Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

The frightening reality that it can happen here, and right in our own back yard, was manifested during the past week when the nationwide race riots broke loose. We were used to blackout tests during World War II but we really weren't scared being so far distant from the scene of activity. This week though when a curfew was slapped on the Town Monday night, without any warning, folks really got scared and I mean the streets were literally empty. Even cars disappeared from the streets and we wonder where all of a sudden so many car owners found parking space elsewhere. There wasn't even a single car parked on the Square for hours Monday night and a drive up and down the street gave one an eerie feeling that he was being watched. Window shades were tightly drawn and one wondered if actually there was a war going on or some vicious criminals at large. The silence in itself was actually frightening. Thank goodness though there wasn't one single incident of violence either in Thurmont or Emmitsburg. Once again we were thankful to be living in a small town. After watching the outbursts of violence, looting, burning and even killing on our television sets, our thoughts turned to how nice it was to be living in little old Emmitsburg. At this writing things appear to be calming down and cities are returning to normalcy once again and we hope we have learned a concrete lesson that first class citizenry is for all... not just a chosen lot. Rev. King's assassination was a dastardly thing, just as was our several other Presidents, and we sincerely hope the assassin is brought to justice and made pay for the horrible deed he perpetrated. Because of his deed about 30 other people died in the riots and the damage is in the untold millions of dollars. Naturally we'll all have to pay for this damage, either in the form of relief, unemployment, higher insurance premiums and taxes or in some other indirect manner. Violence cannot and will not be tolerated in this country by any group, religious, racial or political. Anyway, we pray to God our lesson has been well taken and that we can look forward to a brighter future.

Washington and the country is buzzing these days about the current peace feelers and there is quite a bit of hope that a negotiated peace can be managed. We're dealing with a tricky foe though, and it will be some time before we can ascertain whether or not we are on the right trail to peace. It could be just a stall to give the Viet Cong time to build up their strength and then again it could be a genuine gesture for peace. We'll have to keep our guard up and at the same time make every effort to ferret out the intentions of the enemy. But I must say, the present trend is an encouraging one and as long as we can talk over the situation we won't be having our youth slaughtered. It'll probably wind up another Korea but at least the killing was stopped there.

Election time is drawing nearer folks and the deadline for filing for office, or registering to vote in the Town Election is next Friday. There are three offices to be filled and to date we have four candidates for Commissioner. Word has it that there will be more but I guess we'll have to wait until the last minute to learn who they will be.

Teachers Get Pay Raise; Pool Discussed

By a margin of four to three, the Board of Education approved the teacher salary scale which will give a first-year teacher in the system $6,150 a year.

This is an increase of $300 over last year's figure of $5,850, but is $50 short of the $6,200 figure that the FCTA requested.

Chris T. Mathews, Dr. Harold Schaden and Neil Jenkins were the three negative votes on the teachers salary scale.

In other action on the budget, the Board approved separation pay for teachers, administrators' salary schedule, and the 12-month work scale that were part of the FCTA proposals included in the school budget for this year.

Before the Board broke for a ten-minute break it approved that the Superintendent of Schools would receive a salary of $23,500 and the assistant superintendent of schools' salary would be $19,200.

The Board discussed with officials of Thurmont a possible joint venture with the school system of building a swimming pool at Catocin High School.

The School Board had planned to have a swimming pool at the high school but found that funds for building it were not forthcoming to complete it this year.

It was felt, however, since the city officials were contemplating building a civic swimming center, it might be feasible to join forces in a joint effort.

In incomplete swimming facilities the school system already consisted of a shell of a swimming pool and a water storage supply which could maintain it. The town of Thurmont could join with the school system in constructing a finished pool with control and financing of it being shared equally by the two.

It was agreed between the officials of Thurmont and the school board that a deeper investigation of the financing should be made and then another meeting between the two could be established before any definite commitment could be made.

In other action before the board, a new principal was appointed to head up the teaching and administrative staff at the new Catocin High School which will open in September 1968.

The new principal will be Howard Goodrich who is currently serving as supervisor of English and Foreign Languages.

He was heartily recommended by Superintendent of Schools, Dr. Carnochan, and was approved unanimously by the Board for the appointment.

Senior Citizens To Hear Guest Speaker

The regular monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens Club of Emmitsburg will be held Tuesday, April 16, at 7:30 p.m. at the Center. The program will be a lecture by Mr. Michael Lindner of Cumberland, Md., who will speak on the topic, "Seniors in Action." It is hoped that there will be a fine number of members and friends in attendance to hear how Senior Citizens may continue being an active part of society.

The refreshment committee consists of Mrs. Joseph Eyer, Mrs. John Delauter, and Mrs. Andrew Eyster.

A knitting class will soon be organized at the Center in charge of Mrs. Frances Keller. All those interested of either sex are urged to come to learn plain and fancy knitting. Watch for the opening time and date.

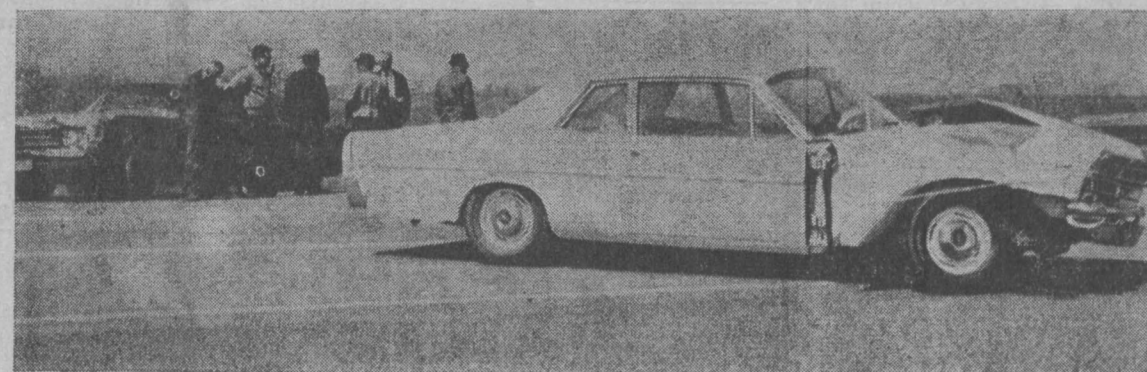

The regular May 21 meeting will be a musical evening with Father Shaun and his Glee Club, presenting the program. There will be soloists as well as group numbers. Come and enjoy an evening of music.

