The new bypass of the Town, at the intersection of Routes 15 and 97, was the scene, for the 17th time since Christmas, of a serious automobile crash which hospitalized three people Wednesday morning. Since the opening of this death trap east of town on Dec. 10 four people have been fatally injured and no less than 20 serious accidents have occurred. Almost weekly accidents have occurred on the two-mile stretch of what is supposed to be "modern" highway construction. The focal point for the majority of these wrecks is the intersection at Emmitt Gardens. Any fool can see that the crossover should have been an overpass but our State Roads Commission is oblivious to the condition and appears apathetic about the whole thing. As I said before, the Governor or the State Legislature should thoroughly investigate all the proceedings which brought about this new stretch of highway and determine what numbskull was responsible for this monstrosity and to take remedial action to see that it doesn't happen to some other unfortunate section of our fair state. This brings to mind the question as to just how long the State is going to permit this killing and maiming to continue. Once I made the suggestion that the bypass should be closed for the safety of motorists and I am now more than ever convinced that this would be the proper and sensible thing to do.

I saw by the papers this week that our "friends," the County Commissioners, threw a big picnic at Rocky Ridge for the benefit of the County employees. Estimates were that over 600 enjoyed the affair, at the public's expense. While I don't want to throw cold water on the entertainment I do think that this thing is getting out of hand, so to speak, and when you throw a wing-ding of this magnitude, at the taxpayers expense, orchestra and all, I sort of feel that it is being overdone. Just imagine should Uncle Sam decide to throw a picnic for his six million Government workers! And come to think of it, this is the same body of men which a year ago refused to buy the Jamison-Wivell site for the North County Consolidated School, for the simple fact that it cost $2000 more than the Staub site in Thudmont. Wonder what the picnic actually cost the taxpayers of Frederick County? Oh well, there's an election headed this way in just about a year.

Several inquiries have reached this desk concerning road signs that were in existence before the construction of the new by-pass was started last year. Seems as though several organizations and churches had erected these signs at considerable expense, and had permits for their erection. A number of them have disappeared and have not reappeared and the good citizens and owners are wondering who is responsible. The only answer I have is to complain to the State Roads Commission in Frederick. These signs cost money and it is hard to get them erected and they really deserved better treatment than just being knocked down and destroyed by a bulldozer. What's the answer, Commission?

Know the identity of the vandals who maliciously desecrated the Little League ball field last week. The park really looks better than it ever has and many improvements have been made this year. The field had just been decorated for the dedication ceremony of the diamond in the name of the late Prof. McCullough. Flags adorned the area and the memorial sign. Vandals climbed the fence, negotiated the sign and ripped down the flags, breaking the staffs and grinding them into (Continued on Page 7)

FOOD SALE
A benefit food sale will be held Saturday, June 19 in the Fire Hall starting at 10 a.m. The sale will be for the benefit of the Vigilant Hose Co. and all net receipts will be placed in the building fund. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend.

Local Youth Center Opens Monday

After a successful first year of operation, the Emmitsburg Youth Center will open for its second year on Monday, June 21. The hours of operation will be the same as last year: from 1 to 4 in the afternoon, and from 6 to 10 in the evening. The days of operation will be the same as last year—every day except Sunday.

Last year, over 150 teenagers from the Emmitsburg area used the facilities of the Center.

Many new features will be found at the Center this year. There will be an outdoor night basketball league on the newly-renovated court behind the center. It is a regulation 74 by 45 court with outdoor lighting. There will be games every night, Monday through Thursday, beginning at 8:15 p.m. Six teams will compose the league, consisting of players from Emmitsburg High School, St. Joseph High School, and Mother Seton School.

Another feature that aids in the comfort of the membership is the air-conditioning, newly installed this year. The entire second floor, which holds the pool tables, ping-pong tables, card tables, shuffle board, and television, has been completely air-conditioned.

A 24" colored television has been purchased during the winter months and will be in use for the membership this summer.

Last year's popular activities will again be repeated this year. There will be a boys' and girls' softball league, pool and ping-pong tournaments, badminton, etc.

Rev. James T. Delaney, instructor in psychology at Mount St. Mary's College, will serve again as director of the Center. Father Delaney stated: "Last year was highly successful for the Center. We averaged over 60 teenagers a day, and this year we should have more coming. The basketball league should be a big feature—it will be in the evenings under the lights and we have the best players in the Emmitsburg area playing. Again Adult cooperation will be a big factor and we are hoping for an improvement in this area."

The following is the roster for the summer basketball league:

Night Owls: Coach, Gene Lingg; Jim May, Ed Adelsberger, Gary Manning, Steve Kelly, Mike Smith, Bill Rodgers and Gary Cool.

3-D Inc. Asks For Land Rezoning Here

Plans for some type of highway service business were bared Wednesday when the 3-D Incorporated which owns the former Nestor Farm in the east end of town applied before the Frederick County Zoning Commission for rezoning at least 14 acres from agricultural to commercial.

The ground is located at the intersection of the Kump's Dam Road and State Route 97. The type of business was not fully explained but speculation has it that it might possibly be a service station and motel.

