What has become a fad with residents of the West Coast, apparently has spread across the continent to little old Emmitsburg. For some time now, a favorite pastime in California has been predicting the date of a supposedly coming earthquake. Not to be outdone by their western friends, the students at St. Joe's High have been passing small cards or notes around prognosticating certain events. One was handed me this week and read and predicted as follows: Coming August, 1986, Haley's Comet. I don't know if I'll be around to see the comet if and when it shows up, but I'm not going to spend any time worrying about this silly game.

While the countryside looks beautiful and gardens and crops are sprouting quite rapidly, there's an ill omen prevailing and that is the apparent threat of another dry summer. Since the first of the year, every single month has come up short of the normal amount of rainfall. April, one of our best months of the year, gave us just a trifle over two inches of rainfall. If the trend continues you know, from past experience, what we are in for. Emmitsburg, as well as other towns and cities, simply must do something or take some measures to provide an adequate annual supply of water. This is clearly visible and we have seen the handwriting on the wall for the past decade, so why not take precautionary measures, right now!

Well, another chapter in the Town Council's history has been written and a new one begun. The election this week placed a new face on the Council while it saw an old one removed. Commissioner Wachter has been retired from the Board and his page in history closed, for the time being, anyway. He has worked hard and diligently for the community and for this we owe him our sincere thanks. A new page was inserted in the history book and will be filled during the term of the new face on the Board... that of Ernest Rosensteel. We wish the new Commissioner every success and hope and predict that when his chapter is concluded, we'll be able to say... well done!

Parents Want To Have Sex Movie Shown

The Concerned Parents of Emmitsburg, a group affiliated with parents, teachers, and citizens of Frederick County Oposed to Sex Education in the Public Schools, had a meeting on April 28 at 8:00 p.m. The following committee members were present: James P. Valentine, chairman; Raymond E. Keilholtz; Mrs. Florence Bassler; Warren Bentz; Mrs. Betty Wivell; Fred Warnken, and several other interested persons.

On April 23, the Frederick Post, in an article entitled "Color A 3-Letter Word Dirty", stated: "Parents refuse to see previews of movies to be shown to their children, then howl over hearsay about them".

At this time the committee is publicly requesting the Frederick County Board of Education to show the filmstrips entitled "How Babies Are Made"; "Girl To Woman"; "Boy To Man"; on May 2, at 8 p.m. at the Emmitsburg Middle School with the understanding that this will be an open meeting of discussion for and against sex education in the public schools and that any resident of Frederick County may view the films.

Seek Veto On Bill Raising Assessors' Salaries In County

County officials from Western Maryland lined up solidly in opposition Tuesday to a bill which would force them to supplement state salaries paid to county tax assessors.

Charles Collins, chairman of the Frederick County Commissioners, urged Gov. Marvin Mandel to veto the bill because "we feel the state salary scale is sufficient."

"We are opposed to the type of legislation which forces county commissioners to subsidize salaries," Collins said.

The bill, sponsored by Western Maryland Senators Goodloe Byron, George Snyder, Noel Cook and Ronald Brubaker, would apply to Garrett, Allegany, Washington, Frederick and Carroll Counties.

Collins said commissioners from all five counties have voted to oppose it.

Support came from the State Department of Assessments and Taxation and from Del. B. O. Aiken, D-Garrett.

Local Seaman Commended

Mr. and Mrs. C. Richard Harner received the following letter recently from the commanding officer of the submarine USS Ethan Allen:

Dear Mr. and Mrs. Harner: It gives me great pleasure to inform you that your son SN Harry Harner, has fulfilled all requirements necessary to become a qualified submariner in nuclear powered Polaris submarines.

The envid Silver Dolphins he now wears represent many hours of hard, dedicated study and demonstrated ability to perform many tasks necessary to operate this fantastically complex machine.

The purpose of the Polaris submarine program is to prevent a nuclear attack on the United States, through the knowledge that the enemy will receive irreparable damage, should he initiate a nuclear war. The Navy takes great pride in its Polaris submariners, as they are the most rigidly trained sailors in the world. Without the skill, knowledge, and ingenuity of men like your son our mission would be impossible.

We on the Ethan Allen have particularly enjoyed having your son as a member of our crew. His pleasant personality has made him a pleasure to work with and we wish him now every success in his return to the University of Maryland.

The successful completion of these rigorous requirements is due, at least in part, to the support and encouragement of loved ones at home. We hope, then, that you share with us a great pride in Harry upon his being designated "Qualified in Submarines".

Mrs. Genevieve R. Elder has returned to her home after spending the winter months with her two daughters, Dora Paidakovich and Yvonne Wiegand in Silver Spring, Md.

There is no use trying to regulate the world—unless you can first demonstrate that you can regulate and control yourself.

Charles E. Collins Addresses Lions

Chairman of the Board of County Commissioners Charles E. Collins, was the principal speaker at the regular monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Lions Club held Monday evening at Mt. Manor Restaurant. Lion President Milton A. Sewell introduced the speaker.

Commissioner Collins dwelled principally on the rising costs of taxes in the County and discussed a number of bills recently passed by the Maryland State Legislature. He painted a dismal picture of the tax situation, caused principally by poor financing methods used by former boards of County Commissioners, especially during the past 10 years. Several millions of dollars, borrowed years ago, must be repaid in the next several years in mammoth-size payments. The payments are ballooned because little if any money was set aside for amortization of these bonds, only the interest being paid.

The speaker went on to say that Frederick County has the highest per capita of bonded indebtedness in the State and the same was true with per student per capita.

Present also at the meeting were three members of the Silver Run Lions Club, Union Mills, Md.

The annual Lions Club Auction was discussed and it was decided to hold the affair either in late May or early June. Individuals having items to donate to the sale, or have sold on a commission basis, are asked to contact either Lions Milton A. Sewell or J. Ralph McDonnell.

Fire Marshal Checking Home Fire

Trooper J. W. Reyburn of Barracks B of the Maryland State Police and Fire Marshal Top E. Barnes are investigating the cause of a fire which destroyed an abandoned house in the north part of Frederick County Monday night.

Residents of the Eyerly Valley Road in the area between Hampton Valley Road and Friends Creek Road reported seeing flames to the Frederick County Fire Board shortly after 10:30 p.m.

When the Emmitsburg and Blue Ridge Summit firemen arrived on the scene the house had burned to the ground.

