Most Anything At A Glance - By Abigail -

It looks like the warm weather and sunshine are back for a while. With the end of June fast approaching and our Community 4th of July Celebration coming up next week, I hope that the sunny days stay around for a while.

I hope most of you folks are planning on joining in on this First Community Celebration. Seems that every organized group in town has some sort of part in it which speaks well for what can be done when the efforts and talents of a community such as ours are combined for one general purpose.

With the nice weather, maybe those folks (State Roads Commission, I think) will get around to doing something about the weeds that in some areas around here are practically threatening to close off the roadways. Maybe they could start at this end of the county for a change and work their way southward.

Course folks around town here could bestir themselves a little more in the area of cleaning-up, too. Although I have noticed several people out sweeping their sidewalks and in some cases, even the streets in front of their homes, other areas of town are positively embarrassing in their appearance.

And, Commissioners, while you're putting sidewalks in, how about the big hole on South Seton Avenue???

I hear that Viking Ventures has offered the town 175 thousand dollars and the use of their 2 ponds in case of low water problems in exchange for water and sewer hook-ups for their convention site. Now, that is a lot of money and no matter what the present study shows (which I said before should have been done long ago by those "someones" we depend on) it seems to me that an amount that large would certainly off-set any town expenses in providing these facilities, with money left over.

For many Americans, there is no more stirring sight than that of the Statue of Liberty silhouetted against the sky—a tall, proud embodiment of freedom's spirit. As another Independence Day, July 4, approaches, she stands as a silent reminder of the freedom so many have fought and died for.

Celebrations commemorating the signing of the Declaration of Independence on July 4, 1776 will take several forms—under the vigilant eye of that symbol of freedom—parades, picnics, colorful fireworks and flags festooning millions of offices and homes. However, the most important part will be hidden from her view. That is the quiet determination which every American should carry in his heart to perpetuate the ideals of liberty, justice and freedom which were built so painstakingly years ago. Those ideals are the best secret weapon against tyranny and, indeed, are the very basis for the might of the United States. They must always be guarded carefully as the precious possession they are. Have a Happy, Safe, and Grateful 4th, Folks!

Firemen Issue Fund Appeal

Chairman James Kittinger of the Vigilant Hose Company Fund Drive, has made a special plea to those in the community who have not as yet sent in a contribution and wish to do so.

With a goal of $7,500, the returns are running slightly lower than last year's drive at this time. With a high percentage of mail-in donations the firemen's door-to-door solicitations will be lessened and the drive can end earlier.

In the meantime the firemen wish to commend and thank those who have contributed so generously to the 1973 fund drive.

Post Office To Issue New Stamp

Another new stamp will be placed on sale at our office on Thursday, July 5, 1973.

Four stamps, each a design entity, combine to complete the scene of 1773 when enraged colonists dumped chests of tea into Boston harbor in protest of the English-levied tax. This continues the series that marks the Bicentennial of the American Revolution.

The British Parliament meted out punishment for the Boston Tea Party by passing what Americans called the Intolerable Acts. This made revolution inevitable.

Our office will be closed on Wednesday, July 4, 1973, in observance of Independence Day.

However, there will be a dispatch of mail at 0645, and receipt of mail in the morning also. Therefore, Post Office Box customers may pick-up their mail between 9 a.m. and 6 p.m.

There will be no rural delivery service, on this day.
George E. Rosensteel, PM.

Cozy Host To Soviet Personnel

The Cozy Motel in Thurmont was host to twenty or so Soviet support personnel during the Nixon-Brezhnev summit conference at Camp David last weekend. According to Jerry Freeze, operator of the Cozy complex, the Russians were there strictly on business and not as tourists. A dozen direct telephones were installed which tied into Camp David and a transportation system ferried the Russians up and down the mountain.

According to personnel at the Cozy Restaurant where the Soviet group ate three meals a day during their stay, the Soviets are great fanciers of seafood. The most popular entree during the week was the mixed seafood platter. Their preference ran to meat one meal, seafood the next. The guests also liked bananas, big steaks and Marlon Brando, according to Valery I. Onikeyev, third secretary, permanent mission of the USSR to the United Nations, who served as coordinator between the Soviet staff members during their stay at the Cozy Motel and personnel at Camp David.

