Health Hints

FROM BLUE SHIELD

With January having been designated as "Alcoholism Information Month," each of us would do well to remember that at least one in every twenty, and probably one in every twelve people over the age of 18 is an alcoholic. The number of alcoholics in America is estimated at about 7,000,000 with many authorities placing the figure closer to 10,000,000. One in every eight Americans is a potential alcoholic.

Alcoholism is not an illness like measles or a cold which can be caught overnight. It is a slowly developing, progressive disease. There is no hard and fast line between casual drinking and alcohol dependency, nor between alcohol dependency and alcoholism.

While it is difficult to define exactly when a person has become alcohol dependent, there are warning signals with which anyone who drinks should become familiar. These include: the development of a firm and predictable drinking pattern and a distinguishable increase in the amount of alcohol consumed within this pattern.

In addition, there are a number of other signs to be on the look-out for with the increased consumption of alcohol. These include the individual who:

- Used to have just one or two drinks to relax at the end of the day and now has three or four;
- Finds increasing pleasure in drinking at lunch and does it more frequently;
- Used to drink to be sociable or to celebrate and now drinks to induce sleep or because he is worried or depressed;
- Notices he is drinking more this year than last;
- Used to drink at cocktail parties but now drinks before the party as well.

NO. 23,586 EQUITY IN THE CIRCUIT COURT FOR FREDERICK COUNTY MARYLAND

BRENDA LEE WILLIS
125 Water Street
Frederick, Maryland
VS.
LOWELL GEORGE WILLIS
322 Elmira Street
Williamsport, Pennsylvania

ORDER OF PUBLICATION

The object of this Bill of Complaint is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Lowell George Willis. The Bill recites that the Complainant, Brenda Lee Willis, is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant, Lowell George Willis, is presently residing at 322 Elmira Street, Williamsport, Pennsylvania; that the parties to this cause were married on the 3rd day of February, 1969, at Frederick, Maryland, by Rev. Odell R. Carr; that as a result of the said marriage no children were born; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart without any cohabitation for more than eighteen months prior to the filing of this Bill of Complaint, and that the separation between the parties is beyond any reasonable hope or expectation of reconciliation.

The Bill then prays that the Complainant, Brenda Lee Willis, be divorced A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Lowell George Willis, and be granted the right to resume her maiden name of Brenda Lee Cregger, and for such other and further relief as the nature of her case may require.

ORDER OF COURT

It is thereupon this 10th day of January, 1972, by the Circuit Court for Frederick County, Maryland, sitting as a Court of Equity, ORDERED that the Complainant give notice to the Defendant of this Bill, by causing a copy of this Order to be inserted in some newspaper published in the County of Frederick, once each week for four successive weeks prior to the 12th day of February, 1972, commanding him to be and appear in this Court, in person or by solicitor, on or before the 14th day of March, 1972, and show cause, if any, why a Decree should not be passed as prayed.

RECEIVES PAINTING — Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md) receives Mrs. Katherine Cowgill's painting, "Rudy the Cobbler," to display in his office. Mrs. Cowgill, 81, of Leisure World in Silver Spring, Md., was a runner-up in a national artwork competition held in connection with the White House Conference on the Aging. The winning painting was reproduced on the cover of the conference program.

MRS. BART W. HOGAN

Grace Gloninger Hogan, 67, wife of retired Rear Adm. Bartholomew W. Hogan, former surgeon general of the U.S. Navy, died recently at the Bethesda Naval Hospital.

Born in Pittsburgh, Mrs. Hogan was a graduate of St. Joseph College, Emmitsburg, and also studied educational psychology at the University of Dijon in France, Columbia University and Johns Hopkins University.

In 1958, she was made a Lady of the Holy Sepulchre, a papal honor in recognition of her work for the Foundation of All Africa, which promotes friendly relations between this country and African nations in the fields of spiritual and physical welfare.

Mrs. Hogan was a founder of the Naval Officers' Wives Club. She also was active in the Junior Army Navy Guild Organization (JANGO).

