Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

With less than two weeks left in August it won't be long before the proverbial "school bells" will be ringing once again. Even though I'll miss seeing the children as much as I have during the summer months, I always look forward to the beginning of the school year as yet another great opportunity for the children to learn more and better their lives as well as their education. When school days do come around, motorists are reminded to keep a watchful eye for school children going to and coming home from school.

Speaking of schools, seems that I made a blunder in last week's column when I said elections will be held at the Middle School. I have been informed, via a note from an efficient individual connected with the elections, that the voting will take place at the new Emmitsburg School. From what I've heard there will be "open house" at the school on Election Day so many of you can take a tour of the new building. In addition, some eighth-graders may be available to act as guides for those who want to find out about our recently finished school. And, I understand, there shouldn't be any problem with steps for us oldsters, since the school has few, if any.

I still can't figure out why the elections were moved to the school, though. Seems like the firemen were always willing and anxious to let the voting take place at the fire hall, and the location was convenient for those elderly people who live near the square. I had heard that the lack of telephones was the reason, but isn't there a phone handy there at the fire hall? Guess we'll never really know what or who caused the change.

They say everybody complains about the weather, but nobody can do a thing about it, but on many issues and projects around here the saying isn't exactly true. It's surely true that everyone complains about things, but in a lot of cases there is something that can be done. A good example of this is, as I've said before, the town business. Every week I hear complaints about this or that around town, yet every month at the town meeting only a handful of people show up to give the town fathers their opinions and offer to lend a hand. I've also heard some people complaining about different issues discussed in this column, yet once again nobody cares enough to take the time to straighten out those matters. Seems like talking about things is about as far as anyone has the ambition to go. But talk is cheap, it takes someone truly interested in their community to take positive action to correct something or get something going.

One thing which folks around here absolutely must do, rather than just talk about, is to help conserve water during this dry spell we're having. I understand that the reservoir has dropped as much as two feet, so it's long past time to cut out excessive use of our water. The town fathers are asking everyone to refrain from hosing down sidewalks and sides of homes, watering lawns and using water in any other unnecessary way.

Families traditionally have long discussions about what advice to give their sons and daughters as regards to choosing a lifetime career—whether to be a doctor, nurse, electrician, printer, accountant or a thousand other things. Now a whole new field of opportunity appears to have opened up in the area of public service. It is reported that next cleaners will be getting $17,059 a year unless a reform proposal for city pay scales is somehow put on the ballot for voter decision. The fly in the ointment is that there are only about 160 street sweepers in (Continued On Page Six)

LaCroce Appointed Mount Treasurer

Eugene A. LaCroce has been appointed Treasurer of Mount Saint Mary's College. A native of Shamokin, Pa., LaCroce came to the Mount in 1960 as the College's Comptroller. He had previously been employed with the CPA firms, Haskins & Sells and Philip R. Friedman.

In 1968 LaCroce took charge of the Mount's data processing system. Under his direction, the system was updated and in 1970 was converted to IBM's System 3 Model 10 Computer. During that year, LaCroce studied at the Data Processing Institute in Baltimore.

As Treasurer, LaCroce succeeds the Rev. Philip A. Barrett, who will be serving the College in development as Vice President of College Relations. LaCroce is a member of the American Legion, the Knights of Columbus and the Veterans of Foreign Wars. He and his wife, the former Julianne Bainbridge of Shamokin, and their five children, live in Emmitsburg.

Engaged

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest W. Staub, Jr. of Emmitsburg, Md., announce the engagement of their daughter, Rosemarie, to Kenneth Minhae Knox, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Knox of Taneytown, Md.

Miss Staub is a graduate of the Class of 1974 of Catoctin High School and is employed at High's Store, in Taneytown.

Mr. Knox is a graduate of Francis Scott Key High School, Class of 1972, and is employed by his father on Knox's Beef Farm.

Show To Feature Quilt Exhibit

At the 18th annual Thurmont and Emmitsburg Community Show on September 13, 14 and 15, an added attraction this year will be an old fashioned quilt show. Ladies, look in your attic and bring your pretty quilts on Thursday evening, Sept. 12, from 6 to 9 p.m., or Friday morning, Sept. 13, from 8 to 11:30 a.m. at Catoctin High School.

Persons in the Catoctin School district may display four (4) quilts each in the show. Each exhibitor is to bring a brief history of the quilt and pattern name. A quilting frame will be set up and demonstrations will be held during the show. Each exhibitor will receive a rosette ribbon.

COLORFEST MEETING

Participants of the 11th Annual Catoctin Colorfest who would be available to distribute flyers and posters promoting Colorfest are requested to meet at the Guardian Hose Company in Thurmont on Tuesday, August 27 at 8 p.m., for a short meeting.

Area Deaths

RUSSELL F. HARTMAN
Russell Franklin Hartman, 89, died at his home in Fairfield, Wednesday night at 11 o'clock. He was the husband of the late Georgia (Fields) Hartman, who died Dec. 19, 1968. He was born in Emmitsburg, the son of the late Daniel and Annie Hartman.

He is survived by two daughters, Mrs. Charles Harner of Gettysburg, and Mrs. Dale McClellan, Fairfield; two sons, R. Lloyd Hartman, Fairfield, and Robert Hartman of Gettysburg. Also surviving are 10 grandchildren, 14 great-grandchildren, and one sister, Mrs. Ellie Owens of Downey, Calif. He was a member of St. John Lutheran Church, Fairfield, and a member of Tyrian Lodge #205, order of Masons of Emmitsburg for 65 years. He was school director of Freedom Twp for many years.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, August 24 at 2 p.m. from the Wilson Funeral Home, Fairfield, with the Rev. James Tipton officiating. Interment will be in the Fairfield Union Cemetery. Friends may call Friday evening at the Wilson Funeral Home in Fairfield.

Celebrates 104th Birthday Tuesday

Mrs. Susan C. Morrison quietly observed her 104th birthday on Tuesday, August 20, at the home of her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. James L. Nester, Harney Rd.