The Soviets also like chewing gum, which host Jerry Freeze kept on the table in the South Catoctin Dining Room that was reserved for the visiting group. Preferring tea to coffee, the visitors noted that at home they drink a green tea or other variety unlike ours, but no one complained about our American-style drink.

The Russians also enjoyed the mountain strawberries that are so plentiful at this time of year and which the Cozy supplied in great abundance.

When it comes to vodka, they like it straight and cold with no ice. Although offered various types of vodka mixed drinks, they pronounced most of them "A women's drink", they continued with their straight vodka to accompany their meals. We understand the Soviets are not much for drinking without eating.

According to host Jerry Freeze, "They seem to be very friendly toward us. Everyone is very polite, and we've done our best to make them comfortable."

That this effort has been successful has been born out in interviews with a member of the Soviet support staff from the United Nations in New York.

Athletic Assn. To Hold Game Night

Mrs. Roberta Sanders and Mrs. Nancy Danner are on the refreshment committee while Mrs. Laura Stoner and Mrs. Loretta Adesberger are helping with the publicity.

While in Canada, the Boyles visited with Mr. and Mrs. Paul C. Bentley and children, Scott and Lesley, of London, Ontario. Mrs. Bentley is the twin sister of Mrs. Boyle.

Other visits in Canada included a stop at Ontario Place in Toronto where the family enjoyed the Cinesphere, the world's largest movie screen in a domed theatre, showing a short film on the wide screen. The family also enjoyed the four-hour cruise through the beautiful 1000 Islands vacationland from Kingston, Ontario.

Enroute home, the Boyles visited with Mr. and Mrs. Richard D'Angelo and daughters of Meriden, Conn., and also Mr. and Mrs. John Clancy and family of Wayne, N.J.

Commissioners Hold Special Meeting

The Burgess and Town Commissioners held a special meeting Monday evening, June 25. Discussion was held on the advisability of hiring another man for the Town crew. They also approved the hiring of Mrs. Mary Diehl at a salary of $40 per week for a six day week with fluctuating hours. Mrs. Diehl will assume her duties as Town Meter Maid during the next two - three weeks.

The Commissioners approved the installation of a 4" curb along a new sidewalk at the Robert Rosensteel residence on DePaul St.

The Commissioners considered a proposal from Viking

Garden Club To Landscape Theatre

In August the Forestry Board of Carroll County will continue work on its plan for an outdoor theater utilizing the face of an old quarry adjacent to the Nature Trail on property owned by the Farm Museum. At the request of Harry W. Staley, Project Forester for Carroll County, the Silver Fancy Garden Club of Emmitsburg-Taneytown, will serve as landscape consultants and assist with the planting in the theater area. This part of the project is being underwritten by Harry T. Campbell Sons, Co., owner and operator of the Medford Quarry.

The quarry site can be approached by way of either the Carroll County Farm Museum or the Agricultural Center. In either case, use is made of a scenic nature trail designed by Mr. Staley. From this footpath, winding through the woodland, down the slope of the hill and by a little brook, many different species of wild flowers and trees can be seen. Plans for the theater include rustic seats for about two hundred and fifty people. Plants and shrubs native to the area will be used in landscaping in an effort to maintain the natural spirit of the little glen which seems so remote in spite of its location at the edge of Westminster.

When completed the outdoor theater will meet the needs of individual Carroll County citizens or organizations desiring a location for meetings, plays, and concerts. The Carroll County Forestry Board, under the leadership of Mr. Staley has envisioned it as having potential for both education and entertainment.

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel Lind, Jr. Celebrate Silver Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Daniel W. Lind, Jr., Thurmont, R2, recently celebrated their 25th wedding anniversary with a Nuptial Mass and renewal of vows at St. Anthony's Church, Emmitsburg.