In 1959, she helped organize the Christ Child Institute Auxiliary to assist emotionally disturbed children. She was its first president and later was a board member of the Christ Child Institute.

Mrs. Hogan helped to organize the Navy Doctors' Wives Club. She served on the boards of the D.C. Navy Relief Society and the Soldiers, Sailors, Marines and Airmen's Club.

Besides her husband, who lives at 5512 Grove St., Chevy Chase, she is survived by two sons, Bartholomew, of Silver Spring, and Thomas, of Rockville; a daughter, Mary Leda Hogan, of Boston, and three grandchildren.

The term "countersteer," one of the keys to safely controlling a skidding car, is confusing to many motorists. It means "driving in the direction you want to go."

Fort Ritchie Wins Cost Savings Award

The National Communications Command (NCC), headquartered at Fort Ritchie, recently received a Department of the Army cost reduction award for saving $1.7 million during fiscal year 1971. The NCC is a participant in the Army resources conservation program.

Colonel John N. Midinger, commanding officer, NCC, accepted the award during the Eighth Annual Commanders Conference of the Army's worldwide Strategic Communications Command (USASTRATCOM) held at Ft. Muachua, Ariz. The National Communications Command is a subordinate command of USASTRATCOM. The NCC is made up

Sinai Nursing School Recruits Students

Sinai Hospital's School of Nursing has launched its new recruitment program for nursing students, according to Robert A. Folkart, Assistant Director-Administrative Coordinator of the School.

Aimed specifically at high school seniors, a full color slide program is presented to any high school in the state interested in Sinai's nursing program. The presentation shows various aspects of the 29-month program which qualifies graduates for nursing positions in pediatrics, obstetrics, medicine, surgery, and psychiatry. The curriculum also includes courses offered at Towson State College, for which the students receive a total of 33 college credits. They also receive a diploma upon graduation, and are eligible to take licensure examinations leading to careers in registered nursing. The School of Nursing is fully accredited by the National League for Nursing.

High school groups interested in nursing careers are given conducted tours of the hospital and School of Nursing by nursing students and faculty members. For more information, call Sinai Hospital, 367-7800, extension 8661; or write: Director, School of Nursing, Sinai Hospital of Baltimore, Inc., Baltimore, Md. 212-5.

Decision: Live Or Die?
There can come a time in the life of any nation when one decision determines whether it shall live or die. That time has come for the United States. The question that today demands such a fateful decision is: whether to restore our once invincible military power, or continue our swift slide toward disaster through military weakness. In a comparatively few years we the people have permitted our military might (which protects our security) to dissipate while a worldwide enemy force has risen to dominant power.

To nail down the facts of our military crisis, undoubtedly the worst since Pearl Harbor, when we were plunged into war frightfully unprepared, I have spent more than a week at the United Nations in New York and with key men in the House and Senate in Washington. I also talked with some of America's most distinguished military leaders and gained access to Defense Department data as well as "hard" intelligence reports on the ascendancy of Soviet Russia to the leading military power in the world.

We Are Losing
I'm convinced — as are the Congressmen and Senators with whom I have just visited — that the Cold War being waged by World Communism against the U.S.A. is continuing and that we are continuing to lose it. I'm convinced, after an in-depth investigation of my own, that the most urgent business for every American in 1972 is the rebuilding of our military might.

We intend in our National Education Program work in 1972 to put forth every effort to bring about a clearer public understanding of this crisis and hopefully to arouse the entire citizenry to citizen action.

We will devote a series of columns to the facts we gathered, to the opinions and conclusions of some of our most astute statesmen and military authorities, and to some specifics for citizen action. The consensus of the well-informed and realistic-thinking people in important national positions with whom I visited on my trip east is this: Soviet Russia is building a military power to take over the world one way or another (in spite of what Breshnev, Kossygin, and the others say). She is ahead of us in the most important strategic weaponry and constantly lengthening her lead. If she fails to overcome the U. S. by default (our weakness, and division, and ultimate surrender) she will strike militarily. Under present circumstances, she would be victorious.

