Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

I was wondering why it hadn't happened before and how long it would take for our veterans to vent their wrath on the nation's No. 1 draft-dodger, Cassius Clay. The Gettysburg VFW this week passed a resolution protesting the fighting opportunity given to Clay this week when he puts another fight under his belt and makes a lot more of good American money. The irony of the whole thing is that Clay has scheduled his prizefight on Pearl Harbor Day, Dec. 7, in New York, the day hundreds of brave young Americans gave up their lives for this country. I just can't help but feel sympathetic towards our veterans and as far as I am concerned I hope the whole enterprise is boycotted by all Americans. It does seem that the public has an awful short memory.

I can't help but gloat over the pleasant weather we have been having. Perhaps I used the wrong adjective and should have said mild instead of pleasant. While the days have been mild a good many of them have been cloudy and sometimes the sun doesn't get out to visit us for several days. However, the fact that it is mild is compensation enough for me, even though I know that eventually we'll have to pay up and even out the score when old Man Winter really moves in on us to stay at least three more months. Better enjoy it while you can folks!

Busy Route 15 is still maintaining its infamous reputation as being the most dangerous road in Frederick County. Four automobile mishaps occurred on that highway within the past week. Two wrecks happened at the intersection of Rt. 15 and 97 in East End and a local man was killed there while walking on the road. Two miles to the south at St. Anthony's, another wreck occurred. Even while workmen are erecting the bridge over Rt. 15, accidents happen before their very eyes, and even upon completion of the bridge, there will be no road to it making it accessible. Actually you can figure another year before that mess is straightened out and ready for public use. In the meantime the dualization of Rt. 15, north and south, is still in the talking stage and has been for the past 20 years. Emmitsburg and Thurmont should get together with the County Commissioners and the State Roads Commission and iron out a quick and feasible plan for the complete dualization of this highway to the Pennsylvania line just as soon as possible.

The world's largest and most expensive "firecracker" was shot off Tuesday at Cape Kennedy and as it fizzled out the country became aware that 100 million dollars of taxpayers' money went up in smoke as the dud plummeted into the ocean never to be seen again. Just imagine what this sum would have accomplished in medical research or a cure for cancer? It seems as though the Space Boys have firmly imbedded themselves in the nation's treasury and apparently have a blank check to use on whatever experiment they can conceive next. I was aware that we were burdened with inflation but I didn't there was so much money around that it had to be shot into the air to get rid of it.

Lutheran Bazaar Saturday

Elias Ev. Lutheran Church will hold its annual Christmas Bazaar in the church hall on Saturday, Dec. 5, starting at 3 p.m. A highlight of the affair will be the serving of a turkey and oyster supper. On sale also will be home-baked products, needlework, and fancy goods table. The public is cordially invited to attend.

Sgt. 1/C Donald Beneke has returned to his home in Emmitt Garden after a year's tour of duty in Vietnam. While there he was awarded the Bronze Star Medal. His new assignment will be in Washington, D. C. with the Army.

LOCAL MAN IS KILLED AT INTERSECTION

An Emmitsburg area resident was killed instantly when struck by a car on Route 15, just south of the Route 97 intersection at 9:10 o'clock Sunday evening during a rainstorm.

The victim, Norman Samuel Sheeley, 56, Emmitsburg R1, was pronounced dead at the scene by Dr. Robert Thomas, Jr., Frederick County Medical Examiner. Dr. Thomas attributed death to head and chest injuries.

The driver of the car, Thomas Eckenrode, 16, S. Seton Ave., Emmitsburg, and his passenger, Michael Myers, 123 E. Main St., Emmitsburg, were removed to the Warner Hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance where they were treated for shock.

Maryland State Police said Sheeley was apparently attempting to cross Route 15 from west to the east side and walked into the path of the Eckenrode auto. Damage to the latter's 1967 Ford Mustang was estimated at $50.

A native of Adams County, he was a son of the late Oliver Sheeley and Emma Wetzel Sheeley. He is survived by his widow, Dorothy Beard Sheeley; a son, Norman Leroy Sheeley, at home; two grandchildren; five brothers and sisters: Earl Sheeley, Walter Sheeley, Mrs. Elsie Herring, Mrs. Grace Vaughn and Mrs. Roland Frock, all of the Emmitsburg area. He was a member of the Elias Lutheran Church, Emmitsburg, the Emmitsburg VFW and the Francis X. Elder Post of the American Legion, Emmitsburg.

He had served in the United States Army as a private first class during World War II from 1942 to 1945, serving with Battery C of the 304th Artillery Battalion in the Asiatic-Pacific theatre and was awarded the Bronze Star Medal.

He was employed at the Cambridge Rubber Co., Poolesville, in the mill room for 31 years.

Funeral services were held yesterday (Thursday) afternoon at 2 p.m. from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. W. Ronald Fearer officiating. Interment was made in Mountview Cemetery, Emmitsburg. Military rites were conducted at the grave.

MRS. JOHN B. DAVIS

Mrs. Ida Walters Davis, 76, died at her home, Emmitsburg R2, Saturday afternoon at 4:45 o'clock.

A native of Rogersville, Tenn., she was the daughter of the late John Larmer and Minerva Hickman Larmer. She was the widow of John B. Davis and has resided in the Emmitsburg area for 24 years.

Surviving are six children: John Davis, Emmitsburg R2; Jack L. Davis, Frederick; Mrs. Bernice Gibbs, Miss Mary June Davis and Miss Eileen Davis, all of Baltimore, and Miss Norma Davis, Emmitsburg; four grandchildren; three brothers and sisters: A. J. Larmer, Fairfield; Miss Corne Larmer, Gettysburg, and Mrs. Ollie Ely, Aubersdale, Fla.