David Weinberg, Frederick attorney who said he had a personal interest in the case, brought in the application of "3-D, Inc." of North Court Street, for the rezoning of almost 14 acres of land near Emmitsburg.

Weinberg said the land, located in a 587-foot arc between Md. 97, the Harney Road and relocated U. S. 15 was, "a highly desirable piece of ground for a highway service type business."

This application for rezoning from A-1 agricultural district to a B-3 commercial zone had originally been in the name of Richard R. Kline.

Weinberg assured the Planning Commission that the "3-D, Inc." corporation now owned this land and adjacent land which had been previously proposed as a home development.

"Sewer and water facilities are available from Emmitsburg on this land, so this is not a factor here," Weinberg said. "Access is available through the Harney Rd. and Md. 97 and visibility is good on U. S. 15 for one mile in both directions."

County planner Wirgau said long term planning had called for this to be a reserve industrial area but that there was a crowded commercial area planned immediately adjacent to this land and there was no reason why this area could not be extended to this land.

He recommended the rezoning to the Planning Commission. The commission said it would make its recommendation to the county commissioners on this rezoning at a later date.

The 3-D Incorporated had previously requested annexation by the Town of Emmitsburg of approximately 72 acres in that area. The Town is currently working on the annexation proceedings and it is believed that within the next two weeks or so the annexation to the Town will have been completed. The Council met in special session last evening to work out the final plans for the annexation.

The County Commissioners also voted this week, unanimously, to approve a request recommended by the Planning Commission to rezoning some land at the intersection of U. S. 15 and the Orndorff Rd. for an upholstery shop in a private home.

Franklin Luther Valentine, R2, Thurmont, asked for this rezoning of a little more than four acres of land from A-1 agricultural use to B-2 business. The Planning Commission approved this rezoning request.

Completing his studies for the priesthood at the Mount, Father Parrilla was ordained in the Cathedral of St. John the Baptist, San Juan, by the Most Rev. James P. SOCIAL SECURITY NEWS

"Criminal violation of laws affecting entitlement to social security payments can result in imprisonment or heavy fines," W. S. King, District Manager of the Social Security Administration in Hagerstown, warned this week. King called attention to the sentence imposed, on April 9, 1965, in Federal District Court in Fairmont, West Virginia, on Mrs. Alice M. Shingleton of Augusta, West Virginia. Mrs. Shingleton was sentenced to one and one-half years in prison, but the sentence was suspended and she was placed on probation for an eighteen-month period. She pleaded guilty to concealing the fact that she had already remarried when she filed a claim as an unmarried widow.

Mr. King said the Social Security Administration has the duty of detecting any fraud that may exist at any stage of the claims operation and of recommending prosecution when the facts justify it. He added that almost all claims are free from fraud because of the inherent honesty of claimants. Processes and procedures used by the Administration have been effective in keeping to a minimum the payment of benefits to the small minority who attempt to defraud the Government.

Officer Law said no charges will be laid.

with new Route 15 less than a mile north of here, at 11 o'clock Friday night.

Maryland State Police said Richardson suffered a fractured skull, possible internal injuries, extensive burns of the upper part of the body and multiple abrasions of the body. He was removed to the hospital in the VFW ambulance.

Police said Richardson was driving south "apparently at a high rate of speed" when his car skidded while negotiating a slight curve. The auto went sideways 100 yards and hit an embankment roadside. It then rolled over onto its roof and caught fire.

The Vigilant Hose Co. was summoned to extinguish the blaze.

Soldier Fined After Fatal Mishap

Darrell Hassel, 24, of Corpus Christi, Tex., a soldier stationed at Fort Ritchie, last week entered a plea of guilty to a reckless driving charge before Justice of the Peace John Whitman, Gettysburg, and paid a fine of $25 and costs.

The charge had been brought as a result of a fatal accident May 22 on old Rt. 15 near the Hillside Inn, three miles north of here. Earlier a coroner's jury blamed the speed of Hassel's car as the cause of the accident in which a passenger in the car, a fellow soldier from Fort Ritchie, Robert E. Johnson, 19, of Georgetown, S. C., was fatally injured. The reckless driving charge had been scheduled for a hearing later, but Hassel went to the justice's office Thursday and entered the plea.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

The Emmitsburg Chronicle, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. Clip and save for future reference.

Questions And Answers

Q. I just bought some stock in a Canadian company. My broker said that the purchase was subject to a 15 per cent interest equalization tax. How do I pay it?

A. File Form 3780, Interest Equalization Quarterly Tax Return, and pay the tax due with the return. The return covering transactions made in April, May, and June is required to be filed with the District Director of Internal Revenue by August 2, 1965. You can get the forms at any of our district offices.

Q. I just started my own business. Do I need another taxpayer identifying number for business purposes or can I use the one I have?

A. You must obtain an employer identification number for use on all business returns, such as payroll or excise tax returns. Apply for this number on Form SS-4 which is available at any of our offices.

Q. You can use your present Social Security number on your individual income tax return, Self-Employment Schedule SE, and Declaration of Estimated Tax.

Q. I plan to attend a business conference in Switzerland this summer. When the conference is over, my wife and I might spend a few weeks sight-seeing. Will that have any effect on the deductibility of my travel expenses over to Europe and back?

