Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

The wait seemed endless, but the baseball season has finally started once again. It's rather unusual for me to enter the world of Jimmy the Greek, but this year I simply can't resist. With absolutely no question in my mind, the following predictions should be treated as gospel. Remember you read them there first. The National League pennant will be decided in the playoffs between the Pirates and Braves, with the Pirates winning. In the American League the Orioles will capture the flag beating the Angels. Finally in the series it's the Pirates in five. Make book on it?

Supposedly there is a wave of nostalgia sweeping the country. One of the evidences of this craze is the terrific reviews garnered by No No Nannette on Broadway. Well I've been playing a game of nostalgia for years. For the purists among you perhaps I should say trivia. If any of you can answer the following questions consider yourself ranked among the great trivial players in the country.

1. At the conclusion of Casablanca what was it that Claude Rains said to Humphrey Bogart as they walked down the runway?

2. Name the actor who played Superman on the radio?

3. In the serial, The Fat Man, what were the main character's names?

4. Who was the Great Gilder-sleeve? Both actors please.

5. Who was the drummer on the Fibber McGee and Molly show?

Get those five Charlie and you've got one of the better trivial minds.

The Academy Awards this year I felt were particularly gratifying in that undoubtedly the best picture, and the best actor, actually won for a change. The character study done by George C. Scott in the movie Patton, was a tour de force seldom seen. Unlike the General, however, old George was absent at the moment of triumph.

I for one am going on record as a staunch support of Hot Pants. In my day, of course, this term had a slightly different connotation, but when I consider the alternative is the Midi skirt, Hot pants it is.

Let me recommend a great diet for you. It goes under many names, the simplest one is being the low carbohydrate plan. Most drug stores carry the little book listing the various foods and their carbohydrate content. And if you follow the rules and limit yourself to 60 grams a day, guaranteed you'll lose approximately 15 pounds a month. The beautiful part of this diet is that you can eat as much meat, butter, salads with lots of dressing, fish, and most creams as you want. Believe me it's terrific. So chubby, if Omar the tentmaker is your clothier, try this one on for size. Pretty soon you'll be trying those Hot Pants on for size.

I, Samuel C. Hays, Burgess of Emmitsburg, Md., herewith proclaim the month of May as Poppy Days.

I sincerely hope that each and every one will contribute liberally to this worthy cause.

Please give all you can spare!

Group Protesting Closing Of College

A letter requesting permission to discuss three alternate proposals to the closing of St. Joseph College and petitions signed by 1,200 persons protesting the closing of the school were sent this week to Board of Trustees Chairman Sister Eleanor McNabb, according to Mrs. Valli Ryan, director of College Relations and chairman of a faculty-student committee designed to investigate alternatives to the closing of the school.

The committee consists of Mrs. Ryan; St. Joseph faculty members David Neun, Dr. Viktor Antolin and Dr. John Blanche; and Leslie Fulton, student body president, and Kathy Jones, student body vice president.

The first alternate proposal is the phasing out of the services of the Daughters of Charity over a five to eight year period, replacing them with lay teachers. This would allow more time for the transition, including the raising of needed monies.

The second proposal is to close the college as planned in 1973, but reopen it with a new board and lay faculty. This plan would require a group to lease or purchase the property now valued at $9 million.

The third proposal is to merge St. Joseph College with Mount Saint Mary's College.

Phone Company Seeks Rate Increase

On April 23, the C&P Telephone Company of Maryland asked the Maryland Public Service Commission to approve new intrastate telephone rate schedules.

The revised tariffs filed by the C&P provide for an across-the-board 15% increase in local service rates and an overall increase of 15% in intrastate long distance revenues.

James J. Jacobs, C&P vice president and general manager, said "Our need for improved earnings relates directly to the demand for communications services. We must respond not only to growth and the need to provide even more and better service, but also to the mobility of our customers and their increased use of telephone service. People today are making more local calls and talking longer. And all of this requires a constantly increasing investment in telephone facilities."

