Hopes are dim at this time for the survival of our local public high school. Meetings with authorities concerned have proven unfruitful and the school apparently is facing the theoretical executioner's axe. The battle has continued for the past decade but it was not until recently that the smoke cleared and it was almost certain that we had fought a hard but vain battle. Current information has it that it will take three or four years before the death knell is sounded, due of course, to architectural planning, actual construction and other pertinent details.

The fighting spirit has been dulled somewhat but far from subdued. The Town Council has been designated as the guiding body in future negotiations and will have the assistance of several citizens. A delegation met Tuesday with the Board of Education but nothing concrete developed from the hearing. It is apparent that no children will be brought here from Thurmont to help swell the student enrollment. A sizeable number of these pupils was taken from this area about 10 years ago and the town has never been able to offset this loss with enough growth of its own. At the present it is understood that an option on the Staub site in Thurmont has been obtained by the School Board and that is where the future consolidated school will be located.

Local citizens still are hopeful an equitable decision can be arrived at and feel that all is not as yet lost. Negotiations with the School Board and County Commissioners will continue it is understood. There is land, plenty of it, available half way between the two towns. The price of this ground is far cheaper than that being paid for the Thurmont site and it is felt that the proper authorities have not been given "full" information on these sites and prices. It is understood that some of the ground has been offered for as little as $250 per acre as compared to $750 for the Thurmont site. It is hoped the School Board and Commissioners are fully aware of this existing condition.

The town is booming with activity these days as construction of the new water system and natural gas line get under way. Two major building projects are also under way at our local colleges and there is plenty of work for all these days. Working crews can be seen busily engaged at both ends of town, north and south, and there is a feeling that Emmitsburg is heading somewhere; that growth is on its way; that some time in the near future citizens will be amazed as the Town takes on a new grip on life. Emmitsburg has a future, we believe, and a bright one at that. Too bad we have to lose our school with such brightness ahead of us.

Lions Club Meeting Held

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club was held Monday evening at Mt. Manor Restaurant, President Arthur Elder presiding with 16 members and three guests in attendance.

Guests were Lions Rodgers Topper, Harold Thompson and Charles Lease, of the Mt. Airy Club. The president reported one pair of eyeglasses has been purchased in an emergency case since the last meeting. A donation of $15 was made to the Hagerstown Lions Club Area Eye Bank. Charles F. Stouter, general chairman of the Kiddies' Christmas Party to be held Dec. 21, gave a progress report.

The group named Clarence G. Frailey as its institutional representative on the executive board of the local Boy Scouts, which the Lions sponsor.

Carroll F. Fair, Fairfield and Thelma I. Andrew, Emmitsburg, have been issued a marriage license in Frederick.

No Progress Made In School Talks

A local delegation was cordially received by the Frederick County School Board Tuesday morning in Frederick but no progress or encouragement was reported.

The delegation appeared before the Board in the interest of retaining the local Public High School which the Board apparently has made up its mind to consolidate with Thurmont.

The delegation made a detailed report to the Town Commissioners Wednesday afternoon and it was felt that a scheduled public meeting in Emmitsburg last night (Thursday) would not be necessary. Instead the Town Council will seek a meeting with the County Commissioners and possibly the School Board, in the near future to continue negotiations over the school dilemma.

Emmitsburg is seeking more classrooms for the present high school so that a better curriculum can be offered.

The discussion eventually got around to the proposed high school which is being planned to serve Emmitsburg and Thurmont. The consolidated high school, however, is to be built on the Staub site at the northern edge of Thurmont. The County Commissioners just recently gave the Board of Education authority to proceed with the purchase of the Staub site.

Members of the delegation were: Mrs. Jane Bollinger, Mrs. Glenn Gillespie, Rev. John C. Chatlos and Harry Hahn. They said that if the boundaries were changed back to what they were some years ago there would be enough children to warrant a full curriculum at Emmitsburg. They noted that in some instances at the present time children are going to Fairfield and Gettysburg, Pa. schools to get the type of schooling they want.