USSR Leading
Jane's Warning Systems, a British armament reporting service that for 50 years has been recognized as the most accurate in the world, said, at the end of 1971: "Whereas, for a long time it was assumed—with considerable justification—that the NATO countries (the U.S.A. is the major one) had a clear lead in the development of sophisticated weapons, it is now clear that the USSR has extinguished that lead and is outstripping the West."

Jane's Fighting Ships, another shocking report from the same British agency, said: "The situation for the U. S. Navy is serious. By any standards, the Soviet fleet now represents the super-navy of a super-power . . . In the strategic nuclear balance of forces, the USSR has gained superiority over the United States in numbers of ICBM's and the megatonnage that can be delivered . . . The predicted Soviet strategic forces of the mid-1970's could destroy virtually all U. S. landbased ICBM's in a surprise first attack, and at the same time their missile submarines could destroy most U. S. manned bombers before they could become airborne."

Seriousness Emphasized
I would guess that most people are unaware of the fact that President Richard Nixon himself said (in an interview with C. L. Sulzberger of the New York Times) on March 9, 1971, that: "The Soviets now have three times the missile strength (ICBM) of ourselves. By 1974 they will pass us in submarines carrying nuclear missiles."

One of the most knowledgeable men in America on the comparative military strength of the U.S.A. and the USSR is Congressman F. Edward Hebert, Chairman of the House Armed Services Committee. We haven't space here to repeat in full detail what he told us and his many expressions of alarm. "Make no mistake about it," he said to me, "by 1975, unless we keep pace and do the things we are supposed to do, the Russians will outdistance us in every field of military operation and challenge our national security." He knows we are already behind in vital armament, and he knows we are not doing the things "we are supposed to do."

You can help us maintain this record and serve you even better by filing your income tax return early. This will also benefit you because you will receive any refund quicker.

Elderly people, especially, should be extremely careful when walking on ice or snow. A misstep on a slippery piece of ice could have a very painful ending.

State Income Tax Provides Services

By LOUIS L. GOLDSTEIN
Comptroller of The Treasury
As one of the 1,450,000 Marylanders whose income tax payments last year provided $469 million of revenue for our State's vital General Fund, you should know where your money goes and what it accomplishes.

All of this money goes into public services, including education, welfare, health and other services that benefit communities and all citizens.

In addition, Baltimore City and 23 counties received over $191 million for the local income taxes imposed by them and collected from you by your State Income Tax Return. These counties, in turn, paid to the 160 incorporated cities, towns, and taxing areas within their jurisdiction an amount equal to 37% of the net income of each taxpayer from each municipality as reported in his return. Needless to say, this revenue is vital to the maintenance and development of these communities.

So you can see, the Income Tax Division of the State Comptroller's Office not only provides essential funds needed by our State, but also saves Maryland taxpayers considerable money by collecting taxes for Baltimore City, all of our counties and their municipalities, as well as our State.

And most remarkable, this is all accomplished at the amazing low cost of only 52 cents for each one hundred dollars collected, or just over one-half of one per cent.

In fact, the Maryland Comptroller's Office which collected and disbursed tax revenue of over $1 billion last year is acclaimed by other states for the outstanding job it is doing, an achievement of which we can all be proud.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Protection Is Big Business

By Babson's Reports Inc. Wellesley Hills, Mass., Jan. 13, 1972—Serious crime in America has continued to rise year after year, particularly in the suburbs and rural areas. It is little wonder then that the protection industry—those firms that supply armed guards, armored cars, burglar alarms, protective weapons, photographic security systems, etc.—is a large and growing business. Annual spending on such equipment and services is in excess of a billion dollars, and further strong gains are looked for in coming years.

Uniformed Guard Service
There are several sizable companies involved in the uniformed guard service area of the protection industry. The two largest are Inter-Perk's Inc. and Burns International Security Services. Others include Baker Industries, Wackenhut Corp., Globe Security Systems (70% owned by Walter Kidde), and Bell Holmes Protection Inc. For the most part these companies have made good progress in recent years, and further gains are expected. In this group the favorites of the Research Staff of Babson's Reports is Burns International.

