- By Abigail -

The joyous celebration of Easter is with us again. From the very early days of the Christian church, this has been the great event of the year, commemorating the resurrection of Jesus Christ.

Since ancient times, churches have paid special tribute to the occasion and altars around the world have been decorated with Easter or paschal candles for the celebration. Today, sunrise services, families attending church together, and particular attention to the spiritual reality of the Christian faith are outward evidence of the 2,000-year continuity of the fulfillment of the promise of salvation for all people.

As we celebrate the Resurrection this Easter Sunday, we might make a pledge to daily reaffirm our faith in the ways of peace and brotherhood and fulfillment of the promise of eternal life. If we wish to attain complete human understanding world-wide, we must first make an effort to achieve harmony in our everyday lives.

Easter would not be complete, of course, without children hunting Easter eggs and the sometimes frivolous profusion of new "Easter bonnets" which add to the happiness of this religious holiday.

With gasoline supplies and prices still a little shaky, this year's Easter holiday will probably not include as many big family gatherings as in past years, particularly for families who own larger automobiles.

It used to be that a big car was the sign of a man who had come a long way. Now it is the mark of a man who isn't going very far, especially on Sundays.

It has been said that most of the American public have learned to accept — though somewhat reluctantly — the limits which the fuel situation has placed upon them. I must question whether this is acceptance or apathy. For years now the general attitude of the public has been slipping into one of apathy, and many burning questions are, today, more than ever, answered with a shrug of the shoulders and a blunt reply, "Who cares?"

Sometimes, those who are not as apathetic as the rest of the crowd are actually chided by others for attempting to focus attention on an issue. I have often times heard comments about my columns, for instance, which charge poor old Abigail with "rabble rousing."

When I hear such comments, I am reminded of a time some six years ago when issue was taken with the policy of the Chronicle and the content of this column. Various letters printed in the newspaper expressed opinions, both pro and con, concerning what I should write about and what the editor place emphasis on, through commentary and reporting, but "A Chronicle Fan" hit the nail on the head with his appraisal of the situation. "The Chronicle belongs to Us," he wrote. "It's Our newspaper, to be used for the good of Our town, County and State."

Editorially the Chronicle must, as another "fan" pointed out, strive for a "more active and positive approach to the town's problems than merely lamentation." In this column I have, and will continue to, add a personal touch to local happenings and a close watch on activities which affect us most.

Elections, which affect all of us, are drawing nearer. The deadline for filing for office or registering to vote in the Town Election is next Friday. There are three offices to be filled and to date we have a relatively few number of candidates. In addition to getting more candidates for commissioner we ought to round up at least a couple for mayor. There are

Grad Returns From European Travel

Martina E. Sabo, one of the first women to graduate from Mount Saint Mary's College, has returned to the States after a year in Europe, bringing with her a healthy respect for continentals and plenty of enthusiasm for life on this side of the Atlantic.

Martina did not feel ready to tie herself to a career immediately after her graduation from the Mount last May. Instead, she opted for a year of travel and work in Europe.

"I considered whether such a break would jeopardize my getting a job, but I didn't feel I wanted to settle down yet," Martina says. "I didn't think I'd give an employer a good day's work. Now I want to begin a career and I appreciate the United States and the opportunities available here."

Hoping eventually to get an advance degree in clinical psychology, Martina is seeking a job in which she can be of service to people with problems.

"Whether I'm supervising a hot line, placing foster children, or supervising an alcohol or drug center, I want to help people who have problems," she says.

She has done work in psychodrama as a psychiatric assistant to Dr. G. Douglas Warner at the Brooklane Psychiatric Center in Hagerstown, Md., but she is presently looking for employment in the Washington, D. C. area while she lives with her aunt, Martina Davis of Falls Church, Virginia.

The point total is a combination of scores from the compulsory routines, added to optional routines of a possible 20 points. Miss Newcomer, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Carroll E. Newcomer, Emmitsburg, was judged as first all around gymnast.

VFW Easter Egg Hunt This Sunday

The annual Easter Egg Hunt, sponsored by Memorial Post 6658, Veterans of Foreign Wars, will take place this Sunday afternoon. Clarence Orndorff, chairman of the event, announced that the event will be held at Community Field as usual, and that the children will be divided into age groups in an effort to give all an equal opportunity to find their share. This year, the hunt will be open to all children through age eight, none older will be allowed to participate. Should inclement weather prevail, the hunt will be held in the Post Home on the Square.

