The cost of inflation will soon hit Gettysburg motorists if the idea of one councilman goes through. Presently parking meter tickets are $1. The proposal of the councilman would represent a 100% hike in the cost. It seems to me that the fine of $2 for overtime parking would be a bit on the stiff side and I don't imagine you've heard the last of this yet.

Well the big drive for funds for our swimming pool has gotten under way and has been so for a week now. No facts or figures are available as yet but the public will be given a running account of the drive. Today solicitors will go from door-to-door to raise money and we're extremely anxious to see how the reaction will be... affirmative or negative. Organizations and businesses will be asked to donate. A year and a half has gone into this plan and if we are ever to have a pool here better back up the drive right now. You can make an outright donation or take out a $30 family subscription which entitles you and your family to the use of the pool for a year. There are 12 stores listed in town where you can make a donation, or you can mail it into the Chamber of Commerce if you live out-of-town and want to help the cause.

In just a little over a year from now we'll be busy with the National Census. This census, as you know, is taken every decade, so in 1970 we'll start counting noses once again. We wonder if Emmitsburg has grown any during the past 10 years, but then we will have to wait for some time before we have the answer. While little if any industry has located here, there are quite a few new homes erected in recent years. Industry has been locating in nearby towns and cities and Frederick has grown, as well as Thurmont. It is now possible and feasible to hold a job in Thurmont or Frederick, or Hagerstown, etc. and still maintain your home here. We are of the opinion that many are doing just that and therefore when the census is completed we'll find that quite a few of our younger families have stayed in the area instead of migrating and therefore Emmitsburg should have grown, if not the town itself, then the Election District. Just take Emmet Gardens for instance. I'd venture to say that that development has about doubled its size in the past 10 years. The countryside is dotted with many new homes... all in our district.

We're still being plagued with that hot, sultry and humid weather that has been going on for the past month. While we have had some rain, not nearly enough though, crops are showing the effects of the drought and it is a question just how much of the late crops can be salvaged. Corn has been hard hit and the yield will be meager. The temperature which reaches the 90's almost daily is playing havoc with almost all vegetation. Our water supply seems to be holding up rather well but when the two colleges open in the next two to three weeks we might have to be a bit more careful with the use of water... unless we get rain, and plenty of it.

Miss Mary Jane Scott, Baltimore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph H. Scott, Sr., Villa Rest, Emmitsburg, and Gene Smith Foster, son of Mr. and Mrs. Calvin Foster, Baltimore, were united in marriage Saturday morning at 11 o'clock in St. Anthony's Shrine Church, near Emmitsburg. Officiating were Rev. John M. Sewell and Rev. Vincent J. Tomalski.

Given in marriage by her brother, Joseph Henry Scott, Jr., the bride wore a floor-length sheath of white satin peau de soie, designed with an Empire waistline, long sleeves ending in points at the wrist and bateau neckline, with rose applique at the center front and on the train. Her wrist-length veil of French illusion fell from a lace crown embroidered in sequins. She carried a cascade of white daisies.

Virginia Kay Foster, Baltimore, was maid of honor, and Mrs. Beverly Ann Scott, sister-in-law of the bride, was the matron of honor. Both attendants wore floor-length gowns of linen, Empire style, with avocado green bodice and pale yellow skirt. A full-length panel in avocado green fell from the neckline in the back, trimmed with a band of tiny embroidered roses at the waistline. Their headpieces of matching green triple linen bows had a short veil attached. Each carried a cascade of yellow daisies.

Kenneth Douglas Potter, Baltimore, served as best man. Ushers were Barry Calvin Foster, Baltimore, and John Cox Bullard, Jr., Crofton, Md.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Scott wore a sunshine yellow brocade sheath with matching accessories and a corsage of white daisies. The mother of the groom wore a pastel blue embroidered sheath with white accessories and a corsage of white daisies.

Following the ceremony a reception was held in the church social hall. For her honeymoon to the southern states, the bride wore a navy blue linen sleeveless A-line dress with white accessories. Upon their return they will reside at 6808 Sturbridge Dr., Baltimore.

Fairfield Plagued With Robberies

Burglars struck the Fairfield area Monday night, burglarizing the community's major institutions, including the First National Bank, the Post Office, and the Fairfield elementary and high school cafeteria.

State police reported that over $500 in cash and merchandise was taken, and property damage was caused by the burglars. Burglary reports began filing into the Gettysburg State Police barracks between 7 and 9 a.m. Monday when managers and employees discovered the thefts.

A total of $300.50 in change was reported stolen from the First National Bank of Fairfield located on Main St. The cashier at the bank, Kenneth Slonaker, declined to comment on the burglary for security reasons. However, state police reported that the thieves secured their loot by jimmieing the cashier's drawers behind the tellers' windows. Entry was made at the rear of the bank, state police said.

The Fairfield postmaster, G. Thomas Steinberger, whose post office is located near the bank, indicated that the burglary in his building was similar to the one that occurred May 15. The burglars gained entrance by the same means, breaking in the door at the rear of the building that had been re-enforced after the last incident.

Steinberger reported that nothing was stolen, but $200 damage was caused by tampering with three envelope drawers, breaking off the handle and dial from the office safe, and forcing the rear entrance door. The burglars failed to open the safe.

At the Fairfield High School, Supervising Principal Edgar E. Richards reported that the thieves entered the cafeteria section at the north end of the building, where they opened the cold storage area and stole several crates of frozen chickens and turkeys.

Miss Lynn Paidakovich has returned to her home in Silver Spring after having spent several weeks with her grandmother, Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder.

Pool Fund Soliciting Begun; Drive Continues

The fund raising drive for a local swimming pool and recreation center was officially begun Friday, August 9 when subscription and donation forms were distributed to 12 specially chosen soliciting centers in Emmitsburg. Interest in the campaign has been spurred by the appearance of the forms and with the knowledge that the drive has actually been started.

The committee in charge announced this week that the second phase of the campaign will get under way with a door-to-door solicitation of local homes starting today, Friday, August 16. The cooperation of the entire community is needed to bring this drive to a successful conclusion. The Chamber of Commerce is presently seeking volunteer solicitors to help canvas the entire community.

Volunteer solicitors are asked to contact any of the centers listed below:

Emmitsburg Feed & Farm Supply
Chronicle Press Inc.
Farmers & Mechanics Bank
Reaves Electric
Mt. Manor Motel & Restaurant
Emmitsburg Pharmacy
Crouse's Store
Myers Radio & TV Shop
Matthews Gas Co.
Bollinger's Meat Market

As the campaign progresses it is planned to place a thermometer type sign on the Square where the progress can be registered for the public's benefit. All money raised will be deposited in the local bank and should the project fail to materialize the money will be refunded to the donor, by the bank.

Fire Levels Large Barn

Fire, believed to have been set, completely levelled a large barn on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Seiss, about four miles east of Emmitsburg last Friday night.

Shortly before the fire Mrs. Seiss told State Police she saw a man run from the barn and cross a field just before the barn became engulfed in flames.

The general alarm fire occurred about 9 p.m. in an 80-foot barn filled with grain, straw and hay. The owner estimated the loss at $60,000-$70,000. Two heifers and a bull which had been housed in the structure were saved.

The alarm was answered by fire companies from Emmitsburg, Taneytown and Harney. Eight trucks were on the scene.

Chief Guy McGlaughlin of the Vigilant Hose Co. said the barn was "totally involved" when his men arrived on the scene. He said that the firemen were primarily concerned with controlling the blaze and preserving surrounding buildings.

Power lines to the barn were cut and fire trucks were deployed in the fields around the blazing structure to keep flames from spreading. Clouds of descending sparks plagued the firemen and endangered nearby buildings.

Mrs. Seiss said that the blaze "had to be set because it began in bales of hay inside the door."

Mrs. Seiss told State Trp. Gary L. Beard that she had been sitting in the yard which faces the rear of the barn when she saw a white male run down the slope from the barn's large double doors and disappear around a corner into adjacent fields.

She said that she called her husband, who entered the barn and discovered that bales of hay just inside the doors were in flames. Seiss then phoned in the alarm and fire trucks arrived minutes later.

Seiss said that the upper part of the barn had been full of hay, as he had put the last load in about 10 days before. Approximately 300 bushels of barley and 20 bushels of wheat were also destroyed. Seiss said that most of the loss was insured.