Burns Int'l Security Services
A brief rundown will show that this fast-growing acquisition-minded company has a good record and a promising future. It provides a full range of protections, but the bulk of its revenues comes from uniformed guard services. In recent years expansion has been in the area of electronic alarm central stations, which have fine potential. At mid-1971, twenty-one such stations were in operation, the majority of them on a profitable basis.

In 1970 earnings rebounded well from the dip experienced in 1969—$1.16 per share versus $1.01. For the 1971 first half, results about equalled those of the 1970 first half. However, in the second half profits were lower due to controls over prices plus write-off costs of some central stations. This year and beyond, though, we anticipate a resumption of the uptrend. Stock looks like a good rebound candidate.

Armored Cars
Two companies are dominant in the armored car section of the protection industry—Baker Industries (which provides armored cars under the Wells Fargo name) and Brinks Inc. (80% of its outstanding stock owned by Pittston Company). Baker offers a full range of protective services and some protective products in addition to armored cars. The company has a good growth record and promising future prospects. Since February 1971, the stock of Brinks has been available over-the-counter. But there are only 500,000 public shares outstanding. Pittston, however, is listed on the New York Stock Exchange. The bulk of its profits comes from coal operations, as well as transportation, warehousing and oil distribution.

Protection Equipment
Companies
Protective equipment covers a wide spectrum—from helicopters used by police departments to locks for windows and doors. Obviously, many companies are involved in producing some type of protective equipment, but there are few that have major interests in this field. For example, American District Telegraph is a leader in electronic detection devices, i.e. automatic camera systems for banks and stores, alarm devices, etc.; A-T-O Inc. makes sprinkler systems, burglar alarms, gas masks, and oth-

Hotel And Motel Receipts Rated Best Barometer Of Tourist Business

The Maryland Division of Tourism rates hotel and motel receipts as the best general barometer for measuring the ups and downs in the business of accommodating visitors in the Old Line State. That barometer in 1971 was almost spectacularly on the rise.

Gross hotel/motel revenues in Maryland computed from sales tax information for fiscal 1971 stood at $95,777,550, representing a rise of more than 13 per cent over fiscal 1970.

The three western counties showed the greatest percentage increase in hotel/motel receipts, with Garrett and Allegany counties each reporting gains of more than 24 per cent and Washington county a gain of almost 21 per cent. The opening of a new industrial plant in Oakland probably generated some new commercial business for hotels and motels in Garrett County, but most of that county's lodgings are in the Deep Creek Lake area, where tourism is by far the dominant factor. Growing public awareness of recent improvements in U. S. Route 40, west of Hancock, may have contributed to the rise in hotel/motel receipts in Allegany County, where the lodgings business has been primarily the commercial traveler having business in Cumberland. Was-ington County also relies heavily on commercial travelers from October through May, but the reason for the jump in room rentals in this area in 1971 is probably most attributable to new motel construction and additions to existing facilities which took place in the year or two preceding fiscal 1971.

Washington County's major tourism attractions did show gains which may have also contributed significantly to that county's gain in hotel/motel receipts. The National Park Service, which compiles its visitor totals on a calendar year basis instead of the fiscal year, reported that nearly 23 per cent more people had visited the Antietam National Battlefield site near Sharpsburg by the end of October 1971, than had visited this Civil War shrine in all of Calendar 1970. Fort Frederick State Park (fort an increase of more than 14 per cent in its visitor count for fiscal 1971 over that of fiscal 1970, while all four state parks in Washington County (the other three are primarily day-use parks except for campers accommodated by 13 campsites at Washington Monument State Park) reported an increase of almost 28 per cent for the same period.

Elsewhere around the state Prince Georges County hotels and motels reported a rise of more than 24 per cent in receipts for fiscal 1971 over fiscal 1970. Wicomico County was up more than 21 per cent, Baltimore County up more than 20 per cent, and Worcester County up slightly more than 19 per cent.

