Noel," arranged by Chapple.

Charity Fair Friday & Saturday

"Christmas Peace to Christ-like Hearts" will be the theme of the 1960 charity fair at St. Joseph College, proceeds of which will go to the poor of the area and to the Bolivian missions of the Sisters of Charity. It will be held from 7 to 10 p. m. on Friday, Dec. 9, and 1 to 6 p. m. Saturday, Dec. 10, in Verdier Hall on the college campus. Sister Patricia O'Friel, instructor in home economics, is general chairman.

Four St. Joseph College students have been selected as candidates for charity fair queen. They are: Miss Mary Ann Eckert, a senior, of Rochester, N. Y.; Miss Eileen Sanderak, a junior from Bethlehem, Pa.; Miss Christine High, sophomore, of Wye Hills, Pa., and Miss Kathy Troilo, a freshman from Brandy Station, Va. The queen of the fair will be elected by the students and crowned as a highlight of the Christmas fair activities.

Account Approved

Register of Wills Thomas M. Eichelberger recorded recently the $1,100.94 administration account of the last will and testament of Mae K. Campbell.

After payments and disbursements of $1,075.94 were deducted from the estate, the remainder of $25, in the form of a specific legacy of a chest of silver, was given by Harriet Stinson Norris.

The Campbell account was recorded by executrix Frances Kerrigan Stinson as including 15 shares of General Motor stock worth $650.63, current money amounting to $250.31, personal property totaling $175 and the $25 chest of silver.

Alton Y. Bennett was the agent and attorney for the executrix.

Celebrate 25th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wormley celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary on Sunday, Nov. 27 at the home of their daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde in Westminster. Their anniversary was on Nov. 23. Guests at the dinner were: Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wormley and children, Robert Jr., Joseph and Joan; Mr. and Mrs. James Wormley; Mr. and Mrs. William Getz and children of Thurmont; Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Althoff of Fairfield; and Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde and daughter. MITE SOCIETY MEETS

The Mite Society of Trinity Methodist Church met on Friday night, Dec. 2, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis S. K. Matthews with ten members and one guest present. Mrs. Charles R. Fuss presided at the business meeting and Mrs. George L. Wilhite gave the devotions. Final plans were made for the Fellowship dinner held at the church on Sunday evening at 5 o'clock.

K OF C SHRIMP FEED TONIGHT

Plans for a shrimp feed have been completed it was reported at the regular meeting of Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, held Monday night in the council's home on the Square. Grand Knight Curtis D. Topper presided over the meeting with 35 members in attendance.

The shrimp feed will be held tonight (Friday), starting at 8:00 p. m. and each member is entitled to bring a guest. Admission to the feed is $2 per person.

The grand knight announced that 42 candidates took the first degree which was conferred last Sunday at Mount St. Mary's College. The second and third degrees will be exemplified at Mt. St. Mary's College on January 8 it was announced and also that the fourth degree would be conferred in Baltimore on February 19 at the Alcezar Hotel. The group went on record as favoring the purchase of eight turkeys for poor families at the Mother Seton School for Christmas. Richard Topper, chairman of the committee to purchase safety flags for the two local elementary schools, reported the flags had arrived and were now being distributed to the school patrols. A discussion concerning the promotion of a dance to be sponsored by the group before Ash Wednesday was held but no action taken at this time. Paul A. Keepers was cited by the council for his 15 years of service as the financial secretary to the group.

LLOYD R. EYLER

Lloyd R. Eyler, 49, Harrisburg, representative for the Pennsylvania Guernsey Breeders Association, died in Harrisburg last Saturday.

He was a member of the Evangelical United Brethren Church, Linglestown, Pa., and of the Harrisburg Consistory.

He leaves his wife, Mrs. Annabelle M. Eyler; a daughter, Miss Carole Ann Eyler; and four sisters, Mrs. Myrtle M. English, of Warrenton, Va., Mrs. Bertha M. Klay, Thurston, Mrs. Valda G. Myers, Gaithersburg, and Mrs. Mayme S. Hays, Emmitsburg.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday afternoon at the Zimmerman funeral home, Harrisburg.

Rocky Ridge 4-H Meets

The Rocky Ridge Progressive 4-H Club met Nov. 25 in the Fire Hall. Club president, Randy Valente, presided.

Thirty-eight members answered the roll call by telling something for which they were thankful. There was a discussion on the recent parents and members banquet. Ways and means of improving the club were discussed.

John Hoyt gave a talk on his project, field crops. Elizabeth Springer gave some highlights on her prize winning Jersey heifer.

The next meeting will be held at the Fire Hall on December 17.

CYO Plans Activities

President Mary Marshall presided over the regular meeting of the Emmitsburg CYO held Wednesday evening in St. Joseph's High School. The meeting was opened with a prayer and the blessing of the Advent wreath by Rev. Fr. Martin J. Sleasman, the club's moderator.

Discussed at the meeting was the possibility of holding a hayride and carol singing and it was decided by the group to hold these activities on Friday evening, Dec. 23. Gene Lingg, chairman of the athletic committee reported his committee was planning a bowling team and also the promotion of a skating party. The skating party has been scheduled for Wednesday, Dec. 28. Inspection of the group's new game room was made during the evening. Already the room is equipped with table tennis and shuffleboard equipment and it is planned to add additional paraphernalia later on.

Following adjournment of the business meeting an hour of dancing was enjoyed.

Brownie Troop 92 Meets

Brownies Troop 92 held its first December meeting on Tuesday at 3:30. After a business meeting, the Brownies under the direction of Mrs. Jane Orndorff and Mrs. Nancy Danner, made Christmas cards. They also planned a Christmas party to be held Dec. 27, Tuesday, at 2 p. m. Each Brownie may bring her mother and one guest.

Weekend and Sunday visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles Wivell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Wivell and family, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hoff and family, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Reaver and daughter, and Miss Theresa Wivell.

Emmitsburg Second Largest Voting District

Emmitsburg Election District 5 still is the second largest voting district in Frederick County official Census figures revealed this week. The official tally for the Emmitsburg District is 4,574, almost 500 larger than Thurmont and nearly 1,000 greater than Brunswick District. Emmitsburg proper is somewhat behind these two towns but the district figures place the community far out in front, second only to Frederick City.

Frederick County now has a population of 71,930 and the Frederick City population is 21,744, according to the figures released.

The increase in the county population from the 62,287 listed here in 1950 is a healthy gain of 15.5 per cent but this increase is even overshadowed by the Frederick City population gain — 19.9 per cent. The city population in 1950 was 18,142.

In spite of the substantial gain by Frederick City, it slipped one notch in the standings of the top incorporated cities and is now sixth in the state.

