Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

The town election is over for another year. Several folks were surprised at the outcome, although I heard many predictions that the Mayor's race was going to be mighty close. Those folks have reason to crow. It is nice to be right once in a while. There were spirited contests after the write-in candidates got active. The campaign tracks around town plugging different candidates fostered memories of national campaigns. There is nothing like a good hot political fight in the spring to give us an appreciation of our freedom in these United States. I am sure that candidates in the dominated countries would not have anywhere near the suspense evident in the crowd waiting outside the town office Tuesday night. I hear the judges counted the ballots five times just to be sure of an accurate result.

Now that the voters have spoken it is time for everyone in town to get behind the new council and help us make Emmitsburg a better place in which to live and work. Let's all see if we can give them a hand in the many chores needing attention in our town. The list is long. It will never be any shorter if someone does not work on it.

The town clerk reported that thirty-two names were removed from the list of registrations before the last election. Someone asked the question if this group included those who have moved away from town but may have continued to vote. Seems that some people were seen in town on Tuesday who are known to be living out of town. I wonder if the lists were gone over to exclude past residents who are not current residents?

The property requirement for candidacy has developed considerable controversy. One individual even had the audacity to ask of all names written in on the ballot owned property. Imagine the fix we would be in if one of the non-property people had won. Every legal authority I know about who has offered an opinion on the subject says that the requirement would be ruled unconstitutional if it went to court. One of the first jobs tackled by the new council should be to resolve this question in Emmitsburg once and for all, especially before the next election.

Emmitsburg was not the only spot in the country with heated political campaigns. The primaries can be a rocky road to the presidential nomination as Senator Muskie has found out. Tuesday's results in Pennsylvania and Massachusetts seems to have derailed his early steam roller. The word is that he is going to pull out of the race today. That still leaves the Democrats with several candidates vying for the nomination. It will be interesting to see who gets their prize. The Republicans will have a hard time generating any interest before the convention because this year is their turn to ride an incumbent's coattails.

One sharp eyed individual says that the new Emmitsburg road sign on the part of Rt. 15 replaced by the overpass over Rt. 81 in Thurmont is misspelled. Surely there is not any connection between this goof and the delay in the Rt. 97 overpass over Rt. 15. I don't believe the State Highway Administration would plan two fouls-ups at the same time, especially after they have agreed to help us by putting the new Rt. 15 information center just outside of town.

Letter To The Editor

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle:

I would like to take this opportunity to thank the people of Emmitsburg who showed me they were interested in my running for the office of Town Commissioner, especially a few who went as far as to make phone calls for legal advice on my behalf, over the past weekend. By now most are aware that I filed for the office, but due to the local Charter, I was not eligible since I did not own at least $1,000 real property. Before the Chronicle was printed last week I was asked by one of the Town Fathers if I would withdraw my name, since the town officials had met and voted that they were going to abide by the present ordinance. I hastily said I would withdraw, and help them to avert possible legal action.

After talking with different lawyers on the situation, I found out that the Town Fathers were told about two years ago that the $1,000 real property requirement was unconstitutional. This really upset me. I could have demanded to be put on the ballot Monday and delay the election, but I did not push the issue.

Since I do not know who the new Mayor or new Commissioner is going to be at this writing, I do insist that whoever they be, that they make removing this requirement their first order of business.

I believe this town has gone too long with dead wood in office, with all the problems this community has. Sure, we have water problems, sewer and park problems, but what about the curfew, loitering on the streets, littering our streets with cans, etc., especially DePaul St.? How about the snow removal in the winter, especially the back streets and alleys? These are just a few problems that you don't see anything done about.

All I can say now is, it is about time that the people of this community unite and start showing more interest in what is going on, and start standing up to be heard, because if they don't, the town could be in serious trouble.

Thanks again for the interest shown me. I will try next year.

Dr. Seess To Speak On Women's Lib

Dr. Thomas J. Seess of Saint Joseph College faculty will speak Tuesday evening at 7:30 in Dood Science Hall on "The Women's Equal Rights Amendment."

Dr. Seess will discuss the legal and political activities, sometimes popularly lumped together under the banner of Women's Lib, which are moving the United States towards equality for women. Prime among these activities is a proposed amendment to the Constitution which has passed both houses of Congress and is now progressing rather speedily through the state legislatures. It must be ratified by 38 legislatures in order to become part of the Constitution. Dr. Seess will examine the question of what the amendment will accomplish.

The lecture on May 2 on St. Joseph campus is open to the public without charge.

Brute Ladies Hold Monthly Meeting

The Ladies of Brute held their monthly meeting recently with 16 members present. Loretta Sprankle, president, presided at the meeting. Chaplain, Jane Orndorff, opened the meeting with a prayer followed by the Pledge to the Flag.

A donation will be given to St. Joseph's High School for the use of a student towards this summer's European trip, at the request of a member who was recently ill. A get-well card was signed by all members present and sent to Grace Ott, who is presently hospitalized.

President Sprankle read an article from the Frederick Post given to her by K. of C. member Clyde Eyer, concerning a program to be held on April 30 entitled, "The Right To Life". Members were urged to support the program by their presence at the session.

Monica Elder reported on the set-up for Totem Pole Playhouse. Two hundred seats, or half a house, must be sold by any group desiring to raise money for their club or organization. A list of dates that were still available were read. Discussion followed and other members suggested that they might like to attend the Allenbury Playhouse and/or Shady Grove for a performance. Becky Stover will check with Shady Grove about the set-up for money raising performances. More discussion will be held at the May meeting.

