One of the great pleasures in participating in festivals such as the forthcoming Colorfest in October is the opportunity of sharing the pleasures we enjoy every day of the week with others who don't get that opportunity. It's true that the leaves are not as colorful all year long, but our hills are certainly more scenic than the city streets and offer periodic enjoyment to those who are locked into a routine of hot pavements and inside factory walls. Increasing numbers of visitors are building the tourist business in the Catskills which is going to help all of us in Emmitsburg and the surrounding areas.

Everyone is interested in their heritage and would like to know more about the people and places that have gone before us. Why don't we in Emmitsburg work up a historical display which would include some of the things which have been a part of our town since 1757? I'm sure there are many folks in town who could make contributions to such a project. We should not let 200 odd years of history fade away with no record regardless of the value of such an exhibit to draw tourists into town. Many historical items were displayed by townspeople during the bicentennial in 1957. Perhaps now is the time to make a permanent display that would last long into the future.

Another idea would be to document the outdoor history of our town. Who knows the story of Indian Lookout Mountain and why hasn't it been recorded someplace for all to go and see. Perhaps this exhibit could include some of the many animals that have roamed the woods in the past and some of those that still do. I think an outdoor history exhibit would draw just as many visitors as one more closely aligned with man.

The October Colorfest gives us the ideal occasion to think about our town's history and what we can do to record it for others to see and share. I'm sure that others can think of additional projects equally worthwhile. Let's get some of them working for the good of everyone in Emmitsburg.

I see a few students beginning to drift back into the square. It won't be long now before all of them are back with us. I would like to wish one and all a hearty welcome and best wishes for a fruitful academic year. Things have been kind of quiet during the summer and should be back to normal with the students in town.

Another sign of the end of summer is the sight of fresh paint being applied to the school crosswalks on Main Street and Seton Avenue. The town is getting ready for the return to classes of the local school children next Tuesday. The many children home from vacation and getting ready for another school year is a welcome sight for us old folks. Best wishes to all of them for an interesting school year.

Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Alabama, has reported that the Apollo 15 flight was not as great as first impressions led us to believe. First motion of the vehicle was on time but the first stage separation was a half-second late. Stage S-II separated 0.7 seconds late and the third stage parking orbit firing came 4.4 seconds early. The vehicle reached a speed of 35,574.4 feet per second, 3.42 feet per second too fast. Overall, Marshall says the performance was about 99.999 per cent perfect, not bad for an endeavor in which so many people participated & there were so many different parts. Space men say the performance was well "within parameters" and we would have to agree.

SJC Opens 162nd Year This Week

St. Joseph College officially opens its 162nd academic year with the Mass of the Holy Spirit at St. Joseph's Provincial House on Saturday. The Mass culminates a week of registration, testing, forums, and social events for 410 students enrolled at the Emmitsburg college for women.

Members of the Orientation Committee were on hand to greet 86 freshmen and 10 transfer students who arrived on Sunday, August 29. Sister Margaret Dougherty, president, welcomed the new students at dinner. Later in the evening the Orientation Committee hosted a get-acquainted party in the Student Center.

Classes began on Wednesday. A candlelight dinner for faculty and students was followed by the college's traditional Rose Ceremony for incoming freshmen.

Despite the announcement of the college's closing in 1973, few upperclassmen elected not to return to campus. Enrollment is 83% of the past spring semester's census of 496 students. The drop reflects the withdrawal of freshmen applications, particularly high school graduates interested in the nursing major. Of the freshman nursing applicants, 50% withdrew when notified last April that the college could not guarantee their degree in that field.

Several St. Joseph students are studying abroad this year. Chris Carignan will be at Caen, France, with the Experiment in International Living. Ona Brazinski and Lynn Cariello will be with the Center for Overseas Undergraduate Programs in Paris. Mimi Ghosh and Joyce Kline will be with the Institute for American Universities at Avignon. Sheila Denz and Rosanna Mancini will be at Angers with the Centre International D'Etudes Francaises of the Universite Catholique D'Angers, and Tina Lazzara will study with the St. Louis University Program at Madrid.

The new members of the campus community come from 10 states, the District of Columbia and Puerto Rico. Those from the area include Patricia Anne Hubbard, Emmitsburg, and Ivanka Antolin, Fairfield, Pa.

Miss Rosensteel Is Given Surprise Party

A surprise birthday party was held at St. Anthony's Parish Hall for Miss Margaret Rosensteel on Friday evening, August 27. The party was given by Mrs. Francis McGraw and daughters, Barbara McGraw and Mrs. Mary Agnes Reckley. Punch was made and served by Mrs. Frances Rosensteel. A specially made floral centerpiece of carnations and pom-poms was the center of attraction at the guest's table.

Those attending the party along with the hostesses were: Rev. Vincent Tomalski, pastor of St. Anthony's; Sister Majorica, of Mt. St. Mary's College; Mrs. Nora Wetzel, Mrs. Alma Seltzer, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell, Mr. and Mrs. John Little and family, Mr. and Mrs. James Otto and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Cloyd Seiss, Mr. James Jordan, Mr. and Mrs. George E. Rosensteel and family, Mrs. Robert Marshall and family, Miss Margaret Reuter, Mrs. John L. Orndorff, Mrs. Charles Lingg, Mrs. Lewis Krietz, Mr. Joseph Reckley and children, Mrs. Francis Hemler and family, Bobby and Judy McGraw.

Among the many lovely gifts received by Miss Rosensteel was a money tree given by those attending and also by a number of friends unable to attend the party.

Refreshments were served to the guests and an enjoyable evening was had by all, especially "Miss Maggie".

SOFTBALL PLAYOFFS HERE SUNDAY

Thurmont and Frederick will meet in the final playoff game of the Frederick-Carroll Fastpitch Softball League this Sunday evening at 5:45 o'clock on the neutral Emmitsburg Community Field. The teams are tied 1-1 in the best of three final playoffs.

Sen. E. P. Thomas Likes Nixon Policy

State Senator Edward P. Thomas (R-Frederick-Carroll) has defended President Nixon's new economic policy and criticized Governor Marvin Mandel's suggestion that a possible increase in state taxes should be blamed on the Nixon action.

In a statement released from his Frederick office, Senator Thomas said:

"I am disappointed the governor has been taking 'pot shots' at President Nixon at a time where there should be cooperation shown by our leaders on both sides of the political fence.

"The latest polls show the majority of the American public backs the president's bold and coordinated economic program. In a recent press conference the governor was reported to have said the president's economic program might cost the state from seven to 15 million dollars in taxes and cause him to propose a tax increase in Maryland next year.

"I suggest the governor look at his own track record for economy before firing shots at the President of the United States who is attempting to correct mistakes made long before he assumed office. I suggest the governor and his staff seek methods to cut costs and stimulate economy in the state government.

