RECREATION IS IMPORTANT

The club grossed 8,700, and netted 33,600 carmarking the money netted $3,600, earmarking the money for the community hall building fund. One of the highlights of the celebration was a parade that was ten blocks long and witnessed by 10,000 visitors. New rest rooms have been built in the city park, and permanent wiring is now on hand for lighting next year's jubilee.

LIONS CLUB MEET

Daughters Were Honored Tuesday Evening

ning last with second Vice-President Harry Dougherty, presiding. The 100 per cent attendance experienced by the club at the past few meetings is substantial evidence of the keen interest each member has for his community, as one main objective of Lions Clubs is that of making its respective community a better place for its citizens to live. Not only from a health and welfare standpoint but that of recreation as well, or in short-community betterment from every angle. Each and every Lions Club is made up of various committees each having its appointed work as far as community betterment is concerned. The past few months, under the captible leadership in the captible leadership able leadership of President Robert Feeser, the club has experienced some strong activity of which our community has been, and will continue to be, the recipient.

In the beginning our Creator said, "it is not good for man to be alone" and as a result this meeting was most unusual and different from any previous meeting ever held by the Taneytown Club. It was blessed with the feminine touch when each mem ber (who was fortunate enough to have a daughter) unselfishly played host to his daughter or daughters. After each father proudly introduced his daughter the girls, as well as the members and guests enjoyed immensely the interesting entertainment of the evening, in the form of sound movies, provided by Lion Merie S. Ohler. The movies shown were, Abbott and Costello in "Pinch Me Please" and "Three Little Bruins in Canae" which depicted three hear a Canoe" which depicted three bear cubs out for adventure.

As part of the program, everyone enjoyed hearing the few solos sung by Miss Lorraine Sauble accompanied by Miss Hazel Hess as well as the beautiful selection "Dr. Gradus Ad Parnassum" from Debussy's Children's Suite played on the piano by Miss Helen Arnold daughter of Lion

Charles R. Arnold. Guests in attendance were E. C. Yingling, Dr. Robert E. Lee and Denton Wantz, all of Westminster. In bringing greetings from the West-minster Lions Club Dr. Lee extended a special invitation to the large so-cial event being sponsored by that club and scheduled to be held Thurs-day evening 4 fine progression. day evening. A fine program is plan-ned which includes an elaborate array of refreshments, dancing and a display of three acts which are said to be something out of the ordinary. Dr. Lee expressed his desire to see there a strong delegation from the Taney-town Club, as well as from neighbor-ing clubs

Harry Dougherty called for committee reports and afterwards made special mention of the Minstrel Show which will be held at the local high school Thursday evening, April 20. It has been many years since a 20. It has been many years since a good Minstrel Show has been witnessed in Taneytown. This one is ex- ies. pected to be one of, if not the best, shows of its kind to ever come to our community. Tickets to the event can be purchased at any time from Lion Kermit Reid who has charge of the show. An evening of fine entertainment is promised and one would expect to pay not less than $1.00 each for tickets. But instead, the tickets are only 50c for adults and 35c for children, so every member of the public can afford to attend. President Feeser took charge of the concluding part of the meeting during which he invited Rev. Edmund P. Welker to come forward. Rev. Welker came forward rather reluctantly fearing he was perhaps going to be punished for some unconsciouscommitted act. But quite the contrary was revealed when Pres. Feeser presented him with a check for $100.00, a gift made up by all the members of the club, toward the rebuilding of the Emmitsburg Reform ed Church, which was recently destroyed by fire, and of which Rev. Welker is pastor. Rev. Welker gave a brief speech of appreciation for this act of kindness.

Our next meeting will take place on Tuesday, April 25, at 7 P. M., at Basehoar's restaurant in Littlestown where the Lions will be hosts to the Kiwanians of Taneytown.

will be held in the school auditorium, Taneytown, on Tuesday evening, Apr. 25, at 8 P. M. The program this year will include individual choruses and solos by the various grades in the Junior and Senior High School. The Senior High School members will sing as a finale, a concertized version of the opera "The Mikado".

