- By Abigail -

Colorfest Weekend has gone leaving nothing but good comments in town. At least those I have heard have varied from great, best ever, to pretty good. The consensus seems to be that the Firemen's Parade was the best ever, lasting almost two hours and including some excellent musical and marching units. Congratulations to the Sun Valley Green Berets, winners of all their contests. They were great and I am sure that most everyone enjoyed their performance.

All reports indicate that the Block Party was a success and the Fire Company made some money. Late Saturday everything seemed to be sold out, even though the party was sprinkled with rain from time to time after the parade. Sunday's Civil War re-enactment drew a big crowd which showed interest in the various battles. The participation of the Sisters of Charity added realism to the performance here in Emmitsburg which was appreciated by all.

An awful lot of work went into the weekend activities here in town and we are all indebted to those that sponsored and participated in the events. Both the Fire Company and the Catocin Mountain Tourist Council have some real workers who put in long hours to see that the festivities were well planned, organized and performed.

Apparently the entire Catocin Mountain area shared the success experienced in Emmitsburg. Over 30,000 people are reported to have been in the area and I am sure that many of these will be back on the next few weekends. Reports from Thurmont and other nearby areas that participated indicate that most everyone sold out of food and other items.

I've already heard of a bigger and better celebration next year. This year Emmitsburg got fully involved for the first time and the favorable results indicate that we can do better next time because we will have longer to plan and get things organized. Let's hope that Fairfield gets involved next year. If they had attractions, some people would probably move from the park into Fairfield, through Emmitsburg and return to Thurmont while others would make the trip in the reverse direction. All of us should benefit by getting the visitors moving and looking at all the sights in the entire area.

Congratulations to the Mother Seton Guild in their window decorations. I'm sure they were enjoyed by many visitors. This is a project we should organize next summer so that more people are ready to take part in October.

Then too, next year we will plan on a sunny weekend so that the faint of heart won't be distracted.

Even though they did create a distraction from Colorfest, my heart goes out to the Orioles. Most of us thought they would pull it out of the fire after Saturday's performance but it was not to be. I'm not the only one that was sad. I understand that one local lady was so involved with rooting that she got well deserved sympathy cards from Danny Murtaugh and Roberto Clemente. The spooks and goblins will be out in force next week. There will be several organized activities. Let's all plan to take part in them and make Halloween safe and sound for everyone this year.

ANNOUNCE BIRTH
Mr. and Mrs. Joseph K. Beale, II, Silver Springs, Md., became the parents of a daughter Thursday, Oct. 7. The baby was named Kimberly Christine. Mr. Beale, a student at the University of Maryland, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Paul Beale, near Emmitsburg.

School Dedicated To Higher Goals

Students, teachers and parents were called upon Sunday afternoon at the dedication of Fairfield's new elementary school to "rededicate themselves to the higher goals and ideals of education."

The new "three pod" hexagon building is the first middle school in the county and was constructed at a cost of approximately $1 million.

Judge John A. MacPhail, delivered the dedicatory address, commended the residents of the Fairfield school district for their "determination, ability and sense of community pride" in constructing the first new school building in the county since the reorganization program went into effect in July.

The new middle school building for Fourth, Fifth and Sixth Grade students has been in service since the opening day of school this year. It contains six classrooms and one hexagon pod; offices, storage, kitchen and cafeteria in another; and locker rooms, library, health, special education and faculty rooms in the third sector. The three units are clustered in a triangle designed to accept future expansion as needed.

The building is the first to be erected on a 45-acre site being developed as an "Educational Park" for the district with a campus which provides for multi-activity use and centralized transportation facilities.

Superintendent Edgar E. Richards presided at the dedication program in the cafeteria opened by musical selections by the high school band, under the direction of Peter Riley. Elementary Principal Robert M. Reindollar introduced Judge MacPhail. The pledge of allegiance was led by Timothy Orner, Sixth grade student, and the invocation was given by the Rev. Lloyd H. Seiler, St. John's Lutheran Church. The benediction was given by the Rev. John Paukovits, St. Mary's Catholic Church.

