Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Well, after months and months of being deluged with TV commercials and newspaper advertisements, the big day has come and gone and all is quiet once again. It is believed that more money was spent advertising the politicians this election than any before in the history of the nation. It is almost certain that some of the advertising paid off for the office-seekers while many others were not swayed a bit. In the over-all picture it is felt that the Democrats gained some ground against the Nixon administration and it proved that the efforts of the President and Vice President did not pay off as had been anticipated. Never in the history of the country has this sort of politicking paid benefits. It was tried before by Presidents Wilson, Roosevelt and Eisenhower. People become resentful of the outside interference and when they enter into a state race it almost always reflects a negative result. People know the candidate they like and also the one they dislike and to have Washington trying to ram them down their throats goes against the grain. Anyway, it's all over now for another two years. There were several startling surprises in the County races. Certain individuals were thought to be so-ins, but were handily upset by their opponents. Oh well, that's politics. There's one thing that puzzles me and that is the extent that the gathering of election results has slowed down. Several years back when we used the paper ballot, the results were known the next day. Now with computers and voting machines it sometimes takes several days to determine a winner. Is this really modernization?

Vandalism in this area seems almost to have disappeared in recent years. Very little damage was reported over the past Halloween although several suspicious fires did occur. Other nearby areas also reported little property damage. It was a shame that the Halloween Parade had to be cancelled but the downpour made it impractical to stage the affair. However, the kiddies went on their way Trick-or-Treating and there were no razor blades or needles found in any local apples.

Seek Names Of Veterans

The Frederick County Veterans' Association is seeking the names and addresses of all servicemen stationed in Vietnam so they can send them packages. Anyone in this area knowing of a serviceman in Vietnam should send their names and addresses to the Frederick County Veterans' Assn., P. O. Box 29, Frederick, Md., before Nov. 21, 1970. Packages will be sent to each of the servicemen on November 22.

Bags Big One

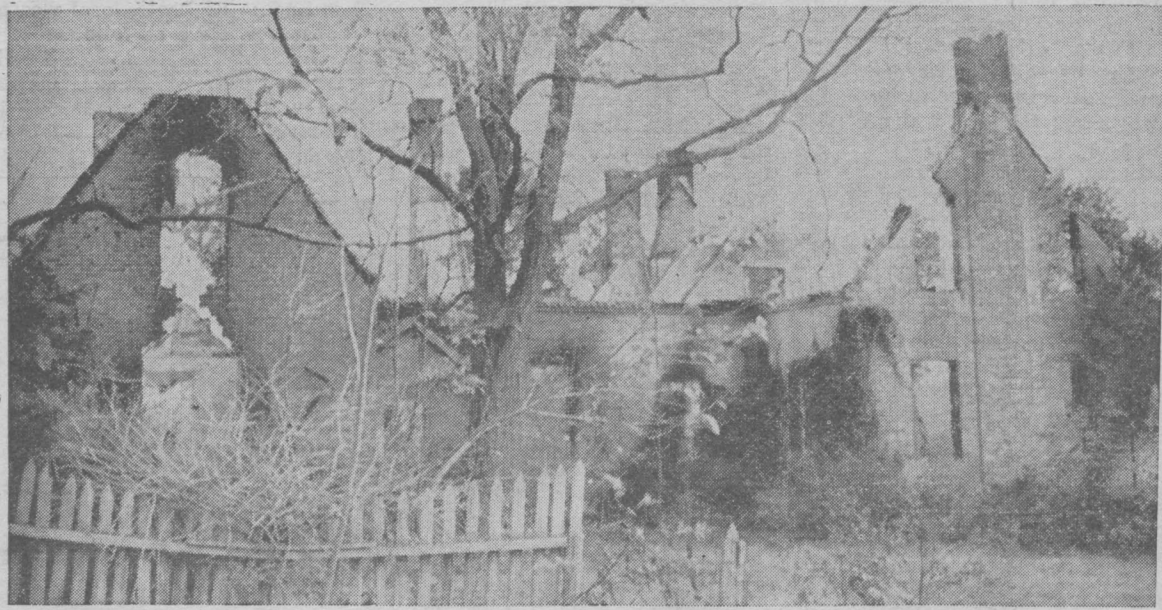

James Welty, 11-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. James Welty, W. Main St., proudly displays a 4½-pound wild goose which he bagged Tuesday while hunting at Easton, Maryland.

James, a sixth grader at the Emmitsburg Middle School, used a .410 shotgun to bag the bird.

Approximately 4.5 million blood transfusions are given in the United States every year.

Fire Destroys Emmitsburg Landmark

A fire of a suspicious nature destroyed a more than 100-year-old historic mansion early Wednesday morning. Firemen were called at 4:09 to the unoccupied 22-room house on the former Marie Rial estate, near the Route 15 Bypass intersection with Motter's Station Road, a half-mile south of Mt. St. Mary's College.

Approximately 65 firemen from Emmitsburg, assisted by others from Thurmont and Rocky Ridge, were unable to save the large three-story brick structure. After their efforts to save it proved futile, they stood by and allowed the entire interior to burn out, leaving the once stately brick walls standing.

Emmitsburg Fire Chief Guy R.

McLaughlin said a Maryland State fire marshal's representative, Charles Kronour of Hagerstown, arrived at the scene shortly after the alarm to investigate. McLaughlin said it was believed that the fire originated in the kitchen area at the west side of the home.

The home was owned by Col. G. E. Borst of the Washington, D.C., area, who purchased it from his mother-in-law, Mrs. Rial. McLaughlin said the home was built over 100 years ago by a prominent Emmitsburg resident, a Dr. Shorb. He named the estate "Clairvaux," a name that is still familiar to Emmitsburg residents. For several years the home was owned by the Daniel Roddy family who sold it to the Rial family. During its early years it is believed to have served as an inn.

Due to its historic importance, McLaughlin said he would not venture an estimate as to the monetary extent of the loss prior to contacting the owner of the property.

The fire was discovered by persons residing near the vacant dwelling.

Most of the firemen returned to their quarters about 7:30 a. m. while one Emmitsburg pumper was kept at the scene in case the fire flared up again.

It was the third fire at the estate over the years. One had destroyed a summer home and the other a barn.

Charnita Homes Are Looted

Pennsylvania State Police Tuesday investigated four more summer cabin burglaries in the Charnita sub-division.