Funeral services were held on Tuesday at 1 p.m. from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. W. Ronald Fearer officiating. Interment was made in the Larmer Cemetery, Rogersville, Tenn., on Thursday at 2 p.m.

MRS. HENRY J. FAVORITE

Mrs. Ruth G. Baker Favorite, 63, wife of Henry J. Favorite, Sykesville R3, died at the University Hospital, Baltimore, at 4:17 p.m. Saturday. She had been in ill health for the last nine years.

A native of Dixon, Ill., she was the daughter of the late Andrew Owens and Anna Koch Owens. She was a member of the United Brethren Church of Thurmont.

In addition to her husband, she is survived by five step-brothers and sisters: Mrs. Helen Eyer, Gettysburg; Leroy Baker, Emmitsburg R2; George Baker and Raymond Baker, both of Emmitsburg, and Donald Baker, Gettysburg, and a number of nieces and nephews.

Funeral services were held on Wednesday from the Wilson Funeral Home, Emmitsburg, with the Rev. John King officiating. Interment was made in the new St. Joseph's Cemetery, Emmitsburg.

Pallbearers were Ray Baker Jr., Gary D. Baker, Roy K. Eyer, Arthur K. Eyer, Michael J. Baker and George Baker.

Miss Peggy Wagaman and Mr. Bobby Black spent the Thanksgiving holidays in Dayton, O., visiting Mr. and Mrs. Donald Slusher and Mr. and Mrs. William Sweezy.

Vocal Ensemble To Entertain Here Dec. 8

"The Columbians," a vocal ensemble of 20 voices, will present an hour and a half concert on December 8, at St. Joseph College. The performance will be held in DePaul Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

Directed by John F. Bradshaw, The Columbians were organized in 1962. They are affiliated with the Anacostia Neighborhood Museum which is sponsored by the Smithsonian Institution. The museum is located in a ghetto of southeast Washington, D. C., and attempts to bring exhibits to the community which will relate the history of the past with the daily events of the residents' lives.

The group will give an Afro-American concert, consisting of traditional black music combined with modern songs. Since 1962 The Columbians have traveled and performed in Europe, Africa and the United States. They hope to better relations between countries and also bring understanding to the national communities.

Giving benefits and fund raising concerts for churches and other charity organizations is another function of the musical group. Their first album, "Refreshing," was released in 1968.

Admission to the program is free and the public is welcome to attend.

Public Works Commission Stamps Approval On Sixes Bridge Dam Project

The Senate Public Works Committee has recommended construction of the proposed Sixes Bridge dam and reservoir, Senator Charles McC. Mathias, Jr., (R-Md.), announced this week.

The $22.4-million project, on the Monocacy River in Frederick and Carroll Counties, Maryland, is included in the omnibus rivers and harbors authorization bill approved by the Committee last week.

The omnibus bill also directs the Army Corps of Engineers to study the feasibility of obtaining fresh water from the upper Potomac estuary to serve the future water supply needs of the Washington metropolitan area.

"I commend the Public Works Committee for both of these steps," Senator Mathias said. The Sixes Bridge project is vitally important to Frederick and Carroll Counties, and will provide essential flood control and water supply for these growing areas. The reservoir will also provide emergency relief for the Washington area in times of drought.

Scheduled for completion in about six years, the Sixes Bridge project will involve Federal funds totaling $18,429,000, plus non-Federal contributions of $4,046,000 for water supply and recreation aspects of the project.

Senator Mathias noted that the Sixes Bridge dam and a project at Verona, Virginia, "are the only two major dams in the Potomac Basin which the Army Corps of Engineers recommended for authorization this year. The rest of the original Corps plan, which included at least 17 major impoundments, has been shelved."

"The gradual shift in the Corps approach since 1963 reflects, I think, both the high priority of the Sixes Bridge project and a recognition that in the long run we will have to look to the Potomac estuary, rather than to a system of upstream dams, to provide clean water for metropolitan Washington."

Senator Mathias, the sponsor of pending legislation to construct an estuarial intake system, continued, "I congratulate the Public Works Committee for its balanced and progressive approach to the Potomac Basin's problems."

The rivers and harbors bill should be considered by the Senate within the next few weeks. If the bill is enacted, actual funds for the Sixes Bridge project will be requested beginning next year.

Local Girl Wins State Honor

Vicki Wivell, 16, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wivell of Rocky Ridge, and a Junior at St. Joseph's High School, Emmitsburg, is a member of the Rocky Ridge Progressive 4-H Club.

Vicki has been carrying "growing annual flowers and flower arranging" projects. After attending Horticultural Judging practices for nine weeks last summer, she was chosen a member of the senior team.

Ranking second in the State-wide contest, where she represented Frederick County, Miss Wivell and the four other State-wide winners, will fly to Denver, Colorado on Sunday to take part in the National Junior Horticultural Association Contest, December 6-12. The group will be accompanied by Mr. Loyal Reger, extension agent from the Eastern Shore.

Admitted To Hospital

Miss Gail Eyer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eyer, Mother's Station, has returned to the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, after spending some time at her home. She is recovering from injuries suffered in an automobile accident some time ago.

Town May Get New School

An on-the-scene inspection of the facilities of the Emmitsburg Middle and Elementary School by the Frederick County Board of Education Wednesday apparently was the deciding factor which convinced the Board that a new school building for Emmitsburg was imperative at this time.

For a number of months now the school PTA and other interested individuals have been discussing conditions at the local school with the Board and last month attended a meeting of the Board held in Frederick at the Board of Education Office. In return the Board agreed to meet in Emmitsburg for its December meeting. Wednesday, members of the Board came to Emmitsburg, inspected the building and annex from basement to roof and then called to order its regular meeting in one of the classrooms.

