Most Anything At A Glance

- By Abigail -

The Primary Election has come and passed with many potentially worthy men and women having been picked to run in the General Election in November. At least one person has commented to me about how nice it was seeing all those new, interested and concerned faces during the weeks prior to the election. So many candidates were here in town showing a "sincere interest" in the affairs of our community. Now, I wonder, how many of those candidates, both successful and unsuccessful, will wander into our 'burg to check up on what they fore the election we may not see any candidates again until a couple of weeks before November 5.

I was amused to read headlines about the turnout on election day. It seems funny to think that a measly 30 or 40 per cent turnout at the polls could evoke such words as "surprising," "big," "unexpectedly large." Seems to me that anything less than half the voters turning out is just plain shameful. There are those who say that in the aftermath of Watergate (there's that overused word again) it just don't pay to vote for anybody. But to me the incidents surrounding that escapade and even Mr. Ford's untimely pardon of Mr. Nixon are no call for lack of interest in our democratic system; the opposite should be true. Now, more than ever, we should do everything we can to build up this country that we're rightly proud of.

On the subject of environmental protection agencies, which I touched on last week, a few additional things must be said. Emmitsburg, along with many other towns and cities across the state and throughout the nation, has recently been under scrutiny by such environmental organizations and health boards for a number of reasons, all of which may make good ecological sense, ideally, but most of which are, in a more practical sense, a deterrent to the economic stability of the community. The scrutiny, generally, centers around treatment and disposal of waste waters and solid waste, from what I know, and thus it directly inhibits not only industrial growth but also substantially affects the towns' budgets. What this means is that if towns like Emmitsburg strictly follow all of the many rules and regulations imposed on them by the environmentalists either lacking or unnecessary. Where this environmental protection trend will lead, in time, no one seems sure of, but one thing is certain: it is high-time for citizens of small communities to scrutinize the ways things are being handled by these agencies and improve upon or do away with programs which they feel are either lacking or unnecessary.

As someone pointed out recently, the day has long passed when government is a function that is to be run by a few . . . the day arrived a long time ago for people to become involved, and it is so important for many to become involved just for the very salvation of a small community.

Elections Draw Surprising Turnout

A surprising 35 per cent of Frederick County's voters turned out for the primary election Tuesday, despite predictions of a small voter turnout. Unofficial returns showed 12,600 of the 36,000 registered voters in the county going to the polls—8,000 Democrats of the 21,000 registered, and 4,600 Republicans of the 14,000 registered.

The races for County Commissioner—for five seats, rather than the original three—and for Sheriff drew heavy interest throughout the tallying Tuesday night.

Frederick County voters nominated the following candidates:

GOVERNOR—Incumbent Governor Marvin Mandel was a clear-cut winner for the Democratic nomination leading his nearest competitor, former Court of Appeals Judge Wilson K. Barnes, and went on to take it statewide with 133,882 to 56,945 unofficial votes. Republican Louise Gore scored an upset victory over Representative Lawrence Hogan. State-wide Miss Gore drew 41,980 votes to Hogan's 36,543.

U. S. SENATE—Democrat Bernard L. Talley led Barbara Mikulski in Frederick County, but Miss Mikulski forged ahead state-wide to win the nomination 129,815 to Talley's 78,087. Incumbent Senator Charles McC. Mathias rolled to an easy victory over Ross

Z. Pierpont, on the Republican ticket. Mathias led Pierpont 10,183 to 3,652 with about one-fifth of the precincts counted state-wide.

SIXTH DISTRICT CONGRESSMAN—Goodloe E. Byron, seeking his fourth term of office, easily defeated Bruce Welch, a Johns Hopkins University ecologist, in the Democratic race. Elton Wampler, Republican candidate, was unopposed.

HOUSE OF DELEGATES—District 4B, Arthur N. Cagle and Louis B. Scharon with 1,592 and 1,426 votes, respectively, captured the Democratic nomination. Republicans Raymond E. Beck, an incumbent, and V. Lanny Harchen-horn won with 1,861 and 1,791 votes, respectively.