Another item of good news has been reported with relationship to the Senior Citizens Club members. Mrs. Genevieve Clements has consented to set up a Sewing Class at the Center in the near future. Time and date will be announced as soon as it has been set up. Anyone wishing instructions in sewing is cordially invited to come to the Center.

Progress would be faster if people could go forward on excuses.

Wise people know how to save time by not being in a hurry.

Police Cruiser Heavily Damaged In Saturday Wreck

Police Chief W. E. Law was slightly injured when his vehicle was involved in a mishap Saturday morning at 11 o'clock just a few hundred feet past the intersection of Routes 15 and 97 east of town.

Damage to the two cars involved was estimated in the neighborhood of $1,800.

Chief Law was treated at the Warner Hospital for a fracture of the left index finger, while three passengers in a car operated by Lawrence Albert Rodecker, Geneva R3, N. Y., were treated by an Emmitsburg physician. The three New Yorkers injured were Mrs. Betty Rodecker and Mr. and Mrs. Wuertenberger. Maryland State Police said the three reportedly suffered scratches and bruises of the body.

The accident occurred, according to state police, when Chief Law traveling north on Route 15, attempted a U-turn across the highway and turned into the path and was struck broadside in the southbound lane by the Rodecker car traveling south.

Damage was estimated at $1,400 to the right side of Law's police cruiser and $400 to the front of the Rodecker vehicle.

EASTER EGG HUNT SUNDAY

The annual Easter Egg Hunt, sponsored by Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will take place this Sunday afternoon, weather permitting. Commander William L. Topper says the hunt will be held at Community Field as usual, and that children will be divided into age groups in an effort to give all an equal opportunity to find their share.

Bernard J. Ott, Jr., general chairman of the affair, says the members of his committee met late this week and colored and colored 100 dozens of eggs and that all is in readiness for the big day, Sunday. The events will get under way promptly at two o'clock and many of the eggs will have special markings which means that those finding these special eggs will be entitled to a monetary reward provided they show them to the committee in charge following the hunt.

The event is usually well attended and approximately 500 children from this area will participate. Should inclement weather prevail, the hunt will be held Monday afternoon at the same time.

Thurmont Doctor Dies In Wreck

Dr. Thomas A. Love, 35, Thurmont R2, a prominent Thurmont physician, was fatally injured when his compact car skidded on a wet road and crashed into a concrete bridge abutment on Route 77, a mile west of Rocky Ridge about 6 p.m. Thursday, April 4.

Dr. Robert J. Thomas, deputy medical examiner pronounced Dr. Love dead on arrival at the Frederick Memorial Hospital. Dr. Thomas said the cause of death was a fractured skull.

Maryland State Police said the accident occurred when Dr. Love lost control of his vehicle on a wet highway while traveling east toward Rocky Ridge.

Dr. Love, a native of Baltimore, moved to the Thurmont area about 10 years ago and had been the only active medical doctor in that area.

He is survived by his wife, Ann Bernside Love, and four children, Richard, Steven, Robert and Susan, all at home. In addition, he is survived by his parents, Dr. and Mrs. Love, of Port Charlotte, Florida.

Dr. Love was a graduate of the University of Maryland and its medical school.

Funeral services were held Saturday at 4 p.m. from the Creager Funeral Home, Thurmont, with Dr. Love's pastor, the Rev. Ralph Harper, rector of St. James Episcopal Church, Monkton, Md., officiating. A private interment service followed.

MRS. J. S. FLORENCE

Mrs. Carrie V. Florence, 83, widow of Jacob S. Florence, Waynesboro R4, died at 8:45 a.m. Thursday, April 4, at the Guilford Convalesarium, Fayetteville.

She was born at Rouzerville, December 18, 1884, the daughter of the late Jacob and Susan (Byers) Sites.

Mr. Florence died in March, 1953.

She is survived by these children: Mrs. Hubert Fitz and John J. Florence, both of Waynesboro R4; and Mrs. Frank Slauson, West Palm Beach, Fla. Also surviving are seven grandchildren and a sister, Mrs. Ida Sanders, Emmitsburg.

The funeral services were held Sunday at 2 p.m. from the Grove Funeral Home, Waynesboro, in charge of the Rev. Dr. Bruce McDonald. Burial was in Harbaugh Cemetery.

The surest sign of intelligence is often an "I don't know" answer.

Relates History Of Clairvaux

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Clairvaux—Chapter II

What do we really know of that intrepid band of Trappist Monks who visited in infant America in late 1802 that might lead us toward a solution of The Mystery of Clairvaux?

First, their leader was Abbot Guillet.

Second, we know that they remained in this country for about 10 years and that these years were divided generally as follows:

a. Three years at McSherrystown (Pigeon Hill).

b. Three years in Kentucky, with a house near Bardstown and a second house on Casey Creek.

c. Three years at Monk's Mound, Illinois, during which period they also maintained a place on the west bank of the Mississippi above St. Louis at Florissant.

d. The remaining months of their residence in America is readily accounted for by their travels and in temporary abodes at Pittsburgh, somewhere in Maryland, and in New York City (on the present site of St. Patrick's Cathedral).

