LIONS CLUB NEWS

District Governor C. O. Fishpaw Installs Officers

The Lions Club's first meeting for this month was held last Tuesday evening at the Taney Inn with our President, Merle S. Ohler, presiding. President Ohler introduced our speaker, Lion Clarence O. Fishpaw, of Westminster, District Governor for Lions International. Lion Fishpaw spoke on the various activities planned for each day at our 32nd Annual International Convention held in New York City July 17 to 21 inclusive. Our International Convention held in New York last year, so impressed this city as a representative of the highest ideals of community and national life, so as to acclaim us as specially honored guests and as a result, their strong urgings and assurance of extraordinary facilities for us to return to their city again this year, makes it the first time in our history that our International Convention will be held in the same city for two succeeding years. trict Governor Fishpaw continued his program by installing our newly elected officers. Those installed for office for the ensuing year are as follows: President, Robert Thomas; 1st Vice-President, Robert Feeser; 2nd Vice-President, Harry Dougherty; 3rd Vice-President, Donn Webb; Secretary-Treasurer, Chester Cartzendafner; Lion Tamer, Singleton Ramsburg Tail Twister, James Fiscus; Direc-tors, Charles R. Arnold, C. G. Bowers, Charles Eckard and L. J. Dunlap. With these newly elected officers in charge with such a capable leader as Robert Thomas as President our Club should be one of great progress and benefit to our community during the next twelve months. The conclusion of our meeting was made especially interesting by President Ohler who showed us a colored picture depicting the story of Bucha-nan, Ga., how it arose, from a small town depending entirely upon cotton for its industry, to a clean progressive town of enterprise mainly thru the initiative and determination of two home-town boys upon their return from military service. The story of the transformation of the town of Buchanan was given in an article in the Reader's Digest of last October.

ning these improvements can be added as soon as classrooms needs in the county are met. It appears also at this time that administration of elementary schools in several locations in the county during the early part of the next school year will be diffi-cult due to the fact that building operations are going on at these locations. Every effort will be made to hasten the completion of these buildings now under construction so as to hinder as little as possible the edu-

the hands of a committee consisting of Mr. Arrington, Mrs. Necker and Superintendent Jenness.

The Board proceeded to the Court House at 11:00 A. M., where the Robert Moton School buildings were offered for sale. The result of the bidding was such that the Board withdrew the bidding and by resolution deferred the sale of said properties until a satisfactory price is obtained. The amount of the bid for the entire holdings was $3300. The superintendent read a letter from the Historical Society of Carroll County requesting that a representative of the Board pe appointed to cooperate with the Historical Society in the multiplication of ciety in the publication of a 1950 Directory of Carroll County. Superintendent Jenness was appointed to represent the Board at this meeting.

The attention of the Board was called to various requests for adjustments in the transportation routes of the county including several petitions. Action on this matter was deferred until over-all planning of transportation routes is completed. Contracts were concluded Johannes and Murray, architects, for improvement of school facilities at Taneytown, Winfield and Johnsville. A report was given by the superintendent relating to progress in school buildings now under construction. He was authorized to secure electrical power and water services at these new locations.

JULY FOURTH

On July 4th, 1824 both John Adams and Thomas Jefferson (bitter political enemies) each died. Just before his death Adams is alleged to have said "This is the 4th of July and Jefferson still lives" but Jefferson had died five hours before. Thus passed two of our great presidents. Jefferson's greatness stems from his authorship of the Declaration of Independence while Adams' greatness was enhanced by him when he became a Congressman after serving as president.

What to do with our ex-presidents is a burning question. I offer this as suggestion that it would be a good thing to give them a seat in Congress, with voice but no vote. Their experience would be of good service in helping them solve the knotty problems that confront the country. W. J. H.

ON A SOUND FOUNDATION

Lew Hahn, president of the National Retail Dry Goods Association, recently wrote, "We have just lived through an amazing period. No retailer ever before saw such conditions and no man now alive is likely to experience anything approaching them in the future. We have had the seven fat years. The only limitation on increasing volume was the ability to secure merchandise to sell. while we enjoyed these remarkable conditions, it must have been quite clear such conditions could not last forever. We knew a readjustment was coming. Now it is here.

