

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Thrift Still Has Many Champions

BABSON PARK, Mass., May 9—Now that we have so many features of the "welfare state" built into the basic pattern of our economy, one might think that the grand old virtue of thrift would be entirely obsolete. But even social security, unemployment insurance, medicare, and widening pension systems have not been able to smother the pioneer habit of saving. It's still important to the vast majority of citizens. Young People, Too

A study reported last October by the National Association of Bank-Women, 60 E. 42nd St., N. Y. C., is surprising to many of the "older" generation. Despite the widespread view that young men and women are more interested in spending than saving, this study shows that four-fifths of all young people own savings accounts. And the better educated, the higher the percentage of youthful wage earners—especially the married ones—devoted to saving.

Furthermore, the Bank-Women inquired what young workers would do with a sudden "windfall." Here again the reply was contrary to what mothers and fathers of the upcoming generation think of their offspring. Two-thirds of the youthful wage earners would sock any unexpected lump sums into their savings accounts. About a quarter of those queried would pay old bills with any cash stroke of good luck. Less than 15% would run out and spend it!

Saving For What?

But, according to the study, it does make a difference to the young marrieds what they save for. The idea of preparing for a "rainy day" seems to have gone out with the bustle. The youthful wage earners look at life insurance as the way to prepare for the unexpected. Evidently the fear of another depression has been blotted out by the long period of prosperity and by the easy accessibility of welfare if misfortune should strike.

The plain fact seems to be that the young earners save to spend. There may be a special purpose, such as for education or some large-tag item; but the main reasons are to have emergency, or ready cash, funds. Only a tiny few save, however, to buy an auto. Obviously, today's youthful workers and winners view a car as something to be bought "on time." The only cash that goes into a car in most cases is the down payment.

Regular Payments

Often The Key

There are still untold numbers of people who shake the change out of their trousers pockets or their purses at the end of each day, piling up the coins until they have $5, $10, or $15 to add to their bank accounts. And companies encourage the thrifty intentions of their employees in various ways. It is still common for corporations to authorize payroll deductions for the purchase of government savings bonds by their personnel. Also, many firms have stock programs permitting employees to invest 5% or more of their salaries regularly in company stock. In quite a number of cases the companies match the money put up by the workers for this use.

Banks report that Christmas Clubs and other systems encouraging regular monthly or weekly deposits are widely used in connection with savings plans. Perhaps most indicative of the thrift-mindedness of certain household heads is the occurrence now and then of open borrowing to establish a savings account. By way of an installment loan, such funds can be borrowed and then placed in a savings account. The borrower is forced to pay off the loan on a monthly basis, so the nest egg is guaranteed if he lives long enough to complete the transaction. An expensive way to save, maybe . . . but as long as there is a will—whether to redecorate the living room or to own a swimming pool—there evidently will be a way.

Shenandoah

To Have Day Racing

Shenandoah Downs, Charles Town, W. Va., will turn to day racing for a 10-day period beginning May 20, with two double-headers thrown in, General Manager Robert G. Leavitt announced this week.

Shenandoah will take advantage of a lull between Maryland and Delaware tracks to offer eight afternoon programs and twin bills on Saturday, May 25 and on Memorial Day which is Thursday, May 30.

Post time for the afternoon cards will be 1:45.

Shenandoah will return to its regular 7:15 p.m. post time on Friday, May 31.

Opened in 1959 as this area's first night thoroughbred track, Shenandoah has conducted only one afternoon meeting, that in the winter of 1962.

There will be no nighttime racing during the 10-day period except on the doubleheader dates, Leavitt emphasized.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

