Most Anything At A Glance - By Abigail -

The new swimming pool has had near capacity crowds every day that it's been open so far this week, so I know that a lot of you are taking advantage of the cool water on these blistering afternoons. If you weren't at the dedication ceremony on Saturday, you missed Dick Sprinkle and Gene Rosensteel thrown very unceremoniously into the pool. I think it's only appropriate that after they worked so long and hard on the project that they should be the first to enjoy it—even if they did have to go in fully clothed!

If you missed the rates, you can find them in today's paper. I heard some complaints about the weekend rate for adults but everyone seemed quite satisfied with the other figures listed. I don't think the quoted prices are too far out of line.

I certainly hope that attendance at the pool keeps up. It is very heartwarming to see the efforts, timeliness and monetarily, not going to waste. It would be a shame, though, if after all this work and investment, the pool was not used. I really don't think there will be much of a problem there since we have the weather on our side.

If you haven't tried it out yet you better hurry! They tell me that the water is just the right temperature.

The Slow - Pitch Softball League Tournament begins Saturday morning at nine o'clock. There will be twenty-three games running through all-day Saturday and Sunday. Pick your favorite or come to all of them and don't forget the championship game at five on Sunday.

Proceeds go toward improving the ball park — buying benches, equipment, and things like that. The Little League will be taking care of the refreshments. Wouldn't it be nice if they sold peanuts and cracker jacks...

Don't forget that Sunday night "Time to Run" will be shown at the Trinity Methodist Church. The film will be starting at 8:00 p.m. I think you'll find the film to be quite worthwhile—a rewarding experience in itself.

As the canonization of Blessed Elizabeth Ann Seton gets closer and closer it becomes more and more apparent that Emmitsburg just isn't going to be ready. If 75-100 thousand people really do show up for the event, some arrangements are going to have to be made soon or Emmitsburg will be swamped. There certainly aren't dining facilities available for that many let alone lodging for many of them on overnight visits.

I guess there is hesitation on the part of builders and businessmen because the pinch of the recession is still being felt and people still are unsure of what is going to happen when September 14 finally arrives. It's just less than two months away. Ready or not, here it comes!

An early reminder: Plans are already made for the 19th Annual Thurmont and Emmitsburg Community Show. It will be September 12, 13, and 14 at Catoctin High School in Thurmont, so you better circle those days on your calendar. There will be a wide variety of activities and events and there's no admission charge. There's going to be lots of good eats and many old-fashioned fun things like pie-eating and greased pig contests. Get in practice...

We're closing up the shop and taking a vacation next week so there won't be a paper July 31. You'll just have to get along without me for a week. I don't know what I'll do without anyone to talk to but it won't be long until we'll be back the first week in August all rested up with more news and exciting events to tell you about. (We hope!) Thanks for your support and indulgence in making our vacation possible.

Rogers - Stely Nuptials Read

Miss Deborah Jean Rogers, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence (Pete) Rogers of Thurmont, became the wife of Richard William Stely, son of Mr. and Mrs. John S. Stely of Frederick, on June 14 at 2:00 p.m.

The double ring ceremony was performed on the lawn of Saint Henry's Wood, by Father Thomas W. Caulfield. The bride was given in marriage and escorted to the altar by her father. Serving as her attendants were: Mrs. Linda Long, sister of the groom, as Matron of Honor; Miss Roxann Rogers, sister of the bride, as Bridesmaid; Miss Penny Rogers, sister of the bride, as Junior Bridesmaid; and Miss Cathy Rogers, sister of the bride, as Junior Bridesmaid. Escorting Roxann from the altar was Edward Schildt, Jr.; escorting Penny from the altar was Blaine Schildt, and escorting Cathy from the altar was Robert Stouffer, Jr. The three young men are all cousins of the bride.

Mr. Edward Stely, brother of the groom, served as Best Man. The ushers were Ray Brown, Sr., and Edward Schildt, Sr., uncles of the bride.

The reception was held on the lawn at Saint Williams, home of the bride's parents. The guest book and music were attended by Miss Patricia Rhodes of Thurmont.

The bride is a 1975 graduate of Catoctin High School. The groom is a 1974 graduate of Middletown High School and is employed by Litton Bionetics at Fort Detrick.

Following a wedding trip the couple are residing at Route 2, Thurmont.

Dodgers Champions of Little League

The Dodgers are the 1975 Emmitsburg Little League champions. The Dodgers went undefeated, winning the regular season title with a 15-0 record and taking the playoffs with a 3-0 record. They beat the Giants in the final game of the playoffs, 10-4.

Matt Reaver was named the most valuable player on the Dodger team for the second year in a row. His outstanding pitching record included five wins, including a no-hit game, six saves, and 73 strikeouts.

The Dodgers hitting attack consisted of Josh Bollinger, John Miller, Greg Reaver, Steve Warthen, Mike Gingell and Matt Reaver.

CYA Track Clinic Opens Registration

The Catoctin Youth Association is sponsoring a Track Clinic from July 28-31, and a Track Meet on August 2 at Catoctin High School. The Clinic and Meet will be for boys and girls, ages 10 thru high school.

George Kuhn, Track Director, will conduct registration for the clinic on July 28, 5-6:30 p.m., at the Catoctin High School gym. A separate registration will be held July 31 for the meet. There is no fee for members of the CYA and a $1.00 fee for non-members.

The clinic is to instruct on fundamentals and techniques of different events of track. Practice and competition will be within age groups. Events will be dash (different distances), hurdles, mile, relays, high jump, 100 yard jump, softball throw, triple jump, shot put and discus.

Ages 10 thru 13 may participate in 3 events and the older age groups (14-15; 16-18) in 4 events. The Catoctin High School facilities will be used and a qualified coaching staff will conduct the sessions.

Youngsters Enjoy Day Care Center

"I like it fine," said Ernie Fannin, while John Andrew said, "playing," was his main reason for being there. Mark Hess said that "going swimming and playing softball," were his favorites. What these three youngsters were expressing was their enthusiasm about the Seton Center's Summer Program especially set-up for the 43 school age youngsters enrolled and attending daily at the Seton Day Care Center.