Guy F. Donaldson, president of the board of education, and William R. Newman, chairman of the Fairfield School Authority, accepted the building from Architect Arthur Lea Stabler and General Contractor Germanus Orndorff, C.W. Test Builders, Inc.

Members of the school board in addition to Donaldson are Floyd H. Brown, Mark D. Deardorff, Delmar B. Richardson, Robert E. Newman, Fred H. Nagle, L. Glenn Shiner, Wilbur F. Sites and Douglas Piper. Former board members who assisted in planning the building were R. Thomas Dolly, A. B. Ross, Thomas C. Sanders, Lloyd H. Sites and Harold K. Deardorff.

Members of the school authority are William Newman, chairman, Charles S. Taylor, Francis E. McGlaughlin, Kenneth W. Sanders and Robert B. Rosenwald. Taylor served as coordinator and expediter for the construction.

PTA To Meet Next Wednesday

The Emmitsburg School PTA is holding a meeting at 7:30 p.m., Wednesday, October 27. All parents are invited to attend.

The program will be pertaining to the new elementary report cards. This will be presented by Alonzo D. Peters, Principal of Brunswick Elementary School. Mr. Peters was chairman of the committee that worked on this project for two years and is well qualified to make the presentation.

There will be no meeting in November. At this time the parent and teacher conference will be held. It is important that all parents attend the October meeting so they will be prepared for the new reporting system.

Open Letter To All Town Residents

TO THE CITIZENS OF EMMITSBURG:

I guess by now everyone in Emmitsburg knows of the problems that the Emmitsburg Municipal Band was having. On Monday, October 11, the band was officially dissolved. We would like to put everything in a storage room somewhere as soon as possible. As you saw Saturday, we are now trying to organize a drum and majorette corps to enter in parades. A drum and majorette corps will be difficult to build up, but there seems to be a bit more interest shown towards this idea. This will give us something to work with. Those who participated in the parade on Saturday deserve to be congratulated on their efforts.

Anyone who is interested in having their child become a majorette, is more than welcome to do so, but we will need more volunteer mothers to go to parades. We can't do it otherwise.

Every member of the band is required to turn in their uniform immediately and they will be stored as soon as a suitable place is located.

As was said a good while back, Emmitsburg needs music. We've tried, and most unfortunately have failed. Let's see if we can do something for Emmitsburg with a drum and majorette corps now. Maybe we will succeed in our efforts. The past lack of interest and cooperation was disgusting. Many other small towns like us have very good bands or marching groups. Let's do something for a change and give Emmitsburg something to be really proud of. We can only do it, if we all work together.

Central Maryland Breaks Ground For New High's Store

Frank B. Darcy, Jr., President of Central Maryland Corp., William Darnell, Vice President and General Manager of High's, Mayor Samuel C. Hays, Commissioner Philip D. Topper, and Robert Neuhauser, Vice President of Central Maryland, participate in the ground breaking for the new High's Dairy Store on West Main St.

Approximately 3,000 jammed streets of Emmitsburg Saturday afternoon for the annual Vigilant Hose Co. parade which included marching Civil War military units. Several thousand jammed into Stouter's Meadow Sunday afternoon for a Civil War re-enactment, despite fog and mud in lower areas of the meadow.

The parade took two hours to pass the judges stand and fire company officials termed it "the best parade we have had so far."

Judges included Sterling H. White, a past chief of the Vigilant Hose Co., and Robert Mumma, former Rocky Ridge Fire Co. president, who judged the fire apparatus. Judges for the Civil War units were Mrs. Ada Sperry, Emmitsburg Ford Dealership owner; Philip Topper, Emmitsburg Town

Councilman, and G. Henry Roth, of The Gettysburg Times. The professional judges for the drum and majorette groups included Sharon Ciesla, official NBTA meet judge, Baltimore; Raymond S. Williams, drum instructor, percussion judge, Westminster; B. J. Mathias, general effect (showmanship) and marching and maneuvering judge, Baltimore.