State Police identified the victims and the locations of their cabins as William S. Marriott, Randallstown, Md., Dogwood Trail; George Selepis, Suitland, Md., Winter Trail; Jack Millar, Poolesville, Bluebird Trail, and Peter Farrell, Alexandria, Va., Birch Trail.

Entry to the first three cabins, police said, was made by breaking windows in doors, while the Farrell cabin was entered by breaking glass in a window. The extent of the loss was not determined.

Sunday state police had reported investigating four other cabin burglaries in the same sub-division.

Rosensteel, was the recipient of the Knight of the Year Award. A motion of intent to donate $250 to the Mother Seton School was made and will be voted on at the next meeting. The Council received a transfer application from Francis X. Ligorano, Mt. St. Mary's College Council, to Brute Council. Stanley McIntire was named chairman of a committee to sell tickets to an ice hockey game in Baltimore sometime in February. Eugene R. Rosensteel was named chairman of the Manresa Retreat committee.

Father Carl J. Fives reported on the Commemorative Mass for deceased members to be held prior to the meeting on November 16, at 7:30 p.m.

The Grand Knight presented certificates of merit to Robert L. Myers and Harry Otterson. William Austin, a member, was reported hospitalized at this time.

Anthony Izzo, state insurance director, presented the John F. Kennedy Insurance Award to the Council.

LOCAL SCHOOL IMPROVEMENTS ARE SOUGHT

In an effort to have conditions at the Emmitsburg Middle School up-graded to what was felt would be an acceptable level, the PTA of the Emmitsburg Middle School recently sent a letter of request to the Frederick County Board of Education asking for four steps to be taken which would put the local school on a satisfactory comparison with those of other sections of the county.

The members of the PTA and Mayor Samuel C. Hays of Emmitsburg, followed up the letter with an appearance at the regular meeting of the Board which was held Wednesday in Frederick. Members of the PTA felt that they had made progress, following the meeting, and the Board agreed to meet in Emmitsburg to study the problems at some future date.

The letter to the Board follows: Members of the Frederick County Board of Education:

The following is an appeal for aid in Emmitsburg School. We presented much the same type of report last year. Since that time we have made some small gains and members of your staff are continuing to give us assistance. This process is fine for improving areas that are at least minimally adequate.

We feel there are deficiencies in our school which prevent our children from receiving educational opportunities equivalent to other children in the county.

We believe that in order to achieve the following, the concerted effort of the entire Board of Education is required.

- I. An adequate library.
- II. An adequate physical environment.
- III. Qualified staff in sufficient quantity.
- IV. Kindergarten.

Sincerely,
Emmitsburg PTA

Admission is free and the public is welcome to attend the bi-centennial celebration.

Discuss School Conditions
"Are you happy working in a dirty school? Is your community clean? How about helping us have a clean school?"

These were some of the questions asked by Emmitsburg first and second graders on Monday, October 26. On this day Mrs. Whittaker's first grade and Miss Henning's first and second grade combination presented a clean-up assembly at the Emmitsburg Elementary School.

Several weeks ago the children had participated in cleaning up trash from the schoolyard. This was used as the basis for the program. The show included a skit, showing things to do to have a dirty school and things to do if you want a clean one. All of the children then sang a song, under the direction of Miss Penny Hallett, the music instructor. The program was concluded with a filmstrip entitled "Keep Maryland Beautiful."

Good Turnout For Election

Despite a heavy downpour and almost constant drizzle the entire day, about 60% of the eligible voters in Frederick County turned out to cast ballots at Tuesday's General Election. No irregularities were reported at any of the polling places and the whole affair went off smoothly.

The apparent upsets—based on unofficial returns—were in the races for Sheriff, where Richard O. Baumgartner edged incumbent Crummell P. Jacobs, and in the race for County Commissioner in which the two incumbents, Charles E. Collins and Russell Z. Horman were defeated by former Frederick Mayor John A. Derr, former Thurmont Mayor Donald Lewis and former commissioner and Woodsboro Mayor Lawrence A. Dorsey.

Frederick aided in J. Glenn Beall's state-wide upset of Senator Joseph D. Tydings by giving the Sixth District Congressman 14,449 votes to 7,188 for the embattled incumbent who said he was not conceding the election as late as midnight election night.

State Senator Goodloe E. Byron won the 6th District Congressional seat over George R. Hughes, Jr.

Charter government will not be given the opportunity as the Charter Board question was defeated 5,310 to 6,588.

One seat for the House of Delegates was left undecided. Only six votes separated County Commissioner Wallace E. Hutton and Galen R. Claggett, both Democrats, and the outcome for the House may have to await the official canvass later in the week, and the counting of nearly 400 absentee ballots. Hutton held the edge unofficially with 10,005 votes to 9,999 for Claggett.

C. Clifton Virts was the only incumbent member of the House of Delegates returned to office. Julien P. Delphey, won a seat with a strong showing and 11,035 votes, making his first try for office. Close behind were Hutton and Claggett.

Frederick County voters followed the same trends as recorded throughout Maryland, giving the Democrats a sweep of the top state offices on the ticket—Marvin Mandel for Governor, Blair Lee III for Lieutenant Governor, Louis Goldstein for Comptroller and Francis B. Burch for Attorney General.

The voters returned State Senator Charles H. Smelser, a Democrat of Union Bridge, to office, and gave the second Frederick-Carroll seat to Republican Edward Thomas.

Robert S. Rothenhoefer, unopposed, remains the State's Attorney for Frederick County with 13,104 votes.

Thomas M. Eicheleberger, incumbent Register of Wills, was swept back into office over Nicholas G. Vaciliou, 14,542 to 5,612.

Mrs. Charlotte Yarroll Kerrigan was unopposed in the race for County Treasurer, receiving 13,631 votes.

Veteran Clerk of the Court Ellis C. Wachter won 13,044 to 7,448 over Joseph R. Bradshaw who waged a hard campaign and was the only candidate to take advantage of the new school ruling to use high school social studies seniors in the campaign.

A surprising tight battle developed in the race for three seats as Judge of the Orphan's Court. Incumbent G. Raymond Shipley headed the three winners with 10,714, followed by E. Earl Remsburg, who gives up a seat in the House of Delegates for the post, with 10,082, and Austin F. Angleberger with 10,126.

Unopposed for Judge of the Circuit Court, Samuel W. Barrick, who wrapped the election up in the primary, received 7,485 votes.