Wicomico County's gain is to some degree a reflection of the growing demand for rooms in Ocean City in Worcester County, since virtually all of Wicomico County's hotels and motels are in the Salisbury area, just 30 miles west of Ocean City. However, a new special event, the World Waterfowl Carving Championship was held in Salisbury in June, and the United States Indoor Open Tennis Championships in that same city in February showed an increase in attendance of some 15 per cent.

Worcester County, where virtually all of the hotel/motel business the year around is tied to Ocean City and thus to tourism, has been in a boom period since the early 1960s. Since 1965, gross revenues reported by hotels and motels

Md. Income Tax Up In December '71

Net receipts from the State and local income tax for the month of December 1971, exceeded by more than $10,000,000 receipts for the month of December 1970, according to Louis L. Goldstein, Maryland State Comptroller.

Net receipts for December 1971 were $53,339,125.11, as compared to $43,315,721.64 for December 1970, or an increase of twenty-three per cent.

With state and local income taxes now in hand for one-half of the state's current fiscal year which ends June 30, 1972, net receipts for the six months of 1971 total $372,545,379.16, an increase of 15.5 per cent for the first six months of this fiscal year over the first six months of last fiscal year.

As of this date state and local income tax receipts continue to remain in line with the estimate.

have risen from $6,985,800 to $19,179,375. Anticipated further growth is indicated in the fact that construction permits issued through the first eleven months of calendar 1971 totalled almost four times the number issued for the entire calendar year in 1970. Massive expansion and improvement of the Ocean City water and sewage systems, which are to be completed this winter, may have afforded the impetus for the 1971 building boom.

A SMALL SIZE AD

This is a tiny newspaper ad compared to other home furnishing ads you see in the newspapers. There are no big bold black slogans and prices, no claims about slashed profits and gimmick sales. Why such a little ad? It is because we can't afford to sell as cheaply as we do and spend a lot of money on newspaper advertising. The money we save on newspaper advertising is passed on to you in lower prices. We guarantee savings on your total home furnishings bill.

A proposed bill to provide free or reduced-rate railroad transportation for retired railroad employees and their dependents is currently pending before the House Commerce Committee. It has not yet passed.

When will you be touring our area next?
During the next eight to ten weeks I plan to visit approximately 35 to 40 different communities in the Sixth District for the purposes of exchanging views with citizens at the local level. The complete schedule will appear in my next newsletter which you should be receiving in the near future.

What date has been set by the U. S. Treasury for the sale of the Carson City silver dollars?

According to Treasury officials the 2.9 million historic Carson City silver dollars will be ready for sale about a year from now. The coins, most of which have never been circulated, are regarded by coin collectors as choice items. Some have estimated the value of these coins, which were minted between 1878 and 1891, from 20 to 200 times their face worth. Sale of the silver dollars will be strictly regulated in order to ensure fair distribution, and individual buyers will be allowed only 10 coins in all. Each coin sold will be placed in a small display case and will be accompanied by a brief description of the history of the Carson City silver dollar. Public notice of the procedure for ordering these coins will be made next year.

Why doesn't the Small Business Administration encourage and assist small business investment companies whose ventures are designed to combat unemployment?

A bill is currently pending before the Banking & Currency Committee which would do just this. The proposed legislation would encourage and assist the financing by small business investment companies of business enterprises which are designed to seek national policy goals such as combatting unemployment, preventing air and water pollution and developing rapid transit facilities. Copies of this bill, H.R. 6854, will be sent to any interested citizens who write my office here in Washington.

Housing seems so expensive these days. Has the average cost of a house increased that much in the last few years?
The median value of a housing unit in Maryland was $18,800 in 1970. This is an increase of 58% over 1960 when the median value was $11,900. Incidentally, in the U. S. as a whole the median value of a housing unit rose 43% during the decade to $17,000 in 1970.