"To finance our construction program, we must attract the necessary capital—and that, in turn, requires earnings that are competitive with those of all other businesses seeking the investor's dollar."

"From 1969 through 1971, we will have invested in telephone plants in Maryland nearly one-half billion dollars. "Despite the high costs of such an investment, the telephone company does not have the option of deferring or canceling any substantial part of our construction program. We have to provide the telephone sets, buildings, cables, and switches when and where they are needed."

"Our customers expect — and rightly so—that they will have top quality telephone service when and where they need it. We feel the responsibility to meet that expectation, and we must have the means to do the job."

The proposed increase would generally be applied to the charge for each service or piece of equipment.

Rates that would not change include the 10c rate for a coin telephone call and the one-time charge for a color set.

Time periods and classifications for long distance calls within Maryland would become the same as for out-of-state calls.

Features of the long distance calling schedule include: —Reduced rates for customer-dialed calls during off-peak periods.

The evening rate for direct distance dialed calls would begin Sunday through Friday as early as 5 p.m. Even lower rates would be in effect for DDD calling thru-out the weekend until 5 p.m. Sunday.

The lowest DDD rates would apply every night from 11 p.m. to 8 a.m., when long distance equipment is least busy. During those hours customers would be offered the advantage of a one-minute minimum period for certain DDD calls.

—Lower rates for all calls dialed directly by the customer than for those requiring operator assistance.

Dial-direct rates would not apply to person-to-person, coin, credit card, and collect calls, and calls charged to another number or billed on a special basis.

The lower rates would apply in areas where direct distance dialing facilities are not yet available.

This repricing of telephone services would produce $40.3 million in additional gross revenues, or $20.3 million after taxes.

The proposed tariff changes are on file at the Company's public business offices and at the Public Service Commission States now agrees to kill seals on land for those two countries in exchange for which they prohibit their nationals from killing seals in the open waters. The treaty which expires in 1976, gives Japan and Canada the option of accepting their shares in the annual kill in dollars—as they have done in past years; or, if they insist upon the skins, the Aleuts will kill 18,000 seals for them each year until 1976.

4. Direct the United States State Department to initiate a truly international treaty in which all countries agree to stop killing ocean mammals, both on land and at sea.

The Governments of the United States and Canada must be told by their employers—the public—that barbarity which stuns the minds and sickens the hearts of all decent people must be outlawed.

Right now is the time to push for passage of the Harris-Pryor Bill—which bans slaughtering the 42,000 seals usually clubbed for the purported benefit of the U. S. Treasury—before the next Pribilof kill begins the end of June.

A copy of the Harris-Pryor Bill may be obtained by writing to: Friends of Animals, 11 West 60th Street, New York, N. Y. 10023.

Homemakers Sponsor Clean-Up Day

The clean-up of the area roads in the Emmitsburg vicinity, which was sponsored by the Homemakers Club on Saturday, April 24, was deemed a success and though there were many tired arms and aching backs, the group of volunteer workers were proud of their accomplishment. The chairman of the project wishes to thank the following participants in the venture: Francis Topper, Charles Swartz, Perry Joy, Kevin Gingell, Barney Gingell, Paul Carter, Mark Carter, Eddie Manahan, Larry Stouter and Stephen Stouter, all members of the local Boy Scout Troop 284.

Also Denise Sanders, Dian Swartz, Darby Topper, Kelly Gingell, Dian Stouter, Theresa Stouter and Jody Van Brakle, members of the Emmitsburg Girl Scouts, who were accompanied by their leader, Mrs. John C. Chatlos, who is also a member of the Homemakers Club; Dave Swomley, representing the Grange; Glenn Springer, Kim Glass, Karen Glass and Mr. Luther Cregger, friendly volunteers, and other members of the Homemakers Club. Mrs. James Small, president, Mrs. Elmer Fuss, Civil Defense chairman, Mrs. William Ritchie, Mrs. Jay Fitzpatrick, Mrs. Esther Gillelan, Mrs. Andrew Keilholtz, and Mrs. Harry Hahn, citizenship chairman.

