Following the national pattern of increased spending by governmental agencies with a public-be-damned attitude, the School Board this week tossed the highest budget on record at the taxpayers of this county. Increases in just about anything and everything were recorded to tally up to a whopping eleven million dollar spanking for the taxpayers. Last year's budget was a healthy nine million but appears anemic compared to the 1967 proposal submitted by the school superintendent. Under the proposal teachers' salaries would be upped about 17%. On the average over-all increases will average almost 19%. After the school hassle I'd like to see the County Commissioners' faces now.

The nation is mourning the loss of three of its top-notch astronauts and it is indeed a sad thing. Most of us sort of figured that something catastrophic would happen during blast-off or while in the space flight but we never even gave any thought to any ground danger. The life of an astronaut is a colorful one when things proceed according to Hoyle but when disaster strikes we feel the loss of such valuable men and our sympathies go out to their bereaved families. On the other hand, hundreds of our men are dying in the rat tunnels of Vietnam daily but we read of them just as statistics. No state funerals for these boys. Some are buried there and some are returned to their home towns with little if any fanfare. Life indeed, does present some oddities, even when it comes to death. We are sorry for them all but this should not deter us in winning the war or dropping out of space experimentation. The world must and will progress and some are willed glorious tasks to do while others are willed unglorious ones.

At least six more weeks of winter weather ahead of us folks. That little varmint, Mr. Groundhog, woke up yesterday, saw his shadow, and ducked back into his adobe for at least six more weeks. Don't let this unseasonal weather catch you napping. Plenty can happen, and probably will, the next six to eight weeks.

I am real anxious to hear the slogan selected to best describe Emmitsburg. The slogan contest, sponsored by the Chamber of Commerce has closed and the entries will be judged next Tuesday and we'll have the answer in next Friday's edition. Quite an influx of entry forms have been received, I am told, and it won't be long now until we have the answer.

Charnita Offers Student Rates

All children from the Emmitsburg schools are welcomed to ski at Charnita under a special plan, it was announced this week by Edward Grout, public relations director. A nominal fee of $1 per student is asked to help defray some of the expense involved. Students will be permitted to use the ski lift also. The offer is good for Monday nights through the balance of the skiing season. Students must have signed authorization from their school teacher.

Educational Loans Granted Colleges

Federal funds for national defense student loans in this area have been allocated as follows: Hood College, Frederick, $1,916; Mt. St. Mary's College, $2,970, and St. Joseph College, $1,711.

To Bless Throats

Friday, February 3 is the Feast of St. Blaise. Rev. Louis B. Storms, pastor of St. Joseph's Church announces the customary blessing of throats following the 6:30 Mass in the morning and the 7:30 evening Mass. Blessing of throats for the children will be at 3:00 p. m.

Wear rubber gloves when cutting onions so you don't get the strong smell on your hands.

Mount To Host Old Dominion Saturday Night

Fred Carter, sidelined for over a month with a fractured knee, returned to action in his home town and scored eight points in the last six minutes, the key basket with 58 seconds left, to give Mount St. Mary's College a 74-72 victory over Philadelphia Textile last Friday night in the first game of a doubleheader at the Philadelphia Palestra.

Carter, who finished with 12 points, started his final string of four baskets when the Mounties were down 64-61. He connected with three fast ones in less than a minute to give Mount St. Mary's a lead it never lost.

Textile had three chances to tie it up in the final 30 seconds, but all three shots rolled around the rim, then out. The last shot by Tom Daley bounced off the backboard as the buzzer sounded. John Novey was high for the Mounties, now 8-5 for the season, with 17 points.

The Mountaineers return to the local hardwoods this weekend as they host Old Dominion, the Mason-Dixon Southern Division leader, Saturday night in Memorial Gym. Game time is 8 p.m.

Film Festival Scheduled For St. Joseph College

Mother Katharine T. Hargrove, R.S.C.J., nationally known film author and critic, will direct a 2-day Film Festival at St. Joseph College on February 3 and 4.

The program opens Friday evening in DePaul Auditorium with an introductory talk by Mother Hargrove on the theological content in Bergman's films followed by a screening of "Through A Glass Darkly." An open discussion of the film will be led by Mother Hargrove on Saturday morning. The afternoon session will feature the screening and discussion of "Parable."

The public is invited to attend. A pre-registration fee of $3 includes luncheon on Saturday. Registration will take place in DePaul at 6 p.m. on Friday, and the opening lecture is scheduled for 7 p.m. An additional fee of $1.00 for luncheon will be charged for those who register at the desk.

Mother Hargrove, professor of theology at Manhattanville College of the Sacred Heart since 1952, is presently conducting an experimental theology course taught by films at Maryville College in St. Louis.

A native New Yorker, Mother Hargrove is a graduate of Manhattanville College, and later earned a master's degree in philosophy at Catholic University and another in religious education from Providence College. In 1963 she was awarded an honorary Doctor of Letters degree from St. Mary's College of Notre Dame, Indiana. Her works have been published in encyclopedias and magazines, and her book published last fall, "The Star and the Cross," reflects her primary interest in Judeo-Christian relations.

Miss Tokar Named Betty Crocker Choice

Miss Betty Tokar, by finishing first in a written homemaking knowledge and attitude examination for senior girls December 6, became Emmitsburg High School's 1967 Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow.

Miss Tokar is now eligible for possible state and national scholarship awards. Her test also earned her a specially designed silver charm from General Mills, sponsor of the Betty Crocker Search for the American Homemaker of Tomorrow.

A state Homemaker of Tomorrow and runner-up will be selected from the winners of all schools in the state, with the former receiving a $1,500 college scholarship; her school will be given a complete set of Encyclopedia Britannica by Encyclopaedia Britannica, Inc. The runner-up will be awarded a $500 educational grant.

The Betty Crocker Homemaker of Tomorrow from this state, together with those from all other states and the District of Columbia, each accompanied by her school advisor, will join in an expensive paid educational tour of Colonial Williamsburg, Va., and Washington, D. C., next spring.

The 581,334 girls and 14,753 schools registering for the 1967 Search established a new record for the program.

OBITUARIES

DANIEL W. BROWN

Daniel W. "Reds" Brown, 46, Emmitsburg, father of six children, died Monday in an Akron, O., hospital. He had gone to Akron last week to take a new job and had suffered a heart attack there.

He was a native of Harrisburg and a son of Mrs. Lucy (Wolf) Brown, Fairfield R2, and the late Richard E. Brown. Surviving in addition to his mother and his wife, the former Ruth Wills Brown of Tom's Town, Pa., are these children: Richard A. Daniel Wayne, Jr., Dalphine, Charles W., Deborah G. and Rebecca Brown, all at home. These brothers and sisters also survive: Franklin G. Brown, Camp Hill; James L. Brown, Hanover; Mrs. Pollyanna Horton, California, and Mrs. Charlotte McGlaughlin, Fairfield R2.

Funeral services were held yesterday (Thursday) afternoon at 1 o'clock from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. W. Ronald Fearer, pastor of Elias Lutheran Church, officiating. Interment was made in Fountaindale Union Cemetery.