The program offers a wide range of activities which includes swimming instructions at the near-by Ft. Ritchie lake, arts, crafts, physical education, music and ceramics. Field trips are frequently enjoyed by the youngsters and to date a trip to the Washington Zoo and a picnic at the Catoctin Mountain Park have been shared by the group. Next week a picnic at Caledonia has been planned and possibly a trip to the potato chip factory in Hanover will materialize.

Four Daughters of Charity, Sr. Margaret Wilmann, Sr. Marie Lokitis, Sr. Paula Mayer and Sr. Margaret Ann Wooden, normally assigned to elementary teaching duties; Mr. Albert Roca, a seminarian at nearby Mt. St. Mary's, and Miss Kathy Muir, a recent college graduate, comprise the summer program staff. Sr. Margaret Ann said that the work is unlike the school term as this provides a more relaxed atmosphere where smaller groups are worked with and individual attention can be given. She was also pleased with the materials on hand to help entertain the participants.

Mr. Roca feels that the male image has helped while working with the children. One child recently said to Mr. Roca, "I wish you were my father." Mr. Roca relates well to this child as he comes from a broken home and needs the father image. The closeness of these youngsters will also help Mr. Roca after his ordination as he will be doing parish work and hopefully have many associations with the younger parishioners.

Miss Kathy Muir, the water safety instructor, said that the group is doing well in swimming. Four days a week the youngsters are transported by bus to Ft. Ritchie where Miss Muir gives the children swimming instructions. Many are making real progress, with several swimming already. Following the Standard Red Cross Water Safety Course, the students will receive certificates for their accomplishments at the end of the program.

Sr. Grace, administrator at Seton Center, emphasized the fact that in keeping the groups small, more individual help is given to the participants. She said, "It's a summer camp type program with a variety of events in which the youngsters may participate."

From the enthusiasm and smiles on their faces, 43 youngsters are being entertained this summer through the Seton Center Summer Program in Emmitsburg.

50th Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Carl W. Baumgardner of Emmitsburg, recently observed their fiftieth wedding anniversary. They were married in the Methodist Parsonage at Thurmont by the Rev. Stanley Jones.

Mr. Baumgardner is a son of the late Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Baumgardner. Mrs. Baumgardner is a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. George Kooz. They have two children, a daughter, Audrey, and a son, Wayne.

An Open House was held at the Elias Lutheran Parish House with 170 guests attending.

Dedication Ceremony For New Pool Honors Emmitsburg VFW Post 6658

Present Post Commander of the VFW, Lumen F. Norris; and Past Commanders, Allen Bouey, Raymond Baker and Thomas Saylor, are honored at the VFW Memorial Swimming Pool Dedication Ceremony. The VFW is contributing $40,000 to the pool.

The VFW Memorial Pool was dedicated on Saturday with due thanks to the VFW for its large contribution and with a surprise dip in the water for Mayor Richard M. Sprinkle and Park Commissioner Eugene Rosensteel.

Department Commander Ray Breneman, Jr., of the Maryland VFW, and County Commissioner Donald Lewis, were among the guests. Both praised the efforts of the VFW in this community project. Breneman said that "the Emmitsburg Post (6658) is one of the most outstanding posts involved in community service throughout the State of Maryland."

Mayor Richard Sprinkle shakes his finger at the spectators who threw him into the new swimming pool on Saturday. Also thrown into the pool for a quick cool-off was Park Commissioner Eugene Rosensteel.

Pool Manager will be Mike Wivell. Life guards are Lynne Phelan, Mamie Greenwald, Tom Walter, and Eugene Thornton; ticket sales, Kathy Myers and Sharon Danner; and maintenance, Fred Myers.

Mayor Richard Sprinkle and Park Commissioner Eugene Rosensteel were unexpectedly the first among the spectators to cool off in the pool. They were tossed fully-clothed into the four-foot area for an inaugural swim.

Music for the occasion was provided by the band members now at St. Joseph College on a summer gathering sponsored by the Maryland School for the Performing Arts.

Eugene Myers, President of the Parks and Recreation Board said that future plans for the pool call for an improved park entrance, tennis courts, pavilions, and a paved parking area.

Pool rates for the rest of this season are: family, $26; individual, $15; daily, six years and under, 50c; 7 through 16, 75c; and 17 and older, $1.35; except that on weekends and holidays the rate for 7 thru 16 will be $1, and for 17 and older the rate will be $2.25.

Senior Citizens' Picnic A Success

A picnic at the Log Cabin at St. Joseph's College was scheduled for the regular monthly meeting of the Emmitsburg Senior Citizens Club last Tuesday, but since the rain prevented the outdoor affair, it was held in the Fellowship Hall of the Incarnation United Church of Christ.

All the delightful food prepared by the members was set out buffet style. All filled their plates and enjoyed the food.

Mother Seton Day Proposed By Byron

A joint resolution authorizing the President to issue a proclamation designating September as "National Saint Elizabeth Seton Day," has been introduced in Congress by Rep. Goodloe Byron.

September 14 marks the day Mother Elizabeth Seton will be canonized as the first American to be raised to sainthood.

Mother Seton was born in 1774 and settled with her five children in Emmitsburg, Md., where she founded the Sisters of Charity of St. Joseph. In addition to founding this first religious order for women in the United States, she also established the first Catholic parish school in this country.

"Mother Seton made an extraordinary contribution to the religious and moral life of our country, as well as to the education, health and welfare of vast numbers of our citizens," Byron said.

Silver Fancy Holds Meeting

On Thursday, July 17, Mrs. Simon Klosky entertained the Silver Fancy Garden Club at her home, Saint-Anne's Lodge. She was assisted by Mrs. John Chenoweth and Mrs. K. Hackman, when a luncheon was served on the patio amid a surrounding of beautiful gardens and forest.

