Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

Well, the big day is just about upon us. The street decorations and private homes are glowing peacefully with their multi-colored lights radiating a warm and friendly atmosphere and most folks are in a happy frame of mind. This is what Christmas does to folks and it's a wonderful feeling, one that should last throughout the year. Christmas parties, church services, caroleers and a spirit of fellowship and peace dominate the atmosphere and by next week this time it will all be past history. . . . But it was worth it I guess. Quite a number of homes have been attractively decorated this year and even the places of business have taken extra measures to spread the Christmas cheer and happiness far and wide. You know though, with all the decorations, there's still something missing, in my opinion, and that's the big tree the Lions Club used to erect on the Square. That old tree helped in a great measure, to deliver Emmitsburg's Christmas message to thousands of travelers. I wonder if some year soon, the custom couldn't be revived?

For those of you who sometimes take just one too many, the Baltimore Sun each year reprints a special remedy for hangovers at Christmas and New Years, and for that matter any time, I guess. I have a copy of that recipe and am letting you have it . . . free. Okay? Just get a highball glass, put the juice of half a lemon or one orange in it. Add one eighth teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons of brown sugar and enough ice water to make eight ounces. Drink. Dr. Maurice Pruitt of Chattanooga, the developer of the formula, said that several glasses of the mixture also would sober a patient in 5 to 35 minutes. . . . End of instructions. If this grand elixir doesn't do the trick consult your family doctor. At least it didn't cost you anything!

NOTICE
Due to Christmas falling on Friday of next week the Chronicle will be published a day earlier. News stories and advertising copy must be in this office no later than Tuesday to insure publication in next week's paper.

Christmas Eve Service Planned

A Christmas Eve Service has been announced for Elias Lutheran Church for 7:00 p.m. The Service, which has been designated as a Family Service, has been planned to permit parents with young children to attend.

Participating in the Service will be both choirs, under the direction of Miss Penny Hallett, Choral Director, and Mrs. Donald Fyler, Organist. The anthems to be presented are: "Carol of the Questioning Child," and "Carol of the Sheep Bells," both by Richard Kountz. The Christmas Eve meditation will be given by the Reverend W. Ronald Fearer. The recently organized acolytes group will assist in the candle lighting portion of the Service.

Following the Family Night Service, a Fellowship Hour, which will include Christmas carolling and light refreshments, will be held. The Lutheran Church Women will serve as hosts.

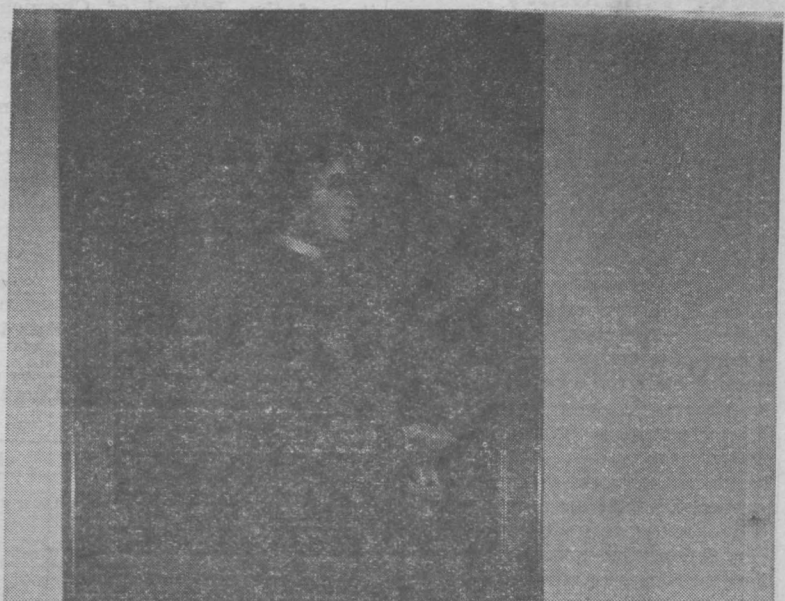

Decorating Contest Judging Dec. 25

Emmitsburg Christmas decorations will be judged on Christmas Night, Dec. 25, it has been announced.

Should inclement weather prevail, the judging will take place the next evening, Dec. 26. All homes and exhibits must be lighted to be eligible in the contest for prizes. The contest is sponsored annually by the Francis X. Elder Post 121, American Legion.

Under a new law, there is no longer a terminal date for a GI home loan for any eligible veterans, including WW II and Korean Conflict veterans who never used this benefit.

Two Cardinals And Other Church Dignitaries To Celebrate Mass Honoring Mother Seton

Fourteenth successor of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton, Sister Eleanor, Provincial of the Emmitsburg Province of the Daughters of Charity, prepares for the sequi-

Over a thousand people will be in Emmitsburg, January 3, to join His Eminence, Lawrence Cardinal Shehan, Archbishop of Baltimore, and the Daughters of Charity in commemorating the 150th Anniversary of the death of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton.

It was to Emmitsburg that Mother Seton brought a handful of Sisters and her five children in 1809 to found a home for her spiritual family and a school for young girls, the nucleus of the parochial school system in the U. S.

