In this day and age of campus dissent throughout the Nation, it is high time a firm stand be made as to who is the master... the student or the taxpayer...

We, as taxpayers, have bought and paid for these schools and the physical and material things are our property. We are the owners, managers and landlords, so to speak, and unless we master the students who are only temporary tenants, they will master us...

General Ike has proven once again what a great battle wagger he really is. After being laid low with seven heart attacks, the former President underwent major surgery (emergency) just recently, and once again waged a major battle for his very existence...

Little League Meeting Tuesday

A meeting of the Emmitsburg Little League will be held on Tuesday evening, March 11 at 7:30 p.m. at the Francis X. Elder Post, American Legion.

All interested persons as well as present officers are urged to attend this important meeting, President George Baker announced.

Well Idle; Pump Delayed; Town Concerned

Unless the new electrical pump for the Town's newly-drilled well arrives this week the order will be cancelled and another ordered from a different company, it was announced at the regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners held Monday evening in the Town Office...

Present at the meeting was Clifford Gano, logging contractor, who sought a contract to cut logs on the Town watershed. Mr. Gano was asked to submit a proposal to the Board in the near future.

John Hanly, vice president of American Telecab Service, talked to the Council relevant to installing cable television in Emmitsburg. Under the plan, television reception would be piped in from Baltimore, Washington, Harrisburg, Lancaster and Hershey areas.

Police Chief Henry Filler gave his monthly report to the Council. All current bills were ordered paid and the monthly financial report approved.

Paul B. Dern New Band Director

Retiring Director Thomas Harbaugh announced this week his successor to leadership of the Emmitsburg Municipal Band. Replacing Mr. Harbaugh, who resigned due to taking out-of-town employment, will be Paul B. Dern who has accepted the directorship.

Director Dern has been assistant director for many years and was director for some time following the death of Walter A. Simpson.

Says Letter Writer Missed Point

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

The Emmitsburg expatriate who concurs in Mr. Carmody's Post article appears to have missed the point, abundantly clear to most Emmitsburgians. Which brings to mind a tale attributed to Abe Lincoln.

It seems that the local residents finally became so irked and out of patience with the town ne'er-do-well that they gave him a coat of tar and feathers and rode him out of town on a rail. The following day someone asked him what he thought of such treatment. He opined that he wouldn't have enjoyed it so much if it had not been for the honor of the thing.

VFW AMBULANCE REPORT

Mrs. Anna Keckler, Emmitsburg, was transported this week to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, via the VFW ambulance and Mrs. Ida Humerick was taken to the Waynesboro Hospital for treatment and returned home in the vehicle. Drivers were Michael Boyle and Paul E. Humerick.

Open Letter To "Post" Editor

Mr. Benjamin Bradley Editor, Wash., Post Dear Mr. Bradley:

In my opinion, your John Carmody's Feb. 9th portrayal of Emmitsburg was insulting, condescending, cruel, inaccurate and completely distorted, and I am shocked that the POST with its high standards, permitted such an incomplete, unsubstantiated story to be printed.

When Mr. Carmody completed the typing of his copy on the little town he probably felt very smug and was confident he had a masterpiece of satire ready for publication. It was a masterpiece, YES, but, alas, one of ignorance and half-truths and a classic example of what constitutes disgraceful reporting.

How dare he literally destroy a wonderful little town with his castigating, patronizing, inaccurate, inept and incomplete reporting? Anyone who has lived in Emmitsburg or had occasion to spend a few days there can vehemently dispute Mr. Carmody's crude, outrageous portrayal of the little town that's nestled at the foot of the Blue Ridge Mts.

What satisfaction did he derive from ridiculing hundreds of people who merit his praise rather than his derision. Why did he not exercise the cardinal rule of journalism — that of searching deeply and completely for the facts. ALL the facts, not just a few which appealed to his macabre sense of humor. It would seem his quest for knowledge was limited to a few disgruntled teenagers, a couple of dropouts and a self-misnaming "bar fly".

He literally "buried" the little town in hopeless oblivion, insulted its businessmen, ridiculed its residents. Undoubtedly the town's reputation will suffer damage, inculcated by Mr. Carmody's depicting it as an "almost people-less museum". Think of the adverse effect this could have on tourists who were planning to visit the town, as well as persons possibly contemplating future residence there.

It is true Emmitsburg could use some improvements and a few more industries (what small town could not) and while it is no "SUNSET STRIP", neither is it the "Sleepy Hollow" that Mr. Carmody paints it to be.

In direct refutation of his nebulous reporting, the town comprises a good cross-section of Americans, a better than average number of its citizens being progressive, well educated and intelligent. It is a college town in a beautiful setting, with excellent educational facilities — a town whose residents are smart enough to avail themselves of the academic opportunities nearby, which lead to college degrees.

In all fairness, those who read Mr. Carmody's side of the 'story', should know: That Emmitsburg's cultural and sports programs are second to no other town of equal size; that the civic, fraternal organizations, school and church groups are, proportionately speaking, just as active in sponsoring fine projects and varied social activities as any of our metropolitan areas; that the local band and drill team have garnered many trophies in statewide competition; that the numerous charitable enterprises of the town would astound even blase city folk; that Emmitsburg has its own Scout activities, town library and its own lively, highly respected newspaper, the EMMITSBURG CHRONICLE and busy printing plant; that there are funds on hand (supplied by citizens whom Mr. Carmody would have us believe wouldn't or couldn't work) for a modern swimming pool for the town; that before making his innuendos about the local Firemen, he should have been apprised of the fact that the E'burg Fire Co., with its modern equipment, is ably and efficiently run by volunteers just as our own is here in Montgomery County; that scarcely a day goes by when they are not called upon to run their errands of mercy to transport townspeople and strangers who are ill or injured. These are but a few of the good features of the town and, believe me, there are more! This is a mere glimpse of the other side of the story, which, for some season, (Continued on Page Two)

Mounties Enter NCAA Regionals

Mount Saint Mary's quintet was eliminated from the Mason-Dixon conference championship tournament by Old Dominion 82-74 in the semi-finals last Friday night.

The Mounties had stretched a nine point half time lead to 13 points early in the second half and seemed to have the Monarchs ready for a knockout punch. But Sonny Allen regrouped his stymied gunners and suddenly O.D. was on a tear.

With all-MD guard Dick St. Clair leading the powerful O.D. break and Harry Lozon popping from outside, the Monarchs turned a 44-31 deficit into a 57-56 advantage in eight minutes.

Ron Drewn hit a jumper to make the margin four and moments later Billy Hayes' baseline jump shot made it six. The Mounties managed to cut the lead to three with two minutes to go but Lozon hit three foul shots in the last minute to put the game out of reach.