The president also mentioned the possibility of the Ladies of Brute having a Tupperware party and ordering items on a year round basis to help the finances of the organization. This will also be discussed at the May meeting.

A nominating committee was appointed with Monica Elder, Cheryl Topper, Dolores Davis and Anne Gerken serving on the committee. These ladies will meet prior to the May meeting to draw up a slate to be presented to the members at the May meeting. The president will also attend the meeting.

Jane Orndorff won the draw prize of $5. Next month's refreshment committee will be Ruth Baker and Frances Keilholtz. The next meeting will be held on May 8 at 8:15 in the Council meeting room. Following adjournment the ladies were served refreshments in the social room. Loretta Sprankle and Nancy Danner were in charge of refreshments.

Enthusiasm Sparks Local Campaigns

Several energetic young men were successful in their endeavors to promote Richard M. Sprankle as a candidate for Mayor in Tuesday's election.

Phil Little, Steve Adams, Bruce Buffington, Herbie Click and Mike Orndorff showed their support for Sprankle by parading around Emmitsburg in an old truck echoing the name of "Sprankle" and "Vote for Dick." At times they were joined by as many as a dozen other fellows on the truck bandwagon.

Displaying large hand painted signs on the green truck and ringing an old school bell, these young men chose to campaign for Mr. Sprankle while on a school holiday or day off from work.

At the same time, another sign campaign took place in the Commissioners race. Backers of Patrick E. Ott toured the town in another old truck displaying a sign, "Give Flax the Ax."

THANK YOU EMMITSBURG

In running for the office of Town Mayor, I made no commitments to any individual or group. I plan to work for the betterment of the entire town and all the citizens residing in the community.

I will do my best to execute the office of Mayor of Emmitsburg for the good of all. Do not hesitate to call me. "Your troubles are my troubles also."

Thanks again.

Earth Week Cited By Cleaning Area

Earth Week was observed at Emmitsburg School during the week of April 17, with a variety of activities. Many of the classes made posters on fighting pollution, studied about cleaning up the environment, and viewed films on conservation and recycling of materials.

To climax the week's efforts, kindergarten classes planted flowers in pots and made a vegetable garden. Classes one through five cleaned up their playground and the front lawn of the school, picking up trash and placing it in plastic bags. Grades 6 through 8, accompanied by their teachers, collected many containers of trash from the alleys adjoining the school. The last half-hour of the afternoon was spent cleaning lockers and desks. The project was organized by Miss Jay Heisch, science teacher.

PROCLAMATION

I, Samuel C. Hays, Burgess of Emmitsburg, Md., herewith proclaim the month of May as Poppy Days.

These Poppies will be sold by the Auxiliary of the Francis X. Elder Post 121 of the American Legion, who will present the Poppies to the people of the community.

I sincerely hope that each and every one will contribute liberally to this worthy cause. The making of the Poppies will give the disabled veterans at Perry Point Hospital beneficial employment, and the funds raised will be used to help wounded veterans of the Nation.

Please give all you can spare!

SAMUEL C. HAYS, Burgess

Emmitsburg voters Tuesday elected Richard M. Sprankle Town Mayor and J. Norman Flax Town Commissioner. Sprankle, leading a field of three candidates, won a close race with Ralph F. Irelan for the top job. Flax, running unopposed by registered contenders, faced a last minute write-in challenge by Patrick E. Ott.

With about 60 per cent of the 655 registered voters casting ballots, Sprankle drew 178 votes for Mayor to 169 for Irelan. William D. Smith, third man in the race, drew 10 votes, and Sister Eleanor McNabb got 6 votes as a write-in candidate. Flax won 246 votes to 39 for Ott and one write-in vote for George L. Danner.

Sprankle and Flax join incumbent commissioners Eugene Myers, Philip D. Topper and F. Sterling Goulden on the Emmitsburg Town Board at the next regular meeting.

A total of 392 Ballots were cast. Of these, 363 were counted in the Mayor's race and 236 were counted in the Commissioner's race. Several ballots were rejected in both races as a result of improper markings and incorrect write-in designation.

This year, the emergence of write-in candidates resulting from the questions about the Town charter requirement that all candidates own real property put new emphasis on correct procedures for designating a write-in name. Several ballots were disqualified, particularly in the race for Commissioner, as a result of improper designation. In this election, proper designation for the two Commissioner write-in candidates was Patrick E. Ott and George Leroy Danner. Any other designation of either name resulted in the ballot being disqualified for that office.

The two men elected Tuesday will succeed Mayor Samuel C. Hays and Board Chairman Ernest E. Rosensteel, neither of whom was a candidate for re-election. Installation will take place at the next regular town meeting on May 1, 1972.

Mr. Sprankle is employed by B. H. Boyle & Sons Inc. Mr. Flax is employed as a consultant and Inspector in sanitation with Fairfield, Pa. and Charnita, Inc.

Christian Unity Service Set For May 21

The sixth annual observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity for all members of the churches of Emmitsburg will be held this year at the historic site of the Grotto of Lourdes on the evening of Pentecost, Sunday, May 21. The observance will begin as the worshippers of the congregations of town gather at the parking lot at the foot of the Grotto. The "pilgrimage" to the National Shrine Grotto will be an informal processional of folk tune, "Enter, Rejoice, and Come In," at about 4:45 p.m.