The Baltimore Cardinal will be principal celebrant of the consecrated Mass at noon in the Chapel of Saint Joseph's Provincial House of the Daughters of Charity. Concelebrating with the Cardinal will be Patrick Cardinal O'Boyle of Washington, D. C.; Most Rev. Luigi Raimondi, Apostolic Delegate to the Church in the U. S.; and other Archbishops, bishops and priests.

The Very Rev. Lucio G. Papolitica, C.M., Postulator of Mother Seton's Cause for canonization will come from Rome for the ceremony. Rev. Joseph I. Dirvin, C.M., author of "Mrs. Seton," a definitive life of the Blessed will deliver the homily at the Eucharistic Celebration.

The choir will be ecumenical in character, composed of the Emmitsburg Community Chorus, the choir of the Lutheran Theological Seminary at Gettysburg, the Vincentian novices from Philadelphia, Pa., and the Sisters of Charity of the Provincial House.

Sister Jane Marie Perrot, chairman of the Department of Music at Saint Joseph College, will direct the choir. Selections for the liturgical service will include Handel's "Prelude" and "Thanks Be to God," and "Now Let Us Praise a Valiant Woman" from "Charity Sings," a post-conciliar hymnal by Sister Jane Marie.

This year, part one of the program will be: "Christmas-legends, customs and carols". Members of the Club, adorned in their newly acquired choral gowns, will sing selections contributed by different lands.

Part two, in costume, will tell the Gospel story of Christmas in songs and tableaux. The public is invited and admission is free.

centennial of the death of Mother Seton. The celebration will take place in Emmitsburg, on January 3, 1971.

Masses in honor of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton will also be offered on January 3 in parish churches and chapels wherever there are Sisters of Charity or Alumnae of Saint Joseph College. And that means just about everywhere in the U. S. and in mission chapels of some foreign countries.

Before Mother Seton died her Sisters had already crossed over state boundaries. Today, these Sisters comprise six distinct Communities totaling over 11,000 members. They are in almost every state in the U. S. and are engaged in every conceivable work of charity.

Elizabeth Ann Seton was declared Blessed by Pope John XXIII in 1962 following the acceptance by Rome of two miraculous cures obtained through her intercession. Both were cancer cures, one of a little 4-year-old Baltimore girl healed of leukemia; the second, of a Sister of Charity, suffering from terminal cancer of the pancreas.

Dignitaries both ecclesiastical and civil, friends and benefactors have been invited by Cardinal Shehan and Sister Eleanor, Provincial Superior of the Emmitsburg Province, to attend the Eucharistic Sacrifice in the Provincial House Chapel.

In this chapel is Mother Seton's altar where her remains are enshrined and venerated. On the grounds of the Provincial House and Saint Joseph College are the two houses occupied by Mother Seton: the Stone House where Mother began her novitiate with 20 Sisters in July, 1809; and the White House into which the Sisters moved in February of the following year, where they opened a school for girls of the neighborhood.

All these shrines are visited annually by some 9,000 people from all parts of the U. S. and Canada.

Lions Club Christmas Parade Saturday

The 41st annual Kiddies' Christmas Party will take place in Emmitsburg Saturday, Dec. 19.

The event is sponsored by the Emmitsburg Lions Club, J. Ralph McDonnell, president, with assistance from the Town Council, Emmitsburg Homemakers Club, Fire Co., and the numerous merchants who purchase advertising to defray the expenses. The event annually draws more than 500 children to town, more than any other single outdoor event.

Activity will get under way promptly at 12 noon when the children will gather at the Fire Hall for hot chocolate and sandwiches. The lunch will be served between noon and 1:00 p.m. Parents will be able to shop at local stores as the Town Council has provided free parking through December 27.

At 1:30 p. m., the mammoth Christmas Parade will march off in West End and proceed to the Fire Hall where Santa, escorted by Sperry Ford Sales, will distribute candy and oranges to all of the children.

State and local police will manage the crowd of children during the parade and distribution of candy. Members of the Emmitsburg Municipal Band will furnish music for the parade and also give a short concert while Santa is passing out the candy. Also in the line of march will be police cars and fire apparatus.

J. Norman Flax is general chairman of the affair. All Lions Club members are asked to be present to help with the work Saturday morning and afternoon.

Lion President McDonnell, in appreciation of the public's support of the project, this week made the following statement: "I want to thank all who have donated and those who have taken advertisements for the Lions' Club Christmas Party for the children. It has been a pleasure contacting all of you for this wonderful occasion which brings happiness to hundreds of children in our community. The Lions Club wishes all of you a very Merry Christmas, and thanks again."

Professor Thomas Granted Fellowship

James J. Thomas, assistant professor of chemistry at Mt. St. Mary's College, has received a Science Faculty Fellowship from the National Science Foundation.

The NSF fellowship enables college science teachers to improve themselves and their teaching ability. This year's fellowships were awarded on a competitive basis to 250 college teachers. Over 1000 teachers applied.

Thomas' fellowship will finance research that he will do over the next two summers at the University of Maryland. He hopes to finish the research for his Ph.D. during this time.

Thomas is working for his doctorate in the area of photochemistry. He originally specialized in polymer chemistry, but has now switched to photochemistry because of definite importance to the future and one that he, as a teacher, should be familiar with.