Mrs. John White, president, conducted the business meeting. It was suggested that seedlings from the Wye Oak be planted as a contribution to the Bicentennial.

Several tips for the gardener were given by the hostess: 1. Parsley seeds being hard to germinate, will do so by spreading on the ground, pouring boiling water on them and sprinkling lightly with soil. 2. Dill growing near tomato plants will repel worms. 3. Place zinnia and marigold seeds between 2 moist blotters and if they do not sprout within 2 weeks, seeds might as well be thrown away. 4. Plant tomato plants at foot of iron pole. As plants grow, tie them to pole with nylon stockings and wrap top of pole with copper wire.

An interesting game, "Name this Plant," was played. Various plants and leaves were passed, for each one to inspect, and prizes were given to the ladies having most correct answers.

The Dynamics in Thurmont Parade will be attending the Thurmont parade on July 31. Lineup will be at 6:30 p.m.

Hair Care

By The Experts At Norelco

How To Cut Your Losses

In the battle against hair-damaging summer sun and heat, you can cut your losses with a quick snip of the scissors.

That's one of the fundamental recommendations of hair-care professionals for pruning the season's ravages.

Another tip: Sun speeds the outpouring of scalp oil, which means you'll need a daily shampoo. Follow up with a hand held styling dryer. For labor- and time-saving, try Norelco's Styler-Dryer with its 900-watt power pack that mists, dries, combs, brushes, shapes and styles in minutes.

As for that scissor work: if a no-bother short cut suits your personality, you're lucky. But even long hair can do with a trim. If ends are split and dry, clip above the split.

Don't worry about those lost inches. Hair grows fastest during summer months.

If you're like most smart shoppers, you try to get the most for your money by watching the weight of what you buy, but, when it comes to some products, there's a bit more to it than that.

For example, a consumer oriented newspaper editor tested a television commercial that claimed powdered bleach "A" yielded twice as many of the required half-cup applications as "B".

It would seem that the thought of using the second bleach should be enough to make a smart shopper pale.

members of the Senate and House, candidates for Congress, and Congressional employees who earn over $22,000-a-year.

The bill requires that financial disclosures be made annually to the Comptroller General, who would make them available for public inspection. The measure goes beyond current rules that call for Senators to disclose only honorariums. The rest of our financial interests, for the most part, are kept from public scrutiny. Financial disclosure by Members takes place for the most part behind sealed envelopes and sealed doors in an air of mystery and mystique.

This is wrong, and it is one reason that people are rapidly losing confidence in the ability of the Government to lead.

This loss of confidence in Congress, the representative body of the people, is the most dangerous and pressing problem facing this institution today.

We are witnessing a continuing drop-out, isolation, and detachment of the electorate. This isolation is a threat to the representative system because its strength is derived from the consent and participation of the people.

The most difficult challenge to this Congress is to restore confidence in our Government and reverse this trend of isolation and non-participation.

There are many methods that can be employed to achieve this goal. We can become more candid and open in our legislative activities. We can be more responsive to our constituents.

We also have the ability to do something much more tangible to dispel the attitude of mistrust. That is to require complete public disclosure of their finances by members of Congress, candidates, and staff. That is what I again am seeking this year.

Boating Safety

Wearing Sperry Top-Sider Moccasins with anti-slip soles adds to your safety while you enjoy your pleasure craft.

Did you know boating waterways are referred to as "roads" by boating authorities? And as in driving a car, there are "road rules" set up to aid in happy safe boating.

Safe boating depends on an alert and attentive operator. As not being prepared is just about the greatest reason why boatmen get into serious trouble, a boat fully equipped with personal flotation devices (at least one for each passenger), emergency repair equipment and a complete supply of first aid equipment is always first on any safety list.

But a wise operator will have on hand a full check list of safety measures as well as foul weather clothing and proper boating footwear, such as Sperry Top-Sider shoes and boots with anti-slip soles. Hundreds of sharp-angled slits in the soles squeeze out water, creating an important safety measure on wet, slippery decks.

Overloading and improper loading cause most small boat accidents. Check the boat manufacturer's capacity plate for proper weight.

Fueling can be very dangerous. Stop all spark-producing activities such as cigarettes and radios during fueling. Do not leave fuel spills to vaporize.

Keep an alert lookout. Watch for swimmers, debris and other boats.

Watch your wake. It might capsize small craft or damage shoreline property. You are responsible.

Prepare a float plan. It should include a description of the boat, number of passengers, destination, proposed route and return date. Leave it with someone. Notify the holder of your "float plan" when you return.

Obey the rules of the road. These rules vary from area to area, so check them out before starting on your trip.

By following this check list, you will "think safety." You will "act safety" and you will have a safe and happy trip each time you go out boating.

Nationalization Or Regulation
There is a great debate going on in America between the advocates of nationalization of basic industry such as transportation, energy, health care and agriculture, and those who favor increased regulation instead. Many Americans are led to believe this is what should be debated. They don't realize it is the future of our free enterprise system being debated! Neither nationalization nor regulation are in the best interests of our country. Neither of these advocates represent the system on which our nation was built and which has made us the most powerful and most abundant nation in human history.

What needs to be debated is communism versus the free-enterprise system. The issues need to be clarified for all Americans. Those issues have been clouded to the point where the vast majority of Americans cannot give a good definition of free-enterprise. Oh, most of us can define communism, socialism and facism, but very few can really define our own system. We have departed so far from our system that it is hard to tell it from others which have never existed.

Nationalization Has Always Failed

There isn't a country on earth where the means of production are in collective hands that is feeding itself year in and year out. Russia has to buy wheat from the United States, China has its famines and Cuba lacks for many basics. This story is repeated throughout the world where the land has been taken from ownership of the individual and given over to collective ownership. Nationalization of the rest of private ownership is the surest way for the world to starve to death.

Is Regulation A Viable Alternative?

