I hope that many of you will take the time to really read some of the articles in this week's paper, especially those dealing with recent town commissioners' meetings and the up-coming elections.

There have been changes recently in the eligibility requirements for those persons wishing to run for town office, but in talking to folks around town I find that they haven't taken the time or effort to find out what the changes are and what they mean.

There is also some planning afoot with regard to parking areas in different parts of the town. Now, before new laws and regulations are formally adopted, it is the time to make your opinion known to the men you have elected to take care of such things.

With spring coming up soon it is time for the fathers to gear up to implement their plan of improving the sidewalks in town. Although some work in this area was done last summer, there are still many areas where it is just down right dangerous to walk on the "sidewalks".

For those parents and teenagers who still have not heard about the new drug Quaalude that is causing a considerable problem in this and other areas I suggest you do a little research. School officials in a neighboring town have found it necessary to cancel all class field trips for fear that a student may become ill from an overdose of this or some other drug while away from competent medical facilities.

Several people expressed their surprise over learning from this and other papers that Emmitsburg has a sizeable drug problem. Maybe too many of us are playing "ostrich" with our heads in the sand so as not to see what we don't care to see. I understand that the local police have booklets available on the drug problem which they are more than happy to distribute to area parents and other interested persons.

There has been a lot of discussion during the past week about the resort development that is supposed to be built near here. Most folks seem to feel that although there may be some problem with utilities and such, a development of this sort could do a great deal to aid the economy of our area and to help it grow within the rural setting that most of us would like to preserve.

For those of us who get a little discouraged about higher taxes, drug addiction, etc., and all the other problems that seem to beset our country there is a cheering note. According to the folks that keep track of all those statistics, about 400,000 people come to this country each year from other nations. Maybe those of us who are "native born" have gotten so used to the many good things about this nation that we have become like the man who couldn't see the forest for the trees.

Last week's column was barely in print when Hanoi announced it would resume the release of American prisoners. This is one time that I really don't mind being wrong. All is quiet on the Vietnamese front—well, almost. The sounds of guns and bombs has generally subsided and a cease-fire declared. The American people are happy over the war's outcome, a Gallup Poll has revealed. Eighty percent of those surveyed expressed satisfaction and relief that a peace agreement has been signed; 68 percent felt that the President was right in stating that "Peace with honor" had been achieved and even though most of those interviewed (70 percent) think North Vietnam will try another take-over of the South in the future, 79 percent would oppose ever (Continued On Page Eight)

P&Z Prepares Land Use Plan

The Town Planning and Zoning Commission held their regular monthly meeting with Al Musselman, Planning Consultant also present.

A comprehensive plan prepared by the Frederick County Planning Commission was reviewed. It was noted that this was only a temporary guide line to aid in development until Emmitsburg adopts its own comprehensive plan. Cecil Stultz appeared before the Commission for advisement concerning a lot off DePaul Street with regard to subdivision regulations. It was noted that accessibility to the lot did not conform with subdivision regulations, therefore, it could not be subdivided unless proper access could be found.

The capacity of the sewer and water plants was discussed at length in order to plan for additional development in the town. County Consultant Allen Musselman instructed the Commission to study the various zoning districts in Emmitsburg in order to begin a land use plan for the town. This will be on the agenda for the next meeting.

One Jailed; Eight Others Ticketed

Eight drivers received traffic summons from Officer Fuss during the past week and one man was jailed after being stopped for a traffic violation.

About 12:30 a.m. on March 3, Officer Fuss apprehended Harold C. Garmong, II, of Smithsburg for exceeding the posted speed limit. Officer Fuss then found that Mr. Garmong was unlawfully transporting a handgun in a vehicle for which offense Mr. Garmong was taken to the Frederick County Jail.

Those charged with speeding were: Ben B. Barnett, Rockville, Md.; Randy G. Draper, Lantz, Md.; George M. Parsells, Harrisburg, Pa.; Bradley A. Redding, Gettysburg, Pa.; and Nancy B. O'Brien, Emmitsburg. Fines for these offenses range from $15 to $35.

Others charged with vehicle violations were: Ronald L. Cogdill, Silver Springs, Md., for displaying tags issued to another vehicle, and Daniel Wetzel, Fairfield, Pa., for operating an unsafe vehicle.

Mt. Grad Among Released POW's

A Mount Saint Mary's College graduate was among 106 American Prisoners of War who were returned on three U.S. hospital planes from Hanoi to Clark Air Force base in the Philippines on Monday. Major Bernard L. Talley, Jr., 33, son of Mr. and Mrs. Bernard L. Talley, Baltimore, a 1962 graduate of the Mount, who was in a North Vietnam prison camp for six and a half years, was among the second shipment of POW's to be released since the cease fire.

He was listed as missing in action for three years until 1969 when one of the few prisoners to secure early release had his name on a prisoner of war list. Telegrams of congratulations from the Mount have been forwarded by Dr. John J. Dillon, college president, and Gary Fry, president of the college student government.

