Halloween was observed here so quietly that one hardly knew there was anything much going on. Acts of vandalism were few and far between. A little trick or treating was done but was no botheration to anyone to my knowledge. The parade seemed to suffice for the occasion. I personally thought it (the parade) was a wonderful little affair and showed the ingenuity and inventiveness of many local citizens and kiddies. It really was a pleasure to watch it. Residents say it was the quietest Halloween they can ever remember.

It is sort of ironic that on almost the very eve of the gubernatorial election that bids for the construction of the new public school in Thurmont should be advertised. Some of the very gentlemen that stabbed Emmitsburg in the back are now seeking Emmitsburg votes to put them back into office. The stab came when the County Commissioners voted money and okayed the sight. Two of the three Commissioners are now seeking to return to the same office. They are Lawrence Dorsey and Russell Hornam. We advise you to check your ballot thoroughly before going to the polls Tuesday. We were not opposed to a consolidated school because we knew both towns badly needed new schools. What we did oppose was the site. Now that it is where it is it is most undoubtedly a financial burden on the town of Thurmont. Water and sewerage, costing many thousands of dollars, a new electric 12,000-volt line must be erected to heat the school and some sort of safe cross-over Rt. 15 coming out of Thurmont to the new school must be provided for the students who live in town. The site definitely will be ill-chosen and more than likely will result in Thurmont getting a higher tax rate to pay for these facilities.

Local citizens and property-owners would do well to study the latest denial by the County Commissioners of a fire call phone line from Frederick to Emmitsburg. As the situation stacks up, Emmitsburg citizens will be the only ones in the County that may have to pay 30c to call Frederick before a fire alarm can be sounded. Why this discrimination by our Commissioners is hard to understand. When a central fire alarm system was first talked over it was thought that it would be most beneficial to all, however the way it is materializing it could perhaps be detrimental to our community. If the local Fire Company doesn't pay the $90 per month phone line rental then the citizens must pay individually as the County Commissioners have declined to assist this end of the County, I have been told. Think well folks, before you go to the polls Tuesday.

Local Band To Reorganize; Seeks Musicians

One outstanding evidence of a healthy community is an active band and the support of the community it represents. Emmitsburg has been fortunate in past years to have had the enthusiastic leadership of Mr. Walter Simpson. But since his death in 1965, the Town Band's future has been uncertain.

However, there now exists the expressed interest by certain persons and groups in the community, to again place an active band at the disposal of the Town's activities. Therefore, an open invitation is now being given to those who play band instruments to meet in the Parish House of Elias Lutheran Church, Tuesday evening, Nov. 15, at 7 p.m. If you would like to play with the Band, come and bring your instrument that evening for an hour or two. The next major event for which our community should have music is the Christmas Season. Rehearsals for this must begin immediately. The most convenient rehearsal times will be selected by the group present on November 15. The music to be played will not be difficult, but rather, geared to the capability of the group.

Receives Award

The Atomic Energy Commission's space nuclear systems division recently recognized one of its most valuable assets — good secretaries.

Miss Patricia Lingg, Emmitsburg, recently received a sustained superior performance award, along with a cash award for her contribution to the Commission.

Miss Lingg has been with the AEC for six years and is secretary to the assistant director for space electric power.

Miss Lingg is the daughter of Edward G. Lingg and the late Mrs. Lingg, Emmitsburg.

Central Fire System Will Not Benefit Emmitsburg

Emmitsburg citizens may possibly have to pay 30c to report a local fire in the near future when the new Central Alarm System is inaugurated in Frederick County. This unpleasant bit of business is the direct result of our three County Commissioners refusing to pay the monthly cost of a direct line to Frederick over which all fires must be reported come December 1.

Under the setup of the new system, a full-time employee would stand by in Frederick prepared to handle any fire in the County. All other towns would have free calling service to Frederick — except Emmitsburg. The cost to the County would be about $90 per month for a direct line from Emmitsburg to Frederick. This the County Commissioners have refused to do. Such an expense to the local Fire Company would be prohibitive, running over $1,000 a year.

Mrs. Gregg Hosts Homemakers

The Emmitsburg Homemakers met at the home of Mrs. Stanley Gregg on Oct. 20. Sixteen members and five guests, Mrs. James Davenport, Mrs. Vernon Hines, Mrs. Lester Nester, Mrs. Earl Plummer and Mrs. Francis Sanders, were present to hear Mrs. John Chatlos, Food and Nutrition Leader, speak about "Maryland's Bounty" and see her demonstrate the preparation of baked stuffed fish and salmon tarts. Members and guests then enjoyed a delicious luncheon served by Mrs. Chatlos and Mrs. Gregg, consisting of these two main dishes. Following the luncheon, Mrs. William Slemmer, Jr., president, presided at the business session. She opened the meeting with the reading, "A Cake for Daily Living." Mrs. O. H. Stinson and Mrs. Jacob Baker were appointed as a committee to send flowers or fruit to a sick club member and also club members in the event of death in the family.

The following slate of officers was approved and elected for 1967: President, Mrs. William Slemmer, Jr.; vice president, Mrs. Luther Cregger; secretary, Mrs. Kenneth Glass; treasurer, Mrs. E. L. Higbee; director, Mrs. Charles F. Stouter.

Mrs. Luther Cregger was appointed chairman of the annual Christmas Party to be held this year at the Green Parrot Tea Shop.

Christmas Open House will be held Nov. 29 and 30 at the Steiner House in Frederick, from 2-4 and 7-9 each day. An afternoon of games will be held Nov. 10 at the home of Mrs. Benjamin Ogle. The next club meeting will be held Nov. 17 at the home of Mrs. Charles Fuss.

The PTA hopes everyone will come and meet their neighbors at the Emmitsburg "Village Fair" for a day of fun and frolic.

Girl Scouts Observe Anniversary

The members of Girl Scout Troop 405 observed the 106th birthday of the Founder of Girl Scouts of America, Mrs. Juliette Gordon Low, on Monday, October 31 with a birthday party. The program, decorations, and refreshments were in charge of the girls. A cake decorating contest in which cans or boxes were decorated by the individual girls to represent birthday cakes was won by Janet Frook. Second place was given to Kate Marshall, third place to Martha Slemmer, and Cindy Newcomer received honorable mention. The Rev. Ronald Pearer, Mrs. Foster and son, Daniel, were the judges. The winning cake was then used to receive the monetary gifts which the girls presented in memory of Mrs. Low. This money will be presented in March for the Juliette Low World Friendship Fund. Debra Goulden and Bonita Rogers won small prizes by guessing the nearest to a chosen number.