While the debate goes on with no real advocate for free-enterprise being heard, business, agriculture, natural resources, health care, education

... you name it and the field is being stifled to death by excessive regulation. One is just as bad, in the long run as the other, for in the end they both lead to the same place... communism.

What Really Is The Difference?

In the Soviet Union and other outright communist countries, all production and means of production is owned by the government. No one is supposed to be able to hold deed or title to land or the means of production. In America, at the rate we are going in the direction of total regulation, the operator holds the deed to his farm, business or even profession, but the government regulates how he does business, and how much profit he can make. The whole economy is moving in that direction.

Is Regulation Necessary?

Tragically, the answer to that question is yes, to a growing degree. Only an honest and self-responsible people can be totally free. As the crime rate goes up regulations have to increase. As the American people continue to refuse to do certain kinds of work, however honorable it may be and choose to draw welfare rather than be self-responsible, regulations will have to increase.

The vast majority of Americans want to take care of their own problems and the vast majority are honest. But, the growing minority has got our nation into a web of dependency on governmental help, now aggravated by inflation to the point where 44.5 cents out of every dollar earned goes to pay taxes. Add to this our present economic depression, (unemployment) and the collectivists have the United States where they want us. They want us either nationalized or with increased regulation. But don't believe we can accept either of these systems and then change back if we don't like it.

We will never change back... it has to be stopped. That has to be done by each of us as individuals. The Company can't do it for us... the policeman can't do it for us... and the government can't be honest, hard-working and self-responsible for the people. We must become responsible ourselves, and stop this drift into socialism.

that both the Dulles and the Kennedy disasters could have been avoided, if greater caution was given to existing weather conditions. In fact, it is very possible that, in spite of these adverse weather conditions, both flights could have landed safely if diverted to other airports.

Beall says that serious questions have been raised by the catastrophes and that it is the responsibility of the Aviation Subcommittee to determine if changes need to be made in present law or administrative regulations relating to airline safety. He outlined the following issues for consideration:

1) What is the present aviation "state of the art" in coping with severe weather conditions, particularly high winds and various meteorological phenomena surrounding thunderstorms?

2) Is all available technology designed to recognize threatening weather conditions being used by pilots and air traffic controllers?

3) Should government and/or private industry step up efforts to develop new technology, such as radar capable of locating severe weather and advising aircraft of alternate routes, designed to make flight in adverse weather more safe?

4) Should the Federal Aviation Administration implement a system to relay severe thunderstorms and tornado warning bulletins to inbound and outbound flights in a timely manner, particularly when such bulletins include the terminal area?

5) Are the current minimum operational levels for take-off and landing of commercial airliners in poor weather conditions adequate?

6) Why don't air traffic controllers presently have authority to deny both approach and landing clearances when thunderstorm activity exists over either the approach path or the airport and also take-off clearances when thunderstorm activity exists over the airport or departure path?

7) To what extent do commercial considerations or passenger convenience affect a decision to divert aircraft to alternate terminals or to cancel or delay the flight at the point of departure?

Beall says the Congress has the responsibility to insure that commercial aviation is as safe as humanly possible.

"When a person boards a plane," says Beall, "he or she assumes that everything possible is being done by government, by airports and the airlines to insure the absolute safety of all passengers. Of special consideration to all passengers is the weather and most travelers assume that the appropriate authorities will not permit the aircraft to operate unless conditions are favorable to safe flying, and that such decisions will be made regardless of commercial considerations. Recent tragic incidents of aircraft disasters have raised some serious questions in the minds of many. These proposed hearings should quickly clear up these very important questions."

Beall was a member of the panel which investigated the crash of a DC-10 jetliner near Paris, France, in 1974. The crash of the Turkish airliner claimed 345 lives and is the worst disaster in aviation history. Those hearings led to alterations in the FAA notice procedures to airlines on safety precautions, and changes in the latching mechanism of the DC-10 cargo door. Following last December's crash near Dulles airport which took 92 lives, Beall called for a Commerce Committee investigation into that accident. "The most recent crash in New York," says Beall, "points to the fact that we may not be doing all we can to prevent such tragedies."

Beall Pushes For Airline Safety

Citing recent airline disasters claiming over 200 lives at Dulles Airport near Washington and Kennedy Airport in New York, Senator J. Glenn Beall, Jr. (R-Md.) has called for hearings by the Aviation Subcommittee to investigate the procedures and operations used by airlines and ground traffic controllers during adverse weather conditions. Both of the recent fatal air crashes took place during adverse weather conditions.

In a letter to Senator Howard Cannon (D-Nev.), Chairman of the Aviation Subcommittee on which Beall serves, the Maryland Senator says he must question if "present procedures adequately protect the air passenger," Beall says

NEWS OF NUTRITION

Vitamins: Essential Nutrients
Vitamins play an essential role in a person's mental and physical well-being. In fact, without vitamins, the body cannot function.

According to scientists at Hoffmann-La Roche Inc., a leading producer of vitamins, the amount of vitamins needed varies from person to person and can change during different times of life. For example, a woman's requirements can increase during pregnancy. And, through the rapid growing years of children, during illness, or during rigorous dieting, vitamin needs increase.

To help measure the levels of nutrients essential for your health, the Federal Food and Drug Administration developed guidelines called the U.S. Recommended Daily Allowances (U.S. RDA). These guidelines suggest the daily intake of vitamins and minerals needed to maintain a positive state of health.

The U.S. RDA list includes 12 essential vitamins: A, D, E, C, B6, B12, folic acid, thiamine (B1), riboflavin (B2), niacin (B3), H (biotin) and pantothenic acid.

Why Not Pass The Peanuts?

As food prices continue to deplete a large portion of the family budget, today's homemakers should take a good, long look at the lowly, little peanut.

Why peanuts? Nutritionists declare that pound for pound, peanuts have more protein, minerals and vitamins than beef liver and more food energy than sugar. It has been said that in one peanut butter sandwich lies all the nutrients to fulfill a child's daily needs. Also, in its various forms, peanuts do less damage to the grocery budget than do meats and sugar.