Thomas is an alumnus of Mt. St. Mary's, receiving his B.S. in 1952. After earning a M.S. from Penn State in 1954, he spent three years at Armstrong Cork Co. as a research chemist. He has been a member of the Mt. St. Mary's faculty since 1957.

CHRISTMAS DANCE

The Senior Class of St. Joseph High School will sponsor a dance "Winter Wonderland," Wednesday, Dec. 23. The band will be the "Arturus," and admission is $1.25. The dance will last from 8 to 11 p.m. Coat and tie are required. Everyone is most welcome.

Mountaineers Drop Two Contests

A scrappy Mt. St. Mary's basketball team gave small-college power Philadelphia Textile a surprising battle before bowing 88-71 Thursday evening, Dec. 10, on the winner's floor.

Textile, top rated small college team in the nation, now has a 3-1 mark, its lone loss being to Villanova, one of the top ranked major college teams.

The Mounties fell behind 40-29 at half time but gave the Rams plenty of trouble early in the second half by pulling to within 54-48 after eight minutes of play. Textile recovered at that point to pile up a comfortable margin.

Tony Kinn, senior, and Kevin Kane, a freshman, were the top point men for the Mount with 25 and 21 points, respectively.

A run a 16 straight points midway in the second half gave Albright an 82-68 verdict over the Mt. St. Mary's College dribblers Saturday night at Reading.

Jeff Steuber, a substitute for Albright, sank nine straight tallies in the spree which overcame a Mount lead of 52-47.

The key to the Lions' victory was their rebounding as they grabbed 44 to 36 for the taller Mountaineers.

For the first time in years Mt. St. Mary's had but one player in double figures, sharp-shooting Tony Kinn, who bombed the cords for 30 points. His goal tossing enabled the Mount to hold leads as much as five points in the first half until the Lions surged at the finish to grab a 39-36 advantage at intermission.

The Mounties, now 2-3, meet Cheyney State Saturday evening at 7:05 in the Penn Palestra in the first game of a doubleheader. The second game pits LaSalle against Penn.

Senior Citizens Visit Frederick

Thursday, December 10, six members of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club, through the kindness of Mrs. J. L. Nester, attended the annual Christmas luncheon and program, sponsored by the Frederick Club, at the Church of the Brethren in Frederick.

A delicious regular luncheon was served with all the decorations and usual Christmas menu. After this a delightful Christmas program was presented, M.C.D. by Mrs. Pat Throne.

Among the enjoyable items on the program were: Invocation, Rev. Guy Bready; Christmas songs by the audience; "Christmas Cheer"—a choral group from South Frederick School; a talk on Christmas Brotherhood, by Mr. Norman Ford, Director of the YMCA; Fellowship music with the Kitchen Band, and a "Christmas, God Speed," from Mrs. Patricia Throne, chairman of the FCCA.

So, a very pleasant afternoon was spent by and with the various members of the Senior Citizens of Frederick County.

Those attending from Emmitsburg were: Mrs. J. L. Nester, Mrs. Helen McNair, Mrs. Emma Eckenrode, Mrs. Genevieve Clement, Mrs. Sanders, and Mrs. Hazel K. Caldwell.

Remember the Christmas Party to be held at St. Joseph's on Tuesday, Dec. 29, for Senior Citizens. A covered dish dinner is on the agenda.

Community Chorus Director Receives Appreciation Gift From Group

Sunday evening, Dec. 13, following the presentation of Handel's "Messiah," at Incarnation United Church of Christ Fellowship Hall, the Rev. Eugene Ackerman, pastor of the Emmitsburg-Taneytown Presbyterian Churches, on behalf of the members of the Emmitsburg Community Chorus, presented Sister Jane Marie Perrot, D.C., conductor, with a gift of a Money Tree. This gift, along with a piece of luggage, is the chorus' small way of saying "Thank You" to Sister for her devotion, time and loyalty to the chorus. Sister Jane Marie will be making a tour of Europe in January as part of a Fine Arts Seminar at St. Joseph College.

We of the chorus also wish to thank the public for its support. If it was impossible for you to hear the concert last week, we cordially invite you to Trinity Lutheran Church, Taneytown, this Sunday afternoon, Dec. 20, at 3:00 to hear the "Messiah." Admission is free, but a free-will offering will be collected. Come—bring a friend.

Day Care Center Youngsters Shop

The buses pulled away from Seton Day Care Center at 9:30, last Monday morning, carrying 53 "littlest shoppers" for a Christmas outing at the Harrisburg East Mall. The children from the Center in Emmitsburg who went on the trip ranged from three to six years of age. They were accompanied by 18 teachers, teacher aides and parents and the whole group spent a busy day shopping and sight-seeing.

A small town like Emmitsburg has its own charm and advantages but it doesn't have escalators or an enormous paper mache' Frosty the Snowman, just waiting to strike up a conversation. Santa Claus was at the Mall, too, and there were more glittering decorations and hurrying people than the children had ever seen before.

The many fountains at the Mall were a special fascination and drew the attention of the children over and over. One of the aides remarked, a bit wearily, that the escalators also got great repeat business. A trip into a pet shop gave the youngsters a glimpse of tropical fish, monkeys, and brightly plumed birds.

