It might seem now that we are in the dead of winter, and actually folks, we are. However when you stop and look over the situation, we are just a few short weeks from the advent of Spring. Why in another six weeks some of you will be bragging that you were the first to plant your onion sets. It really is nice to sit at the window and dream of the coming spring and you have a tendency to overlook all that white stuff that is in over abundance all over the landscape. I just thought I'd give you a few sentences to read and think about and take your mind off of what everyone is talking about . . . snow.

For most of you who haven't as yet seen pictures of the new school at Thurmont, you will be given the opportunity to learn all about it Monday night when motion picture slides will be shown in the VFW. A representative of the School Board will be on hand to explain the plans and answer any questions you might have concerning the new school that in two years will be accommodating Emmitsburg students. Also on the school theme, if enough public interest is generated locally, and in Thurmont, a swimming pool might be included in the plans. There are petitions in most local stores calling for such a pool and if enough of you sign them it is highly possible that such a project might materialize.

Within a week your family newspaper, the Chronicle, will be able to reproduce pictures in abundance. The purchase of a new machine has made this service possible and if all goes well we plan to make the Chronicle one of the liveliest little papers in the State. Your cooperation is asked in making this possible. All organizations are asked to have their secretaries and/or publicity chairmen phone in or write notes of the meetings and see that the Chronicle gets them for publication. Whenever possible if an interesting picture is available of some project or individual we would like to have them for enclosure in the paper. We feel certain you will like the new set-up. Schools are especially urged to name a reporter and a photographer and see that their institution is represented in each issue. Any old photograph will do . . . no special cameras needed. Just be sure the photo is good and clear. PTA's and other groups and organizations are asked to send in material for publication. With your cooperation folks, the Chronicle should be a lot more interesting in the future.

Now that it has been removed from the scene, the story can be told. Remember that "milk" truck that jack-knifed in front of the Emmitt House during the recent snow storm? Well we learn, after all, that the truck was not hauling milk . . . just good old wine. Thousands of gallons of the stuff and nobody here knew it. The truck was guarded day and night for the three days it blocked the highway, just in case the secret got out!

Lecturer Will Talk At Mount

Rt. Rev. George D. Mulcahy, M.A., rector of Mount Saint Mary's Seminary, has announced that Rev. Francis J. Connell, C.S.S.R., S.J.D., S.T.D., Dean for Religious Communities of the Catholic University of America, Washington, D. C., will deliver a lecture, "Impressions of Vatican II," on Friday, Feb. 11 at 6:30 p.m. in Flynn Hall. Rev. Dr. Connell, a leading moral theologian, was a peritus, learned advisor, at all sessions of the Vatican Council. He served with the panel of Bishops who met the press daily and on the panel of theologians who briefed the Bishops on the implications of the proposed Council decrees. Father Connell is the author of many books and is a regular contributor for various journals and periodicals. His appearance at the Mount is part of the Faculty Lecture conducted by the Seminary, according to Monsignor Mulcahy.

Thomas M. Eichelberger announced this week that he will seek a third term as Frederick County Register of Wills. Eichelberger, a Democrat, was first elected to the position in 1958 and was re-elected four years ago. He receives a salary of $10,000 annually.

He is a son of Louis E. Eichelberger, Frederick City Treasurer, and the late Mrs. Susie Eichelberger.

He graduated from Frederick High School and attended Baltimore City Junior College and American University for courses in testamentary law, wills, and the administration of estates. He interrupted his high school education to serve in the U. S. Coast Guard in Alaska during World War II.

From 1949 to 1952 he operated his own painting and sheet metal business in Frederick, and from 1952 to 1956 he was associated with Ritchie Associates. From 1956 until his election to his present post he was manager of the American Automobile Association's Frederick office.

An active political worker, he is a former secretary of the Jeffersonian Democratic Club and former membership chairman of the Young Democrats. He helped organize and was first president of the Maryland Register of Wills Association and still serves as chairman of that group's legislative committee.

He is a member of the National Association of County Officials and the Maryland Public Finance Officers Association. He helped organize the Pop Warner midget football league in Frederick, and is a former treasurer of the Frederick American Little League. He is a member of the AMVETS, DAV, and VFW, the Carroll Manor, Independent, and Citizens fire companies, and the Evangelical Lutheran Church.

LIONS TO MEET MONDAY

The regular meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club will be held Monday evening at 6:15 o'clock in Mt. Manor Restaurant, President William H. Kelz announces.

The Marines in Viet Nam are being issued the new tropical combat boot which incorporates a spike-resistant inner sole and screened drain holes to let water out.

Town Plans More Lights For DePaul St.

Emmitsburg's Town Council met in regular session Monday night in the Town Office, Chairman of the Board J. W. Houser presiding. Commissioner Joseph Haley was absent due to representing the Town at the assault trial in Brunswick which involved the savage beating by five local youths of Police Chief W. E. Law.

Present at the meeting was a delegation of DePaul Street residents who inquired about additional streetlights on that street and also Federal Ave. Mayor Irelan informed the group that 11 additional lights are on order and will be placed into operation as soon as they arrive. Spokesman for the group was Robert Rosensteel who presented a petition signed by a number of residents of that area. Present also were E. R. Richardson, Earl Kugler and Raymond M. Baker.

A complaint was received concerning noise created by the Youth Center on DePaul Street. The Council took the matter under advisement. A package insurance deal was discussed and the insurance was let to the Richardson Insurance Agency, Emmitsburg.

Raymond M. Baker, representing the VFW, appeared before the Council and requested permission to relocate the flagpole in front of the VFW. It was pointed out that a recent installation there of a streetlight prevented the raising of the flag and made the pole useless. It will be relocated and the Town will share the expense.

School Students Challenge Adults In Promoting Benefit Bazaar

The teen-agers of St. Joseph's High School are joining together to conduct a school Bazaar on February 19, 1966, which will begin at 1 p.m. They have made plans for games, exhibits, prizes, movies and surprises. As an added attraction to families they will serve an evening meal at a very reasonable price.

The teen-agers have pledged their free time, their energy, their talents, and in many instances, their money, to make this affair a day of enjoyment and family fun for the people of Emmitsburg. A secondary consideration is to raise funds to finance extra curricular activities which will benefit the entire school and give the youngsters a wholesome outlet for their boundless energy.