Bill Would Prohibit Killing Of Mammals

Americans revolted by the massacre of baby harp seals, the threatened extinction of whales, and the killing of polar bears have a golden opportunity to translate their justifiable outrage into direct action.

An incensed citizenry can strike a telling blow against the brutality and needless slaughter by writing their representatives in Congress, demanding they vote for the Harris-Pryor Bill of Rights for Ocean Mammals.

Jointly sponsored by Sen. Fred R. Harris (D-Okla.) and Rep. David Pryor (D-Ark.), the Bill would:

1. Make it a criminal offense for any American to kill seals, polar bears, whales, sea lions, walrus, or any other ocean mammal.
2. Ban the importation into the United States of all products from ocean mammals, thus removing the economic incentive for their slaughter.
3. Phase out the seal kill on our Pribilof Islands without abrogating the current treaty with Japan and Canada. The Uni-

Frederick County Backgrounds

BY SAMUEL CARRICK

Rachael (Rowe) Shriver

The past and the present — how they are intermingled. It is difficult—at times—not to confuse one with the other. This may be due to the fact that the problems and issues seldom change—that which plagued the forefathers of this nation continue to haunt the men and women of today. Take, for instance, the high rate of infant mortality. True, great strides have been made, but far too many children still die before they attain school age. Seventy-five to a hundred years ago, in fact from the dawn of time—this tragic loss has stained the pages of recorded history. Visit an old burial ground and "see for yourself."

Rebecca Rowe, the wife of Lewis P. Shriver, was the mother of thirteen children. Five of them, two sons and three daughters, died within sixteen days—of diphtheria. In addition to this tragic circumstance the youngest child died in infancy and the oldest—a son—died at the age of twenty-one. Truly this mother's heart was taxed to the utmost—but she bore her grief with dignity for life must go on and the living must be considered as well as the dead.

Buried on the plot of their paternal grandparents, George Lewis and Sarah (Krise) Shriver, in Elias Lutheran Churchyard, are the following children of Lewis P. and Rebecca (Rowe) Shriver.

21. In memory of Henry H. Shriver, son of Lewis P. and Rebecca C. Shriver, died September 10, 1873, aged 21 years, 2 months and 10 days.

Note: The eldest child and first son of Lewis P. and Rebecca (Rowe) Shriver. This young man died of typhoid fever. He was unmarried. Henry H. Shriver was baptized and confirmed in Elias Lutheran church and the pastor of that congregation conducted his funeral service.

22. In memory: Laura V. Shriver, died August 28, 1860, aged 3 years and 8 days. Sarah E. Shriver, died August 19, 1860, aged 4 years, 3 months and 18 days. Hannah M. Shriver, died August 25, 1860, aged 5 years, 8 months and 5 days. George L. Shriver, died September 1, 1860, aged 6 years, 11 months, and 24 days. Frederick W. Shriver, died September 5, 1860, aged 1 year and 23 days.

The children of Lewis P. and Rebecca C. Shriver.

Note: All of the above inscription is contained on one stone—the children died close together and are interred in a relatively small space.

The remaining children of Lewis P. and Rebecca (Rowe) Shriver, are listed as follows:

7. Anna May Shriver—born April 4, 1861—baptized in Elias Church—married Charles Landers—lived in Emmitsburg, Md.

The marriage record of Anna May (or Mary) Shriver is contained in the records of Elias

Lutheran Church—as follows:

Married, June 18, 1907, by the Rev. Dr. Charles Reinwald, Charles Ross Landers to Anna Mary Shriver, both of Emmitsburg, Maryland.