Emmitsburg school does not offer a commercial or vocational agriculture course at the present time. School officials said the enrollment at the present time of 37 in the tenth grade, 36 in the eleventh and 28 in the twelfth grade is not enough to warrant

Students Adopt Resolution

The Student Council of Mount St. Mary's College, in cooperation with the Student Council of Villanova University, Philadelphia, unanimously passed the following resolution in tribute to the late President, John Fitzgerald Kennedy.

BE IT RESOLVED:
That on this day, Dec. 2, 1963, the Student Council officers, on behalf of the Student Body of Mt. St. Mary's College, do hereby call upon their brothers across this land to re-affirm and to re-establish those principles and values of love and justice which have been so blatantly wanting in this nation which once endeared them so highly.

BE IT FURTHER RESOLVED:
That having recognized the sacrifice of the life of our beloved leader, John Fitzgerald Kennedy, we, the youth of this nation, do call upon ourselves and our elders to formally denounce the dogma of hate now pervading our ranks and our campuses and to re-affirm these principles (ideals) for which Mr. Kennedy fought so valiantly. And that John Fitzgerald Kennedy, a man indeed, of that generation to whom the torch has been passed, who died in circumstances of violence and malevolence, may be remembered as having lived with peace and love.

This resolution will be submitted to the winter council of the National Federation of Catholic College Students by Villanova University in the form of a united presentation with universal acceptance.

Mountaineers Meet Roanoke At Local Gym Monday

Mt. St. Mary's Blue and White cagers won two and dropped one in court action during the past seven days.

Jim Phelan's crew couldn't get going last Thursday when it tangled with American U here and dropped a close one 55-54. Jack Campbell, 6'6", 200 pounder, left the game with a dislocated ankle and will be sidelined for at least two months, perhaps the balance of the season. Mike Costello paced the Mounties with 17 points.

Following Thursday's loss the Phelanmen sort of jelled and had little difficulty in downing Susquehanna at York Saturday night in a charity affair. The score was 79-62. Again Costello was high scorer for the locals with 17 tallies.

Held to a 46-46 deadlock at half time, the Mount came back fast in the second half to defeat Baltimore University 100-81 on the Bee's court Tuesday evening as the Mountaineers successfully opened their Mason-Dixon Conference title defense.

Baltimore, losing its fifth consecutive game, led twice early in the first half at 10-0 and 5-11 before the Mount pushed ahead 17-15 and led the remainder of the period although the scrappy Bees rallied in the final moments to gain the intermission deadlock.

Jim Phelan's outfit came out in the second half a completely different team and quickly went ahead 56-52 as five different Mount cagers connected on goals.

The Mountaineers added five more points for a 61-53 margin before Paul Nicholson looped a goal for Baltimore. A pair of goals by Ed Sarmir and another by John Carrel gave the local outfit a commanding 67-55 lead and there after it was easy for the Mountaineers.

Phelan used his entire squad and 10 scored with Mike Costello landing 24, Sarmir 22 and Mike Lyons 15.

The Mountaineers, 3-2, have two more engagements prior to the holidays. On Friday they meet Catholic University at Washington, and Monday oppose Roanoke at the local gym. Game time for the Roanoke game is 8 p.m.

J. S. Hollinger New Head Of Vigilant Hose Co.

President John J. Hollinger presided at the regular meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. held Tuesday evening in the Fire Hall.

Chief Sterling H. White reported four fires handled since the last meeting and the Building Fund Committee made an appeal to all who are interested in making a donation to the new building to do so at once by contacting any member of the Fire Company. No parking signs for the parking lot adjacent to the hall were donated by the Coca-Cola Co. and parking is restricted to members only. The Firemen voted to renew the charter of the local Explorer Post which it sponsors and Roger I. Zurgable was named as institutional representative to the group.

