Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

For those few of you who are as delighted as I am by some of the crazy "weeks" that are constantly being declared by government, organizations, etc., may I call to your attention that last week, April 8-14, was "Earth Week 1973". Now this week has the prodigious title of "National Environmental Education Emphasis Week". Next week, April 23-28, is "School Bus Safety Week."

Before the school bus drivers in the area gang up on me, let me hasten to explain that I am not making fun of "School Bus Safety Week". After having once ridden on a school bus as an adult (and once was enough), I have nothing but the greatest admiration for the patience, fortitude, and skill shown by bus drivers in general. There are very few school bus accidents in this part of the country which says a great deal about our local drivers' skill. May all the children who ride your buses give you one minute of peace and quiet during the week in recognition of your heroic service.

The following letter found its way to me:
Dear Abigail:

Easter is a happy time for most of us, but it can also be quite sad. Especially when we put flowers on the graves of our loved ones only to have them stolen. I wish these people would stop decorating their windows and gardens with our loved ones' flowers.
Mrs. Needy

Hopefully, the person or persons responsible for this type of vandalism will see the above letter and heed its plea.

I understand that our local teen center has been closed for an "indefinite time" because a few of our young people cannot manage to conduct themselves in a proper manner. I personally hope the situation can be resolved, because it is another one of those cases of the many having to pay for the actions of the few.

Spring seems to be really here this week. And spring makes me think of flowers, and that makes me think of the Catoctin Mountain Park. I've heard that the Catoctin Mountain Tourist Council, the Park, and the Frederick County Chamber of Commerce are working together on planning another Spring Weekend in May. It should bring a large group of tourists into the area so all of us should be thinking about how we are going to entertain them. Tourism continues to be one of our biggest industries and offers a good deal of opportunity to local residents. The trick is in figuring out how to take advantage of it.

As I've said before, an election with only one candidate on the ballot does not make for a lot of excitement. However, I've heard rumors here and there of a write-in campaign being staged at the last moment. So all you folks who figure there's no use in going to the polls next Tuesday better get on down there anyway.

For all the children of the area, I wish that the Easter Bunny will bring you as many candies and goodies as your little tummies can hold. For the adults, may we all have a peaceful and happy Easter.

Tack & Togs Shop Opens

A new business has opened in the area. The Gettysburg Tack & Togs Shop, operated by Shirley Davis features English and Western Saddles and Riding Apparel.

The shop is located on the Davis farm, approximately half way between Fairfield and Gettysburg off Route 116. The shop is open Monday, Wednesday, Friday, and Saturday from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. for your shopping convenience.

Gov. Mandel To Address Mt. Grads

The Honorable Marvin Mandel, 56th Governor of Maryland, will deliver the Commencement Address to the 165th graduating class of Mount Saint Mary's when the nation's second oldest Catholic college conducts commencement exercises May 27. He will also be awarded an Honorary Doctor of Laws degree.

Governor Mandel, who became the state's chief executive in 1969 after the resignation of then Vice President-elect, Spiro T. Agnew, was elected to a full four-year term in November, 1970, by the largest margin ever recorded by a Maryland gubernatorial candidate. Since then he has proven himself an energetic and successful leader, receiving Maryland General Assembly approval for 142 of the 150 measures he has proposed.

Among them are some of the most controversial programs to come before any state legislature in recent years. He sponsored, for example, and won passage of, one of the strictest handgun control laws in the nation. He won enactment for a landmark transportation measure which committed Maryland to unifying its transportation system by funding transit systems in the Baltimore metropolitan area and the Maryland suburbs around Washington, D. C. He also succeeded in passing a unique insurance law which combines certain "no fault" features with a State insurance company which will guarantee insurance to Maryland motorists.

The high points of the Governor's 1969 legislative program were eight Constitutional amendments which included reform of the state court system and a major executive department reorganization program that rearranged the government's 243 separate agencies into 12 modern departments, making Maryland one of the few states in the country to enjoy a cabinet system.

Governor Mandel has been named "Man of the Year" by numerous organizations and has been awarded several honorary degrees from institutions as far from Maryland as Yeshiva University in New York, and Xavier University in Cincinnati, Ohio.

CITIZENS OF TOMORROW

This week's Citizens of Tomorrow is 5-year-old Shawn Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. Donald Tyler, Emmitsburg.

SOFTBALL PRACTICE
The C. M. Boy's Softball Team will practice at 2 p.m. this Saturday at the school field. All players and other interested players please be present.

The Chesapeake Bay Blue Crab season is from April 1 to January 1.

Public Meeting On Sixes Bridge Dam Next Friday At CHS

The Corps of Engineers has announced that several public meetings will be held on the Sixes Bridge Dam and Lake Project. The meeting in this area is scheduled for next Friday, April 27, 1973, at 7:30 p.m. at Catoctin High School.

The Potomac River Basin Water Supply, An Interim Report is nearing completion by the Corps of Engineers. The purpose of this report is to respond to the request contained in the 1972 Conference Report on S.4018 "Public Works on Rivers and Harbors" by reformulating the Sixes Bridge and Verona Dam and Lake projects for purposes other than low flow augmentation for water quality. In order to accomplish this, the report evaluates the water tomac River Basin with special emphasis on the Washington Metropolitan Area. It also compares the reformulated Sixes Bridge and Verona projects with alternative water supply concepts to insure that they are still the best first elements of a long-range water supply plan and examines steps which would be needed, in addition to these two projects, to insure continuing adequate water service beyond the time for which they would be sufficient.

In order that the general public may be accorded an opportunity to present their views to the Division Engineer prior to the formulation of his Statement of Findings and Recommendations, three public meetings have been scheduled.

It is hoped that many persons attending the public meetings will already have read the report. After the public meetings, the Division Engineer will formulate his Statement of Findings and Recommendations which will be presented in a subsequent report. The recommendations, according to the Corps of Engineers, will be based not only on the contents of the Summary Report and the views of other concerned agencies, but also on the indicated desires of the public as reflected in the public meetings.

The Corps of Engineers urges all interested parties to be present or represented including representatives of Federal and non-Federal public agencies; agricultural, commercial, industrial, business, transportation, and utilities interests; civic, ecological and environmental, boating, recreation, and fish and wildlife organizations; and all interested or concerned citizens, property owners and other interests.

All parties will be afforded full opportunity to express their views and furnish specific data on matters pertinent to the report, including technical, economic, and ecological and environmental material. Both oral and written statements are encouraged, but in order to insure an accurate record, it is recommended that all important facts and statements be submitted in writing. Written statements may be handed to the presiding officer at the meeting or be mailed to the Corps of Engineers.

It is expected that because of the proximity to Emmitsburg of the proposed Sixes Bridge Dam and Lake, that there will be a large contingent of interested citizens from our area attending the meeting.

Speeders Charged By Officer Fuss

Three area drivers face possible fines of $15.00 each after being charged by Officer James Fuss with speeding. They are Thomas E. Keilholz, John D. Walters, both of Emmitsburg, and George S. Smith of Harrisburg, Pa.

Also cited by Officer Fuss were William R. McNulty, Stuart, Fla., charged with operating a motor vehicle in a negligent manner, and Lawrence M. Faylor, Carlisle, Pa., charged with operating a motor vehicle with no tags, no registration and no driver's license in his possession.

Couple Celebrate 25th Anniversary

The 25th anniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph E. Rodgers, Emmitsburg, was celebrated April 1, with the 11:30 a.m. Mass at St. Joseph's Church being offered for their intentions, followed by a buffet served at the VFW Annex to over 100 guests.

They were married April 3, 1948 by the late Fr. Gerald Curran, C.M.