Charles Ross Landers and his wife, Ann Mary (Shriver) Landers, are interred in Emmitsburg's Mountainview Cemetery. The inscriptions follow:

23. Charles Ross Landers, born 1858, died 1945. Ann Shriver Landers, wife of Charles Ross Landers, born 1861, died 1949.

8. Charles Calvert Shriver, the oldest living son of Lewis P. and Rebecca (Rowe) Shriver, was born April 11, 1862—baptized in Elias Church on May 14, 1862—after his father's death in 1885, he moved to Pomeah, Illinois.

9. Rebecca Kate Shriver—born August 4, 1863—baptized in Elias Church in September, 1863—married Samuel Hartman.

The marriage record of Rebecca Kate Shriver is to be found in Volume II to the Elias Lutheran records—and is as follows: Married, November 24, 1887, by the Rev. E. S. Johnston, Samuel H. Hartman, of Carroll County, Maryland, to Miss R. Kate Shriver, of Frederick County, Md.

Two children, a son and a daughter, were born to this union.

10. Margaret Elmira Shriver—born December 15, 1864—she was known as Ella Shriver—unmarried. Buried beside her parents in Elias Lutheran churchyard.

24. Ella M. Shriver, born 1864, died 1927.

Margaret Elmira Shriver—also known as "Ella Shriver"—was baptized in Elias Church on January 26, 1865.

11. Rowe Krise Shriver—born October 8, 1868—baptized in Elias Church on November 28, 1868—emigrated to "the west when when about thirty-five years of age."

12. James Howard Shriver—born June 14, 1870—baptized in Elias Church on September 22, 1870.

Note: This son is not listed in any of the Shriver genealogies nor in the family record of Lewis P. and Rebecca (Rowe) Shriver. However, he is recorded in the records of Elias Church. It is to be presumed that he died in infancy and is interred in Elias churchyard—although there is, at present, no gravemarker to designate the place of his burial.

13. Fannie Belle Shriver—born June 29, 1871—baptized in Elias Church on July 4, 1871—died in infancy. Presumed to be interred in Elias Churchyard—although the grave is unmarked.

Lewis P. Shriver and his wife, Rebecca (Rowe) Shriver, are buried in Elias Churchyard, only a short distance (south) of Lewis P. Shriver's parents. Their graves are along the south fence. The inscriptions follow:

25. In memory of Lewis P. Shriver, died January 3, 1885, aged 64 years and 16 days. Rebecca C. Shriver, wife of Lewis P. Shriver, died September 14, 1900, aged 76 years, 6 months, and 27 days.

According to family records, Lewis P. Shriver died from "heart failure" and his wife from "a paralytic stroke."

Located north of the George Lewis Shriver burial plot in Elias churchyard, is the family plot of Henry Heagy who married Rachel Shriver, the daughter of Lewis and Mary (Sheets) Shriver. Both the Sheets and Shriver families were intermarried with the Kowes.

The account of the Rowe—Shriver—Sheets—Heagy families, of Frederick County Maryland, will be continued in this series next week.

Only 11 times in the past half century has the owner winning the most races also been the leading money-winner of the year. The first to do so was H. Guy Bedwell, who, in 1916, won 136 races worth $71,100, an amount which last year 38 horses each won in a single race. Last year Marion H. Van Berg did it for the third year in a row, winning 391 races and "a check" in 595 others for a total of $1,347,289.

If the Van Berg Stable can do it again this year it will tie the record set by C. V. Whitney, who was the leading owner in both races and money won for four years running, 1930 through 1933. The total earned by the C. V. Whitney Stable in those four years came to only $102,259 more than Mr. Van Berg earned in 1970. Harry Payne Whitney, whose racing interests have been carried on by his son John H. Whitney and his sister Mrs. Charles S. Payson, owners of Greentree Stable, was also a dual leader when in 1926 he won 122 races and $407,139, a record amount which stood until 1931.

