ALUMNI NEWS

Organization Taking Active Part in Our Schools

The regular meeting of the Alumni Association was held in the school building on Monday evening, Nov. 21 with 24 in attendance. The meeting was opened by the president, Edmund Morrison. The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved as read.

The various committees for the card party which was held on October 20 reported their receipts and expenditures. This party proved to be quite a success. The alumni wish to express their appreciation to the various committees, to those who contributed prizes, to the public for their support, and to all others who helped to make this party a success.

It was reported that the combination slide and film-strip machine has been received and presented to the school. The model purchased is an outstanding one in this field. The projector will put enough light on the screen to make possible bright, clear pictures even in non-darkened classrooms. It was also reported that the machine has been used quite frequently since its presentation to the school and has proven to be a valuable contribution to the visual-aid equipment of the school.

A letter which is to be sent to the members to inform them of the activities and financial status of the organization was read and suggestions received. This letter is to be sent out after the first of the year.

The following were appointed to serve on the nominating committee: Leo Sanders, chairman, Francis Myers, Mrs. Stanley King, Mrs. James Fair, and Mr. John Harner.

It was decided that a historian be added to the existing officers of the Association so that a concise record of the activities will be available at all times.

Several of the members are interested in organizing an Alumni Boys' basketball team. It was decided to contact the Principal of the School, Mr. Shower, and see if arrangements could be made for the use of the school building for practice and for games. John Harner was appointed to act as coach, if the team is organized. The Association will provide the needed equipment.

The Taneyette Staff was represented at the meeting. Mary Angell told the members about the school paper, namely, The Taneyette. This paper is published four times a year. The price is fifteen cents a copy or fifty cents for a year's subscription. The Staff would like to have an Alumni Column and the support of the organization in the obtaining of subscriptions. It was decided that a member of the Senior Class be elected as Alumni Reporter and that said reporter be invited to attend the meetings of the Association. The Alumni present gave their support to the paper by subscribing to it. It is hoped that more Alumni will find it possible to aid their Alma Mater by subscribing to the Taneyette.

A delegation representing the Girls' Athletic Association was present. Betty Jane Hahn told of the need of new basketball suits for the girls' team. They wish to purchase twelve new suits and they desire the financial assistance of the Association in this project. No decision was reached by the Association at this time. It was felt, however, that some assistance could be given, but the extent could not be determined immediately. This matter will be given consideration at the next meeting of the Association.

The refreshment committee was appointed for the next meeting, namely, Mr. and Mrs. James Fair.

The meeting adjourned to meet again on Monday evening, Dec. 19, at 7:30 P. M.

Delicious refreshments were then served by the refreshments committee, which was composed of Mrs. Jas. Baumgardner and Mrs. Stanley King.

Cornerstone Laying This Afternoon at 3

The following program is to be presented at the laying of the cornerstone for the new Elementary School, Uniontown Road, Taneytown: Invocation, Rev. Charles Owen; Greetings, George N. Shower, Principal; Response, Howell Royer, P. T. A. President; Laying of the Corner Stone, Mr. Clyde Hesson, President of the Carroll County Board of Education; Placing of Documents in the Corner Stone, Mr. E. Elwood Baumgardner, chairman of the building committee, Taneytown P. T. A.; Remarks, Mr. S. M. Jenness, Supt. of Carroll County Schools.

The public is invited.

A POLITICAL MEETING

A Democratic dinner, to honor the Governor of Maryland, the Hon. W. Preston Lane, Jr., and a get-together for the Democrats of Carroll County, will be held at Legion Square on Monday evening, Nov. 28, beginning at 6:30 o'clock. Other national and state dignitaries will include United States Senators Millard E. Tydings and Herbert R. O'Connor, and representative from the Second Congressional District William P. Bolton.

George R. Mitchell is serving as chairman of the committee on arrangements, and other members of the committee are: L. Awalt Weller, Lawrence B. Fink and Randolph Shilling.

Inspect the wiring on portable heaters before putting them to use this Fall.

CHRISTMAS PLANS FOR TANEYTOWN

"Festival Of Lights" will be Presented Dec. 9th

At the October meeting of the Chamber of Commerce a committee was appointed to draw up a plan for the annual Christmas observances as sponsored by the Chamber in the community. The committee appointed consisted of Rev. Charles S. Owen, chairman; Raymond Perry, Edward Reid, C. G. Bowers, Harry Dougherty, David Smith, Sam Breth and Charles Cashman. This committee drew up a suggested program to be presented at the next meeting of the Chamber, which will be next Monday night, Nov. 28.

It was decided to have a "Festival of Lights" observance on Dec. 9 at 7:30 p. m. This promises to be one of the most outstanding events of its kind on record in the community. This celebration will officially initiate the festivities of the Christmas season. For this occasion and other events of the season, plans are on foot to install a loud speaker in the Municipal tower so that the program may be heard all over town.

The next event in the Christmas festivities, sponsored also by the Chamber of Commerce, will be the Adult Christmas Party. This will be held on Dec. 22. The distribution of the accustomed tickets by the merchants for the prizes to be given, will begin on Saturday morning of Dec. 10, and continue until 5 p. m. of Dec. 22.

The Annual Children's Theater Party and treat, will be held on Dec. 23 at 2 p. m. There the children of the community and vicinity, will be accorded a free moving picture show through the courtesy of the Earle Theater, followed by the accustomed gifts from Santa Claus.

A more complete announcement of all these events will be published after the committee reports the recommendations to the Nov. meeting of the Chamber to be held next Monday night. This will be a most important meeting. The annual election of officers will be one feature on the program.

The people are still talking about the annual Chamber of Commerce banquet enjoyed by so many recent years. In Taneytown this annual event always proves bigger than in the average community of similar size elsewhere. The general conclusion is that this outstanding social event of the year, was one of the best and most enjoyable on record. The executive committee are to be congratulated on such a fine achievement that will continue to be remembered with a lot of pleasure, and for the gifted, clean and well-known talent, they secured for the stage show which could not be beat anywhere at any price. And, now that this is past, everyone looks forward to the Christmas events ahead with the anticipation that these also may meet with equal success.

P. T. A. NEWS

Were you at the P. T. A. meeting Friday the 18th? If not here's a brief resume of the program presented that night.

Mr. Howell Royer, the president called the meeting to order. After the singing of the National Anthem the regular business meeting was conducted. The committees reported as follows: Proposed sponsoring Raymond but this was voted unwise. Building: Planning a cornerstone ceremony; it was suggested that parents receive a copy of the plans of the new elementary school. Attendance: trying as best they can. Health and Safety: Safety patrol stationed at corners.

The meeting was then turned into the hands of the 7th, 8th and 9th grade core teachers.

Miss Madeline Myers described very ably her methods of teaching Core in the 7th grade. Mr. Yingling described the work being done by the 8th grade of which he is the teacher, he then used slides to illustrate his talk. The 9th grade teachers are Mrs. Carl and Mrs. Shipley; Mrs. Carl explained the Core program for the year and Mrs. Shipley described how the library helps to supplement a student's text books, also that it offers a source of recreation for book lovers. All parents should have attended in order to understand the work being done by the students and teachers. The teachers used maps, charts, graphs and books to illustrate their points.

There followed a social hour for the parents and teachers to discuss very palatable punch and various types of cookies.

Next meeting, a Christmas program will be presented. Don't forget—third Friday of December. VIRGINIA KUBIT, Reporting.

THANKSGIVING

The Taneytown Churches Observe the Day

The Rev. Morgan Andreas of the Evangelical and Reformed Church, delivered the sermon at the Union Thanksgiving Service using the theme "Then This is Thanksgiving" held in the Evangelical United Brethren Church on Thursday evening. The Rev. Arthur W. Garvin of the host church extended a welcome, and the service was well attended. The Rev. Charles S. Owen of the Presbyterian Church led in responsive reading, and the Rev. Glenn L. Stahl of Trinity Lutheran Church offered prayer.