Mrs. Rodgers is the daughter of Mrs. Rita Filler, Woodboro and the late William H.

Filler. Mr. Rodgers is the son of Mrs. Carrie F. Rodgers, Emmitsburg and the late Thornton W. Rodgers. They have two daughters, Mrs. Wanda Glass and Mrs. Jody Eyer and three grandchildren.

A three-tier cake was cut and served. The guest book and buffet was attended and served by the VFW Auxiliary. The couple was presented a money tree and received many lovely gifts.

Hollinger Joins Top Salesmen In Dist.

John Hollinger, Sperry Ford Sales, Emmitsburg, is one of more than 450 Ford dealers and truck salesmen in Ford Division's Washington sales district to be named a member of Ford Division's exclusive 300-500 Club, an organization of top Ford salesmen who were honored at a dinner at the Shoreham Hotel in Washington, on April 14, for their individual sales success during the 1972 calendar year.

Included among the Washington Ford district 300-500 members are 19 Top Hatters and three 23-year award winners. The Top Hatter Award is the division's highest salesmen award. Approximately 525 of the 27,000 Ford salesmen in the United States were named Top Hatters for 1972. Twenty-three year awards are presented to Ford salesmen who have earned membership every year since the 300-500 Club was founded in 1950.

"Simply to attain true sales success is a difficult task in itself," said James P. Arritt, Ford Division's Washington district sales manager. "To continue making progress over 23 consecutive years is a most demanding achievement."

Mr. Arritt said the purpose of the 300-500 Club is to recognize outstanding salesmen and to highlight automotive sales positions as a "valuable service to the national economy and the local community."

Good advice: Losers should never bet.

Auxiliary Sponsors Dimes Walker

The main business at the March meeting of the Ladies of Brute was selecting a nominating committee for the upcoming election of officers. Serving on the committee will be Lois Hartdagen, Nancy Danner, Alice E. Boyle and Carmen Topper. The meeting was presided over by president Loretta Sprankle in the Knights of Columbus Home, April 9, with fifteen members present.

Nancy Danner, chaplain, reported that a 25th anniversary card had been sent to Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weedon. In other communications, a thank you note was read from Fr. Quirk.

Decorations have been purchased for the Spring Dance to be held on April 28 at the VFW Annex, according to a report from chairman Susan Sanders. Her committee will decorate that afternoon. Tickets are still available from the president.

Donations were approved to the Cancer Fund, the Emmitsburg Senior Baseball League and also to Tim Myers, a member of the Columbian Squires who asked the auxiliary to sponsor him in the March of Dimes Walkathon to be held on April 29.

Gladys Lingg's name was called for the draw prize but was absent. Refreshments will be served at the May meeting by Helen Oster and Dolores Davis. This month's committee was Lois Hartdagen and Betty Lupinski.

The May meeting will be held on the 14th at 8:15 p.m. in the Council Home.

Essay Winners Receive Bonds & Plaques

Divisional I and II winners of the recent Knights of Columbus Essay Contest are pictured as they receive plaques and savings bonds on Wednesday, April 18, for essays written about "What Is America's Biggest Problem and What Is Your Answer?" In the front row (l-r), Thomas Leonard, 3rd place, and Jeffrey Thomson, 1st place winner. The back row includes Regina Womack, 3rd place; Kathy Fitzgerald, 1st place; Mark Cunningham, 2nd place, and Kate Williams, 2nd place. Presenting a savings bond to Jeff Thomson is Thomas Topper, Youth Activities Chairman of Brute Council 1860. Dr. Thomas Leonard was general chairman of the essay contest.

VFW Sponsors Egg Hunt This Sunday; List Some Changes

The annual Easter Egg Hunt, sponsored by Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will take place this Sunday afternoon. Clarence Orndorff, chairman of the hunt, announced that the event will be held at Community Field as usual, and that the children will be divided into age groups in an effort to give all an equal opportunity to find their share. This year the hunt will be open to all children through age nine, none older will be allowed to participate. Should inclement weather prevail, the hunt will be held in the Post Home on the Square.

According to Mr. Orndorff, dozens of eggs will be colored for the hunt, which will get under way promptly at 2 p.m. Many eggs with special markings will be hidden which means that those children finding these eggs will be entitled to a prize, provided they show them to the committee in charge following the hunt.

The event is usually well attended and approximately 500 children from the area are expected to participate.

Elias Church Offers 3 Easter Services

Holy Thursday Services will be held this evening at 7:30 in Elias Lutheran Church. The Sacrament of Holy Communion will be administered with Seminarians David Ernst and Wollom Jensen assisting Pastor Ronald Fearer. The Senior Choir, directed by Mrs. Donald Eyer, will sing, "Thee We Adore".

A Tenebrae Service (or Extinguishing of Lights) will be held Good Friday at 7:30. Sojourner Wallace Shank will sing the "Seven Last Words" as the Gospel account of Jesus' last hours are read.

Three Services have been scheduled for Easter Sunday. An indoor Service will be held at 6:00 a.m. with a brass choir providing special music for the early Easter worshippers. Breakfast will be served following the Service.

A second service will be held at 10:30 a.m. with the Sacrament of Communion being administered. Special music will be provided by the Choirs. The Adult Choir will sing the Introit for Easter Sunday and "Jesus Christ is Risen Today". The children will sing, "Come Ye Children". "The Resurrection is For Now" will be the sermon theme by Pastor Fearer with Seminarians David Ernst and Wollom Jensen serving as Liturgists.

A third Service, with the Sacrament of Holy Communion, will be available at 4:00 Easter Sunday for those unable to attend an earlier Service. Serving as Acolytes and Crossbearers for the Easter Services are Robert Andrew, Julie Eyer, Daniel Fearer, Brenda and Kim Leatherman.

Cubs Hold Drawing At Tuesday Meet

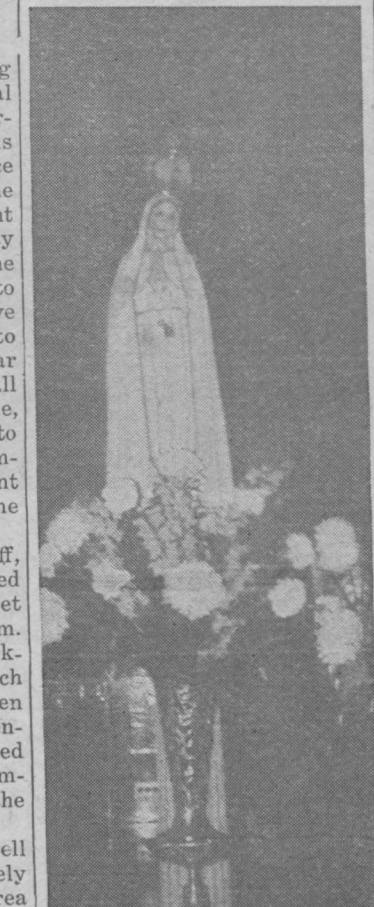

The Cub Scouts held their chance drawing Tuesday evening at the Emmitsburg VFW. More than 250 chance books had been sold by the members of Cub Scout Pack 1060 during the past month. The winners were: First prize ($50), Richard Cool, Emmitsburg; second ($25), Chris Anders, Thurmont; and third, ($10), Guy W. Ohler, Emmitsburg.

The drawing was a part of the Cub Scouts regular monthly Pack meeting. During the meeting Cubmaster Robert M. Preston noted that the profit from the chance drive will subsidize Cub Scout activity in the coming months. In recognition for the Cub Scouts hard work during the chance drive, the Cub Scouts will be treated to a Pizza Party on Easter Monday at 4:30 p.m. at the Ott House, whose owners have frequently helped the Cub Scouts over the last couple of years.