MRS. LEWIS CRAWFORD

Mrs. Edna May Crawford, 88, widow of Lewis O. Crawford, died Wednesday morning at the Western Maryland State Hospital at Hagerstown. She had been a hospital patient for the last seven months.

She was a native of Burkittsville, and a daughter of the late Maurice and Flora (Shafer) Sheffer. She was a lifelong member of St. John's Lutheran Church at Thurmont.

Surviving are a daughter, Mrs. Ethel L. Crawford, Thurmont; a sister, Mrs. Roy Stoops, Gettysburg; a brother, Paul R. Sheffer, Gettysburg; three grandchildren, Mrs. Paul W. Claypool, Nashville, Tenn.; Mrs. Bernard O'Daley, Wayne, N. J., and Mrs. John P. Glass, Emmitsburg. There are 10 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services will be held Saturday afternoon at 2 o'clock at St. John's Lutheran Church with the Rev. William E. Irvin officiating. Interment will be made in the Blue Ridge Cemetery. Friends may call at the Creager Funeral Home tonight (Friday) between 7 and 9 o'clock.

Robert L. Dubel, 64, died suddenly Monday afternoon at his home in Thurmont. He had been employed 21 years by J. W. Walter and Son, formstone contractor, Emmitsburg.

He was a son of the late Grant and Edith (Baker) Dubel and was a member of the Tyrian Lodge, Free and Accepted Order of Masons, Emmitsburg.

Surviving are his wife, Helen Plank Dubel; a daughter, Mrs. Jean Riffe, Thurmont, four grandchildren and a brother, Harry Dubel, Trenton, N. J.

Funeral services were held at the Creager Funeral Home, Thurmont, yesterday (Thursday) afternoon at 2 o'clock, with the Rev. Richard A. Ruoff officiating. Interment was made in the Blue Ridge Cemetery.

Public Invited To World Prayer

The World Day of Prayer will take place on February 10, sponsored by the United Church Women who invite all of the community to join in this observance.

The prayer will be observed in Trinity Methodist Church, Emmitsburg on Friday, Feb. 10 at 7:30 o'clock in the evening.

In many communities World Day of Prayer has marked the turning point toward an ecumenical concern.

United Church Women in recent years have invited Catholic women to join them in their service. In more than one city this marked the first time people of Protestant, Orthodox and Roman Catholic churches had worshipped together.

Worship Service Sunday Night

There will be a Worship Service in Folk Song Sunday, Feb. 5, at 7:30 p.m., Rev. King Duncan, pastor of Trinity Methodist Church announces.

The service is open to all young people of the community. Following the service a fellowship period will be observed and games played.

UNICEF's objective is to prepare children for a constructive life.

Lenten Services Scheduled At Local Churches

This year the Protestant Churches of the community will worship together in a series of Lenten Services beginning with the "World Day of Prayer" on Friday night, February 10, in the Trinity Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. The women of the churches will be in charge of this program and the theme will be "Of His Kingdom There Shall Be No End."

On Wednesday, Feb. 15, the regular Lenten Services will begin and continue thru March 15 with one of the five (5) Protestant Churches serving as the host church each week. The general theme for the services will be "Christ, the Mediator of a New Covenant" and the places of worship are to be as follows:

Feb. 15, Elias Lutheran Church. Rev. John Chatlos—"The Old Covenant."

Feb. 22, Tom's Creek Methodist Church. Pastor Fearer—"The New Covenant."

March 1, United Presbyterian Church. Rev. King Duncan—"The Atonement—One and For All."

March 8, Trinity Methodist Church. (Details to follow later).

March 15, Incarnation, United Church of Christ. Motion picture—"The Power of the Resurrection."

There will be a nursery service available for parents of small children each Wednesday night. Please come and let us worship together.

Birthday Party

Mrs. Charles Motter, Sr., was the guest of honor at a birthday dinner given her on her 75th birthday, January 27.

The dinner, given by her children, was held in the Lutheran parish hall and the menu included a turkey dinner with all the trimmings. In addition, ham and oysters were served. Many gifts were received from her children, grandchildren and great-grandson.

Attending the affair were: Mr. and Mrs. Gilmore Needy and daughter, Donna Marie, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Motter, Joseph Motter, Mr. George Motter, Jennie Motter and son, Daniel Gerrie, Mr. and Mrs. James Wilkinson and children, Mrs. Carol McAsker and son, Dennis, Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Dively and Mark Wilkinson, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Motter and daughters, Bernadette, Cindy Lu and Robin Motter. Out-of-town guests were Ronald Smith; Woodsboro and Miss Gordette Holder of Westminster.

DETOUR BANK ELECTS

At the recent regular meeting of the stockholders of the Detour Bank the following directors were re-elected: Arthur W. Clabaugh, Edgar G. Emrich, D. Leonard Reifsnider, Robert R. Saylor, Donald M. Smith, William J. Stone, and George C. Zinkham, Jr.

The board at its re-organization meeting elected Emrich as president; Smith as vice president; Mrs. Mary Ellen Catlin cashier and secretary; Mrs. E. Jeannette Dutrow as assistant cashier and Mrs. Kathryn F. Coshun as bookkeeper. Donald M. Smith is attorney for the bank.

Students To Choose King And Queen

Annual elections for the King and Queen, Prince and Princess of Hearts, are presently being held at St. Joseph's High School. Nomination fee is 50c and votes are a nickel each. Proceeds will go to the Catholic Students' Mission Crusade. At the dance, Friday, Feb. 3, the winners will be crowned by their runners-up.

Homemakers Witness Cooking Demonstration

A delicious luncheon, centered around dishes prepared in a demonstration of vegetable cookery by Mrs. John Chatlos, was served to 19 members and one guest of the Emmitsburg Homemakers Club on January 26.

During the demonstration, Mrs. Chatlos prepared a carrot ring filled with savory lima beans, marmalade beets, baked tomatoes and marmalade - sweet potato bread. She gave a short talk on vegetables and their uses in early Colonial times, and gave the rules for proper cooking and serving of them to maintain color, flavor and texture.

At the business meeting following the luncheon, program books were distributed for the coming year. Mrs. Hazel Caldwell was named Chairman of International Relations Committee, and Mrs. Lester Nestor gave a report on Leisure Time Exhibit to be held in Frederick on March 23 and 24. Members were asked to bring materials to demonstrate handicrafts. It was decided to send a memorial gift in the name of Mrs. George Eyster to the Heart Fund, and plans were announced for a bus trip to Washington in early spring to tour the Indian Embassy.

Club President, Mrs. William Slemmer, Jr., announced that an afternoon of games would be held at the Senior Citizens Center on the second Thursday of each month at 1:30 p.m.

Miss Mary Hellane of Greencastle, Pa., was the club's guest.

The next meeting will be held on February 23 at the home of Mrs. Verne Ray.

Priests Attend Mount Workshop

The Most Rev. George L. Leech, J.C.D., Bishop of the Catholic Diocese of Harrisburg, has inaugurated two workshop sessions for the priests of that diocese concerning the implementation of the documents of the Vatican Council. The first workshop was held on the campus of Mt. St. Mary's College this week and the second will be held at St. Francis Prep, Spring Grove, Feb. 5-8.

