From personal observation I can say that the Winter Festival held last weekend was a great success. Events at both locations were well attended and enjoyed. It is a little sad that those of us who live here in the area come to take the beauty and space for granted. Often it is not until we hear residents of Baltimore or Washington or some other large city enthusing over our beautiful mountains, comparatively clean air, the open space, that we realize how fortunate we are.

More activity is slated to take place this weekend as our area hosts the Sled Dog Racing event. It promises to be an interesting event and is scheduled to take place even if we don't have any snow by then—and I don't think we will.

I noticed an article this week that stated that some of our biggest snows in this area have come during the last of February and the first half of March. I think I'll leave my snow tires on for a while yet, just in case.

I admit that I don't know much and understand less about the international money crisis, but I have decided that saving for a rainy day doesn't seem to make much sense any more. It looks to me like the longer I hang on to a dollar the less I'm going to be able to get in exchange for it. Devaluation may be good for the country, but increased food and other prices surely aren't good for the family budget.

I've been wondering lately if our "pledge" to help rebuild North Vietnam is a case of paying ransom for our POWs? If this is really the case the administration should come right out and say so, it would make a lot of us feel a bit better about the spending of our tax dollars.

This week (Feb. 11-17) is National Crime Prevention Week. I make fun of a lot of these "weeks", National Ant Stomper's Week, etc., but this particular week, seems a good time to call folks attention to the fact that crime fighting shouldn't be confined to the police department. The growing menace and cost of crime becomes more serious with every year, and the need for grass roots support of crime prevention programs is urgent. Now, as never before, each individual must do some soul-searching to discover if he has been guilty of disregarding the rights and property of others. Or has he been hesitant to get "involved" when his aid might have helped solve or prevent a crime? If the answer to any of these is "Yes" then a shifting of personal priorities is in order. Every crime from vandalism and shoplifting to bank robbery and murder should be of concern to all of us—if we don't care, no one else will. Moral degeneration and destruction of organized, law-abiding society is the penalty for condoning lawlessness. Crime prevention is the business of police and law enforcement agencies, but they need the support of a concerned citizenry every day of every week of the year if they are to do their job.

Area Drivers Receive Summons

Among those receiving summons from Officer James Fuss during the past week were: Thomas A. O'Brien, Emmitsburg, charged with exceeding the posted speed limit, and Thomas A. Flannery, Jr. of Bethesda, Md., for failing to dim head lights. Daniel Wetzel, Fairfield, Pa., was charged with failing to stop for a stop sign at S. Alley and School Lane.

Mount Plans New Buildings, Other Future Developments

Mount Saint Mary's College has identified a new classroom building with an auditorium as its number one need, and two leadership groups are at work defining a program to build and pay for it.

Construction of the academic building is the fourth major step in an evolving long-range plan for the Mount recommended by the College Planning Committee and adopted by the Board of Trustees. Earlier steps included redefinition of institutional objectives, a switch from an all-male to a coed student body, and creation of a President's Academic Scholarship Program to increase the number of low and middle income students able to enroll at the Mount.

Adding urgency to the new building project, Dr. John J. Dillon, Jr., college president, said he would like to see the needed new classrooms available by September 1974.

A three-member committee within the Board of Trustees is working with Dr. Dillon on such questions as employment of an architect, location of the building on campus, size of the auditorium, and precise number of classrooms.

The Mount's 50-member National Development Council is analyzing the task of generating the funds to pay for the program which, in addition to the new academic building, may include renovation of the administration building, and upgrading of athletic and recreational facilities.

The firm of Donald Ratcliffe, Architects has been engaged to give professional direction to the Mount's present and future campus development. Their initial work, expected to take four months, will involve the drafting of a master plan. Besides detailing the location for the new academic building, the master plan will take into account present and future land use, adequacy of roads and utilities, shortcomings, future uses and improvements for existing structures, and recommended priorities for implementing the overall plan.

"What the architect will do for us initially," Dr. Dillon explained, "is conduct a kind of audit of what we have now what our needs in the future may be, and how the best this might be accomplished. As the work goes forward, the architects will be consulting with the faculty, administrators, and students."