Assistant Cubmaster Thomas Leonard during the Pack meeting expressed the Pack's gratitude to Ms. Muriel Reisinger, who is leaving the area after serving as an exceptional Den Mother during the past year.

Healthy oysters may come in a variety of colors including red, green, brown and yellow.

Our Lady Of Fatima Revisits Community

The International Pilgrim Statue of Our Lady of Fatima was on display at the St. Joseph's Provincial House here on Monday afternoon.

A guard of honor met the statue as it turned from the highway at 1 p.m. The statue was then enthroned in the court yard and was available for viewing there until 4 p.m. At 4 p.m., the statue was carried to the chapel for a Holy Hour which consisted of a special prayer service, homily and Benediction of the Most Blessed Sacrament.

The statue is on a 27-day tour of the Archdiocese of Baltimore. The demand for it has been so great that the program was greatly expanded. Thousands are expected to join in a token of gratitude for peace and to offer prayers for the continuance of peace in the world.

The International Pilgrim Virgins Statue was blessed by the Bishop of Fatima in Portugal in 1947. In 1948 Bishop John O'Hara of Buffalo received the statue in the United States before a crowd estimated at 200,000. During that tour the statue was brought to Emmitsburg for the first time.

The large wooden statue is a likeness of the vision of Fatima as described by Sister Lucy, one of the three children to whom Our Lady appeared on six occasions from May 13 to October 13, 1917, at the Cova da Iria in Portugal.

The statue now touring the archdiocese of Baltimore is accompanied by Franciscan Father Leo Garbiel, a member of the order of Friars Minor Conventual.

Father John King, C.M., pastor of St. Joseph's Catholic Church, delivered the address at the Holy Hour. Father Garbiel explained the purpose of the tour. Special prayers were offered for continued peace in the world.

Prayer Vigil This Friday By Churches

The local Council of Churches has announced that a Prayer Vigil has been scheduled for Good Friday from 9:00 a.m. until 3:00 p.m. This year's Vigil will be held at Elias Lutheran Church.

The following schedule has been arranged with the cooperation of all local congregations: Elias Lutheran Church, 9:00-10:15; Saint Joseph's Catholic Church, 10:15-11:30; Incarnation United Church of Christ, 11:30 - 12:45; United Methodist Church (Tom's Creek and Trinity Methodist), 12:45-2:00; and United Presbyterian Church, 2:00-3:00 p.m.

Though each congregation has a specific portion of the Vigil for prayers and meditation, an invitation has been extended to all persons to spend a few prayerful moments with God on Good Friday. Individuals may come and go as their individual schedules permit.

One Candidate Files For Tuesday's Vote

The Town Election will be held next Tuesday, April 24, 1973. The polls will be open in the Town Office from 12 noon to 7 p.m.

Although a recent change in the town code has deleted the property ownership requirement which caused much local dispute during last year's election, only E. Eugene Myers has officially filed as a candidate. Mr. Myers' Commission's seat is the only vacancy to be filled this year. Mr. Myers has served as President of the Board of Commissioners and as Commissioner of Parks and Recreation during his term in office.

According to Mrs. Regina Rybikowsky, Town Clerk, seven new voters have been added to the list of registrations. Forty-three voters have been removed from the list.

Nearby Resident Is Wary Of Project

Editor, Emmitsburg Chronicle: The Army Corps of Engineers has announced public hearings concerning the proposed Sixes Bridge dam project to be held at Catoctin High School, Thurmont, on Friday, April 27 at 7:30 p.m. The proposed dam site is on the Monocacy River along the Carroll-Frederick County line.

The Corps states that the dam is necessary for water supply for Washington, D. C. and for "recreation". The Corps fails to make clear, however, the tremendous losses to the two counties concerned that will occur if the dam becomes a reality. The Corps is asking for a total of nearly 11,000 acres of land for the reservoir and recreation area. This land is too valuable as an agricultural resource and as a source of tax revenue to the counties to surrender to the Federal Government. Furthermore, the creation of a reservoir along the Monocacy would destroy one of the most historic and scenic areas in Maryland. The loss of the beautiful Monocacy valley to posterity would be a crime.

Property owners who own land within the confines of the proposed reservoir would also suffer. Since government land condemnation teams pay only the appraised value of the land in question, many land owners would suffer severe financial losses if Congress approves the project.

All citizens of Carroll and Frederick Counties will be required to pay higher taxes if the project receives Congressional approval. The Federal Government will pay only a certain percentage of the cost of the project. Part of the cost will have to be born by non-federal agencies. In the case of the Verona reservoir project in Virginia, the non-federal share is over fifty percent of the total cost. Therefore, the taxpayers of Carroll and Frederick Counties will be asked to pay part of the costs of the project while having the amount of taxable land within the counties reduced.

Can Carroll and Frederick Counties afford to subsidize the water using public of Washington at such cost to their own citizens and future scenic and cultural conditions? This question must be answered by each citizen now. If Congress approves the project it will be too late to take action.

Open House Will End Church School

Week-day Church School classes, conducted by the local Council of Churches, will not meet this evening (Holy Thursday). A concluding session will be held next Thursday, April 26 at which time an "Open House" will be held from 7:00 until 8:00 p.m. in Elias Lutheran Church. During the hour, attendance awards will be given to those pupils who have participated in the weekly classes.

An invitation has been extended to all parents and other interested persons to attend the closing program.

During the open house held at the Cozy Bud 'N Vase Shoppe this past weekend, over 1,500 people attended and saw thousands of blooming plants and many arrangements. Ten youngsters won baby rabbits and several ladies won floral door prizes. Refreshments were served to all as well as presenting each lady with a free carnation, courtesy of the Cozy Bud 'N Vase Shoppe.

Easter Dawn Service At Mar-Lu-Ridge

The twenty nine Lutheran Congregations of the Frederick District will hold their annual Easter Dawn Celebration Service on Sunday morning, April 22, at 6 a.m. at the Mar-Lu-Ridge Lutheran Camp and Conference Center Chapel, Jefferson, Md. Young people of the various churches of the District will share in the leadership of the service, at which the District Dean, Dr. Emmanuel J. Hoover, will deliver the meditation on the theme: 'I Believe in the Resurrection.' Miss Christy L. Dyer, Middletown, Organist at the Meyersville Methodist Church, will serve as organist for the service. Greetings will be brought by Mr. Philip J. Brohawn, Director of Mar-Lu-Ridge and Assistant to the President of the Maryland Synod, will bring greetings from the Synod and from Mar-Lu-Ridge, while Mr. G. Carlton Rhoderick IV, a retiring member of the District Cabinet, will bring greetings on behalf of the District and District Cabinet.

Aunt Sarah, I love you.

Remember my 10th birthday, when you gave me that funny piece of green paper and everybody made such a fuss over it. (Except me.) Frankly, it was a pretty disappointing present for a kid. I couldn't eat it, couldn't play with it, couldn't wear it—and Mom took it away from me practically the minute I got it.

And every birthday after that (and Christmas, too), you gave me another one of those Bonds, you called them. I thought you were pretty gooney.

At least, I never had to guess what I was going to get from good old reliable Aunt Sarah.

And what I got was good old reliable U.S. Savings Bonds.

What I didn't realize then was that you gave me a gift of security for the future. Thanks to you and those Bonds, I had extra funds for college. And they helped when I bought my first new car.

Next week, I'm giving my nephew, Harry, his first U.S. Savings Bond. I know the kid is gonna think I'm some kind of nut. But, someday...