A. Yes it might. Depending on the circumstances of your trip, only part of your travel costs associated with the business conference may be deductible.

You would have to allocate these travel expenses between business and non-business activity if the following conditions apply:

1—the total trip lasts more than one week;

2—25 per cent or more of your time away is devoted to non-business activity;

3—you had substantial control over the arrangements for the trip and a personal vacation was a major consideration in the decision to make the trip.

When these conditions apply, only a portion of the travel costs may be deducted. For example, if one week was spent at the business conference and two weeks were spent sight-seeing, then one-third of the travel costs may be deducted.

This business travel rule applies only to travel outside the U. S. If your business trip was to California and then you took a vacation, the full amount of your business travel costs will be deductible. The expenses for your wife will generally not be deductible whether the trip was within the U. S. or outside it.

Q. I won a prize in an essay contest. Do I or my family have to pay tax on it? I'm 16 years old.

A. A prize won in an essay contest is taxable to the recipient. Any income that is taxable to you should be reported by you if you earned $600 or more, including the prize, during the year. Income earned by a minor should not be included with the parent's income.

Q. Does a self-employed business include his own social security tax every quarter on the Form 941 he files for his employees?

A. No, since he is not an employee his own social security report is a part of his annual Federal income tax return, Form 1040. He sends it in only once a year.

Q. I just opened a florist shop. Do I have to pay a use tax on my delivery truck?

A. Probably not, since "single unit" trucks (2-, 3-, or 4-axled trucks which operate without pulling a semi-trailer or any other type of trailer) are not subject to the tax unless their actual unloaded weight is 13,000 pounds or more. But if your vehicle does come up to this size specification, be sure to obtain Forms 2290 and a copy of our Publication No. 349, "Federal Use Tax on Trucks, Truck Tractors, and Buses" from your local Internal Revenue office. It covers the requirements of this law.

For further information contact your local Internal Revenue Service office.

NO. 20,978 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY, MARYLAND
CHARLES AUGUSTUS MORRIS
Route 1, Box 78
Jefferson, Maryland
VS
JANIE V. MORRIS
7 Gay Street
Providence, Rhode Island

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Janie V. Morris.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, Maryland, where he has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address is 7 Gay Street, Providence, Rhode Island; that the parties to this cause were married on the 28th day of September, 1956, at Newport News, Virginia, by a regularly ordained minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage five children were born, namely, Leo Henry Morris, 7 years of age; Robert Augustus Morris, 6 years of age; Emma Jean Morris, 5 years of age; David Lee Morris, 3 years of age; and Michael Morris, 2 years of age; that the Defendant did, on or about the 15th day of October, 1962, abandon and desert your Complainant declaring her intentions to live with him no longer as husband and wife, that said abandonment and desertion is deliberate and final and has continued uninterruptedly for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Charles Augustus Morris, be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Janie V. Morris; that he be awarded the care and custody of the infant children in these proceedings mentioned; and for such other and further relief as the nature of his case may require.

ORDER OF COURT
It is thereupon this 24th day of May, 1965, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 3rd day of July, 1965, commanding her to be and appear in this Court, in person, or by solicitor, on or before the 3rd day of August, 1965, and show cause, if any she has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

ince. They were young and ambitious, and the best way for them to advance would have been to gain the favor of the king. But they loved their God more than personal gain. To be true to God, they could do no other than defy the king's decree.

Therefore, in accordance with the penalty for violation of the decree, the faithful, courageous young men were bound and placed in the furnace. God did not prevent them from entering the burning fiery furnace, but he delivered them from the fire. Their astonishing deliverance so impressed the king that he favored their God and promoted them in the province.

Our Father, we thank Thee for great biblical characters who remained true to Thee. May we so live that when the greatest tests come we can confidently believe Thou wilt deliver us. In Thy Son's name we offer our prayer. Amen. Thought For The Day

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Hot Weather Hints

Summertime brings a return to the out-of-doors and its many games and sports.

Summertime also brings back the hot sunshine, high temperatures and cases of sunburn.

Vigorous out-of-doors physical activity in the hot summer months is fun for almost all of us, but it can also bring health problems.

In a pamphlet, "Tips on Training," the American Medical Association and the National Federation of State Athletic Associations offer some hot weather tips for athletes that also can be applied to that big majority of Americans who are only occasional weekend athletes.

Have a careful medical checkup prior to starting a program of vigorous activity, such as returning to the tennis court or the golf course for the first time after the winter hiatus.

Sad Commentary In Low Key
If it had not been so comic-opera miserable, it might have been funny. There in the fancy Rayburn building committee room was Rep. Adam Clayton Powell, Harlem's political prince and profligate slicer of federal pork, making ringing phrases of his accusations that the poverty program was being sab-otaged by local politicians. Before the poverty battle was hardly pined, the chairman of the House Education and Labor Committee charged, it was turned into "giant fiestas of political patronage." The poor, his sub-committee hearings found, were getting the worst of it.

Getting the most of it was an army of job givers and seekers, who were absorbing most of the high costs of overhead in the form of salaries. Of a $67,000 grant to Monmouth, N. J., for example, $52,000 was earmarked for salaries. In the big cities, witnesses said, the program was creating "fantastic power struggles," with the poor getting little help. Community Action programs in the big cities, spending nearly half the poverty war budget for local plans, came under heavy Congressional fire. These grab-bag possibilities were said to be making old-time political bosses "goggle-eyed."