Bishop Leech, heading the first session at the Mount with approximately half of the priests from the diocese, will participate in lectures, seminars and workshops conducted by expert theologians in the areas of the dogmatic constitution of the Church, ecumenism, divine revelation and other related subjects. An celebration of the Holy Mass will be held each day.

Guest lecturers for the first session were: Very Rev. Demetrius Dumm, O.S.B., rector and professor, St. Vincent's Seminary, Latrobe, Pa.; Very Rev. James A. Laubacher, S.S., S.T.D., professor of dogmatic theology, St. Mary's Seminary, Baltimore, and advisor to His Eminence Lawrence Cardinal Shehan of Baltimore while at Vatican II; Rev. James J. Mulligan, S.T.L., dean of studies and professor of dogmatic theology, Mt. St. Mary's Seminary; and Rev. James C. Turro, S.T.L., S.S.L., professor of sacred scripture, Immaculate Conception Seminary, Darlington, N. J., who is a contributor to several biblical reviews.

Cool Friday and Saturday, followed by warmer on Sunday. Some rain expected during the period.

Thurmont School May Be Delayed

The bitter controversy over the new consolidated Thurmont High School's total cost raged this week as delegations from both Emmitsburg and Thurmont met with the Frederick County Commissioners in an effort to get the project rolling.

After hearing the public's side of the question the Commissioners, by a two-to-one vote, decided not to appropriate funds for the new school at this time. The crux of the controversy is over the high cost of the school. The Commissioners, that is two of them, are concerned over what they term as exorbitant costs and maintain that other counties are building equivalent school buildings for far less money. Many of the two towns' residents want the school at any cost.

County Commissioner Wallace E. Hutton accused his two fellow commissioners of "political brinkmanship" in turning down the appropriation for the $2.8 million Catocin High School.

Charles E. Collins, president of the board, who with Russell Z. Horman, voted against the school, said in a prepared statement that the commissioners have no power to make changes in the school; they can only say yes or no on the total design as submitted by the school board.

Collins said he voted no even though great political pressure had been exerted against him.

The majority of citizens testifying at a public hearing of the commissioners last week expressed favor toward the school. A group of citizens in favor of the school were present at the commissioners' office Monday morning when a vote was expected.

Collins said the school as presented contained many unnecessary extras that Frederick County can't afford.

Collins noted that the Board of Education passed the school plans by the minimum 4-3 vote.

Horman blamed the delay of a new school in the northern county on action of the school board and not the county commissioners.

Horman called for a meeting between the board of education and the county commissioners on future school plans before architects are hired for the schools.

Hutton said the other commissioners are hiding behind a shield of not being able to change the school. He accused them of not trying to reach an agreement with the school board.

The board's decision Tuesday morning on a 2-1 vote, came after less than 15 minutes of discussion.

DOWNIN—RIDGE

Miss Judy Louise Ridge and Joseph C. Downin were united in marriage Friday, January 27, in the Elias Ev. Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg. The Rev. W. Ronald Fearer performed the double-ring ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Betty and Wilbur Ridge, Emmitsburg, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Downin, Rouzerville, Pa.

The maid of honor was Miss Judy Main of Middletown, Md. Best man was Terry Downin, of Rouzerville, brother of the groom.

Following the reception held in the church parish hall, the couple left for a trip through Virginia and West Virginia.

The bride is employed as a secretary for the Frederick County Board of Education. The bridegroom is employed by Timely Furniture Co., Gettysburg. The couple will be at home at 145 Buford Avenue, Gettysburg, Pa.

Juvenile Officer For County Named

John L. Manley has been appointed chief juvenile probation officer for Frederick County by the Board of County Commissioners, effective March 1.

The post will remain under the jurisdiction of the county until July 1 when the department will be taken over by the state department of juvenile services.

Manley's salary will be $11,000 per year.

VFW AMBULANCE

Transported this week to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, via the VFW ambulance were Mary Kessler, George F. Rosensteel, of Emmitsburg; George Haydka, Mt. St. Mary's Seminary, and Mrs. Alma Tyler, Taneytown R2. Drivers were Paul E. Humerick, Leo M. Boyle, J. S. Hollinger and Donald Byard.

The rejection had been expected for several weeks but a decision was delayed several times as the commissioners sought more information.

The dissenting vote came from Commissioner Wallace E. Hutton, who has opposed Commissioners Charles E. Collins and Russell Z. Horman on numerous other matters.

The $2.8 million requested by the school board would cover only construction of the building itself, not including equipment and furnishings. The price also does not include the cost of the land, which was purchased late in 1963. The 40-acre site cost $750 per acre, a total of $30,000.

Hutton said he felt the commissioners should not take any action on the school "unless we know what the consequences of this denial will be."

"It would take precious little time," Hutton said, "to discuss this thing with those involved to find out just what those consequences would be. Perhaps, if we held discussions with the school board, the architect, and the builders, we could reach some mutually satisfying conclusions."

Collins, president of the three-man board, said he agreed that discussions should be held, "but I don't see how we can discuss modifications of the school when we don't have the power to modify it ourselves."

"We have had too many stalemates on what we were going to do on this school," Collins said, "without taking action. It is time to make a decision."

Horman set the tone of the brief discussion when he said he could not vote for the fund for the school "with the swimming pool. And I could not vote for the school with the price tag that's on it at this time."

As time for the discussion ran out, Collins shut off debate and offered a motion that the commissioners "deny the request for $2.8 million for construction of Catocin High School and request the school board to modify the request and resubmit it."

Horman seconded the action and suggested that the official minutes of the decision include mention that the price mentioned was not the total price of the school.

Collins then added to his motion, "keeping in mind that the total cost of the school will be a much higher figure than that mentioned above."

The School Board late this week agreed to drop the swimming pool, $100,000, from the project.

Local Sailor

On Foreign Cruise

Seaman Thomas W. Humerick, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. John G. Humerick, 209 W. Main St., Emmitsburg, Md., left Norfolk, Va., for a five month deployment with the U. S. Sixth Fleet in the Mediterranean as a crew-member aboard the guided missile destroyer John King.

Armed with anti-submarine rockets and with surface-to-air Tartar missiles, John King will join other destroyers in providing anti-submarine and anti-air support for one of the two attack carrier striking groups in the Mediterranean.

While deployed, the John King is scheduled to visit Athens, Greece, where her crew will be given the opportunity to visit the wonders of Ancient Greece.

Secretarial Students Receive Awards

Secretarial science students at St. Joseph's High School, Ann Barbe and Barbara Fannin, have shown outstanding ability and progress since the beginning of the year.

Ann, a senior in her second year of secretarial science, qualified for her 120 w-a-m—5 minute shorthand transcription Gregg award on January 20. Her other Gregg awards include Typing Production and Transcription Production I.

Since beginning secretarial science studies in September, Barbara has finished her theory and has merited four Gregg awards. Presently she is working for the 100 w-a-m—5 minute Gregg award. Barbara also qualified as a Senior member of the Order of Gregg Artists.

