EXTENSIVE TRIP

IS DESCRIBED
First Installment of Write-Up
Telling of Points Visited

We left home on Tuesday morning, Aug. 15 and traveled Route 36 thru Duncatur, where we stopped to see the Fleagles and on to Springfield, Ill., where we saw the most beautiful exhibition coach horses and ponies. We crossed the Mississippi River at Hannibal, Missouri, the home-town of Mark Twain. After crossing the Mississippi River the land close to the river is poor and swampy, but in the western part of the state we drove through miles of corn fields. We then went north through St. Joseph, and Council Bluffs, Iowa to Yankton, S. D., then to Mitchell, S. D., here is where our trip really began.

The world's only Corn Palace at Mitchell, S. D., its name is merited by its unique design and decoration. The entire exterior and portions of the interior are covered with corn, red, blue, yellow and white—arranged in geometrical patterns and outlined with grasses and grain. In a series of panels, there are pictures, composed entirely of corn, depicting a theme such as wild game, hunting or pioneer history. Along its roof are moorish minarets and towers, these are brightly painted. The Palace is freshly decorated each year at an approximate cost of $15,000. It requires between 3 and 4 thousand bushels of corn. The individual corns are sawed lengthwise by small powered saws, the halves nailed, flat side in to wooden panels which are fastened to the brick walls of the building. It seats 5000 people and was built in 1921.

After leaving Mitchell we went to Kadoka here is the beginning of the most important Badlands area in the world. As you drive through the area you see high peaks, sharp ridges and buttes, and it doesn't take much imagination to see great castles, even statues of famous people. This sculptured appearance of the Badlands is a result of erosion controlled in part by climatic conditions, and in part by the nature of the soil. There are many beautiful colors in the Badlands ranging from red to brown and chalky white. Writers have tried to tell the strange beauty of the land, but, in vain. Painters of color have done better.

Strange huge animals lived here. Scientists have uncovered the story of these animals in their quarrying. These great monsters that roamed the Badlands millions of years ago have been re-created in full-sized replica in Dinosaur Park, a high hill overlooking Rapid City, S. D.

From here we traveled the Needles Highway to the Black Hills of S. D. and Mt. Rushmore Nat. Park Memorial, carved in enduring granite, under the authority of the Federal Government, supervised by Gutzon Borglum, world renowned sculptor, a whole mountain being used, are the colossal statues of Washington, Lincoln, Jefferson and Theodore Roosevelt, these great statesmen make this Shrine of Democracy, these sculptured faces will gaze upon the passing traveller for a million years. Their size 230 feet from waist to brow exceeds anything the world has ever known.

From Mt. Rushmore we went a few miles to the museum and home of the Polish sculptor of Korean Ziotkowski, who is engaged in carving the great mountain memorial, the Sioux Chief-Crazy Horse, at the request of the Sioux Indians.

We continued for 77 miles over the Big Horn Mountains, here are some of the highest roads to be traveled in the Rockies, and is America's largest wilderness area, unmarred by exploration. It is dotted with hundreds of lakes and streams teeming with fish, big game of all kinds abound. On the slopes of these mountains great flocks of sheep range and the ranger and dogs stay with the sheep, sleeping in tents outdoors. After leaving the Big Horn Highway we traveled the Cody Way to Yellowstone Park. At Cody, Wyo., the home of Buffalo Bill many traces of his life remain. The Buffalo Bill museum is filled with relics of his life and career and the Buffalo Bill monument on the outskirts of Cody is a tribute to his memory.

Many interesting rock formations occur on this highway. There are dozens of them, but some of the most prominent are the Laughing Pig, Henry Ford, The Holy City, Chimney Rock and The Palisades. This way into Yellowstone is well worth taking and one long remembered.

In the morning we entered Yellowstone Park. This is a must with most travelers to the Rockies, Yellowstone scenery is beautiful and enthralling. Mountains, canyons, streams, lakes, waterfalls and principally geysers and the geyser basins are to be seen here. The most thrilling sights are Old Faithful, the Falls of Yellowstone (Upper and Lower) the bears, deer, moose and elk. Travelers enjoyed the sights of these animals in their native haunts, they feed, but do not molest them.

The bears roam freely among the cabins and lodges. On opening our lodge door in the morning, we were greeted by a huge bear weighing 400 or 500 pounds, sitting upright, swaying back and forth, sniffing the air and cooing for something to eat.

The Grand Teton National Park is twenty miles south of Yellowstone. The Tetons are one of America's sheerest and most striking mountain

TANEYTOWN P.-T. A.