Having the most population, of course, is Baltimore followed by Hagerstown with 36,660; Cumberland, 33,415; Rockville, 26,090; Annapolis, 23,385 and Frederick.

Rockville was the latest city to move ahead of Frederick. During the 1950 census Annapolis moved ahead of this city.

Included in the census report is the listings of the civil or county districts and the principal towns.

Brunswick continues to be the second most populated town in the county, followed by Thurmont, Emmitsburg, Middletown and Walkersville.

Brunswick and Point of Rocks are the only two towns in the county to show a decrease in population from the 1950 census figures.

Although Brunswick's population is noted as 5,555 as compared with 3,752 in 1950, it should be noted that the village of Rosemont, located near Brunswick, was not listed in 1950, but this year shows 212 residents.

The census figures are also broken down into the various districts with District 2 which includes Frederick city still showing by far the greatest number of inhabitants.

A comparison of the populations for the various county towns follows in alphabetical order.

	1960	1950
Brunswick	3,555	3,752
Burkittsville	208	190
Emmitsburg	1,369	1,261
Middletown	1,036	936
Mt. Airy	1,352	1,061
Myersville	355	250
New Market	358	301
Point of Rocks	326	361
Rosemont	212	—
Thurmont	1,998	1,676
Walkersville	1,020	767
Woodsboro	430	427

It should be noted that of the total Mt. Airy population, only 367 reside in Frederick County with the remainder residents of Carroll County.

Final population figures according to county districts are:

Dist. 1, Buckeystown	2,396
Dist. 2, Frederick	24,010
Dist. 3, Middletown	2,266
Dist. 4, Creagerstown	976
Dist. 5, Emmitsburg	4,574
Dist. 6, Catoctin	1,176
Dist. 7, Urbana	2,232
Dist. 8, Liberty	1,123
Dist. 9, New Market	3,596
Dist. 10, Havers	1,802
Dist. 11, Woodsboro	1,933
Dist. 12, Petersville	1,566
Dist. 13, Mt. Pleasant	1,018
Dist. 14, Jefferson	1,098
Dist. 15, Thurmont	4,067
Dist. 16, Jackson	1,327
Dist. 17, Johnsville	1,102
Dist. 18, Woodville	1,448
Dist. 19, Linganore	760
Dist. 20, Lewistown	1,554
Dist. 21, Tuscarora	1,082
Dist. 22, Burkittsville	1,082
Dist. 23, Ballenger	892
Dist. 24, Bradock	2,576
Dist. 25, Brunswick	3,555
Dist. 26, Walkersville	1,020

Official population figures for counties in the sixth congressional district show: Allegany, 84,169; Garrett, 20,420; Frederick, 71,930; Washington, 91,219 and Montgomery, 340,928.

Other neighboring counties have the following population: Carroll, 52,785; Howard, 36,152.

Permit Issued

A permit was issued this week in Frederick for a $150 porch enclosure to be added to a home on the Waynesboro Road in Emmitsburg district next year by Louella M. Gross of Route 3, Emmitsburg.

THIS 'N THAT

GEORGE W. WIREMAN

Our Government—Part 5

This is the fourth and final article dealing with our Government and how it works. This week we cover the executive branch as covered by Article II, Section I of our Constitution.

Article II, Section I of the Constitution states that the Executive power of our Government shall be vested in a President of the United States and that in case of the removal of the President from office, or of his death, resignation, or inability to discharge the powers and duties of the said office, the same shall devolve on the Vice President.

There is an old saying, "In our country, any boy can grow up to be President." But what about the girls? As far as the Constitution is concerned, a woman has just as much right to be President as a man does.

The job of President of the United States today is looked upon as the world's biggest job. When you begin to study the details of this job you actually find it's not just one job but six jobs rolled into one. He is looked upon as the Chief Executive, Chief of State, Legislative Leader, Diplomat, Commander-in-Chief of the Armed Forces and Political Leader. Let us look into these six jobs and consider the duties of each.

The President is Chief Executive. This is his chief duty under the Constitution. He must see that all laws passed by Congress are carried out. He signs official papers (about 200 a day) and bills passed by Congress (about 1,000 a year). With the approval of the Senate, he appoints hundreds of Federal officials. He may pardon persons who have broken Federal laws and he supervises Cabinet departments and more than 1,000 agencies and bureaus.

As Chief of State the President is the highest official of the Government. He speaks for the U. S. in its dealings with other nations and is host to many visitors.

The President is a Diplomat. With Senate approval he makes all treaties with other nations. He appoints U. S. ambassadors. Although the Secretary of State handles most of our foreign affairs the President is responsible for all the Secretary of State does.

As a Legislative Leader the President sends messages and reports such as the annual "budget" and "State of the Union" messages to Congress. These messages may suggest new bills. He often meets with leaders of Congress to talk over laws that he favors or opposes. One of his important powers is the "veto." If he opposes a bill that has been passed by Congress, he can refuse to sign it. Then the bill dies unless both houses of Congress vote on it again and each passes it by a two-thirds majority.

The President of the United States is Commander-in-Chief of our armed forces. Although only Congress can actually declare war U. S. military defense is the job of the President.

The President is a Political Leader. As chief of his own political party he helps set its programs and works closely with its members in Congress.

These are the duties of the President of the United States. After seeing these duties in print and now that you have learned why it is looked upon as the world's biggest job, do you still want to become President? It has been said that the salary may be inviting, but the duties are not. The man who holds this six-jobs-in-one gets a salary of $100,000 a year and $90,000 for expenses. Naturalized citizens . . . who come from other countries and become U. S. citizens . . . can hold any public office in our Federal Government but two: President and Vice President. The Constitution states these must be natural-born citizens, at least 35 years of age and who have lived in the United States for at least 14 years.

The President is elected for a four-year term. Until 1951, he could be re-elected for any number of terms. Then the 22nd Amendment set up two new rules: A President may be re-elected only once. He may not serve more than ten years altogether.

Now let us take a look at the office of Vice President of the United States.

Seven times in American history, the President of the United States has died in office or been assassinated. Seven times, the Vice President has become President. In fact, the Vice President's most important job is just standing by . . . ready to become President if the elected President cannot serve.

But this is not his only duty. The Constitution gives him only one other job, presiding officer of the Senate. He may vote only to break a tie. This is an important power since he may decide whether a controversial bill is passed or defeated.

If he . . . the President . . . desires it, the Vice President can be a sort of "assistant President." Recent Presidents have assigned more and more duties to the Vice President, but none has had so many duties and responsibilities as Vice President Richard Nixon. He has represented the nation and the President all over the world. He conducted Cabinet meetings while the President was ill. The Vice President belongs to the National Security Council, the top group that plans ways to keep our nation safe and free.

