After reading in the paper this week that the Baltimore Colts are seriously considering moving their training camp from Westminster I couldn't help but start thinking what a wonderful break this would be for Emmitsburg if we could be successful in landing such an economic and entertaining gem for this area. The Colts and their management are utterly dissatisfied with the integration and racial problems confronting them at their present location. They have been under constant pressure from interested groups to leave Westminster and apparently will do so in the near future unless these racial segregation policies are abolished.

The team, during its training period, draws many thousands of spectators to the town. These tourists, or spectators, spend a good deal of money with the local merchants. The sponsoring institution also receives a nice profit from housing and boarding the players. I feel that this thing bears looking into from a lot of angles and a lot of interested businessmen here.

Well, the annual Town Election is upon us and there is a good selection of candidates in the field. Interest is high as we are about to go to the polls and a large turnout is anticipated. We have read much and discussed the situation many times. There have been several false subjects injected in the campaign and many innuendoes cast. However in all fairness to the candidates, I don't think they have deliberately spread any false rumors. Most, if not all of them have come from friends. Few if any of them merit any consideration. In my opinion things are in pretty good shape fiscally and it is just a choice of who you want to run the town government. We'll all survive regardless of who the victors are and really there is no sense in getting all riled up over the election because I'm sure we'll all be friends once more when it is all over. The main thing to do is vote for the candidate of your choice. Consider the merits of each carefully, think which ones can do the most for the benefit of all and then cast your ballot accordingly. I really was pleased to see the number of candidates file this year. It indicates a healthy condition in local politics. Why just a few short years ago it was a major task to persuade anyone to take or seek office here. Thank the Lord the situation has changed and we now have a selection from which to choose. May the best men win!

Route 15 comes into the news again this week and now we are getting a better focused picture of what is happening or about to happen. From the information we have to date it looks like all of Route 15, from first to Frederick, will be completed or at least under way this year. There is only one stretch that might possibly not be started this year and that is the actual bypass of Emmitsburg. At the present time the Roads Commission is obtaining rights-of-way for this bypass but no date has been released as to if and when any of the work will be done. One rumor has it that contracts for this section would be let in October but this is merely hearsay, so don't bank on it.

Police Are Investigating $7,000 Robbery At College

State Police are continuing their investigation of the $7,000 robbery that occurred at Saint Joseph College sometime Saturday afternoon between 12 noon and 2 p.m. while over 1,000 friends, alumni and guests were on the college campus.

State Police theorized that the breaking and entering was well planned.

Police said that at that time, all the people on the campus were either in church or at an alumnae banquet. The alumnae gathering on the campus was scheduled for last weekend.

Police said entry was made through a transom in the business office. A cabinet-type safe was forced open and the money was taken from a strong box, police said.

A black briefcase was also missing, police said, and was apparently used to carry the money away.

The latest calculation by police lists $4,837.84 in cash and $2,695.67 in checks and money orders missing.

The robbery was discovered at about 9:30 Sunday morning, police said.

Police said the money orders were made out to St. Joseph College.

Police said none of the checks had turned up in the Emmitsburg area and they were still in the process of compiling a list of banks on which they were drawn. Since this was a big weekend at the college, police said, the banks would be located all over the country.

Tfc. William F. Davis and Tpr. Robert Snyder are still questioning the employees of the college.

Bike Taping Thursday

All owners of bicycles in the Emmitsburg District are urged to take advantage of the free safety taping of their vehicles by members of the VFW, State and local police.

The Emmitsburg Veterans of Foreign Wars Post, 6658, Raymond Baker, commander, is sponsoring this safety measure in this community on Thursday evening, May 2. There is no charge for the reflecting tape and State Police will also give a safety talk to those who gather at the Rectory Grounds of St. Joseph's Church Thursday evening.

Commander Baker said the safety program was a nationwide event and the reflecting tape was being furnished by the Minnesota Mining & Mfg. Co. free. The company has donated enough of this safety tape to equip 2,000,000 bikes, both front and rear.

Delegates to the District Convention to be held in Atlantic City May 28-30 were discussed but none appointed as yet. Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James A. Houck, Sr., R3, Emmitsburg, announce the engagement of their daughter, Constance Jean, to Roy A. McGlaughlin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roy C. McGlaughlin, Fairfield.

Miss Houck is a junior at the Emmitsburg High School. Her fiancé graduated from Fairfield High School in the class of 1959, and is employed by Rouzerville Fabricating and Welding, Inc.

A June wedding is planned.

Rt. 15 Improvements Scheduled

The bypass of Emmitsburg will be the last stretch of the new Route 15 from Emmitsburg to Frederick to be completed, the State Roads Commission announced this week. The Commission is currently obtaining rights-of-way for the bypass.

The Commission is also asking for bids on the relocation of U. S. 15 from Tuscarora Creek to the Lewistown By-Pass. Work on this project is expected to get under way soon after the contract is let, however, the new roadway is not expected to be completed before 1964.

Thomas G. Mohler, District Engineer of the SRC, said that after this 3.8 mile strip of highway is built there will be only one more section of Route 15 remaining to be built. This last section to be advertised will be the bypass around Emmitsburg. The project currently being advertised will, when completed, be the first lane of an ultimate dual highway from Frederick to Emmitsburg. Bids on the project will be opened May 14.

Addition of the second lane of Route 15 is scheduled to begin next year, it was reported. With the exception of the relocated road at Thurmont, the new roadway from Frederick to Emmitsburg which has or is being constructed, constitutes the south-lane of the ultimate dual.

At the present time the M. J. Grove Lime Company is in the process of building a 3.2 mile strip of highway from Lewistown to join the Thurmont by-pass at Catocin Furnace. This $658,428 project is expected to be completed this fall. The contractor is currently in the process of getting ready to do the final grading before putting down the pavement. Considerable work is also being done in completing box culverts and drainage structures.

The section of highway currently being bid will completely replace much of the existing roadway. The new roadway will join with the relocated highway in the vicinity of Beckley's Motel and Restaurant. It will carry traffic to the east of the present roadway until it reaches the Daniel Thomas farm where it will cross to the west side of the existing road. The new road will lead back across the present roadway to the east side north of Stull's Auto Treat and continue northward on the east side of the road until it joins with the Lewistown by-pass near the Mountandale Road intersection.

Mr. Mohler said there will be interchanges near the White Cottage Inn at Hansonville, Devilbiss Bridge Road, Biggs Ford Road, Old Frederick Road, Sunday's Lane and Willow Brook Road, all part of the county roads system.