Future Meetings Will Be Held 3rd Friday Monthly

Around a large U-shaped table and with extra chairs drawn up a goodly number of the members of the Parent-Teachers' Association of Taneytown school met for the first regular session last Friday night in the High School Auditorium.

The meeting was very ably presided over by the president, Mr. Howell B. Royer. Minutes of previous meetings were read by Mrs. Homer Myers and approved. All the teachers of both High and Elementary schools were presented to the group by our Principal, Mr. George N. Shower.

Chairmen of the various appointed committees were called upon and responded as follows: Program, Mrs. Leonard Reifsnider; Building, Mr. Elwood Baumgardner; Health and Safety, Mr. George Kiser; Attendance, Mrs. E. P. Welker. Each one told of the plans in mind for the present school year and we feel sure our organization is going to grow and contribute in worthwhile measure to the school and the community.

We have been promised interesting programs with meetings one and one-half hours long; we were told details concerning our new elementary building, construction of which is to be begun soon; the Health and Safety Committee visited our present school building and brought to the meeting many suggestions and recommendations for improvement of existing conditions; we were asked to attend the next meeting and bring some one else along. Our teachers were with one or two unavoidable exceptions, all in attendance and we hope many more parents will come out next time. Remember, the 3rd Friday of each month is P.T.A. night—so mark it on your calendar now. It was reported that 112 families had by this time sent in their dollar for membership. We hope every family will see fit to join by the time of the next meeting night.

A short recess was declared at which time some group singing was indulged in and delicious punch and cookies were served, cafeteria style, by Mrs. Lynch, the Home Economics teacher, and a few of the High School girls. It was announced that light refreshments will be served at each of our meetings and some of the parents will be called upon from time to time to help out.

We were called back to our places and a very interesting and enlightening explanation of the subject "Core," which is taught in our school and which we all, as parents, ought to know about, was given by Mr. Shower.

A discussion of some sort of plan for taking care, financially, of children who are hurt during school time followed, and it was decided that the president appoint a committee to consider the matter.

With a motion for adjournment a very interesting and profitable meeting was brought to a close.

BOARD OF EDUCATION

REGULAR MEETING

Bids on the New Taneytown
School Received

The regular September meeting of the Board of Education was held in the City Hall offices on Tuesday, Sept. 17. The reading of the minutes of the previous meeting and the approval of bills for the month were the first order of business. The Board gave consideration to a number of adjustments relating to transportation routes throughout the county made necessary by overcrowding in some schools. The sale of the Union Bridge colored school property was conducted at the Court House with members of the Board of Education present. The property was sold to the highest bidder, Riley Hooper, of Union Bridge. Various adjustments were made related to janitors' service in several of the schools in the county as well as items related to bus transportation by contractors.

Approval was given to the appointment of the following teachers: Kathryn Manlove, Cecilton, Md. to be assigned to the Sandymount Elementary School; Irby Sorrels of Towson to be assigned to the Manchester High School; Dr. Mary Heltridle, of Hanover, Pa., to be assigned to the Manchester Elementary School; Christian Bjerknes, to be assigned to the Westminster High School; Miss Jeanne Meeker of Roseland, New Jersey, to be assigned to the Sykesville High School.

The superintendent reported to the Board regarding the occupation of the Robert Moton Colored School building and the new Sykesville Elementary School building. The Board was also given details regarding the school enrollment in the county as follows: These figures being as of Friday, Sept. 9. The total enrollment in the white elementary schools by grades throughout the county is as follows: First Grade, 859; Second Grade, 726; Third Grade, 688; Fourth Grade, 654; Fifth Grade, 609; Sixth Grade, 608; Seventh Grade, 622; Eighth Grade, 547; Ninth Grade, 480; Tenth Grade, 405; Eleventh Grade, 335; this makes a total enrollment of 4211 in white elementary schools and 2389 in white high schools. The white enrollment is expected to increase from forty to fifty during the week of Sept. 16th. The enrollment in the colored schools for the entire county is as follows: First Grade, 49; Second Grade, 56; Third Grade, 35; Fourth Grade, 45; Fifth Grade, 49; Sixth Grade, 36; Seventh Grade, 33; Eighth Grade, 30; Ninth Grade, 28; Tenth Grade, 18; Eleventh Grade, 12. This makes a total enrollment in the colored schools of the 386, 270 in the elementary schools and 116 in the high schools. The county total for elementary schools is 4481 and for the high schools 2505, making a total enrollment as of Sept. 12 of 6986 pupils. This represents an increase of 300 pupils over the enrollment in Sept. 1948. This increase in the number of pupils has caused crowded classes in many areas of the county and this situation is not expected to be relieved until further progress is made at various locations with the providing of additional buildings. A further addition to the school enrollment will be caused by the retention of all eleventh grade pupils in all schools for another year as a result of the inclusion of a twelve year grade in 1950-51. The school authorities must therefore anticipate an increase of approximately 1100 pupils in the total enrollment of the county for 1950-51.