The parade was part of Emmitsburg's observance of the Colorfest Weekend, with the events also including a re-enactment of skirmishing that took place at Emmitsburg and throughout this general area, at various spots, as the Confederates retreated from Gettysburg, and the Union forces followed them.

Members of the Daughters of Charity from the motherhouse at Emmitsburg, wore their 1863 habits with their white flowing bonnets to re-enact the scene that occurred more than 100 years ago at Emmitsburg when the nuns provided food for the Union soldiers.

The Sun Valley Green Berets of Sun Valley, Md., won the parade grand champion $100 prize and trophy. It is their first claim to the six-foot trophy given away by the VHC. The trophy must be won three years to be kept by a unit. The Stardettes, of Baltimore, have two claims on the trophy thus far.

The other awards to baton groups were: Second, Arbutus Sailorettes, Arbutus, Md., $75 and trophy; third, Mt. Rainier Majestics, Mt. Rainier, Md., $50 and trophy; fourth, Accents, Middletown, Md., $30 and trophy; fifth, Stardettes, Baltimore, Md., $20 and trophy; sixth, Anne Arundettes, $10 and trophy; seventh, the Wayne - Ettes, Waynesboro, Pa., trophy; eighth, Carroll Patriots, Sykesville, Md., trophy; ninth, Chapparells, of Chambersburg, Pa., trophy; 10th, Shamocks, Frederick, Md., trophy.

Drummer awards were: First place trophy, Sun Valley Green Berets, Sun Valley, Md.; second place trophy, the Sailorettes, Arbutus, Md.

Other majorette groups appearing in the parade were: Morningside, Md.; Thunderettes, Baltimore; Sterling Park (Va.) Majorettes; Highlighters, Frederick; Diana's Deckettes, Waynesboro; Bri-Jets, Union Bridge; St. Michaels Pink Prancers, Baltimore; the Green Berets, Thurmont, and the Emmitsburg Majorettes.

Awards for the various fire apparatus in the parade were: Best appearing fire fighting apparatus: First place trophy, Middletown, Md.; second place trophy, Fairfield; 3rd place trophy, Littlestown, Pa. Company with apparatus coming longest distance: first place trophy, Sterling Park, Va.; second place trophy, Halfway, Md.; Company with oldest motorized apparatus, trophy, Rocky Ridge, Md.

6 Injured In Sunday Evening Accident

Three persons were admitted to the Warner Hospital October 17 following a two-vehicle collision on Route 97 three miles east of Emmitsburg at 6:15 o'clock. Three others sustained minor injuries as a result of the accident.

Maryland State Police charged David W. Glidden, 45, Baltimore, with making an improper pass. They said that Glidden, operating east on Route 97, attempted to overtake traffic in his own lane and ran into a pickup truck driven by Aubrey Walls, 42, Baltimore, which had attempted unsuccessfully to pull off the westbound lane to avoid the collision.

Emmitsburg and Taneytown ambulances, as well as the Emmitsburg Fire Co. Squad truck, removed the injured to the Warner Hospital.

Town Discusses Mobile Homes Site

A special meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners was held Tuesday, October 19, with all members present.

The meeting was called to further discuss the request for annexation of 16 acres of land by Paxton Builders for the purpose of erecting a mobile homes site. Attorney Fred Bowers represented the town, and Attorney Edward D. Storm was present on behalf of Paxton Builders, along with Mr. William Garde, president of Paxton Builders.

Paxton Builders' plan is to construct 109 mobile homes, allowing one trailer per 4,000 sq. ft. Attorney Bowers suggested that any agreement with the town should include the Frederick County Planning and Zoning regulations governing mobile homes, as well as F.H.A. regulations.