Answers And Charges
Sargent Shriver, chief of the Economic Opportunity Office, defended his agency as best he could, admitting that it wanted good people with ability and they had to be paid accordingly. Only 71 of 510 agency jobs rate more than $15,000 per year, he said. Nobody in Washington, he added, is smart enough to sit down and figure out how to defeat poverty in every community in America. He is perhaps right. But he did not admit that shoveling federal cash out around the country is no solution.

Up at Willow Run, Mich., on the poverty front, a government study costing $188,000 recommends not a job-producing program but a "cultural center" and federally sponsored town meetings for local self-expression on social, political, and economic affairs. A federally subsidized newspaper (supervised partly by labor officials) was recommended, so as to keep the public properly informed. These ideas seem to lean toward replacing enterprise with federal government action and control, with eventual socialization. How this would eliminate pockets of poverty is not disclosed, but it would certainly put aside tax-paying private enterprise.

Temporary Means Always
And so it goes with other federal programs related to improving the economy. The Area Redevelopment Administration, which has committed so many unhappy blunders in the name of "distressed" areas, is due to expire June 30. Like other bureaus that fail to die, it wants a new lease on life as the "Economic Development Administration" under the Commerce Department. It spent some $435 million in four years and supervised twice that amount of public works spending. Now, it wants to start off with $400 million a year and use more than half a billion annually afterwards, not counting the cost of the public works.

Continuing the 50-50 program with the states is not suggested for the future. The federal government proposes to put up 60 per cent, but in depressed (another word will have to be found) areas it will throw in as much as 80 per cent of the cost of projects. Like other temporary agencies that still thrive, ARA wants to blend into the Washington bureaucracy with broadened functions and bigger appropriations. Those who favor big spending will see that ARA achieves its metamorphosis. Unless the people speak up, and clearly, we shall have poverty spending from here on out, with lush jobs for the organizers and limited help for the poor.

and up some 15 per cent over the best prior spring session.

Post time for the final cards will be 7:15 daylight savings time, and there will be 10 races on Saturday night.

Senator Scott of Pennsylvania has called attention to the high overhead, with the top 45 employees in Washington being paid nearly a million dollars in salaries.

The Cost Are High
Apparently these tremendous overhead costs are what make the unit costs of Job Corps training so high. While the trainees are paid slightly more than an Army private, the total yearly cost of putting a boy through a year of Job Corps training is said to come to $6,200, or more than twice what it takes to send a student to Harvard. Mr. Shriver disputes this, but if a student cannot go to Harvard on $516.00 per month, he could certainly pay his way in many institutions that I know about and live quite royally on the balance.

Tomorrow's Breeders

Reviewing an animal book in the New York Times, Orville Prescott commented on the human-interest value of animal subjects and observed: "... It is a well established publishing axiom that little American girls would rather read about horses than eat."

This is borne out by the volume of mail received by the Thoroughbred Racing Association. "Not a day goes by" according to Spencer J. Drayton, executive vice-president of TRA, "that we don't receive at least a half dozen letters from youngsters wanting to know 'all about' the Thoroughbred and fully 90 per cent of the writers are young ladies." One of TRA's prized letters, from a

Miss, age 10, enclosed her pen sketch of Man o'War and said: "I love horses very much and my very wish is to have a horse to love and race with. My father is a banker and even though it sounds like we should be real, real wealthy we're not. The only horse that I've ever had was a Shetland pony..."

Spelling does not always match enthusiasm. One young lady wanted pictures of "Whiraway and Eddie Araco." On the theory that these youngsters are the owners and breeders of tomorrow, Drayton said: "We try to answer every letter. One which gave us pause for considerable thought read: 'I am writing for some information. Thank you.'"

EFFICIENT FEEDING AND LIVESTOCK MANAGEMENT

By Dr. Gustav Bohstedt
Emeritus Professor of Animal Husbandry
University of Wisconsin

High-Grain And Self-Feeding Of Cows

Corn, milo or small grain in many parts of the country can be fed more cheaply than can hay, at least on the digestibility or net energy basis.

Improved seed, better fertilization, and mechanization of planting, harvesting, and feeding have been major factors in this development.

Relatively cheap grain as compared to hay has in consequence brought in our modern high-grain and all-concentrate rations, especially in the case of dairy cows and finishing beef cattle.

We used to be afraid of feeding too much grain to dairy cows for fear that it might "burn them out." We don't hear so much about that danger nowadays.

What is too much grain for some cows in terms of returns by way of milk, may not be enough for others. Just how much grain can cows eat a day if fed to capacity? According to Michigan State people, as much as 95 pounds!

Many milking cows would simply grow fat on such an intake if they ate it at all. But it is surprising what relatively large amounts of grain can be fed advantageously to potentially high-producing cows.

Where an average cow fed a more or less average ration may use one-half of her ration for unproductive body maintenance, a really good cow, fed liberally uses only about one-fourth of her ration for maintenance and the rest for milk. So a surprisingly large amount of grain may be given her before the point of diminishing returns is reached, and, according to Syracuse University workers, with no impairment of breeding efficiency.