UNICEF means help and hope for millions of the world's needy children.

LEGISLATIVE REPORT FROM
By GOODLOE E. BYRON
STATE SENATOR
Carroll-Frederick District

Code Home Rule

The voters of Maryland ap-proved a new form of "home rule" for the counties in the 1966 No-vember General Election.

This form of local self-govern-ment for the political sub-divi-sions is the third significant phase in the history of "Home Rule" in Maryland.

In 1914 the first phase was adopted to provide charter gov-ernment for Baltimore City and any of the 23 counties. The sec-ond phase was adopted in the middle 1950's to provide for general municipal self-rule.

Now, the Senate of Maryland has under consideration a bill recommended by the Legislative Council to establish the structure for "Code Home Rule" counties.

Under this pending legislation, the county governing body would give notice and hold hearings on any proposal to adopt "Code Home Rule" status. It would then be necessary to have the adopting resolution passed by a two-thirds majority of the Board of County Commissioners and subsequently submitted to a referendum of the voters of the county at the next General Election.

If "Code Home Rule" is adopt-ed, the existing county govern-ment would be required to hold legislative sessions and provide for citizen participation in the pas-sage of any proposed new laws. It has been suggested that "Code Home Rule" is not suffici-ently flexible to permit the adoption of a modern "manager-oriented" form of government.

However, it is possible that a new State Constitution, when adopted, will permit a broad range of local governmental choices without adherence to set formulas of the past.

In the meantime, the General Assembly will probably approve "Code Home Rule" legislation as a "stop-gap" measure to take care of those counties which require immediate attention.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

Children's 'Shot' Records

EVANSTON, Ill. — When did six-year-old Mary have her last diphtheria-tetanus-whooping cough shot? And her 10-year-old brother's his tuberculin test? And the baby her last polio vaccine? As any harried parent knows, it's virtually impossible to keep chil-dren's immunization records straight without writing them down.

Recognizing how important it is that parents have this informa-tion readily available, the Ameri-can Academy of Pediatrics recent-ly sent 10,000 of its pediatrician-members wallet-sized plastic cards which can create order of 'shot' chaos. Called a Personal Immun-ization Record, the card lists such items as blood group, RH factor, significant sensitivities. It also breaks down by age all the im-munizations a child should re-ceive, with a space for the date next to each. A parent who car-ries one such card for each child can check readily on who needs what and when—and can prevent disaster from striking. Cards can be obtained from pediatricians, an Academy spokesman told Women's Medical News Service.

Sprightly Guide

Enhances Marriage
NEW YORK—One of the most valuable—and valued—gifts one might give a newly engaged cou-ple is a slim volume entitled, "A Concept of Contraception," by Se-lig Neubardt, M.D. From the ded-ication, "To a piece of plastic, to a pack of pills, to a sheet of rub-ber, to a puff of foam, to what-ever allows us to enjoy the pleas-ure of love free of the fear of an unwanted pregnancy", to the last line, "Nature and romance can make life thrilling, but they do need a guiding hand," this spright-ly but solid guide to contraception is both sensible and sensitive.

Dr. Neubardt, who is a fellow of both the American College of Surgeons and the American Col-lege of Obstetrics and Gynecology, believes that contraception is es-sential to virtually all marriages, for practical as well as emotional reasons. He maintains that there is no one method that will suit all couples, but that there is a suitable method for each.

Directly, simply, often wittily, the doctor describes practically all methods, and then assesses their worth. He gives very low marks to coitus interruptus and rhythm, and very high marks to the pill and the intrauterine device, not-ing however, that the last method is unsuitable for women who have not had a child. About the oral contraceptive, he writes, "Most of the women who will give the pill a try will find their contraceptive problem happily solved . . ."

Stage For Stroke
FRAMINGHAM, Mass.—Strokes seldom strike healthy people. Rather they hit persons who have some other form of circulatory ailment, such as high blood pres-sure or high blood pressure and heart disease. These observations were made at a recent medical meeting by Dr. W. B. Kannel, re-ported on a 14-year study of 5,000 men and women. According to Dr. Kannel, high blood pres-sure apparently accelerates hard-ening of the arteries, leading to impaired heart and circulatory function, thereby raising the risk of stroke.

Factors contributing potentially to strokes are: Cigarette smoking, high blood fat levels before age 50, enlargement and diabetes.

Taneytown Lions Meet With Jaycees

The Taneytown Lions Club held its regular meeting at the Taney Inn on Jan. 24. Lion President Delmont Koons, presided over this joint meeting with the local Jay-cees. Group singing was led by Lion Keith Brown, and Lion Del-mar Riffe was accompanist. In-vo-cation was given by Lion Rev. Edmund Welker.

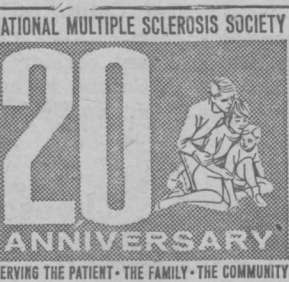

The President of the Jaycees, Larry Heltebride, introduced his Jaycee members present. Also present at the meeting was the Mayor of Taneytown, Neal Powell. Lion Joseph Meyer, Program Chairman for the evening, turned the meeting over to the speaker, Mr. Emmett T. Loane. Mr. Loane has 37 years service with the Chesapeake and Potomac Tele-phone Company of Maryland. He is currently handling defense and security operations of the com-pany, which includes liaison work with the State, City, and County Civil Defense authorities, along with the First Army Provost Marshal's office. Mr. Loane was accompanied by Mr. Jim Kappler, who is a State Civil Defense Training Officer.

Mr. Loane presented an illus-trated narrative on the North American Air Defense Command, known as NORAD. This describ-ed the military early warning sys-tem, the space detection and track-ing system, communications in the frozen Arctic, electronic con-trol of our fighter interceptors, identifying all airplanes, and the military equipment necessary for the defense of the North Ameri-can continent against aerospace attack. During the presentation, a telephone call was placed to the duty officer at NORAD Operation Center in Colorado Springs, Colo.

The duty officer was Major F. J. Judah, who gave an intelli-gence briefing on what is going on at the Air Defense Nerve Center and what had been hap-pening in the past 24 hours. Major Judah spoke for approximately 25 minutes by long distance tele-phone explaining the operation at NORAD.

Members and guests were then permitted to ask questions about the Center and Defense of our country to Major Judah. This program was presented on behalf of the Chesapeake and Potomac Telephone Company and the North American Air Defense Program, with Lion Joseph Meyer making the necessary arrangements.

The next regular meeting will be Feb. 14, Past District Govern-ors' Night, Harry Dougherty, Sr., Chairman. This will also be a la-dies' night.

"Don't delay filing for medicare if you are within three months of your 65th birthday," W. S. King, social security district manager in Hagerstown, pointed out. "This advice applies to all those who are approaching 65 even though they may plan to continue working full time," he said.