Mrs. Morrison, the daughter of the late Charles and Laura Waesche, was born on a farm near Rocky Ridge and for some years lived on the family farm on the Taneytown Road. She also resided in Baltimore for approximately 50 years before returning to her native area. Mrs. Morrison is the mother of four children, three of whom are living. She has two grandchildren and three great-grandchildren.

Mrs. Morrison spends much of her time in bed and attributes her longevity to "hard work—a good heart—and faith and trust in God," and then adds "good care by the family."

Fr. King To Be Honored At Party

A Farewell Party will be given Rev. John C. King, C.M. on Sunday evening, August 25, at 7:30 p.m. in St. Joseph's Church Grove. Fr. King has served as pastor of St. Joseph's Parish for eight years and has accepted a new assignment in Miami, Florida, in September.

Members of the parish are asked to bring cakes and cookies for the dessert party to be served by the Sodality of the church. All community residents are invited to the party to say their "goodbyes" to Fr. King, who has contributed much to the community thru his duties as pastor and his interest in the Emmitsburg Council of Churches.

Clubs and organizations wishing to be included in the brief program for Fr. King, may contact any of the following: Philip Topper, G. Eugene Rosensteel, John Humrick or Clyde Eyer.

Foundation Names Virts Chairman

The Frederick County Branch of the National Cystic Fibrosis Research Foundation announced today that Mr. C. Clifton Virts has been named honorary campaign chairman of Frederick County for the 1974 Fund Drive. Mr. Virts resides in Frederick where he also maintains a law practice. He is presently running for re-election as a Delegate to the Maryland General Assembly.

The annual Fund Drive begins in September. The Frederick County Branch of the NCFRF is a newly established branch and much help is needed in covering Frederick City and County.

For further information contact Jane Marshall at 662-3098.

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin C. Tokar, Jr. and children, Andy, Wina, Peter and Taraleah, of Gaithersburg, have returned home from a twelve day vacation at Walt Disney World, Orlando, Fla. Returning home, they visited Marineland, St. Augustine and Okefenokee Swamp, in Florida, and Folkston, Georgia. Mr. Tokar is a senior Tech-Rep for Xerox Corp. He and Mrs. Tokar are former residents of Emmitsburg.

EDITORIAL

Recently completed $53,000 Swift Run Bridge, Adams County, Pennsylvania, receives final inspection from county and township officials.

Bridges in Frederick County may wind up as one of the most important issues facing the soon-to-be-elected county officials, and an interesting article which appeared recently in the Gettysburg Times may give voters at this end of the county a new insight into both efficient county management and effective economics.

According to the article, which appeared with the above photograph, Adams County Commissioners recently completed the seventh bridge they have built in seven years. The bridge, which spans Swift Run, was constructed for $53,000 and finished in five months.

"The pre-stressed concrete bridge spans 32 feet and is 32 feet wide," the article states. "The construction included 1,500 feet of approaches to the bridge, which entailed the clearing of several hundred trees."

Comparing cost and construction time of the Adams County bridge with reliable estimates of what it may cost to replace the Annandale Road Bridge results in some alarming differences. We have been told that considering the possibility of new approaches and acquisition of land necessary to replace the Annandale Bridge at a different location, the cost of construction could easily run over a quarter of a million dollars. Even to replace the bridge where it is now located will cost at least $150,000. And officials say replacement may take two years depending on what priority the project is given.

While the commissioners have so far repaired area bridges enough for normal traffic use, one would wonder why the bridges couldn't have been replaced instead.

One answer to that question comes from Commissioner Donald L. Lewis, who explains that the present concern was just to "get it (Annandale Bridge) braced up and back in use."

Replacement of bridges, according to Lewis, usually costs between $100,000 and $300,000, while recent repairs to three county bridges haven't cost much more than $7,000 or $8,000.

Lewis says that replacement of any bridges should not be done "until we take a look at the total bridge study, then establish priorities" based on bridge "usage and so forth."

The obvious questions for our present commissioners and those who aspire for their seats are these:

Why does it cost Adams County about $50,000 to replace a bridge and Frederick County over a quarter of a million dollars?

How can commissioners in Adams County build one bridge a year in seven years when Frederick County commissioners take over a year just to rebuild supports for closed-down bridges in this area?

And just one more question: Since other county commissioners obviously find time to serve their entire county, why can't Frederick County commissioners do the same by remembering that the county limits extend all the way up here to the Pennsylvania line?

Patriots Place Second In Tourney

Firemen Meet

The regular monthly meeting of the Vigilant Hose Company was held Tuesday, August 13, at Kump's Dam Park with Vice President Arthur Damuth presiding. Fire Chief Eugene Myers reported that 15 fire calls, 6 service calls and one drill were handled since the July meeting.

Members voted to send a thank you note to Mrs. Ann G. Roger for the donation of beverages for the summer feed. In a later report it was stated that his year's feed was a success. The "200" Club dinner will be held on October 8 with a buffet being served at this time.

The first family picnic with Emmitsburg and Fairfield holding it jointly was discussed. The picnic will be held Sunday, August 25 at the Emmitsburg Community Park and will start at 4 p.m. Tickets were on sale in advance for the picnic.

Communications were read by the secretary. Eugene Myers volunteered to replace the TV used by the firemen in the hall.

It was announced that a Fire Police School would be held in Biglerville on Wed., Aug. 21 and 28. Sterling H. White reported on the County Convention held in Libertytown on Aug. 1. The county stag picnic will be held Sept. 14 at 6 p.m. Tickets are $4.50 each.

Butch Myers and Gary Glass will serve on the refreshment committee for the September meeting.

New Area Of Park To Be Dedicated

The new West Area of Cunningham Falls State Park will be dedicated at festivities Saturday, August 24, according to Maryland Park Service officials.

The festivities, which will begin at 11 a.m., will include log rolling, tricycle races, bait casting, canoe races, fishing tournament and pole climbing. Billed as an "old fashioned family outing," the dedication and day's events are open to the public. No admission charge will be made.

Families planning on attending are urged to bring a picnic lunch and spend the day. Park officials hope the old fashioned outing will become an annual event at the new area.

Park officials are also asking area civic groups to help by taking part in the judging of the many events.