According to Mr. Orndorff, many dozens of eggs will be colored for the hunt, which will get under way promptly at 1 p.m. Many eggs with special markings will be hidden which means that those children finding these eggs will be entitled to a prize, provided they show them to the committee in charge following the hunt.

The event is usually well attended and approximately 500 children from the area are expected to participate.

SOFTBALL PRACTICE

The Freeman Shoe Slowpitch Softball Team will practice this Saturday afternoon. The players are to meet at Community Field at 1:00 pm.

Mini Bazaar '74 Benefits Athletics

Wins and losses are only part of success but the greatest achievement was the addition last fall of a soccer team, cross-country team and girls' softball team to the Athletic Department of St. Joseph's High School. Over half the students of the school participate in at least one sport, either as a player, manager, scorekeeper or enthusiastic fan.

Without the generous support of several local organizations and monies raised by the Students' Pep Club and Parents' Athletic Committee, this would not be a reality.

The final major fund raising project will be the "Mini Bazaar '74", to be held May 4 starting at 12 noon in the school gymnasium. To quote Robert Custer, Athletic Director, "the people of Emmitsburg and surrounding areas are very generous and with their usual help, the coming bazaar will be a great success."

Sister Mary and the girls' basketball team assure us many delicious baked goods will be available. Mrs. Dolores Ray will have many new and used items of clothing in her Rummage Room. Mrs. Donna Cuseo, Mrs. Laura Stoner and Mrs. Rachael Hobbs are convinced their Handi-Arts-Crafts are the greatest. Mrs. Robie Sanders and Mrs. Eunice Neighbours promise confidentially a White Elephant to meet everyone's needs.

Mrs. Theresa Hollinger claims there will be much to "cheer" about at the bazaar. Mrs. Patti Woolley tells us that many lucky people won't have to cook at least one meal next month. Mrs. Charlotte Linge, Mrs. Loreta Myers and Mrs. Rita Stahley will be handing out prizes for the game you like to play.

Mr. Eugene Rosensteel guarantees there will be games for everyone. Mrs. Mary Wivell and Mrs. Edith Engelstatter will have a cold platter for 50c as well as your favorite sandwiches. All this can be recorded on a stereo tape recorder to be given away to some lucky winner.

Each year an Athletic Awards Dinner is held to honor all students who participate in the sports program in any way. The banquet this year will be in the form of a covered dish social and will be held on May 1 at 6:30 p.m. in the school gymnasium. The meat, rolls and beverage will be furnished and each family will supply their favorite dish to the festivities.

Little League Sign-Up Open

The annual Little League registration is still taking place for boys who reach the age of eight before August 1 of this year. Anyone desiring to register must contact Butch Myers at 816 East Main Street, or call him at this number, 447-2679. A birth certificate must be presented at time of registration. The last day to sign up has been extended until Sunday afternoon, April 21.

Little League mothers interested in keeping the official score at the games are asked to contact Daniel Martinez at 447-2692. No experience necessary.

This season, in addition to purchasing standard equipment such as bats, balls, uniforms, etc., our expenses have been compounded by the need of extensive repairs to the bleachers, one dugout roof, and chain link fencing. These improvements and repairs will contribute to the safety of the spectator as well as the player. Anyone wishing to make a donation to this worthwhile cause can do so by sending their donation to Emmitsburg Little League, c/o Bill Wivell, Secretary-Treasurer, Box 224, Emmitsburg, Md. 21727.

Ladies Of Brute To Hold Dance

Thirteen members attended the monthly meeting of the Ladies of Brute held Monday evening in the Knights of Columbus Home. President Nancy Danner presided at the meeting.

A letter was read from the Social Ministry Committee of the Emmitsburg Council of Churches for the Community Appreciation Day to be held on July 4. Anna Gerkin and Alice Boyle will represent the Auxiliary at a meeting of various organizations at the Senior Citizens Center on April 18, regarding the celebration which will be the second such event in the community.