The enrollment period for sign-ing up for the doctor bill insur-ance part of medicare is a 7-month period beginning 3 months before the month you reach 65 and continuing for 3 months af-ter you are 65. However, the medical insurance coverage can begin with the month of your 65th birthday only if you file your ap-plication in one of the 3 months before you reach 65.

You don't have to retire to en-roll for medicare. In fact, when you do file you may be surprised to learn that, because of new and more liberal provisions that start-ed in 1966, your present earnings may permit you to receive partial social security cash benefits.

Visit your social security office at 59 North Cannon Avenue three months before you celebrate your 65th birthday. By filing prompt-ly for medicare and for any monthly cash benefits, you will be protecting yourself.

The Hagerstown office remains open on Monday evening until 8 p.m. to assist those people who work and who cannot visit the office during the day.

Cadette Troop Recalls Activities

Cadette Troop 1316 started 1966 with ease. After the Christ-mas holidays, we took a rest from scouting. We didn't plan a pro-ject for the month of January, but February didn't slip by without a Valentine's party. Each girl brought a guest and refreshments were served. We entertained our-selves by dancing and having a lip-sink contest.

March was a busy month with the Cookie Sale and Girl Scout Week. The Cookie Sale was held from the 3rd to the 15th. On Girl Scout Night, the 14th, we present-ed an International Fashion Show, featuring the uniforms of Girl Scouts of other countries such as Ireland, India, France and Eng-land.

During the summer months we had a vacation.

August brought an end to our vacationing days. On the 16th we packed our bathing suits and beach towels and went to Cowans Gap for a day of swimming. Af-ter a good tan or a bad sunburn, we headed for home.

Our troop was presented with five new girls on September 20th. Sheila Chatlos, Ivanka Antolin, Anne Umbel, and Kathy Stoner flew-up from Junior Troop 405. Genie Ryan is a newcomer to Girl Scouting. We all agree they help make us a happier troop.

We went to Walkersville on Oct. 29 to our new camp site to cele-brate Juliet Lowe's birthday. We were joined by other Central Maryland Council Scouts. We cleared areas and planted flowers. In the afternoon we attended the Flag Ceremony and Song Festival.

December kept us busy with planning our Christmas Party and the Christmas caroling of all the troops. Our Christmas Party was held at the home of Mrs. Robert Myers, our leader. Those present were Ivanka Antolin, Barbara Myers, Cheryl Topper, Genie Ryan, Sheila Chatlos, Anne Umbel, Kathy Stoner, and Claudia Rosen-steel. Refreshments were served and gifts were exchanged. Dec. 10 wrapped up our activities of the year by going caroling with the other Scout Troops. After caroling, the Cadettes served hot chocolate and cookies to the group.

1966 proved to be a good year for us. We are now busy working on badges and projects for the coming months.

"The Place to Go for the Brands You Know"

Warning Given On Easter Chicks

Parents who purchase live or stuffed chicks and ducklings as Easter presents for children may be purchasing a case of upset stomach or even a serious illness at the same time according to Kenneth L. Crawford, DVM, Chief of the Division of Veterinary Medicine of the State Health Department.

The danger rises in the probable presence of salmonella organisms which are frequently found in the intestinal tract of birds and poultry. Dr. Crawford explained, "If a chick or a duck is infected with this organism, it can be transmitted to the child when the youngster, after handling the pet, touches food or puts his fingers in his mouth."

Salmonellosis is the name given to a family of bacteria which has over one thousand different types which are capable of producing serious illness in man. The illness caused by this organism is usually limited to digestive upsets which can be accompanied by vomiting or diarrhea. Occasionally, human deaths have been reported when severe attacks occur in infants, older persons, or when the resistance of normally healthy adults has been lowered by other infections or surgery.

"One of the counties adopted an ordinance several years ago prohibiting the sale of chicks, ducks, and other fowl under three weeks or live rabbits under two months of age to anyone other than breeders," Dr. Crawford said. "Health and humane authorities are presently working towards the goal of having this type of restriction enacted as a statewide Maryland law."

In each of the past three years, salmonella organisms also have been found in imported stuffed chicks and ducks which have been made from the skins of baby chicks and ducks. The purchase of this type of novelty is not recommended by the State Health Department. This warning does not apply to toys and novelties such as plush rabbits and other fabricated toy animals.

During the 1966 Easter season, salmonella was found in eighteen of the twenty samples collected in the Baltimore metropolitan area from both live and stuffed birds which were being offered for sale. Contaminated novelties were removed from sale upon receipt of positive laboratory findings. However, many had been sold before the laboratory tests could be completed.

"We are hopeful that this advance warning will reach retail stores so that they will not offer live or stuffed chicks or ducks for sale to the general public," Dr. Crawford explained. Sanitarians from both the State and local health departments will be on the lookout for displays of these items, and they may request that they be removed from sale until tests have been made by the State Health Department Laboratories to determine if the merchandise is free from disease producing organisms.

Our Stake In The Profit System

Let's examine further some of the benefits every American receives from the far-reaching effects of our profit system. Looking ahead to 1980, the best estimate is that we will have more than 100 million men and women in the work force. There are approximately 77 million at work today. Twenty-five million new jobs will have to be created, at the rate of nearly two million new jobs a year, to meet the requirements of our present growth rate. Who will create those 25 million new jobs?

If we are to maintain our historic freedom, the new jobs must be created out of the profits of free enterprise business and industry. At present costs for plant, tools, and inventory, more than $20,000 is required on the average to create a single job (and the costs are soaring). The 25 million jobs needed between now and 1980 will require the investment of $500 billion—out of business profits! But business profits are declining. And, moreover, Carl H. Madden, chief economist of the Chamber of Commerce of the United States, says: "For 1967, the outlook is for more substantial declines in business profits."

Could Get Worse

Factors he considers in this forecast are: (1) suspension of the seven per cent investment tax credit on business expansion; (2) suspension of the accelerated depreciation allowance to expanding industries; and (3) a clearly visible rise in unit labor costs, higher than the rate of productivity improvement. These factors dampen the incentive to build new plants and create new jobs. They force producers of goods either to raise prices or watch their profits, out of which new jobs are created, dissipate.

The American business system enjoyed a healthy increase in profits during 1965 and the first two quarters of 1966. The upsurge in profits brought an even more remarkable increase in business investment in new plants and equipment (and new jobs—an increase of 22.7% for the 18-month period. This was an extraordinary rate of growth, and it couldn't be expected to go on forever. It had already begun to slow down when Federal Government "experts" began to apply artificial dampeners. Now there are some signs of a business recession ahead which would be harmful to everybody.

Profits Boost Living Standard

Thus we see a part of the stake each citizen has in a healthy, profit-making free enterprise system. Another part of the stake is in our standard of living, as compared to that of people living in countries where the business system is Government-operated or Government-controlled, and where business profit is not permitted. The following table demonstrates dramatically how much better people live, with a profit system of capitalism, than do the Russians who live and work in a Government-controlled, non-profit-making Socialist economy:

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Postoffice at Emmitsburg, Maryland, under the Congressional Act of March 3, 1879.