On Saturday, October 20, fourteen girls and two leaders from Troops 405 and 1316, joined over 600 other Scouts in a "Birthday Fest" at the new campsite near Walkersville. The girls were assigned to various areas of the site to clean it up, cut underbrush, pick up litter, clean out the small creek that flows through the area and in other ways prepare it for use. The girls came from all over central Maryland, by car and bus. The event was sponsored by the Girl Scout Council of Central Maryland. Those who attended from Troop 1316 were Cheryl Topper, Sheila Chatlos, Kathy Stoner, Claudia Rosensteel, Dorothy Marshall and their leader, Mrs. Robert Myers. The girls from Troop 405 were Katherine Marshall, Susan Morningstar, Vida Antolin, Anna Antolin, Angela Jackson, Connie Wivell, Cathy Wivell, Wanda Warren, Cindy Newcomer and their leader, Mrs. John Chatlos.

Landowner Will Oppose Thurmont Recreation Spot

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

William M. Houck, a member of the House of Delegates, has been the prime promoter of the Cunningham Falls State Park Dam, which project will destroy about 100 acres of beautiful timber land to provide for a 43 acre boating and swimming lake, picnic and camp facilities, a 600 seat amphitheatre, and a ski lodge, ski runs, stables for riding horses, necessary corral space, bridal paths, etc.

The people owning land in the area most affected were not consulted, even though it meant the Park Dept. would take their land and, in some cases, force others from their homes.

Very little has been publicized about the ski runs and the riding stables, although some taxpayers object to using tax money to enable the State to compete with a tax paying private enterprise. Locally, there is Charnita and Kenton Holsinger's Riding Stable. Tough competition ahead!

The entire promotion smacks of suspicion. The people most affected were not consulted, the County Commissioners agreed to abandon a road (which was absolutely necessary for the project) on May 24th, before they held the hearing required by law. On July 6, the Dept. of Parks sent letters of intent that certain land "must be acquired", and the contract for the relocation of the road (without any advertising in County papers) was let by the State. Then on August 9th the Commissioners held a hearing and voted on August 15th adopted the required formal resolution. Before the project could begin a permit was required from the Water Resources Board, after a hearing with a published notice for two successive weeks in a Daily newspaper in the county, but the notice was published in a weekly newspaper and not even in the one closest to the project. The office of the Attorney General ruled that this action required re-advertising and a new hearing. Was this just a mistake? Mr. Houck called it a "goof", which is an explanation often used when something goes wrong.

Mr. Spencer B. Ellis, at the hearing at Annapolis, Md., on October 25th, stated that the Dept. already owned all the land it needed for the road re-location, except one piece on which agreement had been reached. Last week the timber cutting started, but after two days it suddenly stopped. The road contractor for the State was cutting timber on land the State did not own. In fact the owners had not even been consulted, orally or in writing, about the Parks Dept. securing their land. They hired a lawyer, and the invasion stopped. Their land was not for sale and never had been. In fact, about a year ago when Delegate Houck inquired about buying some land "for a cabin site" they told him it was not for sale. And since Mr. Houck worked so closely with the Dept. on the project, it is difficult to understand this "goof". Fortunately the owners are nice, mild tempered farmers or someone might face possible prosecution or law suits.

The seventy (70) foot high earthen dam—approximately 700 feet long across the top is really a tremendous structure. It is twice as high as the Thurmont bank and several blocks long. Obviously the Engineers will assure all it will hold—but those below might offer a little prayer now and then.

The $750,000 dam is enough to build almost a thousand small dams from the Pennsylvania line to the Potomac River. After the drought of last summer, it seems that this money could be spent to a better purpose, as part of a broad water conservation program for people living in the area. And, there are many ways the balance of estimated three and a half million dollar figure could be spent, and spent to better advantage.

I think that Delegate Houck has had the job so long he has gotten out of touch with the people. Yes,—too long.

Former Resident Seeks Information; Wants Letters

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

It's a small world, W. R. Martin, 521 S. Forest, Douglass, Kansas, tells in his letter dated Oct. 23. He said his father was born near Emmitsburg, Maryland in 1841, where he was to learn the blacksmith trade as an apprentice getting $30.00 per month with room and board, with ten days off to earn a $1 per day swinging a cradle. He left Emmitsburg and went west to escape the hard work in the blacksmith shop. He staked a claim in what is now the city limits of Douglass, Kansas in 1869. The "Vigilantes" found out about him being a blacksmith, built him a shop and forced him to ply his trade, until they could find another blacksmith which was not until 1873. His father was the only smith along the old Texas trail going through Douglass. You had to lift oxen like a car in a garage nowadays to shoe them, with two shoes on each hoof, which were split. Cowboys used to kill a calf to get rawhide to bind around wagon wheels to hold the tire in place until a blacksmith could re-set the tire.

He often heard his father tell of Maryland towns such as Frederick, Hagerstown, Union Bridge, Westminster, Sharpsburg, Middletown and Funkstown. He walked 12 miles to the town of Gettysburg to hear Lincoln give his historic address. His father married a Henrietta Stephenson in 1839. Mr. Martin is lonely and loves letters, as he is now 81 years old. Does anyone care to write him about his father's birthplace, Emmitsburg?

Local Committee Endorses Mahoney

Emmitsburgians will go to the polls Tuesday, Nov. 8 to elect a new Governor and numerous other candidates throughout the state. Polls will be open from 7 a.m. to 7 p.m., affording all an opportunity to participate in the election.

George P. Mahoney, Democratic gubernatorial candidate, has received strong support throughout the County and is not expected to have any difficulty locally.

The Emmitsburg Democratic Central Committee held a special meeting Tuesday night and as the result, Mahoney and the top of the Democratic ticket were unanimously endorsed. This includes Francis Burch for Attorney-General and Louis L. Goldstein for State Comptroller. Chairman Clarence E. Hahn, presided over the meeting and the group discussed the support it would accord the ticket.