Three new members were voted into the company and were placed on the active list. They were Jack Topper, Eugene Lingg and David Bushman. Permission was granted to the Lions Club to use the Fire Hall on Dec. 21 for the annual Kiddies' Christmas Party and members volunteered to help the Lions pack the candy at the hall Sunday afternoon at 1 p.m.

During the meeting the annual election of officers was held with the following results:

Gift Funds Scholarship

A gift of a $500 check has insured a $1,000 scholarship loan to a qualified student in Maryland from the Maryland Library Assn., Miss Marjorie Wagner, MLA chairman scholarship committee said.

The gift came from the Joseph Ruzicka, Inc., bookbinding firm in Baltimore and North Carolina, through a daughter, Mrs. C. W. Gross.

"To qualify for the scholarship the applicant has to have a baccalaureate degree, be a citizen of the United States, have a sincere desire to become a librarian and agree to work for two years in a Maryland library on completion of his or her graduate work," noted Miss Wagner.

"The increased demand for adequate library service has created an ever-growing need for trained librarians," continued Miss Wagner.

"The MLA Scholarship Committee hopes to establish a permanent scholarship fund, supported by contributions from the Association membership and from other sources," she said.

Sixes Bridge Dam Receives Approval

A high dam on the Potomac River at Seneca has been approved by the Board of Army Engineers for Rivers and Harbors, but a further study was suggested before moving ahead with plans to inundate the Potomac Valley from Seneca to Brunswick.

The board suggests that as an alternate to save the Seneca valley a study will be made of the Potomac's estuary below Washington to determine if water can be drawn from the river and purified for use in the Washington metropolitan area. Such a study should be started in the near future, the board said, since under the Corps of Engineers proposed construction of the Seneca dam would start in 1971 and be completed in six years. The proposed 84-foot dam would flood about 18,500 acres of land.

The Seneca dam was just one of the 16 dams and reservoirs in the plans which were approved by the board. The Six's Bridge dam in the Emmitsburg area was one of the other dams approved.

Estimated cost of the 16 dams and reservoirs is placed at $387.5 million. In addition the plan calls for 418 headwater reservoirs at a cost of $104.8 million. The smaller reservoirs would be on small streams that feed into the tributaries of the Potomac.

Vets Urged To Check Beneficiaries

All veterans of World War II who have National Service Life Insurance today are urged by Mr. F. E. Quinn, Manager of the Veterans Administration Regional Office in Baltimore, to check the beneficiaries of their policies to determine if the right person, or persons, are designated to receive, or share in the insurance.

Any change in family status, Mr. Quinn pointed out, may require a change in beneficiary.

Mr. Quinn said "the matter should be given immediate attention by the veteran. For example, if a veteran marries, he may want to designate his wife as beneficiary, rather than his parents; if a veteran's wife dies, he may want to name a child as beneficiary, or a parent."

Mr. Quinn pointed out the law requires the VA to pay the insurance claim to the person or persons listed as the beneficiary. Any veteran may change his beneficiary by advising the Veterans Administration in writing; the letter should be addressed to the VA office to which the insurance premium is sent.

OUTDOOR SPORT TIPS

Pine-Scented Clothes It's a mute point how well your scent can be disguised where deer are concerned. The "no scent" school doesn't shave or wash or use aftershave lotion (soap odor, they say, is too strong) or ever smoke a cigarette on stand. The "scent" school smokes and washes and says the wind currents carry scent around and no matter what you do the deer will smell you if he's down wind. The no-scent boys counter with the question, "Why make a bigger smell than you have to?" To this endless controversy add this tip: Scent your deer jacket and pants with pine needles for three months before the season. Man smell will be masked.

Tire Chains

Don't throw away tire chains when the cross links wear out. Get a cold chisel and a sledge and chop cross pieces off. Two long lengths of outside chain can be used to lock your boat or as a safety chain for trailer to name just two places.

A man may fall many times. But, he won't be a failure until he says somebody pushed him.

Happy Hunting BUT DON'T FORGET INSURANCE!

Whether you're away from home one day or up to 6 months, you can have continuous protection with Trip Accident insurance. Rates are low.