It has never happened that both the President and Vice President were unable to serve as President. But if this ever were to happen, the next in line is the Speaker of the House. After him are the president pro tempore of the Senate and Cabinet members in the following order: Secretary of Defense; Attorney General; Postmaster General; Secretary of Interior; Secretary of Agriculture; Secretary of Commerce; Secretary of Labor; Secretary of Health, Education, and Welfare; Secretary of State; and Secretary of the Treasury.

It is interesting to note that the President's Cabinet isn't even mentioned in the Constitution. . . but every President has had one.

President George Washington, our first President, began the custom by using his four chief officials as a cabinet of advisors. The Cabinet has grown to a group of ten members. As individuals, each Cabinet member heads a department which handles a certain part of the work for which the President is responsible.

The President appoints Cabinet members, with the approval of the Senate, and they hold office as long as the President wishes. A new President usually appoints an entirely new Cabinet, such as President-elect Kennedy is now doing.

This article concludes the series on your government at work and I sincerely hope that the facts presented here have in some way served as a means of giving you a better understanding of our government, which has survived 184 years. Perhaps the real success of our form of government is due to the fact that it is a "government of the people, by the people, and for the people." As American citizens we should take an active part in our government and defend it against all enemies.

Troop 72 Meets
Intermediate Girl Scout Troop 72 met on Monday evening in the basement of the American Legion Home. The meeting opened with the Flag ceremony by Carolyn Umble, Lynn Shorb and Connie Seiss. The girls decided to draw names and exchange Christmas gifts. The meeting was used to work on their Christmas projects. The next meeting will be held on Monday evening, Dec. 12, at 6:30 at which times names will be drawn and the Christmas party will be discussed.

License Revoked
The State Dept. of Motor Vehicles this week announced the revocation of the driver's license of Ralph W. Stonesifer, Jr., R1, Keymar. At the same time the Dept. reported the suspension of the licenses of Eugene Harry Toms, LeGore, Md., and Joseph Clem Reckley, R1, Thurmont. Vincent O'Neill, Gettysburg, had his driving privileges in Maryland revoked by the Department.

Economy To Maintain Present Rate in '61

Business in 1961 will take its cue from the present trend, with no spectacular surges and no prolonged downturn, according to Changing Times, the Kiplinger Magazine.

The current issue of the magazine in its "Months Ahead," a regular monthly feature, predicts that some lines will be more sluggish than others, but there will be no severe upsets. The editors report that trends for the early part of the year are set, and from them can be read the probable business mood for the months to follow.

"Production will sag some in the first few months of the year, a trend that is partly seasonal and partly a result of missing stimulants," according to the column. "Christmas business will zip things up this month, of course. It always puts a kick in year-end activity. But the zip won't last and the post-Christmas letdown may be a little more painful than normal."

The article notes that good news for shoppers is the fact that prices are under pressure and competition is feverish in many areas. This is interpreted to mean that January sales will feature good buys. But the important fact, noted for shoppers, is that January sales will feature good buys. But the important fact, noted for shoppers, is that prices won't bounce back much — price levels will remain fairly stable.

Capsuling all areas of business, the editors foresee: New Products. Many are likely to be introduced before the year is out—in appliances, housewares and even clothing.

Unemployment. Currently up, but employment also is high. The real concern, according to the editors, is that unemployment will go over the 6 per cent mark next year. "The paradoxical picture of high employment at a time of rising employment will be one of the first problems to challenge the new administration."

Tax Cuts. None likely. Only a deepening recession would produce a tax cut.

Interest Rates. Have been dropping slightly in recent months and will continue to go down next year. "This means easier financing for buyers of new houses. It will also reduce slightly the cost of financing new cars and other installment purchases."

Construction. "As of now, it looks as if the worrisome slowdown in home-building will persist, despite easier money." The article predicts that businessmen will pull back on plans for new factories, offices and warehouses, but government construction will expand—a result of stepped-up spending for defense and road building, a calculated stimulant to ease recession blues in many areas of the country.

In short, the outlook for business, jobs, interest rates, prices and other key factors of the economy is to maintain the present pace.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH COLUMN

I Gave TB The Brush
By Stevan Dohanos
National Honorary Christmas Seal Chairman

I am an artist. You've probably seen some of my magazine covers on the news stands. But you may not know that for many years now I have been using my brush to fight tuberculosis. I've painted many posters about TB and I designed the 1941 Christmas Seal.

My interest in TB came from heartbreaking personal experience. I lost a younger brother and sister to this dread killer and I had two struggles with tuberculosis myself—in 1932 and 1941.

I was lucky. But thousands like my brother and sister die of TB every year. Those who are fighting to control TB need all the help they can get. That is why I was glad to serve as National Honorary Chairman of the 1960 Christmas Seal Campaign.

Through the Christmas Seal Campaigns, TB associations fight tuberculosis in your community.

The Christmas Seals help to find new cases of TB so they can be treated, improve treatment through research and in many other ways battle our nation's foremost infectious killer—TB.

I urge everyone to give, not only of their dollars, but also of their energies, time, and talents in the fight to control tuberculosis. I hope they will get the same inner satisfaction that I have. This column is sponsored in the interest of better health by your Tuberculosis Association.

Pimlico Cup Scheduled Saturday

BALTIMORE—The final stakes race of the Eastern season—the Pimlico Cup—is down for decision at Pimlico this Saturday and indications are that ten or eleven marathon runners will meet in one of America's most grueling races.

The Cup is run over the extended route of two - miles-and-one-sixteenth for $20,000 added.

Heading the list of probable starters is Harmonizing from the Sa-Je Stable. Harmonizing in one previous appearance at the meeting finished second to Shield Bearer in the Dixie Handicap, a race in which he encountered difficulties along the way and then came with a strong rush at the end.

Earlier in the season, Harmonizing stunned the turf world by winning the Man of War Stakes on the grass at Belmont defeating Bald Eagle and Sword Dancer. Then he was invited to the Washington, D. C. International in which he was second to Bald Eagle.

Shipping in from New York for the Cup are two formidable rivals in Mrs. Ethel D. Jacobs' Promised Land and Laudy Lawrence's Beau Diable. Promised Land was beaten just half a length in the Queens County Handicap on the final day of the New York season while Beau Diable was third in the Display Handicap on Nov. 26 thus indicating that both these performers are at tops for the Cup.

Others listed as likely to be in action in the stern test of stamina, are John S. Burrows' Dirce, Mrs. Carl Greene's Revoque, Winston Guest's Pier Capponi, Howell E. Jackson's Hail To Thee, G. R. Leonard's Lord Lyric, Louis Nichols' Jac-A-Muffin, Rob-Ray Stable's What's-The-Hurry and Geo. Stribling's Moon Cloud.