If the success of this Bazaar depended entirely upon the efforts of our younger generation, the teen-agers, then success is guaranteed. However, this is not the case. Success depends upon the full participation of the grown-ups along with the teen-agers.

What will the grown-ups do? There is a wide difference of opinion among the teen-age set. Some believe that the grown-ups will read this article during a TV commercial and then forget it. Others believe that grown-ups are not interested in teen-ager stories unless it concerns drag-racing or some other form of misconduct. Some believe that grown-ups refuse to recognize teen-agers as decent, dedicated, future leaders of our "Great Society". A few believe that grown-ups are willing and anxious to join their teen-age children in this joint effort, with mutual affection and respect.

The teen-agers of St. Joseph's

High School challenge all persons over 19 years of age to put up or shut up. What will you do? Will you join our youngsters as a team on February 19 or will you make some excuse to stay away? Will you join our teen-agers in a community effort or will you stay at home and criticize?

The challenge has been made. The teen-agers will know how you meet this challenge by your presence or absence on February 19.

Carroll Frock Jr., general chairman of the affair announced this week that a valuable door prize would be awarded at the Bazaar and urged all parents to attend and volunteer their services if and when they are needed. Mr. Frock also announced the following list of committees:

Publicity, Arthur Elder; dinner, Mrs. Agnes Topper, Mrs. Mary Sherwin and Mrs. Theresa Orndorff; baked goods, Mrs. Eunice Neighbours and Mrs. Patricia Parks; home-made candies, Mrs. Mary Ellen Fink and Mrs. Louise Hobbs; handicraft table, Mrs. Aurelia Zoller; white elephant table, Mrs. Genevieve Sheehan and Mrs. Barbara Sick; delicatessen table, Mrs. Mamie Starner and Mrs. Joseph Rodgers; plant and flower table, Mrs. Lumen Norris and Mrs. Robert Marshall; parcel post packages, Mrs. Loretta Adelsberger and Junior Class; family game, William Kelz and Donald Byard; atmosphere music, "The Mardi Gras Combo"; decorations, Mrs. Mary Miller and Senior Class; hot dog and soft drink, Mrs. Barbara Frock and Mrs. Joyce Spenla; placement and planner of activities, Joseph Rodgers; movies and decorations, Senior Class; games, Charles Sheehan and Lumen Norris.

Betrothed

Lieutenant - Colonel and Mrs. Theodore Summers, U. S. Marine Corps, Alexandria, Va., and Pasadena, Calif., announce the engagement of their daughter, Rebecca Anne to Mr. Robert Bonine Beale, son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul L. Beale of Emmitsburg, Md.

Miss Summers attended El Camino College, California, where she was a member of Gamma Phi Delta. She also attended the University of Maryland and is currently teaching in Beltsville, Md.

Mr. Beale attends the University of Maryland where he is a member of Pi Tau Sigma, National Mechanical Honorary Fraternity.

A June 11 wedding is planned.

Mountaineers Play Here Friday-Saturday

Coach Jim Phelan's Mt. St. Mary's College cagers ran their win total to 14 as against five setbacks when they bowled over two out of three opponents in action during the past week.

Phelan's team faces a tough weekend on the home court when it meets Hampden-Sydney on Friday night and Loyola Saturday night. Next week the Mount closes its home season with Towson here Tuesday and Western Maryland Wednesday.

Randolph-Macon upset the Blue and White last Friday night on the former's court, 82-70.

The Mount blew a 12-point lead late in the second half to slip into third place of the northern division of the conference. The Yellow Jackets trailed 51-39 with 12:25 remaining in the game when the surge started.

Bob Sutor came back from the injured list to tally 27 points for the losers while Fred Carter rolled up 16. Veteran Irv Sontz topped the winners with 22 points.

Eight points behind Saturday night, the Mountaineers used a zone press in the second half and scored a 91-78 victory over Old Dominion in a Mason-Dixon Conference contest played at Norfolk, Va.

The Monarchs led throughout the first half with the Mount finally catching up on three straight goals by Mike Lyons after 4:40 of the second half. Jim Phelan's outfit got its first lead at 59-57 with 13:22 remaining and led the rest of the way, gradually building up a comfortable margin.

Lyons led all scorers with 25 points with Fred Carter netting 22 before fouling out with eight minutes of play remaining. Carter led the Mountaineers in rebounding with 21 and Bob Sutor snatched 16.

