Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Quite a few local property-owners were rudely jolted this week when they received through the mail a notice that their properties had been re-appraised. The news wasn't good, as a matter of fact it was shocking as the full intent of the message began to sink in. Some individuals received assessment increases of as high as 40%, while others were only minor increases. Many are asking: Is this raise necessary? Well, let's say that this is a very good question and a darn good way to get started a heated debate on the subject. Personally I can't go along with the idea of raising assessments or taxes at this particular time when we are deeply engulfed in fighting a rampant inflation that threatens our very financial life. However, there is that ever-demanding group that insists on more conveniences, more services, higher quality education and a lot of other nonsense that has been eating away at the tax dollar for the past decade. Many ask the question: What do we get from the County for our tax dollar? That also is a darned good question and some day I'm going to ask our County Commissioners to give us a few answers as to just what Emmitsburg does get out of its tax money. We maintain our own Town, pay our own water, sewerage, garbage, police, street lights, Fire Company, ambulance service, etc., with our own little tax collected here. So that leaves a lot of explaining to do just what the several hundred thousands of dollars in tax money raised here and given to the County really goes for. Oh yes, we're fully cognizant of the fact that the Board of Education gets the hog's share of the tax dollar, but there is still some left and I think we have a fair right to ask for our share of it. As to doing anything about these assessment and tax increases, I suppose there is little that we, as individual citizens, can do to offset the stampede. However, as I pointed out some time ago in this column, you could unite, join the Frederick County Taxpayers League (dues only $1 a year) and then you would have some bargaining power when these nerve-shattering nightmares lash out at us. You have another alternative, vote the bums out of office, on a statewide basis, that is. But then you just have a new group waiting to get up to the trough, so I think the former idea is the better of the two.

Of course you have the right to appeal but after you lose a day's work and drive 50 miles, you'll be politely asked: Would you sell your property for what it is assessed at? Naturally you'll say no, and you can back sheepishly out of the door. Or you might be told that the State has the authority to assess you for 100% of the value of your property. Either way you lose. I suppose that eventually we'll have to take our cue from the civil rights marchers and some day organize a march or protest on the Courthouse or the State Legislature to let the folks in there know just how we feel about the matter. It has worked in other areas so it might work in Frederick or Annapolis.

Objects To Removal Of Kennedy Name

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

This is to voice my objection to the efforts of those who would change Cape Kennedy, Fla. back to its original name, "Canaveral"; unless of course they want to go back and change all place names as they were 400 years ago. This would mean that the Chesapeake Bay would become again Bahía de Madre de Dios (Bay of the Mother of God); the James River would become Rio Espiritu Santo; and Newport News (where the first Mass was said in 1570) would become Santa Maria del Monte (Mount St. Mary's).

Yours sincerely,
Patrick McGucken

Catoctin Cougars Show Promise; Schedule Is Released

The Catoctin High "Cougars" open their 1969-70 basketball season Saturday night in Frederick against Thomas Johnson, one of the two new opponents on this year's schedule. Coach George Kuhn, faced with all of last year's starting team returning, feels that the Cougars can come up with a real good year providing they overcome several big weaknesses from last year. Coach Kuhn finds more rebounding strength, find improvement in foul shooting, and team defense, if the Cougars are going to become a MVAC title contender.

The Cougar's starting five will come from last year's veterans: Lee Koontz, Dave Swomley, Charlie Gearhart, Mike Smith, Eddie Gills Calvin Chatlos, Gerald Clabaugh and Paul Baumgardner, or from newcomers, Steve Buchanan, Mark Lannon, Robert Keilholtz, Tim Campbell, Tom Williard and John Teeter. According to Kuhn, both Teeter and Williard have looked good at times and could possibly earn first team status before the holidays.

TOWN CANCELS PLAN FOR WATER METERS HERE

Delinquent water consumer bills were discussed at the regular meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners of Emmitsburg held Monday evening in the Town Office, President of the Board J. Ralph McDonnell presiding. Present also was the Town's attorney, Fred Bower. Regarding the delinquent water bills, Council plans to adopt an ordinance in the near future which would enable it to add interest charges until the bill has been paid.

Present at the meeting were Messrs. Paul Glass, John Glass, David Glass and Howard Price. These individuals addressed the Council concerning the right-of-way to establish a logging trail over the Town's watershed. Mayor Robert A. Seidel read a letter from the Town's attorney relative to a monetary grant to the Police Dept. Attorney Bower was present to explain the details of the letter.

At the suggestion of Attorney Bower, the Council decided that due to the fact that local plumbers had not signed a contract to install water meters in local homes, the meters would be returned to the company from which they were purchased. To date 30 of these meters have been shipped back to the company and another 20 will be returned just as soon as they can be boxed.

