It is with hope and prayer that an anxious world awaits the safe return of our three astronauts who are circling around in space at this moment and hopefully will land safely sometime this afternoon. It would indeed be a catastrophic event should be a catastrophic event should be a catastrophic event...

Well, we have a race on for Town Offices, and this is considered a healthy sign denoting local interest. There are two candidates aspiring for the job of Town Commissioner. Both of these men are considered young men, in their thirties. Their interest in better Town government is admirable and commendable and shows you that there still are people, young people, with the interest of Emmitsburg at heart.

The County Commissioners are working diligently on the fiscal budget for the coming year and it is a monumental task to decide where to cut because regardless of what you do, or who you cut, you will be tossed to the lions. Just about every bureau or department in the County has upped its budget, as they always do, and naturally, the School Board, which demands the lion's share, has placed the heaviest demands.

Thurmont Man Charged With D. D.

A 45-year-old motorist was jailed on a motor code violation by Cumberland, Pa., Twp. Police Chief John G. Hemler at 12:10 a.m. Wednesday.

John Roman, Thurmont, was jailed by Chief Hemler after he failed to post $500 bail on a charge of operating his auto while under the influence of alcohol, filed before Cumberland Twp. Justice of the Peace Charles R. Leader.

Chief Hemler said that while on night patrol he observed Roman's auto stuck in a ditch off the Fairfield Road at the Woodcrest development just west of Gettysburg. Upon investigation, Chief Hemler said, he found that Roman had been attempting to turn his westbound auto around toward Gettysburg by backing into a private drive.

Following Roman's arrest on the traffic charge, local police were called in to assist, taking Roman's wife and daughter to Gettysburg to contact relatives to arrange for their return to Thurmont.

Charnita Plans Large Motel In Area

Charnita, Inc., developer of the Charnita residential and recreational community west of Emmitsburg, announced this week that it has let a $486,000 contract for construction of a 44-unit motel. The motel will be erected adjoining the community's ski lodge by Kinsey Construction Company of Thurmont. Completion is scheduled for September or October.

Charles G. Rist, president and chairman of Charnita, said, "the new motel will provide prospective purchasers of homesites in the Charnita community with the convenience of on-site accommodations when they come to view lots." It should also prove an attraction to the growing number of skiers who patronize Charnita's slopes as well as a convenience for the great number of tourists passing through this area.

A similar residential and recreational community, emphasizing aquatic sports, is being developed by Charnita on 1,500 acres at Pioneer Point, near Centerville, Maryland.

College Chorale To Concert Sunday, April 19

The annual Spring Concert by the St. Joseph College Chorale, under the direction of Sister Jane Marie Perrott, will be presented on Sunday, April 19, at 8 p.m., in DePaul Auditorium on campus. Admission is free and open to the public.

Performing with the Chorale will be an instrumental ensemble of guest artists featuring Dr. Allen R. Bonde, professor of music, and his wife, Mrs. Marie Bonde, instructor in piano, both at Hood College. Also featured will be Mrs. Collette Wichert of Frederick, violin; Edward Arrington, Frederick public school system music department, viola; Sister Mary Gilbert, St. Joseph College, flute; and forming the percussion section, Caren Carney, Rosalie Ayres, Mary Ann Carter, of St. Joseph's, and Stacy Cooper of Mt. St. Mary's College.

The concert program includes two dedication numbers, the Our Father and Ave Maria, led by Dr. Bonde and Catherine Williams; Sacred Song - Yesterday and Today, performed by the Chorale and the Ensemble; and "Dolly" by Faure, a piano duet suite played by Dr. and Mrs. Bonde.

Accompanied by Dr. Bonde, Jane Garrett, soprano, will sing an Elizabethan Song Cycle of 3 sixteenth century medleys arranged by Dr. Bonde. Mrs. Wichert will be featured in Manuel de Falla's Violin Suite Populaire Espagnole. Mrs. Wichert and Mr. Arrington, performing on the viola, will accompany Elaine Prendergast, soprano, singing Leonard Berkowitz's "Departmental," from the Complete Poems of Robert Frost.

The Chorale and Ensemble will conclude the program with "Songs From the Cinema," compositions from The Sandpiper; Hush, Hush, Sweet Charlotte; Advance to the Rear; and the theme from Stagecoach; and The Singing Nun.

Would Veto Abortion Law
Open Letter To Gov. Mandel:
I wish to inform you of my extreme displeasure at the thought that you might endorse the new abortion bill for the State of Maryland.

I feel that such a bill is an extreme violation of the American Constitution which plainly states that all men have a right to life. In my opinion an unborn child needs to have this right protected as he is the least able citizen to do so for himself.

It is my hope that you, as a responsible member of our legislature, will do all in your power to keep this bill from becoming a stigma to the people of Maryland.

Sincerely,
A Responsible Citizen

VFW AMBULANCE REPORT

Schedules are made to remind people how far they are behind in their work.

Local Scouts Plan Town Clean-Up; Seek Help

The local Boy Scout house and adjacent grounds are beginning to shape up nicely, with a lot of extra effort by the boys. This week approximately 60 trees of various species were planted on the grounds near the clubhouse on Community Field. Scoutmaster Robert Rosensteel has had the Scouts hustling and amazing changes are beginning to take place.

Of course the Scouts had a little assistance from the Scout Troop Committee and some knowledgeable advice from Game Warden Ray Toms, but the job is getting done, and from what we understand this is only the beginning.

Troop Committee George E.

Rosensteel reports the construction of a new roof on the Scout-house by his committee.

The local Scout Troop is comprised of around 40 boys now and varied plans are being mapped out to keep them active. On April 25, Scoutmaster Bob Rosensteel announced, a Field Day will be held at the Frederick Fairgrounds and four patrols of local Scouts will participate. On May 9, Lincoln Trail Awards will be held in Washington, D. C. Fifteen local Scouts have signed up to participate in this event which has several qualifications, such as, Scouts must read a book on Lincoln's life, make a 16-mile hike on the streets of Washington, and answer a number of questions correctly on the life of Lincoln during his presidency.

On the "home front", Scoutmaster Rosensteel plans, a massive Spring Cleanup on Sunday, May 10. With the aid of the Girl Scouts, county assistance and help from the Town, a major clean-up of the whole Town is anticipated. Cans and other debris scattered along the roadside will be bagged and hauled away and a general policing of the area will be made. Police Chief W. Henry Filler has pledged his support of the project and will take extra precautions to see that the areas are kept clean once the project has been completed. A crackdown on litterers is promised and violators will be prosecuted.

Catoctin Student Hosts English Girls

A Catoctin High School sophomore and her family, have been host to two young ladies from Englond. Miss Christine Remon and Miss Paula Jen Vacher of Chingford, in London, England, have been guests of Miss Joanne Curry, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold J. Curry, of Orchard Drive in Thurmont.

Before arriving in Frederick, the girls toured the cities of New York and Boston. While in New York, the girls were housed by the "Hotel McAlpin," on 34th St. Such places as the Empire State Building, the United Nations building, and the Statue of Liberty were seen during their stay. Paula and Chris took a boat trip to Manhattan Island.

In Boston, Chris stayed with a family of five children in Lexington, while Paula lived with a smaller family in North Redding. The girls visited Concord, the North Bridge, the House of the Seven Gables, and the home of Louisa May Alcott.

While in Frederick and staying with Joanne in Thurmont, the girls attended classes at Catoctin High. The two Englanders both liked Catoctin High as a school itself, but Paula did not care for the system of teaching and Chris did not like the time table.

Miss Remon said, "The students of Catoctin High and the United States are very lucky, because their schools aren't very strict." Their tour of the Frederick area included visits to the historic Gettysburg Battlefield, Mt. Olivet Cemetery, and points of interest in Washington, D. C., such as the U. S. Capitol, the Washington Monument, the White House and the Smithsonian Institute.

Neither Chris or Paula wanted to return home to England and they both promise to return one day!

Mount Drama Group Plans Play

The Sock 'n Buskin Society of Mount St. Mary's and St. Joseph Colleges of Emmitsburg, are presenting Joe Masteroff's musical, "Cabaret," April 16, 17, 18, 20 and 21. Curtain time is 8 p.m. each night and admission is $1.50. Tickets can be purchased at the door.