The Athletic Association of St. Joseph's High School sent a letter to the auxiliary asking for a donation to help further recently fielded teams at the school. Members approved a donation to the association. A letter from the Commissioners of Thurmont regarding the dueling of Rt. 15 to the Pennsylvania line was received but the Auxiliary did not take any action regarding the letter as the deadline for a reply had passed.

The dance to be held on April 27 at the VFW Annex was then discussed. Dolores Davis will check tickets at the door and Anna Gerkin volunteered to assist with refreshments. Tickets are available from members at $5 per couple. Due to a limited number of tickets, anyone wishing to attend should get their tickets at their earliest convenience.

The nominating committee consisting of Lois Hartdagen, chairman, Frances Rosensteel, Susan Sanders, Anna Gerkin and Alice Boyle, will meet on May 8 to draw up a slate to be presented at the May meeting.

An application for membership was received from Mrs. Wayne Joy and was favorably voted upon. Betty Lupinski's name was called for the draw prize but was not present. Sharon Danner won the Easter Handicraft kit.

Following adjournment, the ladies were served refreshments in the social room by Helen Oster and Dolores Davis. The next meeting will be held May 13 at 8:15 p.m. in the Council Home.

WMSM Schedules Benefit Marathon

WMSM, the campus radio station at Mount Saint Mary's College, has announced plans to hold its third annual radio Marathon May 2-5. In addition to the traditional 80 hours of continuous broadcasting, the weekend will be highlighted by a record-breaking 50-hour softball game beginning Friday, May 3.

The goal of the marathon, which is scheduled to coincide with Parents Weekend activities, is to raise $1,000 for the Francis X. Ligorano Memorial Fund. Established in memory of the late Dean of Students and maintained by the Group Action Program, the fund aids students faced with a financial emergency. Four students whose rented house was demolished by fire recently were the most recent beneficiaries of the fund.

According to junior Ed Horn, WMSM's General Manager, a variety of activities are being planned, including the raffling of a gigantic "basket of cheer," contests, and record give-aways. Radio programming will include the usual staples of music, news and weather reports plus such added features as interviews with members of the Mount community.

"We welcome outside assistance of any sort for the radio marathon or the softball game," Horn says. "And, of course, any donations will be gratefully accepted."

In addition to Chairman Horn, members of the Marathon Steering Committee are Rob Mattaliano, Marty Madden, John Esposito, Joe Folks, Bill Boyle, Jean Acheson, and Jim Madigan.

Public Library Board Meets

The Emmitsburg Public Library Board of Trustees met on March 26 in the library at 7:30 p.m. Those in attendance were Mr. Bernard Kaliss, Mr. John White, Mrs. Hazel Caldwell, Mrs. Chata Carr, Mrs. John Chatlos, Mr. Jack Kaiser and Mrs. John Warthen, Librarian. Mr. Kaliss took charge of the meeting in the absence of Mr. Robert Holmes. Many items of business were transacted. Mrs. Warthen gave the library report as follows: A total of 1,117 items were circulated from the collection. This amount includes cassettes, records, films and filmstrips. The library held eight story hours for 118 children from the Day Care Center — 18 adults also attended.

The library received many donations of books. Those donated included a book on Australia, donated by Rev. and Mrs. Adrian Brown. Formerly of Emmitsburg, they are residing in Severna Park, Md. Mrs. Lumen Norris gave a number of paperbacks and Mrs. Jane Morningstar donated also.

Special loans of books were made to Mr. Jay Dickinson, Sister Mary, Sister Paula, Sister Lani and Sister Irene.

The Historical group met in the library on March 18 with 10 persons in attendance.

Mrs. Warthen, Mrs. Jean Levinson, Miss Pattie Furry and Miss Clare Duggan, attended a workshop in LaPlata, Charles County, on Monday, April 8. The workshop included story-telling for all ages and puppet making for all ages.