For slight additional cost you can have insurance protection for your hunting equipment and other personal belongings.

Petty Stonesifer, 18, of Taneytown, won a college scholarship from the Du Pont Company after being named one of six national 4-H beef award winners during the National 4-H Club Congress, held last week in Chicago.

Starting her beef program in 1957, Betty has raised 12 short-horn steers in her 4-H projects. Here she points out some fine points of the Shorthorn breed to R. Wallace E. Gordon, a Du Pont Company executive.

The second Maryland beef scholarship winner in Du Pont's five years of sponsoring the national project, Betty has won a number of blue ribbons showing her animals at the Eastern National Livestock Show and the Carroll County Fair. She also holds the coveted 4-H Key award for 4-H leadership. Betty is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earle K. Stonesifer who operate a 190-acre farm in Carroll County.

LINCOLN GIVES VIEWS ON RECONSTRUCTION

By Lon K. Savage

The two presidents—Abraham Lincoln of the United States and Jefferson Davis of the Confederate States—addressed their respective Congresses 100 years ago this week, and their words and attitudes showed clearly how the Civil War was going.

The one—President Lincoln—spoke as if victory was assured, and he looked forward to peace, reconstruction of the South, the union replacing disunion. The other—President Davis—spoke in bitter denunciations of Northern leaders in confessions of grave defeats at Vicksburg, Gettysburg and Chattanooga, and in little hope of peace.

The two messages were given the same day—December 8—to the two congresses that had just opened. In the light of history, President Lincoln's proved the more important.

Lincoln's Message

Lincoln reviewed with satisfaction the progress of the war and then embarked on the peace that would follow. In so doing, he outlined in clear terms his fundamental policy toward reconstruction.

He announced that on that same day, he would issue a proclamation of general amnesty for "all persons who have, directly or by implication, participated in the existing rebellion." The proclamation was duly issued and although it contained many exceptions, it promised full pardon and restoration of rights to Southerners who would take an oath of loyalty to the United States.

Next, Lincoln suggested a method by which loyal governments could be re-established within the states of the Confederacy. Under this plan, when loyal residents of a Southern state—numbering not less than one-tenth of those voting in the 1860 Presidential election—established a republican government, that government "would be recognized as the true government of the state."

Finally, the President made crystal clear that he would stand by his Emancipation Proclamation, that slavery must end. Southerners who took the oath would swear to abide by the Emancipation Proclamation, under Lincoln's plan. Davis' Message

Davis' message urged one major policy: a recommendation that the Confederate conscription laws be changed to abolish the practice of Southerners hiring substitutes to serve in the military. He also urged congressional action to halt inflation.

But much of Davis' message was criticism: criticism of the Confederate troops who had fled from Missionary Ridge; criticism of England's policy of neutrality, and, most of all, criticism of the North.

He said Northern treatment of Confederate prisoners of war was one of "revolting inhumanity"; he criticized devastation of Southern farms by invading Federal armies. Northerners, he said, "refuse even to listen to proposals for the only peace possible between us . . . We now know that the only reliable hope for peace is in the vigor of our resistance."

Neither message was an entire success. Lincoln's reconstruction policy was criticized as too favorable for the South by some, too harsh for the South by others. Davis' speech was followed the next day by another speech in Congress in which Henry Foote blamed Davis, for keeping "unworthy and incompetent men in command."

will between individuals and between nations. How do we go about reducing — and perhaps eventually eliminating — misunderstanding?

I have felt for a great many years that openmindedness is essential for the creation of a world of friendship and peace. Without this, there are bound to be bitter conflicts between family members, political groups, churches, nations. We must think always of how something looks from another's point of view. We must know the real facts—and all the facts—before we can form an opinion. Since it is usually impossible for us to know the exact facts that dictate another's attitude, we must remain always tolerant and adaptable. Our minds must be open at all times.