Representative selections from this program will be given on Friday evening, April 28, at the Annual Carroll County music festival held in Alumni Western Maryland College,

In The Interest of Taneytown

The thing that amazes me is, that despite the utter indifference of the general public to the efforts of the Recreation Association, the money keeps coming in and something new gets done to the park each week. I have taken a great interest in this project and have followed its progress through the newspaper reports and have periodically gone to the site and inspected the work that has been done, noting the effort which the association is putting into this work. I have heard all kinds of re-Tie that Binds". the refreshment ports about this association, some good and some bad. A report of four ambulance calls the directors meetings. It is my opinion that the associa-tion has a very worthwhile objective and earnest desire to complete all phases of their project and have tried to honestly inform the public of this objective of building a complete recreation park and every effort has been made to keep the public inform-ed of its progress. Certainly this small group of men have come a long way with the project, and I, personally wish to commend them on their efforts and integrity. It is true that to the eye not much has been accom-plished, but when you think that it has just been a year ago this organization was formed, with no capital, and today they have 15 acres of paid for, a big grading job paid for, and all improvements to date paid for, I think they have done a wonderful job. The stand that the association has taken on paying everything as they go, rather than buying on credit or borrowing large sums of money to complete a project and then losing interest in the project before the money could be paid back, deserves a lot of credit. I have made inquiries of the di-rectors as to what would happen to this piece of property and all the money that has been put into it if these twelve directors should decide that they are no longer interested in completing the project, and each time I received the answer that there was nothing to keep one man, twelve men, or 100 men from stepping into the place of any director ard continuing the project. It was pointed out to me that the park is paid for and there are no debts against it, and it belongs to the community. It belongs to the community just the same as the streets belong to the community, just as we have large taxpayers and small taxpayers, we have large contributors and small contributors.

It is my wish that this article will convey to the present directors of The Taneytown Recreation Association my appreciation of their efforts in making this community a better place in which to live. Since these twelve men have made such wonderful progress I am sure that if twelve other men jump into the job, with the same enthusiasm, that the progress would be faster and their help would be appreciated to no small de-

What is more convenient for all concerned in sickness than a home of this type?

The Convalescent Home of "Mountain View" has just opened in November and Your Observer predicts it will be one of the best known and patronized in the State of Maryland. It is situated very high and it's name is becoming. It is located between Union Mills and Silver Run right on the main higher. the main highway between Westmin-ster and Gettysburg highway. The approach of the entire surroundings approach of the entire surroundings is lovely and most inviting. It has just been completed and built for the sole purpose of a Convalescent Home. There are twenty rooms—all very private—no hallways to shut off any of God's light. The house has that grand s-p-r-e-a-d which we all like—most spacious affair with a porch as wide as the entire house including another porch above as a deck porch. The house is white with a lovely shade of green roof and stands very high upon a hill thereby giving each patient a splendid outlook from each and every window. each and every window.

The entrance is most charming—the long French doors opening into a huge living room beautifully decorated. In this room is displayed an immense television set where patients may lounge and enjoy themselves back to health. The house is operated by a couple and there are both male and female attendants for the patients and they surely do understand just what the Convalescent needs and requires. SELF-APPRAISAL

The basis of this article is scriptural. The thoughts are suggested by Proverbs 16:2: "All the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes."

There are what we call a long range and a short range vision. This appraisal from Proverbs characterizes the short-range vision. Frequently we are too close to an object to get a true perspective. Have you not heard some time and somewhere a remark like this? We are too close to the times of Wilson and Roosevelt for the historian to give them their rightful place among the great men of the

Again, we are told that we can't see ourselves as others see us. That may be for the same reason that we cannot correctly appraise a man who is too near to himself in the period of his administration in office. We are in the habit of looking at greatness from a distance. And to see ourselves as others see us, we must re-move from ourselves. It is not an uncommon experience to learn things about one's community away from home which one had not learned in the community. Don't get too near yourself if you would have a true perspective of yourself. The writer of Proverbs was conscious of this of Proverbs was conscious of this danger when he wrote, all the ways of a man are clean in his own eyes.

Appraisal is most true when based on comparisons. Is it not possible to evaluate one's self too highly? And is it not also possible to underestimate one's self? Both appraisals are portrayed in the Parable of the Pharisee and Publican. Both went into the Temple to pray. Each went through his particular form of praying. The Pharisee began at once to ing. The Pharisee began at once to praise himself. He talked with him-self. He was worshiping himself. At the same time he was ridiculing the Publican. Each prayed to a different God. Each possessed a different spir-

His whole prayer was about himself. He was clean in his own eyes. On the other hand, the poor Publican saw nothing in himself but sin, and his prayer was, God be mer-ciful to me, a sinner. There is hope for a man who can truly see himself.

