'Ye-Ed' must have had too much vacation last week! He is temporarily (I hope) indisposed. The medics advise him to take it easy for a while. So your old gal friend (Me), will try to carry on while he is recuperating at Annie Warner.

Did you see in the news last week where the President's Commission on Obscenity concluded that pornography, per se, is not responsible for sex crimes, anti-social behavior or delinquency? Also, did you know that Liberals are more aroused by pornography than Conservatives? Shades of William F. Buckley! "All I know is"—dirt is dirt, it can't do any good, it MAY not do any harm, but why take a chance? Write your Congressman!

The Women's Liberation Movement is in hi-gear. Now the ladies, bless-em, will have to pay alimony. I'm all for that! I wonder how the gals will behave under fire, with a ninety pound field pack on their backs? Let's give them the opportunity to find out.

Talk about your Frankenstein Monsters. That train load of nerve gas meandering its way across country is really something. We make a weapon so devastating that it shocks the sensibilities of a compassionate people; we decide that it is too horrible to even think about using, so we decide to dump it at sea. We don't want to take the remotest chance of an accident happening in transit. Well, WE made the stuff. WE will have to get rid of it. The sooner the better! We surely are walking a tight rope, what with the bomb and nerve gas staring us in the face. Let's work for world peace, so we won't have to wake up in the morning wondering if, "Today's the Day".

Another type of fever which grabs us around this time of year is Pennant Fever. I don't know about you, but as for me, I'm putting in my order right now for world series tickets in both Baltimore and Pittsburgh!

An item elsewhere in this newspaper stating that football practice will begin at Catoctin High School on the 15th reminds us suddenly and with a shock that we are approaching the end of summer. According to the calendar, summer officially ends on September 22, but for most of us, summer ends with Labor Day or immediately afterward when we have to get the childrne off to school. This summer seems to be even shorter than others. The rainy season we have experienced with thunderstorms every evening for some weeks has put a real damper on some summer activities. It has also kept the temperature down from the torrid 90's that we experienced not so many summers ago when Emmitsburg was undergoing a real drought.

The date of August 15 for the beginning of football practice at Catoctin also reminded us, after a glance at the calendar, that the students from Mount Saint Mary's College and Saint Joseph College will be back with us at least a week earlier this year than in other years. Freshmen register at Saint Joseph College on Sunday, August 30, while freshmen register at Mount Saint Mary's the next day. Upperclassmen will be coming in on Tuesday, with classes to start at both colleges on Wednesday, September 2.

Pretty soon the call for "Tennis, anyone?" will give way to the sound of pigskin whizzing by—and not long after that will come the sound of the snow shovel back on duty! Let's enjoy what's left of the summer!

Drive carefully, watch out for the kids, fasten your seat belts, and above all—PEACE!

Mrs. Charles W. Lake and family, of Norristown, Pa., are visiting Mrs. Lake's mother, Mrs. Oscar Stinson.

Alma C. Sanders, James Topper Wed

Miss Alma Cecelia Sanders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Robert Sanders, Emmitsburg, and Mr. James Patrick Topper, son of Mr. and Mrs. James Louis Topper, also of Emmitsburg, were united in marriage August 8. The Rev. Vincent Tomalski officiated in the double-ring ceremony at the St. Anthony's Catholic Church, Emmitsburg. Mrs. Alma Seltzer, great aunt of the bride, was the organist and accompanied the soloist, Mr. David Brouet.

Given in marriage by her father, the traditional charm of all lace was the choice of the bride in empire styled chantlax with high scalloped collar and long pointed sleeves. Her silhouette was a flaring one marked by tiny buttons that proceeded to the hemline and she complemented this with a chapel length mantilla of lace bordered illusion and carried a cascade of white bridal roses and stephanotis centered with yellow sweetheart roses.

Mrs. Mary Wivell, Rocky Ridge, sister of the bride, was matron of honor. She was attired in a floor-length gown of aqua chiffon over acetate with long puffed sleeves and an empire bodice trimmed in chalk lace daisies. Her wide aqua picture hat was trimmed in a matching ribbon. She carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Miss Pamela Topper, Emmitsburg, sister of the groom, and Mrs. Joan Matthews, Thurmont, were bridesmaids. Their gowns and hats were identical to those of the matron of honor, but in shades of yellow. Each carried a colonial bouquet of white daisies and baby's breath.

Raymond L. Topper, California, brother of the groom, was best man. Ushers were George R. Sanders, Jr., brother of the bride, Emmitsburg, and Leo E. Topper, Jr., Emmitsburg.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Sanders chose a pink dress and hat with white accessories. She wore a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

The bridegroom's mother wore an orchid dress with white hat and accessories and a corsage of pink sweetheart roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held at the Cozy Restaurant, Thurmont. Assisting at the punch bowl was Mrs. Edith Baker, cousin of the groom. Cutting the wedding cake were Mrs. Sophia Lind and Mrs. Alma Seltzer, both of Thurmont and aunts of the bride. Miss Susan Lind, of Thurmont, cousin of the bride, was at the guest book.

For the wedding trip the bride wore a short sleeved white chiffon dress with black patent leather accessories and a corsage of yellow sweetheart roses from her bridal bouquet.

The bride is a 1966 graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, and is employed at the U. S. Army Dispensary, Fort Detrick.

The bridegroom is a 1963 graduate of St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg. He has served four years in the U. S. Air Force and is presently a senior at Mount Saint Mary's College, Emmitsburg. The newlyweds are residing in Emmitsburg.

REQUEST ACTION FOR RELIEF FROM FLOODS

Twenty Emmitsburg citizens appeared at the meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners August 3 to support a petition for immediate relief from flooding conditions.

The formal petition complains that during recent storms many Emmitsburg houses, especially in Emmit Gardens and along DePaul St., experienced severe flooding and backing up a sewers.

Emmitsburg's officials agreed with the citizens and said corrective action has been started.

The town is taking all possible steps to obtain additional outlets for flood waters of Flat Run as it goes under U. S. 15 and to obtain from the State Health Department permission to install additional overflow valves for the Emmitsburg sewage system, according to reports at the meeting.

The State Roads Commission has been contacted and its engineers are due at Emmit Gardens. The town will request the SRC to dredge Flat Run.

All possible steps will be taken to remove surface water from the Emmitsburg sewer system. The town ordinance prohibiting the connection of rainspouts to the system will be enforced rigidly.

In other business, the Emmitsburg town officials reviewed a possible increase and strengthening of the police force, and Mayor Samuel C. Hays announced an alley resurfacing program, and the installation of a water line to the recreation and baseball park.

The council discussed, and put in operation, plans to remark streets, alleys and signs.

Material Donated

The "Claire Frock" Company of Thurmont, has graciously donated another consignment of fall materials to the Senior Citizens Club of Emmitsburg. This material, of course, has some defects, but is excellent for children's and women's clothing. It is now on display at the Center for sale to those interested in fall clothing. Some pieces are quite large enough for either jumpers or complete dresses, in a variety of colors. Anyone interested may come in and look it over with a view to purchasing.

Many thanks are due the "Claire Frock" people for their thoughtfulness and generosity.

Two dates for August are to be remembered.