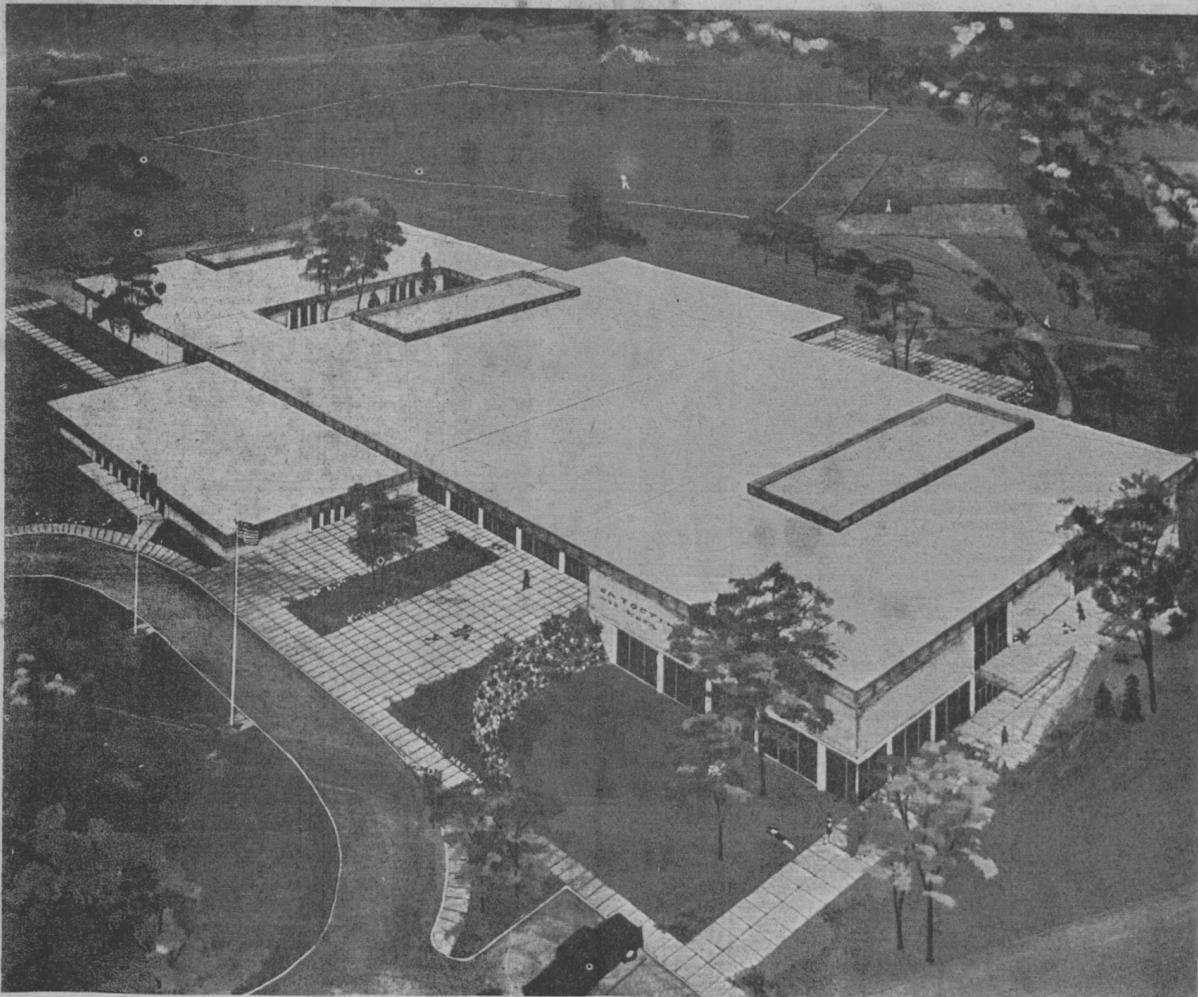

Phelan's men jumped to the 100-scoring mark Tuesday evening as they mastered Shepherd College in a wild-scoring game by a score of 100-97. The game was played on the enemy's home court in Shepherdstown, W. Va. and was a Mason-Dixon Conference affair.

The game was nip and tuck in the first half with the Mount leading 50-49 at intermission.

Early in the second half the Mount reserves built up a 72-61 lead but the Rams fought back to within 80-79. Phelan's cagers then held a five-to-seven-point margin until the last minute.

Shepherd pulled to within 95-93 and then Mike Lyons and Charley Coffman matched jump shots. With 15 seconds remaining Fred Carter converted one of two free tosses and Lyons came through with a lay-up. At the buzzer a desperation three-quarter-length floor toss was allowed for the Rams when Carter was called for goal-tending.

Lyons turned in one of his finest performances of the season with 32 points, 11 goals and 10 of 11 free tosses. Carter followed with 20 tallies.

CATOCLIN HIGH SCHOOL—This architect's drawing by Burkett, Tighman and Nelson of Silver Spring shows the new Catoclin High School at Thurmont which will have an 8,000 square foot swimming pool costing $112,000, a 1,060 chair auditorium, 41 teaching stations, a 1,000 capacity gymnasium, an auxiliary gym and cafeteria designed for 1,000 students. The 122,000 square foot building is estimated to cost $2,400,000.

Emmitsburgians will be given a preview of the new Thurmont High School when School Board President Gordon Smith reveals pictures and plans at a gathering here Monday evening at 8:15 o'clock in the VFW upstairs meeting room. The public is cordially invited and urged to attend.

The plans were viewed by the Thurmont PTA and a number of local citizens at a showing held in Thurmont Tuesday evening. Of paramount interest to local residents is the possibility of the installation of a $110,000 swimming pool in the plans and petitions are being circulated in Emmitsburg, Mrs. William Carr, PTA president, announces. The petitions will be placed in several local stores and the public is urged to sign these, it being felt that the weight of the signatures would play a major role in helping the Board of Education to make the decision to include the pool in its plans for the new school which would accommodate Emmitsburg students. It is understood the pool would be public and available during the summer months.

President Smith will show slides of the new school and will answer questions that local residents might have concerning the new building.

The school, according to the plans now released, is expected to cost in the neighborhood of $2,295,000, and will contain 41 teaching stations of various sizes. If the alternate providing for the inclusion of a 7,000 square foot swimming pool is accepted, the cost would rise to approximately $2,400,000. This estimate of cost includes all equipment for the building, except such movable items as tables, chairs and desks.

The design for the building calls for a two-story structure, with exterior masonry walls of split-rock, and windows with sliding aluminum sash. The outside doors will also be of aluminum. Trim will be of redwood panels.

The corridors inside the building will have vinyl asbestos tile floors, with masonry block walls and an acoustical tile ceiling. In the classroom section, the cafeteria and the all-purpose area the floors will also be of vinyl asbestos tile with some floors being carpeted. There will be a tile-wrapped under all of the chalkboards. Folding partitions will be provided at various points and other partitions between rooms are designed for easy removal and possible re-location. All ceilings will be of lay-in acoustical tile.

Both the administrative area and the school library will have the vinyl asbestos tile, with the administrative area being carpeted. In the library there will be glass-paneled walls and adjustable shelving, with lay-in acoustical tile ceiling.

The kitchen and dishwashing areas will have masonry block walls, with a "liquid-tile" finish, and floors and ceilings similar to other areas of the school.

The toilets will have ceramic tile floors and masonry block walls with a "liquid tile" finish.

A central heating and air conditioning system is included in the plans, and various systems of providing the energy to operate this system are being considered, among them the possibility of full electric service.

There will be grass-seeded athletic fields, with a ¼-mile track, and access will be by asphalt paved drives and concrete sidewalks. The playcourts will also be asphalt paved and the grounds will be landscaped.

The auditorium will have permanent seating for 600 with an additional 500 chairs, and will accommodate four large teaching stations. There will be choral and band rooms for the music department, ten other classrooms for academic training, science, language and business departments with a home economics division containing a stage, conference and living rooms. Two classrooms will be provided for art instruction.

The shop section of the school will include areas for instruction in (drafting, electronics, general trade skills, auto mechanics and agriculture, and there will be a gymnasium seating 1,000. The school is designed to care for an enrollment of 1,000 students, and 500 boys' and 500 girls' lockers will be provided.