Take stock in America.
Now Bonds pay a bonus at maturity.

BUILDING A BETTER WORLD ENGINEERING TO IMPROVE LIVING

One of the nation's most significant engineering accomplishments has just been designated a National Historic Civil Engineering Landmark by the American Society of Civil Engineers.

Marking the 125th Anniversary of its completion in 1848, Roebling's Delaware Aqueduct, between Lackawaxen, Pa., and Minisink, N.Y., was once in the mainstream of American commerce. The bridge was a key structure in achieving low-cost and reliable water transportation of anthracite coal from eastern Pennsylvania to New York City markets for half of the 19th century.

John A. Roebling, father of the modern suspension bridge, is best remembered for his crowning work, the Brooklyn Bridge, built three decades later than this one. But his name would have gone down in history for the Delaware Aqueduct alone, since it is the sole survivor and largest of four suspension aqueducts erected by him between 1847 and 1850 to carry the Delaware and Hudson Canal over rivers.

John Roebling's Delaware Aqueduct structure is the oldest metal strand cable suspension bridge now standing in the United States.

To bring attention to the contributions of the civil engineering profession to our national development, the society began in 1964 to identify and designate historic civil engineering works that were particularly significant and worthy of public notice. Some 30 projects to date have been named as National Historic Civil Engineering Landmarks.

The civil engineering profession has been intimately associated with the development of the United States into the world's leading nation. The transformation of the wilderness into arable land and useful natural resources began in the late 18th century with the buildings of works such as harbors, canals, dams, railroads and highways.

The national historic landmarks program of ASCE is dedicated to preserving the achievements of its predecessors and to focus on the important role civil engineers continue to play in building a better world.

WASHINGTON REPORT FROM SENATOR J. GLENN BEALL JR.

Reshaping Our Trade Policies

American factories and businesses produce more goods than any other nation in the world, and while a great deal of these products go directly to the American consumer, much of our economy and our high standard of living depends on trade with foreign nations.

Because of the tremendous efficiency of our industrial and agricultural industries, and with all other things being equal, we have been able to come out well ahead where trade is concerned.

At least until recently. But now we are finding ourselves blocked from foreign markets by tariffs, border taxes and other non-tariff barriers such as import quotas. And at the same time, we have found more and more foreign imports on our markets—in many cases from nations that have prevented us from competing within their domestic market.

These problems have come into being since the last major international trade agreements of a decade ago, and President Nixon is now asking Congress to act on legislation that would enable the United States to adjust its policies and bring a new balance to international trade.

The first point of the President's program is a request for negotiating authority to eliminate, reduce or increase import taxes on foreign goods for a period of five years.

With this authority at his fingertips, the President would be able to bargain more effectively with other nations that have either been flooding our markets with their products, or have been preventing our goods from being imported and sold at competitive prices in their countries.

He is also asking for the authority to negotiate agreements on non-tariff barriers, such as import quotas, and has proposed a method by which Congress can act swiftly to ratify the agreements.

Another aspect of the trade legislation is the President's request for the discretion to temporarily impose or reduce import restrictions for balance of payments reasons or to restrain inflation.

This stand-by power can be of great value in a world that moves as fast as ours does today, and without this flexibility we might find our hands tied when trying to cope with unexpected events.

And finally, the President has asked for the authority to grant most favored nation status for trade with the Soviet bloc and certain other nations. His proposal would allow Congress to review the policy each year in order to decide on whether it should be extended.

This is an alternative to the so-called Jackson Amendment to prohibit "favored nation" status for the Soviet Union as long as it imposes heavy emigration fees on Jews who are seeking to leave Russia and live in Israel.

I have cosponsored the Jackson Amendment, and I have made it clear that I oppose the taxes being imposed on the Soviet Jews. This will be one of the principal issues to be settled as the trade bill is being considered, and I believe that the Soviet government has become aware of our position and is responding by taking steps to remove most of the emigration taxes.

This legislation also will set the tone for American interests, once the international trade negotiations get underway this year, so I am confident that it will receive prompt and thorough consideration in the weeks ahead.

The bill is an initiative for international free trade, but it is based on the mutual reduction of trade barriers. It says that the United States will open its markets only as long as other nations are willing to open theirs.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
"Now This Family..."

"High over the trees in the windy weather, High in the tower against the sky, Rapturous bells are ringing together: 'Risen! Risen! Risen!' they cry; Sunbeams slant through the chancel olden, Crimson and purple, green and golden: 'The Light of the World is risen today, Out of the night of death!' they say; Altar candles, slender and tall, From glistening deeps of lilies call. And now the organ's voice sonorous, Leads in the resurrection chorus: Christ is risen! Alleluia! Christ is risen from the dead! Alleluia! Alleluia!"

Love has conquered as He said!

Before continuing the historical and genealogical study of the Lutheran church of Emmitsburg and vicinity—a few additional notes pertaining to the Gillelan family, of Pennsylvania and Maryland. In the records of Trinity Lutheran church of Taneytown, of which Elias congregation was a part until 1851, the following items pertaining to the Gillelans (Gillilands) are to be found. It is known that the Gillelans were originally members of the Presbyterian church but—for some reason or other—after emigrating to Frederick County, Maryland, they became members of the Lutheran congregation at Emmitsburg. The Trinity records point out the time of transition—for included among the baptisms is the following: "On June 2, 1832 baptized Eliza Currens and William Gillelan, both adults."

This move took place after William Gillelan's marriage to Magdalena Hockensmith for shortly thereafter the baptism of their son, Jacob William Gillelan, is recorded. As contained in the church records mentioned above—William and Magdalena (Hockensmith) Gillelan were the parents of the following children:

1. Baptized—Jacob William Gillelan, is recorded. As Magdalena Gillelan—born December 19, 1832—baptized March 11, 1833.

2. Baptized—David Gillelan—son of William and Magdalena Gillelan—born May 25, 1834—baptized July 15, 1834.

3. Baptized—Hannah Susan Gillelan—daughter of William and Magdalena Gillelan—born January 7, 1836—baptized February 22, 1836.

4. Baptized—George Thomas Gillelan—son of William and Magdalena Gillelan—born December 5, 1839—baptized January 25, 1840.

5. Baptized—George Lawrence Gillelan—son of William and Magdalena Gillelan—born April 13, 1842—baptized June 4, 1842.

6. Baptized—Adam Sentman Gillelan—son of William and Magdalena (Hockensmith) Gillelan—born November 15, 1846—baptized December 14,

The death rate of children, particularly those under six years of age, was very high in "that day." William and Magdalena Gillelan had "their share of grief" in this respect for in the death records it is recorded:

1. Died, May 24, 1841. George Thomas Gillelan, son of William and Magdalena Gillelan—aged 1 year, 5 mos., and 17 days.

Note: The fourth child and third son of William and Magdalena (Hockensmith) Gillelan—who lived little more than a year. It is not known just where this little boy was interred for his grave marker cannot be found. It is quite possible, however, that he was buried in Elias churchyard, close to the graves of his parents.

2. Died—January 10, 1848—Adam Sentman Gillelan—son of William and Magdalena Gillelan—aged 1 year, 1 mo., and 26 days.

Note: The sixth child and fifth son of William and Magdalena Gillelan, who was probably "a victim of his times." The grave of this child is, too, unknown, but is probably near that of his father, mother, and brothers, in Elias churchyard.

This concludes the notes on the Gillelan family as taken from the records of Trinity Lutheran church of Taneytown, Maryland.