Historical Group Views County Film

The Emmitsburg Historical Group met in the Emmitsburg Public Library on Monday, August 19 at 1 p.m. Meeting with the group were Mrs. Norman Shriver, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Gauss, Mr. Jack Kaiser, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Shriver, Mrs. John Warthen and Mrs. Kathy Plumb, Chairlady. The group discussed various phases of History and Land marks of the area. They viewed the Frederick County Film and listened to an Oral History by Father Charles Stout. Mrs. Norman Shriver offered to check with the Gettysburg Historical Group and find out something of their by-laws.

The Oral History tapes now consist of Mrs. Wantz and Mr. Sheeley, Rev. Adrain Brown, Mr. Clarence Frailey and Father Stout. Anyone interested in helping with the Oral History collection should contact the Chairlady, Mrs. Kathy Plumb, or the Public Library.

The next meeting will likely be held in the evening. Watch your local paper for location.

Mrs. Pat Peppler and sons, John and Jim of Plantation, Florida, visited with Mrs. Peppler's mother-in-law, Mrs. Ruth Peppler, West Main St., several days last week. Mr. Peppler was unable to visit because of his affiliation with the Miami Dolphins.

To Celebrate Birth Of Mother Seton

The bicentennial of the birth of Elizabeth Ann Seton, foundress of the American Sisters of Charity, will be marked by a program of special events, Wednesday, August 28, at the shrines in Emmitsburg which annually draw thousands of pilgrims and visitors to the area.

The Seton Bicentennial Committee in charge of the day's program extends a cordial invitation to the public to attend all the events or those most convenient. Because the anniversary falls on a weekday, some of the more festive activities have been scheduled for the evening hours to allow working families to participate.

A highlight of the day will be a traditional birthday cake with 200 candles. Young hostesses in colonial dress will serve cake and punch to all visitors from 6 to 7 in the evening.

An opening Mass in honor of Mother Seton will be offered at 9 a.m. in the chapel of St. Joseph's Provincial House. Rev. Sylvester Taggart, C.M., Vice-Postulator for the Cause of Elizabeth Seton, will be the celebrant and give a brief homily.

At 10:30 a.m., the new Pilgrimage Office on St. Joseph's campus will open to greet visitors and to direct them to Mother Seton's shrines. Guides will be stationed at the shrines during the daylight hours to conduct tours of the buildings.

A gift shop, managed by the Mother Seton Guild, will open for the day in the Pilgrimage Office.

By popular request, several showings of the half-hour color documentary, "Elizabeth Seton: To Be Born Anew," are scheduled at 11 a.m., 1:30 and 4:30 p.m., also in the Pilgrimage Office.

At 6 p.m. the birthday cake and punch will be served in the Holy Family Parlor at the

MSM Students Earn Extra Credits

Four Mount Saint Mary's College students from the Emmitsburg area have earned extra credits toward their degrees by taking CLEP tests. CLEP stands for College Level Examination Program, which makes it possible for individuals to receive college credit for learning acquired through experience outside the formal classroom.

Steven M. Hollinger, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Hollinger, Sr., 125 DePaul St., Emmitsburg, will be entering the Mount as a sophomore rather than a freshman this year because he accrued 30 credits through the CLEP tests. His credits include English, Social Science, Science, Math and Humanities.

Two other entering sophomores each earned 27 credits in the same fields. They are Rodney Devilbiss, son of Mr. and Mrs. Roger W. Devilbiss, R.D. 1, Keymar, and Barbara Clem, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Clem of 9 West Main Street, Thurmont.

Joseph E. Tyler, son of Mr. and Mrs. William E. Tyler, Emmitsburg, will enter the Mount as a freshman with six credits in Social Science and History.

This Fall a workshop will be held to prepare students for taking the next CLEP test to be administered, which will give six credits in Social Science and History.

Painters Mill To Feature Bob Hope

Comedian Bob Hope, the master showman of our time, will appear in person at Painters Mill Music Fair in Owings Mills, Md., for a limited engagement, August 29 through September 1. He will be giving six performances with curtain times at 8:30 p.m. on Thursday, Friday and Sunday and at 7:00 p.m. and 10:30 p.m. on Saturday. There will also be a 3:00 p.m. family matinee on Sunday, September 1. Tickets are priced at $8.50 and a limited number are still available for all performances. These can be obtained at the box office, all Montgomery Ward's stores & all Ticketron outlets. Further information and Charge-by-Phone reservations can be obtained by calling 301-363-0800.

All sites will be open to visitors on Wednesday, August 28, with guides to explain the historic memorabilia.

Visitors are asked to stop first at the Pilgrimage Office reached from the road entrance to the former St. Joseph College campus. They will receive a map of the shrines and a program for the day. Buses discharging their passengers here will be directed to parking areas.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
 Geoge Eister—Gunsmith
 "And here in this place of sacrifice,
 In this vale of humiliation
 In this valley of the shadow
 In that death out of which
 The life of America rose—
 Regenerate—Free
 Let us believe
 With an abiding faith
 That to them
 Union will seem as dear
 And Liberty as sweet
 And progress as glorious
 As they were to our fathers
 And are to you and me.
 And that the Institutions
 While have made us happy,
 Preserved by the virtue of our children
 Shall bless—
 The remotest generation—of the time to come."
 Line from the National Memorial Arch at Valley Forge.

A great historian once wrote that, in his opinion, the Pennsylvania, or "Kentucky" rifle, played a great part in pushing back the frontier—step by step until eventually it reached the Pacific Ocean. This may well be true and it is a source of pride to know that several of the most outstanding of these craftsmen lived in Emmitsburg or vicinity. The names of John Armstrong, Nathaniel Rowe, Andrew Kopp, and others, have a secure place in the annals of history. They should not be forgotten.