COUNTY COMMISSIONERS—Incumbent Lawrence A. Dorsey swept the Democratic race with 4,170 votes. Running second to Dorsey was Edgar C. Virts Jr. with 3,817 votes. Third was Richard O. Curtis with 3,663, fourth was John M. Crum with 2,818, and copping the final spot in the Democratic race was Sterling E. Bollinger, Sr., with 2,736 votes. In the Republican race Paul L. Crum, Jr., led the primary with 3,167 votes, topping second-running Donald L. Lewis, incumbent commissioner, who received 2,587 votes. Third was Col. Harold A. Steiner, with 2,236; G. Eugene Anderson ran fourth with 1,680; and Jessie L. Smith Jr., ran fifth with 1,203.

SHERIFF—Democrat Donald C. Barnes was the winner of the nomination for sheriff, beating former sheriff Crammell P. Jacobs Sr. by some 859 votes. In the Republican race Howard Whims topped the list with 1,936 votes, edging out John M. Tregoning, Supt. of Frederick County Parks, who got 1,698, and defeating Sue A. Baumgartner wife of the incumbent sheriff, by almost 1,200 votes.

STATE CENTRAL COMMITTEES—Frederick J. Bower, secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee, headed the list of Democrats who were picked for the seven slots on the Committee. Bower received 4,325 votes. The other six Democrats selected were: incumbent Austin C. Powell with 3,970; Wilbur L. Ford, Jr., with 3,396; Odette K. Reeder with 3,390; James M. Murphy with 3,324; and C. E. Jewell III with 2,903.

Republicans Lorene W. Bowls, 3,348; Garland P. Feaga, 2,254; Earl C. Smith, 2,166; Steven T. Swank, 2,124; Robert E. Smarag, 2,072; William A. Simmons, 2,020; and John C. George, 1,952, were chosen to fill the posts in their state central committee.

Democratic Convention Delegates Lowell Hattery, Judith Ann Beier, and Arthur C. Fouche, were given vote totals of 3,594, 2,092 and 1,901, respectively.

COURT OF APPEALS—Irving A. Levine won handily as a Republican with 3,891 votes to Plummer M. Shearin's 1,556 votes. On the Democratic ticket Levine lost by a narrow margin, with Plummer pulling 1,892 votes to Levine's 1,832.

COURT OF SPECIAL APPEALS—Sitting judges Thomas H. Lowe (1,964) and Rita C. Davidson (1,687), won as Republicans over James K. Foley (1,609). Judge Lowe won as a Democrat (2,731) but Judge Davidson was third (2,311) behind Foley (2,364). Leonard J. Kerpelman was fourth with 847 votes.

(All figures listed above are as of Wednesday morning, and unofficial pending tabulation of absentee ballots.)

County Chamber Of Commerce On Move Impressive, New Principal Says

The Chamber of Commerce of Frederick County is on the move. President Donald C. Linton has selected two of his most dynamic members to lead the County-wide Membership Drive. They are Brooks R. Edwards, Vice President Middle Atlantic Region, Alpha Portland Cement Company, and David E. Bork, President of Community and Organizational Development Associates.

Commenting on his newly appointed role as Co-Chairman of the Membership Drive, Mr. Bork remarked that "The Chamber is an action agency which serves to meet community and area needs. We are a voluntary and non-profit organization of businessmen, professionals and private individuals who have joined together to advance the commercial, financial, industrial and civic interests of our County. As such, our goal is to provide a strong representative membership that will be able to carry on its activities independently without financial assistance from other sources."

Mr. Edwards elaborated on his leadership position stating, "The Chamber's activities are virtually unlimited. We serve as a legislative representative at the local, state and national levels of government, a tourist information center and a civic clearing house for public relations as well as a research and promotional media. We have a new strong team which is dedicated to fulfilling our obligations as the leading service organization in Frederick County. To fulfill these obligations we need total community involvement. Therefore, it behooves us to have a Membership Drive to get additional support for the new team. I am personally confident that the end result will be of significant benefit to all of Frederick County."