Members of the trustees' building committee are John S. Lalley, President of Peterson, Howell & Heather Inc., with headquarters in Baltimore; James Keely Jr., who heads his own construction firm in Baltimore; and Thomas B. Schmidt, president of Packaging Service Inc., in Hagerstown. The chairman of the National Development Council is Thomas S. Hogan, an attorney in Providence, R. I. The head of the College Planning Committee is also a trustee, Leo H. Barry, an attorney in Long Island City, N. Y.

The College Planning Committee, after reviewing the full range of campus needs, reported to the Board of Trustees that "the greatest need of the college is a modern classroom building, including an auditorium to seat approximately 500 persons, and equipped with a stage."

The committee also urged "renovation of the present administration building to turn present classrooms into office space for faculty and administration."

President Dillon emphasized that all segments of the Mount community have been and will continue to be involved in the planning and building program. The planning committee itself is composed of faculty, students, administrators and alumni, as well as trustees. He said the faculty will play a key role in defining the details of the new academic building as the architect's work moves forward.

Senior Citizens Plan Supper

Emmitsburg's Senior Citizens are asked to remember that Tuesday, February 20, at 6:30 p.m., all are to gather at the VFW for the Annual Covered Dish Supper. Bring your contribution, covered or uncovered, together with your individual place setting, prepared to enjoy an evening of good eats and pleasant socializing. A surprise program is expected, weather permitting.

President LaRue Harman announces a short Board meeting for Thursday, Feb. 15, at 6:30 p.m. All members please come.

Food Sale Saturday

The Dynamics Majorette Group will once again offer a variety of baked goods at a sale on Saturday, February 17, at the Fire Hall, beginning at 9 a.m.

Sled Dog Racing Event Scheduled - State's 1st

Another exciting event is taking place in the Catoctin Mountain area this Saturday and Sunday beginning at 10:30 a.m. The Catoctin Mountains Tourist Council and the Mason-Dixon Sled Dog Racing Association have teamed to bring sled dog racing to Maryland for the first time.

Teams are made up of drivers of all ages, from 5 years of age racing on a half-mile course with one dog, to the professionals racing on a 9-mile course with up to nine dogs.

The race course begins on the Foxville Tower Road, just off the south side of Md. 77, and continues to the Quaker Camp, then on Old Mink Farm Road, Catoctin Hollow Road, Wigville Road, Phillips Delight Road and back to Foxville Tower Road. These roads are all closed to traffic for the two days of racing.

Spectators are asked to please NOT bring your pet dog or cat to a sled dog race. Pets and drivers have been hurt by a team of dogs trying to get to a strange animal.

Programs will be for sale at the races. They will cost fifty cents and each program contains a ticket which will be used in the drawings for the many prizes which will be given away during the two days of racing.

This event is sanctioned by the Mason-Dixon Sled Dog Racing Association and will have drivers and teams from all over the United States and Canada.

Food stands will be operated by the Thurmont Seratoma Club.

Students At Mother Seton School Hold "Tag Day" To Raise Funds

Tag Day was a very special day at Mother Seton School. What was it? About 300 students at Mother Seton School found this out last week.

This special day a student holding a ticket, or tag, did not have to wear his regular uniform.

Tag Day was proposed by Anne Williams, 8th grade class president, sells tag to Brigitte Mazyck.

the eighth grade in order to acquire funds to buy and develop film for the annual Spring Festival. The class officers, Anne Williams, president; Greg Adelsberger, vice president; Beth Miller, secretary; and Kathy Hartagen, treasurer, went to each of the eight upper grade classes explaining the restrictions of dress and cost of the tags.

and boys wanting to wear Girls wishing to wear a dress suits with neckties paid 20c for a tag. Girls wanting to wear pants suits and boys wanting to wear shirts without neckties, paid 30c.

Friday, February 9, many of the students happily responded, making the fund raising campaign an overwhelming success.

Eighth grade class officers at Mother Seton school plan tag day with Sister Mary Xavier.

Thousands Brave Cold To Attend Winter Festival

Nearly 10,000 visitors braved the below-freezing temperatures Saturday and Sunday to attend the Winter Festival. Sponsored by the Catoctin Mountains Tourist Council and Catoctin Mountain Park, the Festival was highly successful in spite of the small amount of snow.

Both Round Meadow and Sabillasville attracted large numbers of spectators and

Adelsberger Leads St. Joe Victory

St. Joseph's High School downed St. Maria Goretti 57-53 in Blue Ridge Basketball League action here Sunday afternoon.