August 18, at 5:30 p.m., for the Senior Citizens' Annual Picnic at St. Joseph's picnic grounds.

August 27, the Thurmont Senior Citizens' Picnic at the Thurmont picnic grounds.

At the presentation, Michael Wolo, General Superintendent, and Rufus Rhodes, Plant Manager, expressed their sincere appreciation to the recipients and encouraged other employees to strive for this same goal. Mr. Rhodes remarked,

Phyllis Chatlos Is Bride Of Robert Huck

Miss Phyllis L. Chatlos, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. John C. Chatlos, Emmitsburg, became the bride of Robert D. Huck, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Houck, Sr., Emmitsburg, on Saturday, July 11, at Incarnation United Church of Christ, Emmitsburg. Rev. Chatlos performed the double ring ceremony for his daughter's wedding and was assisted by her grandfather, Rev. W. R. Jones of Littlestown, Pennsylvania.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of soft crepe over satin styled in a Victorian manner with a high neckline, fitted bodice, full sleeves with wide lace cuffs to match the lace yoke and lace at the waistline. The detachable train flowed from her waist, over her full skirt and was trimmed in lace to match her gown. Her elbow-length veil fell from a headpiece of seed pearls and daisies. She carried a white Bible covered with white daisies, rosebuds, and baby's breath.

Miss Sheila Chatlos, Emmitsburg, was her sister's maid of honor. She wore a floor length gown of yellow dotted swiss. The long sleeves, round neckline, and empire bodice were all trimmed with white daisies. Her head covering consisted of a veil held down by a large yellow bow, and she carried a bouquet of baby's breath, white daisies, and yellow and orange pompoms.

Miss Joan Reindollar, roommate of the bride in Salisbury, Md.; Miss Joan Deitch, Oakmont, Pennsylvania, and Miss Jenna Ray, Burlington, North Carolina, college roommates, were bridesmaids. They were dressed like the honor attendant and carried bouquets of white and yellow daisies, white pompoms, and baby's breath.

The bridegroom had his brother, Marc, as best man, and as ushers he had his brother, Tom,

David Cool, and the bride's brothers, Rudolf and Calvin Chatlos, all of Emmitsburg.

Traditional music was played by the church organist, Miss Beverly Davis. James Martin, Hagerstown, a high school classmate of the couple, sang, "More", "Moon River", "Each for the Other", and "The Lord's Prayer."

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Chatlos chose a pale pink, lace, knit, dress with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations and pink rosebuds. The groom's mother wore a light blue dress trimmed in lace with matching accessories and a corsage of white carnations and rosebuds and blue baby's breath.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church Fellowship Hall which was appropriately decorated in yellow and white. Mrs. George Martin and Mrs. Larue Harman of Emmitsburg, assisted at the reception. Miss Cathy Sachse, Baltimore, cut the cake and presided at the guest book. Mrs. James A. Houck, Jr., sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Roy A. McLaughlin, sister of the groom, served the punch.

For a wedding trip in western Pennsylvania, the bride wore a light blue, crepe dress set off by a vari-colored scarf and a corsage lifted from her bouquet. The couple will reside at Apt. 8 on South Miller Street in Fairfield, Pennsylvania.

The bride was graduated from Emmitsburg High School, class of '65 and from Catawba College, Salisbury, N. C., class of '69, with a B.A. degree in Elementary Education.

The groom was graduated from Emmitsburg High School, also in the class of '65, and served in the U. S. Army for two years with most of his tour of duty in Ulm, Germany.

Husband Of Former Local Woman Found Dead From Gunshot

David R. Gebhart, 27, Gettysburg R5, husband of Sarah Springer Gebhart, formerly of Emmitsburg, suffered a fatal gunshot wound at 2:25 a.m. Sunday while seated in his car on S. Franklin St., Gettysburg, just south of the W. High St. corner.

Dr. Robert S. Lefever, deputy county coroner, said Gebhart's death was instantaneous from a shotgun wound of the neck and a compound fracture of cervical vertebrae.

According to police, Gebhart's body was found slumped in his 1965 Chevrolet coupe by a passerby shortly after a loud "explosion noise" like a gunshot was heard in the neighborhood.

At 1 o'clock Sunday morning, police said they had been called to the front of the Dorsey Stanton American Legion Post home, W. High St., where Gebhart had been involved in a fracas.

According to police, Gebhart was shot in the left side of the neck apparently by an assailant who aimed a weapon through the victim's open car window on the driver's side of the car. The shot was fired at close range, police said.

Two Gettysburg men were committed to the county prison by borough police Tuesday evening, and a third was committed Wednesday morning in connection with the shotgun slaying.

Gettysburg police Chief Daniel P. Miller revealed late Tuesday evening that his men apprehended and jailed Gregory Lee Williams, 25, 115 Breckenridge St., and David Lee Stull, 21, 23 1/2 Breckenridge St. in connection with Gebhart's murder, and a warrant was issued for the arrest of Raymond Sylvester Williams, 50, 35 Breckenridge St., who was still at large at the time.

Charges of murder and voluntary manslaughter were filed against each of the three men by borough Police Sgt. Russell H. Potter, Jr. before Third District Magistrate Clarence R. Deardorff, Fairfield.

The arrests came after two days of intensive investigation by the borough police in cooperation with state police criminal authorities.

An investigation disclosed that $61 was found along with identification cards in the wallet of the dead man.

A native of Gettysburg, he was the son of George J. and Helen Hahn Gebhart, Gettysburg R1.

Besides his parents, he is survived by his wife, Sarah Springer Gebhart; four children, David, Bryan, Stephen and Tina Maria Gebhart, all at home; a sister, Mrs. Audrey Ridenour, Thurmont.

He was a member of St. Francis Xavier Catholic Church, Gettysburg. He was an employe of Tracy Engineers at Lemoine.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday with a meeting at the Peters Funeral Home, Gettysburg, at 9:15 a.m., before going to St. Francis Xavier Church for a requiem mass at 10 a.m. with his pastor, Rt. Rev. Msgr. Alphonse T. Marcincavage, celebrant. Interment was in Evergreen Cemetery. Pallbearers were fellow employes of the Tracey Engineering Co., Lemoine: Harold E. Arendt, Louis W. Grotola, William P. Culp, Jerry Becker, Laurence W. Sheffer, Eugene R. Oldham, James B. Morehead and Frank S. Grotola, Jr.

Tick Fever Kills Young Keymar Boy

Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever claimed the life of a 12-year-old Keymar boy Friday and has infected at least eight other Frederick County persons this summer, four of them in recent weeks, according to Dr. Charles Spicknall, Frederick County Health Officer.

Charles Riggs died at Frederick Memorial Hospital at 8:30 Friday morning, according to a hospital spokesman. The spokesman said the youth had been under a doctor's care for several days, and that he was brought to the emergency room in the early morning hours Friday.

Of eight other persons infected by the tick bites since the tick season began in early April, four of the cases have been reported in recent weeks, Dr. Spicknall said.

Three persons died of Rocky Mountain Spotted Fever in the state last year. Forty-eight cases of the tick-transmitted disease were reported in Maryland last year.