The seemingly gay and dreamy life of "Cabaret" is seen through the eyes of a young American writer, Clifford Bradshaw, as he searches through experiences in pre-W.W. II Europe for the beginnings of a new novel. In Berlin he becomes distracted for a time by the frivolous and glittering life of the people in the Kit Kat Klub. But the intruding reality of the war, with its break up of the simplicity and innocence of life, shatters Cliff's dream world. He leaves Berlin and his experiences at the Kit Kat in a haze of memory as he is finally able to begin writing again.

There's instability in other fields, but the price of success always stays steady.

Lions Observe Ladies' Night

A ham and oyster dinner was served at the Emmitsburg Lions Club Ladies Night meeting which was held at Mt. Manor Motel and Restaurant, Monday night. Twenty-five members and guests attended. Out-of-town guests were Mr. Edward Storm, Attorney of Frederick, who made a three-minute speech, and Lions Merle Burgee, Noah King and Charles Wood from the New Market Lions Club. Cocktail hour started at 6:30 p.m. and dancing continued until 11 p.m.

The election of officers is scheduled for the next regular meeting of the club on April 27. All members are urged to attend.

Real property owned by the Emmitsburg Civic Association, Inc., an affiliate of the Emmitsburg Lions Club, was exempted from County taxation by Senate Bill 458, passed by the General Assembly and effective July 1, 1970. This Bill was introduced by Senator Goodloe E. Byron.

Men who make mistakes are useful—they help us forget the mistakes we make.

Firemen Respond To Three Alarms

The Vigilant Hose Co. responded to three fires this past week. On Monday, the Emmitsburg firemen spent an hour battling a one-acre blaze on top of College Mountain at the rear of the Mt. St. Mary's College campus.

Fire Chief Guy R. McLaughlin said his crew drove their trucks to the college Grotto from where they had to walk a quarter of a mile uphill to the scene of the fire. The chief said the fire was believed to have been caused by a cigarette along a mountain trail. Emmitsburg firemen remained at the scene until Maryland State Forestry officials arrived.

On Sunday afternoon at 3:47 o'clock, the firemen, assisted by the Rocky Ridge Fire Co., battled a grass fire that consumed 55 acres on the farm property of Harry Prograss, four miles south of here on the Old Frederick Rd. Chief McLaughlin said that the blaze, which originated from a trash fire, had been burning out of control for some time before either company was called to the scene.

Last Thursday afternoon the firemen put out a blaze in leaves off the Grotto Road, near St. Anthony's.

Chief McLaughlin said the blaze was discovered along the road by two Mt. St. Mary's Seminarians who contained the fire with rakes until the firemen arrived. Booster tanks were used to wet down the small fire.

OBITUARIES

MRS. M. VALERIE KRAEMER
Mrs. Mary Valerie Kraemer, 63, S. Seton Ave., Emmitsburg, died at the York Hospital Monday morning at 9:45 o'clock.

A life-long resident of Emmitsburg, she was a daughter of the late John W. and Minnie (Bowman) Little. Her husband, the late Eugene Robert Kraemer, died December 19, 1963.

She was a member of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg.

Surviving are two brothers and a sister: Robert F. Little and Roy Little, both of Emmitsburg, and Mrs. LeRoy Wierman, McSherrystown.

Funeral services were held on Thursday at 10 a.m. at St. Joseph's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg, Fr. John King the celebrant of the requiem Mass. Interment was in the church cemetery. Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, was in charge of arrangements.

BRINTON L. WASTLER

Brinton L. Wastler, 54, York Springs, Pa., died in the Hanover Hospital Sunday at 2:30 p.m. where he had been a patient for 10 days.

Born in Rocky Ridge, Md., he was the son of the late Thomas O. Wastler and Gertrude Pyle Wastler. He was a member of the Zion United Church of Christ, Arendtsville, and was employed in the State Property and Supplies department, Harrisburg, for the last 3 years. Prior to that he had served as a salesman for the Holsum Bakery for nine years. A veteran of World War II, he served as a private in the United States Army.

He and his wife, Ruth Kieffer Wastler, had resided in the York Springs community for the last 18 years. Surviving besides his wife is a brother, Lafayette Wastler, Thurmont.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday at 2 p.m. from the Pittenturf Funeral Home, York Springs, with Rev. Lee W. Lawhead officiating. Interment was in the Fairview Cemetery, Arendtsville.

Opposes Abortion

Open Letter To Gov. Mandel:
The moments of decision await your final signature.

Let your dignity and respect for human life govern the dictates of your conscience.

Do not take part to legalized murder. The unborn life is indeed as valuable and as sacred as is yours and mine.

As an American citizen I strongly oppose the House Bill 483, which is absolutely unconstitutional.

Please, Mr. Governor, veto this Abortion Bill that seeks to destroy man instead of restoring and protecting man.

God be the light of your decision!

Sincerely,
A Citizen of Maryland

Three File For Office; Deadline Tonight

Friday evening, April 17, is the deadline for citizens of Emmitsburg to file for office in the Town Election which will be held on Tuesday, April 28.

To date there are three candidates for the two offices to be filled. Last week Joseph Stover filed for the office of Commissioner, the first to do so. This week another citizen filed for the same office, thereby making a contest of the election. Latest to file for the Commissionership is Edward Eugene (Gene) Myers, local radio and television businessman. Both Stover and Myers are newcomers to local politics and will be making their first bid for public office. The office apparently is being vacated by Commissioner J. Ralph McDonnell.

The office of Mayor, now held by incumbent Robert A. Seidel, who has not filed for re-election, is being sought by incumbent Commissioner J. Ralph McDonnell, the only declared candidate to date. McDonnell tossed his hat into the race for Mayor late last week when he filed with the Town Clerk, too late for publication.

The deadline for filing for these offices will be at the closing of the Town Office this evening at 8 p.m., says Mrs. Regina Rybickowski, Town Clerk. This also will be the deadline for registering on the books thereby becoming eligible to vote in the Town Election.

Qualifications for voting in the election demand that a citizen be 21 years of age or over, and that he must have resided within the corporate limits of the Town during the past 12 months. To qualify for holding office, a citizen also must be 21 years of age or over, have resided in the Town limits during the past 12 months and must be a property owner.

Over 600 are registered on the books and during the past two weeks 17 new names have been added to the list. Voting will take place in the Town Office on Tuesday, April 28 from 12 noon until 7 p.m., (DST).

Spring Weekend Planned At Colleges

The Jefferson Airplane, one of the music groups to pioneer "psychedelic rock", will appear in concert at Mount Saint Mary's College on Saturday evening, April 25. Their show, beginning at 8:30 p.m., will climax 1970 Spring Weekend, staged jointly by students of Saint Joseph and Mount Saint Mary's Colleges.

The traditional social weekend begins Friday evening in the Mount's Student Union Building with two bands performing simultaneously. "Fire", a hard rock group from Philadelphia, will perform upstairs. "The Arians" from Baltimore will be featured in the downstairs lounge.

Students from neighboring schools, as well as the general public, are invited to attend, with ticket sales to be handled in advance. Tickets are $13 per couple for the entire weekend. Individual tickets for the Saturday evening concert are $5.

The first in a series of bands to come out of San Francisco, the Jefferson Airplane rose to national attention in 1967 with the release of the song, "Somebody to Love". This success was quickly followed by another hit, "White Rabbit". The popularity of these two singles and their million-selling album, "Surrealistic Pillow", ranked the Airplane as a leader among this country's progressive groups.

Their most recent efforts have resulted in their gaining prestige in the world of rock music. The group is now well-known not only in this country but in Europe as well. They have successfully played Western Europe, and hope to be the first rock band to tour the Soviet Union.

In their album, "Crown of Creation," and the more recent "Volunteers," the Airplane reveals that they have disposed of their earlier fetish for over-bearing electronics which at times completely drowned-out the songs' lyrics. Although much of their cynical tone has been retained, the group has backed away from the deadend of nihilism towards what it seemed headed.

Self-interest has always been the foe of national security and the destroyer of patriotism.

Frederick County Backgrounds

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
Generation After Generation

Within certain limitations a family or "blood-line" can go on for many generations. Of course it will present a history of both good and bad and unfortunately, human nature being what it is, it is the latter attribute that is remembered and discussed long after the grave has closed over the man or woman who bore that particular characteristic. Few of the "old families" can escape being "cataloged and indexed." Some good usually comes of this for it helps to preserve the genealogy of the clan and in this day and age when the majority are "ancestor conscious" this tendency to "gossip" often points the way to the solution of genealogical mysteries.