"I am reminded of the seven million dollars of state money which the legislature was pressured into giving for improvements to the Baltimore City Stadium, a facility used primarily by the Colt and Oriole organizations that are owned and operated by two staunch supporters of the governor.

"I am reminded of the prevailing wage laws supported by the administration and passed by the General Assembly after intense lobbying. Passage of this measure most assuredly will escalate the costs of school and other construction throughout the state.

"I commend the president for his actions and hope the governor and other critics will give it a chance to work before shooting it down," the Senator concluded.

Citizens Committee Has First Meeting

The first meeting of the Emmitsburg Citizens Committee which has been formed to work with Bushey and Burrey, architects who will design the new Emmitsburg Middle School, was held Wednesday night. Mr. Meade Felton of the Frederick County Board of Education, discussed the job assigned to the committee and the time schedule. It is hoped that all work will be complete so that the new school can be occupied in September 1973, assuming the project is funded in 1972.

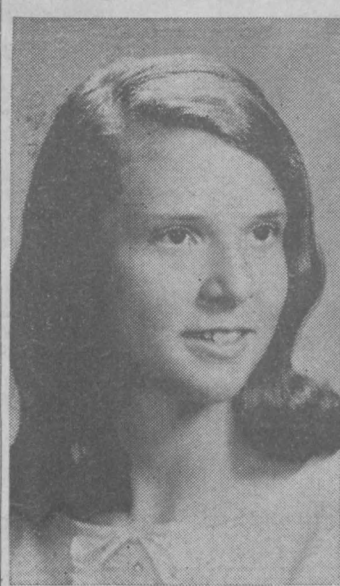

The first job of the committee is to determine the extent to which the community wants to combine other community activities with the school, so that improved service can be offered at a lower overall cost. Suggestions offered to date include the Public Library, Health Department, some activities of Parks and Recreation such as a swimming pool and tennis courts, and facilities for youth activity in a year around Teen Center.

Community reaction to these proposals is desired and it is hoped that many citizens will contact the committee members with their thinking on the subject.

Harry Hays Named Science Advisor

Dr. Harry Hays, brother of Mayor Samuel Hays of Emmitsburg, a U. S. Department of Agriculture expert on pesticides, has been named Science Advisor to Dr. George Irving, Jr., Administrator of the USDA's Agricultural Research Service. Hays joined the USDA in 1957, and is the author of more than 75 scientific publications and one of the founders and a past president of the Society of Toxicology. For six years he served as a member of the American Medical Association's Committee on Cutaneous Health and Cosmetics. With his wife and their son, Gregory, he lives in Washington.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. James L. Topper, 121 De Paul Street, announce the engagement of their daughter, Pamela L., to Sgt. Gary E. Cool, son of Mr. and Mrs. Allen Cool, S. Seton Avenue.

Miss Topper is a 1969 graduate of St. Joseph's High School, and a 1970 graduate from Maryland Medical Secretarial School in Hagerstown, Md. She is presently employed by C. H. Johnson, M.D., as Laboratory Secretary at the Annie M. Warner Hospital in Gettysburg, Pa.

Mr. Cool is a 1968 graduate of St. Joseph's High School and is serving in the United States Air Force at Alconbury AFB, England, as Automatic Flight Control Specialist.

A winter wedding is being planned.

Teens Welcome College Students

We, the teens of Emmitsburg, wish to extend our welcome to all of the students of St. Joseph College and Mt. St. Mary's College. We especially wish to welcome back all of the students that helped us so much in our Teen Center last year and we are looking forward to seeing them again and perhaps some new faces at our new Teen Club location, the Emmitsburg Middle School gym.

And a good time was had by all tie-dyeing Saturday night. Some of the designs and color patterns were real wild. It was a new experience for many and a real good time for everyone. Mary Ann Coleman said she had as much fun as the kids, even if she's going to have purple, yellow and orange hands for the next two weeks. We would like to give a special thanks to the Matthews Gas Co. for their contribution to this project.

The new record albums are here and more coming this week. So if you want to hear the grooviest sounds around, stop in this Saturday.

Mr. John Carson from St. Anthony's, who builds and repairs pool tables, did a real great job in making ours better than new. Our pool sharks, Jack Sweeney, Mike Lupinski, and the Joy boys, give you a special thank-you. We're still working on the "Chess Tournament" and if lady luck is with us, there is a very good chance that a real chess pro will supervise the games.

Credit Production Of Local Holsteins

A report of milk production levels attained by dairy cows in the area has been received from Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The actual food production output, recorded in the DHIR program, by these local Registered Holsteins is:

Hills - Hope Marquis Hull 6611440, a three-year-old, produced 20,530 lbs. of milk and 718 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days. MD-Hickory-Hill Sweet Janet 6939255, a two-year-old, had 15,940 lbs. of milk and 596 lbs. of butterfat in 365 days. Both are included in the herd tested for Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hill, Emmitsburg.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 9,388 lbs. (4,366 quarts) of milk and 345 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow.

Mr. and Mrs. John H. Walter and family are vacationing at Richmond and Virginia Beach, Va.

Commissioners Plan Improved Sidewalks

In response to complaints received at the town office, the Mayor and Board of Commissioners met recently to decide what to do about broken and irregular sidewalks.

An on-the-spot inspection was made of all the sidewalks and it was soon learned that the problem was too big to correct with one large stroke. It would have to be divided into a number of smaller problems covering a period of several years.

Having done this, it was decided to make a beginning which would improve the entire sidewalk system, scheduling the entire improvement for completion by 1975.

The plan would be to employ the services of a contractor who would remove and replace old paving where necessary and replace with new at the proper grade.

Property owners would be expected to pay for paving in front of their properties as before, however, the town has voted to pay for the curbing. Payments could be made in a lump sum or divided into smaller amounts to be added to tax bills, payable over a period of 5 years.

A suggested point for beginning the action is at Chesapeake Alley at East Main Street and running to the Post Office.

An open hearing will be held Monday evening, September 13, at 7:30 p.m. when property owners will have an opportunity to express their views.

The spirit of the improvement is to make the sidewalks safe to walk on, but we can enjoy a great fringe benefit in the improved appearance at no additional cost.

This idea is sort of tender and new, and needs a little help to make it grow. Think of something good that you can add to the idea and bring it to the meeting on September 13. This is your opportunity to help.

Mary S. Scott Will Write For Paper

(Editor's Note)

"Happenings In Emmitsburg," by Mary S. Scott, who is acting as a personal correspondent for the Emmitsburg area, is a new feature which will appear weekly in the Chronicle. Anyone having items of interest is asked to contact her at 447-6240.

Hello there!

Bet you're wondering why I'm on the working end of a pen again—well maybe I am too; but as one of my favorite comedians, Flip Wilson, would say, "The Devil made me do it." I'm looking forward to the idea of being one of the Correspondents to our home town paper. You can help make it more pleasant if you'd call your news items to 447-6240; that way we hear from you also.