Closed Minds Are Traps

You will find that any man who keeps his mind closed against the viewpoints and opinions of all others turns into a kind of machine, with the little that he does know churning endlessly about inside him. He is caught in the trap of his own mind, and he will always believe exactly what he now believes, whether it is right or wrong. With such a person, there can be no desire to learn, to uncover the errors that may be coloring his opinions.

When such intolerance and misunderstanding extend to great groups of people, even whole nations, we are heading toward Armageddon. In a terrible way, it may be fortunate for us that the Dallas catastrophe came in time for us to reappraise ourselves, our country, and the far nations of the earth. Even the least of us—if he has his mind open—must see that we are hearing a trumpet of (Continued On Page Four)

Babson Urges Openmindedness
BABSON PARK, Mass., Dec. 5—The appalling explosion of personal hatreds that recently shocked Dallas, the nation, and the world has set me — and millions of others as well — to thinking of how we can help change the atmosphere that could produce such a chain-reaction of murder and vengeance. It has been said by some usually sound thinkers that we are all to blame to some extent for the climate that breeds such violence. I agree with this.

Where Do We Start?

But, how do we start to clear the air of this poison? What, exactly, do we do first? It seems to me that the very first step is self-appraisal, an objective and immediate analysis of our social, moral, ethical, and religious attitudes and standards. If we would have the atmosphere of America healthy, adaptable, and conducive to friendly relations, each one of us must make our personal contribution. Tolerance and understanding must start at home,—inside each of us.

Since the fabric of our moral lives depends upon our religious faith and convictions, our first consideration must be our church and our relation to it. I have long urged people to make their church their second home, a place exactly as important in the development of themselves and their children as is their family home. Anybody who thinks of his church simply as a refuge during times of trial is not truly religious. For many years I have warned that only through a spiritual rebirth can the pitfalls of our world be avoided. Again I say . . . support your church! Misunderstanding Cause Of Trouble

One's church — regardless of the denomination — is always ready to serve as a guide and a support in times of confusions and strife. Spiritual advisers are trained to help rid us of misunderstanding, which is the cause of a great part of our trouble. Misunderstanding, I am convinced, is the worst offender in breeding disagreement and ill

FORD'S TOTAL PERFORMANCE TOUGHNESS DOMINATES THE COMPETITION WORLD!

Ford has chosen the most rugged testing program cars have ever faced . . . full-scale open competition on the rally and racing circuits of the world. This is the dramatic way to show that Fords have changed . . . and the sure way to be certain they keep on changing. Changed? Just look at the record:

|--|---|---|---|---|
| STOCK CAR RACING: 2-to-1 margin for Ford Ford is king of NASCAR competition and Ford Motor Company has the NASCAR Achievement Award to prove it. In the '63 season, special Ford entries won every single race of 500 miles or longer, scored nearly twice as many points as any other make. 500-mile races are the ultimate test of inherent durability and dependability. In two other major stock car racing associations IMCA and MARC, Ford drivers have wrapped up the 1963 championships. | SPORTS CAR ROAD RACING: Ford V-8 power is the new king Here the Cobra with its special Fairlane engine emerged as the overwhelming leader in one short year. Cobra won the coveted Manufacturer's Trophy in SCCA Class A Production competition by so wide a margin no other cars—U.S. or foreign—were even in sight. And in the two major tests this fall, the Laguna Seca and Riverside races, the new King Cobras dusted off the top "unlimited" cars from all over the world. | RALLY COMPETITION: Manufacturer's Championship Products of Ford Motor Company and its world-wide affiliates won the 1963 Manufacturer's World Rally Championship. Ford's rally year began when two specially equipped Falcon V-8's started the automotive world in the brutal 2500-mile Monte Carlo Rallye. Other special Falcon V-8's triumphed in Holland's famed Tulip Rally, and ran away with the Manufacturer's Team Prize in the 4000-mile Trans-Canada Rally. | INDIANAPOLIS: Ford ends an era Advanced Ford engineering smashed precedent in the classic Indianapolis "500." The first time out, a light alloy version of the Fairlane V-8 design in a Lotus chassis finished second. And the next time, in the Milwaukee "200" it ended the reign of the traditional "Indy" racing car by leading every foot of the way from start to finish. | PERFORMANCE & ECONOMY: New laurels for Ford The Mobil Economy Run underscored Falcon's years-long reputation for thrift—a Falcon scored first in Class B (medium-engined compacts). And the Pure Oil Performance Trials brought laurels to the big Fords, which walked off with overall wins in Classes I and II for total performance (economy, acceleration and braking). |

