I see where the Citizens Committee to help with the planning for the new elementary school is asking for comments by townspeople in general. This looks like a very good chance for everyone in town to get involved in a most worthwhile project. Just think, by the fall of 1973 we may have a new building which will replace the almost 50 year old structure.

The big question right now seems to be whether the town wants to locate various community activities at the school. This sounds like a good idea because we as taxpayers should be anxious to get as much use of the buildings as possible rather than have them sit idle in all the off school hours. When needed activities like the Library and Health Department are in so much need of new facilities, it seems natural to work them in with the new public school if it can be done without limitations on any of the school activities, or otherwise.

Combined usage should provide savings in operating expense if not in original construction cost, and probably create a facility which can provide greater overall service to the community rather than several separate facilities each with their own activity. When the facilities are combined, it is possible several areas could be used for more than one function, which means that it will be busy more than eight hours per day and the taxpayers will be getting more for their dollar.

I hear that the planning people at the state and county level support the combined use plan and are anxious to see it work. This means a lot of the problems can be overcome as they crop up, assuming that it is decided to go ahead with this approach. I think that local citizens need a little more information before they can voice an opinion on the project. It's the job of the citizens committee to get that to us, or our job to dig it out by talking to them. However, once we have a pretty good idea of the advantages and disadvantages of the combined use plan it's our job to let the committee know how we feel about the idea. I'm sure they want to do what is best for the town. They can figure that out only by knowing what we want.

I am looking forward to the Emmitsburg and Thurmont Community Show coming up this weekend. Friday evening they are going to honor all the former FAA Sweethearts and Community Show Queens. It's going to be nice seeing all those pretty girls again, I am glad they get together once a year. Then too, we have the 1971 Sweethearts to look forward to. Saturday looks like a full day of exhibits, contests and concerts. This show should be the best ever and everyone in town has a chance to get some wonderful entertainment.

I hear the town council is going ahead with improvements to the broken curbs in town and then the townspeople will be expected to fix their sidewalks. Won't it be great to be able to walk anywhere you want to without stumbling over broken concrete. Some people could help right now by killing the grass growing in their sidewalks. Many of the weeds were killed out this summer, but it looks like recent rains have got them growing again.

I have seen a couple of discarded refrigerators around town with the doors still on them. These are a sure-fire accident looking for a time to happen. Many children have been suffocated in discarded boxes when playing in them. Let's use a little extra caution and be sure that we don't have a tragedy in our town. Maybe the doors could be taken off or sealed up so they would not open.

BOE Lists School Educational Plan

The text of the Frederick County Board of Education Educational Plan for the Emmitsburg Elementary School follows:

I. Educational Philosophy
We believe in the worth and dignity of the individual and that it is the responsibility of educators to help each individual reach his maximum development according to his interests, needs, and abilities; to enable him to become an active and contributing member of our society.

We believe the school is responsible for providing experiences which will promote further mental, emotional, and social growth; for fostering positive attitudes toward health; for helping the student obtain an appreciation of our cultural heritage; and for challenging and encouraging students to contribute their explorations in areas of special interest.

We believe it is the task of educators to guide students through realistic educational experiences that are accepted and valued by the community in which the school serves.

We believe education is a continuing process throughout the life span of people and that adults have educational needs that should be fulfilled through public education.

We further believe that school facilities should be available for other community uses, provided that such uses do not interfere with the school program for youngsters, and are paid for by the users.

Quoted from: Middletown Valley School Campus Development Committee

II. Needs at Emmitsburg
The present elementary school in Emmitsburg is old and in very poor condition. The portion to be replaced is 48 years old. The building is totally inappropriate for modern instructional programs with inadequate self-contained classrooms that limit group size, make team teaching difficult and discourage innovation. The present library is the size of a classroom and completely inadequate to meet the needs of K-8 students.

An effective elementary and middle school program requires adaptable space to permit large and small group instruction as well as provision for independent study. The instructional materials center is essential to the implementation of an individualized program.

The new building will replace the older part of the present building and should include open space equivalent to twelve classrooms; a kindergarten area; spaces for industrial arts, home economics, arts and crafts; teacher planning area and the usual administrative support spaces. It will house 445 students, K-8.

III. School Organization

- Unit a. K-8
- Vertical a. Non-graded or some form of continuous progress
- Horizontal a. Cooperative teaching with flexible grouping

IV. School Program
Any building should be designed to accommodate what goes on within it. Schools are no exception; the educational program should dictate the design of the facility.

With rapidly increasing knowledge in the areas of school organization, curriculum, teaching methods, communications technology and learning theory, it is unlikely that today's program will meet tomorrow's needs.

Buildings must be designed to accommodate any instructional pattern or technological system so that teachers, students and administrators are able to create an ever-changing and constantly improving environment for learning.

Students must have the opportunity to learn different things in different ways and at a rate appropriate to the individual. Experiences for an individual may take place in very large groups, in groups of conventional class size (25-30), in seminar size groups, in very small groups or individually. Some activities will be pursued with the

Variety Of Courses To Start Monday

Adult Education in Emmitsburg is at the crossroads.

The Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council has arranged for a Fall Program of six courses which will be offered locally beginning the week of September 20. A suitable location has been found for each class and teachers have been assigned. The big question now is whether students will show up on the first night of class to register and commence learning.

A full listing of courses and necessary information will be found boxed elsewhere in this issue of the Chronicle.