Two amendments to the by-laws of the group were proposed, discussed and will be voted on at a future meetings. The local group's unanimous endorsement of the Mahoney ticket follows action by the County Committee. Chairman Hahn said he expected a good turn-out for Mahoney on Tuesday, election day.

Sample ballot specimens have flooded the County and the official facimile ballot has been published in most county newspapers. Precincts 1, 2 and 2A will vote at the Fire Hall and Precinct 3, at St. Anthony's.

The Democrats will sponsor a family picnic at the Frederick Fairgrounds Saturday afternoon and an invitation has been extended to all interested persons.

Another Wreck At Dangerous Intersection Sunday

A two-car accident at 3:26 p.m. Sunday at the intersection of Rts. 15 and 97 in Emmitsburg, sent four persons, including three boys who were in camp with Boy Scouts in Gettysburg over the weekend, to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, for treatment.

According to Maryland State Police, a car driven by Allen Butler Little, Orrtanna, was traveling west in Route 97. Little slowed down for the flashing red lights at the intersection then drove out onto Route 15, striking a car traveling south which was driven by Sidney Mittelman, Bethesda, Md.

Damages to the Mittelman car were estimated at $600 and to the Little vehicle at $300.

Mittelman was treated for abrasions and contusions of his left knee and a slight sprain of the neck. His son, Mike, 11, was treated for contusions of the back. Curt Simmons, 12, received treatment for multiple lacerations of the forehead and nose, laceration of the left wrist, and abrasions of the left forearm, and Andrew Stone, 11, was treated for a minor laceration of the forehead.

Teenagers Honored

The Westfield, N. J. Town Council recently paid public tribute to three teenagers of the community who discovered and extinguished a fire while the family was absent. One of the boys so honored, was Eugene McKeon, 15, son of Mr. and Mrs. James McKeon, formerly of Emmitsburg.

The youths were passing by a house early in the evening of Oct. 7 when they spotted flames in the front window. They entered through the unlocked front door, put out the fire and called the Fire Co. Their prompt action averted possible extensive damage. The mayor of the town said "these three teenagers acted in a way that reflected credit upon themselves and for the benefit of the town and the family involved." McKeon's father is an alumnus of Mt. St. Mary's College.

HEED THESE HOME SAFETY TIPS

To prevent accidents in the kitchen, always use a sturdy step-stool or ladder if you climb to reach high shelves and cupboards. Faucets and water make a good ground for electricity, so keep electric appliances away from the sink. To protect yourself and small children when cooking, make sure pots are always turned with handles away from the front or sides of the stove.

The National Safety Council estimates that 80,000 to 100,000 people incur injuries each year from bathroom accidents. Suction-type bath mats or non-slip adhesive strips in tubs and shower stalls, wall-mounted grab bars or hand rails help prevent falls. Avoid using accident-dealing scatter rugs. Instead, use skidproof mats on the bathroom floor.

You can make the glass in your home visible and also decorative by marking it with attractive decals. Aluminum patio doors should also contain safety glass; if broken under heavy impact, safety glass crumbles into granular fragments instead of large, jagged pieces, reducing danger of serious injury, while preserving all of the fuel-saving and appearance advantages of aluminum sliding doors.

To increase your home's protection against fire, make periodic fire inspections of your entire house. Get the family together for a fire drill and make certain everyone knows alternate escape routes in case of fire. A wise investment is a small, inexpensive fire extinguisher for each danger spot in your home.

Central Library System Operates

The Board of Education of Frederick County, after a two year study of the procedures involved, and of systems successfully operated elsewhere, has established a central processing system for library materials.

The purpose of central processing is to relieve the school librarian of the administrative details involved in ordering, processing, and cataloging books. Without such a system the school librarian spends an excessive amount of time in these routine, repetitive, but necessary tasks and is unable to work with teachers and pupils to the extent which is desirable. In addition, the centralization of the financial details greatly simplifies the clerical tasks involved.

Under the new system, books and materials will be ordered through the processing center, where all financial details and records will be handled. Lists developed by the librarians themselves will govern the selection of books to be ordered. This will greatly expedite the purchasing process and allow the best possible choices to be made in purchasing, whether from a jobber or direct from the publisher. The return of the completed invoices for payment and all other aspects of the financial process will be better accomplished in this manner.

Upon their arrival the books will be completely processed before delivery to the schools. All the school librarian will be required to do is shelve the book and file the card in the catalog. Other details, such as arranging for rebinding in heavier materials, affixing the Dewey decimal classification number, and inserting the sign out card and envelope, will be done at the processing center.

A great saving in time and money will be effected in the area of catalog card preparation. Rather than locally prepare each card, sets of original cards will be photographed utilizing a photoelectric process which results in a master unit suitable for multilith reproduction. From this master any number of copies desired can be produced.

Presently the central processing system involves only books. It is planned, however, that gradually audio-visual materials will be handled in this way. Systems are under consideration for the processing of these materials and it is hoped that by September, 1967, some entry will be made in this area.

The processing center is located temporarily in the Board of Education office building at 115 East Church Street. Ultimately the facility will be quartered in the warehouse now under construction on Hayward Road, near Harmony Grove School.

Mr. Darl W. Hinkle has been named head of the processing center. A native of West Virginia, Mr. Hinkle is a graduate of Bridgewater College and has attended American University and Teachers' College of Columbia University. He is now a candidate for the Master's degree in Library Science at Catholic University. Mr. Hinkle has taught Core and English at West Frederick Junior High School and Frederick High School and served as librarian at Walkersville High School during the school year 1965-1966.

Qualified general contractors may obtain the loan of three sets of drawings and specifications upon depositing eighty dollars ($80.00) per set. All drawings, specifications and addenda must be returned to the Architect's office within ten (10) days of receipt of bids. To general contractors submitting bonafide bids, a full refund will be made on the three sets provided they are returned complete as issued, clean, and, in the opinion of the Architect, acceptable for reissuance to the successful bidder for construction purposes. Those sets which have sheets of drawings and/or specifications which are marked with crayon or are otherwise not acceptable shall be back-charged against the deposit at one dollar ($1.00) per sheet of drawing and/or section of specifications.

Additional sets, if available, may be obtained from the Architect upon the above deposit and conditions of return, except that only one half (½) of the deposit will be refunded.

