BY SAMUEL CARRICK
The Hoke Family
"Cold comes and kills; and yet warm earth compels its miracles. Death must go somewhere else."
"One milkweed has its millions to exhaust. Nothing is lost Except the fear of frost."
—Louis Untermeyer
The genealogy of the Byers family, of Pennsylvania and Maryland, has been written from data contained in the church records, the files of the "Emmitsburg Chronicle" and the wills and deeds as recorded in several courthouses. It is not complete by any manner of means. Among other things the compiler would like to know—the name of the hospital from which Miss M. Janette Byers graduated? Material pertaining to Miss Byers' career? There are any number of questions that cannot be answered at this time but if any information should be forthcoming in the future it will be included in this series.

There are four marked graves of the Byers family in Elias Lutheran and Reformed churchyard. The inscriptions from these tombstones have been given. In Mountain View Cemetery, additional members of the family are interred—as follows:
5. In memory of Ada G. Byers, born 1870, died 1957.
Note: Ada G. Fitez, the second wife of Jacob Krise Byers, and the mother of at least four children—as listed in the records of Elias Lutheran church—as follows: Ethel Grace Byers, Hazel Marguerite Byers, Merle Glenn Byers, and Jacob Krise Byers, Jr.
6. In memory of Catharine V. E. Byers, born September 2, 1912, died January 1, 1913.
Note: This little girl was probably a daughter of Jacob Krise and Ada (Fietz) Byers. A record of her birth is not contained in the church records, in all probability, she died before being baptized.

7. In memory of Emma J. Byers, born 1869, died 1900.
Note: Emma J. Bollinger, the first wife of Jacob Krise Byers, and the mother of some five children—namely—Maud Elizabeth Byers, Harry Bryan Byers, Luther Gilbert Byers, and Charles Robert Byers.
8. In memory of Grace L. Byers, born 1895, died 1916.
9. In memory of Jacob K. Byers, born 1864, died 1951.
Note: The son of Joseph and Eleanor (Gilbert) Byers and a brother of Miss M. Janette Byers, Miss Carrie J. Byers, and Mrs. Maggie (Byers) Black. Jacob Krise Byers was first married to Emma Bollinger and after her death, in 1900, he was married, for the second time, in 1905, to Ada G. Fitez.
10. In memory of William M. Byers, born 1891, died 1908.
In Fairmount Cemetery, at Libertytown, Frederick County, Maryland, are the graves of David H. Byers, the brother of Joseph Byers, and his wife—as follows:
11. In memory of David H. Byers, died August 20, 1910, aged 76 years and 22 days.
12. In memory of Salina J. Byers, the wife of David H. Byers, born 1854, died 1934.
In addition to the burial grounds already mentioned, members of the Byers family are also interred in the Tylorsville Methodist churchyard, Mt. Prospect Methodist churchyard at Mt. Airy, the Middletown Reformed churchyard, and the Glade (Reformed) churchyard, at Walkersville. All of the above are in Frederick County, Maryland.
This concludes, for the present at least, the data pertaining to the Byers family.
The Hoke Family—of Pennsylvania and Maryland—
Another family, with comparatively early graves in Elias churchyard, is the Hokes. It is quite possible that members of this clan are also interred in old Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed churchyard, in graves that are now unmarked. It cannot be stressed too often that for a number of years this churchyard was the only "place of sepulchre" within a radius of some miles, with the exception of the Whitmore family ground located a short distance south of the churchyard. At the present time the fence encloses just one-third of the original acre and as the historian Helman says, "people were buried here three and four deep." So much has been lost. The Hoke family came from York County, Pennsylvania, and it is quite possible that they came into Maryland with the so-called "Monocacy settlers." If so, some members of the family may rest in unmarked graves in the old Monocacy churchyard. The destruction and neglect of the old burial grounds leads to many gaps in the fabric of both history and genealogy.