In his sermon the Rev. Mr. Andreas said it would be well to observe Thanksgiving Day as a "holy day" rather than a holiday. He reminded the hearers of the numerous occasions upon which Christ gave thanks; and closed with a quotation from St. Paul that "Thanks should be given for all things at all times."

Special music included a vocal solo by William Copenhaver, a vocal trio by sisters, Eva, Doris and Helen Martin of the host church, a vocal solo by Mrs. Fern Hitchcock, Jr., a guest, all accompanied by the organist Mrs. Esther Ridinger Hawn, and a reading "Thanksgiving" by Miss Ruth Stambaugh of the Reformed Church. The ushers were Messrs. Hiltner, Lambert, Stonesifer and Cartzendafner.

LIONS CLUB AMATEUR SHOW MEET

Final details on the Amateur Show being sponsored by the Taneytown Lions Club in the local High School auditorium at 7:59 P. M., Dec. 1, were taken care of Tuesday evening at a meeting of the committee in charge of the show. Don R. Webb, chairman presided at the meeting and important last-minute details were taken care of.

With the show less than a week away all business matters regarding the show have been taken care of. It was reported that a goodly number of tickets have already been sold with many more expected. Announcement was made that a good number of talented amateurs have already been secured for the show and many more expected to be available by the night of the show. All contestants to date are quite talented and with much time being devoted toward the preparation of the show should go far toward making this show one of the best amateur shows ever seen in this community.

Members of 4-H Club Honored

Three local 4-H Club members, Miss Caroline Shriner, Miss Mary Null and Donald Bollinger, in company with Miss Dorothy Haines, assistant Home Demonstration Agent, J. R. Schabinger, assistant County Agent, Stewart Young and Joe Haines, of Westminster, left this morning (Friday) for Baltimore, where they will leave by train for Chicago to attend the 28th National 4-H Club Congress. This is an all-expense trip which has been awarded these young people for their deep interest and achievement record in 4-H Club work. One of the outstanding attractions for the 1500 or 1600 girls and boys who are expected will be the International Livestock Show which will last all next week. They will return home December 3rd.

Caroline has been an active member of the local club for seven years. During these years she has completed many projects in the fields of food, food preservation, house furnishings and in the making of her own wardrobe. She is president of her own Senior Club and local leader of the Jr. Club and vice-president of the Carroll County Senior Council.

Mary in her seven years in the Agricultural Club has worked with beef, corn, leadership and dairy projects. She is primarily interested in dairy projects. In the last 4 years at the County 4-H Fair Mary has been judged best dairy "showman" three times and twice she has exhibited the best fitted dairy animal. For 2 years she has assisted the local leader of her club.

Donald received his award on the basis of his seven years of club work with livestock. Four years he has fed steers and has done an outstanding job. However, Donald's primary interest is in swine. During his career in 4-H work he has built himself one of the finest purebred herd of Hampshire hogs. In connection with his livestock interests Donald has been a member of the County Livestock Judging Team for four years. Donald has served as assistant local leader for his club. He has helped new members secure good livestock by donating animals to them and assisting boys in selecting of breeding stock. Donald is not only active in 4-H Club work but in church and community sports as well.

GRATITUDE

If I have gratitude in my heart,
I must express it;
Else the capacity will depart,
The loss, I'll regret it.

From ingrates we are to grow
Into beings, thankful,
For a selfish person, as we know,
Cannot be grateful.

Thanksgiving Day is for general thanks,
And for national recognition
How God has blessed our native land,
And to offer Him our petition.
G. H. ENFIELD.

SOUTHERN STATES AS SEEN BY REV. OWEN

An Account of Recent Trip Made by Minister and Family

Someone inquired recently: "How do you remember all those things described in your travelogue?" That's easy. I took my wife along with me.

Today's story is a continuation of last week's episode most of which had to be omitted for lack of space. The big paper company, described in last week's episode, presents an interesting observation to the visitor. It is called the Champion Fiber Company. It covers an enormous area in one of the mountain towns and requires several hours for the guide to take you through the plant. You see nearly everything about the process of paper-making, from the time the timber enters the mill until it comes out into the finished product. Here you see how the paper you use is made, and how the paper used in America is made. For this company located in the midst of the vast Appalachian forest belt makes most of the paper of every variety used in this country and other parts of the world.

In former days the lumber companies usually destroyed the mountain forests in removing the timber they wanted. This is no longer the case. Under the leadership of this progressive Paper Mill, which has a lease on much of the Appalachian Forests Reserves, a new plan of conservation has been adopted so that only the ready timber is removed without destroying the younger growth. By a plan of reforestation the great timber reserves are now being permanently maintained by growing trees as fast as they are used.

This experiment shows that private capital has within itself the resources to correct and cure many of the abuses with which it has been charged in the past. That is that it is strong on production and weak on distribution, while Communism is strong on distribution and weak on production. Here was an example of an industry strong on both production and distribution, and making huge profits in the plan. Here in a small way is one of the answers of private capital to communism.

RAYON

In an adjacent community was another example of prosperity brought in by a new industry. Here a new city by the name of Enka had been fashioned out of a country wilderness. The miracle of transformation was accomplished by a big Rayon Mill which came into the area and built a huge plant covering many acres. Almost overnight a beautiful little city grew up. It was magnificently landscaped against the sloping hills. The plant manufactures Rayon Yarn. It is so extensive that two hours are required for the guide to conduct the tourists through that part of it not too secret for the public to see.

The Rayon is made of cellulose. The cellulose is first converted into a liquid. This is forced through a little glass tube called a spinneret. The spinneret is filled with tiny holes of microscopic size. The cellulose sprays through the holes like water through a nozzle. The spray is made to pass through a chemical solution that coagulates each tiny filament into a continuous thread. These threads are gathered up on to a twisting spindle construction now in operation at Mt.

CHRISTMAS SERVICE BY CARROLL COUNTY MINISTERS

The annual Christmas service of the Carroll County Ministerium will be conducted in the Seminary Chapel in Westminster, Md., on December 14 at the regular meeting hour of 10:45. Rev. Mr. Mervel Weaver, Minister to the Presbyterian Church, in Frederick, Md., will be the guest preacher.

This is the fourth meeting of the Carroll County Ministerium this season. The programs have been arranged around the theme of the festivals of the church year. Harvest Home, Reformation Sunday, have been discussed. The Christmas message will be presented for the December meeting.

In January, the Festival of the Epiphany will be the subject, with the Right Reverend Noble C. Powell, Bishop of the Diocese of Maryland of the Episcopal Church, will be the speaker.

A fine turn-out will be appreciated.

WITH THE 8th ARMY IN OSAKA, JAPAN

Private First Class Richard F. Warner, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edward Warner, of Taneytown, Md., has just returned to his unit after participating in a 4-day field maneuver which was held at Aonogahara.

The maneuver participated in by 125 troops was highlighted by a field firing exercise combining all the modern Infantry weapons of his unit. Private First Class Warner is presently assigned to Heavy Mortar Company 27th Infantry Regiment.

The 27th is part of the 25th Infantry Division, and is stationed at Osaka, Japan.

Enlisting in the Army at Taneytown Md., on March 12, 1948, he took basic training at Fort Jackson, South Carolina. He arrived in Japan on July 17, 1948.

AROUND THE TOWN

With all my heart, I wish you every morning
A smile that shall last until the next day's dawning.
I wish you health—life's greatest wealth!
I wish you always near so that I may help to cheer
Each future day and in some way—help to bring you happiness!