In his telegram Dr. Dillon said: "The faculty, students and administration here at Mount Saint Mary's College join at expressing delight at the happy news your son will at last be on the way home from life in a Vietnam Prisoner of War camp. Mountaineers all over the country will, I am sure, share in your joy too."

Annual Bazaar Here Saturday

The annual St. Joseph's High School Bazaar will be held this Saturday, March 10, from 1 p.m. to 7 p.m. in the high school in Emmitsburg.

A barbecue chicken dinner will be the big feature of the day with serving starting at 2:00 p.m. The dinner will include 1/2 barbecue chicken, potato salad, baked beans, roll, cake, coffee or lemonade for only $1.50.

As in the past, many prizes will be given away and games will be played including the game you like to play. There will also be handicrafts, plants, home baked goods, parcel posts, white elephants and arts and crafts for sale and on exhibit. This year pizza will be added to the list of available items.

PTA officers and members look to the Bazaar as an opportunity for the adults and young people interested in the school to spend an afternoon together in a pleasant, entertaining atmosphere. At the same time, they hope that through a community working together, the financial success of the Bazaar will be assured and that new and needed equipment for the school will become a reality.

Co-chairmen of the bazaar for this year are Mrs. George Danner and Mrs. William Muir. They and many others have been working hard to assure that this is a most enjoyable and successful event; even the best bazaar ever. So don't forget, this Saturday, starting at 1 p.m. at St. Joseph's High School for an enjoyable afternoon.

There will be ample free time for visits to museums, art galleries, shopping, sightseeing and dining at New York's famous bistros. A co-incident bonus feature of the weekend will be the once-a-year opportunity to view one of New York's most famous attractions, the St. Patrick's Day parade on Fifth Avenue.

The tour group will leave St. Joseph College on Friday, March 16, at noon, and travel by bus to the Hotel Empire at Lincoln Center, headquarters for the weekend. They will leave at 6 p.m. Sunday for the return trip to Emmitsburg.

April 24 Set As Election Day; 1 Commissioner To Be Elected

The Burgess and Commissioners held their regular monthly meeting Monday evening in the Town Office. April 24, 1973, was set as Election Day for the Town. One Commissioner will be elected to serve a three-year term.

Commission President E. Eugene Myers has stated that he intends to run for another term; his seat is the only vacancy which will occur on the Commission.

Councilmen are paid $20 for each regular meeting and $10 for special meetings. Voter registration for the up-coming election is now open. Persons wishing to file for the office may do so between March 20 and April 13. (See official notice elsewhere in this issue.)

The town is concerned over water supplies and sewage facilities in regard to potential developments planned for this area. Commissioners J. Norman Flax and Sterling Goulden were appointed to look into a possible evaluation study of the town's water supply sources and system. The last such survey was conducted in 1965.

Mrs. Valli Ryan inquired about beautification effort in the town and the establishment of an "Historical Homes" group. Mr. Ernest Shriver, Chairman of the Planning and Zoning Commission, noted that such efforts were now under consideration.

City streets and parking problems were discussed at some length. Chief Filler suggested that parking meter fines be raised to $2.00; but no action was taken. The Commission did approve a motion to purchase 23 new nickel and dime parking meters out of revenue sharing funds.

State Highway Administration employees will look into the feasibility of removing the "hump" from the middle of East Main Street. Discussion was held on the advisability and legality of designating areas on East Main Street and South Seton Avenue as no parking. The town will ask the state for no parking signs for portions of S. Seton Ave. and that part of East Main be painted red "no parking" areas.

A school board inquiry as to the probable population increase affecting the new middle school had indicated the students from some 31 new homes in the corporation and a potential 20 units in the 3-D Subdivision could be expected. The Commissioners also discussed water lines for Waynesboro and Tract Roads; street lighting, and a Blue Cross Insurance program for town employees. The Commissioners authorized the Town Clerk to accept police summons collateral and decided to look into expansion of the town's park land and to start phase two of the town recreation program.

A special meeting of the Burgess and Commissioners was held at 8 p.m., Feb. 12, with all present except Commissioner Myers who was ill. The salaries of police and town employees was discussed at length, after which the following pay scale was approved: Police Chief Filler, $7,800 yearly; Patrolman Fuss, $7,200 yearly; Clarence Orndorff, $3.40 hourly; Mart Stouter, $2.75 hourly; Charles Andrew, $2.55 hourly; Regina Rybikowsky, $82.00 weekly.

It was decided not to purchase an additional parcel of land which had been offered to the town by Monocacy Valley Realty, since the ground was not adjacent to the present watershed and the majority of the land lies on the south side of College Mountain.

Ronald Fearer, April 4 at the Presbyterian Church, The Man at the Gate; and Rev. John Chatlos, April 11 at Trinity Church, Paul.