The disease shows itself in the form of a rash in the body extremities, accompanied by severe headaches and fever, Dr. Spicknall said. Symptoms usually begin to show up within two weeks after infection.

The disease is transmitted by the carrier insect within one hour after it attaches itself to the body, Dr. Spicknall cautioned.

SOCIAL SECURITY

Did you know that nine out of ten workers are participating in social security?

With that many of us involved, it's no wonder we shudder over the plight of our elderly people. We have seen too many of them struggling to make ends meet. Our immediate reaction is to say: Let's increase the benefits. But it's not as easy as that.

Social Security is a general payroll tax which is only taxed on the first $400 of a month's earnings. Therefore, an increase would place an unfair burden on the poor. For if you increase the benefits you also decrease the money available to them.

So perhaps the next move is to increase the employer's contribution. But if you do, he is going to make up that increase by raising prices. Then the poor are hurt, and the elderly will lose the effect of the increase.

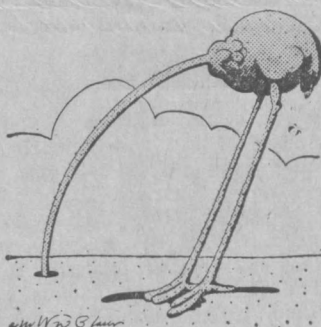

An impossible situation? No, not exactly. But its solution will cost. The point is, however, how do we meet this cost fairly?

We can meet this cost fairly by taking the needed money for the increase not from the Social Security payroll tax—but from a general government fund. In this way the cost of the increase would be fairly distributed.

Therefore, I advocate an increase in Social Security benefits, because, in spite of the cost, I believe that money spent on people is money spent wisely.

You've been following that simple rule all your life, and it hasn't failed you yet. And it works. Right?

Wrong. When it comes to cancer, nothing could be more wrong.

Most cancers are easier to cure when they are detected and treated early. The earlier the better. Have a yearly checkup. Even if you've never felt better in your life.

Besides giving you peace of mind it could trouble trouble. Before trouble ever gets a chance to trouble you.

Meyerhoffer of Harney Road. An Indian American woman, Mrs. Roy Denham of Albuquerque, New Mexico, was elected president of the national body which numbers nearly half a million women. She succeeds Mrs. Harold E. Boesch of Kensington, Md.

Nationally known speakers presented various aspects of the conference theme, "What Time is it?" The theme was taken from the passage in the Old Testament book of Ecclesiastes that begins: "To everything there is a season and a time to every purpose under the heaven..."

Rev. Dr. William Sloane Coffin, Yale University chaplain, challenged the women to help the church re-align its priorities. "We care about the wrong thing; we put secondary virtues ahead of primary ones. We stress cleanliness, punctuality, humility at the expense of the primary virtues: ruthless honesty—the kind of criticism that Jeremiah gave—and self-sacrificing love, the clergyman said.

There is a generation gap in the church today, he said because "the church tends to stress personal morality and the kids know social morality is what's important."

Dr. Coffin was both critical and sympathetic with workers whom he called "flag-waving Hard Hats." Such workers have a full stake in the American dream, he said. "Only what kind of a dream is it, when you spend your day in spirit-mangling labor, have practically no say at all in the conditions which govern your life, and come home at night to a mortgage on the house, payments on the car, a color-blind television set, an overheated teen-age daughter and a D-in-English, car-smashing son?"

The United Presbyterian Women were urged to work actively in two plans of Church union in which their denomination is involved.

One plan involves reunion with the Presbyterian Church in the United States — the Southern Presbyterian Church—to heal a rift which dates back to Civil War days.

The other union scheme is the more ambitious Consultation on Church Union, a venture which would bring together nine Protestant denominations into a 25-million member Church. Both the United and the Southern Presbyterian Churches are members of the Consultation.

In other ecumenical developments the United Presbyterian Women acted to gear future meetings into a long-range national and regional schedule of women of other denominations.

The assembly renewed its commitment to strive to end hunger in America through a variety of programs. Mrs. Anita Blackwell, a community organizer for the National Council of Negro Women in Mississippi, recalled in graphic detail her experiences in the civil rights struggle in the South.

Acknowledging herself as "a militant," Mrs. Blackwell denied that she is motivated by hate. "I hate the way I have been treated but I love the way I still have faith in people," she said. She expressed appreciation for the support her work has received from national Church women's organizations.

Mrs. Johnnie Tillman, Los Angeles, one of the founders of the National Welfare Rights Organization, appealed to the women to join in the struggle to create a society without poverty. "The time to do something about it is now. If we don't, I can see my son's wife standing where I'm standing and your daughters sitting where you are listening to her."

The Rev. Dr. Alan Geyer, Chicago, editor of the Christian Century, proposed a new effort to understand American relationships with China as the starting point for both a "religious rebirth" in this country and a more realistic foreign policy.

Dr. Geyer declared that "the demand for human co-existence with China is our greatest political challenge," a problem which he said neither schools, churches, universities nor the government is equipping the American people to face. The editor-churchman stressed heavily the need for Christians to involve themselves in political affairs at all levels.

H & R Block Offers Tax Course Here

A basic income tax course will be conducted in this area beginning September 14 under the supervision of H & R Block, the nation's largest tax service, according to Mr. Joseph Dunn, Frederick area manager.

"The Block tax course is designed for people who want to save money on their income tax, or make money as tax preparer," said Mr. Dunn.

"Anyone may enroll," he continued, "and there are no restrictions or qualifications of any kind. It is not necessary that applicants have any previous financial knowledge or tax experience."

Mr. Dunn pointed out that the tax course is ideally suited for housewives, teachers, retired workers, and anyone else wanting to improve their tax knowledge or increase their family income.

The curriculum provides for a minimum of two three-hour sessions per week for twelve weeks—making a total of 72 hours of classroom work. All instructors are veteran Block employees.

"The H & R Block tax course covers all major areas of tax return preparation, with actual practice in preparing individual returns," Mr. Dunn said, "and it's programmed to teach the student increasingly detailed tax problems as study progresses."

Mr. Dunn pointed out that, for the first time, all 1970 tax returns (to be filed prior to April 15, 1971) will reflect the sweeping changes brought about by the controversial Tax Reform Act of 1969. This year's tax course will therefore be especially valuable, he said, because students will learn exactly how this new legislation really affects things.

"We think everyone will find the course interesting and challenging from beginning to end," said Mr. Dunn.

Mr. Dunn added that job interviews will be arranged for qualified graduates of the course who are interested in working for H & R Block during the tax season, although they will be under no obligation to accept employment.

Enrollment forms for the Block income tax course may be obtained by writing, visiting, or phoning the H & R Block office at 223 N. Market St., Frederick, anytime before September 14. The telephone number is 682-6354. A choice of day or evening classes will be offered, and certificates will be awarded to all graduates.

Thirty-five countries adopted nickel and various nickel alloys for 70 new coins in 1969.

U.S. Senator

Hiroshima: 25 Years Later

The President of the United States is news. Reporters and photographers accompany him on all of his travels and, when the President occasionally slips away from the press, it becomes a front page story. So, it was no surprise that President Nixon's recent Los Angeles press conference, the first formal Presidential news conference ever held on the West Coast, appeared on front pages of daily newspapers. But more important than the unique location of the news conference was the President's response to a question as to whether the United States could be victorious in a war with Russia.