The Council was in receipt of a petition bearing 57 local signatures asking that the installation of water meters at this time be postponed. The petition was read and entered into the minutes.

Police Chief W. Henry Filler gave his monthly report to the Council and the report was accepted as presented. Council voted to grant free parking on the streets of Emmitsburg from Thursday, Dec. 18 at 6 p.m. until 9 a.m., Friday, Dec. 26. It was felt that this would enable local citizens to shop locally without fear of receiving a parking ticket.

Delinquent parking meter tickets were discussed by the Town Fathers and it was decided that every effort will be made to collect these fines. The minutes of the October meeting were approved by the group. The Council discussed the planting of two trees on the sidewalk of the Ernest Shriver property but no action was taken.

The Council discussed a request by the Vigilant Hose Co. for permission to blacktop a section of the front of the Fire Hall. The request was tabled. The Clerk's financial report was accepted and Council decided that maps of the Town which previously were on sale for 50c, would in the future be $1, due to increased costs of reproducing these maps.

HELP US DELIVER THE HOLIDAY MAIL ON TIME SHOP EARLY MAIL EARLY

Another week still remains to prepare those packages for our servicemen overseas. In order for these to be received by Christmas, it is necessary that they be sent airmail, or before December 13th.

Postal regulations remain the same, as that of the 1968 Christmas period, in as far as the sending of greeting cards. Cards weighing 1 ounce or less may be sealed, require 6c postage, and will receive complete first class mail handling, including return, if undeliverable.

Cards weighing over 1 ounce, but not more than 2 ounces, will be handled for 6c also, provided they are left unsealed, and contain no message. These are handled as third class mail, and are not returned if undeliverable.

St. Joe's Drops Initial Contest

Tuesday night, St. Joseph's High School basketball team traveled to Hagerstown to open up its 1969-70 season against St. Maria Goretti. Accompanying the team was a busload of fans who literally drowned out the home-town cheering section.

The J.V.'s, coached by Ed Adelsberger, chalked up their first victory by defeating Goretti, 41-33. Both teams played a fine game but St. Joe's, aided by their sharp-shooting and strength under the boards never fell behind in the scoring column from the start of the game to the sound of the last buzzer.

However, in the varsity game, it was a little different, Goretti, chalking up a 20-5 first quarter lead, never allowed St. Joe's to come closer than nine points. However, in the second and third quarters, Joe's started to play ball like a championship team and closed the gap to nine points. St. Joe's outplayed and outscored Goretti in the second and third quarters. However, they weren't able to continue this in the fourth quarter.

When Coach Attridge and Coach Lammly were asked after the game if they were satisfied with the team's performance, they said that the boys played a hard game, but made a few mistakes. When asked about next Saturday's game against St. John's of Frederick, they said that the nervousness of the first game will be over and there won't be any mistakes. Now that the team is aware of its potential, they will settle down and have a very successful season, starting with a victory over St. John's on Saturday night.

Red Cross Offers Recorded Messages

This year the local Red Cross is once again bringing their "Voice From Home" Program in this community. For many servicemen their military experience means their first absence from home and their first Christmas away from loved ones in strange and distant places. During the Holiday Season, the absence of a loved one is more deeply felt than any other time of the year. Bring them closer home by sending a "talking letter" of family happenings, words of cheer, and your love.

The Red Cross invites you to a recording session Sunday, December 7, from 1 to 4 p.m. At the Red Cross Office, 22-A S. Market St., Frederick, tape recorders and tape will be available to all those wishing to send a talking tape to your son, husband, brother or boy friend in the service. Volunteers will be there to assist you and instant photographs will be made while you record. The only cost to you will be the postage for mailing the tape. Coffee and cookies will be served by the Red Cross.

What is there to talk about? Tell him of family activities, school, health, plans for Christmas, his favorite sports, weather, a new baby, the dog, and above all make the message a happy one.

An appointment is not necessary, but if a specific time is required, call the Red Cross Office at 662-5131.

Extinguish Grass Fire

The principal dancers will be Marilyn Burr, and Dolores Lipinski, as Swanilda; Desmond Kelly and Ivan Nagy, as Franz and Frederic Franklin as Dr. Coppelius. Miss Burr has been prima ballerina for the London Festival Ballet and the Australian National Ballet. Her first appearance with an American company was with the National Ballet. She has danced most of the ballerina roles in the company's repertory.

Desmond Kelly made his debut with the National Ballet last season. He has danced with European companies, including London's Festival Ballet and the Zurich Ballet.

