- By Abigail -

Those were real snow flurries flying around Wednesday morning even though they didn't last long. The weather man was not half as serious as he was last Wednesday when a few flurries started about noon and piled up into a couple of inches by nightfall with more overnight into Thanksgiving. Traffic was snarled up many places in the County but not here in Emmitsburg. Our town employees were on the ball and had the snow plows moving early and they did not get behind. We still have the remains of last week's fall with us almost a week later, even though the weather has been clear and pleasant, if not warm enough to melt the drifts. We've had some sun and it hasn't been too cold, but I hope we don't get another big snow before this one gets melted off. Let's everyone speak to the weather man and see if he can help us.

How many of you ate too much turkey on Thanksgiving? Most everyone seemed able to navigate pretty well on Friday, so I guess the holiday had few overpowering effects on anyone.

Much of the snow and rain water during the past week ended up in puddles in some of our broken sidewalks and soaked my feet as I walked about town. I sure do wish that the town fathers got the sidewalk project started last fall so that at least some of the puddles would be eliminated. However they are right by not tearing things up during the winter and I guess we can hold out another six months until next spring. I hope they remember they have promised faithfully that the project will start as soon as the weather is nice in the spring and we will get the first part of the job done next year for sure.

I hear the questionnaire to be sent out by planning and zoning is going to give us all a chance to speak out on things we would like to see improved in town. Sounds great, I'm sure that many residents will have suggestions to offer and will take advantage of this chance. It should help the town fathers recognize these things of greatest importance to the residents and hopefully speed up action on local problems. I hope that everyone speaks their mind so that the town will know what the people really think.

Hunting season came in with a bang this week and I have heard of several deer kills. Frequently the chances missed are bigger and better than the kills brought home but one local lady got the chance of a lifetime and it backfired. While many hunters were out sloshing in the rain and snow, a big buck and several does walked up almost to her barn where she would have a good shot from the kitchen door if her dog hadn't run up barking his head off and frightened the deer off. There are times when man's best friend is something less than that.

Damage Totals $575 In Accident

Damage totaled $575 when a panel truck and a parked car collided in Emmitsburg Monday morning at 2:30.

Emmitsburg Police man James Fuss said Terry Lee Davenport, Taneytown R 2, was driving east on W. Main St. when the vehicle failed to negotiate a left turn and struck the car of John Louis Warthen, 510 West Main St., parked in front of Warthen's home.

Damage was estimated at $300 to the car and $275 to the truck.

Officer Fuss said Davenport suffered a slight cut above the eye but declined medical treatment. He added that Davenport drove on after the accident, then returned to the scene.

While Mount Saint Mary's students enrolled in the colleges' Military Degree Completion Program have been receiving credit through CLEP for some time, Dean Kaliss indicated that only at a recent meeting of the Academic Council was it decided to make the program generally available to all interested applicants.

The Emmitsburg-Taneytown club met on November 21 at 10:30 at the home of Mrs. James Baumgardner. During the business meeting, plans were announced for the annual Christmas party to be held on December 16 at 12:30 p.m. at the Lamp Post in Gettysburg. It was decided that members either make, or buy small gifts to be exchanged among themselves. The club voted to donate the money usually spent for gifts to Carroll Haven.

After the business meeting, twelve members enjoyed a buffet luncheon served by the hostess, Mrs. James Baumgardner, assisted by the co-hostess, Mrs. Robert Clingan. ## New SJHS Board To Help School

The newly-formed Board of Consultants for Saint Joseph High School in Emmitsburg, met on Monday, Nov. 22 in the school library. Sr. Elaine, principal, described recent renovations and improvements in the physical plant of the school and projected hopes for comparable advances on academic and vocational levels.

St. Joseph's, which opened its doors in 1945, has built a reputation as a good and rather conservative high school. Looking to the future, Sr. Elaine expects that traditional high standards of study and deportment will be maintained. At the same time, the faculty will be alert to adopt the soundest of new academic procedures.

In order to keep St. Joseph's marching briskly on the educational highroad, Sr. Elaine has formed a Board of Consultants, representing practically every influential group in the Emmitsburg area. It is her frank hope that this group will contribute the best of local resources and opinion to the school and thus make St. Joseph's a more significant factor in the life of the community.