Many examples could be cited of "family traits", both physical and mental, that have been preserved "from generation to generation" either by word of mouth or written record. In the case of the Longwell family it is said that they were "early settlers and good stock" and they lived "over the hill on Baltimore Street" in Gettysburg. They, apparently, were, in the early days, farmers and traders, but when Matthew Longwell, Esq., moved to Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, he became a merchant and prospered in the business. If tradition can be credited Colonel John K. Longwell and Colonel Hamilton Longwell were the sons of Matthew and Jane Longwell.

Colonel John K. Longwell emigrated to Carroll County, Maryland (Taneytown & Westminster), and married into the McKale (McKellip) family. This particular branch of the clan attended Piney Creek Presbyterian church and their dead were interred in that churchyard.

The notes on the Longwell family, as taken from the files of the "Adams Sentinel", are continued at this time. They are of both historical and genealogical value for many other records pertaining to this period have been lost or destroyed.

4. Monday, March 12, 1838 — "Married, March 5, 1838, by the Rev. Dr. Willion Paxton, Colonel Hamilton Longwell, Contractor on the Gettysburg Rail-road, to Miss Rebecca Wilson, of Adams County, Pennsylvania."

Note: Colonel Hamilton and Rebecca (Wilson) Longwell were the parents of the Martha Agnew Longwell whose obituary was given in last week's column. In addition to a daughter they were also the parents of at least three sons, Howard, Wilson, and James Longwell.

5. Wednesday, January 17, 1810—"Married, at Tawny-Town, Maryland, on January 9, 1810, by (name of minister not given), Matthew Longwell, Esq., of this Borough (Gettysburg, Pennsylvania), to Miss Jane Kleenhoop, of Tawny-Town, Maryland."

Note: The fact that Matthew Longwell, Esq., married a woman from Carroll County, Maryland, may account for the fact that his son, Colonel John K. Longwell, after the death of his father, went to live in that locality.

Matthew Longwell, Esq., was one of the successful business men of his native town and was considered "well-to-do" insofar as "worldly goods" were concerned.

6. Wednesday, September 13, 1820 — "Died, Thursday night, September 7, 1820, aged about 58 years, Matthew Longwell, Esq., Merchant, of this Borough (Gettysburg, Pennsylvania). He has left a widow and four young children to lament the loss of an affectionate father and provident husband."

Note: The obituary of Matthew Longwell, Esq., has taken from the "Republican Compiler", was given in last week's column. The one published in the "Sentinel" gives a few more details. Mr. Longwell had been married only slightly over ten years and at his death left not only a young widow but four "young children" to make their way alone without the care and guidance of the husband and father.

Jane (Kleenhoop) Longwell, the widow of Matthew Longwell, Esq., died some nine years later, on Saturday evening, August 22, 1829, at Taneytown, Maryland.

7. Monday, September 13, 1841 — "Died, at Somerville, Tennessee, on August 21, 1841, of congestive fever, Joseph M. Longwell, Esq., formerly of Gettysburg, Pennsylvania, in the 29th year of his age."

Note: Joseph M. Longwell, Esq., was probably a son of Matthew and Jane (Kleenhoop) Longwell—born some two years after their marriage.

Colonel Hamilton Longwell died February 25, 1877 in the 85th year of his age. His wife, Rebecca (Wilson) Longwell died August 8, 1866 in the 48th year of her age. Both are buried in the Evergreen Cemetery at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania.

The McKale (McKellip or McKale) family, related to the Longwells by intermarriage, are also mentioned in the files of the old "Adams Sentinel", with some frequency, as follows:

8. Wednesday, July 31, 1816—"Died, July 4th, 1816, in the 33d year of her age, of a pulmonary affection, Mrs. Mary McKale, consort of Major John McKale, of Taney-Town, Maryland. Mrs. McKale was the daughter of the Rev. Mr. Clingan, a respectable clergyman of the Baptist persuasion. Some short time before her last illness, which was lingering though not painful, she was baptized into the Presbyterian Church. She leaves a husband and several small children to mourn her loss."

Note: Mary Ann (Clingan) McKale, the wife of Major John McKale, is buried at Piney Creek Churchyard together with her husband and two of their sons.

The inscriptions follow:

32. In memory of Major John McKale, died January 2, 1843, aged 77 years and 6 months.

33. In memory of Joseph Augustus McKale, son of Major John McKale, died February 16, 1845, aged 25 years, 7 months, and 2 days.

34. In memory of Mary Ann McKale, died July 4, 1816, aged 32 years and 5 months.

Note: It will be noticed that in the published obituary, Mary Ann (Clingan) McKale's age is given as "33 years" whereas on her tombstone it is given as "32 years and 6 months." There is only six months difference but at this late date it would be impossible to determine which of the two is the correct one.

35. In memory of Joseph McKale, son of John and Mary Ann McKale, died July 23, 1802, aged 6 months and 11 days.

The historical and genealogical study of the McKale - Longwell families and of the Piney Creek Presbyterian church and burial ground will be continued in this series next week.

Senior Citizens Take Local Tour

Thursday afternoon, April 9, about 30 Senior Citizens gathered at the Center and went on a tour in Emmitsburg. The first stop was at the Day Care Center in the old Mother Seton School building. There the Sisters have set up a place where working mothers may leave pre-school children from three to six years of age, which must be a boon for both mothers and children. The tots are in two groups—3-5 and six-year-olds. Here they play and learn at the same time. After lunch, all have a nap until about three o'clock, then they have a light snack before going home. They need a rest, as some of them come as early as seven o'clock and are ready for a rest.

The center is well equipped and the Sisters give them the best of care, an instruction, as much, or more, than a regular kindergarten. All together there are about 28 children cared for each day. The Sisters are to be greatly praised for this very needful project.

The next stop was the Provincial House where the Club members visited the beautiful chapel and were royally treated by the Nuns, who, in spite of the fact that the visit was unannounced, and therefore unexpected, rose to the occasion generously and nobly. The group visited the Mother Seton Relic room and then were graciously served with soft drinks and cookies.

The whole trip was a delightful and instructive event and quite an eyeopener as to what is to be seen and learned in our own community.

Next Tuesday, April 21, will be the regular monthly meeting of the Senior Citizens Club in the Center at 2:30 p.m., at which time all are looking forward to hearing some of the Glee Club from Mount Saint Mary's, under the guidance of Father Shaum. Refreshments will be served.

Another reminder is in order that Saturday, May 2, 1970, from 10 a.m. until 4:30 p.m., the annual Spring Festival will be under way. When it is hoped there will be a goodly crowd to help with the affair and bring their offerings for sale at the Center. These affairs are promoted by the Club to meet the budget for the maintenance of the Center.

(Prov. 15:13)

Every day is a new day. New things arise in our lives. If we just open up our hearts to the good each day holds, we will find all sorts of wonder and beauty in the world. When we are cheerful, we spread a feeling of newness and confidence wherever we go.

Firemen Urge Safety Clean-Up

For a fire safe home, clean up. This is the basic message of Spring Clean-Up, which starts in Emmitsburg on April 18, Fire Chief Guy R. McGlaughlin of the Vigilant Hose Co., announced this week.

"Clean-up makes good sense for a lot of reasons," says the Chief. "It's a kind of anti-pollution measure all of us can take."

"But most important of all is that it helps make the lives of you and your family safer from fire."

"According to the National Fire Protection Association, which has been gathering and analyzing fire records since 1896, more than a half million homes in this country were hit by fire last year. About 6,600 people died in those fires."

"Rubbish is one of the top causes of building fires, the NFPA records show."

"So what it comes to is this: clean up our homes—as well as our places of business and all other buildings—and we'll cut the number of dangerous, killing fires. So our goal for Spring Clean-Up is to make every home in this community safer from fire," the chief concluded.

The Man On The Moon Meets The Man On The Street

We know that landing men on the moon and returning them to earth was a tremendous accomplishment. The intercontinental ballistic missile fired from a submarine is more of a mystery but it is a marvel, too. Jet transports that can carry nearly 500 passengers across the Atlantic are easier to comprehend. But what does it all mean?

Good question!

It is difficult for us to bridge the enormous gap between an astronaut in a space suit walking on the moon and a new method of treating heart patients, or to relate the techniques used in designing, developing, and producing a supersonic transport to programs that will improve man's environment.