Mrs. Lind was the former Miss Sophia Lingg, daughter of the late George and Sophia Lingg of Thurmont R2. Mr. Lind is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Lind of Mt. Airy. Officiating clergyman was the Rev. Msgr. Robert R. Kline, who had performed the original double ring ceremony. He was assisted by the Rev. Edward T. Sargus, pastor of St. Anthony's.

The Mass was served by Ronald J. Lind, the couple's son. Mrs. Alma Seltzer, aunt of Mrs. Lind, was organist. Soloists were Mrs. Mary V. Sanders, her sister, and Susan V. Lind, their daughter. Mrs. Lind wore a blue floor length gown of voile over satin, trimmed with lace that scalloped the Victorian collar

Ventures, Inc., that Viking would pay a grant to the town of $175,000 in exchange for sewer and water connections for their proposed convention conference center site; title to lines to remain with the Town and that the town would be allowed use of two ponds which are on Viking property and necessary easements. The matter was tabled until the engineering feasibility studies now being conducted are completed.

Form Association To Stop Sixes Dam

A two-week-old organization known as "Save the Monocacy Association" last Thursday evening elected Charles R. Fisher, of near Harney, as its president and charted a course of organized political pressure to oppose establishment of a Sixes Bridge Dam.

Fifty effecting the organization at a meeting in Thurmont volunteered to write letters, organize community support, and bring pressure on local, state and federal representatives.

John Howes was named vice president; Pat Fisher, secretary, and Daniel Naill, treasurer. Dues were set at $2 per family.

Senate hearings on the Omnibus Rivers and Harbors Act close July 4, according to Gorden Hughes of Middletown. At that time the Public Works committee will decide whether or not the Sixes Dam project will be included this year. If it is, the Association has only a few weeks or months to change support of the dam by Senators Glenn Beall and Mathias and the Frederick County Commissioners.

Growing opposition to the dam may delay its consideration by Congress another year. If so, primary and general elections in 1974 will give the association a chance to show its muscle, Frederick Bowers of the Democratic Central Committee told the group.

The two-week-old association already enlisted help and membership from the Sierra Club, the Frederick County Farm Bureau, and the Civic Federation. Members found last week that the Adams County, Pa., county commissioners oppose the dam and that Carroll County's commissioners are still undecided. They will meet with Frederick County's commissioner this week.

Perspectives In Learning

By Hazel Brown, President Harry Lundeberg School PAR—Parents As Resource

A group of parents in the Chicago area believed that learning during early childhood was very important in developing creativity and attitudes for learning. These parents were so interested and concerned that they organized PAR—Parents As Resource.

Parents are seeking advice on pre-school learning activities and the PAR is providing some creative and constructive suggestions. Parents are helping other parents to become "kitchen" teachers.

It is amazing and gratifying to see parents join hands to answer the pressing problems of education which face us today. Parent groups such as the PAR are surely going to give many youngsters an early start in learning.

PAR has since grown to include hundreds of interested parents who want to develop techniques and activities which foster child growth and intellectual curiosity. These parents have sought ways to inform and help other parents to be resources for learning activities through productive play and scrap art.

The PAR group grew out of a workshop program involving several Chicago Head Start groups. The women who started PAR wrote workbooks for parents filled with ideas for learning activities which included games and creative activities for young children.

Heart Association Sponsors Hike

Come join the Frederick County Heart Association for a hike! The day is Sunday, July 1, 1973, beginning at 2 p.m. The Naturalist and Phil Castleberg, Heart Association representative, will be leading anyone interested on the "Hog Rock Walk" at Catoctin Mountain Park. Participants will meet at Hog Rock parking lot. We will hike for one mile, round trip.

United States Senator William Proxmire, is trying to establish July 1 as Walk a Mile for Your Health Day. He is asking for the support of all Heart Associations in the United States. The idea is to persuade people to become involved in a regular program of physical fitness. What could be more fitting than a cool, refreshing hike through Catoctin Mountain Park?