Reyburn reported that the house had been constructed of log and stone. While no one occupied the house it was owned by Pearl O. Bruce and Helen Dewling of Baltimore.

Four Fined For Stamp Machine Theft

Four men were released on larceny charges after paying restitution and costs of prosecution before Justice of the Peace Robert P. Snyder, Gettysburg, last Thursday afternoon involving the $150 theft of a postage stamp machine from the Plaza Restaurant, Gettysburg, early Wednesday morning, April 23.

The charges were brought by Gettysburg borough police investigator, Sgt. Russell H. Potter, Jr., against Joseph D. Swythe, 22, Woodberry, N. J.; John Lavin, 24, Philadelphia; Edward J. Fennerty, 23, Drexel Hill and Henry Edward Quinn, 22, also of Philadelphia.

Sgt. Potter said the four were responsible for stealing the large red and blue postage machine from the counter of the restaurant owned by N. A. Meligakes, about 1 a.m. Wednesday.

Snyder made the four pay $150 restitution and costs of prosecution since the stamp machine was beyond recovery.

After stealing the machine, Sgt. Potter said the men fled in an auto. A description of the vehicle was relayed to Maryland State Police, who stopped it an hour later near Emmitsburg and obtained the occupants' identification. After questioning Thursday the culprits admitted the theft, saying that they dumped the machine in the Rainbow Lake reservoir, near Emmitsburg.

Fr. Vincent Tomalski officiating. Burial was in the church cemetery. Pallbearers were: Harry Saylor, William Weidner, Sterling Myers, Dennis DiGiuliano, Robert C. Eiker, William Eiker and James Six.

Firemen Spend Busy Week

Efforts of a group of men to prevent a forest fire led to the Vigilant Hose Co. being summoned to a field and brush conflagration Friday afternoon at 4:08.

Chief Guy R. McLaughlin said a church group from Cumberland had purchased the former "Camp Pioneer" about 1 1/2 miles west of Rainbow Lake.

Friday afternoon a committee of men visited the camp site preparatory to a group of boys being brought there for an outing. In order to avoid any spread of flames when a large campfire was ignited for the boys, the group of men determined to burn off the grass in the area where they planned to have the bonfire.

Chief McLaughlin said the effort was proceeding well when "a gust of wind came along and the fire scattered all over the place."

The Emmitsburg firemen held the resulting field and brush fire to an area covering about an acre. The blaze was the second in two days for the firemen, who were called Thursday when a lawn mower burst into blaze at the property of Alice Balmer on DePaul St.

Three fire companies were summoned Saturday morning when fire caused several thousand dollars worth of damage to the property of Daniel Barkle at Starner's Dam near Harney.

Harney firemen summoned Emmitsburg and Taneytown to assist when the blaze started in a bedroom and spread throughout much of the house. Damage was said to be from fire, water and smoke in the blaze which started about 8:15 Saturday morning.

Emmitsburg firemen were summoned Saturday at noon to the property of Victor Antoline, along the Waynesboro Rd., west of Emmitsburg, just across the Pennsylvania line. A brush fire started from a trash fire. There was no damage.

An Emmitsburg area farmer suffered first and second degree burns of the face and left arm Sunday morning when he attempted to fill the gasoline tank of his tractor.

Chief McLaughlin said the Vigilant Hose Co. was summoned when the tractor of Richard Ripka burst into flames at the farm along the Bull Frog Rd. just across the Pennsylvania line from Maryland.

McLaughlin said Ripka was pouring gasoline in the tank of the tractor when it caught fire. The flames whipped up across the owner's face and arms. At the firemen's insistence he was taken by a member of his family to the Warner Hospital for treatment.

Damage to the tractor was reported extensive, with one tire ruined and "other parts badly burned," Chief McLaughlin said.

At 4:12 Monday afternoon the firemen were called to assist Thurmont when six brush fires started along the Western Maryland Railroad tracks from Thurmont to "the top of the mountain" following passage of a railroad train.

Chief Guy McLaughlin explained that "with the wind blowing at gale force, when Thurmont had all four of its trucks at separate fires and two more were reported, it called for help."

The brush fires were extinguished, despite the wind, with little damage.

At 11:41 Monday night, Emmitsburg was called to the Eyerly's Valley area toward Blue Ridge Summit when an abandoned log house owned by the Misses Pearl Bruce and Helen Dewling, of Baltimore, caught fire. McLaughlin said the fire apparently had been burning for some time before it was noticed.

The Emmitsburg firemen were called Tuesday afternoon at 4:50 to the home of Charles Cool, on the Hampton Valley Rd. The house is owned by the Town of Emmitsburg and is on the town's filtration plant property. Chief McLaughlin said a stove had overheated. No damage was listed.

PTA Hears Talk By State Senator

The Emmitsburg Middle School PTA met April 23. Election of officers for the coming school year was held with the following results: President, James Valentine; vice president, Mrs. George Bassler; recording secretary, Mrs. Wayne Williar; treasurer, Mrs. Stanley Gregg; corresponding secretary, Mrs. James Sanders.

The attendance banner was awarded to Miss Henning's first grade class for having the most parents present at the meeting.

Guest speaker for the evening was Senator Charles Smelser of Frederick County. Senator Smelser, in his talk, stressed the fact that the taxpayer needs to realize that every new program added to the school curriculum will result in additional expenses necessitating an increase in taxes. If we do not soon call a halt to spending money which we do not have at present the "day of reckoning" will soon be at hand. In the field of education we need a return to old fashioned common sense, more discipline and respect. He also reminded us that public servants at times, need to be disciplined by the taxpayer. The Senator also stressed the importance of writing to our representatives and voicing our opinions so they in turn will know the feelings and desire of the people and be able to work more effectively for them.

Mr. Charles Collins, President of the Frederick County Commissioners was also present at the meeting and made a few remarks regarding increases in taxes which may become necessary in the coming year.

The next meeting will be May 28 at which time installation of officers for the coming school year will take place.

Lutheran Women Visit Memorial

Members of the Lutheran Church Women of Elias Church recently visited the Prince of Peace Memorial in Gettysburg, where they toured the new structure. Mr. Paul Cunningham, artist and sculptor, of Silver Springs, Florida and Gettysburg, Pa., guided the group, providing an interesting commentary on the Life of Christ through dioramic displays and velvet paintings. Among the dioramas that provided much interest to the group were ones depicting Christ and the Children, Christ and the Rich Young Ruler, Christ Visiting Mary and Martha and the Resurrection.