Buried in the middle of Elias churchyard, in the north section, is the Singer family. The inscriptions from the grave markers in this comparatively small plot are as follows:

1. In memory of Samuel Singer, died July 29, 1818, aged 70 years.

Note: Samuel Singer, according to a fairly reliable tradition, was the first of his family to settle in the vicinity of Emmitsburg. He was said to have come from the Monocacy Settlement. Samuel Singer, according to the pension records, was a soldier in the War of the American Revolution. The name of his wife is not known and her grave-stone has long since disappeared. It is known, however, that Samuel Singer was the father of John Singer, who was born in 1779 and who is also interred in Elias churchyard.

2. In memory of John Singer, died March 24, 1849, aged 70 years and 3 months.

3. In memory of Sarah Singer, the wife of John Singer, died January 13, 1893, aged 92 years, 3 months, and 26 days.

4. In memory of Charlotte Hoover, the daughter of John and Sarah Singer, died August 13, 1905, aged 76 years, 4 months, and 14 days.

These notes will be continued next week.

Keeping The FAITH

"Heaven... is not a mere collection of radiant ideas, but a practical, livable world. It should never be forgotten that death is not the end of life, but only one of its most important experiences. . . . Swedenborg makes the future not only conceivable, but desirable."

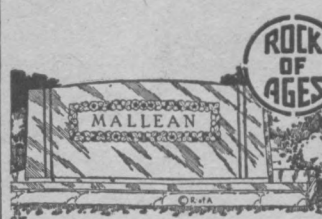

The words are those of the late Helen Keller discussing the theme of the book Heaven and Hell by the 18th century scientist-philosopher-theologian, Emanuel Swedenborg.

Writing further in her book My Religion, Miss Keller stated: "My heart gave a joyous bound. . . . I cannot understand why anyone should fear death. Life here is more cruel than death—life divides and estranges, while death, which at heart is life eternal, reunites. . . . It was as if a light had come where there had been no light before, the intangible world become a shining certainty."

The reaction of Helen Keller to Swedenborg's amazing book Heaven and Hell is typical of the millions who have read it. Now in its 53rd printing, this volume offers a rational explanation to life after death. No one can fail to share some of the delight of Helen Keller when she first read the book in braille, nor emerge from reading it without deepened insights and a new approach to life on this earth and hereafter.

Copies of Heaven and Hell can be obtained by sending $1.25 to the Swedenborg Foundation, Inc., Dept. HH, 139 East 23rd St., New York, N.Y. 10010.

John D. Meyer Realtor

John D. Meyer Realtor, located at 54 North - Center Street in Westminster, phone 848-1777 or 717-359-4000 is a leader in real estate and insurance. They are altogether familiar with all details indispensable to the real estate business. They have developed an acute sense of values through their experience in buying and selling real estate properties. Both city and rural properties are listed for your convenience, and they also have a good selection of income properties and businesses. Knowing what to buy is difficult and can be very costly if not handled the right way. These people are experts and will be glad to expertly counsel you for all your needs.

Their success in the insurance field can be seen by the great number of policies that they have written for so many people in this section. When you wish to buy real estate or insurance the compilers of this 1973 Review advise that you can be assured of personal attention from John D. Meyer Realtor.

Westminster Coca-Cola Bottling Co., Inc.

Coca-Cola is the year round beverage which may be readily seen by the activity of trucks of this up-to-date modern bottling plant. They are seen year round busily conveying this refreshing drink to the many retail establishments. This further proves their slogan, "Coke—It's the Real Thing."

The success of the Coca-Cola Bottling Company has not been accomplished by fad or luck, its business has been built gradually through many years of effort and hard work. Many prefer buying Coca-Cola by the carton. For home use, Coca-Cola goes hand in hand with good things to eat. The writers of this 1973 Town and Country Review take this opportunity to commend the Westminster Coca-

Cola Bottling Co., Inc., at Baltimore Blvd. in Westminster, phone 848-5680, for being such a community minded business and suggest to businessmen that they give them a call for information regarding the profitable vending of Coke in their businesses, and to everyone in general, we remind them to enjoy a bottle of Coke anytime, "It's the Real Thing."

that are by all means some of the best to be had. Many years of service put them in a position to give advice in the selection of implements and tractors most advantageous to the farmer's particular needs. To complete their service to the farmer, Hughes Brothers maintains a department for all kinds of repair work on farm machinery, where they employ expertly trained men who are very capable of taking care of any repair service. No job is too large or too small. The writers of this 1973 Town and Country Review highly recommend this firm to our readers for a plus quality and dependable service.

Leggett Department Store

Conveniently located at Westminster Shopping Center in Westminster, phone 848-1200, this firm bears the name which is both familiar and popular with the people and is a place where you can feel at home while you are shopping. Its friendly atmosphere which predominates at all times has placed this store in an individual class by itself and can well be termed 'Shopping Headquarters for this entire area.' That much discussed word 'SERVICE,' finds true expression in the friendly atmosphere that envelops every customer of this popular store. They feature a wide selection of quality items. Each department is superintended by well trained personnel and the merchandise is well handled so that all goods will be the latest quality that the market affords in style - design, material and quality. This 1973 Review and its editors, suggests that you do business with this reliable firm which has the interest of every customer at heart.

Westminster Corporation

Meeting with universal approval, the products of the Westminster Corporation at 790 E. Baltimore Blvd. in Westminster, phone 848-5600, are going to various parts of the country and have always given best of satisfaction. This fact accounts for their successful business career with an increasing patronage each year. They are manufacturers of Shoes.

They are adequately equipped for the manufacture of these high grade products and are well located with regards to shipping facilities. This enables them to furnish their products on short notice and thus gives the customer the advantage of excellent service. The management has had many years of experience in the distribution of these products, and has opened up channels of trade that were heretofore unknown to local industry. Quick to appreciate the value to the community of this progressive concern the people of this area have always been loyal in their support of this institution which gives the authors of this 1973 Town and Country Review more than adequate reason for making this unconditional recommendation of this manufacturer.

The Sportman's Hall

which are always kept in good condition. They keep their floor clean and at all times maintain order and safety rules for your protection. In this 1973 Town and Country Review, we the drafters, take pleasure in giving honorable mention to the Sportsman's Hall Roller Rink.

Leidy, The Westminster Hide & Tallow Co., Inc.

Over 60 Years of Continuous Service
While it is of the greatest importance that the most strict legal regulation in regard to sanitation is observed, many communities are at a distinct disadvantage in the enforcement of those requirements because they have no industry which is devoted to the conservation of the public health exclusively. In this respect we are fortunate in having Leidy, The Westminster

Hide and Tallow Co., Inc., located off Rt. 140 on Leidy Road in Westminster, phone 848-4242, 739-5382, 876-2161. He pays hard cash prices for farmer's hides, wool, fats, bones, and restaurant grease. You can buy Feed-Mor meal 50% or 55% and stabilized fats. Because of the prompt and satisfactory service which this well known company offers the public in the removal of dead stock and the able and efficient manner in which this enterprise is operated, this concern has won the confidence and the liberal support of the people. No matter how far from town you may live, you need only to phone them and dismiss the matter from your mind. Stockmen throughout this section know the promptness exercised in responding to calls. The crafters of this 1973 Review fully endorse this concern.

Petry's Junk Yard

Paul & Sam Petry - Owners
The Petry's Junk Yard is located at RFD 4, Tannery Road, 1/2 miles south of Westminster. Phone 848-8590. They buy all kinds of scrap metal and material. Scrap metal is worthless to us when it is just cluttering up your yards, basements, attics, garages and business areas. But with little effort it can be converted into dollars in our pockets. It would be wise to take inventory today and gather up all scrap metal and related material and bring it in to the PETRY'S JUNK YARD where it can be put to good use. Almost all metal can be sold as scrap metal, so why not have the money in your pocket, instead of as junk lying around. This firm has a reputation for being fair in all their dealings, so you can be sure that you are doing business with a reliable business firm when you come here. Remember their location for price quotations or any information, call them and they will be glad to assist you. The compilers of this 1973 Town and Country Review suggest you take advantage of the services offered by this trustworthy junk dealer.