A similar comparison can be drawn between our U.S.A. living standard and that of any other country under Socialism, where the Government has abolished the profit system. Every citizen in America obviously has a personal stake in keeping our profit-making, job-creating business system healthily expanding, free from the stagnating controls of an all-powerful Government. Every segment of our society should become concerned. The future of all of us is involved.

10-11, it was announced by Thomas P. DiVita, class president from Paterson, N. J.

The Prom chairmen and committee are: Thomas W. Caulfield, Chevy Chase, Md.; Francis P. Keenan, South Amboy, N. J.; and Michael M. Kane, Washington, D. C. Co-chairmen, Stephen E. Liekweg, Alexandria, Va.; Michael A. Moore, District Heights, Md.; Mark J. Regan, Plainfield, N. J.; Walter J. Niemiec, Cateret, N. J.; and Harry D. Slaughter, Easton, Maryland.

Officials look twice when they ask Miss Dawn Princeton for the name of her parents at Florida Southern College. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harvard Yale Princeton.

YOUR FEDERAL INCOME TAXIncome Tax Of Minors

A minor is subject to tax on his own earnings even though his parent may under local law, have the right to them and might actually have received the money. His income is not required to be included in the return of his parent. A minor must file a return if he has gross income of $600 or more during the year.

A minor child is allowed a personal exemption of $600 on his own return regardless of how much money he may earn.

Exemption also allowed parent—if your child is under 19 or is a student you may also claim an exemption for him if he qualifies as your dependent, even though he earns $600 or more.

A minor may be entitled to a tax refund—if he has gross income of less than $600 and income tax was withheld from his wages. Generally, the refund may be obtained by filing Form 1040A accompanied by the wage and tax settlement (Form W-2). If he had income other than wages subject to withholding, he may be required to file Form 1040.

If your child works for you—you may deduct reasonable wages you paid to him for services he rendered in your business, even though he uses the money to purchase his own clothing or other necessities which you are normally obligated to furnish him, and even though you may be entitled to his services. However, you may not deduct the cost of meals and lodging furnished the child. The child must report the wages in his income tax return.

Wages used for support—in determining whether you may claim your child as a dependent, you have not provided support to the extent that the child's wages are used for his support, even though you may have paid them to the child.

Property transferred to a minor under a Model Gifts of Securities to Minors Act or a Uniform Gifts to Minors Act, or under laws patterned after either of these acts, constitutes a completed gift for Federal gift tax purposes.

Income from property so transferred is taxable to the minor, unless it is used in the discharge or satisfaction, in whole or in part, of a legal obligation of any person to support or maintain the minor. To the extent it is used to support or maintain the minor, it is taxable to the parent or guardian of the minor.

Interest on United States Savings Bonds which a parent purchased with his own funds, naming the child as co-owner, is taxable to the parent even though the parent permits the child, either at or before maturity of the bonds, to redeem the bonds and retain the entire proceeds.

Child as sole owner—the interest on U. S. Savings Bonds purchased in the name of the child is income to the child even though the bonds were purchased with funds of the parent, and with the parent named as beneficiary. It is included in income when the bonds mature or are cashed, unless an election is made to report the income each year.

For further information contact your local Internal Revenue Service Office.

To restore the stiffness of a nylon net petticoat, dip the petticoat into a solution of equal parts sugar and starch and hang it to dry, bottom side up, stretched between two lines. The sugar should be added while the starch is cooking.

Press heavy tape just inside the lower edge of your son's new trousers to prevent fraying where the trouser rubs the shoe.

Use scraps of oil cloth to make mats for the children to use at the table when eating or to avoid splashing while painting.

BABSONWrites . . .

BY ROGER W. BABSON

Babson's Point Of View On: Higher Taxes
BABSON PARK, Mass., Feb. 2—The great debate is in full swing in Washington. President Johnson has asked for a hike in corporate and individual income taxes. He calls the proposed increase a 6% "surcharge." This will be levied on the tax itself, figured at prevailing rates—and will be added at the end of the form. Hence, as the President intends, the new tax can be easily removed as soon as the emergency in Vietnam is

Battle Lines Drawn
 A storm of charges and counter charges has been stirred up by Mr. Johnson's recommendation. Criticism is not aimed at the kinds of tax. First, the amount—around $5 billion—is not very heavy in relation to a nearly $800-billion economy . . . nor contrasted with a budget close to $135 billion. Second, the low-income citizen can hardly get excited; for it is intended that a family with two children have $5,000 taxable income exempted.

The big battle is between economists and would-be economists. One camp holds that the private area of our economy is already in a recession (they say this is obscured by the tremendous surge in arms production). In the opposite corner are the anti-inflation forces (they maintain that the federal budget is already out of whack and any further bulge in the deficit will start inflationary fires raging again).

Enter Politics
 As you may guess, such a brawl among the intellectuals is a made-to-order opportunity for our politicians in the Capital. And they have jumped in with both feet. Republicans and some conservative Democrats are demanding that no tax change be considered until the President's spending proposals have been gone over with a fine-tooth comb. Their cry: Cut spending to balance the budget! Across the aisle, however, the banners of the Great Society have been raised. Despite defections at the conservative fringes, there is a hard core of determination. It is emphasized that the United States is strong enough to meet its commitments both at home and abroad. Surely—the Democratic argument runs—we are not going to abandon the underprivileged and the needy when the country is spending less than 9% of its annual Gross National Product on total defense.

Wait And See
 Through the smoke of battle only one signpost can be seen. It points to a delay of months before any final decision on a tax boost may be reached by the Congress. Working on the side of procrastination is the Democratic conviction that the Republicans will be able to cut only tiny slices from the overstuffed Administration budget. They are confident that, although the opposition may be strong enough to obstruct, they certainly do not have the power to launch a successful attack.

Then, too, those with an eye on what the economists are saying are quite happy to adopt a wait-and-see policy for the next few months. This applies to both Republicans and Democrats. They feel that by late spring, or early summer more will be known about the health and well-being of our business body. Then will be time enough to take the unpleasant action.

War The Key
 Right now the odds favor some kind of "surcharge" tax this year. But the decision is not for the U.S.A. alone to make. All the hue and cry about the health of the private sector of the economy may make good headlines. Surely, however, no one expects that the nation is going to slip far into recession in the next six months if the war continues in Southeast Asia. Hence, if Ho Chi Minh is still avoiding truce talks by mid-summer, the country will undoubtedly have higher taxes by year end.

Yet, it must not be forgotten that there is another side to the coin . . . hopefully a brighter one. Should Hanoi decide before autumn that talking could be more profitable than fighting, we freely predict that the 90th Congress would not vote for a bigger tax bite. That is why we say that war is the key to a tax or no.

COMPLAINANT

Vs.

ANN W. PYLES

P. O. Box 2182

Anaheim, California

DEFENDANT

NO. 21,544 EQUITY

In the Circuit Court For Frederick County, in Equity
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this proceeding is to procure a Divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Ann W. Pyles, for the care and custody of the infant children, namely, Robert Ernest Pyles, Jr. and Terrie Ann Pyles, and for such other and further relief as the nature of his case may require.