The victory was the local team's second over St. Maria this year and marks the first time in 14 years St. Joe's has ever beaten the Hagerstown five.

Roy Adelsberger again led St. Joe's with 22 points. Rich Williams added 15 and George Hemler had 10.

The following day at the Mount, St. Joseph's was again victorious as Roy Adelsberger set a County record of 51 points, as the Trojans defeated Mount Carmel of Baltimore, 87-64. Adelsberger tallied 23 field goals on 34 shots. Roy's 31 points in the second half and the 23 field goals were also records as he enjoyed his finest hour in his young basketball career.

The two wins made the Trojans record 13 wins against six losses for the year. Road games with Wilde Lake and St. James of Hagerstown, will be played over the weekend to close out the regular schedule.

St. Joseph's will compete in the St. Anselm Invitational Tourney over the first weekend in March.

School Budget Hearing Feb. 21

Staff members will present the Fiscal 1974 school budget to the school board at a public meeting on Wednesday, February 21. The meeting will be held at Parkway Elementary School beginning at 8 p.m.

This will be the first detailed look at next year's budget for board members and public. Staff sources have indicated that a number of "priorities" will be proposed including: improved staffing, staff training and a secondary reading program. Also priorities are being prepared in the areas of additional equipment and materials of instruction, elementary reading, vocational education and special education.

Presentation of the budgets for maintenance, operations, pupil services, and administration will also be on the agenda. Costs of the recently negotiated teacher benefit package will be given a public airing for the first time at this meeting.

Local school officials are urging the public to be present. "To effectively influence a public agency, you have to influence its budget," is the way one official put it.

VFW Ambulance January Report

Members of the Emmitsburg VFW Ambulance Corps responded to twenty-one calls during the month of January. Fourteen calls were of emergency nature. Twenty-one patients were conveyed in the vehicle with a total of 828 miles traveled. Fifty-two man hours were used by ambulance personnel with transports to Anne Warner Hospital, Gettysburg; Frederick Memorial Hospital, Brooklane Hospital, Hagerstown; Hershey Hospital, Baltimore; St. Agnes Medical Center; and Providence Hospital, Washington, D. C.

Success is merely a matter of getting what you want — happiness is wanting what you get.

sightseers. Events included hayrides and Siberian huskie sled dogs belonging to Warren Keefe of Rocky Ridge. In spite of the scarcity of snow the dogs ran every half hour, delighting the assembled crowds.

The heated gymnasium at Sabillasville school offered demonstrations, displays, and movies. Among these were all types of winter gear for the sportsman, a demonstration by members of the Potomac Valley Fly Fishermen's Association of how a fly is tied and a life-like display of animals and birds, provided by Albert Stone's taxidermy art.

John Topper, of Emmitsburg, was the winner of a snowmobile in a drawing sponsored by the CMTC.

Churches Sponsor Key '73 Activities

As one expression of our local participation in Key '73, the nationwide evangelism emphasis in 1973, the Parish Education Committee of the Emmitsburg Council of Churches has worked out several study and/or discussion series for the year.

The first is a Bible Study series on Luke-Acts, which has been prepared and will be led by the Rev. Sylvester Taggart, C.M., Instructor in Scripture and Theology at the Provincial House. Except for the first night, the time of presentation will coincide with the Week Day Church School on Thursday evenings at Elias Lutheran Church. The first study was held on Tuesday, Feb. 6.

Time and topics of the study periods remaining are:

Thursday, Feb. 15, 7 p.m., St. Luke, Man of Compassion; Thurs., Feb. 22, 7 p.m.: St. Luke, "Communionist"; Thursday, Mar. 1, 7 p.m.: St. Luke and the Exaltation of Women; and Thursday, Mar. 8, 7 p.m.: St. Luke, Biographer of the Holy Spirit.

The second series will center on a topic close to all of us: Family Relationships. It will be led by Mr. David Neun of Mt. St. Mary's College and others. Beginning on Wednesday, Mar. 14, 8 p.m., this group will meet at St. Joseph's High School. Details later.

Beginning May 3, Pastor Fearer is to lead us in a third study series, this time on the book of Job, a five or six week presentation.