After discussing the buildings at some length and calculating in dollars and cents what it would cost to remodel and renovate, the Board was apparently unanimous in its agreement that it would be more feasible to erect a new structure. While no official vote was taken by the Board, it was felt the decision was unanimous inasmuch as there was no opposition expressed. It is expected that an official vote will be taken at the January meeting.

The present school, built in 1922, was termed totally inadequate and even if renovated would still be inadequate and could not handle Emmitsburg's future growth needs. Dr. John Carnochan, Superintendent of Schools, stated that it was his belief that if the Sixes Bridge Dam is constructed there will be considerable growth in the Emmitsburg District and that the time to plan for any expansion was now.

Cost of renovating the 4-year-old structure was estimated at $200,000. Expenses of remodeling the new wing to the school built in 1952, were listed at around $46,000, for a total of $246,000. Even then the school would not meet or accommodate any contemplated growth or expansion for which the area is destined.

Discussion of the type of building to be erected was centered around the new Myersville school. As a matter of fact, it was mentioned that it might be possible to utilize the plans for the Myersville school here in Emmitsburg.

Estimated cost of the new school here was placed in the neighborhood of $800,000. It is highly possible that a new location for the school might have to be found. Presently the school rests on a seven-acre plot, generally assumed to be entirely too small. Unless additional ground can be purchased in the near proximity of the present school, a new location might be necessary. Besides, there is underground water existing at the present site which has never been possible to bring under control.

It is expected that the Board of Education will delve further into the subject at its January meeting, at which time also, the matter of an adequate supply of books for the school library will be acted upon.

Four Injured In Friday Collision

Heavy damage is shown Owens' car after collision with car driven by Mrs. Charles Keepers in accident near here last Friday.

Mustang car driven by Mrs. Keepers, is shown totally demolished after accident near St. Anthony's last Friday. Four were treated at Gettysburg Hospital.

An Emmitsburg woman was admitted to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, for observation and five others were treated or examined as a result of a two-car tractor-trailer collision on Route 15 at the Route 76 intersection, two miles south of Emmitsburg at 11:30 a.m. Friday.

Admitted to the hospital was Joan Keepers, 42, Emmitsburg R1, driver of one of the cars, who is in satisfactory condition with a laceration of the chin and possible internal injuries. Her passenger, Mrs. Helen Neiderer, 61, McSherrystown, was treated for a fractured wrist.

The driver of the second auto, Mabel Owens, 56, Suitland, Md., underwent examination for possible injuries along with her passengers, Bertha Reynolds, 69, and Martha Reynolds, 61, both of Washington, D. C., and Ruby Griffin, 64, Falls Church, Va. The Emmitsburg VFW ambulance took the injured to the hospital.

According to Maryland State Police, Mrs. Keepers was driving north on Route 15 at a high speed when she apparently "blacked out" and collided with the rear section of the northbound auto operated by Mabel Owens. The impact caused the Owens vehicle to veer out of control and cross into the path of a southbound tractor-trailer hauling produce, driven by Henry Geib, 49, Columbia, Pa.

Police said Mrs. Keepers will be charged with speeding. Damage was estimated at $2,500 to the Owens 1971 Chevrolet; $1,500 total loss to the Keepers 1965 Ford Mustang with no damage to the tractor-trailer.

Firemen Plan Benefit Game

A benefit 50 - 50 Evening of Games will be held in the Fire Hall on Saturday, Dec. 5, starting at 7:30 o'clock.

The affair is being sponsored by the Vigilant Hose Co. and the general public is cordially invited and urged to attend.

Hymn Sing At Rocky Ridge

A Hymn Sing will be sponsored by the Monocacy Church of the Brethren in the church hall, Rocky Ridge, on Sunday, Dec. 6.

The program will get under way at 7:30 p.m. and the public is cordially invited. During the evening there will be musical selections by various groups, vocal solos, duets, quartets and choruses.

Air Corps Sergeants To Entertain At Local College

On December 9, St. Joseph College will present "The Good Timers," a trio of talented young men associated with the United States Air Force Band. Acclaimed for their tremendous variety and comedy, The Good Timers will present a concert in DePaul Auditorium at 8:00 p.m.

The public is invited to attend and enjoy music ranging from light rock to old standards. Between them, the trio will play 7 instruments during the performance.

Sergeants Jerrel Elliott, Pat Hamilton and Clark Walter met and organized their group while attending McMurry College in Abilene, Texas. "The Windjammers" as the group was known before over the Southeast. Upon graduation from college the trio decided to fulfill their military commitment in the United States Air Force where they could remain a musical group. In September of 1969, The Good Timers officially became part of the Air Force Band, Washington, D. C.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this proceeding is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, James M. Selby, and for the care and custody of the infant child, namely James Michael Selby, and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

The Bill states in substance, that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, and has been so for more than one year last past; while the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland and that the last known address of the Defendant is Box 1087, Fort Myers, Florida, he now being incarcerated at the Lee County Jail in Fort Myers, Florida, awaiting Trial on certain criminal charges that have been brought against him; that your Complainant was married to the Defendant at Frederick, Maryland, on April 2, 1965, by Rev. Charles F. Trunk, Jr., a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of said marriage one child was born, namely, James Michael Selby, age 4, who is at present living with the Complainant and whose care and custody the Complainant seeks; the Bill further alleges that ever since the said marriage the Complainant has always conducted herself as a kind, chaste, dutiful and affectionate wife towards the Defendant, James M. Selby, and that the Defendant, James M. Selby, between the time of the said marriage and the filing of the Bill of Complaint, has committed the crime of adultery with a certain Bonnie Willard, to all of which the Affidavit is made.