It's about that time of year again! School bells are ringing, teachers already have settled down to getting things in order for a new year. Children too are collecting and organizing for another year.

Have you been to the School Supply department of a store lately and observed what is going on? What a mixture of emotions! Eager eyed youngsters check for the regular loose leaf note books, pens, pencils, erasers, dividers, etc., but with the exception of eye catching covers, they are still essentially the same old fare. After much handling and deliberation, the basics are selected. Now we can roam to the myriads of colors of felt tipped pens, crayons, colored poster paper and all manner of things we'd like to have. One usually ends up with about an equal amount of "want and need" articles. How different from the days of one pencil and one composition book.

Now ask this small buyer if he is ready for the awaited day for another new school year to begin. Answers and enthusiasm will vary. For some it means the last year in this school—next year will be High School—a very new experience, but for others how new it will be for the Kindergarten tots to wait for the regular school bus. Time goes so slowly when we are waiting.

Minor Injuries Are Result Of Accident

A Cedar Grove, N. J., motorist was admitted to the Warner Hospital, while two others were treated after a collision at the intersection of Routes 15 and 97 in east Emmitsburg, at 4:45 o'clock Saturday afternoon.

A hospital spokesman said Irma Kayhart, 68, Cedar Grove, was admitted in satisfactory condition with injuries to her lip and jaw. Her passenger, Catherine Fargnoli, 42, Clifton, N. J., was treated for injuries to her nose and right knee. A passenger in another car, Dollie Miller, 48, York, was treated for injuries to her left hand and chin. They were removed to the hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance.

A Smithsburg resident was admitted to the hospital for observation as a result of an accident that also injured his companion on W. Main St., Emmitsburg, at 2 a.m. Sunday.

A hospital spokesman said Wayne Leroy Toms, 22, of Smithsburg, was admitted for a left eye injury. He was released later Sunday morning. His passenger, Joseph McIntyre, Jr., 24, Smithsburg, was treated for bruises.

Emmitsburg police said Toms lost control of his east-bound pickup truck on a left curve at a high rate of speed. His truck ran off the south side of W. Main St. and collided with a car owned by Mrs. Ruth Joy, parked in front of her W. Main St. residence. Toms' truck continued east for 60 feet shearing off a steel light pole. The truck then drove on 80 feet tearing up shrubbery in front of the W. Main St. home of Andrew Eyster.

The truck then upset in an alley way and smashed against the home of James Kemp, W. Main St. Police said the impact caused windows to be broken. Spouting was torn off and brick facing damaged at the Kemp property.

Police estimated Toms' 1954 Ford pickup truck as a $250 total loss and $200 loss to Mrs. Joy's 1957 Pontiac. No damage estimates to the remaining properties were available. Police said the injured were removed to the hospital in the Emmitsburg VFW ambulance.

Spangler, Paul Little, Edward Stine, Merle Rudisill and J. Clare Routson.

Local Child Drowns In Swimming Pool

A 20-month-old toddler drowned Monday afternoon in a portable backyard swimming pool near Emmitsburg, and the president of the National Association for Swimming Pool Safety says it illustrates the need for a county pool fence ordinance.

At 3:35 p.m. Monday, the VFW ambulance crew, including Mike Trout, Sam Cool and Paul Humerick, was summoned to the home of Joseph P. Zanella, Faculty Row, Mt. St. Mary's, where young Mary Ann Zanella had been discovered by her mother — lying lifeless in a 12x3 foot portable swimming pool, according to police reports.

She was taken to the Warner Hospital where she was pronounced dead on arrival by a deputy Adams County coroner, Dr. Roy W. Gifford.

Attempts were made by the child's father and by a neighbor to revive Mary Ann by artificial respiration prior to the arrival of the ambulance. Mary Ford of Adamstown, NASPS president, said Monday evening that Mary Ann's life was "one that could have been saved if county officials had shown human concern."

Mrs. Ford has been campaigning since the death of her own son in a swimming pool drowning tragedy for the establishment of a county swimming pool safety law, requiring fences around private swimming pools. Frederick City has such a regulation, but the county does not require precautionary measures. County officials vetoed the passage of such a law August 10.

There was no fence around the Zanella pool and Mrs. Ford says Emmitsburg's Mayor Samuel Hays knows of no local swimming pool safety ordinance.

Large Crowd Bids Fr. Kuhn Farewell

A farewell party was held on Sunday evening in the church grove for Rev. Harry Kuhn, associate pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Emmitsburg. Approximately 200 parishioners and friends attended the party. Among those attending were Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kuhn, Philadelphia, Pa., parents of Fr. Kuhn; Mrs. Marie Brennan, Hatboro, Pa., sister of Fr. Kuhn, and Miss Patricia Thompson, of Philadelphia, niece of Fr. Kuhn. Rev. and Mrs. Adrian Brown and son, and Rev. W. Ronald Fearer also attended the farewell party.

Harry Otterson acted as emcee for the evening's social and introduced the Sunrise Singers, who sang a variety of songs for the occasion. Also introduced were Mary Theresa Hollinger, president of the Ladies Sodality; Roger Zurgable, chairman of the Church Council, Thomas Eckenrode, CYO representative, and Paul Keepers, of the Knights of Columbus. Each thanked Fr. Kuhn for his support during the past two years and presented him with tokens of appreciation.

Mrs. Loretta Adelsberger acted as chairlady for the dessert and beverages during the party.

Fr. Kuhn left this week to assume his new duties as pastor of Our Lady of Lourdes Church in Baltimore.

Letter To Editor

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

Once again tragedy has struck our community by the route of a back yard swimming pool, taking the life of 18-month-old Mary Ann Zanella of Emmitsburg.

The community, through the Burgess and Commissioners, offer deepest sympathy to the family.

Because of this and other similar tragedies, perhaps the time has come to adopt safety regulations for swimming pools.

Recognizing as we must, the impossibility of guarding the thousands of such pools in existence, the first recommendation would be to require a fence around each pool to prevent easy access.

While this suggestion follows the American tradition of locking the stable after the horse has been stolen, we should remember that there is a future, and it needs to be safe-guarded.

Mayor Samuel Hays

Variety Of Courses To Be Offered Here

Do you want to take a course, right here in Emmitsburg that will develop a hobby, improve your work skills, or upgrade your reading comprehension?

The Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council will offer the following courses beginning the middle of September: Adult Basic Education, Woodworking & Ceramics. These courses were selected after studying the results of a recent community survey and will run for a period of from 8 to 12 weeks.

An Adult Basic Education class will begin on Wednesday, Sept. 22 and thereafter will meet on Monday and Wednesday of each week from 7 to 9. Classes will be held in the Adult Education Room at Seton Center which is located just south of Emmitsburg in the former Mother Seton School.