The Campaign was launched Monday night at a dinner meeting held at Watson's Restaurant. Bill McKinley, Chamber Executive Vice President, outlined the strategy for the campaign to the Team Captains who will function in various geographical areas throughout the County. The Team Captains are: Billie Lowe and Jim Freeman, for Brunswick area; Frank Shaw, for the New Market area; Frank Martin, for the Thurmont-Emmitsburg area; and John Morgan, for the Urbana-Buckeystown area.

Mr. McKinley added that "As a result of a broader base the Chamber will launch new programs and expand existing ones, leading to more service oriented programs for the community. Some of the projects already under way include community and economic development, housing, environmental controls, health and safety, business-consumer relations, High School-Business Symposiums, and tourism promotion."

McKinley also advised to listen closely to the Chamber member who contacts you as he or she has a great deal more to offer than you can imagine.

School Spirit Is Impressive, New Principal Says

"Education is important to our young people at Saint Joseph's High," said Sister Ethelreda, the new Principal. "I am impressed with the rapport between students and faculty."

Students returning to Saint Joseph's High in Emmitsburg this September responded positively to the administrative team approach outlined by Sister Ethelreda in her recently assumed role as Principal at the high school.

Sister Ethelreda Flannagan, D.C., the former Dean of Students at Saint Joseph College in Emmitsburg, has as her Assistant Principal, Sister Mary Rose Chiochi, D.C. They plan to work closely with students, faculty and parents. "The interest which parents have shown in the school is a real plus for the area," said Sister Ethelreda. "Together Sister Mary Rose and I hope to make wider contacts with the people of the community. They are welcome to come in to chat, to visit the school, and to offer suggestions that will help us as educators to serve our young people better."

Young people are "special" with Sister Ethelreda. "I love the coed situation," Sister admitted frankly, "and the opportunity to work with students in the intimacy of a small school." Small though Saint Joseph's is in numerical contrast with students of other high schools, Sister Ethelreda finds it big in the area of academic achievement and school spirit. Citing two recent graduates, Steve Hollinger and Mary Jo Cole for their outstanding scores on the CLEP (College Level Entrance Placement) test which allows them to enter their second year of college without attendance as freshmen students, Sister Ethelreda said, "From the enthusiasm I have experienced at Saint Joseph's High School, I anticipate many more achievements in all areas of student life."

A graduate of Catholic University with an M.A. in Latin, Sister Ethelreda comes to St. Joseph's High School at the conclusion of her studies at the University of Maryland with an M.A. in Educational Administration. Prior to her assignment at Saint Joseph College, Sister Ethelreda was Vice-Principal at Seton High School in Baltimore and a former Chairman of the Language Department at Seton Catholic High in Endicott, New York.

Council Discusses Garbage Problem

The garbage dump vs. sanitary landfill question was again discussed at the Emmitsburg Town Council meeting Monday night. Struggling with what this area will do with garbage and trash after September 30, the commissioners expressed concern as to what will happen to garbage if dumps are not established in the nearby area.

According to Charles Wetzel, major trash hauler locally, the new proposed sanitary landfill near Woodsboro which he is supposed to use starting October 1, does not look as if it will be ready by that date. In addition, he said that he did not know if he would be able to carry some items, such as large tree limbs and discarded appliances, to the new dump.

Town Council reviewed a letter which Wetzel has received from the Environmental Protection Agency Office in Philadelphia. The letter warned that all burning and use of the dump which Wetzel now operates must cease by the end of September. Council also assured Robert Saylor, president of the Emmitsburg Little League, that they would assist the league in the erection of a 12x15 concession stand on the league's grounds. Also planned is the construction of two rest rooms.

The commissioners also discussed with Russell Hardman the development from town property of a right-of-way to 16 acres of property he owns on Eyler Valley Road, north of the town reservoir.

In other activity council members agreed to take necessary steps to correct a sewer line problem which John E. Chrimer is having on East Main Street.

Town council heard from two men representing a firm which markets a "bird-proofing" product, and agreed that while the town does have a problem with the pigeon population, correction of the situation should be left up to the individual property owners on whose buildings the pigeons are roosting.