The sessions begin at 8:00 p.m. and are open to the public. At each service an offering will be taken to help further the work of the Emmitsburg Council of Churches.

Taxpayers Ask IRS

Q. May a commercial tax preparer sell information he obtains from a person's tax return?
A. No. It is a misdemeanor for any person engaged in the business of preparing tax returns, or providing services in connection with such a business or for any person who receives compensation for filing out a return to disclose Federal tax return information or use it for any purpose other than to assist in preparing the return. Violations may be punished with a $1,000 fine or a year in prison or both.

Q. Why does this year's tax return ask taxpayers how many of their dependents filed returns or did not live with them at the end of 1972?
A. To distribute revenue sharing funds properly to States, counties, townships, and municipalities, the Federal Government must know how many people live in each place. Tax returns can count much of the population, but the Government must subtract from this amount anyone who should be counted somewhere else. That is the purpose of this question.

Remember that dependent students who were away at school on Dec. 31, 1972, but who live with you when not at school, are to be considered as living with you at year's end.

Q. I operate my own business. Do you have a booklet that will help me fill out my business tax returns?
A. Yes. IRS Publication 334, the 1973 "Tax Guide for Small Business," provides detailed information on tax matters that may arise in setting up, operating, or disposing of a business, whether it is a sole proprietorship, partnership, or corporation. The booklet is available for 75 cents at IRS offices, U. S. Government Printing Office bookstores and some post offices throughout the country.

Q. Last year I paid $15 to have my tax return prepared. Can I deduct this amount on my 1972 income tax return?
A. Yes. If you itemize your deductions, you may deduct expenses for tax counsel and assistance.

Q. I earned more than $10,000 last year. Will the IRS still figure out my tax for me?
A. Yes. If your adjusted gross income is $20,000 or less and consists only of wages or salaries and tips, dividends, interest, pensions, and annuities, the IRS will be glad to compute your tax at your request. However, you must take the standard deduction instead of itemizing your deductions, fill in certain lines, and file your return by April 16, to have the IRS do the figuring for you. Be sure to read the instructions that come with the Forms 1040 and 1040A as to the lines that have to be completed.

Q. My tax return asks a question about foreign bank accounts. I don't have one. Do I still have to answer the question?
A. Yes. Just check the box marked "no" if during the year you had no interest or authority over a bank or other financial account in another country. Persons who did have foreign bank accounts during the year must complete and attach to their return IRS Form 4683. Use the order blank on the back of your tax forms package to obtain a copy.

Confiscated Drugs Bill Introduced

State Senators Edward P. Thomas (R - Fred-Car.) and Charles H. Smelser (D-Fred-Car.) have introduced bills in the Maryland General Assembly that would give the State Police control over all hard narcotics confiscated by any police department in the state.

The Western Maryland Senators are co-sponsors of legislation currently being considered by the Judicial Proceedings Committee of the upper chamber.

The recent disappearance of some 1,560 bags of heroin from the Baltimore City Police Department prompted the proposal.

The State Police would have the authority, under the bill, to store dangerous drugs between the period of confiscation and subsequent court proceedings as well as transportation of the narcotics to and from the courtroom.

Last month it was revealed that some 1,250 bags of heroin was missing from the city police property room following its use as evidence in a trial. Two tactical section patrolmen were suspended in connection with the missing narcotics.

It also was reported that another 309 bags of heroin had disappeared from the property room from an unrelated case.

Perspectives In Learning By H. Brown

Beware Of Reading "Experts"
There are so many articles being published today about reading and the educational process that parents must learn how to read the articles with a discriminating attitude. If not, it would be easy to become overly alarmed by the sensational or depressing facts that are often presented.

Almost any popular magazine or periodical that you find has an article about what parents should be doing to help their children with reading problems. The topics of the articles vary as does the emphasis but the theme is usually one of concern that someone is not doing his part in the educational process. Whether or not this is true is not the major concern. Parents must not be unnecessarily alarmed by the articles but instead must learn to read these articles with certain questions in mind.

Some "who, what and why" questions should be asked as each article is being read. The first question to consider is who is writing the article. Many so called "experts" write about topics about which they have little knowledge or understanding. A journalist for a popular magazine may be an excellent writer, but an absolute amateur in the educational field of reading.

Be sure to consider what the background of the author is. A writer of education articles should be more than a mere reporter of studies of research projects. There should be some concern to determine if the author is an active educator, teacher, college professor, a reading specialist, or a journalist.

Sometimes an author reports a piece of research and then indicates action which should be taken as a result of the research. When this is the case, be sure to find what number of people were involved in the study. A research project involving a group of ten students certainly isn't enough supportive evidence to prove the merit of a certain program or approach.

A school system or special project may want to promote its program, techniques or materials and will therefore present statistical proof of the success of the program.