Each child brought a quarter from home and this amount was matched from Seton Center funds so that a gift could be purchased by each youngster for his mother. Another experience, new to many of the little ones, was the opportunity to sit at a lunch counter and select a treat. Ice cream or a soft drink was purchased for each by the Center to supplement the take-along sandwich lunch.

Sister Grace, Program Director of Seton Center, expressed her delight that the children had had such a happy day. She added, "The trip was planned as an enrichment experience. We feel it was helpful in broadening the child's knowledge of his world, as well as being a very happy and successful outing."

Some parents who accompanied the group said that shopping in such a beautiful and extensive mall was a new experience for them, too. Mrs. Alphonse Addison, who is connected with the Center as both mother and teacher, described the whole trip as "exciting."

And what did the children have to say? "I liked the water fountain best," reported Kenny Kreitz, "It was so tall." "Santa Claus gave me candy," said Laurie Warren, "and it was real fun". Perhaps Blaine Ridenour's comment caught the spirit of Christmas best, "I liked what I bought my mommy," he said, "and she's going to like it, too."

Safety Tips Given On Tree Care

Keep the "Merry" in "Merry Christmas" by keeping fire out of your holiday activities.

Urging attention to fire safety when planning Christmas trees, lighting, decorations and gifts, Fire Chief Guy R. McLaughlin begins with "two rules good all year round but especially important during the busy holiday season: Never leave children alone or without proper supervision, even for a brief time; and Have a family escape plan, worked out and rehearsed for use in case of fire in your home."

National Fire Protection Association studies show that each year some lives are lost in Christmas tree fires, the Chief says, and last year in the United States alone holiday fires damaged or destroyed homes and other property valued at $3.1 million.

Chief McLaughlin offers these Yuletide fire safety regulations:

1. Natural trees should be fresh-looking and firm needled when you select them. Saw off the butt an inch above the original cut, stand the tree in water, and keep it in water until you dispose of it—soon after Christmas Day. Don't rely on do-it-yourself flameproofing treatments, as none is truly effective. Set up the tree away from heat and where it won't block doorways or stairs.

2. Check lighting strings for frayed wires, loose connections, broken sockets. Replace only with UL-labeled sets. Bulbs made in the U. S. generally are safest; imported bulbs may have dangerous hot spots. Electric cord sets with built-in fuses are strongly recommended. . . . Always turn off tree and other indoor holiday lighting when leaving the house or retiring for the night. . . . For outdoor lighting, use only sets UL-listed for this purpose.

Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year from all members of the Vigilant Hose Co.

Father Smith Reassigned

Rev. Thomas G. Smith, spiritual director and an assistant professor at Mount Saint Mary's Seminary, has left the Mount to become pastor of Our Lady of Good Counsel Church in Newark, New Jersey. In so doing, he has returned to a parish where he earlier served fourteen years as an assistant pastor.

Fr. Smith served at the Mount for twelve years. In addition to his seminary duties, he was secretary to the college corporation for two years.

Last May, more than 60 priests, who attended the seminary during Fr. Smith's tenure, returned to the Mount to help him celebrate the 25th anniversary of his ordination.

Fr. Smith said he had mixed emotions about leaving. "My stay here at the Mount has been tremendously rewarding," he said. "But I will enjoy going back to Our Lady of Good Counsel, where I have many close friends." Father feels that he knows the parish well, and anticipates no difficulties in his new role as pastor.

Fr. Smith plans to continue his research on Bishop Brute, one of the major figures in the founding of Mount Saint Mary's, which he began while at the seminary. He has over 7,000 pages of handwritten Brute manuscript which he plans to organize and compile.

VFW To Aid Cambodia Victims

The Veterans of Foreign Wars of the United States has launched a drive to aid victims of war-ravaged Cambodia, Commander Roger I. Zurgable of Post 6658, reported in announcing that local VFW members are throwing their full support behind the campaign.

"Through 'Operation HELP', the VFW intends to extend the hand of human decency to those Cambodians who have suffered loss of limbs in protecting their country's freedom," Commander Zurgable explained.

He said that VFW Commander-in-Chief Herbert R. Rainwater has called upon every VFW member and all Americans concerned about those who have suffered because of war to do something about shocking conditions discovered during his visit to Cambodia recently.

"I have visited overcrowded Cambodian hospitals with little or no equipment or facilities to care for those whose lives have been shattered by land mines and all of the other terrible weapons of war," Commander-in-Chief Rainwater reported in a letter to VFW members. "Cambodian doctors are doing their best, but the real tragedy lies in the fact that they cannot replace limbs that have been lost simply because there are no funds available to purchase artificial limbs."

"These men served for Cambodia not because they were drafted or forced in such service, but because they wanted to defend their country's freedom against an aggressor," Rainwater explained. "When the Communists attacked Cambodia these men flocked in droves to enter the service of their country—although they knew they would be ill-equipped and trained." Commander Zurgable said that Post 6658 was asking all its members to contribute to "Operation HELP" and that others in the community could do so by contacting the Post.

Lutheran Women Hear Yule Story

The LCW of Elias Lutheran Church held their December meeting recently with Mrs. Donald Eyer and Mrs. Robert Hampson serving as program leaders. The traditional Christmas story was presented through poetry, Christmas carols, and the Biblical account of the birth of the Christ Child.