It is thereupon this 12th day of November, 1970, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, in Equity, ORDERED, that the Complainant, by causing a copy of this Order of Publication to be published for at least four successive weeks prior to the 19th day of December, 1970, in some newspaper published in Frederick County, Maryland, giving notice to the Defendant, James M. Selby, of the object and substance of this Bill of Complaint and warning him to be and appear in this Court either in person or by Solicitor on or before the 19th day of January, 1971, to show cause, if any he has, why the relief sought should not be granted.

A Presidential Fallacy Examined

One of our favorite daily newspapers is the Manchester (N.H.) Union Leader, published by William Loeb. It is popular in its home town and state, having one of the highest relative circulations among daily newspapers in America. And because of the aggressive patriotism and journalistic integrity of its publisher and staff, it is becoming a national institution. Recently Publisher Loeb attended an important meeting in Hartford, Connecticut, and subsequently wrote an important front-page editorial in his Union Leader. We think our readers coast-to-coast will appreciate its insight and logic:
"At a special briefing for newspaper, radio and television editors and publishers from the eastern part of the United States at Hartford on Columbus Day, President Nixon showed the brilliance of his mind in delivering a concise 10 to 15 minute summary of the main problems in the Vietnam situation and in the Middle East, and his solutions to those problems. It was an impressive performance. Basic Assumption Questioned

"There is, however, one fallacy to President Nixon's thinking for which he is not to blame but which could be fatal to the United States. Mr. Nixon is making the basic assumption that Communist leaders are as the leaders of the United States — essentially sensible people motivated by the same understanding of logic that we have in this country. Based on his assumption, Mr. Nixon reasons that at some point the Communists will realize that tremendous amounts of money are being spent by them in the armaments race and that it is simply not worth it, and that if we make reasonable proposals to them to halt the arms race on both sides, they will agree because it is in their interest to agree.

"Indeed, such an arrangement is in the interest of any sensible individual. However, the fallacy in the whole assumption is that when it comes to Communist goals, the Communists are not reasonable. They are fanatics. A fanatic is perfectly well aware of what his madness may cost him but he disregards that in favor of his goals.

Plan To Plunder World

"The Russians understand perfectly that they are currently spending twice the percentage of total national income on arms that we are. But, first of all, they don't have to be concerned about the grumblings of the average Russian because there is iron-tight control over the population through the use of terror. Furthermore, they reason that once they have overwhelming military superiority over the United States, they can force us to surrender and then control the world and plunder it to their heart's content to supply the need for consumer goods.

"It is this same failure to understand the fanatic Communist mind that makes the leadership of the United States so inept at dealing with the bombers and arsonists and kidnapers within the United States. Any attempt to deal with these people as if they were rational is doomed to failure. As in the case of our Communist enemies abroad, we are dealing with people who are simply beyond the reach of reason . . .

Our Experience Lacking

"We are not prepared by our present experience to realize the danger that now confronts us. Americans and their leaders have read about the sacking of Rome by the barbarians from the north and the tales of the terror wrought by Genghis Khan, but they can't visualize themselves as being victims of that sort of destruction. They feel that such events are confined to the pages of history and can never happen to them.

"President Nixon is a highly intelligent man. He is also a realist in the sense that he explained during his speech that he had no illusions that personal charm on the part of any American leader would change the course of history and influence international decisions. Certainly, this is a refreshing change from Presidents Franklin Delano Roosevelt and John Kennedy, who seemed to feel that their personal magnetism would charm the leaders of foreign nations and change policy.

"Eventually President Nixon is going to take the last step and realize that all sensible and generous plans proposed to the Russians will in no way deflect them from their plans for our nation. Then, Mr. Nixon will be ready to lead the Free World into taking the steps to bring about the survival of freedom and the existence of the United States itself."

Yes, America must choose between military superiority or ultimate surrender to the Communists.

Frederick County Backgrounds

By SAMUEL CARRICK
 Again—The Barr Family
 It would appear that since this series of articles began several years ago the Presbyterian churchyards have "taken a leading role." This because of their age and the predominant nationality of the early settlers. However, when the sketches on the Piney Creek Presbyterian churchyard are completed, in a week or two, the next study on the agenda will be the Lutheran church—beginning with the old, old churchyard known as Tom's Creek Lutheran — where Elias church had its beginning. Until comparatively recent years there were people living in Emmitsburg who remembered the log church, which stood within the area of the burial ground, for church school was often held there, years ago, on Sunday afternoons.

That patriarch of the Lutheran Church in America, the Rev. Henry Melchoir Muhlenburg, visited, in the course of his missionary journeys, both the church at "Tom's Creek" and the one at Monocacy Settlement. His published journals mention these visits and the difficulties and problems that "beset" the early congregations.

One more question before taking up the study of Piney Creek churchyard. According to reliable information a tombstone once stood against the wall of the theatre in Emmitsburg. It bore the name of "John P. Winters" but disappeared several years ago. Where did it come from and where is it now? Does anyone know?

Since writing the last article on the Barr-Horner families some additional information "has come to light" pertaining to Eliza Love (3) Horner, the daughter of Alexander (2) Horner and his first wife, . . . (?) McAllen.

Eliza Love (3) Horner was married, in 1817, to John Harper. That same year the young newly-married pair moved to Cumberland County, Pennsylvania. In 1830, still pursuing the frontier, they moved to Darke County, Ohio. John Harper, husband and father, died that same year in Darke County. Five children were born to this union. Eliza Love (3) Horner Harper, after remaining a widow for some twenty-eight years, married James Auld, Esq.

3. Abner (3) Horner, third child of Alexander (2) Horner by his first wife, met a tragic end. The little boy was drowned in Marsh Creek when only five years of age. Undoubtedly Abner (3) Horner is interred in the old burial ground at Piney Creek but the marker at his grave has long since disappeared.