These known facts raise questions: For instance, if at all times, after learning Pigeon Hill, the monks maintained multiple communities are we certain that they did not, while at Pigeon Hill, maintain a second ancillary house at some other location? Perhaps at Clairvaux? Bear in mind that this would have brought them to Emmitsburg as early as 1802-3 where they might well have remained right up until DuBois' coming! Their history at Monks Mound, in Kentucky, and in Missouri, attests that they were builders. What did they build in E-burg which may yet remain? Even as I ask this question my mind flashes to Mother Seton's old stone house which is so clearly of French architecture and construction and entirely out of character with every other contemporary English stone house in Toms Creek Hundred.

What else do we really know that may be helpful to develop in future chapters? Some further tantalizing facts we know are these:

a. That upon their arrival in Baltimore the monks immediately became the guests of the Sulpician order, located today and then, on Paca Street.

b. We know, positively, that when they left Baltimore and journeyed to Pigeon Hill, they continued at the second location as guests of the Sulpicians; on a farm that belonged to James Herrot, a Frenchman, who had determined to return to France and who had left possession of his farm to his countrymen in Baltimore. Later in history this same James Herrott turns up a Father James Herrott, a Trustee of Mt. St. Mary's. Ah, sweet mystery!

c. I do not know who made property available to the Monks while in Kentucky but I would refuse to believe that Father Flaget, in 1808 Bishop Flaget of Bardstown, Kentucky—a Sulpician, was not helpful!

d. In 1909 the monks finally located themselves at historic Monks Mound. But they were so poor! How did they purchase their 400 acres of land? The fact is that they never purchased any land but that land was made available to them by Nicholas Jarrot, a wealthy Frenchman who had come to the Indiana territory in 1795 "after having served as a steward for the Sulpicians in Baltimore!"

Come, come now, I am supposed to believe that the monks never set foot on our Clairvaux

Mayor Baker Expresses Thanks For Cooperation

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

I would appreciate the use of space in your paper this week to express my feelings to the local citizenry regarding the difficult week just passed.

A certain amount of anxiety and concern has touched each one of us to say the least. It was necessary at times to call on different people to assist in one way or another and I want the people of Emmitsburg and the surrounding area to know that I was both pleased and deeply appreciative of the way they responded in the public interest. I am convinced that the cooperation demonstrated at this time was not out of fright or fear of intimidation but was rendered in the interest of each other's fellow man and his welfare.

It has been a difficult time but one of which every citizen of the Emmitsburg community has every right to be proud.

Sincerely and gratefully

Guy A. Baker, Jr.

At 4:00 on Easter Sunday afternoon, a third service for the shut-ins and others unable to attend the earlier services, will be held. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will also be administered at this service.

Mount Forming Education Society

Prof. Gerald C. Orosz, chairman of the Education Dept. of Mt. St. Mary's College has announced the formation of an Education Society on the Mount campus.

Mr. Orosz stated the group will affiliate with the national teacher organizations. The purpose of the society will be to expose the students directly to the opportunities and problems of their planned teaching careers by the development of a curriculum research center, contacts with area teachers and administrators, seminars, lectures, and workshops. These efforts are in addition to their course work and professional training.

Bad advice is no excuse for your mistakes; no one can force you to accept advice.

Four Enter Race For Town Commissioner

What appeared to be an apathetic Town Election this week turned out to be a red hot race when two incumbent Town Commissioners filed for re-election.

Latest to enter into the competition are Quinn F. Topper and Samuel C. Hays, both now serving on the Council. Last week J. Norman Flax and Thomas Bollinger filed for the office.

Town Clerk Yonnie Baker reported late this week that over 700 qualified voters had registered on the Town books, the highest on record. The large number of registrations is indicative of the interest being generated.

The deadline for filing for office is Friday, April 19. This deadline also is applicable to those who wish to register and vote in the Town Election which will be held on Tuesday, April 30.

To be elected this year are two Commissioners, for which there are four announced candidates. At the present writing no one has filed for the office of Mayor which is now held by Guy A. Baker, Jr. Mayor Baker has announced that he will not seek re-election.

PAULA ANNAN LYONS

Word has been received of the sudden death of Paula Annan Lyons, Baltimore, on April 8. Mrs. Lyons was the widow of the late Charles C. Lyons.

The deceased is survived by a sister, Mrs. James W. Bennett, Redlands, Calif.; three brothers, Edgar L. Annan, Jr., Samuel M. Annan and Richard C. Annan.

Private funeral services were held Wednesday at the Newell Funeral Home, Pikesville at 9 a.m. Interment was made in Mountview Cemetery, Emmitsburg.

GREGORY A. SITES

Gregory Allen Sites, infant son of Stuart J. Sites Jr., and Martha Baumgardner Sites, Gettysburg, was stillborn Monday morning at 10:53 o'clock at the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg.

Graveside services were held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Mary's Catholic Cemetery at Fairfield with the Rev. Fr. Daniel Mahoney officiating.

Surviving in addition to the parents are these grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Stuart Sites, Fairfield; Mr. and Mrs. John L. Baumgardner, Emmitsburg R2, and a great-grandfather, James Eck, Fairfield. The Wilson Funeral Home, Fairfield, was in charge of arrangements.

Milton A. Sewell New President Of Lions Club

Other officers elected were: first vice president, Charles F. Troxell; second vice president, J. Ralph McDonnell; third vice president, Floyd L. Lewis; secretary, Eugene Sappington; treasurer, Ralph L. Tabler; Liantamer, William R. Slemmer; taitwister, Francis S. K. Matthews; director, William H. Kelz.

Principal speaker of the evening was Robert Hammond, manager of the Frederick County Chamber of Commerce who gave a highly interesting account of the action taken by his organization to obtain industry for the county which would not only benefit Frederick but the entire county.