ABE teachers work with each person at whatever grade level he has attained. Some students need to develop the basic reading and computational skills while those who are more advanced may prepare to take high school equivalency tests. There is no charge for ABE courses and all classroom materials are provided. The course will be taught again this year by Mrs. Mary Seess and Mrs. Ann Marshall. It is estimated that there are in Frederick County at least 15,000 functional illiterates, people who are unable to read and write with any degree of efficiency. These people, for a variety of reasons, just did not make it in the standard school program. Many would welcome a second chance and that chance is provided by the adult basic education program. Unfortunately it is difficult to publicize free adult education to those who need it most. They cannot fill out survey forms; they shy from talk of school because school to them was a failure situation.

An eight-week class in woodworking will begin Wednesday evening, Sept. 22 at 7 in St. Euphemia's Hall in Emmitsburg. Registration is open to all adults in the area who wish to learn basic woodworking skills or make small furniture, toys, or other projects under supervision.

The woodworking shop of St. Joseph High School, which is located directly across the street from the high school in the basement of St. Euphemia's Hall, has been made available for the class. The shop is equipped with all the basic power tools. Dr. Robert T. Marshall will be the instructor. Class will be held each Wednesday night from 7 to 9. Registration is accomplished by appearing the first evening of class and paying a fee of $8.00.

Ceramics—A class in Hand-built Pottery is being formed and will be taught by Sister Anna May at St. Joseph College on the third floor of Brute'. This class will begin on Monday, Sept. 1 at 7:30 p.m. Registration will be on the night of the first class and the cost will be $8.00 for the entire course and will include the cost of materials. Aprons are suggested for those taking this course.

In addition to the above courses the Lifelong Learning Council hopes to offer courses in Sewing, Typing, Child Care and Home Nursing, in the near future. More about these at a later date.

George Mellor, W. Main St.; Mrs. Paul Goetz, Fairfield R2; Christopher Stover, Emmitt Gardens; Irma Kayhart, Cedar Grove, N. J.; Joseph McIntyre and Wayne Leroy Toms, R1, Smithsburg, were transported to the Annie Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, this week in the VFW ambulance. Drivers were Jim Kittinger, Mike Trout, Leo M. Boyle, Paul E. Humerick, and Sam Cool.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Pitzer and family, Shiremans-town, Pa., spent the weekend with Mrs. Pitzer's father and brother, Mr. James Arnold and Francis Arnold, E. Main St. Miss Nancy Pitzer, Alexandria, Va., also visited with the Arnolds over the weekend.

Drug Guidelines Offered To Maryland Educators

Proposed guidelines for drug counseling by educators have been presented to the Maryland State Board of Education. A new state law protects the confidentiality of information when a student approaches a teacher for help with a drug problem, but leaves unanswered the question of what the teacher should do. If an educator feels incapable of providing help for a student, the proposal suggests the educator and the student should cooperatively seek additional professional help from available sources. Educators should have a list of such sources, the report adds.

Solid Waste Recycling

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., September 2, 1971—Unlike conventional waste disposal, recycling is for the most part a nonpolluting method. It involves such procedures as the extraction of reusable materials (for old cars, refrigerators, etc.), the conversion of garbage and sludge into fertilizers, and the breaking down of wastes by bacteria or chemicals. Recycling is expected to become a major industry during the coming decade. The cost of getting rid of solid waste — including recycling — will rise from the current level of $4.5 billion to more than $7 billion by 1980, according to a private survey. Expenditures for plant and equipment alone are slated to advance from $432 million to over $760 million by then. Thus, overall, the market could about double in the ten-year period. The Waste Disposal Problem

It was estimated that last year 46% of solid wastes (some 4.4 billion tons are produced annually in the U.S.) was disposed of by open burning, 16% by incineration, and 38% by landfill or dumping in the sea. Burning solid wastes is alleged to add some 11 million tons of pollutants to the atmosphere every year. Land dumping can create a further health hazard by contaminating ground water used for drinking, as well as by breeding rats and other pests.

Uppermost problem in urban areas is the growing scarcity of landfill space. There is, too, the ever-increasing cost of conventional methods—open dumping, incineration, and composting. Moreover, about 75% of the refuse - burning incinerators maintained by the cities have no pollution controls, while 94% of the country's landfill areas have been declared unsanitary by the U. S. Health Service.

Principal Polluters

Although the bulk of solid waste is accounted for by agriculture and mining, the major problem is that created by homes, institutions, commerce, and manufacturing industries. The public disposes of some 250 million tons of rubbish each year, while industry contributes around 110 million tons (about one half of which is reused). These figures break down to approximately 5½-6 pounds of trash, garbage, and scrap generated by the average American per day. Fifty years ago an individual threw away a little less than 3 pounds a day. By 1980, the per capita disposal is expected to reach 8 pounds.

Need For Legislation

It is obvious that federal participation in waste control is urgently needed. The Solid Waste Disposal Act of 1965 was enacted by Congress when the waste problem outgrew local control. So far, however, funding has been modest. Only $80 million was appropriated between fiscal 1966 and 1970. Early use of the funds was for the collection of data on waste; then, later, for development of recycling technologies by industry and universities. But recycling technology is still in the development stage, and federal, state, and local legislation is still a long-range objective. Once both public and private co-operation is assured, it is our opinion that recycling offers the greatest promise for restoring the balance to our ecology.

Investment In Recycling Companies

Several large companies such as Ogen, Monsanto, Carrier, Carborundum, & Litton Industries are involved to some degree in this emerging field. However, new and smaller companies have been formed to deal exclusively with the recycling question. Some of these are Trans-Union, American Hoist and Derrick, Browning Ferris, SPM Corporation, Peabody Galion, Neptune Meter, Procter Steel, and Rollins International. After reviewing the available investment situations, the Research Staff of Babson's Reports believe that further technological progress is necessary before some of these firms become attractive for long - range investment. Meanwhile, the alert investor will watch developments in these companies as recycling increases in significance.

Maryland Landowners May Register Property As Wildlife Sanctuary

A new program through which many Md. land owner may register his property as a wildlife sanctuary has been announced by the Maryland Ornithological Society.

The program is designed to support the efforts of private individuals to protect native bird, animal, and plant life on their property.

The announcement was made statewide by Dr. Lawrence Zeleny, President of MOS, and locally by Robert B. Alexander, President of the Frederick Chapter of MOS.

The registration process is a simple one. All the owner needs to do is file an application with MOS. The Society will supply posting signs, virtually at cost, which state clearly that the property is a wildlife sanctuary registered with the Maryland Ornithological Society and that it is protected by law against shooting.

The 9x12 inch signs, made of metal and painted in easily legible yellow and black colors, cost $1.00 each. It is suggested that, to be effective, posting signs should be placed at intervals of at least every 500 feet along the borders of the property, at all

Good Gun Dogs Are Trained By Men

"Outstanding gun dogs are the products of the men who trained them," says Jerome B. Robinson, Gun Dogs Editor of Sports Afield, in an article about six basic bird-dog faults. Here are two of them, and some ways of correcting the fault.