There is a great big red beautiful moon shining down from the dark sky as I type this column. It is, no doubt, "That Harvest Moon" of which the catchy tune was written many moons ago called, "Oh, Shine on, Shine on, Harvest Moon for Me and My Gal!" It is a clear cold night—quite snappy and Thanksgiving is in the air! The ground is covered thickly with Gold—the leaves that have fallen from the trees as always this time of the year. At last it is Autumn!

Your Observer loves this special holiday in the country. I love to drive through the Penna. State at this time of the year just as I love to drive to Frederick town the day before Christmas for a few hours of which I have never missed since residing in Carroll county.

The stores are heavily stocked with toys—toys that have not been on the market since before the war. The store "around the town" has no doubt every kind of a toy this year and I was thinking what a wonderful time those twins would have in such surroundings! Another year will tell that tale!

Cupid held the hands of that nice accommodating "Taxi" driver and a girl from Pennsylvania and the knot was tied several weeks ago. Best wishes!

On a recent week-end trip to the city of "Brotherly Love" I was amazed at the crowd and the throng of people on the trains just as during the war. Believe it or not there was standing room in the aisles and on the platform of the trains—people heading for that city and the Great White Way. Could have been the public returning to their homes in those cities after visiting the races!

Directly in front of me was a couple monopolizing the seat in front of them with their feet on that seat. One after the other glanced at the couple as they walked by looking at that vacant seat. Not one word was said until a man whom I judged was a traveling salesman got on the train at Wilmington and said very sharply, "I would like to sit down! Would you kindly remove your feet!" That really, folks is one of my pet peeves. Why do individuals only think of themselves? Never thinking once of the other fellow! As Your Observer observes daily, the great selfishness and the jealousy in this great big wonderful world of ours which actually rocks the world. Children jealous of their toys, young girls jealous of the other girl's "Date" women jealous of each other, men and women jealous of their mates, foreign countries jealous of our past rich and valuable lands. There is a saying that "Money is the root of all evil!" The real attribute to that is jealousy which can eat our very lives into destruction! Any individual who is jealous feels that he or she must be inferior otherwise he would not be jealous. Take inventory of yourself right now and if you are of that nature you are the only one who can cure yourself and you will discover when it is overcome that you are truly living as you have never lived before!

Calling all Grandmothers! Remember that famous Soup Tureen that graced the middle of your table at meal times when big families were all the rage? Well, Your Observer saw one exactly like it in the basement of that big department store of Hochschild Kohn Co. for the handsome sum of $75.00. Now, be sure and hand it down to your daughter's daughter for she will place it on a Master piece forever more!

There is a Colored Taxi Driver in the big city who is most kind and a real gentleman to all those who ride in his cab and topping the white man with his manners and his consideration. Your Observer was a passenger from the down town district senger to the Martin J. Barry Company where Lincoln was parked. He would not allow me to alight in traffic and drove under shelter so as I would not be struck by the jam of traffic! He spent three years across the Sea for you and me and I think you know just what I mean!

That nice little wife "around the town" is surely an asset in that prosperous business of her husband's and the partner! She remains in the store all day long. Here's to their coming venture which will go over with a bang! Now, I betcha! Anyhow—Your Observer sees all fine big year for 1950 which will be a banner year for every kind of business. That number somehow stands out in big letters right in front!

Now, here's a tip to any G. I. If you want to have a fast growing business, open up a "Car Laundry"—six days a week washing cars in exactly fifteen minutes! Just like that saying, "They will look spiffy and all in a jiffy!"

They say those nice "Misplaced" individuals are fitting right in and I do think the real reason we like them so much is because they are substantial! Eh?

This Thanksgiving Day, Folks do some fine thing for someone else. Be thankful for all your many blessings bestowed upon you! Try to love—Life, Beauty, Sunshine, Laughter and this great big wonderful land of ours which is so full of peace and rich

THANKSGIVING DAY

Thanksgiving Day is an American institution, just as the turkey we eat on that day. So is the "Irish" potato—though that is a product of South America and not North America.

When the Pilgrim Fathers landed at Plymouth they found turkeys in abundance so that it was little trouble with their awkward flaring-mouthed blunderbusses to kill their prey. For this the Pilgrim Fathers are said to have fallen on their knees and given thanks. Why they later feel upon the aborigines is not told.

The Indians at first were a peaceful and harmless people and only became cruel as allies of the French or English in their wars after being mad. Mad by the white man's curse which the Indians named fire water. Another American product which we use at Thanksgiving time is the cranberry—a native of Massachusetts but now raised largely in the bogs of New Jersey though found as far west as the Mississippi river. While a student half century ago we used to encounter a number of Indians who came down the Mississippi for a hundred miles bearing their baskets of cranberries which they exchanged for "fire water." We would make of Thanksgiving day a day of real thanks and to donate to our more unfortunate neighbor a part of the blessings we possess.

A half century ago Baltimore was ruled by the trio—Raesen, Kelly and Mohen.

Kelly was a resident of West Baltimore and at Thanksgiving time and at Christmas time he sent out to each poor family in his district a basket with a turkey and trimmings. No wonder he held sway so long. We can at least give thanks and a word of cheer.

W. J. H.

DAY OF DECISION

Reckless, unconscionable government spending and high taxes are leading America to national bankruptcy and disaster.

Already our economy is strained far beyond good judgment—almost to the breaking point—yet the tax-happy, bungling bureaucrats in Washington are so intent on increasing the scope of their paternalistic power and squeezing the life blood out of the taxpayer that they completely ignore the danger signs on every hand. They think money is something the government can print in any quantity as long as the paper and ink hold out.

They forget—it seems deliberately—that money is only a medium of exchange, that for every dollar the government spends, somebody, somewhere, somehow, some day has to plant corn, work in a mine, turn a lathe, drive a truck, build a house or do something by the sweat of his brow to help pay the bill.

Contrary to the belief of these socialistic-minded free spenders, America's wealth is not inexhaustible. We can't continue spending more than a billion dollars every nine days without going bankrupt. Such a spendthrift program demands higher and higher taxes—more and more controls. It must be stopped—before our tax sources dry up and business under a free enterprise is strangled beyond recovery.

We must make our decision now. Either we continue to travel the down-hill road to ruin of reckless government spending and increased taxes—or we must take our stand as Americans and demand that the Federal Government inaugurate an immediate program of economy and thrift, as outlined in the Hoover Commission Report.

It's squarely up to you, Mr. Taxpayer. It's your responsibility. The day of decision is upon us, and as Carlisle so ably said, "What you do speaks so loudly, I cannot hear what you say."—Bob Jones.

THAT THANKS

If God would say to you today For all I have given you, you must repay,

To us that would be a terrible catastrophe, But God just says "Thank me".

Give thanks to Him up above Who graciously has bestowed us with His love,

Who provides us with the essentials of life, And never lets us out of his sight,

He shares with us our happiness and joy

And still sometimes, Him we do annoy

For all the things to us he has given He toils hard and has striven

To show us all, each and everyone, That He is supreme, He's God's Son,

To repay Him for all good done is impossible

But still to Him we are responsible, To give Him thanks, for His wondrous care,

To Him if thanks is just our share—Let's say to Him today—

Thanks God for this Thanksgiving Day.

CATHERINE KEILHOLTZ.

FISHERMEN'S LAMENT

Backward, turn backward, oh time, in your flight; Please make 'em bite again, just for tonight.

I've sat on this boulder for sixteen long hours.

And baited with crawfish and dough-balls and flowers,

And minnows and ryebread and liver and bees,

And grasshoppers, fishworms and limburger cheese.

And never a nibble—a jerk on the line.

Of sunfish or sucker I've seen not a sign.

My arms are fried brown and my nose is burnt red—

My seat is worn thin and my legs are both dead.

My stomach is puckered, tied up in a knot,

I'm sick, disappointed, disgusted, and hot,

I'm sore, and I'm dirty and thirsty and stiff.

