Chiao Kuan-hua, Red China's Deputy Foreign Minister and Huang Hua, permanent representative to the U.N., arrived in New York recently with a big bundle of smiles for everyone. The group has been shown traveling around New York visiting various people with some even buying candy. It didn't take Chiao long to forget the smiles and start giving the United States a kick in the seat of the pants. His response to the welcome offered by the members, including the U.S., started right in on Uncle Sam.

We were not alone because he wasn't too kind to Russia either. Looks like China is going to make a big play for the support of the smaller countries in Asia and Africa. I'm sure that this is just the beginning and we will be hearing a lot more choice remarks in the months and years to come.

However, maybe it is all for the good. At least we will be talking once and a while and the world will get a chance to hear China speak out on the issues. Many times just listening to people talk will help you understand their thinking. I would assume that they are going to blame us for everything in the world they don't like anyway so Chiao's initial performance is no surprise, and we should have expected it.

Who knows, they may have some good points that can help formulate a better U.S. attitude and policy in the world. Just looking around makes one think that we should try something new in many areas instead of the same old stuff. Another advantage is that they have to listen when it is our turn to talk and maybe they will get some ideas that will change their thinking so that all of us together can help to make a better world.

It never hurts to talk about issues and events. Some of the things that have happened in Emmitsburg in the past few months have pointed out the need for improved communication in our town. Often times the true facts of a situation never become known to all people concerned because no one stops to ask questions and hear the facts as they are seen by the other people involved.

Do you remember the old story of the elephant that was examined by a group of blind men? One thought it was a tree, one a leaf, one a rope, etc. depending on that part of the beast each man was examining. The same divergence of opinion would be found here in town when situations are examined by people with different backgrounds, persuasions and sets of values. Probably no one group is all right or all wrong just as neither the United States or Red China is all right or all wrong on the world scene. What is needed in these situations in Emmitsburg where there is conflict between groups is conversation to get more complete knowledge by all concerned and then some concerted attempts at understanding of the various positions by all concerned. Who knows, maybe everyone wants almost the same result as most everybody else and only a few of the people involved realize it.

Firemen Nominate Officers At Meeting

Recommendations for several revisions in the by-laws were made at the monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Company, held Tuesday, Nov. 9, with the President, Leo M. Boyle, presiding.

Chief Guy R. McGlaughlin reported that the Company responded to one fire call, one service call and one drill since the last meeting. Squad 6 responded along with the ambulance on one personal injury accident.

Charles Hartdagen, chairman of the recent shooting match, reported on its success. The Colorfest Activity chairman, Eugene Myers, reported on the tremendous success of the Block Party held on October 16.

W. Henry Filler was accepted as an active member after six months successful probation. Three men were proposed for active membership. They were Craig Orner, Ronald Sheeley and Roger Harner.

It was recommended that some changes in the by-laws be made and in so doing will become effective as of the December meeting. They read as follows:

Article 3, Section 3, shall be deleted and written as follows: Effective as of December 14, 1971, Social Membership shall be limited to only those who served at least one (1) year as an active member of the Company. Members previously elected to this status shall remain on the Social Membership if dues are paid annually, and such said members shall be restricted from holding office in the Company, from voting on Company business and from actively participating in fighting a fire. The total number of Social Members shall not exceed one hundred (100) members.

Article 4, Section 1, shall be deleted and written as follows: All active members of the Company shall be assessed one dollar ($1.00) per year dues and Social Members shall be assessed two dollars ($2.00) per year dues.

The by-laws committee consists of Thomas W. White, chairman; Richard Sprinkle, and James E. Fitzgerald. President Boyle appointed Earl (Gus) Rice to see that members of the Company who are in the service, receive a gift from the Company at Christmas time.

Chief McGlaughlin reported that there will be a tank relay on Sunday, November 14, at 1:30 p.m. The relay will be held at St. Joseph College.

The Company will again put up the Christmas lights for the town on Thursday evening, November 18 at 6:30 p.m. All are urged to assist in this community project.

The Christmas light committee for the Fire Hall will consist of Arthur Damuth, chairman; Charles Champlain, Michael Trout and David Ott.

Two walkie-talkies will be replaced by new ones and Jack Hoke will attempt to repair the old ones for additional use. The nominating committee presented their slate to the Company for the forthcoming election. Those on the slate include: President, Leo M. Boyle; vice president, James E. Fitzgerald; treasurer, Samuel Cool and Austin Umbel; Board of Directors, Charles Stouter, Thomas Saylor and Terry Myers; Chief, Guy R. McGlaughlin; 1st Asst. Chief, Eugene Myers; 2nd Asst. Chief, Charles Hartdagen and Thomas White.

After the nominating committee gave their report, two declined their proposals: Paul Keepers for treasurer and Charles Hartdagen for 2nd asst. chief.

Nominations from the floor then proceeded as follows: Richard Sprinkle, chief; C. F. Stouter and Harry Green, 2nd asst. chief; Jack Hoke, asst. secretary; Paul Keepers and Dr. George Green, Board of Directors.

Election of Officers is scheduled for the next meeting which will be held on December 14. The time for members to vote will be from 6:30 p.m. to 8:00 p.m. Judges of election will be Charles Champlain, Paul Keepers and Patrick Zimmerman.