The Board of Education reserves the right to waive any informalities in or reject any or all bids.

Each bidder shall deposit, with his bid, security in an amount of not less than five per cent (5%) of his bid, in the form required by the specifications.

No bidder may withdraw his bid within forty-five (45) days after date of opening bids.

All general and sub-contractors must be licensed by the State of Maryland.

I have served Frederick County as Sheriff for the past 21 years, during which time I have learned to cope with the various problems of the Sheriff's Office and the Frederick County Jail that arise with changing times. I feel that my education, training, and experience qualifies me to meet the challenge of a growing metropolitan area.

In recent months my greatest problem, the jail, has received a great deal of attention. The jail is not adequate for present or future requirements. The State Jail Inspector and past Grand Juries have made various recommendations from time to time as to the needs of this jail. I have budgeted to comply to these recommendations. However, I can only submit requisitions subject to approval by the Board of County Commissioners.

Delegate Charles E. COLLINS

I am a candidate for election to the office of County Commissioner for Frederick County and I earnestly solicit your help and support.

During my eight years of service in the Maryland Legislature, I have committed myself to serving the best interests of the people of Frederick County and the State of Maryland. My devotion to duty and principle has always been uppermost in all my endeavors and a look at my record will prove that I have served the people well in the past. Frederick County and Maryland are moving forward and I am proud to have been part of that progress.

I pledge that if I am elected, I will continue to serve the public interest and uphold the principles of integrity and good government. One of my foremost policies shall be to keep the people well informed as to how much money is being collected and how it is being spent.

There is no substitute for experience and knowledge and I feel that my record warrants your support. My record is, has been, and will continue to be, an open book and is tangible proof of my ability and dedication to the people who elected me.

I will appreciate your help, your support and your vote of confidence.

Senatorial Candidate Discusses Taxes

Mary B. Bryson, candidate for State Senator from the Frederick-Carroll District, discussed her views on tax reform in a radio broadcast from Frederick this week.

Mrs. Bryson said that the defeat of the Cooper-Hughes bill and the authorization of temporary earnings taxes did not meet the need for a better taxing system. She stated that a fiscally sound tax structure is of "greatest importance to the counties, as well as the State and the City of Baltimore".

Deploring the confusion and emotionalism surrounding the tax issue, she said that one purpose of the tax reform movement has been to find more revenues for the counties, not to take funds away from them; and that it was a dis-ortion to oppose tax reform on the ground that it would take funds from the counties and give them to the City of Baltimore.

She said that under the Cooper-Hughes plan, for example, every county in the State would have made a net gain in revenues. Frederick and Carroll counties would have gained substantially, she said.

Mrs. Bryson stated that the proper goal of tax reform, as she sees it, is to find a way to enable the counties, at their option and in accordance with their individual needs, to impose taxes that they can administer as a practical matter, or to share at their option in taxes that only the State can administer.

"If this goal is achieved," she added, "we should not be disturbed if Baltimore also receives additional funds, which it surely needs."

More than four million veterans who served in the armed forces since the end of the Korean Conflict are eligible for benefits under the new GI Bill, the Veterans Administration says.

Taneytown Lions Club Holds Meeting

The Taneytown Lions held its regular meeting at the Taney Inn on Oct. 25. A minutes silence was given for Lion Kenneth Gilds who recently passed away. Lion President Delmont Koons presided with Lion Merwyn Fuss giving the invocation. Group singing was led by Lion Murray Baumgardner with Lion Delmar Riffle as pianist.

Program Chairman, Lion Tommy Smith, introduced the guests and representatives from local organizations represented at this community project. Organizations represented were: Jaycettes, Firemen's Auxiliary, Kiwives, Legion, Fire Department, Kiwanis, Jaycees. Other guests were Mr. T. Miller Richardson, Chairman of the Carroll County area of the American Red Cross; and Rev. Dale Hylton representing Dr. Richard Jones, pathologist of the Carroll County General Hospital.

The speaker for the evening was Mr. George W. Zeller, Director of Field Area of the Baltimore Reg. Chapter of the American Red Cross. As a member of an organization that participates in the Blood Assurance group plan program you are automatically eligible to receive blood through the Red Cross. If 20% of the members give blood once a year, this will enable the entire membership and their families to be covered for their future blood needs.

In order to have the Red Cross Mobile Blood Bank come to Taneytown, they will need a minimum of 50 blood donors. This blood bank is open to individuals as well as clubs. If one member of your family gives one pint of blood once a year, protection will be extended to the entire family as well as the parents of your spouse. Anyone, in good health, between the age of 18 and 60 can safely give blood. We urge you to talk this over with your families and neighbors to consider this very worthwhile community project. If you have any questions about this program, please contact the above mentioned organizations or any member of the local Lions Club.

Lion Delmont Koons introduced a visitation group from the Manchester-Lineboro Lions Club and guests from Silver Run, Md. Lion Glenn Bollinger, Chairman of the Community Birthday Calendar Project, recognized Lions Glenn Reeve, Donald Lawyer, Gregg Kiser, and Rev. Welker, as top salesmen for this project and presented them with a small gift. The next meeting will be held on Nov. 8, which will be Faculty Night with Lion Merwyn Fuss as Program Chairman. On November 16, the Taneytown Lions will be guests of the Kiwanis Club at the Taney Inn.

A Board of Directors meeting was held following this regular meeting.

BABSON

Writes . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On: Peace And Prosperity

BABSON PARK, Mass., Nov. 3 — There is nothing President Johnson would rather have than an end to the Vietnam war. For a very long time, his Administration has been genuinely working toward such a happy goal. But in recent weeks the behind-the-scenes tempo of end-the-war activity has been greatly stepped up. It is reported that more concessions to the enemy have been made than at any time in the past year. So insistent has the "peace offensive" become that we feel it time to ask ourselves: "What if peace comes?"

History Never The Same
When World War II ended, analysts freely predicted that business would suffer a quick boom, to be followed by a deep, but short depression. Many are still waiting for that depression. Behind this belief in a quick postwar up - and - down move in the economy was the historical record after World War I.