But there is a bridge and a direct relationship between the esoteric technology of the aerospace industry and a mundane problem such as how to transport a worker between his home and work quickly and efficiently.

The job of creating the bridge through technology transfer is underway, and the tide of transfer runs stronger every day.

Specific examples include:

- Microelectronic devices, developed for the Apollo program, that can monitor and broadcast physiological information.
- A turboprop, based on aerodynamic principles, powered by an aircraft-type turbine engine, that is lighter, faster, quieter, more reliable and cheaper to run.
- A computer-based information system that will link together law enforcement agencies in California, from a sheriff's office to a large police department.
- Solar arrays, developed to provide spacecraft power, that are being considered as auxiliary power sources for hospitals or laboratories.

The Aerospace Industries Association booklet, "Aerospace Technology: Creating Social Progress," contains numerous examples of applying aerospace-generated technology to problems that involve all of us. A free copy can be obtained by writing: Aerospace Industries Association, Office of Public Affairs, 1725 DeSales St., N.W. Washington, D.C. 20036.

Climate For National Suicide

Cadres of subversive Students for a Democratic Society (SDS) have infiltrated many of the major labor unions throughout America and have been credited with creating the agitation among New York postal workers that brought on the wildcat strike that threatened to stagnate commerce all across the United States. James H. Rademacher, President of the National Association of Letter Carriers, blamed the postal strike on "agitators"—and he named SDS.

Tens of thousands of SDS revolutionaries, virtually unchallenged, continue their work to paralyze and destroy the American system. This is just one facet of an incredible situation in which the fate of the United States is in the balance.

Welcome Castro?

On the very same day that the chairman of the U. S. Senate Foreign Relation Committee was demanding that Communist Cuba be formally recognized by the United States, the Latin American expert for the Washington Daily News was reporting: "New York City Councilman Sanford D. Garelik has at last said out loud what Latin Americans have been aware of for some time: that the United States has urban guerrillas and organized terrorists. Not every U. S. militant is a terrorist. But like Latin America's, ours are incessantly spurred on and intellectually incited by Fidel Castro's tremendous industry of exporting subversion. Neither Castro nor his U. S. converts deny this. But most U. S. news media, for various reasons, have ignored it. The links between recent bomb incidents and Cuba's ever-boiling pot of steam for guerrilla violence can be pinpointed."

And this Washington news columnist did pin-point it, naming Ted Gold, killed in the accidental New York explosion of a "bomb factory", and Ralph Featherstone, Black revolutionary who died in an accidental Maryland bomb explosion, as having spent "training time" in Cuba. "That Castro is exporting subversion to the United States is quite patent," the Washington News said categorically. And yet a powerful Committee chairman in the U. S. Senate wants the nation to ignore this fact and glorify and strengthen Castro with formal diplomatic recognition. The same Senate Chairman wants to give Southeast Asia into the hands of Communist North Vietnam, including South Vietnam, Cambodia, Laos and all the rest. The American climate is such a demand and there has been little public challenge.

Others Involved

Other high officials of the U. S. Government are believed by some observers to be working secretly for formal recognition of Cuba—in spite of tremendous opposition by the anti-Communist nations in Latin America. Recognition of the bearded murderer of Havana (tens of thousands of anti-Communists shot by Red Cuban firing squads—without court trial) would constitute an inestimable boost in prestige and power for this Soviet factory for propaganda and armed subversion.

J. Edgar Hoover and other investigators have noted repeatedly that Black Panther revolutionary cadres have been and are being trained in Communist Cuba. Stokely Carmichael, while he was a top official of the Black Panthers, was in Cuba. Eldridge Cleaver, considered to be the Panther's No. 1 leader, was in Cuba. Rap Brown was in Cuba. Robert F. Williams, vicious revolutionary firebrand, was in Cuba. Most of the Panther officialdom have honed their revolutionary cutting-edge in this Soviet stronghold in which Castro is but a figurehead.

Treason Unrestricted

The shocking fact is that all the above mentioned revolutionaries, each openly preaching the violent overthrow of the U. S. and proudly affiliating himself with Soviet, Chinese, Vietnam and Cuban Communists, are back in the United States (with the possible exception of Cleaver). The U. S. State Department made possible the return of Williams from Red China although he boasts that a revolutionary force led by a Black vanguard will "burn down" America. He "faces" kidnapping charges. But he has been free for a year, working quietly but powerfully to "make the revolution."

Stokely Carmichael, after more than a year of "schooling" with international Communist leaders in Europe and Africa, is back in America free to "make the revolution" although he repeatedly has said: "We are for revolution and violence. Yes, I mean killing!" Blacks, he says mustn't "beg for power, but take it with guns!" Eldridge Cleaver vowed 60 days ago to return to the U. S. from Algiers and go underground "to make the revolution;" he says the Panthers will "take off the heads" of Senator McClellan, President Nixon, and J. Edgar Hoover.

Democratic Women Hold Meeting Here

The New Frontier Democratic Women's Club of Frederick County held its monthly meeting on Monday evening, April 6, at the home of Mrs. Bonnie Laws, Emmitsburg. Mrs. Jane Bollinger of Emmitsburg, president of the organization, presided.

The meeting opened with a reading of the minutes of last month's meeting by secretary, Mrs. Ruth Houck. The minutes were followed by the treasurer's report, given by Mrs. Katherine Kugler. New members were introduced to the group. They were Mrs. Gail Graff, Mrs. Nona La Para, and Mrs. Virginia Preston.

New business was then taken up, and the group affirmed its insistence that club members urge citizens to register for voting eligibility in the November election. In this regard, registration will be conducted in Thurmont at a later date, which has not been designated as yet. Mrs. Bollinger also appointed Mrs. Nona La Para the club's publicity director.

Dr. Virginia Lewis, Chairman of the Political Science Department at Hood College, was guest speaker for the evening. Dr. Lewis graduated from Washington University, St. Louis. She holds a L.L.B. from George Washington University, and a Ph.D. from New York University.

Dr. Lewis has been an active member of the Democratic Party. In 1968, backing the late Robert Kennedy's campaign, she was instrumental in transporting two busloads of young volunteers from Maryland to Oregon for the primaries there. She is presently the organizer of the Sargent Shriver for governor campaign, and will be working under James McSherry in Shriver's Frederick County campaign.

Dr. Lewis' topic for the evening was "Primary Elections — Their Importance." In her talk Dr. Lewis urged individual efforts for the good of the party as a whole. In this way, interest and concern is spread throughout the community and provide for a tighter knit organization. She feels that in these days of decreasing bossism and increasing variety of views within a party, primaries provide the opportunity to air these views and give the voters a more various choice.

Along these lines of political awareness, Dr. Lewis, in her primary function as educator, feels that it is not curious that by the time her Republican-oriented Freshmen are Seniors at Hood, they are also, significantly, Democrats.

Following Dr. Lewis' talk there was a question and answer period in which the war, taxes, and the Maryland Abortion Bill, were discussed.

The meeting proper adjourned at 10 o'clock, and refreshments were served. The next meeting is scheduled for May 4 at the home of Mrs. Frances Rosensteel, Emmitsburg. The club is always open to women interested in politics and the Democratic Party, and urges those who feel they have something to contribute to contact Mrs. Jane Bollinger, Emmitsburg.

Thurmont Jaycees To Hold Road-E-O

Catoctin area teenagers will have an opportunity to demonstrate their all-around driving knowledge and ability in a Safe Driving Auto Road-e-o competition to determine the area's safest and most skillful young drivers.

The contest will be conducted Sunday, April 19, by the Thurmont Jaycees at the town parking lot in front of the American Legion home in Thurmont. Entry in the contest can be accomplished by contacting Mr. Carlos Englar, Driving Instructor at Catoctin High School.

The highest scoring boy or girl will receive a twenty-five dollar Savings Bond from Stull-Dougherty Chevrolet in Thurmont and the right to compete against other local winners at the state Road-e-o finals in Randallstown in May. Second place will receive a fifteen dollar gift certificate from Ben's Esso in Thurmont. Third place winner will receive a ten dollar gift certificate from the Western Auto Store in Thurmont.

Any boy or girl who has a driver's license and has not reached the age of 19 before Sept. 1, 1970, is eligible to participate. Contestants must not have committed a traffic violation during the preceding six months or have an offense pending.