At eleven o'clock on this date the bids for the Westminster Elementary School were opened in the presence of the bidders. The result of the bids on this school were as follows: Bidders on the general contract were: Allied Contractors, Baltimore, $279,475.00; John K. Ruff, Inc., Baltimore, $258,420.00; Allen F. Peaser, Taneytown, $240,421.00; O. H. Hostetter, Hanover, $231,000.00; Frank Carozzo Co., Baltimore, $298,750.00; Bids for the plumbing on this school were: Wesley Freeman, Baltimore, $26,139. J. H. Allender and Sons, Hampstead, $29,087.00; Westminster Hardware, Westminster, $18,427.00; Charles King, Baltimore, $24,250.00; Geo. L. Harner, Taneytown, $26,200.00. Bids for the heating were as follows: Wesley Freeman, $40,364.00; J. H. Allender, $32,963.00; Heer Brothers, $36,812.00; William Wood Co., $35,059.00; Westminster Hardware, $31,411.00; Charles King, $30,104.00; Geo. L. Harner, $36,108.00. Bids for the electric wiring were: Keystone Engineering, $12,900.00; W. H. Louthan, Dubs, $14,088.00; Swam Electric Co., Hanover, $8,950.00; Mid-Town Electric Service, $13,714.00. The Board adjourned without arriving at a decision regarding the contracts for the Westminster Elementary School and held a special meeting on Thursday, Sept. 15, for the purpose of considering the bids (Continued on Eighth Page)

Baby chick hatchings for the nation are still running ahead of last year, says the USDA. The total for the first 7 months of this year is about 24 per cent above the corresponding months in 1948.

For the nation as a whole, farm real estate taxes continued to rise last year. They were up an average of about 8 per cent above 1947, according to the USDA.

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

Thinking about Mules! Am sure there is a reason that the Colored man gets along with the mule better than the White man due to the fact that the Colored man understands the mule more so than the White man! Could be something to that. What say you? After all, Humans get along with individuals they understand best! Mules don't like to be bossed around and will lag behind just as some people! They are not dumb but independent. Like some more people!

So very sorry that nice young couple "around the town" did not take a vacation as they surely work very hard year after year. Betcha, the big Boss would suggest it if he paid them an unexpected visit and saw how very tired they both appear!

Those Motor Bikes sure can have accidents with any individual upon the seat! Believe it or not—that big Company which builds the "Schwinn" had one right in their own family. Their son seriously hurt with the compact of a car in Chicago, as he was riding one of their famous Motor Bikes!

That reminds me, lately while visiting in the hospital saw a young lad come in with his arm in a sling for an x-ray. He looked at me as he must have realized, I felt sorry for him and a slow smile came to his lips. He was in very great pain. I said, "Tell me, how did it happen?" And this is exactly what he said, "I was driving very fast with three of my pals with me on a Sunday—speeding like all the crazy youngsters for a thrill and the car turned over three times! The car was so bad that we just left it right there!" Nuff sed! Eh?

Seems everyone is so much in a hurry. A lady on the train beside me coming from New Jersey on the way to Washington said she was going to Florida but she could not get spending so many hours on the train that she would fly! There's the answer, folks. We should slow down and not live such a pace!

While at Ocean Grove a few weeks ago sitting in that wonderful Tabernacle of The Methodists with about 4,000 others listening to a wonderful sermon by a Methodist Minister, Dr. J. W. Hamilton from St. Petersburg, Florida—thought as I sat there how very fine it would be if all the world would be sitting in Tabernacles just like that so full of peace and love. There were 150 Ushers and the most interesting part about them was the order and system in having every one seated—the manner in which it was conducted. It took everyone of them to manage the collection which only took a very few minutes. The organ was entirely done over and that morning was the dedication. It cost over three thousand dollars to repair it which was donated by one of the members, Mr. Earl Beech. The Sermon that Sunday morning was "The Christian Answer to Desire!"—when Accident ends and Providence begins! The result—Fruitful Frustration!

Upon returning from Asbury, Your Observer went "Sailing Down The River" on a Thursday to Betterton where I have not been for many years. Believe it or not, folks it is the same place with the exception of the cemented streets! To add to that it is real relaxation three hours each way on that boat ride! What a meal at "Rigbie"—everything from soup to nuts as the saying goes! Here's a tip—there are two places to prepare for a dip-down there one on the right where many steps have to be climbed to make the change and one on the left which is more modern on the very first floor and run by a little elderly widow taking over the job of her husband who dropped dead suddenly last month. Your Observer will 'drop in' right there before the season closes!