4. John (3) Horner, fourth child of Alexander (2) Horner, was married, in January of 1828, to Miss Jane Witherow. They settled in Mountjoy Township that same year. Jane (Witherow) Horner died before her husband. John (3) Horner was a veteran of the Civil War. He served as a Captain in Cole's Cavalry.

Both John (3) and Sarah Jane (Witherow) Horner are interred at Piney Creek and the inscriptions from the markers at their graves are as follows:

13. In memory of Captain John Horner, Died October 27, 1878, Aged 77 years.

14. In memory of Sarah Jane Horner, wife of Captain John Horner, Died June 6, 1866, Aged 60 years, 3 months and 25 days.

Captain John (3) Horner and his wife, Sarah Jane (Witherow) Horner, were the parents of ten children. Three of their sons served in Cole's Cavalry during the Civil War. Silas M. (4) Horner married Miss Lizzie Gault (Galt) of Taneytown, Maryland. John Ross (4) Horner, another son, was born January 12, 1837. He was a First Lieutenant in Company K—42nd New York Regiment. He was killed in 1862 in the "Battle of Second Bull Run." His body was recovered and brought home and interred in the Gettysburg National Cemetery.

5. Silas Miles (3) Horner, son of Alexander (2) Horner, married Elizabeth McAllister. They were the parents of three children, a son and two daughters.

6. Sina Bole (3) Horner, daughter of Alexander (2) Horner — died at the age of sixteen years. There are two Horner family burial plots in Piney Creek churchyard located quite close together. The family is an interesting one and well repays the work of the researcher.

The Barr family, pioneer members of Piney Creek church, have been dealt with at some length in previous columns. It is interesting to note that this clan intermarried with the Watsons, Leckneys, Hunters, Robinsons, Galts, McKinneys, and Reindollars—just to mention a few. They were "good stock" and left their mark on the history of this state and country.

There are members of the Stewart family interred at Piney Creek but very little is known, at this time, pertaining to this particular branch of the clan. For the sake of posterity the inscriptions from the markers at these graves are given at this time—as follows:

1. Jane Stewart, Died April 9, 1808, Aged 40 years.

2. Jean Stewart, Died February 15, 1822, Aged 48 years.

3. John Stewart, Died June 12, 1841, Aged 73 years.

The three above listed are buried in the same plot and a rough guess would assume them to be a father and his two daughters.

A little further down, in the same row of graves, are two more Stewart graves:

4. In memory of Ebenezer Stewart, Died July 21, 1820, Aged 19 years.

5. In memory of Elizabeth Stewart, wife of James Stewart, Senior, Died December 12, 1821, Aged 59 years.

Mother and son in all probability—although the exact relationship cannot be accurately determined.

It would appear from the tombstone inscriptions that the Stewarts and the Walkers intermarried. Interred beside Ebenezer and Elizabeth Stewart are the following:

6. Margaret Walker, Died October 31, 1797, Aged 82 years.

7. In memory of Jane Stewart Walker, daughter of Joseph and Elizabeth Walker, Died August 11, 1822, Aged 28 years.

Again the Stewarts—in the same area of the churchyard:

8. Robert Stewart, Died November 1, 1811, Aged 80 years.

7. Sarah Stewart, Died March 31, 1796, Aged 50 years.

Note: Undoubtedly husband and wife—they are buried side by side—and both graves are marked by the same type of stone.

In another section of the churchyard is another Stewart grave—marked by a black slate stone:

"Four Seasons Of Skin"

Of course we aren't going to change our fundamental skin type — not overnight anyway. But that doesn't mean the care we give our skin should be precisely the same routine day after day. There are important variables in any beauty program: the weather for instance. Think back to that summer sun — how it dehydrated! As for winter — Oh that chapped skin!

You can definitely feel the difference in your skin's texture and moisture content as the seasons change. And to compensate for the wear and tear this causes I recommend two entirely different facial conditioners. Every skin needs conditioning, you know, just as it needs to be cleaned and lubricated regularly.

One quality to look for in your facial scrub is an ingredient that will give it a gentle, abrasive action. Massaging the scrub in is what makes it work. If you simply let it dry—Nothing! Massage it gently — but constantly — concentrating on the oiliest areas.

The kind of facial that works by drying is usually called a mask. You apply it to your face and throat (avoid the eyes), leave it on for five or ten minutes, then wash it with warm water. Check the label for exact directions as they do vary.

10. Sacred to the memory of James Stewart, Senr., Died May 10, 1791, Aged 80 years and 9 months.

Note: Probably the pioneer ancestor of the Stewarts of Piney Creek. It will be noticed that the wife of James Stewart, Senior, (Elizabeth Stewart) is interred in another part of the burial ground. These notes, pertaining to the early settlers of Emmitsburg and vicinity, will be continued next week.

Re-Check Your Will
By The Babson Staff

We have always maintained—and have so told our clients on many occasions over the years—that everyone over the age of 21 should make a will. Those who have not done so should do so immediately—this week if possible—as one never knows what the future holds.

After having advised so many times about the importance of making a will, we are going to assume for the purposes of this article that most readers have

OFF AND RUNNING by John I. Day

Lawyer Long's Legal Lark

Rummaging around among old state statutes, Alva C. Long, Auburn, Washington barrister, who makes a hobby of testing laws he feels provide a "double standard" of law enforcement, found a measure, circa 1881, relating to gambling. The law provided that persons losing money on any illegal gambling game had cause for action to recover his losses from the "dealer or player winning."