But in the years since 1945 history has not repeated itself. The well-remembered pattern of 1918-1920 still stands alone in this century. The failure of the quick boom, quick bust sequence to develop after World War II has been explained by economists as the result of superior direction and handling of our financial and business machine by an enlightened government. But perhaps there are other more fundamental reasons.

Important Differences
Although those of us who remember World War I think of it as having been a titanic struggle, actually it did not compare in magnitude or length of time with the second world war. Of course we had been busy for some time furnishing our later allies with food and weapons; but we did not declare war until April 1917, and the armistice came 19 months afterward.

Another important difference was the nature of our over-all economy at that time, contrasted with its nature a quarter-century later. The U. S. was not nearly so highly industrialized. Farming was still a major activity for the nation; the emphasis was on food. Speculation in grains and farm lands was heavy. But consumer goods did not play so big a part in the lives of the people as they did in the next world war. There was neither the fabric nor the time to build what later came to be known as pent-up demands . . . consumer needs that would be satisfied when the guns fell silent.

Post Vietnam
If the Viet war should suddenly stop, the nation would be facing a set of circumstances quite different from those that obtained after World War II. Although the number of U. S. soldiers in South Vietnam is already greater than the forces sent to Korea, we have had a minimum of government interference with our economy. Only "Jawbone" tactics have been used to control prices and wages. Look around you . . . who among your neighbors (who has had the desire and the price) has been unable to get a car, refrigerator, or any other hard goods?

As a matter of fact, all-time peaks in the output of civilian goods have been reached while our military effort has been steadily rising in Southeast Asia. There has been butter plenty . . . even if some feel that not enough emphasis has been put on guns. This surely means that if peace should come tomorrow, there would be no massive pent-up demand for civilian goods (such as existed in 1945).

What To Look For
If the war in the Far East gets hotter, we still may have to ration butter to get the needed guns. But if peace should come earlier than many now expect, the changeover in our economy could be more disrupting than in 1945. Defense industries would be hard hit. Those taken off the armament payrolls would find no great surge in demand from consumer-goods industries to offer a quick job shelter.

But there would be a brighter side too. Demand for credit would slacken. The now hard-hit home-building industry would find mortgages becoming more plentiful and cheaper. Sore-pressed housewives should find food bills easing. Uncle Sam would surely rush toward tax relief . . . from present plans for upped tax burdens. And — best of all—the dirge of death in the Asian swamps would cease.

This dramatic pineapple strawberry Alaska is from Gaynor Maddox's new book, THE GOOD SENSE FAMILY COOK BOOK published by M. Evans and Company. Designed for the modern homemaker, it includes menu suggestions for well balanced, delicious meals and 300 excellent recipes which have appeared in the American Medical Association magazine, Today's Health.

Golden canned pineapple is readily available to give menus a refreshing lift the year 'round.

PINEAPPLE STRAWBERRY ALASKA

- 1 quart strawberry ice cream
- 1 (9-inch) round cake layer
- 1 (1 1/2-ounce) can pineapple tidbits
- 1 (10-ounce) package frozen strawberries
- 4 egg whites
- 1/2 cup sugar
- 2 tablespoons powdered sugar

Spread ice cream in round 8-inch cake pan with removable bottom. Freeze several hours. Place cake on foil covered board; unmold ice cream onto cake. Sprinkle with 1/2 cup drained pineapple tidbits. Return to freezer. Combine remaining pineapple with defrosted strawberries; Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Slowly beat in 1/2 cup sugar until stiff peaks form. Spread quickly over ice cream and cake in thick layer. Swirl into stiff points. Sprinkle with powdered sugar. Bake in very hot oven (450 degrees F) 3 to 4 minutes, until delicately brown. Cut into wedges and serve with pineapple strawberry sauce. Makes 8 servings.

NOTE: If desired add 1/4 cup Cointreau or Curacao to pineapple strawberry sauce.

2 1/4 MILLION 4-H'ers SCORE WITH 8 MILLION PROJECTS

MORE than 2 1/4 million 4-H boys and girls are expected to complete 8 million individual projects this year, an average of about four projects per member.

The statistics, supplied by the Cooperative Extension Service, represent a lot of ingenuity and initiative. All 4-H projects, meetings and events must be worked in among school, church, home chores and part-time jobs.

There are a possible 100 different projects or activities available to youngsters between 9 and 19 years old from coast to coast, depending on where they live, their needs, resources and interests. Most center around specific projects in foods, home improvement, safety, health, livestock, clothing, home and farm management, leadership and community service. Certain standards and goals have to be reached.

To group overall accomplishments into one recognition program, the Extension Service developed the national 4-H Achievement program. In this program, one boy and girl from each state is selected annually for having the most outstanding 4-H record.

Fifty win trips to the National 4-H Club Congress in Chicago the first week of December. Twelve will receive national $500 scholarships, and nearly 10,000 are expected to earn county achievement medals.

Sponsor of the achievement awards for the last 15 years is the Ford Motor Company Fund. During the 4-H Congress, Ford will host a luncheon and entertainment for the entire delegation of 2,300 delegates and guests.

Highlights of two 1965 winners' accomplishments are examples of what can be expected from the top 1966 records.

An 18-year-old Alabama girl excelled in more than a dozen projects including food preservation, sewing, cooking, home improvement, dairy animals, demonstrations and exhibits.

She is now a sophomore at the University of Alabama. Her future goal is a medical career.

A Colorado college student joined 4-H when he was 9. His first project was rabbits. By 1965 he had 15 steers in the feed lot, won top state honors in the field crops program and reserve champion beef showmanship award at the Intermountain Stock show.

Working with livestock influenced his desire to become a veterinarian.

Wrong Target
Inflation, which has been "heating" up steadily for more than a year, has the politico-economists in Washington "running around in all directions" for a solution. There is a great deal of talk now of an increase in taxes, but political expediency dictates that any tax boost must come after, never just before, elections. President Johnson reportedly has made up his mind to ask the new Congress for an "anti-inflation" tax hike on "profits" to become effective early in 1967.

But obviously neither the President nor any of his economic "advisors" is quite sure how a tax can be applied that will stop inflation. If it comes, a tax hike would represent just another of many schemes already tried by those politico-economists who advocate Government control of the economy. It seems evident to most people watching the soaring cost of living that one of the real causes for inflation at present time is the fact that wages have been increasing considerably faster than productivity has been increasing. This will, of course, ultimately create "cost push" inflation wherever it happens for any length of time — and it has been happening right along in 1965-1966 U. S. A.