The joy of Easter was celebrated on Sunday wherever Christians gath-ered, bringing to their hearts the ever-hopeful message of the Risen Christ. In the great cathedrals of the old world and the new, in village churches and at hilltop services, the devout kneeled once more to mark the miracle of the Resurrection. Millions, observed the occasion in other ways, too. It was a day for fine dress and flowers and for children's games and Easter baskets. The weather was fair and sunny, but with a chill wind blowing that made a top coat and fur jacket a necessity. Washington had its biggest and happiest Easter in many a year, with 70,000 persons taking part in the Easter

Dr. William Schnauffer, a surgeon of Frederick, died suddenly of a rare disease at the age of 47. He died on his birthday. He was born in Brunswick, Md., and for a time had his own private hospital there, but later join-ed the staff of the Frederick Memorial Hospital. The doctors at Johns Hopkins Hospital said he apparently had been stricken by artery thrombo-sis, a rare disease. The funeral was held Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock at St. Mark's Episcopal Church, at Petersville, with burial in the church

Although it was predicted that John Citizen would not cooperate with the census taker in answering personal questions about his business and income, up until the present time most citizens are fascinated at the close attention he is getting from his government and is cooperating not only satisfactorily but also happily. This good temper was a little hard to explain but maybe most people are like the little lady from Atlanta, Ga., who said: "I can hardly wait to see how it comes out." The best preliminary guess: a population of 151 million people—an increase of 19 million since 1940.

Our demonstration this month was recaning chairs. Mrs. Robert Stine and our visitor Mrs. Charles Cluts instructed us by doing several of the many seatless chairs brought to the meeting. As this is such a lengthy project we are carrying it over until completion.

We inaugurated the plan of selecting our hostesses alphabetically beginning in April. After our meeting was adjourned Mrs. Gilbert Stine and Mrs. Robert Stine, both of whom voiunteered as hostesses, served deli cious refreshments planned around an Easter theme. They pleased our eyes as well as our palates. Mrs. Alexander and Mrs. Austin are our April hostesses.

Rugged Prophet

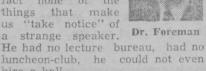

Lesson for April 16, 1950

DON'T MAKE the mistake of thinking that the "minor" prophets of the Old Testament were less important than the "majors." The 12 men whose writings end our Old Testament are in no way less important than Isaiah, Jeremiah or Ezekiel. They are called "minor" only because their writings cover fewer pages. First in point of time came Amos.

Ranch-Hand Preacher

A MOS WAS NO city preacher, in fact not a preacher at all. He would not even call himself a prophet. He was a ranch-hand from the back country, more like what we would call a hired hand than a farmer on his own. He had no prestige, no backing, no social or official position, no money, no high education, no national reputation, in fact none of the things that make us "take notice" of

But the Lord had spoken to him and he knew it. He was determined that the wealthy people who crowded the temple yard in Bethel should hear him. No doubt the mere sight of the man would attract attention. In his rough working clothes he would look as out-ofplace in that well-polished crowd as a huckleberry in a pan of milk.

As his voice, trained in the wide open spaces, rang out over the crowd, a few people may have laughed at first. But a circle of rearound him. Indeed they liked what he said, at first.

Roll-Call of Doomsday

FOR three transgressions of Damascus, yea for four . I will not turn away the punishment thereof," he began. Damascus was capital of Syria, for generations their country's bitter and all too successful enemy. So when Amos predicted a crash for Syria, you may imagine the applause would be loud.

Then, one after another, as Amos points his finger east, north, south, the lightning of God's curse is called down on enemy after enemy of the nation of Israel, Fire, hurricane, defeat and disaster are foretold for every one.

Too Close Home

EVERYTHING Amos had said was true, and came true; every nation whose downfall he predicted collapsed just as he said it would. But that was not the main reason he had tramped all the way to Bethel. He had some things to say to the very people before him, something about themselves and their own country. So when he had his audience in the palm of his hand, just as they were gloating over the terrible fate of the nations they hated, Amos dropped his bomb on their complacent heads.