On further research Mr. Long found that the state constitution said: "The legislature shall never authorize any lottery." While recourse to any dictionary would have told Mr. Long that horse racing is not a lottery he chose to interpret "lottery" as any form of gambling. He decided to test his theory in court and went forthwith to Longacres race track, confident that he could quickly lose $300. The loss had to be $300 in case his court case was lost and he had to appeal to the Supreme Court. Assured by a newspaper handicapper that a horse named Sun O'Morn was a consistent loser, Long bet his $300 and watched the horse win at 5 to 1. As he collected his $1,845 he abandoned his project. "To get a court case now I'll have to lose the $1,845 and with my luck I'd probably bet on a longshot and wind up owning the track."

one filed away in a safe deposit box. That's fine. But, when was it last examined? Are you sure it is still appropriate for current circumstances?

We bring up this matter because there are many things that might have happened since you made out your will—things that could invalidate parts of it, cause delay and disappointment or unnecessary additional expense or perhaps even a loss to your heirs. Thus, we believe it is very essential that you periodically check over your will and change or update it when necessary. When doing this, here are a few of the more important things you should look for.

Do you have newly acquired property or other assets that have increased substantially in value, thereby necessitating some changes in your will? For example, if you are the owner of or have an interest in a corporation which has grown tremendously since you made out your will there may be need of special tax treatment as the holding could now represent a substantial portion of your estate.

Do you still own the assets bequeathed or have the assets changed in any way? Here, it would be important to check stock splits, for instance. If you bequeath 100 shares of a certain stock to a child or grandchild, it is just possible that there has been a stock split in the meantime. Do you still mean for the child to receive only the 100 shares?

Have you moved to another state since you made out your will? If so, you should check on the inheritance laws of your new home state to see if there are some differences in interpretation of certain provisions.

Do you have any bequests that are no longer applicable? For example, are you sure that your fellow hobbyist to whom you have willed your valuable collection is still interested in that hobby? Would he still really appreciate receiving your collection?

Are there any new children or grandchildren that you have neglected to provide for in your will? It seems almost unthinkable that this could happen but it has happened. Check your will just to make sure.

Does your will give recognition to the inflation that has occurred? In other words, do you feel that the sum of money you have left to a particular person is as adequate or generous now as you believed it was when you originally made your will?

Are your witnesses still available? When a will is probated it can often save a great deal of time and money if witnesses are readily available to testify.

The foregoing are just a few of the items that deserve serious consideration when you reread and review your will. Naturally, if any doubts persist regarding your will in its present form, you should consult with your legal attorney at the earliest opportunity.

Since it is all too easy to let slide such matters as reviewing a will to see if it does need revision, new codicils, or rewriting, we advise you to set a regular schedule. One workable plan is to have your lawyer give you a copy of your will on each anniversary of the day it was drawn up. Another is to give it a re-examination on your birthday each year. If your estate is relatively small and your heirs few, you may prefer to review your testament less frequently, perhaps every two or three years.

Cabinet at the White House in Washington, D. C. on the evening of December 21.

Prof. Parker B. Wagnild, founder and director of the capella choir for 35 years, reported this week that a White House aide extended the invitation last week-end.

The December 21 engagement will be the first time the Gettysburg choir has sung in the White House. The choir sang for the late Dwight D. Eisenhower when he was president and made a visit to the campus.

In 1967, the choir, on its world tour, gave a command performance for Mrs. Indira Gandhi, prime minister of India.

The White House performance will be the third major Christmas season program scheduled for the choir. On Dec. 5 at 7:30 p.m. and on Dec. 6 at 8 p.m., the College Choir and the Chapel Choir will give their annual Christmas concerts in Christ Chapel at Gettysburg College.

On January 31, the College Choir will begin a 16-concert tour through Maryland, Virginia, Pennsylvania, North Carolina, Delaware, New Jersey and the District of Columbia.

Appoint New Records Chief

The appointment of Vernon R. Randall as Chief of the Division of Vital Records for the Maryland State Department of Health and Mental Hygiene was announced this week by Dr. Neil Solomon, Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene.

The Division of Vital Records serves all of Maryland, with the exception of Baltimore City, in the compilation and maintenance of birth and death records. In addition, all marriages and divorces for the entire State are recorded by the Division.

According to Mr. Randall, the Division recorded 19,031 deaths, 36,069 births, 52,603 marriages, and 8,811 divorces last year. It furnished 195,000 photo copies of its records to persons requesting them.

On file with the unit are more than 3,300,000 separate documents with birth and death records going back to 1898. In order to insure the security of the records, two extra sets of all documents are microfilmed and placed in special vaults at different locations.

It was reminded by Mr. Randall that copies of all records may be ordered by mail simply by writing and enclosing the proper fee to: Division of Vital Records, Maryland Department of Health and Mental Hygiene, State Office Building, 301 West Preston St., Baltimore, Md. 21201; or by visiting the office in person, Room 1108. Records for those applying in person may be secured at once and mail requests are answered within 24 hours of their receipt.

Mr. Randall, who lives in the Fullerton area of Baltimore County, is married and has two sons. He is a graduate of Polytechnic Institute and the University of Maryland and served for six years in the U. S. Navy. Prior to his appointment, Mr. Randall served as Salary Coordinator with the State Department of Personnel.

He fills the vacancy created by the recent death of J. Charles Judge.

inside Fashion
BY BOBBI

Well, gals, the men are at it again. Having discovered the fashion possibilities of fabric and color, they're now mastering the technique of "getting it all together."

Take the sportive coordinates pictured above. Paul Ressler's flared trousers with angled hem are the main attraction here. Their styling and fit are 100% fashion right. And they're made right too because Guilford's snappy fabric has been bonded by the COIN method to acetate triacet — the permanent bonded fabric with a special guarantee hangtag (guaranteeing the bond for the life of the garment) on every garment. Harmonizing with the heather tweed of the trousers is the mini-weave of the contrast color shirt. Ram Leather's solid belt is the perfect foil for both patterns.