The worship experience will begin at 5 p.m. as the crowd is seated in the huge amphitheatre of the Grotto on the side of the Catocin Mountain Range. The theme of the informal worship will be "Unity through Experience." Special music will be provided by the Emmitsburg Community Chorus, and the Sunrise Singers of St. Joseph's Church will provide the musical background for the singing of several simple, moving contemporary folk tunes and two familiar congregational hymns. The featured speaker for the occasion will be the Rev. Gerald J. Knoche, Jr., Assistant Chaplain of Gettysburg College. One feature of the worship will be a "Lay-Witness Sharing" by two members of the Emmitsburg United Methodist Church.

Following the folk song recessional as the congregation returns to the parking lot at the base of the Grotto, a Covered Dish Picnic Supper will be enjoyed at about 6:30 p.m. The chairman of the Picnic Committee is Mrs. Anna Margaret Martin of Incarnation United Church of Christ.

The first Ecumenical Services of Emmitsburg in observance of the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity were held at St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church on January 20 and 25, 1967, respectively. The Ecumenical Observance has been held in January every year since then until this year when the Executive Committee of the Emmitsburg Council of Churches (with the recommendation of the Worship Committee) changed the observance to Pentecost Sunday which is the common anniversary date of the birthday of the Christian Church dating back to the original Pentecost recorded in the second chapter of the Acts of the Apostles of the New Testament. In the event of inclement weather, the 5 p.m. Worship Service will be held in the Chapel of Mt. St. Mary's College which is just a short distance from the National Grotto Shrine.

This unique Ecumenical Experience is being planned and sponsored by the Worship Committee of the Emmitsburg Council of Churches. Two lay representatives along with the pastors of the five churches in town make up this committee. The Rev. Father Joseph Sannino of St. Joseph's Roman Catholic Church and the Rev. John C. Chalos of Incarnation United Church of Christ, are serving as resource leaders for the planning of the celebration. Charles E. Brauer of Trinity United Methodist Church is the chairman of the committee and John S. Hollinger, Jr., of St. Joseph's Church is secretary of the committee.

Network Bias Again?

A nationwide controversy continues over whether the television networks are practicing bias in their prime-time news "shows".

Accuracy in Media (AIM), which is privately - operated, public service organization in Washington monitoring news handling by the major news media, has charged the three networks with "biased coverage" of the Freedom of the Press hearings being conducted by Senator Sam J. Ervin, Jr., of North Carolina. The AIM bolsters its charge with an analysis of coverage given the testimony of major witnesses heard by the Ervin Committee.

Ten witnesses are listed. Eight were witnesses who, in the general context of their testimony, aggressively defended the networks and charged that the accusations of "biased" news handling was a threat to press freedom.

These eight were network officials and famous network news "commentators." Each of these eight witnesses received coverage of more than two minutes on two of the big prime - time network news shows and substantial coverage on the third big network. Censorship

The other two witnesses contended that there is bias in the news media. One of these two was Harold Andersen, President of the Omaha World Herald. He agreed that there was some bias in news handling and he said "we should welcome outside criticism." Coverage of his testimony was not 2-minutes but 20-seconds on one network, 25-seconds on another, and no coverage at all on the third.

The other witness was Edith Efron, journalist, author, a member of the staff of the largest circulation weekly publication in America, TV GUIDE, Miss Efron has written a book, The News Twisters, accusing the networks of gross slanting and doctoring of the news to serve a "liberal" bias. Naturally she is not liked by the network officials and famous network "commentators" whom she accuses. However, her standing as a journalist and the national impact her book has made on the press of the nation makes her, her statements, her writings, and her testimony extremely newsworthy. Yet her testimony at this hearing which the networks had covered generously (when events favored them) was censored off the air by CBS, NBC, and ABC, according to AIM.

The Charges
In her testimony, Miss Efron repeated the charges in her book and explained her method of monitoring the network news. Here are some of her charges, documented in her book and repeated over and over again publicly:

"It is clear that network coverage tends to be strongly biased in favor of the Democratic-liberal-left axis of opinion. The actual amounts of opinion on each issue vary considerably from network to network, and the degree of bias, and sometimes its direction, shifts both from network to network, and from issue to issue. The picture is not consistent. But the preponderant opinion slant is unmistakable. Based on these figures alone, one can make these statements about this period of coverage (the seven - weeks period immediately preceding the Presidential election of 1968):

"The networks actively slanted their opinion coverage against U. S. policy on the Vietnam war.

"The networks actively slanted their opinion coverage in favor of the black militants and against the white middle-class majority.

"The networks largely evaded the issue of violent radicals.

"The networks actively favored the Democratic candidate, Hubert Humphrey, for the Presidency over his Republican opponent.

"The networks actively opposed the Republican candidate, Richard Nixon, in his run for the Presidency.

"In summary, the Presidential campaign of 1968 and its major issues were handled in a partisan fashion by all three networks."

The News Blackout

The journalist who makes these charges (Miss Efron) and backs them up with a mass of documentation, has been a staff writer on the New York Times Magazine, Managing Editor of the Special Editorial Department of Look Magazine, Central American correspondent for Life Magazine. The complete network blackout of her testimony before the Ervin Senate Committee on Freedom of the Press would seem to corroborate her charges of network news bias and is something about which the American people ought to know and about which they ought to become articulate.