Rep. Byron Answers Questions

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

What Federal help is available to a community that wants to establish a small public park?

There are two Department of Housing & Urban Development programs designed to assist State and local communities in acquiring land for urban parks or creating parks from land they already possess. Through the Open Space Land program, HUD grants can help communities acquire, preserve and develop open space land for permanent public benefit and use. Grants to assist in public ownership are available through the Urban Beautification and Improvement program.

Do you have any of those comic books left that inform young children of the dangers of accidental poisonings?
Yes. "Dennis the Menace Takes A Poke At Poison" is available from my Washington office and is a good vehicle by which to teach the message of caution to young children.

Has the government ever checked into advertising claims by pet food manufacturers?
The Federal Trade Commission (FTC) recently ordered several makers of pet food to furnish documentation for certain advertising claims as part of its continuing program to determine what substantiation exists to support major claims.

What are the current legal penalties for heroin "pushers"?
For unlawful distribution of heroin, and for possession, with intent to distribute, if a first offense, the Federal penalties are imprisonment up to 15 years and/or a $25,000 maximum fine. An adult giving heroin to a minor is subject to imprisonment for up to 30 years for a first offense and 45 years for subsequent offenses and/or a fine twice that otherwise authorized.

I recently received in the mail a bill for joining a club I never heard of. I later found out that it wasn't an invoice but a deceptive gimmick to get a contribution out of me. Can't something be done about this kind of thing?
Several months ago the Postal Service ordered that all such mail must state on the envelope—"This is not a bill". On the bill itself the following words must also appear: "This is a solicitation; You are under no obligation to pay unless you accept this offer".

Coffee breaks are supposed to build up the workers, but end in a rub-down for the boss.

NOTICE
After selling Schell's seeds for the past forty years we have now changed to Burpee seeds in bulk and all sizes of package seeds.
The reason for the change to Burpee seeds is that after sixty - two years in business the Schell Seed House has discontinued operations.
We had enjoyed a very fine relationship with the Schell family and we hope that with Burpee seeds we will be able to serve our customers with the same service and a good selection of seeds and garden supplies as we have in the past.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Mills, Mass., March 1, 1973—While we are not yet very far into 1973, it looks as though it would turn out to be the third year of strong production and sales for the auto industry, with a good profit performance as well. The upslant in industry sales was started a couple of years ago by several favorable government actions, and then intensified by the economic rebound following the auto strike and the business slump of 1970.

This year the possibility of labor dislocations again looms since contracts are expiring. A prolonged or massive stoppage of operations due to a strike would, of course, have an adverse effect on 1973 results. Apart from this, however, prospects are bright. Sales are extremely high and output appears destined to post a sizable year-to-year increase. Demand is expected to remain heavy, aided by the generally improving business climate. The most recent devaluation of the dollar and the subsequent revaluations of some foreign currencies can be viewed as positive factors for domestic auto makers.

1972 Sales Sparkled
During calendar 1972 U. S. dealers sold a record-smashing total of 9.3 million domestic-make new cars. This volume, in fact, surpassed the previous all-time sales peak of 8.8 million in 1965. 1972's sales, moreover, were further swollen by some imports specifically manufactured for the American market.

As a result of the excellent sales activity of 1972, the industry went into 1973 with one of the lowest inventory positions in several years. Thus the stage had been set for full-scale output in the initial months of the current year. Output for the first quarter, in fact, is expected to mark a 16% gain over the year-earlier period.

Tactics May Change
In recent months the industry has had several mini-strikes, i.e., small walkouts of short duration at one plant or at a few plants. This is a different tactic from the historically larger and vaster disputes that could paralyze an entire company. These mini-strikes do, of course, restrain production and hurt earnings. It has been suggested recently that when the main contracts with the United Auto Workers run out next September, the union will not resort to a massive strike such as in 1970. Whether this proves true remains to be seen. However, it has been shown by previous experience that a big or protracted strike not only retards the financial progress of a firm but also drains union coffers to the point where sizable borrowings are necessary.

The UAW, according to the Department of Labor, has an estimated 670,250 auto workers involved in upcoming contract renewals. In addition, other UAW workers are faced with contract expirations in several related industries during the year. To date, there has been little indication of what labor will demand when the deadline nears.

Optimism Cited
In addition to the favorable factors cited, there are other plus elements in the present outlook for the auto industry. These include the weakening market share of imports, the proliferation of high-profit-margin optional equipment on most new cars, and the increases in personal income helping to sustain a high level of automotive demand. Also, the rise in used-car prices tends to attract buyers to the new-car arena because of higher trade-in allowances. Traditionally, the level of used-car prices has influenced new-car sales.

The Research Department of Babson's Reports expects several other factors to be instrumental in making 1973 another fine auto year. These will be climbing costs for old-car repairs, stiffening state and governmental regulations and an increase in the annual scrapage rate which is now close to 7 million units. Furthermore, the number of autos on the highways has been constantly growing, with no indication of a reversal in the foreseeable future.