The only other owner to lead in both columns was the late Warren Wright, whose Calumet Farm is today operated by his widow, Mrs. Gene Markey. Calumet Farm turned the trick in 1947 and 1948 when such as Citation, Coaltown, Bewitch, Armed and others were winning. Calumet was the first stable to win $1,000,000 in a season, doing so in both years, and on four occasions in subsequent years. The Van Berg Stable has been a million dollar winner in each of the past three years.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this Bill is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII by the Complainant, Carrie Jane Darr, from the Defendant, George William Darr, Jr.

The Bill states in substance, that the Complainant, Carrie Jane Darr, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address is c/o George W. In 1971 cancer will claim 340,000 Americans. More than in 1970. In fact, despite some encouraging breakthroughs in the treatment of victims, the mortality rate climbs ever higher.

Few diseases are more dreadful than cancer. No dread disease claims more lives.

An all out effort in an attempt to once and for all alleviate this scourge has now been mounted. President Nixon in his State of the Union Message asked for an additional $100 million for the National Institutes of Health to spearhead an "intensive campaign to find a cure for cancer".

I have given my support to this request. While in the House I supported a resolution to make the conquest of cancer one of the nation's top priorities.

The battle against cancer has moved along several fronts for a great number of years. But the movement has been uneven, uncoordinated.

In 1949, in the glow of success of the atom bomb, radar, and the development of penicillin, all in war time crash programs, the promise of a "penicillin for cancer" was heard. It has never been found.

The record of achievement in pushing back the death rate from cancer over the past 20 plus years has, in fact, not been a particularly impressive one. In 1971 cancer will claim 340,000 Americans. More than in 1970. In fact, despite some encouraging breakthroughs in the treatment of victims, the mortality rate climbs ever higher.

Few diseases are more dreadful than cancer. No dread disease claims more lives.

An all out effort in an attempt to once and for all alleviate this scourge has now been mounted. President Nixon in his State of the Union Message asked for an additional $100 million for the National Institutes of Health to spearhead an "intensive campaign to find a cure for cancer".

I have given my support to this request. While in the House I supported a resolution to make the conquest of cancer one of the nation's top priorities.

The battle against cancer has moved along several fronts for a great number of years. But the movement has been uneven, uncoordinated.

In 1949, in the glow of success of the atom bomb, radar, and the development of penicillin, all in war time crash programs, the promise of a "penicillin for cancer" was heard. It has never been found.

The record of achievement in pushing back the death rate from cancer over the past 20 plus years has, in fact, not been a particularly impressive one. Writer Asks Support Of Cancer Bill

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Although I'm not a resident of your state, the hospital of which I am the director has cared for cancer patients from your area, so I hope you will publish this letter. This nation now has the chance to develop an effective research program to conquer cancer. This program was recommended by the National Panel of Consultants on the Conquest of Cancer, appointed by the U. S. Senate. The Panel included: the President and two past Presidents of the American Cancer Society, 7 members of the Board of Directors of the American Cancer Society, the President and past President of the Leukemia Society, the President and 3 past Presidents of the American Association for Cancer Research, the President of the American Public Health Association, the heads of the major cancer centers, the doctor who first cured cancer patients with chemotherapy, and distinguished businessmen and labor leaders. After considerable study, the panel concluded that because of bureaucratic overlapping, delay, and inefficiency within the Department of Health, Education, and Welfare, the fight against cancer could not be carried on effectively with the agency responsible for it in H.E.W. Therefore, they recommended that the name of the National Cancer Institute be changed to the National Cancer Authority, that it remain where it is physically, but administratively that it be liberated from H.E.W. The National Cancer Authority would become a separate efficient unit, able to conquer cancer without delay. The Panel also recommended measures to improve the scientific ties and speed up the information exchange between cancer scientists and other scientists as well as increased funds for cancer research. These recommendations are incorporated in S34, the bipartisan Conquest of Cancer bill.

Unfortunately, some officials of the Department of H.E.W. are opposed to S34 because they don't want the Cancer Institute removed from their authority. These officials and their friends are trying to get Senators to vote against S34. The fate of the bill, the fight against cancer, and the lives of many present and future cancer patients hang in the balance. You can make the difference.