The famed Exterminator scored in the first three runnings of this stakes in 1919-20-21. The coming race will be the 24th running of the Cup.

With no major racing in the east for the final days of the local season, Pimlico officials are looking forward to banner sport. The new heated and enclosed grandstand and clubhouse have proven popular with fans from near and far and afford a degree of comfort in cold weather never before available to racing fans.

'Ghost Marks' Haunt Even Newest Homes

A house haunted by "ghost marks" is a house haunted by discomfort, especially in winter. Ghost marks are wide, shadowy lines of dirt that cling to walls and ceilings between joist and stud spaces. They are caused by dust in warm air drawn to these areas in homes that are improperly insulated.

Mineral wool insulation, properly installed, not only eliminates "ghost marks," but cuts down on fuel bills and makes a house more comfortable by equalizing interior temperatures.

Solar Furnace

Think that sunburn you got at the beach is a scorcher? This solar furnace turns sunshine into 7,000 degree Fahrenheit temperatures as Avco Corporation's Research and Advanced Development Division puts the sun to work for science. The high temperatures generated by the furnace are used to test new materials being developed for ICBM nose cones, rocket engine nozzles, space craft and other applications where enormous heating is a problem. Here, an Avco scientist mounts specimen of material to be tested. Acting much like a magnifying glass, furnace focuses sun's rays on small spot on specimen raising its surface temperatures to 7,000 degrees Fahrenheit in 30 seconds—temperatures that would melt ordinary furnace walls.

All-Out Offensive Needed
It cannot be disputed now that the leaders of Soviet Communism have fooled most of the leaders, the diplomats, the journalists and the people of the United States, time and time again, with disastrous results. We keep going back to the conference table with them although we have never won a "negotiated" victory; we have always lost something. Most of our people have been apathetic, unafraid of the continuing advances of world Communism. A few outstanding statesmen in the free world are beginning to courageously speak out. They are motivated by a genuine fear that, within the lifetime of every reader of this column, Communism may triumph over the world.

General Carlos Romulo, Philippine ambassador to the United States, warns of this possibility in a vitally important article in the November issue of Reader's Digest. Out of his vast experience, in war, diplomacy, politics, government, he sets forth some sound steps which he urges the President of the United States and all free-world leaders to take:

Must Defeat Reds
"To settle for a world half-slave, half-free is the surest road to surrender," he says. "The new barbarians cannot be bought off or contained. They must be defeated. This can still be done without a nuclear showdown—by an all-out offensive in the fields of propaganda, economic aid, public education and, in general, fighting fire with fire in every part of the globe. "We can yet drive the Reds in their turn onto the defensive. There are plenty of weaknesses and vulnerable spots in the Communists camp—and we can exploit every one of them. We can turn the Communists' own weapons, including infiltration and subversion, against them. We can create 'crisis' in their home territory, instead of waiting passively for crisis in ours. We can train specialists in every branch of cold warfare instead of relying on amateurs. We can keep alive the hope of release from servitude among our enslaved brothers under the Communist. . .

A Global Program
"A global campaign of public education should be mounted on a scale to outmatch the Communists. It must be resourceful, aggressive, unafraid and prepared to turn their own weapons of subversion and infiltration against them. But this will never be done until the necessity of defeating Communism—defeating, mind you, not resisting—is recognized. Only then can you begin to tell the truth as unambiguously and effectively as the enemy tells lies."

General Romulo, in his article, reviews the disastrous defeats suffered in our diplomatic actions. "Western leaders keep paying blackmail in concessions and small surrenders," he says. "The United States (for instance) rolled out the red carpet for Anastas Mikoyan: a kind of preview of the later Khrushchev visit. Not long before, an American plane had been electronically lured into Soviet Armenia (Mikoyan's native area) and 17 American fliers were lost. The American government had documentary proofs of Soviet guilt, but withheld them until Mikoyan left, in order not to spoil his goodwill tour. How much good did it do?"

Still Losing
"Incorrigibly hopeful despite everything," he notes, "The United States twice renewed the moratorium on nuclear testing, thus giving the Kremlin exactly what it wanted—a test ban without inspection. Even now there is hesitation about ending the moratorium, though the protracted negotiations have yielded only frustrations for the United States and propaganda victories for the Soviet Union."

It is going to require the combined efforts of the citizens of the United States to change the course of our government. Our leaders in decision-making positions one being influenced, by powerful forces, to continue the program of 'peaceful co-existence" and "containment" which has been so disastrous for us, so successful for the Communists. It is the midnight hour for citizen action! Get the facts. Read the Romulo article. Then write the President-elect and the leaders of both political parties demanding an offensive for victory and an end to appeasement and retreat. The freedom and progress of all mankind are at stake. If we are going to win in the end we must win the cold war.

The people of Maryland are being asked to get rid of some old "tools" that have been gathering dust.

This request is not for the hammer and saw type of tools. But these requested tools will build in a more unique way.

These wanted tools are research tools which students need to build their houses of intellect.

Under the program "Maryland Heritage," Howard Roveltstad, director of libraries for the University of Maryland, is appealing to citizens who have items of historical and educational value to send them to him. The address is: "Maryland Heritage," McKeldin Library, University of Maryland, College Park, Maryland. Material of interest for the Maryland State and rare book department of the library are: Letters, diaries, books, maps, reports, periodicals, pictures, dedication programs, and documents; Also, missing issues of Maryland magazines, court records, land grants, accounts books, receipts, old money, and bills of sale.

Other items acceptable will be copies of speeches, manuscripts of books by major authors, minutes and publications of major organizations within the state, and picture slides.

All of the material in the Library's Maryland Room is available to anyone doing serious research work on Maryland history. Through the State inter-library loan some items can be made available to local libraries and college libraries.

Antihistamines a Godsend in Allergies; New Tablets Provide 12-Hour Relief

By Cynthia Carroll

Of all major medical discoveries of the past 25 years, few have been greeted with more fervent gratitude than the introduction of antihistamines just after World War II.

People who need antihistamines suffer such ills as hay fever, runny nose, skin rashes, hives, air or sea sickness, or the can't-get-a-decent-breath agony of asthma. They're seldom in danger of death, but their afflictions keep them in misery.

Small wonder that a dose of antihistamine, usually bringing prompt relief, is often followed by a fervent "Thank Heaven." It's as if the world were worth living in again.

But unfortunately, the good work done by antihistamines is accompanied by other actions. In some people they may cause drowsiness, dizziness, blurred vision, nervousness, loss of appetite, or nausea. To avoid these side effects, allergy victims may be able to take doses only once every six, eight, or 12 hours, although the benefit of a single dose invariably wears off in four.