The courses being offered by the Frederick County Board of Education at the request of the Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council which, last spring, made a survey of community interests. An enrollment of at least ten students is desirable for each class. The fee for Sewing, Typing, Ceramics and Woodworking is $8 per eight or twelve week course. Cost of materials must also be borne by the student. There is no cost for either instruction or materials in the Adult Basic Education class. A fee of $3 is required for enrollment in High School Equivalency.

For years, there have been complaints in Emmitsburg that Northern Frederick County is short-changed on many tax-supported activities. Now opportunity is knocking at local doors. The LLLC hopes that enrollment in the current course offerings will prove that citizens of this area are looking for a chance to do more than just complain.

Several persons have mentioned their reluctance to enroll in a course because they would have to state their income. Not so. The Board of Education asks only for each student's name, address and phone number — information that will permit notification if a scheduled class must be cancelled.

Successful enrollments in the current classes will lead to an expanded list of offerings in the future. Mr. James Hess, supervisor of the Adult Education Program in Frederick County, points out that a course can be given on almost any subject from fishing to antiques to money management if a group of ten or more interested persons request it. Short course, which run for only three or four weeks, are also a possibility.

18 Year Old Voters Are Topic Of Letter

Eighteen-year-old voters are the subject of a letter mailed this week from the state school superintendent James A. Sensenbaugh to the states' 24 school superintendents.

The agency head points out that the Constitutional amendment enfranchising young people between 18 and 21 gives schools a chance to capitalize on fresh student enthusiasm for newly won voting rights. Sensenbaugh sees a "fresh opportunity to reach the consciousness of the youthful voting community with our deeply rooted national commitment to the voting franchise as a meaningful way to make democracy work."

Specific suggestions of the state superintendent included establishing student civic action groups, revamping student government to provide more instructive experiences to students, and revitalizing citizens education courses to make them more practically applicable to students' needs.

Horace Beale, Exchange Youth, Cited By Terra Rubra Lions President Groshon

Jimmy Groshon, President of the Terra Rubra Lions Club of Keysville, Md., welcomes Pierre LeComte, a Lions Exchange Youth from Diesse, Switzerland, sent by the Lions Club of La Neuveville, Switzerland. On the extreme right is Horace Beale, Emmitsburg R2, who was sent to Switzerland with the Terra Rubra Lions to live with the LeComte family for a month, and who brought Pierre back with him to stay a month in Maryland.

The Terra Rubra Lions Club of Keysville, Md., has extended the hand of friendship overseas by taking part in an International Lions Youth Exchange Program. The Terra Rubra Lions exchanged youths with the Lions Club of La Neuveville, Switzerland. Horace Beale, a Leo Club member of Terra Rubra, was sent to spend a month with the family of Monsieur Rene LeComte of Diesse, Switzerland. When Horace returned to the United States, he brought with him, Pierre LeComte, a son of the LeComtes, who will be staying in Maryland at the farm home of Paul Beale of Emmitsburg.

While in Switzerland, Horace Beale helped the LeComtes with the work on their dairy farm which lies in a small valley between the majestic ranges of the high snow-covered Alps mountains. Since no one in the area could speak English (everyone spoke German or French) Horace's high school French came in handy but had to be improved upon before he could carry on a conversation in French with the local inhabitants. Pierre LeComte has not had any studies in speaking English so that the day he arrived he could not understand a word. He has depended upon Horace and nuns and students of St. Joseph College in Emmitsburg to help with his communication needs. Sister Margaret Flint, Karen Warthen and Denise Smith have been among those who have been able to communicate in French with Pierre. Pierre has been helping with work on the Beale farm and has been taken around the countryside to observe the customs of our country which he finds quite different from those of Switzerland.

While in Switzerland, Horace spoke to the La Neuveville Lions, telling about the customs in America and answering their many questions. He was also taken around various areas of Switzerland. Pierre has spoken to the Terra Rubra, using Horace as an interpreter and answering our local Lions' many questions about Switzerland. Horace has over a hundred slides he took while in Switzerland which he will show to the Terra Rubra Lions at their next meeting. Some of these slides show the breath-taking beauty of the unbelievably high snow-capped Alps mountains, the efficiently farmed fields and views of the industrious local Swiss carrying on their daily chores such as milking cows and making hay.

Among the places Pierre has been or will be shown are local dairy farms in both Maryland and Pennsylvania, Castle Farms Dairy, Mason and Dixon Dairy, Eastaleo Aluminum plant, the York and Frederick Fairs, Norman Shriver's butcher shop, the local colleges, Washington, D. C., including the museums showing the Apollo moon ships; a day with the French classes of Catoctin High School, Francis Scott Key High School and Fairfield, Pa., High School; a baseball game, a football game and visits to several local homes and churches.

On the trip over, Horace flew in a 707 Pan American jet from Washington to Paris, and then in a Swissair jet to Geneva, Switzerland, where he was met by a Lions Club member. On the return trip the two boys flew in a giant 747 Swissair jet from Zurich, Switzerland, directly to New York and thence to Washington, D. C. The two Lions Clubs bore most of the expenses.

Serving In Hawaii

Woman Marine Ruth R. Wynn, daughter of Mrs. Helen M. Dillman, 347 S. Washington St., Gettysburg, is serving at Marine Corps Air Station, Kaneohe Bay, Hawaii.

there will be a concert by the Thurmont Middle School Band, and at 8 p.m., a concert by the Catoctin High School Band. The show will close at 10 p.m. Antiques will be on sale during the two-day show. Door prizes will be awarded nightly, and no admission will be charged but a silver offering will be received.

The Show is sponsored by the Thurmont and Emmitsburg Granges and Catoctin FFA, and the Maryland State Fair Board.