Also speaking before the group was J. Norman Flax, co-chairman of the recreational committee of the Emmitsburg Chamber of Commerce. Mr. Flax reported on the progress of his committee and organization's attempt to build a recreational area for Emmitsburg and to obtain financial pledges from groups and citizens to get the project under way.

One pair of eyeglasses for a local indigent youth was authorized by the group.

Thurmont Plans Speeder Crack-Down

Thurmont officials are considering the purchase of a one man radar unit to reduce hot-rodding through the town.

James Black, Thurmont Police commissioner, told the mayor and town council that juvenile activity in the town is on the increase. A radar unit could be installed in the town's police car in an effort to slow down the youthful drivers.

Relates History

Of Clairvaux

which the Sulpicians had a lock on since as early as 1803-4?
In Frederick, in Will Book R.B. #1 at page 445, poorly indexed under the name Brodley, your readers will find a will, dated in 1813, missing now for a hundred years, of one William Bradley, of the Town of Emmitsburg. This exciting discovery reads in part as follows:

"In the name of God, Amen. I William Bradley . . . My will is that after her death (his wife) my said executor (James McSherry) hereafter named is to pay unto Rev. Urban Gillet (sic), Superior of the Order of La Trap, or his successor or superior of the order, providing they have made an establishment which may be permanent for the instruction of youth agreeable to the order, the sum of $2,000.00 . . .

Mr. Bradley further provided $5,000 for Fr. DuBois, superior of the Mount and of St. Joseph—half to each institution—and a small bequest to the aged Father Duhummel, pastor in Emmitsburg.
It is clear to me that Mr. Bradley remembered only local charities, viz., the Church in Town; the Sisters at St. Joseph; the priests at the Mount; and the monks at the Monastery of Our Lady of Clairvaux!

Patrick F. X. McGucken

P.S. — Come ye sons of the Mount! Who among you students shall stand mighty vigil at this old place until such time . . . a few more weeks . . . a few more months . . . as I can demonstrate that it is the very birthplace of your renowned Alma Mater.

Unless you shall come forward, vandals . . . already at work . . . may fill the vacuum of your unconcern!

P.S. No. 2—Of it is true that the Mountain labored and brought forth only a mouse?

New Track Record Set By Mounties

A new school record by Bill Johnson and a triple victory by Tom Newberger paced Mt. St. Mary's track team to a one-sided 108-38 victory over Shippensburg

State College, Tuesday afternoon on the loser's cinders.

Johnson clipped through the 220 in the record time of 21.5 seconds after doing a 9.9 in the 100-yard dash. The 220 was run on the straightaway and not a curve. Newberger, who has been injured for the past several weeks, made an explosive re-entree onto the scene. He won the 120-high hurdles in 15.1 seconds, the long jump with a leap of 22'8" and the triple jump with a 44'1" recording.

The Mount won all but two events and swept the pole vault, mile, two mile, 100 and 220-yard dashes.

Dale Kelz Wins Full Scholarship

Dale W. Kelz, R2, Emmitsburg, a senior at St. Joseph's High School, has been awarded a full tuitional scholarship at Mount St. Mary's College.

The award is valued at approximately $1200.00 per year and is renewable. The award was made on the basis of scholarship and financial need.

Kelz, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Kelz, has registered for the Social Science course.

Lutheran Women Plan Easter Activity

The Lutheran Church Women of Elias Lutheran Church held their meeting recently in the Parish House with Mrs. Donald Eyer and Mrs. James Small representing the Lenten meditation for the group. "The Emmaus Walk," was used to illustrate the path Jesus used prior to His Crucifixion. The leaders introduced "The Emmaus Walk" by using portions of Scripture which foretells the Easter event and then presented "First Steps on the Way", "When the Stranger Came," and "The Returning," as special emphasis to aid in the study of Christ's last days.

The meeting was conducted by Mrs. James Small who announced plans for the Good Friday Prayer Vigil to be held at Incarnation United Church of Christ, and the Sunrise Service to be held on Easter Sunday at 6:00 which will be followed by a breakfast to be hosted by the Lutheran Church Women.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Helen McNair and Mrs. Esta Miller to the LCW members and their guests. A green and white color scheme was used to serve as a focal point for the refreshment table.

The April meeting is scheduled for Tuesday, April 16 at 7:30. Guest speaker for the meeting will be the Reverend J. Leon Haines of Baltimore. Pastor Haines has just been named to a second five-year term as Assistant to the President of the Maryland Synod of the Lutheran Church in America. He will be accompanied by his wife, Mrs. Angeline Haines, who has served in many positions in the Maryland Lutheran Church Women. During their visit on Tuesday evening, they will give an illustrated talk, "The Acts of Synod" which will be accompanied by a set of colored slides. A question and answer session will follow their presentation.

Builder Sues

Delbert Piper, trading as Del-Mar Builders, Abbottstown R1, has started an action in assumption in Adams County court against Stanley J. and Maggie L. Rogan, Frederick, over payment for work performed and materials supplied in the prothonotary's office by Attorney Ronald Hagarman to.

Piper, Mr. and Mrs. Rogan hired him to construct a "Ridge Home Model Broadwood Special" house at Lake Heritage last year. The work began June 22. On August 7, through their attorney, the Rogans directed Piper to stop work for a house at Lake Heritage.

According to the papers filed he said the last materials were placed on the site on August 1.

He alleges that he has been unable to come to agreement with the Rogans on the amount he should be paid for labor and materials and asks the court to award him $8,073.81, as representing his outlay for work and materials.

Visits Research Center

Several area feed dealers and their farmer customers were among 300 agricultural leaders who were recent guests of Allied Mills when they toured the Wayne Research Center in Libertyville, Ill., to learn of new profit opportunities in animal agriculture. Included among the group was Robert R. Saylor, Wayne dealer of Rocky Ridge, Md.