Senior Citizens Have Busy Program

The Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club passed another successful milestone Saturday, November 13, in the Fall Bazaar, having cleared approximately $600.00.

The results of the various chances were: Blanket, Fr. Stouter; radio, Pauline Hollinger; ham, James Neeley; Afghan, Lou Bushman; 2, $3 dinners, Ethel Fuss; box of fruit, Margaret Smith.

To all those who made donations and helped with the work, and providing materials and items for sale or other aid, the heartfelt thanks of the officers and members of the organization is extended.

On Monday morning at ten o'clock, the regular meeting of the official board of the Senior Citizens Club was held at the Center. Rev. Chatlos opened the meeting with prayer. President LaRue Harman then called on treasurer Lewis Stoner for the financial report which proved most satisfactory. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. Among items of interest or importance discussed were: Letters of thanks to be written, both to the VFW and Mrs. Pat Thorne for their financial interest in the club; promoting a Membership Drive to precede and include a Christmas Party to be held on the next regular meeting, Tuesday evening, December 21; an estimate to be sought as to placing shades on the electric lights in the Center; board voted to purchase a new electric coffee pot; effort to be made to secure three new board members; suggestion that the club inquire into a trip later on to attend the Ice Capades in Baltimore; motion made and carried that $6.00 be allowed those furnishing refreshments for the regular club meetings. After some discussion of other minor matters, the meeting adjourned at 11:45 a.m.

Tuesday evening, the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club met for the regular monthly meeting at the Center with 29 members present. The meeting opened with the singing of the first stanza of the National Anthem and repetition of the Lord's Prayer. President LaRue Harman gave a report of the Fall Festival, which was very gratifying. The minutes of the last meeting were read and approved. The Christmas Party will be held Tuesday, December 21, at 6:30 p.m., with a covered dish dinner and a short Christmas program to be given. Everyone was urged to bring in some new members as there are quite a number of qualified persons not yet enjoying the activities of the Club. Mrs. Elmer Fuss reported on the cost, time and date of the Ice Capades to be held in Baltimore. Price to the Club members, $3.00—others $5.50. The group chose to attend Thursday evening, January 13. Those planning to attend, please sign up at the Center before Dec. 1.

Three School Plans Offered For Study

The three plans for the development of the Emmitsburg Elementary School and Community Center site discussed last week by the Citizens Advisory Committee working with the Frederick County Board of Education, were presented Wednesday at Winchester Hall to the Frederick County Commissioners, the Board of Education and Emmitsburg Commissioners. George Bushey and Jack Bury, Hagerstown architects, presented the plans with estimated costs of each. Plan 3 was estimated at 1.7 million, plans 1 & 2 were estimated at 1.62 million. The advantages and disadvantages of each of the plans was discussed and questions were raised. No decision was reached.

Although skeptical, G. Hunter Bowers, Board President, said that the Board of Education will favor Plan 3 if that's what the people of Emmitsburg really want. Dr. John L. Carnochan said his staff will include the proposal in its capital budget request to be presented to the board next Tuesday.

Plan 3 was endorsed by County Commissioner Lawrence Dorsey and Emmitsburg Mayor Samuel Hays. Commissioner Donald Lewis had reservations concerning the funding of the project. Further study of possible sources of funding including determination of the state's position on the difference in cost between the new school plan (3) and the renovation and addition plans (1 & 2) will have to be made before a final decision can be reached.

Marijuana Trial Over Wednesday

The case of the 13 Emmitsburg defendants being tried in Circuit Court on marijuana related charges never went to the jury.

The defendants, after their attorneys met with the state's attorney on the second day of their trial, agreed to change their pleas from not guilty: six of the nine pleaded guilty to possession of marijuana and three pleaded guilty to maintaining a common nuisance. The state dropped charges against the remaining four persons.

The maximum sentence for possession of marijuana is one year imprisonment while the maximum sentence for maintaining a common nuisance—a place resorted to by drug abusers—is five years in prison.

The state dropped charges against the following persons: Michael Lawrence Fair, 28, of RFD 1, Emmitsburg; Edward John Remavege, 20, RFD 1, Emmitsburg; John Joseph Remavege, 20, Fairfield; and Joyce Elaine Stumbaugh, 20, Emmitsburg.

Guilty pleas to maintaining a common nuisance were accepted from Robert Morris Removege, 21, Emmitsburg; John Boyle McCarthy, 21, Emmitsburg; and William Francis Ariano, Jr., 22, Emmitsburg.

Pleading guilty to possession of marijuana were: John Walter Schmierer, 22, Emmitsburg; Gregory Lynn Harvey, 24, Emmitsburg; Maureen O'Donaghe Remavege, 18, RFD 1, Emmitsburg; Peter Christopher Smith, 22, Emmitsburg; Michael Joseph Callari, Jr., 35, Emmitsburg; and Terry Lee Davenaort.

Sentencing on the nine pleading guilty was deferred by Judge Samuel W. Barrick pending completion of a presentencing report by the local Department of Parole and Probation. Those confessing were released on $500 personal bond to appear.

In abandoning the charges against the four defendants, Robert Rothenhoeffer explained the state's position had been altered by testimony and evidence ruled out of court. The trial ended at 5 p.m. Wednesday when the jurors were informed their services would no longer be needed.