The program will be entitled, "Open For Learning". It will be a panel presentation and Joseph Ozag, Supervisor of Elementary Social Studies, as moderator. Three elementary principals who have had experience with open space schools, will discuss the advantages of this type of construction. The principals who will participate are Roy Clever, Principal of Waverly Elementary; Kyle Pritts, Principal of Valley Elementary; and Thomas Shade, Principal of Green Valley Elementary.

PTA To Meet Wednesday

The Emmitsburg School PTA is holding a meeting at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, September 22, at the school. All parents are invited to attend.

The next meeting is scheduled for October 27. At this time the new elementary report cards will be explained. There will be no meeting in November, but the parent and teacher conference will be held.

Citizens Committee Has 2nd Meeting

The second meeting of the Emmitsburg Citizens Committee formed to work with Bushey and Burrey, architects who will design the new Emmitsburg Elementary and Middle School, was held Tuesday night, September 14. Mr. Meade Felton of the Frederick County Board of Education, discussed various aspects of the several suggestions under consideration for community use of the facility.

Community use of the school installation being considered includes location of the Health Department and Community Library in the vicinity of the school building, adaptability of the building for a year around Teen Center and combined use of the school ground area for recreation activities such as a swimming pool and tennis courts. Advantages and disadvantages of combining each of the above with the school facility were discussed.

No actual design of any of the facilities has begun. The architects are confident that adequate physical relationships of all functions can be obtained if it is determined advantageous to locate the different community activities in the general area of the school.

Mr. Gil Newby of the Board of Education reported on land acquisition for the school. Arrangements have been made for additional land provided that funds are made available by the County Commissioners. Miss Alice Robinson of the Board of Education, discussed the school library facility from a professional standpoint and provided study information on school libraries and public libraries. George Bushey and Jack Burrey were present to receive preliminary input from the committee on the desires of the Emmitsburg Community concerning the community use plan for the school.

The next meeting of the committee is scheduled for September 29 at which time representatives of the County Government, County Library System, Forests and Parks and the Superintendent of Schools will be present to discuss additional aspects of the community use plan.

Council Discusses Sidewalk Repairs

The regular monthly meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners was held Monday, September 13, at 7:30 p.m. Chairman Ernest Rosensteel presided with all members present.

The minutes of the August regular meeting and the two special meetings were read and approved.

The Town's current project — sidewalks — was the first item on the agenda. The Mayor explained in detail the present plan so as to have uniform paving and curbing throughout the town. The town will be divided into sections so that a portion of the total curbing in the town can be repaired each year for the next few years. It is estimated that the project may take five years.

The Commissioners will invite contractors to give the prices on the work. The first section will start on Main Street at Chesapeake Ave., and proceed to South Seton Ave., then down Seton to the Post Office. These bid invitations will be issued this week.

Mr. Donald Date, Executive Director of the Community Action Agency, spoke to the Board, outlining its work. Low income families are its chief concern and most of the money expended comes from Federal funds.

Mr. William Garde and Attorney Edward Storm again came before the Board in behalf of Paxton Builders. Mr. Storm read the suggested agreement for annexation of the proposed building area to be known as Emmitt Ridge. With this concrete information, the Board promised to have a decision by next week.

Mr. Jack Humerick appeared before the Board and asked several questions relevant to water, sewer and streets for another proposed project.

Mayor Hays read a letter concerning an order placed for recorders for the water and sewer systems.

The police report for August was read by Chairman Rosensteel. The meeting adjourned at 10:50 p.m.

Scouts Program To Interest New Boys

"School Night for Scouting," has been set up in the county to interest boys of scouting age to come in and find out what's happening. The schools will be open to scouts and their families on September 23 at 7:30 p.m. The participating school in Emmitsburg will be the Emmitsburg Public School.

Boys from ages 8-14 are eligible for scouting and parents of these boys are encouraged to bring them to the school. A brief program will be held during the evening at which time a question and answer period regarding scouting will be held.

One of the best ways of getting into the troop is knowing another scout and learning through him. On the day of the 23rd scouts will wear their uniforms and hopefully will be contacted by interested boys so they may be brought to the program and possibly even join the troop.

A registration fee of $1.00 is required of new members. Anyone wishing to join that evening should have the required fee with him.

Parents are likewise needed for the scouting committees, especially mothers who can join "Mothers in Scouting". This organization helps finance activities of the scouts throughout the year.

That same evening the Scout House, adjacent to the community ball field, which has recently been renovated, will be open to all prospective members for inspection.

A large turnout is anticipated.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Auto Industry Review
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., September 16, 1971—In predicting the shape of things to come in the auto industry, it seems advisable first to look back at what happened during 1970, a year packed with adversity. In the early months a Teamster strike hampered the flow of goods and ultimately resulted in increased freight costs. Later, settlement terms of a rubber strike boosted the price of rubber products and tires. Finally, toward year's end a strike by the UAW against GM curtailed over 50% of domestic auto assemblies.

Shortly before year's end, however, a UAW agreement marked a cutoff point for the poor sales, production, and profits which the auto industry had experienced in 1970. For the full year, the industry produced close to 7.5 million U. S. cars. With the start of the first quarter of 1971, the industry came alive and output surged well above the meager pace set in 1970. With this stronger rate and the improved near-term outlook because of President Nixon's new game plan, the Research Department of Babson's Reports looks for a 1971 total of about nine million domestic assemblies, up one and a half million units from the levels of last year. For the first six months of 1971, a production gain of 18% was run up over 1970's similar period.

