Gettysburg Sales Days Friday-Saturday

Thirty-six retail merchants in Gettysburg will participate in the semi-annual Gettysburg Sale Days Friday and Saturday.

Stores will be open from 9 a.m. to 9 p.m. each day, and many merchants will offer free parking tickets for the attraction. Thousands of items of regular merchandise will go on sale at tremendous reductions to clear store shelves and counters of seasonal merchandise to make way for new fall merchandise. A wide assortment of styles and sizes are available in wearing apparel for late summer.

A total of $1,500 in free prizes will be awarded Saturday evening at 9 o'clock in front of Jacobs Brothers, Lincoln Square. Everyone is eligible to compete for the prizes by placing coupons in boxes located in each participating store. No purchase is necessary to be eligible for a prize. Prizes include gifts of cash, merchandise and savings bonds.

Charles Wivell, Cleveland, Ohio, visited several days this week with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph W. Wivell, E. Main St., and Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Sprigg, Camp Hill, Pa., and Mr. and Mrs. Macy Kolb and family, Martinsburg, W. Va.

Miss Barbie Myers is spending this week in Taneytown visiting with her cousin, Jayne Hamburg.

Mrs. Virginia R. Elder and are spending a week vacationing children, Dale Ann and David, at Camp Shawnee, Pa.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson Discusses
Something Very Personal
BABSON PARK, Mass., Aug. 1—I trust that the millions of readers of this syndicated weekly column will forgive me for making today's discussion so personal. I have never done it before in quite this same way. The fact is, however, that I have just returned from the grave where I have buried my dear wife. This column, of course, must be written; and I cannot think of anything else.

Thousands Of Husbands—Are You One?

Here is a very important thought that occurred to me yesterday; namely, that some thousands of husbands in this country are today suffering the same bereavement. They are burying their dearest friend. We are often too self-centered to recognize this fact. We think too much about ourselves alone, and forget these nine hundred and ninety-nine, or even nine thousand and ninety-nine, others who are suffering the same tragedy.

I can truthfully say the following about Nona Dougherty Babson (and I believe millions of others can say the same of their wives): I had a faithful wife who gave me a good home. She was an able executive and yet loved everyone. She was a praying partner, and we said our prayers together every night before going to bed. She was the personification of loyalty, thoughtfulness, and kindness.

Knowledge And Tolerance

As I look over my morning newspaper, I feel that we are not only guilty of the self-centeredness mentioned above, but that we have missed or are lacking in some fundamental training by our parents or teachers and friends. First, we have failed to seek out and appreciate the facts of life. We read the headlines of our newspapers, but neglect the fine print. How many of us actually seek knowledge rather than mere news?

The second lack in our education has been our failure to develop tolerance. We neglect tolerance—in our family life—with our neighbors, in our religion and politics. This intolerance—between members of the same families, between employers and wageworkers, between rich and poor, between different races, colors, and nations—is the real reason for revolutions and wars, both "cold" and "hot". So, on this sad morning, I shall resolve to be more tolerant with those who are still living.

Again I ask my readers to forgive me for making this week's column so personal; but I cannot help it. "The show must go on," as the song on a record so poignantly points out. But I am still human—and I hope I shall continue to be so throughout my life. My late wife was very human. One of the thoughts she kept constantly before me was our dependence on our fellowman and our need for faith in God and in the power of goodness.

America could double its population and enjoy a still higher standard of living, says Director Karl Brandt of the Stanford Research Institute. Brandt, who maintains the globe is underpopulated, says that contrary to popular belief world food production has outpaced population gains in recent years. On a world-wide scale, he adds, there is over abundant space and opportunity to civilize and utilize the wilderness. Human resources, says Brandt, are "the only truly creative sources of wealth on this earth."

Waters of Rotorua, New Zealand, a famous spa, are noted for their curative powers, especially for rheumatic diseases. But, alas, only living tissue seems to benefit from immersion. The buildings erected over the years have been corroded by chemicals in the water to such an extent that constant repairs are necessary. The New Zealand Ministry of Works has approached about 60 firms throughout the world seeking materials that are proof against this corrosion. No luck yet.