LCW members touring the Prince of Peace were: Mrs. James Small, Mrs. Chester Chapman, Mrs. Donald Leatherman, Brenda and Deborah; Mrs. Harry Wantz, Mrs. Lewis Smith, Miss Audrey Baumgardner, Miss Betty Koozts, Mrs. D. Richard Smith, Tina and Randy; Mrs. Reno Eyerly, Mrs. Charles Linn, Mrs. John White, Mrs. Helen McNair, Mrs. Carl Baumgardner, Mrs. Esther Gillelan, Mrs. Earl Sheeley, Mrs. Anna Gall, Mrs. Anna Bushman, Mrs. Elizabeth McClellan, Mrs. Roscoe Shindecker, Pastor and Mrs. Ronald Fearer and Daniel, and Mr. Luther Zimmerman.

Senior Citizens Festival Saturday

This is the last call announcing the second annual Spring Festival sponsored by the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club, to be held at the Center Saturday, May 3, 1969, from ten o'clock until all articles have been sold. All members have been working diligently for this affair and have many fine objects to present for sale to the general public. It is to be hoped that there will be a generous turn-out to help make the affair a huge financial, as well as, social, success.

The annual luncheon meeting of the Frederick County Senior Citizens Clubs has been announced for Wednesday, May 7, at the Church of the Brethren, Fairview Avenue and West Second Street, in Frederick. Registration will be from 10:30 a.m. until noon, when lunch is served.

The program will be built around the topic "Housing Facilities for the Older Citizen." Hopefully, some knowledgeable information will be presented to the members of the various clubs.

E. Rosensteel Is Elected Commissioner

A new face was added to the Board of Commissioners after Tuesday's annual Town Election.

Voting was light but spirited as Ernest Rosensteel commanded a decided vote lead over his opponent, Commissioner Clarence P. Wachter. Wachter has just completed a three-year term on the Board of Commissioners and was seeking re-election. Rosensteel was making his first bid for public office and his run was highly successful.

About 35% of the eligible voters turned out to cast ballots at the Town Office. Rosensteel was given 150 votes, while his opponent, Wachter, received 91. Samuel C. Hays received seven write-in votes and four ballots were invalidated for various reasons. A total of 252 votes was cast.

Mr. Wachter, a maintenance superintendent at St. Joseph's Provincial House, had been chairman of the Board of Commissioners.

Mr. Rosensteel, who is employed as a printer for the Chronicle Press Inc., took his oath of office Wednesday afternoon. Magistrate Ralph F. Irelan, administered the oath.

The Board will organize for the coming year at its regular monthly meeting Monday evening when a new chairman of the Board will be elected by the Commissioners. Hold-over Commissioners are J. Norman Flax, Thomas W. Bollinger and J. Ralph McDonnell.

Mayor Robert A. Seidel still has another year to serve of his two-year term of office. Judges of election were Josephine Steinberger, Mrs. Sterling Goulden and Mrs. John S. Hollinger.

Seven More Die On State Roads

Seven persons were killed on Maryland highways last week according to the weekly survey published by the State Police. Three of those killed were drivers, three were passengers, and one was a pedestrian.

Alcohol was a contributing factor in four of the deaths, speed in two, and "driver error" in all but one.

"In four of the seven fatal accidents on Maryland roads last week, alcohol was a contributing factor," noted Lt. Col. W. H. Conroy, Deputy Superintendent, "proof again that the driver under the influence is an unsafe driver. It's a lesson we should take very seriously."

Highway accidents continue to kill Americans as if it didn't matter.

The FCU organization has been headed by an interim governing body headed by the Rev. Francis E. Reinberger, pastor of the Evangelical Lutheran Church in Frederick, and involving key leadership from many of the 120-plus Christian churches throughout Frederick County. The county-wide organization of Christian churches is "being created out of the necessity of our time for greater church unity." The meeting will be held at 7 p.m., Sunday May 25, at the Trinity Methodist Church, 705 West Patrick Street, Frederick, and will be attended by the ministers and elected delegates of the churches. All churches and church-related organizations, such as the several ministeriums, have been urged to join and participate in the FCU. The purposes of the new group have been spelled out in the proposed constitution which will be mailed to the churches next week, according to the Rev. Lyle E. Harper, chairman of the FCU public relation committee. The churches of the several church-related organizations have been asked to send their delegates and pastors "prepared to act on the proposed constitution" and suggested projects the group will undertake. The FCU, Rev. Harper said, is basically an organization designed to pull together all the Christian churches and, as well, to include an 'Interfaith Relations Division' in which all other religious bodies and concerned groups may participate once the FCU becomes officially constituted. The stated purposes of FCU follow: "1. To express through dialogue, fellowship, cooperation and service the essential unity of the Christian churches. "2. To provide an interdenominational agency for cooperation of the congregations in Christian education; social, public, and interfaith relations; worship; evangelism; comity; world Christian fellowship and for such services as may achieve more effectively the objective of the Christian faith. "3. To study the religious needs of the community and devise plans through which these needs can be met. "4. To do for the churches such cooperative work as the congregations authorize the FCU to carry on in their behalf." Churches or church - related groups in the county not receiving literature on the formation of Frederick Churches United but which are interested in joining may contact Rev. Harper for further information. Church Women Hold Assembly The Maryland Lutheran Church Women of the Frederick District held their Spring Assembly at Saint Paul's Lutheran Church in Walkersville recently. The theme, "Cast Me Not Aside," was used throughout the day's program which featured a Senior Citizens Presentation with Mrs. J. Arthur Throne as Moderator. The principal address was given by the Reverend Richard Reichard, Chaplain of the National Lutheran Home for the Aged, in Washington, D. C. The LCW of Elias Church was represented by Mrs. James Small and Mrs. Anna Bushman who attended morning and afternoon sessions. The "Twister" is not the latest dance step. It's the name of the U. S. Army's two-bodied, rough-terrain vehicle which is scheduled for delivery in late 1969.

Pink Party Tea

Just for fun, give a pink party tea! It could be a shower honoring an early Spring bride, a birthday party for a sweet sixteen or even a silver wedding anniversary celebration.

Set the table with a pale pink cloth and use pink carnations for a centerpiece. Keep the refreshments in the pink pastel shades, too. Tiny tea sandwiches can be pink and white delights if you use white bread cut in heart or diamond shapes and filled with cream cheese blended with red currant jelly or deviled ham. Tint the frosting for an angel food cake with red food coloring to complete your pink party theme.