Changing Sales Patterns
So far in 1971 sales of U. S. autos have shown vigor and demand should be even stronger through the rest of the year, due in part to the reduced competitive edge of the foreign car makers. This does not mean, however, an end to the slow gains being made by imported autos. The sales of foreign cars which last year were close to 1.3 million units are expected to increase to 1.5 million units in 1971 despite a 10% import surtax. This represents a potential 15.4% increase over last year. At this estimated rate, imports will account for some 15.3% of 1971 auto sales, only a fractional change from last year's 15.5% and primarily a reflection of Nixon's policy.

A trend toward the purchase of smaller cars is not new to the industry, but it does seem to be gaining strength month by month. In fact, sales of the smaller vehicles (imports, compacts, sub-compacts) captured 39% of auto sales during July.

What's Ahead
Naturally, it is not difficult to cite the outstanding adverse factors in the auto industry at this time, i.e., high prices for both labor and raw materials, continued foreign competition (although somewhat reduced), and stringent and expensive safety standards. But it should also be noted that there are many favorable points, a number of them new to the picture. For example, the elimination of the 7% excise tax (estimated at $200 per car) should spur demand for autos to a considerable degree. Additionally, the increasing use of automation and space-age materials should reduce the pressure of climbing production costs.

The imposition of a 10% surtax on imported cars will certainly serve to place domestic auto manufacturers in a considerably stronger competitive position. The President's proposal to restore the investment tax credit — initially a 10% and then at 5% on a permanent basis—should also aid the industry. Hence, although admittedly the auto makers have their share of problems, the overall outlook is bright. We expect that the satisfactory quarter-to-quarter earnings comparisons turned in so far this year will persist.

The stock market appears already to have recognized the generally improved outlook, and thus we feel at present that the equities of the auto manufacturing firms are fully priced. But for investors who wish to participate in the improved industry prospects, the Research Department of Babson's Reports favors purchase of the common stock (listed on the NYSE) of Raybestos-Manhattan or Weatherhead Company, both supplying the auto makers with original equipment.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Encouraging Educational Development
In one of the first speeches I delivered in 1936, as the newly inaugurated President of Harding College, I made some of my educational contemporaries unhappy. I called for compulsory courses in American history, American government, comparative economics, and the responsibilities of citizenship. And I also called for indoctrinating our youth with facts inspiring respect for our system. Before I made the speech I had ascertained that very few schools and colleges offered such courses, and that most of them rejected the old-fashioned practice of indoctrination. In the intervening 35 years, only a comparatively few high schools and colleges have responded to my constantly repeated advocacy.

The absence of citizenship education and the almost universal ban on indoctrination for American citizenship has permitted the growth of a generation of youth the large majority of whom do not understand the origin of the United States, its development of a freedom system under constitutional government and a private enterprise system based on the principle of private ownership of property. They have no loyalty to our system ("The Establishment," they call it) and because of their ignorance they are "sitting ducks" for the comparatively small but powerfully dedicated army of conspirators within the youth "movement" who seek to indoctrinate with "anti-Establishment" propaganda, then alienate a whole generation of Americans and shape it into a "vanguard" for ultimate overthrow of our system.

Congress Worried
These facts are mentioned partly to explain my pleasure over receipt of a letter from the Specialist in Education of the Library of Congress informing me that some members of Congress have become worried over the evidence of serious gaps in the education of American youth and are preparing to do something about it. Since we have developed many model high school courses, a format for youth citizenship seminars, and much supplemental and audio-visual material for teaching history, government and citizenship, the Library of Congress asked for our help in assembling materials for Congressmen active in shaping the proposed legislation.

The letter said in part: "In response to a Congressional request, we are making a study of possible legislation to establish a large-scale Federal program for promotion of education in citizenship. The program would emphasize United States history, constitutional government, traditions and goals.

Compulsory Citizenship Education
"The letter to us requesting the study asserts that: "While requiring some citizenship training for aliens wishing to become citizens, the Federal Government has neglected its responsibility for the citizenship education of the native-born." Several draft bills are under consideration—for example: (1) a bill requiring that all schools receiving Federal financial assistance offer compulsory courses in citizenship education prescribed in the Federal law, and (2) a bill which would provide Federal grants for various youth and adult education programs and activities in civic responsibility, as described in the Federal law. Otherwise the act would prohibit any Federal control over the training for citizenship.

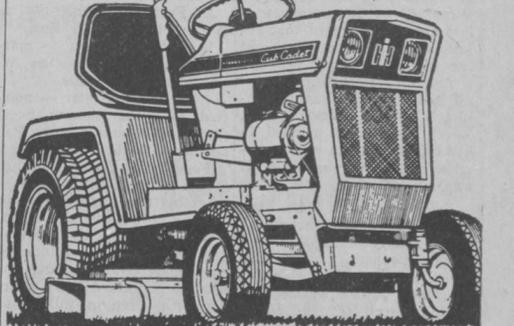

Since we have also been in "hot water" with many educators and particularly with the press (especially the Communist Daily World) for our unrelenting exposure of the nature of our Communist enemy, we were pleased to read in the letter the suggestion that the new compulsory education program might well include the "contradiction of propaganda deemed by the Attorney General to be detrimental to the best interests of our constitutional form of government in the United States."

Not Too Late
In my writings of recent months I have reported the rise of a revolutionary youth "movement" which now poses the biggest threat to the nation's security. In these reports we have pointed out the fact that so far only 10 to 15 per cent of the youth active in the "movement" are honest dedicated revolutionaries, but that the radicalization now is extending down into the high schools and junior highs. What we've emphasized is that most of the youngsters in the movement, while feeling no loyalty to the American system, are not ready to join in its violent overthrow.