"Thus saith the Lord: For three transgressions of IS-RAEL, yea for four, I will not turn away the punishment thereof." The roll-call of doomsday includes every sinful nation. God has no pets, he plays no favorites. His laws are the same for all men. Naturally, Israelites could well believe that God hated the sins of their enemies. But their own? That was a different story.

Amos plunged from being the most popular sidewalk preacher of his day to being the best-hated man in Israel. In fact, because he dared to name the king as sinner number one, he was accused of treason, a capital crime in any

"One Man With God Is a Majority'

A MOS WROTE OUT his prophecies at some later time and they have been handed down to us, with all their fire and force, in the book that bears his name.

We shall see in later lessons some of his great messages. What stands out here is this: Truth is sometimes popular, sometimes not, but the living power of truth has nothing to do with the number of people who believe it, or whether it is pleasant, or with the prestige of the man who proclaims it.

If it is God's truth, it will live even if the only man who believes it is banished, as Amos was, to the silent wilderness.

Co-operative Corporations pay little or nothing in federal income taxes on the profits they make from the more than $17 billion in business they do every year. Together with other income tax-exempt commercial enterprises, they are permitted to dodge close to one billion dollars in federal income taxes annually. Every taxpayer should urge his Congressman to help put a stop to this taxevasion NOW and use the new revenue to repeal some and reduce others of the wartime excise taxes. Taxing the untaxed will produce enough revenue to do this without loss to the Treasury and without any additional tax on any present taxpayer now carrying his full share.

TRIBUTE TO WILLIAM ARTHUR DRAMA TO BE PRESENTED IN WESTMINSTER HIGH SCHOOL By Rev. Charles S. Owen

The funeral of William Arthur, beday, at his home in Frizellburg. His pastor, Rev. Charles S. Owen officiated. The entire funeral service was transcribed on a record. This transcribed on a record. This transcription will be sent to Europe for the grandson of the deceased, Arthur Myers and family, who reside in Switzerland. During the service the pastor paid the following high tribute to Mr. Arthur:

pastor paid the following high tribute to Mr. Arthur:

"Know ye not that there is a prince and great man fallen this day in Israel." (2 Sam. 3:38).

These words of King David, spoken at the passing of Abner, become duplicated in our midst today. Abner had been the right hand man of the King. been the right hand man of the King. He had been one on whom the King had relied and trusted for counsel and judgment, one whom he could ill-afford to lose.

Now in our church and community these words of David have become duplicated: "Know ye not that there is a prince and great man fallen this day in Israel."

For 63 years Mr. Arthur has been a member of our church. For 33 years he has served as Elder, the highest and most honored office within the gift of the church to a layman.

As elder statesman of our church, he has always been faithful in his duties, generous in his stewardship, wise in his counsel, progressive in his outlook. The progress achieved in our church during the past year, has been due to a great extent, to his foresight and inspiration. To the very end he maintained a keen interest in the work of his church. He will ever remain one of the brightest stars in the firmament of our church. Taking the place of Dr. Birnie 33 years ago, Mr. Arthur has carried on the traditions of that worthy statesman of the church.

When affliction finally came at the ripe age of 92, we prayed that God would save him from his suffering. God heard our prayer, reached down, and lifted him up above all earthly suffering into that place where there is no sorrow or sickness.

Being one we could ill-afford to lose, his passing reminds us of the words of Thomas Jefferson to the King of France. When he succeeded Benjamin Franklin as Ambassador to

Paris, the King said:

"Mr. Jefferson, I see that you have come to take the place of Benjamin Franklin."

"No," said he, "I come to succeed Benjamin Franklin. No man can ever take his place."

Likewise today we know that no one can ever take the place of Mr. Arthur, a distinguished land mark in both our church and community. We can only pray that God, in His mercy, will raise up some one to succeed him, and in someway compensate our church family in the loss we too have suffered.

we too have suffered.

How appropriate God has honored this servant of the church by choosing Passion Week, the eve of Eastertide, to translate him from the frailties of the flesh to his eternal home in heaven. How significant it is that God elected to take him on the season which commemorates the suffering which commemorates the suffering and resurrection of our Lord, and the gift of life everlasting.

We thank God for his long years among us, for sparing him to the age of 92 years of health and

Now to you, Mr. Arthur, I say, in the words of Jesus to the faithful: "Well done, thou good and faithful servant, Inasmuch as thou hast been faithful over a few things, I will make thee ruler over many things. Enter thou into the joy of thy Lord."