I've lost my tobacco and ain't had a whiff.

It's fourteen long hours by the road to my shack—

To cold cream—to comfort—to rest and a snack.

Oh, backward, I guess, is the way I shall turn

They don't want to bite and I don't give a darn.

For I have been fishing—I've had a good day;

Now all that I want is some grub and the hay.

TANEYTOWN CANNER JOINS IN NATIONAL DRIVE

Consumer purchases of one of the largest and best quality canned corn stocks in years are being boomed by a merchandising and marketing program of the Can Manufacturers Institute of New York and the Associated Independent Corn Canners, Chicago, of which the E. J. Nusbaum is a member.

The local canning company, in cooperation with more than a hundred other independent corn packers, will encourage corn sales at the wholesale level and through retail store displays across the country. The Marketing Bureau of the Can Manufacturers Institute, representing can makers, will take the canned corn story to the consumer through magazine, newspapers and radio stations. A to-zines and more than 300 radio stations and more than 300 radio stations will thus be informed of this program by photographs, recipes and stories about the supply, economy and nutritive values of canned corn.

Canning officials realize that contracting for and canning corn is not their solo job these days. To assure a year-after-year market from locally produced corn and full-scale employment at the local cannery, it has become necessary to follow thru direct to the consumer via active participation in the modern sales methods advanced through national merchandising programs.

FEESERSBURG

The Carroll County annual 4-H Recognition banquet brought together nearly 350 4-H'ers, their leaders and guests, Thursday evening in the Mechanicsville school. Harry Bennett of the Freedom 4-H Club acted as toastmaster. The presentation of awards climaxed a year of achievements. Carroll County leads in the state by having five 4-H members to attend the National Club week Congress in Chicago. There are 18 girls 4-H Clubs in the county with a membership of 290, and 15 boys 4-H Clubs with a membership of 315. A turkey dinner was served followed by a musical program. At the conclusion of the program awards were made to different members for outstanding work during the year. Those attending the banquet from the Union Bridge Girls 4-H Club were Sylvia Roelke, Nancy Roelke, Geraldine Graham, Delores Hitchcock, Lois Bowman, Evelyn Coshun, Reba Yingling, Dorothy Pitt and the club leader Miss Evelyn Fuss. Those receiving awards were Reba Yingling, Nancy Roelke, Rose Marie Grabill, Patricia Roop and William Coshun of the Keysville Boys 4-H Club.

Special Thankoffering services will be held Sunday morning at Mt. Union Lutheran Church. There will be special music and the guest speaker will be a native of India who is now taking a post graduate course at Western Maryland College. The services will be at 10:30 A. M.

The one-act comedy titled "The Little Red School House" was well received by a very appreciative audience Friday evening at the Parish House. The following persons made up the cast: Earl Wilhide, Ruth Bair, Rosellen Lesight, Isabel Bohn, Alma Bair, Patsy Bohn, Anna Bair, Ralph Bair, Eva Royer, Carolyn Baker, Emmett Milled, Roger Royer, Frank Bohn, and Edgar Bair. The play was directed by Mrs. Earl Wilhide and Mrs. Paul Leister.

Mrs. David Miller gave a quilting party last Thursday at her home. Besides finishing a quilt the guests had time to eat a very delicious dinner.

Mrs. Ella Koons Crumpacker was able to attend the play at the Parish House Friday evening and no doubt enjoyed it more than most of the audience as she learned her ABC's at Mt. Union when the Parish House was really a little Red School House. Mrs. Crumpacker who will be 82 years young Dec. 1st recalls many pleasant memories associated with Mr. Union and remembers one of her teachers who was Miss Carrie Harbaugh, of Middleburg.

These trying times are the good old days we'll be longing for a few years from now.

Happiness, I have discovered is nearly always a rebound from hard work. It is one of the follies of men to imagine that they can enjoy mere thought, or emotion or sentiment. As well try to eat beauty! For happiness must be tricked. She loves to see men at work. She loves sweat, weariness and self-sacrifice. She will be found not in palaces but hushing in cornfields, workshops, and factories and hovering over lettered desks; she hovers the unconscious head of the busy child. There is something fine in hard physical labor. One actually stops thinking. I often work long in my fields without any thought whatever, save that connected with the monotonous repetition of the labor itself—down with the spade, out with it, up with it, over with it—and repeat. And yet, sometimes mostly in the forenoon when I were not tired—I will suddenly have a sense of the world opening around me—a sense of its beauty and its meanings—giving me a peculiar deep happiness that is complete content—David Grayson.

Mr. and Mrs. Ted Albaugh are settled in their new home at Mt. Union and we extend to them a sincere welcome to our community.

Miss Evelyn Coshun entertained the Union Bridge Girls 4-H Club at her home Saturday afternoon. Reba Yingling gave a demonstration on the proper way to make a K. P. outfit and Miss Dorothy Haines showed the correct way to iron a shirt. Following the demonstration, refreshments were served.

A motorist and his wife hadn't spoken for miles. They had been quarreling and neither would budge. Suddenly, the man pointed at a mule in a pasture they were passing. "Relative of Yours?" he asked. "Yes," the wife replied—"by marriage."

Because Thanksgiving is not spelled as two words—Thanks giving—many of us are apt to forget its real meaning. Let us meditate a moment on the things practically all of us, rich or poor, have for which to give thanks: Friends—health—our daily bread and last of all for the gift of Life—may we live in such a way as to prove our gratitude.

Recently here in Maryland a 95 year old ruling was repealed. It was the law requiring public officials to swear to believe in the Christian religion.

To Mrs. Nicholas Clemson we extend our congratulations upon reaching the interesting age of 101 years.

In Washington last week a customer hustled up to a counter in Magruder, Inc., and tried to buy 96 pounds of coffee. She was told she could only buy 24 pounds. In many another U. S. City hoarding housewives, having heard rumors of one dollar a pound coffee, were hastily grabbing all the coffee they could get. Last week the National Coffee Association estimated hoarding consumers have already bought at least 132 million pounds more than they need. Actually, there is no cause for alarm. In Brazil, there is so much coffee, they are burning it. So don't be a hoarder. You will only help put the price of coffee up. And another thing, don't pay attention to all the rumors you hear. Sometimes they are deliberately started to make a sucker out of you.

HARNEY

Rev. Held took his Thanksgiving text from the 97th Psalm 12 verse and gave a very wonderful sermon at the Sunday School hour, which was in charge of Asst. Supt. Elmer Shildt. A duet "I found it so" by Betty Fream and sister, accompanied at the organ by Mrs. Wagonman, why not have a quartet from some of those young men in the near future.

Word was received of the death of Mrs. Chas. Conover, of Aspers. She was a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hill and was their only daughter. May E. Interment in Evergreen cemetery, Gettysburg, Thursday.

The mid-winter Holy Communion services and congregational meeting Dec. 18 in St. Paul's Lutheran Church, at 10 A. M. Rev. Chas. E. Held, pastor.

The annual turkey and oyster supper sponsored by the Ladies' Aid of St. Paul's was a success. About 500 tickets were sold. Folks coming from Baltimore, Westminster, Spring Grove, Hanover, Littlestown, Taneytown, Emmitsburg, Arendtsville and Gettysburg.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Welty and son, Larry and daughter, Susan, spent Sunday afternoon visiting with Mrs. Halter and family, near Westminster, Md.

Little Miss Karine Moose, Baltimore, is spending a few weeks with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Chester Moose and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Orner and son, Larry, Jr., of Gettysburg, Pa., were Sunday evening dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Dewey Orner.