Before leaving on my vacation visited the "Florida Beauty" at the Union Memorial Hospital who is from St. Augustine and injured in an automobile accident several months ago. The Jr. Chamber of Commerce of that city is carrying all the expenses for the Surgery which is taking place. Plenty of real Christians in back of it all! Miss Rawlins is a lovely girl not alone beautiful but sweet with it! She was so surprised to see my name of deLeon—a direct descendant of Ponce deLeon of the "State of Flowers" from which she hails! Those Doctors are performing wonders which now requires much patience on her part! Best wishes!

There was a young man who had written a letter requesting lessons for and in photography and in some mistake another study was sent—a course in talking without moving the lips—"Ventriloquism." The young man became interested as he continued to read further and decided to study. That man now has a big listening audience every week—none other but "Charlie McCarthy!"

That nice Mr. Barkley from Kentucky is going to the altar with the young widow from St. Louis around Thanksgiving!

So long, folks. Have a grand week end. Be good and be careful! Attend the church of your choice and if that one is not near you attend any "House of God!" Until then—Will be seeing you next week.

Pathfully,
Your OBSERVER.

OUR EX-PRESIDENTS

What shall we do with them? We have but one now, Hon. Herbert Hoover, who is amply able to take care of himself, but others may not be so fortunately circumstanced. Hoover, to my mind, was one of our greatest presidents. Others may think differently. He is perhaps our wealthiest and made every dollar of it by his own energy and diligence. With him it was not always a bed of roses. He knows what labor is. He wielded a pick and shovel from necessity at one time, and richly deserves his present affluence.

He worked his way thru Leland Stanford University by collecting and delivering his fellow students laundry. He was and is a typical American who has amassed his enormous wealth by his own exertions. His home at Palo Alto, Calif., is said to be one of the show places of the nation.

No one need worry about what to do with this ex-president; but what about others? What about the present incumbent.

Shall he go back to his former occupation—that of haberdasher, selling shirts, socks, and neckties? Quite a come down that would be honorable as the employment is.

I hazard the suggestion that our ex-presidents be given a seat in Congress, with voice but no vote, and at same salary as Congressmen, John Adams, when ex-president sought and secured seat in Congress and that body was the stronger by his addition.

So let's agitate giving a seat in Congress to our ex-presidents.
W. J. H.

CONDITIONS IN WASHINGTON

Washington, D. C., September—The Government of the United States now spends $46,000,000,000 a year. Whew!

One of the dependable publications in Washington that newspaper correspondents regard as absolutely accurate asks the question, in a recent issue: "Are official morals in Washington low?" We've sidetracked that issue because our policy always is constructive.

It is general news that a business man obtained $34,000,000 in loans from the Government, and a General went to jail for "shenanigans in handling Air Force procurements."

Every news reporter in Washington knows that the charges against Major General Harry Vaughn, the President's Military Aide, have never been disproved.

There are wholesale entertainments on a lavish scale in the highest places of Government. And we all know that the appointment of Mrs. Perle Mesta as Ambassador to Luxembourg was all traceable to her "grand parties" plus the fact that she turned in large sums of money for the Truman campaign.

The answer to the questions: Are "official morals low" and is there lots of pressure in high places? YES!

It is not in our field of duty to report this class of information to the editors and publishers of local newspapers in 48 States. But, there is no way of denying that the Administration and the Congress fail to gain and hold the confidence of American people.

"Official morals" in High Places are very low.—J. E. Jones.

MARRIED

McDANIEL — TEETER

In a lovely ceremony solemnized on Saturday afternoon, September 10th, at five o'clock in the Tatum Methodist Church, in South Carolina, Miss Annie Mae McDaniel became the bride of James H. Teeter, of Taneytown, Md. The Rev. John Hipp, brother-in-law of the bride, assisted by Rev. L. D. B. Williams, pastor, officiated using the impressive double ring ceremony.

The vows were spoken before the chancel which was draped with graceful Southern smilax and clematis vine. On either side of the altar white lattice panels covered with the same vines extended the arrangement to either side of the church. Inside the chancel umbrella and palm trees formed an attractive background against which numerous white lighted candles in candelabras and tall baskets of white gladioli, asters, and chrysanthemums festooned with lacy white clematis effectively decorated the recess. Smilax was draped over the arch completing a beautiful setting for the occasion.