President Nixon replied: "If there is a war between the Soviet Union and the United States, there will be no winners. There will be only losers. The Soviet Union knows this and we know that..." The President then went on to discuss the need to halt the arm's race before such a tragic confrontation occurs.

To me, the President's response was courageous because, the President is the Commander-in-Chief of the most powerful armed forces in existence and in this role it would be his responsibility to attempt to provide the defense against a nuclear attack. But he said again at his news conference, as he has said on previous occasions, that there is no defense against an all out nuclear attack on a modern city and he has said very correctly and very pointedly that there can be no victory in such an exchange.

These comments are very timely because they come on the 25th anniversary of the dropping of atomic bombs on the Japanese cities of Hiroshima and Nagasaki in 1945. At that time, I was a member of the United States Navy, serving on a ship in the Southwest Pacific. My ship had been assigned to be part of the force which was scheduled to invade the island empire of Japan. But in the events which took place following the dropping of the atom bomb and the surrender of Japan, that force instead became part of the armada which was sent to occupy the islands of Japan. As a result of this sequence of events, it was my opportunity to visit both Hiroshima and Nagasaki less than a month after those first bombs unleashed their atomic fury on the Japanese. I would like to describe those sites to you because they are sort of a personal reminiscence of what destruction happens when an atomic bomb explodes.

Where there had once been giant industrial plants, great factories built of steel, the blast had twisted and blown the girders and the steel members so that they looked like a field of wheat blowing in the wind. I recall seeing what looked like a piece of tiny black glass lying on the ground but when I picked it up I saw that it had been several glass tumblers which had been on a shelf in someone's home, and which the heat of the blast from the bomb had melted and fused together. They were black and were just barely recognizable. I also saw the bicycles and tricycles left by children in the streets. The bikes were grotesquely twisted. Buildings, of course, were nonexistent. Windows miles from the center of the blast were shattered and practically no one in the blast center survived. Even today the casualty estimates vary from 60,000 to 200,000 killed. That was the scene at the site of the first atomic blast a quarter of a century ago. I hope and pray that men are wise enough to guarantee to the world that such a scene will never be repeated.

Dairy Princess Coronation To Be Held In Frederick

Blair Penn, seated left, reviews the scrapbook of last year's Maryland Dairy Princess Coronation held in Frederick as members of the state arrangements committee

Frederick County, the state's leading dairying county — will again serve as host to the Maryland Dairy Princess Coronation in August.

Plans for the two-day state competition, Aug. 17-18, for selecting the Maryland Princess were outlined at a recent meeting at the Capital Milk Producers in Frederick.

Blair L. Penn, chairman, said that statewide, "throughout the dairy industry, everyone was real pleased about last year's coronation and it looks like Frederick County will be host to this outstanding event for several years."

Headquarters for this year's coronation will be the Francis Scott Key Hotel and the two-day itinerary will begin with the arrival of seven area dairy princesses early Monday evening, Aug. 17, at the hotel. They will be taken on a tour of the historical places and landmarks of Frederick City and County and directing the tour will be G. Bernard Callen, Jr., for the Chamber of Commerce. Bus transportation will be provided by Pete Crawford.

The princesses will dine that evening with members of the state committee at Cozy Restaurant, Thurmont.

The coronation luncheon will be at noon Tuesday, Aug. 18, in the banquet room of the Francis Scott Key Hotel, and upwards of 300 persons are expected to attend, representing all segments of the dairy and related industries in Maryland. Last year's event drew 168 when attendance was limited due to the hotel's renovation program then in progress.

Reservations may be made thru members of the committee or thru the following dairy firms: Ideal Farms Dairy, 662-5151; Dairy Maid Dairy, 663-5114; Maryland & Virginia Milk Producers, 663-6552; Maryland Cooperative Milk Producers, 834-2191 or 944-6800; and Capital Milk Producers, 606-5177. August 10 is the deadline for reservations. The cost is $4 per person.

Members of the committee include Mrs. Merhle H. Duvall, William Baker, Chuck Hommey, Richard E. Hammond, Donald E. Rough, Edward W. Plunkert, Jr., H. Carroll Hendrickson, Blair Penn and Tom Mills.

The area dairy princesses are chosen by their respective counties and the state winner will be announced and crowned at the luncheon. The Maryland Dairy Princess will then represent the state in all major dairy functions during the ensuing year and compete in the national coronation next July in Chicago.

The reigning Maryland Dairy Princess is Miss Jackie Mellott of Washington County, and the current Frederick County area princess is Miss Carol Slater of Monrovia.

Frederick County has had three state princesses — Miss Angela Remsburg of Middletown in 1963, Miss Cynthia Mathews of near Woodsboro in 1967 and Miss Marion Metz. New Windsor in 1968.

Maryland has had one national princess, Mrs. Carol Ann Armacost Preston of Baltimore County in 1966-67.

In addition to the coronation, the state gathering will also feature the second annual State Dairy Poster Competition coordinated statewide by County Extension Agent Chuck Hommey of Frederick County. The contest is open to children throughout the state through extension offices and the winners will be announced and awards presented at the coronation luncheon.

Seek Artists For 1972 Christmas Seal

Local artists this week were invited by Freda S. Doll, Executive Director of the Frederick County Tuberculosis and Respiratory Disease Association to enter the nationwide competition for the design of the 1972 Christmas Seal.

A $1,000 cash award will be given the artist whose design is chosen to spearhead the annual drive against emphysema, tuberculosis and other respiratory diseases, and air pollution, Mrs. Doll said. The design itself will appear on the Christmas Seals mailed to millions of U. S. homes during the 1972 holiday season. It also will appear on posters, billboards and television screens.

Production schedules require that the Christmas Seal design be selected two years in advance of issue, Mrs. Doll explained. The 1970 Seal created by L. Gerald Snyder of California, goes in the mail next Fall. The 1971 Christmas Seal, now in production, was designed by James J. Clarke, also of California.

Deadline for entries is October 1, 1970.

Contest rules and information, and copies of Christmas Seal designs from 1967 to 1970, are available from the local TB-RD Association at 118 W. Church Street, Frederick, Md., telephone 663-4593.

"Such well-known artists as Stevan Dohane, Heidi Brandt and Dale Nichols have contributed Christmas Seal designs in past years," Mrs. Doll said. "But the national contest also has been won by artists just beginning their careers, students and amateurs. We hope that a Frederick County artist will submit the design of the 1972 Christmas Seal."

Position Paper CONFLICT OF INTEREST

If the members of our National Senate and House of Representatives are to represent effectively the majority of people who elect them, the Legislators must be free of conflict of interest.

Whenever business activities of elected officials conflict with legislative responsibility it is the electorate which suffers because Legislators should abstain from voting whenever conflict of interest occurs. Consequently, many people find themselves not represented at all whenever their elected Legislators must abstain from voting because of conflict of interest.