Gun-shyness. Gun-shy dogs are almost always man-made. Somebody took the dog out and shot over him to "see if he's gun-shy" and made him gun-shy in the process. The problem can be avoided if owners introduce pups to the sound of gunfire gradually. When the pups are fully involved in eating, fire a .22 blank 100 feet from the pen. They may raise their heads in alarm, but will dive right back into the food and forget their momentary fear. Do this repeatedly, gradually decreasing the distance of the shot, at each feeding time. Pups brought up this way will never become gun-shy.

Correcting a dog that someone has made to fear gunfire is done similarly. Fire a .22 blank at some distance when the dog first begins to feed. If he leaves his food and hides, take the food out of the pen and leave him with water only. Repeat the process daily until the dog gets hungry enough to eat, no matter what noises interrupt him.

Next stake him out with other dogs and, using a light gun, shoot liberated game in front of them. The eagerness of the other dogs will help overcome the gun-shy dogs timidity.

Next take him hunting and, when he's running happily at long distance, fire a .22 blank and keep walking along as if nothing happened. He may stop momentarily but should resume hunting immediately. Then bring a companion along to kill a bird for him. Take care that the shooter stands well away from the dog; don't shoot over his head. Feed him the birds and send him on.

Breaking and Chasing. Most young dogs go through a period when breaking point, flushing and chasing their birds is part of their growing up. Once training has begun never allow a dog to break point. Work him on a check cord and prevent the breaking habit.

Work the check cord, using liberated game. Once a point is established, have a helper hang on to the check cord so the dog cannot chase. Go in, flush the bird and shoot in the air. When the dog breaks, grab him, shake him up and drag him by the tail back to the spot where he pointed. Set him on point again and steady him. Then go out in front and shoot in the air. Do not allow him to break. When he stands steadily, pet him and send him on. Through many short daily lessons, the dog learns that he may not leave a point until touched by your hand and sent on.

In addition to eight levels of English instruction, three levels of mathematics, numerous business courses, five different social studies courses, three science offerings, and six vocational and technical courses offered last year, it is planned that several new subjects will be offered. If enrollment warrants it, psychology, ceramics, and graphic arts (professional printing) which have not been offered before in the Evening High School, will be offered this year.

It should be stressed that unlike adult education courses, which carry no credits, these courses are designed to earn credits toward a State of Maryland High School diploma. These courses are open to persons 16 years of age and older. Approximately one half the students are over 21.

There is an out-of-county or out-of-state tuition fee for non-residents of Frederick County. For Frederick County residents under 21 years of age there are no costs if books are returned at the conclusion of the course. Frederick County residents over 21 years of age pay a five dollar registration fee.

For further information call the Evening High School 662-9209, Monday through Thursday from 3:00-10:00 p.m. On Friday call 662-9200 during the school day.

Program Planned For CHS Freshmen

On Friday, Sept. 3, a casual program will be held for all new Freshmen Students of Catoclin High School. The purpose of this meeting is to give tours of the school in order to make the students more familiar with the new surroundings. It will also give the classmates a chance to get to know one another.

The program has been planned for all those who feel they need some help to make the first day of school easier. It is not mandatory for a freshman student to come. It begins at 1:00 p.m. and will conclude approximately two hours per cent to 42 million pounds.

Serving On USS Enterprise

Navy Airman Apprentice David A. Cool, son of Mr. John W. Cool of Route 1, Fairfield, Pa., participated in the first night operation which simultaneously employed dual methods to refuel and resupply an under way aircraft carrier.

With the hazards of two ships steaming together at close refueling quarters intensified by South China Sea darkness, Cool's ship, the nuclear powered attack aircraft carrier USS Enterprise, took fuel from the combat stores ship USS Sacramento by the familiar "highline" method.

At the same time, in another critical operation, the "Big E" was receiving vital supplies by helicopter transfer from the multi-mission Sarramento.

He is a 1970 graduate of Fairfield Area High School, Fairfield, Pa.

In 1960, consumption of primary nickel in Italy was only 14 million pounds. Last year, consumption had risen 200 per cent to 42 million pounds.

A Modest Proposal To Cut Meat Prices

How many times have you visited a market and noticed that, as high as all prices are, the price of meat is the highest. In this land of plenty, when we have an abundance of foodstuffs, it is one of the paradoxes of modern life that the price of food keeps going up and the price of meat goes up faster than other products.

The United States Senate had an opportunity to do something about this problem shortly before the summer recess. It also had an opportunity to strengthen our federal system and bring state governments into a partnership with the federal government to provide a larger quantity of more wholesome and healthful meat for the nation's markets. I regret that the Senate did not accept the challenge.

The Nixon Administration agreed that the time had come to exercise some of the principles of the new federalism in this vital area of consumer protection. The Administration proposed that when state meat inspection programs were in all respects equal to federal inspection standards in producing healthy and wholesome meat for America's dinner tables, the state-inspected products should be allowed to move in full competition with the products of the large packing houses, which are inspected federally, and foreign meat products.

The argument made against this proposal was that it might jeopardize the federal inspection system. Actually the bill, instead of lowering any of the federal standards would simply require that all of the meat now produced in state-inspected meat packing houses would have to conform to the federal standard before they could enter interstate trade. The bill would guarantee an increase in the supply of wholesome meat. It would mean that those who buy these state-inspected meat products from local butchers or local packing houses could feel just as confident about them as they would meat processed by any one of the large nationally-known packers.

I believe this bill was defeated because of its impact on the market. Although the federally-inspected plants of the big packers produce 90 per cent of the meat which is consumed in America, the addition of 10 per cent from small businesses, who are presently state inspected and who cannot today ship across state lines, could have produced enough competition to bring meat prices down. I think the bill might have accomplished this desirable goal and I think the Senate should have given the program a chance. America's housewife deserves lower meat prices. I think the time will come when the Congress will take this step and it will come not too soon.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
A Numerous Family—
The Ohlers

"Lord, You have been good to me,
Year long, life long—
I would sing the clearest,
high,
Glad thanksgiving song."
—Grace Noll Crowell

Before continuing the chronicle of the Ohler family, of Tom's Creek Hundred, and points north, south, east, and west, an error in a previous column must be corrected. In writing of the Rev. John George Bager (or baugher), the place of burial for this great and good servant of God was given as old Saint Michael's churchyard, located at one time a little west of the present town of Hanover—the site now occupied by All Saints Episcopal Church. This plot was also known, locally, as the "old Winebrenner Burial Ground." To further add to the confusion the ancient Lutheran churchyard at Abbottstown, Adams County, Pennsylvania, was also known as the "Winebrenner Graveyard" and the "old Dutch Cemetery." It is in the latter plot that the Rev. Bager and his "good wife" are interred—along with many of their descendants. The graves are well marked and the stones are in good condition.