NO. 20,226 EQUITY in the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland
VIRGINIA PALMER CROSS
Route 1, Walkersville, Maryland

vs.
CHARLES UPTON CROSS
c/o Mrs. Iona Bryant
1128 North Jackson Street
Arlington, Arlington County, Virginia

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Virginia Palmer Cross, from the Defendant, Charles Upton Cross.

The Bill states in substance that the parties were married on the 14th day of September, 1946, in Washington, D. C., by a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that they lived together as man and wife in Montgomery County, Maryland, in Washington, D. C., and in Frederick County, Maryland; that the Defendant deserted the Complainant; that there is no hope or expectation of a reconciliation; that the Defendant has drunk excessively and has frequently inflicted physical cruelty upon the Complainant; that no children were born as a result of said marriage; that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County and has been for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and that his last known place of residence was in Arlington, Virginia. The Bill prays that the Complainant be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII.

It is thereupon this 15th day of July, 1963, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the said non-resident Defendant of this Bill by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 17th day of August, 1963, commanding him to be and appear in this court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 17th day of September, 1963, and show cause, if any he has, why a decree should not be passed as prayed.

To Test Or Not To Test
 How much good will come out of the nuclear test-ban talks in Moscow in mid-July is a question for mid-summer speculation. Rather than in genuine disarmament, the pay-off to the participants, Britain, Russia, and the U. S., promises so far to be almost entirely in the nature of propaganda. The heads of these three great powers can all use some political lotions and aspirin to soothe the rigors of the dog-days ahead. We may be sure that each is hopeful of some political gain.

As for President Kennedy, his appeal for peace and disarmament may have already sweetened his reception in Europe this summer, for it is no secret that some of the NATO allies would like to slow the nuclear arms race. The Kennedy appeal also angles for support from some elements of the American voting public who hold perennial hope for peace through disarmament. Past attempts at disarmament have not led to peace, but between bloody wars some would put aside the weapons. The plea sounds good, until we remember that the world has been set afire mostly because our strength of arms or will has not deterred the ambitions of evil men.

Bitter Experience
 Hopeless as the case for disarmament is at this stage, it is more sad to see so much political razzle-dazzle heaped upon the test-ban proposition. Even Senator Dodd, who joined with 35 of his colleagues on May 27 in a test-ban resolution, chooses to commit the U. S. against testing in the air or sea as long as the Soviet Union refrains. The President was able to use this tactic and on his initiative suspend our testing in the atmosphere, if other nations do likewise.

Despite the negative response required of other nations, this unilateral action is hardly a treaty. A genuine treaty requires a two-thirds Senate majority, and Congressional leaders have been quick to recall our experience when the tests were suspended unilaterally in 1958. The U. S. fell behind in research and development, while the Russians went ahead with plans to scuttle the deal with a program of heavy testing, which they undertook in 1961 and 1962.

Trust The Reds?
 The negotiations may get bogged down again in discussions about inspection and enforcement, as the Russians have preferred in the past. But if something is signed, it may be worthless because of the Soviet way of looking at treaties (like pie-crusts, meant to be broken). A new comprehensive study of Soviet treaties of the past 40

 IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY
 IN EQUITY
 EARLE D. HIGHTOWER

NELLIE B. CRABBS, Widow,
 JOHN W. CRABBS and MARY E. CRABBS, his wife, the unknown heirs of SAMUEL A. CRABBS and GEORGE F. CRABBS, and all persons having or claiming to have any interest in the property assessed to DAN S. CRABBS in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, Maryland, and CHARLOTTE W. YARROLL, County Treasurer for Frederick County, Maryland.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
 The object of this proceeding is to foreclose all rights of redemption of the Defendants in and to a property assessed to Dan S. Crabbs in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, Maryland, containing 8 acres, more or less. The Bill states in substance that Charlotte W. Yarroll, County Treasurer for Frederick County, State of Maryland, offered at public auction the real estate assessed to the said Dan S. Crabbs (also known as Daniel S. Crabbs) in Emmitsburg District, Frederick County, Maryland. That said real estate is now vested in Nellie B. Crabbs, widow, John W. Crabbs and Mary E. Crabbs, his wife, the unknown heirs of Samuel A. Crabbs and George F. Crabbs, and any other persons having or claiming to have any interest in said property. That said sale was held on April 9, 1962, and the purchaser was Earle D. Hightower at the sum of Eight Hundred and Fifty Dollars ($850.00). That said sale was made in satisfaction of unpaid taxes due and owing the State of Maryland and Frederick County for the year 1961. That the purchaser paid the sum of Eighteen Dollars and Thirty-four Cents ($18.34) toward the purchase of said real estate and that the sum of Twenty-Nine Dollars and Ninety-Seven Cents ($29.97) including taxes, interest and costs necessary to redeem the property has not been paid and the property not redeemed, although one year from the date of sale has passed, that a final decree is prayed for, foreclosing all rights of redemption of the defendants in and to the property assessed to Dan S. Crabbs.