I have eliminated this problem by resigning my highly paid position in the Department of Defense in order to use my knowledge of where economies in Government operation can be made in Congress, and can therefore be completely objective in representing all the people of the 6th District. Think about it won't you? — Authority Richard U. Comstock, Treas., Woodsboro, Md.

The Miniature Circuit Revolution

By Babson's Reports Incorporated, Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 30, 1970—Tiny electronic circuits (known as microcircuits or integrated circuits) have become a major sector in the semiconductor industry, and its investment in these devices is rapidly approaching the take-off period. The 1970s should see a bonanza for these incredibly small circuits which can combine 100 or more functions on a single chip of silicon. In the billion dollar semiconductor industry, sales of integrated circuits grew from $15.8 million in 1963 to $490.5 million in 1969, and may exceed $750 million this year.

Semiconductor Technology

With the invention of the transistor, the solid-state age of electronics was ushered in. Transistors replaced vacuum tubes because of their unique characteristics of more power, cooler operating efficiency, less weight, longer life, increased reliability, and—most important—reduced costs. Integrated circuits quickly won a place in computers where these requirements were a must. Today these devices are available in all sizes for all types of complex tasks.

Two particular types have been developed which now dominate the industry. One is the monolithic integrated circuit and the other is dubbed the MOS (for metal-oxide-silicon) semiconductor circuit. The former is especially well adapted for very fast speeds and is used in giant computers. MOS is used in smaller computers (requiring less speed) and in computer terminals, calculators, and adding machines, where cost is the principal factor.

Scaling Of Circuits

In recent years, microcircuitry has been carried one step further with the development of super integrated circuits. These are called LSI or large-scale integration. Currently, SSI and MSI (for small- and medium-scale respectively) circuits are being produced in sizable volume. SSI incorporates up to 12 circuits on a single silicon chip, while MSI places up to 100 circuits on the chip. Large-scale (LSI) devices have more than 100 circuits. An enormous market for these super circuits is predicted as complete systems will be designed around them.

Moreover, it is expected to further the development of electronic hardware, not possible under present technology.

Market Trends

Most companies are reporting lower dollar sales in individual semi-conductors. However, those firms also producing integrated semiconductor circuits have been experiencing a resurgence in their business because of the rapid growth in use of these devices. Yet there is fierce competition, pirating of talent, relatively high production costs, and an increasing number of bottlenecks because of the extremely specialized technology involved. The industry's three leaders—Texas Instruments, Motorola, and Fairchild Camera & Instrument—are not immune to any of these problems.

Our Selections

There is room for smaller participants with an established base of competence. The Research Staff of Babson's Reports has singled out three lesser knowns for consideration. General Instrument (NYSE) is a leader in the second type of circuit called MOS and also has undisputed capability in the burgeoning field of cable television. National Semiconductor (OTC) is the only industry stalwart devoted exclusively to the semiconductor business and places considerable emphasis on consumer markets. Finally, Sprague Electric (NYSE)—once an old-line producer of conventional electrical and electronic components—is today recognized as a broadly based manufacturer of integrated circuits. The company's past production problems are being steadily corrected. Babson's Reports—pursuing its long-term policy of diversification—recommends a package investment in all three of the stocks mentioned rather than purchase of one issue alone.

Panthers' New Strategy

A new strategy move is being made by the Black Panther Party, which calls itself the "vanguard" of a revolution—worldwide in scope—to overthrow the United States of America. In Washington on June 19, the Panthers' national leaders (those who are operating above ground) met at a rally at the Lincoln Memorial and enunciated still another treasonable threat to the security of our nation. "We are from 25 to 30 million strong, and we are armed," the Panthers said in a "Message to America." The full fury of such a force, they said, would be unleashed against America unless a new U. S. Constitution, written by Panthers, is adopted.

Of course the Panthers cannot command 25,000,000 Negro Americans. Best estimate is that they have a revolutionary following of about 2,000,000. But day by day, week by week, they are expanding their reach with demagoguery, vicious hate propaganda, and activities designed to attract a massive following among the Negro community. At Washington in June they announced plans for a "Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention" later this year at which a new Panther-written U. S. Constitution will be drafted. America will be told thereafter to adopt the new Constitution or be destroyed. "Utterly Destroy" U. S.

"If the American people as a whole do not rise up, reverse the present course of this nation, which, if unchecked, holds out only Fascist repression and genocide for the Black people, then we, Black people," says the Message, "will be forced to respond with a form of War of Salvation that in the chaos of carrying it out and the attempt to suppress it, will gut this country and utterly destroy it. Before we accept Genocide, we will inflict Total Destruction upon Babylon (the Panther name for the U. S.)"

"I had been told now, that the power we rely upon ultimately, as our only guarantee against Genocide at the hands of the Fascist Majority, is our strategic ability to lay this country in ruins, from the bottom to the top." The 2,000-word "Message" was read by David Hillard, Panther Chief of Staff, who is awaiting trial for threatening the life of President Nixon, and was published in the Black Panther newspaper, which is read by millions of Negro citizens.

New Gimmick

A year ago the Panthers met in national conference at Oakland, California, and announced a program for "Control of Local Police" through legal petitions. A few Negro communities have worked with the petitions but the Panthers and their manipulators (Communist officialdom in New York, Moscow, Peking, Hanoi, Pyongyang, North Korea; Havana) saw that it was too slow and laborious a process and wasn't getting sufficient publicity. The purpose behind the "petition" plan was to attract millions of Negroes into the Panthers' mobilizing force. In only a few places did it achieve hoped-for results.

The call for a "Revolutionary People's Constitutional Convention" is but another gimmick, designed to attract the attention of the Negro masses and win in time their support for the Panther - Communist plan for violent overthrow. The Panthers and the Communist tacticians know that the "Constitution" could not gain majority support in America. But they also know that the idea has popular appeal in teeming "inner city" neighborhoods where the Panthers' hate propaganda against "pigs" and "American imperialists—avaricious, sadistic, blood-thirsty thieves"—has been heavy and constant for more than two years.

Red-Panther Manifesto

As the mobilizing of the revolutionary force continues, and the arming and training of guerrilla cadres, saboteurs and ancillary services are stepped up, international Panther leader Eldridge Cleaver, fugitive convict who has defied and confounded American law enforcement agencies, has begun to draft a new Communist Manifesto to become the textbook for the political education of the Negro masses whom the Panthers expect to command.

"When we say we are Marxist-Leninists (Communists) we mean," writes Cleaver, "that we have studied and understood the classical principles of scientific socialism (Communism) and that we have adapted these principles to our own situation for ourselves. . . . There is a lot of confusion over whether we are members of the Working Class or Lumpenproletariat." He explains that the "lumpenproletariat" are the "forgotten people from the bottom of society" and says the Panthers propose to educate, arm and train them into a vanguard for the overthrow of American society. The new Manifesto is being published in serial form in the Black Panther Newspaper. It carries a very real threat to America's existence.

The VA's annual report says veterans, their families, and survivors of deceased veterans account for nearly 96 million of America's population of just over 200 million.

Comments from the Capital —

ON THE NEED FOR REMAINING REASONABLE

by Vant Neff

The man I interviewed was public relations director for the "Free the Panthers" movement in New Haven. In the course of our reasoning I said,

"But someone was murdered. Who should be tried?"