Each company had a tanker or pumper at the practice with a total of 57 firemen participating.

FFA Float Is Big Success

Catoctin High School's FFA float was a big success in the Homecoming Parade on Oct. 30.

The theme of the float was the FFA Motto: Learning to Do, Doing to Learn, Earning to Live, Living to Serve.

The color scheme of the float was yellow and blue, the FFA colors. Yellow Kleenexes were used around the sides of the float as pumps.

Thanks from the FFA to the following who donated Kleenexes for the project: Trout's Super Thrift; Guy Hobbs Grocery Store; Bollinger's Meat Market; Boyle's Grocery Store and Jack Kling.

Safety Program At Middle School

The Emmitsburg Middle School students and faculty were presented a program on the importance of walking, bicycling and driving safely last week.

Emmitsburg is growing and this means more people, bicycles, and cars. We realize that only the faculty is driving now but the fact that you learn good safety rules as a bicyclist will carry over when you start driving.

Mrs. Connie Nusbaum, President of Young Adults of Thurmont and chairman of Traffic Safety, and Tfc. Dennis Murphy, Barrack "B" Md. State Police, presented the program. Films were shown and Tfc. Murphy and Mrs. Nusbaum talked on the traffic problems that face us each day as we go to school and work. There is a problem of getting there safely and back home again. Time was given to a question and answer session. Each student received a pamphlet on bike riding and each teacher a booklet on safety.

We hope that Mayor Hays and the Emmitsburg Council will proclaim Safety Week during the Emmitsburg-Thurmont Community Show next year. During this week, everyone should study and review new and old rules of the road. Safety should prevail throughout the year not only Safety Week.

Police Chief Henry Filler and Principal Richard Van Tries deserve thanks for making the visit possible. Take a minute and save a life.

County Approves School Funding

The Frederick County Commissioners this week approved the local funding portion of the revised school construction budget for fiscal year '71-'72, a total of $76,000 for three county elementary schools.

Emmitsburg Elementary School will receive $20,000 for the purchase of land for the planned addition to the school. The Valley Elementary School in Jefferson will receive $40,000 for an air - conditioning unit and Myersville Elementary School is to get $16,000 for additional equipment.

The Board of Education had asked for $572,000 in the revised budget, and County Clerk James Bryan said that a portion of the additional money would be funded in the '72-'73 budget.

The commissioners also approved a budget amendment for Myersville which allows the use of $6,333 which had been slated for the school building budget to be transferred to the funds allocated for new equipment.

In other action Monday, the board proposed reducing the Parks and Recreation Commission from 15 to nine members. The proposed change in the ordinance can be adopted 10 days after being advertised. The commissioners also adopted regulations and budgetary procedures for the operation of the Capital Budget.

Phyllis Wivell Wins Horticulture Prize

Horticulture is a very familiar topic to Phyllis Wivell, the 19-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Wivell of Rocky Ridge.

Phyllis has been selected the 1971 state winner in the 4-H Horticulture Project. For her accomplishments, she will receive an all expense paid trip to the 50th National 4-H Congress in Chicago, November 28-December 2. Her trip is sponsored by Allis-Chalmers Company of Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

She has worked on 4-H horticulture projects for six years, learning many valuable skills such as proper gardening methods, and flower arranging.

A member of the Rocky Ridge Progressive 4-H Club, Phyllis has won many championship awards for both her exhibits and demonstrations and has worked hard to help other 4-H members with their projects.

Thousands of disadvantaged young people and mothers trained for health services occupations in Veterans Administration facilities last fiscal year.

Town School Elects School Officers

Emmitsburg School student council officers were elected recently. Elected to the presidency was Carolyn Wivell. Other officers elected were: vice president, Naomi Weimer; secretary, Penny Otto; parliamentarian, Frank Davis; treasurer, Jay Graff; historian, Jamie Gore. Representatives were chosen by the classes, and alternates were then chosen by the homeroom teachers.

Because of their good behavior, dependability, and scholastic grades, these students were chosen for Safety Patrolmen: Captain, Penny Otto; First Lieutenant, Donald Higgins, and Second Lieutenant, Kenny Kooztz. Eighth grade patrolmen include Sharon Wivell, Laurel Hewitt, Lisa Sweeney, Peggy Long, Ronald Kling and Debbie Kline. Seventh graders on the Patrol are Mike Meredith, Jay Graff, Cheryl Springer, and Carolyn Wivell. The Sixth graders include Cheryl Ehler, Randy Stonesifer, Cindy Hahn, Dale Adams, and Teresa Kooztz. Representing the Fifth grade on patrol are Fred Martinez, Kim Glass, and Becky Green.

Many things have been planned for the coming year. Already the school bus has had a Roller Skating Party, a Veteran's Day Assembly, a Safety Program, and a Back to School Dance. The Student Council held a Talent Show made up of talent from the student body. It was held this past Friday, Nov. 12.

Seton Center Has 2nd Anniversary

Seton Center in Emmitsburg, celebrated its second anniversary with a whirlwind week of activities.

On Monday, Nov. 8, the Center hosted a "Workshop of Early Childhood Personnel". The all-day program was attended by about 80 teachers and in-service workers from day care centers, kindergartens and institutions for children throughout Maryland.