The building is being designed so that the vocational areas, by virtue of the nature of their programs and the requirements for securing Federal and State funds, will be isolated from the remainder of the facilities, and the administrative, auditorium and physical education areas are oriented for proper access within the school and for ease of public access.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James Richard Saylor, Rocky Ridge, announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Dee, to Mr. Allen Ray Massie, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard A. Massie, Jefferson.
Miss Saylor is a 1964 graduate of Emmitsburg High School and is employed in the Personnel Department at Price Electric in Frederick.
Mr. Massie attended Frederick High School and is employed as a Quality Control Technician for the same company.

When Marines were embarked board naval ships in 1775 their primary role was not to function as a landing force, but to protect the officers from the crew.

Will Support Sickles For Governor

A statewide "Citizens Committee for Sickles for Governor" was formed in Baltimore this week.
According to co-chairman Blair Lee III of Montgomery County and Marshall Levin of Baltimore City, the committee was formed "because we hope Congressman Carlton Sickles will run for Governor and we want to encourage him to enter the race."

Sickles, presently Congressman-at-Large, has often been mentioned as a potential gubernatorial candidate in this September's Democratic primary. He has not announced his candidacy, but has indicated that he is considering either a race for Governor or for re-election to Congress.

"Of all the announced or potential candidates," Lee and Levin said, "Mr. Sickles possesses the best possible qualifications for the office. He has been a splendid Congressman and was, for eight years, a hard-working and respected delegate to Maryland's General Assembly."

"He is a brilliant lawyer, a respected businessman, and as an adjunct professor of law, he has a keen insight into the problems of education in our state."

"We will advocate his candidacy and we seek support from all Marylanders who want a young, vigorous and capable governor for our state. We hope this activity will convince Mr. Sickles that he should run and that he will enjoy citizen support from all over Maryland should he do so."

More State Troopers Needed

Colonel Carey Jarman, Superintendent of the Maryland State Police, announced this week that applications for the Trooper position are being accepted for the next Recruit Class to start in July, 1966.

Young men who are interested and can qualify, are urged to go to the nearest Maryland State Police Installation at once for a personal interview with a uniformed member of the department. They will then be given the necessary applications for filing.

In order to qualify, an applicant must be a citizen of the United States and a resident of the State of Maryland; between the age of 21 and 31; minimum height of 5 ft. 10 in. and an approximate minimum weight of 160 pounds; high school diploma or equivalent is required, with college credits desired. He must also be physically qualified and of excellent moral character.

Starting salary for the Trooper position is $5800.

The next written examination will be given by the Commissioner of Personnel, Saturday, April 2 in Baltimore City, Cumberland, Cambridge, and Hagerstown.

Closing date for acceptance of applications is February 17.

Social Security Data Given

Social security beneficiaries are cautioned by W. S. King, Social Security District Manager in Hagerstown, against assuming that they are automatically entitled to both hospitalization and medical benefits under the new Medicare program.

Actually all beneficiaries who are 65 or older will be eligible for the basic hospitalization benefits beginning next July without taking any action, King said. However, they will not be eligible for the supplemental medical benefits unless they make a written request.

An enrollment application card and instructions have been mailed to all social security beneficiaries. The enrollment card provides the beneficiary with a simple means of indicating whether he wants or does not want the supplemental benefits. It also permits him to indicate that he is "undecided" and will make his selection later.

Beneficiaries who are 65 before 1966 should not overlook the fact that they will have medical insurance protection when it begins only if they sign up no later than March 31, 1966.

Requests for further information or assistance in connection with the Medicare program should be addressed to the Social Security Administration, 59 North Cannon Avenue, Hagerstown.

Kennedys Ski At Charnita

Mrs. Robert F. Kennedy, wife of the junior senator from New York, and four of their children spent last Wednesday afternoon skiing at Charnita, which Mrs. Kennedy said "was wonderful" and "we'll be back."

Almost none of the 500 skiers on the slopes were aware that the Kennedys were among the sports enthusiasts. They arrived at the ski lodge shortly after lunch and were preparing to move to the slopes when one of the officials at Charnita, a personal acquaintance of Mrs. Kennedy, recognized her. He alerted Richard A. Brown, ski manager, who spoke briefly to Mrs. Kennedy, who was wearing a black parka with fur hood and collar. Brown said the entire group spent the afternoon on the professional slope.

Brown said two of the children, who ranged in age from about seven to 12, wore flowered parkas. The other two wore solid color jackets. They all brought their own equipment. Brown said they parked their automobile in the public parking lot and walked unnoticed to and from the lodge. They skied until 4:30 o'clock when the area was closed for the afternoon.

Mrs. Kennedy promised that "we will be back and we'll bring the senator. He'll like it here as much as we do."

Ten More Die On State Roads

Ten persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police.

Four of those killed were drivers and six pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in three of the deaths; speed in two; and "driver error" was present in four of the fatalities.

"Last week's toll," commented Colonel Carey Jarman, superintendent of the Maryland State Police, "was highlighted by the fact that six pedestrians were killed. Two of them were sledding accidents, one involved an adult who had been drinking and the others were youngsters playing in the roadway."

"Certainly," he continued, "with the sidewalks and roadways covered with snow, the need for extra caution by pedestrians and motorists is evident."

Long Opposes Bridge Location

Rep. Clarence D. Long (D., Md.) said this week that a recent report by a State Roads Commission consultant "is so dubious that it is signed with the names of two dead men."

"It is doubtful that the distinguished founders of this firm would have signed the report if they were alive," Rep. Long said. "They must be turning over in their graves." He pointed out that a January 17, 1966 report on location of the second Bay Bridge by Coverdale and Colpits, New York consulting firm, was not signed by the live partners listed on the company letterhead, but instead, bore the signature "Coverdale & Colpits."

William H. Coverdale died in 1949, according to the letterhead, and Walter W. Colpits died in 1951.

The consultants' report favors a parallel Bay Bridge now. Rep. Long (who wants the second span in the Baltimore area or Southern Maryland) has urged the location of the bridge be put off until a new Governor and Legislature takes office, in order to get a more objective decision.