The present enrollment of the school is 107. It can pleasantly accommodate 120 and the faculty would like to see it return to this level.

Although it bears the same name as nearby St. Joseph's Catholic Church, the school does not belong to the parish. It is owned and staffed by the Daughters of Charity of the Emmitsburg Province. Like all private schools, these days, St. Joseph's finds itself with serious financial problems. Despite this, the annual tuition charge has been held to $140, unbelievably low by city standards.

Extensive renovations were made in the physical plant of the school during the summer of 1971. A few pieces of equipment have been delayed in delivery but when these arrive, an Open House will be scheduled and the community will be invited to inspect the "new look" at St. Joseph's.

Typical of academic innovations this year are modular scheduling, a new grading system and revised report cards.

New courses introduced in the current semester are Mass Media Arts, Creative Arts and a program of adult education. A drama club is now being formed. The teaching faculty has been supplemented by a full-time Guidance Counselor, Sister Norma, who has inaugurated testing programs and systematic counseling of students.

The next meeting of the Board of Consultants is slated for Jan. 18, 1972. Members who have agreed to serve on the Board are: Rev. Harry J. Flynn, Rev. Joseph Sannino, C.M., Mr. Guy Baker, Jr., Dr. Joseph Broussard, Mrs. Warren E. Cole, Mr. J. Norman Flax, Mrs. LaRue Harman, Sister Jerome, Mr. Paul A. Keppers, Sister Margaret Hughes, Mr. William Muir, Mr. Lumen F. Norris, Sr., Mr. George E. Rosensteel, Mr. Leo M. Boyle, Mr. John Devlin, Mr. Robert Wentworth and Mrs. Richard C. Woolley.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Prolific U. S. Farms
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., November 25, 1971—A year ago the crucial impact of blight damage on the 1970 corn crop posed a serious threat to many sections of the food industry. The disaster upset supply-demand structures in a number of agriculture-related lines. High corn and soybean prices meant narrower profit margins for processors of these commodities. But meat packers benefited from stepped-up marketings of livestock, and the low prices.

Productivity Overcomes Dangers

There was considerable apprehension that the corn blight might cause even more extensive damage in 1971. To hedge against this possibility, acreage planted to food and feed grains was substantially increased. Still another uncertainty emerged for processors and users of agricultural commodities. The freeze on wages, prices, and rents did not include primary commodities, but it did cover processed products. This presented the threat of a severe profit squeeze if this year's crops were impaired.

Fortunately, generally favorable weather conditions for harvesting, the increased crop acreage, and corn blight damage far milder than expected, combined to turn 1971 into a record year for overall crop production. Wheat, corn, and sorghum are expected to post walloping advances over the 1970 outturns.

Brighter Outlook For Processors

As far as the implications of the bumper crop are concerned, prospects for the food-related companies are more promising at this time than they were in the earlier months of this year. Benefits for corn processors will not be especially evident until well into 1972 since inventories of high-cost corn (acquired to hedge against another possibility of a poor crop year) must be used before the low prices can come into play. The Research Staff of Babson's Reports maintains "hold" positions on most "agribusiness" stocks. In fact, some of the leading food and meatpacking issues which are currently down in the dumps look attractive as "buys" at this time.

Investment Profits Require Foresight

In recent years the "mod" investors have associated profits with sophisticated stocks, usually of companies with high technology. The appropriateness of such an investment perspective must ultimately depend on the individual investor's goal. For those who cannot and should not undertake a high degree of risk, and for those who require at least a reasonable current income, conventional investment situations can fulfill an important role. Over a short span of several months to a year, the percentage capital appreciation from the rebound of a well-deflated, seemingly unsophisticated stock can sometimes match that of an issue considered to be a real "swinger."

At the present time, for example, the Babson Reports Research Department regards CPC International, General Foods, and Pillsbury as representing good values, hence usable as additions to investment portfolios which need upgrading in quality. Those who like convertible bonds should consider the Greyhound convertible 6 1/2% of 1990 and the Pillsbury convertible 4 1/2% of 1989.