Speakers at the workshop were Mrs. Jacqueline Finch, day care coordinator in Carroll County for the State Health Department. Sister Mary Ita from the staff of the Baltimore Confraternity of Christian Doctrine, and Sister Frances, Program Director of St. Joseph Day Care Center in Washington, D. C.

In addition to the lecture-demonstrations, the program included greetings from Sister Genevieve, social welfare supervisor for the Daughters of Charity, Emmitsburg Province, a prayer service and a tour of the facility during peak afternoon activity. The Center provides full day care for 74 children. An additional 33 youngsters come for before-and-after-school supervision.

On Tuesday, Nov. 9, Mrs. Ruth Clifford, who teaches a Towson College Extension class at Westminster, brought her 21 students to inspect the center and attend demonstrations by the staff. Mrs. Mary Theresa Miller and Mrs. Carolyn Lewis presented a learning center on shapes for two-year-olds and a science demonstration on the senses for five-year-olds.

Open House on Sunday afternoon, Nov. 14, was the official celebration of the Center's second birthday. Over 200 visitors wandered leisurely through the multi - room former grade school. Exhibits prepared for the workshop were still on view and guests were plainly impressed by the range of benefits which day care provides. The everyday play and learning equipment also drew many favorable comments. A Head Start teacher from a nearby town said happily, "I'm stealing ideas left and right."

When the last cup of punch had been served and the last guest thanked for attending, Seton Center's staff drew a long breath and figured it had almost 14 hours to rest before beginning another busy week. The day does begin early at the Center. Working parents sometimes drop children off at 6 a.m.

Mr. J. Edward Seltzer, who has been in the Martinsburg Hospital for the past three months, has returned to his home at St. Anthony's.

P E Asks Cutback In Electric Usage

Cutbacks in the use of electricity are being asked today by The Potomac Edison Company even though a settlement has apparently been reached in the coal strike.

Potomac Edison and its Allegheny Power System affiliates—Monongahela Power and West Penn Power—this week appealed to their customers to eliminate non-essential uses of electricity.

"This need will continue until coal is again being received at the company's power stations," stated J. M. McCordell, executive vice president and general manager of Potomac Edison. After the miners go back to work it may take from 10 days to two weeks for the coal mines to begin substantial deliveries to the power stations, he said.

APS companies serve about one million customers in a 29,100 square mile area of Maryland, Pennsylvania, Virginia, West Virginia and Ohio.

It was pointed out that coal deliveries to APS generating stations were cut off October 1 as a result of the national strike in the coal industry.

As a consequence, Potomac Edison is forced by circumstances beyond its control, McCordell said, to ask its customers to eliminate all non-essential uses of electricity.

McCordell emphasized that APS has adequate generating and transmission facilities. The sole problem is the shortage of fuel created by the national coal strike.

Except for about 1 1/2% of hydro electric generating capability, all APS generating capability is coal fueled.

APS, at the beginning of the coal strike, instituted internal power conservation measures including the elimination of sales to non-affiliated electric utilities.

Residential customers are being asked to eliminate all non-essential uses of electricity by turning out unnecessary lights, not running half-loads of dishes or clothes in washers or dryers, turning off TV sets not being used, etc.

One of the casualties of the conservation program may be holiday lighting. Unless sufficient supplies of coal are being received, none of the public Christmas lighting displays can be connected.

Industrial and commercial customers are also being asked to eliminate non-essential uses. For example, store operators are being asked to cut interior illumination as much as possible, and to curtail display lighting.

McCordell said that the response to the Company's appeal for the conservation of electricity, and actual delivery of coal to the stations will determine what other steps, if any, may be necessary.

Town Council Has Special Meeting

A special town meeting was held at 8:00 p.m. on Monday, November 15, to which five local property owners and several local ministers were invited. Attorney Fred J. Bower was present for the town. Mayor Samuel Hays opened the meeting and advised the group that the Town Commissioners had received numerous complaints about recent incidents in Emmitsburg in which the use of dope had been involved. The Mayor pointed out that the Board is responsive to all citizens and interested in the improvement of the Town. He asked for suggestions from the guests on how to handle the situation.

A general discussion followed in which questions were asked about specific incidents. The Mayor said that it was not the intention of the meeting to discuss specific incidents, however the Commissioners did want the property owners to be aware of the current situation and have an opportunity to request information or offer suggestions if desired. The meeting was adjourned at 8:15.

Concert Cancelled

The Gettysburg College Orchestra concert, scheduled to be held Sunday, Nov. 21, in Christ Chapel, has been postponed. The concert may be rescheduled for late February.

Happenings

IN EMMITSBURG

Hello there!
How great it is to hear from readers in far away places who keep in touch with Emmitsburg through the Chronicle. I've been enjoying my correspondence from readers who tell me a bit about themselves and their families. It's wonderful to hear about the "kids" and what they are doing.