Candidate Burgess Gives Proposals

Delegate Hugh Burgess (D., Howard County), candidate for Congress from the Sixth Congressional District, this week announced his proposals for legislative action for 1973 in order of his priority.

Non-extension of the Highway Trust Fund and a lowering of the six cent per gallon Federal Gasoline Tax, creation of the National Medical College in Washington, more equitable postal rates for junk mail, closing of tax loopholes for the privileged class of taxpayers who fail to pay their share and place the burden on the middle income taxpayers, and an immediate end to the $20 Billion space shuttle program. Emphasizing the need for an immediate tax sharing plan by the Federal Government, Delegate Burgess said his proposals would not only lower Federal taxes to his constituents but would allow an almost complete payment for local education costs and an end to high real estate taxes.

MASC Announces "No Grazing" Period For Set-Aside Land

The "nograzing" period for set-aside acreage on farms participating in the 1972 feed grain and wheat programs begins May 15 and will continue for five months, ending Oct. 15, 1972.

This announcement was made by the Chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation (ASC) Committee, Raymond F. Jaeger, who explained that a condition for participating in the voluntary farm programs is that set-aside acreage may not be grazed during five principal months of the growing season. Nor may set-aside acreage be harvested except for designated alternate oilseed crops and emergency hay.

The alternate crop exception to the non-cropping requirement is for those farmers who have signed up to use set-aside acreage for growing non-surplus, non-price-supported oilseed crops and in return accept a reduction in set-aside payments. Crops approved for this purpose include safflower, mustard seed, sunflowers, crambe, castor beans, quail, sesame, and plantago ovate.

The emergency hay exception for set-aside acreage requires a farmer first to apply at the County ASCS Office before harvesting the hay. If his application is approved, the hay must be stored for use in event of future emergency of such nature that it be officially declared an emergency by the Administrator of ASCS, U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Farmers may secure information on the emergency hay storage provision and apply for having privileges at the County ASCS Office, Jaeger said.

Farmers who are taking part in the Cropland Adjustment Program have agreed not to graze or harvest crops from land diverted under this program during the life of the agreements. These provisions are important to producers because any violation of them may result in reduction or total loss of payments otherwise earned under the program.

Maryland producers signed up to participate in the 1972 feed grain program number about 7,001 and in the wheat program about 4,146.

Catoctin High School Students Build Office Cabinets

At the request of Harper Long, Principal of Catoctin High School, building trade classes in the school designed and constructed office counter cabinets extending around the perimeter of the office area. Building trades teacher, Richard T. Kreh, Sr., and Mike Bennett, a senior at Catoctin High School were in charge of the project which was completed by the senior building trades class.

Work began about two months ago on the cabinets. Built of walnut stained birch plywood, with formica tops which match the original office decor, the cabinets were designed to allow the office files to be hidden from view and to give the secretarial staff much needed counter space.

Construction of the cabinets provided an actual job experience for the students and substantially increases the salable skills which they will take with them when they leave Catoctin this year. Students who worked on the cabinets included Mike Bennett (foreman), Garry Seiss, Doug Long, Chip Mullinix, Barry Barrier, Jim Orndorff and Mike Wastler. There was no problem motivating students to build this project which also involved students from other classes at times during the process.

The total price of materials used was approximately $300. The estimated price, if built by a commercial cabinet shop was about $1,500. The result was a total savings of $1,200 to the taxpayers of Frederick County and a learning experience for the students seldom equalled in a school situation.

A plaque will be attached to the cabinets later, inscribed with the names of the students who worked on the project, the teacher and the year.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK

The Motter Family

"O Jesus, guardian over life and death,
From war's grim trumpets
grant us long surcease!
Let us once more behold
our brother's face!"
And grant us peace!"

The study of the Eichelberger family—one of those prominent in the history of Tom's Creek (now Elias) Lutheran congregation—is concluded at this time.

The inscriptions from the markers at the Eichelberger graves in the Lutheran and Reformed churchyard at Cresserstown, Maryland, is continued—

45. In memory of Samuel Eichelberger, son of George M. and E. E. Eichelberger, died September 10, 1887, aged 1 month and 3 days.

46. Sacred to the memory of Virginia Eichelberger, died May 6, 1865, aged 32 years, 11 months, and 24 days.

This concludes, for a time at least, the data pertaining to the Eichelbergers — of Pennsylvania and Maryland. Located in the midst — so to speak — of the Eichelberger family burial plot in Elias churchyard is the grave of Lewis Motter. An altar or "tabular" tomb of simple yet impressive design marks the spot. The inscription follows:

1. In memory of Lewis Motter, born 1779, died March 1, 1837.
Mary M. Motter, wife of Lewis Motter, died January 2, 1858, aged . . . ?

Note: The stone, particularly the lower section, is badly eroded and it is impossible to decipher parts of the inscription pertaining to Mary M. Motter.

Lewis Motter was the first of his family to settle in Emmitsburg. He was a tanner by trade and soon after his arrival in Samuel Emmitt's town Lewis Motter opened the first Tannery in the District. Needless to say he prospered and became one of the most enterprising citizens in the town. E. and his good wife reared a large family all of whom were a credit to their environment and upbringing.

The Motters—in the main—were members of the Reformed church—but as the Lutheran and Reformed congregations shared the same church edifice and burial ground for well over a century it can be said without fear of contradiction that the prayers and endeavors of both sects were as one.