The earliest marked graves of the Hoke family are to be found in Elias churchyard. They are as follows:
1. In memory of Michael Hoke, born December 26, 1801, died April 24, 1861.
2. In memory of Sarah Hoke, wife of Michael Hoke, born September 6, 1806, died April 21, 1887.
In the same grounds—Jacob L. Hoke, who was probably a son of Michael and Sarah Hoke.
3. In memory of Jacob L. Hoke, born January 21, 1838, died June 27, 1900.
4. In memory of Lydia A. Hoke, wife of Jacob L. Hoke, born 1846, died February 13, 1911.
5. In memory of Norman Z. Hoke, son of Jacob L. and Lydia A. Hoke, born 1877, died 1948.
The notes regarding the Hoke family will be continued in this series next week.

county had been aware of the proposed project for some time; that the county approved of the land use concept as there had been too much residential development county-wide; that it was felt that this project would be economically good for the county. He noted that the continuing problem has been the availability of sewer treatment; that the county had sent VVI to the state and to Emmitsburg for resolution of this problem. Mr. Musselman said that the State Health Department was in favor of a central sewage treatment plant in an area and had therefore told VVI to try to tie into the Emmitsburg system instead of granting permission to install a new and separate facility.
Michael Boyle noted that there had been discrepancies in maps provided during the past months, charged that plans had been changed, and asked why the figure concerning the property owned by VVI had been changed from a reported 1000 acres to 420 acres now to be annexed when his research showed that VVI and Erickson did in fact own 730.18 acres of land. The 1000 acre figure was explained as a miscalculation; the 420 acres figure now being given was explained as being the part of the property that the Planning and Zoning Commission felt should be included in the annexation, with some 300 acres left unannexed.
There was also criticism from local land owners over the way the VVI's hunting grounds were being managed. Mr. Erickson offered to take these men on an escorted shooting tour of the area when the season opens Monday morning in order to refute their claims that sick birds were being turned out to pollute the natural pheasant population, and that the limits of the hunting area were not clearly defined as his challengers had alleged.
In response to a question on why annexation was being proposed at all, the following was answered by various members of P&Z and town attorney Bower: That it would give the town a wider tax base, that it would give the town control of the land through planning and zoning, that neither the water or sewer charges that would be paid by providing these services to property that was not taxed by the town were high enough to pay the expenses of the system.
Planning and Zoning Chairman Ernest Shriver asked if it would be possible to obtain a 3-dimensional display of the project so people could get a clearer idea of what an 11 million dollar project would look like. Erickson responded that this could be done and went on to give a verbal description of the architectural design of the complex.

● Rocky Ridge 4-H Club Meeting Held
The September meeting of the Rocky Ridge Progressive 4-H Club was held at the Gateway Orchard, near Thurmont. The meeting was called to order by the President, Patty Keilholz. The members recited the pledges to the American and 4-H flags. Roll call was answered by the name of a fair entry.
Matt Weaver reported on the annual club picnic held at Mt. Tabor Park in Rocky Ridge. He said that everyone had lots of fun and there was plenty to eat. Mr. Robert Saylor again supplied the hot dogs and cold pop for the occasion.
Since it is time for the annual Achievement Banquet, a committee consisting of Janet Reaver, Debbie Favorite, Brenda and Patty Keilholz, and Cecilia, Angela, and Viki Wivell, was chosen to make plans.
The next meeting will be held on October 15 at the Rocky Ridge Fire Hall at 7:30 p.m.

Capitol Comment
By Charles McMathias
U.S. Senator

● Credit for Women
Guaranteeing the economic rights of women is an area of legislation that has too long been ignored. The Senate Committee on Banking, Housing and Urban Affairs, recently sought to correct that by proposing legislation prohibiting discrimination in credit transactions on the basis of sex or marital status. The Committee's action has my strong support.
The Committee substantiated the findings of the National Commission on Consumer Finance, which held hearings last summer on the question of unfair credit practices for women. Hearings before both groups established that women experience substantial discrimination in applying for credit.
Among the findings are:
● Single women have more trouble obtaining credit than single men.
● Creditors often are unwilling to extend credit to a married woman in her own name.
● Creditors usually require a single woman who has been extended credit to reapply for credit, usually in her husband's name, when she marries. Men generally do not have to reapply.
● Women who are divorced or widowed encounter difficulties re-establishing credit.
These are startling facts. The inequities are glaring, and the hardships faced by women are entirely unjustified.
The provisions of Title III of the Truth-in-Lending Act Amendments seek to end discrimination based on sex or marital status in connection with credit transactions. This measure does not dictate to lending institutions the terms upon which credit may be granted. Rather, the bill is designed to ensure that credit applications are treated individually on the basis of the merits of the applicant. Creditors are free to determine standards by which to judge such applicants.