Mayor Hays pointed out that, in accordance with our present Ordinances, the builder should be reimbursed $150 for every new user of water and sewerage, plus $1.00 per foot for newly constructed roads built by the builders.

Attorney Bowers pointed out that roadways leading in and out of the development at present are most inadequate to handle the potential flow of traffic, and after some discussion, Mr. Garde suggested the feasibility of building new roadways in an effort to establish better entrances and exits to the proposed development. Further action was postponed, pending results of Mr. Carde's findings on this matter.

Mayor Hays advised the board that Potomac Edison Co. is contemplating installation of underground service for Emmitsburg. More information on this will be forthcoming soon.

The Mayor reported on the work done by Keyser Well Drillers. An effort was made to pump water at a distance of 100 feet from the old well, but the pump still sucked in sand, so further work was abandoned. Mr. Keyser advised cessation of well drilling on the mountain; and the board will henceforth concentrate on the possibilities of erecting a new reservoir which will give the town a better water reserve supply.

Acquisition of land for the proposed recreation park site was again discussed, with further action to come.

Annexation of the William Payne property was again discussed with Attorney Bowers, with action delayed, pending a survey of the land in question.

The meeting adjourned at 10:40 p.m.

TO HOST SYMPOSIUM

Mount Saint Mary's Seminary will host an all day symposium on Monday, Oct. 25, on the theme "The Black Experience: Preparation for the Priesthood." The symposium is designed to "provide to the non-black seminarians a clearer understanding of what it means to be black."

J., and Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, Gettysburg.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK

"I wish you a thirst that can never be sated. For all the loveliness earth can yield, Slim, cool birches whitely mated, Dawn on an April field. And never too big a bill to pay When the Fiddler finds he must up and away."

—L. M. Montgomery

The first settlers in this country had, thanks to their old-world background and experiences, a "thirst that could never be sated" for many, many things. Probably the majority of them could not put their desires into words—as the poet has done—but nonetheless they were willing to toil at unspeakably difficult tasks—to turn back the wilderness—in order that their children might enjoy certain benefits and privileges. Today so many things are taken for granted—people no longer dream and plan. The dreamer who makes his dreams come true lives beyond the grave. "Hitch your wagon to a star" and follow in the footsteps of the pioneers.

At the beginning of this study the historian theorized that all of the old families were related—in one way or another. This statement is more or less correct so be prepared to meet some unexpected relatives.

The Hockensmith family were early settlers in Frederick County, Maryland, and it is quite possible they came with the so-called Monocacy settlers. According to the historian James Helman: "The Germans on their way from Pennsylvania to Virginia seeing the rich lands of Frederick County, offered them on such terms, a rental of one cent per acre annum, did not proceed further. In a few years the prosperity of these people was an assured thing, and the Monocacy settlement was the result. From this they spread out west and south. The church at Monocacy was for years their meeting place. What a halo of German thought concentrated here. Newcomers were received with open arms—and news from other parts of the country eagerly sought. Here was a social life with freedom of thought and religion unfettered by officials."

Again referring to Helman: "The first patent on record in this vicinity is to George Smith, March 21, 1746, for five hundred acres, now (1906) the land of Ohler, Eckard, Hockensmith and others. George Smith was born in 1720 and died in 1793. He was the father of eleven children—four boys and seven girls. His son, John Smith, was a sergeant in Captain William Blair's Game Cock Company in the War of the American Revolution. He had two sons-in-law in the same company, John Crabbs, corporal, and Jacob Hockensmith, Ensign."

"George Hockensmith, the pioneer ancestor of that family in the Emmitsburg District, settled on the Albert Maxell farm, embracing the lands of David S. Gillelan, Rowe and Samuel Ohler."