The family Bible of Lewis Motter is still in existence and the family records in the volume make most interesting reading—as follows:

"Lewis Motter moved to Emmitsburg on September 5, 1798.

"On January 15, 1799 Lewis Motter was married to Mary Magdalena Martin by the Rev. L. Hinsch.

"Joshua Motter, son of Lewis and Mary M. Motter, was born February 2, 1801 and baptized on March 1, 1801 by the Rev. Lebricht Hinsch. Confirmed May 5, 1822 by the Rev. D. Bossler. Married March 7, 1825 to Harriet Henkle by the Rev. John Winter of the Lutheran Church."

Note: Joshua Motter, his wife, and two of their children are interred in the Elias churchyard. The inscriptions follow:

2. In memory of Joshua

Motter, born February 2, 1801, died February 25, 1875.

3. In memory of Harriet (Henkle) Motter, wife of Joshua Motter, born February 22, 1808, died March 16, 1891.

4. In memory of Isaac H. Motter, son of Joshua and Harriet H. Motter, died June 7, 1841, aged 7 months and 15 days.

5. Harriet H. Motter, daughter of Joshua and Harriet H. Motter, born 1844, died 1936.

Barbara Motter, daughter of Lewis and Mary M. Motter, born April 25, 1803—baptized May 22, 1803 by the Rev. Ruthrauff—Confirmed May 5, 1822, by the Rev. Bossler (German Reformed)—married on December 19, 1822 to Charles Smith by the Rev. D. Bossler.

Note: Barbara (Motter) Smith, her husband, and a daughter are buried in Mountview Cemetery, at Emmitsburg. The inscriptions follow:

6. In memory of Charles Smith, died April 15, 1847, aged 55 years, 8 months, and 25 days.

7. In memory of Barbara M. Smith, wife of Charles Smith, died January 10, 1884, aged 80 years, 8 months, and 15 days.

8. Sacred to the memory of Emma Alice Smith, daughter of Charles and Barbara M. Smith, died February 8, 1865, aged 10 years, 9 months, and 23 days.

Isaac Motter, son of Lewis and Mary M. Motter, was born

Perspectives In Learning By Hazel Brown

Critical Thinking Is A Must

In a world of constant change, there are many points of view which must be answered. Everyone of us faces decisions daily and is asked to judge a variety of issues. Today we must make judgements related to issues of peace and war, relations between labor and management and the many social problems of the time.

We are constantly bombarded with fact and fiction. Just how well we make judgements and interpretations of the many claims around us depends upon our ability to think critically. The decision-making process is essential if we are to be self-directed, democratic and free people. We must have the desire and the ability to examine, study, analyze and judge information so that we can seek the truth.

The many creeds, institutions, ideologies and causes with which we are confronted sometimes obscures the facts. Even the most self-directed person can be led astray by the propaganda techniques which are used today. Haven't you been tempted to buy a new product just because the commercial told you: "Try it! You'll like it?"

The schools have a very difficult task in preparing young people to face this world of controversy. We live in a society which believes that no single group has a monopoly on the truth but rather that all groups have the right to be heard. Therefore, the schools must try to help young people survive and grow in this atmosphere of diversity and freedom.

In order to be inquisitive and to think critically, people must learn how to question and probe so that they obtain a fuller and deeper understanding of the material or subject being studied. Questioning people then begin to speculate and form ideas which they imagine might be correct.

These people are wonderers. They enjoy guessing and giving their own point of view. They are willing to evaluate statements and information before they accept them as facts. They test new information against facts they have learned before, and then construct a concept or thought which they feel is true.

Hopefully, today's young people are being taught how to think critically and creatively. They must learn these skills or they will lose the freedoms which we hold so dearly.

Controversy, criticism, and dissent are with us but need we fear them? If we've been doing our job as educators and parents, then we have no fear. Our young people will be prepared to inquire, question, analyze, and evaluate situations. They will have the tools necessary for learning and living in this controversial society.

Ineligible Medicaid Cards Recalled

Dr. Neil Solomon, Maryland's Secretary of Health and Mental Hygiene, has ordered immediate action to prevent use of Medicaid cards by ineligible persons.

"Every possible curtailment of costs is vital in this program, which by its very nature is costly," Dr. Solomon said, "and use of Medicaid cards by ineligible persons simply will not be tolerated."

He explained that persons who are granted Medicaid cards but who subsequently are found to be ineligible by the State Department of Social Services are being notified that further use of their cards to obtain health care will be unlawful and will make them liable to court action. They are being instructed to return their cards at once, regardless of the expiration date.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

The Value-Added Tax

By Babson's Reports, Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., April 27, 1972—The White House continues to study the feasibility of the value-added tax (VAT), a system being used increasingly to raise government revenues in Europe. Latest word is that Administration aides feel the President is favorably inclined toward the idea and may submit it to Congress after the election in November. Basically A Sales Levy

In essence, VAT is a general sales tax, though it differs from any such imposts now in effect in the United States. It is collected — bit by bit, proportionate to the value added—as products pass through the various manufacturing and distribution stages. Each seller receives credit for the tax he has paid to the manufacturer or processor from whom he bought. So in the end it is the consumer who bears the full brunt of the levy.

In order to tone down this blatantly regressive feature of VAT and make it more palatable to consumers, a system of personal-income-tax credits and rebates would be set up. Also, stress would be placed on VAT's overall revenue-raising potential, along with the proposal that these revenues be earmarked for support of public elementary and secondary education.