For add-on smartness lots of fellows are going for the casual vest. It's a welcome change of pace from the traditional cardigan sweater without the dressed-up feeling of a sport jacket. The dapper vest shown here has the added advantage of a fabric that has been bonded to a clear film of COIN glacié (polyurethane). This film creates a totally stain-proof and water-proof garment that is guaranteed dry-cleanable as well.

The photograph above illustrates only one way these separates can be put together. But from what I've been seeing around town, the guys are on to all the other great ways that can make fashion add up.

MODERN FARMING

The twine binder (top left), introduced in 1878, eliminated hand-cutting and tying in the harvesting operation and greatly increased the farmer's productivity. Threshing the grain from the heads was still a separate job, as shown in this 1936 scene (top right). And today, one man and one machine, like the modern New Holland combine (above), cut and separate in a single operation.

Farming's Miracle Machine Replaces Hand Labor at Grain Harvest Time

For centuries men stooped to harvest their cereal crops with a sickle, the flattened grain to be later bound into sheaves. After days of drying, there was still the back-breaking process of separating the grain from the stalks with a flail.

Although the first practical reapers and threshers appeared in the early 1800's, you could still find men using harvesting methods that dated back to Biblical times. The scythe or cradle had replaced the sickle, but labor requirements had changed little.

The reaper eventually replaced the scythe and the thresher replaced the flail, ushering in an era that saw 30-men threshing crews teamed with machines. By the turn of the century a typical grain harvest began with a horse-drawn binder cutting the crop and dropping it in bundles. The job of threshing that followed took so much labor that it was a cooperative job. Wagonloads of bundled grain had to be hand-fed into steam-powered threshers and hauled away for storage. Farmers hired custom threshing crews or, more commonly, joined their neighbors in threshing gangs that moved from farm to farm.

During his lifetime, a man born in 1850 saw the development of more improved harvesting methods and equipment than in the previous 5,000 years. Even greater changes were to come.

For, while men were developing machines to harvest and separate the grain crops, others were working to build just one piece of equipment that would combine both operations.

By the end of the nineteenth century big combine harvesters had appeared in the West, but it wasn't until the mid-twentieth century that the giant modern combines that sweep across today's grain fields were a common sight. Today, the grain producer can sit in air-conditioned comfort while his giant machine harvests and separates the crop.

Record Road Load On The Move

The heaviest load ever to move over a public highway in this nation will be taken from Havre de Grace, Maryland to Peach Bottom, Pennsylvania.

Starting December 3, the Frank W. Hake Company of Philadelphia began the move of a General Electric nuclear reactor on two giant tracked transporters. The total weight is 1,064 tons. This single unit is 110 feet long, 28 1/2 feet wide and 36 feet high. It's by far the heaviest and bulkiest thing ever moved over public highways in this hemisphere. The move is expected to take approximately 15 days.

The trek began at the landing site at the corner of Erie and Water Streets in Havre de Grace, proceeded down Water Street, turned right onto Otsego Street and continued to U. S. Route 40 where it turned left to go to Rt. 22 at Aberdeen.

At the junction of U. S. Route 40 and Maryland Route 22, a special bypass road has been constructed to carry the vehicle across the Baltimore and Ohio Railroad tracks and onto Route 22. At the north end of Aberdeen the load will be taken down the northbound ramp of the John F. Kennedy Highway (U.S. 95) and across a crushed stone ramp built in the median strip and then up the southbound exit ramp of the highway where it will proceed toward Churchville.

After passing through Churchville, the load will continue on Route 22 to Route 543 at Fountain Green (near Bel Air). Turning right on Route 543, the caravan will travel north across U.S. Route One to Deer Creek where it will cross a bridge constructed by the Hake Company at a cost in excess of $200,000.

Following this, the tremendous load will be transported over some of the hilliest terrain to be encountered on the journey. Arriving at Route 165, a right turn will be made and the trip will continue through Whiteford and proceed across the Mason-Dixon line, dividing Maryland and Pennsylvania, and complete the journey down secondary roads to the power plant on the banks of the Susquehanna River.

During the entire trip, it is anticipated that it will be necessary to cover the roadways ahead of the transporters with one to four inches of sand to prevent damage to the highway surface. This sand will be spread, then picked up and used over and over as the reactor vessel passes.

This is not the first time that an atomic reactor has been moved over Maryland's highways. In January, 1964, a 225 ton reactor was moved, and Maryland became the first to allow such a heavy reactor to be transported over public highways. Another one was moved in August, 1970. This weighed 420 tons.

The move of this monstrous and vital piece of equipment has been planned with studied care at a cost of several hundred thousand dollars. Further, Mr. Hake has planned for adequate notice in order to prevent inconvenience to residents. Coordination with local agencies has been made so that the equipment will not interfere with school bus schedules, fire, ambulance and emergency routes. The Hake Company has worked closely with officials of the Maryland State Roads Commission. All concerned believe it will be a most interesting thing to watch as this huge load travels slowly but safely to its final destination at Peach Bottom, Pennsylvania. The Peach Bottom Atomic Power Plant furnishes electricity to the people of Pennsylvania, Delaware and Maryland.

The 750 ton nuclear reactor was constructed in Memphis, Tenn. at a cost of several million dollars. It was shipped to Havre de Grace on a barge. Now it is the responsibility of the Frank W. Hake Company to see that it is delivered safely to the Philadelphia Electric Company's Nuclear Power Plant at Peach Bottom, Pennsylvania. The officials of the Maryland State Roads Commission have cooperated to the fullest extent.