The food industry has its low-priced speculations for those in a position to take on "below top quality" situations. Over a period of time, some of these low priced, depressed securities of agriculture-related companies can score impressive percentage capital appreciation even though they are not the so-called high-powered growth issues. However, investors who decide to select these speculative situations should be prepared to exercise some patience until the stocks emerge from their dormant state. In this category, our analysts regard favorably Iowa Beef Processors. This company is steadily rebuilding its earning power, which was set back by an almost mortal blow from a prolonged 1969-70 strike.

A recent law allows the VA to provide up to $30,000 worth of low cost mortgage protection life insurance for about 10,000 severely disabled veterans.

Library Board Holds Meeting

Mr. Robert Holmes presided at the monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Public Library Board of Trustees. Members present included Mr. John White, Mr. Bernard Kaliss, Mrs. Hazel Caldwell, Mrs. John Chatlos and Mrs. John Warthen.

Mr. Holmes is presently a member of the Board of Trustees for the C. Burr Artz Board in the County Headquarters Library. He spoke to the group about the increase in circulation of the Emmitsburg Library and the Bookmobile. Noting that we are the only two agencies showing an increase in circulation with the recent closing of the library on Thursdays.

It was noted that the movie projector was borrowed five times during the month of October and seems to be using more projector bulbs than seems reasonable, and therefore, consideration at some future date should be to trade it in on a new one. This was tabled for the time being.

Mr. Holmes also noted that the September 27th meeting of the school planning group had endorsed a Community Center, at the in-town location of the present elementary school; with a school library central to the school building; public library, health clinic, and cultural facilities adjacent to highway 97; and recreational facilities in the same vicinity. It's a plan which would be heartily endorsed by the Director of Public Libraries so long as: 1, the public library was convenient to pedestrians, and 2, there is evidence that a large portion of the community would use the center.

Mrs. John Warthen requested payment for a book recently purchased at St. Joseph College. Mr. John Beecher recently gave a lecture and read many of his poems. He personally autographed the book which will remain in the permanent collection of the Emmitsburg Library.

Mrs. Warthen gave the circulation figures for the month of October: 1317 adult and juvenile books circulated. There were eighteen new members registered in the library during the month. Mrs. Warthen also requested funds for a small Christmas decoration.

Mr. Kaliss noted that funds had been received from the County for the general maintenance and janitorial funds. The meeting adjourned at 9 o'clock and the December meeting was cancelled since it falls so near the holiday. The next meeting was scheduled for the fourth Tuesday in January.

Officers Installed By Church Council

On Thanksgiving Day, the community churches of Emmitsburg held their annual worship service. This year it was at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church. The service was conducted by the Rev. Fr. John King, assisted by the Rev. Ronald Fearer and Mr. Stephen Hollinger. The sermon, entitled "By all means say thank you but . . .", was preached by the Rev. Adrian S. Brown.

Rev. Brown called on everyone to express thanks by responding to the implications of the words of Jesus, "Whatever you did to the least of these my brethren you did to me." "Each of us, said Mr. Brown, "stand under the judgment and grace of God. We take good things for granted and gloss over the tragic facts of life. We fight brush fires instead of preventing them, hand out guns instead of peace, and abuse the environment, so ignoring God's ownership of it. However, for all our failures, God is still prepared to love us and sometimes we can't help but wonder why. We must be realistic about life, and not allow ourselves to dwell on just the good, or the not so good. We should give thanks by loving our neighbor, and by detaching ourselves to be agents of change and reconciliation. We should give thanks by helping to pick up the pieces of life as they have fallen around us and help put them back together again. We must hear the World of Christ and do it."

During the service, the Sunrise Singers presented "Wake up my people", "Yours is the Kingdom", and "Into Your Hands". The Rev. John C. Chatlos inducted the new officers of the Council of Churches for 1972. They are: President, Rev. W. Ronald Fearer; vice president, Mrs. Joyce Grider; secretary, Miss Janice Koontz; treasurer, Mr. D. Fred Wolfe.

In spite of the bleak weather, over one hundred people attended the service. The offering of $102.05 will be given to the Emmitsburg Community Fund which provides emergency help for those in need.

Children's Movie Scheduled Saturday

On Saturday, December 4, the Emmitsburg Council of Churches will sponsor another film for children. "Little Dog Lost," will be shown at the Parish House of Elias Lutheran Church at 2 p.m. Admission is 30c, which includes refreshments. These will be prepared and served by the ladies of Elias Lutheran Church. Children from Grades 1 through 6 should find this an entertaining afternoon.