"Advantages" Cited

VAT has a number of facets likely to pique the interest of Senators and Congressmen and ultimately incline them in favor of enacting it. For one thing, it is an indirect levy unlikely to set off the great hue and cry that would be raised if income-tax rates were to be lifted appreciably or current deductions phased out. It scoops up large sums (best estimate is that a 1% levy would bring in about $5 billion), requires only minimal enforcement apparatus. And—a very important point at this time—it encourages exports, which could help right our lagging foreign trade balance.

In addition, VAT—which presumably would be advanced as a partial substitute for onerous corporate income levies—has considerable appeal for businesses, especially those engaged in large-scale import and export operations. Some Obvious Drawbacks

On the surface VAT would appear to be a relatively simple, straight-forward system of raising the added revenues that Uncle Sam so urgently needs. But when you get down to the nitty-gritty, you discover that it could be extremely complex and its impact on various segments of the economy uneven.

VAT is often referred to as a "neutral" tax, the implication being that it is neutral as between management and labor and between various types of companies and industries. This would be true if all goods and services were to be taxed at a uniform VAT rate. However, this has not been the case in Europe, where rates differ from product to product. It is not likely to be the case in the United States, where Congress has a long history of writing complications and exceptions into tax legislation, seemingly for valid social and economic reasons but often to appease pressure groups.

Showdown Next Year
The Research Department of Babson's Reports feels that

TJ Student Will Go To Science Congress

Michael D. Culler, Jr., a senior at Gov. Thomas Johnson High School, has been selected to participate in the 1972 NASA-NSTA Youth Science Congress, at Greenbelt, Md., April 19-21. He will be the only public school student from Maryland to take part in the event.

The Congress, sponsored jointly by the National Aeronautics and Space Administration and the National Science Teachers Association, is designed to provide the opportunity for students to participate in meetings and activities similar to those of practicing scientists and engineers.

In order to be selected for participation in the Congress, it was necessary that each student complete an experimental research or investigative project in some field of science, mathematics or engineering. A report on this research was then required, together with an abstract of the report.

Mike Culler has presented research papers to scientific groups on a number of other occasions, including the symposium of the Washington Academy of Science, and at the National Junior Science and Humanities Symposium at the U. S. Military Academy, West Point, N.Y., last May.

The topic of his current presentation, "Photoreactivation in Euglena," evolved from Mike's earlier work concerning the effects of ultraviolet irradiation upon the organism can be reversed by exposure to various wave lengths of the visible light spectrum. His investigation also indicates that as the visible spectrum goes from red to violet the curative powers appear to increase. Presumably applicable to other organisms also, the implications of this phenomenon as a cure or preventive measure for skin cancer are obvious.

Paul Hummer, chairman of the science department at T. J., where Mike's work in the biological culture center led to his present research, has supervised the project. Mike has been awarded a scholarship at Elizabethtown College, Pa., for the coming year and plans to pursue a biology or possibly pre-medical course.

KME Society Elects Officers At SJC

Kappa Mu Epsilon, the national mathematics honor society, recently elected officers for 1972-73 and initiated members into the Maryland Gamma chapter at St. Joseph College in Emmitsburg.

Maureen Hinke, who served as recording secretary last year, was installed as president at the annual spring meeting of the chapter. Miss Hinke is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence H. Hinke of Baltimore.

Elected to membership in KME were Mary McFadden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John C. McFadden, Towson; Elaine Maddox, daughter of Earl G. Maddox, Indianhead, Md.; Joyce Reichert, daughter of Mrs. Estella Reichert, Abbotstown, Pa.; and Patricia Thornton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas R. Thornton, Bel Air.

Miss Reichert was also installed as vice president of the chapter. Miss Thornton was voted treasurer, and Miss McFadden recording secretary.

Dr. Donald F. Shriner is faculty sponsor of the local chapter, and Sister John Frances Gilman is corresponding secretary.

Vets Should Act For Education Aid

Millions of veterans could lose part or all of their GI educational benefits if they don't act promptly, the Veterans Administration warned this week.

George A. Davis, Director of the Baltimore VA Regional Office, explained that those whose benefits are in danger were discharged between January 31, 1955, and June 1, 1966. For these veterans, eligibility for VA educational assistance payments for GI Bill schooling expires on May 31, 1974, whether they are enrolled at that time or not.

The expiration date is fixed by a 1966 law which, for the first time, extended eligibility for education benefits to Post Korean veterans with service after January 31, 1955. Each veteran has eight years in which to use his benefits.

MAS Begins Two Year Ecology Program

The Maryland Academy of Sciences, in cooperation with the Junior League of Baltimore, Inc., will begin a two-year marine ecology program in October for students in grades four through nine.

The program is being funded by the Junior League and will be conducted at the Academy. $1,600 is being provided for the 1972-73 school year and $1,000 for 1973-74.

Raymond O. Trimmer, a coordinator of the project and an assistant director of education at the Academy, said: "The purpose of the program is to educate students about our water systems — what life exists in the water, what affects that life and what the students can do to make it better."

Mr. Trimmer said the program would attempt to expose students to a limited number of fundamental principles and involve them in a few select experiments.

Each program will be conducted in the auditorium of the Academy for two hour periods, involving groups of about 30 students.

Detailed information concerning the project will be mailed to all Maryland school systems by September.