Now to return to the study of that master gunsmith—George Eister (Oyster-Eyster)—of York County, Pennsylvania, who was probably the ancestor of the Frederick County, Maryland family of that name—but was a master craftsman under whom many learned the trade of gunsmith. Kindig, a nationally known authority insofar as the rifles and their makers are concerned, has this to say pertaining to George Eister—

"That the younger George Eister (Oyster-Eyster) was a gunsmith is confirmed by two legal documents—the first in 1793—which mentions him as 'George Eister, Jr., gunsmith' and the other in 1802 which makes the same designation. He lived in West Manchester Township, York County, Pennsylvania, and it was here that he had his gunshop. He owned quite a large parcel of land and undoubtedly he farmed on the side."

"Although George Eister did not sign his name on his guns he did sign them from one end to the other by his workmanship. He was one of the great artisans of eighteenth century America. There are many points of similarity between Eister's work and that of John Armstrong, How or why is a mystery."

It will be remembered that the first Eister (Oyster-Eyster) in the Tom's Creek settlement of whom there is record was one Jacob Oyster, who lies buried in the Elias Lutheran and Reformed churchyard. His grave is marked by a flat marble slab, which bears the following inscription:

1. In memory of Jacob Oyster, died December 8, 1825, aged 64 years.

Jacob Oyster came into Maryland from the Conewago Settlement in York County, Pennsylvania, for he is listed as a member of St. Michael's (now Saint Matthew's) Lutheran church, now of Hanover, Pennsylvania, and several of his children were baptized there. Also members of the Oyster family are interred in the old churchyard belonging to that congregation. The big question is—was Jacob Oyster a son of George Eister, Jr., the gunsmith? This could be the connecting link—although it must be stressed that there is no definite proof of this relationship.

What brought Jacob Oyster into Frederick County, Maryland? Could it have been a family friendship with John Armstrong, who had established himself in business at Emmitsburg? These questions may never be answered with any degree of certainty—but the fact remains that the rifles made by John Armstrong have many points of similarity with those manufactured by George Eister, Jr.—which leads one to believe that there must have been some connection between the two families?

The wife of Jacob Oyster was one, Maria Oyster, and this is just about all that is known regarding this woman—a pioneer wife and mother. Even the location of her grave is not known—she may be interred beside her husband in Elias churchyard or near the grave of her little son in the old Tom's Creek Lutheran and Reformed churchyard. The small, black slatestone at the child's grave bears a German inscription, which, translated, reads as follows:

2. Sacred to the memory of Samuel Oyster, son of Jacob and Maria Oyster, born February 4, 1792, died September 10, 1794.

At one time there were a number of graves, marked by stones bearing inscriptions in German, in the northeast corner of the old Tom's Creek churchyard. Today but two of these markers remain. How many were lost to time and vandals? Was Maria Oyster, the wife of Jacob and the mother of Samuel, interred here? That question may never be answered. In addition, since only one-third of the original burial ground area remains today, how many graves were lost. Surely there were other Oyster (Eister-Eyster) graves included in this area for Helman writes "There were many stones with German inscriptions in this old burial ground."

The next member of the Eyster family to appear in the records is Andrew Eyster, whose grave is to be found in the Elias churchyard. In the records of Trinity Lutheran church, Taneytown, of which Elias congregation was a part until 1851, is to be found the baptisms of some of his children.

The data regarding the Oyster (Eister-Eyster) family, of Pennsylvania and Maryland, will be continued in this series next week.

Under the Foreign Assistance Act Amendments of 1971 the President may suspend all assistance to Turkey.

Why did you support legislation requiring a set percentage of petroleum imports to be carried on U.S. flagships?

I believe this cargo preference legislation for oil would help protect national security, increase employment in the maritime industry, safeguard the marine environment and help redress the U.S. balance of payments problem.

Does the government publish any literature on bicycle safety?

The Consumer Product Safety

Commission (CPSC) has published a free fact sheet on selection, uses and maintenance of bicycles. For a copy, write to: Bicycle Safety, CPSC, Washington, D.C. 20207, or phone the agency's toll free number, 800-638-2666.

I recently read that the government has approved money for the construction of bicycle paths in Maryland. Is this true?

About a month ago the U.S. Department of Transportation approved $24 million in Federal-aid highway funds for the construction of bicycle and pedestrian facilities in the U.S. Approximately $2 million was earmarked for the State of Maryland.

NOTICE

The Emmitsburg Planning Commission meets the third Wednesday of each month at 8:00 p.m. in the Town Office. The public is invited to attend these open meetings.

LET'S HEAR IT FOR THE SANDWICH

August is National Sandwich Month; a time to honor our nation's snack and mealtime favorite—the sandwich. And a time to honor one of the great sandwich lovers—the man of the house. He's the inspiration for those imaginative layered concoctions ranging from a simple ham 'n' cheese to triple delectable Dagwoods.

And it's the working man who carries these off to the job site. When that noon whistle blows, he's one famished soul who expects to find a hearty lunch at his fingertips. Hopefully, his wife has packed a delicious as well as nutritious lunch, one that will carry him through the afternoon. If she starts with this he-man soup 'n' sandwich combination, and adds an orange and cookies, she can rest assured that her man won't go hungry.

HEARTY GREEN 'N' GOLD SOUP

- 1 can (10 3/4 ounces) Condensed Golden Mushroom Soup
- 1 can (11 1/2 ounces) Condensed Green Pea Soup
- 2 soup cans water
- 3/4 teaspoon Italian seasoning

In saucepan, stir soups until smooth; gradually add water and seasoning. Heat; stir occasionally. Makes about 5 cups.

LUNCHBOX LIVERWURST SANDWICHES

- 3/4 pound liverwurst
- 1 package (3 ounces) cream cheese, softened
- 1/4 cup chopped peanuts
- 1 tablespoon ketchup
- 1 tablespoon pickle relish
- 1/4 teaspoon onion powder
- 6 slices pumpernickel bread
- 1 tomato, sliced
- Lettuce

In bowl, blend liverwurst and cream cheese until smooth. Add peanuts, ketchup, relish, and onion powder. Spread on 6 slices bread. Top with tomato, lettuce, and remaining bread. Makes 3 sandwiches.