The Bill states in substance, that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, Maryland, and has been so for more than one year last past; while the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and that the last known address of the Defendant is P. O. Box 2182, Anaheim, California; that your Complainant was married to the Defendant at Oakland, Maryland on the 20th day of June, 1959; that as a result of the said marriage, two (2) children were born, namely, Robert Ernest Pyles, age 6 years, and Terrie Ann Pyles, age 4 years, who is residing with the Complainant and whose care and custody the Complainant seeks in this proceeding; the Bill further alleges that ever since the said marriage, the Complainant has always conducted himself as a kind, chaste, dutiful and affectionate husband toward the Defendant, Ann W. Pyles, and that the Defendant, Ann W. Pyles, between the time of the said marriage and the filing of this Bill of Complaint herein, has committed the crime of adultery with diverse persons, whose names are unknown to the Complainant at this time; that since the discovery of said adultery, the Complainant has not lived or cohabited with the Defendant nor condoned her actions in any way, to all of which the Affidavit is made. It is thereupon this 30th day of January, 1967, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED that the Plaintiff, by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four (4) successive weeks prior to the 4th day of March, 1967, in some newspaper published in Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the Defendant, Ann W. Pyles, of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint and warning her to be and appear in this Court either in person or by Solicitor on or before the 4th day of April, 1967, to show cause, if any she has, why the relief sought should not be granted.

ANNAPOLIS

REPORT

By Sen. Charles H. Smelser
The Finance Committee of the Senate, of which your correspondent is a member, will begin considering the State Budget with hearing scheduled to begin on Tuesday.

The Senate has three major committees, Finance, Judicial Proceedings and Economic Affairs. In order to avoid repetition, weekly discussions will be confined to local Senate, Finance Committee, and selected Bills from the Committee of Economic Affairs.

Senate Bill 13 would require insurance companies upon cancellation or non-renewal of a policy of motor vehicle liability insurance to give the insured, upon written request, the actual reason for the cancellation or non-renewal of the policy.

Senate Bill 24 provides for the manner of distributing general State Scholarships and Scholarships in Education to the various political subdivisions and increases the amount of the award for scholarships in education.

Certain to generate a great deal of interest is Senate Bill 81 prohibiting any contents or games, used for the purpose of promoting or advertising a business or product, whereby any gifts, prizes or gratuities are awarded and the persons receiving the gifts, prizes or gratuities are determined by chance. It should be pointed out that the provisions of this bill have no application to the issuance and redemption of Trading Stamps.

Senate Bill 42—"Retail Installment Sales and Revolving Credit" spells out maximum finance charges and other requirements; in connection with some retail installment sale transactions, excluding sales of motor vehicles. In addition, it would regulate maximum service charges under some installment sales where no title or security interest is retained by the seller and would require certain information to be furnished in connection with such sales.

For the benefit of my constituents, please address correspondence to State House, Room S-111, Annapolis, Md. and telephone calls to 263-2321, Extension 117.

Sen Brewster Studies National Service

Senator Daniel B. Brewster (D-Md.) said recently, "This country needs a two-year voluntary program of national service, open to all young people between the ages of 18 and 26, in the areas of education, health, welfare, conservation, and community action."

Brewster said that his staff is putting the final touches on legislation which he will introduce. The bill would:

1. Establish a civilian National Service Foundation, originally authorized for two years; 2. Provide for a low-budget study of the "possibilities and problems" of such a National Service system; 3. Make recommendations to the Congress for legislative action on the establishment of a voluntary, two-year, draft - deferred service program; 4. Compile data and estimates as to the cost of such a program and its effects on military recruitment, higher education, local government agencies, the labor force, and the economy in general.

Brewster, a member of the Senate Armed Services Committee, said that his bill has the firm endorsement of the National Service Secretariat, a private organization established last year to conduct research into the National Service concept. He added that many individuals associated with educational organizations and government agencies have also approved the bill.

"I am personally committed to the idea of a mutual obligation between our young people and the society we live in. To my mind, a voluntary program of two-years National Service is a good way to carry out this obligation," the Senator said.

"I have looked into this area in some detail, and there are numerous problems which must be straightened out before we can have a workable proposal. Before introducing a specific program, therefore, I think we need a detailed study by qualified personnel.

"Among the problems are the possible impact of a National Service system on the labor force, on higher education, on military staffing needs, and on the economy in general. What would be the best system of draft deferments for these young people? Where could they be used most profitably? Could they be trained adequately? These are matters with which the Foundation will have to wrestle.

"But I am confident that, given a Congressional mandate, the Foundation will be able to come up with a practical plan."

Interesting Data

On Lincoln's Death

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

The current controversy over the book entitled "The Death of a President", recalls to mind another assassination, 102 years ago.

The episode occurred on April 14th, 1865, Good Friday, when President Abraham Lincoln, was shot in the head in Ford's Theatre, Washington, D. C., by John Wilkes Booth, an actor.

Many books have been written about this tragedy, and I will mention only a few highlights. Mrs. Mary Surratt, who kept a boarding house, was hung along with her alleged co-conspirators, in the District jail; Booth was shot to death in a barn in Virginia; and Dr. Mudd, who had treated Booth's broken leg, was sentenced to the penal colony in the Barbadoes Islands, near Florida.

John Surratt, her son, was attending school in Baltimore, and escaped to Rome, where he joined the Swiss Guards at the Vatican.

He may have been there under an assumed name, but a diplomatic attache' penetrated his disguise, and being a disgruntled suitor, tried to have Surratt arrested, but the young man, in all his armor, ran and jumped out of a palace window, breaking his leg in the attempt. He fled to Egypt, where his rival apprehended him, and Surratt was in chains on a gun boat.

The furor had died down, and he was acquitted. He came to Emmitsburg about 1870.

According to my Aunt Rose, who died four years ago in Altoona, Penna., in her 90th year, and who had spent her early years in town, he, Surratt, had tutored her oldest brother, Jere O'Donoghue, and a couple of Hoover boys, whose father made the well-known grandfather clocks. She mentioned several other prominent names, but I regret that I do not recall now who the other students were.

Classes were held in her father's town house on the Square, where the old post office was located.

No doubt the classes were long and arduous and very strict.

Apparently, Mr. Surratt was well educated, for when my Uncle Jere entered Mt. St. Mary's College, about 1876, at age of 14, he was so proficient in all phases of mathematics, except quadratics, the highest form, that he was excused from such classes.

About 10 years ago an author, in Rochester, N. Y., attempting to trace the whereabouts of Mr. Surratt, wrote the College to inquire if John Surratt had ever been a student there. An instructor replied that he had not, and set forth some of the details in the College paper about Surratt in Rome and Egypt, which I have mentioned above. My Aunt Rose said that Mr. Surratt was in town about 5 to 7 years, and surmised that he had been a frequent visitor to the College. I am glad to record this little unknown phase in American history.

YOUR PERSONAL HEALTH

It's time to stop thinking of measles as a slightly humorous childhood disease, says the American Medical Association.

Many people don't realize two important things about measles:

First, it's a crippler and killer. Measles strikes millions of children, but the ones left with deafness or mental defects or encephalitis—or even the ones who die—seem to be forgotten by the public. Measles isn't at all a funny disease; it's one whose tragedy isn't fully realized.