Mr. Mohler reported that the section of the old roadway from White Cottage Inn northward would be continued in use. The remainder of the road will be made useless by the crossings by the new highway. The new road is to be part of the southbound lane of the ultimate dual.

Mother Seton's Remains Enshrined Here

The mortal remains of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton were permanently enshrined before hundreds of clergy and members of the Daughters of Charity at ceremonies held at Saint Joseph College on Thursday, April 18.

The remains of the foundress of the Sisters of Charity in America and St. Joseph College, were enshrined in the chapel of St. Joseph's Provincial House, Emmitsburg. The Most Rev. Lawrence J. Shehan, D.D., archbishop of Baltimore, presided.

Mother Seton was beatified March 17 in St. Peter's Basilica, Rome, and Pope John XIII venerated the relic at one of two services. Elevation of Mother Seton to sainthood now involves two additional miracles.

A procession of 90 prelates of the Catholic Church accompanied the small brass casket containing the remains of Mother Seton to the altar where it was placed in a niche at the base of the Blessed Virgin Mary. The box is approximately three feet long and 18 inches wide. It will remain in the new location permanently.

An organ prelude of 16th and 20th Century music preceeded the enshrinement ceremonies in the chapel of the Provincial House. The chapel was built in 1839 and consecrated in 1841 and has an atmosphere of quiet antiquity. The altar is a masterpiece of white marble and gold in Tuscan-style architecture. It was decorated with white snappings and talisman roses. The choir comprised 48 voices of seminary sisters.

The ceremony was witnessed by approximately 300 clergymen and representatives of the seven communities of the Sisters of Charity and invited guests.

The work of Mother Seton was acclaimed by Archbishop Shehan as he traced her life through the hardships she endured in order to carry out her convictions and dedications.

"She suffered all things," he said in reviewing the physical and emotional strains that plagued her from the early death of her husband, leaving her a widow with five children, through her own devastating illness and death in 1821. She was the foundress of parochial schools, hospitals and institutions in America and is considered the New World counterpart of St. Louise de Marillac who founded the Daughters of Charity of St. Vincent de Paul in France in the 17th Century.

Mother Seton's remains were exhumed from the original resting place last October and examined by clergy and pathologists. They were placed in the new brass casket and sealed. Pathologists Dr. William Dolan, M.D., Georgetown Hospital, and Dr. Kenneth McCoy, M.D., Providence Hospital, Washington, were in the procession. John F. Murray, mortician, also accompanied the group.

The benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament was celebrated by the Rt. Rev. Monsignor George D. Mulcahy, Archbishop Shehan was attended by chaplains, the Very Rev. John P. McGowan, C.M., and the Rt. Rev. Msgr. Robert R. Kline, Ph.D.

Bloodmobile At Mount Monday

Postmaster James A. Grove of Frederick, chairman of the Frederick County Red Cross Blood Program, urges all countians to utilize the services of the Bloodmobile that will be set up at the Cogan Union Building on Mount St. Mary's College campus Monday, April 29, beginning at 3 p. m. and continuing until 7 p. m.

There have been numerous Emmitsburgians who have already benefited from the program, according to Mr. Grove. Anyone who has received blood transfusions at the Frederick Memorial Hospital since July 1, 1962, has not been charged for this aid, nor has any replacement donor been required. This service is given to every resident of Frederick County in any hospital in the United States that will accept blood replacement from the Red Cross on a unit for unit basis. This service will continue as long as the county quota of 150 pints of blood per Bloodmobile visit are met.

In order to have blood replacements made by the National Red Cross Blood Program, Mr. Grove advises the following procedures:

1. Ascertain from the hospital authorities if replacement from the Red Cross will be accepted. If the answer is "yes," then, 2 contact the Frederick Red Cross, 22 South Market St., or telephone MO 2-5131, giving the name, age and address of the patient; the name of the hospital and where located; the number of pints of blood given the patient and the dates when given. The local chapter will take over from this point.

In addition to the above benefits all county donor residents are given the following protection:

Immediate coverage for one year in any hospital in the U. S. which will accept Red Cross blood. This is without charge and applies not only to the individual donor but the husband or wife, children under 18 years and parents or parents-in-law or any relative sharing the same household and economically dependent on the donor. There is no limitation as to quantity needed nor exceptions as to the nature of the illness.

Donors Monday must be between the ages of 18 to 60. Anyone who has reached their 60th birthday is ineligible and anyone who is 18 and not a member of the armed forces must have written parental permission to present to the doctor at the Bloodmobile.

Numerous replacements have been made in Baltimore hospitals and the father of a Frederick County donor received 28 pints of blood in a San Francisco hospital. It is hoped that the local area residents will be as responsive as other communities in the county.

Students, seminarians, and faculty members from the Mount will also participate in the program.

Much business is on hand to be transacted before the present school semester ends and the president urged all members of the executive board to be on hand for the Monday meeting.

Emmitsburgians will turn out in heavy numbers to settle the dust of one of the hottest elections held here in many years. What was thought would be a quiet election, with little or no opposition, developed into a red hot contest.

Interest in the coming election is running high and all candidates for office have been busy the past two weeks. The annual Town Election will be held on Tuesday, April 30 and balloting will take place in the old Town Office. Polls will be open from 12 Noon until 7 p.m. Tuesday. There are 522 eligible voters registered.

For Burgess
Charles D. Gillelan
Ralph F. Irelan
For Commissioner
J. W. Houser
James T. Welty

The race for Mayor sees Charles D. Gillelan, present town clerk, opposing Ralph S. Irelan, local businessman. Incumbent Mayor J. Allen Bouey did not seek reelection.

In the race for Town Commissioner, Dr. J. W. Houser, incumbent Commissioner and retired druggist and businessman, will oppose James T. Welty, local barber and former butcher shop operator. Charles (Toss) Shorb, barber, withdrew from the race early this week and will not appear on the ballot. Judges of election will be as follows: Lloyd G. Ohler, chief, Josephine Steinberger and Mrs. John Warthen.

Chairman of the Board of Commissioners J. Norman Flax this week announced that a contract for cutting timber on the watershed near town had been let to the J. McDonald Co., Martinsburg, W. Va. The timber is being cut on the recommendation of the Maryland State Health Dept. and will be under the supervision of a ranger from the Maryland Department of Forests and Parks. All lumber cut will be checked by individual agents from both parties, the Town and the lumber company. The company is paying the Town $22.50 per thousand feet and already a $5,000 deposit has been made. Total profit from the sale of lumber is estimated at $10,000. The logging company will build permanent roads through the watershed and these will be used for future logging activities and for fire purposes. Following the cutting of the trees it is planned to replace them with saplings provided by the State.