The tea itself, of course, should be piping hot and full of flavor. To make it, follow these simple directions recommended by the experts. First, use a teapot and warm this by rinsing it out with hot water. Second, bring freshly drawn cold water to a full rolling boil. Third, measure out enough tea—one teaspoonful or one teabag per cup. Then, pour the boiling water over the tea. And finally, let the tea brew 3 to 5 minutes to bring out all its flavor. Serve with a choice of lemon slices or milk and sugar.

fect on income. The higher-bracket taxpayer is particularly aware of the tax bite and consequently should seek out opportunities that will allow him to retain more of his investment income. Some will look at oil ventures and cattle ranches, which, while providing high expense deductions, could prove to be too risky for most investors. It is at this point that consideration should be given to tax-exempt municipal bonds.

Issued by cities, towns, and other local governmental bodies, "municipals" provide the funds to carry out major municipal projects. (One may also include in this group municipal industrial development bonds, issued to finance commercial ventures within a community.) Income from such bonds has been exempt from federal income taxes and also, in some instances, from income taxes of the issuing state. Hence they bear a coupon rate lower than corporate issues.

Coupon Rate Vs. Yield
A word about "yield." Prices for bonds are usually quoted in terms of yield maturity. This also translates into a dollar price for the bonds. (Dollar price runs counter to yield—as price declines, yield rises.) A bond priced below par will have a yield to maturity higher than its coupon. Also, if held to maturity, a portion of the proceeds could represent a capital gain. Recently the average corporate bond yield, as expressed by Moody's averages, was 7.21%. On the same date the average yield on municipal bonds was 5.28%. This latter rate would, in itself, seem highly favorable—tax exempt! But the advantage is even greater for the higher-bracket taxpayer.

An investor in a 50% tax bracket holding a municipal bond bearing a 4% coupon receives the equivalent of an 8% return on a taxable bond. Selection

With the great number of state and municipal subdivisions in existence, there is obviously a wide choice of municipal bonds available. However, in selecting an issue we must look beyond the purpose of the issue, or even the yield. While most municipal bodies probably

NO. 22,353 EQUITY
In the Circuit Court For Frederick County, Maryland
MARY V. WALLACE
c/o Mary E. McFarland
Route 3
Frederick, Maryland

vs.
ROBERT JOHN WALLACE
203 Lincoln Avenue
Dunellen, New Jersey
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this Bill of Complaint is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Mary V. Wallace, from the Defendant, Robert John Wallace.

The Bill states in substance that the Complainant, Mary V. Wallace, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, Robert John Wallace, is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, and when last heard from was residing at 203 Lincoln Avenue, Dunellen, New Jersey.

The Bill further states that the Complainant and the Defendant were married on April 1, 1959, at Funkstown, Maryland, by a duly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage three children were born, namely, Parice J. Wallace, nine (9) years of age, Vernon Lee Wallace, seven (7) years of age, and Diane Marie Wallace, six (6) years of age; that the Complainant and the Defendant have voluntarily lived separate and apart without cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint; and that such separation is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation. The Bill prays that the Complainant, Mary V. Wallace, may be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Robert John Wallace, and that the Complainant may be granted such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF THE COURT
It is thereupon ORDERED by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, on this 7th day of April, 1969, that the Complainant, Mary V. Wallace, by Order of Publication of this Court to be inserted in some newspaper published in Frederick County, Maryland, once a week for four successive weeks on or before the 10th day of May, 1969, give notice to the said Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, warning him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 10th day of June, 1969, and show cause, if any he has, why the Decree should not be passed as prayed therein.

will not default on their bonds, this has happened. A measure of the quality of a bond may be found in its rating—usually Moody's—from highest AAA to the seldom seen C. These ratings are essentially an evaluation of the issuing body, based on a variety of factors, roughly comparable to an individual's credit rating.

As might be expected, the better-rated issues will command higher prices (and produce lower yields) than those of lesser quality. This is also true of the bonds of a large, well-known community, as compared with those of a small community; the bonds of the lesser-known issuer will be less marketable, especially in small or odd lots. In this situation it is possible for an investor to find himself forced to hold bonds to maturity because there is no ready market at realistic prices.

Tax-exempt bond investments, perhaps more than other types of investment, must be personalized. But we offer, as suggestions, a few issues which look attractive to the Babson's Reports staff. First is the Illinois Toll 4 1/4's of 1998, yielding 5.05% to maturity. Second is the Fairfax County, Va. Water Authority 5's of 2007, yielding 5.22%. Also, we like the Austin, Texas School District 4.90% of 1991, yielding 5.25%.

Safety Education Proves Necessary

Statistics, it is said, can be used to substantiate any fact. Writing in the 35th edition of his company's annual booklet of highway accident data, Mr. Took-However, according to Sterling T. Tooker, president of The Travelers Insurance Companies, statistics cannot prove how many accidents have been prevented thru safety education.

er said, "Our rationale back in 1931 was that if reasonable people know the truth about a problem, the truth will help them solve the problem. In 1969, 65 million booklets later, it is still our rationale."

"Ironically enough, this conviction cannot be based on hard statistics," he said. "Yet we know that hundreds of thousands of accidents have been prevented by drivers and pedestrians who have learned to drive and walk with safety. And the ever-mounting number of miles traveled on many poorly engineered roads clogged by more and more cars and trucks and busses give us real reason to believe that these ghastly casualty totals could be much higher," he added.

"Alcoholocaust" is the title of the 1969 edition of The Travelers booklet. And for the first time it takes a long, hard look at the mixture of alcohol and gasoline. But the booklet does not contain statistics to support the title. Here's why:

The numbers and the classifications are distilled—no pun intended—from monthly reports furnished by state motor vehicle departments (a voluntary service gratefully acknowledged by The Travelers). Energetic and thorough research has nailed down drunk driving as a major accident cause, but absolute precision is still out of reach. A dead driver can't be asked to heel-and-toe or take a breath or blood test. The injured driver frequently needs swift emergency treatment. Technical examination for alcohol in his blood stream must come later when the aberrant ingredient has been diluted or has disappeared altogether.