A Shocking Warning From Martin Dies
MARTIN DIES, former Member of Congress from Texas and first Chairman of the House Committee on Un-American Activities, made a speech in 1948 that has never been made widely available to the American public. We are going to make it public in a series of columns, our National Education Program Newsletter, and our radio program, BEHIND THE NEWS, because of its timeliness as America, in general, turns its back to a gathering all-out attack from the Communists. Here is the first cutting from his speech: Democracy and Christian civilization are more gravely menaced throughout the world today than ever before in history. At long last, many of our people realize that fact. Unfortunately, however, they realize it imperfectly and incompletely, and there are still millions of people in the United States who have no conception of the methods, tactics and purposes of communism. All of us, however, must have some understanding of what has happened in the world about us.

It has been a short time since World War II was over. At least we thought it was concluded. You recall that when we asked our boys to serve in our armed forces that the President of the United States and other leaders assured them that this was a war to end all wars. We were told that if, and when we defeated Adolph Hitler, we would establish a just and lasting peace. Now, today, the dictatorship of Joseph Stalin is a greater menace to our security and our freedom than ever was the dictatorship of Adolph Hitler. Hitler occupied a country with 70 millions of people, limited in natural resources. Joseph Stalin has a country with a territory larger than the United States and Canada, with more natural resources than any other country on earth and 200 million people. He has succeeded, without firing a gun, in acquiring 650 thousand square miles and 110 million subject people. Now, how did that happen? Certainly there ought to be some people in America that are deeply interested in finding out what happened, because never in the history of the world has one country made such tremendous strides toward world domination as the Soviet Union.

Only a few years ago, Russia was looked upon as a third-rate power. Today, all of us must concede that Russia is the most powerful country on earth. Now, how did that happen? I propose to answer that question. And in answering it, I am going to tell you some of the intimate details of conversations and conferences between me and President Roosevelt, Henry Wallace, Madam Perkins, Eleanor Roosevelt, John L. Lewis and others.

It all began in 1938. I was a member of the Immigration Committee and also a member of the Committee on Rules of the House of Representatives. I became intensely interested in communist infiltration of labor unions and in government service. I decided the time was appropriate to investigate and expose communists' activities in the United States. So I introduced a resolution and the Committee on Rules approved it and the House of Representatives on May 26, 1938 established the Committee.

Immediately after the Committee was established, I encountered strenuous opposition. When I went to the Committee on Accounts to secure an appropriation to finance the work of the Committee, I found that the Democratic members were hostile to every suggestion that I made. They finally, upon instructions from the White House, reduced the requested budget from 100 thousand dollars to 25 thousand dollars. I began the work with the paltry sum of 25 thousand dollars.

I recall that my uncle, Jack Dies, who was then with the Humbel Oil and Refining company, and is now dead, came to Washington and I discussed it with him. He said, "Martin, you know I hate to advise you to abandon this project, but I have seen enough to know that you are now preparing to antagonize powerful forces in this country and that you will be harassed as few men have been harassed in this country."

Well, I had started it and I cannot back up. I telephoned the Attorney General of the United States and said, "Mr. Attorney General, I want to secure the services of some competent and reliable investigators to assist me in this work." He sent me two men. I received a telephone call, however, an anonymous call shortly before their arrival,

PLAN YOUR PROPERTY PROTECTION

Prepared by The Society of Chartered Property & Casualty Underwriters, the national professional society whose members have earned the CPCU designation by meeting high educational, ethical and experience requirements.

Q. My insurance company sent me a folder about policies called a "Fur Floater" and a "Jewelry Floater," but my house is on high ground. Are these policies a kind of flood insurance?

A. A "floater" is a policy that was designed to insure you against loss caused by fire or theft etc. while you are traveling. Nowadays it covers at home and away.

You don't need a floater if you have homeowners insurance. Your homeowners policy covers these belongings even while away from home up to 10% of the amount of Contents Insurance carried, but there's a limit of $500 for jewelry and $500 for furs both in the aggregate.

If you're taking along more than the homeowners policy covers, you can buy a floater to provide you with extra coverage, both as to limits and against broader perils.

Without a floater, if you have a really major loss, you could be sunk!

SSSHI...TRUCKS ARE GETTING QUIETER

Quietly sound engineers are hunting for ways to save us not only from sounds we can hear now, but also from sounds which we can't yet hear and hopefully never will.

A surprising fact about sound control when applied to motor vehicles: even when the noisiest vehicles are quieted, total traffic noise levels might still be considered unacceptable.

Motor vehicle manufacturers have been conducting vehicle noise research for many years. They have found that truck and bus noise comes from several sources; the engine, exhaust system, cooling fan and other vehicle components, including tires on pavement at speeds above 35 miles per hour.

Through experimentation they've found ways of quieting a truck by using a special engine cooling fan, a more sophisticated muffler and a cocoon-like capsule to enclose the engine. These methods are expensive and are not all standard production items yet, but improved technology is being used. New trucks are a lot less noisy than those of just a few years ago.

Engineers are having to overcome some problems along the way. A more efficient muffler can also increase engine back pressure, reducing usable horsepower and increasing fuel consumption. Insulating an engine can also raise heat levels to the danger point, not to mention additional expense and inconvenience for mechanics.

It is true—when noise-producing vehicles are removed from traffic, the total acoustical noise level is reduced. However, combined sources add to the total noise level by logarithmic proportions, instead of arithmetically. Therefore, half of the vehicles of equal sound-producing ability could be removed or quieted and still the total acoustical noise level would be reduced by only a small percentage; not by one-half.

The Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Association has urged an overall approach to community noise abatement programs. There is a role, not only for the vehicle manufacturer, but for the highway designer, for the legislator, enforcement officers, and for individual drivers and users of sound-producing products.

The Environmental Protection Agency, under provisions of the federal Noise Control Act, is expected soon to tell vehicle manufacturers that their new trucks will have to meet certain noise standards. But even before the federal act, the industry had made much progress in vehicle noise control.

Vehicle manufacturers support the concept of noise control regulations. But they believe that the federal noise standards should take precedence over state and local noise control regulations. This would promote uniformity and better serve the public than would a confusing hodgepodge of standards, the Association argues.