Author Michael Harrington To Lecture At Gettysburg Friday

Michael Harrington, best-selling author and controversial spokesman on social issues, will speak Friday, March 9, at 11 a.m. in the Student Union at Gettysburg College. Harrington's recent book, "Socialism," is a best seller, as was another of his books, "The Other America." His urgently phrased perceptions such as "the invisible poor" have become a part of today's social reform vocabulary. He was born in St. Louis in 1928, educated at Holy Cross, Yale and the University of Chicago. His social work at the Catholic Worker House in New York led to studies of American industry, social alienation and institutionalized poverty. Harrington was one of the featured speakers for the 'Symposium 70' program held at the Gettysburg campus three years ago. His March 9 lecture, sponsored by the Gettysburg College Lecture Committee, will be free and open to the public.

Increased GI Bill Entitlements

Free GI Bill entitlement for high school dropouts and marginal graduates is bringing more "educationally disadvantaged" back to classrooms, a Veterans Administration report reveals.

Mr. George A. Davis, Director of the Baltimore VA Regional Office disclosed that more than 20,000 veterans were drawing "unearned" GI educational benefits by attending high school and college preparatory courses.

Veterans who have completed a tour of military service normally earn enough GI Bill entitlement to complete four years of college, Mr. Davis explained. Those who need extra work to qualify for college can receive extra months of GI Bill allowances while taking the preparatory work and still have four years of educational benefits remaining for college, he said.

Enrollment in such courses in November—normally the peak month—was up 36 per cent over the 1971 mark to a total of 21,300. A total of 125,000 have used the program since it was authorized in 1967.

The 125,000 figure includes 70,000 veterans and servicemen who completed up to 11 years of schooling, and 55,000 high school graduates who lacked prerequisites for higher education.

While 125,000 educationally disadvantaged persons trained under free entitlement, another 282,000 trainees who failed to complete high school used VA education benefits to attend vocational and trade schools, or take correspondence courses and on-job training. Veterans and servicemen are considered educationally disadvantaged, Mr. Davis explained, if they were high school dropouts, or have not earned a general development equivalency certificate. High school graduates who need remedial or refresher courses to qualify for higher education also are eligible for free entitlement.

GI Bill allowances for educationally disadvantaged trainees and college students are the same. The rate is $220 or month for single full-time trainees, with proportionately higher rates for trainees with dependents. However, free entitlement training is not charged against education benefits earned in military service. Veterans and servicemen earn education benefits after at least 181 days on active duty, any part of it after January 31, 1955. Veterans discharged because of service-connected injuries are eligible, regardless of length of service.

Mr. Davis urged servicemen interested in education benefits, including free entitlement, to contact base education officers. Veterans should contact the nearest VA office, or representatives of local veterans service organizations.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program

Understanding Free Enterprise

The Administrative head of the public school system of the State of Arizona believes that the free enterprise economic system is the best mechanism known to man for bringing about human well-being and progress. He is Superintendent W. P. Shofstall. About 18 months ago he found that many adult school patrons agreed with his estimate of the value of the free enterprise system. He found that some public school teachers agreed and some didn't. He found that the high school students of Arizona were uncertain; they simply didn't know much about their system.

He stirred up interest in the fact that the school children didn't know; and in June, 1971, the Arizona legislature enacted a law requiring every high school student to have a semester course in "the essentials and benefits of the free enterprise system." We reported this news in last week's column. In this column we wish to cite some results of the test given 3,000 Arizona high school students after they had taken the new free enterprise course. The results generally were excellent, showing that the youngsters had been taught and had accepted most of the basic facts about the free enterprise system and now reject the falsehoods about the socialist system used in Socialist and Communist countries.

Encouraging Scores
In examining the results I would say that this group of 3,000 young people know more facts about their economic system than do most adults in America. They answered 100 questions based on the substance of the course. On 91 questions a plurality of the 3,000 youngsters gave the correct answers; the plurality sometimes represented only 30 per cent of the 3,000; thus 70 per cent chose one of the three wrong answers provided in each of about 10 questions, and nearly 50 per cent chose one of three wrong answers in each of about 15 questions.

On some of the basic free enterprise answers were given by 85, 77, 82, 78, 76, 84, and other such high percentages of the 3,000 students. The test results demonstrate,

I think, that the teaching of economic facts at the high school level can be successful, but that one semester is not enough; there should be some economic education each junior and senior high school year, in my opinion.

Facts About "Capitalists"
The test results reveal that forces outside the schools are competing for the minds of our children. This was demonstrated in the wrong answers to the last four questions in the Arizona tests. Socialist and Communist propaganda has created in America a widespread belief that free enterprise "capitalists" in business and industry are ruthlessly raking off huge profits while exploiting their employees. Some of this tommyrot has infected the minds of our people, especially our young people.