Gaily wrapped packages for the shut-ins of the congregation were collected and will be distributed within the next week. Plans were also announced for the Fellowship Hour following the Christmas Eve Family Night Service at which the LCW members will serve as hosts.

Mrs. Reno Eyer and Mrs. Russell Wantz were co-hostesses for the refreshments for the December meeting. Candles and a holiday centerpiece completed the arrangements for the tables for refreshments.

Chemistry Professor Consults Here

Dr. William F. Kieffer, professor of chemistry at Wooster College, Wooster, O., and an American Chemical Society "Visiting Chemist," was engaged as a curriculum consultant for the chemistry departments of St. Joseph and Mt. St. Mary's Colleges.

On Dec. 10, 11, Dr. Kieffer toured the science facilities of both campuses, held discussions with the chemistry faculty and talked to the Mount Chapter of ACS Student Affiliates on "Man and His Environment." A former editor of the Journal of Chemical Education, Dr. Kieffer is particularly interested in science courses for the non-science major.

The Visiting Scientists Program is sponsored by the Division of the American Chemical Society and is financed by the National Science Foundation. Through the Visiting Chemist Program the Society hopes to improve the chemical programs at colleges, provide stimulation for college faculty and students, and motivate students to follow careers in chemistry.

Truth—Will It Save Mankind?
For more than a century the fraud of Communism (as an instrument for the advancement of the "working class") has flourished; and with it, history's greatest blockade to the uplift of mankind has been created. The continuing Red deception is made possible through deliberate design or default by the communications services of the world. The truth about Communism's fraud upon the workers of the world has been smothered. The deception thus has permitted hundreds of millions of "the downtrodden", the poor and hungry, as well as much of the rank and file of "Trade Unionism" throughout the world to be hoodwinked and used as stepping stones for the blood-soaked boots of Red tyrants rising to dominant power. Thank God, in this time of crisis, for the shocking truth that has come into our hands! We have secured from Brussels, Belgium, a document which, if widely read by the workers of the world, could halt World Communism in its tracks and lead to the total wiping out of this most deceitful, dreadful and frightening plague the world has ever known.
Crushing The Workers
The document is truly important: a scalpel opening the fraudulent heart of "Marxism," "Marxist-Leninism," "International Proletarianism," "Communism," and "Marxist-Socialism" (they're all the same.) It proves — what we have tried for years to get across — that the "working class" (Communists call it, the "proletariat"), instead of being the beneficiary in a Communist takeover, is enslaved, robbed of sustenance and freedom, trampled upon, despised and slaughtered by the Communist masters. With the aid of the International Confederation of Free Trade Unions in Brussels the workers of Czechoslovakia have at last smuggled this truth about Communism out to the world, have exposed the fraud of Communism as an instrument of progress for the working class—as no other "class" of people could expose it. We have the full pathetic story, a historical documentary: "The Czechoslovak Trade Unions, 1870-1970." Since Nikolai Lenin and a bedraggled force of Bolsheviks seized power in Russia in 1917, International Communism has presented itself to the workers of the world as their revolutionary instrument to destroy capitalism, private ownership of property, competition, the profit system; to establish a dictatorship of the workers so they could run the government, share in ownership of all property, all goods and services; so they could own and manage the industries; so they could share and share-alike in all wealth produced. Each new generation of international Communist bosses has promised the workers of the world a "paradise" of "democratic" freedom, self-rule, economic well-being and security, the gradual dissipation of formal government. And now the workers of Czechoslovakia, tens of thousands of whom, as trade union socialists, "bought" at least a part of the Communist promise, are smuggling out the dramatic facts that prove beyond any future challenge that Communism is a colossal fraud, a tyranny which crushes and obliterates free trade unionism, individual freedom, all the normal aspirations of the workers of the world, and makes of the broken workers who survive its reign of terror, instruments of further Red conquests.

Workers Suffered Most
The Czech trade unionists' documented history shows that since the initial seizure of Czechoslovakia by the Soviets in 1948, worker freedom has not existed. There was a brief dreamy "Czechoslovakia Spring" in 1968 (when it appeared a tiny crack of freedom might open up) but it proved to be the signal to the Soviet Tyrants that their whole fraud of "proletarianism" was endangered before the eyes of the world; they moved their subservient Red Army into hapless Czechoslovakia behind masses of monstrous tanks. At the time, August 21, 1968, most of the workers of Czechoslovakia were unionized, but in automation unions perverted into Communist instruments for further Soviet conquest. More than 4-million Czechs and about a million and a half Slovaks were paying union dues and marching to the lock-step of the Red masters. Quickly 65,230 Czech trade union officials (who were not Soviet puppets) were "disposed of." Some were executed in typical Communist fashion; others went to slave labor camps, their fate unknown. One fourth of all the people of Czechoslovakia (3,500,000) have been involved in "political" trials in the 20 years of Red tyranny, but the workers and their families have suffered most!
More details next week.