The commissioners also discussed two health insurance plans for town employees.

Commissioner Eugene Myers reported that no copies of bid specimen sheets dealing with the proposed new swimming pool had reached the town office, and town council agreed to contact the engineering firm, Buchart-Horn Engineers, about the situation.

Council voted to accept the lowest bids for widening South Alley and construction of a parking lot for the new ball field.

The commissioners also voted to join the Frederick County Chamber of Commerce, and indicated that two members of the town council would represent the town on the chamber.

More explanations will be given about these at the October meeting. Becky Stover will secure information about an evening at Allenberry Playhouse. Members and friends are asked to check the papers for more information. The trip is being planned for an October performance and it is hoped that a bus will be secured to provide transportation.

Varied MSM Events Await Audiences

A varied offering awaits audiences of Mount Saint Mary's Cultural Events Series this year, including the guitar music of Charlie Byrd, the political satire of David Frye, and the exploits of Lt. David Toma, the real-life policeman of the TV series "Toma".

Starting the season on Monday, Sept. 30, will be a performance of the comedy, "Charley's Aunt," a perennial favorite among theatre-goers. In a fresh and lively production by The National Players, Lord Fancourt Bbaberly begins an evening of hilarious mix-ups by masquerading as Charley's aunt at the request of his friend, who needs a chaperone. The wicket becomes sticky when Mr. Spet-tive becomes enamored of the maiden lady, and even stickier when the real aunt suddenly arrives. Charlie Byrd, a recognized giant in the field of guitar, will appear on Wednesday, Oct. 9, performing both classical and jazz compositions with a versatility and grace that has made him famous. He has appeared at the White House and at all major festivals, winning every conceivable award available to a guitarist including Downbeat Magazine's International Critic's Poll and, for several years running, the Playboy Jazz Poll.

David Frye, famous for his devastating impersonation of high political figures, brings his scathing brand of humor to the stage on Wednesday, Oct. 23, Frye's bipartisan satire leaves no stone—Republican, Democrat, or otherwise—unturned. With much wit and humor he skewers pomposity and pretension wherever he finds it.

Lt. David Toma, the original decoy cop and master of disguise who has made over 10,000 arrests and whose exploits are the basis for ABC's new hit TV show, "Toma", will speak on "The New Cop" on Wednesday, Nov. 13. Toma works mostly on the street where he pioneered the role of the decoy cop. A genius as a quick-change artist and master of disguise, he has been called the Great Impersonator and the Man with a Thousand Faces in the press.

On Wednesday, Dec. 4, Dr. Marvin Ziporyn, author of "Born To Raise Hell," the story of Richard Speck, will speak on "The Mind and Behavior of the Mass Murderer and the Sex Offender." Since 1965 he has been chief psychiatrist at the State Training School for Boys in Illinois, and is continually consulted as an authority on criminal behavior. He appears on numerous TV and radio talk shows and was written about in "Time" (August, 1973).

A popular psychic, Ruth Berger, presents "Unlocking the Doors of Your Mind" on Tuesday, Feb. 4. In her presentation she invites members of the audience to write questions on paper and receives the answers by holding the notes in her hand to achieve the necessary concentration and rapport with the author. Her unique performance has left audiences exhilarated, amazed and questioning.

The Annapolis Brass Quintet appears on Tuesday, March 4, to perform music spanning five centuries. In New York they were called "the finest group of its kind to appear in this area." A Baltimore reviewer said, "Happy, careful musicianship and easy concise comment added much charm to the evening. If you have a chance to attend a concert by the Annapolis Brass Quintet, grab it!"

Trivia Masters, which comes to the Mount Tuesday, March 18, is a delightful and unorthodox look at trivia by Joe Albani and Denis Golden, two zanies who challenge the audience to beat them at the trivia game: What was the name of Tonto's horse? What does Shazam stand for? Who was the first screen Tarsan? Be the first on your block to beat the duo. Diplomas go to the winners for excellence in useless information.