"Guidelines" Broken
It appears that wherever politics enter into economic management (in Government) "cost push" inflation is difficult to halt. The President's so-called wage hike "guide lines" were smashed to smithereens by union labor contract settlements arranged by Administration leaders themselves — Secretary of Labor Wirtz, and in at least one settlement, by the President.

So the discussions in Washington now indicate union-propelled wage increases beyond the "guide lines" and the attendant "cost push" inflation will be ignored, and that taxation on business profits will be the target. It is the wrong target. The theory is that profits are fairly good right now and can be squeezed, and that it is "always good politics" to make profits the "whipping boy" in the eye of the public. But the public has a vital stake—their stable economic welfare and the long-range health of our free-enterprise, profit-motive business system that provides the wealth out of which all of us live.

Profit System Is Basic
The strength and future growth of our nation depends upon the good health of our business system. Americans generally now understand the fact that more than 1,000,000 young people each year join the job-seekers. This means that a million new jobs must be created each year. We know that it costs on the average $20,000 to create each new production job—in plant, tools and inventory. It costs nearly $50,000 in the oil industry, and even more in some. The $20,000 average means that $20 billion is necessary to make jobs for the new crop of workers each year.

But that's not the whole story. There are at least another million each year who are temporarily thrown out of work—by small industries going out of business and by greater mechanization throughout the whole of American industry. Another $20 billion must be invested in production, marketing and service facilities to absorb these jobless. Still another $20 billion is expended in the continuing contest by American job-makers to keep ahead of competition, with research, new machines, tools, etc., all of which helps the consuming public. That's a total of $60 billion of new money which must be invested by business and industry each year—to keep the production system healthy and the job opportunities expanding.

Progress Depends On Profits
Where does this enormous amount of investment money come from? Of course it must come from profits. In the end it can come from no other primary source. The most profitable industries are the most valuable to the nation as a whole. They have a greater financial margin with which to expand and make new jobs, to improve their research and bring out new products to make living better. A. T. & T. can announce an expansion program costing a billion dollars, which mean another 50,000 new jobs. General Motors has created hundreds of thousands of jobs—out of profits. But to do this their profit margin must be good. Companies with skimpy profits do not expand. The American public has a personal interest in keep Government, at all levels, from stifling job-making industrial expansion by overtaking profits. In our American economy profits represent the golden eggs laid by our industrial goose. It is in our self-interest not to permit business profits to become the target for Government "inflation managers" who have made a mess of managing Government finances!

A FEW WORDS OF EXPLANATION — No votes are registered until you open the curtains. You can therefore make as many changes in your ballot as you wish while the curtains are closed. There is no danger of anyone knowing how you vote, as the movement of the red handle to the left returns the voted levers to their unvoted position before the curtains begin to open. So leave voting levers down before opening curtains.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

"The catfish has crashed high society," announces Jason Lucas, Angling Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

Until recently, if you wanted to get catfish in a restaurant you'd find it only down South, in some little joint across the tracks. Now, at the swankiest places in most of the country, you'll see it listed proudly at the top of the fish part of the menu. It may be given some such flossy name as "Fancy Rocky Mountain Channel Catfish," but don't let that fool you, for it's the same kind of catfish that used to be served in Willie's Diner—but maybe not so expertly cooked. Or, nowadays, it may have been reared in a pond on some patent food that doesn't give it nearly the good flavor of a wild one you go out and catch.

Anyhow, catfish having suddenly gone silk-hat-and-white-tie, let's discuss them here. There are very many kinds of catfish, from the little madtom of two inches, sometimes used as bait, to a species in the Danube that grows to at least 13 feet and a still bigger one in the Amazon said to attack and overturn canoes to eat whoever is in them. We'll discuss the channel catfish first, since he's of most interest to most of you.

Channel catfish are natives of almost all North America east of the Rockies, but some were long ago planted in various spots in the West, so you now find them nearly everywhere in the country. The books say they're more common in the North than in the South; but the real difference is that Southerners usually prefer to fish for cats of other species. Don't ask why, for there's but one class of creatures harder to figure out than fish—that's people.

Does this fish merit his new high place on the menu? It has been written that the best-tasting fish, if not the best food of any kind, is a rather small wild trout from a cold stream—it seems that it takes bucking a cold current to give his flesh proper firmness and taste. Next you could take your choice between the walleyes and the bluegill. Put the channel cat right up with those two—and if you say he tastes better than either, you get no argument. There's no disputing the fact that he tastes better than a bass.

One reason for this is that, unlike most catfishes, he won't remain in water that's even slightly polluted or stagnant; he wants his water crystal-clear, and if there's quite a strong current in it, so much the better. A fine place to look for him (and other catfish) is at the bottom of the tailrace of a large dam. Kentucky Dam, near Paducah, is an exceptionally good spot for nice ones. But you'll find channel cats in most clear lakes and good-sized, unpolluted rivers nearly everywhere—ask around.

Many widows may be unaware of a change in the social security law and still think they have to wait until they become 62 to collect social security widow's benefits. This is the concern of W. S. King, district manager of social security in Hagerstown.

Until the change in the law, effective September 1965, the widow of a man who had worked under social security could not qualify for monthly widow's benefits until she reached 62. Now, she can elect to have her payments start as early as her 60th birthday, but in smaller installments to take account of the longer time that benefits will be paid.

Mr. King pointed out that generally women who choose to take these reduced benefits will collect about the same value in benefits over the years. He urged widows, who may have been waiting for their 62nd birthdays, to call or visit the social security office nearest their homes to find out how the age-60 benefits would work out in their particular cases.

The social security office in Hagerstown is located at 59 North Cannon Avenue. The telephone number is 731-1000, Extensior 1264.

The Wonderful World of PETS "Canine Kindergarten"

Disciplining your dog—teaching him the fundamentals of being a good dog neighbor in a world of humans—doesn't mean you have to be a martinet. As a matter of fact, the early training you give your new puppy is usually where he develops a true feeling of loyalty and devotion for you.

Learning to obey the command "sit" should be the first lesson in a dog's obedience education, according to Clarence C. Fawcett, an expert on dogs at the Purina Dog Care Center in St. Louis, Missouri.