Frederic Franklin, artistic director of the National Ballet Company, is one of the great figures of the international dance world. They Haven't Changed In 20 Years

There are among us today many influential persons (and important segments of the press) who are trying to convince President Nixon and the American public that Communists and Communism have changed. Soviet Communism — they say repeatedly, and their words are given massive distribution through the press — has changed from an aggressive international revolution to a peace loving Red empire with no aggressive aims. They say the Communists among us (once viewed by our laws and even the Supreme Court as a "clear and present" danger to our nation) now are respectable, peace-loving, law-abiding people who should not be feared or pointed out for particular criticism.

Ex Parte in the Matter of the Petition of Alfred C. Standen and Rachel P. Standen, his wife, for the Adoption of a Minor
NO. 1024 ADOPTIONS

In the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland
ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The object of this Petition is the adoption of an infant child by Petitioners.

The Petition states that a male child, Gary Butler Steele, born on December 30, 1958; the father of said infant being Thomas J. Steele, whose last known address was 8005 Roanoke Avenue, Newport News, Virginia; that said infant has been in the constant care and custody of his mother since birth and in the joint care and custody of the Petitioners since their marriage. That the natural father of the child to be adopted is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and his last known address being 8005 Roanoke Avenue, Newport News, Virginia.

The Petition prays that the infant be declared the adopted child of the Petitioners; that the infant's last name be changed to that of the Petitioners and for such other and further relief as the nature of their case may require.

It is thereupon this 17th day of November, 1969, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, sitting as a Court of Equity, and by the authority thereof, ORDERED that the Petitioners give notice to the said non-resident father, Thomas J. Steele, of the object and substance of this Petition by causing a copy of the same to be published in some newspaper published in Frederick County once a week for four successive weeks prior to the 20th day of December, 1969, commanding him to be and appear in this Court in person or by solicitor on or before the 20th day of January, 1970 to show cause, if any he has, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

For anyone who will open his eyes to the facts of life in our world today, the clamor about a "changed" Communism is ridiculous. It is a very dangerous form of propaganda, the more dangerous when disseminated by respected public figures. The criers of a "changed" Communism have so influenced American policy - makers, Congress, and the Supreme Court that legal safeguards which once partially protected the nation's internal security against Communist activities within our country have been all but wiped out. And the propaganda is getting louder. Communists now are "legally" active in our defense plants, our political elections, in our educational institutions (whether legal or not), and in virtually every place where turmoil and strife erupt. In 50 years, or 20 years, or five years they have not changed their tactics or aims.

Courtroom—A Stage

There is a dramatic example of the unchanging constancy of Communist behavior, Communist activities, and the Communist aims to disrupt and cause trouble, to undermine and ultimately destroy the United States Government. The following is from the open public archives of recent and current history:

The courtroom of the Federal District Judge is jammed with defendants and their attorneys. The testimony is interrupted repeatedly by the wild and fanatic behavior of the defendants and their lawyers. Attacking Judge, Nation

Outside the courtroom and the courthouse, hundreds of demonstrators are creating havoc, marching, ranting, carrying placards attacking the judge, the court system, the United States. The defense attorneys clash inside almost daily with the Judge and prosecuting attorneys.

It is a conspiracy trial and the defendants are accused of plotting riots and revolution.

The scene described here is not at Chicago in 1969. It is the scene at the trial of 11 Communist leaders in New York in 1949—20 years ago. Federal District Judge Harold R. Medina held that court. It was an ordeal unprecedented in American judicial history, and Judge Medina suffered incredible insults and provocations. The Communists were convicted and imprisoned for relatively short terms. The disruptions they created during the trial, Judge Medina says today, were calculated by the Communist defendants and lawyers to cause the Judge to make mistakes that might cause a mistrial or a higher court reversal of the trial verdict. "They tried," he says, "to get me to make a slip-up in court so they could claim a mistrial." Judge Medina says this is precisely the same purpose of the uproarious defendants (the "Chicago 8") in Judge Julius J. Hoffman's Federal District Court in Chicago.

Enemy At Work

Their behavior is the same—unchanged in 20 years, on the record. Their objective is the same—to try to remain free to continue their disruptive, destructive work in America. Bobby Seale, the Black Panther national chairman who created a constant uproar in the court, has stated clearly in print that the movement he heads is "Marxist-Leninist" with the goal of destroying the U.S.A. During the trial, he has been the Communist tactic for 50 years, he taunted, insulted, embarrassed, and reviled the Judge—and our country. Other defendants and defense lawyers have been disruptive, clearly trying to enrage the Judge to some precipitate action.