The Safe Driving Auto Road-e-o competition consist of a comprehensive written examination on rules of the road and a series of behind-the-wheel tests over a difficult obstacle course. The written portion of the test will be administered Saturday, April 18, at 10 a.m. at Catoctin High School.

DAWN OF A DECADE
THE DAWN OF THE NEW DECADE 1970 BRINGS WITH IT SKIRTS IN CRAZY LENGTHS, THE UNI-SEX LOOK AND A TREND TOWARD NUDITY. DECADE DEBUTS OF THE PAST WERE NOT QUITE SO FAR OUT!

THE DAWN OF 1670 FOUND MOST AMERICAN WOMEN DRESSED IN FAIRLY SIMPLE ATTIRE. SINCE THE PARISH CHURCH WAS THE SOCIAL CENTER OF THE COMMUNITY, THE MORE ELABORATE FASHIONS WERE PLAYED DOWN.

IN THE AMERICAN COLONIES OF 1770 FRENCH FASHION WAS BEGINNING TO TAKE PRECEDENCE OVER THE ESTABLISHED ENGLISH WAY OF DRESSING.

THE WINTER OF 1869-70 FOUND THE HOOP-SKIRT GIVING WAY TO DRESS "IMPROVERS" OR BUSTLES. ANY WOMAN WHO CONTINUED TO WEAR A HOOP SKIRT INTO 1870 WAS A DEAD GIVEAWAY TO FASHION OBSERVERS.

TODAY...WHEN BUYING WOMEN'S OR CHILDREN'S APPAREL LOOK FOR THIS LABEL—THE SYMBOL OF DECENCY, FAIR LABOR STANDARDS AND THE AMERICAN WAY OF LIFE.

An important reason for buying Bonds when you're young is for when you're old.

Someday you're going to retire. Let's hope you're ready. Let's hope that you won't be living off your children. Let's hope you'll have more to live on, and for, than Social Security. Let's hope you'll be self-sufficient, able to grow old with dignity, respected by others and able to keep your own chin up. Let's hope you're planning for tomorrow.

Regardless of the ups and downs of your other assets, you have to start with a nest egg, a kitty, something in the sock you can always depend on.

One way you can do this most painlessly is by participating in the Payroll Savings Plan where you work or the Bond-a-Month Plan where you bank.

U.S. Savings Bonds now pay 5% interest when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year; thereafter 5.20% to maturity). That's the highest rate ever.

Let's not hope for a better tomorrow. Let's plan on it.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Take stock in America.

OUR LIBRARY

The Emmitsburg Public Library has received an Associate Membership in the National Wildlife Federation as a gift from the Maryland Gun Exchange. This membership entitles the Library to six issues a year of National Wildlife Magazine. The articles are very timely and interesting and the pictures are beautifully done in color.

New books for young people: "Flower Arranging," by Gladys Taber. In this delightful and very practical book to begin on, the author takes you on a unique adventure hunt in search for flowers and for things around the house to put them in—from a salt cellar to a milk carton!

Flower arranging tells you where to look for flowers, what flowers are found during each season of the year, what containers to use, special holiday arrangements, basic rules for flower arranging and even how to build your own terrarium. The book's style makes it easy to manage on your own, and should any questions arise, Grambs Miller's delicate pen-and-ink drawings of flowers and sumpue arrangements make things completely clear.

"Defense Mechanisms: From Virus to Man," by Hal Hellman, is a thorough yet lively discussion of methods that enable all living organisms, both plant and animal, to cope with threats to their existence.

Organizing his material by topics, Mr. Hellman covers such fascinating mechanisms of defense as the regeneration of limbs and armor; running, hiding and fighting; and the way the human body defends itself against a barrage of viruses. Mr. Hellman discusses the importance of the five major senses of survival, and how and why defense mechanisms developed in the first place.

Hal Hellman, a well-known science writer, presents a wealth of material in an informal, often anecdotal way, and has illustrated it with informative and arresting photographs and diagrams.

1970 Census Nears Completion

Nan M. Nichols, District Manager, reports that the 1970 Census of Population and Housing is nearing completion in the area, that in about another week the census takers should have visited every residence on their lists.

Census takers began visiting households on April 1 and have been working continuously to cover their territories. The District Manager asks that householders hold their questionnaires, which were delivered prior to April 1, and have them filled out, ready for the census taker to pick up. This will save time for both the householder and the census taker and speed up the completion of

Writer Discusses Thomas Jefferson

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: Walking along street, today, in this Old Dominion that is Virginia, a sign on a public building caught my eye: 'This store will be closed on Jefferson's Birthday.'

Thomas Jefferson — author of our Declaration of Independence — has had a profound effect on the course of American history. Some of his political thesis, long accepted as valid — particularly that the authority of government is derived from the 'consent' of the governed — are, today, being put to very severe tests.

If they were, indeed, the nature and origin of authority, then it would follow, logically, that God's authority was somehow derived from the 'consent' of God's creatures; and that fathers have no authority, except such as might be formally delegated by wives and children. Obviously this is absurd.

Jefferson's ideas on the origin of authority are particularly suspect in this regard: If in fact a government were dependent upon the "consent" of the governed, then it would follow—as night the day—that citizens might properly withhold 'consent' and refuse to have any government over them. Jefferson's followers are a logical breed and this is exactly what God, fathers of families, and governments, are up against today. Nobody will admit to being governed! And I have been the greatest offender. Mea Culpa!

Remodeling Relieves Tight Home Squeeze For the homeowner painfully pressed between expanding home needs on the one hand and bulging inflation on the other, the only ready relief may be remodeling.

This year, an estimated $14-billion will be spent on home improvement—and with good reason. Rising new home costs may make it more feasible to modernize an old home than buy a new one. A shortage of desirable building sites and high real estate costs may make it cheaper to expand the house on a present lot than buy a larger tract. And, even in times of inflation, home improvement is considered a good investment. It makes daily living more enjoyable and increases the eventual resale value of a home.

The availability of quality building materials that allow quick-and-easy beautification, long-lasting service and minimal upkeep—all at a reasonable cost—also adds to the remodeling trend. CREATIVE CAREERS by Ruth Wade Ray. Ruth Wade Ray, Director of Ray-Vogue Schools, the oldest professional arts school in the U. S. now beginning its 54th year, answers high school seniors' questions about continuing their education in the creative arts.

CREATIVE ABILITY. Photography, Dress Design, Commercial Art, Interior Design, Fashion Illustration, Fashion Merchandising. Q. If I decide on a creative career, how much schooling will I need after high school? A. For most careers, two years of full time study. This is true in the fields of Interior Design, Dress Design, Commercial Art, or Fashion Illustration. Photography and Fashion Merchandising require only one year of full time schooling.

STRENGTH FOR THESE DAYS from The Bible. I send my messenger to prepare the way before me.—(Mal. 3:1).

Divine order is a right state of mind, body and affairs. We prepare for the way for good by declaring Divine order. When we need light and guidance, clear our minds for the light of Christ to guide us. Let Him guide us in our human relations, work and in choosing the right paths for divine order in coming to wise decisions. Let's give thanks that God's good plans and purposes are revealed to us.

CALL TO COLORS

A lovely new morning glory with bright rose petals and white throat is named Early Call for its extra-early blooming time, up to a month earlier than other similar kinds.

Two colors, deep rose and white, in a new morning glory call you to witness their early appearance — early for morning glory flowers, that is. Even though they're as large — 4 inches across — as blossoms of those well known varieties, Heavenly Blue and Pearly Gates, they start appearing weeks, sometimes a month, earlier.

These extra-early yet large sized flowers are the chief advantages of the new variety, Early Call by name. Others are its vigorous growth, to 7 feet, and its free flower production. The flower petals are rose, the throats are white for contrast and the big flowers stay open well past their allotted time of high noon. The vines will not climb by themselves but need help in getting started up a support. Left alone they sprawl on the ground and, surprisingly, make a handsome ground cover — an idea you might be able to use. Like all morning glories Early Call should be planted in a sunny spot, near a support, if you expect vines to climb. It puts on a better show of bloom if seeds are sown where plants are to flower. The other way of handling morning glories, especially where the growing season is short, is to plant a single seed in a 2-inch pot filled with ordinary garden soil. Grow indoors, in a sunny window, as many pots as you wish until frost free time arrives in your area. Then transplant seedlings without breaking the earth ball around their roots, for morning glories resent root disturbance. Or use compressed peat pots and plant pot and all, first soaking the pot in water so the roots can grow through it.