Many successful dairymen practice challenge feeding, to find out what the milk response is to pounds per day of increased grain that is fed. Let us say that from three-fourths to one pound of milk should be produced for every additional pound of grain fed.

It is readily seen that the price of milk and the price of grain determine the economy of stepping up the grain allowance.

Cows that respond favorably might then be separated from the rest of the herd and self-fed a complete mixture of grain with perhaps only ten percent coarsely ground hay, and with possibly silage on the side.

University of Illinois researchers found that the usual decrease of fat percentage of milk on high grain, low-roughage rations could in large part be checked by mixing 1.5% of equal parts of sodium and potassium bicarbonate in the grain mixture.

Question: Why don't some sows have milk?

Answer: Because of blind teats, or a form of milk fever, or exposure to wet and cold, or lack of exercise, or improper feeding and watering, or various kinds of contagious or non-contagious diseases.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On:
Mortgaging A Home
BABSON PARK, Mass., June 17—Young couples today often feel that they are pouring money down the drain if they rent an apartment or a house. "Why support a landlord," they say, "when our monthly payments could be building up an equity in a home of our own?" There is, of course, logic in this attitude; hence millions of young people are now living in residences that they have bought or built themselves.

Look Before You Leap, In Home Buying

Many young husbands and wives today find it is not much more complicated to obtain a mortgage and arrange monthly payments than it is to move into a rented establishment and send regular checks to a landlord. However, they are often greenhorns in the matter of budgeting for a family, and do not give enough time to figuring out their income and deciding how it can be made to meet all their living requirements. That is why many counselors for young couples advise rental of a small, reasonable apartment for the beginning of their lives together.

In this way, the bride and groom can determine just how much they make, after all taxes, and how much they will have left over, after the essentials for living. If the girl works—as is so often the case today—an apartment is easier to maintain, demanding a minimum of upkeep and housekeeping during the early days of adjustment. This period also should provide time for building up a savings account, life insurance coverage, and house furnishings to be used when the couple move into their own place. Equally important, it will give the young people time to figure out what they most want when they go out to buy a home of their own.

Shop For Home Financing
When the time comes to go house-hunting, the young folk should also go shopping for the best place to obtain a mortgage. Possible lenders will include commercial banks, savings and loan associations, life insurance companies, and mortgage bankers. In some areas, institutions known as co-operative banks and homestead associations fall into the same category for mortgaging as do savings and loan associations.

Interest rates currently range from 5 1/4% to better than 6%. If an older house is under consideration, the down payment may constitute as much as 20% to 33 1/3% of the total cost. Under certain conditions a new house can be taken over with a downpayment of 5% or even less. Loans backed by the VA or the FHA carry 5 1/4% interest, and usually include longer-term mortgages, if desired, and considerably lighter down payments. It is wise for couples in the market for a home to discuss such matters with several mortgage outlets before deciding on what steps to take. Advice from older, more experienced family members or friends should also be sought.

Long-Term Financing Often Preferable
The longer the mortgage, the more money is paid out in interest. Sometimes this prompts young people to attempt the shortest-term financing possible.

This, however, can be a heavy burden to a limited budget, and may soon become a bone of serious contention when the payments—along with the pressures of other purchases—intrude on regular living requirements. Most financing specifies monthly payments for 20, 25, or 30 years. Under particular conditions, shorter or longer periods are possible.

Generally, for young families of restricted means, a long-term mortgage is safest for the budget, despite the larger amount paid in interest. Another factor to keep in mind: If money is likely to be needed for repairs or child education, an open-end mortgage can ordinarily be extended or renewed after enough equity has been built up over the years. As a general rule, avoid second mortgages; they usually entail heavy interest and service expenses, in addition to the primary mortgage.

Laurel Raceway Opens Tonight

Laurel Raceway, Maryland's pioneer sulky oval, located on U. S. One, midway between Baltimore and Washington, raises the curtain on its 18th annual meet tonight (Friday). Thirty-two nights of trotting and pacing over the new million-dollar five-eighths mile Tartan Track, promising a barrellful of clock-blazing performances, are on tap through July 24th. Post time nightly will be 8:30 o'clock.

Amid pomp and ceremony, the new Tartan oval, second in the world to be built by the 3M Company of St. Paul, Minnesota, was officially dedicated this past Sunday. Ceremonies began at 6:00 p.m. in which the Hon. J. Millard Taves, Governor of Maryland, cut a ribbon to herald the beginning of the new era in Free State racing at the long acclaimed "horsemen's" track.

Among big-name drivers who are slated to see action during the meet in rich stakes, are Billy Haughton, harness racing's all-time leading dash-winner, nine-time money-winning kingpin, holder of nine world's records, and winner of more than 40 major trotting stakes; Stanley Dancer, first skipper to crack the million-dollar barrier in purses won in a single season ($1,051,538 in 1964), and handler of trotter SuMac Lad, world's all-time money-winning harness horse shooting for $900,000 this year; and Del Miller, one of the sport's all-time great breeder-trainer-driver-owner at whose race track, The Meadows, the world's first Tartan surface was laid several years ago.