Pharmacologists have been studying this problem ever since the drugs were discovered, hoping to eliminate the side effects while retaining the therapeutic values. It appears they've reached their goal in a new compound called Tridecamine.

Tridecamine tablets contain not one antihistamine, but three, representing three different chemical groups. The principle of sustained release, which allows the active ingredients to enter the system a little at a time, is also employed.

The theory is that very few people are sensitive to more than one of the three chemical groups, while the gradual absorption of the medication reduces the tendency to cause reaction. A single tablet, it was felt, could provide relief for 12 hours or more, the benefits would be added together while the drawbacks would not. The theory works, Dr. Lawrence J. Halpin of Cedar Rapids, Iowa, a Fellow of the American College of Allergy, reports in the authoritative journal Annals of Allergy that he gave Tridecamine to 284 allergic patients, who took a tablet only twice each day.

"Over-all results were equal to or superior to those resulting from other antihistaminic preparations. Clinical response was immediate and the effect was prolonged over a 12-hour period," he wrote.

Dr. French K. Hansel of St. Louis had similar good results in 225 patients with allergies of the nose.

"The medication is released gradually over a period of 12 hours to produce an antihistaminic effect for 12 hours or more," Dr. Hansel reported.

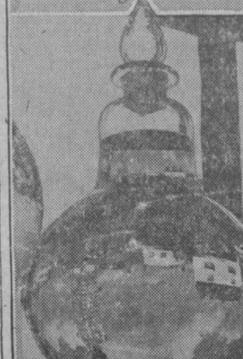

Allergy victims whose physicians prescribe Tridecamine still say "Thank Heaven." But they don't have to say it as often.

"On Trial" Students Must Attend Summer Term

A proposal that all students entering the University of Maryland with an "on-trial" classification be required to attend a special pre-college six-week summer term was approved recently by the University's Board of Regents. The plan applies only to Maryland students. Out-of-state applicants are not admitted to the University with "on-trial" status. The student's academic success in the summer session will determine his eligibility to continue attendance in one of the colleges of the University starting in September. To continue, he must earn a "C" grade or better in one of the two academic courses, and pass the second course. One of the courses will be English I.

The main purpose of the plan is to recognize students capable of doing successful college work, to provide special counsel and guidance to these students, and thereby, to reduce the high percentage of loss among "on-trial" students who enroll in the regular academic programs.

University President Wilson H. Elkins, who presented the proposal to the Board, pointed out that a study of 361 students who entered the University in September, 1958, under "on-trial" conditions, revealed very high attrition. Two semesters after entering, 65.4% had been academically dismissed or had withdrawn. Within four semesters, dismissals and withdrawals had risen to 83.4%.

Commenting on the advantages of the new policy, Dr. Elkins said "the absolute gain should be appraised in human values. It is measurable in the percentage of students who receive better advisement, who obtain better understanding of college-level expectations, and who succeed in college. There is a gain also for the student who does not succeed, academically speaking, since he will be able to reach this conclusion with less investment of time and money, with less personal discouragement, and in ample time to pursue reasonable alternatives in his education or training."

The new program will effect economies to the student by determining his potential for success in college while he still has time to make other plans; it means savings in the parent's pocket book by screening the student's college potential at half the cost in six weeks instead of in two college semesters; and it makes for maximum use of the University facilities during the peak load period each September; it means gains to the State in improving faculty utilization.

There is the added factor that students who register in the summer program will have a reasonable period of time to withdraw without prejudice.

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Isaiah 61:1-3; Matthew 1:18-23.

"He will come to Zion as Redeemer." (Isaiah 59:30. RSV.)
From Isaiah to Joel—a span of several centuries—voices of the prophets were raised with one accord in the interest of Israel's deliverance. At first, as the chosen people of God, Israel was to bring the nations to Him. Then, as the experience of the centuries mounted, it became clear that Israel herself was in need of deliverance from the enemies and sins.

Gradually, persistently, the idea and feeling grew that Israel's deliverance would come in the form of a Messiah. He would save His people and raise their hopes as a nation.

Many offices were ascribed to Him by the prophets: Shepherd, King, Man of Peace, Suffering Servant.

None fitted Him so well and came so near to His real office as that of Redeemer. The angel visiting shocked Joseph into rapt attention with the words, "Thou shalt call his name Jesus: for he shall save his people from their sins." Today, if we will listen and heed, He becomes our Saviour.

Prayer

Our Father, we thank Thee for the coming of Jesus. We are glad He came as a little child, thus teaching us humility and trust. We rejoice that He came as the Saviour, to teach us the way of forgiveness. Help us to accept Him in sincerity. We pray in His name. Amen.

Thought For The Day

Jesus, the child of Bethlehem, is Christ, my Saviour.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kestmo

On August 9, 1960 the Dingell-Johnson law celebrated its tenth anniversary. This program, familiarly known to millions by the name Dingell-Johnson, has so far put $38,711,533 of Federal and an estimated $12,904,000 of state money into undertakings to help make fishing better in every state and territory.

What exactly is Dingell-Johnson? The books state it thusly: "The Dingell-Johnson Act provides that revenue from a manufacturer's excise tax on certain types of fishing tackle shall be earmarked and shall be apportioned to the states for approved fish improvement projects. The states share in this money. Upon completion of these projects the states bill the U. S. Government for 75 per cent. U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service is in charge.

Indeed, Richard H. Stroud, Executive Vice President of the Sport Fishing Institute, declares that in its first decade the Dingell-Johnson program "has virtually doubled public fishing opportunity" in this country.

Other conservation leaders, state and Federal authorities, and just plain license buyers from all over seem pretty nearly unanimous in their praise for the law and what has been done under its auspices. Yet the Dingell-Johnson law had a hard time getting born at all, states William Voigt Jr., feature writer for Sports Afield Magazine. It was 11 years between the introduction of the first version of a bill for Federal aid to fish restoration and its final enactment.

Since the beginning, the Dingell-Johnson program has resulted in such things as these:

More than 180 new public lakes have been built, with almost 21,000 surface acres of fishable waters, and nearly 50 lakes of various sizes have been bought in the name of the public. More than 1,250 sites fronting on rivers, creeks, lakes and ponds have been acquired and developed for free public access to thousands of acres of water that can be fished now that they can be reached.

More than 1,150 research projects and investigations have been completed or are still going strong.

Thousands of miles of rivers and creeks, and tens of thousands of acres of lakes, ponds and reservoirs have been mapped, surveyed and inventoried for management purposes. Hundreds of thousands of human noses, and millions of fish, have been counted in creel censuses to find out how the fish were biting, where and under what conditions. Over 650 combination projects have been undertaken.