VFW AMBULANCE

Mrs. Mae Lowe, DePaul St., was transported this week via the VFW ambulance to the Brookfield Nursing Home, Middleburg, Md., where she will reside for some time. Mrs. Mary Rosensteel, W. Main St., was transported to the Annie Warner Hospital this week in the ambulance. Drivers were Paul E. Humerick and Leo M. Boyle.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAX

The Emmitsburg Chronicle, in cooperation with the Internal Revenue Service, Baltimore District, will publish each week in this column, tax information that will enable taxpayers to become more familiar with the Federal income tax laws. Clip and save for future reference.

Questions And Answers

Q. What kind of records should I keep for my income tax return, that I might have to produce if I'm audited?

A. Keep whatever you need to substantiate the income and deductions on your return. Canceled checks, paid bills, Forms W-2 and 1099, bank books and similar records will be helpful.

Q. Why is my wife's Social Security number so important on a joint tax return? Most of the income comes from my salary.

A. According to the law, your wife should show her account number on your joint return if she had: 1) separate gross income of $600 or more, or $1200 or more if she was 65 or more before the end of the taxable year, or 2) self-employment income, or 3) separate income, such as wages, dividends, or interest, paid to her which the payer is required to report on a return or statement of information.

If the necessary account numbers are not on a return the matching can not be done, necessitating correspondence with the taxpayer. Failure to include your wife's number will delay the processing of your return and any refund due.

Q. I am retired and have no taxable income. Can I still file a joint return with my wife who is still working?

A. Yes. The fact that either the husband or the wife had no income does not prevent them from filing a joint return.

Q. I paid up the mortgage on my home early but was charged a pre-payment penalty. Is that deductible?

A. Yes it is deductible as interest if you itemize your deductions.

Q. When can I start excluding sick pay?

A. There are two rules governing when and how much sick pay may be excluded from income for federal tax purposes.

First, if the amount you receive as sick pay is more than 75 per cent of your weekly rate of pay, there is a 30 day waiting period before you are entitled to a sick-pay exclusion.

If the amount you receive is 75 per cent or less, the waiting period is 7 days unless you are hospitalized for at least one day during your absence from work. In that event, there is no waiting period. The exclusion is limited to $75.00 per week for the part of the first 30-day period in which you are entitled to the exclusion. After that, it becomes $100.00 per week.

Q. My husband and I have separated. Who is entitled to claim the children as dependents?

A. The children may be claimed as dependents by the person who provides more than half their support during the taxable year. Whether this person is you or your husband depends on the financial arrangements worked out between you.

Q. I have inherited $2,000 from my father's estate. Will I have to report this on my return?

A. No, inheritances are not taxable income.

License Applications To Be Mailed Soon

More than 1.6 million applications for 1966-67 license plates will be mailed to Maryland motorists within the next several weeks, Commissioner of Motor Vehicles John R. Jewell announced this week.

Of the total, it is anticipated that 1,350,000 applications will be sent to owners of passenger cars and motor cycles while another 275,000 will be delivered to owners of trailers and all other classes of commercial vehicles.

The DMV Commissioner also reported that from March, 1965, through December, 1965, the Department issued 1,268,199 sets of license tags to passenger car owners; 11,107 sets to owners of motorcycles; 59,847 to trailer owners and 177,707 to owners of all other classes of commercial vehicles.

In addition, 22,373 sets of dealer tags were issued to new car, used car, motorcycle and trailer dealers. However, since several hundred dealers did not apply for licenses under the state's new automobile dealer's licensing and bonding law, it is anticipated that fewer dealer tags will be issued initially in 1966-67 than were issued in 1965-66.

Under new procedures adopted by the Department of Motor Vehicles in cooperation with the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund Board, it will no longer be necessary for insured motorists to submit to the DMV the blue UCJ-1A Notice of Insurance form with their license tag application, Commissioner Jewell said.

Instead, insured motorists will be required to complete an insurance certification on the reverse side of the tag application. Applicants will be asked to furnish the name of their insurance company, the policy or binder number, the effective date of the policy and the name of the insured's agent or broker.

Uninsured motorists will be required to pay a $35 fee in addition to the regular registration fee charged for license plates. The $35 fee, half the amount charged in previous years, finances the payment of claims and other costs incurred by the Unsatisfied Claim and Judgment Fund. The Fund provides financial protection to motorists and others against damages inflicted by uninsured drivers.

Commissioner Jewell also noted that, as a result of legislation enacted by the General Assembly in 1965, motorists need not include the 22 cent postage fee when purchasing tags by mail. He expressed the hope that many motorists would take advantage of this saving and thus avoid the last minute rush for tags that usually occurs in late March.

To rid a plant of aphids, save the soapy water when you wash your stockings or undies at night. In the morning, when the water is cool, pour it over the plant and the soil.

If there's a crack in your wood on salad or chopping bowl, get the surface thoroughly clean and dry, then pour shellac into the crack. It should harden into a more or less permanent fix.

HEART RESEARCH PROLONGING 40,000 LIVES

PROGRESS IN THE FIGHT AGAINST HEART AND BLOOD VESSEL DISEASES since 1950 is reflected in this chart. Based on the latest vital statistics, about 250,000 Americans under 65 died of these diseases in the single year. Had the 1950 death rate persisted, the toll would have been about 290,000. Chart shows, by age and sex groupings, the estimated 40,000 lives saved. Since 1948, the year of the first Heart Fund Campaign, your Heart Association has been the spearheading force in the fight against the nation's Number One health enemy. You can help in this fight by giving generously to the Heart Fund.

Comment from the Capital —

WHITHER ARE WE DRIFTING?

by Vant Neff

Communism is on the move everywhere in the world and gaining power day by day. Many people discuss communism, but very few review the basic philosophy behind a form of government, so dictatorial. I'd like to do so right now.

We know from history that communism doesn't work. It's been tried over and over in the past 100 years and it's flopped every time. It's such a bad form of government, as a matter of fact, that communism has to be forced on people—they will not willingly accept the system! All communist countries have to use secret police to terrorize the population into submission and have to build walls and patrol borders to keep the people from escaping to freedom.

Communism doesn't work because its theory of government doesn't work. Communists believe in a strong central government that can dictate everything. They believe that a super-state can eliminate waste and increase prosperity. It can't. Just take a look at Russia for proof. That country's been living under communism for 48 years now. The people are still poorly clothed, poorly fed, and poorly housed—and there's waste galore because the bureaucrats that run things aren't good businessmen. So Russia has to borrow pages out of the book of free enterprise to make a go of things. With advertising, merchandising, and bonuses to workers making good production records, Russia is becoming more and more capitalistic. (Same with other red countries, for that matter.)