Other top reinsmen will be Johnny Simpson, handler of world trotting champion Ayres (1:56.4), who used Laurel as a training base this season; George Sholty; Vernon Dancer; Al Winger, and Jack Quinn.

The track is all-weather, which means that neither rain nor snow will affect its "fast" condition. It's "drip-dry", non-slip, reduces the risk of horses going lame, promotes greater speed, and is practically maintenance-free, requiring only sweepings to keep it clean.

Further enhancing the Laurel scene this year will be the huge man-made lake, designed to reflect the horses as they go around the clubhouse turn; new, brighter quartz lighting; a powder blue fence by Alcoa along the entire backstretch; and a refurbished, relocated totalisator board with a new travelling message panel.

Young children should never be allowed to play with deflated balloons.

Parents And Teachers Seminars Working To Meet In Frederick In Mission Fields

Hood College, Frederick, will host the 32nd annual summer conference of the Maryland Congress of Parents and Teachers on June 24, 25, and the state board meeting on the 26.

The conference theme "Service and Heritage," will highlight the milestone year ahead, which will include the state's golden anniversary convention this coming November, and the national convention in May of 1966, both to be held in Baltimore.

Mrs. John C. Stidman of Baltimore, program chairman, said the expected 300 local leaders from throughout the state will be exposed to extensive training in PTA program, policy, and procedure.

Thursday's program will include an opening session keynote address, "Interpersonal Relations," by Dr. Robert C. Lloyd of the Baltimore City Board of Education; and a dinner meeting address by Hyman H. Bookbinder, special assistant, Office of Economic Opportunity in Washington, on "How President Johnson's Poverty Program Will Affect Maryland."

Friday afternoon's closing session will feature a panel discussion "How Superintendents Work With Local PTAs and County Councils," with Dr. James Sensenbaugh, state superintendent of schools, as speaker and moderator.

Nine seminarians from Mount Saint Mary's Seminary have departed for the mission fields in the United States and Mexico for the summer months, according to Rev. Thomas G. Smith, S.T.L., seminary spiritual director.

Four of the young men have gone to the Yucatan province of Old Mexico where the Mount seminarians have worked with the native priests and the Maryknoll fathers teaching catechism and working with the youth for the past three years. The four are: Rocco Verrengio, Brooklyn; Joseph O'Brien, Baltimore; and Richard Broderick and Edwin Cedillo, Albany. This is Mr. O'Brien's second year there.

Five others have gone to the "no-priest" areas of the United States to assist the work of the Glenmary fathers. They include Rev. Mr. Romano Zanon, deacon from the diocese of Brooklyn; James McGovern and Francis Lewis, Baltimore; Jerome Mousseau, Saginaw; and John Fenzl, Albany, who spent the previous year in Latin America.

The project, which is done on a voluntary basis, is partially financed by the individual seminarians and by the Seminary's Mission Society. Other seminarians have taken positions in their home dioceses for the summer.

This is my commandment, that ye love one another.— (John 15:12).

We can deal with almost any situation—even when we encounter those who antagonize us—if we remember God's admonition to show love, at all times, for our fellow beings. This attitude could lead to some remarkable transformations in the feelings of others for us.

"Ahoy! Ahoy!"

January 1, 1879—Maryland's first telephone exchange opened for business. Chances are the Operator would have greeted you with the words "Ahoy! Ahoy!"—the very first telephone greeting, the expression used by Alexander Graham Bell himself in his experiments.

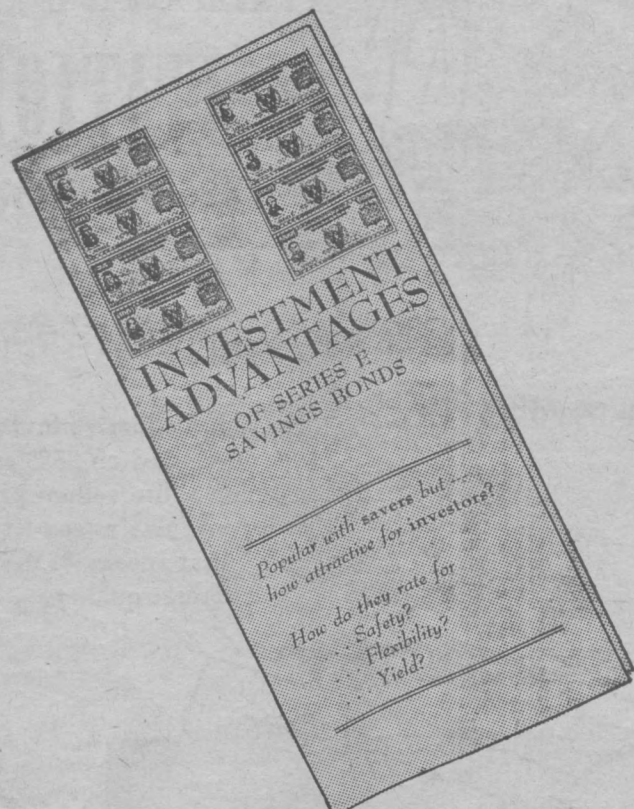

As shown above, Operators had to hand-connect all calls. But at that time there were only a few phones in use. Today, Marylanders make five million calls a day. If they had to be hand-connected, there wouldn't be enough women of working age in the state to fill the need for Operators.