The evidence is nevertheless overwhelming. Indeed, the U. S. Department of Transportation has issued a report to Congress which even die-hard statisticians agree is a definitive indictment of drink-then-drive offenders. This landmark study concludes that "the use of alcohol by drivers and pedestrians leads to some 25,000 deaths and a total of at least 800,000 crashes in the United States each year."

"Some" and "at least" acknowledge that the D.O.T. study is not an exact recap either. The point, however, is sharp to all last-ditch apologists for irresponsible social drinkers or social drinkers-and-drivers themselves.

WOMEN'S HEALTH

Women's Medical News Service Warning To Human Pack Rats
NEW YORK — A doctor has warned "accumulators" that their useless objects may prove to be dangerous as well as untidy.
 After a lifetime of retaining everything and of accepting the debris of friends, an elderly "accumulator" runs many unusual risks, said Dr. Manuel Rodstein, senior associate medical director of the Equitable Life Insurance Society. He or she may hurt himself by stumbling or falling over his "treasures," his piled-up belongings could fall and crush him, fire could break out and thieves could break in.

On the other hand, Dr. Rodstein commended "collectors," who accumulate with "a plan, a purpose, be it match-box covers or theater programs." Although persons over 65 suffer a disproportionate number of fatal falls and burns, he noted, elderly collectors are much less likely to have such accidents than are accumulators.

"Planned parenthood is a concept that is not widely accepted by an enormous percentage of Americans," the internist said. "By means of the study we propose, we are reaching for better quality in future generations. This is planned parenthood in its most meaningful sense."

Peace Corps Positions
 WASHINGTON, D. C.—A hitch in the Peace Corps is likely to change career plans, a recent survey shows.

When one group of volunteers was interviewed as they were leaving for their assignments abroad, only one out of 12 foresaw an international career. At the end of their two-year hitch nearly one out of three planned to work abroad again.

Specialized people in the medical field may test their own career plans by applying for openings in Chad, Gambia, Micronesia and Turkey. French-speaking nurses, registered medical technologists, occupational therapists, physical therapists, speech therapists and prosthetists are needed.

AN OPINION

By W. Terry Smith

Jack was an average, if that's a definable term, youngster, who managed to achieve a B average in high school and all in all caused his parents very little upset in those sometimes trying years between 14 and 18. Jack's father was an electrical engineer whose income ran in excess of $1,000 a month and with this provided his family with a comfortable house, nice surroundings, and an existence that could be described as distinctly upper middle class. The family was close knit preferring each other's company usually to that of acquaintances and in this atmosphere the father managed to imbue in his children those articles of faith that he considered to be essential to an emotionally secure and morally correct individual. So Jack and his sister passed into their late teens free from trauma and seemingly possessed of a highly honed set of values.

In his senior year Jack decided on dear old Liberal U. as the ideal place for his matriculation; was dutifully accepted, and with proud parents beaming at his side enrolled the next September. But as the semesters faded from freshman to sophomore and then into junior our hero began undergoing a rather alarming transfiguration. The local chapter of SDS eager for new recruits had managed to persuade Jack to attend a few meetings and mingle with the intellectual students and faculty that constituted its membership. Soon he was a real by golly militant convinced of the lie he had been fed, convinced that those materialistic old fogeys who raised him had forced their antiquated and decadent principles on his tender mind, convinced that the society that spawned him was in need of an immediate and major overhaul.

Now the scene quickly shifts to the Dean's office where dear Jack has made somewhat of a celebrity of himself by not only occupying the cubicle but as the prime mover in the protest he

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Horse Thieves Still Active

New York's 164-year-old Cornwall, New Windsor and Monroe Society for the Detection and Apprehension of Horse Thieves is perhaps an anachronism these days, with 75 members and a horse census of 17 in that Hudson Valley community, but such a society would still be in order in the Southwest. At Sunland Park and La Mesa Park in New Mexico last year, and presumably in nearby states as well, reward posters were posted and handbills distributed concerning the theft of a mare named Go Gayle and her filly foal.

The pair had been spirited away from their pasture at Grabro Farms in Oklahoma City and her owner offered $20,000 for information leading to the return of the horses and the conviction of the "horse thief or thieves who stole them."

A conformation picture of the mare was on the handbills and descriptive details included her markings, her lip-tattoo numbers, and the fact that "this mare cribs," meaning she had a wind-sucking vice peculiar to some horses. A collateral benefit of belonging to the Cornwall, New Windsor and Monroe Society for the Detection, etc., came to light when a representative of the Thoroughbred Racing Protective Bureau addressed the group's annual dinner a few years back. It's oldest member, Isaac M. Cocks, 87, recalled that it had been while chasing a horse thief that he met the girl who became Mrs. Cocks.

OUR HEALTH

By J. M. Amberson, M.D.

Question: What can be done about unsightly varicose veins?
Answer: Enlarged veins on the legs and thighs are a health problem for many men and women since there's a heavy dragging sensation in the legs, often accompanied by general tiredness and lack of energy. It is estimated that over half of all women over fifty and one out of every four men suffer from this condition. What to do about this often unsightly condition depends largely on how serious it is. Light cases respond to self-measures. Resting, Dr. Amberson with feet propped up higher than the head, gives relief. If you must stand because of an occupation or profession (teachers, dentists, barbers, and sales persons are frequent sufferers) then you should invest in support hosiery or light elastic bandages to relieve the abnormally swollen or dilated veins.

Seriously distended veins can be removed successfully by surgery. But the most common treatment for a serious condition is called "stripping." Here the superficially distended veins are tied off and the circulation of the blood reroutes itself to other veins.

Question: Do bath oils have any therapeutic value?
Answer: Some do. Anyone who has used a good bath oil knows that when she is done, her skin feels smooth and velvety and the unattractive roughness of such spots as knees, elbows, and heels is less obvious. Dry skin becomes dehydrated temporarily and the oils and moisture that have been lost are replaced. For centuries, women used oils in their baths to retain and restore the suppleness of their skin. Today many women are using cosmetic bath oils which are perfumed. For the majority of women these oils have no ill effects and do give the skin a very pleasant afterglow. However, there are many persons for whom dry skin is more than a minor annoyance. Elderly people who suffer from Xeroderma, a painful dry skin condition, housewives with so-called "dish pan" hands, persons with dermatitis or psoriasis—all need the therapeutic aid of a bath oil to relieve the itching discomfort of dry skin, and for them the perfumed cosmetic ones are not the best choice. Many dermatologists suggest a bath oil like Alpha-Keri for the relief of the flaking, itching and discomfort of dry skin.