ABOUT YOUR BOAT
By Marine Dept., Owens-Corning Fiberglas Corp.

Q. Can I use a paint remover on my Fiberglas boat?
A. Occasion to use a paint remover on a Fiberglas boat will be rare. In our experience the need for removers occur with bottom paints which are freshly applied every season and may develop into a thick, uneven film.
Paint removers have been made stronger and more effective in recent years. Some of them could affect the surface coat of resin on a Fiberglas-reinforced plastic hull. For this reason many people prefer to mechanically sand away a bottom paint. We feel, however, that chemical removers can be used if precautions are taken. A test should be first made on a small area of the bottom to see how it works. The solution should be left on only long enough to do the job of dissolving the paint and then be wiped away and the surface neutralized.
Q. How can I counteract condensation in my boat?
A. The type of construction used in your boat has a bearing on condensation. Many decks and cabin tops, for example, are of sandwich construction—perhaps a balsa core with Fiberglas-reinforced plastic skins or some light, synthetic core material. This provides ideal insulating properties. Condensation won't occur on the inside surface once the ceiling is warmed to cabin temperature. Few if any hulls are built with a double skin, but paneling or sheathing the living quarters will isolate the dampness and prevent direct contact with the moisture droplets.
Insulating a Fiberglas-reinforced plastic hull is somewhat simplified over wooden and metal construction in that if moisture occurs behind the insulation, rot or corrosion will not take place. This factor does broaden the selection of insulating materials, but you do have the consideration of how to hold the insulating material in place. Adhesive methods seem to be the best and the most practical.

ARTHRITIS

The Arthritis Foundation maintains "there is no special diet for arthritis. No specific food has anything to do with it. And no specific diet will cure it."
Dr. Collin Dong refused to accept this dictum when he was afflicted with arthritis at age 35. Instead he experimented with a simple Chinese diet from his youth. Finally he hit on the right combination of seafood, vegetables and rice.
In a few weeks he experienced a miraculous transformation; he was agile again, the stiffness and pain in his joints disappeared. Today, at 71, Dr. Dong plays golf and each morning, treats 30 to 40 patients daily, and leads a full, active life.
Over the last 30 years, Dr. Dong has successfully treated thousands of arthritic patients with his diet. Among his satisfied patients are Dr. S.I. Hayakawa, the noted semanticist, and baseball star Willie McCovey.
From his experience has come "The Arthritic's Cookbook." His basic diet is a high-protein, low-calorie, natural regimen. The core foods have been combined with other nontoxic ingredients into a full range of gourmet recipes for all types of meals by Jane Banks, a grateful ex-arthritic and expert cook.
If "The Arthritic's Cookbook" is unavailable at your local bookstore, send $6.95 to Dept. SN, Thomas Y. Crowell, 666 Fifth Avenue, New York N.Y. 10019.

The Bible tells us not to worry and to keep our spirits up no matter what occurs. "A cheerful heart is a good medicine, but a downcast spirit dries up the bones."

Radio's "The Lutheran Hour" paraphrases a promise of God in the Bible to comfort those who have suffered pain and sorrow. "I will never, I will never, I will never abandon you; I will not leave you in the lurch, I will not let you down, I will not leave you destitute. I will stretch out My hand to you, I will seize you, I will hold you fast."

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Red Beachhead In U. S.
One of Communist Maurice L. Malkin's tasks, assigned by his Communist international bosses as they directed the organization of a nationwide subversive force in the United States in the 1920's, was to gain Communist control of labor unions. His first job, after coming to America, was as a furrier—so that he could manage the takeover of the furrier union for Communist purposes. Using strong-arm methods in which he had been trained, and money supplied by the notorious New York underworld figure, Arnold Rothstein, he got sufficient control to call the union out on strike. But in the following goon-squad actions he was arrested and eventually served a prison term at Sing Sing.

This made him a hero with Communists around the world. He became a member of the GPU, the Soviet Secret Police.