Lozon paced O.D. with 26 while Lou Grillo and Dick Dohler hit 22 each. The Mountaineers sorely missed the play of sophomore John Novey who missed the tourney due to an ankle injury. Jim Phelan notched victory 300 in the opening round when his cagers dumped Bridgewater 78-65. Here Murphy, subbing for Novey, ripped the cords for 23, as the Mounties coasted home after an 11 point halftime lead.

The Phelan-men will travel to Norfolk State College this weekend to participate in the NCAA South Atlantic regional tournament. The Mounties will face host Norfolk State while Old Dominion will test Olgethorpe in the semi-finals tonight (Friday). The winners will play Saturday night for the South Atlantic title and the right to represent the district in the national finals at Evansville, Indiana, next week.

Norfolk State led the country in offense—averaging 109 points a game—while posting a 22-3 record and notching second place in the CIAA conference.

The Mountaineers will be seeking their fifth trip to Evansville.

Will Show Baby Picture Proofs

A representative from the Woltz Studios which recently took pictures of Emmitsburg's younger generation, will be at the VFW Annex on Monday, March 10 from 3 to 4 p.m., to show proofs of the pictures to parents who might want additional prints. In the near future pictures of those youngsters who were photographed will appear in the Emmitsburg Chronicle.

STUDENT HONORED

Miss Carolyn Frock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll E. Frock, Jr., Maple Ave., Hanover, formerly of Emmitsburg, was one of three seniors from Hanover area high schools who have been honored by the Hanover Soroptimist Club in its annual Youth Citizenship program. Miss Frock, a senior at Delone Catholic High School, received a $50 U. S. government bond for coming in second in the competition. Fourteen students from five high schools in the Hanover area were in the competition.

Catoctin Booster Drive Shows Promising Results

With the opening of the new Catoctin High School, a program has been started to establish a football team and complete athletic program for this school. All persons interested in the establishment of a football team and program at the high school are invited and urged to attend a meeting to be held Monday, March 10 beginning at 7:30 p.m., at the new Catoctin High School. At this meeting Mr. Roy Comer, Supervisor of Physical Education for Frederick County, will be the guest speaker and he will outline the procedure for establishing a football team at the Catoctin High School. Also, any questions concerning the team and the athletic program will be fully discussed.

With the end of the current year's basketball season it became obvious that Emmitsburg youths will play a major role in the sports program of the Catoctin High School. A majority of the school's basketball players were from the Emmitsburg area and contributed to a very successful season.

At a recent meeting of the Catoctin Boosters, held Wednesday, February 26 at the Emmitsburg VFW, a report was received concerning the preliminary fund raising campaign for the establishment of the Catoctin football team. It was reported that over $3,000.00 had already been raised with over a hundred persons being enrolled as charter members of the Catoctin Boosters. The initial phase of the campaign will soon be ended and all persons desiring to become charter members of the Catoctin Boosters are asked to contact Tom Saylor. With the success of the campaign so far, the Catoctin High School should be prepared to field a football team for the 1970 season.

Frederick Chamber To Publish Brochure

The new sales campaign for the Civic Brochure has gotten off to a fast start, according to Chas. M. Trubac, president of the Frederick County Chamber. While only a fraction of the Chamber membership has been contacted in person, the interest in this Chamber project is high and it promises to be a real success.

The new Civic Brochure was endorsed by the board of directors of the Chamber at its December meeting and Windsor Publications was asked to produce the book. It will cover all the important facts of the community: Our history, government, schools, industry, shopping, residential areas, parks, churches, nearby recreation and our plans for the future development of Frederick County. Over 800 photographs will be shot for the brochure and the Chamber will select the ones they want included in the publication.

"I'm sure this new brochure will give us an effective sales tool that we can use to help attract more industry and more residents to Frederick County," commented Richard D. Hammond, Chamber manager. "We will mail it out in answer to all serious inquiries we receive at the Chamber. It's going to be the kind of community story we've needed for a long time and I am certainly looking forward to its publication in about three months."

12 Die On State Roads Last Week

Twelve persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the survey published by the State Police. Seven of those killed were drivers, four were passengers, and one was a pedestrian. Alcohol was a contributing factor in three of the deaths, speed in seven, and "driver error" in all but one.

"Four drivers were killed last week because they were operating at speeds that were excessive for the icy or snow-covered roads on which they were traveling," noted Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent of the State Police.

"Obviously we can do nothing to control the weather. However, each driver can certainly adjust his speed to compensate for unfavorable road conditions. If he fails to do this, he stands a very good chance of being involved in a serious or fatal accident."

Davis New Head Of Mount Development Office

Mount Saint Mary's College this week announced creation of a new position, director of development & public relations, to centralize and expand activities aimed at building understanding and support for the institution.

Promoted to the new office was A. Vernon Davis, a veteran of 25 years in the field of communications who came to the Mount six months ago to establish and administer a professional public relations program.

Monsignor Hugh J. Phillips, president, said the Mount is in the process of updating itself in all areas of activity and "a major professional effort to clarify the new role of the college to itself, and to all its constituencies is essential for success."

"As a private liberal arts college," he continued, "we cannot operate and grow with tuition alone, and it is clear that major outside support can continue to be obtained only through a thoroughly organized, aggressive development program."

As one of just six positions now reporting directly to the president in a realignment of the college administration, the director of development & public relations is responsible for planning strategy, executing programs, and allocating resources for a unified college advancement activity.

"Mr. Davis has created an impressive communications program since joining us last summer," Monsignor Phillips said. "We look forward to an extension of his professional leadership into the area of development." The college president said new fund-raising activities will focus initially on essential building renovations, establishment of an investment fund to raise the level of faculty salaries, and expansion of the investment fund for scholarships.

Soon to follow is establishment of a long-range planning committee, composed of representatives of the Board of Trustees, faculty, administration, alumni, students and friends. It will be the charter of this group, organized administratively under the office of vice president, to conduct detailed studies and produce a long-range plan for the newly oriented college, establishing priorities for future major projects.

Open Letter

Mr. Carmody did not reveal. I ask you, Mr. Bradlee, does this sound like the same town your reporter described?

Do not be surprised, sir, if some of those who live in Mr. Carmody's "almost peopleless museum", send blasts of fury your way over the untimely "burial" of their town! Surely an apology to the people of Emmitsburg is in order—if not that, then I urge the POST, by way of righting a wrong, to dispatch another reporter to the little town. One who will tell it like it really is! His story could be captioned, "Emmitsburg Revisited".

As for your Mr. Carmody, I personally suggest that he be demoted to "copy boy" and made to rejoin your corps of cub reporters, there to learn the fundamentals of good reporting and journalism. Frankly, I do not believe he is nearly ready to have his own by-line, DO YOU?