Indeed, many of the projects mentioned had previously been started by the states, financed solely with state funds, so they merely had to shift them over into the new program when the Dingell-Johnson bill became law. Significant as D-J is, D-J still is only a fraction of the total fish work of the state and Federal agencies. However, its direct and indirect benefits lead thoughtful conservationists to believe that the accomplishments of the first decade of its existence are but a taste of what is still ahead.

Good Building Materials Save Money in Long Run

Savings from low home operating expense justify spending more money initially for top-quality building materials, according to A. M. Watkins, author of a new, comprehensive guide for families planning to build or buy houses.

"Only about 5 to 7 per cent more money spells the difference between poor materials and first-class ones. But annual savings and immensely increased performance return your money many times over," he says.

Watkins, whose guide is entitled "How to Judge a House," rates inadequate insulation as one of the five biggest causes of high upkeep expense.

He says, "When a typical 1,200-square-foot house is really well insulated, total heating and cooling bills can be reduced to an average of $130 a year, or less than $12 a month, nearly anywhere in the continental U. S. Don't skimp on insulation. In general, the kind most recommended is mineral wool."

The four other main causes of high upkeep are poor heating, inadequate wiring, termites and decay, and low-quality hot water heaters.

Workman installs comfort and economy—mineral wool insulation—in the walls of a new house under construction.

In "How to Judge a House," Watkins gives a special section to the eight most common flaws encountered in old houses for sale and how to spot them. Also included are the five basic tests of a good floor plan, tips on getting a sound structure, a guide to air conditioning, and what to know about FHA's rules.

The booklet is available for $1 from the publisher, All About Houses, Inc., 27 Ritie St., Piermont, N. Y. It includes a 120-point check list.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Mr. Kennedy BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 8—This is not an article on the election, as its outcome has been covered fully by the newspapers, the broadcasting companies, and the magazines during the past two or three weeks. This is a column strictly on the personality of Senator Kennedy. Being a Massachusetts man, like him, and knowing his father, I can write frankly about him personally at the present time.

Senator Kennedy A Disappointed Man Senator Kennedy is a tremendous worker and very few rich men would make the sacrifices which he has personally made to secure this election. His industrious effort started four years ago when he came near getting the nomination for the Vice Presidency on the Democratic ticket.

He then laid plans and built up an organization unequalled in any Presidential campaign. The great crowds which he attracted, and his personal advisers, led him to believe he would win by a landslide. On the strength of this, he made many statements as to what he would do during the "Kennedy honeymoon" of one hundred days.

Although Senator Kennedy is naturally pleased to be elected President and move into the White House next January, yet in his heart he is a much disappointed man. He will have the honor and prestige of being President; but will not have the influence and power which he had expected. Other than making appointments, both in the diplomatic service and at the head of Commissions, about the only real power he will now have will be that of the veto, and even then Congress may pass legislation over his veto.

Election Was Too Close Although Senator Kennedy won a majority of the electoral votes, these were not even unofficially confirmed until many hours after the polls closed. His greatest disappointment was the very close popular vote, which has not yet been officially determined. I will not discuss the legal aspects of the electoral versus the popular vote, but I do wish to make an important statement. Although the popular vote in the recent election has no legal status, it has a great moral influence. It surely will cause Mr. Kennedy to remodel the Democratic Party and the Presidency. His probable program is outlined in the Wall Street Journal of November 8th, Page 10. He may now be sorry he made certain of his statements during his campaign, as he may be forced to back track on many of them.

His influence with Congress will be much less than if he had won with a fairly good popular margin and were taking office with a mandate from the people. Therefore, after the tremendous crowds which met him at every city, he is especially disappointed by his failure to capture a majority of the popular vote. It will be very difficult to persuade Congress to pass any radical program, even though the Republicans are in the minority. A Congressman takes his cue from what the people in his district think. Every Congressman has figured out carefully what the popular vote shows as to Senator Kennedy's popularity in his respective district.

What Of The Future? Senator Kennedy's campaign speeches said that if Vice President Nixon were elected, we would have a "do nothing" Congress during the next two years, and perhaps during the next four years. Unless something happens which cannot now be foreseen, the next four years under President Kennedy could record a "do nothing" Congress. Hence the great disappointment to him, as well as surprise to most Democrats. This is why Mr. Kennedy will go into the White House restrained somewhat by the noticeable absence of an "unrestricted franchise" from the people.

Unfortunately, what happens during the next two years or more may be very largely in the hands of Mr. Khrushchev. One cannot tell whether he is serious or merely bluffing about Berlin and his relations with China and other countries such as Cuba. He surely does not want a nuclear war; furthermore, he may be replaced by Mr. Molotov, or by someone else either more or less radical than Mr. Khrushchev. On the other hand, as Mr. Eisenhower pointed out in his famous Pittsburgh address, a war could start from some accidental and unwanted incident due to the unmediated psychotic action of some flyer. As World War II made Mr. Roosevelt, so another World War might make Mr. Kennedy; but I am sure he does not want it to happen in this manner.

first day of school, wrecks it and kills his 15-year-old companion.

These are the grisly reports of juvenile criminality—teenagers on the rampage in stolen automobiles from the four corners of our Nation. The miracle of modern-day transportation has become a vehicle of tragedy for countless teenagers who have killed and mangled themselves and innocent motorists across the land, and, regrettably, this carnage of teenage recklessness in stolen cars shows no signs of abating.

The year 1959 witnessed an all-time high record of automobile thefts as 283,300 cars with a value of $239 million were stolen. The appalling and shameful part of this awesome picture is the fact that juveniles under the age of 18 were responsible for 64 per cent of these crimes!

If this sordid situation continues to increase at the same rate as it has in the past, a staggering total of 707,000 automobiles will be stolen in 1970 in this country with a corresponding loss to the American public of $586 million. Again, at the present rate of increase, some 96,000 youths will be arrested for auto theft in 1970.

Law enforcement officers have long known that theft of automobiles by young people is too often only the prelude to a violent crime spree by youthful hoodlums which results in death, severe injury, or extensive property loss.

At its recent conference in Washington, D. C., the International Association of Chiefs of Police (IACP), well aware of the tragic consequences of automobile thefts by juveniles, passed a resolution rejecting the false label of "joyriding" which some overly lenient and misguided citizens, prosecuting authorities, and judges use to describe car thefts by juveniles. This resolution, prepared by veteran law enforcement officers who have too often seen the grim aftermath of juvenile car thievery, calls upon prosecuting authorities and courts to deal realistically and vigorously with juveniles who persist in this crime rather than treating the offense as if it were a boyish prank.