These facts are recounted in Malkin's stunning and powerful book on the growth of Communism after 25 years of subversive leadership, and began trying to aid security agencies of the U. S. Government—without much success.

Communist Gangster Squads

In his narrative about the furriers strike, he writes: "I had at my disposal a tactical detail of 56 picked union members and 22 professional gangsters . . . I used my squad to stage a lightning raid (on a fur processing plant in Rockland County, N. Y.) We arrived on the scene in five automobiles . . . and kidnapped 22 workers ("Scabs") and brought them back to Manhattan . . ." He was arrested in another raid, this one ending in physical attacks on company officials and the destruction of the plant.

"The capture of the New York furriers gave the Communists their first strong beachhead in the labor movement and paved the way for other victories," he notes in his book.

Chilling Facts
Following are some significant revelations in Malkin's book, Return to My Father's House (Arlington House, New Rochelle):

"Mussolini (was) a devout student of Marx who had tried to improve on the Soviet system by setting up his own brand of socialism—Fascism, or national socialism. But there was little difference, both were based on the theory that man was created for the state, not the state for man. Hitler x x x merely copied Lenin and Mussolini."

"When in 1938, Whittaker Chambers submitted proof to Roosevelt that Alger Hiss was a Soviet spy . . . the President did not want to believe it or know about it, perhaps because there were leftists and Communists among his advisors and cabinet: Harry Hopkins, Albert R. Williams, Harold Ickes, Lauchlin Currie, Nathan Gregory Silvermaster, Harry Dexter White, not to mention his chiefs in the WPA, where Communists were in charge or control of the most important projects . . . The Communists had infiltrated most departments, including the National Labor Relations Board, the Justice Department, the State Department, the Treasury Department, and even the Army, Navy and Defense Departments. The First Lady of the land, Eleanor Roosevelt, was busy sponsoring Communist agents, such as Kurt Rosenfeld, Amalugia Donini, Andre Katz, alias Andre Simon, and a host of others. Even after I named them as Soviet agents they were still defended by the First Lady who also sponsored Hans Eisler and many other Soviet agents."

"The Communist Party of the United States has had an agreement with the Mafia since 1924 . . . The agreement (calls) for the Mafia to do work for the Communist International, such as murdering opponents, distributing counterfeit currency and dope, stealing government documents . . . and other jobs which the Communist agents could not carry out."

In 1933, his Kremlin bosses assigned Malkin to a project to gain Communist dominance over the newly-formed Newspaper Guild, the nationwide union of working journalists. "Allen Raymond, of the New York Herald Tribune, was elected the first president on Nov. 15, 1933," Malkin reports in his book. "Shortly thereafter, Heywood Brown, elected a vice president, supplanted Raymond. Brown and Morris Watson, of the Associated Press' New York Bureau, became the powers in the Guild. Both were Communists."

The VA approved 365,000 GI home loans valued at $8.4 billion in fiscal year 1973—the most loans in 16 years.

Open Line By Rep. Goodloe Byron

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

Do you see any alternatives to the All-Volunteer Army, besides returning to the Selective Service system?

Personally, I would like to see universal national service as an alternative solution. In other words, all young men would serve their country for one year, choosing either the military service or a social service occupation such as teaching, hospital work or conservation work. Under this plan, low military requirements would be met largely through the pool of volunteers. And during periods when the need for armed forces exceeds the volunteer supply the system would have the flexibility of a lottery to meet personnel requirements.

How does a community apply for federal assistance in constructing municipal waste water treatment facilities?

The Federal Water Pollution Control Act Amendments of 1972 authorizes the Environmental Protection Agency to award grants in the amount of 75 per cent of the allowable project costs for the construction of publicly owned and operated waste water treatment works. Formal applications should be made through the Maryland Department of Health. That agency will also supply information on Maryland requirements and assistance in solving water pollution problems.

Does the government have any material on the environment that would be suitable for a sixth grade class?

The Bureau of Land Management publishes a 160-page teacher's study guide entitled "All Around You". It is designed for grades three through eight and contains activities for interdisciplinary environmental studies in the classroom, the school yard, the community and the natural and rural environments. "Learning About the Environment" is for school children above grade five and describes the problems of environmental resource protection. A limited number of single copies are available from the Director, Bureau of Land Management, Washington, D.C. 20240. Requests should be made on a school letterhead.