Series four will be presented in October-November. This is an excellent opportunity to enjoy together a study of some Biblical material in the light of contemporary needs. We hope you will come; we'd like every community church to be well represented.

Form New Softball League

At a meeting last Sunday at the Emmitsburg Fire Hall, five teams were represented to form a new fast pitch softball league in the county. Those represented were Freeman Shoe, Myers Radio and TV, and GM of Emmitsburg; the Thurmont Bombers, and Frederick. It was stated that several other teams are interested.

Any teams interested in joining the league must be represented at the next meeting on February 25, at 1:30 p.m. in the Emmitsburg Fire Hall. Officers will be elected at this meeting.

Little League Meeting Feb. 25

A meeting of the Emmitsburg Little League will be held on Sunday, February 25, at 1:30 p.m. in the VFW Annex.

All managers, coaches, officers and interested persons are urged to attend to make plans for the 1973 season.

Only a portion of the unemployment.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

A Review Of Silver
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., February 15, 1973—Reflecting increased industrial demand and a decline in warehouse stocks, silver prices moved higher throughout 1972. With the domestic economy likely to heat up further, consumption may well post another increase this year and widen the consumption-production gap. Moreover, continued turmoil on international money markets could stimulate speculative demand. With warehouse stocks still on the decline, the outlook favors additional price gains as 1973 unfolds.

Downslide In Prices Reversed
After reaching an all-time high of $2.56½ in mid-1968, the New York silver price (as published daily by Handy & Harman) fell sharply until mid-1969. Prices then moved more or less sideways until the decline was resumed in 1971. After falling below $1.30 an ounce in late 1971, the lowest level since 1963, prices began to move higher. As the economy picked up and demand for silver increased, the price continued to improve and by the end of last year had made its way back to near $2.00 an ounce.

Demand Up In 1972
Handy & Harman, in its latest annual review of the silver market, estimates that industrial consumption of silver in the United States was up about 10% over the 1971 level. Almost all major categories registered an increase last year. While the electrical and electronic category showed the largest gain, other segments chalking up a good increase were photography (the largest consuming category), sterling ware, and commemorative and collector arts. The latter category has registered significant gains in recent years.

New Output In Slight Dip
Contrary to demand, new production of U. S. silver dropped off somewhat last year. Again, according to Handy & Harman, U. S. production receded to 38 million ounces in 1972 compared with 41.6 million in 1971. Thus, while domestic consumption was up about 10% last year, output was off almost 9%. On a worldwide basis, total industrial consumption rose about 6%, while consumption for coinage increased from 27.3 million ounces to 40.5 million. Thus, total world silver consumption (excluding communist-dominated areas) was up approximately 9%. On the other hand, new output (also excluding communist-dominated areas) dropped off some 2% last year.

There are, of course, other supplies of silver such as demonetized coins, speculative holdings, salvage, and fairly large quantities in the form of religious and artistic articles. So, although the last of the weekly auctions by GSA ended in November 1970, other sources of silver are available. There is, of course, always the question of how much of this other silver will be on the market at any given price.

Higher Prices This Year
With industrial activity likely to quicken further in the current year, domestic demand for silver will probably rise again in 1973. This will keep upward pressure on silver prices over coming months.

If the international monetary situation fails to stabilize, speculative demand may also rise, lending further support to the higher price trend. Longer term, the price trend, supported by the production-consumption gap, appears almost certain to move higher. The price level at any specific time, however, will depend on a great many variables, especially speculative demand and psychological attitude.

At the present time, the Research Department of Babson's Reports is maintaining a hold position on both Hecla Mining and Sunshine Mining, two leading domestic silver producers that should benefit from the higher price for silver. Last year's results for Sunshine Mining, and to a lesser extent for Hecla, were adversely affected by the disastrous fire which closed down Sunshine Mine operations for a number of months. Limited work at the mine has now been resumed.

Tax Law Change

Fewer Maryland and District of Columbia taxpayers will have to file a tax return this year, Mr. William W. Waters, District Director of Internal Revenue for Maryland and the District of Columbia, said recently.

Mr. Waters pointed out that recent tax law changes have increased the income levels required for filing a return.

Now, a single person under 65 years of age with a gross income of less than $2,050 for the year does not have to file a return. This applies to minors and students, Mr. Waters noted.