Ex-Criminal Will Lecture At Mount

Bill Sands, the noted author and former criminal who is devoting his energy and talent to organizing rehabilitation programs for convicts and ex-convicts, will speak on the campus of Mount Saint Mary's College on the evening of March 12.

His appearance is part of a cultural events program jointly sponsored this year by St. Joseph and Mount Saint Mary's Colleges.

Starting at 8 p.m. on March 12 in Flynn Hall, Sands will speak on the subject, "The Seventh Step", explaining new and unusual methods that have proven so successful in re-motivating convicts. He will discuss penal institutions and methods used with both juvenile and adult offenders.

"The Seventh Step" is the name of a foundation established by Sands to work toward crime prevention.

Sands lectures extensively on prevention of juvenile delinquency, prison reform, and prisoner rehabilitation. A man of extraordinary energy, Sands has been prize fighter, entertainer, a auto racer, corporation executive, Olympic swimming coach, pilot, diamond hunter, an inmate of San Quentin Prison.

The lecturer's most recent book, "My Shadow Ran Fast", has been widely quoted and is being heavily read throughout the nation.

Mrs. Rist Injured When Hit By Car

Lois R. Rist, 43, Fairfield Rd., was listed in satisfactory condition at the Warner Hospital where she was admitted after being struck by a car almost in front of the Charmita Inc. office while crossing the Fairfield Rd. about 7:45 p.m. last Wednesday.

Ahospitil spokesman said that Mrs. Rist, wife of Charles Rist, owner and operator of the Charmita development, suffered a possible fractured leg and lacerations of the head and scalp. Her leg, the spokesman added, is badly hurt. She was removed from the scene in the Gettysburg Fire Company ambulance.

State police said that the woman was struck by a vehicle driven by James E. Buffington, Jr., 20, of Mt. Vernon Terrace, Waynesboro.

Police said that Buffington was eastbound on the Fairfield Rd. and had just traveled over a crest of a hill and rounded a slight curve when he observed Mrs. Rist in the path of his car. Unable to stop his vehicle in time, he struck Mrs. Rist, who apparently did not see the oncoming auto and made no attempt to get out of the path of Buffington's vehicle. Damage to Buffington's auto was estimated at $100.

Pimlico Set For Opening Day

Pimlico Race Course, its glass-enclosed, heated stands ready for the public and its luxury stable quarters ready for the horses, opens its 52-day thoroughbred meeting today (Friday). Post time will be 1 p.m. daily.

General Manager Barclay Odell reports all conditions go at Old Hilltop. The opening day feature will be a six-furlong, $6,500 allowance for older horses.

The Old Line Handicap, a six-furlong sprint with added money of $25,000, will highlight Saturday's program. Racing secretary Lawrence J. Abbundi expects a field of 10-12 for the race.

By the time the Preakness has been run on closing day, May 17, the Maryland Jockey Club will have distributed $531,500 in added money for the richest stakes endorsement in Maryland history. The Preakness, richest of the three races comprising the Triple Crown, alone, will be worth $150,000 in added money.

Charles L. Shells' Sub Call, winner of the last two runnings of the Old Line, was among the 23 nominated for Saturday's renewal. The 6-year-old horse, scratched from last Saturday's John B. Campbell Handicap at Bowie, is racing in top form. He has been out five times this year for a record of two victories and three thirds.

The new horse quarters are sure to attract favorable comment for they have added much to the beauty of the historic track. The barns, 10 of them, have been constructed on the backstretch at the cost of $1.2 million.

ing will convene at the house of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Purdham, 601 Lee Place, April 13, 1969, 7:30 p.m. Interested parties are urged to contact the chairman at 271-7580 or the co-chairman at 662-0352.

Group To Appear On Television With Nixon Cabinet

Businessmen and community leaders of Frederick County have been invited to Baltimore on Mar. 26 to take part in a closed-circuit telecast meeting with Cabinet and other high officials of the Nixon Administration. They will discuss Administration plans for attacking community problems and the role of voluntary leaders.

A delegation from Frederick County is being recruited by the Chamber of Commerce. Baltimore is one of some 30 or more cities across the country chosen as receiving centers for the program. Arrangements in each center are handled by the local Chamber and each is inviting delegations from the surrounding area.

Over-all arrangements are handled by the Chamber of Commerce of the United States in Washington, which bills the event as "Challenge from the Nixon Administration." It is the first meeting of this kind ever attempted.

In announcing the unusual program, Charles M. Trubac pointed out that it was the business community's response to President Nixon's inaugural address call to "enlist the legions of the concerned and the committed" to help solve social problems.

The Baltimore meeting is scheduled for 10 a.m., Wednesday, March 26, in the Ballroom of the Lord Baltimore Hotel.

Altogether, hundreds of cities will be represented and the discussions are expected to cover a wide range of problems common to most of urban America. The event is a highlight of Chamber of Commerce Week, which is being observed throughout the nation, March 23-29.

The modern tank was developed by Great Britain and first appeared in action on Sept. 15, 1916 in the Battle of the Somme. LEGISLATIVE REPORT from Annapolis

By State Senator Goodloe Byron
Implied Consent Bill

The Implied Consent Law provides that a driver who accepts a license and operates a motor vehicle on the highways of Maryland is deemed to have given his consent in advance to a breathalyzer "test" if he is arrested on a charge of driving while intoxicated. Refusal to submit to such a test can be cause for suspension of his license even if he is later found not guilty in a trial in court of drunken driving.

As of 1968, twenty-nine states had adopted Implied Consent Legislation. While Maryland makes it a license-revocable offense to drive under the influence, the state police have long urged the legislature to adopt an Implied Consent Law which would make the drunk driving law an effective deterrent. It is estimated that nearly 18% of all drivers involved in fatal accidents had been drinking and that alcohol is a leading factor in most fatal accidents. Since the number of drivers is increasing rapidly in Maryland, it becomes more apparent than ever that the legislature must enact an Implied Consent Law as a cornerstone to its traffic safety program.

Caution: Reds At Work

Our nation is today witnessing in action a tiny part of the destructive potential of subversive forces unleashed by a long series of Supreme Court decisions protecting Communists inside the United States. The rioting, burnings, destruction, takeovers, and victories of revolutionary forces on College campuses and in high schools can be tracked directly to the Communist conspiracy to destroy this nation. We have been saying this for years. The latest nationally prominent journalist to discover it is Joseph Alsop.

Reporting on the chaotic conditions in New York City, Alsop in his February 3 column said the FBI "sees the New York school crisis as a sign of national subversion. J. Edgar Hoover was shrewd enough, apparently," Mr. Alsop observes, "to spot something that almost everyone else has rather unaccountably missed. The New York school crisis, which is really a horrendous racial confrontation, has been generally treated as a dire but strictly local mess. Instead, it is a national portent." A portent of disaster. Supreme Court decisions destroying legal safeguards against Communist activities have given the conspiracy full rein.