Prior to the ceremony a program of nuptial music was rendered by Mrs. M. L. Hamer pianist, and Mr. Bradwell Hamer, vocalist. Among her selections Mrs. Hamer played "Love Song" (Rolsch), "A Wild Rose" (McDowell), "Trauerlied" (Schumann), "Mr. Hamer sang "At Dawning" (Cadmant), "Because" (d'Harven), "O Perfect Love" (Barnby), and "Seal Us O Holy Spirit" (Meredit) as the benediction hymn. The "Bridal Chorus" from "Lohengrin" was used for the processional and "Wedding March" from "Midsummer Night's Dream" for the recessional. During the ceremony "Clair de Lune" (Debussy) was softly played.

Miss Patricia McDaniel, maid of honor, and Mrs. John Hipp, matron of honor, both sisters of the bride, wore dresses of lavender taffeta fashioned with net yoke, draped bertha fitted bodice, trimmed with tiny covered buttons from the yoke to the long waist line, and full skirts. Juliet caps of matching color were worn. They carried white leather gold lettered testaments topped with a deep purple orchid showered with white satin ribbons.

The bridesmaids were Miss Virginia Teeter, sister of the groom, Miss Dana Hinson, Mrs. James McDaniel, and Mrs. Woodrow Burrus. Their dresses of green taffeta were fashioned from the same basic pattern as those of the honor attendants. They also wore Juliet caps of matching color and carried similar testaments, gifts of the bride, topped with lavender orchids and showered.

The usher groomsmen were three brothers of the groom, Messrs John D. Teeter, Daniel E. Teeter, Frederick K. Teeter, and Victor McDaniel, brother of the bride, Master Gerald Hipp, nephew of the bride, was the ring bearer. He wore a white gabardine suit and carried the rings on a white satin pillow. Dr. Richard Teeter was his brother's bestman. He and the bridegroom entered from the ante-room near the chancel while the bridal party came down either aisle and formed a semi-circle before the altar.

The bride entered the church with her brother, James McDaniel, her blonde beauty was enhanced by her wedding gown of white duchess satin fashioned with a marquisette yoke, fitted bodice and full skirt ending in a train. Tiny satin buttons trimmed the back of the dress. The long sleeves ended in calla lily points. The double tiered lace and tulle veil was edged with lace and attached to a lace cap. She carried a white testament topped with white orchids and showered with satin ribbons.

The bride's mother wore a dinner gown of pink lace. The groom's mother wore a dinner gown of light blue crepe. Each had shoulder corsages of deep purple orchids.

Mrs. Teeter, daughter of Mrs. W. A. McDaniel and the late Mr. McDaniel, was graduated from the McColl high school and Flora McDonald college with a B. A. degree. In May of this year she was graduated from John Hopkins Hospital School of Nursing and John Hopkins University with the B. S. Degree.

Mr. Teeter, son of Mrs. John S. Teeter and the late Mr. Teeter, of Taneytown, Md., was graduated from his local high school. He was in the service in the Army Motor Division. He is now a Senior in Gettysburg College in the pre-medical department. In 1950 he plans on entering University of Pennsylvania Medical School.

Immediately following the ceremony a reception was held at the McDaniel home. The house was beautifully decorated with white gladioli, asters, tuberose, and trailing clematis with other greens. The guests were greeted at the door by Mrs. Claudia Manship who presented them to the mothers of the bride and groom at the living room door. The receiving line stood within the living room to greet their friends. Miss Mary W. Cottingham, Miss Mary McInnis, and Mrs. Thomas Kemmerlin received in the gift room where a lavish display of gifts attested the popularity of the young couple.

Miss Lieve Connor and Mrs. Joe Adams kept the bride's register.

In the dining room the table was beautifully arranged, covered with a hand-made lace cloth Crystal candelabra, were at either end of the table with a large bowl of gladioli and asters showered with clematis trailed across the table. At the punch bowl Mrs. John D. Teeter and Mrs. Robert Clingan, Jr., served lime punch. Decorated cake squares, green and white mints were passed by Misses Geneva Stanley, Betty Jean Jones, Nancy Teeter and Mrs. David Pitzer. During the hour of the reception music was furnished by Mrs. Richard R. Teeter.

At the side door of the home Mrs. L. D. B. Williams bade goodbye to the departing guests.

After a wedding trip to points unknown the young couple will reside in Gettysburg, Pa. The bride has accepted a position in the Annie M. Warner hospital as a reg. nurse.

There was some discussion concerning the Thanksgiving dance which is to be held on Thanksgiving evening in the High School auditorium. It is hoped that the Alumni will set aside this evening to return to their Alma Mater to renew friendships and to spend a very enjoyable evening.

EXTENSIVE TRIP IS DESCRIBED

ranges, with Leigh, Jackson and Jenny Lake nestling at the base and serving as a reflecting pool for the granite mountains, which are covered with snow the year around.