"It is a time for optimism—not pessimism! We face the opportunity to build a great and enduring prosperity upon a foundation much more sound than the necessity created by a great war."

What has happened in retailingas in all other lines—is that scarcity of goods has pretty well been replaced by a wide abundance. The customer, quite naturally, is looking for the best quality, the lowest price, the most attractive displays, the most courteous and helpful service. In our competitive economy, the retailer who does the best job will get the business. The retailer who cannot or will not adjust his thinking to changing times will fail.

Here is a challenge to all retailers, chain and independent, large and small. Economic conditions in this country largely depend on how much money crosses retail counters-mass distribution makes mass production possible. Opportunity always beckons to the good merchant.-Industrial News Review.

even many colleges and universities-engage in commercial enterprise for profit and escape or avoid all or a major part of federal income taxes on the huge profits

It is estimated the federal treasury loses ONE BILLION DOLLARS in revenue every year because of this favoritism. Naturally, that amount is added to the income tax bill of those who DO pay."

All of these commercial enterprises should pay federal income taxes on their profits-just like the rest of us-and they should pay them before they do anything else with the money-just like other businesses and individuals do.

ALL BUSINESS SHOULD PAY TAXES ON THE SAME BASIS

Congress is out looking for four billions more in federal revenue. So far, it is planned to load this extra burden onto present income taxpayers. That means YOU. Every income taxpayer should INSIST to his Congressman that Congress TAX THE UNTAXED FIRST before heaping additional income tax burdens on those already paying more than their share. Contact your Congressman NOW. Tell him to TAX THE UNTAXED FIRST.

FEESERSBURG

After hearing testimony for months and deliberating for more than 14 hours, a federal jury has reported its inability to agree upon a verdict in the case of Alger Hiss. The jury could not decide whether to believe Mr. Hiss or Mr. Chambers. It found itself caught in the same web of contradictions and denials which has made the case so puzzling and so provocative for the public. The evi-dence against Mr. Hiss was circumstantial and that in itself is poor evidence. There is more to this case than has met the public's eye. Per-sonally I cannot see why Mr. Hiss with his background and his high place in the U. S. Government could hope to win higher honor by betraying his country to an enemy. On the other hand it has been brought out that Mr. Chambers was willing to commit perjury on any occasion and to switch from communism to democracy and back again at a moment's notice. If I had sat on the jury I would have acquitted Mr. Hiss, for here is every reason to believe that Mr. Chambers is the one that is lying. There are a great deal of politics mixed up in this case and when the truth is finally known it will be just an attempt of one political party to smear the other, using men of honor and integrity as pawns in a game that never ends. Among those attending the wedding of Miss Katherine Mullinix and Mr. John Dorcas, at Glenalga, in Howard County were: Mr. and Mrs.

George Crawmer and daughter, Arintha Jayne, Mrs. Arintha Marsh, Mrs. Beatrice Gladhill and Mr. and Mrs. Lavan Bankart. Miss Mullinix was a teacher last year at the Elmer Wolfe

As we heard it, the Sunday school teacher had just finished picturing the beauties of Heaven. "Now", she said, "the children who want to go to Heaven put up their hands." A forest of little hands sprang up. All except one small boy. "And why aren't you ready to go to Heaven"? Teacher asked, "Well" he said, the signs of struggle on his face, "I've got two rabbit traps set."

Mrs. Cleon Wolfe spent last Wednesday at the home of the Stanley Gilbert's, of Bethel Heights. Also visiting there, was Mrs. Addie Pittinger, of Bark Hill.

After a dry spell of many weeks, Maryland was deluged with rain on Tuesday. Never have I seen water run off the fields and down the gullies as it did today. One found out if the roof leaked for sure for the rain came down in torrents—all day long. The corn fields and pastures were very grateful for this long awaited drink, and the gardens perked up their foliage after a few hours of the cooling summer rain.