Takeover By Violence

The most important conclusion by Mr. Alsop (since his column is read by millions) is this: "What is going on, in plain truth, is nothing more nor less than an attempt to take over the New York schools by very far out extremists, both black and white. Their tools are hot-headed kids — in most schools, a small minority, whom the black extremists can lead by the nose."

This is precisely what's happening at San Francisco State University, on campuses all over the country. However, much of the press (particularly the TV networks) continues to report the Communist-created uprisings in a manner suggesting that they are the result merely of militant "dissent", the growing pains of democracy. On the contrary they constitute warnings of the impending doom of our democratic republic. They are manifestations of the rising influence within our country of the "hot-headed kids" mentioned by Mr. Alsop may be unaware of the Communist connections of some of their leaders.

Mayor Yorty's Findings

Mayor Sam Yorty of Los Angeles, one of the few big city mayors who has had the political courage to speak out on the Communist menace, issued a documented statement after his intelligence staff had made extensive investigations into the campus strife in Los Angeles. "It is not a local problem," he said (and now Journalist Alsop agrees). "It is international." Mayor Yorty said explicitly: "A large number of recent Los Angeles - area demonstrations, including outbreaks of student body unrest on campuses, have been master-minded, instigated and sponsored by identified and known Communist Party members and Communist Party front organizations—as part of a national and international Communist pattern seeking to promote urban violence and social turmoil."

"Our high schools," said Mayor Yorty, "are the next targets." Of course, this is true! I obtain and read the Communist press—all its major publications—daily, weekly, monthly. The Communist press of the last six months has laid out the guidelines for carrying the revolutionary action into U. S. high schools.

SDS Objective

Mayor Yorty's vitally important statement (we shall review it more fully in subsequent columns) names many Communists and subversive organizations involved in the campus turmoil. Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) is cited. It has been called "subversive" by FBI Director Hoover. Mayor Yorty notes that its National Secretary Greg Calvert has told SDS members that the SDS objective is: "To build a guerrilla force in an urban environment. We're actively organizing sedition." (Attention: Attorney General Mitchell.)

Mayor Yorty wants the former House Committee on Un-American Activities (House Committee on Internal Security) to investigate the campus turmoil and the organizations participating in it. However, no effective inquiry will be held until the American people, millions of them, urge it upon Congress. What I'm saying is: the growing threat to our way of life, our Republic, won't be put down by unsolicited action in the Congress or the White House. The American people in sufficient force haven't demanded it, haven't yet joined the fight against World Communism and its traitorous growing forces within our nation. Will we act in time? In a Republic like ours, it is our move. Congress is trying to do what it thinks the majority of the people want.

Open-Air Burning Ban Now In Effect

From Saturday, March 1 to Saturday, May 31, 1969, the fire season regulation is in effect, according to George B. Gilmore, District Forester of Department of Forests and Parks in LeVale, Md. This regulation prohibits open-air burning outside the limits of incorporated towns and then only within two hundred (200) feet of woodlands or inflammable material that could ignite and carry fire to the woodland. This regulation also applies to trash burning in unincorporated areas.

During the months of March, April and May, open-air burning is permitted between 4:00 p.m. and 12:00 midnight E.S.T., or if ground is covered with snow, only if there is a fire break free of inflammable material at least ten (10) feet wide completely around the material to be burned. There must also be adequate personnel and equipment present to prevent the fire from escaping. Any party letting a fire escape from their property is responsible by law for the cost of suppressing the fire.

During 1968, there were 34 fires caused by debris burning in the four western counties. Careless smoking caused 33 fires, and four were caused from campfires escaping. Machines and railroads caused 22 fires and 10 were incendiary fires. Miscellaneous classes, such as children playing with matches, hunters smoking out den trees, and unknown caused 21 fires. A total of 117 acres of woodland were burned, destroying wildlife habitat, water resources, aesthetics, recreation values and timber products.

Utility To Build New Power Plant

Final plans for another big mine-mouth generating station have been announced by The Potomac Edison Company and its affiliates in the Allegheny Power System.

A site on the West Fork River at Haywood, near Shinnston, West Virginia has been selected for the new facility which will have two 650,000 kilowatt units. It will be called Harrison Station, after the county in which it is located.

The new generating facility will cost about $210 million, with Potomac Edison's share of the investment amounting to approximately $63 million. Ownership will be shared with West Penn Power Company and Monongahela Power Company, also operating companies of the Allegheny Power System.

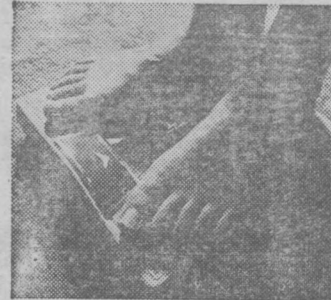

Site preparation on the 300 acres will begin this spring with actual construction of the station structures beginning about the spring of next year.

Present scheduling for the first 650,000 kilowatt unit to be in service in late 1972, with the second unit coming on the line in the fall of 1973.

Coal for the station (some 3,500,000 tons annually) will come from a near-by mine of Consolidation Coal Company and will travel by conveyor belt to the power station.

Harrison Station is the third major generating facility undertaken in recent years by PE and its affiliates. The Fort Martin Station, near Point Marion, Pa., now has two 540,000 kw units in

Reports from Washington

Congressman, 6th District, Maryland

I am happy to write the first in a series of weekly news articles which I hope will bring into focus the important issues being discussed in the Congress. It is extremely important that our constituents in the 6th Congressional District be aware of the matters under discussion in the Congress and I welcome any comments that you may have concerning these issues.

At the heart of our governmental structure, of course, is the National Budget which must be considered the most basic and important piece of business for the Congress in any year. The Budget under consideration now is that presented by President Johnson in his parting message to Congress on January 15, 1969. In this message, Mr. Johnson lifted Congressional spirits with a statement that for fiscal year 1969 we should have a surplus of 2.4 billion dollars. Even more optimistically he predicted that for the fiscal year 1970 we would end with a surplus of 3 and one half billion dollars. The economic balance of our United States Government seemed to be excellent in spite of recent deficits and the continuing substantial costs of the war in Vietnam, our space development program, and our fight on poverty.