This hike is being coordinated by the Public Health Education Committee of the Frederick County Heart Association, Mrs. Audrey Bauman, chairman. Phil Castleberg, Heart Representative, is a member of this committee and is very interested in physical fitness. He is a runner and is in the Medical Corp at Ft. Detrick Army Medical Unit. Come join the Frederick County Heart Association for this exciting and enjoyable hike.

For more information or questions feel free to call the Frederick County Heart Association at 443-3189.

The most amazing aspects of the PAR projects are the workshops which the group presents for other interested parents. The group gives a series of seven workshops to help parents learn the home-centered activities and how to teach the children through crafts, and "kitchen" art.

Community involvement and participation have been the keys to the success of the PAR. The projects have spread throughout neighborhoods because parents are really interested in learning activities which develop the interests and habits needed by children to meet success in school.

Unabated Demand For Fertilizers

By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., June 28, 1973—The current heavy demand for fertilizers in both domestic and foreign markets has created substantial shortages in many sectors. Furthermore, even where supplies are available, shipments are being hampered by a serious dearth of railroad hopper cars as well as a shortage of fuel. Despite heavy rains, flooding, transportation difficulties, and the fuel insufficiencies, fertilizer sales are expected to shatter all previous records during the present crop year. In fact, consumption of some 8% to 10% more fertilizer is anticipated.

As a result of the powerful demand, shipments of most types are far in excess of production, thereby pushing inventories down to new low levels. Paced by larger crop plantings and heavy export orders, 1973 should be a banner year. Fertilizer statistics for calendar 1971 and 1972 showed a healthy advance in sales and a marked rise in net income. Both research and development and general operating costs declined during those years while profit margins increased. Producers, however, are still mindful of the deep deficits in 1968 and 1969, and are seeking further gains before building new capacity.

Role In Foreign Trade

Agricultural exports in fiscal 1973 (ending June 30th) will total about $11.1 billion while imports are estimated at close to $6.8 billion. Obviously this is one of the few sectors of the economy where American enjoys a trade surplus. Although these results were aided by the $1 billion of grain shipped to Russia, our exports of farm products have been steadily rising over the past few years.

The American farm business is the world's leader in production of food and, now that the U. S. Government has cut farm program subsidies and provided for the release of some 40 million acres, further notable increases in exports should follow as a consequence of the potential step-up in farm output. In particular, expansion is anticipated for such basic crops as corn, soybeans, and wheat.

In summary, the 1980 forecast of U. S. exports amounting to $18 billion and imports to be overly optimistic, but the experts are steadfast in pointing out the potential of agribusiness and its immense importance at our balance of trade. Fertilizers as well as other agricultural chemicals and equipment will be required in considerably greater volume.

The Fertilizer Mix And Profits

While it is true that nitrogen, phosphate and potash nutrients (the principal fertilizer products) are sold and applied both individually and in combination, mixed or multi-nutrient fertilizers still account for the bulk of sales. Nevertheless, it should be noted that the direct-application materials are growing more rapidly than the mixtures owing to the fact that they can be applied separately as needed rather than once a year. The most rapidly growing products of all are the ammonium phosphates. Bulk blending by the retail distributor is gaining in importance as are the liquid mixtures because of the greater ease in handling and the savings in price.

Recommendations

The Research Department of Babson's Reports feels that the principal investment vehicles for participation in this revitalized industry are the common stocks of International Minerals & Chemicals, the world's largest producer of fertilizers, and Monsanto Company, a diversified chemical manufacturer that is also the biggest supplier of crop-protection chemicals and a leader in herbicides. The former is speculative grade, the latter conservative; both are traded on the New York Stock Exchange. Other major producers of fertilizers among chemical firms are Allied Chemical, W. R. Grace, Freeport Min. W. R. Grace, Freeport Min. Cyanamid, and Texas Gulf. There are still several large oil companies in fertilizers, as well as Borden and U. S. Steel.

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me, c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Do farmers have any priority for fuel in the event of a drastic shortage?