"The police," he answered.

"Why not Jesus Christ?" I inquired of him.

"He could have prevented it!," he replied.

My sarcasm was lost on him. Instead came a long tirade that the police throughout the country had hampered the Black Panthers from registering their disapproval. My conclusion is that you can't rationalize with irrational people. The only thing to do, in my humble opinion, when someone steps out of line, is to slap him down. Condoning illegal actions creates criminals.

Funny, but the Woman's Liberation agitators want everything for women, yet the tactics they utilize to gain their objectives could hardly be considered feminine. Witness their brash behavior toward the editor of a national women's magazine. His office was invaded. He was locked in a closet. He was held prisoner for several hours, until he agreed to change the magazine's editorial policy to coincide with their oddball ideas. I suggest, that as far as femininity and women's rights are concerned, these wild, way-out gals may have won the battle—but lost the war.

Many people regard the militant Weatherman faction of the SDS as merely misguided young terrorists. Behind this mask of free love, high spirits and free everything else lies the same kind of rebellious fanaticism that foments riots, bombs and burns buildings and causes sabotage, wildcat work stoppages and strikes, all without batting a tender young eyelash. Last summer, well-indoctrinated Weathermen, about a thousand strong, emerged from hippie pads and went into industrial jobs where they practiced their revolutionary stratagems. They were so successful that you can count on the number multiplying this year. Their main targets may be arms factories, chemical warfare plants—who knows? "In hate" with almost everything, one of the fondest wishes of the SDS is to cause slowdowns and curtail production of war materials to demonstrate their support of the North Vietnamese. (Haven't you seen pictures of these shaggy kids, waving Vietcong flags?) I will be watching with great interest for whatever new strength and solidarity they may add to the "hell with everybody else!" attitude that's the credo of many troublemakers on the labor scene today.

Just out of jail, an outspoken labor leader recommended that all of the nation's lawmakers be locked up too. Why? Did they break any laws? Isn't this posture typical of many labor bigwigs who pretend to seek justice and fairness for all, but in reality want to make their own laws?

It's puzzling to me how a certain mayor has little concern for the problems that beset his crisis-torn city—dangerously inadequate public transportation, poverty, bombs, street riots, strikes, budget woes—but plenty of time and energy to devote to denigrating the government's position on Indochina. His name? John Lindsay of New York, a man, some think, with definite aspirations toward the Presidency of the United States! Better tidy your own backyard first, Mr. Mayor, before attempting to assume greater responsibility and even bigger problems.

Even though the automobile industry is facing some mighty challenges this year, the union masterminds won't relent in their unflagging quest for more. Money is the big prize, as always. The United Auto Workers Union is all set to spring its new demands this fall—totaling, it is conservatively estimated, 6 billion. And that's not pin money!

The Gallup Poll reveals that people are 4-1 in favor of Justice Douglas' impeachment. Not only has he written a book praising youthful rebellion (he's married again to a very young woman) but also has placed a similar article in a magazine that specializes in erotic material. "Shocking!" a Congressman described it. About time, I think, to look into Justice Douglas' fitness to sit on the Supreme Court bench where he wields so much power over the lives of so many. Clearly, most sensible Americans have come to the same conclusion. ***

It's a sore subject with many victims: the National Labor Relations Board's union-coddling rulings are keeping a stranglehold over the small business man. He may think he owns his own place. He may depend on it for his livelihood. But he doesn't really have much say in running it. Can he set up efficient work schedules? Can he promote the man he considers best equipped to handle bigger job responsibility? Can he discontinue an out-of-date product that's a dead loss financially? Before he does, he must first try to get the union to agree to the matter. This restraint on his freedom is imposed by the NLRB. Is it fair and just? Why is it that the NLRB is so consistently one-sided, in favor of the unions? Could it be because the labor chieftains they pamper play such an important role in political maneuverings, wielding their vast vote-throwing power like the strong man in the circus? Isn't it time to give our country's antiquated labor laws the good shaking up they so urgently need? A major revision is in order. Shouldn't the job be undertaken by impartial people with no political debts to pay off, and no apparent vulnerability to future pressures from union overlords? ***

Talk about labor troubles! Even the dog catchers in Brooklyn caught the strike bug. Here's hoping for a quick recovery for the poor pets, because strikes never benefit anyone, in the long run. ***

Congratulations to the Justice Department for turning thumbs down on the visa request of Mrs. W. E. B. DuBois, widow of the notorious Afro-American expatriate. After living abroad as a citizen of Ghana for many years, she was invited to speak at a university in the southern part of our country. How much trouble Mrs. DuBois might have stirred up had she been permitted to return to the U.S. is anybody's guess. But isn't the whole country now suffering from the effects of the violence, subversive ideas and rabble-rousing incited by Mr. DuBois' contentious campus clubs? ***

Psychology professor Dr. Kenneth B. Clark says that Vice President Agnew "uses the power and privilege of his position to DARE to interfere with the freedom of academic institutions." Question: aren't the students who seize and destroy university buildings and property interfering with academic freedom?

Cool Summer Tuna Salad Tempters

Tuna for summer cooking helps you beat the heat! Arouse warm weather appetite lags with these "break away from the ordinary" tuna delights.

Select-A-Salad has everyone making his own salad—start with chilled, protein rich Del Monte® Tuna, add crunchy celery and green pepper and top with an interesting flavor and texture of bean sprouts and fresh mushroom slices. Finish off this salad with your favorite dressing for a refreshing main dish—we suggest an oriental fare dressing using 3/4 cup mayonnaise, 3 tablespoons milk and 2 teaspoons soy sauce.

Select-A-Salad

- 1 can (6 1/2 or 7 oz.) Del Monte 1/2 cup sliced fresh mushrooms
- Tuna, chilled and drained 1 green pepper, sliced
- 1 can (16 oz.) bean sprouts, 2 tsp. sugar
- chilled and drained 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- 1/2 cup diagonally sliced celery 1 tsp. salt

Flake tuna. Arrange with bean sprouts, celery, mushrooms and green pepper on lettuce-lined serving platter. Serve with your favorite salad dressing. 4 servings.

Not the ordinary stuffed tomato salad, Sea Shell Tuna Salad carefully combines the delicate taste of tuna and shell macaroni in a cheese sauce with a just right and different flavor. This recipe can be put together without fuss and bother—but looks like it took much "to-do."

Sea Shell Tuna Salad

- 6 tomatoes 1 can (6 oz.) cheese sauce
- 1 cup shell macaroni, cooked 1/4 cup sour cream
- and drained 2 tsp. sugar
- 2 cans (6 1/2 or 7 oz. each) Del 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce
- Monte Tuna, drained and 1 tsp. salt
- flaked 1/4 tsp. pepper
- 1/4 cup sliced celery 1/2 cup lettuce
- 1/4 cup sliced green onion 1/2 cup lemon wedges
- 1/4 cup sliced stuffed green olives

Place tomatoes stem-side down. Cut each (not quite through) into 6 wedges. Chill. Combine macaroni, tuna, celery, onion and olives. Blend cheese sauce, sour cream, sugar, salt and pepper. Add to tuna mixture and mix well. Cover and chill. Just before serving, fill tomatoes with tuna mixture. Serve on lettuce-lined plates. Garnish with lemon wedges. 6 servings.