In a stunning upset, Republican Richard D. Baumgartner defeated incumbent Democrat Crummell P. Jacobs in the race for Frederick County Sheriff.

Baumgartner polled 51 per cent of the votes cast, to 49 per cent for Jacobs.

Overall, Baumgartner took 11,068 votes to Jacobs' 10,490, closer even than the 1966 race when Jacobs, himself an underdog, defeated Horace Alexander by a total of 2,512 votes.

Frederick has a completely new Board of County Commissioners after two incumbents were defeated in the election, and the third voluntarily vacated his slot to run for the House of Delegates.

Democrat Lawrence A. Dorsey outdistanced all opponents with 12,215 votes, while Republicans John A. Derr and Donald L. Lewis also swept to victory with bell totals of 11,324 and 10,773, respectively.

Incumbent Charles E. Collins, who had served as county commissioner president, missed reelection with a total of 10,402 votes.

A Irvin Renn polled 7,778 votes and Russell Z. Horman, the second incumbent to be beaten, received 8,353 votes.

TOWN OFFERED NEW WATER SUPPLY; COUNCIL STUDIES OFFER
Emmitsburg might possibly have accessible another source of fresh water supply under a plan submitted by Charnita, Inc., at the regular monthly meeting of the Mayor and Commissioners held Monday evening in the Town Office, J. Norman Flax, chairman of the Board, presiding.

Bernard Syndor, representing Charnita, was present at the meeting and discussed the possibility of constructing a large fresh water lake in the Tract Road area, which the Town of Emmitsburg might possibly put to use during any water shortage it might experience. Mr. Syndor also discussed the erection of a sewerage treatment plant on Charnita's ground and asked the Town's capabilities as to handling additional sewerage. The Council is taking the matter under advisement.

Paul E. Humerick was present and asked the Council to take action to stop the "garaging" of cars on Depaul Street, especially over weekends when the space is needed for church-goers. Council advised Mr. Humerick to obtain a formal request from the church for such action. Clarence E. Hahn asked for information regarding a right-of-way for an alley adjacent a tenant house he owns on West Main Street.

Police Chief W. Henry Filler presented his monthly report to the Town Fathers and asked to have installed new street signs where needed. He explained that these signs had been ordered and received some time ago and were badly needed. The Chief also asked that a traffic hazard at the intersection of East Main St. and mental illness among hatmakers. The diagnosis: too much daily contact with mercury used in treating felt.—Sports Afield.

Lady Senator To Address College Group

Schweinhaut, State Senator from Montgomery County and member of the Maryland Senate Judicial Proceedings Committee, will address prospective members of Kappa Gamma Pi at St. Joseph College on Tuesday, Nov. 10, at 7:00 p.m. in Dubois Lounge on campus. Senator Schweinhaut will speak on "The Role of the Catholic Woman in Political Service to the Country." The lecture is open to all students, faculty and the general public.

Senator Schweinhaut's political career is highlighted by her support and sponsorship of legislation aimed at promoting the growth and welfare of the State and its citizens. Notable among her activities was her sponsorship of legislation enacted in 1959 establishing the State Commission on Problems of the Aging. She has served as chairman of the Commission since June 1959. A consultant to the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare on nationwide problems of aging, Senator Schweinhaut is also a member of the board of the National Council on Aging.

Senator Schweinhaut attended George Washington University and the National University Law School. She was elected to the Maryland House of Delegates in 1954, appointed to the Maryland Senate in 1961, and re-elected in 1966. In addition to the Judicial Proceedings Committee, Senator Schweinhaut serves on the Senate's Rules Committee and the Executive Nominations Committee.

Kappa Gamma Pi, the national honor society for Catholic College women graduates, aims to achieve a high standard of personal Christian excellence and scholarship among its members, to encourage individual and group participation in local and national church and secular affairs, and to awaken a spirit of Catholic leadership among undergraduates of Kappa-affiliated colleges.

Members of Kappa Gamma Pi must rank academically in the top ten per cent of their class and be leaders in extra-curricular campus activities or volunteers in off-campus projects. Names of new members are announced each year at the Honors Convocation.

Okay Plans For 15 Dualization

The State Roads Commission has received design approval from the U. S. Dept. of Transportation, Federal Highway Administration, for the proposed dualization of the section of U. S. 15 between Hayward Road (Harmony Grove) and Putnam Road, a distance of approximately 6.65 miles, in Frederick County.

The design, as proposed and contained in a study report developed subsequent to a public hearing held in Lewistown, Md. on May 6, 1970, provides for the dualization of this section of U. S. 15 by constructing an additional roadway (northbound).

The proposed mainline construction consists of a 24-foot roadway with a four-foot stabilized shoulder on the median side (left) and a 10-foot stabilized shoulder on the outside (right).

Between Hayward Road and Tuscarora Creek, a 50-foot median will be maintained. In the vicinity of Tuscarora Creek the median will transition from a 50-foot width to a 76-foot width and continue as such to the northern limit of the project (Putnam Road). Marginal right-of-way taking throughout the limits of the project will be necessary in order to contain the mainline construction. Additional right-of-way will also be needed to provide suitable connections relative to the following existing roads:

Willow Brook Road, Biggs Ford Road, Sunday's Lane, Old U. S. 15 (Station 230+).

Stull Road, Bowers Road, Fish Hatchery Road and Old U. S. 15 (Station 433+).

Bridges carrying the northbound roadway over Tuscarora Creek and Fishing Creek will be constructed.

Control of access is to be taken from a point south of Hayward Road to Tuscarora Creek. From Tuscarora Creek throughout the remainder of the project, control of access is now in existence.

Geometrics and safety provisions commensurate with a 60-mile per hour design speed have been incorporated in the proposed construction.

Maps, drawings, sketches and other information concerning the design approval are publicly available during normal working hours at the SRC's District 7 Office, 4 Locust St., in Frederick.

School To Sponsor Book Fair

The Thurmont Elementary School will sponsor a student book fair from Nov. 9 to Nov. 13. Students will be able to browse and purchase books. The book fair will be open during the hours of 9 a.m. to 3 p.m. Books will be on display in Room 10. Books can also be ordered at the Thurmont Elementary PTA meeting on Nov. 17.

The book fair committee invites all students, parents and visitors to attend the fair. The fair will not only help spur student interest in reading and building home libraries, but will also contribute to a worthwhile project. The school earns 20% of all sales and profits will be used for needed equipment in the school.