On Tuesday, April 18, Sherman Skolnick will lecture on "Responsibilities, Investigations and Politics." Named the Gadfly of Midwest Politicians, he is the Chairman of the Citizen's Committee to Clean Up the Courts, a vigilante group that researches conflicts of interest, false imprisonments and domestic espionage. He is the Ralph Nader of political practices.

All performances are brought to Mount St. Mary's College by the campus Cultural Events Committee. They are free and open to the public.

LOOKING AHEAD

By George S. Benson, President, National Education Program
Searcy, Arkansas

Here is the personal account of MARTIN DIES' interview with a President who said some of his best friends are Communists: Roosevelt Declares "Some Of My Best Friends Are Communists"

Think of it! Think of the stupidity and indifference of a country when a foreign power can spend American money to bribe our own officials. The facts are admitted, and no one has any interest in it.

Yes, they spent money and they spent it lavishly in the United States. The Soviet Embassy in Washington operated on a 24-hour schedule, and they were able to dupe, to completely dupe such nitwits as Henry Wallace and Claud Pepper.

I shall not give you anything which is the result of surmise or opinion, but information that I know to be correct. I had agents watching the Soviet Embassy day in and day out, and I noted the presence of so-called liberal

New Dealers who were present there day in and day out, completely duped by Stalin and his machine. Yes, you know how it is—the caviar and champagne that flowed in the Soviet Embassy had a profound effect on some of our budding statesmen.

You know the average congressman in the United States comes from little old towns. I have known them and I have served with them for fourteen years, and I have seen the typical congressman, Joe Doe—Joe lives in a town with a filling station and a drug store and he and his wife lived a rather monotonous existence until finally he was successful in being elected to Congress. He goes up there and is soon surrounded by the wattery and the propaganda machines that were working, working inside the government day in and day out to influence America. Well, you know, Joe gets to thinking about it and he don't like the idea of going back home. Who wants to go back home anyway to corn whiskey and chitlings when he drink campaign and eat caviar. They worked on them in the most insidious way I have ever known.

Whenever Henry Wallace spoke in Madison Square Garden, the communists packed it. When I spoke in Madison Square Garden, they booed and jeered and it required almost the entire police force of New York to maintain order.

The communists work at their business of revolutionizing the world, of spread their ideology while we sit idly by.

Our Committee struggled on. Then we began to investigate the reporters who reported our proceedings, because they wrote so many false stories and sent them out on the wire, to the AP, the UP, and the INS, that it became necessary that we investigate the very men charged with the responsibility of reporting the proceedings. You know what we discovered? The New York Chapter of the Newspaper Guild was completely communist controlled. Our Committee was assigned communist reporters, and, of course, they garbled the accounts to make the Committee appear ridiculous and to discredit and undermine it, because they were working hand and foot with the Administration in power.

Yes, we continued giving the American people the truth. Finally we discovered that some 25 hundred communists, agents and stooges and servants and minions of a foreign dictator, were on the government pay roll, occupying in many instances key positions in the State Department, in the Justice Department and in the Interior Department. So, I wrote to President Roosevelt and told him I wanted to see him about it, and he said, "All right."

I went down to the White House. I said, "Mr. President, we have got to do something about this. Here is a list of these people. We have raided the organization and we have their membership records. There can't be any doubt about it. If you understand the communists as I understand them, you will know they are in the government for one purpose and one purpose alone, and that is to steal the important governmental secrets to transmit them to Moscow."

The President was furious. I was amazed at his anger. He said to me—he got to calling me Mr. Congressman—he had called me Martin before—he said, "Mr. Congressman, you must see a bugaboo under every bed." I said, "No. I never look under the bed, Mr. President." "Well," he said, "I have never seen a man that had such ideas about this thing. There is nothing wrong with the communists, some of the best friends I have got are communists." Mind you, that is a truthful account. He made that statement.

I made that statement before the House soon after President Roosevelt made it and he did not deny it. Everything I tell you, I told the Congress, and no one to this day has ever denied any statement I ever made, and no one has sued me for libel, though I published a book in 1940 and I revealed the activities of leading government agencies in behalf of Joseph Stalin.