Yes. In the event of a fuel shortage priority will be given for the following activities: Farming, ranching, dairy, fishing; food processing and distribution; health, medical, dental, nursing, supporting services; police, fire fighting, emergency aid; public passenger transportation (school and other buses, rail intercity and mass transit); freight transportation services; other State and local government activities; fuel needs of residents in areas unable to obtain adequate supplies; difficulties caused by natural disasters; public utilities; and telecommunications. Farmers experiencing shortages should contact their local Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Service (ASCS).

What is the government doing to ensure the equitable distribution of fuel to all parts of the country this summer?

Under the "Voluntary Allocation Program for Crude Oil and Petroleum Products" each State will receive the same percentage or amount of their total supply of crude oil and petroleum products that they received last summer.

I recently heard you discuss a national study that was conducted to find out how many Americans engage in a regular exercise program. Can you send me a copy of those survey results?

Findings may be requested from the Public Information Office, President's Council on Physical Fitness & Sports, 400 6th Street S.W., Washington, D. C. 20201.

Whatever happened to the resolution Congress was going to pass to honor America's volunteer firemen?

A joint resolution authorizing the President to proclaim January 17 of each year

Legislation For Sale?

In the sensational 1964 Bobby Baker scandal, nationwide and worldwide ramifications were never explored by the U. S. Senate, which was deeply involved; nor the Justice Department, which pleaded "executive privilege" against making disclosures; or the White House whose Democrat Chief Executive had close personal and political friends identified as involved. One of the most startling disclosures was that Baker, Secretary of the Democrat Senate Majority, apparently had the power to pass controversial legislation for a fee, that is.

No newspaperman in Washington at the time could possibly credit Bobby Baker with the power to pass legislation. Who then did exercise that power over the Senate and the House at the request of Baker? Lyndon Johnson was Democratic Majority Leader or Vice President (President of the Senate) during most of the acts alleged in the superficial "investigation" made by the Senate Rules Committee. But when the disclosures came, although testimony opened a half dozen sensational leads to the White House, no major newsman in Washington followed up fully and reported on the leads. The whole Baker thing wound up with two or three minor persons doing short prison terms and Baker himself serving about 17 months. The big names were permitted by the press to fade out of the Baker scandal news picture.

Power Corrupting

One of the witnesses dredged up by Sen. John J. Williams, who made the first Baker case disclosures, was Myron Weiner, a lawyer who said he represented the Association of Ocean Freight Haulers. The crux of his testimony was that the Association needed a bill passed in Congress. Weiner said the Association paid him $50,000 to get it passed, and he went to Bobby Baker and arranged to have it passed—for a fee. He said that on instructions from Baker, he gave Baker's lawyer a check for $5,000, and that the lawyer in turn sent his personal check for $5,000 to Baker. Shortly thereafter, as reported in the New York Times, the legislation was passed.

Another relatively small item in the Baker case disclosures concerned a Federal Bank charter for a bank in San Rafael, Calif. The charter was granted after a bank representative visited Baker and, testimony before the Rules Committee said, left a $5,000 check with the Do-It-All Baker. Who really turned this trick?

Democrat Power In Action

Much of the testimony before open and secret sessions of the Democrat-dominated Senate Rules Committee was given by Donald Reynolds, one of President Johnson's insurance men. When some little "heat" was generated in the Baker disclosures, Reynolds began to "squeal." Yet the Senate Rules Committee investigations treated him like a "hostile" witness and although chastizing Bobby Baker did not suggest any penalties. It was such an obvious "whitewash" that Senate Majority Leader Mansfield ordered the Rules Committee to hold a second investigation. It did. Its action was a "whitewash" too.

Senator Williams publicly requested that the Committee ask Senator John L. McClellan, an investigator with an impeccable reputation, to act as Committee Counsel. But instead, Rules Committee Chairman Everett B. Jordan, (D-N.C.) picked one of his political cronies for the job, Lennox P. McLendon. McLendon later was accused of "trying to impeach" witness Reynolds and exonerate Baker and the bigwigs who had become involved in disclosures made outside the Committee. After its second drawn-out series of hearings, the Democrat majority again moved to the aid of its party, closing off dozens of leads toward possible sensational scandals.