By a curious coincidence, John Christian Frederick (2) Baugher, the son of the Rev. John George Bager, was a resident of Abbottstown and ran a tannery. He and his family lived in a stone house opposite the entrance to the present Hanover Country Club. John Christian Frederick (2) Baugher married Catharine Motter, the sister of Lewis Motter, the pioneer ancestor of that family in Frederick County, Maryland, who operated the first tannery in Emmitsburg. Truly history takes many a curious twist and turn and relationships appear where least expected.

To give a bit of extra data pertaining to the family of the Rev. John George Bager—the son John Christian Frederick (2) Baugher was born in 1764 and died in 1831. His wife, Catharine (Motter) Baugher, was born in 1761 and died in 1862—in other words she lived to the "ripe age" of one hundred and one years. This couple were the parents of fourteen children and their grandson, Henry (4) Baugher, was at one time President of Pennsylvania (now Gettysburg) College. Joseph (3) Baugher, the son of John Christian Frederick (2) Baugher and Catharine (Motter) Baugher, was a large land owner in the Fairfield vicinity, which included the site of the present Fountain Dale. This land, some 444 acres, was first granted to Daniel Sprengle about 1785. When the said Daniel Sprengle died in 1822 the executors of his will sold the eastern portion of the "plantation" to Joseph Baugher, who established a tannery in a meadow along the creek, and built a somewhat "elaborate" house on the tract with a fountain in the front yard of the same. The water for this was piped from the race of the saw mill, built by Daniel Sprengle.

On a small tract of this land, at the intersection of the "Great Road" with the road that came up through the valley, was built the first Lutheran church in this region. It was part of the Taneytown—Emmitsburg Charge. Only a portion of the old graveyard remains to mark the site of the church.

In the immediate vicinity was Gordon's Tavern, later known as Walker's.

Gradually a "settlement" came into being and was known as "Baugher's Dale." When a Post Office was established here in 1837 the name was changed to "Fountain Dale" because of the fountain in the Baugher yard. Mr. Joseph Baugher was also chosen the first postmaster.

Joseph (3) Baugher, his wife, and several of their grandchildren are buried in Elias Lutheran churchyard at Emmitsburg, Maryland.

Now—to return to the Ohler family—as stated in previous columns the pioneer ancestor in Frederick County, Maryland, was Philip Jacob (1) Ohler and his wife, Dorthea, who came into Maryland from Pennsylvania with the Monocacy settlers. This man and his wife had, among other children, a son George (2). This George (2) was the father of Thomas (3) Ohler, and to continue down the line, Thomas (3) Ohler was the father of John Thomas (4) Ohler.

George (2) Ohler and his wife, Margaret Ohler, were the parents of at least twelve children—there may have been others not known and therefore not listed on the chart of the family.

1. Thomas (3) Ohler—apparently the first child born to George (2) Ohler, married Catharine (?) and had issue—

1. John Thomas (4) Ohler—married Ann Shorb. Note: The Baptism of John Thomas (4) Ohler is to be found in the Taneytown Lutheran records—as follows:

1. "Baptizer John Thomas Ohler, the son of Thomas Ohler and his wife, Catharine, born December 8, 1831—baptized May 9, 1832."

John Thomas (4) Ohler and his wife, Ann (Shorb) Ohler, are interred in the Key-ville Cemetery. The inscriptions follow:

84. In memory of John Thomas Ohler, born December 8, 1831, died January 25, 1917.

85. In memory of Ann C. Ohler, wife of John Thomas Ohler, born August 28, 1833, died December 7, 1919.

A little daughter of John Thomas (4) and Ann (Shorb) Ohler, the namesake of her mother—is interred in the old Tom's Creek Lutheran churchyard:

86. Sacred to the memory of Anna C. Ohler, the daughter of John T. and Anna C. Ohler, died August 9, 1857, aged 1 month and 19 days.

In addition to the daughter listed as buried in Tom's Creek Lutheran churchyard—John Thomas (4) Ohler and his wife, were also the parents of:

2. Helen (5) Ohler—married Elmer Valentine.

3. Harry (5) Ohler—on December 28, 1897, the Rev. Charles Reinwald—of Elias Church—married Harry B. Ohler to Miss Effie B. Stambaugh—both of Emmitsburg, Maryland. This is quite possible the Harry (5) Ohler listed on the family chart.

4. Emory (5) Ohler—on January 24, 1893, the Rev. Charles Reinwald—of Elias Lutheran church—married Emory Ohler to Katie Wilmar—both of Emmitsburg, Maryland.

5. Maud (5) Ohler—married Jacob Stambaugh (there will be more pertaining to this line in a later column).

6. Alice Jane (5) Ohler—married Harry Manshower.

7. Edward (5) Ohler—no additional data at this time.

8. George (5) Ohler—no further data at this time.

9. Elizabeth (5) Ohler—married Denton D. Wachter. The notes on the Ohler family, of Pennsylvania, and Tom's Creek Hundred, Frederick County, Maryland, will be continued in this series next week.

Monthly Meeting Of Colts Corral

Colts Corral #12 of Thurmont, held its monthly meeting Aug. 12 at Fitzgerald's Restaurant, with President Mike Fitzgerald presiding. Three guests were present: Mr. Jerry Moore, president of the newly formed Midget Football Team in Thurmont; Mr. Donald L. Louey, Chairman of the Council of Colts Corals for 1971; and Mr. Harry Katz, Vice-Chairman of Council of Colts Corals. Mr. Katz is also president of Colts Corral #15 in Baltimore.

Mr. Moore told about the midget team of Thurmont which will be known as "The Thurmont Colts." He told of the enthusiasm of the 60 boys and the team would need financial support as well as moral support from the community. The members of Corral #12 voted to give $500.00 to be used toward uniforms.

Mr. Louey and Mr. Katz spoke on the 5th annual convention of the Colts Corral to be held at Ocean City. They also reminded the members of the Oyster-Bull Roast to be held in Baltimore in November. The proceeds of this goes to the Cyster-Fibrosis Foundation of Maryland. Mr. Louey gave an interesting and up-to-date report on the Colt players and the prospects for 1971 season.

After the business meeting, Grace Ecker conducted the 50-50 drawing. Polly Fisher was the winner.