The point is, we still have time to reach the masses of our youth and "sell" them on the American system with a factual exposition of its values and its record achievement compared to any other system on earth, especially "Communalism" (which Americans first tried at Jamestown and Plymouth Rock) and totalitarian Communism Fascism and Nazism. If you have thoughts on this, pro or con, you owe it to the youth generation to write your Congressman. Do it now!

Staff Sgt. Leister Hunts Hurricanes

Staff Sergeant Kenneth R. Leister, son of Mr. and Mrs. John R. Leister, R1, Taneytown, is supporting the U. S. Air Force's Puerto Rico-based 53rd Weather Reconnaissance Squadron which has the unique job of hunting hurricanes.

Sergeant Leister is an aircraft maintenance technician with a maintenance unit that provides support for the famed "Hurricane Hunters," who are keeping an around-the-clock weather watch over the Gulf of Mexico and the Atlantic Ocean for the new season's hurricanes.

Operating from their home station at Ramey Air Force Base, the Hurricane Hunters—alternating with Navy flight crews—provide storm surveillance of the Atlantic coast east of Puerto Rico and track tropical storms off the U. S. coastline from Texas to Maine. The watch covers one and one-half million square miles of ocean and gulf waters.

The crews, in specially equipped WC-130 Hercules, locate hurricanes and then fly into the teeth of the killer storm—which generate winds from 75 to 200 miles per hour—to obtain vital data to feed to the National Hurricane Center in Miami.

They obtain statistics such as temperature, pressure, humidity, winds, cloud structure, movement and position. The "Hunters" research the lower 10,000 feet by dropping radiosonde equipment by parachute and record signals throughout its descent.

Timely warnings which result from such flights by the Hurricane Hunters save countless lives and millions of dollars worth of damage each year.

Launching a New Economic Policy

During the recent congressional recess, I have had an opportunity to talk with many hundreds of Americans who are concerned about our country, our government, and our economy. People in every walk of life are worried about the cost of living. A wire fence of the kind commonly used on Maryland farms now costs twice what it did a few years ago. The basic necessities of life, including food, cost much more each year than they did the year before. People are also worried about what this means in terms of America's position in the world. How can we go on trading our goods when they cost so much more than the goods of other nations? In such a situation, how can other nations afford to buy things made in the U.S.A.?

I have urged for many months that the government take positive steps to control the cost of living, to stabilize prices and to invigorate the economy. I am pleased that the President decided to utilize some of the powers given to him by the Congress to help get our economy back on a stable and positive course.

This does not mean, of course, that the actions that the President took on an emergency basis while the Congress was in recess will necessarily be the full economic package decided upon by the whole government. There are judicial questions, legislative questions and administrative questions to be answered as we go down on this new road.

It is a sad irony that, at a time when we are winding down the war in Vietnam and can look forward to peace, we have had to put our economy on a war-time footing. But, perhaps it is a useful lesson in economics. It illustrates for us that nations, like ordinary men, have to make the hard choices and to do the hard things that life forces upon us. There is no escape from the kind of hard economic choice which should have been taken five or six years ago and weren't.

We in the Congress will be debating the various steps that we must take to perform our role in the construction of a new economic policy for America. I thoroughly agree that the time has come for this debate and for these decisions. I look forward to taking part in helping to create a positive, forceful and successful economic policy for the American people so that we can support our families decently while we work and so that the dollar put away for our old age will buy us a dollar's worth of security. All of these things can be done if the American people pull together in this effort. I am confident we will do this and we will create the new prosperity without war which President Nixon has described.

Safety Booth To Be At Local Show

Once again the Emmitsburg - Thurmont Community Show is about to open its doors. The show will be held Friday and Saturday, September 17 and 18 at Catoctin High School. The show promises to be better than ever.

At this time the Young Adults of Thurmont would like to invite the citizens of Emmitsburg to visit their Safety Booth at the Community Show. The Mayor of Thurmont proclaimed Traffic Safety Week for Thurmont September 23 thru the 19. With traffic fatalities 50 ahead of last year in Maryland, they feel each of us should strive to Drive Defensively. They will have Chief Shook of Thurmont, Chief Filler of Emmitsburg, and the Maryland State Police at the booth to answer any questions that you might have. They will also show movies on traffic safety. They invite you once again to visit the Show and the Booth.—Drive With Care and Fasten Your Seat Belts!

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
Another Branch Of The Ohler Family

"Because we have been given—
We, too, shall give,
Because of Thy great bounty,
Lord,
Each day we live."
—Grace Nowell Crowell

In the study of any given family it is necessary to take into consideration the widely divergent branches—that after a century or two—seem endless and so separated that relationships have been lost and the pioneer ancestor becomes a dim and remote figure—all too often obscured completely in the mists of time. There is nothing unusual in all this and it is quite possible that there are few, if any, exceptions to this rule.

From the facts that have been collected, thus far, on the Ohler family of Pennsylvania (York County), and Tom's Creek Hundred, Frederick Co., Maryland, it is apparent that Phillip Jacob (1) Ohler and his wife, Dorothea Ohler, arrived in Philadelphia, Province of Pennsylvania, on the ship "Minerva" on October 10, 1768. They lived for a time, at least in York County and then, with an eye on the far horizon and a vision of good but cheap land, as promised by the Governor of Virginia, they joined the so-called "Monocacy settlers" and started for the Valley of the Shenandoah. With others of that company they found northern Frederick County "too good to resist" and founded a settlement, on the banks of the Monocacy River, near the present site of Creagerstown, known, during its all-to-brief history as the Monocacy Settlement. Since these people were largely German or Palatinates and therefore members of either the Lutheran or Reformed denominations—they were visited by ministers of both churches from time to time.