Charles Henry Bollinger, 33, S. Seton Ave., Emmitsburg, was charged Saturday with statutory burning and committed to Frederick County jail under $5,000 bond.

Trp. Beard and State arson investigator, Top E. Barnes, handled the investigation.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hyde and family, Lakeland, Fla., recently spent two weeks here with Mrs. Hyde's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wormley. They also visited other friends and relatives while here.

State Plans Interchange At Rts. 97 & 15

The chairman of the State Roads Commission presented Frederick County with an $844,000 highway improvement program for fiscal 1969—part of a long range 6-year plan to cost upward of $35 million, at a meeting with county officials Tuesday.

Most of the money for fiscal '69 will go for preliminary engineering studies and right-of-way acquisition. Some $411,000 of the total is earmarked for actual construction.

A projected program for fiscal 1970 presented to the county by Jerome Wolfe, chairman of SRC, shows a total program cost of $3,834,000.

Altogether, some 16 people attended the meeting, including SRC officials, the County Commissioners, State Sen. Charles Smelser, Del. Clifton Virts, county engineer Southey Nottingham, and Planning Commission director Richard Crombie.

The Frederick County roads program over the six-year plan by the SRC will be between $28 million and $35 million, probably close to $30 million, Wolfe told the group.

The projects and the estimated cost of each are:

Fiscal 1969
Md. 550, $357,000, 2.18 miles; U. S. 15—Harmony Grove to south of Lewistown, $149,000; U. S. 15—south of Lewistown to Catoctin Furnace, $141,000; Md. 153—bridge over Middle Creek at Elberton (new construction), $78,000; Md. 80—Monocacy River bridge (new construction), $16,000; Md. 80—east of U. S. 15 to existing road east of Monocacy River, $13,000; U. S. 15—interchange at Md. 81, Thurmont, $125,000; and U. S. 15—interchange at Md. 97, Emmitsburg, $65,000.

Fiscal 1970
U. S. 15—Harmony Grove to south of Lewistown (construction), $2,601,000; Md. 80—Monocacy River bridge (actual construction), $304,000; Md. 80—east of U. S. 15 to existing road east of Monocacy River (right-of-way), $16,000; U. S. 15—interchange at Md. 81, Thurmont, (construction), $425,000; U. S. 15—interchange at Md. 97, Emmitsburg (construction), $488,000.

Another part of the program, the interchanges at Md. 81 at Thurmont, and Md. 97 at Emmitsburg, in U. S. 15, were called critical by Wolfe. The Catoctin High School is being built near the Md. 81 intersection and Wolfe said that action is hoped to be taken by Jan., 1969, when the projected opening date of the school falls, for improvements.

Officer Trout Nabs Fugitive

Officer James Trout arrested Elbert Leroy Rucker, 19, Chambersburg, for unlawfully entering Emmitsburg and being a fugitive from justice from DuBois, Pa. Rucker was charged with forgery and burglary committed in DuBois within the past four months.

Trout says he stopped a 1960 Pontiac for a registration check on July 18. The operator of the car was identified as Cheryl Anne Smith of Chambersburg. Rucker was a passenger in the car at that time but Smith's registration checked out so no arrest was made at that time. Later in the evening Officer Trout said Pennsylvania State Police informed him that Miss Smith was listed as a missing person and that her passenger was wanted for burglary and forgery.

On August 1 Trout noticed the same vehicle at 8:45 p.m. in Emmitsburg which had no tags. Noticing the vehicle parked at East End Garage, Trout apprehended Miss Smith and Rucker. He charged Rucker with being a fugitive from justice and lodged him in the County Jail in Frederick where he later was picked up by Pennsylvania for extradition to DuBois to face trial on the charges.

Fallout Protection Survey Being Made

The Home Fallout Protection Survey conducted by the Census Bureau in Maryland will be completed in a short time. As of July 10 approximately sixty per cent of the families contacted by mail have filled out and returned the questionnaire and the Census Bureau estimates that ninety-nine per cent of the families to be contacted were actually contacted.

In order to accommodate the remaining one per cent of rural or suburban residents missed by the enumerators and those people who for one reason or another did not receive or failed to fill out and return the mailed questionnaire, this newspaper has published the "Were You Missed?" form which may be filled out and mailed to the Census Bureau. The Census Bureau on receipt of this form will mail the sender the questionnaire by which the household can describe his home in order that its protection factor may be evaluated.

20 Die On State Roads In Week

Twenty persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Eight of those killed were drivers, nine were passengers, and three were pedestrians. Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths, speed in fifteen, and "driver error" in fifteen.

"Excessive speed for conditions was unquestionably the major contributing factor in Maryland highway fatalities last week," noted Lt. Col. George E. Davidson, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police.

"In ten of the fifteen cases in which speed was a factor, the driver was simply going too fast to keep his car under control. In the other cases the driver was operating at such a speed that he did not see, or simply ignored, stop signs, traffic signals or disabled vehicles. In three instances the driver had also been drinking."

"The menace of speed on the highway is a continuing one. Those who question this certainly haven't taken a good look at the problem."

Rest-Picnic Areas Dotting State

The growth in the number of rest areas along the Federal-aid highway system today was praised by Harry E. Uhler, Executive Vice President of the AAA Automobile Club of Maryland, as "a major contribution to traffic safety."

At the present time there are 62 such rest areas in Maryland, 12 in Delaware and 141 throughout Virginia, the AAA official reported, and 6,756 in the nation as a whole. During the period from March, 1965, through May of this year, the U. S. Bureau of Public Roads approved the construction of more than 1,100 areas where weary motorists can stop, rest, and relax.

"Rest areas have become an important safety factor in these days of freeway driving," Mr. Uhler said. "AAA counsels motorists to take a rest from driving every hour or every 100 miles."

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Grushon of near Emmitsburg, entertained to dinner Sunday, Aug. 4, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Harner and daughter, Michele of Littlestown; Mr. and Mrs. Harry O. Miller, Thurmont; Mr. and Mrs. O. E. Murphy, Owings Mills; Mr. and Mrs. John Stottlemeyer, Alan and Laura Lee, Blue Ridge Summit. The occasion was Mrs. Harner's birthday. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Grushon.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley
ADVANCING AGE AND SIGHT

As we all know, many changes occur in the human body as we advance in age. For instance, the bones become harder and more brittle.

The eye begins to change at around 25 to 30 years of age. The crystalline lens begins to harden. This hardening process, as with the bones, continues at all age levels. Between the ages of 40 and 45 it becomes most noticeable.

When reading, the print tends to blur and the reading matter has to be held at varying distances from the eye. This is because the lens is no longer as flexible as it was and cannot change its shape to focus for objects that are closer.

The focusing mechanism of the eye changes much like the bellows in a camera. It is doing this constantly, depending upon the sharpness or blurriness of the image received on the retina, or back of the eye.

Since this focusing is automatic, we take it for granted. Only when the lens hardens do we realize its importance. Remember, however, that this condition is normal and does not mean weakness or disease. With bifocal, and even trifocal contact lenses, or spectacles the useful age of mankind has been extended.

A professional eye examination at regular intervals—every six months, according to the National Eye Research Foundation—is a certain method of knowing your exact eye condition.

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

... Peripatetic Jockey

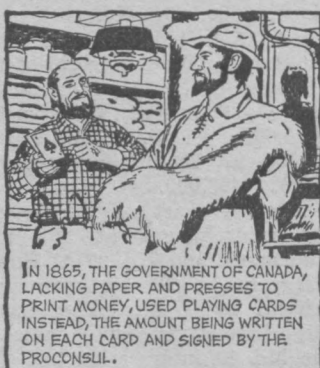

One Saturday last June, jockey Jesse Davidson finished third on Hail The Prince in the first race at Aqueduct. He then proceeded to nearby Kennedy Airport, boarded a plane, and a short time later landed at Monmouth Park in New Jersey. There Jesse piloted First Noel to victory in the featured Miss Woodford Stakes. For some time this would be a long day, but for Jesse only the means of transportation had changed.