By Louise Chase Women's Medical News Service

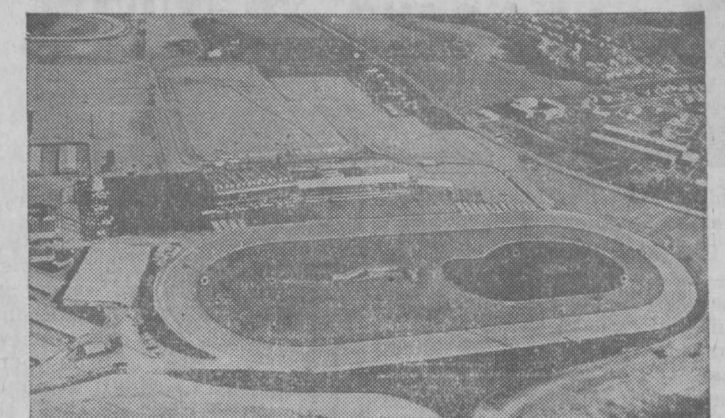

Femininity Intact Following Operation

NEW YORK—Groundless fears are perhaps the most frequent complication of hysterectomy, the operation for removal of the womb that many thousands of women undergo every year. This is what Dr. Arthur V. Greeley, Clinical Associate Professor of Obstetrics and Gynecology at Cornell University Medical College here told Women's Medical News Service. Among the most common fears, Dr. Greeley said, are that women will lose their femininity, will age rapidly, will become less attractive to their husbands, will lose their pleasure in marital relations. All these fears are based on misunderstanding of precisely what a hysterectomy is, the physician noted. He explained that removal of the womb or uterus is usually indicated because fibroid tumors, tough muscular growths, develop in the organ. These can cause discomfort when they press against the bladder or the rectum as well as excessive bleeding. Contrary to what most women believe, these fibroids do not lead to cancer. If they cause no discomfort, Dr. Greeley said, they can remain in the uterus for years with no complications. As a matter of fact, he observed, because removal of the whole uterus includes removal of its neck, the cervix, a possible site of cancer is removed as a result of the operation. In women of child-bearing years, the uterus need not be removed because of fibroids, the gynecologist explained. Instead, only the fibroids themselves can be removed by means of an operation called a myomectomy. Myomectomies can be performed several times if necessary. Hormones Not Involved

Since the uterus does not produce any hormones, its removal will have no effect on the femininity of a woman. "Following a hysterectomy, a woman will look just as bright-eyed as she ever did," the professor observed. "Her figure will remain as shapely, her skin is unwrinkled, her hair as lustrous, her voice as feminine. Her sexual interest will remain as it was before the operation." Contrary to the widely held myth, removal of the uterus does not cause premature menopause. Menopause symptoms, the physician explained, are caused in large measure because of the diminished production of certain hormones. These hormones are not produced by the uterus so its removal has nothing to do with menopause. Husband's Involvement When a husband learns that his wife may need a hysterectomy he may be as full of misapprehensions and fears as his wife, Dr. Greeley said. Therefore it is essential that he be briefed as fully as his spouse. This will not only provide his wife with sensitive understanding and support, but will also relieve his own anxieties.

sometimes a doctor finds a condition that makes a hysterectomy mandatory. In such cases his recommendation should be accepted. Social Security News Within the coming weeks, older people in Frederick County will be receiving a new copy of "Your Medicare Handbook," a new up-to-date guidebook on their Medicare benefits, how the program works, and how payments are made. W. E. Dunn, Officer-in-Charge of the Frederick Office, said the new Handbook highlights the changes enacted in the 1967 social security amendments, improving protection and simplifying Medicare procedures. It has also been made easier for older people to read and understand. In developing the new edition of "Your Medicare Handbook," the SSA sought the suggestions of elderly readers as well as experts in the field of communications and representatives of professional organizations. Delivery of the new red, white, and blue edition to the 19.6 million Americans 65 and over will be cycled over the next six weeks, Dunn said. In an introductory letter on the inside front cover of the new Handbook, Robert M. Ball, Commissioner of Social Security, reminds older people: "If you need further information or want help concerning your Medicare protection or any other social security matters, please get in touch with your social security office. The people there are always glad to help you."

BRANDYWINE READIES ITSELF FOR LONGEST-EVER 100-NIGHT MEET—Brandywine Raceway opened for training Monday, May 6, for the first contingent of hundreds of horses, trainers and drivers entering the track for the official opening of the 16th season on Monday, May 13 at the Wilmington, Del. oval. The training track (top left corner) and the main oval are in perfect shape, and the stables and paddock (center left) were ready for the mass invasion. Other Brandywine features include the two-acre infield lake, amply stocked with fish, and the plush year-old $4 million clubhouse and grandstand.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day And They Don't Moo!

A quarter of a century? That might seem like a long period of time, but to the average trainer of Thoroughbred race horses it would make a good apprenticeship. A cow diet for Thoroughbreds? Well, it might perhaps appear to be a good idea for broodmares, but for race horses? Neither question bothered a couple of Arizonians who appeared on the scene for the Turf Paradise-Arizona Downs racing season this year. Twenty-five-year-old Robert Bignami had spent his apprenticeship getting a master's degree in biochemistry after a bachelor's degree in animal husbandry at the University of California, and was happily showing prize-winning cows for dairymen William J. Rasmusen and Glendale, Arizona and, incidentally, netting about $15,000 a year, when his boss asked: "How would you like to try race horses?" Young Bignami said "Why not?" So it was that a new stable called Sarival Farms showed up at Turf Paradise this year. Three of the four Sarival Farm's color-bearers have proved to be winners at the Turf Paradise-Arizona Downs meetings. According to Trainer Bignami, their success is due to diet. He added beet pulp, a standard on the bovine menu to the regular equine mash. Sarival Farm's winners have all been fillies, and Bignami says, "Fillies and mares are not often real good eaters, but we've found that ours have doubled their intake since we've had them." Other showers of dairy cattle in the region are either breathing a sigh of relief or are out shopping for race horses.