The nation's debt to Judge Medina was acknowledged widely. Judge Hoffman is showing the same courage, awareness and judicial discipline. He is performing a great service. Seale and his comrades are showing to the nation again the unchanging nature of the Communists. Will we heed the facts in time to ward off disaster?

Most American workers today are covered by workmen's compensation insurance, notes the Insurance Information Institute. Motor Vehicle

Dept. Submits

Decreased Budget

In accordance with instructions from Governor Mandel, the Maryland Department of Motor Vehicles this week submitted a budget request for Fiscal 1971 that called for a 7.9% reduction in the agency's operating expenses, Commissioner John R. Jewell said.

Mr. Jewell noted that for the current fiscal year, the Department's operating expenses, which includes all agency expenditures except salaries, is $4,745,839. For Fiscal 1971, the Department is requesting an operating budget of $4,372,239.

"Under ordinary circumstances," Jewell said, "there should be an annual increase in our operating budget since the activities of the Department expand every year."

"However, the increasing computerization of our activities combined with the adoption in Maryland of the long-term license plate program have resulted in the decrease," the Commissioner said.

Pinpointing the reasons for the decrease, Jewell noted that the Department has a current appropriation of $252,000 to mail license tags to motorists in March and April of next year. The Department is able to reduce that expenditure for the following year by more than $100,000, Jewell said, because motorists in 1971 will be receiving validation stickers rather than license plates. While it cost 32 cents to mail a set of license plates third class, Jewell said, it only costs six cents to mail validation stickers first class.

Similar savings are being realized in the manufacture of license tags, the Commissioner said, noting that the current DMV appropriation to manufacture license tags at the House of Correction is $600,000.

In the next budget, he said, only $96,000 is being requested for the manufacture of license plates and $120,000 for the production of the validation stickers, resulting in a net saving of $384,000.

Jewell also said that the Department has entered into a new agreement for computer equipment that will continue to reduce the clerical personnel required to maintain the enormous volume of DMV records and provide more sophisticated computer hardware at reduced cost.

The Department's current computerized system of storing records that provides for instantaneous access to vehicle registration and driver licensing information is one of the few in the country that virtually completely conforms with Federal Highway Safety Standards.

The total agency budget request for Fiscal 1971 Jewell said, is $12,875,467, slightly higher than the current appropriation of $12,511,029. However, Jewell noted, almost one half million dollars of the total increase is for overtime, social security and pension payments and annual salary adjustments, which are mandatory and over which the Department exercises no discretion. Without such mandated budget increases, Jewell noted, there would be a total net decrease in the Department's budget request for Fiscal 1971 of $140,375.

The Department is asking for 21 additional personnel, most of whom are highly skilled or professional individuals required to maintain records on electronic data processing devices. Prior to the introduction of data processing techniques at the Department, Jewell said, DMV budget requests normally included requisitions for significant numbers of clerical personnel. Such requests are no longer necessary, the DMV Chief said, nor has the Department in recent years submitted any requests for capital expenditures to expand physical facilities to house the ever-expanding volume of records.

Jewell said computerization has virtually eliminated manual filing systems at DMV and records can be stored securely and updated and retrieved immediately with computer storage devices that require relatively little space.

Community College

Enrollment Over 1100

Most people feel that the Frederick Community College student body is composed of young teenagers right out of high school and residents of Frederick County. The courses offered are only beneficial to those seeking undergraduate degrees. Well, you're right! However, there is another picture that truly shows that a community college can serve a diversified student body.

For example, many current community college students have attended previously other colleges and universities. Of the 1103 students enrolled as of November, some of these individuals have attended over 107 different institutions of higher learning. Institutions as far away as the University of California, College of San Mateo, University of Colorado, on the West Coast; Howard University in Massachusetts on the East Coast; to as far south as the University of Miami; and to provide the international "touch", there are six foreign students enrolled. This wide representation from other institutions is also found in the fact that 80 students have attended twenty-four different colleges in the State of Maryland. There are over thirty different states and the District of Columbia represented!

What types of students are enrolled? Not all of them are seeking undergraduate degrees. For out of this group we find: 4 students already have an Associate in Arts degree, 38 have a Bachelor's degree, 5 students have earned a Master's degree, and 2 students have a Doctor's degree. The age of students range from 17 years to sixty. For the philosophy is to provide education where it is needed. At the present time there are 19 part-time students from the high schools who have obtained special permission due to grades, etc., to attend certain classes that are being offered.

Mr. Duvall Sweadner, Director of Admissions, indicated that over 12% of this student body receives financial aid and scholarships to further their education. Do you know your community college? There are other interesting features. Take time to learn!