Commissioner Flax also stated unequivocally that the Town anticipated no increase in water rates during 1963 and that at the present time the Town fiscal affairs were in very good order. He reported that tax collections for the years 1961 and 1962 were 100% for the first time in the town's history.

Emmitsburgians will lose one hour's sleep Sunday morning when the annual switch to Daylight Saving Time is effected. Citizens are advised to turn their clocks up an hour before retiring Saturday night. The "fast time" will continue until the last week in October.

Youths Rob Local Store

Three teenagers from Emmitsburg were charged Saturday with stealing 22 cartons of cigarettes, flashlight batteries and a ham from the Acme store here Friday night.

Emmitsburg Police Chief W. E. Law identified one of the youths as 19-year-old James A. Wills Jr., Emmitsburg, who was released from Frederick County Jail under $3,000 bond Saturday. The other two are both 17 years old, he said, and were charged with being juvenile delinquents. They were released in custody of their parents.

Entry to the store was gained after a rear door was pried open. The juveniles were arrested at their homes early Saturday, he said, and Wills was picked up at an Emmitsburg restaurant about 6:30 a.m.

Tfc. Earl F. Tracey aided the officer in the investigation.

Kirk, the tool of whose trade is a "shoe horn," stated, "Many of the top outfits that campaign in the East have applied for stalls. We're filling up our stable areas earlier this year than in recent seasons and from the quality of Thoroughbreds being shipped on to the grounds, the spring meeting should be one of the finest ever."

Statistics released this week by the Frederick County Liquor License Commissioner show there are 12 fewer establishments in the county selling alcoholic beverages this year than there were in 1959.

License Commissioner Louis V. Myers Jr. said 1963 licenses have been approved for 165 establishments compared with 177 in 1959. He cautioned operators of taverns, grocery stores, clubs, package stores and other outlets to post their new licenses by May 1. The licenses are available at his office on West Church St., Frederick.

The commissioner said financial instability, retirement or deaths have caused most of the drop in the number of licenses issued.

K-9 Corps Performs For Local Scouts

Troop Top Barnes of the Maryland State Police, Frederick Barracks, recently gave an exhibition of his K-9 dog, Duke, to over 100 Scouts of Emmitsburg and many parents, in the VFW Annex.

Trooper Barnes gave the history of these dogs and explained their training program. He also gave a demonstration of obedience and tactics these dogs are taught. Their ability to assist the police in their efforts to protect the community was demonstrated.

It was an educational, interesting and delightful evening. The Scouts wish to thank Trooper Barnes and Corp. Storer, who assisted in the exhibition.

100 YEARS AGO

HOOVER OPENS ATTACK AT CHANCELLORSVILLE

By Lon K. Savage

"Fighting Joe" Hooker launched his first (and last) major fight as commander of the Army of the Potomac 100 years ago this week, and the way it went, it looked as if he had a sure fire victory in his hands. It looked that way, but as Hooker was to learn, appearances are deceiving.

His fight was against the nemesis of the Federal army, General Robert E. Lee and some 65,000 Confederates dug in around Fredericksburg, Va., behind the Rappahannock River, where they had routed the Federals in December. Hooker had been a subordinate general then and had seen the mistakes; he would not make them, too, he thought.

So as April came to a close, Hooker readied his army of 130,000 men—twice the size of Lee's—for its big battle. Hospitals were cleared of wounded. Arms were inspected. Ammunition and supplies were brought up. Horses were shod. Even the weather turned good.

Hooker Moves Out

On April 27th, Hooker moved out. Three corps—42,000 men—moved 25 miles off to the right, crossed the Rapidan and Rappahannock Rivers, and Lee's suspicions apparently were not aroused. At the same time, Hooker sent two other corps under Gen. John Sedgewick down to the Rappahannock at Fredericksburg, where they threw across pontoon bridges and began to cross under Confederate fire. Lee immediately resisted Sedgewick's advance, but that was all right with Hooker; his big movement was on the right; while Lee fought Sedgewick, Hooker planned to move in on Lee's left flank, catch him by surprise and destroy him.

Hooker's preparations went off without a hitch. By the evening of April 30th, he had assembled his men in the woods and wilderness around a crossroads and a brick mansion called Chancellorsville, 10 miles west of Fredericksburg, and all appeared rosy. Men whistled as they worked, and officers played poker on the ground. So pleased was Hooker with his achievements that he issued a statement of praise to his troops: "The operations of the last three days have determined that our enemy must either ingloriously fly or come out from behind his defenses and give us battle on our own ground, where certain destruction awaits him."

Lee's Plans

But it wasn't to be so. On that same day, Lee had learned of Hooker's movements and had begun his preparations, and now it was a matter of who would move the faster. As Hooker issued his grand statement to his troops, Lee was moving.

Lee saw the situation just as Hooker saw it: he must "either ingloriously fly or come out from behind his defenses." That was an easy decision for Lee, and he came out from behind his defenses. Leaving 10,000 men to hold off Sedgewick, he began moving west from Fredericksburg toward Chancellorsville. His top general, "Stonewall" Jackson, kissed his wife goodbye (she had visited him with their 5-month-old daughter, Julia; it was the first time Jackson had seen his daughter) and put his men in motion toward a battle that would cost him his life.

Next week: Chancellorsville—Lee's greatest battle.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses Florida
BABSON PARK, Mass., Apr. 25—I came to Florida 40 years ago when convalescing from tuberculosis (TB, not TV); I never got mixed up with the Florida boom as I then had neither ambition nor strength. Boom Or Bust

As this is the 40th anniversary of the beginning of the famous Florida boom I want the younger generation to know what then happened. One illustration will give the picture. The young man who typed for me showed me a check for $10,000 which he had received as a commission; he immediately bought a Rolls-Royce with the money.

Very few people actually saw any money, or even the property they "bought." They were content to receive a "purchase and sale agreement" which they did not bother to file at the Court House. They merely gave their note for the sales agreement; then they sold this at a profit to someone else, who, in turn, sold it to another party. A man could build $1,000 up to $100,000, swapping one piece of paper for another. Finally the crash came, and the last party lost everything. Florida Municipal Bonds Farmers were not the only ones taken in. Many banks failed. And municipal bond prices collapsed. Sarasota bonds fell from $100 to $20; Orlando bonds fell to $40; the bonds of the city of Sanford dropped from $100 to $10. Beautiful homes costing $500,000 sold at 10c on the dollar. Most people called it a "panic" but it was more like an epidemic of diphtheria and typhoid, except that it was mental. Will it come again? I don't know; but there are no signs of it now.