According to Hockensmith's descendant, George Hockensmith was a son of Conrad (1) Hockensmith—and this Conrad might have been one of those who helped to establish the Monocacy Settlement. If he died there he was interred in the Lutheran churchyard located at that place and all trace has been lost. If the "Monocacy Church Book" can be found, light may be thrown on a number of mysteries that have grown with the passing years.

Conrad (1) Hockensmith was married, but the name of his wife cannot be determined at present. He had issue as follows:

1. George (2) Hockensmith—first of the family to live in the Emmitsburg District.

2. Jacob (2) Hockensmith—apparently he followed his brother, George (2), into the vicinity of Emmitsburg, and married Elizabeth Smith, the daughter of George Smith. This Jacob (2) was a soldier in the War of the American Revolution.

3. Michael (2) Hockensmith—no data at this time.

4. Conrad (2) Hockensmith—no additional information at present.

On August 28th, 1770 a now famous meeting was held in the old schoolhouse, located close to Troxell's Mill, on Tom's Creek, on land now owned by the Sisters of Charity. Among those present was Henry Hockensmith. The group affirmed their loyalty to King and country but they also voiced their right to civil and religious liberty as granted by Charles of England to Lord Baltimore and the inhabitants of this colony.

Now to return to the question of the Hockensmith Tavern. Again Mr. Helman has something to say: "The town was laid out in 1785. It was known as Poplar Fields prior to that date, when at a public meeting held at Hockensmith's Tavern (the farm now owned by Meade Fuss), John McGorgan was called to the chair. He proposed to change the name of the town from Poplar Fields to Emmitsburg, in honor of Samuel Emmit, one of the largest landholders in the district. All persons threw up their hats, clapped their hands and hurried for Emmitsburg."

"The company had quite a merry time, having drunk the health of the newly baptized town; they returned home full of sanguine expectations as to the rapid growth of the infant settlement. The population at that time consisted of just seven families."

There has long been some question as to just where the Hockensmith Tavern was located. Mr. Helman points out that in 1906 the farm was owned by Meade Fuss. Mrs. Carrie Fuss Long, the daughter of Meade Fuss, remembers the late Charles Gillelan's statement as to just where the old tavern stood. "On the road from Emmitsburg to Taneytown, going east at the first bridge—brick house on one side of the road—barn on the other."

"The present house was built about 1864 by the Gillelans. About that time, or thereabouts the old tavern was torn down. It stood back of the present house—down in the yard—near the old well."

Mrs. Long further states that the old log stable—part of the tavern property, was still standing when her family lived on the farm. At that time it was used as a woodshed.

The tavern property must have been the original acreage owned by the Hockensmiths in the Emmitsburg District. One can also assume that George (2) Hockensmith built the tavern and was

James R. Hill Holsteins Exceed Estimated Production

A report of milk production levels attained by dairy cows in the area has been received from Holstein-Friesian Association of America. The actual food production output, recorded in the DHIR program, by these local Registered Holsteins is:

Win-Day-Wood Fran Una 5961860, an eight-year-old, produced 21,670 lbs. of milk and 917 lbs. of butterfat in 358 days. Hills-Hope Commander Trustee 6749488, a three-year-old, had 16,680 lbs. of milk and 661 lbs. of butterfat in 315 days. Hills-Hope S F D Elva 6517869, a four-year-old, had 19,980 lbs. of milk and 658 lbs. of butterfat in 305 days. All are included in the herd tested for Mr. and Mrs. James R. Hill, Emmitsburg.

"mine host" during his lifetime.

Again, and this too is supposition, it would appear that the three brothers of George (2) Hockensmith followed him into the vicinity. In 1785 Jacob (2) Hockensmith bought lot #5 on the original plan of Emmitsburg—Conrad (2) Hockensmith Lot #6 and Michael (2) Hockensmith, No. 27.

The notes on the Hockensmith family will be continued in this series next week.