Other coordinators of the project include Mrs. Robert C. Stout, assistant in education and exhibits for the Academy, and Mrs. J. Carter Burgin, coordinator of volunteer services for the Academy.

ORDER OF PUBLICATION
The Bill of Complaint is a suit to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, Clarence E. McGrady.

The Bill recites that the Complainant is a resident of Frederick County, State of Maryland, where she has resided for more than one year last past; that the Defendant is a non-resident of the State of Maryland, whose last known address was c/o General Delivery, Independence, Virginia; that the parties to this cause were married on the 4th day of October, 1946, at Sparta, North Carolina, by a regularly ordained Minister of the Gospel; that as a result of the marriage between the parties three children were born, namely, Barbara Ann McGrady, who is 23 years of age and married; and Roger Carl McGrady, who is 22 years of age and married, and James Clarence McGrady, who is 15 years of age; that the parties to this cause have voluntarily lived separate and apart, without any cohabitation and without interruption, for more than five years prior

The following questions were typical of the kind asked me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D. C. 20515.

Where can I get hold of a State fishing guide?

The Maryland Sportfishing Guide for 1972 can be ordered from the Fish and Wildlife Administration, State Office Building, Annapolis, Maryland 21401. And if you request it you can also be placed on the mailing list to receive the Maryland Fish & Wildlife News free of charge.

I am interested in a career in wildlife conservation. Can you suggest what college courses I should take to prepare for such a career?

The Department of Interior publishes a brief pamphlet on this subject and suggests in broad terms the kinds of knowledge you will need to acquire for a career in wildlife research, management, administration, teaching, extension, photography and poular writing. Interested students may obtain a copy of this booklet, which also lists employment opportunities, by writing my office in Washington.

Last month my social security benefits were reduced by about six dollars. I do not understand why the amount has been reduced and would appreciate your help in this matter.

About five months ago there was a Conference on Aging held in Washington. Can you tell me if any recommendations were made in regards to raising the traditional retirement age of 65?

Among other measures, the Conference on Aging recommended that chronological ages should not be the sole criterion for retirement. Instead, a more flexible policy should be based on the worker's desires, needs and ability to perform his job.

What has happened to the Food & Drug Administration's proposal that would have established a uniform nutritional labeling system for packaged foods?

The FDA is currently holding hearings on this proposal and will be accepting consumer and food manufacturer's comments until June 28. The proposed system would encourage manufacturers voluntarily to list calories, fat, protein carbohydrates, vitamins and minerals on food packages. FDA said that the increasing number of processed and formulated foods has made it difficult for consumers to identify the nutritional qualities of the foods they buy. If you would care to comment on this labeling proposal you may send your opinions to the Hearing Clerk, Department of Health, Education & Welfare, Room 6-88, Fishers Lane, Rockville, Md. 20852.

IN MEMORIAM
DRAPER—In loving memory of my beloved husband, Worth B. Draper, who passed away two years ago, April 30, 1970.
Dearest one I miss you more Than words can ever say Things are not the same since you went away
You were always so devoted, sincere, kind and true I realize that you earned your peace and rest
Though you left your love one tearful and upset I knew you wished me the very best
Eternal rest grant unto you now
You are safe in God's hands my dear husband
As I know you have met his every demand.

MCPA To Meet At MSM April 28

Mount Saint Mary's College will host the spring conference of the Maryland College Personnel Association to be held Friday, April 28.

According to Michael H. Scheerer, Director of Counseling Service at the Mount, and President-elect of the state-wide organization, the conference will welcome for the first time this year representatives of the Maryland Association of Junior Colleges' Student Personnel Section. Mr. Scheerer said that the meeting will cover the topic, "The State of the Art: Where Will the Future Take Us?", and will feature as guest speakers Dr. James L. Fisher, President of Towson State College, and Dr. Patricia Rueckel, Vice President for Student Development at Georgetown University.

Dr. Fisher has been President of Towson since 1969, and his term in office thus far has been marked by innovation and creative change. Among his accomplishments are the introduction of a new college governance system which includes both students and faculty, major revisions in curriculum and admissions policies, and a new development program that has increased non-State resources from less than a half million dollars annually to more than a million and a half. In 1970, he was appointed a White House advisor on campus tensions and has served as consultant or examiner for over 20 colleges and universities. He has a mix of experience in higher education that touches upon almost every area of academic and student life.

Byron Backed Drug Bill Added To Law

Provisions of a bill co-sponsored by Rep. Goodloe Byron to combat heroin addiction were incorporated in the Drug Abuse Treatment Act of 1972 which has been signed into law by the President.

The Act establishes a Special Action Office for drug abuse prevention with the objective of significantly reducing the incidence of drug abuse and developing Federal strategy to combat drug abuse.

Byron said H.R. 12559, which he co-sponsored, would have promoted an emergency national research program in the public and private sectors to find a cure for heroin addiction.

He said the new law incorporated these provisions by specifically encouraging research and development of a long-lasting nonaddictive drug for heroin and by establishing clinical research facilities for this purpose.

"I am hopeful that this new law will help cure the heroin addict of his disease and serve as a significant step in the fight against crime and drug abuse in the United States," Byron said.

Area Mail Boxes To Have Annual Inspection During Month Of May

An 8-Cent Transpo 72 Stamped envelope will be first placed on sale at Washington, D. C., on May 2, 1972. This embossed stamped envelope salutes the First U. S. International Transportation Exposition (Transpo 72) developed by the Department of Transportation. The exposition will be staged May 27-June 4 on a 300-acre tract at Dulles International Airport, Washington, D. C.