Here are the last four questions and the percentages (at the left) on the answers given:

97. The money cost of manufactured products to the consumer is divided (approximately on the average) as follows:

- 9.4% a) 20% Labor 80% Capitalists
- 30.4% b) 40% Labor 60% Capitalists
- 28.0% c) 60% Labor 40% Capitalists
- 20.2% d) 80% Labor 20% Capitalists (correct)

98. The net profit in a large and efficiently managed national chain grocery store is approximately (on the average):

- 15.8% a) Two percent (correct)
- 25.9% b) Ten per cent
- 27.6% c) Twenty-five per cent
- 19.3% d) Forty per cent

99. The net profit in a large and efficiently managed national chain department store is approximately (on the average):

- 16.4% a) Five per cent (correct)
- 24.4% b) Fifteen per cent
- 29.5% c) Thirty per cent
- 17.0% d) Sixty per cent

100. The average investment of money necessary to provide a job for one employee in Arizona is:

40.7% a) $10,000
24.6% b) $20,000
11.5% c) $40,000 (correct)
11.4% d) $80,000
The Arizona project (and legislative law) is a great step forward in education. The 20 American citizenship mini-courses being developed in our joint project with Oklahoma Christian College offer a still wider approach to our educational responsibility in the schools of America. Every state should follow Arizona's example; and next September our minicourses will be available for year-round studies in junior and senior high schools throughout the Nation.

Sincerity is a great virtue rarely exhibited and seldom appreciated.

The wise man doesn't expect to find life worth living; he makes it that way.

What joy and triumph, after all, to be sincerely honored by the ones we loved

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK On Into Maryland "Let me keep Lent, Let me not kneel and pray, Forego some trifle every day. Fast—and take Sacrament— And then Let thou to slander, hold ancient grudge, deny The very Lord whom I would glorify.

"Let me keep Lent, Let my heart grow in grace, Let thy light shine till my illumined face Will be a testament Read by all men That hate is buried, self-crucified—newborn The spirit that shall rise on Easter morn."

What made the Scotch—so to speak—a migratory people? The lure of the far horizon—the fact that the "grass looked greener on the other side of the fence"? The historian could cite these and many other reasons and still remain within the framework of historical accuracy. Undoubtedly—for each and every individual—the motive varied. "To each his own" and the Scot was expert in keeping his own counsel. From generation to generation the march went on and the result of this seeking was the nation as it is today.

It would be almost impossible to give an example of this restlessness as embodied any one family. A single unit—the basic—but apparently there were many minds with but a single thought. When conditions—to their way of thinking—became to crowded—they moved on and—in due time—established a new outpost in the wilderness. All this leads up to the question as to why a member of the Gilliland (Gillelan) family saw fit to leave an established and prosperous settlement where his family enjoyed excellent status—both civil and churchy—and emigrate into Frederick County, Maryland, is not known—definitely. According to a family tradition this member of the clan had trouble with the Session of the Great Conewago Presbyterian church and refused to submit to its authority? If this be true then he was not the first or the last Presbyterian to defy that august body.

In order that this matter of the church authority might be fully understood—as it existed in the early settlements as the frontier was pushed back—an explanation is in order. In many instances the church officials considered themselves not only the arbitrators of the ecclesiastical law but the civil as well. New England did not hold a monopoly in the matter of Scarlet Letters. A man or woman could be brought before the Session on any number of charges and their decision as to innocence or guilt was final—that is—if the culprit wished to remain a member of the church. Many refused to submit to the authority of the church—as the old records prove and the result was to move on or establish a new meeting house. If the Gillelan family became residents of Frederick County because of church matters—they were merely one of many. As stated before this is family tradition and must be accepted as such. It will be noted, however, that the Gillilands of Maryland are members of the Lutheran church and this rather lends credence to the fact that for some reason or other they had no desire to place themselves under the authority of the Presbyterian session—as they could easily have done by transferring their membership to the Tom's Creek Presbyterian church.

It must be stressed, however, that membership in the Lutheran church could have been brought about by intermarriage. William Gilliland married Magdalen Hockenbush, and the latter family was staunch followers of Martin Luther beginning with the founding of the Tom's Creek Lutheran (now Elias) congregation on Tom's Creek in 1757.