Well, the President refused to discharge the communists and finally I went before the House and induced Congress to withhold appropriations to pay their salaries. The Executive Department then defied Congress and refused still to fire them. They were kept on the government pay. Yes, they were in the government pay roll when we were working on the secret of the atomic bomb. And still there are people in America so dumb as to believe Stalin doesn't have the secret of the atomic bomb. How could he have kept from getting it with men in every Department of the government, influential men who wouldn't hesitate a moment to give that information to Stalin. They got it in Canada, didn't they, and Canada wasn't one-twentieth as well organized by communists as the United States. We were taken in, lock, stock and barrel, by communists, propaganda. You may not realize it, but in the White House itself, one of the secretaries of the President was a communist.

There was a little fellow by the name of Joseph Lash who was head of the American Youth Congress. Joseph Lash had been very active in communism and we exposed him. One day I got a telephone call from Mrs. Roosevelt asking me to have dinner with her. Well, I knew something was up and I had heard that Mrs. Roosevelt was undertaking to persuade the Naval Intelligence to give an appointment to Joseph Lash. He had never been inducted into the armed forces. Well, I went to the White House and there seated in the ante-room were six or eight well known communist

A Travel Idea That's Going Places

By Bernard E. Nash
A current experiment in West Virginia may provide a potential solution to one of our nation's most pressing problems—the lack of adequate and appropriate public transportation. While this problem affects everyone to some extent, it particularly hurts older people with limited incomes, many of whom are thus isolated from the necessities of life.

The West Virginia experiment involves the subsidization of both passengers and transit systems through the use of travel stamps patterned after the Federal government's generally successful food stamps—which, incidentally, also had their beginning in West Virginia 13 years ago.

Under the pilot program, eligible persons are allowed to buy $8 worth of travel stamps for $5 or less, depending on their income. They then use the stamps to pay for rides on buses, trains, taxis—and even planes, although for that, notes Gov. Arch A. Moore, Jr., "they'll have to accumulate quite a few of the stamps."

What sets this approach apart from most transportation subsidy programs—such as those in many communities offering reduced fares to older people—is that it allows the rider to choose the means of transportation most suited to his or her needs.

In most programs, the government provides the money, the chosen transit system receives its subsidy, and the consumer his little, of any, say in the decision-making process. In West Virginia, however, it is the riders themselves who will be deciding which transportation services are to be subsidized by simply using their travel stamps to purchase rides on the system of their choice. Thus, the most utilized systems—presumably the ones serving the public best—will receive the most funds.

Also of considerable significance is the West Virginia program's applicability to the transportation problems of people living in rural areas where the need is most acute. While their needs and those of urban dwellers are generally similar, the specifics of their situations are markedly different. Thus a transportation system that would work in a city or town might not prove feasible in rural or even suburban areas, although the reverse is not necessarily true.

Flexible facilities capable of responding to individual needs while still serving many individuals are needed in rural areas, and it is anticipated that the West Virginia experiment will serve as a proving ground for such systems. One that has already been developed and is currently being used in many communities across the country is the "dial-a-ride" service in which the minibus is used as a cross between a conventional bus and a taxi.

The traveler stamp program is not limited solely to older people with limited incomes, but is available for handicapped persons of all ages. In the long run, if the program succeeds, everyone will eventually benefit in one way or another as the infusion of travel stamp funds helps keep existing transit systems solvent and encourages the development of new ones in areas where there now are none.

It is this possibility which offers the greatest potential for progress where progress is needed most. After all, what good is money when what you need to buy doesn't exist?

"We have elderly people who are eligible for food stamps who can't buy them because they can't get to a store," declares Dr. Eldon D. Tucker, the retired physician who created the travel stamp concept. "We have people who must see a doctor or go to a hospital, but who can't get there... and people who want to go to church, but can't afford to."