In 1965 Jesse Davidson was the national riding champion, with 319 winning mounts. He was known as the "king of the half milers" because most of his wins were on the minor tracks in Maryland and West Virginia. Racing in West Virginia is conducted on an almost year-round basis, at night, while the Maryland minor circuit offers daytime racing during the late summer and early fall. Thus for part of the year Jesse was able to ride in Maryland during the day and then head for West Virginia for a night's work. Despite the physical strain he won with 20% of all his mounts, which is fine riding in any league.

Tiring of the long hours, in the fall of 1967 Jesse decided to try his luck at a major track. He was doing well at Laurel Park when he was forced out with an injury. After recovering, he moved his track to New York and gradually began to build up his reputation by winning with some long shots. He won his first major race in New York at Belmont in May, when he scored with a two-year-old named Show Off in the Fashion Stakes. And now he is back to his old two-a-day trick, but for a different reason. He'll commute to ride a stake race instead of just to ride some extra races.

Protecting Personal Assets

WELLESLEY HILLS, Mass., August 15—With living costs at record levels and headed higher, all of us should take time out to determine where we stand and how we can best safeguard our assets.

How Much Are You Worth?

If you haven't made a recent check on the total dollar value of your personal assets, you'll probably be surprised how much they've appreciated. Even if you're in modest circumstances in our affluent society, you'll discover, in most cases, that your home is worth more than when you bought it—perhaps a good deal more. Also, that high interest and dividend payments have increased the total dollar amount of your savings and investments. And, if you own land, you'll likely find it too has gained in value.

A great many heads of families whose salaries are in the low - middle bracket — which ranges from $8,000 to $10,000—find they actually have total assets of $50,000 or more. These may include their homes, cars, savings, investments, and their equity in life insurance policies and private pension funds.

Maintenance And Protection Costs

But there is another side of the coin: Our assets are indeed worth more, but a large and growing share of the gain must be earmarked for maintenance and protection costs that will preserve the value of the real property we own. The house you bought for well under $15,000 some years ago may now have a resale value of $25,000, but it is also costing you a good deal more to maintain it and to protect your investment. Perhaps, when you bought the house, you could have had it painted at a cost of $600-700. Today the same job might easily run to $1,100 or even $1,500.

As for fire insurance: Are you covered for full value or merely for some sum which barely protects the bank's lien in the property? In this era of rapidly rising costs, your house and furnishings should be insured for full value. And your coverage should be reviewed by you at least every three years and upgraded when necessary to keep you abreast of expanding replacement costs.

Strong Box Or Safe-Deposit Box

Indeed, all your insurance—life, health, accident, auto liability, theft, fire—should be reviewed at least every three years... oftener if changing personal and family situations indicate new approaches. If you have children still to be educated, you may well be underinsured. If your children have left home and are on their own, could be you're overinsured.

Where should you keep your insurance papers, securities, the deed to your home, jewelry, or other items? Is a strong box at home preferable to a safe-deposit box in a bank, or vice versa? Fact is, for maximum safety and convenience, you need both. All your insurance papers, your bankbooks, and bank statements should be close at hand. So too should be your will, or a copy of it. Keep all these in a fireproof strong box at home or in your office safe. Your securities, property deeds, contracts, savings bonds, jewelry, and other valuables which could easily be converted into cash if stolen should be held in a safe-deposit box at your bank.

Draw Your Will—Keep It Up To Date

You'd be surprised at the number of people—many quite well-to-do—who die without having made a will. Most just never got around to it, but a good many decided not to bother because their personal and real property was held jointly with a wife or other relative or friend. They assumed that the surviving joint owner would automatically inherit, but this is contrary to law in some jurisdictions.

The smart thing is to draw your will... NOW... if you have not already done so. But first consult your banker, your investment adviser and, perhaps, a tax consultant. When you know what you have and what your death taxes are likely to be, see your lawyer. And once you've drawn the will, keep it up to date!

Crime Shows Increase In United States

Serious crime in the United States increased 16 per cent in 1967 when compared with 1966 according to figures made available through the FBI's Uniform Crime Reports and released by Attorney General Ramsey Clark.

FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover said all Crime Index offenses registered substantial increases in volume. Crimes of violence were up 15 per cent, led by robbery up 27 per cent, murder 12 per cent, forcible rape 9 per cent, and aggravated assault 8 per cent. The crimes against property rose by 16 per cent as a group. Individually, auto theft rose 17 per cent while burglary and larceny $50 and over in value were each up 16 per cent.

Mr. Hoover stated crime increases were reported by all city groups, with the sharpest change in volume noted in the large core cities 250,000 and over in population up 17 per cent. The suburban areas recorded an overall increase of 16 per cent while the rural areas were up 13 per cent in volume.

The crime increases, according to Mr. Hoover, were consistent throughout the United States. The Northeastern and North Central States were each up 18 per cent, while the Western and Southern States reported an average increase of 15 per cent.

The FBI Director noted that serious assaults where a gun was used as the weapon rose 22 per cent and that one out of every five assaults was committed with a gun. The vicious street crime of armed robbery had a sharp upswing of 30 per cent and a firearm was used in 58 per cent of all robbery offenses.

The figures released by the FBI disclosed that in 1967 police arrests for all criminal acts, except traffic offenses, increased 4 per cent. Arrests of adults, which declined slightly in 1966, rose by 3 per cent in 1967. Arrests of persons under 18 years of age continued to rise in 1967 with an increase of 8 per cent. Included in the increased police arrests was a rising volume of arrests for offenses against public order.

Low-Income Farmers To Get Assistance

Secretary of Agriculture Orville L. Freeman has announced provisions of the national Agricultural Conservation Program (ACP) for 1969, offering special aid to low-income farmers in combating erosion of their land and improving their food supply thru conservation measures for home gardens.

In addition to assisting low-income farmers, Secretary Freeman said, major conservation emphasis in 1969 will be placed on practices that help abate air and water pollution, benefit wildlife, and improve the quality of our environment while conserving our soil and water resources.

"I am authorizing the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committees to adapt the program further to the needs of low-income farmers," Secretary Freeman said. "With wide latitude for judgment, they may set the public share of the cost of selected conservation practices at higher than normal rates, approve drainage practices for cultivated crops as well as for hay and pasture land, and provide cost-share assistance for conservation measures necessary to an adequate home garden." Cost-share rates normally average about 50 per cent.

According to James M. Voss, Chairman, Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee, cost-sharing home garden conservation will be limited to gardens of not less than one-fourth of an acre and not more than 2 acres. The aid will include a share of the cost of lime, fertilizer, major tillage, protective fencing, and pipe to provide water.

The Chairman said another type of special aid to low-income farmers will be the cost-sharing of Christmas tree plantings for sale.

A low-income farmer or rancher as regarded for ACP purposes, according to the Chairman, is one who is dependent on his in-

Fun and games aboard a Union-Castle liner, "crossing the Line" on the 11½ day voyage from Britain to Cape Town. All landlubbers who have never crossed the Equator are subject to the command of Father Neptune around the swimming pool as the ship crosses the imaginary line where our planet is widest.

Among passengers who eagerly dress up for the occasion, children especially take the ceremony most seriously. In this picture two "pirates" are ready for the first timers' music, dancing and general hilarity.

Union-Castle, a well known British line, has served the north-south route between Britain and southern Africa since 1857. It operates six fast, well-appointed liners ranging in size from the Reina del Mar of 20,000 tons to the Windsor Castle of nearly 37,000 tons. Sailing from Britain in summer, it reaches Cape Town in southern Africa's mild winter and vice versa.

DELIVERY AND DRIVE-IN SERVICE

WOMEN'S HEALTH

By Elizabeth Stewart

Women's Medical News Service
Safety Measures Protect Unborn
CHICAGO, Ill.—Although nature has provided a remarkably safe environment for the unborn baby, man sometimes upsets this ecology—with dire consequences. This is what Dr. Isadore Dyer of the Tulane University Medical School told physicians attending a recent medical meeting here.

In a study in New Orleans of what happens to women and their unborn babies if they are in an auto accident, here is what Dr. Dyer found:

Before 1961 there was no incidence of the uterus rupturing or the placenta separating as a result of car accidents. In the last seven years, however, there were several such incidents. These resulted from the sudden compression of the uterus by the seat belt as the auto decelerated rapidly, followed by enormous impact, such as happens when a car hits a tree.

Although the fetus dies when the placenta separates in such an accident—the seat belt was found to save the life of the mother.