The best place to find a helping hand is at the end of your arm.

What's Next?

Administrators aren't the only decision-makers at the University of Maryland. Coeds are faced with the option to go maxi or stay mini. So far the legs have it. Maxi coats haven't swept the campus fashion world yet.

OUR LIBRARY

Saturday mornings at 10:00 o'clock finds the story hour well attended. Miss Kathy Stoner keeps the children spellbound for nearly an hour. Don't let your children miss the story hour.

Books added to the collection this week are varied since children's book week is just past and many of our books were bought for that week. Among the more interesting adult books, "Norma Jean," by Fred Lawrence Guiles, known to many more as Marilyn Monroe has just been purchased. Most of the material for this unique biography has come from lengthy and detailed interviews over a period of five years with those closest to Marilyn. Among them Pat Newcomb, her confidant and press agent; two of her husbands, one of her coaches and four of her most important directors. There has been no attempt to repeat the legends and myths; indeed, deeper research revealed these to be largely apocryphal. Here, for the first time, is an accurate, almost documentary account of Marilyn Monroe's life.

"Our Federal Government

It Works," by Patricia C. Acheson. Designed to give young citizens a better understanding and knowledge of the organization and purpose of the Federal Government which had developed from the Constitution, this book explains in brief what some of the major divisions of our Washington government are and how they function. "They live by the Wind," by Wendell P. Bradley. Today, in our jet-borne, computerized world, there are still men who follow the wind's command. These stubborn survivors of the days of sail—hardy men, proud of their skill and daring and full of fierce affection for their vessels—carry on the ancient ways, but their numbers are dwindling fast. The author lived and worked alongside these men and grew to know them well. In this unique and moving account he tells how they race for a passion for racing is their most singular and universal trait.

TV Fires

Dangerous

If you want to watch those Christmas spectaculars on your own television set, not in some nearby motel, or worse yet—maybe from a hospital bed, there are a few safety rules you might heed, according to the Insurance Information Institute.

The National Commission on Product Safety says some 10,000 fires start each year in TV sets, particularly color sets, which is not considered a large proportion considering there are some 20 million sets in use. Corrections are being made in sets still on the assembly line, according to industry reports.

Most fires start in the transformer, high voltage line or alternating switch, sometimes even after the set is turned off. The 25,000-volt current seems at least partially to blame.

First of all, if a fire starts—DON'T THROW WATER ON IT. Use of carbon or powder fire extinguisher is recommended. CALL THE FIRE DEPARTMENT. Don't get near the set. Shock or ELECTROCUTION could result.

Some preventive suggestions are to have your technician check the insulation when the set is in for repair, keep it away from flammable drapes, keep newspapers and magazines off it, vacuum set thru ventilation holes in back (DO NOT REMOVE COVER), allow plenty of ventilation around set, don't put it in a bookcase or wall cabinet. PULL THE PLUG WHEN

NOT IN USE.

To Conduct Agricultural Census

Information about the 1969 Census of Agriculture was expected to be available in all county ASCS offices about December 1, according to Raymond F. Jaeger, Chairman, Maryland State Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee.

Chairman Jaeger said in late November the Bureau of Census in Washington will send to all county ASCS offices an information packet containing a reference handbook, an introductory letter and a sample questionnaire. Information in the packet will help county office employees answer questions from farmers about the 1969 Agricultural Census.

The Chairman said farmers will receive the 1969 Agricultural Census questionnaire by mail on or about January 1, 1970. The questionnaire should be filled out and mailed back to the Census Bureau not later than February 15.

Chairman Jaeger said farmer cooperation in this census is very important because decisions that will lead to improved farm programs must be based on reliable facts and those facts can only be obtained through a nationwide census of all farms and ranches.

He said ASCS is one of the key agencies in the U. S. Department of Agriculture through which information on the 1969 Census of Agriculture will be handled.

ROTC Scholarships Still Available

It's not too late to apply for an Army ROTC four-year college scholarship. Deadline for sending in an application is January 15, 1970. Winners will be announced in the Spring of 1970.

Young men who are high school seniors and motivated toward an Army career are eligible to apply for one of the 1200 scholarships. The scholarship may be used at any of the 277 colleges and universities in the United States offering the four-year Army ROTC program. Scholarship winners receive their full tuition, textbook costs and laboratory fees, plus a $50 per month allowance for the full four years. Winners may select academic courses in the field of their choice—the only additional requirement being the completion of officer training subjects. Upon graduation, they are commissioned second lieutenants in the Army and fulfill their military obligation by serving four years on active duty.

High school seniors, their parents or teachers may obtain more information by writing: ROTC Scholarships, Fort Meade, Md. 20755.