BANKERS NAME WEAVER
William K. Weaver has been named executive manager of the Maryland Bankers Association effective January 1. Announcement of the appointment was made by William F. Melville Jr., president of the state wide banking association and senior vice president of the Maryland National Bank.

Weaver was formerly assistant executive manager of the association and succeeds William B. Elliott, who has retired after more than 47 years with the banking organization. Prior to joining Maryland Bankers, Weaver was legislative director for the Chamber of Commerce of Metropolitan Baltimore.

Food Stamps Offer More Assistance

Participation in the Federal Food Stamp Program in Maryland increased by 11,688 persons during November, as a total of 209,434 low income persons benefitted from the U. S. Department of Agriculture family food assistance program.

According to the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Northeast Regional Food and Nutrition Service office in New York City, these persons paid $2,115,760 for food stamps valued at $5,275,324. The difference of $3,159,564 or bonus value of the coupons is USDA's contribution to the program and is designed to provide participants with more and better food.

Among the total number of participants, 26 per cent or 53,726 fell into the non-public assistance category.

Discovery Of Meanings Important Element Of Learning

BY MISS HAZEL BROWN
Knowing And Behaving

What a difference between knowing and behaving! It is so easy to learn facts and acquire knowledge. Just having the goal of being a knowledgeable person has many, many limitations. There is much more to the educational process than knowing.

The most important elements of learning are in the discovery of meanings. The understanding of facts and information extends so much further than just knowing.

In our schools today, there are dedicated educators who are searching for effective ways to help students understand what learning really is all about. These educators realize that matters of meaning involve the emotions. They know that a student can understand much better when he is concerned, and has a feeling for the subject, concept, or idea.

Drop outs from the public school system usually indicate that they could have learned the facts if they had been told or if they had discovered what it all meant. Failures such as these are really breakdowns of personal meanings and understandings. The students use the term "relevance". "What has the knowledge got to do with us or our immediate needs?" This can be heard frequently by any parent or teacher who works with young people.

Something has to be done to get students and educators personally involved in learning. Education must include caring. Any form of education which omits the element of caring makes itself ineffective. If there is some degree of concern then there will be personal involvement and behavior of some type.

Dr. Arthur Combs, Professor of Education at the University of Florida makes a case for personal involvement when he says, "It is a tragic waste of human potential to make computers out of people." Knowing and behaving are totally different. Storing facts is the job of the computer but being a knowledgeable person is much more than having total recall. It involves being able to do something meaningful with the information.

How many times we have heard an individual quote the scripture regarding "love thy neighbor", and then refuse to be the friend of a minority group. This is a prime example of the vast difference between knowing and behaving.

Students must be taught more than just subject matter. Self-concepts must be dealt with. Who the students are and what they are must be considered very carefully. Facts must never replace feelings. Learning is an emotional and individual process and therefore involves much more than just acquiring information. Human values and concerns must be brought forward and considered as priorities.

Meanings are not exterior elements but lie within the individual. The concerns for action come from within. What we truly believe to be important determines our behavior and the way we react to situations. Our values show in spite of our attempts to be objective. We just can not behave without first knowing and then making a judgment through understanding.

What then can be done in our schools to help students learn more than mere facts? How can we avoid developing an age of computers? Educators must first believe that caring is more important than knowing and then develop instructional techniques which help students to discover meanings. Students should be encouraged to develop more self-direction and responsibility. Much more interaction must take place between the student and the teacher. Students must have more opportunities to communicate and interact among themselves. Students must be encouraged to make their own commitments to learning. They must become involved through understanding.

Parents and educators must have more respect for human qualities. Less pampering and more understanding. Less comparing and more recognizing of the uniqueness of individuals. All persons concerned with the educational process should reevaluate the priorities of learning and deter-

Girl Scouts Offer Speakers Bureau

Bringing to the public an increased understanding of Girl Scouting and its relevance in today's world is the goal of the newly operational Speakers Bureau of the Girl Scouts of Central Maryland.