A Christmas Resolution?

As Americans prepare to celebrate the 1971st birthday of Jesus Christ there is a momentous question looming before the eyes of the nation. Will we shore up the cracks in the moral foundations of our society or permit them to widen and perhaps make the downfall of Christian civilization inevitable? The shoring up will have to come from people of unshakable faith, people with a dedication not yet visible on the national scene, people bound together in a massive common cause.

Many people fear that our great nation has already passed its peak as an example for the world to follow, and, more importantly, as a manifestation of God's will on earth. They fear we have passed the point of no return. I do not think so. It is my conviction that the obvious signs of moral decay are not true reflections on the character of the vast majority of our people. Our grave danger, as I see it, is that in time a do-nothing stance among the God-fearing, moral people of America, who today silently reject the moral "revolution", could lead to their adjusting (without an out-cry) to it, and finally, to their acceptance of it. That eventually would doom our society.

Killed Prayer Amendment

The newspapers carried the report of an action in the House of Representatives in Washington that seems to me to epitomize the present state of spiritual life in public affairs in America. The House of Representatives failed to vote a two-thirds majority for a proposed constitutional amendment permitting voluntary prayers and spiritual meditation in the schools. Since it was merely a vote to submit an amendment to the people of America for ratification, the 162 Congressmen who joined to kill the measure must have had hard-core convictions against permitting prayer in our public schools.

Two-hundred and forty Congressmen voted for the measure but this was not enough. The failure of the majority in this vote was a sad happening. But an even more dramatic event occurred before the vote was taken.

Evading Prayer!

The session of Congress in which the prayer amendment was killed by 162 opposition votes was opened, as sessions always are, by an invocation from the House Chaplain. His prayer began: "Lord, teach us to pray . . ." But fewer than 20 Congressmen, according to news reporters, showed respect enough for this traditional invocation to be present in the chamber when it was given. The other approximately 400 Congressmen either deliberately or thoughtlessly evaded hearing the prayer. Immediately after the prayer, the 400 Congressmen streamed into the House chamber.

"Lord, teach us to pray . . ." Have most of our public officials ceased to desire Divine guidance? Is that why 400 Congressmen chose not to enter the chamber and bow their heads as it was said? If so, America indeed is traveling down the western slope. I choose to believe that the Congressmen who knowingly missed the prayer and those who voted against giving the people a chance to vote on the amendment (through legislative ratification) did not interpret the mood of the American people, their constituents, correctly. My Congressman voted against the Amendment. I have written him of my shock and disapproval.

Minority Rule?

If the majority of our American citizens practiced citizenship, as did the founding families who created our great Republic, one hundred and sixty-two Congressmen couldn't get by with voting against a Constitutional amendment to restore the freedom of our public schools to permit our children to pray. For nearly 200 years our nation was unique in the world because its founders and its great founding documents spoke reverently of a belief in Almighty God. Generations of Americans have been grateful for this open faith in God expressed proudly by our forefathers. Churches in America for two centuries expanded memberships. Our children were taught reverence for God—in our homes, and schools, as well as our churches.

Then a few years ago, an atheist, seeing signs of cracks in our moral structure, decided to attack the spiritual foundations of our society. She was joined, without fanfare, by the Communist movement in America. This tiny but militant force succeeded in removing a basic spiritual value from public education. And now a minority in Congress seems to have adjusted to the ban. Will this minority rule? Will the majority of Americans adjust and then accept? Christmas 1971 is a good time to say, No, to this and further moral decay.

Local Delegates To Hold Public Meeting

Since the 1971 General Assembly adjourned in late April, members of the Frederick delegation have been serving on various committees of the Legislative Council, the between-session arm of the General Assembly, hearing testimony on bills and other items referred from the last session.

The Frederick representatives are anxious to hear sentiment and opinions on bills expected to come before the 90-day 1972 session opening January 12.

During the last session some 2,715 bills were introduced in both chambers and about 37% were enacted into law.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
More Hockensmith Genealogy
"Without genealogy, history is dead."

The above quotation speaks for itself—therefore no explanations are necessary. The two studies—history and genealogy—are so intertwined that separation is impossible—the "gold of ancestor dust" is the sure and certain foundation upon which is built—a family—a commonwealth—or a great nation. Be sure that the foundation stones you lay are of good quality and well set in place.