Business For Second
1970 Quarter

THE GAS SERVICE PEOPLE PREFER

THE MATTHEWS GAS COMPANY

EMMITSBURG - THURMONT

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., April 16, 1970—As a result of anti-inflation monetary and fiscal measures, industrial activity, building, and retail trade have been in serious straits for many months. Moreover, corporate profits have been less satisfactory, and unemployment is now a source of concern. When final tally is made for this second quarter of 1970, a further period of lack-luster economic conditions will doubtless be revealed. Here is how the key economic areas for this quarterly period will shape up, according to the staff of Babson's Reports.

Watch The Federal Reserve
The prime prerequisite for an improvement in the economic picture is a further shift in monetary policy. Although the reduction in the prime rate by many of the commercial banks reflects the less constrictive attitude on the part of the Federal Reserve Board, the credit easing thus far is grossly inadequate to expand business. However, with new wage boosts and with prices still trending upward, it is very doubtful that the money managers will turn on the credit spigot to a great degree all at once.

But despite the determination of the Administration and the Federal Reserve Board to quench the fires of inflation, they cannot ignore the sag in business and the jump in unemployment. Just as considerable time was required for the dampening monetary and fiscal moves to take hold, the nation's leaders are well aware that anti-recession stimulants must be applied without waiting to long. Hence, it would not be surprising to see further credit easing moves. But, with the pent-up demand for long-term credit, it is unlikely that long-term interest rates will ease abruptly and substantially.

Industrial Production

Factory output slipped lower in March, marking the eighth successive month of sub-seasonal performance. With new business inflow to manufacturers reflecting inventory retrenchment, odds now favor a downward trek in factory activity.

Building And Construction

With mortgage money available only at very costly rates, new building and construction expenditures will do well to match seasonal norms in the second quarter. Nothing definite has yet emerged in regard to assistance for home building, and any stimulus applied over the next three months will be of little help until after midyear.

Employment And Income Climate

Despite the rise in unemployment and the reduction in manufacturing employment, total employment has remained very high. However, the expected further ease in industrial activity should exact a greater toll in coming months. The unemployment rate is likely to approximate 5% of the seasonally adjusted civilian labor force by midyear. Though still trending upward, personal income has already commenced to level off. However, new pay boosts should forestall any downturn in personal income during the period from April through June.

Price And Profit Outlook

Price tags are expected to be marked up further, but due to the letdown in production and consumer resistance to high prices, hikes are likely to be selective and less steep than in the past year. Corporate profits after taxes have been declining since the second quarter of 1969. Prospects are dim for a reversal of the downward trend in corporate earnings in the second 1970 quarter. Lack of vitality in the economy and rising costs will cause the squeeze on profit margins to continue over the near term.

Now Is Time

To Prune Roses

If you haven't already done so, now is the time to prune your rose bushes, says Dr. Francis R. Gouin, horticulturist at the University of Maryland.

You will find that your rose bushes will produce more and better flowers if you take out all the thin, twiggy branches, Dr. Gouin continues.

After you remove the weak branches, cut the large canes back to six or eight inches above the graft union. "The graft union is that bulb-like structure from which the large canes emerge," he explains. Any branches coming out below this union should be removed because they are from the rootstock and will not produce flowers like the grafted branches.

Be sure to burn any branches you cut off, Dr. Gouin says. This will kill any disease organisms or insect eggs that might have overwintered inside the canes.

As soon as you have finished pruning, paint the end of each cut branch with tree wound dressing to keep insects from laying eggs in the soft center of the canes.

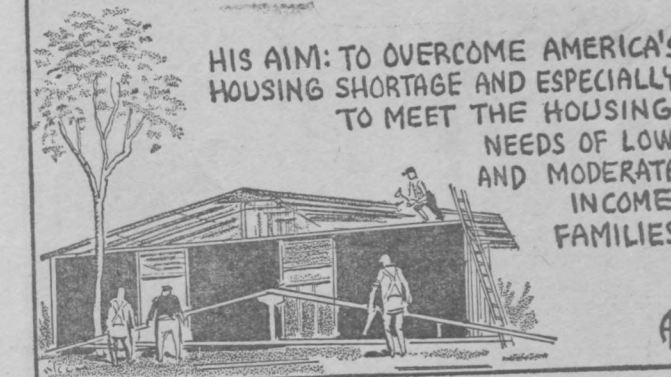

Fertilizing the plants immediately after pruning will also help the plant give you bigger and better flowers this spring, Dr. Gouin adds.

Adjuster Key Man In Insurance Field

Elm Street is a quiet residential street—or it was until the day Sam Stumble tripped while raking leaves and broke his foot. About the same time, Calvin Careless, Sam's neighbor, left some leaves burning and returned to find his garage burning as well. Just then, Dora Driver turned onto Elm Street—and into an oncoming car.

Sam hobbled inside and called his doctor, Calvin rushed to alert the fire department, and Dora reluctantly called her husband. Shortly after, they all called their insurance companies.

This little drama points up both the importance of insurance to millions of people who depend on insurance coverage to pay for accidents such as these, and a promising but little-known vocation.

Once Sam Stumble reports his injury and Calvin Careless reports his fire, the insurance company must determine if the individual is covered for that particular claim, and if so, the estimated cost of medical and repair bills. This job belongs to the insurance adjuster—the person who decides the "if and how much" of insurance claims.

The role of insurance adjuster is a demanding one. He must be an investigator, analyst, advisor, and friend simultaneously—and this requires training to qualify for job opportunities in this field.

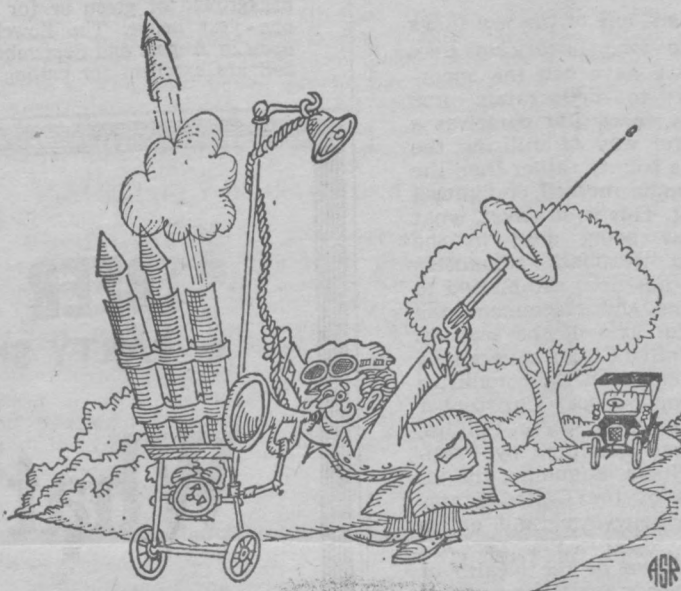

One way to get it is through a home study program. Career Academy, for example, recently introduced a 50-lesson course, which provides instruction in investigation procedures, types of policies, value and loss determination, use of photography, and relevant legal, medical, and human relations concepts.

With growth in population, changes in medical requirements for applicants, and increases in accumulation of material wealth, the insurance industry is growing rapidly, said Dr. Edward Sponga, Career Academy's director of home study and former university president.

"The U. S. Department of Labor's Bureau of Labor Statistics estimates that 50,000 jobs will be available each year of the '70's. Many will be for insurance adjusters. Our new home study program is designed to qualify students for these opportunities," Dr. Sponga added.

If you are looking for a more rewarding and profitable career, or if you are graduating from high school soon, you can investigate this challenging field by writing Insurance Adjusting, Dept. I, 611 East Wells Street, Milwaukee, Wis. 53201. Who knows—the next time Sam Stumble does his thing, you might be the one to get him back on his feet.

Pity The 1910 Motorist Rural Society Didn't Horse Around

All motorists at one time or another are irked by regulations imposed on automobiles. But consider the potential plight of the driver 60 years ago, when an organization called the Farmer's Anti-Auto Protective Society sought passage of even more restrictive traffic laws.