Students To Serve As Pages

Over a hundred Maryland high school students will act as pages for the Maryland General Assembly during the 1971 legislative session, state school superintendent James A. Sensenbaur announced this week. The student pages will deliver messages, run errands, maintain legislators' notebooks, and perform a wide variety of other services for legislators, and at the same time learn something about how state government works. Last year under an agreement between House Speaker Thomas Hunter Lowe and Dr. Sensenbaur, sixty gold blazered students—boys and girls—from public and private schools served the House of Delegates only, but their success led to expansion of the program this year to include the State Senate. The lengthening of the legislative session in 1971 from sixty to ninety days will also permit participation by greater numbers of students. The students get ten dollars a day for service of up to two weeks each. For students who live too far from Annapolis to go home each evening, lodging is provided. Last year many also worked nights and Saturdays late in the session when the legislative calendar became crowded. Candidates for the high school page program will be selected by local selection committees in

Ballet Students Perform At School

As a part of the Yellow Springs Elementary School's "Interest Centers" Program for grades 4-6, Mrs. Joyce Morrison's ballet students recently presented an instructive program of basic ballet movements. Under the "interest center" plan, children in grades 4-6, are scheduled for one period daily in an activity which is intended to enrich the child's educational experience. The centers have been planned and continued by volunteer parents and have covered a wide variety of topics. Among these have been: Crafts, Handiwork, Elementary Sewing, Life and Physical Science, Conservation and Endangered Wildlife, and other lands.

Mrs. Joyce Morrison, whose students presented the ballet, has an extensive background in ballet. She has studied in New York in the George Balanchini School, Robert Joffrey's School and the Ballet Theater School. She was a member of the Harlequin Ballet Company in London and of the Masque Ballet Company. She has studied in England, France, and Switzerland. Mrs. Morrison currently operates the Frederick School of Classical Ballet and also teaches ballet and limnastics at the Frederick YMCA.

Mrs. Morrison stresses creativity in the student as well as the importance of mastering the traditional positions and routines necessary for a good foundation in classical ballet.

At the presentation to the Yellow Springs students, a taped musical accompaniment was used. The ballet students demonstrated as Mrs. Morrison gave a running commentary describing their movements. Students in Mrs. Morrison's advanced class who participated were: Sandy Baker, Andrea Bourland, Sharon Caplan, Kathleen Costlow, Beth Dangerfield, Leesa DeHaven, Tracey Elizalde, Joann Floyd, Michella Quelletto, Rebecca Shatto, Gail Shifflet, Carrie Tansey, Julie Vandervoort, Dawn Warneking, and Sally Whitesell.

Future Farmers Donate To School

The Future Farmers of America Chapter at Frederick High School recently presented a $50 check to Harmony Grove School.

The check was presented as a community service project agreed upon by the membership of the Chapter. The money came from various fund raising activities conducted by the Chapter. These activities included the sale of calendars and Christmas flowers. Another community project conducted by the Chapter is the providing of a Christmas dinner for some needy family.

In accepting the check, Mrs. Doris Remsberg, Principal of the school, said the money would be used to buy cassette tapes and other audio-visual materials of instruction. Allen O'Hara, President of the Chapter, made the presentation. Also present for the ceremony were: George Seaton, Principal of the school, and Dale White, Vocational Agriculture teacher at Frederick High School and Advisor to the Chapter.

Health Department To Hold Clinic

Recent surveys have shown that many preschool children in Frederick County have not yet been immunized against Rubella (also known as "German measles" or "3-day measles"). The last large outbreak of Rubella was 1964, and it is predicted that the next epidemic may be expected in 1971. We must act fast to immunize all young children because by eliminating Rubella in the child population, we then protect pregnant women from catching the disease from young children and passing it on to the unborn children. Rubella in the unborn child is a serious infection which can cause blindness, deafness, mental retardation and heart defects.

The Frederick County Health Department will hold a Rubella Immunization Clinic. Free vaccine will be given to children between ages one year and twelve years. If your child is receiving steroid medication or has a chronic health problem, check with your physician. Girls who have begun menstruation should not receive the immunization. The clinic will be held at the Health Department, Winchester Hall, on Wednesday, January 13 from 2 to 4 p.m.

CAREER CORNER

By Catherine Paul

CIVIL SERVICE

Civil Service is experiencing a resurgence in popularity as fresh crop of bright and enthusiastic young people discover the rewards of helping the government help people to help themselves.

Except for computer science, perhaps no field is receiving more attention today than civil service. Why the interest? Well, for one thing, people seem to want to know more about the machinery of government than ever before—and they want to learn first hand.

Opportunities in civil service are as varied as young people today. Those who want to work with the less fortunate can do so through social welfare agencies. Government employment services offer challenging careers in personnel work. And who knows? For those whose first love is politics, the office of a public official on his way up could someday carry them as far as 1600 Pennsylvania Avenue!

As with most careers it's never too early to start planning for a future in civil service. Business, civics and social studies courses are helpful. On the extracurricular scene, you might try volunteer work in a local agency—or even licking envelopes at a campaign headquarters.

In order to get a job, you must pass a civil service exam. These are given regularly in most communities. You can find out when they will be given in your area by simply contacting your local branch of the Civil Service Commission. Civil Service exams don't require any special preparation. They're based on general knowledge and intelligence—with some questions aimed at determining your particular aptitudes. If you pass, you're given a place on a list according to the grade you scored. As job openings are filled, your name moves closer to the top of the list.