Your Senator, J. Glenn Beall, Jr., is a member of the key Senate Committee on Health that is considering the bill. He originally co-sponsored S34. We need his support to get the bill voted favorably out of Committee.

The lives you save may include those you love the most.

Sincerely yours,
Solomon Garb, M.D.

has attracted national attention. The San Jose program was presented in detail at the pioneering statewide Drug Alert '71 Seminar in which we participated—in Birmingham, Jan. 28-29. The principal designer and guiding head of the program is Haskell L. Bowen, who, until 1966, was the very popular Supervisor of Physical Education, Director of Athletics, and Head Coach at San Jose's big Campbell Union High School. What happened in 1966 changed his whole life. Campbell High's and Santa Clara County's educational authorities chose Bowen to "take charge" of a project to confront and do battle with the critical drug abuse problem (123 drug arrests in 1966; 2,000 plus arrests last year—in the county). Haskell Bowen began by leaving his school district and spending nearly a year studying the problem wherever in California law enforcement and medical agencies were doing battle with the menace.

Shocking Experiences
He spent time in Haight-Asbury (San Francisco) where "The Drug Culture" had been spawned in 1965 by flocks of runaway hippies. He worked alongside medical men, in the famed "Free Clinic," and lived for a few days in a "Pad" in a second-floor loft—and witnessed the degradation of traditional values. There were four girls and five males—2 mattresses on the floor, 3 sleeping bags. When Haskell joined them for a "look-see" two of the men were smoking Marijuana and one of the girls was "Stoned" on LSD. Haskell spent a night and day with the "commune." His remonstrations were turned aside. He said the girls were entirely free in giving their bodies to one or another of the men. He was shocked. He got only flim-sy excuses, he said, when he tried to pin down the real reason these hippies had gone to drugs. At UCLA's big hospital ward for narcotic addicts, headed by famed Dr. J. Thomas Ungerleider, Haskell Bowen later got another shock—from Karen, a lovely 17 year old "victim" of LSD. Dr. Ungerleider explained that though Karen had "dropped" acid only once, she was doomed to at least a year in the hospital. When he was introduced to Karen, she was mixing dough in the ward's kitchen. She looked up to see Dr. Ungerleider. She cried out: "Doctor, for God's sake, help me! I feel like I'm a filthy odor, a rotten smell and I can't get back into my body!" She looked at Coach Bowen and cried: "He is with the Mafia and they are going to blow up this hospital!" The girl became violent. Dr. Ungerleider later explained to Bowen that she was one of the many who suffered "flashbacks" from LSD use.

At The Battle Front
Haskell Bowen spent two months, 24 hours a day on call, with the Narcotics Squad of the San Jose Police Department. He went to the Mexican border and worked for weeks with U. S. and Mexican Narcotics operatives. He was with the U.S. officer who stopped a car occupied by a young man and his wife and infant. The baby was taking its bottle of milk. Oddly enough the officer ordered the mother to hand him the nursing bottle. She protested. The officer reached for the bottle. Down in the milk he found a rubber bag. It contained 5 ounces of Heroin! Coach Bowen went back to his school district and began to make contact with the students in small groups. He established an "Ombudsman Approach"—offering to help drug victims, those arrested, those not caught but who wanted a confidential source of help. Then, with the fullest cooperation of the school authorities, the law enforcement agencies, and the doctors and hospitals, he inaugurated an educational program—to which he has aided each year since. Here is his basic book: "Drug Facts." It is a teacher's resource book of 300 pages. Copies may be obtained by writing Santa Clara County Office of Education, Santa Theresa St., San Jose, Calif. Coach Haskell Bowen studied the human strengths and weaknesses among hundreds of drug users in the Santa Clara Valley Schools. He has made some careful judgements on the real cause which motivates most young people to experiment with or deliberately go to drugs.