The book fair display will include attractive new books from many publishers in all popular price ranges. All reading areas of interest to students will be represented, including classics, fiction, biographies, adventure stories, science, nature, crafts, mystery and reference books. Wonderful books to read or to give as gifts. The committee is working with Educational Reading Service, a professional book fair company, to furnish an individual selection of books for the fair.

Laurel Has Best For Classic Race

When Fort Marcy meets Fiddle Isle as representatives of the United States in the Washington, D.C. International at Laurel Race Course on Nov. 11, the race unquestionably will decide the grass champion of 1970, but victory by either one also could swing a preponderance of votes in the Horse of the Year balloting.

The U. S. thoroughbred sport has been notably lacking in the handicap division this season except for the specialized segment which concentrates on grass competition. Fort Marcy and Fiddle Isle have been standouts on the turf, and their general records are so impressive that they have to be considered when votes are cast for the United States' best. The key to earning the Horse of the Year crown may prove to be a third horse invited to run in the mile and one-half International at Laurel Race Course. He is Lorenzaccio, one of only two horses in the world ever to have beaten the European "wonder horse" Nijinsky.

When Lorenzaccio accepts the challenge over Laurel's grass, and either Fort Marcy or Fiddle Isle can beat him, it should convince the experts that the victor merits more recognition than merely as a turf king.

Fort Marcy, who runs for Paul Mellon's Rokeby Stable, which owned 1969 Horse of the Year Arts and Letters, and Fiddle Isle, who is owned by Howard B. Keck, nonetheless will have to lure votes away from the 3-year-old Personality, a lukewarm "favorite" for national honors.

Both Fort Marcy and Fiddle Isle have shown more ability at carrying weight and running distances than Personality, and these qualities are supposed to be attributes of classic thoroughbreds. If either can beat the horse that licked Nijinsky, who lost only the last two races of his brilliant career in Europe, his campaign for the national championship will be enormously strengthened.

French Play At Local College

Area residents are reminded that Le Treteau de Paris will present "Caligula" at St. Joseph College on November 14 at 2:30 p.m., in DePaul Auditorium.

"Caligula", the best known of Albert Camus' plays, relates the story of an attractive prince, Caligula, who comes to the realization that "men die and they are not happy." The language of the play is simple and straightforward.

Jean-Pierre Leroux will star in the title role. A graduate of the Conservatory of Dramatic Art of Lille and the Conservatory of Dramatic Art in Paris, Leroux has appeared on television as Caligula. He also had a major part in the movie, "Photo-Finish," by Peter Ustinov and he played the role of Amedee in Jacques Audibert's "Quoat-Quoat." Most recently he has been offered roles on French television.

Other actors in the production are Marcel Guido as Helecon, Jean-Louis Broust as Scipion, Daniel Gall as Cherea, and Claudia Morin as Caesonia. The play is staged by Georges Vitaly. After the performance Le Treteau de Paris will be the guest of Pi Delta Phi, the French Honor Society, and the French Department at dinner in Brute Hall. Tickets may be purchased through the mail by sending requests addressed to the French Department of the college, or at the door. General admission is $3.50 and students tickets are $2.50.

Belgian To Talk At College

Dr. Louis Dupre will lecture on "Symbolism, Old and New, in Religion," at St. Joseph College on November 9 at 8 p.m. in Dubois Lounge.

A native of Belgium, Dr. Dupre is presently professor of philosophy and theology at Georgetown University, Washington, D. C. He received his Ph.D. from the University of Louvain in Belgium and his licentiate in theology in 1958.

Dr. Dupre has published books in English and Dutch. One of his most recent books which co-edited is "Approaches to Marolity" (Harcourt, Brace and World, Inc., 1966). A fellow of the American Council of Learned Societies, Dr. Dupre was elected president of the American Catholic Philosophical Association for the 1970-71 term.

Church Women Plan Observance

Church Women United will celebrate World Community Day on Friday, November 6, at United Trinity Methodist Church at 7:30 p.m. The 1970 observance will highlight International Education Year as designated by the United Nations. The theme for the program is: "Use a Key for Tomorrow: Education."

The Marijuana Menace
Director John E. Ingersoll of the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs now estimates that nearly 50 per cent of the high school and college youth of America are experimenting to some extent with dangerous drugs. The most widely used drug is Marijuana. And not one in 10,000 of the young people who are almost daily smoking this so-called "grass" or "pot" is willing to concede that it is seriously harmful. The youth imposed "blackout" of the truth about Marijuana is one of America's gravest problems.

That is why in the four booklets of our "Educational Survival Kit," one deals fully with the "Dangers from the Misuse of Drugs"—and devotes extensive space to the dangers of Marijuana.

Marijuana And Then . . .
Nearly every other dangerous drug is more powerful than Marijuana. Yet this fact in itself is a factor in the conclusion that Marijuana is our most dangerous drug enemy. It is easier to be persuaded to take a puff of a harmless-looking cigarette than to be initiated with a hypodermic syringe, its needle pushed painfully into a vein in your arm. So—many young people, just to be good sports and so not to be called "chicken", take their first puffs of Marijuana. They may not get hooked later on the deadlier drugs, but they have opened the door; they are in danger of taking the acid trip with LSD, the ups and downs with the pills and capsules, and finally the horrible no-return step up to Heroin.

Dr. Stanley F. Yolles, while Director of the National Institute of Mental Health, the "hub" of a vast crash program of research into the physically-destructive capabilities of Marijuana is a hallucinogen; a mild euphoria and leads to heightened suggestibility and faulty perception; adversely affects one's ability to drive an automobile or perform other skilled tasks; is known to cause reddening of the eye membranes, rapid heartbeat, muscular incoordination, unsteadiness, drowsiness, and distortion of time and space perception.

Induces Psychosis

Dr. Yolles says research so far proves that Marijuana produces visual hallucinations, pronounced anxiety, paranoid reactions, and transient psychosis lasting four to six hours. The facts show it to be similar to LSD. Dr. Yolles declares: Marijuana, in sufficiently high dosage of THC (its chemical element), induce psychotic (insane) reactions in almost any individual. Continuing studies suggest that a heavy intake of Marijuana THC over a long period of time may render the user incapable of having normal children. Other studies suggest that a heavy concentration of THC may cause a condition called "softening of the brain." This is a condition found in some heavy LSD users.