In the shadow of the Tetons stands the Church of The Transfiguration, a large glass window through which the majestic Tetons can be seen, forms the picture for the altar.

From the Tetons we entered Idaho parts of which are irrigated and productive and the rest desert waste. This route is known as The Old Oregon Trail, which was traveled by the first pioneers to the West Coast. Here we saw great underground potato storage house, with air vent for the circulation of air.

At Umatilla we had our first glimpse of the Columbia River and Hway.

At the Dalles we watched the Indians netting the big Chinook salmon in Celilo Falls. Long ago Celilo Falls was given to the northwestern Indians by the U. S. Government as "a happy hunting ground" where they might catch the big Chinook salmon in any way they chose. Each Indian family has its own small fishing pier, which has been the fishing pier for that family for generations. In the center of these rapids and falls is an island and the Indians travel back and forth over the rapids in overhead boxes that swing on cables over the falls to the island. No one but the Indians are allowed to fish here. We saw them netting salmon weighing from ten to fifty pounds.

The Columbia River Highway is supposed to be the most beautiful and scenic in America. Lovely water falls by the score leap from the high crags, falling hundreds of feet into the river below. The Highway follows the shore of the river, cutting through miles of solid rocks and overlooking great gorges.

Forty-two miles east of Portland on the Columbia River is the famed Bonneville Dam, the generating powerhouse and navigation locks. Here are the salmon ladders (stairsways for fish) to help the salmon over the dam on their way upstream to their spawning ground. Fish counting stations are operated at each fish ladder to observe the success of the fishways. At the Seifert Salmon cannery factory we watched the Japanese canning the salmon. It was very clean and plenty of water was used in the cleaning and preparing of the fish for the cans.

From the Columbia River basin we traveled the Paradise Highway to Mt. Ranier, 14,408 feet high. This is the most superb landmark of the Pacific Northwest. Its peak is covered with snow the year around, hiding the deep crags and ridges, while at the timber line are great meadows of beautifully colored wild flowers. At the lower altitudes are great forests of fir, cedar, pine and hemlock.

The Nisqually River flows from Mt. Ranier down through the gorges to the Nisqually Valley below, it was this river that flooded the valley and ruined the trees in Paradise Valley at Kuntz Creek. The area was inundated by the flood that occurred in Oct. 1947. The giant trees were dead for miles thru the gorge from lack of air caused by the debris carried by the stream. The flood was so great that a new gorge was cut through the mountain and revealed floods of other generations. The devastation of this area was terrible to see.

We returned to Portland, Ore. and went to the Lambert Gardens, The World's Most Beautiful Gardens. They consist of ten gardens, a paradise of flowers. Each garden is planned for the particular flower that is planted there all the world's newest and finest roses are displayed here. The Rose Festival is held in June.

In Salem we took pictures of the State Capitol with its gold pioneer on the dome. On this route through Oregon are large numbers of huge saw mills. This is the Rogue River country made famous by the writer Zane Gray.

At Scotia, Calif. we saw the operations of The Pacific Lumber Co. saw mill, the largest redwood sawmill in the world. This saw mill is two miles in length, with one and one-half miles of yard for the curing of the lumber.

Grants Pass, Ore. is the northern terminus of The Redwood Highway and San Francisco the southern, covering 469 miles. The magnificent giants of the forest are thousands of years old, the oldest living thing on the face of the earth, they reach a height of 346 feet and diameter of over 25 feet. These redwoods grow in their native state only in the coast range of California and nowhere else in the world. At Richardson's Grove is the outdoor museum of the Redwoods, here was shown the trees in the different stages of growth. A tree was displayed that began growth in 600 A. D. and indicated that at seven different times it was flooded with earth, but each time new growth was started. It was 320 ft. high, weight 500 tons and would make 95,000 board feet of lumber.

There are nice cabins in all the Redwood towns for the traveler who wants to sleep amidst these giants of the forest.

After leaving the Redwoods you enter the fertile valley to San Francisco. This is known as the egg basket of the world, here 6,000,000 hens lay the daily supply of eggs. At Santa Clara in this valley is the home of Luther Burbank, plant wizard and horticulturist, also the home of the famous race horse, Seabiscuit.

COMMUNITY LOCALS

Mr. T. M. Buffington, Hanover Hotel, Hanover, Pa., spent Saturday afternoon and Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. Roy Garner and family.

The Rev. and Mrs. Wm. E. Roop, in company with their oldest son, John D. Roop and wife, and their son Roger, attended the all-day special meeting, held in the Mummert Church near East Berlin, Pa., on Sunday, Sept. 11, 1949.