At the same time, these officers acknowledged in another resolution that experience has clearly shown that sure detection, swift apprehension, and proper punishment are the time-proven deterrents to crime, each being a necessary ingredient. The IACP then went on record as favoring the continued, vigorous prosecution of violators of local auto theft statutes and of the Federal Interstate Transportation of Motor Vehicle Statute.

There are many prosecutors and judges who have long since recognized the dangers of soft treatment of car thieves, both adult and juvenile. Communities which have such administrators of justice are fortunate indeed.

Those communities which, on the other hand, have seen palliating treatment of automobile thieves result in the release time after time of potential killers are, by their own apathy, creating situations which will one day spawn tragedy on their streets.

No citizen, fortunately, must learn this lesson by seeing the day-after-day human misery caused by stolen cars that the law enforcement officer must witness, but there is no excuse for failing to heed the advice of the men who are charged with protecting the lives of every citizen.

Set a watch, O Lord, before my mouth; keep the door of my lips.—(Psalm 141:3)

How much suffering and sorrow we would spare ourselves and others, how much love and kindness we would give, if we asked God's guidance, ever and always, in all that we do and say, think and desire—and how blessed and strong and happy we would be!

Lisa Can Ride Her 'Goldilocks' Again Because of Help From March of Dimes

A magnificent fairyland of a special kind, in which leg aches are still known but not felt so often as before, has just opened for four-year-old Lisa Sliker, of Leicester, N. Y.

"My doctors," the blue-eyed and auburn-haired Lisa tells everyone today, "have made my leg almost all well again. Now I can sit on my horse, Goldilocks, and I can walk to the barn on my crutches and see my kittens and the pigs."

The new lease on life accorded little Lisa is due in great measure to the treatment she continues to receive each month at the arthritis clinical study center at University of Rochester-Strong Memorial Hospital, established with public contributions to the March of Dimes. Stricken three years ago with baffling rheumatoid arthritis in her right leg, the attractive child wore a cast for many months but now no longer wears it at night—although she goes to sleep hugging "my old leg" like a doll.

Lisa is one of 30,000 youngsters in the United States who are afflicted by rheumatoid arthritis which interferes with bone growth and may cause deformity. In addition to the study center visited by Lisa at Rochester, March of Dimes funds have made possible the opening of additional arthritis study centers in New York City, Dallas and San Francisco.

Mrs. Sliker recounts: "My husband and I were scared witless when Lisa's stumbling was diagnosed as arthritis, which somehow sounded like something that might strike your great-grandfather. But not strike down the beautiful, merry and innocent little baby with whom God had blessed us.

"It was a terrifying experience for us to watch Lisa lying motionless in her crib, pain in her eyes and face but holding back the tears. Her right knee was swollen to unbelievable size. But now that she is much better and some day may walk again unassisted by crutches, we pray that, like Lisa, others may be helped by the March of Dimes." Mrs. Sliker is a volunteer worker in her county during the March of Dimes, collecting funds for The National Foundation's expanded program which includes significant birth defects together with arthritis and continued work in polio.

"My farmer husband helps me call on neighbors during January," Mrs. Sliker adds. "The snows are mountainous at that time of year in our neck of the woods, but we both feel that helping the March of Dimes is the least we can do in return for the help given our Lisa."

A Longer Dog's Life

Just as the life expectancy of man has risen in the past years—so has the dog's. There were 17 million dogs in the country 11 years ago—today there are 25 million.

Clarence C. Fawcett of the Purina Dog Care Center has come up with a few tips on how you can help give your dog longer life. Start with a healthy puppy.

When you buy a pup (from a reputable kennel or pet shop), or acquire him from a neighbor, try to select one with a smooth, glossy coat, clear eyes and nose, and a lively, alert personality. Make sure your pet is checked by a veterinarian. The number-one pet killer is distemper. When this dread disease does strike, your dog's chances for a complete cure are pretty slim. Fortunately, your local veterinarian can provide preventative "shots." He can also immunize your pet against other canine infections. Besides his usual walk, your dog's health improves when you play with him. Most puppies like to retrieve sticks, balls, etc. Such activity builds muscles while providing him with fun and companionship. A piece of rubber hose or a leather strap—perhaps an old towel—will do fine.

Thurmont Jaycees To Host State Meeting

James E. Spahr, chairman of the committee in charge of the December State Board Meeting of the Maryland State Junior Chamber of Commerce has announced that plans are about complete for the big state meeting to be held this Saturday in Thurmont, when the Thurmont Jaycee Chapter will be host to some forty chapters throughout the state and many outstanding figures in the national organization as well.

Registration is scheduled from 9:00 to 10:00 a. m. at the American Legion Home, followed by a parade of chapters, which will form at Royer's Restaurant and proceed through town to the American Legion Home. Leading the parade will be the Thurmont High School Band under the direction of Thomas Fugate.

Taking part in the parade will be Morgan J. Doughton, national president of the U. S. Junior Chamber of Commerce from Allentown, Pa., together with Miss Maryland, and all visiting officials and local dignitaries.

The first session of the meeting is scheduled to get underway at 10:30 a. m. which will be followed by a luncheon and special program at 12:00 noon.

The afternoon session will begin at 2:00 p. m. followed by a dance at 9:00.

A large attendance is expected and the Thurmont Jaycees are indeed proud to have been selected to be host to the December Board Meeting and are deeply honored to have the national president, Morgan J. Doughton, to attend. This is a rare privilege for the local chapter in that they are not yet a year old, and have accomplished much since they were organized back in May of this year.

Forest Fire Quelled

A three-alarm forest fire in Eyer's Valley, approximately four miles west of here near Camp Pioneer, was answered Tuesday at 4:55 p. m. by the Emmitsburg, Thurmont and Blue Ridge Summit fire departments.

The fire, which destroyed approximately four acres of wooded land, was believed to have been started by careless deer hunters, authorities reported.

There were no reported injuries and firefighters were at the scene for about five hours.

Members of the Vigilant Hose Co. were called again Wednesday morning at about 7:15 when the blaze broke out again. They were on the scene about four hours.

Liners Upset Alumni Team

Emmitsburg High School defeated its alumni Tuesday night 59-44 in their opening cage contest of the season.

It was the Liners all the way as they scored on 50 per cent of their shots in the first half to take a 31-23 lead at the end of the second frame.

Terry Fleagle led the way for the victors with 18 points, with Bill Zimmerman close behind with 15 and Don Sweeney with 13. Mac Ancarrow with 11 points and Mike Humerick with 10 were in double figures for the alumni.

Legion Auxiliary Meeting Held

The Francis X. Elder American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 121, met on Tuesday evening in the American Legion Home, President, Kathleen Shorb presided. The group decided to donate $10 to the Joy Shop at Victor Cullen Hospital, and also to give each Veteran at the Hospital, 24 in all, $1.00 for Christmas. Time of the annual Christmas trip to the hospital will be announced later.