Sears Roebuck and Company

The Sears Roebuck and Company in Westminster is well located at Carroll Plaza Shopping Center, phone 848-5900. They are at your service 24 hours a day. Feel free to discuss your particular problems with this detective agency. For dependable and professional work in this field, the compilers of this 1973 Town and Country Review recommends the Carroll Security Detective Agency.

Tower Golf Range

Thelma E. Richards - New Manager, L.P.G.A.
This area is proud to feature the famous Tower Golf Range, driving range. Golf lessons are given by a competent L.P.G.A. instructor, Thelma E. Richards. Practice makes perfect and if you practice here you will add to the enjoyment of your game and will help get 'The Old Golf Score' down where you want it. 'Let's have a game of golf.' There is a phrase that is becoming increasingly popular today. This is understandable when you consider the advantages of golf as a sport.

The Tower Golf Range, located at Rt. 140 in Westminster, phone 848-9773, is known for congeniality of atmosphere. You will notice immediately that there is prevalent a feeling of relaxation, friendliness and pleasure that at once puts you at ease and prepares you for a pleasant game amid the most satisfactory surroundings. We, the planners, are pleased to recommend this community minded golf driving range to our readers of this 1973 Review.

Plea For Objective Reporting

By the time this column is set in type and published, James Keigh probably will have been confirmed by the Senate as the new Director of the United States Information Agency, whose major task is to carry to the nations around the world the true picture of our country, its unique society, its freedom institutions, its achievements and its hopes for the future. Mr. Keigh is a newspaperman with excellent credentials. He is the former Executive Editor of Time Magazine, a former member of President Nixon's speech-writing team, and he has made a distinguished record in many fields of the journalism profession.

He is one of the many top-flight journalists who have recently spoken out against "advocacy" journalism. He made a study of biased reporting and has put much of his research into a book entitled "President Nixon and the Press." Some of his professional colleagues sought to ostracize him, but others applauded his courage in documenting incidents of journalistic bias in news handling by many newsmen "celebrities." Recently he made a speech at a luncheon in the National Press Club hosted by the organization, Accuracy in Media, which has become the spearhead for exposing press bias and for trying to return the profession to objectivity in news handling.

Distortion Recognized

Advocacy journalism, Mr. Keigh said in that speech, "is a very popular concept in the field of journalism — and its popularity has been growing for some years. The reading and viewing public began to sense it — began to realize more and more that the news it gets from the biggest media is too often distorted by the bias of the journalists. It is difficult for a journalist who is deeply involved in the profession to see this. I didn't really see it in its stark outlines until I stepped out of the profession and sat for a while in politics and government."

"(Then) I found that the most important media — the big television networks, the most influential newspapers, the biggest news magazines — tended to reflect the same bias. Their reporting too often showed an obsession with the negative, a left-of-center ideological conformity and a tendency to exaggerate whenever exaggeration suited their point of view."

Citing the "Celebrities" Both in his book and in his speech at the Press Club, Mr. Keigh cited many specific news stories which some major news media had handled with bias. One was the Cambodia incursion in the spring of 1970. "It brought on," he said, "what I called the grand mal for some of the leading publications and network news shows. Their reaction to that story was almost hysterical. A recent case has a considerable similarity. This was the handling of the story about the mining of the harbors of North Vietnam."

"The day that action was announced, the American public watching Eric Sevareid, Charles Collingwood, Marvin Kalb, John Chancellor and others, could only assume that President Nixon had bombed out his forthcoming visit to Moscow and that he had shattered the SALT talks. The New York Times in its comment and its news columns was once again at the head of the fold. The Times expressed the fact that the President's action might 'escalate into a confrontation between the world's two great superpowers' and directly warned about retaliation by the Soviet Union and China."

"News With Points of View? "As in the case of the Cambodia story, this was a reaction that bordered on hysteria. Neither China nor the Soviet Union retaliated. The President's trip to the Soviet Union went on as scheduled and was highly successful, including the signing of the Strategic Arms Limitation (SALT) agreement. Why did so many of the most widely read and heard and seen journalists so seriously mislead the public? Why did they make themselves look so silly in retrospect? They did so because they disagreed with the President's policy and they let their point of view distort their judgment. . . . (And their news handling)."

"What is to be done about this condition of bias at the national level of America journalism? What the journalist must do is to constantly keep in mind that the first duty is to tell the people what is going on, no matter what anyone's opinion might be — particularly his own. . . . How is journalism to be convinced of this need? Only, I believe, if there is enough public discussion of the problem both inside and outside the profession. . . . A solution to the problem is vital not only to the profession of journalism but to the whole nation."

SOUND ADVICE

Understanding Needed

If you have a friend or relative suffering from an unalleviated hearing loss, treat the person with patience and understanding, because the individual is living in a silent, lonely world cut off from much of the communication persons with normal hearing ability take for granted.

This is the advice of the Beltone Crusade for Hearing Conservation. The crusade, sponsored by Chicago-based Beltone Electronics Corporation, world leader in hearing aids and electronic hearing test instruments, is designed to make people aware of the vital need for hearing conservation programs.

People who live in such a silent environment frequently develop side effects that cause alienation between themselves and their associates. These people are under a constant strain to hear and understand what is going on around them. And, people who must communicate with them also are frequently under a similar strain.

It is this mutual strain that perpetuates the belief that the hard of hearing are irritable, crochety and difficult to get along with, the crusade officials point out. Also, statements such as "no-body speaks clearly to me," or "people don't want me to know what they are saying," often are signs that the individual really has a hearing loss.

While it is difficult to simulate a hearing loss, persons with normal hearing ability can gain an insight into the world of the hearing impaired by watching a television set with the sound turned off. At first it is an irritating experience, but it can also become frightening when the viewer realizes he has lost contact with the world.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Railroad Review

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., April 19, 1973—Stimulated by the upswing in economic activity, most of the nation's railroads posted improved earnings last year. While the course of business was a primary reason for the better showing, other factors should not be overlooked. For example, reinstatement of the investment tax credit, which helped most companies in the industry for a good part of 1971, was applicable to all of 1972.

Since the railroads spend large amounts on capital programs, this can be a significant item. Still another factor was the growing importance of non-rail activities. In recent years, many carriers have turned to other fields, either through outside acquisitions and/or development of company-owned assets to broaden their revenue base. In many cases such a trend is becoming increasingly important. Another favorable factor for some lines has been the large grain shipments which arose out of the new trade agreements between this country and the USSR.

Another Good Year In '73
Since most of the elements that enabled the railroad industry to register betterment last year will continue in effect, we look for the rails to chalk up further gains in 1973. Once more, another good rise in real GNP will be the most telling consideration. While real GNP is not expected to advance quite as sharply as in 1972, the climb will still be of substantial size. At the same time, Babson's Reports does not look for any change in the investment tax credit and, as with last year, some lines will benefit from large grain shipments (in this instance during the first half of the year) and further expansion of non-rail activities. In addition, another freight rate hike is possible.