BABSON'S POINT OF VIEW

Fast Growth For Nonwoven Disposables
By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., December 4, 1969 — Nonwoven disposables—fiber-reinforced paper materials having the properties of loomed fabrics and the reasonable price and easy handling of paper—are expected to be one of the fastest growing product groups in the 1970's. Expanding Hospital Market. Sparking the quickening swing to disposables are these two key factors—cost and convenience.

An example of the cost factor is provided by the hospital market where, in an effort to offset rapidly rising labor and laundering expenses, hospitals are turning more and more to the use of disposable sheets, pillowcases, surgical gowns, drapes, and masks. In addition to lowering labor costs, disposable hospital supplies reduce the danger of cross-infection. Already, hospital disposables have risen from next to nothing in 1960 to $246 million last year, and it has been estimated that this market will increase to as much as $900 million by 1978.

The second factor prompting increased use of disposables is convenience. The diaper business provides a good example of the convenience factor. It has been estimated that from 23 billion to 25 billion diaper changes are made every year. Obviously, washing dirty diapers is not the most appealing part of motherhood, and many women are eager to pay extra for the convenience of using nonwoven diapers that can be flushed away after use. The rate of growth of the total disposable diaper market has tripled in less than a year, and studies show that the potential of this market is $1 billion!

Applications Many And Varied
Nonwoven material can be made to produce unusual strength, softness, bulk, absorbency, drape, or a combination of these qualities. It can be embossed and laminated with plastic films to impart water resist-ence. This versatility, combined with relatively low cost, makes an ideal application for use of nonwoven disposables in critical hospital areas such as operating rooms, maternity wards, and emergency wards. Also, as mentioned previously, in hospital housekeeping, disposable sheets and pillowcases, cubicle curtains, tablecloths, and napkins can reduce labor and laundry costs.

Nonmedical applications also offer a fertile market for nonwoven disposables. In addition to diapers, uses in the home can include curtains, everyday sheets, pillowcases, disposable low-cost drapes, fashion and sportswear, and inexpensive disposable rainwear, as well as sporting goods such as tents and sleeping bags.

Among the growing number of commercial and institutional applications are included uniforms, aprons, tablecloths, and linens for food service industries, and disposable wipers, towels, dusters, and clothing for heavy-duty industries.

The possible uses of nonwoven disposable fabrics are so numerous and varied, and new markets are growing so rapidly that it is not at all difficult to understand why it is said that the growth of the disposables in industry constitutes "one of the most significant social and economic changes of our day."

Investment Opportunities
Although many firms, including some of the country's foremost corporate names, are involved in the field of nonwoven disposables, generally only a small portion of their business comes from this area. An investor seeking a major company for a "pure play" in nonwovens is going to be disappointed.

The Babson staff feels the best way to "play" this fast-breaking field is to hold a position in a well-established company that is involved to some extent in nonwoven disposables. A representative list of such companies would probably include Associated Baby Services, International Paper, Kendall Co., St. Regis Paper, Proctor & Gamble, Scott Paper, Westvaco, Borden Co., Colgate-Palmolive, Crown Zellerbach, Johnson & Johnson, and American Hospital Supply.

Hauver, Board of Education; Mrs. Irene Pistachio, Director of Home Economics, Hood College; Carl W. Margrabe, Maryland State Department of Health; Mrs. Kathryn Jenkins, Frederick County Home Extension Agent; Miss Gertrude Hotelling, associate professor of nursing, St. Joseph College; and Dr. George Morningstar, Emmitsburg physician.

St. Joseph College students who are serving are: Clare Costello, Kathie Hennion, Mary Kay Leatherman and Mary Fran Lombard. They have organized a Senatorial "write-in" to campaign for legislation to control nutritional claims of manufacturers and to make vitamin enriched foods less expensive for consumers.

The dual purpose of the conference is to fight hunger and malnutrition in all classes of society.

Dr. Jean Mayer, Special Consultant to President Richard M. Nixon on the project, said that 475 of the nation's leading food and nutrition experts and other Americans will serve on the 26 pre-conference panels, and another 200 will be members of eight social-action task forces to follow through on the Conference recommendations. The "crash program" is designed to end hunger and malnutrition among the poor and to lead the way to a national nutrition policy.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias
U.S. Senator

Inflation

Of all the crises facing Americans today perhaps only the war in Vietnam is so perplexing as the state of the economy—the continuing inflation, the continuing decline in the value of the dollar, the continuing rise in interest rates. Food prices continue to rise, and since in general the less money a family earns the higher percentage it spends on food—and since poor families rarely invest in stocks—inflation is regressive in impact. It hurts those with low and fixed incomes the most. Yet at the same time inflationary growth ordinarily brings a steadily expanding job market. It is very hard to halt inflation without reducing employment. So moves to stop inflation also tend to hurt the poor the most in immediate effect, since it is the lowest paying jobs that go first as the economy slows down. Although organized labor has an objective interest in halting inflation—over the last few years most wage gains have been eaten away—labor leaders and their allies psychologically prefer to fight than switch to deflationary policies. So I am hoping that we can avoid inflationary settlements in collective bargaining over the next year.