Guests of the Cleon Wolfe's this week were the Rev. R. S. Poffen-berger, Mr. and Mrs. Steve Pasiko, of Philadelphia; Mr. and Mrs. Elwood Toms and daughters, Nancy, Judith Fay and Phyllis and John Utermah-

On Monday evening a group of adults met at Mt. Union Church for the purpose of reorganizing a Missionary Society. For some reason Missionary work has lost its appeal Whether its due to poor leadership or the pressure of too many other interest it's hard to say. Years ago this type of work was very popular for women had very few outlets for their leisure time but now they find no ex-tra time for their many interests. Something has to suffer and it seems Missionary work has been chosen to do the most suffering. It has been said over and over again—one finds time to do what he really wants to do. And so if one is really interested in missions, the time will be found.

This morning (Wednesday) we learn that there were many flash floods in Maryland yesterday due to the heavy rain. Emmitsburg road was under two feet of water due to a cloud burst. The Truth About Electric Appliance Prices

Are Prices Too High? Are you getting the New Features and Quality You Expected in Post-War Appliances?

If your family has been thinking of buying a new appliance, you may be confused by conflicting stories about today's prices and values.

The fact is, there is no purchase you can make at this time that brings you more real value for your money than a good electric appliance. While the cost of living is up 70 per cent over 1939, according to government statistics, the average price increase of Ranges, Refrigerators, Washing Machines, Water Heaters and Dishwashers is only a little more than half

For example, today you can buy a brand new 1949 Hotpoint Refrigerator for $189.75---only $10 more than the same kind and size cost in 1939--and this is a lot better Refrigerator and has many improved features. When you consider that the dollar today is worth just 60 per cent of its 1939 value, you must agree that this new, vastly improved Hotpoint post-war Refrigerator actually costs

Compare this with the price increase in automobiles, houses or almost anything you buy-up from 50 to more than 100 per cent.

We see no reason for you to wait to buy a new appliance. At today's new low appliance prices you get the greatest dollar-for-dollar values we have ever been able to offer. We say this knowing full well that our future depends on satisfying you. We sell a lot of things --- everything for the complete electric kitchen and home laundry-so we can't afford to lose you as a future customer when you buy any one of our appliances.

"You can Look to Hotpoint for the Finest-FIRST" is no idle statement. We mean it. So, we back it up with the greatest dollar-for-dollar value in quality appliances ever offeredright now!

RAIN ON ST. SWITHIN'S DAY MEANS IT WILL RAIN 40 DAYS - MAYBE

If you believe the groundhog legend, you'll probably also believe the one about St. Swithin's Day-and who knows but what there may be something to

No one knows how the legend got started, or who started it, but it is known that St. Swithin was a pious British monk who was raised to become Bishop of Winchester. However, whether he started the whole thing, or whether it was started by his press agent, or whether it all began after his time, is not known, but the weather bureau says it's just a cock-and-bull story, anyhow. Its significance is set forth in the following Old English rhyme:

"St Swithin's day if thou dost rain,

"For 40 days it will remain; "St. Swithin's day if thou be fair, "For 40 days 'twill rain na mair . . .

The origin of this verse, like the origin of the legend, is lost in the midst of history. St. Swithin died about the year 861 and his body was removed on July 15, 971, to the church at Winchester, England, of which he was patron saint. Ever since, July 15 has been observed as, the Feast of St. Swithin's, or St. Swithun's, if you prefer. So if it rains on Friday, July 15—act accordingly!

Go all through your house . . . watch electricity work!

Ever count the number of jobs your electricity does for you? It preserves and prepares food—sews, cleans and washes-cools or warms-provides light and entertainment -saves you work, time, money every time you switch it on!

One of the biggest reasons for America's high standard of living is electric service we use as much as all the rest of the world together. That's because American business has been free to develop electricity from a scientific curiosity to one of the nation's most valuable services.

Business men and business methods pioneered and developed your electric company -and made electricity low in price, high in usefulness, available at your finger tips.

The marriage of "Al" and "Polly Ethyl"

We're speaking of the "Al" (short for Aluminum) and "Polly Ethyl" (a nickname for polyethylene) which have been joined to make the new "Alpeth" sheath for telephone cable. Gradually, this durable cover is replacing hard-to-get lead sheathing. Another development of Bell System research, it is helping us bring better telephone service to more people sooner.