Frederick County Backgrounds

By SAMUEL CARRICK
The Galts of Piney Creek

Before continuing the Galt genealogy an old account of the original Galt homestead, written many years ago, is herewith given in full—as follows:
"An Old Land Warrant—Professor William L. Koontz found in the house of Edward S. Warner, formerly Miss Ellen Galt's, into which he recently moved as tenant, an interesting old parchment. It was a state warrant or patent, issued in 1805, in favor of Matthew Galt, the great-grandfather of Mrs. Stoll and Miss Anna Galt, for the farm they now own. The document is in remarkable good state of preservation, for its age, and the writing quite well executed and legible. The first portion of it is as follows: 'The State of Maryland to all persons to whom these presents shall come greeting; Know ye that whereas Matthew Galt, of Frederick County (now Carroll County), by his petition to the Honorable the Chancellor did set forth that the Petitioner on the third day of September, eighteen hundred and five obtained out of the Western Shore Land Office a special warrant to re-survey the lands lying in the County aforesaid and contiguous to each other, viz: part of Peter's Park, part of the re-survey on Owing's Chance in the re-survey on Brother's Agreement.

"In pursuance of it is certified into the Land Office that a re-survey on the whole of Peter's Park, etc. . . . doth grant and confirm unto the said Matthew Galt one entire tract called 'Galt's Fancy' his patent to 296 3/4 acres."

"The entire writing enters into minute description and details of the survey and so forth and is signed by the 'Honorable William Kilty, Esquire, Chancellor.'"

"The record is noted as being recorded in Liber J.C., No. S, Folio 504."

It will be remembered that Matthew (1) Galt was the ancestor of the Maryland Galts and both he and his wife are probably interred in graves that are now unmarked in the old section of the Piney Creek Presbyterian churchyard.

It is also reasonable to assume that since Matthew (1) Galt obtained the warrant or patent for his "lands" in 1805 that it was probably in 1804 or 1805 that he emigrated from Lancaster County, Pennsylvania, to what is now Carroll County, Maryland, but at that time still a part of Frederick County. That he came from the Conestoga Valley there can be no doubt—he had the inborn desire of the Scot for "wide spaces" and he followed the frontier.

The "issue" of Matthew (2) and Mary Galt are continued at this time—as follows:

11. Rebecca (3) Galt—married Benjamin Shunk and "had issue."
12. Samuel (3) Galt—married Mary Crockett and "had issue."

Note: Samuel (3) Galt and his wife, Mary (Crockett) Galt, have a family plot at Piney Creek Presbyterian churchyard and are interred there with several of their children. The inscriptions from the markers in this plot will be given later.

13. Mary (3) Galt—married William Jones and "had issue."

Note: There is a Jones family plot at Piney Creek but there are no markers therein for the daughter of Matthew (2) and Mary Galt and her husband. It is quite possible, however, that the graves are unmarked.

James (2) Galt, the second son of Matthew (1) and Elizabeth (Simpson) Galt, married and became the father of a daughter—as follows:

1. Elizabeth (3) Galt—married David Fisher and "had issue."
- John (2) Galt, th third son of Matthew (1) and Elizabeth (Simpson) Galt, married and became the father of at least seven children—as follows:

1. (Daughter) (3) Galt—married . . . (?) Ewing.
2. (Daughter) (3) Galt—married . . . (?) Dinsmore.
3. (Daughter) (3) Galt—married . . . (?) Brauner.
4. Elizabeth (3) Galt—married . . . (?) Dysert.
5. Mary (3) Galt—married . . . (?) Dysert.
6. Abner (3) Galt—"married and had issue."
7. (Son) (3) Galt.

Note: It is quite possible that this last son died in infancy for nothing appears to be known regarding him. In the family records he is "nameless" and this in itself points to an early death.

John (3) Galt, son of Matthew (2), married and was the father of at least one son—as follows:

1. Joseph (4) Galt—(no further data).

Note: Although there is no marker for John (3) Galt at Piney Creek—in the old section of the burial ground there is a stone with the following inscription:

1. In memory of Sarah Galt, wife of Cap. John Galt, Died February 20, 1864, Aged 85 years.

Note: It will be remembered that Matthew (1) Galt, the pioneer ancestor of the Maryland Galts, had a son named John (2) Galt. Whether Sarah Galt, the wife of "Cap. John" was the wife of this man or his nephew is not known.

James (3) Galt, the fourth son of Matthew (2) Galt, married and had at least six children—as follows:

1. Mary E. (4) Galt—married . . . (?) Davis and "had issue."
2. Matthew William (4) Galt—married Mary Jane Galt.
3. George Sterling (4) Galt—no additional data.
4. William (4) Galt—no additional data.
5. Jams Veitch (4) Galt—no additional data.
6. Thomas I. (4) Galt—no additional data.

Peter (3) Galt, the second son of Matthew (2) Galt, married and, in due time, became the father of six children—as follows:

1. Lucretia (4) Galt—no further information.
2. Mary (4) Galt—no further information.
3. Dr. John Murray (4) Galt—married Nancy Elizabeth Galt and "had issue."
- Washington (4) Galt—married Louisa Krise and had three daughters.

Note: Washington (4) Galt is somewhat of a mystery—mainly because he is interred in "lonely state" at Piney Creek while his wife and one of his daughters was removed from that burial ground and re-interred in the family plot of Abraham Krise in the Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. Just why this was done is not known—at the time it took place the husband and father was still living and must have given his consent. The answer to this is lost in "the mists of time" and may never be quite clear.

The notes pertaining to the "Maryland Galts", particularly those of Piney Creek, will be continued in this series next week.

Dental Detector May Spot Future Tooth Cavities

Equipment designed to examine lunar soil samples soon may find potential dental cavities at the University of Chicago. The device, an "ionizing radiation detector" is being modified to study the density of tooth enamel. When fully operational, the probe will enable dentists to spot areas on individual teeth where the enamel has started to dissolve and where dental decay is almost certain to start, even before there are any physical changes or decay that can be detected by current methods.

Tees up to 60 inches in diameter and elbows up to 84 inches can be produced on a new forming press that weighs a million pounds and has a pressing capacity of 3,000 tons. Capacity of the behemoth is twice that of the largest press previously used by Tube Turns to form elbows and tees for piping systems and permits it to enlarge greatly the size of these fittings to meet piping systems demands.

The ability to diagnose, at an early stage, an unusual form of cancer of the thyroid gland, me-dullary carcinoma, has been achieved by a team of scientists from several universities and hospitals. The diagnostic test developed by these researchers involves the use of a radioimmunoassay method which measures the concentration of a hormone—calcitonin—in the blood of patients.

Magnetic fields created by electrical currents in the heart offer an opportunity to check heart performance in a minute; it now takes 20 by conventional electrocardiogram. The equipment, called a magnetocardiograph, is undergoing tests at Syracuse University.