Thus, it may reasonably be assumed that peanut popularity in the average American kitchen is destined to rise. And where better to look for delicious ideas for turning that healthy little pea into scrumptious dining adventures than two of the leading peanut-producing states — Alabama and North Carolina.

Howard Bloom, owner-operator of the Holiday Inn restaurant in Roanoke Rapids, N. C., was named "Top Peanut Pusher of 1973" in his state and has developed hundreds of original recipes featuring the peanut. Two of his favorite creations are Peanut Carrot Salad and Howard Bloom's Original Peanut Soup.

Another mouth-watering peanut recipe is "Little Ann's Peanut Pie" from the Holiday Inn in Eufaula, Ala. This gorgeous delicacy teams roasted peanuts with white raisins and coconut.

Original Peanut Soup
1/4 cup finely chopped Chilean onion*
1 tablespoon butter
1/2 cup creamy peanut butter
1 10 1/2-ounce can cream of chicken soup
1 10 1/2-ounce can cream of celery soup
2 1/4 cups milk at room temperature
1/4 cup finely chopped salted peanuts
Garnish: salted peanuts, parsley sprigs or paprika.
Saute onion in butter until

PASS THE PEANUTS! — Peanuts boiled, baked or roasted are always a hit on any table. And you'll be surprised at the money you save while still serving your family luscious, nutritious meals.

tender, but not browned. Fold in peanut butter and cook several minutes more. Blend in soups and milk. Add 1/4 cup chopped salted peanuts. Heat thoroughly, DO NOT BOIL. Garnish. Serves 6.

*Note: Where Chilean onion is not available, substitute another strong-flavored variety of onion.

Peanut Carrot Salad
2 cups coarsely grated carrots
2 teaspoons lemon juice
1 cup salted peanuts, chopped or whole
1/2 cup raisins
1/2 cup salad dressing, or fruit dressing
Orange sections
Lettuce cups
Add lemon juice to grated carrots to retain color, and to flavor. Combine carrots, peanuts and raisins. Toss to mix. Blend in salad dressing, adding only enough to moisten. Arrange in lettuce cups, garnish with orange sections. Serves 4.

Little Ann's Peanut Pie
2 eggs
1 cup sugar
1 stick (8 tablespoons) butter or margarine, melted and cooled
3/4 cup chopped roasted and salted peanuts
1/4 cup white raisins
1/4 cup coconut
1/4 teaspoon vinegar
1 teaspoon vanilla
9-inch unbaked pastry shell
Beat eggs; add sugar and cooled butter, stirring to blend thoroughly. Add remaining ingredients. Pour into unbaked pastry shell. Bake in preheated 350° oven for about 20 minutes, or until pie sets.
Pie Crust
1 cup flour
2 teaspoons baking powder
1 tablespoon shortening, chilled
Dash salt
3 to 4 tablespoons cold water
Mix flour, baking powder and salt, then sift together. Add shortening and cut in with knife. Add ice water gradually, adding only enough to hold the ingredients together. Knead lightly to form into a mold. Roll out 1/4 inch thick on floured board. Put in 9-inch pie pan. Pinch edge of pastry with finger or fork to flute.

Open Line By Rep. Goodloe Byron

The following questions were typical of the kind asked of me in recent weeks. Letters should be sent to me c/o U. S. House of Representatives, Washington, D.C. 20515.

What has Congress been doing these past several weeks as regards to oil reserves?

On July 9th, the House of Representatives gave overwhelming approval to a bill which would authorize exploration and production of naval petroleum reserves. The oil produced would be sold on the national market and the proceeds would be used to fund further production from the reserves and to purchase oil for creation of national strategic reserves. On a related matter, the Senate authorized creation and maintenance of strategic reserves of oil and petroleum products to insulate the nation against the impact of any future interruption in oil imports.

How do I order a copy of the Consumer Information Guide I recently heard about?

My office has been provided a limited number of Consumer Product Information Guides for distribution to interested citizens. The booklet, prepared by the Office of Consumer Affairs, contains a descriptive list of selected federal publications on how to buy, use and take care of consumer products. Ordering instructions and a mail-order form are also included. If you desire a personal copy of this helpful guide just drop me a line, care of 1730 Longworth Building, Washington, D. C. 20515.

What is the estimated potential for oil and gas on the Outer Continental Shelf?

A recent U. S. Geological Survey study indicates that undiscovered resources account for about 32 per cent of all oil and 22 per cent of the natural gas estimated to be discoverable and producible in the entire nation.

When is a good time to schedule a class field trip to Washington.

With our district being so close to the Nation's Capitol, it is my sincere desire to welcome and encourage citizens to plan a visit. Clubs, school groups, Scouts and other organizations or individuals need only write my office for assistance in arranging tours of the Capitol. September is a particularly ideal time because Congress will be in session and there are normally less crowds.

Is a House Committee currently considering legislation to decriminalize marijuana?

No bill has ever been reported by any House Committee to decriminalize possession of marijuana. To my knowledge, no action is scheduled on such a proposal and no hearings are planned.

Do you have any booklets on home freezing of vegetables?

The Agriculture Department publishes a thorough little guide with tips on choosing ingredients, preparation and packaging. For a copy of "Home Freezing of Fruits and Vegetables," send 65 cents to Consumer Information, Dept. 37, Pueblo, Colorado 81009.

"Crab Fishing"...

Newest American Sport

An exciting new outdoor sports trend, that can also help cut food bills with delectable catch-it-yourself seafood dinners, is about to take its place in the sun. And the unique device that's behind the whole thing is called - the "Sport Crabber."

It's not just crabbing anymore, now it's "crab fishing" - and the new trend signals inexpensive, take-it-easy fun in the sun for many thousands of winter-weary Americans this summer and fall.

The Sport Crabber is really a two-sided "clam-shell" type trap, activated by a single draw cord. A colorful plastic float attached to the cord acts as a signal when a crab is in the trap. The trap claps shut quickly with a simple tug on the cord.