Today's modern telephone equipment lets your calls go through much faster. And it has relieved the Operator of many purely mechanical jobs, leaving her more time to perform her most important one—helping you.

Sure, her job has changed over the years. So have most jobs at the Telephone Company. The only thing that will not change is the way all of us at C & P are working to bring everyone in Maryland the best possible telephone service.

Investor's guide to U.S. Savings Bonds (FREE)

Are Series E Savings Bonds a good investment?

Yes. For several reasons, including some investment advantages unique to Bonds.

For instance, all Series E Savings Bonds carry a 10-year automatic extension privilege. Which means you can hold your Bonds past maturity and cash them when you're in a lower tax bracket—perhaps during retirement. (Or you can trade them in for Series H Bonds for retirement income.)

Also, Savings Bonds offer a guaranteed rate of interest. You have no concern about market fluctuation or a "right" time to buy.

Another thing. Bonds are exempt from state or local income taxes, and federal income tax can be deferred until you cash your Bonds.

You'll find these and more eye-opening investment advantages of Series E Bonds explained fully in this free folder available from the Treasury Department. Use the coupon below to order a copy.

Seeks Smoke-Control Devices On Vehicles

Automobile exhaust fumes "sicken pedestrians and motorists alike and may even cause death," Rep. Clarence D. Long, (D., Md.) told a House subcommittee in urging approval of his bill to require smoke-control devices on all new motor vehicles. "These fumes offend our noses; irritate our eyes; and foul the air we breathe," Rep. Long said in testimony before the Interstate and Foreign Commerce Subcommittee on Public Health and Welfare. "Auto exhaust has been shown to cause cancer in mice; scientists fear that it produces the same disease in humans."

Rep. Long's Bill, H.R. 2105, provides that standards for exhaust-control devices would be set by the U. S. Surgeon General. Failure to comply with them would be punished by a fine of up to $25 per vehicle sold without proper equipment.

Everyone, including the Automobile Manufacturers Association, "agrees that exhaust fumes from cars, trucks and busses pollute the air around us," Rep. Long said.

He noted that smoke and soot from such fumes may cause as much as $5 billion a year in plant and property damage, and that corrosion and soiling caused by motor exhaust has been estimated to cost the average person $30 a year. "The damage that these fumes can do is evident to anyone who has inspected an automobile exhaust pipe after several thousand miles of use," Rep. Long said.

Beginning next year, he pointed out, the General Services Administration will require exhaust-control devices on all new cars bought by the Government. California now requires that such equipment be installed on all new vehicles sold in that State.

"With these exceptions," Rep. Long said, "motor exhaust is the only major source of air pollution not under some degree of local or Federal regulation. The time for such regulation is now."

"Motor vehicles already dump 92 million tons of carbon monoxide alone into the air," he said. "Within the next decade, the number of automobiles trailing this lethal gas and other harmful pollutants along our roads and highways will increase by a third."

Air is "an exhaustible resource," Rep. Long said. "To prevent increasing damage to property and health from exhaust fumes and to insure that our children and grandchildren will have clean air to breathe, we must begin the moves needed to stop this fouling of the environment."

has come before the Congress in "Since I introduced it in 1963, thousands of Marylanders and Washingtonians have expressed their support for the establishment of the Federal Seashore and the utilization of Assateague for public hunting, fishing, swimming, and boating."

"The Maryland Congressional Delegation has worked hard for this proposal. We are all particularly grateful to Senator Jackson and Senator Bible, whose courageous leadership of the Interior Committee resulted in the unanimous action. Their dedication to the conservation of priceless American resources like Assateague is a record which will remain for the enjoyment of this and all future generations."

To Establish Federal Park At Assateague

Senator Daniel B. Brewster (D, Md.) this week announced that the Senate Interior Committee had voted unanimous approval of his bill, S. 20, for the establishment of a National Seashore Park on Assateague Island.

The Subcommittee on Recreation and Parks of the House Interior Committee has announced plans to visit Assateague and hold hearings shortly.

Senator Brewster described the approval by the full Senate Committee as the key to Senate passage. "We are now practically assured of the preservation of this beautiful shore for the public. Maryland will have the first and only National Seashore in this area and I believe that it will contribute a new dimension to the recreational life of our citizens and the economic prosperity of the Eastern Shore."

"I believe this proposal to be more significant to every Maryland and District resident who enjoys an occasional weekend or vacation than any legislation which

Ex-Emmitsburgian Receives Citation

A Dover, Del., and former resident of Emmitsburg, AFB civilian has received an annual cost reduction award from the office of the Assistant Secretary of Air Force.

Joseph M. Condon was presented the award for his suggestion and project development in Equipment Maintenance Management from Brig. Gen. John B. Wallace, 1607th Air Transport Wing commander on May 18. He is one of 50 USAF members to receive this award.

Condon, who works in the 1607th Field Maintenance Squadron Sheet Metal Shop, developed a Radome Dehydrating Oven which is expected to save the base $9,000 a year.

Condon has eight years civil service credit and nearly seven years military service. During World War II he served with the 101st Airborne Division in the European and North African campaigns.