To lessen the risks of such accidents Dr. Dyer recommends that pregnant women wear seat belts low on the pelvic girdle; that they wear shoulder belts; and that they drive cars with a comfortable steering wheel.

Toward the end of pregnancy women should do as little driving as possible since they are unavoidably clumsy.

U. S. Planning Rated Poor

BETHESDA, Md.—“American women are not successful in having the number of children they want when they want them.” This sad news comes from the National Institute of Child Health and Human Development which sponsored research by sociologists of the University of Wisconsin and Princeton.

In a sample of 4,810 married women under 45, living with their husbands, a third reported that they have already had at least one unwanted child—and this doesn't include those who will yet have a child they did not want, or those who may rationalize a child they now have.

One sunny note: Despite the results of the survey, made in 1965 and recently tabulated, one of the sociologists believes that these statistics will change because the women interviewed previously “were not fully knowledgeable about oral contraceptives which had only become available in 1960.”

Doctors Urge

Better Communication.

CHICAGO, Ill.—Obstetricians who among them have delivered hundreds of babies were astonished to learn at a recent medical meeting here that a pregnant woman who hasn't been told what a labor room looks like may imagine that it is a sort of gym with rings and bars from which she is expected to hank in peculiar positions in order to hurry the baby on its passage into the world. In other words, a torture chamber.

Such misconceptions may interfere with normal labor and delivery—and should be cleared up as early in the pregnancy as possible, the physicians agreed. They were urged to encourage their patients to ask as many questions as possible on their regular visits so as to safeguard the mental as well as physical health of the mother-to-be.

Seminary To Offer Graduate Program

Monsignor Hugh J. Phillips, President of Mount Saint Mary's College has announced inauguration of a new graduate program in Mount Saint Mary's Seminary.

It will be a degree program at the Master's level and will involve the granting of two degrees, the academic degree of Master of Arts in the field of theology, and the professional degree of Master of Theology.

While the basic course in the seminary is intended for the education and formation of those preparing for the priesthood, the degree program will be open to qualified students who work for degrees without intending to prepare for the priesthood. To make the program as available as possible to all, plans are now under way for summer courses to begin in the summer of 1969. Future plans also call for inauguration of evening classes.

Monsignor Phillips welcomed formal approval of the graduate program by the Maryland State Board of Education as “another important step in our growth here at the Mount.” The approval was made known to Mount St. Mary's College by Dr. James A. Sensenbath, state superintendent of schools, and was granted after evaluation of the college's facilities, faculty, and administration by a team of distinguished educators.

The team was under the leadership of Dr. William T. Beston and Dr. Harold D. Reese of the State Board of Education, and was composed of Dr. Putnam F. Jones, dean of the Graduate School of the University of Pittsburgh; Monsignor William G. Ryan, President of Seton Hall College; and Dr. Glenn J. Christensen, Provost and Vice President of Lehigh University. Dr. Christensen served as chairman.

The evaluation team said it was “impressed by several areas of strength” at the college on which the new degree program will be based. It cited “sound organization and logical procedures” developed by administrative officers and faculty, a well qualified faculty, the library which “is strong for an institution of this size,” and the actual course program which “appears already to be a sound course base to which the other degree requirements can now be added.”

According to the resolution of the State Board of Education, both degrees may be granted as of June 1969. Since the program has been in effect on an experimental basis for the past few years, credits may be accepted

Tiger Among Newsmen

TV Reporter At National Conventions

Sander Vanocur is described by NBC Field Producer Jack Fern as “a tiger of a newsman.” If picking up the scent and relentlessly tracking down a news story has much to do with it, that description fits well. NBC-News Correspondent Vanocur is a charger, and his perception and ability to anticipate events frequently lead him to some most significant stories. In one area particularly, the complex political jungle, this tiger knows his way around best.

Mr. Vanocur keeps in touch with the world spending hours daily on the telephone, in this case, under the vigil of the Indian warrior chief which greets visitors to his home.

This year, drawing his third successive assignment as one of NBC News' four television floor reporters, Mr. Vanocur will report happenings from the floors of both national conventions. Again, as in 1964, Gulf Oil Corporation will sponsor the NBC coverage.

“To be where the action is at the conventions, you must keep moving,” says Mr. Vanocur, “moving in the general direction of action.” Here his first-hand acquaintance with key political personalities enhances his confidence and his ability to move instinctively in the right direction.

At one point in Atlantic City in 1964 he recognized a Mississippi civil rights group without credentials making their way onto the floor and heading for from past study back to the school year 1965-1966.

The dual program offers qualified students a choice of areas of study. The degree of Master of Theology is a professional degree and will concentrate the efforts of the student in the area of pastoral work, with some area specialization. The degree of Master of Arts in the field of theology is an academic degree. It will offer the student a program of theology study in which he will be able to specialize in the areas of scriptural theology, systematic theology, and moral theology.

Persons interested in more specific information on the program, or requirements for entrance, should contact: Rev. James J. Mulligan, Dean of Studies, Mount Saint Mary's Seminary, Emmitsburg, Md. 21727.

H&R Block Announces Income Tax Course

H & R Block, America's largest tax service, announces the formation of its Basic Income Tax Course starting in mid-September, according to Joseph Dunn, head of the mid-Maryland area.

According to Mr. Dunn, “the purpose of this school is to train anyone interested in learning to do income tax work with the possibility of employment in any of the more than 2,000 H & R Block offices. There are offices in all nearby towns and cities.

Mr. Dunn pointed out that the ever-increasing detail work involved in preparing tax returns makes it imperative that a tax man or woman know their job. “A graduate of our school will be qualified for immediate employment, whether he works for us or not,” he stated.

Classes will be conducted at 223 N. Market St., Frederick, in one of the main H & R Block offices. All textbooks, supplies and necessary tax forms will be furnished by H & R Block without cost to each student who pays the small tuition fee charged for the course. The course will consist of 24 three-hour sessions beginning in mid-September.

Registration for the H & R Block Basic Income Tax Course is at the Block Office at 223 N. Market St., Frederick, Md., now and up to the starting date of the classes. This office now is open Wednesdays from 10 a. m. til 8

p. m. until the start of classes. Phone number for the tax school information is 662-3443.

Graduates of the tax school will receive diplomas attesting to their qualifications. Mr. Dunn said: “It should be understood that enrollment in this school is not a guarantee of employment by H & R Block. However, the basic function of the school is to provide qualified personnel for the greatly expanding number of H & R Block offices and ever growing volume of tax returns prepared by them.”

Mr. Dunn explains the availability of many jobs in this work on full or part-time during the tax filing period January 1 thru April 15 was of interest to many housewives, retired persons and others with spare time to use. “Any individual having the ability to work with figures and to meet people is competent to complete the course.” “Part-time workers find this work interesting and remunerative.”

Patriotism as a WAY TO PEACE

Patriotism is often thought of as a virtue primarily connected with war.

And certainly they are patriots who offer their lives in defense of their country.

But even those willing to bear arms must view the alternatives of war or peace with a deep sense of morality. It was this sense of morality that prompted Pope Paul to plead prayerfully for the end of all wars...and the Conference of American Catholic Bishops to issue their Statement on Peace in 1966.

“Citizens,” the Bishops' statement said, “should develop a generous and loyal devotion to their country, but without any narrowing of mind. In other words, they must look simultaneously to the welfare of the whole human family, which is tied together by the manifold bonds linking races, peoples and nations.”

These “limits on patriotism,” the Bishops added, do not rule out a country's right to legitimate self-defense. “And what a nation can do to defend itself,” the Bishops added, “it may do to help another in its struggle against aggression.”

“We must,” the Bishops said, “use every resource available, as a nation, to help alleviate the basic causes of war. If the God-given human dignity of the people of poorer nations is not to become an illusion, these nations must be able to provide for the spiritual and material needs of their citizens. We must help them do this.”

Pope Paul, Vatican Council II and the U.S. Bishops all point out that true peace can exist only if the right order established by God...and based on the requirements of human dignity...can be evolved from the conscience of all peoples, everywhere. The real “balance of power” is in your hands and mine.

To help you put war and peace in a proper perspective, we have just published an easy-to-read, interesting pocket-size pamphlet entitled “PEACE THROUGH PATRIOTISM.” We will be glad to send you a copy free upon request. There's no obligation—and nobody will call on you.