These new production figures may be compared to the estimated annual output of 9,388 lbs. (4,366 quarts) of milk and 345 lbs. of butterfat by the average U. S. dairy cow, notes the National Holstein Association.

Production testing is made available through the cooperative efforts of the state and local testing associations and Holstein-Friesian Association of America. Dairyemen enrolled in the program pay for the service.

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Wivell returned home after touring the North Central States. They spent two days at "The Shrine of Our Lady of the Snows," in Belleville, Illinois.

Decay Of National Defense

From time to time during the past few years we have commented with growing alarm on the fact that the United States' capability to defend itself against the soaring military might of Russian-based Communism was deteriorating and that our Governmental leadership, including the majority of Congress, appeared apathetic to the danger. Since the public has been given very little information on America's loss of military power and the Soviet's mighty surge to overtake us the American public too has been apathetic. In our columns and newsletters and on the lecture platforms we have tried to alert the people to our nation's weakening position.

Now a large number of Republican and Democrat Congressmen have become frightened and are trying to reach the people with the shocking facts. Neither their fright nor the shocking facts they wish the American public to have have yet got the attention of the nationwide press, although more than 100 Congressmen participated recently in an almost unprecedented uprising in the House of Representatives. It was one of the most newsworthy events in recent years on The Hill; yet it was "blackout" by much of the news media.

Big Outcry In Congress

The huge outcry by the more than 100 Congressmen monopolized the attention of the House of Representatives for most of the day of August 4. The Congressional Record had to issue an extra volume to produce in print the speeches and remarks of the frightened Congressmen. And yet next day only a comparative handful of the 200 million people of America knew what had happened in Congress, knew that more than 100 Congressmen had sounded a massive alarm on our deteriorating national defense; knew that Soviet Russia, whose leaders re-declared just recently World Communism's determination to rule the world, now has overtaken America in military might. Here is what Congressman Philip Crane of Illinois said about the media coverage:

"On August 4, 1971, I participated in a series of Special Orders with more than 100 of my colleagues from both sides of the aisle. These Special Orders dealt with the deteriorating situation regarding the national defense. The same morning I participated with many of these same colleagues in a press conference on the same subject.

Press Blackout

"The reason I mention these acts, Mr. Speaker (said Congressman Crane), is that neither the Washington Star, Washington Post, nor New York Times saw fit to cover this event despite the fact that the bipartisan participation made it one of the largest Special Orders in the recent history of the House and despite the fact that this issue was the No. 1 priority of our Government at any time." Other speakers in succeeding days pointed out that the massive outcry from Congress to the people got little, if any coverage on AP, UPI, the TV network news-casts, or in the weekly news magazines. In subsequent columns we will report on an objective, non-Governmental study of press coverage of this and other related events.

The whole thrust of the outcry was stated by Congressman Floyd Spence of South Carolina: "The gentleman from New York (Congressman Stratton) and I asked for this Special Order because of our concern for a problem which threatens the very survival of our nation. We, along with many of our colleagues, have witnessed with alarm the steady growth of Soviet military power, while at the same time our own preparedness has been neglected."

Soviet Superiority

Congressman Spence cited James Fighting Ships (a world authority on comparative military might for half a century) which recently reported: "The situation for the U. S. Navy is serious. By any standards, the Soviet fleet now represents the super-navy of a super-power. . . . In the strategic/nuclear balance of forces the USSR has gained superiority over the United States in numbers of ICBMs and the megatonnage that can be delivered." The Congressman noted that Jane's goes on to say that "the predicted Soviet strategic forces of the mid-1970's could destroy virtually all U. S. land-based ICBMs in a surprise first attack, and at the same time their missile submarines could destroy most U. S. manned bombers before they could become airborne."