My uncle has been waiting for a VA benefit check that is overdue. What should I do?

Write to the VA regional office which has your claim file, including your uncle's name and his claim number. Do not write the Treasury Department as this will probably further delay his receiving the check.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Gold Stocks—Still A Buy?
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., September 27, 1973—Earlier this year stocks of leading gold mining companies put on a sparkling performance in the stock market, moving impressively higher after a long period of inaction. The trigger was, of course, the spiral in gold prices in world markets. Now, however, with the price advance at least temporarily slowed, profit taking has reduced the value of gold stocks by about 20%-30% from 1973 highs.

What To Do Now?
Investors holding gold stocks purchased at lower levels may continue to retain them as a long-term hedge against possible further erosion of paper currencies. While the recent decline in the price of gold stocks may appear to open up an opportunity for investors once again to get aboard the gold-bug bandwagon, we suggest that even at present levels these issues offer some downside risk.

This is a difficult group in which to engage in short-term trading since it is especially susceptible to market uncertainties. Before the runup in the price of gold, the principal demand for the yellow metal was from industrial and artistic sources — both fairly predictable markets. Also, one answer to the question of how to hedge against inflation was gold stocks. Therefore, it was then fairly easy to make a case for a long-pull upward trend in gold issues.

Projecting Gold Prices
But in view of the upward surge of gold prices in the free markets in recent years, the rules of the game must be re-examined. It has become increasingly difficult to project future movements in the price of gold, now that international factors have made gold highly vulnerable to sharp swings. Naturally, these erratic moves are reflected in the price of gold mining issues. Some swings in gold quotes relate to rising interest rates as speculators take profits in gold to be invested in high-yielding money market instruments such as bank certificates of deposit or bonds. Other variables in the gold picture include the attitude of large gold holders and producers, whose sales of the precious metal can have considerable impact on day-to-day gold prices. South Africa is the largest producer, while the Soviet Union also produces and holds large quantities of gold.

Cloudy Crystal Ball
Among uncertain future variables affecting gold are the possible action of the central banks, the pace of inflation, and the effect on demand if Americans can again freely own gold. Since 1934 U. S. citizens have been forbidden by law to own or trade in gold as an investment. Thus, with such potential for wide price gyrations, gold stocks appear desirable only as a long-term holding at this time.

Investment Alternatives
For investors who have taken profits in gold stocks or are eyeing the group for possible purchase, it may be preferable to examine other areas of the market for now. With interest rates at near-historic highs, a "peaking out" could be at hand. Slight further advance is possible but some easing is more likely. This could mean rare opportunities in several fields. In the bond market near-record low prices mean very high yields. And when interest rates drop, this will bring higher bond prices and capital appreciation for bondholders.

In common stocks the money-rate-sensitive utility issues offer impressive yields in some instances. As rates ease, these will provide capital appreciation, but this is rather a psychological plus since utility problems are not just money-related. In this group, income continues to be the main attraction.

The Research Department of Babson's Reports has always advised investors to tailor their portfolios to individual aims. But at this time we feel that—for most—gold stocks may be held for the long term but should not be acquired for short-span trading purposes.

Community Show Attracts Large Crowd; Vickie Bollinger Named Sweetheart

Nearly 5,000 persons attended the 17th annual Emmitsburg and Thurmont Community Show held at Catocotin High School.

Rodney Young, for elementary students and Jay Wivell for the intermediate class.

Catocotin PTSA To Meet Tuesday

The first meeting of the Catocotin High School PTSA for the 73-74 school year will be held Tuesday night, October 9 at 8 o'clock at the school.

At this meeting the annual budget for the PTSA will be presented by the Executive Board for approval and acceptance.

October is "Membership Drive" Month or Catocotin's PTSA, and with a student enrollment of nearly a thousand a large turn-out is expected.

The November meeting, also to be held on a Tuesday night (in total deference to Monday night footballers!) will include a complete and thorough explanation of the new grade reporting system that is being used in the county this year.

Dr. Nakhleh To Attend Conference

Dr. Emile A. Nakhleh, associate professor of political science at Mount Saint Mary's College, will present a paper at the Middle East Institute's 27th Annual Conference at the Georgetown University Law Center on Sept. 28-29.