Keep in mind the Summer Reading Club right after school closes. You will want your child to keep his mind alert over the summer. Also, there is a new listing of First Books for 2 and 3 year olds. Included in the selections are: "Nobody asked me if I wanted a Baby Sister," by Martha Alexander. A disgruntled older brother tries to find a home for his baby sister. "Life Cannot Sleep," by Kaj Beckman. Lisa gathers her toys to keep her company at night but there is no room in the bed for her when she has them all together. Others include: "Goodnight Moon," by Margaret Wise Brown; "Runaway Bunny," by the same author; "Mr. Gumpy's Outing," by John Burningham; "Milton, the Early Riser," by Robert Kraus. Milton woke up very early one morning to find that the rest of the world was still asleep.

Certified Statement OK For VA Claims

Loss of a birth certificate or marriage license should not deter a veteran from applying for benefits, according to Mr. George A. Davis, Director of the Baltimore Veterans Administration Regional Office. A regulation in effect since October 1971 allows less formal proof of marriage and birth in establishing claims for higher benefits.

A veteran's or widow's certified statement of marriage is sufficient on applications for compensation and education benefits for veterans, widows and orphaned children, provided neither he nor his wife has been married before, and VA has no contradictory information on file, Mr. Davis explained.

Certified statements also are sufficient in death cases where a claimant's statements corroborate those of a veteran in connection with a claim for any VA benefit.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
Legends Are Rooted
In Graves . . .

"A miracle has shaken all the land,
Each reed and stem becomes an Aaron's rod,
A green light leaps the hills—the tall trees stand,
And lift their glad eyes to the face of God.
O heart—what is this strange, amazing thing?
What is this stirring of the old, old dead?
Forget your grief, look up and laugh and sing.
'I am the resurrection,' Jesus said.

"I am the resurrection and the life,"
'If a man die—then shall he live again?'
Lo, all the earth with loveliness of rife,

Hope's torch lights up the winding ways of men,
The dawn is on the hills the night has fled—
"Let not your hearts be troubled," Jesus said."

The data pertaining to the Mountain View Memorial Cemetery, as taken from the record book of the late Millard F. Shuff, is continued at this time.

50. Mrs. William Smith (continued)—
Note: No marker can be found at Mountain View, at this time, for Mrs. William Smith. Either the grave was not marked or the stone has long since disappeared.

51. Mrs. Robert Wantz — died January 22, 1907 — aged 37 years.
Note: The grave of this particular Mrs. Robert Wantz is not marked. However, there are two graves, evidently of the same family, that are designated by stones. Apparently Robert Wantz married again and it is his grave and that of his second wife that can be seen.

52. Mrs. Stewart Seitz — died January 27, 1907 — aged 28 years.
Note: No gravemarker to be found for this young woman in either the Holdcraft or MacPherson collections. Three is only one marked Seitz grave at Mountain View.

53. Mrs. Joseph Zimmerman — died February 11, 1907 — aged 82 years.
Note: The graves of Joseph Zimmerman and his wife are well marked. The inscriptions follow:

48. In memory of Joseph Zimmerman, born 1816, died 1888.

In memory of Elizabeth Zimmerman, wife of Joseph Zimmerman, born 1823, died 1907.

54. J. Theophilus Gelwicks — died March 22, 1907 — aged 65 years.
Note: The grave of J. Theophilus Gelwicks is marked. He is buried beside his wife and the inscriptions from their gravemarkers was given in a previous column.

55. Mrs. Samuel N. McNair — died April 4, 1907 — aged 70 years.
Note: There are three marked graves in the Samuel N. McNair plot. Mrs. McNair was before her marriage, Mary Antonette Mertz, and the name of her family will always be associated with the old Mertz Tavern, which still stands on old Route 15 — between Emmitsburg and Greenmount. Samuel N. McNair was a veteran of the Civil War and served for many years as Postmaster of Emmitsburg. The inscriptions follow—

49. In memory of Samuel N. McNair, Company C of Cole's Cavalry, born September 4, 1840, died June 5, 1909.

Mary Antonette McNair, wife of Samuel N. McNair, born April 10, 1838, died April 4, 1907.

Antonette McNair, daughter of Samuel N. and Mary A. McNair, born March 21, 1875, died August 17, 1878.