The Auxiliary of the Hesson-Snyder Post 120 had their regular meeting on Tuesday evening, meeting with a nice attendance. The ladies wish to thank the community for their cooperation, even if both evenings were cool, in the success of the Lawn Fete.

Mrs. M. H. Reindollar, the oldest resident of Taneytown, will observe her 99th birthday, September 28th. She is in good health except for her eyesight, likes to have her friends visit her and is interested in what they are doing and in the activities of the town.

The regular meeting of the Taneytown Chamber of Commerce will be held Monday evening, Rev. Charles S. Owen will give a "Travelogue on Southern Highlands." Members of the Chamber are urged to be present to participate in other business that will be acted upon.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Hess, Toronto, Ontario, Canada, are spending some time with Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hess and other relatives in Maryland. Mr. Hess' father was born in Maryland, but he was born in Canada. Mr. Hess owns the Hess Printing Co. Limited, along with his two sons. This is his first visit to Md. in 47 years and his opinion is that the country has improved and is much more prosperous.

Rally Day will be observed at the Taneytown E. U. B. Sunday School and Worship service this Sunday. The goals are 100 per cent in attendance and to reach the financial goal that each class has set for the church. There will be special musical numbers in vocal and instrumental and readings by members of the Sunday School. The programs will be a little different than in other years. Each member is urged to bring along another with him this Sunday.

Let's Think

by
G. H. ENFIELD

DO YOU KNOW THE HISTORY OF YOUR COUNTRY?

Europeans accuse Americans as possessing superficial knowledge of American history. On the part of the mass of Americans we must accept the accusation as being correct. Aside from that fact, we also find a feeble inclination on the part of high school pupils to study American history with any degree of zeal and enthusiasm. Many of these same boys and girls expose themselves to a history course in their high school educational career because it is required.

This article will be rather general in scope. At another time I want to offer some reasons why every sane American should have a certain knowledge of the history of his own country.

Many are loud in their acclamation that America is a great country. But what proportion of these have a definite knowledge as to what makes America a great country, or have an appreciable understanding as to what makes her different from the other nations of the world, yet, even from the other democracies?

To cry from the housetop that I am a Democrat or a Republican without knowing what these parties stand for, does not necessarily make me a worthwhile member of either. A blind contribution may be worse than no contribution. We must intelligently know what we are and why we are what we are, and what we and others like us stand for, if we hope to make our best contribution.

If we have an insight into the long, arduous, and hazardous paths over which our ancestors journeyed from our beginning to the present, will we not more fully appreciate our American heritage, our American civilization? Then, will not the American youth when summoned to defend America from the ravages of her enemies with his services, sacrifices, blood, and life, know why the preservation of our heritage is so precious, and so costly.

Study history not as isolated events but from the standpoint of great movements, each of which has grown out of an earlier movement or movements. History is a record of the accumulated experiences of the human race. It is also a record of causes and effects. Such a study is both interesting and beneficial. American history is the accumulated experience of the American people. Let no people or nation point a finger at us and exclaim "How little do Americans know about their own country!"

The Psalms We Sing

Lesson for September 25, 1949

IT WOULD be a most unusual person who on his dying bed would turn to the 23rd chapter of I Chronicles and not to the 23rd Psalm. If the reader will think of his own favorite passage of Scripture, and then look them up in some edition which prints the Bible in a modern format, he will discover that his favorite passages are probably all poetry.

Dr. Foreman

Poetry's Power

WHY the appeal of poetry? For one thing, it is vivid. It is in colors, not severe black and white. It lives and breathes, at times it shouts, and it always sings.

It is true to say "The providential oversight of the Creator is continuous and unremitting," but it is more effective to say, "The Lord is my shepherd." It would be true to say, "The evidences of creative and beneficent purpose can be seen throughout all the orders of nature," but how much more vivid is the 148th Psalm, calling on hail and fire, sun and moon and stars of light, to praise the Lord!

Another secret of poetry's power is that it is the language of emotion. Professors and theologians may be saying the same things as the poet, and maybe even saying them more completely and accurately; but what they say is less easy to remember.

So these emotional Psalms will always appeal, even to the professor when off duty, because they make us feel religion and not merely think it.

Pictures of God

SO IT IS no wonder the Psalms have been loved and sung all over the world. We are perhaps the only religion that has made so much use of another religion's hymn book. Different though our faiths may be, Jews and Christians can sing from the Psalter with one voice and heart.

For centuries it was the hymnal of the Christian church. Indeed, up to recent years some large denominations would allow in public worship the singing of no other songs than the Psalms.

Many of our best hymns and popular gospel songs, as we have already seen, are based on Psalms. "Rock of Ages, cleft for me," "A Shelter in the Time of Storm," "Hiding in Thee," — they all go back to the Psalmist's picture of God as a Rock (Ps. 42:9). The Psalmist was not thinking of a little rock in a cornfield. He was thinking of some tall crag in the fierce hot landscape of his country.