Another asset is a good command of office skills. Each year thousands of young people build a challenging career on their ability to type. A good machine will enable you to learn more quickly and to build up your speed. The Hermes typewriter is said to be the portable that most resembles an office machine. One of the many features the Hermes has is a full 44-key keyboard.

Beginning positions in civil service are clerks, typists and secretaries. These can lead to executive and administrative positions later on. Whatever level you reach though, you'll be pleased to find that careers in government pay as well and often better than those in other fields. But even more important, a job in government work offers the satisfaction of knowing that you are not only doing something for yourself but for your country as well.

Stress Proper Care In Decorating

There is nothing like Christmas, with joyous carols, fancy cookies, gaily wrapped presents, brightly glowing candles, and above all, the family Christmas tree.

But a Christmas tree can also ruin your holiday season if not carefully selected and given proper care.

If you want your holiday season to be free from the danger of fire, make certain that the Christmas tree you select has been recently cut, admonishes Dr. Francis R. Gouin, Extension ornamental horticulture specialist at the University of Maryland.

"Like most other good Christmas shopping hints, buy your Christmas tree early to avoid the last-minute rush and the chances of bringing home a fire hazard," Dr. Gouin warns.

In order to get Christmas trees to market, many growers cut them early. This means that the longer the trees remain out of water after they have been cut, the greater their chances of becoming dry and combustible," Dr. Gouin adds.

Trees that have been recently cut are resistant to fire because their cells are full of water. Igniting a freshly cut Christmas tree requires a substantial amount of intense heat, considerably more than that emitted from properly approved and installed electrical decorations, he explains.

"To be certain that your tree has been freshly cut, you can test the freshness by slamming the base of the trunk on the ground several times and looking to see if pine needles are being shed. Shedding needles indicate that the tree is beginning to dry up and will be a fire hazard in your home," says Dr. Gouin.

For a really fresh tree, why not take the family out to a local Christmas tree farm and cut your own tree? This was once a popular family activity; but with the introduction of pre-cut trees, the old family tradition is no longer commonplace.

Whether you cut your own tree or purchase one pre-cut, be sure to care for it properly.

"As soon as you get your tree home, cut an inch off the base of the trunk with a saw and immediately prop it up in a pail of clean water. Next, place the tree in a shaded area, such as the north side of your home, in order to protect it from direct sunlight and drying winds," says Dr. Gouin.

"Allow the tree to remain in this protected area until you are ready to bring it indoors. And most important, check the water level periodically to make certain that it has not evaporated. Before bringing the tree indoors, saw another inch off the base of the trunk," the horticulturist adds.

Once you have your Christmas tree in its place of honor, make certain that you keep it well supplied with water so that it will remain fresh and fire-resistant. Have a happy, safe Christmas!

St. Joe's Receives Science Grant

Sister Margaret Dougherty, president of St Joseph College, recently announced that a National Science Foundation grant of $33,090 has been awarded to the college for support of the 1971 Summer Institute in Biology for Secondary School Teachers

Under the direction of Sister Marcella Scully, Ph.D., assistant professor of biology, the Institute will provide an opportunity for 30 secondary school biology teachers to earn six undergraduate credits in Bioinstrumentation. For the last two years similar Institutes which have attracted teachers from all over the country have been held on the campus.

Preference is given to the applicants who show a need for training in experimental techniques and who provide evidence that they would derive suitable benefits from the Institute. Participants receive a stipend of $75 a week, plus $15 for each dependent.

The purpose of the Institute is to strengthen the laboratory competency of secondary school teachers in areas where initial preparation in utilization of modern science techniques may be lacking. Participants will be divided in small groups to provide for more individualized instruction and opportunity for independent experiments.

The Institute will be in session from June 28 to August 6 this year. Content will include theory and experimentation involving microscopy, pH measuring devices, weighing devices, centrifugation, physiological tools, radiation detection, spectroscopy, chromatography, ecological and microbiological techniques. Special demonstrations will also be given for the use of the Beckman DB spectrophotometer, densitometer, and gas chromatograph.

Several visiting biologists will present single lectures in areas related to the general program of the Institute. Trips to the National Institutes of Health, Smithsonian Institution, and to the University of Maryland Science Teaching Center are also planned.

Library Story Hour Enriching

The Story Hour held on December 5, in the Emmitsburg Public Library, was a delight to all those attending. Twenty girls and boys turned out for the stories told by Mrs. Dorothy Langley of the C. Burr Artz Library in Frederick. Mrs. Langley is an experienced story teller and illustrated many of her stories on a blackboard that she carries as standard equipment.

The library will be closed on December 24 and 25 and also on December 31, in the evening, and January 1, 1971. The Christmas books are on display in the library. If you are thinking of making your gifts this year, better get started now.

Many new children's books have been added to the collection of the Emmitsburg library. "The Wrong Side of the Bed," by Edward Ardizzone, is the story of a bad day in the life of a small boy who gets out of bed on the wrong side.

"A Bargain For Frances," by Russell Hoban. Francis is a favorite badger. This story tells how Frances gets the best of a bad bargain—and teaches Thelma a lesson about friendship.