MARRIED

ECKARD — SMITH

Grace Reformed Church, Taneytown, Md., was the scene of a pretty but quiet wedding on Wednesday evening, at 5:45 when Miss Louise Smith, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chas. A. Smith, of Salisbury, Md., became the bride of Carroll Eckard, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Eckard, of Taneytown. The impressive double ring ceremony was performed by the groom's pastor, Rev. Morgan Andrews.

The bride was attired in a suit of brown with matching accessories and wore a corsage of yellow rosebuds. The couple was attended by Mr. and Mrs. Chester Cartzenadner of Taneytown.

The bride is a graduate of Salisbury High School and State Teachers College of Salisbury, Md. She has taught for the past few years in the Primary Department of the Taneytown Elementary School.

The groom is a graduate of Taneytown High School and is employed by his father.

After a short honeymoon, at an undisclosed destination the happy couple will reside in their newly furnished apartment in Taneytown.

HILTEBRICK — SENTZ

Funeral services were held at the C. O. Fuss & Son Funeral Parlor, Tuesday afternoon in charge of Rev. Raymond Myers. Interment in Haugh's church cemetery.

Economists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture expect food prices in both retail stores and farmers' markets to go down next year.

BOARD OF EDUCATION MEETS

The regular meeting of the Board of Education of Carroll County was held in the offices of the Board in the City Hall, Westminster, on Nov. 8th, 1949, at 10 a. m. with all members present. The minutes of the meeting of September 13 and the special meeting of September 15, were read and approved, and the current bills ordered paid. The secretary was authorized to make certain transportation route changes as indicated by the existing need at various locations throughout the county. The Board was given information regarding requirements of the State Department of Health with respect to the installation of sewage disposal systems in anticipated new building construction at various county locations. In this connection it was noted that the building operations now in progress by the County Board had been with the approval of the State Department of Health so far as sewage disposal was concerned. Such requirements added considerably to the cost of construction but because of necessity must be given serious consideration in the planning of buildings.

The Board noted the receipt of correspondence from the State Department of Education regarding the approval of school lands which had been acquired for school purposes at several county locations. Approval was given for the purchase of several items of equipment requested by several of the schools of the county. At the request of the auditing firm the Board approved the allocation of State and County funds to be included in the financial report of 1948-49. Consideration was given to some questions related to the school budget for 1950-51 which is in the process of preparation and will be presented before the first of the year. The Board gave consideration to the problem of acquiring certain necessary school lands at several of the school locations and the superintendent was authorized to negotiate further with the property owners.

Library and was voted to several schools requesting it, and approval was given to the plan of inter-school winter athletics. Communications from several of the schools and P. T. A.'s of the county were read to the Board and appropriate action was authorized where this was possible.

At 11:00 a. m. the Board opened the bids for the construction of an addition to the Elmer Wolfe Senior Junior High and Elementary School at Union Bridge. This addition includes the equivalent of eight classrooms with toilet and other facilities to be erected on the present grounds in connection with the existing school building. The bids on the general contract for this addition were as follows: Allen F. Feaser, Taneytown, $83,353.00; O. H. Hostetter, Hanover, $87,500.00; Pfoutz and Six Construction Company of Union Bridge, $79,995.00; Edward Stuller, Taneytown, $84,000.00; William H. Sands Company, Towson, $109,900.00. The bids for the heating and plumbing were as follows: Geo. L. Harner, $20,526.00; Westminster Hardware Co., $18,172; Raymond Ohler, Taneytown, $19,250; J. H. Allender and Sons Co., Hampstead, $18,247.00. The bids on the electrical work in connection with this building were: J. E. Shaeffer, Reisterstown, $12,500.00; Swam Electric Co., Hanover, $19,350.00; C & M Appliance Co., Union Bridge, $17,000.00; Keystone Engineering Co., Baltimore, $14,750.00; W. H. Louthan, Doubs, $16,875.00. After consideration the Board directed that contracts be prepared and negotiated with the low bidders in each case. Contracts are to be concluded immediately with the Pfoutz and Six Construction Company of Union Bridge at their bid price of $79,995.00 for the general contract, with the Westminster Hardware Company, at $18,172.00, and with J. E. Shaeffer of Reisterstown at $12,500.00 making a total cost of this addition, $110,667.

The Board then opened the bids on the revised plans for the Westminster Elementary School consisting of twelve rooms and general purpose room library and offices to be erected on the school land facing Center St. in the rear of the high school land. Bidders on the general contract were: Allen F. Feaser, $147,236.00; O. H. Hostetter, $169,000.00; Klunk Brothers, Hanover, $199,750.00; Spradlin Construction Co., Washington, $167,938.00; Edward Stuller, $147,687.00. Bids on the plumbing were: Geo. L. Harner, $13,620; Westminster Hardware Co., $11,624; J. H. Allender & Sons Co., $11,846. Bids on the heating were: Geo. L. Harner, $27,171; Westminster Hardware, $24,545; J. H. Allender & Sons Co., $24,757. Bids on the electric work in connection with this building were: W. H. Louthan, $14,375; J. E. Shaeffer, $10,300; Swam Electric Co., $14,100; Keystone Engineering, $13,650. After due consideration the superintendent was directed to have contracts prepared for the successful low bidders in each case, that is, with Allen F. Feaser of Taneytown at $147,236 for the general contract, with the Westminster Hardware Co., $11,624 and $24,545 for the plumbing and heating respectively, and with J. E. Shaeffer of Reisterstown, at his bid of $10,300.00 for the electric work. Construction on these two buildings is expected to begin immediately.

The Board gave approval to the proposal of the superintendent to close schools on Jan. 27, 1950 for the purpose of holding a professional meeting of teachers.

The Board accepted the resignation of Mrs. Uneus D. Kirkwood of the Robert Moton School, effective Dec. 1, 1949, and approved the appointment of Miss Vivian O. Compton to the vacancy in this school.

The superintendent was directed to arrange for connection of sewage and water lines to the new elementary school location. The Board was advised that arrangements had been successfully concluded for the operation of Driver Training courses in some of the schools in the county where this is possible with the teaching staff and the pupil load of the teachers, and where a qualified teacher is available.

A report was given to the Board regarding progress of the building

Airy, Manchester, Taneytown, and Westminster.

The Board considered and gave approval to the proposed use of an interior decorating expert to offer a short course in this field for the home economics teachers of the county.

The Board adjourned at 2 P. M. to meet for its December meeting on Dec. 6, 1949 at which time further consideration will be given to the budget for 1950-51, and further negotiations made with regard to building improvements in several other locations.

SOUTHERN STATES AS SEEN BY REV. OWEN.

revolving about 6000 revolutions per minute. Thus the tiny filaments are twisted into a larger thread. Then it goes to spools where it is wound on to rolls and skeins. There seemed to be acres and acres of spinning machinery of this sort, row on row, tier on tier, operated usually by girls.

The smallest number of holes in the above spinnets, through which the liquid cellulose sprays, is 18. The largest number is 480. So the Rayon thread is fashioned out of anywhere from 18 to 480 filament strands twisted together into one thread. Most of the yarn made in this plant is the 480 variety. It is called the high tenacity yarn.

There is wide commercial use of this product. Rayon Cord is used in the manufacturing of tires, self-sealing gasoline tanks, parachutes of many kinds and purposes, airplane wing covering, mosquito netting, aviation suits, blood plasma filters, military braid, flags, lining for clothing, hosiery, women's underwear, dress goods such as chiffons, crepes, satins, velvet, sweaters, neckties, casket linings, ribbons, tapes, hat bands, etc. Now men's suits are being made out of rayon.

This company employs about 2500 people and pays a good wage scale. It sends out buses in every direction back into the distant mountain coves to bring in the workers. Many who used to try to make a living on the little mountain farm, can now work 8 hours at the plant per day. Then with improved machinery, they can do the same amount of farming as before.