People are no longer speculating in pieces of paper. Most speculators are buying large acreage and dividing it into house lots. People are buying one or two lots on speculation, but their total loss would be not more than $5,000 even if the development company went into bankruptcy. The difficulty is that these companies sometimes fail to put in water systems or hard roads or other improvements promised. There is still considerable speculation in Florida land, but it is legitimate; the lots have been bought and the deeds recorded.

Where To Buy?

I do not answer specific questions which come to me, as I cannot afford to get involved in any lawsuits; but I am willing to say that anyone who buys a small house and an adjoining lot in a Florida city of 20,000 or less, in which he plans to live, should make a good and healthful investment. He, however, should first drive down to Florida and take a trip around the state. The local bank of any city will give the name of a reliable real estate agent.

It is a mistake to put all your money in any one thing, whether it is a bank or the stock market or an orange grove. Many orange groves are good investments if they are in frost-protected sections and old enough so that a freeze will not hurt the trees, even if the fruit is lost for a year. However, if I had all my investment in orange groves, I should certainly sell one-half and invest that money in the stock of General Foods Co. or Coca-Cola Co. (which owns Minute Maid). I also advise all subscribers to this newspaper to read "The Day Money Stopped" by Caroline Bird (LOOK Magazine for March 12th).

Different Sections Of Florida Discussed
If buying land for speculation—by the acre or by the foot—I would surely get ocean-front property. For many years there will be plenty of available land in Florida, but ocean front will be very scarce; the most expensive is on the East Coast north of Miami.

The Everglades should be avoided on account of mosquitoes and other insects. The most attractive area at present may be the West Coast south of Sarasota—including Venice, Punta Gorda, Fort Myers, and Naples. A portion that has appealed to friends of mine is Sanibel Island. A bridge to Sanibel is soon to be opened and a second bridge to Pine Island is under construction. If prices have not increased too much in anticipation, seashore property on one of these islands might be attractive.

Social Security Benefits Many

Monthly old-age, survivors, and disability insurance benefits in Frederick County now top $366,000.00, W. S. King, District Manager of Social Security in Hagerstown, said this week on releasing his annual county benefit data report.

The new monthly figure represents an increase of 10 per cent over the corresponding period last year.

"This increase can be attributed to the changes in the law in recent years, as well as to the growth of our aged population," Mr. King said. "This money stimulates county business; most of it is spent for food, clothing, and shelter."

"There is no longer any doubt. Social security benefits are helping to stabilize the income and spending power of many residents in Frederick County."

Monthly benefits first became payable in January 1940, and they have continued without interruption for 23 years, accompanied by a steady growth in the number of beneficiaries. King noted that as of December 31, 1962, some 6,100 countians were collecting about 4.4 million dollars annually from social security, an increase of 7.6 per cent over 1961. More people in Frederick Coun-

"THEIR DAY"

— BY DICK MANSFIELD

Approximately 25,000 Safety Patrol Boys and Girls from every section of the state will celebrate "Safety Patrol Day" in the Baltimore Memorial Stadium on Saturday, April 27th. The Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. will play host to these youngsters at which time they will witness the game between the Baltimore Orioles and the Los Angeles Angels.

This day has been set aside to honor the "Guardians of Our Youth" because of the unselfish devotion they have displayed for the welfare of their fellow students at all times. To these dedicated young people we owe a debt of gratitude, for at no time during the many years the Safety Patrol has been on duty has one child been killed. This record speaks for itself, and as advocates of good safety behavior, they have garnered the ultimate in safety achievement. The Maryland Traffic Safety Commission salutes all the Safety Patrol Boys and Girls of yesterday—today—and tomorrow—may we add our congratulations in the hope that they will continue to live up to these high standards of safety.

he said, could draw social security benefits if they knew more about the law, and for that reason they are urged to visit or call the local social security office whenever they have a question concerning their benefits or responsibilities.

As of January 1963, in the nation at large, more than 18 million beneficiaries were receiving payments at the rate of 1.2 billion dollars per month.

The average monthly old-age retirement benefit in January was $76.19 from all states, while in the State of Maryland the average was $75.06.

Envy is the conclusive evidence of a little mind—and you can give yourself a mental test.

sure when President Kennedy looked a group of bankers in the eye recently and promised the nation a recession unless his tax cut goes through. Has Mr. Kennedy taken up soothingly? If so, why are his planners blind to dangers of government induced economic chaos? Either kind of collapse would surely bring thoroughgoing government - managed economy. Perhaps that is the real goal.

When the economic indicators revealed a slow-down last summer, we heard this same plea: there would have to be a tax cut to stave off recession. Then, with the economy stepping along briskly at the year's end, it was said that the future would require a tax cut. Now that we're on a plateau and nothing to set off a boom, we are told that we have only two choices, either we cut taxes or we face a recession. (A free economy always faces recession.)

Boom Obsession
 Another obsession among the planners is that we require incessant economic boom. They decree that our growth must proceed at some predetermined but furious rate, with never a backward look nor pause for readjustment. But the complex economic life of the nation is not going to gee and haw at command from Washington. The government can meddle with the currency and inflate it to the bursting point, but after that the meddling ceases. But if we seek complete planning and control we encourage the tyranny of the state.

Although it has been tried before, deficit spending has never accomplished much as anti-recession medicine. It would seem that if national deficits are worth anything in achieving economic prosperity, we would have had no ups and downs at all. But we have had our peaks and valleys for five years, during which our habit of deficits has piled up some $30 billion in debts. Our nearly thirty years of deficit spending in peacetime has produced nothing except debt and cheap money, unless it has been a more vigorous interest in the pork-barrel.

Where Cuts Are Needed
 People have grave doubts that tax cutting such as that proposed by the President will prevent recession or stimulate growth. Many believe that cuts in the low income brackets would not have any effect at all upon our economy. There is doubt whether this would stimulate consumer spending. What will people do with a tax refund? They may choose to pay off debts, or hide it under the mattress. Cuts toward the top brackets, however, along with corporate tax relief, could produce more action toward stimulating enterprise and expanding business.