The last mention made of the Hockensmith family in the records of Trinity Evangelical Lutheran Church, Taneytown, Maryland, of which the Tom's Creek congregation (now Elias) was a part until 1851, is as follows:

10. Buried, March 30th, 1853, William Hockensmith, Sr., aged 80 years, 8 months, and 10 days.

Note: This William Hockensmith, Sr., is probably interred in the old Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed churchyard in a grave that is now unmarked—or from which the gravestone has long since disappeared. He was, according to the family records, of the third generation of the Hockensmith family in Maryland and was the son of Jacob (2) and Elizabeth Hockensmith. He was married and buried at old Tom's Creek churchyard—the inscription on her gravestone states that she was "Sister to Mary and Catharine Hockensmith."

2. Polly (4) Hockensmith (named Mary)—died unmarried and buried, with other members of her family at old Tom's Creek—the inscription on her stone states that she is "Sister to Catharine and Sarah Hockensmith."

3. Sarah (4) Hockensmith—died unmarried and buried at old Tom's Creek churchyard—the inscription on her gravestone states that she was "Sister to Mary and Catharine Hockensmith."

4. Elizabeth (4) Hockensmith—married . . . (?) Slaybaugh.

5. John (4) Hockensmith—married Elizabeth . . . (?) Note: both John (4) and his wife are interred in Tom's Creek churchyard. The inscriptions follow:

10. In memory of John Hockensmith, died May 11, 1891, aged 86 years, 11 months and 17 days.

11. In memory of Elizabeth Hockensmith, wife of John Hockensmith, died February 9, 1861, aged 68 years, 3 months and 3 days.

6. William (4) Hockensmith—Died May 25, 1864 "in his 51st year." Married Alice Amanda . . . (?)—her family name is not known. They were the parents of a fairly large family. The parents are interred at Tom's Creek churchyard. The inscriptions follow:

12. William Hockensmith, died May 25, 1864, aged 51 years, 8 months and 16 days.

13. In memory of Alice Amanda Hockensmith, wife of William Hockensmith, died August 12, 1858, aged 42 years, 2 months and 19 days.

Note: Two infant children of William (4) and Alice Amanda Hockensmith are interred with their parents—namely John Franklin and Sara Emma Hockensmith.

7. Daniel (4) Hockensmith—married Elizabeth Bowers. Father of three children. Buried in Tom's Creek churchyard. The inscription follows:

14. In memory of Daniel Hockensmith, died September 18, 1830, aged 30 years, 3 months and 25 days.

The notes on the Hockensmith-Maxell families will be continued in this series next week.

Rep. Goodloe Byron Here On Saturday

A December 4th tour of Frederick, Carroll and Howard Counties for the purposes of exchanging views with local citizens, was announced this week by Rep. Goodloe Byron.

This is the tenth scheduled visit to the area this year by the freshman congressman, who will make himself available to constituents on Saturday at the post offices in Frederick (9:00 a.m.); Emmitsburg (11:00 a.m.); Taneytown (1:00 p.m.); Westminster (3 p.m.); and Ellicott City (4:30 p.m.).

"Citizens with views or questions on public policy, or those needing help in such areas as social security and veterans benefits, are encouraged to drop by and discuss them with me privately," Byron said.

Colts Corral Plans Baltimore Player At Sports Banquet

Colts Corral #12 of Thurmont held its monthly meeting recently at Fitzgerald's Restaurant, with President Mike Fitzgerald presiding.

The Sports Award Banquet was discussed and plans made. It will be held after the first of the year and a Baltimore Colt player will be invited to present awards. Date of banquet and player to be present will be announced at a later date.

A vote of thanks was given to Chairman Jerry Carey and his committee for the fine job they did at the Colorfest. This was a "first" fund raising project of this type the club ever had and it was very successful. Proceeds will be used toward the betterment of sports for the young people in the community. Committee members were: Doris Fitzgerald, Polly Fisher, Clara Foltz, Dick Beckley, Shirley Baker, Mimi Stately and Larry Beckley. Our thanks also to the many members of the Colts Corral #12 that were on hand those two days. The next Baltimore game is Dec. 5th, when they play Fitzgerald's Restaurant at 11 a.m.