No return is required from anyone 65 or older unless the gross income was $2,800 or more. Married couples living together and filing a joint return do not have to file unless their combined gross income is $2,800 or more, or $3,550 if one is 65 or older, or $4,300 if both are 65 or older.

However, even when the income is under these limits, taxpayers should file a return to get a refund of any income tax withheld from salaries or wages, Mr. Waters said.

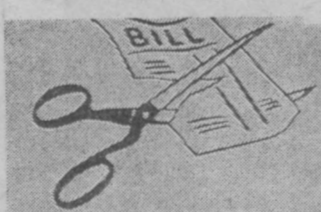

"Their prices are so reasonable... I covered the walls and ceiling, too!"

CYO Reports Membership Growth

At a meeting of the St. Joseph's Parish Catholic Youth Organization last Sunday night, Father Joseph Sannino, Moderator, announced that the membership is steadily increasing, as more and more of the parish teen-agers are registering with this increasingly active group. He also announced that the Constitution was being rewritten, and that the CYO has entered a team in the Teen Center Basketball League.

Several committees reported on the activities planned for February and March. The Social Action Committee reported that a profit of $25.00 had been made on the Cake Sale held after the Masses on the previous Sunday, and that an invitation had been accepted to paint the headquarters of a local civic club, in the near future. The Social Committee reported that a Valentine Hop will be held on Thursday, February 15, in St. Euphemia's Parish Hall, on DePaul Street. The Athletic Committee, in addition to forming and sponsoring the basketball team, is in the process of forming a Volleyball League of mixed teams of seven persons per team. It will be an intra-organization league, with games scheduled to begin before the end of February. Games are to be played on Monday and Friday evenings at 7:00.

The Education Committee reported that plans are completed for the CYO to attend a snowing of a special film, at the Majestic Theatre in Gettysburg. The film, "Time to Run," is a Christian motion picture about young Americans' troubles. The date set for the CYO to attend is February 21. The organization has secured advance tickets, to be sold by members at 50c each, with the CYO absorbing the balance of the cost. Members unable to attend will be held responsible for their tickets.

Finally, the Spiritual Committee reported that they will contact the pastor to arrange, if possible, a group Mass at 10:00 A.M. on Sunday, February 25. The meeting closed with a period of social activity.

Encourage Creativity
 We read of the creative periods of history when the Greeks and Romans were developing in the arts, sciences, and humanities. Could this era of creativity ever be rivaled by the youth of today? Creative young people are with us today, but unfortunately many of them are spending their energies on developing new forms of rebellion, rather than creative ventures. There are many reasons for a lack of emphasis on ingenuity and creativity. The society in which we live places restrictions and limitations on the amount of individual divergent behavior which can take place, and misplaced emphasis on sex has caused young people to seek very narrow and limited vocations and interests. Boys and girls are restricted to certain activities and only recently have girls been encouraged to pursue the sciences, once considered an exclusive field for men. Our society is very time oriented, and most activities are regulated by the clock. Speed is emphasized so much that skills which take time to perform are replaced by a time saving device. What commissioner today would wait for Michelangelo to complete a wall painting? We don't seem to have the time for creativity. There is a trend toward emphasizing what appears to be rather than what actually is. A reproduction or simulation is just as "good" as an original. Even though present society seems to be punishing creativity, we should not accept the status quo. We must still encourage our youth to be unique, creative, and sensitive. It takes a person of courage to be a true nonconformist. A person who has original and inventive ideas, faces a world of rejection much more than the average conformist individual. There are pressures from the family, friends, and all of society for people to be normal or average, and the pressures are often so severe that they become controls. Restrictions on curiosity and creativity stifle so much that the qualities tend to disappear. A child between the ages of 4 and 5 years has been found to be most creative in his thinking, understanding, and expressing. Upon entering school, his level of creativity begins to decline. By the time he is in the fifth grade, he insists on conforming. What qualities should we encourage in our youngsters? What does contribute to creativity? Young people should be permitted to explore and try things for themselves. They must make mistakes and take risks. Discovery has to be a part of their daily life. Being told everything is sure to stifle responsibility and originality. Every activity must not be a win or lose situation. There have to be times when any answer or solution is correct. Success-oriented experiences can make youngsters feel unsure of themselves and unwilling to try anything new. Most of all, we have to provide an environment where there is freedom with security and acceptance. When children experiment with freedom, they need to know that there will be understanding and not rejection if mistakes are made. Qualities of creativity are a part of every youngster. Each one just needs a garden in which to bloom. Does your home provide the soil, air and sunshine that he needs?

