For a while it looked as though the Town wouldn't get its Christmas lights into display. A week ago the Firemen erected the strings of lights and the public awaited with abated breath for the dazzling display. A week passed by and no lights. Late this week it was learned that the fuses used in previous years had disappear-ed and that no replacements could be found as the equipment was too antiquated and that type of fuse was not made anymore. However, the lights popped on Wednesday night to the amazement of all and I still don't know how it was managed. However, all us fellows and gals are happy again and all is for-given. Along with the Town's lights, homes here and there are beginning to sparkle with twinkling Christmas decorations and once again we are in the swing of that good old Christmas spirit. It has been announced that once again there will be a Christmas decoration contest and the prizes will be announced shortly. It is hoped that the public will enter the contest with a competitive spirit, as in previous years.

Monday night as we observed our first taste of a wintry evening we couldn't help but wonder how the older folks were going to manage to get to the Postoffice. The streets were a sheet of ice Monday and anyone who dared risk the trip to the local Postoffice risked broken bones and possible hospitalization. This also brings to mind the attempts that were to obtain mailboxes made around the Town for the convenience of the public. Can you imagine a town of this size and in this day and age where only one mailbox is available and that is at the Postoffice? It seems ludicrous that the Postoffice Dept. can get away with a thing like this. We must ontinue our drive for mailboxes and /or carrier service. It's really going to be a problem this winter folks. Let's increase our aggressiveness and not pull our punches until we get better mail service here.

Mountaineers Open Season; Four Straight

Jim Phelan's Mountaineers got off to an auspicious start as they measured Shippensburg 97-69 last Thursday night in the curtainraiser for this year's basketball season.

In quick succession the Blue and White, within a week, polished off three additional foes to run their early season log to 4-0.

Using their height and greater experience to good advantage, the Mountaineers were in command all the way Thursday. They started with a run of eight straight points before the Red Raiders could score.

Midway in the first half the score was 31-22 and then a sixpoint spree sent Phelan's outfit on to a foolproof 50-30 lead at half

The support accorded the Senior Citizens Center at its open house Monday night was very encouraging. Almost 100 people braved the icy streets and roads to be present at the affair, of which the elderly citizens were very proud and happy. County officials who were invited did not show up but then the road conditions were very dangerous and they were hardly expected to. The Town Government was represented and many dropped in to congratulate the older folks who gleamed with pride. To those of you who haven't as yet visited the Center, or for that matter joined it, you are really missing something. There is a warm atmosphere of cordiality prevalent among the members and they will do all in their power to see that you feel at home and enjoy yourself. Therefore, if you qualify, and you can if you want to, better join the ranks today!

A forgotten hero of Thor-oughbred racing in New York is the late Harry A. Buck who, as Secretary of the United Hunts Racing Associa-tions, became a "jailbird" in the cause of the sport. Back in 1910, New York's Governor Hughes, for various reasons, not all of which were puritanical, was instrumental in passage of legislation which a passage of legislation which killed racing at the major tracks in 1911 and 1912. The United Hunts, then operating at the Belmont Terminal across Hempstead Avenue from Belmont Park, elected to continue racing, and Mr. Buck spent one long night in the county lock-up at Mineola. His only concern was that his aged mother not learn that her son was in the pokey. This test case and subsequent court ac-tion resulted in new legisla-tion and the resumption of racing.

The UHRA thus has the distinction of uninterrupted operation since it was founded in 1905. It's 62nd meeting, which will be held this week under the aegis of the New York Racing Association at Aqueduct, will be featured by the 43rd running of the Tem-ple Gwathmey Steeplechase, richest 'chase race in America. While it doesn't have a track it can call its own, the United Hunts Racing Associations is a member in good standing of Thoroughbred Racing Associations (TRA).

as talented as Lassie. The only trouble is, Pete's absolutely wrong! Extensive scientific research has proven conclusively that raw eggs are not good for dogs. The fact is, the whites of a raw egg contain an enzyme that destroys a vitamin essential to a dog's growth and to reproduction!

The largest commercial kennels in the world devoted exclusively to dog nutrition research and related matters is the Purina Dog Care Center, St. Louis, Mo. The Center's research staff, under the direction of Dr. J. E. Corbin, is carrying on continuous research to provide dogs with more nourishing and palatable rations.

The Center's research has revealed that some people seem to be trying to kill their pets with kindness by feeding too much too often, Dr. Corbin reports. This type of eating can become habitual with dogs and will cause them to eat 20% to 25% more than they need. Ultimately the dogs tend to become fat and lazy, a condition detrimental to the wellbeing of the dog.

One feeding a day is generally adequate for mature dogs, says Dr. Corbin, unless they are sick, working hard or nursing litters.

Sydney year of the National champions, it. the "tigers" topped the Mount AT Hampden Sydney; I picked up a SUN so chipperly that I read the sports even before the funnies. While whistling through four or five pages of football "gee-willik-ers" from the local writers, my eyes stopped on what appeared to be a write-up of Mount Saint Mary's basketball team. It turned out to be a hospital report. First, the news that only eight men were sound enough to practice, then Lyons, Dohler, and Sutor out with bruised heel, sprained ankle, and probable broken foot, respectively. I hopped out the window and bolted to the side of Jim Phelan pleading "say it ain't so." It ain't.

Bobby Sutor's foot is of chief concern, but feeling optimistic. The X-rays were negative and though the towering sophomore is in considerable discomfort presently, his absence certainly won't be as lengthy as a fracture would have involved.