Some Uncertainties

The favorable scenario should not hide the fact that there will be uncertainties this year. For one thing, costs will be on the rise, and this will tend to be a restrictive force on profit margins. And in June contracts must be renegotiated for some 525,000 operating and nonoperating union employees. In this respect, the major railroads and rail unions have tentatively agreed (way in advance) to a 10.7% wage-and-fringe increase over an 18-month period. This is considerably less than the demands originally made by some unions. Even with the favorable 1973 outlook, some lines, particularly in the East, face further deficits this year despite benefits from membership in AMTRAK (which has relieved many lines of the burden of passenger service). On balance, however, further improvement appears likely for many rail lines.

Longer-Term Outlook

Several factors indicate that the railroad industry may be operating in a more favorable atmosphere in the future. For one thing, the total freight transportation load is expected to show significant growth over the next decade, and the Department of Transportation predicts that the load will double by 1985. Also, there are several legislative proposals under study which would be beneficial for the industry. Other positive developments include modernization programs, the possibility of a breakthrough in the antiquated work rules, and further efforts to bring about wider diversification.

Investment Advice

Even though earnings — in many cases — are on the upswing, most of the rail stocks carry low p/e multiples, and many issues are currently selling near their 1972-1973 lows. Despite a more optimistic outlook, we hardly expect investors suddenly to embrace the railroad stocks. We do, however, feel that some of these stocks offer at least modest appreciation possibilities over this year and into the next, and in many cases offer comparatively good income.

The Research Department of Babson's Reports recommends purchase of Burlington Northern and Southern Pacific, currently, and suggests a hold position on the other leading rail stocks.

An adult, without self-control, illustrates the differences between ages when measured by maturity instead of years.

Awards Night Set By K Of C Council

The second meeting of April was held by Brute Council 1860, Knights of Columbus, on Monday evening, April 16, with Grand Knight George L. Danner presiding.

Plans were discussed for the Council to recognize honorary life and honorary members at the second meeting in June, in the Council Home.

Grand Knight Danner announced that the awards recognition night will be held in early July. Members who have worked hard and given their time and efforts for Brute Council and the Knights of Columbus will be recognized.

A cocktail hour, buffet dinner and dance will be held on the occasion. Paul A. Keepers will head the awards segment for the evening and Lawrence Kolb and William Sanders, Jr., will chair the remainder of the program.

Grand Knight Danner appointed a nominating committee for the upcoming elections. William Sanders, Sr., chairman, Eugene R. Rosensteel, Raymond Sanders and Harold Raab, Sr., will serve on the committee. Nominations will be held on May 21 and election of officers will be held on June 4.

Church Activity Chairman, Clyde Eyer, announced that the annual Communion Mass and Breakfast will be held Sunday, May 6 at St. Joseph's Church, Taneytown.

The Mass will be at 8:00 a.m. and not at 8:30 as previously reported. Breakfast will follow in the Parish Hall. Members should return their cards by April 28.

Eugene Rosensteel, Council Activities Director, reminded members that August 19 has been selected for the Council's annual family picnic.

Reservations are now being accepted for the baseball trip to Pittsburgh on June 2. The price is $15 per person and includes bus fare, box seat ticket, sandwiches and beverages on the bus. Clyde Eyer is serving as chairman and may be contacted for tickets.

Eugene Rosensteel also reported that an attempt is being made to hold a district golf tournament in July, depending on the number of members interested. A sign-up sheet will be on the council bulletin board for those who would consider playing in the tournament. Members are asked to sign up soon so arrangements can be made.

A request is being made for members interested in playing softball to contact Grand Knight Danner. This will be a slow pitch team and play would be held locally, mainly for the entertainment and getting together fraternally.

The next council meeting will be May 7 at 8 p.m. in the Council Home.

Catoctin Zoo Birth Increase Keeps Occupancy At "Standing Room Only"

The population explosion is not all bad. Animal births at Catoctin Zoo, Thurmont, to date, have surpassed all expectations, and there is more to come.

Among the births at the Zoo this spring have been 13 Pigmy Goats, African; 6 Persian Lambs, 3 Barbados Sheep, 1 Angora Goat, 4 Hamadryas Baboons, 2 Sykes Monkeys, 2 Ringtail Lemur (twins), 4 Timber Wolves, 5 Indian Wolves and several dozen domestic Bantams, Ducks, Turkeys and rabbits. Additional babies born elsewhere in captivity but now residing at Catoctin, include a Jaguar, 4 African Lion cubs, a Camel, and 2 Indian Elephants.

All this has put a strain on the baby incubator, Mrs. Hahn, wife of the director and "head animal nurse," says at present time there is "standing room only." April 14 was the one year anniversary of the loan of the incubator from the Frederick Memorial Hospital. The Hahn's say it has played a major role in the successful handrearing of baby and sick animals. To date it has housed 1 African Lion kitten, 1 Indian Wolf pup, 3 baby Raccoons, 1 baby Russian Wild Boar, 1 baby Llama, 6 Pigmy Goats, 3 Timber Wolves, 1 Karacul lamb, 1 baby Celebes Crested Ape and 2 young Woolly monkeys.

"With many species of wild animals becoming scarcer in the wild these days, we are very happy to be able to raise as many of our offspring as we do," says Mrs. Hahn, "and our percentage of successes have increased appreciably since we have the incubator."

The Zoo is planning new animal health facilities under Dr. Patel, who recently joined the Zoo staff as veterinarian, including a laboratory for simple diagnostic tests, a general work area, an autopsy surgery room, a quarantine room and a nursery. The Zoo recently received four large quarantine holding cages through the generosity of Moore Business Forms, Thurmont, and Mr. Roland Stenton. Additional tional usable laboratory equipment from baby scales to a portable x-ray machine is needed. Most needed at this time are microscopes, a centrifuge and of course, another incubator.

Bridge over troubled waters.

It's easy to forget that emergencies do happen. And when there is a crisis, you'll need a nest egg to fall back on.

The Payroll Savings Plan is one of the easiest ways to make sure you've got something saved for when you need money fast. When you participate in the Payroll Savings Plan where you work, an amount you designate will be set aside from each paycheck and invested in U.S. Savings Bonds. It's an effortless way to build up a reserve.

And now there's a bonus interest rate on all U.S. Savings Bonds—for E Bonds, 5½% when held to maturity of 5 years, 10 months (4% the first year). That extra ½%, payable as a bonus at maturity, applies to all Bonds issued since June 1, 1970... with a comparable improvement for all older Bonds.

Let's hope there are no troubled waters in your future. But remember, emergencies don't always happen to the other guys.

Bonds are safe. If lost, stolen, or destroyed, we replace them. When needed, they can be cashed at your bank. Tax may be deferred until redemption. And always remember, Bonds are a proud way to save.

Hoke Employees and Families Attend Ringling Brothers Circus In D. C.

On Saturday, April 14, a group of employees from the Hoke Furniture Company of Thurmont, and their families went to see Ringling Brothers Circus at the Coliseum in Washington, D. C. This was the first company sponsored tour of the season. Mrs. Clara May Hoke, Vice President, plans the tours for Hoke employees. She said there will be additional tours throughout the summer months.

Senior Citizens Ready For Spring Bazaar

The regular monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club was held Tuesday, April 17, at 7 o'clock in the Senior Center, with fifty-odd members present. The meeting opened with singing "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," followed by the Lord's Prayer.

President LaRue Harman gave a brief summary of preparations for the annual Spring Festival to be held on Saturday, April 28, in the Fire Hall at ten o'clock. Announcement was made to the effect that the Frederick County Senior Citizens group would hold its Spring Luncheon meeting at the Church of the Brethren, Wednesday, May 2, at 12 noon. The cost is $2.50 each. Individuals planning to attend must call the Center by April 19.