It is THEREUPON this 3rd day of July, 1963, by the Circuit Court of Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff cause a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least 4 successive weeks prior to the 16th day of August, 1963, in some newspaper published in Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the non-resident defendants Nellie B. Crabbs, who resides at Route 2, Littlestown, Pennsylvania, and the unknown heirs of Samuel A. Crabbs as well as the unknown heirs of George F. Crabbs, deceased, and all other persons having or claiming to have any interest in the property, of the object and substance of the Bill of Complaint and warning them to be and appear in this Court either in person or by solicitor on or before the 10th day of September, 1963, to show cause if any they have, why the relief sought should not be granted.

years by Stanford University scholars Jan Triska and Robert Slusser, The Theory, Law and Policy of Soviet Treaties, has this to say about the question of whether the Russians can be trusted:

"Basing one's answer to this question on the past behavior of the Soviet leaders, one would have to say that the chances that they can be trusted are distinctly poor. Furthermore, the more important the subject of a given treaty and the more directly it is related to Soviet long-term objectives, the poorer are the chances of the Soviet Union's honoring the treaty." The authors conclude that no agreements are of any value that promise not to undermine a non-Communist treaty partner. The Soviets, they say, deceive only those who wish to be deceived.

Let us victimize ourselves with hopes that are false, we ought to tamper some of our projections concerning the possible test-ban. We must not depart too far from reality, even if Moscow has interpreted president Kennedy's overtures as a movement toward U. S. acceptance of the Soviet idea of "Peaceful co-existence." This concept of peace simply means to Moscow that America does nothing to prevent Communist infiltration and subversion and expansion in other countries, Cuba or elsewhere, while Russia works on feverishly for a Communist world. We must remember that although the test-ban points toward disarmament, it has been our nuclear superiority that has deterred the Russian bear from overrunning Europe and Asia completely. We might recall also that our scientists say we must test in the atmosphere in order to keep our knowledge equal to theirs. Neither the French nor the Red Chinese will stop testing. Any treaty that gives a go-ahead to Communist world ambition and that limits our opposition to them in the Cold War must be avoided. The idea of co-existence that the Russians have is a breakthrough in the Cold War that will give them a bigger slice of the world.

Academy Of Science To Give Award

Nominations are now being accepted by the Maryland Academy of Sciences for its fifth annual award to Maryland's Outstanding Young Scientist of the Year.

The award of a $500 check and a bronze plaque will be presented to a scientist living and working in Maryland who has not reached the age of 35 by September 30, 1963, according to Nigel O.C. Wolf, Academy director.

The work on which the nomination is based must have been performed, culminated or substantially extended within the period from January 1, 1962, to August 31, 1963," Mr. Wolf said.

The word "scientist" as used in this award is interpreted as covering persons engaged in all disciplines generally recognized as scientific, including mathematics and engineering and the teaching of such disciplines.

Nomination forms and explanatory materials have already been distributed to professional members of the Academy and to colleges, universities, school systems, science-oriented industries and research organizations. Mr. Wolf pointed out, however, that anyone may place a name in nomination. Forms may be obtained at the Academy offices, 400 Cathedral Street, Baltimore. Earlier recipients of the award included, in 1959, Dr. William H. Guier, Applied Physics Laboratory, Johns Hopkins University; 1960, Dr. Robert W. Bass, Aeronautics Institute; 1961, Dr. Andre T. Jagendorf, Biology Department, Johns Hopkins University, and 1962, Dr. Rudolf E. Kalman, RIAS.

The first year (1832) of its existence, Pennsylvania College (now Gettysburg College) faculty numbered two full-time professors and three part-time teachers.

TODAY'S Meditation

THE WORLD'S MOST WIDELY USED DEVOTIONAL GUIDE

Read Job 42:1-10; John 17:9-21. The Lord restored the fortunes of Job, when he had prayed for his friends. (Job 42:10. RSV.)