A close examination of the budget, however, indicates that there is nothing that really should lift our spirits. The budget has been balanced through a change in bookkeeping methods whereby accumulated trust fund receipts are counted as normal government revenue. Trust funds are those monies paid by the employer and employee for the later benefit of the employee. Social Security is one example of our trust funds. The government only acts as a trustee for these funds and under law, no Administration or Congress may divert them to defray the normal operating expenses of government. Thus, when we subtract from the budget receipts, these trust funds, we note that there will be a deficit for fiscal 1969 of approximately 6.9 billion dollars. Using the same calculations for the budget proposal for 1970, we find that rather than having a surplus here we have a deficit for this year also. Confirmation of the fact that this surplus is mythical is a recent request from President Nixon that the debt ceiling be increased. This action is necessary because near the beginning of April the Government will need additional funds with which to conclude our current fiscal year. Mr. Nixon, therefore, has no choice but to ask for an increase in the debt ceiling.

You will be glad to know, I am sure, that on February 18, the House of Representatives secured the shaky fate of the House Committee on Un-American Activities. A faction had grown within the House that wanted to terminate the life of the committee and transfer its duties to the Judiciary Committee. The Committee on Un-American Activities has had an active and impressive record for almost 40 years. It performs a very useful service of keeping a watchful eye on internal threats to our government and it is the one committee that subversive organizations have been trying to eliminate since the day it was created. Because I believed that we should be constantly vigilant against any internal threats I voted to continue this committee.

The county on this vote was 262 yeas to 123 nays with 46 not voting. The decision to maintain the committee provided for the changing of its name to the Committee on Internal Security which should be more descriptive of its actual functions. With this decision, I feel that Congress recognized its obligation to protect the democratic system for which the American people stand.

get sent to the Congress the first law that I shall propose is one that allows citizens free postage whenever they write to a member of the Congress or to any officer of the Government. So there!

And the Senator's views are controversial: His position on Birth Control—strictly anti-baby—seems identical to that of the Planned Parenthood Association and its patron saint Margaret Sanger. The Senator ought to realize that his position is about as popular—among a considerable element of Marylanders—as the ancient oath against transubstantiation. And I do not mistake the Senator's position. In fact he brags: "I have been one of the principal Congressional advocates of voluntary family planning at home and abroad." Let all who are interested bear this in mind when they go to the polls in 1970. Perhaps he can be turned into one of Maryland's principal ex-senators.

P.S.—Did I say anti-baby? Yes! And I mean exactly that. This is the official position of the Maryland Planned Parenthood Association. It seems to be the Senator's position. For verification we need only to watch our television screens: First the doctor appears on the screen with the announcement "Congratulations Mrs. Jones, you're pregnant again." Next comes a picture of Mrs. Jones—mouth agape. Then the damning punch line: "Would planned parenthood have helped?" This spot-announcement is strictly anti-baby. The message has no other appeal.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

Dr. Newton K. Wesley

THE RETINA OF THE EYE

The back of the eye has the nerve endings of the optic nerve and this portion is called the retina. It is the inner coat of the eye. The retina changes light stimulations through the optic nerve for interpretation so that we can see.

The image on the retina may be blurred or it may be clear. The clearer it is, the sharper your vision. If the eye is out of focus, you may be hyperopic, which means far-sighted, and the image falls behind the retina. If this image falls in front of the retina you are near-sighted. When you have astigmatism one focus may fall in front of and the other in back of the eye. It is important that this image be clear and this is the purpose of the crystalline lens which controls the focus of the eye. If this crystalline lens cannot maintain focus, auxiliary lenses are needed in the form of spectacles or contact lenses.

There are many other factors that must be considered beside the sharpness of the retinal image. If the prescribed lens is not comfortable, or the eyes cannot work together, you may have more problems. The two eyes together may have a different measurement than one eye alone. The two eyes must be considered a team and measured that way.

The National Eye Research Foundation advises us to have regular eye examinations in order to protect our most prized possession.

Writer Disagrees With Senator's Views

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:
The following is my comment on Senator Tyding's newsletter of January 31, 1969 which he calls REPORT and which is about the same size as a normal issue of the "Chronicle". The big difference between Senator Tydings' publication and the Chronicle, is that the Chronicle doesn't attempt to cram controversial matters down the throats of its readers and it is not printed and mailed at public expense.

Because Senator Tydings' Newsletter is printed and mailed free, every registered voter in Maryland is made a subscriber. If a subscriber wishes to reply to the Senator's controversial views it takes time and the expense of postage. This seems hardly fair. Communication between a member of the Congress and his constituency ought to be a two-way street. For the Senator to have free postage, and voters not, tends to make voters a captive political block. I resent it and if I ever

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Review Of The Paper Industry

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., March 6—Manufacturers of paper and pulp showed an improved performance last year over the depressed results of 1967. Total production of paper and paperboard for 1968 was 49,200,000 tons, a very healthy

7% gain over the 46,000,000 tons produced in 1967. While profits for the industry were adversely affected by higher taxes and increased costs, many paper companies showed improved earnings last year. Few, however, equaled their 1966 highs. Looking Ahead
The outlook for paper and pulp production in 1969 is clouded somewhat by the possibility of an economic slowdown, and it is likely that profits will remain under pressure from higher costs and lingering overcapacity problems in certain lines. Nevertheless, prospects for the industry over the next few years appear brighter now than they have been for some time.

One of the big problems the industry has had has been the tendency to build too many plants. If one company built a new paper mill in a new area, competition was sure to follow with two more! The eventual result was excess capacity, price weakness, and declining profit margins. Lately, however, there have been indications that the industry managers are going to follow a more enlightened approach to profits.

Also, assuming a reasonably strong economy, there should be a much better supply-demand relationship for paper in the future than has been the case in the past. While demand will be growing, projected capacity increases for the next three years will decline to 3,900,000 tons. This is down from an 8,500,000-ton rise for the preceding three-year period, 1966-1968.

Broadening The Profits Base

Paper company managers are also attempting to reverse the declining return on invested capital by diversifying into the more profitable areas of the business, e.g., disposables and nonwoven materials, and more effectively utilizing their substantial acreage, e.g., real estate development and mineral exploration. Though it will be some time before these efforts pay off, they do indicate a more aggressive approach to profits. The Babson staff feels, in view of the industry's improving prospects, that paper stocks should be held, and periods of price weakness could be used for selected purchases. Below are brief comments on some of the leading paper companies.

This second-largest paper corporation is a highly integrated producer with industrial and business papers, paperboard, and newsprint as the major groups. Future prospects are enhanced by recent joint venture in Holland for the manufacture of flexible packaging materials. Operations are expected to begin by midyear.

International Paper

This world's largest paper manufacturer last year made a major move into the health industry by buying Davol, Inc., a maker of hospital and consumer health products. International Paper has also obtained a license from a German paper concern to make and market paper cloth throughout the Western Hemisphere. Benefits from these and other moves should eventually result in improved earnings.