Appraising these social costs, some economists feel that we should not make a major effort to halt inflation; they feel the current level is tolerable. Other economists—apparently willing to create a huge new bureaucracy and gravely intrude on the market place—demand wage and price controls. As superficially inviting as these approaches may be, however, I continue to support the course of the Nixon Administration. Inflation must be curbed. For the alternative in the long run is a major slowdown in our economic growth that would hurt everyone—rich and poor—in the United States and around the world. But wage and price controls cause severe distortions in the domestic economy and in our trade—without assuring resumption of stable growth patterns. Those who advocate the simple solutions ignore a crucial fact: the crisis is not only an American problem. As the President pointed out during the campaign, "The dollar is more than the currency of American economic strength. It is also a fundamental medium of exchange for the entire free world. Continued erosion of faith in the dollar could destroy the expansion of world trade that has spurred the marvelous growth of the world's free economies."

Although imports from overseas have a deflationary effect, continued inflation will bring increasing pressures for special tariff or quota protection for those industries that are hurt. New tariffs or quotas in the United States will bring retaliatory measures around the world. They will bring to a halt the expanding world trade and economic integration that I believe offer the greatest hope for world peace and prosperity in the years ahead. There is really no responsible alternative, therefore, to deflationary policies. I believe, moreover, that the specific measures chosen by the Administration are in general exemplary. The President is cutting back spending on defense and public works and is in general economizing on government spending that does not principally involve the poor. At the same time he is initiating historic new programs that combine welfare reform with job training. These initiatives will help those who would otherwise be most seriously injured by deflationary policies. He is also supporting expansion of present government programs to end discrimination in employment. By such approaches the Nixon Administration hopes to curb inflation without doing serious damage to the economy. It is a bold and ingenious program and I praise it.

More Marriages By The Rev. Grier

A resident minister or priest in "the old days" was the exception rather than the rule. Most of the clergy served more than one congregation and it was not always possible to secure their services when needed. There is more than one instance of the burial office said over a grave that had been closed for days, weeks, months or a year.

Couples sometimes traveled long distances—for that day—to have the marriage ceremony performed. Children were baptized in groups—when the clergyman visited the church or home. Church services were not taken for granted—to attend was a privilege. How times have changed!

The 52-year pastorate of the Rev. Robert Smith Grier in the united churches of Tom's Creek and Piney Creek was a period of rich growth for both congregations. Most important—he was there—living on his farm located on the Pennsylvania side of the Mason-Dixon Line. Calls from far and near requested his services—not the least of which had to do with "the institution of Holy Matrimony." The pioneer pastor performed the marriage ceremony many times—many couples came to him for this sacrament. Fortunately Rev. Grier kept a partial record of marriages and because of its historical and genealogical importance a transcription it gives in this column—as copied from the original.

Last week the first 46 entries were included—today the list is concluded:

57. 1820—N. Grayson to Eliza Ann Shields. Note, the bride, in this case, was probably a daughter or grand-daughter of the pioneer William Shields, who played so prominent a part in the history of Emmitsburg and vicinity. There are five marked graves of the Shields family in Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard. The American ancestor of this family is interred in the family burial ground located at the foot of Carrick's Knob.

48. 1821—Andrew Horner to Eliza Marshall. Note: There are many Horners interred at Tom's Creek. The Marshalls were members of Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian church, which was—at one time—served by the same minister as Tom's Creek and Piney Creek.

49. 1821—Dr. Rob. Moore to Miss ---(?) Sntzell. Note: The Moores were members of the Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian church (now the Gettysburg Presbyterian), and some members of that family are buried in the old graveyard belonging to that congregation.

50. 1821—William Rea to Miss ---(?) Bigham. Note: Both the Rea (Rhea) and Bigham families were members of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian congregation.

51. 1821—Robert McGurgan to Barbara McColester.

52. 1821—Mr. ---(?) Locklin to Sally Randolph.

53. 1821—Eli Horner to Miss ---(?) McKee.