Heard from Bruce "Flowers" Evans, formerly of town, but now of Natchitoches, Louisiana. She tells me she and Warren have found the ideal retirement spot for those who have a yen for fishing. Her children are scattered—Mary Ann (Mrs. Vincent Tarpey) is married and lives in York, Pa.; John and his wife are students at the U. of Md., College Park, and expect to graduate in the Class of '72; Judy is teaching in Atlanta, Ga., after two years with the Dept. of Defense Overseas Teaching—one year at Goose Bay, Labrador, and another year at Okinawa. It was so good to hear what they've been doing.

Do you remember Rev. W. Owings Stone? He's been away from town many years, but likes to keep in touch. He married, as you'll recall, Margaret Simpson (a former teacher here) and they are planning retirement. He is rector of an Episcopal church in Barrington, Rhode Island. Their children are married with families of their own. Barbara (Hoffman) O'Kelly, (W. Main St.) now lives in Leesburg, Florida, near her two sons and their families. Barbara, too, visits weekly by way of the Chronicle.

Dolly O'Donoghue — now Mrs. Holt, Washington, D. C., notes the many new names in the Chronicle, and I'm sure she'd also notice the many new faces in town.

I'm so glad to hear from you all, and I'm sure when your letters are shared, there are those who are also glad to hear about you and yours.

The PTA Advisory Board presented their views on the proposed plans for the new Emmitsburg Elementary School to the County Commissioners on Wednesday of this week at Winchester Hall, in Frederick.

Dr. and Mrs. T. J. Norris, Newton, N. J., visited here recently with Mrs. Norris' mother, Mrs. Frances Stinson, and to attend the wedding of Mr. Norris' niece, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Emmitt Norris, Frederick.

The Emmitsburg Lifelong Learning Council Curriculum Committee met with the faculty of the ELLC and Mr. James Hess of the Frederick County Board of Education, on Wednesday evening to discuss the progress of the Adult Education Program now in operation in town.

Happy birthday this week to: Nov. 15, Jean Marie Orndorff; Nov. 16, Dwayne Orndorff and Edward Fitzgerald; Nov. 18, John H. Walter and Vincent Boyle; Nov. 19, George McDonnell and Thomas Hoke; Nov. 20, Jane Bollinger Gingell and Debbie Zimmerman; Nov. 22, Rev. William Simpson.

The Community Thanksgiving Service will be held in St. Joseph's Catholic Church on Thursday at 10 a.m. This is an interdenominational service and all faiths are welcome. Father King will be in charge of the worship service, and Rev. Adrian Brown of Trinity Methodist Church, will give the sermon. The collection at this service is donated to the local Community Fund to help maintain its needs.

At this service new officers of the local Council of Churches will be installed by Rev. John Chatlos, pastor of the Incarnation United Church of Christ.

The Sodality of St. Joseph's Catholic Church will hold a penny game on November 29 at 8 p.m. in St. Euphemia's Hall. A door prize will be given and refreshments for sale.

Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Peters (formerly K. Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy A. Baker, Sr.), are spending their 25th wedding anniversary on a trip to Puerto Rico.

Mr. and Mrs. Gene S. Foster, Baltimore, spent the weekend with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Scott, Villa Rest. Mrs. Scott visited the Fosters and other relatives in Balti-

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

How About Auto Accessories?

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., November 18, 1971—There has been a gradual but steady rise in the prices of most automobile-accessory stocks since the second quarter of 1970. This appreciation in investment prices for the industry has been due in large measure to improving earnings, and also—more recently—to the expectation of an excellent automobile year in 1972. Because of the advances in price of auto-accessory issues, many of these have now moved out of reasonable buying ranges. However, there are still a few that appear attractively priced for current purchase.

Change For The Better

For the most part, production increases in 1971 over the year before reflect the industry's "comeback" from the strike-depressed levels of 1970. In addition, the Nixon game plan which was first announced back in August contained some favorable proposals as far as the auto industry was concerned. For example, the repeal of the 7% federal excise tax (estimated at $200 per car) was designed to spur consumer demand. Its impact has already been widely felt even though at this writing it has not yet been approved by Congress.

Furthermore, the increased tax on autos produced abroad (excluding on-hand units) should reduce the competitive edge the imports previously had over the domestics. The auto market has been in a gradual and slow recovery phase concurrent with the general economic recovery. In view of the aforementioned factors, prospects for the auto industry in 1972 are bright. The Research Department of Babson's Reports expects sales in the coming year to be in the area of 10 million units, with foreign vehicles capturing 1.5 million—or about 15%—of the total. This means great gains for most auto-accessory firms.

Safety Market

One bright aspect of the auto-accessory market today is the trend toward additional safety features on or inside cars. Because of government regulations concerning the use of new safety items, the auto-accessory industry as a whole should receive a substantial boost. There is presently a long list of required safety devices that are now being manufactured, and there will be a great many more protective or safety products in the future that will become necessary equipment on all cars. Some of these, of course, will be produced by the auto makers themselves, but there will still be a great many made by suppliers.

Disc Brakes Coming Fast

Apart from the matter of mandatory safety features—though certainly not unrelated to them—there are several newer-type auto accessory products that are gaining in usage. One that is of particular importance is the disc brake. Discs were installed on close to 60% of 1971 model cars, and further substantial increases are anticipated in 1972. So far, disc brakes have been used primarily on the front wheels because of rear-wheel parking brake complications. But Bendix Corporation has developed a rear disc-brake system with a parking brake that would allow installation of the discs on all four wheels.