"Sugar on Snow," by Nancy Dingman Watson. This story of maple sugaring is told in words and pictures that capture the wondrous feeling of spring in the cut-of-doors. Many children's books about Christmas will delight every child who takes the time to read about the most popular holiday of all. "Christmas is a Time of Giving," by Joan W. Anglund. "Mr. Willoby's Christmas Tree," by Robert Barry. "The Night Before Christmas," and many many others.

Local Men Sentenced

The Adams County Court this week sentenced two Emmitsburg persons to terms in the county prison among other sentences imposed during arraignment session.

Donald Lloyd Speelman, Emmitsburg, was sentenced to three concurrent terms of 10 to 23 months for hit and run, operating under the influence of intoxicants and operating under license suspension.

Speelman had been accused of striking a Pennsylvania State Trooper with his car while the latter was investigating a mishap on Rt. 30 east of Gettysburg, and then leaving the scene. The trooper required hospitalization for leg injuries.

Jesse Ritchie, Emmitsburg, was sentenced to 30 days beginning December 10 on a guilty plea to assault and battery.

Brute' Women

Hold Party

The December meeting of the Ladies of Brute' Auxiliary was held Monday evening in the Council Home with 26 members in attendance. President Lois Hartdagen presided. The chaplain opened the meeting with prayer followed by the Pledge of Allegiance and the secretary's and treasurer's reports were read and approved.

Correspondence was received and thank-you notes read from Joan Keepers, Ann Marie Koontz and Joyce Rosensteel.

Applications for membership were received from Mary Ann Sanders and Rita Staley and they were admitted as new members.

Alice Boyle, chairman of the ways and means committee reported on the recent wig show and thanked all who helped make it a success. The wig that was a success. The wig that was a success. The wig that was a success.

Dolores Davis reported on the Anniversary Party and thanked all who helped to make it a success.

It was voted to purchase a Booster Ticket from the Athletic Assn. of St. Joseph's High School. Grand Knight George Danner spoke to the auxiliary thanking it for the Anniversary Party and the gift to the Council of $100.

The monthly drawing was held and Carrie Austin's name was called for $7 but was not present.

Dave Swomley

All-Star Player

Dave Swomley, freshman left wing for the Mt. St. Mary's College soccer team, has been named to the second team of the Mason-Dixon Conference all-star squad.

Swomley was the second leading scorer for the Mountaineers last year, collecting 18 points on 8 goals and two assists. According to his coach, Jim Deegan, Swomley's only fault is that "he is too much of a team player. He passes off in situations where he ought to try to score himself." Deegan plans on building his offense around Swomley for the next three years.

Swomley is a 1970 graduate of Catocin High School where he competed in soccer, basketball, and track.

Swomley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry H. Swomley, reside in the Emmitsburg District.

Zone Chairman Dusty Twigg, Thurmont, also was present.

Following the reports of Treasurer Floyd Lewis and Secretary William Kelz, J. Norman Flax, chairman of the Christmas Party, reviewed the final plans for the affair which will be held this Saturday.

Mount Places

On All-Star Team

Four members of the Mt. St. Mary's College soccer team have received all-star recognition for outstanding play during the past season.

The National Soccer Coaches' Assn. All-American Selection Committee has named the Mountaineers' star defenseman Jim Bradfield and their leading scorer, Tony Pasiakos, to its 1970 All-South team.

Bradfield, a junior center full-back from Springfield, Pa., was named to the All-South fourth team.

Pasiakos, a senior from Norwalk, Conn., was named to the All-South fifth team.

Bradfield and Pasiakos, along with teammates Bruce Seiffert and Dave Swomley, were also named to the Mason-Dixon Conference all-star team. Bradfield and Pasiakos made the first team while Seiffert, a junior center forward from Wethersfield, Conn., and Swomley, a freshman wing from Emmitsburg, were named to the second team.

4-H Electric Program Marks 35th Anniversary

Six teens talented in working with electricity will be awarded $600 scholarships during National 4-H Congress, Nov. 29-Dec. 3, in Chicago. The presentation event will mark 35 years of continuous support of the national 4-H electric program by Westinghouse Electric Corporation.

Since beginning 4-H program sponsorship in the depression years of the 1930's, the company has awarded 201 scholarships and paid the expenses of 1,225 state 4-H electric winners to National 4-H Congress. Westinghouse also has provided thousands of medals of honor to county winners.

Over the years, Westinghouse has supported 4-H educational goals in numerous other ways. Responding to a need expressed by the Cooperative Extension Service which supervises 4-H, the company has supported the development of educational materials. Covering a wide range of topics and graded to the respective 9-19 year age groups within 4-H, the materials help the younger member wire lamps, make test devices and extension cords. They also learn to read a meter, repair household equipment and to work safely with electricity.

Experienced 4-H members work with sound systems, radio, television, electronics and learn about atomic energy. With 4-H increasing its services to urban and suburban youth, the 4-H electric program has meaning for boys and girls everywhere, says T. H. Kenton Jr., Westinghouse vice president. Speaking at a recent 4-H Electric Workshop, he noted that 4-H electric is made to order for urban as well as rural youngsters and can attract youngsters of the inner-city. His remarks were made to extension service personnel and electric power suppliers working together to increase the involvement of urban youth.

For information about the 4-H electric program, contact the county extension office.