Times Whitewash! The New York Times, which had not given the case much attention, nevertheless said editorially: "The report of the Senate Rules Committee's Democrat Majority on the af-airs of Robert Baker is as unsatisfactory as the investigation that preceded it. . . . It is a political whitewash!" But the Times, which joined in the massive "investigative journalism" in the Watergate affair, made no move to follow the inviting leads in the Baker-Johnson-Jenkins-McCloskey scandal.

A grand jury later met and indicted Bobby Baker on nine counts of grand larceny, fraud, conspiracy, and tax evasion; and after a trial he was convicted on seven counts. His sentence was one to three years. He served 17 months and then returned to his extensive lucrative business enterprises. Yet tidbits of testimony and material supplied by Senator Williams showed the tentacles of Baker's nefarious operations, while, he exercised commanding power in the U.S. Senate as Democratic Majority Secretary, reaching into Las Vegas gambling establishments and national and international organizations with big money to spend for favors. Neither the media nor the Johnson Administration ruffled the surface of the dark pool of fraud, bribery, political kickbacks and conspiracy. Next Week: Tracks of the Wheeler Dealer.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK VANDALISM! "When I behold the sweet serenity of death, That sudden hush wherein, like gray-robed monks, Old dreams and young regrets stalk softly to and fro, I wonder . . . can it be so very hard to go?"

"What deep tranquillities surround these sleeping ones! Above them scream the old brutalities of life, Above them grow the bloody harvest men must reap, But they know only silence now and quiet sleep."

"Here granite lifts white hands above the ancient dead

But lo! the flesh it supplies has risen to An immortality of flame that we shall know

At dawn and dusk and roses burning row on row."

History, in its own fashion, tends to name different ages of man's long journey over the face of the earth. That being the case perhaps the present span of time should be known as the "age of the vandal." Destruction has never added up to immediate or future gain. Most wanton destruction is senseless and proves nothing—except man's ability to tear down rather than build. It does not help to say that only a certain type of mentality destroys the visible and tangible remains of the past. The fact remains that this type of crime should be punished and not with a gentle homily on the rights of others.

Have the dead no rights? Approach this question by asking what is owed to the past? This great nation was built, guided, and set on the right path by men and women who have long since returned to the dust. It is just and right that their memories should be preserved and the plot of ground in which they rest should be held sacred. Yet vandalism—senseless in itself—in churchyards and cemeteries is high on the agenda of crime at the present time.

With the past two weeks two monuments in Emmitsburg's Elias churchyard were partially destroyed. The stone at the grave of Rosanna (Ott) Ohler, the wife of George Ohler and the mother of Samuel G. Ohler, has been broken into many fragments. It is doubtful if it can be repaired. The cross on the top of the Gelwicks stone has one arm broken off. Sheer, senseless waste that proves nothing.

Both of these grave markers are located along the fence bordering Zacharias Aley and the damage can be seen from that road.

The data pertaining to the Duphorne (Duphorn) family, of French Huguenot descent, is continued at this time.

Conclusion of the obituary of Miss Mary Hagen Duphorne—which was published in the Emmitsburg Chronicle for Friday, October 12, 1906: "For many years Miss Duphorne was a teacher in both the public and private schools. In seminaries for young ladies her chief service was rendered. Her name is gratefully remembered by classes enjoying her instructions in Dayton, Ohio, Birkettville, Hagerstown, and Lutherville Seminaries, the latter three in Maryland. She also taught a private school in Emmitsburg, and in District Schools of Pennsylvania.

"She was a member of the Lutheran church in Emmitsburg all her days. "Miss Duphorne is survived by two brothers and two sisters—namely—Mrs. John F. Adelsperger, Miss Annie Duphorne, both of Emmitsburg; C. F. Duphorne, of Sharon Springs, Kansas, and Robert S. Duphorne, of Harper, Kansas.

"Funeral services for Miss Duphorne were held at the home of her brother-in-law, Mr. John F. Adelsperger, in Emmitsburg. The Rev. Kenneth M. Craig of the Presbyterian church, assisted the Rev. Dr. Reinwald."