Some Conclusions
"It is important for us to know why kids really use drugs. Almost always it's an escape from an unsatisfactory situation. Each human being has 8 basic values, or needs:

1. Affection
 2. Respect
 3. Power
 4. Wealth
 5. Skill
 6. Enlightenment
 7. Rectitude or Morals
 8. Well-being
- "If our needs are not being met in those eight areas," Haskell Bowen says, "that's when we start going for anything that's high risk—whether it's drugs, or burglary, or anything that will predominate over our frustration. Kids will substitute anything (and today the "in" thing is drugs) for the need or value they have difficulty achieving. "So when I counsel kids on this Ombudsman Approach, I can review with them this list of fundamental needs (there are more) and we can together try to work out a sane and sensible way to achieve those things that all human beings want." Based on all the reports we have received Coach Bowen is saving lives and cutting into the drug society in a big way. The educational program now goes into the Kindergartens. And the important thing is that every institution and group in Santa Clara County is enlisted for the duration of this war on drug misuse.

Dancer To Present "Informance"

Miss Alice Condodina, modern dancer and choreographer, will present an "Informance" on Tuesday, May 4, at St. Joseph College. The "Informance" will be held in DePaul Auditorium at 8 p.m. and is an opportunity for the public to see Miss Condodina perform and speak about her life as a dancer, what is involved in the preparation of a dance work, and her own choreography. An Affiliate Artist at Hood College this year, Miss Condodina will be appearing in various colleges, schools and community programs in the area. One of the goals of the Affiliate Artist is to bring the artist into more direct and informal contact with the audience. Miss Condodina is Hood College's third Affiliate Artist and is a professional dancer of exceptional talent and wide experience. As a principal dancer with the Jose Limon Dance Company, she has toured the United States and Europe. Under the auspices of the United States Information Service, she taught the Limon technique at the Greek Choro-drama in Athens. A graduate of Temple University, where she received her A.B. degree in dramatic arts, she has also studied at the Juilliard School of Music and Dance where she was awarded a diploma in dance.

While serving as director of the dance program at Smith College, Miss Condodina became intrigued with the possibilities of fusing the contemporary expressions of all the arts into a theatrical experience. It is in this area of dance and drama that she has gained the reputation as a striking and unique artist. As a dancer and actress, Miss Condodina heads her own company and has performed with the Ypsilanti Greek Theatre and with the American Dance Theatre. The audience is invited to attend a reception for Miss Condodina after the program.

Fragging: A New Evil Rises From Vietnam

A new word has entered the English language. The word has been part of the vocabulary of American troops in Southeast Asia for some months. It is known to war correspondents and is heard by visitors to Vietnam. However, it was not formally introduced in the United States until a Senate colleague discussed it on the Senate floor recently. The word, "fragging", is a product of the Vietnam War. American troops in war traditionally have invented words expressing their ideas and reflecting their spirit while facing danger. Very often these GI words were happy ones, expressing soldiers' sense of humor. In World War II, ice cream became "godunk," while any new equipment that was alleged to perform miracles was called a "gizmo". Sadly, the latest word-import from Vietnam is not a happy one. It is a tragic word, one that no American could possibly want as part of our language. As explained by my colleague, fragging is the act of an American soldier killing or maiming a military superior by rolling a fragmentation grenade into his tent or barrack while the officer sleeps. My colleague came to this explanation while reporting the death of an Army lieutenant from his state who had died such a death. The Pentagon has confirmed 209 incidents of fragging in 1970 for Army personnel. In 1969, the figure was 96 incidents. No figures are available for earlier years or for such incidents in previous wars. The Pentagon said that 34 deaths in 1970 were believed to be the result of fragging incidents. The 1969 figure was 37. A conversation with a judge of the Military Court of Appeals confirmed that fragging is becoming a commonplace occurrence in Vietnam. The judge, who had not heard of the word "fragging" itself, was all too familiar with the act from his review of cases in the military court system. "Fragging is all too vivid an example of the breakdown of morale and resulting failure of discipline that is happening within our armed forces in Indochina. These deplorable acts represent the boiling over of the pot of frustration and hopelessness which is the Vietnam War. In announcing the death of the young Army lieutenant my colleague eulogized: "In every respect, this young man had every right and reason to live. This young man was killed, not the victim of communism, not the victim of a helicopter crash. He was fragged to death as he lay sleeping in his billet. He was murdered by a serviceman—a fellow GI." "Fragging is one more example of why we have to realize the terrible evil that is being done to the spirit of our American troops, evil born in the bogs and swamps of Vietnam which is creeping across this nation of ours. We have to resolve to exorcise this evil from our national spirit and put an end to the war that bred it.