Which Crabs-Where?

Plentiful, as well as delicious crabs are found along the Atlantic, Gulf and Pacific coasts, according to Dave Morrison, president of the Old Pal Division of Woodstream Corporation, manufacturer of the Sport Crabber. The most prolific, and popular, is the Blue crab, found from New Jersey to Mexico with heaviest concentration in the Chesapeake Bay. In the soft-shell state, it is a great delicacy.

Two crabs which require a little work to pick meat out of, but are well worth the effort, are the Rock and Jonah varieties. These are found along the coast of New England, generally at low tide.

The Stone crab inhabits the South Atlantic and Gulf coasts, principally Florida. Its claw meat is a delicacy and especially delicious.

Another important Florida-an is the Samoan crab. This is a swimmer which grows rather large - 5 to 8 pounds.

The principal west coast crab, tricky and fun to catch, is the delicious Dungeness. Found from the Alaskan Peninsula to Southern California, it grows as large as 9 inches across the back - and is the only large crab with white-tipped claws.

Constructed of tough dark green plastic, the Sport Crabber's molded-in lead weights assure fast sinking and holding. No part of it can rust or corrode. Its quickness, simplicity and ease of operation make it ideal for "crab fishing" any lazy day, on a bay, inlet, or off a dock.

For further data on the Sport Crabber (TM), visit your local sporting goods or hardware store, or write: Woodstream Corp., Little, Pa. 17543.

Keeping The FAITH

Aristotle Of The North

"Swedenborg's message has meant so much to me. It has given color and reality and unity to my thought of the life to come; it has exalted my ideas of love, truth and usefulness; it has been my strongest incitement to overcome limitations..."

Helen Keller
Who was the man who had such tremendous influence on not only Helen Keller, but also on such other diverse figures as Elizabeth Barrett Browning, Emerson, Hawthorne, Poe, Tennyson, Thoreau, Wesley, and even Johnny Appleseed?

Emanuel Swedenborg was an 18th century scientist, statesman, philosopher, inventor, and theologian. Some refer to him as the "Aristotle of the North" and the "Swedish Da Vinci" because of the scope of his contributions in all areas of science and literature. The Smithsonian Institution now houses a model of his concept for a flying machine.

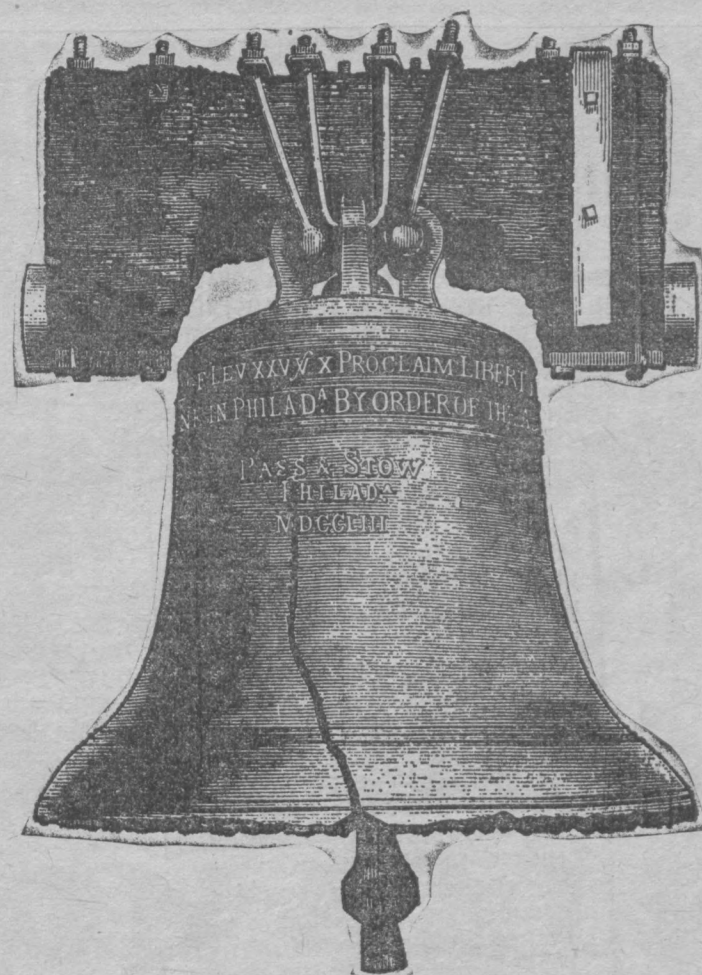

At the age of 56, his all-embracing interests focused on theology - and he literally gave the world anew religious enlightenment, Swedenborg's religious philosophy prompted Honore De Balzac to state: "Swedenborg undoubtedly epitomizes all the religions - or rather the one religion - of humanity."

Introduction to Swedenborg's Religious Thought, a new reprint written by J. Howard Spalding, an agnostic scientist until he read Swedenborg, has recently been published. This book is a clear presentation of the main points of Swedenborg's religious and philosophical concepts.

With chapters on Heaven, Hell, Free-Will, Creation, The Problem of Pain, and many others, Introduction To Swedenborg's Religious Thought is both provocative and informative.

Copies of Introduction To Swedenborg... may be obtained by sending $1.50 (post-paid) to the Swedenborg Foundation, Dept. INT, 139 East 23rd Street, New York, N.Y. 10010.

200 years at the same location.

Maybe folks were a little skeptical about taking stock in America 200 years ago. We were young. At war. With no experience. And who knew if we'd ever pay back the money? Well, 200 years have passed. And the U.S. government has always paid in full. To the penny. Now that's not a bad record.

In fact, you might say we're now a pretty well-established outfit to do business with. So join the Payroll Savings Plan and save with today's Bicentennial issue of Series E Savings Bonds. It's easy. It's automatic. And it's safe. After 200 years, you know we're here to stay.