Truck manufacturers are optimistic about controlling noise from their vehicles. However, they warn that we live in a noisy environment, and producing quieter trucks is only the beginning toward correcting the total community noise problem.

telling me both men were members of the Communist Party. I never knew who gave me that valuable information, but I acted upon it.

When they arrived, I began to question them. I put them through the third degree, in the presence of the entire Committee, and finally they broke down and admitted that they were members of the Communist Party who worked for the Department of Justice and the Attorney General wanted to plant them on the Committee which I headed.

Immediately I knew what was in store for me. When a responsible cabinet member was willing to plant two eagles of Moscow on my Committee to sabotage it, I knew that the Administration was under the control of Moscow propaganda.

New higher interest rate on U.S. Savings Bonds.

Now U.S. Savings Bonds pay 6% interest when held to maturity.

Here's how it works: The higher interest rate applies to all new Bonds purchased since December 1, 1973, raising their rate from 5 1/2% to 6% when held to maturity. And the maturity period on Series E Bonds is shorter, too. Now E Bonds mature in 5 years, with a first-year rate of 4 1/2%.

Series H Bonds, with a 10-year maturity, will earn 5% the first year; 5.8% for the next four years; and 6 1/2% for the last five years. This gives you an average 6% yield over the 10-year period.

It works for Bonds you now hold, too. There's no reason to redeem your older Bonds to buy new ones.

Their yield has improved, too.

All outstanding E Bonds will receive a 1/2% increase in yield for each semiannual interest period beginning on or after December 1, 1973, payable upon redemption. This also applies to any Freedom Shares you may still hold.

All outstanding H Bonds will receive a 1/2% yield increase for each semiannual interest period beginning on or after December 1, 1973. This is payable in the form of increased semiannual interest payments. It all works to your advantage. Now, more than ever.

Drug Outlook Good

Despite New Pressures
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., Aug. 22, 1974—Due to rising drug prices, poor results from some products, and the hard-to-sell promotion of many companies, demands for changes in the industry are mounting rapidly, especially in Congress. For the drug industry, however, this is nothing new. For many years the pharmaceutical group has been under the close watch of the Food and Drug Administration. As a result, there have been periodic withdrawals of certain drugs, increased restrictions on others, changes in advertising methods, a lessening in the pace of new product introduction, reformulations of many products, pressures on prices, etc.

New Attack

Now, however, there are proposals afoot to tighten government controls over the safety and usefulness of drugs even further, to step up reviews of the effectiveness of over-the-counter drugs to require posting of prices on all prescription medicines dispensed by pharmacies so that shoppers can make comparisons, and to force drug firms to place labels on containers warning of possible side effects. If these and other proposals go through, the drug industry fears that the govern-

PERSPECTIVES IN LEARNING

By Hazel Brown, President Harry Lundberg School Why Not Help A Youngster?

It will only be a few weeks before the school bells begin to ring. Where will you be when the children return to school? What use will you make of your spare time?

Many parents will be volunteering to help teachers in the classrooms. These parents will become inanimate teaching machines. They will be the warm, human beings who relate with individual students in need of a friend, a companion or concerned adult.

The teacher-aid, paraprofessional, teaching helper or volunteer teacher is a person who can play a very meaningful role in the day by day routine of the classroom. The chores of the aide relieve the work load of the professional teacher so that he can better meet the educational needs of the individual students.

Many teacher-aides relieve the teacher of recess and lunchroom duties. They have the opportunity to take an active part in the recreational activities of the students and can provide guidance in developing safe and active participation in group games and activities.

Clerical duties are often assumed by aides so that the professional teacher has more time to devote to teaching.

The aides take attendance, prepare daily and weekly routine reports, duplicate materials, and prepare supplies so that the teacher wastes little time on unrelated activities.

Many teachers request that their aides help with learning experiences such as supervising silent reading activities, practice and review sessions and story telling. Small groups or individual students can be given special attention by the aide. Children enjoy being recognized and the additional adult in the classroom certainly increases the number of students who can receive individual attention.

Volunteer parents can be of great assistance to the teacher who is eager to individualize instruction. Often the volunteer is seen by the students less threatening and therefore someone to trust. Teachers who recognize this possibility can take advantage of it. The more options one has the more chances for success.

Why not visit your school and see if a teacher-aid, or volunteer parent program exists in your community. You just might be able to help some youngster meet success in the classroom. You may be the first person in some youngster's life who ever cared for him.

At Last: Films On Dog Training!

The trouble with most training films is, there's either a feast or a famine. For golfers, plant workers, soldiers, camera buffs and others — you name it — there's a feast of how-to-do-it films. But for films on how to train your dog, it's been a long famine. Except for a few oldies, nothing.

But now, at last, there's good news for America's dog owners who are frustrated amateur trainers! A new series of five excellent 15-minute films show you everything you need to know about training your dog. And they're available to groups on loan without charge!

Entitled "Dog Obedience Training," these films star America's foremost dog training team of Milo and Margaret Pearsall, presented by the makers of ALPO.

Each film demonstrates a different training stage, guiding you as far as you and your pet want to go: Kindergarten Puppy Training, Basic & Novice Obedience, Open Dog Obedience, Utility Dog Obedience, and Training for Tracking.

The Puppy Training Film A young, inexperienced couple with their first puppy asks "Can anyone learn how to train his dog?" and "Is my dog smart enough to learn?" With a reassuring "Yes," the Pearsalls prove it as this film moves from step to step.

Their approach to training is from the dog's viewpoint: what he sees, and how he sees it. For example, a door is 15 feet high to a puppy, and a step looks 8 feet high. So, they make training a game to be enjoyed by the pup.

Purebred Boxer

We see how the way a person talks makes a strong impression on a young dog. Dogs have feelings. Even the way you look at them is significant. Glaring can upset a dog.

Among many beginner's tips are:

- Choosing a name that doesn't sound like a training command
- Getting him used to a training collar and lead breaking
- Teaching the pup to come to the trainer

Any group may borrow these films from the ALPO Film Library: dog clubs, schools, civic, church and service groups, etc. Just write me at ALPO Pet Foods, Box 2187, Allentown Pa. 18001, requesting "Dog Obedience Training Films." State your 1st and 2nd choice dates which should be at least 30 days from your letter date.