Thus, we view the disc brake as a growth item, not only because of the greater number of cars expected to be produced next year but also because of the strong possibility that discs will be used on all four wheels in the future. Discs and components can be produced for both original-equipment and replacement markets, and are considered superior in many respects to traditional brake systems. Some Attractive Issues

Two other companies heavily involved with disc brakes are Kelsey-Hayes and Raybestos-Manhattan. Babson's Reports has looked favorably upon Raybestos-Manhattan for some time, and is currently rating it as a buy. Other auto-accessory stocks in the purchase category are Associated Spring, Houdaille Industries, and Weatherhead Company. All are listed on the New York Stock Exchange.

WASHINGTON REPORT FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

China—UN—Supreme Court

This has been another active week in the Senate, with the United Nations vote Monday night, the pending Supreme Court confirmations, and the Foreign Aid bill now on the Senate floor.

I'm personally very disappointed by the action taken by the United Nations Monday night. Not disappointed because they admitted Mainland China, I think this is a diplomatic recognition of the fact that there are 800 million people on Mainland China that deserve recognition in the United Nations; but disappointed that in doing so Nationalist China was expelled.

I have always had high hopes that the United Nations would become a very active forum where the countries of the world could talk out their differences. But the United Nations cannot become this kind of forum unless it is all inclusive rather than exclusive. Expelling Nationalist China from the U.N. excludes from membership a very prominent member of the world's family of nations—one of the founding nations, in fact. That more than half the states in the U.N. have populations less than Nationalist China I think is significant.

I'm not familiar with the rules and regulations under which the United Nations operates, but I do hope that there is some way that parliamentary steps can be taken so that there could be an opportunity given to reconsider the expulsion portion of the action taken Monday. I think, too, we should reexamine that body as it exists and our support to it.

Arising out of the expulsion of Nationalist China itself and, beyond that, of the obvious glee that some of the U.N. members showed after that vote, a significant number of Senators are moved to a retaliatory mood. I cannot agree with this, but the China vote does come at a most delicate time. The pending business before the Senate is the President's request for $3.6 billion for foreign aid. That issue alone has become increasingly sensitive over the past several years.

The third item that will occupy the Senate immediately is the Supreme Court appointments. I think we can expect a timely review for Mr. Powell and Mr. Rhenquist. The Senate Judiciary committee opens confirmation hearings Tuesday, and I think they will be confirmed without too much difficulty.

Thanksgiving Trips Need Safe Planning

Safety tips for Thanksgiving trips are offered Maryland motorists. A safe Thanksgiving trip depends primarily on you, your car and the weather. Unfortunately, Thanksgiving often coincides with our first winter storms, resulting in poor visibility and slippery pavements on top of the hazards normally encountered even in fair weather. So it pays to give some advance thought in planning a Thanksgiving trip.

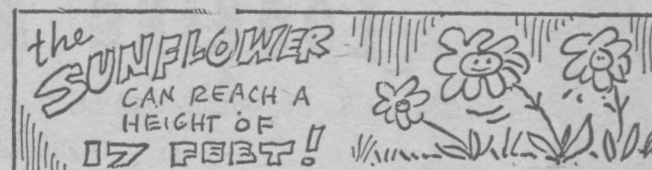

These are suggestions before heading out for that Thanksgiving dinner and that long trip home.

Prepare your car—Be sure the engine is tuned-up, brakes and tires are in good shape—all lights and directional signals working properly, windshield wipers and heater-defroster system functioning efficiently—car equipped with snow tires and carry chains in case of severe snow and ice conditions.

Prepare yourself—Schedule your activities so that you will be well-rested and alert before starting out, don't risk falling asleep at the wheel—plan itinerary so that you can change drivers, or at least make a rest stop every couple of hours—study road map in advance so that you will know when and where to start looking for intersections and route changes.

Check the weather—Verify the latest weather bulletins before starting out, your nearest highway patrol station, motor club or weather bureau can tell you what to expect along your route. Use good sense about starting out in a storm. It's better to wait out a storm than to get stranded out on the highway or become involved in an accident.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

The Truth About Free Enterprise

Herbert Aptheker, recent visiting professor at Bryn Mawr College in Pennsylvania, has repeatedly predicted the death of America's private enterprise system. He himself is working to kill it. The surprise in this is that Professor Aptheker has been teaching the American young at Bryn Mawr, a college built with the wealth produced by our free enterprise system and operated with money from the same source. Herbert Aptheker is a Communist. He's more: he is the widely advertised theoretician of the Communist Party USA, and recognized in security and intelligence quarters as perhaps the "brains" of U. S. Communism.

How foolish can Americans get—paying Communists to indoctrinate the minds of American youth with Communist falsehoods against our system! No wonder a substantial percentage of our 8,000,000 college students attack the basic principles of private enterprise and an alarming number are dedicated to the overthrow, or are aiding in the gradual death, of the system. Herbert Aptheker and his comrades within the Communist Party, and the nationwide revolutionary youth movement they have spawned, constitute the clearly visible enemies of free enterprise.

Facts Not Given

Millions of other people who lack knowledge about the American system and about Socialism-Communism are aiding the Commies by default: they do not support the system when it is attacked. Millions of adults, as well as youth, cannot define free enterprise; and only a comparatively few know how it works and why it out-produces all other economic systems.