Abig question remains. Can we expect business itself to go off on a wild spree of expansion as long as the federal government controls prices, encourages the wage spiral, and keeps the dollar in jeopardy by its domestic and foreign policies? Can even Mr. Kennedy suppose that the steel industry will charge out of the corner in which he stood it a year ago, beaming with confidence and raring to build new plants that will hire the unemployed? Do Administration economists think that Big Steel will build more capacity just because they say the word "boom"?

Confusion Or Sense?
 The truth is that the Kennedy money policies tend to produce caution and confusion. People may not understand what White House Advisor Walter Heller means by "deficits of strength," but they do understand that a tax cut is supposed to mean less revenue for the government to spend. People are aware that a tax cut with deficit spending is, after all, not a tax cut in the full sense of the picture. If the government cannot afford the loss of revenue, our citizens would just as soon forget about the tax cut.

To be sure, when high taxes confiscate capital that would be used to create jobs, it is time to talk about relief for enterprise. But the President proposes limiting destructions and altering the rules so that middle and high bracket taxpayers would probably pay higher taxes. The nation's economy would have less risk capital than it has now—another example of government planning gone wrong. It will be only self-defeating to tax so that government can spend so that more taxes are required to pay for bigger deficits of bigger and bigger overment.

TB Association Expanding Services

The Frederick County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association is joining in a nationwide campaign on Chronic Cough-Shortness of Breath from May 1 to June 15, as the initial step in the Association's expanded program in health education in the area of control of other respiratory diseases; said Mrs. Freda S. Doll, Executive Director of the Association.

This two month effort will be strictly educational in nature. Programs will be geared to informing the community in general of the diseases masked by two common symptoms—Chronic Cough and Shortness of Breath, said Dr. Russell L. Guest, President of the Frederick County Tuberculosis Association.

"Chronic Cough and Shortness of Breath are the two most persistent and yet frequently ignored symptoms of the serious pulmonary diseases," according to a statement to the Maryland Tuberculosis Board by Dr. Moses S. Shilling, President of the Maryland Trudeau Society, the medical arm of the tuberculosis group. The two symptoms can indicate the presence of a broad spectrum of major and minor respiratory diseases ranging from the typical winter cold to flu, to tuberculosis, emphysema and chronic bronchitis. Dr. Shilling continued, "It is important that every person with these symptoms receive prompt medical attention to prevent further serious complications."

There are three major purposes in launching this nationwide campaign against Chronic Cough - Shortness of Breath: (1) To save lives through public education about respiratory diseases including tuberculosis; (2) Understanding respiratory diseases can make the particular disease with which a person is afflicted easier to live with.

"Because of the statistics of life insurance companies and from our own knowledge of the serious impact of respiratory diseases, we feel certain that an intensive campaign to educate our citizens in the areas of early diagnosis and treatment is badly needed," said Dr. Shilling in concluding his report.

The Tuberculosis Association is asking the support of physicians in general practice, the Health Department, and chest specialists as well as individuals in helping to promote the Chronic Cough - Shortness of Breath Campaign and motivate those persons having chronic cough or shortness of breath to seek medical attention.

In Indiana they limited hunters to six shells apiece in the goose pits. Result: the largest kill for any one day occurred the day the new rules went into effect. Moral: when you hear someone say, "They're not high; they're just small," remember it pays to wait 'em out before you shoot. —Sports Afield.

WHAT'S NEW in AGRI-BUSINESS?

You can always tell a doughnut by the HOLE. But nobody knows why a doughnut needs a hole or how big it should be.

You can also tell an efficient grain drying tank by the HOLES in the drying floor. But engineers know that the holes should be a certain size and number.

Research by Butler Manufacturing Co. indicates that holes should cover 25 percent of the drying floor. Why? Because air spaces between the stored grain or corn are about 25 percent. When this percentage is matched by warm air entering the bin, each kernel dries uniformly and safely—even in bad weather.

OPEN HOUSE—Fourteen of Maryland's horse breeding farms will hold an Open House on Sunday, April 28 for visitors wishing to inspect farm facilities and famous stallions as Native Dancer and others. There is a good prospect that the great Kelso, "Horse of the Year" in 1960, 1961 and 1962 will be at Mrs. Richard C. duPont's Woodstock Farm in Chesapeake City. Farms participating in the program are (1) Glade Valley; (2) Windy Hills; (3) Sagamore and Worthington; (4) Merryland; (5) Country Life; (6) Glenangus; (7) Stymie Manor; (8) Rosemont; (9) Woodstock; (10) Pistorio; (11) Woodlawn; (12) Hill-N-Dale; and (13) Hillside.

BERLIN BRIGADE SOLDIERS PARTICIPATE IN WINTER TRAINING—Sp4 Reuben Barrera, Chicago, Ill., a member of the 3d Battle Group, 6th U.S. Infantry, Berlin Brigade, mans U.S. Army's M-60 machinegun during a recent winter training exercise in the Grunewald section of West Berlin. His assistant gunner, Pfc Fred Johnson, observes likely targets of opportunity. The M-60 machinegun is manufactured by the Saco-Lowell Shops, a subsidiary of the Maremont Corporation.

"OPINIONS FROM THE FIELD"

About this time each year thousands of people take to the woods in search of a delicacy known locally as "cornob mushrooms".
 Actually, they are morels and as such include a half dozen species.
 In this area these species may be identified by a number of names such as black, grey, and yellow mushrooms, even though they may be technically known as morels
 of the "Morchella aganiciceps" or "Helvella gigas" species. Regardless of what you may call them, morels sauteed in butter and served with steak is a meal fit for a king. If steak isn't available, a butter bread sandwich filled with fried morels will give you a taste treat that can't be equalled.

This cone-shaped mushroom with a pitted cap is easily identified and grows in great abundance when conditions are right.
 Like many other plants, morels need an ample supply of moisture and plenty of heat. A steady rain followed by several days of warm sunshine is the usual requirement. Indicators that the time is right may be the fact that May Apples and Jack in the Pulpit plants are fully grown and Judas and Dogwood trees are in full blossom. As for our locality, the weather to date has been too cool and we haven't had nearly enough rain. However, this condition may change at any time and the morel season will be here.

Where do you find morels? Almost anywhere in the woodlands, but more often along moist slopes near old decaying trees and stumps. Some people may tell you that they are most abundant near certain trees such as White Walnut or Poplar trees but I have found them under Pine trees, Apple trees, and even in pastures and hidden in Honeysuckle. Little or no equipment is needed—you might carry a container such as a basket or plastic bag and a cane for snake protection and pushing bushes aside. How are they prepared? Most people soak them in cold water with a bit of salt added, rinse thoroughly in clear water, and fry in butter.