Found in the automotive library of Sears, Roebuck and Co., the proposed regulations make current vehicle laws mild by comparison. The suggested rules were as follows:

1. Automobiles must be seasonably painted — that is, they will merge with the pastoral ensemble and not be startling.
2. On discovering an approaching team, the automobilist must stop off-side and cover his machine with a tarpaulin, painted with the scenery.
3. In case a horse will not pass an automobile, notwithstanding the scenic tarpaulin, the automobilist will take the machine apart as rapidly as possible and conceal the parts in the grass.
4. In case an automobile makes a team run away, the penalty will be $50 for the first mile, $100 for the second, $200 for the third mile, etc., that the team runs, in addition to the usual damages.

5. On approaching a corner where he cannot command a view of the road ahead, the automobilist must stop not less than 100 yards from the turn, toot his horn, ring a bell, fire a revolver, halo and send up three bombs at intervals of five minutes.

6. Automobiles running on the country roads at night must send up a red rocket every mile and wait 10 minutes for the road to clear. They may then proceed carefully, blowing their horns and shooting rockets.

7. The speed limit on country roads this year will be secret and the penalty for violation will be $10 for every mile an offender is going in excess of it.

April Is Community Month

In addition to becoming involved in community improvement projects during Community Month, Army Reservists also hosted visitors during open house events at training centers.

For the second consecutive year the country's more than 1-million members of the United States Army Reserve will observe their anniversary month, April, as Community Month.

If 1969 Community Month projects are any criteria, Army Reservists by the thousands will donate blood to the Red Cross or local blood bank; and engineer units will build Little League ball fields.

Other Army Reserve units are expected to assist scouts prepare for merit badge tests, aid in beautification and clean-up campaigns, help disadvantaged adults and students find employment, and give physical and dental examinations to underprivileged youngsters.

According to Major General William J. Sutton, Chief Army Reserve, members of the Army Reserve are just as concerned with the problems of their hometowns as they are with national defense.

Wainwright Dawson Files For Senate

Wainwright Dawson, Jr. announced his plans for running on the Republican ticket for U. S. Senator from Maryland against incumbent Joe Tydings, at a news conference last week in Baltimore.

"There is a reluctance on the part of Republicans to run against Mr. Tydings. He can, and will be, defeated," Dawson stated, "If strong organization and opposition is begun NOW! I am confident I can win."

Dawson has wide experience in Maryland and national politics. As National Chairman of United Republicans of America, he has helped elect many members of the U. S. Congress and is highly regarded as a campaign organizer and election strategist.

The Dawson family goes back four generations in Maryland's Talbot, Montgomery, Baltimore and Anne Arundel counties.

"Mr. Tydings is an extremist of the worst kind," Dawson said. "He uses and abuses the public trust of Maryland to erode the sovereignty of the state and the security of our citizens. I guarantee a campaign that will expose this socialistic madness. We must defeat this Tydings-extremism before he creates a "Federal Planation" for every citizen of Maryland . . ."

Bullets Divide Playoff Money

The Baltimore Bullets spread their $25,000 from the National Basketball Association playoff pool among 21 different people.

Altogether nine players, coach Gene Shue and trainer Skip Feldman received a full share, amounting to $1,850.00. Four others, including chief scout and assistant coach Bob Ferry, received half-shares, amounting to $825.00.

Those receiving full shares: Fred Carter, Mike Davis, LeRoy Ellis, Gus Johnson, Kevin Loughery, Jack Marin, Earl Monroe, Ray Scott, Wes Unseld, Feldman and Shue. Half-shares were voted to Eddie Miles, Al Tucker, Brian Heaney and Ferry.

According to the VA, about 3,300 payments not to exceed $1,600 each, will be made in Fiscal Year 1971 to veterans who, as a result of performance of military duty, lost the use of an extremity or were blinded.

Insurance Advisor Available Monday

Maryland Insurance Commissioner Newton I. Steers, Jr. has announced that a member of the State Insurance Department's Advisory Service will once again visit the Western Maryland area this coming Monday, April 20 from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. in the Conference Room of the Court House, 2nd floor, Hagerstown.

The Advisory Service visits Hagerstown on the third Monday of every month, in order to provide more convenient assistance to citizens of Washington, Frederick and Carroll counties.

The Department's representative answers inquiries about insurance, tries to assist in getting insurance coverage for you if your company has cancelled your policy and/or deals with complaints you may have about insurance service or problems.

Written inquiries may be addressed to State Insurance Commissioner Newton I. Steers, Jr., Baltimore.

No appointment is needed to meet with the insurance adviser.

Lutheran Women Plan Spring Assembly

The annual Spring Assembly of the Frederick District, Lutheran Church Women, will be held on Saturday, April 18, at St. Paul's Lutheran Church, Burkittsville.

The program, which runs from 10 a.m. to 2:30 p.m., has a dual emphasis. The morning session will open with devotions led by Rev. John L. Barnes, pastor of the host congregation. Mrs. John Hattery, LCW staff secretary for Congregational Organization, will then share thoughts on "The Purpose of Lutheran Church Women

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias U.S. Senator

Preserve Peaceful Use Of World's Seabeds

In the peninsula which marks the southeast corner of Asia, we are now fighting in Vietnam as never before. In the Middle East there is an active war being fought between the forces of the State of Israel and the Arab nations which surround Israel. This war is a repetition of what the world has witnessed for thousands of years as the armies of one nation or another fought over a highly desirable, strategically placed, part of the earth's surface.

For thousands of years fighting has continued over land. Man has been extremely slow in developing the machinery of politics, government and international law which could help resolve the competing claims of men and nations to highly desired pieces of land. Now, there is a new opportunity to reduce the odds of developing a new arena for the competing claims of men for portions of our world. Until very recently the deep seabeds of the oceans have been matters of little concern, because there were few opportunities for people to utilize or profit from use of our deep seabeds. However, with the development of the technology of inner-space, and the deeper probes into the depths of the oceans with the possibility that it may soon be possible to drill oil from the ocean floor at a depth of one mile or even five miles, there is a new interest in the ownership, control and exploitation of the ocean bed.

This is one of the few times in the long history of man that we have had the opportunity to deliberately and clearly choose for ourselves a peaceful way of utilizing the earth's bounty rather than the old jungle method of fighting over it. This is, in effect, what is now being done in the United Nations' committee which has been established to examine and recommend the peaceful uses of the seabeds. The United States is very ably represented on the committee by Ambassador Christopher Phillips. Ambassador Phillips, who was appointed by President Nixon, is guiding the interests of the United States and I believe of the entire world toward the peaceful exploitation of the wealth of the seabeds for the benefit of mankind.

There are many questions to be answered before any world code of law is written to control the development of the seabeds. In the first place, it is generally agreed that the seabeds are not controlled by the law of the high seas which controls the surface. The international boundaries on the surface, will not necessarily coincide with international boundaries of the seabeds. Rules may have to be developed for the intervening spaces. Perhaps the most momentous and important decision that has been reached to date in the committee, is that there are some places somewhere, not yet defined over which no nation claims sovereignty. These should be areas of peace for the future.

MEXICAN SUNFLOWER

Brighten your late summer garden with the dahlia-like flowers of Tithonia, Torch.

Imagine grenadine-red flowers 4 inches in diameter on 6 foot plants with luxuriant foliage that's what you'll produce from seeds of Tithonia, Torch.

Tithonia is a native of Mexico and Central America, long known in its wild form. It has been called Inca's flower and Inca's gold as well as Mexican sunflower.

The improved variety, Torch, has larger flowers of a more brilliant color than the wild form.

This plant can be used for a background of green or for a one-year hedge. The flowers open in August and September and are excellent for cutting.

in Today's World." "The Drug Scene in Frederick County," will be the topic for the afternoon program. Mr. John Manley, Juvenile Probation Officer, and Cpl. Carl Harbaugh, Maryland State Police, will make a presentation and lead a discussion of drug abuse.

In the morning will I direct my prayer unto thee.—(Psalms 5:3 A.V.)

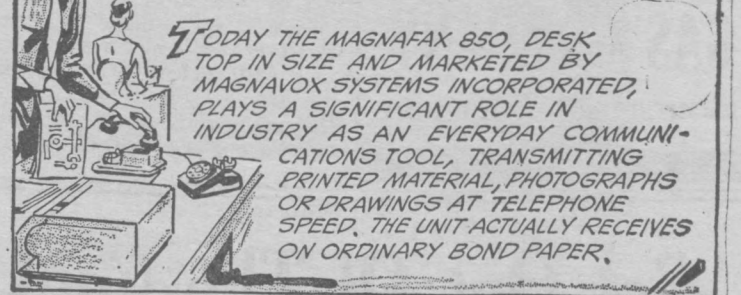

As we surrender ourselves to God—our plans for the day, our work, the schedule of our activities remain in balance. We let go any feeling of rush or hurry. We know what we need to do, on time and in a perfect way. Let's ask God to show us how best to use our time and our talents, so that we may retain Divine order in all that we do.