German copper miners in the Middle Ages called it "kupfer-nickel" (devil's copper) because it was an unwanted nuisance, an ore that looked like copper but didn't yield any. Today, known simply as nickel, the metal is still a puzzle in medical science. Of trade metals found in the human body, few have baffled researchers more. It seems necessary in some way; chickens raised without it develop leg deformities. Yet nickel is a cancer producer, found in tobacco smoke, car fumes and the air of some industrial plants.

Power lawn mowers—no toys where children are concerned

Cutting the grass on the family lawn, once a laborious chore for the man of the house, has been made faster, easier and more efficient by the introduction of the power mower. Unfortunately, the power lawn mower can also be a dangerous weapon and last year injured 140,000 people, an increase of 40 percent over 1968.

The power mower may well be the greatest thing to come along since grass, but it is also one of the most dangerous since it often is in the hands of amateurs, women and children. Children, in particular, are too often the victims of lawn mower accidents. The Council On Family Health, sponsored by the manufacturers of medicines as a public service, cautions parents to be watchful of young children when using power mowers during the summer months of fertile lawns.

A study of pediatricians at the Ohio State University College of Medicine reported that most lawn mower injuries to young children occurred under three circumstances: when the children, ranging in age from two to twelve years, were bystanders, when they were operating the machines, or when they were passengers on the mowers.

All three types of accidents could have been prevented if children under 13 had not been allowed to use these machines, if parents had not held children on their laps and if bystanders had been kept a safe distance away.

Some additional advice to parents using power mowers is:

- Never adjust or repair the machine while the motor is running.
- Try to thoroughly rake the lawn clear of stones, twigs or toys before cutting.

—When using rotary mower in tall grass or weeds, slow the engine speed to prevent damage to cutter blades.

—Periodically, clean and inspect mower parts to make sure nuts and bolts are tight.

Age is a very definite factor in lawn mower injuries, as the Ohio State study indicated. The Council On Family Health reminds all parents to remember that children are simply not mature enough to be given the responsibility of operating power mowers.

Story Hour Continues

Another activity which has attracted pre-school and elementary grade children continues through the summer months. On Saturday mornings at ten o'clock, stories and simple games entertain those attending the weekly Story Hour. Vida Antolin will be substituting this week for vacationing Kathy Stoner. Perhaps the wee folk in your home should be taking advantage of this service.

Among those books that the young listeners may wish to take home afterward are those described below:
"The Several Tricks of Edgar Dolphin," by Nathaniel Benchley, relates the adventure of a clever little fish. Edgar knows how to swim while holding seaweed in his mouth. He can leap out of water, and he even enjoys chasing ships for sport. One day as he practices his jumps, Edgar notices a strange ship. Some unusual things throw a net over the dolphin and Edgar finds himself on board in a small tank. Who would expect Edgar to outsmart his captors and get back to his mother?
Ever popular with those in the picture book and learning-to-read stages, Dr. Seuss educates and entertains with "Hop on Pop."

Aided by the explicit drawings, youngsters will soon read the simple words themselves.
A longer Dr. Seuss creation, "Horton Hatches the Egg," is the wild tale of an elephant who promises to care for the nest of Mayzie, a lazy bird. Horton gets a tremendous surprise when the long-awaited "bird" finally emerges.
Helen Oxenbury's new illustrations for an old poem, "The Quangle Wangle's Hat" (by Edward Lear), make a delightful book. A whimsical parade of characters who come to live on the hat of the colorful, but lonely Quangle Wangle bounce gaily over the pages. Children will want to hear this little story over and over again.

The ZIP Column

On Wednesday of this week, the President of the United States signed into law, the Postal Reform Bill.

As a result of this, the Postmaster General will no longer be a member of the President's Cabinet. The Post Office will be operated similar to that of a private corporation.

A 13 member advisory council will serve in conjunction with the commission, with advice on postal costs and revenues on postal rates, service, and compensation.

The Postmaster General and Deputy PMG will be Chairman and Vice Chairman, respectively.

Despite all rumors, there will be no immediate changes in postal rates or services.

As in the past, I will publish all items of interest to our patrons, in this column.

George E. Rosensteel, PM.

Letter To The Editor

To Members of the Emmitsburg and Thurmont Fire Departments My husband and I attended the 2nd show of your Country Music show on Saturday, Aug. 8.

We arrived 1 1/2 hours before how time and were first in line. One fireman gave us chairs to sit on while we waited and others stopped just to talk—and I hope everyone appreciates the men who worked in the awful storm to park cars and give help when needed.

We have recently moved to Maryland from Georgia and are surely glad that the well known "southern hospitality" extends as far north as Emmitsburg and Thurmont.

My husband is a musician and we have attended many country shows all over the country and in our opinion this was one of the best organized shows we have attended.

We are looking forward to more fine country entertainment sponsored by this fine organization. Please extend our thanks to everyone involved.

Mr. and Mrs. Doug Hall Hoods Mill Road Woodbine, Md. 21797

Attends Wedding

Mrs. Fred Timmerman attended the wedding of her granddaughter, Karen M. Hodge, in Sneedville, Tennessee on August 8.

Miss Hodge was married in Vardy Valley Meadow, a beautiful setting surrounded by mountains. She was attired in an 18th century styled gown of dotted Swiss and the groom, Mr. Frederick L. Bird wore a Edwardian style suit.

They are both voluntary "Vista" workers. Mrs. Timmerman was accompanied by her daughter, Mrs. Catherine Hodge of Bethesda.

Catoctin To Begin Football Practice

Bill Hodge, Head Coach of the newly organized football program at Catoctin High School, assures parents or guardians that their boys will be well protected for this year's football season.

Catoctin will open its doors to football August 15. Twice-a-day practice sessions will be held daily Monday thru Saturday. Monday thru Friday practices are from 9 a.m.-11 a.m. and 4 p.m.-6 p.m.

All prospective players must turn in their physical examination forms the first day of practice. No boy will be allowed to pracwithout this completed form. Hodge stated, "The squad will work seven days without equipment. During this period, conditioning and basic fundamentals will be emphasized, also at the conclusion of the seven days, the squad will be cut to 40 players."

Assisting Hodge will be Paul Nolan and Dominic Massett. The coach warns all prospects to be prepared to work hard.

T. Eichelberger Chosen President

Thomas M. Eichelberger, Register of Wills for Frederick County, has been chosen president of the Maryland Register of Wills Association.

Mr. Eichelberger was among the founders of this organization ten years ago and served as its first president.

He will be assisted by the following newly-elected officers: E. Randolph Burgess, of Kent County, vice president; Ruth H. Towler, Cecil County, secretary, and George W. Slack, Howard County, treasurer.

An executive committee was also selected consisting of Reese L. Starnor, Carroll County; J. Louis Davis, Baltimore County, and Harry Wilson, Talbot County.

Mr. Eichelberger is the author of the informative pamphlet entitled "Make A Will For Those You Love." Copies of the pamphlet are available to the public.

CULINARY ITEM: Take one dozen Phylloithodes Popillosus, steam them in either beer or salted water. Add some seasoning and you have an epicurean delight, indigenous to our fair shores!

What is it? I thought you knew! It's Maryland Steamed Crabs. I can't even pronounce this tongue twister, but aren't you glad I told you?

Bertha Swope Weds Roy Stottlemeyer