Next, I'll review the "Basic & Novice Obedience" film. Watch for it.

During the market's down phase since early 1973, most of the premier drug stocks have held up very well, i.e., Johnson & Johnson, Merck, Lilly, Upjohn, Schering-Plough, and American Home Products. In late months, however, even these have begun to slide. While the proposed new government investigation has been partly responsible, the major reason has been investor selling of those stocks with high price/earnings ratios. The above-mentioned drug stocks are all in this category. Other drug issues, however, have performed poorly for some time as has the general market. Such stocks as Morton Norwich, Rorer-Amchem, Searle, Warner-Lambert, Richardson-Merrell, Pfizer, Squibb, etc., are priced sharply below their former levels. But for the most part their earnings have held up well. In any turnaround in the market, they bounds. For those interested in acquiring representation in the drug industry for long-term gains, the Research Department of Babson's Reports currently favors the common stocks of Richardson-Merrell, G. D. Searle, and Warner-Lambert. Readers may get free copies of reports on these companies by writing to Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass. 02181.

Growing Old And Hungry
By Bernard E. Nash
You may not have noticed it, but in recent weeks, after having risen markedly, the price of dog and cat food has finally leveled off for at least the time being.

I call this to your attention because, although you may not personally follow the price fluctuations of pet foods, a growing number of older people apparently do—and not all of them own pets.

While there are as yet no reliable statistics to indicate exactly how many older people have been forced to resort to eating pet food, reports of this distressing practice continue to increase daily, almost paralleling the constant inflationary rise in food prices. As distasteful as the thought of people being reduced to eating pet foods may be, many nutritionists believe they provide a diet that is as well balanced as—and, in some cases, better balanced than—that consumed by many older people today.

Considering how highly we prize our pets, this is not surprising, but I worry about what this says about how we regard our elders. Even worse, however, is the frightening question of what will happen when the price of pet food rises to a point where these older people can no longer afford even it.

That it is necessary to even raise this question in what we proudly regard as the richest nation in the world is a shameful disgrace. What makes this situation still more outrageous is the knowledge that we possess the resources, but apparently lack the will to eliminate hunger among young and old.

While some older people have known poverty until they became old. Forced to cease working, they attempted to get by on Social Security and whatever savings they may have managed to accumulate during years of making ends meet. Now, living on fixed incomes that are repeatedly devalued by inflation, they can no longer compensate for rising prices by doing extra work to earn more money. Instead, they tighten their belts and—too proud to ask for help—go hungry.

The rising cost of food has forced families—young and old—in all income brackets to cut back on their food expenditures by "trading down" to less expensive items. However, when you're already eating on the bottom of the table, where do you go when you have to "trade down"?

One possibility is the Food Stamp program of the U. S. Department of Agriculture, under which an individual or family buys food stamps which are then used, in place of money, to buy food worth considerably more than the sum paid for the stamps.

There is, however, a drawback to this program. To become eligible to participate, a person must prove to his or her local welfare office exactly how much money he or she has coming in each month, and how much of it is spent for rent and health care. To many older people, this represents a humiliating loss of dignity (as it does to many younger people as well), so they will not apply.

In the meantime, there are other programs that provide prepared meals for older people without prying into their affairs. Sponsored by the federal Administration on Aging, they consider their personal and other agencies, these programs have various local names, the best-known of which are Nutrition Program and Meals on Wheels, the latter being reserved for shut-ins. Most serve one hot meal and perhaps a second cold meal at a central dining facility, making mealtime a social as well as nutritional occasion.

While most furnish their services without charge, many accept voluntary contributions from those able to do so—but there is no rigid solicitation of this, or discrimination against those who can't. More specific information is available from local agencies for aging (municipal, county or state) or from Social Security offices. If you know anyone who needs this kind of program, please, tell them not to hesitate to ask for help—it's better than going hungry and, in this nation at this time, there is no need to.

(Mr. Nash is the executive director of the non-profit, non-partisan American Association of Retired Persons.)

Police Report

Officer James L. Fuss, Emmitsburg Police, issued the following traffic summons this month:

Kenneth G. Musselman, Fairfield, spinning wheels and making excessive noise; Daniel C. Misner, Thurmont, speed greater than reasonable and prudent; Keith A. Laughman, Hanover, operating a motor vehicle in a negligent manner; Gordon R. Bailey, Taneytown, improper passing; Richard L. Kemper, Fairfield, speed greater than reasonable and prudent; Samuel D. Baughman, Waynesboro, exceeding the posted speed limit; Shelley L. Boyer, Aspers, Pa., speed greater than reasonable and prudent; Stephen R. Kiser, Westminster, exceeding the posted speed limit; Charles E. Bowers, Fairfield, spinning wheels and making excessive noise; Harold L. Fisher, Legett, exceeding the posted speed limit; David G. Cohn, Philadelphia, exceeding the posted speed limit; Bruce A. Martin, Emmitsburg, operating a motorcycle without eye protective device; Douglas Rudisill, Gettysburg, exceeding the posted speed limit; Wilbur Shatzler, Smithsburg, failing to obey a traffic control device; Kurt S. Wilhelm, Taneytown, failing to stop before entering a thru highway; Danile R. Koenig, Johnstown, Pa., exceeding the posted speed limit; and James R. Hile, Mt. Pleasant Mills, Pa., exceeding the posted speed limit.

Officer Fuss also reported that investigation is continuing into an alleged burglary which occurred about 4:30 p.m. Friday, August 16, when three subjects walked into Myers' Radio and TV Shop, East Main Street, picked up a colored TV set and walked out with it.

A bullet may be deadly, but rapid-fire tongues often claim many victims.

Ladies Of Brute Hold Meeting

The monthly meeting of the Ladies of Brute was held at the Emmitsburg Community Park on Monday evening, August 12, with President Nancy Danner presiding. Members enjoyed a buffet supper after a brief business meeting. Following the secretary's minutes and treasurer's report, several communications including a letter sent by the secretary to Bruco, Inc., and a thank you note from Rev. Edward Sargus, were read.