One guess is as good as another! The fact remains that the Gilliland clan were true pioneers and good settlers. Along with others of their kind they played an outstanding part in laying the foundations of America. Now to return to the listing of the members of the Gilliland family who are interred in Great Conewago Presbyterian churchyard—in marked graves. 14. Samuel Gilliland—Died September 16, 1812—Aged 65 years, 11 months, and 10 days. 15. Eleanor Vance Gilliland—wife of Samuel Gilliland—died June 21, 1811—Aged 45 years. 16. Sarah Gilliland—wife of Samuel Gilliland—died October 1, 1867—aged 50 years, 8 months, and 20 days. 17. William Fleming Gilliland—Died July 9, 1816—aged 51 years. There are graves of members of the Gilliland clan at Great Conewago that are now unmarked. Time and vandals have taken their toll here. At the "Vines" in the Presbyterian section of that old churchyard, are the graves of John (1) and Jane Gilliland, the pioneer ancestors of the family in this country. As stated before the name Gilliland (the original spelling as contained in the early records) can be given in various ways. Apparently when they emigrated into Maryland they dropped the "d". This poses somewhat of a problem for in the old Tom's Creek Presbyterian churchyard—cut on a small stone—the only marked grave in a fair-sized lot—the name is spelled "Gilliland". The notes pertaining to the Gilliland family will be continued next week.

Anti - Pollution Bill Introduced Rep. Goodloe Byron has announced that he will join with Rep. Lawrence Williams (R-Pa.) in introducing a bi-partisan anti-pollution measure in the House this week. Specifically, the proposed bill would give businesses a tax incentive to promote the construction of power-producing facilities which would use waste products to generate their power. Byron said such facilities would help to conserve dwindling supplies of natural gas and oil and would also help to reduce the pollution of the environment caused by commercial and domestic refuse. He noted that an experimental incinerator in Sweden is successfully using waste products to generate electrical power for 25,000 people. "In view of all the talk about an energy crisis this method would seem a constructive alternative in conserving our natural energy resources," Byron concluded.

Famous Yugoslavian Chamber Orchestra To Perform At Gettysburg

The world-famous Chamber orchestra from Yugoslavia, I Solisti di Zagreb, will play Sunday, March 11, at 8 p.m. in Christ Chapel at Gettysburg College. I Solisti returns to the United States for the tenth time under the management of S. Hurok. Since their last visit a year ago, the ensemble has toured throughout Europe and South America, appeared in regular broadcast over Radio Zagreb and made a film with violinist Henryk Szeryng for distribution throughout Europe. Prime favorites in England, France, Switzerland, Holland, Belgium and Italy, the Solisti was founded by Radio Zagreb in 1954, its members being hand-picked to represent the finest in Yugoslavian string playing. After two years of intensive training the ensemble reached international fame at Salzburg and Dubrovnik Festivals of 1956.

Acclaimed by the "London Daily Telegraph" as "One glorious-sounding instrument," their beautiful ensemble playing and their unstinting dedication to music-making has gained I Solisti di Zagreb the reputation as peer of any chamber orchestra within memory. The program, sponsored by the Performing Arts Committee of Gettysburg College, is free and open to the public.

New Softball Officially Formed

A new fastpitch softball league, with teams from several areas of the county, has been formed.

The league, which is called the "Northern Maryland Fastpitch Softball League," was officially formed Feb. 25 at a league meeting at the Emmitsburg Fire Hall.

Representatives from five teams attended that meeting and several other teams have also shown interest in joining the league, according to league secretary Clarence Hagelin, Jr.

The teams at the meeting included three from Emmitsburg; the Emmitsburg Patriots, Freeman Shoe Co. and General Motors; the Thurmont Bombers and Tyeryars of Frederick.

Representatives of two other teams, one from Frederick and another from Fort Ritchie, did not attend the meeting but indicated by telephone they would be interested in joining.

Hagelin said that since the meeting three other teams, one from Frederick, one from Westminster and another from the Northern end of the county, have shown an interest in becoming members.

According to Hagelin the league will be tightly run and bylaws were drawn up at the first meeting.

An umpires association, headed by Jack Hoke, was also formed for the league.

Games will be played on Sunday, Wednesday and Thursday, with the weekday games starting at 6:30 p.m. and the Sunday games at 6 p.m.

Eugene Myers was elected temporary president of the organization with Austin Wood as temporary vice president.

Anyone interested in becoming a permanent officer of the league should attend the next meeting scheduled for Sunday, March 11 at 2 p.m., at the Emmitsburg Fire Hall.

Steal Sign From Senior's Center

Does anyone ever view with pride the sign that was made and hung outside the Senior Citizens Club to point to the center housed inside? Those days are gone but not forever. Is it gone with the wind or did someone clever in spite and glee give it a whack? Does it lie in the dust in some alley, grim, all broken and "busted"? It is hoped that in shame the thief will either return the sign or furnish a new one.

Tuesday evening, March 20, at 7 p.m., the regular monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club will be held at the Center. Come early—7 p.m.

At the present time the Senior Citizens are in the shoe business, with a collection of womens and childrens shoes on sale—all brand new and at a reasonable price.

VFW AMBULANCE

The following person were transported this week to the Warner Hospital, Gettysburg, in the VFW ambulance. Steven Hankey, R1; Mrs. Gertrude Overholzer, Conshohocken, Pa.; and Mrs. Glen Ohler, East Main St. Mrs. Millie Willhide, R2, Thurmont, was taken to the Frederick Memorial Hospital and Mrs. Ruth Shorb was removed from the Warner Hospital to her home, Emmitsburg R1, in the vehicle. Drivers were Larry Little, Charles Champlain, Sam Cool, Jim Kittinger, and Paul Humerick.