CIGARETTE PAPER

In another mountain community, called officially, the "Beautiful Sapphire Country" we found a big industrial plant which is manufacturing the cigarette paper used in America as well as elsewhere. That came as a result of World War II. Hitler was responsible for it. You recall that prior to World War II the cigarette paper was manufactured in France by a Jewish Industrialist named Harry Strause. He developed a process by which to manufacture a paper out of flax that would burn at the same speed as tobacco. When Hitler took over France Mr. Strause fled to America and took up residence in the Beautiful Sapphire Country of the Southern Mountains. There he built a big factory and began to manufacture the paper. When the war was over he went back to France and found much of his factories in wreckage. He disposed of what was left and transferred it all to America. That is the only cigarette paper factory in this country, we were told. He pays a good wage scale, employs about 2500, sends out busses back into the distant mountain coves, and has brought prosperity to that area.

These are some examples, observed in communities we visited, of how industries have helped to transform certain parts of the Southern Highlands from poverty to prosperity. That has been a part of the answer to the problem that stumped the experts on the poverty of the Southern Mountains.

This new prosperity has caused people, who previously had moved away, to return to their native haunts. For example, far back into the mountains one day, we stopped for gas. The proprietor, seeing our Maryland license plates, said, "Hello, how is Baltimore?" Then he told how he had worked in Baltimore until recently. When we told him that we were from Taneytown, he said that many times he had passed through that community and remembered it well. Then he said that things had become prosperous in the old home country again and that he had returned to his native haunts and established a business of his own.

This new wealth brought in by new industries, has its ramifications also in many other areas of life such as better homes in which to live, better standard of living, better roads, better schools, bigger and stronger churches, greater civic pride, and a deeper appreciation of our country with its democracy and opportunity as a bulwark against communism.

The cultivation of apples began before recorded history. Remains of the fruit have been found in the prehistoric Lake Dwellings in Switzerland.

The apple is one of the most versatile of all fruits. It can be eaten fresh, out of hand, or used in salads, or with cereals in fresh form. It can be served as baked apple or apple cobbler, as fried apples, as apple pie, apple sauce, apple pudding, apple butter and apple jellies. The use of the various varieties for specific purposes is governed to some extent by the individual's preferences and likes or dislikes in taste and texture.

AROUND THE TOWN

in goodness and where you can be free to Worship as your heart desires. Life is short—the days, weeks and months pass us all by quickly! Enjoy life to the fullest as Christ desired!

So long, dear Readers until next week. A Happy Thanksgiving to you and yours!

Faithfully,
Your OBSERVER.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to thank our relatives, neighbors and friends, who have sent us cards and also the many floral tributes, when we needed comfort in these sorrowful hours, for the loss of our love one. It's so nice to know that you have so many friends who understand. So many thanks from mother and children, to those who have so faithfully stood by.

MRS. HARRY DINTERMBAN and FAMILY.

REV. ROOP SPEAKS AT PINEY CREEK CHURCH

At the 50th anniversary of the Piney Creek Church of the Brethren, near Taneytown, Md., Rev. William E. Roop, of Westminster, was put on their printed programs, as one of the chief speakers for the occasion. He most interestingly, pictured in detail, the hitherto unwritten history of the founding of the Winebrenerian Church at this place. For a time, this denomination prospered sufficient, to build a substantial stone church. The membership however, declined, until thru lack of support, made them finally sell their church property to the Church of the Brethren. The said purchasers then obtained sufficient adjoining land, for the present beautiful layout, for church and cemetery. All of which has been developed in the past fifty years, into the present, prosperous organized, incorporated congregation.

In addition to Europe and America, the apple is now cultivated in South America, Australia, New Zealand, Northern India, and China.

The crop that never fails—U. S. Savings Bonds.

SHOOT STORY

Strictly Analytical
By Richard Hill Wilkinson

THE TROUBLE with you," Barry said, "is that you're too analytical. Why don't you throw caution to the wind for once and marry the girl?"

Hugh sighed. His face took on that look of faintly aloof indulgence that he always conjured when Barry became critical. "You wouldn't understand," he said.

"You're too impulsive to see what I'm driving at. Let me tell you, it pays to be careful."

"Sure it does. But it doesn't pay to be overly careful. How does Valeria feel about it?"

"How does she feel? How do you think she feels? When a girl's in love she knows enough to be careful herself."

"Meaning of course, that Val's mad about you and she's willing to wait until you get through analyzing and justify or compensate her shortcomings in your mind."

Hugh gestured indifferently. "Figure it that way, if you like."

"Wouldn't it be a shock to you if you discovered yourself to be wrong. I mean, if Val married someone else right under your nose."

"She won't," said Hugh confidently. "Girls aren't made that way." He stood up. "I haven't been studying psychology and human behavior five years for nothing."

"But is she gets tired of waiting and marries some one else in the meantime, maybe you'll regret it."

"Don't be ridiculous. Val won't marry anyone else. I know what I'm doing."

Barry let a fortnight elapse before he again broached the subject of Val. It rankled him, and he felt better to get it off his chest. "Hate to mention it again, Hugh, but Val seems to think you've been neglecting her lately. Can't blame her much, either."

"Cut it!" Hugh looked ugly. "I think you'd better let me tend to my own affairs, Barry. The girl loves me and when I get around to it, I'll marry her. Goodness, can't you understand that a man shouldn't jump into such things!"

"Or a woman either," Barry offered. "I happen to know Val was out with someone last night."

"Good. Comparing the someone else with me will be the best thing in the world for her—and me too."

"A girl in love knows enough to be careful herself."

Hugh was annoyed. Blast it, why couldn't Barry mind his own business? Why did he always have to keep worrying about Val. It was plain as day that he didn't understand women. Val knew a good thing when she saw it. She loved him and was willing to wait. She was smart.

VAGUELY HE wondered who the other man could be she was out with. It was sort of amusing in a way. Probably Val had merely told Barry that so Barry would tell him. Childish. Why, even a first-year psychology student could tell you that was nothing but a feeble attempt on the part of the female to excite jealousy in the man she loved.

Three evenings later Hugh's phone rang. It was Barry. He sounded far away. "Can't hear you," Hugh yelled into the mouthpiece. "Talk louder."

"I say," came Barry's voice, more distinctly, "that the thing I warned you about has happened."

"What thing?" said Hugh.

"About Val. About her marrying someone else right under your nose. She's done it."

"I don't believe it," said Hugh, feeling for the first time a queer sensation of alarm.

"I saw it happen," said Barry. "I was there."

"Good lord!" Hugh was suddenly very much excited and very concerned.

"You can't say I didn't warn you," Barry's voice said, growing fainter.

"Hey! Hold on a minute, Barry! Are you there! . . . Yes, yes, I know you warned me. Guess I was something of a fool. Who was it she married? This is terrible!"

"Me," said Barry, very faintly. And then the line went dead.

Writers, Actors Support Sale Of T.B. Seals

Famous American actors and writers are lending their voices in the appeal this year of the National Tuberculosis Association to the public to buy Christmas Seals. Their motives are born of this fact: Since 1904, the overall TB program has helped cut the death rate by 85 per cent—yet TB still kills more people between 15 and 34 than any other disease.

Jacob Riis, American writer of Danish birth, authored a magazine article in 1907 which inspired the first Christmas Seal sale. Since then other writers have taken up the cry and have been joined by stage and screen personalities.

Film stars Margaret O'Brien and Edmund Gwenn will appear in a variety radio show boosting the campaign. J. C. Furnas, popular contributor to American magazines, writes on the people's fight against TB in an article to appear in the nation's magazines during the drive. Fannie Hurst, novelist and short story writer, also will contribute a manuscript to the cause.

Betty McDonald, whose personal struggle with tuberculosis was described in her book, "The Plague and I," urges full co-operation in the purchase of seals.