"Command 'sit' and push him into a sitting position," Fawcett says. "Praise him, 'Good dog to sit.' If he tries to move, say 'No!' 'You sit,' and push him back into sitting position. Repeat the process until he learns the command and will sit."

Because the order to sit will prevent an overly-affectionate pet from jumping on visitors in an attempt to give them a "doggy" kiss, Fawcett recommends teaching this command first. But aside from house training lessons a pooch's education shouldn't begin too soon. Most dogs should be at least three months old before serious attempts are made to teach them tricks. Many can't learn lessons until they're near the end of their puppyhood.

Also lessons shouldn't last too long. A dog's attention span is short. Too much education at once may tire him. Several 10-15 minute sessions a day are better than one long lesson.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

Colds This is the season of the year when the American Medical Association reminds once again that you can't cure a cold.

And if anyone tries to sell you on the latest version of a so-called "cold cure" you can save your money.

Many of the classic diseases of history have succumbed in the 20th century to new medical skills and modern drugs.

As the years go by more and more is being learned about colds and their causes. A number of viruses produce the symptoms that most of us call a cold, possibly as many as a hundred.

Current research seems to indicate that colds are harder to spread than has been thought. Fresh colds appear to be more contagious than older ones.

What can you do for a cold? No specific treatment, so far available, is effective against the cold virus.

other symptoms of the cold. Penicillin does not stop the virus, but may be prescribed by your physician for secondary bacterial infections.

Cold vaccines have yet to be proved of much value. There is no evidence that any particular foods, vitamin supplements, special clothing or exposure to sunlight or fresh air have any effect on colds.

If a cold persists or seems unusually severe, see your doctor. Colds are great imitators and the early symptoms can mimic those of other more serious infections.

"Your Home is Your Castle - Protect It!"

If an open housing bill is passed, you can be fined and sent to jail if you violate the law. I am in complete and utter opposition to any law which takes away the homeowner's right to sell or rent the home in which he lives in any way he chooses... I PROMISE TO VETO ANY STATE BILL WHICH TAKES AWAY THE RIGHT OF THE HOME-OWNER TO SELL OR RENT HIS PROPERTY TO WHOMEVER HE WANTS! Your home is your castle... protect it! - George P. Mahoney

...is only PART OF THE MAHONEY STORY

Mahoney Pledges:

- ON TAXES... an end to the waste and extravagance which are making your taxes go sky-high!
- ON TRANSIT... public ownership of metropolitan area transit companies! Development of a real rapid transit system.
- ON CONFLICT OF INTEREST... no employee of the state should be allowed to profit because of that employment... and I will enforce it!
- ON HIGHWAY SAFETY... stop the wild and senseless slaughter on our highways - more traffic control and enforcement!
- ON CRIME... better street lighting, a proven deterrent to crime... more, and better equipped police... and a program to rehabilitate juvenile offenders.
- ON ROADS... stop wasting money by bad planning - we can save millions every year by using our imagination!
- ON EDUCATION... raise teacher pay; more vocational schools and junior colleges; more teacher's colleges.
- ON WATER POLLUTION... meet with scientists and industry to determine best ways to control further pollution and reduce present pollution.

...the ONLY candidate with the Experience and Know-How to administer State affairs on a BUSINESS-like basis!

A Viewpoint

By Thomas C. Callahan

The Baltimore Colts will win the western division of the National Football League!

A rather startling (or stupid) assertion, especially in the light that this writer is not a particularly militant Colt fan. It's merely a fact—they will win. You say, "How about Green Bay?" Good question. But before you tackle it, ward off the interference—a flying wedge of Packer propaganda. There is an aura around the Packers that has been generated because at times during the past ten years they were the best football team playing, and this aura has been reinforced by the press. They've been a great football team; but are considered unbeatable, are everyone's pick every year, and are the darlings of the world ("world" being defined as: the states in the United States that haven't their own team, and the locales that do have a team, but whose quality makes loyalty embarrassing).

Recently, "Sports Illustrated" fumbled the most ambitious step to-date in the Packer pushing conspiracy by positioning that Green Bay's Bart Starr is a better quarterback than John Unitas. This is matter for debate, but even only presenting one side, the article ended having proved merely that Starr and Unitas are relatively even in statistics. (With notable exceptions, such as: Unitas leads in touchdown passes 210 to 97, yardage gained by eleven thousand yards, and completed passes by six hundred). On Starr's side, he has tossed but 88 interceptions to Unitas' 149. A startling bit of evidence until one realizes that Starr leads in percentage of intercepted passes by a slim 4.3 to Johnny U's 4.5. Unwittingly, the writer even explained this slight difference when he earlier pointed out through a quote that Unitas is more of a gambler.

The showdown between the Colts and Packers will come on Saturday, the 10th of December. It will be staged in Baltimore, reason enough to tout the Colts. Moreso, I believe that the best team in the league today is the Minnesota Vikings. That may sound like garbled reasoning, but the fact is that the Colts are past them and the Packers are not. Last Sunday, Vanbrocklin's nose-men tromped a reasonably apt '49er squad, and two weeks ago beat the Colts in everything but the score, 20 to 17. Green Bay must meet the Vikes twice before Baltimore.

With the passing of Cleveland's Jimmy Brown, most deduced that Packer fullback, Jim Taylor, would finally be at the top of rushers in the N.F.L. Recent perusal of the stats places him an incredible ninth. Part of the reason might be found in actions of the big fullback the past few weeks, and specifically in his announcement that he is playing out his option with Green Bay. The beef, of course, is "not enough money", but an Associated Press writer rinsed the cause from the not-too-tactful Taylor; that is, the high bonuses doled to rookie runners Grabowski and Anderson. Lombardi (Packer coach) immediately barred the AP writer from the dressing room, an order that has since been rescinded, though not before it was apparent that Green Bay is not a team void of dissention.

So, viewing the evidence and the remainder of the schedule, Green Bay hardly deserves a "favorite" casting for the remainder of the season. They will get it, however, in small part because they have a good football team; but mostly because they have very pretty uniforms, a toothless fullback, and a bachelor halfback dubbed (by himself) "golden boy".