Fr. Groppi Speaks On Human Rights

Father James Groppi, a Roman Catholic priest from Milwaukee who is famous for his criticism of society and the church, will speak at Gettysburg College, Friday, February 16, at 11 a.m. in the Student Union. The title of Groppi's lecture is "Civil Rights and Human Rights — The Movement Today." He is a graduate of St. Lawrence and St. Francis Seminaries in Wisconsin and served as a member of a pastoral team at St. Boniface Church in Milwaukee for seven years. He is currently with St. Michael's Church in Milwaukee. Groppi is a strong believer in the "effectiveness of confrontation" and has demonstrated, marched and organized boycotts and strikes in support of numerous civil and human rights causes. He has been arrested and jailed several times with relation to these and other events. The Groppi lecture, sponsored by the Gettysburg College Lecture Committee, is free and open to the public.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
 More Gillelan (Gilliland) Notes
 "God of fathers, known of old—
 Lord of our farflung battle line—Beneath whose awful hand we hold Dominion over palm and pine—Lord God of Hosts be with us yet, Lest we forget—let us forget!"

Notes taken from the Gillelan (Gillelan) Family Bible, at one time in possession of the late Miss Ella Gillelan, of Gettysburg, Pa., throw a great deal of light on the background of this pioneer family. In due course this source will be given in full.

William (2) Gilliland, son of John (1) and Jane Gilliland, served his country in the War of the American Revolution. His fate was somewhat different from that of his brother, John (2) Gilliland, who apparently—at some time or other during the course of that conflict—gave his life for the cause in which he believed and never returned to his home on the frontier.

William (2) Gilliland survived the hardship of the Revolution and lived to the "ripe, old age" of 79 years. His obituary states that "His youthful ardor was identified by the spirit of '76. He felt for a Soldier of the Revolution, assisted to maintain its rights, and secure its liberty and independence. He served as a Justice of the Peace for many years, was in the State Legislature, and Associate Judge. He was a member of the Presbyterian Church (Great Conewago) and his burial was in the old churchyard at Hunters-town."

John (3) Gilliland is interested in the Great Conewago Presbyterian churchyard, at Hunters-town, Pennsylvania, & his grave marker is still in place. The graves of his two wives are undoubtedly in the same burial ground but the stones at their graves have long since disappeared.

John (3) Gilliland married for the second time. The second wife was Margaret McCurdy and she died November 25, 1848.

William (2) Gilliland and his first wife, Catharine (Fleming) Gilliland, had seven sons—as follows:

1. John (3) Gilliland—born May 2, 1778—died April 7, 1831—married, first, on May 21, 1807, to Elizabeth McIlvain. She died July 11, 1808 (childbirth). On May 9, 1816, John (3) Gilliland married for the second time. The second wife was Margaret McCurdy and she died November 25, 1848.

Filmstrips, Slides, and Films Now Available For Loan

Filmstrips, slides, and short subject films in the collection of the Carroll/Frederick Audio-Visual Cooperative will be available for loan to teen-aged and adult clubs, church groups, and other organizations beginning February 20. Questions or requests for these materials should be taken to the Cooperative office, 520 N. Market St., Frederick, or to any Carroll or Frederick County Public Library.

According to Edward Cessna, director of the Cooperative, the collection currently contains 84 programs and new programs are being added constantly. "The American Indian: A Study in Depth," "African Art and Culture," "Family Planning Today," "The Shape of Modern China," "Mostly Poor," "Papier Mache," "The Wisdom of Wilderness," "Man and His Gods: An Inquiry Into the Nature of Religion"; and "Vincent Van Gogh", are but a few of the many programs available. The Cooperative also has a limited number of filmstrip projectors, slide projectors and cassette players available for use with these audiovisual programs.