More than one million visitors are anticipated. Exhibitors from some forty nations will present the most modern transportation equipment available.

This envelope will be placed on sale, at our office, on Wednesday, May 3, 1972.

All rural route customers are to please take note, that the month of May is designated as the annual period in which mail boxes are to be inspected. It is a good time of the year to give that very important part of your property, a check-up:

1. Could that post be a little straighter? Is it solidly planted? Could it use a little paint?
2. Could that box be fastened more securely to its post? Is it waterproof?
3. What about the approach to your mailbox? Is it properly graded and is the box at the proper height? If you were a rural carrier, could you serve the box conveniently?
4. Is your name and box number inscribed on the carrier approach side of the box?

The rural routes at our office will be scheduled for inspection during the third week of May.

Sunrise Singers

Mrs. Patrick B. Boyle, William O'Toole and Rev. Joseph Sannino of Emmitsburg.

Bob Henke acted as Master of Ceremonies for the program. Bob, a student at Catoctin High School, handled the introduction of each act very capably, having had the experience at their first Talent Show in 1971.

Some people say that the Sunrise Singers are a talent show in themselves.

The group first came "on stage" about three years ago with a theme song that was almost a prophecy: "To Be Alive". When they perform the girls wear white blouses and red maxi skirts with gold trim. The boys wear gold shirts, brown vests and dark slacks. They sing popular folk songs to their own guitar accompaniment. They are living color and lively sound and it is no surprise that they are frequently invited to entertain.

In the past few years, the Sunrise Singers have appeared at Western Maryland Hospital, Rosewood State Hospital, Delone High School in Hanover, and at numerous local events. They have sung for senior citizen gatherings in Emmitsburg and elsewhere.

Each Sunday morning they sing the 10 o'clock folk Mass at St. Joseph's Church. Crowded pews attest to their popularity. A middle-years parishioner was heard to say recently, "I don't like guitars and tambourines and folk music in general, but somehow I do like the Sunrise Singers."

The group is self-organizing and self-sustaining. Their chief revenue comes from the annual talent show which was inaugurated last year and which netted $125. Before that they depended mostly upon a few bake sales and the help of generous adults. When they sing at a wedding they usually receive a stipend of $20.

The group chooses a leader from among themselves without bothering about formal elections. "It's a sort of consensus thing," they say. Monte Ray, now a student at Mount St. Mary's College, was among the organizers who got the group under way and was also its first leader.

The present leader is Beth Morningstar, a sophomore at Catoctin High School and the daughter of Dr. and Mrs. George Morningstar of Emmitsburg.

Beth says that the Sunrise Singers have received tremendous support and encouragement from Father John F. King, C.M., pastor of St. Joseph's Church.

Chorus Plans Concert May 13

The Emmitsburg Community Chorus will present its annual Spring Concert on Saturday evening, May 13, at 8 o'clock in DePaul Auditorium at St. Joseph College. Please plan to attend. The program will be announced at a later date.

eph's Church. "Without him, we would never be here."

Father King, in turn, is perhaps the group's most enthusiastic fan. At a time when young people often make the headlines for their misdeeds, the Sunrise Singers are clearly a credit to the community. Beyond that, Father King's warm personal feeling for each member of the group is obvious. He likes to call them "Our young singers in whom we take much pride."

Members of the group range in age from 11 to 16. They represent five area schools—Catoctin High School, St. Joseph's High School, Fairfield High School, Mother Seton School and Emmitsburg Public School.

Everyone in the group sings. In addition, Beth plays lead guitar and the other guitarists are Jo Morningstar, Nora Ligorano, Sherry Topper and Gail Adelsberger. Bob Henke and his tambourine handle the percussion. Soloists in the group are Susie Morningstar, Vida Antolin and Kathy Stoner.

The object of this Bill of Complaint is to procure a divorce A VINCULO MATRIMONII from the Defendant, JoAnn Rice.

The Bill of Complaint was duly filed in this cause on the 14th day of June, 1971, and that two successive summonses issued to the Defendant, c/o Harry W. Smith, 7 West Fourth Street, Frederick, Maryland, were returned non-est.

Glenn Speicher, Jr., Files For Delegate To Republican Convention

Glenn Speicher, Jr., 23, of Westminster, filed as a delegate candidate for the Republican Convention. After attending Westminster Junior High School and Severn School in Severna Park, Md., he graduated from Franklin and Marshall College, Lancaster, Pa., with a major in Government. He is presently enrolled in the University of Baltimore Law School and is one of the younger candidates.

Mr. Speicher is a past president of Zeta chapter of Phi Kappa Sigma fraternity at F&M and is a member of the Carroll County Choral Society. He is a member of the 2122nd USA RG, Randallstown, Md., and vice president of the Carroll County Young Republican Club. He recently attended the Young Republican Leadership Conference in Washington, D. C.

Mr. Speicher has held no previous political or governmental office and has not previously been a candidate for office. He prefers Richard M. Nixon but is not running on an official slate. It is Mr. Speicher's opinion that the youth of today, while holding potential political advantage, must carefully weigh the consequences of their future actions. He believes that if the country is to move ahead, it must be a coalition of all age groups and not a coalition of special groups vying for power; and, that any successful candidate should be a representative of all the people.