56. John Caldwell — died June 1, 1907—aged 34 years.
Note: The grave of John W. Caldwell is marked but the date of death as given on his stone does not quite agree with that of Mr. Shuff. At this late date it is impossible to say which is the correct one. The inscription follows:

50. In memory of John W. Caldwell, born June 9, 1873, died May 31, 1907.

57. Mrs. David Brown—died November 14, 1907—aged 59 years.
Note: The graves of David H. Brown and his wife are marked. The inscriptions follow:

51. In memory of David H. Brown, born January 19, 1847, died June 17, 1905.

52. In memory of Malisda Brown, wife of David H. Brown, born January 23, 1848, died November 14, 1907.

58. David T. Hoff — died November 26, 1907—aged 72 years.
Note: David T. Hoff was "quite a character" in Emmitsburg. He kept a general repair shop and apparently could "fix" just about anything. He supposedly came to Emmitsburg from York County, Pennsylvania, and was of good family and background. There is little known regarding Mr. Hoff.

When Mr. Sterling Galt owned and edited the "Chronicle" he published an article about Mr. Hoff—which also contained his photograph.

The grave of David T. Hoff is not marked.

59. Sarah Waddles — died January 29, 1908 — aged 80 years.
Note: No marker can be found for this grave either in the Holdcraft or MacPherson studies.

60. Bertha Sonninger—died March 26, 1908—aged 23 years.
Note: No tombstone listed. The above may not be the correct spelling of the surname. In the book it is blotted and dim and rather difficult to decipher.

61. Mrs. William P. Eyer—died July 3, 1908 — aged 44 years.
Note: The graves of William P. Eyer and his wife, Barbara E. Eyer, are well marked. The inscriptions from these tombstones will be given in next week's column.

The notes pertaining to the Mountain View Memorial Cemetery will be continued in this series next week.

Monday through Friday, come in Saturday", Mr. Portney said. "We have already helped more than 115,000 area taxpayers who have come in to our offices during the filing period."

Approximately 365,000 taxpayers have taken advantage of the toll-free telephone assistance IRS is offering again this year. Taxpayers may call during regular office hours, or on Monday evenings between 6 and 8 p.m., or on Saturdays between 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. The numbers to call for taxpayer assistance are listed in the tax instruction booklets and in area telephone directories. In the Baltimore area, call 837-1040; in the District of Columbia, Montgomery County, and Prince Georges County, call 488-3100; and in all other areas of Maryland, call 1-800-492-0460.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Coal Industry Outlook
By Babsons' Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., April 11, 1974—Although this country today is in a tenuous position with respect to reserves of oil and gas, the United States does hold a dominant worldwide position in coal. About one-half of world reserves of coal are located in North America, and the bulk of these are in this country, including Alaska. Figures on coal reserves stagger the imagination. It is estimated that world reserves are around 6.6 trillion tons. Considering all fossil fuel reserves, oil represents about 4% and natural gas 3%, leaving coal's share at an overwhelming 93%. At current usage rates, by the year 2000 the world will have devoured 87% of its oil backlog, 73% of its natural gas, but only 2% of its coal. Thus, it is apparent that coal will be around for hundreds of years, by which time new sources of energy will have been developed.
Production Laggard
While coal is abundant, output of bituminous fuel shows a flat growth pattern compared with the other two major fuels. In 1920, production of coal was 568 million net tons. In 1970, 50 years later, 602 million tons were produced. In the same period, crude oil production went from 442 million to 3.5 billion barrels and natural gas from 812 million to 22 billion cubic feet. Hence, while demand for coal has been stable, this could change as the energy crisis wears on.

Several limiting factors have hindered progress in coal despite good advances in mining technology. In one phase of the industry—strip mining—environmentalists have been strong obstructionists, often with reason. Strip mining accounts for about half of all coal production and is accomplished by removing surface overburden to expose veins of coal which are then mined. In theory the overburden will be replaced and the land restored to usable condition. Unfortunately, this has not always been done, and huge sections of Appalachia resemble the surface of a barren planet and may never again be productive. Underground mining also has its problems. It is dangerous and unattractive. Black lung disease is a serious occupational hazard, and there is ever-present danger of explosions and cave-ins. Several mine disasters in recent years have resulted in rigid safety regulations, limiting output and in some cases closing unsafe mines. But the technology of new mining machines has helped replace declining manpower, and net production per man has quadrupled in the 1925-1970 period. Where Coal Goes

Of 551 million tons of coal produced in 1971 in this country, the greater part (59%) was devoted to the creation of electric power by utility companies. Coking coal, a key ingredient in iron making, took 15%, while general manufacturing took 12%. We exported 10% of production, mostly metallurgical coal, while negligible amounts went into steel mills and retail use. It is estimated that coal customers both here and abroad will consume some 659 million tons of U. S. bituminous in the year ahead. This is about 6% more than was used in 1973. Production is scaled at 650 million tons, leaving a 9-million-ton gap to be filled from stockpiles. This points up the problem that has been chronic in the industry for years—namely, the lack of ability to make meaningful advances in production to meet rising demand.