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Labor And The Economic Program

By Babco, Reports Inc. Wellesley Hills, Mass., October 21, 1971—After the announcement of Phase I of President Nixon's economic game plan, the reaction of most labor authorities was immediately and quite bitterly hostile. AFL-CIO President George Meany was quick to point out that he and most of his top aides had long recognized the necessity for wage-price controls of one sort or another to combat inflation, but only provided they fell evenly on both business and the workers. If wages were to be curbed, the same must apply to profits.

Further analysis of Phase I made many union leaders even more certain that the workers they represent were getting the small end of the deal. Wages were frozen solid, even in cases where raises had been expected. Mr. Nixon also asked specifically that pay gains promised federal employees be postponed until the middle of 1972. His request for termination of existing strikes and delay of anticipated ones brought angry assertions from labor sources that the government was intruding illegally on the right to strike guaranteed to the unions by law. And the worst cut of all for Mr. Meany was that no curbs were placed on profits, and only appeals for voluntary restraint were made in terms of interest and corporate dividends.

Prices Hard To Monitor
Laborites claimed that their wage scales could be almost automatically monitored, if only by employers themselves, while retail prices could go just about where they wanted. It was charged that a survey of prices in over a hundred supermarkets in New York City revealed only four that were not in violation of the price freeze order effective August 15. Federation's George Meany said on TV that he was told by the Internal Revenue Service — ostensibly responsible for monitoring prices—that no men were on the road for that service, that all checking up on retail prices was done by telephone.

Response To Phase II
When President Nixon revealed Phase II of his economic game plan on October 7, labor found little relief from what had been found so unacceptable in the original wage-price-rent freeze program. While a White House official said the system must be "voluntary and co-operative" in essence, union heads continued to view the situation with marked uneasiness. When the 90-day freeze expires at midnight November 13, major businesses and big unions must get advance permission from the government to boost wages or prices. In the middle-size range wage or price action may be taken, but rollbacks can be ordered where hikes are found to be excessive. Standards must be followed by small operations, shopkeepers, landlords, etc., with possible IRS investigations if there are consumer complaints.

Reasonable union leaders admit they can live with these restraints, especially since they will be represented by five members on the fifteen-member pay board to set and approve guidelines for raises. But Mr. Meany and other officials of autonomous parts of the AFL-CIO still do not like the fact that profits have no checkreins nor are any planned during the somewhat misty course of Phase II. Even a tax on excess profits—sought by some pro-labor and left-of-center politicians—is not anticipated.

Profits Key To Progress
Even within the House of Labor, however, there are economists who understand the significance of profits in the life of a free economy — even under its temporary rules and regulations. Fortunately, Mr. Nixon knows that to cut back on profits at this time could only make the situation worse by paring capital outlays, promoting inefficiency, holding down productivity, increasing unemployment, and further weakening the business fabric. It is the best guess of Babson's Reports that labor will go along, even if reluctantly, with Phase II until inflation is no longer a serious threat to our economy.

Emmitsburg Public Library Notes
Circulation is a big factor in the Emmitsburg Library. Last month the circulation jumped some 10%. We are not sure whether it is because people read more in the summer or the fact that the Williams family has moved to this area. I do know that Thurmont shows a definite drop in their circulation, and this family lived in their area before now. Teachers and educators in the area show a distinctive trend in their reading habits. Mostly they visit the library regularly and they visit as a family group. This is such a wonderful example for children. The fact that the parent accompanies the child makes the difference also. If all parents would realize the importance of reading this library would be filled to capacity and the circulation would be outstanding in the county.

There is talk of locating the library near the high school. Would that this could be a reality families could drive down together without any worry of where to park and this would be an incentive to more families to visit the library frequently. If you have any ideas concerning the location of your library facility, be sure to voice them to the librarian and to local planners when the time comes to make a decision. The library should be convenient to all. It would be grand if the library and the health facilities could be located in the same general area of the parks and recreation area all surrounding the new school. We are looking to the future and seeing the little town grow as more and more people are moving from the city.