FROZEN HOT CHOCOLATE

- 1/2 cup sugar
- 1/4 cup dark corn syrup
- 3 cups milk
- 2 teaspoons vanilla
- 1 cup prepared whipped topping
- 3 teaspoons shaved unsweetened chocolate

Combine chocolate squares, sugar, and corn syrup in a saucepan. Cook and stir over low heat until chocolate is melted and mixture is well blended. Add milk, a small amount at a time, stirring after each addition until smooth. Stir in vanilla. Remove from heat. Pour into 9-inch square pan or 9x5-inch loaf pan. Freeze until mixture is frozen 1 inch around edges—about 1 1/2 to 2 hours. Stir frozen mixture to blend. Serve immediately in chilled cups with spoon and straw. Top with prepared whipped topping and shaved chocolate. Makes about 4 cups or 4 servings. If mixture freezes completely, spoon into electric blender and blend until smooth but not completely melted. Serve immediately.

It's Time For... EYE CARE

 HOW DO WE SEE?

Most people believe we see with our eyes, but actually the eye is only a receiver of light impulses. These light impulses are changed into nerve energy and carried to the brain by way of the optic nerve.

Wesley

You see with your brain, not your eye. The brain interprets the nerve energy and you see. There are many factors to seeing. First, the image must be focused properly on the eyes; the two eyes must coordinate; the eyes must be healthy; transparency of the eye must be maintained; color may be discerned; and many other factors.

Have you ever walked right by a friend without seeing him? Your explanation would be that you were preoccupied. The truth is that your brain did not elect to see your friend, but was concentrating on your thoughts or on some sight ahead of you that excluded seeing your friend.

So when you think of vision, just remember there is much more to it than casting your eyes on a subject. There is also the optic nerves, the crossing of the optic nerves from the two eyes—half crossed to one side of the brain, and half crossed to the other side.

Another good thing to remember about your vision is to take the advice of the National Eye Research Foundation and have your eyes examined twice a year.

Looking Ahead by Dr. George S. Benson President NATIONAL EDUCATION PROGRAM Searcy, Arkansas

Let's Wage War On Inflation!

Here, in brief, are the eight major conclusions of our Freedom Forum XXX—a gathering of 200 citizen leaders from 20 states, from as far away as California and Florida:

1. Inflation now is eating away at the purchasing power of everybody's income at the rate of from 4 to 5 percent — Dr. Paul W. McCracken, Chairman of President Nixon's Council of Economic Advisers, came to our Forum from the White House to make this report and to outline measures being taken by Mr. Nixon's Administration to control and ultimately halt inflation.

2. The continuation of inflation at its present rate is a grave threat to the economic welfare of all citizens and to the very security of our nation—all ten of our Forum Speakers echoed this vital fact.

3. There is no instant cure for inflation; it cannot be brought under control overnight — Dr. McCracken, Chairman Wilbur D. Mills of the House Committee on Ways and Means; Dr. Walter D. Fackler, Dean of the Graduate School of Business, University of Chicago; and Dr. Heinz Pentzlin, Deputy Editor-in-Chief of West Germany's big daily newspaper, Die Welt, all agreed with this statement which I made in my Forum keynote address. The nature of the "gradualism" of any inflation control needs to be clearly understood by the American people.

4. Congress and the Nixon Administration are working together on measures to slow down inflation—Dr. McCracken and Chairman Mills explained the measures (and in subsequent columns we will report on them.)

5. The President already has initiated fiscal and monetary policies that in six to nine months will begin, it is believed by fiscal and monetary experts, to slow down the inflation that has built up its momentum through the past several years.

6. The international Communist conspiracy to destroy the American system and take over our nation has been a force in creating inflation and continues to be effective in pressuring for additional deficit spending on non-productive Federal programs—this fact was clearly explored for the Forum by two of America's foremost experts on Communism, Rep. John M. Ashbrook, ranking Republican on the House Internal Security Committee, and Dr. Robert Morris, former General Counsel of the Senate Internal Security Subcommittee.

7. The American people must understand the danger of our present inflation psychology and join actively, even militantly, in support of the measures and the battle being mounted to cope with it.

8. The American people must make their voices heard in the White House and in Congress—on their alarm over inflation. Unless they do, the forces who wish to destroy the American system may succeed in stampeding our leaders into a return to inflationary policies.

A Resolution For You Here is the resolution which was drafted by the conferees themselves and adopted unanimously at the closing session of the Forum:

"Whereas, the lectures and information provided to conferees from twenty states at Freedom Forum XXX clearly shows that the major cause of inflation is government deficit spending which results in the production of new money which, added to the present supply, pushes prices higher and higher—thus sapping everybody's purchasing power;

"And Whereas, this inflation has caused the loss of purchasing power of several hundred billion dollars which has created hardships on many retired people and prevented small businesses from buying needed equipment that would have provided more jobs for unskilled labor as well as skilled; and

"Whereas, reliable reports indicate that there has been much waste in spending programs in previous Administrations; therefore,

"Be it resolved that we request Rep. John M. Ashbrook, U. S. Congress, to present to the President of the United States our unanimous desire for careful investigation of the present spending programs, a drastic cut in Federal spending and the application of thrift in every activity of government. Furthermore, we respectfully petition Congress to examine with caution any new spending programs, and we request Rep. Ashbrook to place this resolution in the Congressional Record and the files of the House Ways and Means Committee as one reflecting sentiment of the citizenry throughout America."

If you feel in accord with this resolution, you may wish to send it to your Congressman.

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Margaret Luvenio Anderson, from the Defendant, Ernest Clayton Anderson.

The Bill states in substance that the parties were married on January 4, 1964, by Rev. David Sparrow, a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that the Complainant is a resident of the State of Maryland, having resided in Frederick County for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, believed to be residing at 1212 Prince Street, Arlington, Virginia; that no children were born as a result of the marriage; that the parties hereto voluntarily separated in March, 1965, and said separation has continued uninterrupted since that time and is deliberate and final and beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of a reconciliation. The Bill prays that the Complainant be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, and for general relief.