DRAPER—In loving memory of my dear husband, Worth B. Draper, who passed away one year ago, April 30, 1970. One year ago the sun was shining the sky was heavenly blue My heart was bright and cheerful because dear Worth I had you Today recalls the memory of a loved one gone to rest the one who thinks of him best Your life was so short, Worth It doesn't seem quite fair It was just a short visit So soon God called you up there Deep in my heart lies a picture More precious than silver or gold It is a picture of you dear Worth Whose memory will never grow old.

Band Presented With Arm Patches

At the monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Municipal Band, held Monday evening, Mrs. Gloria Martin, president of the Ladies Auxiliary of the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 6658, and Mrs. Rita Byard, secretary, presented American Flag arm patches to all Band members. In making the presentation, Mrs. Martin said: "On behalf of all the members of the Ladies Auxiliary to the Veterans of Foreign Wars, Post 6658, and in conjunction with Loyalty Day, to be celebrated May 1, we would like to present these American Flag arm insignias to be worn on the right sleeve of your Municipal Band uniform. Loyalty Day is a time to rejoice about the blessings of America and to remind ourselves and others that preservation of these blessings is a responsibility we all should share. It is a time to speak out loudly and clearly about the virtues of our Nation. A time to outshine those who preach a negative philosophy about this country's present and future." In the picture, Mrs. Martin is shown presenting Flag insignias to Miss Janie Koontz, Director of the Emmitsburg Band, as Chris Byard and other band members look on.

Through advanced planning, in view of the proposed rate increase, the following new stamps will be placed on sale.

The 11-cent air mail stamp will be first placed on sale at Spokane, Washington, on May 7, in conjunction with PIPEX, the Northwest Federation of Stamp Clubs. The stamp was designed by George Vander Sluis of Camillus, New York.

The 16-cent stamp portraying Ernie Pyle will be first placed on sale on May 7, at Washington, D. C., with first day issuance ceremonies to be sponsored by the National Press Club.

Robert Geissman, a New York City artist, designed the vertical stamp. His source for the portrait is based on a photograph made by Alfred Eisenstaedt, which appeared in Life Magazine, October 2, 1944.

Both of these stamps will be available at our office, on Saturday, May 8.

The 8-cent stamp commemorating the 150th anniversary of Missouri's admission to the Union, will be first placed on sale on May 8, at Independence, Missouri.

The stamp was designed by Brabury Thompson, a member of the Citizen's Stamp Advisory Committee, who modified a submission by R. C. Holmes, staff artist of the Missouri Tourism Commission. Subject of the horizontal stamp is the central portion of Thomas Hart Benton's mural, "Independence and the Opening of the West," which is in the Harry S. Truman Library at Independence.

The stamp shows a Pawnee Indian facing a hunter-trapper and a group of settlers. In the background are oxen-drawn covered wagons. Across the bottom of the stamp is "Missouri 1821-1971 United States 8c."

This stamp will be placed on sale at our office on Monday, May 10, 1971.

No official word has been received concerning the effective date of the proposed rate increase. Possibly next week, I will be able to give you a date, at which time I will announce several other new stamps.