OFFICIALLY, THERE NEVER WAS A 1913 LIBERTY HEAD NICKEL. BUT THERE'S AT LEAST ONE IN EXISTENCE—WITH A $46,000 PRICE TAG ON IT. TERMED A "FORGERY OF THE U.S. MINT," ITS PRODUCTION IS STILL A MYSTERY. A GIFT FOR THE FUTURE!

Schools, tools and independence—these are gifts which can wipe out the misery of the past, and affect the course of the future.

Self-help programs set up by Catholic Relief Services encourage active participation by the needy in all levels of development—from the planning stages and execution, to an evaluation of accomplishments.

In India, a woman learns to repair her cooking utensils, while her child learns to read and write. In Dahomey, the tool bank set up by CRS allows these men to make an "investment" in the future by building homes.

The list of achievements of the self-help programs includes rural extension courses, organizing credit unions and consumers' and marketing cooperatives; supplying irrigation and purified water supplies, providing low-income housing, constructing secondary roads; building sanitary facilities, drains and sewers.

"Black Liberation Army"

Organizing

Guerrilla warfare, waged in the cities and throughout the countryside of America by highly trained and well-armed units of a "Black Liberation Army," is the plan of the Revolutionary Action Movement (RAM), whose "Chairman in Exile," Robert Franklin Williams, Negro fugitive from the FBI who now is in Communist China, hopes to see carried out in the near future. When Police learned of an alleged RAM plot to start a riot in Philadelphia and then kill off the police by poisoning coffee at emergency "Soup Kitchens," they raided RAM's Philadelphia headquarters.

Probably the most important of many disturbing "finds" in the headquarters was the mimeographed secret Black Guard Organizers Manual. We have secured a photo-stat copy. It is in effect a blue print for the organization of the "Black Liberation Army" along lines laid down by Williams in recent months in his "News Letter" from Peking, China. The Williams monthly "Letter"—published under a masthead showing Negroes armed with machine guns and entitled, The Crusader—is banned by the U. S. Post Office but is smuggled into America in the thousands, through Canada. Through our confidential contacts, we have been receiving the Williams "Letter" regularly.

Units Widespread

RAM or allied units of a "Black Power" revolutionary force are reported by entirely reliable sources to be in active "training" today in every major city in America. Our information indicates they are working in coordination, or at least cooperatively, with Black Muslim units, SNCC, and other radical organizations attracted to the banners of such fire-brand revolutionaries as Stokely Carmichael and H. Rap Brown. RAM units were identified, in published reports, as active in many of last summer's race riots and mob attacks on police and firemen.

The Black Guard Organizers Manual gives explicit and voluminous instructions for the recruiting and organizing, and for the setting up of secret classes in basic and paramilitary training for a "Black Guard" army of "elite guerrilla fighters." Serving As "Vanguard"

The RAM manual says the "Black Guard," now extending its units into Negro communities in every city and town, is serving as the "vanguard" (precisely as the international Communist tacticians have planned for 30 years) for "the revolution of the Black masses." The manual says the "Black Guard" is the "forerunner of a Black Liberation Army" to seize control of the United States. It speaks of destroying "Whitey" and "visiting" the "Toms" (moderate Negroes who do not cooperate with the revolutionists).

The authority and discipline of this revolutionary force runs up the ranks from the five-man block unit, to the 10-man squad, the 20-member platoon, 60-member section, 120-member a company, the City Council of 300, County Council of still greater size, the State Council whose members number in the tens of thousands (in some states) the Regional Council, the National Council, and the "Soul" Council Members are trained guerrilla fighters; trained, according to the manual, in karate, para-military tactics and strategy; they are given political orientation identical to Communist textbooks such as Che Guevarra's book on guerrilla warfare.

Leader: "Brother Rob"

The unquestioned dictatorial power over this sprawling revolutionary force rests in the hands of a secret "Soul Council." It is secret except for the top Commissar, and that top Commissar, according to the Black Guard Organizers Manual, is "Brother Rob"—Robert F. Williams. The RAM manual, in every respect, bears the unmistakable stamp and imprint of World Communism. The Character of the swiftly-forming "army" of Black revolutionaries is given definition in this paragraph from the manual:

"The organizer should have knowledge of all the gangs in his area or section. Where they are at, how many brothers are in them, who is the leader and who are the most influential brothers in the gangs... Consolidate their forces... Give them Black Guard literature and stress the need and importance of a 'Liberation Army'. These brothers may be reached in pool rooms, bars, parties, jails and barber shops... Each Black Guard unit has five men trained in the five basic areas of guerrilla warfare; therefore, each Black Guard unit is a Liberation Army within itself."

For as a man thinketh... so is he.—(Prov. 23:7)

What we think habitually has an effect on our life and accomplishment. If we look at our life and do not see the results we desire, let us look to our thinking; let us examine our habits of thought. If our thoughts need to be more positive and constructive, we can change the pattern of our thinking, thought by thought; we can form the habit of sound and true thinking. The place to begin is right where we are, with the things or situations we are meeting right now.

Can We Be Modern and CHRISTIAN, TOO?

To some people nowadays, the Christian way of life is naive, old-fashioned, "square."

As if the teachings of Jesus Christ had ceased to be pertinent to this sophisticated age.

A radio commentator, in fact, said recently that in another 50 years mankind will seek answers to man's questions of being from science rather than religion.

This may seem to make sense to an era plagued by war, dishonesty, social injustice, "hippies," LSD, divorce, pornography and an exaggerated preoccupation with matters of sex.

But—does it?

Christ did not sacrifice His life for the salvation of one generation and not another. Nor did He promulgate a way of life that would be relevant to the needs of one period of time and not to others. His "blue print" for Christian living is founded on divine and enduring principles, not upon the changing mores and deviations of a particular time in history.