As of now, no evidence has shown Marijuana to be physically addictive; but all the evidence shows that continued use may be psychologically addictive; it becomes a "crutch" for the maladjusted to lean on. One of the foremost authorities with the Federal Bureau of Narcotics and Dangerous Drugs, James R. Bland, says: "Heroin addiction will accompany or follow Marijuana in a significant number of cases. Eight out of every 10 Heroin addicts I've talked to in the last 10 years started their drug 'career' with Marijuana." And Mr. Bland pointed up the terrible seriousness of this by adding that once a person is "hooked" on Heroin, death or insanity is his almost certain destiny. Not one out of 10 Heroin addicts ever returns to normal life.

Grave Challenge

Our little booklet takes up the dangerous drugs in their four major categories: (1) the so-called "hard" narcotics; (2) the acid stimulants; (3) the depressants; (4) the hallucinogens. The hard narcotics come from the Opium poppy — morphine and heroin are the "mainliners". Heroin is the most deadly drug of all. The acid stimulants are the amphetamines, they act directly on the central nervous system and give a false feeling of energy; they keep the user awake for long periods. The depressants bring sleep. They are Barbiturates. It is easy to get "hooked" on these "Ups and Downers." Then the hallucinogens with LSD the most famous, and Marijuana the most used.

All of the known facts about these drug "mind-warppers" and killers need to be brought to the attention of every boy and girl, every man and woman—if our nation is to stamp out the menace which now threatens our whole culture.

New Frontier Club Holds Meeting

For the past two meetings, the ladies of the New Frontier Democratic Women's Club have met with Mr. James Dean, Superintendent at the Victor Cullen Home, once at the home of Mrs. Klosky, and again at the institution itself. On both occasions the members of the group received quite an awakening to an ever increasing problem in our country, "Juvenile Delinquency."

I'm sure the people of Emmitsburg and Thurmont are quite familiar with the home of Victor Cullen. In past years it was a home for people stricken with tuberculosis. Today it's Frederick County's home and school for juvenile delinquents.

There are many problems that face Mr. Dean and Victor Cullen Home. The Juvenile Court established at the turn of the century, was destined to reclaim America's lost youth by providing a valid second chance, a moment of hope, which a child and the adults in his world could seize upon to reconstruct his life. For was it not obvious that a troubled, deprived, or needy youngster might otherwise perish or turn to crime as a way to survive in an alien community? The institutions to which some of those children were dispatched remained at heart, 19th century orphanages, only slightly updated.

But during the last quarter century changes in the way and meaning of life have been so rapid that guidelines for behavior number. Do we realize that 62% of the child and his problems are easily lost in this age of big government and big business. It's not difficult to understand that a Juvenile Court has found it harder and harder to cope with today's children. Though their arrival and departure are largely hidden from public view, these children move through the halls of justice in an ever increasing of all car thefts are attributable. Many, many things must be acted upon by the juvenile courts. Apathy, indifference and deep-rooted hostility on the part of the community have been a hindrance rather than a help to the juvenile courts. It will not suffice for "thinkers" and "planners" to construct million dollar programs for administrative reforms and elaborate departmental recommendations as long as middle class white America views these children as "bad seed", incapable of change. For we must realize that the out of sight, out of mind, system won't work. For today's juveniles, will be taller, stronger and more hell-bent on vengeance tomorrow.

The people at Victor Cullen are trying to change this. Their programs and methods are new. The "cottages" are old, and in dire need of reconstruction. They are without a real gymnasium which is so very vital to these children. Many, many things must be accomplished before Victor Cullen is the home and school Mr. Dean dreams it will be; but what's important is they have started and in the years to come his dream will be a reality.

In closing I refer to a favorite quote of the late Senator Robert F. Kennedy: "Some men see things as they are and ask why, —I dream things that never were and ask, why not?"

Tire Stocks Set To Roll
By Babson's Reports, Inc.

New Approach To Feeding 40 Million More School Children

A plan to use the resources of the nation's foodservice industry to help feed an additional 40 million youngsters under the National School Lunch Program has been announced by the National Restaurant Association (NRA).

NRA represents all segments of the $46 billion foodservice industry. Its figures show that only 20 million students are receiving school lunch benefits today under the program whose original intent was to serve 60 million, according to NRA President, Martin L. Horn, Jr.

Horn said that the way has been opened for private industry to bring its expertise to bear on the problem of feeding the nation's school children by a change in the Department of Agriculture's School Lunch Regulations.

"Until the recent change, a school which wanted to use a private contractor to provide lunches was unable to benefit from federal subsidies," he stated.
"Now schools can engage private foodservice contractors to provide not only lunches but even breakfasts at low cost and to meet stringent nutritional standards."

Over half of the nation's private schools, including colleges, already employ food management companies.

Under the revised regulations, a foodservice contractor can prepare the lunches at a central point and deliver them to the school. In some instances, the contractor, drawing on his experience in other feeding operations, such as airlines, industrial plants, etc., may find a way to install facilities, possibly including vending machines.

Wellesley Hills, Mass., October 29, 1970—Tire companies have had a tough time, suffering from the economic slowdown, a disruptive strike within the industry, a soft auto market, inflation of raw-materials prices and wage costs, and now the General Motors strike. Then, too, there has been the expense of converting to bias-belted and radial-ply tire production. Consequently, the lower earnings registered last year have persisted into 1970. First-half results were off markedly, and full-year earnings, reflecting the strikers, will likely be under the year-earlier period.

Rebound Ahead

Despite a slow start and some uncertainties, however, the overall outlook for the industry is far from gloomy. Among the bright spots: Big replacement market; expected pickup in new car output once the auto industry settles its labor problems; a decline in changeover expenses; recent price boosts; benefits from plant modernization.

For reasons of safety, longer wear, and wider variety of uses, the industry has been switching to the new bias-belted and radial-type tires. Estimates show belts have captured between 45% and 66 2/3% of the market for new cars. These types are longer wearing by 15% - 30% than conventional tires, but cost of conversion was underestimated so cost overruns hurt profits last year and even into this year. But brighter earnings prospects are emerging now that conversion is practically completed and costs can be better controlled. Look, too, for improving demand in both new and replacement markets.

Offshoots Of Competition

At present, five tire makers control the biggest part of the market: Firestone, Goodyear, Uniroyal, Goodrich, and General. Some have expansive product mixes, but here we will emphasize their place in the tire field. Competition and market demands have forced manufacture of a wider selection of products in terms of components, sizes, and styles. Safety features were incorporated into quality standards at the same time, adding to the higher operating costs.