Dr. Tucker took his idea to Gov. Moore, who enlisted the aid of Sen. Jennings Randolph (D-W.Va.) in obtaining Federal funds for the four-year trial run. Of the $23 million needed to run the experiment, the state is contributing $6 million and various Federal and regional agencies the rest. "If the program works," predicts Federal Highway Administrator Norbet A. Tiemann, "it will be carried out in many other areas of the country."

Still, it should be remembered that is but one approach—albeit a most promising one—to a many faceted problem. Unless we are to run the risk of having all our hopes riding on one set of wheels—this good beginning must be followed by other, different innovative beginnings so that the ending will be a happy one.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

A Glance At The Rails
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., September 12, 1974—Despite the economic slowdown which has already produced two successive quarterly declines in real Gross National Product, the nation's Class I railroads turned in a good showing for the first half of this year. According to the Association of American Railroads, operating revenues reached a record $4.3 billion in the second quarter of this year, representing a 14.9% gain over the corresponding year-earlier figure. Although inflationary forces pushed operating expenses higher, net operating income registered a smart 35.2% advance over that for the second quarter of 1973. For the first half of this year, operating revenues were up 13.3% while net operating income rose 9.5%.

Stocks Fail To Respond
In spite of the better financial results, the rails, along with just about every other group of securities, have failed to gather any investor buying support. Consequently, the issues in this industry have declined almost without a break since the first of the year. Such market action is in sharp contrast with the latter part of 1973 when the common stocks of most railroads enjoyed a bull market of their own.

Rails Spotlights By Energy Crisis
At that time, the industry was enjoying renewed investor interest. Ironically enough, the energy crisis which had cast a shadow over the prospects for so many other industries was a primary reason for the reassessment of the rails. As energy-efficient modes of transportation, the carriers took on new importance. After all, since they could get more from a gallon of fuel than any other form of land transportation, it seemed only logical to expect the rails to garner a larger share of the nation's freight traffic.

Furthermore, the Arab oil embargo made the country—especially the lawmakers—more aware of the importance of our rail system. Consequently, rate increases were acted upon much more quickly than in the past. Another offspring of the energy squeeze which spelled good news for a number of railroads was the renewed demand for coal. This brightened the outlook for the major coal hauling lines as well as for those railroads which own large coal reserves.

Near-Term Uncertainties Untrack Rail Stocks
As noted earlier, the bull market in rail equities was short-lived, and many rail stocks are now back near or below their 1973 lows. One reason why prices of rail issues turned downward this year was the poor market atmosphere in general. For example, the Dow Jones Industrial Average skidded from a closing high of 891.66 in March of this year to a level to date more than 25% below that point. There have also been a number of other factors affecting the rails, such as the likelihood of a major strike this fall by the nation's coal miners and perhaps more importantly fears of an inventory-induced recession later on this year. Both of these, particularly the latter, could result in a temporary slowdown in freight loadings.

But viewing the longer term, we feel that the railroad picture has brightened. Under a more favorable market atmosphere, we would expect most railroads equities to register marked improvement.

Seaboard Coast Line Industries
The Research Department of Babson's Reports is currently recommending the common stock of Seaboard Coast Line Industries for aggressive investors seeking longer-term appreciation. This is a holding company for the Seaboard Coast Line Railroad, which in turn owns the Louisville & Nashville R. R. The latter is a leading coal hauler, and should benefit from renewed demand for coal. Earnings have registered good gains this year, and the 55c quarterly dividend rate was reinstated earlier this summer. Readers may get a free copy of a more detailed report on Seaboard Coast Line Industries by writing to Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass. 02181.

FREDERICK COUNTY BACKGROUNDS

BY SAMUEL CARRICK
More About The Eyster Family
"God of our fathers, known of old
Lord of our far-flung battle line
Beneath whose awful hand
we hold
Dominion over palm and pine—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!"

"If, drunk with sight of power,
Wild tongues that have not in awe—
Such boasting as the Gentiles use Or lesser breeds without the law—
Lord God of Hosts, be with us yet,
Lest we forget—lest we forget!"

—Rudyard Kipling

The data pertaining to the Eyster (Oyster-Eister) family of York County, Pennsylvania, and Frederick County, Maryland, is continued at this time.