Kimberly-Clark

A strong position in the consumer products area, new product introductions, increased efficiencies, and expanding foreign operations point toward higher sales and earnings in the years ahead. Company is changing from fiscal-year to calendar year reporting.

Scott Paper

Strong demand for company's domestic sanitary paper products should push 1969 sales well above 1968's record level. Longer-term prospects are enhanced by broadened earnings base, new products, and greater earnings contributions from foreign affiliates.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

Pregnancy Weights

SAN FRANCISCO, Calif.—The pendulum may be swinging back to the old-fashioned notion that a pregnant woman should eat for two.

Dr. Howard Jacobson, University of California professor of obstetrics, believes that 10-15 pounds is far too little for a normal woman to gain in those crucial nine months, particularly since the components of pregnancy alone usually add up to more than 20 pounds—the baby, the uterus, increased blood volume, added breast tissue.

Citing studies that show that mothers who gain more deliver bigger babies and that bigger babies are almost always healthier babies, Dr. Jacobson recommends a minimum weight gain of 24 pounds, even if a woman is overweight to begin with, and a maximum of 30 pounds.

"A pregnant woman," he says, "has a natural and correct desire to eat more. She does more physical work, there are more emotional demands, and there is more metabolic work. We should ask to what extent a pregnant woman on a diet is depriving her baby."

Women's Work Insurance

DETROIT, Mich.—When opportunity knocks, you not only have to open the door but keep it open. That seems to be the reason that hard-core unemployed women, hired off the street and sent to Chrysler's training classes, invariably ask visiting nurses about how they can get birth control pills, Business Week reports.

A Ford official says the hard-core unemployed, both men and women on a diet is depriving her and to keep working.

When A Cat Scratches
CHICAGO, Ill.—Lymph nodes are located under the arms, in the shoulders, head, neck, and groin. If they swell up on one side in one area, and there's a cat in your life, you may have the seldom-heard-of, rarely-diagnosed Cat Scratch Disease.

Three doctors, Hugh and Corneilia Carithers and Ray Edwards, Jr., report that Cat Scratch Disease is the most common cause of enlarged lymph nodes in children and adolescents, aside from obvious skin infections. Possibly a virus, the disease is carried on cats' claws and penetrates through a scratch that may not even be noticed.

Although the disease usually provokes only mild discomfort—a low fever, a feeling of fatigue, enlarged glands—it may cause aches and pains, particularly among older adults.

Voice Disapproval On New State Tax

Senate Minority Leader Edward T. Hall and House Minority Leader John S. McInerney have issued the following statement in the Governor's tax increase for the State of Maryland:

Maryland citizens are now aware that they will soon face another tax increase. When added to the already heavy tax burdens and a rising cost of living the situation becomes grim.

Therefore, we can appreciate the indignation and protests voiced by many of our Maryland citizens to Governor Mandel's tax increase proposal.

It is a sad fact, but taxes always seem to take priority over needed economies. Therefore, the Republican members of our Legislature, though a minority, pledge themselves to a thorough study of the budget. We intend to point out where needed savings can be made. We go on record today that we believe every citizen is entitled to get the very most of every tax dollar collected so that in the future the people can be spared from another increase. Now, more than ever before, fiscal responsibility must be the guideline for our State Government. The taxpayers have a right to demand this of those to whom they have entrusted their money.

Interesting to note, that the Governor deleted an important statement in his delivered speech which established the responsibility for the sad state of financial affairs. Speaking of the fiscal sit-

Variations On a Peanut Butter Cooky

Take a perfect peanut butter cooky recipe and bake half a dozen different treats.

- 1 cup margarine
- 1 cup Skippy creamy or chunk style peanut butter
- 1 cup sugar
- 1 cup firmly packed brown sugar
- 2 eggs, beaten
- 1 teaspoon vanilla
- 2 1/2 cups sifted flour
- 1 teaspoon baking powder
- 1 teaspoon baking soda
- 1 teaspoon salt
- Bosco milk amplifier (optional)

Mix together margarine, peanut butter and sugars. Mix in eggs and vanilla. Sift flour, baking powder, baking soda and salt together over creamed mixture. Stir until well blended. Chill dough until it can be easily handled. Shape into 1-inch balls. Place about 2-inches apart on greased baking sheet. Flatten with floured bottom of glass or with floured fork, making crosswise pattern on each if fork is used. (Dip fork into chocolate flavored syrup before pressing cookies, if desired.) Bake in 350° F. (moderate) oven 12 to 15 minutes or until lightly browned. Makes about 6 dozen.

Orange Peanut Butter Cookies: Add 2 tablespoons grated orange rind with eggs and vanilla.

Coconut Balls: Roll 1-inch balls of dough in flaked coconut before placing on baking sheet and flatten them with flour-bottomed glass.

Peanut Butter Sandwich Cookies: Make sandwiches with cookies, using additional peanut butter as filling.

Jelly Thumb Print Cookies: Instead of flattening cookies, press small indentation into each 1-inch ball of dough with thumb after placing on baking sheet. Remove from baking sheet while still warm and press again with thumb. Cool. Fill indentations with jelly or jam.

Peanut Butter Spritz Cookies: Put chilled dough through cooky press onto greased baking sheet, making desired shapes. Bake. Dip ends of bar cookies into melted chocolate, if desired.

Pre-Cana Conferences At College Saturday

Pre-Cana conferences will be held at St. Joseph College for students and their fiancés on Saturday, March 8 in Dubois Hall on campus.

The conferences, sponsored by the Christian Coordinating Council, will begin with a concelebrated Mass and homily on the sanctity of marriage at 11 a.m. in the college chapel.

In announcing the conferences, Rev. John E. Hurley, C.M., college chaplain, explained that their purpose is "to prepare engaged couples or those going steady for marriage by discussing the physical and spiritual aspects of marriage."

Rev. Vincent T. Lidde, C.M., Ph.D., of St. Vincent's Seminary in Philadelphia, will open the afternoon session with a talk on the meaning of sex in marriage.

George Morningstar, M.D., will discuss the physical aspects of marriage.

There will be a solemn engagement ceremony for those couples interested.

At the evening session, Mr. David Neun, instructor in theology at St. Joseph's, and his wife, will consider the importance of self-realization in marriage.

Miss Judith M. Hoffman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Hoffman, 4500 Parkmont Ave., Baltimore, and a senior at St. Joseph College has received honorable mention for 1969-70 from the Woodrow Wilson National Fellowship Foundation, according to Sister Margaret Hughes, academic dean.

At total of 11,704 United States and Canadian college seniors were nominated last October to compete for graduate fellowships. Over 1,100 students were named Designates, and an additional 1,111 received honorable mentions.