 Since they "draw" a lot of moisture in cooking, you might add some flour to make a delicious gravy. Season with salt and pepper and heap on top of a broiled steak. (My mouth is watering now!)

In closing, I might add that the morel or mushroom season is short and if you want to enjoy the fun of hunting and eating them, you'd better head for the hills soon after the next rain.
 Good hunting . . .

OUTDOOR SPORTS TIPS

King Size Ice Cubes

Going on a picnic and need ice cubes? Big ice cubes that last.
 Freeze up a batch using your wife's muffin pans. Each cube is king size. Lasts and lasts.

Clever Clammers

Smart old clam diggers don't drag their catch around with them. They fit a bushel basket into an inner tube and let it float along behind them on a rope.

Catch A Gar every Time

Garfish are native to most southern waters and in parts of the country the alligator gars grow BIG, REAL BIG! Trouble is, the critters are hard to hook.
 Long snouts leave few places where a conventional hook can get a bite. One way to catch 'em is with a wire noose but this is difficult to keep expanded until Mr. Gar obliges by sticking his nose into your business. This tip offers another way that sounds interesting. Take a fair-size nylon rope, say 3/8 or 1/4 inch and unravel the ends. Troll or cast it. If a gar strikes his many small teeth snarl in the silky, strong nylon web and you've got him.

Shotgun Sight

More and more states require shotgun - only for deer hunting.
 And every test ever made has shown shooters that equip their shotguns with sights shoot straighter and bring home more deer. Here's a way to make a fast emergency rear sight. Snip the shank and ball off the clip-on spring that holds a pencil in your pocket. Tape it into rear groove. Shank gives plenty of purchase for tape to hold securely and the ball and front sight are all you see when you sight over the barrel. Align two and you're on target.

Sleeve Shirt Pockets

One of the handiest things a hiker can have are pockets sewed onto the sleeve of his (or her) shirt near the shoulder. Easy to get into while wearing a pack.
 And, while your sewing, a button sewn on the shoulder keeps a rifle sling from working its way

Indirect Tent Lighting

Another one of the many good camp uses for aluminum foil is to pin it across the back of your tent. Shiny surface reflects light, makes the lantern's glow brighter.
Clear With Cola

Says here a bottle of any kind of "cola" drink poured on your windshield while the wiper is working will keep road film off for hours. We're not guaranteeing it will work for everybody, mind you. Just passing it on in the hope it will work for you.

One-Shot Sight In

To sight in a rifle with one shot, put target at point where bullet first crosses the line of sight. Your ammunition dealer will be able to tell you how many feet out it is. Measure it carefully. It won't be far. Then, holding rifle steady, fire through target which you can do because it is so close. Now, line sights exactly on bullet hole. You have also automatically lined up on second crossing point much farther out. Now you can keep shots on target at hunting ranges, can zero in exactly.

COLDS ARE EASIER TO CATCH THAN KITTENS—

But Simple Health Rules Help Chase the Sniffles!

Any mother knows that a child needs sufficient rest, a sound diet and warm, dry clothing to avoid lowered resistance and susceptibility to cold germs. But why not help your child to help himself avoid colds by following these simple rules of hygiene outlined by the makers of Children's Bufferin:

- Don't share drinking cups or food utensils with others.
- Always wash hands before eating and observe strict rules of hygiene in lavatories.
- Avoid persons who cough or sneeze.
- Always don outdoor clothing before going out, and remove heavy outside clothing when indoors.

If a Child Catches a Cold:

Take care immediately, keep him indoors and avoid sudden temperature changes.

Ease muscle aches, fever and discomfort with a mild pain reliever, such as Children's Bufferin, in pleasant-tasting, orange-flavored, pediatrician-approved dosages.

Avoid family contagion;
 give him tissues to use and a paper bag to put them
 in. Keep his towels, dishes, and eating implements separate.

Consult your doctor when symptoms are severe or painful.

HOW'S YOUR GUEST ROOM?

Have you tried your guest room lately? If not, it might be a good idea to sleep in it one night. If you wake up with that "broken back" feeling, it's time to scan the papers for mattress sales.

Were the bed clothes adequate? It's a good idea to have an extra blanket for a sudden change in the temperature during the night. A standing towel rack doubles nicely as a blanket stand, eliminating the storage problem where space is limited.

 On the subject of blankets, light fluffy blankets made with Creslan acrylic fiber, are a good purchase as they can be machine washed and will keep their colors fresh and bright. Also, they are mildew and mothproof and can be left out in town or country.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

Shots
By C. Robert Gruver
Editor, All About Babies
Mothers traditionally are kind to their babies. In the matter of communicable diseases, they're kind without even knowing it.

Babies usually are born with immunity to communicable diseases, and they get that immunity from their mothers. The immunity is only good for about the first six months of the child's life. After that, baby is on his own.

But antibodies can become his allies even before the baby can walk. These antibodies frequently develop during a child's sickness. They also enter the picture through immunization—a method by which the body is stimulated to build the needed antibodies. There is a third way: injection of antibodies against a definite disease. The baby's first immunizations are against diphtheria, tetanus and whooping cough. These usually begin when the child is one or two months of age, and three or four monthly inoculations are given. "Booster shots" are usually given a year or so later, although many doctors feel that in the case of whooping cough, such shots are not needed after the age of five. They do recommend continuation of anti-tetanus "boosters" at three to ten-year intervals.

Diseases that were monsters not so long ago, are gradually fading from the American scene. Inoculations have provided the answer in many cases.

For instance, there are the inoculations against poliomyelitis. Many doctors recommend that polio shots be started at just about the time a baby is receiving other inoculations. Immunization against polio consists of a series of three inoculations. The second dose is given four to six weeks after the first. The third is given seven to twelve months later. A "booster" dose is recommended about a year after completion of the series.

A single vaccination against smallpox is usually given at five or six months of age, or at any time during a baby's first year. This vaccination is recommended every three to five years throughout life.

Disease monsters hover everywhere, and in many forms. In some areas the monster may be typhoid fever. In those areas, doctors may recommend inoculations against typhoid and paratyphoid every one or two years.

About four million babies are born in this country every year. They have an excellent life-expectancy because of immunization against communicable diseases of babyhood. That immunization has lowered the infant death rate dramatically. Man's lifespan continues to stretch.

and lead us into the everlasting kingdom prepared by Thy loving Son our Redeemer. Help us joyously to tell others of this wonderful gift of eternal life, the inheritance of all who will believe. In Jesus' name. Amen.