New E Bonds pay 6 1/2 percent which hold to maturity of 30 years (if not first year). Local, state or federal bonds can be replaced if records are provided. When needed, bonds can be cashed at your bank. Interest is not subject to state or local income taxes, and federal tax may be deferred until redemption.

BUSINESS AND THE STOCK MARKET

Word Processing A
Burgeoning Investment Area
By Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass., July 24, 1975 — Sophisticated electronic-based systems are becoming an increasingly important part of the business scene in response to the need for processing the rapidly proliferating amount of paperwork. The ever-rising cost of handling business correspondence as well as the steady multiplication of forms, contracts, and other documents required in today's conduct of business have been instrumental in the introduction of this new automated equipment and its wide acceptance in corporate offices large and small. The greater flexibility it assures in the handling of paperwork chores has obvious advantages which business is sure to explore and exploit. The staff of Babson's Reports foresees revolutionary large-scale changes in the traditional use of the printed word in business operations in the next decade.

Old Paves The Way For The New
About ten years ago International Business Machines introduced its Selectric typewriter. A distinctive feature of this device was a magnetic head which was basically a tape recorder that permitted limited editing. Until rather recently this Selectric typewriter was the extent of word processing. While small improvements ensued when IBM substituted cards for tape, this advanced typewriter was itself the principal breakthrough in the modern-day office. It was not until 1972 that so-called "second-generation" equipment made its debut. This included greater information storage capacity, more acceptable and faster display devices for editing purposes as well as the transmission of the finished product. Further advanced, and more sophisticated, electronic components and computer systems have since been added to the overall system. And now the rapid decline in the cost of electronic components gives promise of further sweeping changes and advances in word-processing equipment. The way is being cleared, in fact, for the eventual across-the-board replacement of the individual word-processing typewriter with an assembly of electronic keyboards, printers, and visual display television screens all connected through a microprocessor or minicomputer. Other more versatile word-processing equipment now uses printing elements rather than the typewriter lettering.

Market Potential
The current market for word-processing equipment is in excess of $500 million annually and may actually be closer to $2 billion—the bulk of it still in machines for simple correspondence. By 1980, the market should reach a hefty $8 billion. In the opinion of the Babson's Reports staff, text-editing equipment will constitute the fastest growing and potentially most profitable sector. The average annual growth rate for this market is estimated at 18% through 1980. New to the scene, and sure to be widely accepted, are communicating-editing and automatic typewriters which allow the transmission of formatted, corrected, error-checked messages anywhere in the world via telephone to similar communicating typewriters and to computers via the Telex-TWX networks or in the form of Mailgrams. Two Investment Vehicles For Participation

The Research Department of Babson's Reports is currently recommending for purchase the common stock of the industry leader, International Business Machines, and the common stock of a formidable competitor in the word-processing industry, Xerox Corp. IBM is firmly established, indeed entrenched, in the data processing business as well, while Xerox has achieved a solid position in total-image duplication products and, with the recent introduction of its own automatic word-processing typewriter, promises even more forceful competition. Readers interested in a free detailed report on either or both of these companies may write to Babson's Reports Inc., Wellesley Hills, Mass. 02181.

Conquering The Universe: On July 21, 1969, people around the world witnessed an event of historic importance: Neil Armstrong became the first man to set foot on the moon.

Treat For Two With California Dip

Twenty years ago, California Dip—that delicious combination of onion soup mix and sour cream that everyone loves—made its first appearance at parties all over the country. Now on the scene is instant onion soup which makes the same tasty California Dip but in small quantities. If you're planning an anniversary celebration of your own, or a special dinner just for two, try these onion stuffed pork chops made with the instant onion dip. They're fast and easy to prepare, have a marvelous flavor, and are ideal for intimate dinners. Double the recipe if you invite another couple—they'll all enjoy it with you.

Onion Stuffed Pork Chops
1 1/2 cups seasoned croutons
1 cup Lipton Instant Onion Dip*
1 tablespoon solid shortening
4 pork chops, 1/2-inch thick
2 tablespoons water
Preheat oven to 350°.
In small bowl, combine croutons with 1/2 cup Instant Onion Dip.
In medium skillet, melt shortening and brown pork chops. In shallow baking dish, place 2 chops and spoon half the stuffing mixture on each top with remaining chops. Add water; bake covered 30 minutes. Blend remaining Instant Onion Dip into liquid and bake covered an additional 30 minutes or until chops are tender. Makes 2 servings.
*Lipton Instant Onion Dip: Blend 2 envelopes Lipton Onion Cup-a-Soup with 1/2 pint dairy sour cream; chill. Makes about 1 cup dip.

Breakfast Buffet: Nutritious For Children, Easy For You

Does your body pick foods that have a lot of vitamins? Not always. Your body is smart enough to make you blink when there's dust in your eye or cough when something tickles your throat. But you can't trust it to always make you pick foods that are rich in vitamins. That's why it's a good idea to eat a well-balanced breakfast—like milk, fruit or juice, toast and butter, and a bowl of cereal.
This is one way to teach your children about good nutrition. Another way is by example. Set up a breakfast buffet and let the children help themselves. See the side panels of any of the Post children's cereals for other breakfast nutrition hints. The basic cereal breakfast is a good way to begin the morning.

BICENTENNIAL BELLS

On the 200th birthday of America, you can give a present that really rings true as a symbol of the past, present and future of this country.
An appealing little Liberty Bell has been cast as a sturdy, safety-lock key chain or pendant on a fashionable 24 inch chain. Each comes in a long-lasting silver-plate finish with the hand-rubbed look of old pewter. Emblazoned on them is the date 1776 and a tricorn hat such as those worn by the Minutemen in their struggle for liberty; and the date 1976 and a space helmet like those worn by the astronauts of today and tomorrow.
You can find these Bicentennial items in fine jewelry and department stores, or send $4.50 for each key ring and each bell pendant to M. Weiner Co., Inc., 373 Washington St., Boston, Mass. 02108, so you can participate in the beginning of another Belle Epoch in America.