“To be where the action is at the conventions, you must keep moving,” says Mr. Vanocur, “moving in the general direction of action.” Here his first-hand acquaintance with key political personalities enhances his confidence and his ability to move instinctively in the right direction.

At one point in Atlantic City in 1964 he recognized a Mississippi civil rights group without credentials making their way onto the floor and heading for empty delegate seats. Before the action to oust them started, he had a TV cameraman there to cover his report.

Again following his simple axiom, he noticed then - Senator Humphrey take a seat up in a gallery box. Mr. Vanocur held up his microphone toward the Senator, who smiled and held up his hands as if to say “not yet.” The newsmen waited patiently, tenaciously. Later President Johnson entered the Humphrey box and sat. Again Sander Vanocur's microphone went up, this time to the President. Again he got a wave-off.

Finally, still standing below the box on the convention floor, Mr. Vanocur received the nod he'd been waiting for. With a leap upward, he grasped the rail with one hand and scaled the wall into the box. His three-hour vigil was rewarded with an exclusive interview with the President, prior to Senator Humphrey's nomination as his running mate. “When I looked at the return of that leap the next day, I realized I could never have done it again,” said Mr. Vanocur. “It was a sheer surge of animal strength.”

While physical prowess occasionally helps a floor reporter, an alert mind is his most vital asset. A reporter with pencil and pad has time to reflect and consult. On the floor there's no copy reading. He's concerned with content and fitting in. When he opens his mouth perhaps 20 million people are watching and listening. If he makes a mistake it can't be erased. But Sander Vanocur possesses the rare quality of being coolest under pressure. “Whether I'm speaking extemporaneously or writing for a deadline, I seem to express myself most cogently under these circumstances,” he says.

As a political analyst he brings to Gulf's NBC convention coverage an impressive background. Born in Cleveland, Ohio in 1928, he was graduated from Northwestern University in 1950 with a degree in political science and intended to become a lawyer. While doing graduate work in London School of Economics the following year he wrote an article on American World Power for the London Sunday Observer. There followed two years in the U.S. Army in Germany before he returned to London. He joined the Manchester Guardian and worked at the same time for the North American Service of the British Broadcasting Company and as a contributor to CBS News. He took a job on the New York Times in 1956. In September 1957 he joined NBC News in Washington, D. C. and a few months later was named Midwest Correspondent for NBC News in Chicago. Assignment to cover the JFK primary campaign in 1960 led him to prominence as he later moved with the winner of that election to become White House correspondent. He remained there until he began covering the campaigns of 1964.

Last year Mr. Vanocur wrote and reported several NBC one-hour specials, among them Pursuit of Pleasure, After Civil Rights, and Black Power. He covered one of his most pleasant recent assignments reporting the Queen Mary's last voyage.

Harnessed for sound and labeled with credentials, Sander Vanocur will bring his television reporting expertise to the Gulf-NBC convention coverage.

age. He ended his search for a unique approach to this story by using the theme of how our concept of time has changed in only a few years.

While he admits to being agreeably swept up in this fast pace, he enjoys relaxing in his gracious 2 1/2-story Washington home. There with his recently naturalized wife, Edith, a former British subject and a superb cook, Sander Vanocur prefers entertaining personal friends to joining the social whirl of the Capitol.

For relaxation, Mr. Vanocur enjoys tennis, swimming, and reading.

Looking forward to this year's conventions, he sees more uncertainties than at any in recent memory. And in Mr. Vanocur's words, “Whatever happens to the U.S. is going to determine the course of the rest of the world.” However, in this unpredictable world it seems certain that Sander Vanocur will be stalking and reporting the action from the front row.

D.M.V. REPORT

By D. Murray Franklin
Public Information Officer
Md. Dept. of Motor Vehicles

DMV's Medical Advisory Board And Its Role In Highway Safety
Beginning its operation in January 1967 as a result of legislative enactment in 1966, the Medical Advisory Board of the Department of Motor Vehicles has become widely known for its thorough examination and processing of recommendations concerning the driving privileges of medical and mental disability cases.

"Last year a medical observer from the U. S. Department of Health, Education and Welfare sat with our Medical Advisory Board of nearly three months, to evaluate its methods and procedures," Commissioner John R. Jewell states, "and we were gratified to learn that as a result of his report, our Board was labeled as one of the best managed operations of its kind in the country."

Twenty-four physicians, appointed by Commissioner Jewell, consisting of Neurologists, Psychiatrists, Orthopedists and Internists comprise the Board, which is scheduled by groups of four members each, to sit twice weekly on Monday and Thursday evenings at DMV Headquarters. Dr. Ruth Baldwin serves as chairman. Last year approximately 3,000 cases were processed by the Board, consisting mainly of disabilities classified as seizures, mental (including alcoholics), diabetes, cardiac, paralysis, atrophic, amputations (two or more limbs) and mental retardation.

Drivers convicted twice for driving "under the influence" are referred to the Board to determine, if in fact, they are confirmed alcoholics, and if preventative measures should be applied to preclude a third offense. Also, all known drug addicts are referred to the Board.

Referrals to the Medical Advisory Board come from many sources, including DMV's Examination Section, Review and Reinstatement Section, License Review Section, Rehabilitation Clinics and from the traffic courts, attorneys, and the general public. The State Welfare Department is now required by law to report cases receiving benefits for blindness.

Frequently an accident involving such conditions as a probable black-out on the part of one of the drivers may cause the investigating police authority to request a medical hearing to determine if a physical disability contributed to the accident. In these instances, the driver is requested to appear before the Board's secretary for preliminary examination, and when deemed necessary, is again requested to appear before the Medical Advisory Board for further examination.

Applicants before the Board may be accompanied by their family physician, attorney or members of their family. It is significant to note that only once last year did an applicant exercise his right of appeal. Physically handicapped drivers regard the Board's recommendations as beneficial to their own safety and usually do not contest their final decisions. Final decisions of the Board are concurred in by the entire group of physicians hearing the case and are reported for the confidential files of the Department. Unless subpoenaed by the Courts, medical reports are never available for public scrutiny. If requested, copies are available to the patient's family physician and, if released by the patient, to medical institutions, State Hospitals, etc.

Many cases do not result in a suspension of driving privileges, but in certain instances, do require periodic reexaminations in accordance with the Board's recommendations.

"The purpose of the Medical Advisory Board is to place at the disposal of this Department, the best medical skills available to determine whether or not applicants are physically or mentally unfit to operate a vehicle on the public highways," said Commissioner Jewell, "and the Medical Advisory Board's findings have contributed immeasurably to the safety of both unit drivers and the general motoring public."

Evening High School Classes To Begin

Registration for the Governor Thomas Johnson Evening High School began Monday and extends through Friday, September 6. Persons interested may contact Mr. Robert G. Smith between the hours of 3:00 p.m. and 10:00 p.m. at the Governor Thomas Johnson High School, phone 662-8133. Final registration and first classes will be held Wednesday, Sept. 11.

Any person who has completed the eighth grade, is at least 16 years of age by Sept. 11, and is not currently enrolled in a day school is eligible for enrollment. Persons who have not completed the eighth grade may enroll after demonstrating a ninth grade level of competence by testing.

The evening high school offers a four year accredited program designed to provide courses leading to a Maryland High School Diploma. Some students may be interested in taking refresher courses or in taking courses for self-improvement.

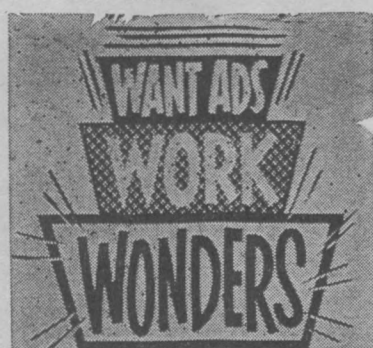

Most classes are held at Thomas Johnson and meet for 1½ hours, two evenings a week. A student may enroll in up to four classes thereby earning four credits a year. Thus, a student may earn a diploma almost as quickly as in the day school program.

Course offerings have been expanded for this year. Students may not only earn credit for required subjects but may also earn credits in elective areas like shorthand, typing, office practice, auto mechanics and trowel trades. The curriculum tentatively includes the following courses: English 9, 10, 11, 12; World Studies; Non-Western Studies; American Studies; Man And The Social Order; Science 9; Biology; Physical Science; General Mathematics; Business Arithmetic; Senior Review Mathematics; Elementary Business Training; Bookkeeping; and Office Practice.