But there's another side to the coin. The western nations, and particularly the United States, are adopting more and more of the techniques usually associated with communism. This is because all of the free enterprise countries of the world are becoming increasingly centralized—the super-state is taking over in the west, too! Isn't it strange that as the communist countries become more capitalistic, the capitalistic countries, with the United States in the lead, become more socialistic?

The best place to find out about communist aims and policies is in the Communist Manifesto, written by Karl Marx in 1847. This action handbook is still followed to the letter by communists. Marx lists 10 specific steps which, if followed, will practically guarantee the communization of any country. The most important step of all (the building block upon which all the others rest) is a heavy and progressive income tax!

This tax allows government to re-distribute the earnings of the most productive people in the society. Today, we have a situation where it is just about as profitable for a man not to work as it is for him to go out and give an honest day's labor. And by having the money available to dole out, the government can buy the support of the people receiving handouts.

It is ridiculous that the people in this country have to pay close to $40 billion dollars a year in taxes to the federal government, without having a say as to how it is spent. Doesn't it seem that the individual states could do a better job in providing what is needed for their citizens? Why does the federal government have to be the middleman? It takes money from the people and then re-distributes it to the people—but there's overhead all along the way, and we have to pay for that!

Marx also called for the free, compulsory education of children in state-run schools.

Now I'll be the first to admit that the federal government doesn't control the subjects every schoolchild learns. But I'll also point out that the federal government is having more and more to say about what subjects are taught in school, who teaches them, and how they are taught. Government control always follows governmental money—and government money is starting to pour into local school systems. The handwriting is on the wall.

Another of the 10 steps toward communism calls for the abolition of all rights of inheritance. Increasingly heavy taxes are helping to bring this step closer and closer to reality.

The manifesto calls for a central bank, with the central government managing the currency. That has already come to pass in this country. With the gold and silver backing for our money removed, currency can be artificially regulated by the government at will—it can print whatever it wants and not worry about having the gold to back it up. Just to see how bad the whole situation really is, why not try this—check the next 100 one dollar bills you get. Note how many are Silver Certificates (they're the bills backed by hard metal). I'll bet you don't get more than 10! All the rest will be Federal Reserve Notes—bills created by the government and spent by the government.

Control over communications and transportation, another communist step, is with us in an altered form. Agencies such as the Federal Communications Commission, the Civil Aeronautics Board, and the Inter-State Commerce Commission enforce the views of the bureaucrats in power. They can, and do, grant licenses to people or businesses they favor and deny them to others.

I ran across a small item in the newspaper the other day that, at first glance, had nothing to do with this subject. It seems that forest rangers in our great western national parks are complaining about the eating habits of the animals. The bear and deer have become so used to being fed by tourists, that they've forgotten how to fend for themselves. They refuse to go out and search for food. The rangers have to feed the animals all during the long months when the parks are closed and the tourists are gone. Isn't the same thing happening to us? Aren't we becoming so used to going to the public trough for handouts that we're forgetting how to fend for ourselves? You know, Marx was no fool. He recognized that communism would have to be imposed gradually so as not to alarm the people. Isn't the yoke of slavery being quietly dropped into place around our necks as we stand around enjoying the doles being handed out by an ever-swelling welfare state?

Think back. I can remember when people would refer to it as "my government." Then it became "the government." Today, more and more, you hear "the government's people." The government, once the servant of the people, is rapidly becoming their master—and a ruthless master it will be.

Just to convince yourself how far down Marx's road of communism our own country has traveled, why not get a copy of the Manifesto and read it. Then ask yourself "Whither are we drifting?"—and think about it until you get an answer!

Ford's Quiet Man here he discusses a '66 Ford 4-Door LTD with Jean-Pierre Filipinetti at the castle which houses the famed Filipinetti collection of over 80 classic autos.

"It's incredible," said M. Filipinetti, "the Ford is quieter."

"The quiet, it's tremendous," continued M. Filipinetti, "it's incredible that you could build a car so luxurious as this at such a price." Ford's amazing quietness is the result of deep-down quality and engineering excellence.

It's Easy To Find Potential Poisons In Average Home
 Catherine De Medici hid deadly poisons behind a secret panel in her boudoir, but chances are the average American home has a larger supply of potential poisons not quite so well hidden, says the American Medical Association. Items that cause half a million accidental poisonings each year are available in every room of your house. Some potential poisons are detergents, insecticide, unlabeled or old medicines, paints, lacquers, herbicides, silver polishes and fertilizers. Broadcasting weather information at regular intervals from the Gulf of Mexico to monitoring stations ashore is a nuclear-powered NOMAD weather buoy. Operating unattended, the floating weather station transmits both general weather data and hurricane warnings. It was developed by the National Bureau of Standards for the Bureau of Naval Weapons. The needle-sharp beam of a linear accelerator is being used to destroy malignant tumors of the retina in infant eyes without damaging the lens or other structures, says the Stanford University Medical School. The tumor, called retinoblastoma, occurs almost exclusively in children younger than 10. One firm that's "frank" about its business is The Allbright-Neil Company, Chicago. It manufactures a continuous processing frankfurter machine that can produce up to 3,000 pounds of wieners an hour. U. S. air carriers flew 95 million passengers and 63 billion revenue passenger-miles in the 1965 fiscal year, reports the Federal Aviation Agency. The agency predicts that by fiscal year 1971 U. S. domestic and international scheduled airlines will carry nearly 160 million passengers and fly almost 113 billion revenue passenger-miles. Laboratory scale models of existing highway bridges are being designed by Lehigh University to react to loads in the same manner as the actual bridges. The prestressed concrete structures are being studied so that new bridge construction testing techniques can be developed. More than 900 potentially destructive earthquakes occur each year throughout the world, reports the U. S. Geological Survey.