Both the United States and the Soviet Union have issued a twin pair of postage stamps honoring the Apollo Soyuz joint space mission. The same two designs are being used by both nations on stamps that will be identical with those issued in the other nation except for language and denomination.
The 10-cent U. S. stamps, one of U. S. design and the other of Soviet design, were issued on the day of the launches, July 15th. The U. S. design shows the spacecraft in the docked position, while the Soviet design shows the spacecraft separated.
These stamps are now on sale at our office.

Good Nutrition
by Dorothy M. Rathmann, Ph.D.

Q. Why exercise if it doesn't really help me lose weight?
A. Even a little exercise burns off some calories. About 19 minutes of walking will use up the calories in an apple. More vigorous exercise in a regular pattern can mean a significant weight loss. For example, bicycling one hour daily at about 8 miles an hour for 250 days could result in a weight loss of 25 pounds, provided you don't increase your calorie intake.
The most effective and realistic way to lose weight is to combine proper exercise with a good reducing diet. This may result in a loss of pounds and, more importantly, will cause a loss of obesity (too much fat in proportion to lean body mass). Exercise training tones and firms the body and, combined with a reducing diet, can help you lose flabby fat.
The fun aspect of exercising probably provides the greatest motivation. However, many people are also exercising for their health's sake. They have found that regular exercising makes them feel better and sleep better. These benefits are a result of proper exercise done regularly with a gradual increase in effort. A person who is really concerned about physical fitness should exercise for endurance or stamina, not mere strength. This requires a specific type of exercise which involves rhythmic motion, is repetitive and patterned so as to supply oxygen to the exercising muscles continuously. We are all familiar with the breathlessness and muscular fatigue that comes from unaccustomed activity. This has increased the muscles' demands for energy and oxygen far above the blood's capability to supply them. In a physically fit person, the system has increased ability to supply energy and oxygen to the muscles so they can work harder, longer and with less effort. This puts less strain on the heart (cardiovascular system). Exercises which are especially helpful for attaining physical fitness are brisk walking, jogging, swimming, cycling and rope skipping.
Heart health is another benefit of exercise. The lack of exercise is one of the risk factors associated with the development of heart disease. A proper exercise program can probably decrease the chances of having a heart attack, since exercise training is believed to improve the heart's own circulation system, lower high blood pressure and high heart rate.
Care should be taken, though, before beginning a vigorous exercise program. A previously inactive individual should have a checkup by his physician. A person with a heart condition, even totally recovered, should always consult a physician before starting an exercise regime.
Exercising wisely can improve your health and looks, and it can also provide hours of social recreation and fun.
For more detailed information on how to begin an effective yet safe exercise program, write for the free booklet, "Beyond Diet . . . Exercise Your Way to Fitness and Heart Health," by Lenore R. Zohman, M.D. Write to: Mazola Corn Oil Exercise Booklet, Dept. ZGN, Box 307, Coventry, CT 06238.

Better Eating... FROM START TO FINISH

The Kitchen Almanac
Sprinkle lemon juice or herb vinegar on boiled vegetables for a delightful tart touch . . . Add leftover stuffing to soups. It enhances the flavor and will help thicken the soup.

Memos from the men: John Gray, our resident Oak Park (Ill.) gourmet sends along these tasty tips; when making homemade donuts add 10% corn starch to powdered sugar before sprinkling on the donuts. The corn starch absorbs the oil and makes donuts hold powdered sugar better . . . Also from John — for an extra special flavor savor, add some chopped parsley to the dumpling mix when preparing your favorite "chicken and dumpling" dish. (Parsley also does wonders for vegetables, baked potatoes, meats and salads, too, John!)

A jam might be great for breakfast, but not afterwards in your food waste disposer. Disposer jams have always been a problem.
Engineers at KitchenAid tackled the problem and came up with the answers—electronic Anti-Jamming and the Wham Jam Breaker. Electronic Anti-Jamming is included on all of the company's disposers and clears ordinary jams. The Wham Jam Breaker — on top-of-the-line units — is a solid state, super torque control unleashing 120 jolts-per-second to eliminate even the toughest jams.

Vital vitamins — We all need vitamin C daily. Grapefruit and oranges (and their juices) as well as cantaloupe and strawberries are important sources . . . Vitamin A — which we need at least every other day — is found especially in apricots, avocados, cantaloupes, peaches, prunes and watermelons.

Preheat the oven at the correct temperature as directed for at least 10 minutes before you begin baking pastries . . . While we're on the subject: to assure a flaky, tender crust, handle pastry dough lightly. Overhandling makes the dough tough.

If you're a spaghetti lover as I am, you'll appreciate this nifty tip from Dolores Faris of Downers Grove, Ill.: to keep spaghetti from sticking together while it cooks, add some vegetable oil to the cooking water.
Editorial note: You may want to clip this feature and keep these worthwhile tips in your own "kitchen file." And, if you have any cooking hints you would like to share with the Almanac, send them to Harry G. Clark, (512), 173 W. Madison Street, Chicago, Ill. 60602.

BEAUTIES OF THE UNIVERSE

You don't have to travel to Mexico to see an exotic Mayan Temple. All you need to do is switch on your television set to see a towering edifice built by hand without power tools by 20 men in three weeks.
But it's not only the temple that's exciting to see. The structure was built as an elaborate stage set for the Miss Universe pageant. Seventy-five of the world's most beautiful women, all competing for the title of Miss Universe, will assemble in San Salvador, capital of the Central American republic of El Salvador, for a beauty contest of universal import.
Last year, an estimated 400 million people all over the world watched the telecast, broadcast by satellite. And this year you can join the audience by tuning in to the CBS television network at 10 p.m. (EST) on July 19.
This will be the twenty-fourth year of the Miss Universe pageant. Last year, the winner was a beauty from Spain. Who will be chosen this year? Perhaps it might be our own Summer Bartholomew of Merced, California, Miss U.S.A.