A graduate of Seton High School, Miss Hoffman studied French, here major field, at the University of Laval (Quebec) during her junior year. She is a member of Pi Delta Phi, the National French honor society.

Your Income Tax

Federal income tax returns should no longer be filed with the Internal Revenue Service District Office at Baltimore, Maryland, but with the IRS Service Center, 11601 Roosevelt Boulevard, Philadelphia, Pennsylvania 19155. This applies both to tax returns with remittances and those with refunds due.

The IRS Mid-Atlantic Region, which includes Maryland and the District of Columbia, is the latest to require direct filing of all income tax returns with IRS regional service centers, under a law enacted November 2, 1966, Mr. Machiz, District Director of Internal Revenue, said.

Direct filing of returns will eliminate initial handling at the district office, where they are packaged and shipped to Philadelphia for processing.

Mr. Machiz emphasized that direct filing will in no way curtail services taxpayers have been accustomed to receiving from the IRS district office. He said, "By relieving the district office of the burden of receiving returns and preparing them for trans-shipment, we will have a greater opportunity to render services to taxpayers."

The most astonishing animal performance in circus history . . . tigers and elephants presented by Germany's fantastic Gunther Gebel-Williams, making his American debut as a star of the all-new 1969 edition of Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Circus. The Greatest Show on Earth arrives in Baltimore on Thursday, February 27 for 23 performances through Sunday, March 9 at the Baltimore Civic Center.

HISTORY'S GREATEST GIFTS

Some of the personal gifts presented over the centuries were so extravagant that they now seem beyond the reach of reason.

King Nebuchadnezzar created one of the Seven Wonders of the Ancient World—the Hanging Gardens of Babylon—as a gift for his bride, who longed to recapture the beauty of the green hills of her former home.

Napoleon set a brilliant example: he gave Josephine a tiara-blasting with 880 diamonds.

More recently, hotel baron George Boldt tried to recapture his youth by means of an unusual gift to his wife. He bought one of the Thousand Islands in the St. Lawrence River, then had it carved in the shape of a heart.

The gifts most Americans give today are far less spectacular. Perhaps the greatest gift of all is a charitable one in the form of a donation. The satisfaction received from even a modest donation cannot be measured by material values. Catholic Relief Services, which aids over 40 million of the world's hungry and underprivileged, regardless of race or religion, needs your support. This agency supplies food, clothing and medical supplies and supports programs for education, rehabilitation, job training and community development. You can help by sending your contribution to the nearest Catholic church or to Catholic Overseas Aid Fund, Empire State Building, New York, N.Y. 10001.

At approximately this time last year, we distributed mail to area residents and businesses, which was discovered to be a solicitation, in the disguise of a bill.

Carnival Plans Announced

Well, folks, from what I hear, it's getting to be that time of the year once more. The Indian Look-out Conservation Club has gotten on the ball and is planning on making it Carnival Time in Emmitsburg again.

The Country and Western fans are really in for a treat throughout the week of June 2-7.

On Monday evening there will be Cheryl Lee and The Carter Brothers; Tuesday features The Hardin Trio; Wednesday brings Red Smiley and The Tennessee Cutups; Thursday is the Jumbo Parade—biggest yet!—hosted by the Emmitsburg Vigilant Fire Co. and sponsored by the Indian Look-out Conservation Club; Friday evening will swing with Paul Wagner and The Country Swingers; and Saturday we do our toe tapping with Earl Batman and The Rambling Hoedowners.

There'll be seven big rides. Four for the big type kids and three for the small youngsters.

A friendly face will greet you with a smile at each booth. There will be prizes to win so try your luck!

A large eating stand with hot food and drinks stands ready to serve you promptly.

The corn game always has a fine selection of prizes for every win. I hope I'm one of the lucky winners this year.

I hear that there's an awful good chance of stocking your freezer with the chancing off of a beef.

Many more things to please your eye will be there to greet you on the grounds.

Everyone's welcome from near and far so make plans to visit, because I'll be looking forward to seeing you there. Don't forget June 2-7—Carnival Time in Emmitsburg. See you then!

Egg Engraving Contest Planned

"Nine first prizes will be awarded in the First Annual Easter Egg Engraving Contest, Donald Fitzgerald, president of the Catocin Mountain Travel Council announced this week. The Council is sponsoring the contest in an effort to revive an Easter custom that was practiced in this section of Western Maryland more than 200 years ago.

To carry out the Council's revival, Fitzgerald appointed a committee which includes Frank Mentzer, Superintendent of Catocin Mountain Park, chairman, Joseph Yontz, and Joseph Durick.

"Three categories have been established by the Committee," Fitzgerald explained. "These are by subject: Traditional, Patriotic and Easter.

"Traditional follows the original practice of engraving love tokens on crimson eggs, somewhat like today's valentines.

"Patriotic carries on the tradition started by the young son of Colonel Beattie of Colonial Frederick Town, who engraved the Battle of Bunker Hill on an egg. The boy was later killed serving in the Colonial Army and the egg treasured by the father as a memento.

"The Easter category is set up to begin a new custom of engraving appropriate Easter designs and messages."

Three classes have been established in each of the above categories. Each class will offer a first prize in each category. Classes are arranged by age groupings: Class C includes grades 5 through 8; Class B, grades 9 through 12; Class A includes all adults.

Rules of the contest and instructions in Easter egg engraving will be published in next week's Chronicle.

Frederick County Backgrounds

The Witherows of Tom's Creek In any historical and genealogical study of the families who buried in Tom's Creek churchyard, Helman's "History of Emmitsburg, Maryland" must surely be used as a reference. This rather rare volume, published in 1906, lists "some of the names of those buried in both marked and unmarked graves". The family names as given by this historian are as follows: Emmitt, Horner, Annan, Bigham, Hays, Stevenson, Fleming, Blair, Skiles, Williams, Murdoch, Grier, Knox, Crockett, Long, Cochran, Gardner, Stewart, Morrison, Danner, Rogers, McNair, Porter, Culbertson, Paxton, Gamble, Witherow, Shields, Agnew, Hunter, Harley, Cain, Patterson, Farris, Love, Guthrie, Grayson, Heugh, Jodun, Munro, Agye, Ogle, McKee, Moore and Woods.

From Helman's findings it must be observed that many gravemarkers have disappeared from the burial ground at Tom's Creek. The sure hand of time and vandals can be blamed for this state of affairs. Also, at least 10 of the family names listed by Helman can be found in the old burial ground of the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian Church located off the Mummasburg Road in Adams County, Pa. The early Scotch settlers were clannish and their graveyards witness the relationships.

One of the largest and most interesting family plots in Tom's Creek churchyard is that of the Witherow family, pioneers in both Pennsylvania and Maryland.