He and his wife, the former Anna Hardman of Emmitsburg, live on Route 1. Maryland, Del.

OUR LIBRARY

New books fill the shelves of the Emmitsburg Public Library and all should take advantage of the new literature. Some of the more recent arrivals include a romantic novel of suspense by Phyllis A. Whitney. "Sea Jade" is the title, as the carriage approached Bascomb's Point, Miranda Heath's gay spirit of adventure wavered under the combined onslaught of the raging storm and the shadowy outline of the gloomy, mysterious old house ahead. She shivered as she remembered her father's dying warning that the house was one of ill-omen.

But now Miranda was alone and without resources. Wasn't it natural that she should turn to the sea captain whose romantic, adventurous past was as much a part of her heritage as the legendary ship, the Sea Jade? "The Lost Lands," by Peter Vansittart. Mr. Vansittart's latest and perhaps, finest novel. It is the story of Count Talvas, lord of a small territory on the edge of medieval France.

"Benchley Beside Himself," by Robert Benchley. Here, among others, are those penetrating scientific pieces of wisdom Polyp With a Past and Penguin Psychology, his moving tribute to A Good Old - Fashioned Christmas, that stirring commentary on an old folkway, The Church Supper, and the ineffable Treasurer's Report. And to gladden further the hearts and eyes of his admirers, the publishers have included pictures of Mr. Benchley in some of his many moods.

"The First Thunder," by Vian Smith. A novel of brotherhood and betrayal. In Dartmoor in the 1870's, a feudal system still prevailed, and workers, living in poverty and ignorance, were subject to the whims and harsh terms of the landlords and masters of the tenant farms. One day a stranger named Simon Whitburn appeared at prosperous Blagdon Court and set about trying to change conditions. Charlotte Manning, the school teaching daughter of Blagdon Court's master, shared Whitburn's dream but made the mistake of falling in love with him.

600 Attend County Picnic

The county commissioners invited 600 county employees and members of their families to a picnic Wednesday at Mt. Tabor Park in Rocky Ridge.

The seven-hour county picnic, extending from 2 to 9 p.m., combined the former summer picnics held by the Courthouse, the Winchester Hall county and private offices and the Frederick County Roads Board employees.

They total over 200 county employees and, with the members of their families and special invited guests, totaled over 600 said Commissioner Lawrence A. Dorsey, who was in charge of the picnic.

Dorsey selected Mrs. Geneva Barthel, county welfare director, and her staff of social workers, to handle registration for the picnic and to provide soft drinks and ice cream.

Food, consisting of a fried chicken and ham dinner with all the trimmings, was provided by a local church group from Rocky Ridge. The county obtained the use of the park free of charge by using a local Rocky Ridge group for the catering.

Music was provided by the Little German Band from 5 to 9 p.m. H. David Hagan provided a magic show for the children.

Register of Wills Thomas M. Eichelberger, Civil Defense director or George J. Stup, and Southey T. Nottingham, county engineer, were selected by Dorsey to provide games and entertainment for the men and boys at the picnic.

Mrs. Robin Staley of the Montevue Home and Miss Peggy Clary of the county offices, provided entertainment and games for the women and girls.

A numbered card filling game for adults was provided by Mrs. Glenna Leatherman of the Planning and Zoning Office.

Jurisdiction Waived On Youths

Frederick juvenile court jurisdiction on three Westminster boys charged with a break-in and larceny in Emmitsburg was waived this week by Chief Judge Patrick M. Schnauffer.

The three, Raymond B. Duvall, 17; Larry David Wisner, 16, and Lawrence Stephen Ott, 16, were returned to the Maryland Institute for Males at Breathedsville, where they are serving jail sentences from convictions in Carroll County.

Warrants formally charging the boys with breaking and entering and larceny are to be issued soon by the Frederick magistrate's office.

Cpl. William F. Davis, state police investigator, testified the three boys admitted, while they were being questioned in Westminster, to taking part in the robbery of Boyle's Store in Emmitsburg March 30. He said some of the items stolen, including several pieces of clothing, were recovered from the homes of the boys.

Cpl. Davis said a cash register containing $134, some clothing, and other items were taken from the store. The cash register was later recovered beside a road near Emmitsburg.

Job Corps Quitters High In Numbers

The dropout rate at the Catoctin Mountain Job Corps camp near Thurmont, the nation's first, was approximately 40 per cent for the first five months of operation.

Maxey, director of the Catoctin center said, "it's too much of a switch for them." Maxey said one of the problems with the boys is that "they have not settled down to reality. They come here with false impressions and day dreams," he commented. Of the 150 Job Corps volunteers who were enrolled when the center opened in mid-January, Maxey said, 62 have left. Of the 62 departures, 12 left for such reasons as entering the armed forces, being transferred to an urban center, returning to high school, or finding a job, he pointed out. The remaining 50 simply dropped out, homesickness being the major factor, according to Maxey. After a drastically high dropout rate in March and April, when several were dropped for poor conduct and a sizable number just decided to go home, Maxey says things have calmed down in the past six weeks and the problem is running smoothly.

never has been any dispute involving a knife, not even a serious fist fight.