Medical researchers in the Veterans Administration have developed a new method of quick-freezing blood that might make it possible for a person to be his own blood donor.

County Puts Funds To Good Use

Frederick County ranks second among the 23 counties in the state in use of State aid funds for highway construction.

The county has budgeted $237,000 for use on six county roads projects—100 per cent of its 1966 allotment and part of its 1967 allotment. Over-all for the state, only 40 per cent of the available money has been used.

The state aid funds became available to the counties after an act of the 1965 legislature which switch federal funds normally allocated to the counties over to the State Roads Commission and made an equal amount of state money available to the counties.

Southey T. Nottingham, county engineer, said, "The shift from federal to state money for the counties made less work for the counties. The red tape involved in getting federal money was too expensive."

Under the present system, Nottingham said, the county only has to work with the State Roads Commission and not the Federal Bureau of Public Roads also.

Only nine counties in the state have made use of the state aid funds, using a total of $1,194,000—40 per cent of that available to the counties.

Prince Georges County was ahead of Frederick County, using $525,000 and the next closest was Montgomery County using $192,000.

Seek Hit-Run Car

Gettysburg police were called at 7 o'clock Friday night when an eastbound car struck the left doors of a car of Margaret V. Anderson, Emmitsburg, Md., which was parked on the east side of the first block of W. Middle St., causing $50 damage. The driver of the Anderson car had just gotten out of her vehicle when the accident occurred. The other car continued on without stopping. The police report showed the license number of the "hitrun" car was that of Oscar Milton Wilhide, Hagerstown. Police are continuing their investigation.

HEALTH & SAFETY

Mainly for Mothers

Illness Prevention Role of Family Doctor

Choose a family doctor before you need one, advises the Council on Family Health.

Waiting for an emergency before finding a family doctor is out of step with the advances in modern medical service. Today, a very important part of modern medicine is preventing illness. Your modern family doctor is able to do this through a never-ending study of what is new in medical service. He is also aware of the many and varied social, emotional and environmental factors that influence the health of his patient, and his patient's family.

Choosing a family doctor is such a major decision that the Council suggests consideration of some primary points:

Are you satisfied that you chose your doctor on the recommendation of sources you can trust, such as the local medical society or the local hospital?

Is he within reasonable distance of your home?

Do you feel comfortable in his presence?

Does he instill confidence in you?

There's more to the relationship between the doctor and your family than merely keeping his telephone number handy. You have to do your part to make the relationship as beneficial as possible.

Cooperate with the doctor when he is treating you or a member of your family by following his directions to the letter. Give exact dosages of medicines at the prescribed times.

Never use left-over prescriptions for another illness or another person than for whom they were prescribed without consulting your doctor.

Remember that preventive medicine includes routine check-ups, inoculations and booster shots. Don't hesitate to ask your physician about them.

A doctor considers the best interests of his patients, and seeks the best possible medical care for you and your family. On occasion, he may recommend consultation with either a specialist or a colleague, if he is not satisfied with the progress you, or a member of your family, is making.

No matter how busy your family doctor is, you should tell him as briefly as possible the symptoms, anxieties and fears you have. Even things that may seem trivial to you may help the doctor head off illness or costly emergency treatment at a later date.

The Wonderful World of PETS

The Right Dog For You

NEW YORK (CFN)—Finding the right dog for you does happen this way sometimes. One day you turn a corner and there he is in the pet shop window and you know right off he's the one.

Or you may be the more choosy type who decides what you want and looks for it at a breeder's kennel where you can learn the pups pedigree, etc. That's the best way to choose the pet that will be a distinctly individual and demanding member of your family.

But there are certain guidelines for selecting a dog you should keep in mind, say the authorities at the Purina Pet Care Center, St. Louis.

Children in your family? Select a dog that is known for being affectionate, patient, and very active. What a playmate and loving companion a dog can be for an only child, or for a household of boisterous youngsters.

Live in a midtown apartment where space is at a premium? A Great Dane may literally put on the squeeze. He needs plenty of wide open spaces for exercise, and has an appetite to match his heroic size. You'd do well to stick to one of the smaller breeds—such as Pug-Pekingese, Terriers, Dachshund, or Miniature Poodle.

Should your dog have a pedigree or will you settle for a tender little mongrel pup? Remember, a pedigree assures you of how a puppy will look when he's full grown.

Even the cuddliest mongrel pup is just a mixed-up breed. It's almost impossible to predict how he'll look as an adult, or how he'll behave. Still a mongrel pup can grow up to be just as cute, affectionate, brave, healthy and loving as a purebred dog. Remember, it's the dog, not the pedigree that counts!

Once you've made the decision, it is essential you have the animal thoroughly examined before you buy, say Purina's experts on pets. Your local veterinarian can be especially helpful.

What to look for? The veterinarian will tell you if the dog is in good condition. He'll check teeth, gums, ears and body for signs of weakness or deformity. He'll pay close attention to the dog's personality. A normal, healthy puppy is aggressively friendly, bright-eyed, alert. Beware of personality quirks that suggest the animal may be sullen, nervous or shy of people.

The examination successfully completed? Fine, now give that new little four-legged member of your family a happy welcome!

GETTING TO LOVE DELIVERY MEN

By Bob Bartos, Manager Friskies Research Kennels

If your dog takes his protective instincts out on the mailman, milkman or other service delivery people, here's an approach that should disarm him.

Have a tête-a-tête with one of your regular delivery men. You'll need his full cooperation which you'll probably get if he feels it will make the route to your home less perilous. Tell him that you'll leave your dog's dinner at a predetermined spot, each morning, such as atop Mrs. Jones' mailbox two houses down. He's to pick it up, bring it to the edge of your property and let your dog sniff it. Let the sniffing be through the fence if you have one. He should then proceed up to the porch with the food where he deposits it and stands by while Fido eats it. After a few days of this routine you can simply leave a small snack in place of the meal. Of course, you may have to change your dog's feeding schedule to fit in with the delivery man's arrival, for your pet must be hungry for this ruse to work.

If your pet now befriends the hand that fed him but still has it in for the other delivery men, you'll have to go through the same routine with each in turn.

Feeding tip: Good blood requires Vitamins A, B-6, B-12, folic acid and niacin along with iron, copper and cobalt... all of which are included in a quality prepared dog food such as Friskies.