Need new parts in a hurry?

When equipment breaks down and time is money, there's a good chance you can locate new parts quickly by calling Long Distance. The service is fast, personal, dependable. Most Long Distance telephone calls go through while you hold the line. Some typical low rates are listed on the inside front cover of your telephone directory.

Proper spacing pays dividends

If you've ever packed eggs, you know that spacing is important. The same is true of telephone calls on a party line. By allowing an interval between calls, you give your party-line heighbors a chance to use the "me. And well-spaced calls also make to easier for your friends to reach you by telephone. "Spacing" means hadter telephone service for everyone. The Chesapeake & Potomac Telephone Company of Baltimore City.

Why Church Music?

Lesson for July 17, 1949

WHY church music? Hymn books are expensive, learning new hymns is a bother, choirs are a lot of trouble. Most preachers need more time for their sermons; why not cut out the music and let them have fifteen minrutes extra? No sir; it won't do. Say what you please, average church-goer knows better than that. He may never have thought it out and he might not have Dr. Foreman heard of the word "hymnology," but Mr. Average Churchman likes music in the church, even if he never opens his mouth himself.

SINGING in church was not invented yesterday. In the Psalms, as in our own hymnals, some of the poems were originally written and intended for use in public worship. The word "liturgy" simply means the order of manner of service, and all churches have liturgies whether they give them that name or not.

Our familiar "Holy, Holy, Holy," was written for use in an early morning service; "Bread of the world" was written as a Communion hymn; "Break Thou the Bread of Life" while often used at Communion was not so intended, as you can tell by reading it carefully; it was meant for use just before the reading of the Scripture.

"Day is Dying in the West" is best used in an out-door service, "Ivory Palaces" was written one Sunday afternoon in North Carolina for use in an evangelistic meeting that night. It might interest you to leaf through your own hymnal and see how many hymns were written purposely for church use.

Songs of the Temple

THREE liturgical Psalms are our lesson selection. Use your imagination when you read them. As you read Psalm 24, think of a great procession marching through the streets of Jerusalem on a holy day and approaching the tall temple shining on the city's highest hill. Singing as they climb, perhaps one part of the congregation sings the question: "Who shall ascend into the hill of the Lord? Who shall stand in his holy place?" Perhaps another group of voices takes up the answer: "He that hath clean hands, and a pure heart . As the great gates swing open, the chant rises: "Lift up your heads, O ye gates!" for the King of Kings, the Lord of Lords, is marching.

The little kings (in Israel and over the world) have come and gone; only the Lord of Hosts is the King of Glory. Singing the glory of God brings it before the mind far better than reading about it in a book!

Then the 84th Psalm is taken from what they called the "Chief Musician's Collection," evidently a part of what we now would call the choir library. It is the song of a man who loves the church and loves the people whom he finds there. Psalm 95:1-7b is also obviously a song for public worship, and still is sung every morning in churches around the world.

The Best is Not Too Good

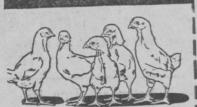

IF in ancient times when God's people were learning to sing, the noblest poems of inspired men were set to the best music available and used for the honor of God and the help of man, then surely Christians ought to do no less.

If you had a friend coming to see you, one whom you respect and wish to honor, you certainly would not set the table with all the chipped-up old kitchen china and you wouldn't put wilted flowers on the table and you certainly wouldn't keep the radio tuned to the tin-panniest trash you could find on

No, if you have anything for him you want it to be of the very best. Why not so with God? The house of God is no place for cheap, bad music, jingly meaningless rhymes instead of noble hymns and psalms, tiresome grind-organ tunes or jazzy swing stuff instead of music that has real power and beauty. If nonsense is bad in a sermon, it is worse in a prayer and worst of all in a hymn. If mere noise is bad in a sermon, it is worse in a prayer and unbearably bad in a hymn. of Religious Education on behalf of Protestant denominations. Released WNU Features)