At the close of Job's great trial, "the Lord turned the captivity of Job when he prayed for his friends."

Sometimes all we can do for those we love is to pray for them. They may be far distant—perhaps on the other side of the globe. They may be involved in trials and exposed to temptations of which we know nothing. Even when we know their needs, we may be unable to render any help.

In any case, praying is the best we can do, for God is always near our loved ones. He knows their needs and He knows their hearts. He knows what is best for them because He is infinitely wise. Not only can God do for them what we request; He can do "exceeding abundantly above all that we ask or think."

He who in the love of God prays for his friends will try to show God's lovingkindness.

Prayer
Dear heavenly Father, let Thine eye be upon all whom we love. Each has his own special needs; and Thou, O God, knowest them all; and Thou alone canst supply them. Hear our prayer in their behalf. Above all, give to each one the guidance of the Holy Spirit, and draw all to Thee in Christ Jesus, in whose name we offer our prayer. Amen.

Thought For The Day
By praying and giving thanks for others, we unite with God in caring for them.

Lydia Mowatt (Ontario)

LEGISLATIVE REPORT from Annapolis

By GOODLOE E. BYRON
Frederick County Delegate

Maryland will be on display next year in a magnificent pavilion now being built at the site of the World's Fair in Flushing Meadows, New York. The building of contemporary architecture will house an exhibition area, a theater, a pool, and a fisherman's wharf on the ground level. Maryland's history and tradition will be featured to the millions of visitors who are expected at the Fair.

Of particular interest to all Americans will be a dramatic motion picture of the Battle of Fort Mifflin which inspired Francis Scott Key to write the Star Spangled Banner. Now under production, this film, of six minutes duration, will have as its narrator General Douglas MacArthur. Continuous showings of the motion picture are planned.

And of historic interest will be models of the 360-ton ship "Ark" and the 40-ton pinnace "Dove", the two boats that carried 200 of Maryland's original settlers to the shores of the Chesapeake Bay in 1634. The original oil painting of General Washington resigning his commission at the State House in Annapolis on December 23, 1783 and a model of the 189-year-old State Capitol Building will also be featured.

For the visitor anxious to try our world famous seafood from the Chesapeake Bay, an Eastern Shore Fisherman's Wharf will offer selected crab cakes, clams and other delicacies. Of course, the traditional Maryland specialties such as fried chicken and country ham will not be overlooked.

With such emphasis on Maryland's past, it is to be expected that a contemporary view of the State will not be overlooked. The growing importance of our science — industrial complex located around Washington will provide an ideal display at the Pavilion. Baltimore's expanding role as a great world port will also be worthy of illustration.

TV Spectacular Scheduled

For the first time on television, the whole—little known history of the Chesapeake Bay's lower islands will be told on a TV 11 special, Islands Of The Chesapeake, on Monday, September 9, from 7:30 until 8:30 p.m.

The hour-long filmed documentary will take the viewer on an excursion of Kent, Tangier and Smith Islands, each a unique and self-sufficient area of barren land, existing today in a world separate and apart from the rest of Maryland, a world that dates back to the early 1600's.

Apart from historic value, Islands Of The Chesapeake illustrates the importance of Kent, Tangier and Smith as economic strongholds for Maryland's seafood industry. The program also points out their value as sources of income from recreation, such as hunting and fishing. Prevailing throughout the work is the historical importance of the Chesapeake's lower islands. Covered on this journey are many of the stately homes still occupied by

In fact, our State will have much to take to the Fair next year. Rich with the tradition of the past, fortunate with a present expanding population and economy, and blessed with a brilliant future, Maryland will hold a key position among the other states at Flushing Meadows. And good standing at the Fair will in turn stimulate interest in our State not only in this country but also in the other nations of the world.

Islands Of The Chesapeake has been filmed by TV 11 newsman Ed Ross and is narrated by WBAL-TV News Specialist Rolf Hertsgaard. The program is under the technical supervision of Ben Evans, and Executive Producer is J. Sydney King, WBAL-TV Public Affairs Manager.

"Only when there is a strong, free press, with an unflinching sense of responsibility, can truth flourish and man grow to his maximum capability."—Dwight D. Eisenhower.