Dr. Nakhleh's topic will be Bahrain's economic and political development. Sponsored by the Fulbright Senior Research Fellowship Program, he spent last year in the tiny Middle Eastern country, studying its problems as a newly independent country.

Compared to her neighboring Emirates, Dr. Nakhleh says, "Bahrain is the 'poor oil sister,' which is a mixed blessing in that she has had to develop more naturally—horizontally—than her neighbors.

One problem Bahrain faces with the other Emirates is the development of a post-oil economy, which would give the country a more stable economic base.

Other speakers at the conference will be from Columbia University, Fletcher School of Law and Diplomacy, the University of Virginia, the University of Texas, the Brookings Institution and the Johns Hopkins School of Advanced International Studies.

Local Teachers Attend Conference

Sister Natalie McCubbin, Assistant Principal of Mother Seton School and Sister Mary Rose Chioka, Publicity Chairman of Saint Joseph's High School, will attend the fall meeting of the West Virginia Academy of School Administrators to be held in Huntington, Sept. 30-Oct. 1.

The theme of the Conference is "Building Public Confidence in Education and Educators." The invitation to participate in a conference of such vital importance was extended through Mr. Daniel B. Taylor, Superintendent of Schools in West Virginia.

Sister Mary Augusta Von Drehle, Director of Public Relations for the Schools of the Daughters of Charity, will accompany Sister Natalie and Sister Mary Rose to Marshall University where the conference will be held this weekend.

Dr. Bagin is director of the graduate program in school public relations at Glassboro which Sister Mary Augusta attended during late July and August. Dr. Bagin co-authored "PR for Principals" and "School Communications: Ideas That Work." His most recent book is "School and Community Relations" which will be published soon by Prentice-Hall.

School In Free Lunch Program

The Mother Seton School is participating in the National School Lunch Program and serves well-balanced and nutritious lunches. Free or reduced price lunches are available to children who are unable to pay full price.

Families within this income scale or those suffering from unusual circumstances or hardships may apply for free or reduced priced lunches for their children. They may apply by completing the application form sent home with a letter to parents.

The application is simple to complete & requests information needed to determine economic need based on the income and number of persons in the family and any unusual circumstances or hardships which affect the family's ability to pay for the school lunches.

Children receiving free or reduced price lunches shall be treated in the same manner as paying children. Every effort shall be made to insure that the children do not know who are paying and who are receiving free or reduced price lunches.

If a parent is dissatisfied with the ruling of the local official, he may make a request to the school his child attends either orally or in writing, for a hearing to appeal the decision.

Slate "Right To Life" Convention

Who defends the lives of most helpless: the unborn, the ill, the aged and the incapacitated? "Marylanders for Life" is the answer and the theme of Maryland Right to Life's state convention to be held at Wilde Lake High School, Columbia, Md., Saturday, September 29.

The convention will feature information and action workshops to equip Maryland citizens to fight abortion and euthanasia. The keynote speaker will be newly elected Rep. Robert E. Bauman of the Eastern Shore, a supporter of the pro-life Constitutional Amendments now in Congress.

Recipe for Cheese Cake. 8 Oz Cream Cheese, 3 Tbsp Sugar, 1/4 Tsp Salt, 2 Tbsp Sifted Flour, 2 Eggs, Separated, 1/2 Cup Heavy Cream, 1/2 Tsp Vanilla, 1/2 Tsp Lemon Extract.

Looking for delectable, refreshing ideas to liven up a tired summer menu? Try dairy foods, say young people involved in the national 4-H dairy foods program.

Nothing is more delicious or nutritious say these 4-H'ers, than a tall, cool ice cream float, lemon custard pie, or a tasty dip for snacking. Or try a main dish meal, like macaroni and cheese to enjoy dairy foods and to help conserve the family budget.

These and scores of other dishes use dairy products, and 4-H'ers in the 4-H dairy foods program, are well experienced in preparing these and other mouth watering delights.

Sponsored by Carnation Company, young people in the program also learn how dairy foods contribute to nutrition. Informing young people and others in the community about nutritious dairy foods and how to prepare different dairy treats are among the activities 4-H'ers perform in the program.