Living the Christian life in the modern world may be different than it was in earlier and less turbulent times. But the vital need of doing so has not diminished if we are to find meaning and purpose in this life and eternal salvation in the next.

If you feel truly concerned about these things, we invite you to send for our new pocket-size pamphlet entitled "Christian Life and The Modern World." It covers in easy-to-read style such topics as "What Is a Christian?"... "The Modern World"... "The Christian's Involvement in The World"... "Christ and The Christian"... "The Christian—Old-Fashioned or Up to Date?"... "The Ecumenical Christian"... "The Christian and The Bible" and "The Christian Goes to Church."

The Valley Transit Mix, Inc., furnishes a complete service of high quality ready mixed concrete for building construction. They are prepared to supply out-of-town orders for contractors, real estate men, subdividers and home builders on short notice. Valley Transit Mix has a fleet of modern trucks equipped with 2-way radios for transporting and mixing concrete in any quantity desired. This is a real convenience in building as it eliminates delay and assures a high quality, hard setting concrete.

No matter whether you have a large or small amount of concrete work to be done, you will find it more convenient and far, far more economical to use the service of Valley Transit Mix, Inc. instead of buying sand, gravel and cement and then hiring a mixer and paying the labor costs.

We, in this 1968 City and Suburban Review, wish to say that the Valley Transit Mix, Inc. is a credit to this area as its service in the construction field has proven an essential factor in the growth of this section. To phone for information of any nature on concrete, from either Waynesboro or Blue Ridge Summit, dial operator and ask for Enterprise 19186, there is no charge.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

By Louise Chase
Women's Medical News Service

Season Of Conception Affects Offspring

NEW YORK—A baby conceived between July and September will weigh more at birth, on the average, than babies conceived at other times. Fewer miscarriages occur when pregnancy begins during those months. Women tend to seek prenatal care later in their pregnancies when conception occurs between April and June and during October.

These are some of the findings of a three-year study of more than half a million pregnancies made by the New York City Department of Health. As Carl L. Erhardt, Sc.D., principal investigator of the research team that made the study, told Women's Medical News Service, "We may soon be able to vary the old rhyme about 'Monday's child being fair of face, and Tuesday's full of grace,' with 'Summer's child born more plump, etc.'" Dr. Erhardt noted that external environment seems to play a role in the variations found in the study.

Better Maternal Diet

The higher birthweight of babies conceived during the summer months might be due, at least in part, Dr. Erhardt observed, to the fact that women are better nourished in the summer than in the winter. They eat more vegetables and fruits, probably get outdoors more than they do at other seasons, and may even get more exercise than they do during the winter months when there is a tendency to sit indoors more to avoid the cold.

Fruitful Postponement

Emphasizing the importance of prompt prenatal care to both mother and child, Dr. Erhardt noted that the reasons for postponement at certain seasons are not so hard to pinpoint. For many women, April-June period coincides with plans for family vacations and with the school year drawing to a close. Mama may just be too busy—and feel too good in the summertime—to 'bother' about going to the doctor. Similarly, October heralds the Thanksgiving-Christmas season—and mothers may feel too pressed to take time out for prenatal care. "In the opinion of my medical colleagues, anything that interferes with prompt prenatal care is incurring unnecessary risks both to the mother and baby," Dr. Erhardt commented. He pointed out that education and financial resources play a role in how soon women seek such care. Between 50 and 60 per cent of private patients start care during the first three months of pregnancy compared to under 10 per cent of women on the ward service. Nine out of ten private patients are getting prenatal care by the sixth month of pregnancy compared to between half and three-fifths of the women needing subsidized care.

Apparently under the mistaken impression that practice makes perfect, a substantial number of women, both poor and middle class, tend to postpone prenatal care after they have had several children. "This is folly," Dr. Erhardt commented, "since a woman is most at risk after she has had more than four or five children."

Conception Peak

For reasons not understood, the peak of conception is November, and the seasonal peak is from September through January. Equally mysterious is why out-of-wedlock pregnancies are more likely to occur later rather than early in the year.

"As we begin to understand why certain seasons of conception are likely to produce healthier babies, medical science may be able to apply the highly effective tools of contraception now available—the pills and I.U.D.—to achieve the objective of giving every child the optimum start in life," Dr. Erhardt concluded.

CATFISH PREFER MUD

If a man could pick exactly the right time to go catfishing, he'd say, "Give me a rising river and plenty of mud."

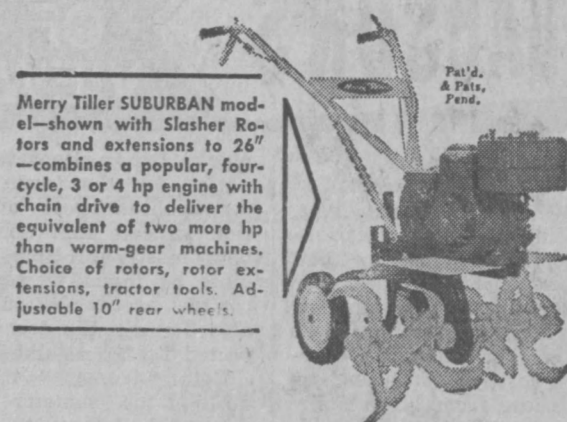

For some reason, known only to the cats themselves, catfish go on a feeding binge whenever rains upstream swell the rivers and cloud the waters with a curtain of mud. Take advantage of this phenomenon, say the fishing experts at Mercury outboards, and take home a mess of the sweetest-tasting fish ever to grace a platter.

Catfish apparently sense the abundance of food washed into the river during periods of rising waters. They hurry to gorge themselves before these extra rations disappear. During the process, they gobble anything that appears edible... plus a few other delicacies that would be difficult for anything but a catfish to digest.