Adult Education courses offered by the Frederick County Board of Education in which evening school students may enroll include: Auto Mechanics; Driver Education; Metal Shop; Electronics; Carpentry; Graphic Arts; Welding; Electricity; Plumbing and Heating; Trowel Trades; Drafting; Clothing; Typing and Shorthand.

All courses will be taught by fully qualified teachers.

Fantastic, Frustrating
And Frightening

The new "surtax" on incomes is advertised as a cure for inflation. It isn't. It may help a little, but unless the massive waste and profligate spending of the Federal Government is cut drastically (far beyond the "token" $6 billion that is being talked about in the White House), inflation will continue at a dollar-killing pace. Deficit spending and rising commodity prices caused in part by forced wage increases, if not halted, will wreck our nation—and everybody will suffer.

We'll talk about the wage-rise, cost-push inflation in a subsequent column but we shall devote this one to the bad management of the Federal Government throughout the past 20 years. Congressman Otto E. Passman of Louisiana's 5th District is one of the most unpopular men in Washington with the wasteful spenders. He has just enraged them again with publication of a resume of what bad government management has meant to the nation since 1950 (under Republican and Democratic Presidents and Congresses). Here are some of the unpleasant facts:

PUBLIC DEBT: The public debt of the United States Government has risen from $257 billion in 1950 to $345 billion in 1967 (and will probably hit $360 billion this year). This debt imposes a mortgage on the income and property of every American. The interest alone on the 1967 debt amounted to approximately $14 billion. That's more than was spent on the entire cost of the Federal Government for the three years 1928-29-30 or the three years 1931-32-33. There are 133 nations in the world. The combined indebtedness of all 133 is $43 billion less than the debt accumulated by the United States Government.

GOLD HOLDINGS: Since 1950, our storehouse of gold at Fort Knox (serving as the anchorage for our monetary system) has been reduced from $22 billion to $10.5 billion. And the drain continues, adding to the instability of the dollar over the same period the other countries of the world have increased their gold holdings by $16 billion.

Going Deeper

SHORT TERM DOLLAR CLAIMS (Accounts Payable): Short term dollar claims against the United States Government—obligations to foreign countries and financial institutions—have risen from $8 billion in 1950 to $35 billion, an increase of nearly $27 billion. This is another of the prime factors in the continuing shakiness of the dollar in world monetary circles.

U. S. BALANCE OF PAYMENTS: This, boiled down to understandable terms, means the difference between our exports and imports of money and goods. When we have a deficit in the balance of payments, we are spending more money outside the U. S. than we are getting in from the outside. Such a deficit endangers the whole economy of a country. Since 1950 there has been only one year in which we did not have a deficit in this vital balance, and our true fiscal situation (though largely hidden) has worsened each year. The year 1967 showed a near-record deficit of $3.6 billion, and the 18 years since 1950, the total deficit runs to $36.9 billion. Bankrupting Santa Claus

"FOREIGN AID" SPENDING: The goods and money we have been sending to foreign countries, some of them Communist countries that have turned our aid into guns used against U. S. armed forces, have boosted the deficit in our balance of payments. In the 22 year period since 1946, stewards of our Government have made net disbursements to 126 foreign nations totalling $118 billion. Congressman Passman notes that American taxpayers have had to pay interest of $52 billion on borrowings made necessary to carry out this "foreign aid" Niagara. The Soviet Union, Poland, Czechoslovakia and other Communist countries are shown to have received hundreds of millions from the U. S. Government treasury.

Other statistics could be shown—such as the all-time record 1968-69 Budget, with an all-time spending high for non-defense, non-war items. But let us in a final word in this column point out the fact that such fantastic, frustrating and frightening bad management of our Federal financial house will continue unless the people of America choose a different kind of Government leadership than they have in the past 30 years. Our financial house is being managed by persons of our own choosing. In this 1968 election year, this fact should give pause to every voter.

Byron Calls For National Primary

State Senator Goodloe E. Byron, who is seeking the Democratic Congressional nomination for Maryland's Sixth District in the September primary, this week joined other state and national leaders in calling for the establishment of a "national primary election".

In announcing his support of the mounting ground swell, Byron, a Frederick attorney, said "Americans are becoming increasingly concerned regarding the selection of Presidential candidates by the convention method. In this age of instantaneous communication the convention method is outdated and it should be supplanted by a system of national "direct vote" primaries."

"The platform of the parties", Byron concluded, "would be hammered out by smaller national groups meeting only for that expressed purpose with each party's candidate in the primary pledged to carry out the platforms provisions."

Administrators To Attend Institutes

Sister Marie Therese, director of admissions, and Miss Elizabeth Klunk, new admissions counselor, will represent St. Joseph College at admissions institutes during August.

Sister will attend the Institute on Admissions sponsored by the New Jersey Association of College Admission Counselors, to be held at Stevens Institute of Technology, Hoboken, N. J., August 18-23.

The Institute will provide an informal setting for high school and college admissions officers to meet and discuss problems of mutual interest.

Among topics to be discussed are financial aid counseling; the problem of college transition and attrition, and admission procedures and philosophies at various types of colleges.

Institute directors include William Kolodinski of Rutgers University and Alton Sawin, dean of students at Drew University.

Miss Klunk will attend a four-day workshop on College Admissions, Manhattan College, Bronx, N. Y., August 25-28.

This workshop is designed for new personnel to give them some practical experience with the problems which they will meet, thus assisting deans and directors of admissions in the training of their new personnel.

Topics to be discussed at the workshop include: ethics of admissions personnel; the role of the admissions counselor; presenting a College night for students and parents; and some insights into the work of the high school guidance counselor.

A 1968 graduate of St. Joseph's, Miss Klunk officially joins her alma mater as admissions counselor in September.

Guest lecturers include Brother Christopher of Lasalle College, who is the president of the association of college admissions counselors; Ellen Crowley from the College of Mt. St. Vincent; Helen McCann of Barnard College; and Herbert Livezey, director of admissions at New York University.

URBAN - (SUB) URBAN

Cleveland Mayor Carl B. Stokes reports The Equitable Life Assurance Society will provide $2 million for housing loans in city's low and moderate income areas. Scene of company official with Mayor is typical of many cities as life insurance industry pushes $1 billion program to help eradicate slums.

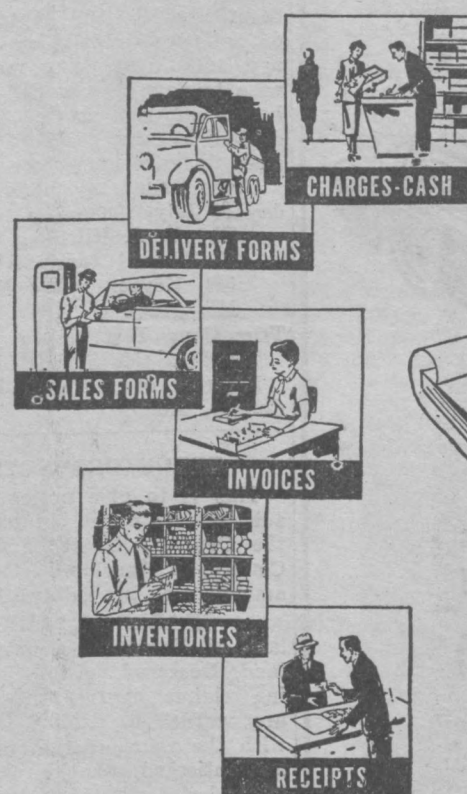

An empty lot in a proposed urban renewal area provides some children with vacation fun, digging for "treasure" or throwing rocks to test pitching arm. As a substitute for recreational facilities they play potsy in big city streets.

Gov. Rockefeller and Mayor Lindsay with scale model, announce agreement to develop a waterfront residential and commercial community to be known as Battery Park City. It will contain 21,000 housing units on 88 acres.

Science Socks Static

Static electricity can be a hair-raising problem both at home and in industry—besides giving you that ouchy tickle when you touch a door knob. In industry, however, energy from the atom is being used to get rid of the static problem. A small bar (shown over girl's hair at right) which contains beads of radioactive isotopes has been designed for neutralizing air around static charge to reduce static electricity to zero. The beads "cage" the isotope to make it effective and safe to handle.