There is evidence to support the claim that a "union" church was built at Monocacy and the burial ground adjoined the structure. The late Mr. William Leasy, of McKaig, Maryland, stated that as a young man he worked within the bounds of the old Monocacy Settlement. This was in the early part of the twentieth century and at that time but little remained to show the actual site. But said Mr. Leasy, "... it was near the old ford—there were wells—cellar holes—and graves, marked with plain fieldstones near the foundations of the old church. It was located south of Creagerstown—near the old ford across the Monocacy."

The testimony of an eyewitness—one completely disinterested in the "pros and cons" of the matter—that has grown up in recent years. Historians will debate—again and again—as to the actual site—and—the question will remain unanswered.

Just how long Phillip Jacob (1) Ohler and his family remained at Monocacy is not known. They probably moved into the Taneytown-Emmitsburg vicinity sometime previous to 1793. The baptism of their daughter, Elisabeth (2) Ohler, was recorded in the records of the Taneytown Lutheran church on April 15, 1794. Elisabeth (2) was, no doubt, the last child born to Phillip Jacob (1) and Dorothea Ohler.

The above facts are "background material" now it is time to return to the later generations of Ohlers.

Two weeks ago, in this column, the children of John Thomas (4) and Ann (Shorb) Ohler, were listed. Among these were Maude (5) Ohler, who married Jacob Stambaugh. On the family chart the issue of this marriage is listed as follows:

1. Anna (6) Ohler — no further data at this time.
2. Frank (6) Ohler — no further data at this time.
3. Ruth (6) Ohler — married June 20, 1952—Otis W. Showmaker—no issue.
4. Freda (6) Ohler — married into the pioneer Scott family, of Adams County, Pa., one son—David Scott.

Fortunately for this branch of the Ohler family, the Bible, wherein the family records were recorded, is still in existence. Through the courtesy of a reader of this column it was made available and the records contained therein are herewith given in full.

Births:

John Thomas (4) Ohler — born December 5, 1831 (son of Thomas (3) Ohler).

Anne C. Ohler—born July 28, 1833 (Ann Shorb, wife of Thomas Ohler).

Children of John Thomas (4) and Ann (Shorb) Ohler—

1. David S. (5) Ohler — born June 21, 1858.
2. Anna C. (5) Ohler — born August 28, 1856.
3. George W. (5) Ohler — born November 5, 1857.
4. Mary E. (5) Ohler — born April 18, 1859.
5. Alice Jane (5) Ohler — born January 20, 1862—married Harry Munshower (There will be more pertaining to this particular twig of the family tree in a later column.
6. Fannie V. (5) Ohler — born December 13, 1863.
7. Helen M. (5) Ohler — born March 5, 1863 (Married Elmer Valentine)—Both Elmer and Helen M. (Ohler) Valentine, are interred in the Lutheran Church yard, Rocky Ridge, Maryland. The inscriptions follow:

87. In memory of M. Elmer Valentine, born June 27, 1865, died June 30, 1937.

88. In memory of Helen M. Valentine, wife of M. Elmer Valentine, born March 5, 1865, died August 15, 1959.

8. Edward T. (5) Ohler—born June 9, 1869.

9. John E. (5) Ohler — born August 25, 1871.

10. Harry B. Ohler—born May 6, 1874. (Married, in 1897, Miss Effie B. Stambaugh.

Of these children—David S. (5) Ohler, the oldest child, died August 7, 1858—aged 1 month and 17 days. He is interred in the old Tom's Creek Lutheran Church yard. The inscription follows:

89. Sacred to the memory of David S. Ohler, son of J. T. and A. C. Ohler, died August 7, 1858, aged 1 month and 17 days.

Anna C. (5) Ohler died August 9, 1857—aged 11 months and 2 days.

This child, too, is interred in old Tom's Creek Lutheran churchyard:

90. Sacred to the memory of Ann C. Ohler, died August 9, 1857, aged 11 months and 19 days.

Note: It will be noticed that the Bible records and the inscription on this tombstone do not agree. If the dates given in the family record are correct both are wrong—the age should be "11 months and 22 days."

Mount Psychology Dept. Starts Lab

The head of the Psychology Department at Mount Saint Mary's College has announced the establishment of a psychology laboratory on campus to better serve the popular and growing field of study.

According to Msgr. Robert R. Kline, the lab will be run by Dr. Nicholas C. Kierniesky, who came to the Mount this year from Tulane and Villanova to supervise the new facility.

The lab, located in Brute Hall, has three main sections: a vivarium to house necessary animal subjects; the lab proper, providing spaces for work and equipment; and the office section primarily for Dr. Kierniesky's use.

Msgr. Kline, chairman of the school's Department of Psychology and Sociology, is the man most responsible for the lab coming to be. He recalls that in 1964, during a period in which he served as President of the college, there was no Psychology Department, that Sociology was a part of the History Department, and that the only real course in Psychology was taught by the Philosophy Department.