"For too long the myth has prevailed that Girl Scouting means just selling cookies and going camping," says Miss Mary Wagner, Director of the Speakers Bureau. "We are eager to get the real picture of Girl Scouting in 1972 to business men and women, educators, service organizations, PTA's and many other groups."

According to Miss Wagner, a volunteer who has been active in Girl Scouting for 46 years, the new Speakers Bureau has met with unqualified success. "The number of invitations to tell the Girl Scout story has exceeded all our expectations," she smiled. "Our trained volunteer speakers have made engagements with groups from Thurmont to Brooklyn, and in the center of Baltimore City as well as throughout the suburban areas."

Some audiences, Miss Wagner observes, express surprise that Girl Scout volunteers, telling about the concerns of Girl Scouts today, may refer to problems such as drug abuse, human sexuality, ecology, and prejudice. "We want people to know that whatever involves young people—from social issues to traditional activities such as craftwork, homemaking skills, and the arts—is important to Girl Scout programs."

Students Offered Economic Development Program Grants

Approval of a $75,000 grant to help continue a program to train specialists in economic development and planning in a 15-state area was announced this week by Robert A. Podesta, Assistant Secretary of Commerce for Economic Development.

The grant is a part of the Nixon Administration's program to help local communities plan and carry out long-range programs to create jobs. The Southern Regional Education Board with headquarters in Atlanta, is the applicant for the funds from the Economic Development Administration, U. S. Department of Commerce.

They will be used to help continue an intern program in economic development and planning for college students in the 15 states sponsoring the Regional Education Board—Alabama, Arkansas, Florida, Georgia, Kentucky, Louisiana, Maryland, Mississippi, North Carolina, Oklahoma, South Carolina, Tennessee, Texas, Virginia and West Virginia.

Students selected for participation in the intern program will work with local organizations in planning and carrying out projects to stimulate industrial and commercial growth. They will work with local and regional economic development officials, conduct surveys, and observe house before they say too much as I'm sure there are plenty of examples of poorly directed law enforcement by inexperienced men. Maybe the new court will encourage the police to do a better job and the everyday citizen can expect that the net benefit to his community will improve.

Tutorial assistance at VA expense is available to a veteran studying under the GI Bill if needed to pass a course essential to his program of education.

End Sandwich Boredom

Here's proof there needn't be anything dull or ordinary about sandwiches. Ham 'n Corn Bread Triple Deckers are exciting knife-and-fork sandwiches sure to put an end to "ho-hum" lunches and suppers.

It's the corn bread, split into three layers, that makes these sandwiches unique. Onion and Cheddar cheese bake right in the batter for a flavorful bread so delicious with the ham filling. A special bonus—preparation is quick and easy with corn muffin mix. A tangy mustard sauce, ladled over each sandwich, completes this family-pleasing recipe.

HAM 'N CORN BREAD TRIPLE-DECKERS
Makes 8 servings

Corn Bread:	2 tablespoons all-purpose flour
One 12-oz. pkg. (2 cups) Flako Corn Muffin Mix	¼ teaspoon salt
1 egg	1 cup milk
¾ cup milk	2 tablespoons prepared mustard
1 cup shredded sharp Cheddar cheese	16 thin cooked ham slices
¼ cup onion, chopped	Melted butter or margarine

Mustard Sauce:
¼ cup butter or margarine

Heat oven to hot (400°F.). For corn bread, empty contents of muffin package into bowl. Add egg, milk, cheese and onion. Blend only until dry ingredients are thoroughly moistened. Pour batter into greased 8-inch square baking pan. Bake in preheated oven (400°F.) 20 to 25 minutes.

While corn bread is baking prepare sauce. Melt butter in saucepan over low heat. Blend in flour and salt. Quickly add milk, stirring constantly. Cook until mixture thickens and bubbles, stirring constantly. Remove from heat and stir in mustard.

To assemble sandwiches, cut corn bread into 8 pieces. Split each piece horizontally to make 3 layers; place a ham slice between each layer. Brush tops with melted butter. Bake on ungreased cookie sheet in preheated oven (400°F.) about 5 minutes. Top with mustard sauce.