Serious static problems for people working with plastic, paper and other materials generating static are being solved by this nuclear bar, called the 3M Company static eliminator. In addition, the eliminator bar is designed to protect against fires or explosions since it cannot cause sparks and has no cords or wires.

The static eliminator, acclaimed as the first nuclear device of its kind to be available without special Atomic Energy Commission license, is an example of one of the many different ways the atom is being used these days for peaceful purposes, the company nuclear researchers point out. The bar has proved so successful that a growing number of devices to combat static electricity are now on the drawing boards of engineers working with atomic power.

ASK A "SIMPLE" QUESTION

Smart fishermen ask "simple" questions. At least so it seems on occasion . . . especially to the green beginner who would rather go home skunked than reveal his ineptitude.

It's no crime to ask questions, say the fishing authorities at Mercury outboards. In fact, the real pro always takes advantage of every bit of local advice he can ferret out.

But whom you ask is important. Certainly not everyone you run across during a session on the water is worth talking to, much less attempting to obtain information from. In short, seek out the expert.

Don't waste time with the individual who swings his rod like a flyswatter. He'll be no real help. Neither will the bank fisherman who usually rents what he considers an invasion of his personal fishing territory.

Look for the man using artificial lures, casting smoothly and with little effort. Often this type of person not only can give valid information, but doesn't mind sharing it with others.

How he is approached determines his responsiveness.

Good manners and courtesy are the mark of top-flight fishermen. Extend them always, and they'll be returned in kind. This means moving up to within talking distance, but without disturbing another's fishing. Never approach through a stretch of water he is going to fish.

Engage in polite conversation. Ask your questions. Keep them general about locations, depths, and lures. Don't expect to have the exact lures and pockets pinpointed. These you must find for yourself.

Soliciting assistance is no disgrace among the very best anglers, comment the Mercury lads.

Those who fail to ask "simple" questions seldom fool the fish—only themselves.

Searching Oceans Grows To Rival Space Effort

WASHINGTON, D. C., — Alcoa has taken three major steps to broaden its diversification into oceanography — the growing new field of scientific endeavor, the magnitude of which promises to rival the space effort within a decade.

The moves involve: FORMATION of a new company, Ocean Search, Inc., to engage worldwide in a variety of exploratory projects related to ocean environment and its enormous potential for mankind's welfare. Ocean Search is a joint venture of Aluminum Company of America and Ocean Science and Engineering, Inc. of Washington, D. C., a pioneering global leader in oceanography in which Alcoa has had an equity interest for more than a year.

DESIGN and construction of the all-aluminum ALCOA SEAPROBE, largest and most advanced deep ocean search and recovery surface vessel ever planned, with capabilities of recovering 200-ton payloads from 6000-foot depths.

A PROGRAM of intensified research and development in the area of new aluminum marine alloys and products for a host of existing and potential on-surface and undersea applications.

Spearheading Alcoa's expanded involvement with oceanography will be the ALCOA SEAPROBE . . . its name symbolizing the ship's unique purpose and capabilities. Construction by a shipyard yet to be named is scheduled to begin in October, and the vessel is to be fitted out and ready for sea trials by May, 1970.

Hull and superstructure of the 244-foot vessel will be of Alcoa-developed aluminum marine alloys, making it the largest all-aluminum vessel yet to be launched. With its 50-foot beam, nine-foot draft, and 2000-ton displacement, it will constitute a trail-blazing "State of the Art" use of aluminum, much as the 30-story Alcoa Building in Pittsburgh achieved the technological breakthroughs which, since 1952, have inspired the construction of hundreds of aluminum-clad skyscrapers.

Utilizing patented OSE techniques and equipment, ALCOA is now in Burlington, Vt., and is employed by G. E. Corp. Mr. and Mrs. Michael Bobanic and family, Aliquippa, Pa., have returned to their home after having spent the past week visiting Mrs. Bobanic's father, Eugene Warthen, and sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur S. Elder.

OCEAN DEPTHS UNEXPLORED since the beginning of time will soon come within man's reach. Objects 6000-feet down and weighing as much as 200 tons are within the search and recovery capabilities of the all-aluminum ALCOA SEAPROBE, depicted in this artist's sketch. Most advanced craft of its type ever designed, the ship will be built and put to sea within two years.

SEAPROBE will possess the ability to hold its position in rough seas; search, core, drill, and sample mineral deposits on the sea floor; locate and retrieve heavy objects more than a mile beneath the surface; and to perform other research and exploratory oceanographic functions. No existing or proposed ship has anything approaching these capabilities.

To accomplish its multiple tasks, the vessel will constitute a floating complex of sophisticated electrical and electronic gear manned by 40 scientists, technicians and crewmen.

Powered by diesel electric generators giving it a 10,000-mile 45-day cruising range, the ALCOA SEAPROBE will be equipped with radio telephones, radar, sonar of several frequencies, undersea cameras and television, and a variety of special-purpose retrieving equipment.

While the ALCOA SEAPROBE's precise missions are yet to be determined, they are expected to involve priority undersea geological explorations in behalf of Alcoa's unceasing quest for new mineral resources. Ocean Search, Inc. also plans to operate the ship under charter on a variety of projects. These could include undersea drilling for oil, gas, and mineral deposits; the salvage of valuable weapons and objects lost beneath the sea on U.S. Navy and Atomic Energy Commission test ranges; and deep marine archaeology to recover historically valuable art and other treasures.

Trubac Heads United Appeal

Charles M. Trubac has been named General Chairman of the Frederick County United Appeal Campaign for 1968, according to an announcement by Francis W. Bush, Sr., President of the Community Chest of Frederick County.

Mr. Trubac, who is Deputy Regional Vice President of State Farm Insurance Companies, will have the task of raising $190,000 which is the United Appeal goal set for this year. In commenting on Trubac's appointment, Bush said, "While the 1968 goal is the highest in the 30-year history of the Community Chest in Frederick County, I am confident that Charles Trubac will organize a corps of enthusiastic volunteers who will make sure that we reach our goal."

In the opinion of Trubac it is not unreasonable to expect the more than 80,000 people of Frederick County to contribute a total of $190,000. "We can raise this sum," he said, "if everyone will give his fair share. Fair share giving will be the theme of our campaign this year."

Hurt In Car; Files Suit

A total of $250,000 in damages is sought in Carroll County Circuit Court, Westminster, by Estelle Plaine, Baltimore, against Lillian A. Bennett, Emmitsburg.

The suit was filed after an auto accident in September, 1965, in which Mrs. Plaine was a passenger in the auto driven by Mrs. Bennett. Mrs. Bennett pulled the car off the side of Route 97, stopped and got out without properly adjusting the brake, according to the complaint.

The auto went off the right side of the roadway and down an embankment, according to the suit, throwing Mrs. Plaine out of the car. The plaintiff states that she was hospitalized for the treatment of a fractured arm, ruptured spleen and other injuries.

In addition to the medical cost, the injuries resulted in loss of earnings, the suit states. The plaintiff asked a jury trial for the case.

Firemen Hear Report On Truck

The regular monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Co. was held on Tuesday evening in the Fire Hall with President James Fitzgerald presiding.

Chief Guy McGlaughlin reported that seven alarms had been answered during the past month. He further advised that the company had responded to 54 alarms thus far this year and added that the total for the entire year of 1967 was only 58.

Arthur Damuth, co-chairman of the Service & Rescue Truck Committee, advised that the new truck was placed in service on July 28 and has already responded to several alarms and is performing very satisfactorily.

President Fitzgerald, co-chairman of the Fund Drive Committee, advised that only 3% of the $6,000 goal has been received. Of 1215 letters which were mailed out, 764 have been answered. The firemen will attempt to contact everyone in the Emmitsburg area who do not mail in their returns. The fund drive committee wishes to thank everyone who have contributed to the fund drive to date, and want to urge all who have not contributed to do so in order that the present quality of service can be continued.

Mr. Charles Wright, Senior Instructor and Mr. Clint Hughes, Field Instructor, for the University of Maryland, were present to award the certificates to the members who recently completed a Basic Firemen's Training Course which was given by the University. The members successfully completing the course of 60 hours were: Leo M. Boyle, Arthur Damuth, James Fitzgerald, Harry Green, Guy McGlaughlin, Eugene Myers, Sterling Myers, Terrance Myers and Thomas White.