WHEN A MAJOR FOOD COMPANY wanted to test the taste appeal of its new peanut butter cereal, it went to experts—a seven-year-old boy whose favorite food is peanut butter and a peanut-loving circus elephant. Here the two share a bowl of the crunchy stuff. There was some spillage, but both peanut gourmets approved the new product. As a matter of fact, the elephant made a pig of herself.

I find my delight in thy commandments. — (Psalms 119:47).

All of us really want the establishment of harmony and order. We take a fundamental step in this direction when we review the cornerstone of our faith—the commandments and adopt them for present day living. As we affirm divine order in our mind, body and affairs, we allow the fullness of all life, all light, and all good will come to us.

Capitol Comment

By Charles McC Mathias U.S. Senator

Senate Approves Funds To Improve Health Care

"The year that is drawing toward its close has been with the blessing of fruitful fields and healthful skies. It has seemed to me fit and proper that they should be solemnly, reverently and gratefully acknowledged as with one heart and one voice by the whole American people. I do, therefore, invite my fellow citizens in every part of the United States to set apart and observe the last Thursday of November next as a day of thanksgiving and praise to our beneficent Father Who dwelleth in the heavens."

With those words, President Abraham Lincoln proclaimed the first national observance of Thanksgiving Day. He issued his proclamation during the darkest days of the Civil War, when brother fought brother and the fate of the Union was in serious doubt. One might think President Lincoln would have had little to be thankful for and—in a sense—a parallel can be drawn from one hundred years to the state of the nation today.

In 1970, too, the United States is embroiled in an unpopular, bloody war that is seemingly without end. At home, inflation is eating at every savings account and pay raises seem to be spent before they are added to the pay check. Educational institutions and our cities are literally fighting for their existence. But despite all our troubles, we still have reason to be thankful.

We can be grateful for the progress that has been made in the area of health care. All Americans will benefit from the medical advances of the past year, but the nation must continue its efforts to insure that medical care is available to every citizen. The doctors, nurses, facilities and medicine must be available for the needs of all Americans. Personally I am pleased and thankful that the Senate recently took two important steps toward improving health care.

First, the Senate approved my amendment to the Labor,

Health, and Welfare Appropriations Bill that would provide $15 million to permit the National Institutes of Health to convert the chemical-biological warfare laboratories at Fort Detrick, in Frederick County, into a medical research facility. Fort Detrick would provide the facilities for a concentrated effort to define and conquer viral diseases such as cancer. The unique laboratories may help to provide solutions to our greatest health problems.

Second, the Senate passed another amendment to the same bill providing an additional $38 million for a total of $55 million to help our medical schools train doctors and nurses. The Senate's actions provide hope for the future and reason to celebrate, in the spirit of Abraham Lincoln, Thanksgiving, 1970.

FOOTNOTES: The Senate Public Works Committee has recommended construction of the proposed $22.4 million Sixes Bridge dam and reservoir on the Monocacy River in Frederick and Carroll counties. The bill also directs the Army Corps of Engineers to study the feasibility of obtaining fresh water from the upper Potomac estuary to serve the future water needs of the Washington metropolitan area. In support of President Nixon and Minority Leader Hugh Scott, I plan to introduce legislation that will require all candidates for federal office to make a full financial disclosure, set effective and realistic limits on campaign costs and require periodic reports of campaign expenditures. In addition, the bill would limit the size of individual contributions to any campaign, grant tax credits to those who contribute to a political campaign, guarantee public media exposure for all candidates, require non-discriminatory broadcast rates for political candidates and provide federal assistance to all candidates for federal office in voter registration and information.

present Catoctin High School in the competition. The school was allotted one entry from the junior class for every 500 students in the total school enrollment, according to Nancy Wenschhof, the English department chairman. In announcing the winners, Robert F. Hogan, Executive Secretary of the National Council of Teachers of English, said that the Council recommends these students, now seniors, for college scholarships in 1970, should they need such assistance. The names of these students are sent to every college and university admissions officer and English department chairman in the country. In previous years 99 per cent of the Awards winners entered the college of their choice. Approximately 80 per cent of those applying for scholarships received them.

The NCTE sends to all winners and runners-up scrolls of recognition and honors their high school English department with certificates of merit, reports Harper Long, principal.

Nancy Wenschhof, Ruth Richards and Michael Miller, have been Sara's English instructors at Catoctin High School. Sara's parents are Dr. and Mrs. Robert Marshall, Emmitsburg, Md.

Human Relations Group To Meet

Mr. Treadwell O. Phillips, Executive Director of the Maryland Commission on Human Relations, announced this week that the Commission will hold its regular December meeting in Frederick. The Commission meeting will take place in the Frederick City Hall, on North Market Street, this Tuesday, December 8, 1970 at 1:30 p.m.

One of the items to be considered by the Commission will be the presentation of the staff report on the public hearing held in Frederick County last February.

The Commission meeting will be open to the public and all interested persons are urged to attend.

ZIP COLUMN

If you wish to have a serviceman overseas receive his Christmas package on time, Friday, December 11 is the deadline. These parcels must be sent by regular air mail (not PAL).

Also, greeting cards for these servicemen, must be sent at this time.

The following suggested procedures, would help us in handling the great volume of Christmas mail:

- 1. Use Zip Code in every address, including your return address.
2. Band Emmitsburg cards (faced all in one direction) with the LOCAL label supplied.
3. Rural patrons: Please put stamps on all mail, rather than placing money with mail.
4. Mail distant state cards by December 10.

Additional open hours have been granted by your Postoffice to aid Christmas mail. On Friday, Dec. 11 and 18, the Office will be open until 8 P. M.

George E. Rosensteel, PM.