I've been an educator for 45 years. In the last 30 years I have been disturbed because our schools and colleges do not adequately prepare our young people for the citizenship responsibilities that go with freedom. In most cases our educational institutions have simply failed to teach the essential facts in American history and the facts about our economic and political system. As a college professor for 29 years, I was shocked to see so many youngsters coming out of high schools all across America who did not understand the private enterprise system, who simply hadn't been taught. Uninformed as they were, they were prime subjects, in many colleges, for the propaganda against the system.

The System Defined
What is free enterprise? It is the economic system through which we in America make our living. There are three economic systems.

1. A system like the Communists have installed in Russia, where the Government owns the tools of production and distribution.

2. A system like we have in America, with private individuals owning the tools of production and distribution.

3. A combination of these two, such as the Socialists installed in England with most of the basic industries and institutions owned by the Government, but with much of the retail business operated by private citizens under strict Government control.

America offers the world's best example of a private enterprise economy. We started as an agricultural country, with 90% of our people on the land and earning a living by farming. Farming rapidly improved in America for these reasons: Farmers owned their land and wanted to improve it; the livestock and grain they produced was their own; they wanted to improve the varieties and the total production; they had to do the work or pay for having it done, so they wanted to improve their tools as much as possible thus making the individual's labor more productive. Progress Unlimited

Farmers have succeeded until today only 5% of our people live on farms, and yet the nation is the best fed in its history and we sell and give away great quantities of our farm produce. As people left the farms they went into various kinds of businesses. These businesses grew for the following reasons. They were privately owned and naturally the owners wanted their businesses to prosper, and they worked hard; they were competitive, consequently the businessman was under constant pressure to try to out-produce his competition; this forced the development by the businessmen of tools, machine tools, automatic tools, automated tools; the entire nation, and in fact the world, was the market place; so the businessman's opportunities were virtually unlimited.

Next week: how tools aided productivity and our living standard.

Frederick County Has Active General Vocational Technical Advisory Council

The recent meeting of the Maryland State Vocational Technical Advisory Council has focused attention on the activities of that organization's local counterpart, the General Vocational Technical Advisory Council of the Frederick County schools.

Michael R. Morton, Supervisor of Vocational Education for the Board of Education of Frederick County, in discussing the work of the county group, termed the work of the so-called "crafts" or advisory committees of the council an extremely important contribution to local vocational educational planning.

Currently two such committees are in operation in the areas of Automotive Services and the Building Trades. To date, the Automotive Services Committee has been concerned chiefly with equipment requirements and course planning for the Automotive Body Program to be offered at Lingamore High School when the vocational wing there is completed.

The Building Trades Committee has been involved in planning the Building Trades area and air-conditioning and refrigeration laboratory for the new Middletown High School.

In addition, both committees are charged with the evaluation of local vocational technical education programs. The results of these evaluations are reported to the General Vocational Technical Advisory Council who report their findings to the Board of Education.

The two Advisory Committees are made up of the following businessmen: Building Trades: Ralph Morgan, Morgan-Keller, Inc., Chairman; William E. Mathews, Builder; Walter A. McKinney, Kaempf & Harris, Inc.; Fred Rudy, Builder; Kirk D. Cramer, Hydro-Aire, Inc.; Carl Culler, Floyd L. Culler, Inc.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
"There Must Be Pioneers..."
"Swift the years—
Spread out behind us.
Stop—and reflect—
Where do they find us?"

No life is ever lived in vain—no dream but can become reality. There is always hope so long as life shall last. Only death puts an end to all things—except—the standards and accomplishments of the life lived. So little lives beyond the grave—give to the years on earth the best.

If accomplishments and the giving of self counts in the final reckoning then Dr. Alice M. Seabrooks made every moment of every day count. She had the courage of her beliefs—the quiet, often unnoticed strength of character that helps to shape an era. She opened the way for those who came after, and women in medicine and surgery today owe a rather special debt to Dr. Seabrooks and others like her—dedicated to an ideal and willing to endure ridicule and sneers to advance the cause they believed in.

In the columns of the "Star and Sentinel" during the early years of the twentieth century letters from Dr. Seabrooks, written during her travels abroad, were published. She had a fine descriptive touch and apparently enjoyed sharing her pleasures with those "back home." In addition, Dr. Seabrooks sent the annual report of Woman's Hospital to the Editor of the "Sentinel" and he remarked, every year, on the progress made by that institution under the guidance of Dr. Seabrooks.

Life was not easy for Alice Seabrooks, M.D.—she got her education the "hard way." At the age of eighteen she was teaching in the country schools of her day. In 1884 she began teaching at the Carlisle Indian School and it was Captain Pratt, of that institution who persuaded her to study medicine. She borrowed the money and in due time received the degree of "Doctor of Medicine."

Immediately after her graduation from the Woman's Medical College, Philadelphia, she went to the Methodist Hospital as Chief of Nurses. After a few years in this post, she became Medical Superintendent of Woman's Hospital in Philadelphia, and here she remained until her retirement. While here she designed the incubator for premature babies. She was also appointed to the Pennsylvania State Board of Medical Examiners—a post she held until her retirement, brought on by a heart condition, in 1920.