Mrs. Charles Harner of Emmitsburg, remembers Miss Annie Duphorne as a teacher in the local schools. She was known to be rather "strict."

In the records of Elias Lutheran church additional data pertaining to the Duphorne-Adelsperger families—as follows: 12. Married—April 18, 1878—by the Rev. E. S. Johnston—John F. Adelsperger to Miss Ellie M. Duphorne, both of Frederick County, Maryland.

Note: The bride was a daughter of Samuel and Maria Duphorne and a sister of Miss Mary H. Duphorne, Miss Annie Duphorne, Calvin F. Duphorne, and Robert S. Duphorne.

New Speed Limits For Towed Vehicles Motorists traveling on Maryland highways are advised that under recently enacted legislation, boat trailers, campers, house trailers, and other towed vehicles will for the first time be subject to a uniform speed limit of 55 miles per hour. This speed limit does not apply to tractor-trailer combinations or semi-trailer combinations designed and used for carrying freight or merchandise in the furtherance of any commercial enterprise. This new speed limit was adopted to promote highway safety by having towed vehicles all traveling at the same rate of speed on State highways. Prior to this legislation, house trailers were subject only to the normal posted speed for the particular highway they may have been traveling.

Giants Take Second Place

The Giants of the Emmitsburg Little League moved into second place as the first half was concluded Thursday by virtue of Chris Byard's brilliant no-hit, no-run effort against the Cardinals. The score was 8-0.

Byard, who also pitched a no-hitter last year, helped his own cause by going two for three at the plate. Fred Martinez, who played first base despite a bad leg injury, went two for three at the plate, and his brother, Larry, the fine Giant catcher, continued to pound the ball going two for two to bring his average to .610.

Phil Topper went two for three and Tom Siske and Gary Carter each went one for one to complete the Giant attack.

The Giants have won five of their last six games, and hope to continue their winning ways in the second half. The Giants are hoping to repeat as Little League Champions in the face of strong opposition.

Pottery Firing Demonstration

Sunday, July 1, 1973, there will be a special demonstration exhibit in the Pottery at the Catoctin Mountain Park Folk Culture Center. From 12 noon to 5 p.m. you may observe a ceramic kiln firing done just as it was in the 19th century.

Unlike potters of today, who rely on easily controlled electric kilns, the old time potter relied on a wood-burning kiln to fire his ceramic crafts. This necessitated a very carefully tended operation. The wood had to be of a consistent kind and size, just the right dryness, and exactly the correct amount had to be added to the fire at specific intervals in order to maintain the necessary degree of heat and constant temperature required for a perfect firing and glazing of the pottery.

In addition to the potter, other folk culture craftsmen—the blacksmith, leatherworker, carpenter, broommaker, spinner, weaver, and quilter—will be demonstrating their skills as regularly scheduled throughout the summer from 12 noon to 5 p.m. on Saturday and Sunday afternoons. The General Store and Environmental Museum should also be included in your visit to the Craft Center. The Catoctin Mountain Park Visitor Center is located three miles west of Thurmont on Route 77. From there, follow the directional signs to the crafts exhibits at Round Meadow Camp.

Governor Signs New Drug Law Bill

Governor Marvin Mandel has signed into law a bill sponsored by State Senator Edward P. Thomas (R-Fredrick-Carroll) that provides the Maryland State Police with an important instrument in the fight against drug abuse.

The bill provides funds for the State Police to make large purchases of drugs for the purpose of obtaining evidence against big drug pushers.

"The need for a concentrated, coordinated, effective war on drug abuse is vital. Organized crime is thriving on drug trafficking. This bill will help make more effective the war on drug abuse in our state," Senator Thomas said.

Prior to the passage of the Thomas bill, the State Police were extremely handicapped in their fight against the sale of drugs since they were financially limited to making "nickel-dime" buys.

Lt. Frank Mazzone, head of the State Police Drug Investigation Division, testified before a Senate committee in Annapolis that "pushers" knew the police were the ones attempting to make purchases because of their limitation to purchase more than "nickel and dime" amounts of drugs.