Note: The bride and groom in this instance came from families long members of the Tom's Creek Presbyterian church. There are Horners and McKees buried in the old churchyard.

54. 1821—Solomon Bosserman to Polly Ecker.

55. 1821—Jesse Davidson to Miss ---(?) Farris.

Note: Again both parties were members of the Tom's Creek church—and could boast of ancestors interred in the churchyard.

56. 1821—William Jones to Mary Galt.

Note: The Galt family, with but few exceptions, were members of the Piney Creek Presbyterian congregation. The graves of quite a few members of this particular clan are to be found in the Piney Creek churchyard.

57. 1821—Ralph Holt to Ursula Little. Note: Ursula (Little) Holt was undoubtedly a descendant of Peter Little, the founder of Littlestown, Adams County, Pennsylvania. "Ursula" was a family name and is found from time to time in genealogies of this particular family.

58. 1821—Samuel Baird to Elizabeth Floor.

59. 1821—Gideon Seebroke to Sally Harper.

60. 1821—Thomas Brooke to Miss Eyer.

At this point the Rev. Grier, for some reason or other, gave up keeping a record of the marriages performed by him. He must have officiated at many others for he continued in the active ministry for some forty-five years after this year (1821) but the record remains blank.

Before the Rev. Grier came to serve the "united churches of Tom's and Piney Creek" the Rev. Patrick Davidson was their minister from 1800 to 1810. He too left a partial record of the marriages performed by him and they are as follows:

1. March 27, 1806—Robert Robertson to Polly McCallen.

2. March 27, 1806—Samuel Thompson to Peggy Clingen.

3. May 1, 1806—William Stevenson to Peggy Wilson.

Note: The Stevenson family belonged to Upper Marsh Creek Presbyterian church while the Wilsons were members of the Lower Marsh Creek Presbyterian congregation. Both were included among the early settlers and played an important role in the history of Pennsylvania and Maryland.

4. April 29, 1806—John McClonihan to Ann McCune.

5. May 1, 1806—John McCune to Mary Leech.

6. July 24, 1806—Robert Breckenridge to Mary Grier.

Note: The Breckenridge clan belonged to the Piney Creek congregation as did the Griers.

7. September 11, 1806—Abraham Liner (Linah) to Ann Linn.

8. October 20, 1806—Archibald Clingan to Ann Ferguson.

9. November 27, 1806—James

McGaughy, of Marsh Creek congregation, to Nancy Grier, of Piney Creek.

The records of the Rev. Patrick Davidson, of the united congregation of Tom's Creek and Piney Creek, will be continued in this series next week.

Plan Early To Call Servicemen

Residents in this area were advised today by the Telephone Company to plan ahead if they wish to talk during the coming holiday season to relatives or friends stationed in Vietnam.

"It is generally easier for a serviceman to call home than for his family to try reaching him in Vietnam," said B. L. Miller, District Traffic Manager for the C&P Telephone Company. "And to avoid disappointments, servicemen are encouraged to notify their families in advance if they expect to telephone home, particularly during the holidays."

Mr. Miller said that more than 42,000 calls were completed between the United States and Vietnam last year. Most of the calls, he added, were made from Vietnam rather than the U. S. because of the difficulty in locating servicemen when calls come in from the States.

"The heavy concentration of so many troops in a small country at war creates some real communications problems," Mr. Miller said. "Service is still not what we would like it to be, but it has been improved substantially in recent years."

Travel restrictions and curfews in Saigon complicate the task of locating servicemen to take telephone calls, he explained. For this reason, when a call is made to Saigon it is important for the caller to have the serviceman's unit, his APO number and, if possible, a telephone number where he can be reached.

Until 1967, Mr. Miller said, servicemen could call home only from Saigon. Calls now can be placed from hospitals and bases in Ton Son Nhut, Long Binh, Cam Ranh Bay, Nha Trang, Qui Nhon, and Da Nang.

U. S. callers, however, can reach only telephones in Saigon and the immediate vicinity.

The speed of handling a call to Vietnam depends on the volume of calls pending at the time and the availability of the serviceman in Vietnam, Mr. Miller said. Calls between the U. S. and Vietnam average about 350 a day, but this figure is expected to increase during the holiday season.

Calls originating in Vietnam are handled "first come, first served" at various telephone centers operated for servicemen.

"But when a serviceman does get to a telephone, it is usually just a few minutes before his call is completed to the States," Mr. Miller said.

He pointed out that Saigon time is 13 hours ahead of Eastern Standard Time.

The first three minutes of a station-to-station call between the U. S. and Vietnam is $9. A person-to-person call costs $12 for the first three minutes. The additional minute rate for both station and person calls is $3.