Muddy waters encourage cats to leave their deep hidden dens and invade the shoals. This means that most anywhere you set out a line you'll find fish. As the currents speed up, strikes are swift and sure, and you'll find bait stolen less often.

If waters reach a near-flood stage, all aquatic life moves into protected spots such as small tributaries. These areas become packed with crayfish, insects, minnows and various other forms of food, and game fish naturally follow.

So look for the telltale signs that forecast good catfishing... rising, muddy waters. You'll be well rewarded.

BABSON'S

POINT OF VIEW

Importance Of Summer Placement For Teenagers

BABSON PARK, Mass., Apr. 11—Finding jobs for vacationing students will be a more significant problem than ever during the forthcoming summer season. Many youngsters will need money to meet the ever-mounting costs of education, especially those from large families and/or with limited means. Then, too, it is vitally important to keep teenage idleness at a minimum during the hot summer months when urban violence is so easily sparked.

Youthful Labor Force On The Increase

The sudden and dynamic expansion of the labor force when schools and colleges close down for the summer is nothing new. It has always presented difficulties. But the summer of 1968 promises perplexities well beyond the usual. In the first place, Labor Department statistics for the twenty largest metropolitan areas of the nation indicate that some 2,555,000 mostly full-time positions must be found if work opportunities are to be made available for all the teenagers expected to be seeking jobs.

Total teenage employment during the summer of 1967 amounted to only 2,125,000. While the increase of 430,000 anticipated for this year's vacation season may not at first glance appear excessive, it will still take effort of private industry and of government agencies to absorb this additional labor reservoir. During recent years, both private and public employers have put on impressive campaigns to place young people in summer jobs with the smallest amount of delay and confusion. Vice President Humphrey has spearheaded these campaigns, and he will strive for even greater success this year.

Focus Of Trouble In The Cities

While the question of finding summer employment is general throughout the country, the problem in urban centers is always particularly difficult. . . there are just too many youngsters for the number of job openings. That is why special co-operation is essential among all concerned during the critical time of transition from spring into summer. Companies anxious to help by providing all possible full-time employment for the vacation period can find many sources of encouragement. In most areas the boards of trade and chambers of commerce are actively working to achieve maximum placement. Federal and state labor and employment security divisions will be ready to aid both in lining up openings and in channeling available boys and girls into them. Service clubs — such as Kiwanis, Lions, etc. — are working with business and industry to promote the fullest possible summer employment of young job seekers. Neighborhood groups are another important force where population is especially localized, frequently spurring retail and service outlets to expand their staffs for the summer.

Permanent Employees May Be Found

With the basic labor shortage still acute, especially in lines demanding high skill and adaptability, astute employers will be on the lookout for temporary youthful workers who might become valuable permanent workers. Personnel officials would therefore do well to observe their summer jobbers and their capabilities with exceptional care, even if the youths still have another year or more of education to complete. A great many concerns have found it rewarding to offer unusually gifted youngsters part-time employment after they have returned to school. On-the-job training and evening classes can develop some extraordinarily loyal and talented employees.

Ambitious youngsters with a keen eye to the future should seek out positions with companies that may be looking for like-ly young job aspirants on a permanent basis. In long run, this will likely contribute far more to their careers than the immediately enticing prospect of "flash" jobs at summer resorts with perhaps ten or twelve weeks of operation at high pay. Wise parents will guide their teenagers in such matters, helping them to plan for their future working lives as early as possible.

Playground equipment consisted almost entirely of slides, merry-go-rounds, monkey bars and swings. They were safe and they were fun—but they did little to spark a child's imagination.

TODAY LOW-COST STEEL PIPE is being used to construct playground equipment with a breathlessly exciting Space Age look. Bend pipe into the shape of a submarine, add children, and the result is a voyage in a nifty nuclear submarine... a safe voyage, too, because steel pipe is strong and free from sharp edges or corners.

WHILE FUTURE ASTRO-

NAUTS make "pretend" trips to the stars, this rocket ship of rugged steel pipe will help build the strong, healthy bodies they will need for the real thing. Securely anchored, the space craft will take many years of this demanding service. Safe and strong, steel pipe works for children while they play.

Hosts Church Women

Mrs. A. D. Fry, of Adamstown, and Chairman of the Frederick District Lutheran Church Women recently hosted the Presidents of the LCW groups in the Frederick District at a Spring luncheon. Attractive floral arrangements were used in profusion throughout as Mrs. Fry welcomed each guest. Mrs. James Small, President of the Lutheran Church Women of Elias Church, represented the local LCW. Plans were made for the Spring Assembly to be held at the Church of the Redeemer in Damascus on Saturday, May 4. A highlight of this Assembly will be the correct and unique floral arrangements for use on Church altars. Each congregation within the Frederick area will prepare an appropriate arrangement to be used on a specific Sunday during the Church year.

Mail patrons offended by pandering advertisements can now take steps to curb such mail. The POD is now planning to administer a new law which gives each family the right to decide that an ad is "erotically arousing or sexually provocative."

When an advertisement sent through the mails is offensive on these grounds, a postal patron can now ask the Post Office to direct the mailer to send no more mail to him and to remove immediately the patron's name from all mailing lists, he owns, controls or rents.

To assist patrons, the Post Office Department has published a brief pamphlet—"How You Can Curb Pandering Advertisements"—which will be available at our office.

In addition to explaining how the law works, the pocket-size leaflet contains a form letter one can use when sending his complaint to the post office.

The pamphlet explains that when a patron receives an advertisement which is, in his opinion, pandering, he must send the ad, its envelope and the form letter, or one which includes its language, to his post office with the words, "Request for prohibitory order" on the face of the envelope.

This new law should give some protection to American families offended by advertisements they believe to be morally harmful, particularly to their children.