Several members of the club appeared who, due to ill-health had not been in attendance for some time. They were joyfully greeted by all. Mrs. Effie Hoke, Mrs. Frances Stinson and Clarence Frailey were most welcome.

The feature of the evening was the showing of slides from her recent European tour by Sister Anna Mae. The slides were most delightful and together with comments, Sister Anna Mae provided a very interesting program. Some of the places visited were: Nice, Marseilles and Lourdes, France. The slides from the Lourdes Grotto were particularly effective, dealing with the discovery of the healing waters in the Grotto by Bernadette.

Views of the Chartres Cathedral were beautiful as well as from the little Saint Chapelle on the Isle in Paris.

Spain also was included in the trip with stops in Toledo and Madrid where examples of the art of Picasso, Goya and El Greco, were exhibited. The second showing of slides was as beautiful and instructive as the first of the series. Many thanks are due Sister Anna Mae for her generosity in sharing her treasures with the Senior Citizens.

Refreshments were served by LaRue Harman and Loreta Shuff. Birthday members were presented individual birthday cakes. There were thirteen lucky ones.

A bus trip is planned for May 8, to visit Hershey Tulip Gardens, Gene Zimmerman's Automobillorama and other points of interest. The bus will leave Emmitsburg at 8 a.m. and return by 6 p.m. Non-members, $4.50, members, $2.25.

A goodly number have signed up, so if others want to take the tour, sign up or call the Center and give your name and money. "He who hesitates is lost," or doesn't get to go.

Lutherans Plan Spring Supper

Elias Lutheran Church will hold its annual Spring Supper on Saturday, April 28, starting at 3 p.m. in the Parish Hall. Featured on this year's menu will be Baked Ham and Oysters along with green beans, buttered parsley potatoes, stewed tomatoes, sliced peaches, cole slaw, relishes and cake and coffee. The price for adults is only $2.50 and children under 12 only $1.25.

The Community annually looks forward to this affair. Plan now to bring the family and enjoy famous Maryland cooking at its best.

ON NASSAU TRIP

Recently Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Stouter, Emmitsburg, and Mr. and Mrs. David Warthen, Thurmont, flew by Pan Am to Nassau in the Bahamas. While there they toured Paradise Island and the fabulous Casino; strolled through the famous straw markets looking and shopping for the local natives of the village, and at the same time receiving their money in change to bring home as souvenirs. They stayed at the Nassau Beach Hotel for five glorious days and enjoyed the 85 degree weather. After an enjoyable time, they again boarded the Pan Am and arrived at Dulles Airport, having many memories of the wonderful vacation land.

Cook your breakfast in an orange-skin shell. Cut off the top third of an orange and eat the orange with a spoon, leaving some pulp inside. Crack an egg into the orange, set it upright in the coals of your campfire, and in a few minutes you'll have a cooked egg with a deliciously different taste.—Sports Afield.

Seton Ave., were removed from the Warner Hospital; Mr. and Mrs. John Lingg of Emmitsburg were removed from their residence to Littlestown R2, and Kenneth Andrews, Thurmont, was taken to Frederick Memorial Hospital, in the vehicle.

Drivers were Jack Hoke, Jim Kittinger, Charles Champlain, Dave Copenhaver Larry Little, Sam Cool and Mike Boyle.

Zip Column

Another 8c Commemorative stamp will go on sale at our office on Tuesday, April 24, honoring Nicolaus Copernicus.

Nicolaus Copernicus (1473-1543) was an astronomer who viewed the Universe through modern eyes.

Born Mikolaj Kopernik on February 19, 1473, in Torun, Poland, he early Latinized his name to Nicolaus Copernicus.

The U. S. joins a number of nations who are paying postal tribute to this esteemed astronomer on the 500th anniversary of his birth.

His theory that the sun—not the earth—was the central position in the Universe replaced a theory that had been held since the second century. It was later accepted by both Kepler and Galileo.

Just fifty years ago you would have been hard pressed to find a zinnia listed in a seed catalog or featured in a seed display. Today, they are the most popular flowers grown in home gardens.

Zinnias are a shining example of how modern breeding techniques and careful hybridizing by man has transformed a lanky, wild-looking desert flower into a desirable garden plant with spectacular giant-size blooms.

Most popular of all zinnias are the Giant Cactus Flowered class, producing blooms that measure up to 6 in. across. The quilled petals give them the name. Next in popularity among the giants are the Dahlia-Flowered class, with wide, flat petals forming a rounded flower head up to five inches across.

Almost as popular as the giants are the little dwarf zinnias. Among these is Thumbelina—a gold medal All-American Winner—which grows no taller than 8 in. and puts out its first blooms when only 3 in. high.

Perhaps the most amazing breeding achievement among zinnias is the Peter Pan class. Growing just 12 in. high, they have large dahlia-type flowers measuring up to 3 in. across on bushy, compact plants. They are at their best as a border planting or in a massed bed.

Zinnias have few demands, except a sunny location. The seed is easy to handle, and is best direct-sown straight into the garden after danger of frost. The taller kinds like to be cut, and make magnificent indoor arrangements in a lovely range of colors from gleaming white through yellow and orange to red and purple.

THE WORD is CONTROL

By Ralph Rhea

Every man who drives a race car is aware of what the slightest little slip can mean when he is speeding toward victory at over 200 miles an hour. Our everyday emotions pose a similar threat. When the emotions of anger or frustration cause us to act haphazardly instead of using the necessary control learned from experience, we may go into a spin from which we cannot recover, and we may lose that particular race. We need strength to participate in the race of life, but without self-control we handicap ourselves enormously. Food Price War Has Many Fronts

How I wish that Will Rogers were alive today so that he could revise his famous saying that all he knew was what he read in the papers. Because a lot of us have known for a long time what the papers and magazines are now concentrating on—that food prices are going up and up and up. I could have told them this from my own trips to the grocery store and also from the great volume of mail I have been receiving.

A postcard from a woman in Kingsville, Maryland really summed it all up. It began "HELP," and it continued, "we housewives want some control over the spiraling cost of meat. There are six in my family. Have you been to the market lately?"

Yes, I have been to the market lately and I know exactly what she is talking about.

The solutions aren't easy, however, because our food bills are subject to pressures from around the world.

I know that American farmers have been doing one of the world's greatest jobs of producing more food for less input of manpower and expense. It is a miracle of productivity. But, against this higher productivity we have to measure some of the adverse factors.

For example, the basic instrument of farming is land and in almost every part of the United States the price of land is very much higher than it was even ten years ago. The cost of machinery is up; taxes on land and machinery are up.

Also, the cost of feed for livestock is up, and in this case there is a special factor. Feed is usually in the form of grain and there is a world-wide grain shortage. Russia, India and China all face grain shortages.

This means that world-wide grain prices are up, independent of what kind of controls we may impose within the United States.

Consider this, the same pound of steak costing $1.69 in America costs $1.89 in London and $2.79 in Rome. This means that the meat producer in the United States, in the Argentine or in Canada, has a choice of markets in which he is going to sell, and a chance to make a greater profit by sending his meat to Europe than he does selling it in the United States. The devaluation of the dollar and the fluctuating monetary exchange in the world are further impetus to this particular movement in our economy.

The government is already moving. The President has put a ceiling on meat prices. He has also recommended to the Congress that we phase out farm subsidies, and I have been for this for years. One of the results of this will be to release millions of acres of land for increased production and I think this is right.

These corrective measures are going to take time. Meanwhile, we will need the concentrated attention of the American people, both housewives and businessmen, to try to make our system work better. We must try to see that every American is given the opportunity to achieve and maintain a decent standard of living while we get spiraling costs under control.