It is thereupon this 22nd day of April, 1969, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the said non-resident Defendant of the objects and substance of this Bill by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County, once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 24th day of May, 1969, commanding him to be and appear in this Court in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 24th day of June, 1969, and show cause, if any he has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

Taney Lions Active In Sight Program

Sight Conservation, the major project of Lions Clubs the world over, was the highlight of last Tuesday's meeting of the Taneytown Lions Club and their ladies at the Taney Inn.
Lion Donald Lawyer, Sight Conservation Chairman, introduced Frederick Griffith, Executive Director of the Maryland Eye Bank, who spoke to the group.

Mr. Griffin explained the work of the Eye Bank, the need for eyes, how contacts are made, how the eye tissue is transported, the superb cooperation of Ham radio operators in making needs known and the airlines as carriers.

By the use of charts Mr. Griffith explained that only the cornea, a thin film of tissue, is removed and transplanted. It is this front, transparent part of the outer coat of the eyeball, which covers the iris and pupil and admits light to the interior, resulting in sight. The Eye Bank is in constant need of donors as eye tissue cannot be stored. Mr. Griffith reassured the group that no damage is done in removing the sight giving tissue and stressed the giving of sight to another.

The following persons have declared their intentions as donors: Herbert and Maxine Bowers, Charlotte Shorb, Kent and Mary Hall, Donald and Pat Lawyer, John and Virginia Fream, James Trenary, Lewis and Louise Baer, Charles Little and Stanley King.

In closing ceremonies, Lion Donald Lawyer presented Mr. Griffith with a $500 check from the Taneytown Lions Club to further the work of the Maryland Eye Bank.

In a cooperating project, 53 pre-school children were given the "Lazy Eye" screening on Wednesday. During a Board meeting after the regular meeting, $300 was made available for Key High band uniforms.

Nature does her best to persuade mankind that this is a pleasant earth.

VA Students Eligible For Vacations

Maryland veterans attending school under the GI Bill can take a summer vacation without losing any of their remaining VA education and training entitlement when they return to school in the fall, Rufus H. Wilson, Manager of the Baltimore Veterans Administration Regional Office, reminded this week.

Further, he said, if they plan to return to the same school and pursue the same course next fall, they need not apply for a new certificate of eligibility.

Wilson also pointed out to the veteran hoping to find a summer job that GI Bill education and training allowances are not affected by the amount of money a veteran earns on his own.

Allowances are determined only by the amount of training (full-time, three-quarters, half-time) a veteran is taking and by the number of his dependents, Wilson said.

Veterans who may decide to continue working after summer vacation is over and defer returning to school until next year or later were reminded that they must complete their GI Bill education and training within eight years after their discharge from service or by May 31, 1974, whichever is later.

Cancer Programs Are Numerous

To alert the public about the facts of cancer, 74 educational programs have been conducted by the Frederick County Unit, American Cancer Society, during the first six months of the fiscal year. ACS films were seen by more than 6,000 Frederick countians and more than 15,500 pieces of educational literature on cancer were distributed. School programs totaled 45 and 14 programs were conducted in Frederick colleges.

Chairman of the Unit Public Education Committee is Mrs. Emily A. Payne. Members of her committee include: Mrs. Harold B. Cahn, Lt. Col. Alice B. Clark, Mrs. W. Scholl Hersperger, Miss Helen Martz, and Mrs. William G. Roessler.

Mrs. Payne said that the committee is capable of planning and giving an educational program to meet group's needs. She said, "We have films for children in elementary, junior and senior high schools; college students, and for men and women. Appropriate literature accompanies the film and arrangements can be made for a speaker to answer questions."

"While our school program is extremely active," Mrs. Payne pointed out, "we are hopeful of conducting more educational programs to reach adults—meetings for clubs and organizations and employee programs for business and industry."

Information about cancer education is available at the following:

Schools Announce In-Service Days

Local school officials this week announced that dates have been approved for the final one of three in-service days provided in this year's school calendar. The first such day occurred in November and the second in March.

As before, not all county schools will close on the same day. The closings will be by high school articulation areas which include all the elementary schools sending children to a particular high school. The days scheduled for May are as follows: Middletown, May 2; Lingoore, May 22; Walkersville and Harmony Grove, May 23; Catoctin, May 26; and Governor Thomas Johnson, Frederick and Brunswick, May 29.

The inclusion of in-service days in the school calendar has been found to be a worthwhile innovation in its trial in local schools this year. The days, which were scheduled without any decrease in the number scheduled for students to attend school, have given school faculties an opportunity for work on administrative and organizational matters as well as to conduct formally scheduled in-service training. Teachers and principals alike have been enthusiastic in their support of the idea.

Frederick County Backgrounds

By SAMUEL CARRICK

Jane (Williams) Shields
Family burial grounds, in Maryland, are not a thing of the past. Many are still in use and very well kept. Others, if not forgotten, appear to be and have either been destroyed or are in such a state of neglect that it is almost impossible to get at "the how, when and where". Unfortunately those in the latter category, are the most numerous.

In 1902 the Colonial Dames of Maryland published the now rare book "Historic Graveyards of Maryland". The late Helen West Ridgely, of Hampton, was the editor and historians owe her a debt of gratitude. Over half the family plots mentioned in this monumental work are now non-existent. They have disappeared, without a trace, a distinct loss to this and future generations.

Fortunately for the descendants of William (1) and Jane (Williams) Shields, at least part of their family graveyard, located on the home plantation of the pioneer ancestor, still exists and is in a fairly good state of preservation. Two tombstones, enclosed by a pipe fence, still stand on an overgrown hillside, in the Hampton Valley, a little southwest of Emmitsburg, just off the Crystal Fountain Road.

For a period, covering some 60 years, this burial plot on the William (1) Shields homestead, served as a family burial ground. It is possible, but not probable, that the pioneer William (1) was the first person interred therein. It is known that Jane (Williams) Shields is buried here and although her grave is now unmarked, at one time it must have been designated by a tombstone. In addition, one or more of the infant children of William (2) Shields were laid to rest here. Last, but by no means least, Ebenezer (2) Shields, son of the pioneer, is buried here and his grave marker remains to this day.

According to one Shields family history "originally there must have been from 20 to 30 graves in the family ground. As late as the mid nineteen-fifties, as many as six gravestones could be found in the area." The disappearance of these markers is not much of a mystery. Old tombstones have many uses—other than designating graves.

Two of the markers in the Shields' family burial ground were erected in this century through the efforts of the late Mrs. Charles G. Hoffman (Emma Gertrude Hunter), a Shields descendant. The inscriptions follow:
1. "In memory of William

Shields, born in County Armagh, Ireland, July 14, 1728. Arrived in New Castle, Del., Aug. 1, 1737. Settled in Frederick County, Md., Emmitsburg District, 1748. Surveyor, patriot, officer in the Revolutionary War."