The Bill recites that the Complainant, Cleora Marcel Norris, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, Arthur B. Norris, is presently residing in the State of Florida; that the parties to this cause were married on the 20th day of October, 1956, at Alexandria, Virginia, by Rev. Frasca, a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the said marriage, no children were born; that the parties to this cause have lived separate and apart without interruption for more than five (5) years prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties to this cause is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Cleora Marcel Norris, be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Arthur B. Norris, and be granted the right to resume her former name of Cleora Marcel DeLauter, and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF COURT

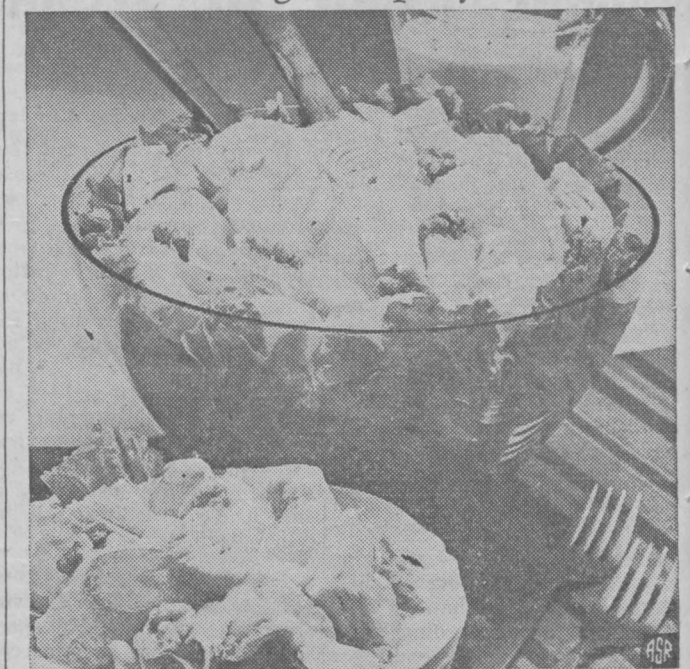

It is thereupon, this 11th day of August, 1971, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of the object and substance of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 18th day of September, 1971, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by Solicitor, on or before the 19th day of October, 1971, and show cause, if any, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

Citrus And Tuna For A Refreshing Company Salad

Summer is salad appreciation time—and guests who gather at the salad bowl can always derive pleasure and satisfaction from this new version of the popular Tuna-Waldorf Salad. Its elegant appearance and flavor belie the fact that it's so easy and so inexpensive to make. And the reason is that canned tuna in vegetable oil is still one of the lowest-priced main dish foods available. In fact it is an incredible value, not only in terms of money but in terms of nutrition, too, for it has complete protein comparable to that of lean beef. And since canned tuna requires no further cooking for use in a wide variety of tempting dishes, you'll find this Tuna Citrus Waldorf Salad—with its superb avocado dressing—practically makes itself in minutes.

Tuna Citrus Waldorf Salad

3 cans (6½ or 7 ounces each) tuna in vegetable oil	1 cup broken walnut pieces
3 cans (16 ounces each) grapefruit and orange sections, well drained	1 medium avocado
2 cups diagonally sliced celery	3 tablespoons lemon juice
	½ cup water
	1 tablespoon sugar
	¼ teaspoon salt
	¼ teaspoon Tabasco
	Salad greens

Drain tuna, reserving ½ cup oil for dressing (add extra salad oil, if necessary). Flake tuna or cut into chunks; combine with grapefruit and orange sections, celery and walnut pieces; reserve. Peel avocado and remove pit; cut into small pieces. In small bowl, mash avocado with lemon juice. Add reserved tuna oil and all remaining ingredients except salad greens; beat together until smooth and creamy. Or combine in blender container and blend on high speed until mixture is smooth. Line salad bowl with salad greens. Add reserved tuna-citrus mixture; serve with avocado dressing. YIELD: 10 to 12 servings.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letter should be sent to me c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

What kind of coverage is available under the new Federal crime insurance program?

Both commercial and residential burglary and robbery insurance is provided, with maximum coverage under the commercial policy of $15,000 and the residential policy of $5,000. The program has established "affordable" premium rates which in many cases are lower than the cost of comparable coverage in the private market. These rates vary with the geographic location of the property and are based on crime statistics compiled by the Federal Bureau of Investigation. Both commercial and residential policies are subject to deductibles. Under the residential policy the deductible is $100 or 5 percent of the loss, whichever is greater. Under the commercial policy, businesses with gross receipts of under $50,000 and $25,000 will be subject, respectively, to deductibles of $150 and $100, or 5 percent of the loss, whichever is greater; and businesses with gross receipts of more than $50,000 will be subject to deductibles of $200 or 5 percent of the loss, whichever is greater. Individuals or companies interested in purchasing such insurance should contact the Insurance Company of North America in Baltimore, or write the Federal Insurance Administration, 451 Seventh Street, S.W. Washington D. C. 20410.

A discussion with a Sunday School group today brought up the topic of Radio Free Europe and we found out that we knew little about the material broadcasted or how it was selected. Can you tell us where we can get this information?

My office contacted the Radio Free Europe office here in Washington requesting they send us the material.

Time Runs For Vets Education Benefits

Many eligible veterans now have less than three years remaining to use their educational benefits under the current GI Bill.

George A. Davis, Director of the Baltimore Veterans Administration Regional Office, said this week that most veterans with service between January 31, 1955, and June 1, 1966, are eligible for schooling, but their cut-off date is May 31, 1974. Davis emphasized that the veteran's educational program must be completed by the cut-off date. "Some veterans in this category believe they have until 1974 to begin school," he said. "The law states otherwise."

Veterans discharged later than June 1, 1966, will have a proportionally longer time to complete schooling. The general rule for establishing a cut-off date is eight years from the date of discharge. Since educational benefits did not become available under the new law until June 1, 1966, however, the eight year period begins on that date for those discharged before then.

you desire. If the information does not fully answer your questions you may want to write directly to the following official: Mr. Allen Hovey, Vice President, Free Europe Corporation, Two Park Avenue, New York, N. Y. 10016.

My brother is totally disabled and mentally unbalanced due to an injury he suffered during World War II. His condition has worsened in the past year but he refuses to go to the VA for an examination that would undoubtedly result in increased benefits for his disability. What can I do since he is afraid of going to the VA for fear of being re-hospitalized?

As you know by now my office contacted the Veterans Administration and your brother was given a Social Service Survey in his home. On the basis of additional evidence showing an increase in the severity of his condition, his monthly benefits have been increased from $25 to $450. Citizens having similar problems in relation to legitimate disability claims should feel free to contact my office for assistance.

The Now Washbasket

By Joyce Champion

Through the years travelling entertainers facing a long series of one night stands have made a habit of washing or rinsing their underthings to freshen them for the next day's rigorous performance.

In England they call it "doin' me smalls."

It's a good idea to take a leaf from these performers' book of experience, particularly in view of today's efficient laundry aids.

The "smalls" will last longer for schoolgirls and active young women working in offices or stores, for waitresses, airline stewardesses and others who put heavy stress on nylon stockings and panty hose.

Here's a tip on how to prolong the wear span of nylons: Soak them for several minutes in a solution of warm water and one-fourth cup of borax. Then, without rinsing, hang them over the towel rack to dry overnight.

Why not rinse them? Because borax re-sizes and thus strengthens the nylon fabric. Borax is used as a sizing agent in the manufacture of nylon hosiery.