Bias-belted tires have taken a good share of the market and are extremely popular with consumers. Companies failing to capitalize on this trend will feel more pressure on profit margins.

Replacement Market

Weak demand for new cars plus the prolonged strike may well reduce 1970 auto production by more than 1 million units. . . dependent, of course, on how much longer the tie-up lasts. Hence, tire output for the original equipment market will fall by approximately 10%. But it should be noted that replacement tire demand currently accounts for over two-thirds of industry sales and could more than offset the dip in original equipment turnover. With more than 100 million vehicles on the road, total shipments of replacement tires are projected to 136 million this year compared with 129 million for 1969.

An encouraging feature of the outlook for tire makers is that cars two or more years old are on the increase because of the bulge in production figures in the auto field from 1967 to 1969. This group is now ripe for tire replacement. These factors should be beneficial to tire companies in terms of future profits and earnings, and increasingly so for the months further ahead.

Stock Recommendations
For investors seeking capital appreciation, the Research Staff of Babson's Reports recommends two common stocks, both traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Among the biggest tire manufacturers is Uniroyal, which is considered an attractive purchase at this time in terms of both price and yield. Another issue with excellent prospects is Armstrong Rubber, also moderately priced and with a more liberal percentage yield than many other companies. Armstrong is not among the big, but has a very strong market position.

Blue Cross Improves Service

Nine more Baltimore area hospitals have been added to a new high-speed communications network designed to further improve service to Maryland Blue Cross members.

The new system, under development by Blue Cross for more than a year, will substantially reduce the time required to approve hospital patient admissions. Fourteen metropolitan hospitals are now participating.

Latest to go "on line" are University, Church Home, Sinai, St. Agnes, Mercy, Lutheran, Bon Secours, St. Joseph and Baltimore County hospitals. The Greater Baltimore Medical Center was the first facility to convert to the new system five months ago and was followed by Union Memorial, Johns Hopkins, Maryland General and North Charles General.

By the end of 1970, five other Maryland hospitals are scheduled to be linked to the Blue Cross computer. Six more are to go on line early next year.

Business office personnel at each hospital are being instructed on the use of the system by Blue Cross representatives before their unit begins operation.

According to a Blue Cross spokesman, the time required for processing admissions and transmitting the data back and forth between hospitals and Blue Cross may be reduced, in many cases, from as long as four days under the previous system to less than one minute under the new.

The hospital's component in this computer link-up is an IBM 2740-2 communications terminal which resembles an electric typewriter. Business office personnel simply type patient information such as name and membership number on the unit's keyboard.

This data then is transmitted over telephone lines to the Blue Cross computer. There it is automatically converted to computer language and passed on to random access storage units which are designed to provide immediate access to members' history files. The requested information is obtained and flashed back to the computer which, in turn, forwards a typewritten reply to the hospital providing the patient eligibility data. All of this is accomplished in a matter of seconds.

The whitetail is an animal created by the stresses and pressures of 15 million years of evolution. It reached this continent, probably in the middle Miocene period, via an isthmus that existed between Siberia and Alaska. The whitetail, a tough and beautiful animal, still remains abundant after four centuries of intense sport hunting.—Sports Afield.

4-H'ers Get $1.4 Million for Education in 10-Year Period

A total of 286 scholarships valued at $166,700 are offered this year to current and former 4-H members. These bring the dollar amount of educational grants given during the last decade to $1.4 million.

The figures were compiled by the National 4-H Service Committee, Chicago, which obtains funds from private sources.

Some 45 of 60 donors contribute funds for scholarships which range from $300.00 to $1,600.00. Each business firm or foundation sponsors a specific program such as safety, or underwrites scholarships to be used in pursuing specific courses of study such as forestry.

Several companies have been supporting 4-H in this manner for about 50 years. Among the pioneers are Montgomery Ward; International Harvester Company; The Santa Fe Railway System; Chicago and North Western Railway Company; The Sears-Roebuck Foundation and Kerr Glass Manufacturing Corporation.

The Barr Family
The next family, members of Piney Creek Presbyterian Church, who can boast of early burials in the old graveyard, are the Barrs. This clan settled north of the Mason-Dixon Line, in what is Mt. Joy Township, Adams County, Pennsylvania. However, they were members of the Presbyterian church and attended "meeting" at Piney Creek.

Unfortunately the early records of Piney Creek Church have been lost. However, a subscription list of those who "contributed to the minister's salary" in 1817, contains the name of James Barr. On a roll of communicants made in January, 1824, Isabella Barr, James Barr (an Elder in the Congregation), Margaret Barr, and

Sally Barr, are listed

In the Clerk's Office, in the Courthouse, Frederick, Maryland, on a record of those who obtained marriage licenses from 1778 to 1800, under date of November 26, 1783, Hugh Barr was licensed to marry Priscilla James. It is interesting to note that Hugh is the only member of the Barr family mentioned in a list of several thousand.

In the old burial ground at Piney Creek there are, at the present time, six graves of the Barr family designated by markers. A hundred years ago, more or less, the bodies of five, or possibly six, members of this clan were removed to the Barr plot, in the Evergreen Cemetery, at Gettysburg, Pennsylvania. The "Permit Books" of the latter are somewhat vague and contradictory on this point. Only one adult body was moved—the others were those of children.

According to the account of the Barr family contained in the "History of Adams and Cumberland Counties" (1885), their genealogy is as follows:

James (1) Barr, the pioneer ancestor of the American family, was a native of the "North of Ireland" both of Scotch descent. He came to this country, following the tide of emigration, before the War of the American Revolution, and settled on a tract of land in what is now Mount Joy Township, Adams (then York) County, Pennsylvania. He married into the Watson family but the given name of his wife is not known at this time. Undoubtedly James (1) Barr and his wife are interred at Piney Creek and their graves were probably marked by fieldstones but, as noted in a previous column, these old markers were taken out and destroyed many years ago. Since the majority of them did not bear an inscription they were considered worthless.

James (2) Barr, son of James (1) and . . . (?) Watson Barr, "was a boy", in years at least, when his parents settled on what was then the far western frontier. This second James married into the Leckey family and apparently the given name of his wife was "Isabelle"—according to the inscription on the marker at her grave in Piney Creek churchyard.