Mine Workers Union
Coal progress could be further limited by the outcome of this year's labor negotiations. The United Mine Workers has undergone a change of command, and the new president has promised reform leadership for the workers. Some of the otherwise commendable proposals could prove costly to coal operators and ultimately to the coal user and the consumer. Key issues are in the areas of improved safety standards and increased welfare and retirement benefits. Hopefully, in return, coal companies will get freedom from costly wildcat work stoppages, and labor stability in an industry important to current energy needs.

There may also be more than a couple who are playing the waiting game, so all you folks who figure there's no use in going to the polls April 30, better get on down to register soon.

Ag Dept. Simplifies Fuel Certification

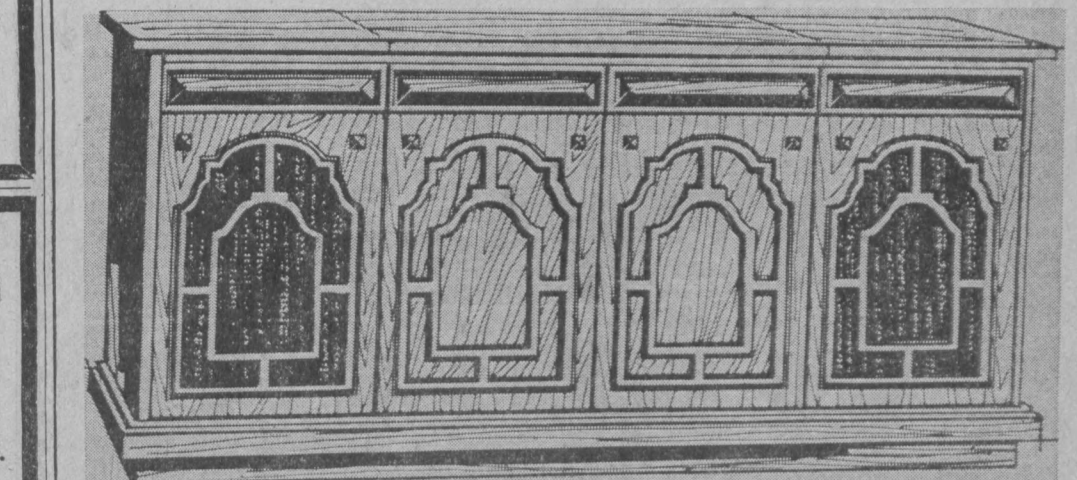

"Just because it appears that more oil is headed in our direction does not mean that the fuel shortage is over," said Raymond F. Jaeger, Chairman of the Maryland Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee (ASC). "Conservation of expensive fuel is still a must. In fact, Federal Energy Office regulations require farmers to certify to their fuel suppliers that they have a fuel conservation program in effect."

To help evaluate conservation efforts and to help with quick certification, the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in cooperation with the Federal Energy Office and the Environmental Protection Agency, has developed a pamphlet, Energy Conservation Checklist. The pamphlet, which is scheduled to be available to farmers this month, contains 35 ways to save fuel, fertilizer, and electricity, plus an energy conservation certificate. Farmers can cut off the certificate and use it to certify to suppliers.

"The certification statement is brief and uncomplicated," Jaeger said. It reads: "I hereby certify that I have reviewed the above list, that I do have an energy conservation program in effect in my farming operation, and that I will use all priority fuels which I receive for agricultural production purposes only."

"All you do is sign that statement, date it, and give it to your supplier. Then you're certified," Jaeger said. The county offices have an advanced copy of the pamphlet's text. Farmers who wish to read it, and certify early, can go to their local ASCS Offices and do so.