Book To Be Released May 8

A paperback edition will be published on May 8 of one of the world's most widely-circulated religious books—"Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy.

This is the book that for nearly 70 years has been read along with the Bible at all Christian Science church services, in place of sermons by ministers. Christian Scientists turn to it regularly for explanation of the Bible and religious inspiration.

Although this will be the first paperback edition of Science and Health, the book has already reached sales of several millions since it first appeared in 1875.

The new 700-page paperback, like all other editions of Science and Health, will be published by the Trustees under the Will of Mary Baker Eddy, in Boston. Printed on standard book paper, it will be priced at $1.95, the publishers have announced. It will be distributed by Harper & Row, Inc., of New York, Evanston and London, to quality bookstores throughout the world; and also by the Publishers' Agent to Christian Science Reading Rooms.

TODAY'S Meditation
from The World's Most Widely Used Devotional Guide

The Upper Room
© THE UPPER ROOM, NASHVILLE, TENNESSEE
Read Galatians 3:21-20.
Ye are all the children of God by faith in Christ Jesus. (Galatians 3:26.)
Years ago when a wealthy rancher died, a neighbor said to my father, "His children—selfish, wasteful, and ungrateful—are so unworthy to inherit his riches. They haven't earned a dime of his money."
"But they are his heirs," my father replied. "Worthiness does not count. An inheritance is bestowed, not earned."
No one through his own merit is good enough to become an heir of God. It is only through the grace of Jesus Christ that we may inherit salvation.
On the other hand, no one is so unworthy, so sinful, that he cannot accept Christ's salvation if he will believe.
As Paul wrote to the Colossians, God "hath translated us into the kingdom of his dear Son: in whom we have redemption through his blood, even the forgiveness of sins." This is the inheritance Christ gives us, even eternal life.

Soda and Spice Make Toothbrushing Nice

A little strategy, when it comes to getting youngsters to form good habits of hygiene, can save you time and arguments. The old gold star routine, for example, still has merit. Try hanging a chart in the bathroom which lists some of the more balked-at jobs such as toothbrushing, finger nail cleaning, washing behind the ears, and bath. The small-fry can make a check at the completion of each job and you in turn can tally the score at the end of the week and paste gold stars after the perfect scores. When the month's over, the one with the most gold stars wins a trip to a ball game with Dad perhaps, or a visit to the zoo with you.
Since toothbrushing is such an important part of personal hygiene you may want to add a second incentive to make sure it's done properly. It can be fun instead of a bothersome chore if you let the small-fry make like a grown-up . . . be a do-it-yourselfer . . . with a do-it-yourself dentifrice. One can be easily made by combining baking soda with one of the three favorite spices . . . cinnamon, nutmeg or cloves. The proportions . . . a half teaspoon of the spice mixed well with a half pound of the soda. Small mayonnaise jars with holes punched in the lids for easy pouring make good containers.
A real plus for the soda-spice dentifrice is that it's so inexpensive. For about twenty cents, the cost of two half-pound boxes of soda, the youngsters have three different dentifrices to choose from at each and every brushing.

12 Die On State Highways Twelve persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the Maryland State Police.

Two of those killed were drivers; two were passengers; and eight were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths; speed in four; and "driver error" was present in six of the fatalities.

"Human life is the most precious of our natural possessions," commented Major G. E. Davidson, Field Commander of the Md. State Police, "yet week after week we continue to add to our statistics an alarming number of those killed on our streets and highways.

"This is a national tragedy," continued Major Davidson, "which is recognized by public officials, particularly those of us in the police profession, who can provide maximum protective services only within a climate of public understanding and support."

Writer Lauds Eastern Shore The vacation attractions of Chesapeake Bay are the subject of a leading article in the May issue of Redbook Magazine. The title of the piece is "The Delightful Land," a phrase that was first applied to the Bay shores 355 years ago.

The present writer is Robert Deardorff, who based his story on recent investigations. Having completed a modern tour, however, Mr. Deardorff concluded that he could do no better than quote his first predecessor in the Bay area, who happened to be Captain John Smith, back in 1608. He accordingly said in his title what Captain John had said in his own report—that the land around Chesapeake is "delightful." He wrote a fairly long story and Redbook has illustrated it handsomely.

Mr. Deardorff is a veteran travel writer. Usually he works in Europe, but on occasions when he returns to the United States he likes to do a feature story of particular distinction. This year he chose Chesapeake Bay, and the reason he gave for the choice was the release sent out by the Tourist Division of the State Department of Economic Development. From Rome, where he keeps his European residence, he wrote to Mary-Carter Roberts, author of the Tourist Division stories, asking that the Division give him cooperation. The Division met his request and the Redbook article is the result.

Around the Bay shores the work deals with Annapolis, Betterton, Crisfield, Smith Island, Piney Point and Baltimore. Ocean City also is given several paragraphs, and there are references to Easton and Cambridge and the general loveliness of the Eastern Shore countryside. Distinguished craftsmen of the Shore—as the Ward Brothers who carve decoy ducks that are really objects of art, and Carroll Elder, whose work in metal is famous—drew Mr. Deardorff's praise, while the Shore's opportunities for antique shoppers likewise arrested his attention.

The tone of the story is sophisticated. The work is obviously aimed at the traveller who, when he travels, likes to feel that he has been somewhere and not that he has merely covered so many miles. With the general taste in vacationing turning more and more to the serene and less and less to the garish, it would appear probable that this article will find a large interested public.

Most folks don't like mosquitoes, but swallows and martins do. And a single bird can gobble 'em up at the rate of 300 per hour. And so, a martin house to hold 50 birds, times 300 per hour, times a 12-hour day, times a seven-day week—and you sit on the lawn in your shirt sleeves. — Sports Afield.

Attack By Martians Believed Unlikely

You can stop worrying about invasion from Mars because Martians probably don't exist. Evidence has been discovered indicating that the planet's atmosphere contains enough nitrogen peroxide, a poisonous reddish-brown gas, to make existence of life as we know it impossible.

Never-Give-Up Dept.: Meeting in Atlantic City in June will be the American Association for the Study of Headache. . . . Man's efforts to demolish time and space affect all aspects of his existence, including food production. Neatly packaged supermarket bacon, for example, moves from farm to frying pan with the speed of a slicer developed by Allbright-Nell. Its microscopically honed circular blade whirls through 3,500 pounds of bacon an hour, turning out more than 1,100 slices a minute with the thickness of each electronically controlled. More than 80 per cent of the world's packaged bacon is sliced by this type of machine.