If a woman understands all the facts about hysterectomy, and still resists having the operation, Dr. Greeley believes she should not be pressured into having it. "If a patient of mine remains anxious and uneasy about the operation, I will not perform it," Dr. Greeley emphasized. "I can give her medication for relief of most of her discomfort. Excessive and erratic bleeding can be controlled in a variety of ways. Usually, hysterectomy is not an urgent procedure. It should actually be performed only when no other treatment is possible. "In a very real sense, a woman can make the decision whether or not to have the operation. In my experience if the procedure is chosen by her the emotional strain afterward is apt to be far less." The physician cautioned that

REMEMBER—GUARD THOSE YOU LOVE

The GRACE of GOD—What Does It Mean?

Even among Christians, there is often misunderstanding of the nature and effects of this supernatural gift. Saved from misfortune... or blessed in a worldly way... some pious and well-meaning people are wont to say: "It was only by the grace of God." This may reflect a worthy attitude of appreciation toward God, but it doesn't necessarily reflect the understanding of divine grace every Christian should have. In general, grace has been defined as a supernatural gift infused in the soul, making it pleasing to God. No one can merit divine grace, or acquire it by his own unaided efforts. "...by grace you are saved... that not of yourselves, for it is the gift of God" (Eph. 2:5-8). There are, moreover, distinctions in the kind, quality and purposes of divine grace. The first distinction is between sanctifying grace, which the Church calls a permanent quality in the soul, and actual grace, described as a transient movement from God that comes and goes and acts on the soul rather than in it. Sanctifying grace makes the soul pleasing to God and remains there permanently unless expelled by serious sin. Actual grace moves us to do good works. There are other kinds, qualities and purposes of divine grace with which every Christian should be familiar. Lacking space to describe them here, we have published an interesting pocket-size pamphlet called "GRACE—Without It, You're Dead" ... and we will be happy to send you a copy free upon your request. This new pamphlet covers such topics as "The Supernatural State"... "Grace—What Is It?" ... "Actual Grace" ... "Other Kinds of Grace" ... "Ways to Obtain Grace" and "How Can We Merit God's Grace?" It explains what we must do to make ourselves worthy of God's freely given gift of grace... how the Sacraments and prayer open the channels through which the grace of salvation is poured into our souls. Every Christian ... in fact, everyone seeking the favor of God through grace... should read this interesting pamphlet. WRITE TODAY for your free copy. Ask for Pamphlet No. KC-64. The Maryland Game and Inland Fish Commission has announced that a numerical listing of farm ponds keyed to county election maps is available to interested individuals and agencies.

The farm pond list provides information as to the number of ponds available for fishing, with the owner's permission, in each election district.

The names of the owners and the exact locations of the ponds stocked with bass and bluegills are not included in keeping with the Commission's long established farm pond policy. To do so raises the possibility of en masse trespassing on private property and thus endangers the entire farm pond program, Director George B. Shields said.

"To require that a farm pond owner have his private property listed as a public fishing area and allow everyone to fish there at any time would undoubtedly result in a great majority of the farmers withdrawing from the program which in past years has provided countless thousands of Maryland fishermen with recreational fishing opportunities," Mr. Shields explained.

"The Commission believes the long established policy of fishermen seeking out the ponds they wish to fish and making personal contact with the farmers is the best policy insofar as fishermen-farmer relations are concerned," Shields added.

The personal contact is an important factor in the farm pond program because the farmer usually has a considerable investment in his pond (approximately $2,000 on the average) and naturally wishes to safeguard this investment and that in the surrounding property.

In addition, the farmer may want to curtail fishing at certain times of the year in the interest of managing his pond wisely or using it for other purposes such as a waterfowl sanctuary.

Farm ponds are stocked with fingerling bass and bluegills by the Department of Game and Inland Fish only when the owner enters into an agreement that a "reasonable" number of fishermen be allowed to fish the impoundments, and that number is left to the discretion of the farmer.

The actual cost of assisting farmers in stocking ponds is negligible, about ten to fifteen dollars for the fingerlings, yet the results in recreational enjoyment are that many times over. No adult bass or bluegills are stocked in any of the approximately 5,000 farm ponds.

Shields complimented the thousands of landowners who have entered into farm pond agreements with the Commission, and pointed out they gain little except an inexpensive stocking of fingerlings in return for providing angling opportunity for others and relieving pressure to some extent from other state-owned ponds and lakes.