TOTAL PERFORMANCE INSPIRES THE TOUGHEST, SMARTEST CARS FORD EVER BUILT!

Fords have changed—and that's the real reason behind Ford's racing successes. We're now making the longest lasting, best handling cars in our history. The things we've learned from the specially equipped cars we enter in open competition have helped make them that way.

The inherent qualities that make the victorious racing car—road-holding, braking, durability, precision control, resistance to vibration—also make a car safer, stronger, and smoother for highway use.

But prove it to yourself. Take the wheel of any new Ford. Five minutes on the road will show you the kind of total performance no one else can match.

TRY TOTAL PERFORMANCE FOR A CHANGE!

Time For Spiritual Reawakening
Now that we live in One World, made small by instantaneous communications and speed-of-sound transportation, it is time—more than ever before in history—for a spiritual reawakening. It must begin in each one of us, and gain strength enough to move out into the world—even behind the Iron Curtain—and re-establish moral values. We have said too little about this lately; so let the tragedy of Dallas give us new spiritual confidence, new moral strength, new quality of action.

NEW CHEVELLE!

BY CHEVROLET

The kind of go-6 or V8—you'd expect from one of Chevy's great highway performers. Come on down and drive it.

The kind of comfort you'd expect in a large interior. Come on down and sit in it.

The kind of fresh styling—inside and out—that makes it the year's smartest surprise. Come down and stare at it.

Now—Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*!

And if that makes you think this is one frisky car, you've got the right idea.

You've also got a roomy car here. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park.

With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

And the fine hand of Body by Fisher craftsmen shows up beneath this one's suave good looks, too.

Sound good? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models—convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this isn't one of the nicest surprises of all) the new Chevelle comes at an easy-to-take price!

Like to hear more? The listening's wonderful at your Chevrolet dealer's—and so's the driving.

ALL ABOUT BABIES...

A Public Service of the National Baby Care Council

Normal "Abnormalities" By Kenneth S. Shepard, M.D. Director, Well Baby Clinics Northwestern U. School of Medicine The new mother often will call her pediatrician to report that she's discovered an abnormality in her baby. In most instances, the mother will describe a normal "abnormality," a variation that is perfectly natural in the newborn baby. Here are a few of the more common ones:

Abdominal Breathing
Failure to use the chest and rib muscles in breathing for the first two days of life cannot be considered abnormal. Abdominal breathing is the rule in the newborn until the lungs are fully expanded, usually by the fourth day.

"Cat-Back" Posture
When a newborn baby is held in a sitting position, his back usually assumes a severe hump. This is normal until the neck reflexes and muscles begin to strengthen and develop tone. Swelling Of Infant's Breasts

Within a few days after birth, the breasts of many infants begin to engorge. Even in the male infant there is frequently milk production. This is due to the crossover of lactating hormone from the mother and its stimulation of the breasts of the infant. This is normal and should clear up within a few weeks.

Two Innate Fears
Infants are born with two innate fears. These are the fear of falling and the fear of loud noises. Shakes and tremors and loud crying may be elicited by shaking the bassinette and by making loud and explosive sounds. Some infants seem to be more sensitive to these fear-provoked episodes than others. Some parents have harsh, explosive speech patterns that may evoke various manifestations of these fears.

Odd Head Shapes
Elongated, lopsided, irregularly shaped heads are the rule in first-born babies. These irregularities are corrected swiftly and naturally. Improvement should be seen by the 5th or 6th day.