James (2) and Isabelle (Leckey) Barr were the parents of the following children:

1. George (3) Barr—died December 31, 1826—aged 52 years—interred in the Piney Creek burial ground.

Note: The obituary of George (3) Barr was published in the "Adams Sentinel" (later the "Star and Sentinel")—as given:

1. Monday, January 9, 1837—
"Departed this life, on December 31, 1836, Mr. George Barr, of Mountjoy Township, this County (Adams), in the 53rd year of his age."

George (3) Barr apparently never married for he is interred in the family plot of his father and mother and there is no record of or mention made of wife or children.

2. Mary (3) Barr—no further data.

3. James (3) Barr—married Margaret Hunter—first buried in Piney Creek graveyard but body later removed to the Evergreen Cemetery, Gettysburg. This third James died in 1852 and it was not until December 6, 1871 that his "remains" were transferred to the Gettysburg graveyard.

The marriage record of James (3) Barr was published in the "Adams Sentinel", under date of Wednesday, May 1, 1816—

2. "Married, Thursday, April 25, 1816, by the Rev. Robert Smith Grier, Mr. James Barr to Miss Margaret Hunter the daughter of Mr. Joseph Hunter, of this County (Adams)."

The inscriptions from the tombstones of James (3) and Margaret (Hunter) Barr, in the Barr family plot, Area A of the Evergreen Cemetery are as follows:

1. In memory of James Barr, Born May 18, 1786, Died December 27, 1852.

2. In memory of Margaret Barr, wife of James Barr, Born June 15, 1791, Died October 27, 1870.

4. Sarah (3) Barr—died unmarried and interred in the family plot at Piney Creek—the inscription follows:

3. Sacred to the memory of Sarah Barr, Died July 18, 1854, Aged 65 years.

5. Nancy (3) Barr—died unmarried and interred in the family plot at Piney Creek—

4. Sacred to the memory of Nancy Barr, Died July 10, 1863, Aged 71 years.

6. Margaret (3) Barr—no further data.

7. Alexander L. (3) Barr—died unmarried and interred in the family plot at Piney Creek. The obituary of Alexander L. (3) Barr was published in the "Adams Sentinel" under date of April 24, 1819:

3. "Died, Monday, April 19, 1819, at the residence of his brother in Mountjoy Township, this County (Adams), after a lingering indisposition, Mr. Alexander L. Barr, late of this borough (Gettysburg), in the 22nd year of his age."

On his tombstone at Piney Creek appears the following inscription:

5. Sacred to the memory of Alexander L. Barr, Died April 19, 1819, Aged 22 years.

James (2) and Isabelle (Leckey) Barr, the parents of the seven children listed above, are also buried at Piney Creek, in the second row of graves, facing east, near the road, in company with their four unmarried children.

6. In memory of Isabelle Barr, wife of James Barr, Died July 18, 1830, Aged 75 years.

4. "Adams Sentinel", Tuesday, July 27, 1830—

"Died, July 18, 1830, after a lingering illness, which she bore with Christian fortitude, Mrs. Isabella Barr, of Mountjoy Township, this County (Adams), in the 75th year of her age."

7. In memory of James Barr, Died November 19, 1814, Aged 66 years.

5. "Adams Sentinel", Wednesday, November 23, 1819—

"Died, November 19, 1814, at his farm in Mountjoy Township, this County (Adams), aged 62 years, Mr. James Barr."

The notes on the Barr family and their many "in-aws" will be continued in this series next week.

BOSTON — The Christian Science Church Center now rising in Boston's Back Bay will provide a focal point for new and existing church buildings surrounded by the changing metropolitan skyline. Thousands of Christian Scientists from around the world are meeting this week at The Mother Church (left) while construction moves forward on the project designed for The First Church of Christ, Scientist, by L. M. Pei and Partners. A new Sunday School (foreground), a 26-story Administration Building (under cranes at far right), and a five-story Colonnade Building adjoining The Christian Science Publishing Society headquarters (beyond church tower) will be reflected in a pool on the central plaza, which has been built over an underground garage. On the perimeter of the Church Center many highrise apartments and office buildings are planned or are in progress under private development.

One of the most common mistakes women make when they buy clothes is buying the wrong size. Lots of women with perfectly trim figures hide their assets under saggy, baggy dresses a full two sizes too large, while heavier types tend to squeeze into a size smaller than they need.

Proper fit can make a moderately priced dress look like a couture design and vice versa.

Check these points when shopping:

- Does the hem hang straight and even?
 - Does the dress lie smooth across the back of the neck, or does it gap?
 - Does the front of the neckline rub your neck and make the dress uncomfortable?
 - Do the shoulders fit snugly but not too tight?
 - Is the waistline too high or too low in front and in back?
 - Are the armholes cut high and neat so there's no droop in front or across the bodice?
 - Is the skirt cut just full enough in the hips to cover smoothly and hang straight?
- Remember, a fashion-wise shopper is a fashion right dresser!

COOKING WITH SPIRIT

Perking Up Summer Salads

Practice a little wine-wizardry this summer on salads. Use wine when making crisp greens, marinated vegetable or tangy fruit salads. You'll be surprised at the flavor pick-up wine gives to dressings and marinades. Here are some salad-making tips:

Wash lettuce when you get it home from the store. Break romaine, leaf lettuce and bibb lettuce into leaves, wash well and store in plastic bags. Soak and dry for several minutes in cool water to remove fine dirt particles and store in a plastic container or plastic bag.

Catawba wine is an excellent flavor enhancer for salad dressings. For a tasty dressing over green salads the home economists at Mogen David recommend: Combine in a jar: 1/2 cup salad oil, 1/4 cup red wine vinegar, 3 tablespoons Red Catawba wine, 1 clove garlic, 1 tablespoon chili sauce, 1 tablespoon mixed Italian herbs. Shake until well blended. Let stand to blend flavors. Remove garlic before adding to green salad.

For a delightful new flavor marinate fresh fruit in Cherry, Blackberry or Rosé wine several hours before serving.

White or Rosé wine is perfect to serve with green salads, while Dry Red, Cherry, Blackberry and Concord wine are good accompaniments for fruit salads.

A good dressing for a fruit salad is made with Cherry wine: combine 1/4 cup sour cream, 1/2 cup of cream, whipped and 2 tablespoons Cherry wine with a small amount of fruit juice to taste.

ZIP Column

On Wednesday, November 11, our office will be closed, in observance of Veterans' Day. There will be no rural delivery service.