According to a genealogical pamphlet, published in 1938, John (1) Witherow came to America from County Antrim, Ireland, about 1760. He was a descendant of the Scotch who fled to Ireland from Scotland during the religious upheavals in the homeland. This John (1) located in what is now Frederick County, Maryland, at Graceham. After a few years during which he probably "took up a tract of land", built a house and other necessary structures, and "made a settlement", John (1) Witherow returned to Ireland to bring his family to its new home. Family tradition states that the return voyage to America was a rough one and all the passengers "were in great distress". Supplies of both food and water ran low and all were forced to subsist on scant rations. On this journey John (1) Witherow lost his parents and all those near and dear to him, numbering some eight or nine persons. When the ship finally docked all that remained was a brother, William (1) Witherow, and one sister, Margaret (1) Witherow.

Margaret (1) Witherow married, in due time, into the Boyd family and sometime after the Revolution moved with her family to Western Pennsylvania. She had one son and two daughters, the latter of whom married into the Fife and Giffillan clans.

According to Frederick County, Maryland land records John (1) and William (1) Witherow, on May 10, 1771, bought from John McMachon, two hundred and forty-four acres of land in Frederick County called "Brooks Reserve". This tract was equally divided between the brothers and apparently they worked it together. William (1) Witherow died unmarried in 1785, aged 50 years.

He left his entire estate to his brother. John (1) Witherow married Margaret Barbour who was born near Philadelphia. Her parents dying, she came to live with the family of Samuel Carrick, who were relatives and lived at the foot of Carrick's Knob. John (1) and Margaret (Barbour) Witherow, were the parents of eight children — four boys and four girls.

John (1) Witherow died August 21, 1794 and his will was entered to probate in November of that same year. In this document he mentions his wife, Margaret (Barbour) Witherow—she is to have "one third of my estate". Three daughters, namely Elizabeth, Jane and Margaret Witherow, are each to be given "one hundred pounds lawful money". To Sarah Witherow, the fourth daughter, he left only $25. What had this girl done to displease her father and merit such a small legacy?

The four sons of the pioneer John (1) Witherow are mentioned in their father's will as follows:

1. Son, John (2) Witherow, "... the plantation on which I now live".
2. Son, William (2) Witherow "... the plantation inherited from my late brother William Witherow. The said William to pay his brother, Samuel Witherow, one hundred pounds lawful money".
3. Son, David (2) Witherow "... the sum of $325 and the plantation called 'Vearchy', lying near the South Mountain".

John (1) Witherow and his brother, William (1) Witherow are both interred in the family burial plot at Tom's Creek and the inscriptions from the markers at their graves are as follows:

1. "Here lieth/ the body/ of/ John Witherow/ who departed this life/ the 21st day of August/ in the year of our Lord/ 1794/ in the 63rd year of his age."/
2. "Here/ lieth/ the body/ of/ William Witherow/ who departed this life the 2nd/ of Nov. 1785/ in the 50th year of his age."/

Margaret Barbour, the wife of John (1) Witherow, survived her husband by some 22 years. She died in 1816 and is buried beside her husband in the old churchyard.

3. "In memory of/ Margaret Witherow/ died Sept. 2, 1816/ in her 67th year."/

William (2) Witherow, son of John (1) and Margaret (Barbour) Witherow, married Sarah Cooper. In the marriage records of the Rev. Alexander Dobbin, Associate Presbyterian minister of the Hill Church, this marriage is listed as follows: "Married, Mar. 7, 1805, in Maryland, William Witherow to Sarah Cooper".

William (2) and Sarah (Cooper) Witherow were the parents of three children, as follows: "Married, March 7, 1805, in Maryland, William Witherow to Sarah Cooper".

William (2) and Sarah (Cooper) Witherow were the parents of three children: 1. Margaret (3) Witherow, died unmarried in 1881. She is probably buried in the family plot at Tom's Creek.

2. John (3) Witherow. Undoubtedly buried with his family in Tom's Creek churchyard in a grave that is now unmarked.

3. Jane (3) Witherow, twin sister of John (3), married Captain John Horner. They were the parents of eight children.

The notes on the Witherow family will be continued in this series next week.

Legion Auxiliary Holds Meeting

The regular monthly meeting of the Francis X. Elder American Legion Auxiliary, Unit 121, was held on Tuesday evening at the Post Home. President, Virginia Sanders, presided with 22 members present.

Following the reading of the minutes of the last meeting and the treasurer's report, the president read the district bulletin. To date, 92 members are paid up in the local unit. The Western Maryland District is the first district to achieve membership goal. A district meeting will be held at the Morris Frock Unit in Hagerstown on March 16, at 1:30. Reservations must be received no later than March 10. The annual Legion convention will be held in July.

The president thanked the 12 members who attended memorial services for Mrs. Beecher Ohler, a Gold Star Mother of the Unit, who recently died.

The purchase of a filing cabinet was discussed further, but no final decision was made until further inquiries are made.

The Chaplain reported sympathy cards, get-well cards, hospital visits, sent and made by members. One member reported soliciting for 10½ hours for the Heart Fund; two members reported attending the meeting of the Community Fund, on which a report was made. The Public Health Clinic used the Unit room for 66 hours during the month of February, treated 41 child hygiene patients and 11 maternity patients. A member reported $10 in clothing donated to a non-veteran family. Members reported 130½ hours for babysitting with veteran and non-veteran children. One member donated 4½ hours working with the Brownsies and the Unit room was used 4½ hours for the Brownie meetings.

Mary Theresa Rohrbach's name was called for the door prize, but she was not present. The draw prize was won by Lois Hartdagen.

Refreshment committee for April is Anna Bushman and Charlotte Sanders.

Following the meeting, the ladies joined the men of the Post for a covered dish social, prepared by the ladies of the auxiliary.

Fire Destroys Cattle And Barn

Twenty heifers and two ponies were destroyed in a five-alarm barn fire Saturday evening at the Ausherman farm on Forest Stream Club Road near Detour.

Maynard Ausherman, owner of the farm, said 22 cows that were tied inside the barn were saved along with nine other dairy cows and a bull.

Volunteer firemen from Taneytown, Rocky Ridge, Union Bridge, New Midway and Woodsboro prevented the flames from "jumping" from the barn to a nearby milk parlor and bulk milk tank.

Ausherman said the fire destroyed his supply of hay and straw which was stored in the structure. A grain elevator, seed cleaner and several bushels of clover seed were also lost in the blaze.

The cause of the fire and the extent of the property loss had not been determined. The investigation is being conducted by the Carroll County Fire Marshall Elwood Kauffman.

During the three hour fire-fighting operations, water was pumped from a farm pond, about 500 yards from the scene. Firemen said the snow, which started Saturday morning, did not hamper the fire fighting efforts.