Much of what has been regarded as "senility" in older persons actually is treatable mental illness that can be greatly improved with greater involvement in daily activities—including their own care.

VFW Auxiliary Holds Social

The regular meeting of the Ladies Auxiliary to Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, was held on Thursday, March 1, with president, Judy Larsen presiding. Prior to the meeting a covered dish social was held. There were 32 members present.

The names of Anna Mae Topper, Mary Knott Topper, Judy Lingg, Florence Knott, Betty Wivell, Carol Eiker and Susan Keepers Sanders, were submitted for membership. The ladies were all voted into the organization.

A motion was made and passed to purchase a sword for the local majorette group. Discussion was held on visiting the elderly sisters at the Provincial House. Many of the ladies were interested, so arrangements will be made to do this on a date suitable to the sisters.

A motion was made and passed to secure films on self-examination for breast cancer, and cervical cancer. The date for this will be announced later and it will be open to the interested ladies of the community.

The announcement was made that one of the men whose P.O.W. bracelet was being worn by a member, has returned home. No word has been received on the others.

The treasurer's report was then given. Refreshments for the next month will be served by Maxine Keilholtz and Helen Sanders.

Florence Hobbs' name was called for the door prize, but she was not present.

There being no further business, the meeting adjourned.

Publish Article By Dr. Seess

Dr. Thomas J. Seess, an assistant professor of political science at Mount Saint Mary's College, has written an article that will appear in the spring issue of the Howard Law Journal of Howard University.

The article is entitled "Federal Power to Protect 14th Amendment Rights from Private Interference: The Emerging Consensus" and deals with Congress' expansion of its own powers to deal with actions by private individuals that violate 14th Amendment rights, and the Supreme Court's apparent willingness to support that expansion of power.

Dr. Seess joined the Mount Saint Mary's faculty last September after teaching for nine years at Saint Joseph College in Emmitsburg. He is a member of the American Political Science Association, and the American Association of University Professors, as well as Pi Sigma Alpha, the national political science honor society.

Local Girl Scouts Announce Visit Art Exhibit

Girl Scout Troop 405 went to Saint Joseph College's Bruto Gallery, recently. They went there to meet Mrs. Irene Jungwirth and see her paintings. She talked to the troop about being creative and told us about how she became a professional artist, and how we must learn what our special talent is and how to develop it. She told us her special technique for painting is her colors—they are hand-ground in egg yolk to achieve the fine detail and glazes. She told some history of some of her paintings.

The girls who went were: Jody Van Brakle, Cecile Hewitt, Betty Eyer, Brenda Cool, Linda Wormley, Tammy Devilliss, Lori Hawk, Bev Koontz, Pam Bushman, Pam Shriver, Darby Topper, Diane Swartz, Theresa Stouter, Becky Green, Laura Sanders, Diane Stouter, Judy McGraw, Tina Porter, Mrs. Connie Fisher, Barbara McGraw and Millie Eck-enrode.

At the next meeting the group discussed the paintings they saw. Everyone told about their favorite. After this we discussed the trips we will be taking in the next two months and Mrs. Fisher gave everyone a schedule. We will be going bowling, roller skating, attending a puppet show, plus the trip to Washington and one to the Port of Baltimore. Barb McGraw suggested we do something for the girls on their birthdays.

The girls decided to have a cake the second Tuesday of every month and send a card to the girls having birthdays during that month. Jody Van Brakle suggested a trip to the county home, Green Acres, in Gettysburg. We will go there sometime in the near future.

After this, the girls working on their cooking badge went with Debbie Baker and Barb McGraw to discuss four basic food groups and some balanced menus. Connie Fisher discussed the Sign of the Arrow and the Sign of the Star requirements with the other girls. The meeting was closed with the silent game at 5 p.m.

Lenten Courses Announced

In association with the Emmitsburg Council of Churches, and as one expression of local participation in "Key '73", that nationwide evangelism emphasis, St. Joseph's Church announces a Lenten Course of talks and discussions, with the general title of "The Adolescent and Family Life". The Course will be offered on Wednesday nights in Lent, beginning on March 14, and continuing for five Wednesdays. Each session will begin at 7:30 p.m., in the cafeteria of St. Joseph's High School. The entire program is under the direction of Mr. David Neun, Professor of Theology at St. Joseph College.

The first session will be led by Dr. George Morningstar, of Emmitsburg, who will have as his subject the Advent of Puberty. Dr. Morningstar will discuss the physical and biological processes involved as the child advances to adulthood.

Because this series is offered as a course, it is felt that the greatest benefit will be derived by those who attend every session.