Mrs. Klosky and Clyde Eyer are among the most recent to donate books to the library. Jack Kaiser and Mrs. Mary Seess are regularly contributing to the collection. We do not promise that every book given to the library will stay in the collection. Sometimes their condition does not seem good enough to remain, sometimes the content is outdated or the library owns something more current, sometimes the donation serves a better purpose in another facility in the county. The library has book deposits in the Victor Cullen School and in the Home for Aged. Some books we merely pass on to the school bazaar but don't forget us when you have something worthwhile to donate.

At the final meeting on November 7, a Baltimore County High School Principal, and a layman, Dr. Austin Gisriel, will be the guest speaker. Dr. Gisriel is the son of a Methodist minister and Principal of Overlea High School.

The topics to be covered in the respective studies are "News for the poor"; "A way nobody wants to go"; and "The feast begins". Refreshments will be served at the conclusion of each meeting.

Of the developing countries' 1.1 billion children, half do not receive any formal education. UNICEF helps to train teachers and to produce teaching materials.

Public Invited To Tabernacle Dedication Happenings In Emmitsburg Area By Mary S. Scott

Through the mind, hands, heart and dreams of Rev. Robert Crowley, Director of Summit Lake Camp, a Tabernacle will be dedicated on Sunday, Oct. 24 at 3:00 p.m. at the camp grounds.

The Tabernacle, started in March 1971, will seat over 500. Through "Right Start For The Day Ministry," a radio program which has served the Washington area for 30 years, the camp has helped boys and girls, men and women, to have a richer life in finding Christ as Lord. Much of the work that has been done on the Tabernacle has been volunteer work by dedicated men and women who love our Lord and are eager to be a part of this Camp Ministry. Dr. Dale Crowley, founder, and Pastor Robert Crowley, Director, will both be present and welcome the general public to this beautiful new tabernacle which is to be formally dedicated to the service of the Lord.

The Summit Lake Camp is located on the Hampton Valley Road west of Emmitsburg. From Thurmont take Rt. 81 to Eyer's Valley Flint Road, turn right and proceed to Eyer's Valley Chapel. Go straight 1/4-mile to Camp Summit Lake, on Hampton Valley Road. From Emmitsburg take Annandale Road to Hampton Valley Road and proceed on to the camp.

Recent birthdays are as follows: Misses Pat and Kathy Myers; Oct. 19, Joseph H. Scott, Sr.; Oct. 20, Robert Myers and Lando Sanders; Oct. 21, Guy A. Baker, Sr., and Mrs. Nancy Boyle. Coming up this weekend: Oct. 22, Dr. John J. Dillon, John E. Chrismier, Mrs. Alice Boyle and twin sister, Mrs. Agnes Bentley (London, Ontario).

Mrs. John H. Walter spent several days last week visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Bucher, Richmond, Virginia.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene Foster, Baltimore, visited during the past weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scott, Sr., Villa Rest.

Local girls who are members of the Fairfield Striders are selling candy to help defray the expenses of their group.

Miss Pat Myers, Alexandria, Va., spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Myers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Haley and family, Baltimore, spent the weekend with his mother, Mrs. Faith Haley, Emmitt Gardens.

On Sunday, October 24, you may wish to attend the dedication of the chapel at Summit Lake Camp, west of town on the Hampton Valley Road. (See item elsewhere in paper.)

On October 28, the Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council Governing Board will hold its autumn meeting at the Seton Center at 7:30 p.m.

Don't forget the Mother Seton School Bazaar on Nov. 6, which begins at 1:30 p.m. Mrs. Joann O'Connor is general chairman of the affair which will provide games, novelties, soups, sandwiches, money and bicycle raffles.

Baseball League Announces Prizes

Winning the half of beef was Dorothy Knox of Emmitsburg. Tom Kuykendall of Fairfield, and Ed Wisotsky of Littlestown, each won a quarter of beef. The drawings were held after the Skirmish at Stouter's Meadow on Sunday afternoon.