"It may have been called the 'Philosophy of Man,'" says Msgr. Kline, "as a philosophical psychology. At any rate there was an empty spot for it in our curriculum. Many

Frederick County Elementary Schools Will Have New Reporting System Beginning This Fall

Laurel M. Pennock, Associate Executive Secretary, National Association of Elementary School Principals, examines the new Frederick County elementary reporting system, as Alfred Thackston, Assistant Superintendent for Instruction (left) and Alonzo D. Peters, Principal, Brunswick Elementary (right) look on.

Frederick County elementary schools will be using a new reporting system beginning this fall. It will feature teacher-parent conferences in November and April in place of the standard report card. According to Mr. Peters, who has chaired the committee of teachers and administrators planning the changes during the last two years, parents can expect an extensive orientation about the new program through their local PTA.

schools this size had at least more courses than we did, because so many students wanted to pursue a major in it. Besides that, psychology was coming more and more into the whole area of academics. I mean by that, those studying education would use psychology, those getting into medicine could use it, and certainly those in the seminary could profit by its study."

So, convinced of the need for an expanded curriculum, and an autonomous sociology-psychology department, Msgr. Kline began his efforts toward establishing one.

"Our first step," he says, "was to bring in someone with a degree in psychology who made a study of the books we had in the library, and added some courses. Then we marked time because the psychological aspect of psychology was taking on greater significance in this country. This physical science approach to psychology immediately puts you into a laboratory. It puts you more heavily into biology, and into mathematics with reflex times and graphs and surveys and such. We just weren't ready for that, until now."

Eleven per cent of the Mount's enrollment is currently pursuing a degree in Psychology or Sociology.

Fresh Sunblushed Peaches Make Summery Cream Pie

If you had been a hostess in Queen Victoria's time, you might have ended a high fashion dinner in great style by serving each guest a single fresh peach in a nest of snowy white wool. The peach would have cost $5.00, an exotic rarity. Today fresh, sunblushed peaches are for everybody. They're in good supply at market, and they taste particularly fine in a homemade Peach Cream Pie. It's a luscious, light as air affair, fresh and fragrant with the summer's delicious golden gems from Peachland U.S.A. This pie is easy to make ahead and chill in the refrigerator 'til serving time.

- Peach Cream Pie
- 1 cup diced peeled peaches
 - 1/2 cup sugar, divided
 - 1 tablespoon fresh lemon juice
 - 1 envelope unflavored gelatine
 - 1/2 teaspoon salt
 - 1/2 cup milk
 - 3/4 teaspoon vanilla
 - 1/4 teaspoon almond extract
 - 2 egg whites
 - 1 cup heavy cream, whipped
 - 1 baked 9-inch pastry shell
 - Additional peaches for garnish

Sprinkle diced peaches with 2 tablespoons sugar and lemon juice; set aside. Reserve 4 tablespoons sugar. Mix remaining sugar, gelatine and salt in small saucepan. Stir in milk and cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatine dissolves, about 5 minutes. Remove from heat; add vanilla and almond extract. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture is the consistency of unbeaten egg white. Beat egg whites until soft peaks form. Add reserved 4 tablespoons sugar gradually, continuing to beat until stiff. Drain peaches and add to gelatine mixture. Fold in beaten egg whites, then whipped cream; turn into baked pastry shell. Chill until set, several hours. Garnish with additional peaches, peeled and sliced, just before serving. Makes: 6 to 8 servings.

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Where can I get information on the wage-price freeze and how it affects my particular business.

During the past few weeks my office has received numerous phone calls and letters from individuals and families who have specific questions concerning the wage-price freeze and its effects on their particular circumstances. You may be assured that I will forward on all such written inquiries to the appropriate officials for action. I am also pleased to report that the Internal Revenue Service has established three wage-price information offices in the Sixth District should you desire to contact government officials directly. In addition to providing answers to questions from citizens, these IRS offices will investigate complaints and receive appeals. The locations are: Cumberland—203 Post Office Building, Pershing St. (731-7722); Hagerstown—Professional Arts Bldg., 5 Public Square (731-1251); Frederick—914 East Street, Monocacy Village Shopping Center (663-6620). Baltimore Co. residents may write the IRS at 3100 Hopkins Plaza, Baltimore (962-2590).

When will the Occupational Safety and Health Act become effective, how does it affect farmers, and where can I get detailed information about it?

The Act is now Public Law 91-596 and became effective July 1 of this year. An explanatory copy of the law is being sent to you, but the exact details on how the law pertains to farmers I suggest you contact the Cooperative Extension Service at Winchester Hall in Frederick.

Where can I get my horses vaccinated against the Venezuelan horse sickness (VEE) that recently broke out in Texas?

Horses in Maryland and 19 other states are being vaccinated this week against the disease at government expense. Simply contact your practicing veterinarian to arrange for the free shots.

I understand that statistics on R&D expenditures in industry are compiled by the federal government. If so, where can I get a copy?

A report entitled Research and Development in Industry is published by the National Science Foundation and presents information on R&D expenditure in industry by source of funds, character of work, field of science for basic research data and product field for applied research and development. Copies of the report are available from the Superintendent of Documents, Washington, D. C. 20402.

Doesn't the Constitution prescribe qualifications for Federal judges?

The Constitution does not state what qualifications are demanded of men for these offices, either as to age, citizenship, legal competence, or as to political viewpoint and background.

List Procedures For Scholarships

The Maryland State Scholarship Board this week announced the procedures through which candidates may apply for a General State or a Senatorial scholarship.

A student who wishes to be considered for a General State and/or a senatorial scholarship must file an application and a Parents' Confidential Statement (PCS) with the Educational Testing Service, Princeton, N. J. Applications must be submitted no later than December 1, 1971. In addition, a student who also wishes to apply for a Senatorial scholarship must file a special application directly with his State (not United States) Senator.