This year's seal was designed by a young artist from Leona, N. J., Herbert M. Myers, who won a $1,000 first prize in a nationwide contest.

Christmas Seal funds sponsor chest X-rays, rehabilitation programs, school health education, and medical research in a relentless battle against the "white plague."

SCIENCE 'MIRACLE'

Animal Brain Lives Outside

DETROIT.—Two University of Chicago physicians have reported to the federation of American societies for experimental biology that they had succeeded in keeping part of an animal's brain alive outside its body to permit study of the functions of the nervous system.

The achievement by Drs. R. D. Tschirgi and R. W. Gerard was reported to be the first of its kind in medical history. It involved removal of the spinal cord of a rat, together with the feeder artery which transports its sustenance.

Keeping the cord alive in a carefully regulated atmosphere that was both moist and warm, the physicians were able, by pumping chemicals into the cord instead of blood, to determine its needs to enable it to transmit messages over the complex nervous system.

Chemicals Named

The doctors reported that of about 25 chemicals tested on the cord, about six were successful in keeping it active. Among these were pyruvic acid, citric acid, glucose, glutamic acid and a sugar.

The doctors, working under a grant from the office of naval research, are being assisted in their continuing research by three others, Drs. L. L. Boyarsky, J. Z. Hearon and H. Jenerick, all of the University of Chicago's department of physiology.

Drs. Klaus Unna and A. Kaplan of the University of Illinois told federation members that myanesein, a muscle-relaxing drug, might take much of the danger from the electro-shock treatment for certain mental diseases. They said the drug prevented the stoppage of breathing which frequently occurred during electro-shocks.

Tested on mice, they said, myanesein prevented death during the treatment, and later, when tested on human patients at the Mennemo state hospital in Illinois, it reduced the undesirable side effects of shock treatment.

Not Like Curare

Unlike curare, which acted directly on the muscles, the physicians said, myanesein worked on the brain stem and spinal cord. It did not produce drowsiness or sleep like hypnotic or anesthetic drugs.

Captain C. G. Ely, Dr. Robert E. Johnson and C. F. Consolazio of the army medical nutrition laboratory in Chicago presented a report of army volunteers who braved temperatures 40 degrees below zero to help determine how much food that men stranded in cold needed to remain alive.

The researchers found that an idle man waiting in the cold to be rescued needed 3,400 calories a day to maintain a proper nutritional balance. That represents about 24 ounces of food.

Dr. Johnson said that it was the first "open disclosure" of the study. It was conducted in January, 1948, in southern Manitoba.

Walking Toothpick Ball Is Really an Anti-Eater

NEW YORK.—You meet such interesting animals . . .

There's a walking ball of toothpicks that eats ants, a kangaroo that plays Tarzan, the cuscus, bandicoot, "flying mice," and the bashful crocodile.

For good measure there are green ants and a tree that stings you. There's the obliging carpet snake that can help in good house-keeping, the nasty death adder, and nastier taipan or big boss of nasty snakes.

You can rub elbows with this frightful menagerie on the Cape York peninsula of northeast Australia. Better yet, you can inspect them (nicely dead and harmless) at the American museum of natural history.

Scores of these old fellows were just brought back by the 1948 Archbold Cape York expedition. Cape York is a 100,000 square mile area full of strange plants and animals, and up to now it hasn't been explored much by scientists.

The walking ball of toothpicks is the spiny anteater, a distant cousin of the duck-billed platypus. This anteater is a survivor of a kind of mammal that maybe was common 60 to 70 million years ago.

Goeds Agree Man no Longer Is Pursuer in Love Chase

NORMAN, OKLA.—A campus survey shows University of Oklahoma coeds agree almost unanimously that the days when a man could pursue his lady love without any help from her are over—if they ever existed.

As Mary Limber, a psychology senior, put it, "For every man there's a woman and its the job of the woman to find that man."

But the coeds insist that chasing a man has to be a subtle job to succeed.

For instance, June Parrack, who believes a girl must do three-fourths of the work in courtship, said, "The boy likes to feel he is doing all the pursuing, so the girl must make him feel it was his idea."

Yard of Miss Liberty Undergoes Cleaning

The backyard of the Statue of Liberty—Miss Liberty of New York harbor—is being cleaned. The work got underway after congress appropriated $500,000 for the job.

Rubble has been carted away from Bedloe island, site of the statue. For the first time a heating system has been installed in the base of the statue. Drainage and water systems have been replaced. Two old buildings will be razed and a new pier installed.

It is almost as if the grand old lady were cleaning up for her birthday. It was on Oct. 28, 1886, that her creator, sculptor Frederic Auguste Bartholdi, saw the huge American flag draped over her head pulled away in the formal presentation by France of the statue to the United States.

RED CROSS CHAPTERS MEET VARIED NEEDS OF SERVICEMEN

The Red Cross Home Service worker looked up from her desk to find an old man holding a telegram and twenty-five dollars.

"My boy wants to come home, but he hasn't got the money for such an expensive trip," the old gentleman said. "He has just returned from 2 years overseas service and is getting a leave before reassignment. His mother has been very sick and I think he might help her to get well. We are living on our family allowance and whatever money my son can send, but I've scraped together this $25. Can you give me enough more to bring him home?"

After verifying the facts, the Home Service worker sent a telegram to the Red Cross field director at the boy's camp, telling of the father's request and of the offer of the twenty-five dollars he could so ill afford. The following day she received an answering wire from the field director:

Under federal statute and regulations of the Army, the Navy, and the Air Force, the American Red Cross furnishes volunteer aid to the sick and wounded of the armed forces and acts in matters of voluntary relief and as a medium of communication between the people of the United States and their armed forces.

"Return twenty-five dollars to father. Army granting emergency leave and arranging for air transportation home. We are arranging for maintenance and return transportation."

It was only one item in a busy worker's day, but to two old people and a long-absent son it meant a lot.

Often the need is not for financial aid but for help with the unexpected problems that may hit any family and are more acute when the head of the family is thousands of miles away.

It was so with an Air Force sergeant who reenlisted after overseas combat service. He left his wife and children in Kentucky on a farm with his mother-in-law. He also left 25 head of cattle, through which the family income would be supplemented. He thought his family secure for the 3 years of his new enlistment. Then disaster struck. The wife's mother became ill and was compelled to sell the farm and go to live with a distant sister. This left the sergeant's family without housing, and 25 head of cattle without care.

The Red Cross helped the soldier get emergency leave, helped him find suitable living quarters for his wife, and arranged for quick sale of his livestock. The sergeant then returned to duty, content in the knowledge that his wife and two small children were provided for.

Often, the need for help extends beyond the time a man is separated from the service. If, as a veteran, the man and his family continue to need aid, the chapter is ready to help.

That is Red Cross Home Service—a friend and counselor to the perplexed, to those in need, to men and women with problems.

DEVOTIONAL READING: Philippians 1: 12-20.

Spokesman of God

Lesson for November 27, 1949.

GOD MAKES USE of strange characters. What shall we think of a preacher who tried to beg off from being a preacher? What can we make of a man who actually reproached God for forcing him into the ministry? How shall we rate a man who in time of war urged his own nation to surrender, who was believed by almost nobody, who was repudiated by his own class and even his own family? What can we say of a man who was often in hot water with the city authorities, who spent months of his time in jail, who was called subversive, and who never got along with the established religion of his time?

Dr. Foreman

The prophet Jeremiah was that man; yet posterity honored him. His own generation thought him a liar. But some then knew, as we know today, that he was a teller of God's truth, a spokesman of God.

Was He a Pessimist?

WE KNOW (Jer. 1) that Jeremiah did not wish to be a prophet in the first place, though unlike Isaiah he shrank back not from a sense of sin but because he thought of himself as a mere child.