Materials catalogs will be available to aid patrons in selecting materials to meet the needs of their organizations. Mr. Cessna urges that borrowers place materials reservations at least 10 days prior to the use date. Such advance reservations will help insure satisfactory service. Patrons will pick up and return materials and equipment at the Cooperative office or their nearest Carroll or Frederick County Public Library.

tion individuals responsible for planning their organizations' programs should contact the Cooperative office, 662-6221, or their nearest public library.

Senator Beall Assumes Key Role

Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md.) has assumed a high policy-making role in maritime affairs as the ranking Republican on the Merchant Marine Subcommittee of the Senate Commerce Committee.

The assignment places Senator Beall in a key position to act on many of the issues of shipping and foreign trade that will be taken up by the 83rd Congress.

"Because we are a trading nation, I look upon our merchant marine as a vital component of the American economy—but one that is ailing and needs attention," said Senator Beall.

"Moreover, in view of the essential role of the Port of Baltimore in our state's economy, I also regard this as a key position for a Marylander," the senator said.

"The Port of Baltimore serves industries and provides jobs that reach far beyond the waterfront. The port is the terminus of a vast transportation, agricultural and industrial system that encompasses all of Maryland and reaches out to Pittsburgh, Cleveland, Chicago and other trade centers.

"The shipping activity of the port also promotes the ship - building, drydock and other related industries, which are an important part of the local economy," the senator said.

Senator Beall noted that the timing of his assignment on the Merchant Marine Subcommittee coincides with loss of another prominent Maryland voice in maritime affairs.

"The retirement of Maryland Congressman Edward A. Garmatz, who was chairman of the House Merchant Marine and Fisheries Committee since 1966, has ended our state's hold on a powerful position.

"In light of what has happened, I am extremely grateful to have been able to attain the ranking position on the Merchant Marine Subcommittee of the Senate," said Senator Beall.

Personal magnetism would be a mighty high priced commodity if it could be bought and sold.

WORD QUIZ!

What's the meaning of this "comsat," "counterculture," "cyborg"? Compiling these and other modern words was no mean achievement for the makers of a new dictionary.

If your present dictionary does not enter these terms, you probably need a new, up-to-date one, such as the Second College Edition of Webster's New World Dictionary.

COMSAT: any of various communications satellites for relaying microwave transmissions, as of telephone, television . . .

COUNTERCULTURE: the culture of many young people of the 1960's and 1970's manifested by a life style that is opposed to the prevailing culture.

CYBORG: a hypothetical human being modified for life in a nonearth environment by the substitution of artificial organs and other body parts.

These and thousands of other modern expressions are found in this volume that is as good as its word. The only dictionary of its kind published in the 1970's, it contains a complete array of words, definitions, pronunciations, derivations and illustrations.

well have been observing the militant atheism in some of today's youth generation, when he wrote: "A little philosophy inclines men's minds to atheism, but depth in philosophy bringeth men's minds about—to religion. I bequeath my soul to God. . . my body to be buried obscurely."
Shakespeare wrote in his King Henry VI play: "God be praised, that to believing souls gives light in darkness, comfort in despair." John Milton wrote: "Dissolve me into ecstasies, and bring all Heaven before mine eyes." And John Bunyan, who wrote Pilgrim's Progress, wrote in 1678: "The first string that the musician usually touches is the bass, when he intends to put all in tune. God also plays upon this string first, with Himself."
American Founders
George Washington was a believer: "Almighty God," he beseeched in his inaugural address, "we make our earnest prayer that Thou wilt keep the United States in Thy Holy protection." Amen! Abraham Lincoln said: "It is difficult to make a man miserable while he feels he is worthy of himself and claims kindred to the great God who made him. . .
Without assistance of that Divine Being I cannot succeed.
With that assistance I cannot fail."
Thomas Jefferson left behind one of the great truths of all times: "The God who gave us life, gave us liberty at the same time." No political system grants freedom; our American system protects our God-given individual freedom.
Where in the Socialist-Communist world does that happen? Nowhere.
Yes, we need to remind those of little faith in our society today—both old and young—to hark back into the history of this unique nation (and the world) and see how the great minds viewed God. Above all, we need to build reverence for the Bible; for the greatest minds and the greatest spirits shine out in the pages of this immortal document which forms the basis of mankind's heritage.
Get these facts to a youngster, please. They can save his life and change his world for the better.

"Youth is a wonderful thing; what a crime to waste it on children." (George Bernard Shaw)