Our Mail Transportation has been cancelled, for this holiday, by our Sectional Center, therefore, there will be no dispatch nor receipt of mail.

Two special issue Christmas Stamps have been printed this year, and will go on sale at our office today.

First, "The Nativity", was placed on sale at Washington, D. C., on November 5. This stamp was reproduced from the painting by Lorenzo Lotto, a 16th Century Italian painter. It now hangs in the National Gallery of Art, in Washington, D. C.

Next, four separate stamps, printed on the same sheet, depict antique toys, of the 19th century. These were designed by Stevan Dohanos, of Westport, Connecticut, chairman of the Citizen's Stamp Advisory Committee. The Locomotive was adapted from artwork by Charles Hemming in the "Index of American Design," a collection of the National Gallery of Art. The others are from "The Golden Age of Toys," by Fondin and Remise.

As mentioned in last week's column, today is the deadline for sending Christmas Parcels to our servicemen abroad, by surface mail.

Christmas Parcels may still reach these servicemen, on time for the holidays, by sending them SAM (5 lb. and under) until November 20, and PAL (30 lb. and under) until November 27.

A reminder to our patrons: "New increased Parcel Post rates are effective November 14." George E. Rosensteel, PM.

Library Maintains Strict Discipline

One does not appreciate the privilege of using the library until one day those privileges are taken so for granted are taken suddenly away. In the Frederick Post on Monday of this week an evaluation meeting with the Committee on Frederick County Public Libraries had this to say: Preliminary discussion indicated that the FCPL system was so far below professional standards in so many respects that it will be difficult to establish priorities for improvement. Two young patrons who recently lost their library privilege in Emmitsburg do not feel that the library is so far below standards. A fracas in the library caused the librarian to make the two write a 215 word letter about, "Why we want to get back in the Library." Printed as written, they are as follows:

"Why I want to get back in the library is because I want to study and get books there, because I can not get them any place else. When I come in here with no books, that means that I'm going to carry-on or play around. And when I come with books, that means that I'm going to try to do work that sister assigned me to do. You can do research in the library that you can not do at home or anywhere else (102) — and when I do try to study somebody from somewhere makes noise. When I come in with the wrong people I get out of wack (129). This library is a good place to get book research, and most of all to study. If we keep on fulling around, we are going to make it worse and worse until the library won't be good to study in because we will have it torn up. (178) If we keep on making noise people will not be able to study and learn and soon they will tell us to be quiet and tell us not to come in no more until we quiet it. 215 works, thank you."

"I like to go to the library because I like to get some books out and talk to people a little bit and sometimes I get a little bit too loud and then I get kicked out for a week. And when I go into the library I should be quiet because it might be some people who are reading a book or doing some of his homework or studying. And when I come in sometimes I want to listen to the records and I make to much noise. I like to go to the library and have a little fun. And when I talk a little bit and have to be quiet all together. But sometimes when I make a lot of noises (fight), I get kicked out and I didn't do nothing. And when those two boys got into a fight, I got kicked out for nothing. And I know when you come into a library you should be quiet so people can come in here and study and I am sorry and I will try not to do it gain. And when I come in gain I won't carry-on or anything."

I think these letters are proof that the Emmitsburg Public Library is a privilege that should not be taken lightly. Needless to say their library privileges have been returned.

Senior Citizens Ready For Bazaar

The Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Fall Bazaar date, Saturday, November 14, is just around the corner, and all members are busy with last moment preparations. As before stated, there will be several raffles, chiefly, the one on a beautiful wool, hand-made Afghan. Other interesting features consist of a White Elephant table of used articles, potted flowers, a country store, a grab bag for children and adults, food consisting of pie, cakes, soup and sandwiches, a fancy work, children's new clothing and a parcel post table made up of packages of twenty-five cent value. A new feature added this year. Hopefully the weatherman will prognosticate a good day and insure an eager buying crowd. See you there, heah!

The Dollar-Saver Group failed to appear for the second meeting, Monday, November 2, with the exception of two members. The meetings are scheduled for the first and third Mondays in Emmitsburg, and the second and fourth Mondays for Frederick. Mrs. Marshall is in charge and has discovered many interesting ways to stretch a dollar. All those interested come to the next meeting.

UNICEF Collects Over $200 Here

On October 29, between 40 and 45 children and young people went around the town and outlying areas collecting funds for UNICEF. They were helped by about 10 adults who either drove the cars or remained at Incarnation Church, the collection point, to receive the monies when the teams returned and to serve them refreshments. The people of our community were so generous in their giving that the final amount collected totaled $209.10. When one considers that through UNICEF 5 cents will cure a child of trachoma, 25 cents will provide 175 vitamin tablets for children, 50 cents will protect 7 children from malaria for a year, and each $1.00 will protect 80 children against tuberculosis, the contribution of the people of Emmitsburg will help many children throughout the world. Thank you.

College To Offer Spanish Film

"Lola La Piconera," a Spanish film set during Napoleon's conquest of Spain, will be presented at St. Joseph College on November 12 at 7:30 p.m. The film is the first in a series of three foreign films to be sponsored by the modern languages departments of St. Joseph and Mount St. Mary's Colleges.

Taken from the drama "Cuando Las Cortes De Cadiz," written by Jose Marian Peman, the film stars Juanita Reina and Virgilio Teixeira. It deals with a French soldier and the Spanish girl he loves, Lola. Highlight of the film is a scene in a gypsy camp where the lovers forget for a short time the realities of war. Flamenco dances by the gypsies offer sharp contrast to the grim aspects of the war. The film will be shown in Dodd Lecture Hall on campus. English subtitles are included and the public is welcome to attend without charge.

Paper Drive May Continue

The members of the Incarnation Church of Christ Sunday School wish to thank all those who contributed newspapers, magazines, and rags to their paper drive on Saturday, Oct. 24. The response was so successful that they have decided to continue this collection on a regular basis. They feel that this is a real contribution to the cause of conservation and anti-pollution, and a help to the housewives of the community. It also provides them with some finances for a service project, namely, the Hoffman Home for Children near Littlestown, Pa. Watch the local paper for the announcement of the next collection date.

Edward the Confessor designed and built Westminster Abbey from 1050 to 1065. In 1066 William the Conqueror was crowned there, a precedent that English monarchs have since followed. From 1376 to 1547, the House of Commons met regularly in the refectory.