Awards are based upon the student's scores on the Scholastic Aptitude test (SAT) and demonstrated financial need.

scores earned on the American College Testing (ACT) examination are acceptable for students who have not taken the SAT and who must take the ACT for college admission. A student already attending college who has completed at least one academic year may apply for a State scholarship without having to take a qualifying examination. Detailed instructions on how to apply are on the application forms. Forms may be obtained at any public or private high school or college in the State, or from the State Scholarship Board, 2100 Guilford Avenue, Baltimore, Md. 21218, in September.

"Harvest Home" will be celebrated at St. John's Lutheran Church next month. Home frozen fruits and vegetables are needed to feed the residents of the Lutheran Home for the Aged. There are 23,000 meals served each month in both the Gettysburg and York homes. For each meal, 76 qts. string beans, 50 qts. canned fruit are needed. Empty jars are available in the church kitchen to fill or replace yours that you filled. Plan now while fruits and vegetables are plentiful. Our older citizens will enjoy them this winter and we will feel better for doing our share.

Fairfield now has a car wash—at Bob's Service Center. With a fill up of gas, you can get your car washed free during this introductory period. Surely is looking nice around your station these days, Bob. Glad to see business is so good, too. Could be the good service and the friendly attitude that brings us back again. Best wishes in the future.

Fall is Nature's time to plant grass seed!

Why not beef-up your lawn by having a "seed-in"?

Best way to add new life to a skimpy lawn is to plant grass seed right into the existing turf. A dependable choice would be FAMILY which, over the years, has been Scotts best selling brand. This is a blend of bluegrass and fine fescues that does well both in full sun and partial shade.

Miss Brown Bride
Of Thomas Houck

Miss Deborah Jean Brown, daughter of Mrs. Ruth Brown, Waynesboro, Pa., and the late Daniel Brown, became the bride of Thomas George Houck, son of Mr. and Mrs. James A. Houck, Sr., Emmitsburg, on Saturday, Sept. 4 in Wellers United Methodist Church, Thurmont. Rev. Raymond M. Kingsbrough performed the double ring ceremony in a setting of gladioli and mixed flowers. Traditional music was played by Miss Margaret Fogle, church organist.

The bride, given in marriage by her brother, Richard A. Brown, Waynesboro, wore a full length gown of soft crepe with a V-neckline and tiered skirt. Her elbow-length veil fell from a headpiece of seed pearls and daisies. She wore a single strand of pearls, a gift from her mother, and carried a bouquet of yellow daisies.

Mrs. Phyllis Houck, Fairfield, Pa., sister-in-law of the groom, was the matron of honor. She wore a floor length gown of yellow dotted swiss, with matching veil. She carried a bouquet of white carnations and daisies.

Bridesmaids were Miss Rebecca Brown, sister of the bride, and Miss Denise Baker, both of Waynesboro. Their gowns were floor length and similar in style to the honor attendants. They also carried bouquets of white carnations and daisies.

Marc Houck, Emmitsburg, was his brother's best man. Ushers were David Cool and William Smith, both of Emmitsburg.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Brown chose a pink dress with matching lace coat, white accessories and a corsage of white carnations with pink trim.

The groom's mother wore a light blue dress trimmed in blue lace with matching accessories and a white carnation corsage with blue trim.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held in the church hall. Assisting were Mrs. Roland Sanders, aunt of the groom; Mrs. James Houck, Jr., sister-in-law of the groom, and Mrs. Roy McGlaughlin, sister of the groom. The guest book was attended by Miss Linda Smith, cousin of the bride.

For their wedding trip to an unannounced destination, the bride wore a brown suit with white accessories.

The bride attended Emmitsburg High School and is employed at Freeman Shoe Company, Emmitsburg.

The groom graduated from Emmitsburg High School, class of 1968, and is also employed at Freeman Shoe Company, Emmitsburg.

The couple is residing on Irish Town Road, Emmitsburg.

teacher or other staff members and some independently. A variety of resources and technology must be available to the learner as well as various methods of instruction.

The uses made of space within the building should be limited only by the exterior walls and the imagination of the teacher. Portable, versatile pieces of furniture should serve as space definers so that the same area may easily be converted for use by groups of different sizes and to accommodate program changes. To be of maximum use open spaces must be flexible, diversified and easily accessible.

The building itself may seem more relevant to students as it more closely resembles the world outside education where people either work alone, talk with another person, confer in small groups or join large audiences but seldom find themselves in groups of 25-30 where they remain for long periods at a time.

You've proved
we're doing something right! In 1970 you made RCA No. 1 in Color TV Sales[†] for the 17th straight year!

and this year RCA 100% Solid State
AccuColor is your best color buy...

Here's why:

RCA 100% Solid State AccuColor is built for reliability. Advanced solid state design eliminates all tubes—a reason for most service calls.

RCA's AccuBrite picture tube is computer-designed for optimum color accuracy. Radiant phosphors surrounded by a jet black matrix deliver vivid color with extra sparkle.

The 100% Solid State AccuColor tuning system makes color tuning virtually foolproof. RCA's automatic color monitor called AccuMatic (ACM) locks in a normal range of color and tint, no matter how often you change channels. So even if the kids switch off ACM and twiddle with the color dials, you just push the AccuMatic button and beautiful color snaps back.

See 100% Solid State AccuColor at your RCA dealer's. It's the latest reason why RCA has been No. 1 for 17 straight years, 1954 through 1970.