And, for the best results, use a sophisticated borax-based product like Borteem, which contains a soil suspender and bacteriostat. Combined with borax, the mineral known as "nature's sweetener," they knock out dirt and deodorize. The same method also adds strength and extra wear to brassieres and spandex stretch garments.

To obtain a free copy of Miss Champion's informative home laundering booklet, "The NOW Washbasket," write to her at U.S. Borax, Post Office Box 86870, Los Angeles, Calif., 90005.

Fall Physical Education Courses Taught At Frederick College

As the work week becomes shorter, the need for leisure time activities will become more urgent. Frederick Community College is gearing its fall physical education courses to meet this growing need.

Specifically, courses designed to teach fundamental recreational skills include: life saving, tennis, golf, water safety, canoeing, horseback riding, skiing, bowling, archery, self-defense, badminton, and ping pong.

Also included in the Fall Schedule are a number of courses teaching skills in team sports. These include: basketball volleyball, soccer, and softball.

The Physical Education

Program at Frederick Community College benefits greatly from new and extensive facilities. The new College campus on Opossumtown Pike includes a gym, which provides three basketball courts and four volleyball and badminton courts. Also, this new building contains a large activities room, classrooms, and locker rooms. Outdoor athletic facilities include an all-weather track, six all-weather tennis courts, soccer field, baseball diamond, and two large play areas.

Adults as well as regular full-time students are urged to take advantage of these worthwhile courses.

It seems that black dog that has become a familiar sight riding on the back of Ken Sites' truck will not be seen with Ken any longer.

Several months ago, someone penned "Blackie," as Ken named him, in the barn at Charnita Orchards. Ken and Blackie became great friends almost immediately and went everywhere together. Last week, Blackie was recognized by his original owners, Mrs. George C. Harbaugh and family, R1. Seems someone had stolen "Sam," as they called him, from them and they wanted him back. Well, that is about it. Ken let them take "Sam," but he sure misses "Blackie" and wishes he could be two dogs so he could make both owners happy.

Frederick County Will Get $117,000 Emergency Funds For Employment

Rep. Goodloe E. Byron has announced apportionment of funds to Frederick County under the Emergency Employment Act.

Byron said he has been in contact with the Department of Labor's Manpower Administration which releases the funds, and received word that $23,400 in start-up monies is now available to the County. This figure represents 20% of the $117,000 in total funds that will eventually be apportioned to the County under the Emergency Employment Act.

"This money will all go to the County for local jobs, and additional bonus funds may be allocated because of the high unemployment in the area," the freshman congressman said.

The public service jobs created by the program will cover the whole range of community needs, from fire protection and police, to health, education, parks and pollution controls.

According to Byron, representatives of the County are currently meeting with the Labor Department's Regional Manpower to receive instructions about these first grants.

State Field Archery Tournament Scheduled Sept. 4-6 In Pikesville

Close to 250 thoroughly modern bowmen—men, women and youngsters, from every corner of Maryland—are expected to shoot in the 20th annual state field archery championship tournament, set for September 4-6 at the 100-acre Pikesville Sportsman's Club.

The event, sponsored by the Maryland Archery Association, an organization of 23 clubs and 700 individuals, will consist of three 28-target rounds. In field archery, targets are laid out in the woods at distances ranging from a few feet to 80 yards, in a set-up similar in concept to a golf course.

Champions will be crowned in 18 divisions. Defending the major titles will be David Jackson of the Cecil County Bowmen, and Mrs. Carol Anderson, representing the Eutaw Forest Bowmen of Montgomery County.

The public is invited to watch the archers in action. There is no admission charge. The Pikesville Sportsman's Club is located six miles north of Exit 20 of the Baltimore Beltway on Delight Road, which runs west from Reistestown Road.

On Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 4-5, competition begins at 12:30 and lasts all afternoon. Starting time on Labor Day (Mon., Sept. 6) is 9:30, with the tournament winding up early in the afternoon.

Sister Marcella Attends Seminar At East Central State

Sister Marcella Scully of St. Joseph College is one of 32 educators from across the country attending a two-week seminar at East Central State College in Ada, Oklahoma, on new methods of science instruction.

The 32 workshop participants, all education methods specialists, are examining and analyzing various methods, techniques and materials used in implementing the inquiry approach to science education.

The inquiry method involves from more than 180 applicants to attend the educational session. She is Associate Professor of Biology at St. Joseph College.

The two-week seminar, funded by the National Science Foundation, includes day-long classroom sessions, plus a full program of social events for participants and their families.

Sister Marcella was chosen

Emmitsburg Area Personal Items

Four local teachers, Miss Jay Heisch, Miss Joyce Henning and Mr. and Mrs. Karl Fieldhouse (Mr. Fieldhouse teaches at Thurmont Elementary School), took an eight-week tour of nine European countries, namely, Holland, Belgium, France, Switzerland, Italy, Austria, Germany, England, and Liechtenstein. Much of the tour was made by car, and to places of special interest to them. I'm sure we'll hear much more of this delightful summer tour.

Mr. and Mrs. William Von Holle and daughter, Anne Frances, have returned to their home in Union Grove, Wis., after vacationing with Mrs. Von Holle's parents, Col. and Mrs. Milton A. Sewell. Rev. Fr. John Sewell, Baltimore, spent his vacation with his parents, Col. and Mrs. Sewell.

In 1970, as in previous years, stainless steel was the largest single nickel-consuming product.

How to make Nature and Turf Builder work together for a better lawn!

Fall represents a unique opportunity for landowners. It's the one time of year when Nature puts all the odds in your favor — weather, temperature and the natural tendency of grass to develop new roots, rhizomes and side shoots (tillers). Best thing you can do to encourage this process is to fertilize now — with TURF BUILDER. It is the prolonged-release fertilizer that gives up its nutrients only as the grass needs them. So there's no spindly topgrowth to cause extra mowing. Instead, TURF BUILDER greatly multiplies the greening and thickening processes of grass. Makes your lawn grow greener, thicker and sturdier — this fall and next spring too.

here's another way to SAVE while you are in school!

"SERVICE CHARGE FREE"
Checking Accounts
to Full Time Students

HERE'S HOW IT WORKS:

To become a member of our new no service charge program for full time students, use these easy steps:

1. If you now have a checking account with our bank, come in to one of our conveniently located offices and have one of our tellers place your name on the student account list. Your name will remain on the list for one year (i.e., September 1, 1971 to September 1, 1972). At the end of this year if you are still a student, just notify us and we will extend your service free account an additional year. This will continue until you graduate from school. Please remember if we do not hear from you at the end of each given year, we will assume you are no longer a student and your account will be subject to our normal service charge.
2. If you are not one of Farmers and Mechanics National Bank's customers, we invite you to come in and open an account with your local home town bank that always strives to offer friendly personal service.