"Last year the Post Office Department received some 140,000 complaints from those offended by pandering advertisements. While in most cases the ads were not legally obscene and were therefore mailable, they are often offensive and are usually not the type of material one would want his children to read."

While the patron's complaint will only be directed to the sender, it is believed that one or two complaints will provide substantial protection because, "the great bulk of this advertising comes from fewer than 20 so-called 'smut dealers' who are frequently swapping mailing lists."

If a mailer does not strike a complainant's name from this mailing list, and the patron receives a second mailing 30 days after the firm has received the prohibitory order, he may bring the matter to the attention of the postmaster issuing the initial order by writing him and enclosing the second pandering ad with its envelope. If the mailer still fails to respect the order, the Postmaster General may ask the Attorney General to apply for a Federal Court order directing compliance. Failure to observe the order may be punishable by a fine or imprisonment.

Additional beautification was added to our Post Office this week, as Mrs. George F. Rosensteel, beautification chairman of the Chamber of Commerce, planted flowers in the planter, originally donated and erected by the Chamber.

Happy Easter to all our patrons from all of us here at the Post Office.

George E. Rosensteel, P.M.

SPORTS AFIELD

By Ted Kesting

The average citizen, leaving for work and pondering whether to take his raincoat, will probably check the weather forecast in his newspaper or on his local radio station. For the sportsman going afield, however, such weather sources are so far short of adequate that relying on them can be dangerous.

What's needed, what any outdoor man should make it his business to do (and what everyone heading into big water in a boat should do without fail), is simple: Get closer to the weatherman. Get the whole weather picture as soon as it's drawn up, and keep in touch with the way it is changing.

An excellent way to do this is by tuning in to the Transcribed Aviation Weather Broadcasts—transmitted around the clock from each of 76 cities, nationwide. Each broadcast, which totals four or five minutes, is divided between station reports and a weather synopsis and forecast.

The reports from the stations give detailed weather conditions at specific points in the broadcast area. Each station reports local cloud conditions and height, height of ceiling, visibility, temperature, wind direction and velocity, dew point, precipitation if any and any other noteworthy weather activity. When you compare the data from a dozen and more points throughout the area, an entire regional weather picture emerges.

A weather synopsis immediately follows. It describes what the whole weather system is doing across the coverage area, and it tells you what changes are predicted within the forecast period. Altogether, it gives you extremely detailed weather information. The synopsis locates any frontal systems exactly and tells which way they are moving and how fast, how far they extend, what the weather is like in front of and behind them. Any visibility problems are spelled out. Precipitation activity—snow, sleet, rain—is detailed for location, intensity and predicted duration. A Thunderstorms and areas of icing conditions are located. Cloud patterns and predicted changes are covered. Wind directions and velocities are predicted.

These reports, acknowledges Zack Taylor, Boats Editor of Sports Afield Magazine, are prepared to serve the pilots of small aircraft. But the weather information that a sportsman needs is similar. Fish and game are sensitive to the changes in barometric pressure produced by fronts passing through an area. And you yourself, of course, can expect steady conditions under a stationary "high" or prepare for variable weather if you know a front is headed your way.

The aviation weather broadcasts are made in the same frequency range (150 to 420kc) as radio directional beacons. Thus any radio direction finder will receive the aviation weather. And at least one company makes a small, modestly priced transistor receiver that includes the weather band.

Two Women
Hurt In Wreck

Two drivers suffered slight injuries when their cars were involved in a two-car collision at the intersection of Routes 15 and 76, near St. Anthony's, about 6:07 p.m. Thursday, April 4. Injured were the operators, Nancy Olenchuk, daughter of Col. and Mrs. Olenchuk, Ft. Detrick, who was taken to the Walter Reed Army Hospital in Washington where she was treated and released, and Mildred Nunemaker, Thurmont R2, who was treated by an Emmitsburg physician. Both drivers were removed for treatment by the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance.

State police said the accident occurred when the brakes on the Nunemaker car apparently failed while she was traveling west on Route 76. Unable to stop, the Nunemaker car went through the intersection where it struck the Olenchuk vehicle, headed north on Route 15. No damage estimates were available.

Trout Stocked;

Season Opens Apr. 15

Maryland anglers will find a total of 59,000 adult trout stocked in Free State waters when the season opens April 15, Director George B. Shields of the Maryland Department of Game and Inland Fish announced this week.

A complete list of the number and species of trout to be released in streams, lakes and ponds open to public fishing was issued by the Division of Game and Fish Management. The total includes 28,700 brook trout, 10,500 brown trout and 110,800 rainbow trout.

Thout will be liberated in all these waters several times after the season opens.

A total of 150,000 trout will be stocked for Maryland trout fishermen this season.

There are people ready to exercise control over others without being able to control themselves.

EHS Seniors
Select Play

On April 26 and 27, the Seniors of Emmitsburg High School will present "The Thread That Runs So True," in the high school auditorium. Practices are now well under way and the stage is slowly being transformed into the rural schoolhouse of the Kentucky hills.

Dennis Valentine has taken on the role of Jesse Stuart, student teacher of Lonesome Valley Rural School. Jesse is still in his teens when he takes on the job. Many of his students are older than he and bigger and tougher. There is Gary Manning, who plays the school bully who has spent the last 8 years in the first grade and content to stay there.

John Conway, chairman of the school board, is played by Terry Maddox. He puts up quite a fight against Jesse and his back-woods school. Jesse's good friend, Burt Eastham from the coal mines, played by Tom Houck, is persistent to keep things goin' at ol' Lonesome.

Along with bits of humor comes Linda Davenport as Naomi Deane Norris, Jesse's student sweetheart. Through Jesse's fight and determination, Lonesome Valley School gains the support it needs to continue and grow.

The entire cast hopes that the humor of this play does not overshadow the true meaning of its story. Promise yourself and your family that you'll see "The Thread That Runs So True."