We know (chap. 20) that at times he was thoroughly discouraged about himself, and even cursed the day he was born. It is also true that in the last war waged by his little country of Judah before it was smashed, his advice from beginning to end was "Surrender."

No wonder people thought him a pessimist, a calamity-howler. But before we call him such names we must remember two things. First is, that his unwillingness to be a prophet, and the fact that so to speak he hated the job, marks a vital fact: he, perhaps even more than other prophets, sensed the difference between his own ideas and what God was saying through him.

Even when what the Lord said was not what they themselves would have wished to say, they spoke for the Lord nevertheless. The other thing to remember is that when everybody wants to believe a pleasant lie, and a man comes along telling the unpleasant truth, he is not a pessimist, he is simply stating facts.

Jeremiah stood by the facts as God gave him insight to see them. If they jailed him for it, he could not help that; but they could not shut his mouth nor close his eyes.

Was he a patriot?

JEREMIAH was constantly accused of acts and attitudes which today might be called "subversive," though he dearly loved his country. This was because he dared to rebuke the ambitions of his country's leaders.

They said: Our country shall be free! But Jeremiah knew it would not be free. They said: Our king will conquer! Jeremiah knew he would end his days a prisoner. Jeremiah was unpopular, to put it mildly, because he advised his country to take the only place among the nations it could take—an humble one.

Then, as now, many persons think that patriotism means believing yours is the perfect country. If anyone points to injustice in our land, some one may yell, "Deport him!" But Jeremiah showed what is a true patriot. He is not necessarily the man who approves all the foreign policies of his nation (Jeremiah approved not one), nor the man who speaks only good of his country and his people.

The best patriot is the person who, seeing his country as God sees it, will dare to speak out against evil wherever he finds it.

A Way to Know God

JEREMIAH knew God well, and the trouble with his contemporaries was that they did not know God. But Jeremiah did not say: "Know God by becoming a prophet like me," for he knew that only a few are called to be prophets. Neither did he say, "Go to church oftener," for you can see in chap. 7 what he thought of the Temple of his time.

He pointed to the good king Josiah (chap. 13). That king had found God, not in a mystic vision like Jeremiah's, not in burnt offerings and sacrifices, but in the doing of justice looking out for the exploited, caring for the helpless, seeing that justice was done.

WE ALL CAN HELP

Tuberculosis is one of the most important health problems facing the American people today.

It is important because in the productive young age group from 15 to 34 it costs more lives than any other disease.

It is important because it is a communicable disease which is killing nearly 1,000 American a week, 125 a day—at a rate of one person every 11 minutes.

It is estimated that 500,000 people in this country, including 10,000 Marylanders, have tuberculosis, one-half of them unknown to health authorities.

Tuberculosis is an important public health problem because it can be prevented.

When we know that a disease as costly in lives and happiness can be prevented, it is only common sense for us to spare no effort to root it out of our communities.

Nationwide efforts to bring tuberculosis under complete control in this country were started 45 years ago when the National Tuberculosis Association was founded and launched its campaign against the disease.

Today, the Maryland Tuberculosis Association and its affiliated county associations are conducting sound programs of tuberculosis control in communities throughout the state. These associations, which work in close cooperation with official health agencies, receive their sole support from the annual sale of Christmas Seals.

With Christmas Seals funds, the tuberculosis associations through the country are seeking to find the estimated 250,000 unknown cases of tuberculosis so that these people can be placed under treatment and the danger of their spreading their disease eliminated; they are seeing that people are correctly informed about tuberculosis so that individuals can protect themselves and their families against the disease; they are aiding tuberculous patients readjust to their new way of life and prepare to resume living in the community when their disease is arrested, and they are helping support medical research which is constantly searching for new weapons to use against tuberculosis.

We are helping fight this dread disease when we buy and use Christmas Seals.

GEORGE WASHINGTON DECREED First Official Thanksgiving

WHEREAS it is the duty of all nations to acknowledge the providence of Almighty God, to obey His will, to be grateful for His benefits, and humbly to implore His protection and favor; and whereas both houses of Congress have, by their joint committee, requested me to recommend to the people of the United States a day of public Thanksgiving and Prayer, to be observed by acknowledging with grateful hearts the many and signal favors of Almighty God, especially by affording them an opportunity peaceably to establish a form of government for their safety and happiness;

"Now therefore, I do recommend and assign Thursday, the twenty-sixth day of November next, to be devoted by the people of these states to the service of that great and glorious Being, who is the Beneficent Author of all the good that was, that is, or that will be; that we may then all unite in rendering unto Him our sincere and humble thanks for His kind care and protection of the people of this country, previous to their becoming a nation; for the signal and manifold mercies, and the favorable interpositions of His providence, in the course and conclusion of the late war; for the great degree of tranquility, union, and plenty, which we have since enjoyed; for the peaceable and rational manner in which we have been enabled to establish constitutions of government for our safety and happiness, and particularly the national one now lately instituted; for the civil and religious liberty with which we are blessed, and the means we have of acquiring and diffusing useful knowledge; and, in general, for all the great and various favors, which He has been pleased to confer upon us.

About That Statue

The Statue of Liberty is physically the largest statue in existence.

Plans for building the Statue of Liberty by the French were interrupted by the Franco-Prussian war.

The goddess of liberty in New York harbor is constructed of copper sheets, divided into sections. The parts are mounted on an iron frame.

Funds for the Statue of Liberty came from the pockets of the French people.

The poem on the base of the Statue of Liberty, "The New Colossus," was written by Emma Lazarus.

President Wilson was the first to turn on the lights on the Statue of Liberty.

Bartholdi, the sculptor of the Statue of Liberty, spent 10 years creating the work.

More than 800 thousand tourists visit the Statue of Liberty each year.

THANKSGIVING DANCE A SUCCESS

The Thanksgiving dance which was held Thursday night in the High School auditorium under the sponsorship of the Taneytown Alumni Association was reported a real success. A very nice crowd danced and enjoyed the splendid music of 'The Tones,' radio and television artists of York, Pa.

'The Tones' are a trio consisting of a Hammond organ, an accordion, and an electric guitar and except for the 'Three Suns' are probably the only top notch group of its kind to play at different places in this section of the country. Even if one does not enjoy dancing, you can sit back and enjoy the nearly continuous music of your favorite numbers. The Alumni Association was very fortunate to obtain this fine group for their dance, and are grateful to everyone who helped make it a success.

YOUR OBSERVER ADVISES:

Now, Folks this is for all "around the town," young and old! Whatever you do don't miss the Second Annual Amateur Show that is given by the Lions Club to be held Dec. 1st, at 8 o'clock at the High School Auditorium. There is something that is always more interesting about local talent and we really should be interested in those who partake in and for this wonderful cause of helping others to help themselves. It will fascinate you from start to finish and it would be a big thing if our boosting did get them on the original Amateur Hour in New York City on TV—which means all expenses paid to the Great White Way. Be interested, Folks in everything 'around the town' just as your observer is for when you are interested in life—life will be interested in you and you will never know a dull moment! Here's hoping to see you that big night of all nights!

Folks in search of pretty fall foliage should beware of poison ivy which is now turning red, gold, and brown along roadsides, fence rows and woodlands. This weed with three leaflets is easily confused with the harmless crimson five-leaved Virginia Creeper, warns extension forester Harry Dengler.

A delicious refreshment for fall parties can be made by putting a baked apple in a large mug and filling the mug with hot spiced cider.

NO MAN unaided, however honest or able he may be, can ever make a perfect trust executor.

His own life may be too short, personal interests may interfere, his judgment may be faulty in making decisions. Your heirs would be the losers.

In contrast, corporate trust service, such as we provide, is permanent. Individuals may die, but our trust service will go on as before. Our Trust Department can handle the affairs of your estate far better than any friend you might name as executor.

Let us explain these advantages to you.