He pointed out that members of his division are exposed to just as much danger in the purchase of small amounts of drugs as that involved in the purchase of large amounts.

Lt. Mazzone expressed the opinion the Thomas-bill was a vitally important measure in the fight against drug abuse since its passage would provide the state police with the funds necessary to make large purchases and therefore assist them in acquiring evidence against the big pushers.

The bill was first introduced two years ago by Senators Thomas and John J. Bishop (R-Balto. Co.) but it was not until this year it was finally passed.

"Until passage of this bill it was impossible for the State Police to make large drug buys without going through a rather complicated procedure in order to apply for funds necessary, even though the police knew that purchases were available and evidence could be obtained against the large pushers," Thomas said.

"Since the drug traffic is one way or another connected with something like 60-80 per cent of the crime occurring in Maryland, this will be an extremely important tool in the fight against illicit drug sales," he said.

The bill was strongly supported by the Maryland State Police and in previous years by the Division of Narcotics of the United States government.

Many college students are serving as volunteers in VA hospitals to help young veterans injured in Vietnam. More are needed in all of VA's 168 hospitals.

New Films Added To Audio-Visual Cooperative Lists At Library

It's that time of year again. Hot, sultry weather has arrived, school is out, family vacations are in progress and most clubs and organizations have suspended activities for the summer. However, one club member, the program chairman, is very busy arranging programs for the coming year.

During the last few months, in its continuing effort to provide audiovisual program materials for local clubs, the Carroll/Fredrick Audio-Visual Cooperative has added many new filmstrips and slide programs to its collection. According to Edward Cessna, director of the Cooperative, over 150 programs are now available for public use. Filmstrip projectors, slide projectors and cassette players may be borrowed for use with these materials.

Topics in the Cooperative's current collection run the gamut from the painting of Rembrandt to drug addiction and Indians of North America. The collection also includes interesting travelogue programs on Holland, Gerany, Norway, Switzerland, Persia and many other countries.

Mr. Cessna stated that the staff of the Cooperative will assist program chairmen in selecting the type materials they want—to the extent of planning whole series of programs. Questions or requests for materials should be taken to the Cooperative Office at 520 N. Market St., Frederick, telephone 662-6221, or to any Carroll or Frederick County Public Library.

Retail Sales Tax Receipts Up

Exceeding both expectations and official estimates for the month of May 1973, Retail Sales Tax receipts have reflected a healthy glow to the Maryland economy.

Louis L. Goldstein, Maryland State Comptroller, reports that Sales Tax receipts for May 1973 have exceeded the estimates for that month by $829,993, showing an increase of more than three per cent.

Sales Tax receipts for the eleven months to date in Fiscal Year 1973 have shown an increase over estimates of more than a half million dollars, ($507,294).

Maryland Sales Tax receipts for Fiscal Year 1972 through the month of May amounted to a total (from all sources) of $23,781,650, while Sales Tax receipts for the eleven months of Fiscal Year 1973 were $27,282,652.

Colleges are finding that volunteer assignments in Veterans Administration hospitals offer good career exploratory opportunities for students.

Barley Loan Rate Set At 88 Cents

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has recently announced that the county price support loan rate for 1973 crop barley, grading No. 2 or better, except for mixed barley, will be 88 cents per bushel in all Maryland counties, according to Raymond F. Jaeger, Chairman, Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee. This rate will apply to farm stored barley loans.

Under the "county rate-plus" system in effect this year, the rate for barley shipped by rail to a storing warehouse in Baltimore will be the county rate plus the paid-in freight plus UGSA warehouse receiving and load-out charges of 7c per bushel.

The rate for barley shipped by truck or barge to a terminal warehouse in Baltimore will be $1.06 per bushel plus 4 cents.

Mr. Jaeger states that barley is included in the feed grain set-aside program for 1973. Participation in the set-aside program is required as a condition for price support eligibility.

A special program in screening for high blood pressure has begun in VA hospitals.