The Ellen Eyster, whose grave is in Elias Lutheran and Reformed churchyard, must have been a daughter of the first Andrew Eyster, silversmith and clockmaker of Emmitsburg. There is a proof of this but she fits on this branch of the Eyster family tree.

In the "Emmitsburg Chronicle" the following regarding Ellen Eyster is to be found under the dates given — as follows:
Saturday, September 21, 1881:
"Mrs. Emma S. Kelly, of Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, is in town with her sister, Miss Ellen Eyster, who, we are pained to record is lying in a critical condition."
Saturday, October 1, 1881:
"Died, September 23, 1881, in this place Miss Ellen C. Eyster aged 44 years, 3 mos., and 17 days. She was born in Emmitsburg on June 6, 1837 and spent her entire life in her native village. On September 20, 1842 she united with the Presbyterian Church, under the ministry of the late Rev. Dr. Robert S. Grier. She continued a member in full communion until the time of her death. Ill health for the past several years prevented her active participation in the activities of the church but her interest never diminished."
"Miss Eyster was interred in the Lutheran churchyard of Emmitsburg with her pastor, the Rev. William Siminton, in charge of the service."
Emma S. (Eyster) Kelly, of Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, is mentioned in another issue of the "Chronicle" as follows:
"Mrs. Charles W. Kelly (Emma S. Eyster), of Waynesboro, Pennsylvania, is (November 4, 1892) visiting her brothers Messrs. George T. Eyster and Hall W. Eyster, in this place."
Before continuing the Eys-ter family notes it might be well, at this time, to write of the first Andrew Eyster, in Emmitsburg, who learned his trades under the master craftsman, Bachman, from Waynesboro, Pennsylvania. He was both a silversmith and clockmaker and there was probably more demand for clocks than for silver articles. After Bachman returned to Franklin County, Pennsylvania, Andrew Eyster, the one-time apprentice, took over his master's business and continued in the same until his death. He made many "mantle clocks" and at least one grandfather's clock. This last was sold, within recent years, at auction, and is now owned by the National Bank at Myersville, Maryland. It is not known, at this time, if he made any more clocks of this type. However, many of the Eyster "mantle clocks" are still owned by Emmitsburg residents and in use.

Regarding Andrew Eyster's work as a silversmith absolutely nothing is known with any degree of certainty. He may not have worked at this particular craft since there could have been but little demand for it in his day.

At least two of Andrew Eyster's sons, Hall Webster and George T. Eyster, learned the business under their father, and carried on their trade in Emmitsburg for many years.

The first Andrew Eyster and his two wives are interred in the Elias Lutheran and Reformed churchyard and the graves are well marked. In the records of Elias Lutheran Church the following data regarding the Eyster family, of Emmitsburg, is to be found: (Book #1) "Married, February 28, 1853, George M. Wise to Francis A. M. Eyster, both of Frederick County, Maryland." (Rev. John Welfley).

Note: Francis A. M. Eyster is listed as a member of Elias congregation in 1851 — along with Andrew Eyster.
(Book #11) Rev. E. S. Johnston—"Baptized—Nellie Scott Eyster—daughter of Hall W. and Mary Eyster—born February 17, 1883—baptized May 23, 1883."
Note: Nellie Scott Eyster married Richard Zacharias of Emmitsburg. Both she and her husband are interred in Mountain View Cemetery and the inscription from the marker at their grave is as follows:

5. Richard M. Zacharias, born 1882, died 1950.
Nellie E. Zacharias, wife of Richard M. Zacharias, born 1883, died 1956.
Note: There was no children born to this marriage.
Book #11—Rev. E. S. Johnston—"Baptized—Mary Violet Eyster—daughter of Hall W. and Mary Eyster—born February 8, 1884—baptized July 27, 1884."
Note: Mary Violet Eyster died August 11, 1884, aged 6 months and 3 days and is interred in Lot #22 in Elias Lutheran and Reformed cemetery.
The notes on the Eyster (Oyster-Eister) family of Maryland and Pennsylvania will be continued in this series next week.