"Problem Night" At College April 21

"Environmental Problems Nite," featuring contest entries of area secondary school students, will be held at St. Joseph College on Tuesday, April 21, at 7 p.m., in the Dodd Science Center on campus.

Sponsored by Theta Phi chapter of Beta Beta Beta, the national biological honor society, the event is being held on the eve of the nationwide campus observance of the environmental crisis, and in conjunction with the environmental teach-in being jointly sponsored by Mt. St. Mary's and St. Joseph Colleges on April 22.

St. Joseph's Tri-Beta chapter has invited high school students in the surrounding area to participate in the program in an effort to arouse their interest and concern for the problems threatening human existence.

Entries submitted by high school students include essays, research papers, slogans and colleges depicting some aspect of the problems in human ecology. They will be judged during the evening and prizes awarded. Judges include students and professors of ecology at the two local colleges.

The event is open to the public without charge.

The Chief of Dental Service at the VA Center in Wadsworth, Kans., Dr. Dayton D. Krajicek, was recently named Assistant Chief Medical Director for Dentistry for the VA.

Completes Basic

SAN ANTONIO—Airman Larry W. Dick, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Dick, R1, Fairfield, Pa., has completed basic training at Lackland AFB, Tex. He has been assigned to Sheppard AFB, Tex., for training in the transportation field. Airman Dick is a 1969 graduate of Fairfield Area High School.

"Teach-In" Set For April 22

"Earth Day," the nationwide student effort to educate the public to the problems of human ecology, will be observed in northern Frederick County on Wednesday, April 22, by an "Environmental Teach-In" sponsored jointly by the student governments of St. Joseph and Mt. St. Mary's Colleges.

Several programs are planned throughout the day on both campuses, culminating in a panel discussion at the Mount at 8 p.m. in the Coad Science Hall. Serving on the panel which will examine various aspects of environmental pollution are Dr. Kenneth R. Bromfield, research plant pathologist at Fort Detrick and lecturer in biology and ecology at Frederick Community College; Dr. William G. Meredith, associate professor of biology, and Dr. Emile A. Nakhleh, assistant professor of history, at Mt. St. Mary's; Dr. Viktor Antolin, associate professor of philosophy at St. Joseph's, and the student coordinators of the Teach-In, Kathleen Broderick, a junior from Harrisburg, Pa., and Walter Morris, a junior from Danbury, Conn.

Dr. Bromfield will speak on the biological outlook, Dr. Meredith the technical aspect, Dr. Nakhleh the political scope, and Dr. Antolin the philosophical view. Miss Broderick and Mr. Morris will moderate the question period following the panelists' discussion.

Periodically throughout the day, films will be shown on both campuses. Films include "Food or Famine," "The Living Soil," and "The River Must Live."

Faculty at both colleges have been asked to lend their support to program by gearing their classroom lectures to some phase of the environment.

St. Joseph's Tri-Beta chapter, Theta Phi, kicks off the Environmental Teach-In on the eve of the national observance with an "Environmental Problems Nite" or the area's high school students on Tuesday, April 21, at 7 p.m. in the Dodd Science Center. Secondary school students have been invited to submit papers and exhibits on some aspect of human ecology, and their work will be judged at that time.

All events are open to the public without charge. Ample parking is available on both campuses. In announcing the various events planned or the Teach-In, Miss Broderick said, "We hope the public will respond to our invitation to attend as many events as possible on both campuses. We don't want the movement to stop with today's program, but hopefully, it will inspire our audiences, both the campus communities and area residents, to become personally involved in working together for the improvement of our environment."

Suggests Governor Sign Abortion Bill

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: This is in reply to the continual beating of one Patrick F. X. McGucken, whose biased opinions you carry in the columns of your fine newspaper.

Last week, the above-mentioned individual, wept and decried the abortion bill, now on the desk of Governor Mandel, as against all Catholics, further stating that "Catholic" money will be used to exploit interests contrary to Catholic interests.

All laws are, or should be, in the interest of the MAJORITY of the people. If the major part of Maryland's population wants an abortion bill, then let's give it to them. If Catholics do not want an abortion, let them refrain!

Why should Catholic thinking be FORCED on non-Catholic people?

Incidentally, I'm all for "PROTESTANT" money being used to help Catholic schols, but don't try to impose Catholic dogma on non-Catholics, where morals are concerned.

Very truly yours,
W. C. Smith

It is easy to buy something just a little stronger to ease the nervous tensions of the day.

It is easy to get something to get you started and keep you going, when you are tired, dragged out or depressed.

It is easy to get something to keep you awake when your job or responsibility demand it.

It is just as easy to get something to put you to sleep.

And from any of these it can be an easy step to drugs that cause dependence, and harm your body and your brain. Drugs are a boon to modern man. They can be his downfall, too. Learn about them. In many communities Kiwanis clubs are sponsoring drug education programs called Operation Drug Alert. In others, the work is being done by citizens' groups, professional societies, churches and the like. Contact the drug education group in your community. Learn about drugs. Pass the knowledge on to your children. You, and your community, will be better if you do.

In Our Time

AT THE END OF EACH COLD SEASON YOUR HEATING EQUIPMENT HAS BEEN IN OPERATION BETWEEN 3,000 TO 4,000 HOURS... TO RUN YOUR CAR THE SAME RATE YOU WOULD COVER 90,000 TO 150,000 MILES... AND EXPECT TO HAVE YOUR CAR SERVICED AT LEAST FIVE TIMES!

BUT EVEN YOUR "OLD FAITHFUL" OIL HEATING PLANT, WITH A LIFE EXPECTANCY OF 17 TO 25 YEARS, NEEDS REGULAR MAINTENANCE AT LEAST ONCE A YEAR TO MAINTAIN DEPENDABLE SERVICE.

PROPER ADJUSTING AND REPAIRS DEMAND SPECIAL TOOLS, TESTING EQUIPMENT AND TRAINING.

YOUR REGULAR YEAR-ROUND OIL DEALER HAS SUCH A SERVICE AVAILABLE OR CAN ADVISE YOU OF ONE IN YOUR AREA.

COLORFUL FIRST YEAR GARDEN

Annual flowers are the perfect solution for the first-year gardener and the use of black plastic makes it possible for him to have a weedless, practically workless area.

The perfect solution to a colorful garden for the new home owner is annual flowers. Of course you'll set out as many permanent plants, like trees and vines, as your flatish pocketbook permits, but then you can fill the rest of the space with annuals. Lots of color, low, low cost!

Choose tall annuals for planting against the house, lower ones for massing in front of them and plant them the modern way, through black plastic covering, to minimize that bugaboo of all gardeners—weeding.

Prepare the soil by turning it over to loosen it, then raking it to level and make soil particles fine. Add fertilizer, then rake again. Cover the area or areas with sheets of black plastic and hold the edges in place with soil heaped on them. This will prevent the wind from blowing the plastic while plants are still small.

Plan before you plant so that you'll have a color scheme compatible with the outside of your house and use flowers that will serve as ornaments when you wish to use them indoors.

You will find that massing one color or one kind of flower next to a larger or smaller mass of another kind or color is the easiest way to achieve a striking all-over effect. Your plan complete, use 6-inch-long wooden plant labels, stuck through small slits in the plastic, to mark the various areas. The name of the plant you intend to use, likewise the color, will help guide you as you plant.

Lift seedlings from your seed bed or bring the flats or boxes in which you've started seeds to the planting area as soon as seedlings are 3 to 4 inches tall. Make slits in the plastic at proper intervals (10 inches to a foot for petunias, 2 feet for hollyhocks) for the particular plants you are using and set out each plant through one of these slits.

Insert trowel through slit, make a generous hole, spread out the roots of a seedling and firm soil to roots. Water thoroughly and lay plastic back in place.

Because of the plastic, there will be little or no weeding necessary. Rain will enter through the slits or a perforated hose may be let run for several hours to take the place of rain.