Among the many friends made during her long life was an Englishwoman, Miss Dollia Hopper, who came to Woman's Hospital for treatment. They travelled together to just about every part of the world. After Dr. Seabrooks retired the two went to California—bought a home near Hollywood and there lived the remainder of their lives.

Dr. Alice Seabrooks died in her 80th year—on March 10, 1936. After services, at her home in California, attended by a delegation of the American Medical Association, her body was cremated and sent to the little town of Emmitsburg, Maryland, to rest, in old Elias Churchyard. One who saw the small box containing her ashes remarked on its smallness and one is reminded of what one observer said, who attended the funeral of Queen Victoria—"such a small casket to contain so great a woman." The same words could be applied to Dr. Seabrooks.

In the Seabrook burial plot in Elias Churchyard, on the family monument, are cut the words:

"Dr. Alice M. Seabrooks, M.D., 1856-1936."
"Pax Vobiscum."

Now to return to the study of the "founding fathers of Tom's Creek Lutheran congregation (now Elias) and their families.

A partial study of the Monocacy Church Book, the record of the old and much-discussed Monocacy Settlement of Maryland (Frederick County), prove, beyond the shadow of a doubt, that at least some of the founders of the Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed church—came into Maryland with the so-called Monocacy settlers. There are baptisms, marriages, and burials in these records pertaining to people, whose descendants lived in the Emmitsburg District and were members of the Tom's Creek congregation. This data will be given in this series in due time.

Many members of the Hockensmith family are buried in old Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed churchyard. The study is continued from the column of October 28, 1971.

According to a fairly reliable tradition there are "quite a good few" unmarked Hockensmith graves in the plot at Tom's Creek. All members of the clan, if the marked graves are any indication, were interred in the same section. A study of the ground contour at this site indicates graves that are now unmarked.

The study of the Hockensmith-Maxell family will be continued next week.

Country Butchering Featured At Park

Country butchering and folk crafts will be demonstrated this weekend at Catocin Mountain Park.

In making the announcement, Park Superintendent Frank Mentzer commented, "Many urban dwellers today have never witnessed an old time country butchering and even many farm families no longer butcher their own meat." The butchering demonstration will not include the actual killing of the hog but will show how a dressed animal is cut into the various cuts of meat which we would find in the supermarket case. The hams will be prepared for smoking, the chops, loins and ribs cut out, and sausage ground and stuffed. The fat will be rendered and lard pressed. Even parts normally discarded, such as the head meat, will be utilized to make puddin' from which pon-hoss and scrapple will be made.

The continuous demonstration will be held at the Round Meadow Camp, site of the Folk Culture Center, which will also be open with demonstrations of traditional mountain crafts, such as blacksmithing, pottery making, shingle and broom making, spinning, weaving, and the mountain home. The country store will be open where craftsman produced articles may be purchased as well as other local handicrafts.

So heed Superintendent Mentzer's invitation and set aside Saturday, November 20 or Sunday, November 21 from noon until 5 p.m. to enjoy the sights and smells of "butchering day on the mountain." The demonstration will be held no matter what the weather: sun, rain or snow.

Catocin Mountain Park is located three miles west of Thurmont, off State Route 77.

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

I understand that Maryland has a program for helping ex-service medics obtain qualified and related jobs. Who do I get in touch with?

The Maryland Hospital Education & Research Foundation runs a referral service called OPERATION MEDHIC — Military Experienced Directed Into Health Careers. The MEDHIC staff is in continual communication with educational and employment resources in the State and builds upon military "medic" training and experience to improve health care of the civilian population. The staff works with hospital administrators in finding positions where medics can use their talents fully and derive a high degree of job satisfaction. Individuals interested in registering for this no-fee service should write OPERATION MEDHIC, 1301 York Road, Lutherville, Md. 21093.

What can be done to stop the proposed oil drilling off the coast of Maryland?

Recently, I joined with several other House members in urging the Department of Interior to withdraw any schedule for selling exploratory drilling leases off the Atlantic Coast, and to hold up all future plans until more fool-proof spill cleanup procedures and other safeguards are developed. We have also introduced a bill in the House which would regulate future development of Atlantic offshore oil drilling, allowing environmental considerations to be weighed in balance with any such exploitation of the seas. This latter measure would prevent the leasing of offshore areas unless there is a national requirement for the resource which could not be satisfied by any other practicable means. It would also permanently preserve ecologically sensitive areas and insure there is sufficient technological means to prevent damage to the marine environment if exploration must be undertaken. Citizen views on this issue would, of course, be most welcome.

In what way did last month's House vote effect the farm credit system?

There would be many changes in the system including provisions for nonfarm credit. Federal land banks and credit associations would be empowered to make nonfarm housing loans in rural areas, limited to 15 per cent of the total outstanding loans for a given area. The bill would also increase the limit on land bank loans from 65 per cent to 85 per cent of the appraised value of the farms or ranches. In addition, the legislation would limit authority for financial related services available to borrowers for services needed for on-farm operations. Copies of the bill, which now goes back to the Senate, may be obtained by writing my office here in Washington.

Computers are used to speed and improve hospital planning in the Veterans Administration nationwide hospital system.