Are teenagers more safety conscious than their parents? A survey shows that in at least one aspect of safety they are. The survey showed that twice as many teenagers as adults use seat belts.

Congressman Goodloe Byron
Maryland—Sixth District

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Does the government need teachers for the overseas schools which are usually made up of children of military personnel assigned abroad?

Yes. Elementary and secondary schools have operated on U. S. military bases overseas since 1946 for the children of military and civilian personnel assigned abroad. The Dependents Schools Teacher Recruitment Branch is currently accepting applications for employment consideration for the 1972/73 school year. A variety of positions are available for grades one through twelve, and salaries are comparable to the average of the range of rates for similar jobs in our urban school systems. An informative brochure and application form can be obtained by writing the Department of the Army, Deputy Chief of Staff for Personnel, Dependents Schools Teacher Recruitment Branch, Room 1A658, the Pentagon, Washington, D. C. 20310.

What is Congress doing to help the senior citizens of our nation? What can I do?

I think one of the most important tasks being undertaken by the House is the Conference on the Aging. Hearings by the House Special Studies Subcommittee are being held throughout the United States for the purpose of obtaining information and recommendations on problems facing aged citizens. These problem areas include unemployment, health care, shortage of housing and rural poverty. Our nation has too long neglected the valuable human resource of our senior citizens and I would be happy to refer any constituent opinions on this matter to the House Subcommittee that is conducting these hearings.

What is your "bicycle" bill all about?

Last month I introduced a bill which would allow states and communities to use federally-administered programs for development of bicycle lanes and paths. The proposed legislation also provides for construction of bike shelters, parking facilities and traffic control devices. Bicycles can make a positive contribution and resource to municipal transportation systems and I am hopeful the bill would encourage use of this unique vehicle that emits no pollution, makes no noise, takes up little room and acts as a body conditioner for its rider.

Does your office have a basic booklet for students which covers the stages of a bill from its introduction to its signing by the President?

A booklet by Charles Zinn entitled "How Our Laws Are Made," is available from my Washington office. The publication covers sources of legislation, forms of congressional action, consideration by committee, reported bills, calendars, engrossment, Senate action, amended bills, enrollment, presidential action and publication.

Congress Must Resist Unilateral Troop Cuts

We need our friends and allies in Europe more today than at any other time since the end of World War II. We need them for many reasons not the least of which is the fact that the central banks of Europe, and particularly Germany, are providing the means for keeping the dollar in balance in the international money market. Our allies are helping us to maintain the defenses of the western world and Europe is, of course, our major trading partner. So, for these and other reasons, it's essential that our relationships in Europe be maintained on the most cordial, cooperative and coordinated basis possible. Yet, there is a very real danger that we will disrupt our relationships with Europe over the subject of troop levels and who should pay for maintaining the NATO military establishment which has been the keystone of defense for the Atlantic community.

I believe we ought to reduce the number of men under arms in Europe and I hope a reduction can be accomplished in the near future. However, it's foolish to think that we can withdraw American troops without creating an imbalance in the world military structure and without again stirring up the fears and emotions that have led to two world wars. I believe we can reduce troop levels in Europe, first by coordinating our efforts with our NATO allies and then approaching the Warsaw Pact countries to seek a mutual force reduction. The Nixon Administration is moving in this direction.

If the U.S. decides to unilaterally reduce troop levels, it will create doubts and misunderstandings among both our friends in Europe and among the Soviet-led Warsaw Pact nations that confront us at the Iron Curtain. One of the first results of a unilateral withdrawal of American troops would be pressure on the government of West Germany to fill the void with new German troops. Such action would not only create anxiety and fear among the nations of Western Europe, such as France, Belgium and Holland, but also would arouse the suspicions of the Soviet Union. A unilateral reduction might make it far more difficult for the U.S. to achieve success in negotiations to reduce strategic arms, which are so enormously expensive, and military levels generally. In addition, a unilateral reduction could have a serious disruptive effect on our financial and commercial relationships with Germany. If the German bank no longer is willing to help us neutralize the economic effects of dollars in Europe, we could be faced with a run on our currency which could cause a severe depression in this country. I believe we must resist the temptation to make quick troop cuts without relating them to the overall purposes and needs of NATO.