Eye Swelling
This is seen commonly in infants born face up and represents no abnormality. It may also occur following the use of silver nitrate in the eyes at birth, a legally instituted procedure as a preventive measure against gonorrhea. This too will clear up.

Position of Comfort
Every baby has a "position of comfort." Usually, this is on one side with the legs drawn up and the hands forward, but some may desire another bizarre position. These preferences should be tolerated.

Rooting Reflex
The newborn infant will make rooting motions, trying to dig his face and head into any soft object such as a pillow, breast or soft toy animal. This reflex is related to the sucking reflex and will diminish at about the age of three or four months.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Colds
What can you do for the common cold?

Most folks know you can't cure it. And yet we still waste a lot of time and money on pills and nostrums and treatments—all in the faint hope that maybe this time something will help.

Actually, grandma's home therapy is still good. If you get a cold, stay home in bed. Keep warm. Gargle to ease a sore throat. Take aspirin for the discomfort. None of this will cure the cold, but it will make you feel somewhat more comfortable while your body's natural defense mechanisms are building up enough steam to overcome the cold virus.

From time to time there have been vaccines to protect against colds. To really protect, the vaccine would have to include many different viruses. Some of the viruses that cause colds most likely haven't yet even been identified. It's unlikely that a vaccine will help much. Ask your doctor for his recommendation in your individual case.

Two during the course of the winter. Usually we try to keep going to the office, but sometimes we feel too bad to work and spend a day or two at home.

As youngsters we heard the old folks say: Treat a cold and you can cure it in two weeks; let it alone and it will go away in a fortnight. The time element isn't that exact, but the theory is the same.

Much research is being done on cause and possible cure for colds. Perhaps the answers will be found some day. But as of now we can't cure colds and anyone who tells you he can, deserves at best considerable suspicion.

Newspapers are more than purveyors of news; they also have a hand in creating it by digging it out of news sources who don't realize they have a news story.

Census Of Labor Force Planned

The number of Americans 14-and-older in the labor force who did any paid farm work during 1963 will be determined from answers in the December Current Population Survey to be conducted in this area during the week of December 15 by the U. S. Department of Commerce.

According to John G. Gibson, Director of the Philadelphia Regional office, U. S. Bureau of Census, the figures will update those released recently which showed that 3.6 million persons in the labor force were employed as hired workers on the Nation's farms during 1962. This survey has been conducted regularly since 1945 by the Bureau of the Census for the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Answers given in this survey, being taken in 357 selected areas of the United States, will help the Government in determining farm labor needs and in studying the special economic and social problems of migratory workers and other farm employees.

In addition to the questions asked annually on the number of days worked and cash wages earned, the Census Bureau interviewers this December will ask information on the type and value of other benefits the hired farm hands got from their farmer-employers. Included will be questions on free housing, meals, food products and other benefits.

The questions will supplement the regular questions asked each month on time worked by those in the labor force during the week before the interview from which the Nation's employed-unemployed figures are derived.

In October the survey showed 3.5 million of the 76.1 million persons in the labor force were out of work. The comparable figures for the same month a year ago are 3.3 million and 74.9 million.

OUTDOOR SPORTING TIPS

Flower Growers
Don't throw away the soil you kept worms in. It makes the finest soil available for such indoor plants as African Violets, ivy, etc. Rich in humus.
Easy Inflator
An old but air-tight truck inner-tube makes a fine air mattress inflater. Fill the tube before you set out for camp. (It makes an excellent carrier for your outboard motor in transit.) At camp just insert air mattress stem over valve stem of tube and loosen the latter. In goes the air. Up goes the air mattress without the long puff.

Oil Gloves

Oil from petrolatum greases makes a serviceable waterproofing for leather goods. Rub some into your leather gloves now. Gloves will keep you warmer, stay soft longer and stay dry.

Ammo Case
New plastic cigarette packs make an ammunition case that's just the size to hold 9 .30 06 shells in your pocket and keep them from rattling.

It is not who is right, but what is right, that is important.