emphasis, as they openly declare: "It's time to bridge the gap." The Devil's "Line" This glaring show of deceitfulness indicates the Communists are perfectly willing to use religion when they can to further their own purposes. Like the devil quoting scripture, the ad cites Acts 2:44-45 and compares it with Karl Marx's statement: "From each according to his ability, to each according to his need." Even the apostles of Christ were Communists, they say, which makes God pro-Communist. "Otherwise he would not have provided the apostles with the power to perform miracles while they and thousands of converts practiced Communism." Get it? What took place at Jerusalem as recorded in Acts 2 reveals a vast difference between what was practiced and Communism. Those Christians believed in God, both as to creation and the new birth. Communism's militant atheism denies God, which precludes a new birth through Christ, the Son and Savior. It teaches that Christ was a dope peddler, for it views all religion as the opiate of the masses. It denies the Biblical teaching concerning sin and thus denies any need for salvation through Christ. Private Ownership The Jerusalem church was simply a community of believers, of which each had voluntarily become a part by responding to the Gospel. Communism is a coercive political system in which a few force others to give up their possessions, according to the dictates of the State. None was required at Jerusalem to have all things in common, and in fact, private property rights were respected as one finds in Acts 5:4. The concept of private property, however, is entirely repudiated under Communism. If the Communists think that Ananias and Sapphira were liquidated in some kind of Stalinist purge because they did not want to have all things in common, they should look again at the text. God dealt directly with those two because they had lied to the Holy Spirit. Such a sin is not entirely unknown as a political technique of the Communists, and if this kind of effort is continued we expect to do our utmost to see that such deceit is unmasked. Emergency Action The story at Jerusalem was a simple one. People had come from many parts of the empire for a festival. While there they found a new faith and new fellowship, and they were in no hurry to return home. When an emergency arose, they voluntarily gave out of love to meet a need. In other churches, early Christians were taught to give as they purposed in their hearts, not grudgingly nor of necessity. This kind of Christian virtue, practiced voluntarily, is so far above the Communist catechism as to be completely irreproachable. Finally, it is clear that the church in Jerusalem did not attempt to establish an economic system. It was not a planned society over the lives of the people, but merely a plan of providing relief. In a Communist society, the planning commission determines one's ability and one's need. It is a dictatorial system that swallows up freedom and persecutes religion wherever it prevails, denies God and works for a Godless world. Religion is viewed by Communism as a superstitious hangover from an unscientific age, to be abolished by the "science" of Communism. Don't let the wolf make off with the lambs, Christian shepherds.

Wolf In Sheep's Clothing
 Recent Communist action in the U. S. has called for a "new force" to help counteract "anti-Communist hysteria" coming from various right-wing groups. And what is this new force? It is, according to an advertisement in the pro-Communist National Guardian, September 4 issue, "a Christian Communist movement" for which initial contributions were being requested. Can you possibly imagine anything more devilishly iniquitous? Moreover, that any American could be stupid enough to swallow such guile is almost beyond comprehension. This, indeed, is an effort to put the wool upon the wolf. It is by no means the first attempt of Communism to infiltrate religion, which most of the time has been undertaken through pseudo-moral appeals of socialism and its host of pretenses. For some time, however, Communist literature has revealed an endeavor to rebuild a united front that was once enjoyed with some religious people in the 1930's. This call in the National Guardian is the most blatant example of such

HISTORY OF ST. VALENTINE'S DAY

THE IDEA OF GIVING CANDY TO THE GIRLS AND CIGARS TO THE MEN TRACES BACK 2,000 YEARS.

If the ancient Roman "Feast of Lupercalia" hadn't undergone a radical change through the years, we'd now be readying a February 14th celebration that the young men of this nation might welcome.

On Lupercalia Day every unmarried woman put her name in a container and, at the height of the celebration, the young Roman men drew the girls' names. The one selected by each man became his sweetheart for the next year and gifts and tender messages were exchanged.

The messages -- our Valentine cards -- are all that's left of Lupercalia Day for the man. Valentine's Day has become a one-sided occasion with the gals cleaning up on heart-shaped boxes of candy, flowers and--more often than not--much costlier items. The men have all but been forgotten!

Today's Valentine's observation began when the Roman became Christianized. Lupercalia was "a little too wild for them", so when the two St. Valentines were martyred on February 14th, the February 15th celebration of Lupercalia was moved up a day, and has come down to us in that form.

Somewhere along the line the woman took over Valentine's Day. It would be nice to get this lovely holiday back on the track with a return gift of something masculine and fashionable like a box of cigars, a necktie or even a monogrammed shoehorn.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On: New Records In Retail Trade

BABSON PARK, Mass., Feb. 10—1965 was a year unparalleled for business and economic advances, — a year that saw new records made in the stock market, in industrial output, and in Gross National Product. There is a good deal of crowing about these gains, and not enough people realize that they would not have been possible if it had not been for the strong economic position of the consumer and for his willingness to buy.

Rising Personal Incomes
In short, we owe our current national economic strength in large measure to record personal incomes coupled with a high level of consumer confidence. Personal income will continue to lend strength to the economy this year. There may be times when it will not be gaining and may even be sliding back a bit, but the broad trend for 1966—paced by high and rising wages, mounting government payments, and larger dividend and interest payouts—will be up. The gain in personal income for the year could very well be in the neighborhood of 7%.

Total employment—already at record levels—appears also to be headed for still higher ground, reflecting the further betterment expected in business generally. As things look now, full employment conditions should persist throughout most, if not all, of 1966. And with both income and employment pointing up, the financial position of consumers will show further improvement. Purchasing power will reach new peaks and retail trade will provide another strong boost for the over-all economy.

Record Retail Dollar Volume Forecast
Despite the large increase in social security taxes this year, retail sales for 1966 as a whole should have no trouble setting a new record as far as dollar volume is concerned. An increase of 6% over 1965 would not be surprising. However, those of you who are merchants should be prepared to see about one-third of this siphoned off by price boosts.

Wholesale prices generally will seek still higher ground. In many cases—perhaps a majority—these higher costs can and will be passed along to consumers. But in quite a number of instances this will not be possible.

Competition From Within And Without
The retail dollar pie is juicier than ever and more eagerly sought after. The U. S. consumer is better heeled than ever and his economic status is improving steadily. In short, dollar volume and dollar profits of record size are in the offing; but that is no assurance they will be easy to attain as competition increases to razor sharpness.

The competitive pressures exerted by discounters are already wide-spread in the retailing community. They will continue to be a force to be reckoned with. Even so, discounters will not soon become a large numerical factor in retailing as a whole. Basically, the question is whether those retailers who are not discounters can diversify and become flexible enough to ride with the intensifying competition.