Mr. Wright gave a very informative talk and showed slides on the various phases of firemen's training which is available thru the University of Maryland.

Leo M. Boyle, Arthur Damuth and Michael Byard, comprising the summer feed committee, advised that the feed, for the active and social members, and specially invited guests, will be held on August 25 at Kump's Dam.

The next regular meeting of the Fire Company will be held on Sept. 10 at 7:30 p.m.

A VIEWPOINT

By Terry Smith

I think it is pretty well agreed that, to a great extent, the key to the stability of the American system of government has been a strong and viable two party concept. One need only look to such examples as France and Italy to consider the consequences.

The cornerstone of this two party concept has always been based on the adversary system whereby two distinct alternatives are offered from which the voter can choose based on his own personal beliefs.

What occurs then when the two major parties nominate candidates whose only philosophical differences are the particular party banners under which they run. The disenchantment from both sides form their own party as the only way open to seek their particular redress of grievances.

The Republicans sad to say must bear the guilt for this dangerous trend in American politics. It is they more than anyone who have spawned the chaotic Mr. Wallace and the seed of turmoil that he carries. Through the years the Democratic party has been the party of the Federal dole, the big brother in Washington and the egalitarianism of American society. In short, the liberals haven. They have consistently adhered to these beliefs, and are quite candid in stating their position. With few exceptions most democratic candidates run on this basic liberal platform. For this consistency the party is to be commended.

The mantle of opposition then must fall to the Republicans. But in recent years this opposition has been colored by sameness. For in its ranks bearing the label of Republican, are some of the most avowed liberals in the country. I refer specifically to Nelson Rockefeller, Raymond Schaeffer, John Lindsay, Jacob Javits, Clifford Case, Mark Hatfield, George Romney, and on and on. I challenge anyone to find any basic difference in philosophy between any of the aforementioned gentlemen and their democratic counterparts.

What kind of a choice do these men give a voter? The answer is none. Sure they have that magical charisma that gets them elected, but the facade wears thin in a short time. The old hackneyed expression a choice not an echo has never been more applicable then it is today.

The Republican party has a duty to offer a distinct alternative to the Democratic nominee, and not simply a carbon copy. Whether or not their platform is ultimately rejected at the polls the slide toward sameness must be reversed. A Nelson Rockefeller or a Charles Percy is not the answer. The only two major candidates who offer the necessary alternatives spoken about are Richard Nixon and Ronald Reagan. The so called debacle of 1964 when a real choice was given must not push the Republican party to a disastrous metooism. To compare the climate of 1968 with that of 1964 is incongruous, and to interpret the results of the latter election as a repudiation of the conservative position is folly. Most political observers will agree that personalities not issues were the decisive factors in the '64 campaign, but just the opposite will be true in 1968. The Republican party must have the courage to accept the challenge, or face its eventual demise.

Rocky Ridge 4-H Meeting Draws Well

The regular meeting of the Rocky Ridge Progressive 4-H Club held its August meeting last Tuesday at Mt. Tabor Park. The group, estimated at 70, was presided over by the President, Tim Keilholtz. The meeting was begun by reciting the Pledge to the American Flag and the Pledge to the 4-H Flag. Under old business the club tour day was discussed. The tour was held last Saturday, leaving Saylor's Store at 8 a.m.

Under new business special recognition was given to the two men making the annual outing possible. Mr. Chester Ecker, salesman for Wayne feeds, supplied the food and refreshments, and Mr. Robert Saylor transported the goods. Afterwards the film, "The Thrill of a Horse," was presented by Mr. Ecker. Miss Wanda Black of the Thurmont club then announced the concert to be given by the Frederick County Sing Group. Announcements were made by Mr. George Bruchey, leader of the Emmitsburg club, and by Mr. Ralph Keilholtz of the Rocky Ridge club. The meeting was adjourned at 8:45 p.m.

Beer Consumption Reported Off

Comptroller of Maryland Louis L. Goldstein this week released a report of revenues collected by the Alcoholic Beverages Division for the month of July 1968, as compared with collections for the same period of a year ago.

Comptroller Goldstein stated that receipts from Distilled Spirits for July 1968 had increased 14.43%, that Wine had decreased 6.71%, and that Beer had decreased 16.14% from July 1967.

Mr. Goldstein also stated that refunds totaled $6,038.00 for July 1968, as compared to $5,320.50 for July 1967, an increase of $717.50.

The overall net receipt figure for July 1968 is $1,119,071.88 as compared to $1,051,059.38 for the same period one year ago, an increase of $68,012.50 or 6.45%.

Teachers Oppose School Calendar

The method of action by the Board of Education in adopting a school calendar has caused "deep concern" to the Frederick County Teachers Association.

The board's unilateral action in adopting an item under negotiation, the school calendar, raises concern about the future professional negotiations in Frederick County, the FCTA said.

In a letter sent to the Board of Education members and superintendent Dr. John L. Carnochan, Heisley B. Corum, FCTA president, said: "During the last eight months the FCTA has made repeated requests, written and oral, to proceed with discussions of these items."

The school calendar was included in other personnel policies presented for negotiation by FCTA on Dec. 1, 1967. It was agreed that the school calendar was an acceptable item for negotiation and that all non-budgetary items would be discussed together and adopted as a total package.

"We are . . . concerned and extremely disappointed that the Board would ignore a good-faith agreement made by its representatives on Dec. 1, 1967," Corum's letter said.

Not only that, but the Board of Education's action in adopting the calendar unilaterally may be in violation of Article 77, Section 175 of the Maryland Code which covers negotiations, Corum said.

On the last day of July, a request was made to re-open negotiations so that an answer to the school board's proposals might be had by Tuesday, Aug. 6, to be presented to the board at its regular monthly meeting August 7.

The following Monday, Aug. 5, the FCTA was informed of complete reworking of all policies, Corum said. It was impossible to meet with counter-proposals in the short time allowed, Corum added.

An agreement has been reached, however, to go ahead with negotiations so they may be completed by the beginning of the school year, the FCTA president said.

Blue Cross Advises S. S. Benefits

Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield this week reminded Marylanders reaching age 65 this year to check with their local Social Security district office to make sure they are enrolled for both hospital (Part A) and medical (Part B) coverage under the Medicare program.

A Plans spokesman said that approximately 1,700 Marylanders reach 65 each month and that virtually all of them are eligible for the Federal health care program. The enrollment period, he said, runs for seven months—the three months prior to the birth month, the birth month, and the three months following. The Maryland Blue Cross and Blue Shield Plans serve as administrative agents for the Federal program in Maryland.

The spokesman added that anyone eligible for Medicare also is eligible for the special Blue Cross and Blue Shield 65 program. "Medicare," the spokesman explained, "provides broad hospital and medical coverage to those over 65 years of age. The supplemental Blue Cross and Blue Shield plans cover many of the deductibles and coinsurance requirements built into the Federal program."

"The Blue Cross and Blue Shield 65 enrollment period coincides with the Medicare period," he said. "Anyone interested in the supplemental protection plan should contact their nearest Blue Cross and Blue Shield office."

Says Police Should Be Unarmed

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: The cities of Boston and Mexico City have recently announced that in the future their policemen would go unarmed. Hopefully this marks a trend.

When a policeman is armed he usually visualizes the situation as "me and my gun—against the criminal." How much better it would be, if everywhere, it were as in England, where unarmed policemen visualize their situation as "me and my community—against the criminal."

An unarmed policeman commands respect for the authority he represents . . . an armed policeman commands only deference to POWER . . . not respect. The two are different. Deference to power can be taught from the barrel of a gun . . . but not respect for law and order.

I suggest that here in Emmitsburg—the most peaceful community I know—we join in the experiment being tried in Boston and Mexico City, and so long proven on the streets of London Towne.

Benefit Car Wash By Church Group

The young people of Incarnation United Church of Christ are planning a car wash to be held on Saturday, August 24, water conditions permitting, behind the Laundromat. Please call 447-2270 if you wish more information or desire to have your car picked up that morning.

The youths are planning to donate the proceeds of this workday to the Building Fund of the Church for the new Fellowship Hall.