The Christmas party which will be held on Wednesday evening, December 14 at 7:00 p. m. in the Post Home was discussed, and the menu will include turkey and ham. All members are invited to attend, and bring a gift of $1.00 value for exchange.

Membership chairman, Madeline Harner, reported that to date there are 76 paid up members. Charlotte Sanders, Community Fund representative, reported on the recent meeting she attended.

The draw prize was won by Ann Topper and the door prize was won by Ann Condon. Next month's meeting will be held on Wednesday, Jan. 4, instead of the regular meeting night. The change was made due to conflicting date of another Christmas party of an organization to which many of the Auxiliary members belong.

Transportation Of Liquors Between States Illegal

With the approach of the Holiday Season, when sales of alcoholic beverages reach their peak, Louis L. Goldstein, Comptroller of Maryland, once again reminded the citizens of Maryland of the State Law and penalties for unlawfully bringing alcoholic beverages into this State from the District of Columbia or any other state or foreign country.

Comptroller Goldstein indicated that he and the personnel of the Alcoholic Beverages Division are particularly anxious that residents of Maryland understand the law so that all persons will fully comply, thereby preventing unnecessary embarrassment and other unpleasant results that would follow, should they be arrested and prosecuted.

The Comptroller went on to say that, with one exception, no unlicensed person may possess in the State of Maryland alcoholic beverages upon which the Maryland tax has not been paid. The exception is that an adult resident of the State may, for his own personal use, bring into Maryland not more than one quart of any kind of legally manufactured alcoholic beverage, and he cannot bring in more than two quarts in any one calendar month. The law of Maryland provides for the confiscation of alcoholic beverages unlawfully possessed or transported and, upon conviction, a penalty of not more than one thousand dollars ($1,000) fine or two years imprisonment, or both fine and imprisonment.

The Comptroller concluded by stating that the Enforcement Unit of the Alcoholic Beverages Division will be particularly vigilant during this Holiday Season to insure that the revenues of the State of Maryland, which are so essential to pay for the necessary services of government, are protected and that alcoholic beverages are not unlawfully brought into Maryland.

POSTER CONTEST UNDER WAY

Junior and senior high school students in public, private and parochial schools were reminded that the deadline for entries in the essay and poster contests sponsored by the Governor's Committee to Employ the Handicapped has been set for Jan. 15, 1961.

"Jobs for the Handicapped—A Community Challenge" is the theme for this year's essay, according to Chester A. Troy, State Chairman of the committee.

"The purpose of the two annual contests is to educate young people, their parents and teachers in the economic, social and moral issues involved in employing the handicapped," Mr. Troy said.

"The essay contest," Mr. Troy explained, "has caught fire in the high schools all over the country. Each year finds tremendous increases in the number of students writing essays on the subject of the handicapped."

Mr. Troy cited the statement made by the father of a teen-ager girl who entered last year's contest. The father said, "My eyes were opened. My daughter asked me to read her essay. She answered objections that I've been raising, as an employer, all these years. She won a prize bigger than money—her father's change of heart."

Essay contest entrants will be vying for a first prize scholarship which covers tuition for four years at the University of Maryland. The first prize essay winner will also receive a $100 Savings Bond, and the winning essay will automatically become eligible for the national contest and a $1,000 prize.

Source material for the essays and the posters may be obtained from the Employment Service Division of the Maryland Department of Employment Security, from the State Vocational Rehabilitation Service or from the public libraries.

Speeder Nabbed

George S. Abrecht, about 21, Taneytown R1, was charged before Justice of the Peace John Whitman in Cumberland Twp., Pa., Saturday morning with reckless driving and "speeding in excess of 90 miles per hour."

The charges were laid following a chase south on the Emmitsburg Road at about 1 a. m. Saturday.

The officer said Abrecht "out ran" the police car, but was apprehended in Emmitsburg where the Taneytown driver was found by Twp. officer Bernard Mille, Emmitsburg Police Chief Wilmer Law and Maryland State Police.

Abrecht, according to the Cumberland Twp. officer, started south with Officer Miller in chase and the policeman found the other auto outrunning his at speeds in excess of "110 miles per hour."

In Emmitsburg, Abrecht, according to Miller, made a wide swing into an alley at the American Legion Home. Miller continued on into the square where he found Officer Law and a Maryland State Policeman who said they had not seen Abrecht, but had "heard the noise" as his car skidded for about 100 feet on the turn.

The three officers then went in search and came upon Abrecht in the alley.

Officer Miller said Abrecht had been charged by him before Justice Whitman early on November 18 on another reckless driving charge on which he drew a $25 fine.

National Guard Unit Has 100 Personnel

Company B (Forward Support) 729th Ordnance Battalion, Maryland Army National Guard, State Armory, Highfield, Md., has announced that the Unit now has the strength of 100 personnel. This consists of 92 enlisted men, one captain, four first lieutenants and three warrant officers. This is the first time since the Unit was organized in 1953 that it has had 100 personnel.

At the present time the Unit has vacancies for three enlisted personnel, either prior service or non-prior service and four officers, either first or second lieutenants who would serve as platoon leaders in the Unit. Officers, if qualified, would be accepted from any branch of the Army, Navy or Marine Corps. The latter two would be accepted in grade equivalent to that held in the Navy or Marine Corps.

Captain Charles A. Warner, the commanding officer of the Unit, also announced that the 729th Ordnance Battalion now has a new battalion commander, namely Lt.-Col. George C. Gibson of Havre de Grace, Md., who is stationed with the Unit's battalion headquarters at the State Military Reservation, Havre de Grace, Maryland.

Captain Warner also announced the following promotions of enlisted men in the Unit. From private to private first class: James B. Troxell, Robert L. Troxell and Andrew R. Mitchell.

At present the Unit has 11 enlisted men attending six months active duty at Fort Knox, Ky. and six men awaiting to enter in early January 1961. SP4 Weldon B. Shank Jr., of the unit also is attending officers' candidate school conducted by the State in Baltimore.

Arrangements have been completed for the Unit's annual Xmas party which will be held Dec. 16 at the Blue Ridge Summit Fire Hall. Members of the Unit will be served a ham and oyster supper followed by a dance later in the evening.

Anyone interested in joining the Unit may visit the armory Monday evenings from 7:30 to 9:30 or contact MSgt. Stanley E. McIntire any weekday Monday thru Friday from 8 a. m. to 4:30 p. m. at the armory, or phone Highfield 318 for any information desired concerning the unit or details regarding enlistment in this Unit of the Maryland Army National Guard. Parents and guests of prospective members also are invited to visit the armory and observe the Unit's training.