Broadening Demand Lies Ahead
As retailers benefit importantly from rising income trends, they can also look forward to a marked expansion of markets. Right now, about 4 million youngsters are reaching the age of 18 each year. This is a situation that will continue for the next few years. Right now, there are almost 7 million women in the 20-24 age group. By 1970, this will have increased to 8½ million. Even if we do have smaller families than in the 1940's and 1950's, we are still going to have a big increase in births.

To put it another way: Retailers will soon reap a new harvest of customers as family formations increase dramatically, reflecting the coming of age of the little ones who made up the baby boom of the early post-World-War-II years. Look for decidedly higher demand for furniture and house furnishings and for children's apparel and toys, beginning within the next few years.

trying to stick them through one of the car windows, wrap two rags around the poles. Put ends of the rag through the top of the window, then roll window up tight to hold ends securely. Position rags at the front and rear windows to get the longest purchase. If ends of poles stick out past the car, wrap with red flag.

Outdoor Bath Tub
Take along a rubber sheet, piece of plastic or regular tarpaulin. Make a camp bathtub. Just dig a hole to fit your (err . . .), to fit yourself and fill with warm water. Bail out with a bucket.

Loop Release
You will be able to remove the rubber band from your reel spool much easier if you remember to tie a loop on the band before you put it on.

Laced Up
A set of extra leather laces for your boots has many uses besides holding boots on. Can tie game up, make a fish stringer, tourniquet, hat band. Camera strap. How many can you think of?

Sticky Caller
If your caller starts sticking chances are the reed has gotten sticky. Take out, clean off and paint with clear nail polish. Won't stick any more.
No Rust
Cut cork strips to fit the compartments in your tackle box. Saturate with oil. Now when you put plugs, spoons away the oil will keep rust away.

CREATIVE CAREERS

by Ruth Wade Ray
Ruth Wade Ray, Director of Ray-Vogue Schools, the oldest professional arts school in the U. S., now beginning its 50th year, answers high school seniors' questions about continuing their education in the creative arts.
Q. How can I tell whether I have creative talent?
A. You can test yourself or ask your high school counselor to give you a creativity test. Ask yourself: "Do I like to do things in an unusual way, bringing my own personality to bear on the project at hand? And: "Do I like to think up new ideas?" If the answer to both is "yes," you will probably do well in this field. In other words, if you feel creative you probably are creative.
Q. Where can a creative person make the most of his talents?
A. After a careful study of career opportunities for the creative person, our school concentrated on six areas that offer the best opportunities for immediate and long range financial rewards for graduates. They are shown on the chart below.

Q. If I decide on a creative career, how much schooling will I need after high school?
A. For most careers, two years of full time study. This is true in the fields of Interior Design, Dress Design, Commercial Art, or Fashion Illustration. Photography and Fashion Merchandising require only one year of full time schooling.
Q. If I want more information on a professional arts career, where is the best place to find it?
A. Your high school counselor will be able to help you. And, you can get help by writing to Student Counselor, Ray-Vogue Schools, 750 North Michigan Avenue, Chicago, Illinois 60611. Specify which area interests you—otherwise you'll receive general information.

County Delegation Introduces Beer License Bill

The Frederick County Delegation this week introduced a bill placing added restrictions on the number of alcoholic beverage licenses to be issued in Frederick County. This bill changes the population ratio per license from 500 to 1,000 and would limit substantially the number of Class B On Sale Beer Licenses and Class B On Sale Beer and Light Wine Licenses. However, this legislation would not affect existing license arrangements. The Senator and the Delegation indicated this is a step in the right direction to reverse the current trend which is prevalent in the State of Maryland.

Charter Amendment No. 11, concerning the annexation of St. Joseph's Provincial House, was discussed and approved officially. Mayor Irelan was instructed to make arrangements for the purchase of a plot of ground from Merle F. Keilholtz to house a pumping installation near Hartman's Bridge on Frailey Road. The site is where the Town is now pumping water from Tom's Creek to the reservoirs.

Letters were received and read from the following: State Board of Health, seeking engineers' plans for the installation of the new pipeline by-pass currently being installed; the Maryland Game and Fish Commission, informing the Town that it was cancelling its agreement concerning public use of the hunting and fishing on the Emmitsburg watershed; County Forestry Board, offering assistance in cleaning up the town watershed and the Maryland Senate informing the Town of a recent law empowering the County Commissioners to purchase ground for sanitary land-fills.

Police Chief W. E. Law's monthly report showed: Motor vehicle arrests, 5; warnings, 9; accidents investigated, 4; night calls, 1; complaints, 3 and fires, 1.

Skiers Patronize Local Businesses

Some of the motel accommodations in the Emmitsburg area report increased winter activity as the result of the ski resort at Charnita.

Emmitsburg establishments report "capacity" weekends and many say they are enjoying "a substantial midweek business." Many rooming houses and tourist homes in the area are filled with winter guests for the first time in their existence.

Nearly 3,500 skiers set a new two-day record this past weekend at Charnita without a single major injury, according to Charles G. Rist, owner. He reported that minor injuries were treated at the ski area first-aid station by qualified members of the ski patrol. The local ambulance unit reported no calls during the weekend from the resort.

Rist said that 1,300 skiers used the slopes most of the day Saturday. A total of 1,600 enthusiasts skied from 10 o'clock Sunday morning until late afternoon. Rist said their were approximately 3,300 spectators Sunday.

County Pupil Cost One Of Highest

The per capita pupil unit expenditure in Frederick County next year based on the pending school budget figures out at $418 per pupil compared to a national average of $395 per pupil.

Jack Tritt, school purchasing supervisor, revealed these figures this week. He said that they mean that the Frederick County's cost per pupil is equal to the pupil unit expenditure of 55 to 60 per cent of the nation's school systems.

Forty per cent of the nation's school systems will pay more per pupil for their school systems next year and 45 per cent will pay less, according to the average costs obtained from country-wide compiled in a recent survey.

He explained that the "pupil unit expenditures" used in the national averages do not include cost of school bus transportation, capital outlay or debt service.

Therefore the $566,493 item for pupil transportation and $153,351 in capital outlays were deducted from the $9,911,153 school budget for fiscal year 1967 presented to the school board for purposes of comparison before the local figure of $418 per pupil for pupil unit expenditures here was arrived at. This pupil unit cost is based on the total estimated registration in Frederick County schools next year.