A rock there is a landmark, it is a shelter against the blazing sun, people could live under its overhanging height.

So God is the landmark of life, he gives direction to our ways; he is the shelter on life's weary journey, he is our safe dwelling.

So with the many other pictures of God in the Psalms—he is light, he is shade, he is the guard on duty at night watching over the sleeping city (Ps. 121); he is a shepherd, he is water for the thirsting soul (Ps. 42).

A Model Hymnal

IT IS true that few Christians today can use in worship all of the Psalms, without omission or changes. It is also true that practically all Christian churches find that the Psalms, by themselves, are inadequate to express all there is in Christian experience, faith and ideals.

The Christian hymn, entirely independent of the Psalms, has long since come into its own. And yet the Psalms remain the model hymnal. For in them beauty and truth are blended.

This should be the ideal of all Christian hymn and song books. Some of our modern "hymns" as well as some older ones, are bad because they are no better than jingles, —doggerel, not poetry, and often sung to tunes better suited to a juke box; and some are bad because they convey either nonsense or downright falsehood.

But the great hymns, and the best hymnals, are those which like the Psalms of old, combine profound truths about God and man, duty and destiny, with safety, stirring and singable music, aglow with the beauty and power of words.

WHY THE MISSOURI PACIFIC RAILROAD STRIKE?

Over twenty years ago, the Congress of the United States passed the Railway Labor Act. It was hailed by union leaders as a model for the settlement of labor disputes.

THE LEADERS of the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, Brotherhood of Locomotive Firemen and Enginemen, Order of Railway Conductors, and the Brotherhood of Railroad Trainmen on the Missouri Pacific Railroad have refused to avail themselves of the peaceful means provided by this Act for settling their disputes. They insist that they be the sole umpire of their own disputes over the meaning of contracts.

There is no Need for Strikes

With all of the available methods for the interpretation of contracts, there is no need for a strike or even a threat of a strike, but the leaders of these railroad unions have ignored the ordinary procedures established by law and insist upon imposing their own interpretations of their contracts by means of a strike.

The wheels have stopped rolling on the Missouri Pacific. They may stop rolling on other railroads at any time. Recently the Wabash Railroad was forced to discontinue operation for several days under similar circumstances.

What are These Strikes About?

These strikes and strike threats are not about wage rates or hours. They result from disputes over the meaning of existing contracts. They cover claims for a full day's pay for less than a day's work, or for payments for services performed by others who were fully paid for the work done.

President Truman's Board Condemns Strike

There is an established legal method for handling disputes involving existing written contracts—just as there is such a method of settling any contract dispute which you may have in your daily life.

The President of the United States appointed a Fact Finding Board to investigate and adjust the Missouri Pacific dispute. This Board reported, in part, as follows:

"... it is with a deep sense of regret that we are obliged to report the failure of our mission. It seems inconceivable to us that a coercive strike should occur on one of the nation's major transportation systems, with all of the losses and hardships that would follow, in view of the fact that the Railway Labor Act provides an orderly, efficient and complete remedy for the fair and just settlement of the matters in dispute. Grievances of the character here under discussion are so numerous and of such frequent occurrence on all railroads that the general adoption of the policy pursued by the organizations in this case would soon result in the complete nullification of the Railway Labor Act..."

Obviously the railroads cannot be run efficiently or economically if the leaders of the unions ignore agreements or laws.

Provisions of the Law which are Disregarded

There are five ways under the Railway Labor Act to settle disputes over the meaning of contracts:

- 1—Decision by National Railroad Adjustment Board.
- 2—Decision by System Adjustment Board for the specific railroad.
- 3—Decision by arbitration.
- 4—Decision by neutral referee.
- 5—Decision by courts.

The Missouri Pacific Railroad has been and is entirely willing to have these disputes settled in accordance with the requirements of the Railway Labor Act. Regardless of this fact, the union leaders have shut down that railroad.

Innocent Bystanders Suffer Losses and Hardships

There are about 5,000 engineers, firemen, conductors and trainmen on the Missouri Pacific. They are known as "operating" employees, and are the most highly paid of all employees on the nation's railroads, but their strike action has resulted in the loss of work to 22,500 other employees of the Missouri Pacific. In addition, they have imposed great inconvenience and hardship upon the public and the communities served by that railroad.

The Railway Labor Act was designed to protect the public against just such interruptions of commerce.

If these men will not comply with the provisions of the law for the settlement of such disputes, then all thinking Americans must face the question, "What is the next step?"