Wear ear plugs if you work around jet planes, cautions the University of Texas Speech and Hearing Clinic after conducting an exhaustive study of noise conditions at Bergstrom Air Force Base in Austin, Tex. Crewmen, mechanics and ground crew were birdlogged around the huge base by researchers who carefully measured noise conditions encountered by each in his work. The noisiest job? Ground crew, the researchers say, but add that protective devices prevent permanent hearing loss even from the noise of jets. . . . Compressed air is the fuel of the world's first turbine-powered car, which has established drag records (standing start to quarter-mile in just over 9 seconds) in Phoenix, Ariz. A half-hour's homework should be the nightly limit in any one subject for a high school student, says Robert J. Shockley, Towson, Md. elementary school principal who's writing a book on homework. School superintendents are worried about homework overload, Shockley says, and some don't believe in it at all. But most parents, he notes, wouldn't agree to a "no homework" policy. . . . Insomniacs should be interested in a bed developed for heart research at the University of Rochester as part of the nation's space program. Suggests Voting

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: It goes without saying that the community of Emmitsburg is now in business, big business. Water supply, sewage disposal, street maintenance.

If Emmitsburg is to go into debt to the tune of half a million dollars and if water rates and sewer tax will be expected to increase enough to finance such loans, the citizens of Emmitsburg would do well to go to the polls on Tuesday and Vote.

R. L. KOONTZ

Lewis Elected Thurmont Mayor

In one of the largest totals in recent elections, 513 persons turned out to cast their votes for Mayor and Commissioners in the Thurmont town election this week.

Although not of a controversial nature, according to incumbent Mayor Donald L. Lewis, the large turnout was to a great extent attributed to Thurmont citizens' interest in the proposed new water system and town planning and zoning changes.

Incumbent Mayor Lewis was returned to office by a vote of 280, defeating his only opponent, Roy W. Lookingbill by 51 votes.

Mr. Lookingbill tallied a total of 229 votes. Two of the incumbent Commissioners, William J. Lidie, who received 327 votes, and Charles R. Ambrose, receiving 258, were re-elected.

The remaining three unsuccessful candidates for Commissioner were:

H. Lloyd Hoke, 232 votes; Calvin McC. Staub, 106 and Russell Lee Fisher, 64.

Thurmont's municipal government currently retains four Commissioners and in addition to the two newly elected members of the Board of Commissioners, incumbent Commissioners Edgar B. Palmer and Jules E. Shapiro still have another year of their elected term to serve.

Governor Backs Safety Program

Governor Tawes, when inviting the safety officials to join him in the Governor's Safety - Heath Conference, stated that it is appalling to think that the results of accidents would be if no one cared and no one did anything to help control the causes of traffic accidents.

On Saturday, April 27, at 2:00 p.m., at the Baltimore Memorial Stadium we will pay tribute to 25,000 Safety Patrol boys and girls who fortunately do care and who are really doing something to prevent their fellow schoolmates from death and injury. Through the cooperation of the Oriole Management tribute will be paid to these Safety Patrol boys and girls from throughout the State of Maryland who have given so much of themselves in protecting their schoolmates by serving in fair weather and foul from early morning, remaining until after the other children are on their way to play. That is why the Maryland Traffic Safety Commission feels these youngsters should be singled out and honored. At the request of the Oriole Management we have invited these Safety Patrol boys and girls to be their guests.

In addition to these youngsters a number of school officials, Legislators, and members of the press, radio and television industry are also invited to attend this baseball game which will be televised. This coast-to-coast network broadcast will afford a splendid opportunity for millions of other Safety Patrol boys and girls throughout the Nation to observe how the State of Maryland appreciates and pays tribute to their fellow officers for their contribution to the reduction of the highway death and injury toll.

The presence of these 25,000 Safety Patrol boys and girls will not only advance the cause of traffic safety but will bring Nation-wide recognition to the State of Maryland as well.

Balloon Drop Saturday

Saturday will be D-Day (Drop-Day) for the Frederick County Tuberculosis and Public Health Association, said Mrs. Edgar H. McBride, chairman of the health education committee. Between 10 a.m. and 2 p.m. some 750 blue and white balloons will be dropped over Frederick County by the Civil Air Patrol Unit of Frederick as one of their many community services.

The balloon drop is featured as a contest sponsored by the Tuberculosis Association to alert residents of the county of the approaching campaign on Chronic Cough-Shortness of Breath. The campaign will begin May 1 and continue through June 15th, Mrs. McBride said.

An anonymous donor has made possible a number of two-dollar cash prizes. A prize will go to the person finding the most balloons and bringing them to the TB Association's office. Another prize will go to the person finding the balloon the farthest distance from Frederick and another prize will be given to the oldest person bringing in a balloon. All contestants, to be eligible for a prize, must have their entries in the Tuberculosis Association's office by May 3. Prize winners will be announced on May 10. Mrs. McBride explained that the Chronic Cough - Shortness of Breath Campaign is not a drive for contributions. It is an educational service financed by Christmas Seal Funds to help people better understand respiratory disease and do something about it.

Liners Bumped

Smithsburg's second run of the game in the sixth inning held up for a 2-1 win over Emmitsburg Tuesday.

The Smitties pushed across the tally on a walk, two stolen bases and a ground out to hand the Liners' Harry Harner the setback. It was Harner's first appearance on the mound as he limited the visitors to three hits.

While he was doing that, however he was also doing all the hitting for his team. Harner collected a pair of singles, the lone hits for Emmitsburg.

The loss made the Liners 0-2 for the season. Smithsburg ...000 101 0-2 3 1 Emmitsburg ...000 100 0-1 2 0 Hessong and Green; Harner and Harbaugh.

Sportsmen's Pond Springs Leak

The regular meeting of the Indian Lookout Conservation Club was held in the Fire Hall Tuesday evening with Vice President Wilbur Bowers presiding.

The grounds committee reported it had discovered a leak in the recently-constructed lake on the club grounds northwest of town and that the water level in the pond had dropped several feet.

Five new members were voted into the club at the meeting. They were: Harvey White and Roy Coldsmith, Gettysburg; Geoffrey Zurgable and Clyde Knipple, Emmitsburg, and Bruce Shuman, Fort Ritchie. The annual election of officers will be held at the May meeting.