The president thanked the ladies who helped with the table at the Scout Festival on July 27. The auxiliary cleared over $35.00 at this event.

The Knights of Columbus family picnic was discussed and all members were encouraged to sign up for the event. Louise Adams won the draw prize. Other members winning prizes during the picnic were Lois Hartdagen, Dolores Davis, Helen Oster, Anna Gerkin, Helen Topper, Nancy Danner, Virginia Sanders and Alice Boyle.

Members were reminded that the next monthly meeting will be held in the Knights of Columbus Home on Monday evening, September 9 at 8:15.

FCC Anticipates Big Fall Enrollment

Early estimates indicate that Frederick Community College will experience a record Fall enrollment by the time that regular academic classes begin, Tuesday, September 3.

All during the summer, prospective students have been taking advantage of early registration facilities and services of the college, now being conducted during the day-time hours by the counseling, admissions and finance offices. Regular registration day is scheduled from 9 a.m. until 9 p.m., Monday, August 26, but many students are streaming into the college early in order to beat the last minute rush.

While it is too early to come up with firm figures on the projected enrollment for the 1974 Fall academic semester, J. Rolfe Castleman, Public Information Officer at FCC, pointed out, there are a lot of new factors, programs and facilities at the college that are contributing to student interest in registering early this year.

Dairy 4-H Club Meets Recently

The monthly meeting of the Tom's Creek Dairy 4-H Club was held at the home of Jimmy Valentine.

Naomi Weimer, secretary, opened the meeting with the American and 4-H Pledges led by Davil Hill and Phil Wivell.

The secretary's minutes and treasurer's report were approved as read with a balance of $220.64.

Naomi Weimer reported that the club's booth placed 1st at Frederick Square, and goes on to the Frederick Fair.

David and Michael Hill, Russell White, Steve Watkins, George Kaas, Ronnie and Laurie Kling told how they did at the Holstein Field Day. Stanley Gregg attended Jersey Field Day, while Jimmy Valentine, Allen and Marie Wivell, and Cathy Wivell participated in the Brown Swiss Canton Show.

Mr. Hill and Mrs. Gregg reported on the record books. George Kaas reported on the club picnic held in July. Jimmy Valentine reported on the Twi-Light Meeting.

Under new business, David Hill reported that Naomi Weimer, Ronnie Kling, Michael and David Hill, were still on the County Dairy Judging Team. Bob Wivell reported that he placed champion with the help of Jeff Wivell on their team demonstration at District Demonstration Day. He also reported that he would be representing Frederick County at the State Fair in a Small Motors Demonstration.

David Hill then gave a talk on the Whats, Whys, and How of the Milking Parlor, and Jimmy Valentine talked on raising his calf.

Delicious refreshments were served by Mrs. Valentine and enjoyed by all. The next meeting will be held at Lawrence Bassler's on Sept. 9.

"In my discussion with many students," Castleman said, "they are concerned with the lack of good job opportunities in today's labor market. Many students are opting to get additional education at college instead of attempting to take jobs that they feel are lacking in opportunity or pay poorly."

"Frederick Community College also has many more programs and facilities coming into use this Fall that it did not have last year. FCC is offering more than 200 courses which will be taught both day and evening to make it convenient for both full-time and part-time students who have jobs, yet at the same time are attempting to get and complete their college education."

"An important feature of the college that we did not have last year," Castleman continued, "is that we have about 20% more classroom and laboratory space. With the completion of the second floor of Building C this Fall, we will have added a new Art studio, new Photography dark-room suites, a new Electronics Technology area, and other classroom and seminar room spaces. New programs are being planned to go into all of these areas, and students coming to Frederick Community College will be able to choose new courses of study that have not existed before at FCC."

Cardinals Capture Emmitsburg Little League Title

After coming from behind all year, the Cardinals defeated the Giants two games in a row to win the 1974 Emmitsburg Little League Championship.

The outstanding pitching performance by Steve Welch was the key factor in the wins. In the last game, Steve had 14 strike outs, winning the game 4 to 3. The batting of Jay Wivell, who had four home runs in the playoffs, and Dave Hill, supported the fine pitching.

All season long the Cardinals were involved in extra inning games and several of the games were won in the last inning by one run. This is the first Cardinal championship in eight years.

Liberty, Twins, Dana and Diana Fox, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Fox, Thurmont also won a prize.

Better Eating... FROM START TO FINISH

Appetizing appetizers... Cut peeled carrots into two-inch lengths and hollow them out using an apple corer or peeler. Fill with creamed cheese or any firm spread. Refrigerate... or thread pitted ripe olives on thin celery or carrot sticks.

Staggering Statistics—It's estimated that one in three Americans are overweight—that adds up to more than 70 million people... The average homemaker with a family of five washes over 48,000 dishes, glasses, silverware, pots and pans in a year... The longest sausage ever made exceeded 3,100 feet.

What's the world of cooking coming to? How about this: some processors are now inserting a pop-up timer on roasts and poultry. The timers resemble a golf tee and when cooking is completed, a center stem "pops up" indicating the food is ready. What next?

To get the most out of your automatic dishwasher, experts at KitchenAid offer the following tips:

1. Use only detergents made specifically for use in automatic dishwashers. Other detergents can cause excessive sudsing and flooding, and slowing or complete stopping of wash arm action.

2. Load dishes in a manner permitting free circulation of water. Avoid "crowding."

3. To save energy and money, wash only full loads. Partial loads can be rinsed to prevent foods from sticking. Use the "Rinse and Hold cycle," if your unit has one.

Keep baking soda handy in the kitchen. It makes a good extinguisher for grease fires that may flare up while cooking.

If members of your family are sweet potato fanciers, take note: experts say "sweets" are one of the world's most all-round nutritious foods... Try whipping sweet potatoes with a bit of orange juice—or mash them with butter and chopped pecans. Delicious!

Add flaked ocean perch to your favorite recipe for potato cakes. Serve with applesauce.

To give cauliflower a tang, try adding any of the following: caraway seed, celery salt, dill, mace or tarragon... Frozen, reconstituted orange juice provides the same vitamin C as the juice from fresh oranges.