Second, measles could be eliminated as a major health threat. Some medical officials believe it could be eradicated in this country within a year. There's no doubt that it should be. Several types of anti-measles vaccine are available. They are easily administered by your physician and have been proven safe and effective.

Measles-susceptible children can be immunized by their family's physician. The best time is when they are approximately one year old. Older susceptible children—those who have neither had measles nor been given measles vaccine—should be immunized as soon as possible, particularly if they are of school age.

In some communities, and in the states of Rhode Island and Delaware, measles has been practically eliminated by concerted, areawide immunization campaigns.

Such campaigns have been endorsed by the AMA's Council on Environmental and Public Health, but their organization requires the counsel of the local medical society and close cooperation by the community's civic, education, and health organizations. Local physicians are in a position to determine the best way to conduct an immunization campaign in this community.

The most important step is to ensure that your own children are protected from measles. If they have not been immunized, have it done now.

Cold weather boating can be a real pleasure, if you plan for it properly. Your outboard will prove a joy and delight in frigid temperatures. There should be no noticeable difference in starting or operating characteristics. Oil-gas mixtures remain the same. The battery on an electric model must be treated the same as your auto battery. Charged, it won't freeze; run down, it will.

About the only concession you have to make to the threat of freezing is to be sure water isn't trapped inside the motor. Lower units drain when tipped out of water. You may have to turn the engine over several times out of the water to drain the powerhead.

Inboards and inboard-outboards also must be drained to forestall freezing damage. (Unless they are fresh-water-cooled—in which case add antifreeze and drain only exposed portions of the heat exchanger.) Since these motors must be drained for winter storage anyway, your operating manual will tell you how to do this.

Ice inside and outside the boat is the second problem. Water allowed to stand inside boat that is itself out of water can expand when frozen and burst the boat's sides. Several inches of water, however, are needed to do this, and a lot of time or a lot of cold. If your boat has curving sides it probably won't happen anyway, as the ice will be forced upward. If it hasn't, "rock salt in the bilge will soften the ice and rob it of its power," recommends Zack Taylor, Boats Editor of Sports Afield Magazine.

Running a boat in ice also presents problems, but none that cannot be overcome. If you have a wood boat, running in skim ice can cause serious damage, as the film of ice cuts like a knife and can eventually slice right through the planking. Wood boats must therefore be sheathed along the waterline with fiber glass (the epoxy kind goes on right over sound paint), galvanized - iron sheets, aluminum sheets or wood-plank gards that can be replaced when chewed up. Aluminum boats may be scratched but not harmed. Fiber glass and steel will remain impervious to ice, although paint on them may be scratched.

Masons Set Ladies Night

The regular meeting of Tyrian Lodge 205 was held January 26 in the Masonic Room, Worshipful Master Alfred Hahn presiding. The group decided to hold its annual Ladies' Night on March 30. A Masonic burial was planned for departed brother, Robert Dubel.

St. Joe's Extends Win Record To 15

St. Joseph's High School pushed its record to 15-5, taking three of four games last week. They defeated St. Joseph's of Martinsburg, last year's BRCL champs, 54-52 in overtime, in a thrilling contest, as Williams and Adelsberger scored field goals in the overtime period to insure the victory. Williams, who is shooting at 62.1 per cent from the floor, canned 17 points on eight of twelve shots from the floor and one of one from the foul line to lead St. Joe's in the scoring department. Baker added 15 points and 19 rebounds and a strong defensive game to back up Williams.

On Friday evening the Trojans ran into a hot shooting St. Francis Prep team and found themselves on the short end of a 91-76 decision. In spite of a 28-point production by John Sherwin, the Prep team had four men with 14 points or more to take a 25 point lead at halftime and the Trojans, although outscoring the Prep team by 14 points in the third quarter, could not make up the difference the Saints built up in the first half. Besides Sherwin's 28, Williams' 20 and Baker's 10 points and 13 rebounds, were in double figures. Adelsberger also scored 10 points in a strong effort.

On Sunday, the Trojans handed the Gaels of Hagerstown their first league setback by a score of 49-46. The Trojans rode the strong shooting of Marty Williams and

I came that they may have life, and have it abundantly. —(John 10:10)

Let's forget the past with its failures or sorrows. The dark clouds of limitation fade away. Enjoy the present, so that we may be filled with life, love, wisdom, peace and prosperity. Let's live abundantly for God's blessings flow to us from His bounty. Live in the awareness of God's presence and know that we are forever one with Him who is all abundance, from whom all blessings flow, through whom all needs are met.

EDITORIAL INFORMATION:

For the twenty-first consecutive year, the Catholic bishops of the United States are appealing to all Americans in behalf of the millions of needy fellow humans in distressed areas all over the world.

This nationwide appeal is known as the Catholic Bishops' Overseas Aid Fund, and will take place this year from February 26 to March 5. Your cooperation, so generously given in past years, is once again sought in the 1967 appeal.

The Fund provides the main source of revenue for the global works of Catholic Relief Services, the overseas aid agency of American Catholics. Every Catholic diocese, church and school in the United States participates in and promotes the Catholic Bishops' Overseas Aid Fund appeal. Although the appeal is directed primarily to the Catholics of our country, all Americans of every creed and denomination are urged to heed the pleas of their needy fellow man by responding to this appeal. Likewise, the various forms of overseas aid provided by the Fund are given with similar total disregard for race, creed or color. The sole criterion is need.

The largest private relief agency in the history of American voluntary aid, Catholic Relief Services maintains an overseas supervisory staff of 150 trained and dedicated Americans, plus several thousand volunteer workers, stationed in 97 regional offices in 80 countries. These American experts administer programs of relief and rehabilitation, socio-economic development, rural education, medical care, and various other welfare and relief activities.

A minimum goal of $5 million is required to maintain the worldwide aid programs operated by Catholic Relief Services. Donations should be sent or brought to the nearest Catholic church, or mailed to the Catholic Bishops' Overseas Aid Fund, 350 Fifth Avenue, New York, N.Y. 10001.

Help the innocent victims of armed conflict in Vietnam... the destitute multitudes in the Middle and Far East... the millions of poverty-stricken in Latin America... the escapees from Red China... the victims of disasters such as the recent floods in Italy — by contributing to the Catholic Bishops' Overseas Fund, February 26 to March 5.

Business Groups

To Interview Seniors

Joseph E. Flaherty, director of Guidance and Placement at Mount Saint Mary's College, has announced that a schedule of daily interviews for seniors seeking employment with government, business, and industry has been arranged during the months of February and March.

Included in the listing are: General Foods, Sears of Philadelphia, Firestone Tire & Rubber, Upjohn Drugs, Montgomery Ward, John Hancock, Connecticut Mutual Life, Aetna Life and Casualty, U. S. General Accounting and I.B.M.

Also representatives from various Boards of Education will conduct interviews for prospective teachers.

The interviews are opened not only to present students but to alumni of the college. A complete listing of dates may be secured from the college.