Next to the tombstone of William (1) Shields is a smaller monument bearing a bronze tablet, inscribed: "Revolutionary Soldier, Major William Shields, 1728-1797. Placed by the Eugenia Washington Chapter, N.S.D.A.R." The tombstone, erected to the memory of Ebenezer (2) Shields, is the original one and was placed shortly after his death and burial in 1737.

2. "In memory of Ebenezer Shields, eighth son of William Shields, died July 1, 1837, aged 58 years, 6 months and 8 days."

Jane Bradley Williams, the wife of William (1) Shields, died in 1806, some nine years after the death of her husband. In her will she gave the bulk of her estate to her daughter, Mary (2) Shields Blair, and Mary's several children. It is quite possible that she made her home with this daughter in the latter years of her life for Mary (2) Shields, her husband, William Blair, and her children, did not leave the Emmitsburg District until after the death of Jane (Williams) Shields.

Undoubtedly the wife of William (1) Shields was a member of the pioneer Williams family which can boast of at least three graves in the old Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard. It is quite possible that she was a sister of that Henry Williams, born 1743, died 1820, whose grave, together with that of his wife, is marked by a marble altar tomb. This imposing monument was erected by their son, Washington Williams. The dates would indicate an "older sister" relationship.

Far too little credit is given the "pioneer mothers" of this country. In the majority of cases they were strong women and their life was both hard and difficult. Frontier living took its toll of women and children, to which the old burial grounds bear silent but significant witness. The pioneer woman helped "hew a home out of the wilderness." She lived within the shadow of fear—the Indians were long a menace—there were always wars or rumors of war. Large families were the rule rather than the exception in that day and children were born, usually without professional assistance. Infant mortality was high and to lose three or four children out of a family of 10 or more, was accepted as "the usual thing." Small wonder that

"second and third marriages" for men were taken for granted. All of life was hard but it was especially so for the women.

Jane (Williams) Shields was "that exception that proves the rule." She was a frontier wife and mother and she outlived her husband. She bore and reared 11 children and her descendants are today "scattered to the four winds." She was a good woman and her memory should live long in the annals of the family she helped to found in this country.

William (1) Shields wrote his will Nov. 30, 1789 and it was entered to probate shortly after his death. In this instrument he speaks of himself as a "farmer" and mentions his slaves as part of his estate. The welfare of his wife is uppermost in the writing of his will and he directed that "... Jane, my dearly beloved wife, is to have one-third of my personal estate and also one-third part of my real estate, the Mansion House where I now live to be included in her third part."

He mentions his children by name and appoints his "beloved sons," John and James Shields, to be the executors of his will.

It is to be presumed that his wishes were carried out and his "earthly estate" was disposed of, according to his desires.

This concludes the historical and genealogical notes on the Shields family, of Tom's Creek Hundred.

The study of the families buried in Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard will be continued in this series next week.

Graceham Fire Co. Situation Is Discussed

A fire company traveled more than eight miles to several brush fire scenes on Monday while another company with three pieces of apparatus sat in an engine house less than two miles from the first due company and approximately six miles from the fire scenes.

Harry O. Miller, chief of the Thurmont Guardian Hose Co., said Monday evening that the reason the Graceham Fire Company was not called in for the Thurmont fire alarm was a lack of manpower. Miller noted that Thurmont has four pieces of apparatus, three pumpers and a tank wagon, which can handle most alarms in the area, however, when a second alarm is sounded manpower is usually the most important request.

Emmitsburg, which is second due, the second company called, if needed, on almost all Thurmont area fires, has the highest average turnout for volunteer firemen in the area according to Miller. In 1968 the Emmitsburg unit averaged 30 men per fire call.

Graceham is not due on any fire calls for which Thurmont is first due, although the station houses are two and one-half miles apart and the town limits a mile apart. Graceham Chief Allen Angleberger commented Monday that Thurmont is second due on all Graceham's calls. He added that with the work of company officials, Graceham is due in a second or third call capacity in most of the surrounding companies, all except Thurmont. He added also that Graceham would be willing to be placed as the second due company for Thurmont for fire and ambulance.

The respective fire chiefs work together to set up run territories throughout the county. However, the second and third due companies are usually a matter of the decision of the chief of each company. In some companies, the line officers or the board of directors assist the chief in determining the run territories.

Many county fire officials and volunteer firemen have asked the

If the Shoe Fits...

My son's new shoes are size 1 and his old ones are 13's. Can he wear the old shoes for awhile to play in?

It would be safer to shine up his old shoes for Sundays and let him wear the roomier new shoes for school and play. Parental pride tells us that children must look their best when we take them to church but hurt pride heals quickly. Deformed bones are extremely difficult to straighten and that is an understatement if there ever was one.

The rigors of play—the running, jumping, twisting, turning—are strenuous for the child's feet. It is for play that the most properly fitting shoes are most necessary.

question concerning why Graceham is not due in Thurmont's area. Of specific concern are the elementary school only a mile from Graceham and more than eight miles from Emmitsburg whose fire company is presently second due. The Claire Frock Company and the new Catoctin High School also in Thurmont are also on an Emmitsburg call. Graceham's volunteer fire company has two pumpers and a 2,000 gallon tank wagon along with an ambulance. Graceham's ambulance is also absent from the Thurmont run cards which means that, as on last Wednesday, if the Thurmont ambulance is responding and a second alarm is received, Emmitsburg must respond. At present time Graceham has the smallest run territory for any of the 19 county fire companies.

Ambulance Corps Hold Mock Disaster Rehearsal

Seven area ambulance corps, along with a number of doctors and nurses on the Warner Hospital staff, participated in a "mock disaster" program Sunday afternoon sponsored by the Adams County Ambulance Corps in conjunction with the Warner Hospital.

At 1:15 p.m. the alarm was sent out by the Quick Call Center reporting a simulated disaster at the Gettysburg Recreation Park grounds.

Ambulance crews throughout the county and the Emmitsburg VFW and Taneytown units responded and carried Boy Scouts and other children playing at the recreation field that served as patients by ambulances to the hospital emergency unit where doctors and nurses simulated the handling of the "victims."

A similar program is being planned for June, according to a county ambulance corps spokesman.
